Official says funding down

federal funding for outdoor recreation assistance in fiscal year 1990 is the lowest it has ever been, acording to a Nebraska Game and Parks Commission official.

Oliver Wolff, of the Commission's nation's national pares families and procedeming.

Oliver Wolff, of the Commis-sion's planning and programming division, said the $182,916 allo-cated to Nebraska for fiscal year 1990 is some $14,000 less than the 1989 apportionment of $197.252

"Nebraska's share is less this year just like all the other states due to sequestering under Gramm-Rudman legislation," he said.
The federal Land and Water

Conservation Fund, administered by the National Park Service, pro-vides matching grants on a 50-50 basis to state and local governments for the acquisition and development of outdoor recreation velopment of outdoor recreation areas and facilities. Sixty percent of the amount apportioned to Nebraska goes to local governments for such projects as ball fields, playgrounds and picnic facilities, Wolff said. The remaining 40 percent is dedicated to state projects. In past years, enough money.

cent is dedicated to state projects. In past years, enough money has been available to help fund larger projects such as swimming pools, but the steady reduction in available funds has made it impossible to provide large amounts for those types of projects, he said.

tion Fund marks its 25th year in 1990 of providing federal dollars for projects, Wolff said. Since its beginning, Nebraska has received over $36 million, he said, for a total outdoor recreation investment of over $72 million.

Every year, the requests for funding assistance exceed the available funds; Wolff said. For 1990, the Commission has received 59 applications for a federal matching total of just under $1 million.

During the late 1970s and early 1980s, Nebraska received from $2 to $3 million annually, with requests for assistance exceeding $5 to $8 million, he said.

Announcements of projects that will receive funding in 1990 should be made sometime in March, Wolff said.

Wildcats cage Lopers in annual rivalry, 91-83

One of the most looked forward to basketball games of the year on the collegiate level is the Wayne State-Kearney State clash in Wayne. This is by far, the most at-tended game of the season and Saturday's snow storm did little to dampen the spirits of people who thrive on this rivalry as once again the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium was packed to the gills for the annual home contest with the

the annual home contest with the Lopers.

Wayne State head coach Steve Aggers wanted his squad to play a complete game against the Lopers and his troops responded as Wayne State handed Kearney State a 91-83 loss.

"Our kids really played hard for the whole 40 minutes," Aggers said. "We weren't happy with some of our execution on offense but we did manage to connect on eight of eleven three point field attempts."

eleven three point field attempts. Junior guard Steve Dunbar and sophomore forward Doug Kuszak did most of the damage on the evening as Dunbar was 5-5 from bonus range and Kuszak nailed the other three as Wayne State improved to 6-12 on the season.

Kuszak led all scorers with 29 points while Steve Dunbar was right behind with 26 as the two-some combined for 55 of Wayne State's 91 points. The Wildcats had four individuals in double figures as Marques Wilson finished with 14 and Eric Priebe, 11. Freshman Mike Kurnik had six points all of which came on free throws and John Schott rounded out the Wildcat scoring attack with five.

Kurnik was 6-6 for the game in free throws, and 4-4 in the second half. Wayne State had a little trouble at the foul line in the first half as they connected on 13-26. But in the second half the Wildcats con-ble at the foul line in the first half as they connected on 13-26. But in the second half the Wildcats connected on 16 of 17 free throw attempts to finish the game with 29-43 performance for 67 percent.

Another key area to the Wildcat victory was in the rebounding department where. Wayne State held a Commanding 55-35 advantage. Marques Wilson finished as the game's leading rebounder with tage. Marques wilson inished as the game's leading rebounder with 14 caroms to his credit to go along with his 14 points. Doug Kuszak was also in double figures in both scoring and rebounding with 10 caroms to go with his 29 points. Eric Priebe finished with seven rebounds.

"We did a good job of making Kearney State foul us," Aggers said.
"And we also took advantage of our scouting reports on our missed free throws." Wayne State took advantage of three offensive rebounds on missed free throws and all three were converted into points.

and all three were converted into points.

Wayne State suffered 21 turnovers in the game compared to Kearney State's, nine. The Wildcats led 44-40 at the break and out Scott Somerhalder led Kearney State with 28 points, 25 of which came in the second half. Wayne State will trayel to Hays, Kan. this. Friday to play Fort Hays State.

Kearney State meanwhile, was substituting freely and that even-tually took its toll on Mike Barry's troops as Kearney State built a 4433 lead at intermission. "They had 10 to 12 girls rotating in at all times," Barry said. "They were definitely fresher than we were but I was pleased with our effort with our shortage of players."

Barry felt that if his squad could stop Kearney State's transition game and get it to the tempo that the Wildcats wanted, that things would be more in Wayne State's favor, but the Lopers kept their rotation with fresh girls and Wayne State was unable to keep up.

Puttin' up with Pete By Kevin Peterson

Hats off to John Murtaugh and the Wayne wrestling team for winning their third straight conference title Saturday by defeating O'Neill in what turned out to be a conference dual.

turned out to be a conference dual.

The Blue Devils are quickly proving themselves-to-be-one of the state's-best wrestling teams again this season. Last year they finished eighth at the state tournament and hopefully, if things go the way coach Murtaugh wants them to, the Blue Devils will be looking to improve upon that.

I don't think anyone can say enough for the job that John Murtaugh has done with the Blue Devils. His knowledge and expertise of the sport and bit willing to the state of the sport and bit willing to the state of the sport and bit willing to the state of the state of the sport and bit willing to the state of the sport and bit willing to the state of the sport and bit willing to the state of t and his ability to teach what he knows has given Wayne County two quality wrestling teams year in and year out.

The other team I am talking about of course is Winside and its fine coach in Paul Sok. Looking over the Blue Devil wrestling team this season, one can see an excellent blend of youth and experience which provides Wayne with pended benderable.

one can see an excellent blend of youth and experience which provides Wayne with needed leadership.

For instance, Greg DeNaeyer is Wayne's only senior who wrestles consistently in duals and invitationals. But oh what a junior class the Blue Devils have. Mike DeNaeyer, Trevor Wehrer, Eric Cole, Chris Janke, Jesse Brodersen, Cory Wiesseler, Dan Wisseman, Jason-Erhfradt and Matt Bruggeman will all don the Blue Devil singlets again next year. (By the way, I owe Matt Bruggeman an apology for calling him a senior in the last issue of the Wayne Herald, Bruggeman is only a junior but as I already told Matt, he may be only a junior but he wrestles like a senior.)

Add to that freshman Randy Johnson at 103 libs., and sophomores Brent Gamble at 112 libs., and Jason Fink at 145 libs., and you have the 1989-90 version of the Wayne wrestling team. Murtaugh also gets excellent out put from his junior varsity wrestlers as well with Matt Rise, Brian Gamble, Bryan Ruhr, Ryan Harris and Dwaine Junck.

You mix all that up with assistant coaches Lonnie Ehrhardt and Aaron

You mix all that up with assistant coaches Lonnie Ehrhardt and Aaron Schuett and you have a Blue Devil package that sells with the best of them. Good luck to the Wayne wrestlers with the remainder of the regular season. Wayne-incidentally, will take part in district competition in Blair this year instead of Elkhorn like the past two years. It is still the same district only the location has been changed.

Districts will take place on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9-10 with the state wrestling tournament the following Thursday-Friday-Saturday at the familiar Bob Devaney Sports Complex in Lincoln.

Alright, I have kept my mouth shut long enough. I have to admit that I find it very hard to believe that South Sioux just couldn't make it to O'Neill' for the conference meet. Come on, there are only three teams in the NAC that have wrestling and then for the Cardinals to miss the conference meet for the second consecutive year, well that's just getting to be a little hard to swallow.

Last season when Wayne hosted the conference meet, South Sioux called and said their bus broke down. It's a good thing they didn't say it was a snow storm because it was over 50 degrees the day of the meet which also turned into a conference dual.

Fans and coaches at South Sioux have long been vocal about the fact that South Sloux is a Class A school and they wish that papers such as the Omaha World Herald would rate them when they have good teams. Hey, "Ill admit they should be recognized for their efforts, but not showing up for the conference wrestling meet two years in a row doesn't say much for a Class A school in this writer's opinion.

TERESA ELLIS looks to score two of her 22 points.

Allen girls defeated

The Allen girls basketball team traveled to play Walthill last Friday and it was Walthill coming out on the top of a 63-47 count. The Eagles trailed 14-9 after the first quarter but managed to close the gap to two by intermission at 27-25.

Walthill took command early in the third quarter however, capitalizing on foul prone Allen and thus they out scored the Eagles 36-20 in the second half. "We really got into a bind with foul trouble," Allen coach Lori Koester said. "Robin Schroeder fouled out as well as Steph Carlson and we don't have a lot of depth." lot of depth.

The Walthill victory off set an outstanding performance by Allen sophomore Denise Boyle. Boyle led all Allen scorers with 18 points and the sophomore forward hauled down a game high 18 rebounds as while Alyssa McGrath managed four. Steph Carlson, Heather Sachau, Robin Schroeder and Carla Stapleton all scored two points each while Jenny Lee managed Allen finished with one more rebound, 35-34 than Walthill but the Eagles were hit by a plague of turnovers. "We had a lot of turnovers again," Koester said. "They come from all areas of the floor not just on the press." Allen suffered 41 turnovers while Walthill had 21.

With all of the fouling Allen had, Walthill was sent to the line 42 times but they converted just 17 while Allen connected on 9 of 20.
"Our younger girls are improving every game," Koester said. "They are not giving up yet despite all of our losses."

Laurel wins again

The Laurel boys basketball team traveled to Homer Tuesday night to play their first game since mov-ing back into the ratings at the g back into the ratings at the imber 10 spot in the C-1 rank

Mark Hrabik's troops came away, with a 76-63 victory even though they maintained a 21 point cushion at intermission. "We were up 44-23 at half time," Hrabik said. "In the second half I didn't think our litterstit was as strong and Homer intensity was as strong and Homer hit some three point buckets and free throws to close the gap a little."

At any rate it was a game of streaks for the Bears as Troy Twohig scored 10 points in the first quarter and John Schutte scored 13 of his game high 23 points in the first half.

Laurel jumped out to a 21-11 lead after the first quarter and out scored the host team 23-12 in the scored the nost team 23-12 in the second quarter for the 21 point half time advantage. Following Schutte's 23 point out burst was Troy. Twohig with 14 and Shawn. Arens with 11. Matt Felber was also in double figures with 10.

Matt Jonas netted eight points in a winning effort while Todd Erwin accounted for six. Chad Vancleave rounded out the attack with four points to his credit.

"Todd Erwin was way below his season average in points but Todd does what he has to for the team," Hrabik-said, "He is the kind of player who will shoot the ball when we need points but he is a smart player who makes sure the guys who are hot get the ball."

Erwin finished the contest with Envin finished the contest win 14 assists. Laurel out rebounded Homer by a 36-31 margin led by Troy Twohig with nine rebounds. John Schutte was right behind with eight caroms. It was a very well played basketball game as the Bears suffered just six turnovers and Homer had just eight.

The Bears went to the free throw line just nine times in the game and connected on five while Homer was 12 of 16 from the charity stripe. Laurel has unofficially clinched at least a tie for the NENAC regular season title but Hrabic has his eye on the confer-ence tournament which begins this Saturday in Pierce for the Bears. Laurel will play Plainview at 6 p.m. in first round action.

Wakefield wins 14th game

Paul Eaton's Wakefield Trojans moved their season record to 14-1 Monday night with a 66-58 victory over Ponca in Wakefield. Mark Johnson came with his game face on as he led Wakefield in scoring with 20 points and also led the Trojans in rebounding with 10.

Defensively, Johnson was assigned to Ponca's top scorer in Chad Mentzer and Johnson rose to the occasion as he held Mentzer to just 12 points, far below his search average of 194.

Wayne out duals O'Neill for third straight title

Sports Editor
The Northern Activities Conference Wrestling Tournament was held in O'Neill Saturday and for the second consecutive year, South Sioux did not show up.

That means the conference tournament turned into a conference dual between O'Neill and Wayne which in itself was a classic match-up featuring the fourth rated Eagles and the eighth rated Blue Devils. This dual did not lack excitement as several rated wrestlers from both schools were pushed to the limit. It all came down to the heavy weight match to determine the winner as Matt Bruggeman squared off against Ed Schaafin with Wayne trailing by a point, 26-25.

Bruggeman made it known early to Schaafin. that Wayne would be the winners of their third straight conference crown as he pinned Schaafin in 2:48 to give Wayne a 31-26 victory over the fourth rated team in Class B in O'Neill.

"I was very impressed with the effort and determination of our kids," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "I believe our desire to win made the difference." Murtaugh felt that every kid on the team made a contribution in some way or another to the victory. or another to the victory.

AREA-Tourism efforts across the state will soon be enhanced by marketing assistance grants from the Nebraska Department of Economic Development (DED) Division of Travel and Tourism.

Grants amounting to $75,000 will be divided between 54 non-profit organizations spread throughout Nebraska. Roger Christianson, DED director, said the vast majority of Nebraska counties will receive a portion of the funds, aiding both tourism and economic development throughout the state.

Area groups earmarked to receive grant monies include Tri-Cog (Cedar, Dixon and Knox Counties) for participation in the Omaha Boat and Sport Show on Feb. 20-25, $500; Highway 20 Association (Dakota, Dixon, Cedar, Knox, Pierce, Antelope, Holt, Rock, Brown, Cherry, Sheridan, Dawes and Sioux Counties) for participation in the Omaha Boat and Sport Show, $500, and for advertising in Home and Away Magazine to promote tourism in communities along Highway 20, $1,515; the Northeast Nebraska Travel Council (Dixon, Cedar, Knox, Antelope, Pierce, Wayne, Dakota, Thurston, Burt, Cuming, Stanton, Madison, Platte, Colfax, Dodge, Washington and Boone Counties) for participation in the Ack Rabbit Travel Show in Sioux Falls, S. D. on Feb. 3-4, $500; and the KCD Development Corp. (Cedar, Dixon and Knox Counties) to be used for printed travel-bags for promotion at sport and travel shows, $2,000.

The Farmer's Wife By Pat Melerhenry

We finally have a snow day! An excuse to stay home, take a nap, watch tv, make pizza from scratch and catch up on my reading.

Best of all, we really don't have that much snow accumulation, esmac much snow accumulation, especially compared to other parts of the state.

the state.
Dick and the Big Farmer have been cutting wood all month, and stacking it in the garage. I wondered when we would use it all if it stayed so warm. We all are tree lovers, and Mike has planted hundreds of trees. There are always dead ones to take care of.

THE EVERGREEN at the back door was not dead, but it was ugly. There is a triangle there, between sidewalks, that I had tried to raise flowers in. The soil isn't good and the rain water always ran off. So, for Mother's Day 20 years ago, the Big Farmer planted an evergreen there.

At first, it did okay. Ann was born that fall, and I often posed kids in front of it, sometimes in Easter finery, sometimes in ball uni-

Eventually, it became much taller than the kids. We had to trimbranches to keep them from hitting us when we used the walk. And it was ugly. There was no denying it. We even talked about cutting it off and putting an old-fashioned pump there. I agreed cutting it off and putting an old-fashioned pump there. I agreed that would be the thing to do.

BUT I WAS surprised by my emotions when they actually did it. I heard the chain saw that morn-ing; I didn't pay any attention to where it was.

where it was.
At noon I walked out of the house. The triangle was totally bare! They had cut down my tree. I had carried water to it, posed my control to the carried water to it. had carried water to it, posed my babies in front of it, and pulled the weeds around it. Granted, it was ugly, but it had become a perma-nent fixture. Il couldn't believe it. It almost seems as if a friend of the family is gone. Losing it and the mulberry tree in the garden both in one week is too much. I told them to put the chain saw away for awhile.

OUR GIRLS are all home this

OUR CIRLS are all home this weekend. Ann and her Dad are finally putting a puzzle together. I was explaining to a friend at the hospital party last night that when the last kid moves out, the shampoo and toilet paper seem to last much longer, the phone rings much less, and you don't seem to run out of milk as often.

But it does net mighty quiet

But it does get mighty quiet-sometimes, and it's nice to have them all here on a snowy Saturday. Even if they have already emptied the cookie iar.

Property tax talks planned for Feb. 1

WAYNE-Property taxes and the current situation in Nebraska is the topic of a general information session to be held in Wayne on Feb. 1 at 1:30 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium. Topics to be discussed

- History:
   How we got to where we are Recent court cases and their implications
- The legislation passed in the special session of the legislature
- Current proposals
  Other possible directions
  This meeting is designed to provide...a broad spectrum of in-formation to the tax payers of Northeast Nebraska. It is not the intent of cooperative extension to promote any specific solution.

Speakers on the program include former State Secretary of Ag Roy Frederick, current Extension Ag Policy Specialist with the University (Astronomy Control of the Poop Frederick). of Nebraska, Lincoln Dean Edson, policy analyst with the Nebraska Farm Bureau. Bill Toch with the Nebraska Department of Leg-Representative from the Nebraska Department of Revenue.

"The very idea of the power and the right of the people to establish government presupposes the duty of every individual to obey the es-tablished government."

LINCOLN--The above partial in-scription, appears in the west lounge of the Capitol above the fireplace. It is an excerpt from George Washington's farewell address and serves as a reminder to me just how important decisions on legislation actually are. The laws we pass must be obeyed-they therefore need all the scrutiny we therefore need all the scrutiny we can give them prior to enactment. By the way, the inscriptions I've included in the last two capitol views were selected for the capitol building by Hartley Burr Alexander. Capitol architect, Bertram Grosvenor Goodhue directed Alexander to select inscriptions relating to the themes of human settlement in Nebraska and the development of democracy as a form of government. Look for these as well as many more on your next visit to our capitol.

This averages a little over eight bills per senator. In the last decade, the greatest number of bills introduced during a "short" session, was in 1986, when 504 were introduced. As you can see, this year was down by a consider-

We are currently conducting our regular debate each morning with public hearings during the afterpublic hearings during the after-noon and early evening. The banking committee only met once this week, due to the State holiday last Monday. We heard bilis dealing with changes in Medicare Sup-plemental Insurance, HMO's and the Hospital-Medical Liability Act. Health care, its availability and af-fordability, does not get top billing within the press, but I assure you the Legislature views it as a major agenda item with many of the bills agenda item with many of the bills introduced directed towards these

Following lengthy debate, the bill advanced to select file on a 25-16 vote. The bill, commonly known as "tort reform", narrows joint and several liability (the so-called "deep pocket" theory) and changes Nebraska's present contributory negligence standard. LB 159 is literally the same as a bill I introduced two same as a bill I introduced two years ago which was passed by the Legislature, but after we ad-journed, was vetoed by the governor. At that time she said that she "was not convinced the change was necessary".

My intention in introducing the legislation is to make liability award more fair for both the injured and the defendants who have to pay the judgements. Additionally, the change will support out of court settlements which would be less could be a settle for the settlement of th costly for all and help relieve court backlogs. # Orr says jobs gained in Nebraska

Governor Kay Orr said nearly 84 percent of Nebraska's counties gained jobs the past three years, compared with a 45 percent increase the previous three years. The information came from a Deserted of the percent of th partment of Labor study of non-farm wage and salary jobs in every Nebraska county.

The survey indicated that from October of 1986 to 1989, 78 Nebraska counties experienced nonfarm job gains, two counties had no change and 13 counties lost jobs. A survey conducted from 1983 to 1986 showed 42 counties gaining jobs, one county with no change and 50 counties losing jobs.

*Just three years ago a majority of Nebraska counties were losing jobs. Our focus on economic de-velopment has turned that picture completely around, but this hard work must continue to create new Job opportunities for families in every Nebraska county," the Governor said.

Among the counties showing significant job gains: Adams, up 13 percent; Butler, up 14 percent; Dakota, up 19 percent; Sheridan, up 11 percent; and Cheyenne, up 11 percent. Overall, the number of nonfarm jobs in Nebraska increased 63,379, from 659,962 in 1986 to 722,341 in 1989.

"Our legislative efforts to revitalize rural Nebraska are paying off.

The creation of four economic development field offices, and the proposed changes to assist retail business growth in rural communities, are important steps in building on the momentum we are making as a state. Working with community leaders, new job creation will continue all across Nebraska,* the Governor added.

Mark'n' the Spot

by Mark Crist

It's quite a task to move into something new and it's a little overwhelming, at first, to meet more than enough people which enables you to forget most of the names.

That's the case for me. I've met a number of Wayne's citizens, it's just I remember faces better than names. But of course, I guess you'd say it's like a child learning to ride a bike—you have to fall off a few times before you learn how to ride it. Once you learn, however, you don't forget how to do it again.

So far, since my joining the Wayne community, I have been welcomed with open arms and that means a great deal. As I-drive into-town every morning (right now I'm staying with my wife's Grandmother in Pierce) I get the see the beauty of the northeastern Nebraska landscape. The cattle of the area aren't always quick to look up at the highway but to see them graze has a definite aesthetic feeling about it. And to see the windmills spin as the gentle breeze passes through their fins as the crimson-orange sun rises over the horizon greets me daily with a warm feeling I haven't experienced in years.

To abbreviate a long story, a number of years ago when I was in my first two years of college at Chadron State, I longed to leave Nebraska to see what there was to see. I then transferred to the University of Denver where I finished up my schooling. After completing my degree, I moved to Goodland, Kan:— a town-just a little bit smaller than Wayne-about 30 miles from the Colorado-Kansas border right along I-70. I guess you could say Kansas has a beauty of its own, but it has very few windmills along its flat horizon. Needless to say, those two things — windmills and rolling hills—were something I missed.

IN THE STORY which appeared in last Thursday's newspaper, I didn't-

IN THE STORY which appeared in last Thursday's newspaper, I didn't have a chance really to open up to some of the things I would like to have you help me with. Some of the things I honestly believe a community newspaper needs to do is reflect the needs and the wants of the into inevaluate it sees to up is reflect the needs and the wants of the communities it serves. I see from past issues of the Wayne Herald that this has been done but if there's something more, let us know. I can't always guarantee that we'll be able to be there 110 percent of the time, but we're going to try if we can.

The other things I'd like to move toward addressing involve some of the issues which need addressing in the community, as well as the local scope of national issues, right now. Some of the things it looks like we'll be facing in the 1990s include the schools, the environment and, as always, the economy. These are just a small sampling of issues we'll need to address over the next decade. dress over the next decade.

A COUPLE OF the things which impress me about Wayne is its diverse A COUPLE OF the things which impress me about Wayne is its diverse economy as well as its location. I'd have to say those are two of the factors which went into my decision to return to my home state. Wayne has a nice central location to Sloux City, Norfolk, Omaha and Lincoln which probably goes without saying. But for a newcomer to notice these things is probably something which should be noted. Another important factor in my decision to come here is the college. I have a definite love for the college community atmosphere. A college town has a constant energy about it and that, in itself, is exciting. I think it has something to do with the energy of the youth associated with the school.

My final item about Wayne is its professional atmosphere. When I was in Denver, professionality was something which was looked for and respected. In Goodland, that was missed by both myself and my wife. It's nice to have it again.

If there's anything the newspaper editorial staff can do for you, please feel free to stop in and talk to one of us or call in and give us your ideas. We want to make the Wayne Herald a product of its environment.

Even Minor Stomach Problems Can Have You Doing Flips.

You don't have to be spinning around to make your stomach do flips. Occasional disorders of the digestive tract will give you the same feeling. Often times, these symptoms only last three to four days but sometimes they can be prolonged and severe, disrupting daily routines. So if you're experiencing stomach problems of any kind, call the Center for Digestive Disorders at St. Luke's. Your call will be handled by a nurse who will offer information or recommend you see your family physician.

We center our attention on you at St. Luke's. The convenience of support services like x-ray, gastrointestinal labs, patient education, and nutrition counseling make diagnosis quick, accurate, and thorough. All staffed by medical professionals devoted exclusively to your digestive disorders.

So if your stomach is doing flips, call your physician or call St. Luke's Center for Digestive Disorders at 712-279-3958.

COMMON COLD

Up to half of us will have a cold during the winter months. More than 100 cold viruses can produce well known symptoms: runny nose, sneezing, chills, cough, headache, loss of appetite, and sore throat. Antibiotics will not kill the cold virus, and colds cannot be cured.

A four-step approach to caring for cold symptoms is recommended by many experts. Extra fluids help control dry cough and may loosen thick secretions in the lungs and air passages. Fluids also replace water lost through sweating. Bed rest for one or two days is desirable when symptoms are severe. Humidification of the air helps sooth a dry throat and relieves coughing. Nonprescription medicines (cough suppress ants, nose drops/sprays. pain and fever reducers. lozenges, etc.) relieve a variety of symptoms.

WHEREAS, January 22, 1990, marks the 100th anniversary of the Nebraska Bankers Association;

WHEREAS, on that day a century ago, a group of 265 bankers convened in Omaḥa, Nebraska, to officially form a state association of Nebraska banks;

WHEREAS, recorded proceedings of that first state convention state.

From the landing of the Pilgrims on the bleak shore of Massachusetts, down to the present day, the bulwark of the Nation has been the harmonious representation and organization of liberal minds for improving and increasing the commercial and financial facilities of our country. Such results cannot but accrue to Nebraska and neighboring states from closer relations of our Banks and Bankers, and we look forward to grand, useful and economical ends attained, and important national functions subserved by the machine so successfully set in motion January 22nd, 1890."

WHEREAS, commercial banks have played a major role in the economic development of the State of Nebraska since the first one was chartered in 1855;

WHEREAS, bankers have traditionally comprised a driving force in their respective communities, taking leadership roles within the community and volunteering countless hours and providing financial resources to support numerous and diverse civic and charitable projects that serve mankind;

WHEREAS, Nebraska banks remain the financial institutions most closely linked to their communities and most involved in economic activities that enhance Nebraska's good life;

WHEREAS, the commercial banking industry has proven its viability again and again, standing firm in the face of economic adversity, having the flexibility to bend with the winds of change;

WHEREAS, Nebraska banks contribute to their communities and to the well-being of the state in 50 many ways,

WHEREAS, Nebraska banks are positioned for the future to continue as the leading providers of financial services for the citizens of our state;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, KAY A. ORR, Governor of the State of Nebraska, do hereby designate the week of January 22, 1990, as Nebraska Banking History Week in observance of the 100th anniversary of the Nebraska Bankers Association.
