Planner: statistics show growth

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

According to statistics compiled by city planner/building inspection Don Siefken, Wayne is on the right track in its development, according to 1989 statistics.

Siefken said in 1989 the City of Wayne issued 42 building permits. He said three permits were new residential housing/apartments, 12 were additions or remodeling of existing structures, seven were garage additions or accessory buildings, three were new commmercial structures, six were remodeling or additions to existing structures, one was new non-residential and non-commercial and three were remodeling or additions to existing non-residential or non-commercial, as well as seven other miscellaneous projects like wiring or putting up an outdoor antennae.

Siefken said the total valuation for Wayne was $1,038,728 for 1989. The cost for building permit fees was $4,660.80, Siefken said.

"You can draw some conclusions just looking at the statistics," he said. "People are remodeling their current home and this may be a sign of the economic times. This means people may have a little extra money to invest in their homes but perhaps aren't in a buying mode at this point."

Siefken said the largest building projects during 1989 were to the Northwestern Bell telephone switching office and the First National Bank of Omaha remodeling to a building located at 6th and Main.

"The figures we have are fairly consistent with those nationwide," Siefken said. "We're keeping in line with the national trend."

Siefken added, however, that these numbers are used primarily for the process of maintaining consistent quality and it gives the city a chance to review its zoning system. He said the valuation for properties may not be the same as the valuation placed on property by the county assessor, however. He said those rates may vary.

Search begins

Council has process underway

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Despite only having the search for a new city administrator barely underway, City Council President Larry Johnson said the council is beginning to think about the selection process for replacing Phil Kloster, who submitted his resignation as city administrator in late December.

Johnson said advertisements have been placed in the Omaha World Herald, the Des Moines Register, the Minneapolis Tribune, the Denver Post and the National League Publication. Johnson said to date, he is not sure if any resumes have been received for the opening since mailings for the position are addressed to Mayor Wayne Marsh. Johnson said, however, that he knows the position has been advertised in, at least, the newspapers since receipts have been received from the four mentioned above.

"The person we're seeking must have the proper knowledge and training of the field," Johnson said. "They have to know a thing or two about public relations and must be willing to meet and work with people. You want the best person you can get for this position from the applications you receive."

HE ADDED THAT anyone locally who might be interested in the position may apply but there are certain requirements which must be met.

According to the listing which is being run in the national publications, the candidate must be able to handle a $10 million budget with the management skills to oversee 45 employees. According to the advertisement, the city is requiring someone with a bachelor's degree and three to five years of municipal government experience with a variety of knowledge about how to run a city government but the preference is for someone with an MPA or MBA degree.

Johnson said he thinks every city councilperson will be looking for qualities which meet their expectations in potential candidates. He said he thinks all the councilpeople will share their views and come to the decision of the best candidate possible.

"I think we'll see a wide spectrum of applications from those who are established to those who are fresh out of school," Johnson said. "For a town this size, it's probably a stepping stone for most, which has been known for years in a community this size."

He said at any rate, the council will not be quick to make any rash decisions since they are dealing with the future of Wayne. He said, however, that he thinks the position will be filled by July 1 if not before.

Board listens to land sale concerns

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

About 25 Wayne County residents showed up at the Wayne County Commissioner's meeting Tuesday to voice their concerns about the possibility of the Milton G. Waldbaum and Company purchasing a 200 acre tract of land 4 1/2 miles east of Wayne for the purpose of building a pullet growing facility.

SPEAKING ON BEHALF of the group, which was mostly composed of farmers who live near there, Neil Sandahl said he is vehemently opposed to any possible purchase which may be made by the company because of damage which, he says, would occur to the air around that area. He also said he is concerned about what the possible purchase would do to the groundwater supply.

"Something needs to be done to put a document in place to protect concerned citizens of the area," he said in addressing the commissioners, who moved their 2 p.m. appointment to the courtroom to accommodate for the group. "We have 13 family residents within a mile and one or two families may lose their residences due to the odors." Sandahl also said he was concerned that building a plant at that location would result in an increase in the number of flies as well as rodents.

"We, as a group, would urge the commissioners to activate the planning commission to look at zoning regulations and the comprehensive plan followed by a scheduling of a hearing. Let's take action to keep Nebraska's air as clean as we can."

According to Dave Gardner, who is vice-president and general manager of Waldbaum's, no one from the company was present at the meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Lamplot to include bread making in 'Tastes' Feb. 9

WAYNE - According to Jana Lamplot, Homemakers Schools home economist, there is nothing better than homemade bread.

Homemade bread, according to Lamplot, is the staff of life as its origin in America dates back to colonial times. Bread, whether baked for family enjoyment or as a gift, is a tradition for families and often is passed from one generation to another.

Now these bread baking traditions can be adapted to modern lifestyles, according to Lamplot, who will be hosting the Homemakers School in Wayne on Friday, Feb. 9 at 7 p.m. Lamplot said changes in technology have made it possible for faster rising yeast. She said using the Fleischmann's RapidRise yeast can save up to 50 percent rising time.

The Tastes of the 90s, which is the theme of the show, will most likely include information about bread yeasts. Lamplot will be sharing some of her latest yeast recipes, along with a variety of other non-bread recipes. Bread makers are sure to enjoy this 2 1/2 hour demonstration Lamplot has planned.

The program, which is sponsored by The Wayne Herald will be held at the Wayne City Auditorium.

During February, which is Heart Month, the American Heart Association is providing a variety of information in an effort to reduce disability and death from heart and blood vessel diseases. Following is the first in a series of articles which will be run during February aimed at assisting and educating the public.

What 'lite' and 'lean' don't always mean

What you see isn't always what you get when it comes to convenience foods. Some popular products are labeled in ways to make you think you're buying healthy, low-calorie meals.

Although there are nutritious and low-fat, low-cholesterol convenience foods on the market, it pays to read the labels carefully to determine if that 'lite' or 'lean' frozen dinner is really the best choice for you," advises Ralph Barclay, president of the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association (AHA).

There's no arguing that these entrees are a great timesaver since you can put the frozen dinner in the microwave or the oven and have a hot, tasty meal in minutes," said Barclay.

And since the labels on products may indicate the product contains fewer than 300 calories per serving, these items often have great appeal to today's weight-conscious shoppers.

THE AMERICAN Heart Association cautions consumers about the bottom-line effects of some convenience foods. Many have high fat content, especially the saturated kind. High blood cholesterol, a major risk factor for coronary heart disease, is attributed to excessive intake of saturated fats.

Many of the 300-calorie convenience meals contain much more fat than recommended by the AHA.

Reading food labels is especially useful if you are on a fat-controlled diet.

"If the fat content of the dinner is 12 grams, for example, you'll be eating 108 calories of fat from a 300 calorie meal (1 gm. fat = 9 calories). This 'lean' dinner contains more than 30 percent fat," said Barclay.

The American Heart Association recommends that total fat in the diet be limited to 30 percent of daily calories.

"By reducing total fats, you can more easily reduce the saturated fat, which will reduce blood cholesterol in most people," said Barclay.

ANOTHER important factor in reading product labels is to note the type of fat used in the product. If safflower, sunflower, corn and partially hydrogenated soybean oils are listed in the ingredients, you are making a better choice.

These oils contain primarily polyunsaturated fat, the kind that tends to lower cholesterol.

If lard or animal shortening is used in the product, animal fat is part of the ingredients. This type of fat contains both cholesterol and saturated fat.

Daily cholesterol intake should be no more than 300 milligrams.

"Smart-shoppers know it only takes a few extra seconds to read product labels to find nutritious convenience foods that are truly 'lean.' By scanning the labels, you can save yourself from adding unnecessary fat, cholesterol and sodium to your diet," said Barclay.

Wildcats down Chadron in OT

The Wayne State Wildcats have had to overcome some adverse conditions this season which have included everything from injuries to academic problems of a few players. Monday the Wildcats were dealt another blow as Marques Wilson, the Wildcats leading scorer and rebounder was suspended from the team for personal disciplinary reasons.

The Wildcats however, still have to play the games on the schedule despite playing with only eight players, three of which are walk-ons. Tuesday night Steve Aggers crew hosted district scoring leaders Chadron State in Rice Auditorium. The Wildcats played like they were on a mission and when all was said and done, Wayne State had dealt Chadron State a 95-83 loss in over time.

Aggers noted that the Wildcat game plan consisted of slowing the game into a half court contest so Chadron State couldn't get their fast break going. The game plan were well even though the Wildcats scored 39 first half points in a slow down type game.

"They were pressing us all over the floor and we got a lot of baskets after we broke the press," Aggers said. "We did a good job of executing the offense and I thought our kids played hard together. They over came adverse conditions and played with a lot of courage."

6-9 freshman Mike Kurnik sank both ends of a one-and-one with 22 seconds remaining to send the game into over time. Chadron State went for one shot but it proved to be an air ball.

In the over time period Steve Dunbar took matters into his own hands, scoring 11 of his game high 26 points. Wayne State scored 20 points in the five minute over time period.

Eric Priebe followed Dunbar's performance with 25 points of his own and John Schott was also in double figures with 12. Doug Kuzak, Matt Kelly and Mike Kurnik finished with nine points apiece while Byron Young rounded out the attack with five.

Both teams finished with 44 rebounds with the Wildcats being led by Eric Priebe with nine rebounds. Matt Kelly hauled down eight caroms while Doug Kuzak and Mike Kurnik had six boards each.

Both teams combined to attempt 75 free throws in the four prone contest with Wayne State hitting 34 of 47 attempts and Chadron State connecting on 18 of 28 free throws attempts.

Steve Dunbar dished out five assists and Wayne State suffered 21 turnovers while Chadron State was forced into 25 turnovers, 16 of which came in the first half.

Stanton dominates Lady Blue Devils

The Wayne Lady Blue Devils are amidst a three game losing streak after Stanton invaded Wayne High Tuesday night and dominated Wayne to the tune of 57-28.

Stanton, the defending state runner-ups from Class C-1, jumped out to a 14-5 lead after the first quarter and by intermission the lead had expanded to a 25-11 margin. Wayne was still unable to get any momentum in the third period as the visitors out scored the Blue Devils 20-6 to lead 45-17 heading into the final stanza.

"I think our younger girls were intimidated a little bit," head coach Marlene Uhing said. "We were very tentative and wouldn't shoot the ball and you can't win unless you shoot."

Teresa Ellis led Wayne's attack with 13 points while Heidi Reeg netted seven. Erin Pick finished with four while Jennifer Hammer and Amy Tiedtke netted two each.

Wayne was out rebounded by a 34-27 margin with Heidi Reeg and Erin Pick recording seven rebounds apiece for the Blue Devils. "Eight of Stanton's first 10 points came on offensive rebounds," Uhing said. "Turn overs and rebounds hurt us."

In Saturday's consolation game with O'Neill for the NAC Conference Tournament Wayne was defeated in over time by a 41-40 margin. "We had a nine point lead in the second quarter that we lost because of turn overs," Uhing said.

"We let them right back into the game."

Heidi Reeg was Wayne's top scorer with 19 points while Teresa Ellis also managed to score in double figures with 10. Susie Ensz and Jennifer Hammer netted four each while Erin Pick rounded out the attack with two.

The score was knotted at 37's at the end of regulation. Wayne will host Emerson-Hubbard Thursday night.

Winside girls up record to 10-5

One night after racing up and down the basketball court and scoring 61 points in a victory against Walthill, Paul Giesselmann's Winside girls basketball team slowed the pace down against Wynot, as they played their second consecutive road game in two days.

Winside, however led the whole game with Wynot and managed to increase their record to 10-5 on the year with a 38-30 victory. "I really felt that the score was closer than the game actually was," Giesselmann said. "Wynot hit a 3-pointer right at the end of the game to cut the lead under 10."

Winside led 8-2 after the first quarter of play but both teams played even in the second quarter which kept the Wildcat lead at six at the break. Winside then out scored the host team 12-8 in the third quarter to maintain a 10 point cushion heading into the final stanza.

Despite the low score Winside still managed to get some balanced scoring among its leaders with Jenny Jacobsen and Kelly Pichler pouring in 12 points apiece while Jenny Topp netted eight. Wendy Rabe scored three while April Thies and Doree Brogren rounded out the attack with two and one point respectively.

Winside had a narrow advantage on the boards at 40-36, and they were led by Wendy Rabe with 12 caroms. Jenny Topp hauled down eight rebounds. Kelly Pichler meanwhile, dished out five assists and was 6 of 10 from the field.

Winside suffered 18 turnovers in the game but they forced Wynot into 23. "We came into the game a little tired from the night before but the girls played hard and got the win," Giesselmann said.

Randy Geier's troops were not as fortunate however, as they fell 61-37 to Wynot. "The ball just plain wouldn't go in the hole for us," Geier said. "We only put up 17 shots in the first half."

After trailing by just four after the first period at 14-10, Winside went on a cold streak and scored just three second quarter points while Wynot's lead ballooned to 21 at 34-13.

Mark Brugger led the Wildcats with 11 points while Cory Jensen had six. Randy Prince was held to five as was Matt Brogren. James Painter netted four and John Hancock, Tad Behmer and Jason Paulsen all had two each.

Brugger and Prince led the battle of the boards with 12 and 11 caroms respectively. Winside had 22 turnovers compared to just eight for Wynot. "The kids played hard," Geier said. "We just had a poor night shooting from the field."

Wayne downs O'Neill for third place

After battling South Sioux to the end and losing by seven in the first round of the NAC Conference Tournament in Hartington on Friday, Bob Uhing's Wayne Blue Devils bounced back to claim third place by defeating O'Neill, 61-60 on Saturday.

O'Neill which had been winning by some big numbers recently, lost to Cedar Catholic in first round action despite 33 points by senior big man Chad West who has proven himself on the hard wood as both an inside player and an outside shooter this season.

Wayne however, has had West's number. In the first meeting between the two teams back in December, West was held 14 points below his average but he still managed to score 19 despite a Wayne victory.

Saturday, Wayne's tenacity on defense made itself known to West as he was held to a season low of four points. "I think that says a lot about the athletic ability of Craig and Casey Dyer," Uhing said. "It also speaks well of our post players."

Wayne raced to a 21-9 lead after the first quarter and by intermission the lead had ballooned to 15 at 38-23. O'Neill didn't give up though, and they made a charge at the Blue Devils before losing by just one point.

"We didn't really play with much intensity and aggressiveness in the second half," Uhing said. "We weren't playing that hard to win the game but we were just playing to maintain a lead."

Neil Carnes exploded for 32 points to lead Wayne past O'Neill while Willy Gross netted 10. Kyle Dahl poured in five and Jeff Griest tallied four. Chad Metzler finished with three as did Craig Dyer while Casey Dyer and Craig Sharpe had two each.

Wayne held a 30-21 advantage on the boards with Neil Carnes being the catalyst with 13 while Willy Gross hauled down five. Wayne had 16 turnovers and O'Neill had 17.

The 11-6 Blue Devils will host Crofton Saturday night.

Winside wins with final shot

The Winside basketball teams traveled to face Walthill Tuesday night in a girl-boy double header. In the opener it was Paul Giesselmann's girls team surprising Walthill by a 63-62 margin. The Winside boys however, were not as fortunate as they remain in search of their initial victory on the season following a 92-54 set back.

"It was an unbelievable game," Giesselmann said after his squad escaped with a one point victory on the wings of a Kelly Pichler 16 foot jumper with two seconds remaining. "Both teams played well and it was like a track meet back and forth."

Walthill jumped out to a 14-10 lead after one quarter of play and by intermission the lead had grown to six. "We were only down by three with just a few seconds left and they hit a 30 foot shot at the buzzer to put us down by six," Giesselmann said. "At one time we were down by 12 points but managed to come back."

In the third period Winside out scored Walthill by a 17-12 margin to give the host team a narrow one point lead heading into the final eight minutes. The game saw-sawed back and forth and with 16 seconds remaining Winside committed a foul and put Walthill on the line for a one-and-one.

"We called time out and set up a play if she missed it and we set up strategy if she just made one or even both," Giesselmann said. "Fortunately she missed the shot and we came down and set up a play and got the ball to Kelly Pichler and she drained it like she was designed to."

Giesselmann felt his squad's conditioning made the difference. "We beat a very good basketball team," Giesselmann said. "We ran with them the whole game and I believe our girls out ran them overall."

The win by Winside put the season record at 9-5 and guaranteed the first winning season by a Winside girls basketball team in 11 years. Jenny Jacobsen led the way with 21 points while Kelly Pichler finished with 15. Also in double figures was Jenny Topp with 10.

April Thies netted six and Wendy Rabe and Holly Holdorf finished with four each. Doree Brogren rounded out the Wildcat attack with three points.

"All seven of the girls we played scored," Giesselmann said. Winside held a 48-37 advantage on the boards led by Jenny Topp with 12 rebounds to her credit. Wendy Rabe finished with 10 caroms and Jenny Jacobsen hauled down six. Kelly Pichler and April Thies had five rebounds apiece.

Winside suffered far more turnovers than Walthill at 31-17 and the Wildcats were 13 of 22 from the charity stripe. Winside connected on 49 percent of its shots from the field.

Boys play hard

For the first half of the boys contest it was anybody's game as Randy Geier's squad played their best half of the season. Unfortunately, the wheels fell off in the second half as Winside was out scored to the tune of 54-19 in the final 16 minutes after trailing by only five at the break.

"Walthill's got a good team," Geier said. "They return four of their top six players from a team that qualified for state last season." Both teams tallied 22 first quarter points but the host team took a 38-33 advantage into the locker room at half time.

Winside was totally out gunned in the third quarter as Walthill exploded for 30 points and gave up just six to the Wildcats. Randy Prince led Winside with 17 points while Mark Brugger and Matt Brogren tallied 10 apiece. Cory Miller finished with six and John Hancock netted five. Cory Jensen was credited with four and James Painter tallied two.

Matt Brogren came out like a ball of fire for Winside as he connected on all four of his first quarter field goal attempts and had nine of his 10 points in the first eight minutes.

Winside managed 38 rebounds on the night but Walthill was in total command, hauling down 62. Winside was led by Randy Prince with eight and Mark Brugger with seven. The Wildcats suffered 21 turnovers in the contest with 16 of them coming in the dismal second half. Walthill only suffered five turnovers. Winside was 11 of 19 from the free throw line and Walthill was 18 of 27.

Four earn top seed

Winside dominates

Paul Sok's Winside wrestling team had one final tune up before the district wrestling meet this weekend in Howells. Saturday his grapplers rounded up 202 points while breezing to the team championship at the Clearwater Invitational. Elgin Pope John Central Catholic finished in the runner-up slot with 133 points.

Howells managed a third place finish with 86 1/2 points and Plainview finished fourth with 71 points. Creighton's JV's, Neligh-Oakdale's JV's, Albion's JV's, and Clearwater rounded out the field of eight teams in the order of finish.

Although there are only 13 weight classes Winside managed to place 14 wrestlers with five getting first, four getting seconds, three getting thirds, two getting fourths and another who did not place but one at least one match.

"We scored a lot of points and everyone placed," Sok said. "You have to be pleased with that but I still think we could have looked sharper. We weren't as intense in some situations as we should have been."

Chad Carlson at 112 lbs., decided Jason Arlt of Plainview by a 7-2 margin in the finals to earn him a first place medal while Max Kant pinned Corey Stokes of Elgin Pope John in 1:46 to win the 135 lb. match. Kant finished the regular season with an undefeated record.

Shane Frahm pinned Chad Lawson of Albion's JV's in 1:08 to win the 140 lb. crown while Jason Krueger pinned Scott Burger of Plainview in 52 seconds to win the 171 lb. title. Brian Thompson claimed the heavy weight title by pinning Neligh-Oakdale's Jeremy Martensen in 22 seconds.

Runner-up finishes went to Jason Bargstadt at 145 lbs., Jeff Gallop at 152 lbs., Kerry Jaeger at 160 lbs., and Trevor Topp at 189 lbs. Third places were earned by Chris Mann at 103 lbs., Jason Magwire at 130 lbs., and Mark Stueckrath at 145 lbs.

Mark Janssen at 119 lbs., and Doug Heinemann at 125 lbs., placed fourth in their respective weight classes, Craig Brugger wrestled reserve at heavy weight and won a match but did not place.

Action in the district meet will begin at 6:30 p.m. on Friday night in Howells. The first two rounds will be wrestled with all other action taking place on Saturday.

The top four finishers in each weight class will advance to the state tournament in Lincoln next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Editor's note: On Tuesday, Winside coach Paul Sok attended the seedings meeting for the district meet. Chad Carlson, Doug Heinemann, Max Kant and Jason Krueger all received first seeds while Shane Frahm and Brian Thompson received second seeds. Jeff Gallop was seeded third while Trevor Topp received the fourth seed. Kerry Jaeger and Jason Bargstadt were both seeded fifth.

Laurel loses fourth

The Laurel Bears took their 14-3 record into Coleridge Monday night in hopes of continuing their success story of the 1989-90 basketball season. Coleridge however, was not about to fold under the pressure of playing the 10-rated Bears and when all was said and done the Bulldogs had pulled the upset, 72-68 over Mark Hrabik's troops.

"We just came out flat," Hrabik said. "But I don't want to make excuses because Coleridge played a nice game and they held John Schutte far below his average."

The Bears led 17-16 after the first quarter and both teams played to a 19-19 tie in the second quarter to leave Laurel with one point lead at the break, 36-35. Coleridge did most of their damage in the third quarter as they leaped to a seven point lead by the quarters end.

"We managed to tie the game at 68 apiece," Hrabik said. "But then their guard Mike Schnoor got free and we had to foul him and he made the final four points of the game all on free throws."

John Schutte was held to just five points by Coleridge as they put a box and one defense on him. Todd Erwin led the Bears with 21 points on the wings of six 3-pointers and three free throws. Troy Twohig finished with 15 and Matt Felber sank two 3-pointers enroute to his 12 points. Shawn Arens netted nine and Matt Jonas finished with six.

Laurel maintained a narrow lead on the boards at 27-25 with John Schutte hauling down eight rebounds and Troy Twohig, seven. Todd Erwin led the team in assists as he dished out nine.

The Bears had just seven turnovers while Coleridge committed 10. Laurel was 8 of 11 from the foul line and Coleridge was 13 of 21. "We ran into problems in the first half of letting Coleridge have two and three shots at the basket," Hrabik said. "That and our defensive performance was not up to par which also disappointed me."

The Bears will have an important game this Friday when they travel to play Neligh. If the Bears win the contest they will have won the conference championship in both the regular season and in the conference tournament.

Wakefield crowned as Kings of Lewis & Clark

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Although the Wakefield Trojans were favored to win the Lewis & Clark Conference Basketball Tournament before the tournament ever began, Wakefield followers couldn't help but reach back into yesteryear to find out when the last time the Trojans managed to complete such a task.

The calendar year was 1948 which is a 42 year absence of repeating. Those stats however, seemed trivial to Paul Eaton's troops as they came out gunning against Bancroft-Rosalie in Rice Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State College Saturday afternoon.

Wakefield sprinted to a 20-12 first quarter lead before settling for a 66-53 championship victory. Both squads played even basketball in the second quarter which left the Trojans with that same eight point cushion at the break, 32-24.

Wakefield's defense became a tenacious momentum grabber in the third quarter as the Trojans out scored Bancroft-Rosalie 17-9 to tally a 16 point lead heading into the final eight minutes.

The Panthers however, refused to die and with Wakefield leading 55-35, Bancroft-Rosalie went on a 14-2 scoring rampage to close the gap to 57-49, but that was as close as it got.

Andy McQuistan led the Trojans with 22 points while Mark Johnson and Tony Krusemark poured in 14 apiece. Play maker Chris Loofe netted eight for the 18-1 Trojans while Matt Tappe and Anthony Brown rounded out the attack with four each.

Wakefield held a 35-29 advantage on the boards as Tony Krusemark and Andy McQuistan hauled down 11 rebounds apiece while Mark Johnson was credited with five.

Both teams committed 13 turnovers in the contest and Wakefield connected on 20 of 29 free throw attempts. "I didn't think we played all that well in the first half," Eaton said. "But we got things going with our transition game in the third quarter and our defense stiffened a little."

Eaton said his senior kids are really playing well together right now which is a must for Wakefield to be successful.

Down Wynot
Wakefield had to host Wynot in the finals of the Clark Division on Friday night at Wakefield and the result was much the same as it was the first time; the two met two weeks earlier with the Trojans breezing to a 69-44 win.

Wynot managed to keep the game close after the first quarter, trailing only 14-13, but Wakefield upped the tempo in the second quarter and out scored the visitors 21-11 to maintain an 11 point half time lead.

In the second half it was the Trojans out scoring Wynot 34-20 to make up the 25 point deficit. Only five players scored for Eaton's troops with the big three accounting for 63 of the team's 69 points. The big three refers to Andy McQuistan, Mark Johnson and Tony Krusemark. McQuistan led all scorers with 28 points while Mark Johnson came off the bench to score 18. Johnson played for the first time since suffering a sprained ankle a week earlier. Krusemark poured in 17 while Matt Tappe and Chris Loofe rounded out the attack with four and two points respectively.

Wakefield out rebounded Wynot by a 34-26 margin led by Mark Johnson with 10 rebounds.

Tony Krusemark and Andy McQuistan hauled down seven cars apiece. Wakefield had just 10 turnovers while forcing Wynot into 21. The Trojans connected on 15 of 17 free throws.

Wakefield will travel to play Coleridge on Friday before hosting Lyons-Decatur on Monday in Parent's Night.

MARK JOHNSON soars toward the basket for two of his 14 points during Lewis & Clark finals action.

The Lopers jumped out to a 13-1 lead and never looked back as they built a 32 point lead in the first half at 48-16 with still two minutes plus remaining before the break.

Marques Wilson, Steve Dunbar and Byron Young all scored three points apiece in the final two minutes of the half to make it a 49-25 Loper lead with 20 minutes to go.

The second half resembled a track meet as both teams raced up and down the court with Wayne State winning the battle of the half, 54-53 but losing the war, 102-79.

Value of Self-Medication

According to Dr. Frank Young, Commissioner of the U.S. Food & Drug Administration, Americans are taking a more active role in managing their own health. Nine times out of ten we treat routine health problems ourselves with medications available without a physician's prescription. According to Dr. Young, self-medication is a familiar, inexpensive, and convenient method of dealing with ordinary health problems. "While saving patients the expense of doctor visits, self-treatment with over-the-counter (OTC) products can free health professionals to deal with the more serious medical problems that require their skill," says Dr. Young. The range of health problems that can be treated with OTC medicines has grown dramatically because of the medicines now available without prescription.

Region IV trying to work out troubles

WAYNE — Due to recent difficulties in financing and inconsistencies in the aluminum market right now, Region IV is making some changes in the way its local recycling center is handled.

According to Wayne center director Kim Kanitz, delivery hours at Region IV have changed due to some troubles in financing. Kanitz said Saturday hours, which allowed people to drop off their recyclable items during the weekend, were discontinued in December due to budget cut backs. Kanitz said it was too expensive to have an employee at the office on Saturdays just for the purpose of accepting deliveries. He said with the recent cuts in funding by the state, the center could not see the feasibility of keeping the center open those extra hours.

"We've also stopped accepting deliveries after 3:30 p.m. on Fridays due to standards which need to be followed" within Region IV standards, Kanitz said. "To have a weekly staff meeting we needed them to be uninterrupted. If we can continue to have uninterrupted meetings, the staff will be better able to keep up on the newest procedures as well as receiving additional training."

Kanitz said the delivery's new hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Fridays.

The other problem Region IV has run into deals with the increase in the national minimum wage as well as an aluminum market which right now appears to be on a roller coaster.

"The prices we get paid has been cut monthly since October," he said. "At this point, we've lost 25 percent per pound of what we used to get. Obviously, that's out of our control. Right now we have no idea when it will bottom out."

Also, with the minimum wage increase planned in the near future, Region IV will have to make some adjustments in its prices it offers to the public effective March 1. Kanitz said that's one reason he's encouraging people to bring in cans now so they can be guaranteed the most for their money.

"It's an appeal so people will have a better understanding of what's going on," he said. "We hope people understand our new hours and why they had to change as well as the bearing on what's going on with the prices."

Mark'n' the Spot

by Mark Crist

To be or not to be, that is the question. Rural communities might be behind the eight ball during the 1990s because legislation is gaining momentum to begin the closure of rural schools. For instance, Hoskins is the latest among the victims. Unfortunately, for the rural communities, the Hoskins closure may be the beginning of the end. A classic example of the results of the closure of rural schools may be found by traveling to our neighbor state to the south. Or travel to two north to North Dakota, where thriving rural communities during earlier parts of the century have become ghost towns or are walking a thin line to becoming deserted.

Since I am most familiar with Kansas, I will elaborate on it. As many of you know, I lived in Goodland, Kan. for the past year. Goodland is surrounded by two smaller communities — each of which used to have schools in them — one is Kanorado to the west and the other is Edson to the east.

It seems apparent that Kanorado was at one time the larger town of the two. It had a community school, which Edson had, but it also had a downtown business district, which Edson didn't. According to what I learned, somewhere along the line Kanorado suffered from poor local leadership, which led to the death of the business district sometime after the school was closed in the late 1960s.

Now, it is all but a ghost town. There is no grocery store there, no bank, and not even local law enforcement. The community is dependent on law enforcement from the sheriff's office, which is in Goodland, about 20 miles away.

Since the closure of the school, Kanorado has done nothing with the structure, which was the pillar of the community. Today, it is rotting and the roof has all-but fallen in.

Edson residents, saw that something needed to be done when their school closed. Since that time, they have made part of the school building into a community center. Unlike Kanorado, the structure is frequently used.

So what is all this trying to say? It's apparent that the state legislature doesn't believe keeping rural schools open is worth the cost. Modern transportation has pretty well eliminated the usefulness of the little schoolhouse, which doubles as a church on Sundays and a community center in the evenings, or so our lawmakers say.

At what cost is it worth to the taxpayer, who's screaming for tax relief, to keep these rural schools open?

To take it a step further, in defense of the rural communities, which will probably lose their schools during this decade without some strong, intuitive leadership, is it worth it to close the schools and have the state's rural communities turn into a series of ghost towns?

To be or not to be. That is the question.

Chickens

but he added that Waldbaum's still has the option to buy the property but he did not know when the option ran out. He said in a telephone interview that the 200 acre tract, at this point, is one of several the company is looking at but added that after drilling-for-water, they have not found sufficient amounts to meet their needs.

"One of the things we're looking for is water and we haven't found what we need yet," Gardner said. "Since we have not been able to fulfill that requirement, it wouldn't make sense to put chickens there."

AFTER THE MEETING with the county commissioners, Sandahl said the need to have a zoning ordinance for the county is long overdue. He said in the mid 1970s, the zoning ordinance for rural Wayne County towns was determined by the county commissioners. "When it was voted on (sometime in early 1978) by the commissioners it was voted down," he said.

Sandahl noted concern for area residents, however, because of the fact the ordinance is overdue. According to Gardner, Waldbaum's is not affected by Initiative 300, which is a state law which creates a blockage for large corporate farms. Waldbaums, however, is not covered by the initiative because chickens are not one of the products included in the statute's clause.

According to County Commission chairman Bob Nissen, it is the consensus of the board that the interest needs to be found out from the county on the issue as to whether a zoning ordinance is needed. He said in order for the concerned citizens who were at Tuesday's meeting to be able to put an ordinance in effect, there is a process they need to follow.

Nissen said a committee needs to be established and OK'd by the commissioners at their next meeting. Once the committee is approved, it would have to update the plan and hold a public hearing through the county commissioners to present it to the public. Following the public hearing, the commissioners would have to approve the plan.

"Whether this could be updated and a zoning ordinance could be put in place, we need to know," Sandahl said.

Scouts seeking support

Announcement of our Boy Scout Troop 174's selection for honorable mention as one of the outstanding participants in the "Keep Nebraska Beautiful" campaign has inspired us to ask for continued support of our recycling efforts.

According to a report entitled "Rubbish" by director of "The Garbage Project" (examination of 16,000 pounds nationwide), William Rathje, in the December issue of The Atlantic Monthly: Paper accounts for 40 to 50 percent of everything we throw away, both by weight and by volume and newspapers dated 1952 from the landfill in Phoenix were in their original state. (Newspaper in landfills do not biodegrade.)

Less than 30 boys ages 12-18 and their dads meet early one Saturday morning to perform this ecological service for the community. We receive $8 to $12 per ton for newspaper we load onto pickups, reload into semi-trailers and then haul to Norfolk. If we did not have volunteer transportation from Dave Zach to the recycling center we could not break even.

Unfortunately, we feel we are only gathering approximately 1.0 percent of the recyclable paper in this area presently and we need volume to make the program feasible. The money we earn from this project helps support our camping trips. We would appreciate it if everyone would save their papers and then put them at curbside the third Saturday of each month. (The next drive is Saturday, Feb. 17.)

You may put your papers in brown paper bags, cardboard boxes or tie them in bundles. Bounded paper, e.g. computer sheets are more valuable, but we are docked for glossy paper (ad supplements) as it does not recycle. If you prefer, you may leave your papers inside the Presbyterian Church garage or inside our semi-trailer parked to the right of the road leading up to the compact station. If you are unable to carry the papers outside we will add your name to our pickup service if you call Zachs at 375-3149. We also appreciate any aluminum cans you can save. Thanks for your help.

Quiet on the range

AN OLD CHICKEN COOP sits silently as the northeast Nebraska wind passes through the structure's broken windows. The coop, which appears like it has not been used in recent times, looks dilapidated and in need of repair but its rustic look seems almost aesthetic to the eye of the camera lens.

Survey to call on several area farmers

Virginia Gosch of Randolph will be calling on several area farmers over the next six weeks, asking for their cooperation on a major survey, according to Jack Aschwege, head of the Nebraska Agricultural Statistics Service in Lincoln.

Up to 24,000 farmers and ranchers nationwide, with both large and smaller operations, have been selected to participate in the fifth annual Farm Costs and Returns Survey.

Like her counterparts nationwide, Gosch will be collecting data on farm expenses, finances, capital purchases, and costs of production for 1989.

The information will be used to assess the economic well-being of different sizes and types of farms in different parts of the country.

Survey findings also will be used to estimate costs and returns for producing individual commodities.

"BEING A FARM wife myself, I know how busy farmers are and I know that surveys can be time consuming," said Gosch. "But I also know how important it is to have accurate, detailed, up-to-date information of financial conditions throughout agriculture. A lot of people depend on it, and reliable, current information has to come from the source — farmers themselves."

According to Charles Caudill, who heads the National Agricultural Statistics Service in Washington, D. C., the survey is intended to "take the pulse of agriculture."

The information it yields is used by farm policymakers, state agriculture officials, commodity groups, ag businesses, educational interests, and farm organizations.

"The survey lets farmers and those who represent them know what's happening in different regions and sectors of agriculture. State agriculture officials and policymakers in Washington base many of their decisions on information gleaned from this survey," Caudill said.

GOSCH POINTED out that each of the 750 Nebraska farmers selected for the survey represents many other farmers in similar circumstances. Once a name has been selected, no one else can take that farmer's place.

To make the survey interviews as convenient as possible for participating farmers, Gosch said interviews will be conducted in their homes. She added that most farmers selected for interviews have already been notified by mail.

Responses to survey questionnaires are strictly confidential. After the survey data is reviewed and summarized by the Nebraska Ag Statistics Service, all individual questionnaires will be destroyed.

All those participating in the survey will automatically receive a USDA summary of the results on a state, regional, or national level and also Nebraska Agri-Facts, a bimonthly release covering agricultural estimates and forecasts.

Conway discusses rules to avoid maneuvering

LINCOLN, Many people in the State are not completely aware of all of the maneuvering that can take place in the Legislature. To prevent most of this, each year we amend and adopt our permanent Rules. These rules pertain to the way bills are introduced, the way they are heard, the way in which they are debated and to almost every other activity occurring in the legislative process.

One of these rules deals with "germaneness" in the amending of bills. The rule, 7 (3) (d), states that, "No motion, proposition, or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment." In other words, any amendment offered to a bill, must deal with the same subject matter as that contained in the original bill. Consider the following germane amending of one piece of legislation:

LB 240 was introduced January 9, 1989 and referred to the Urban Affairs Committee for hearing. It was a small, yet important bill changing the requirements for the size and design of handicapped parking permits. The bill was heard by the Committee and advanced to first round debate stage on the last day of January. It received General File consideration on April 3rd and was advanced to Select File. Two weeks later, the introducer filed amendment (Am 1318) to the Bill. The Legislation adjourned before the bill was considered again. All legislation remained in the same debate order in 1990 that they were in at the end of the 1989 Session. Amendment (Am 1318) consisted entirely of the whole of LB 129, introduced by the same Senator. LB 129 was a bill to establish a statewide dual-party telephone relay system for the hearing-impaired. Since LB 129 was on General File, further down in the debate order, and since the introducer considered it more important than LB 240, the amendment was offered to move LB 129 into the position held by LB 240. Concerned about the "germaneness" rule, the introducer moved to suspend that rule, a tactic that is sometimes used to avoid the application of a rule. The motion passed and the amendment was adopted. Here it might be mentioned that an argument could've been made that the amendment was germane, as both bills pertained to the handicapped.

LB 240 was subsequently advanced to Final Reading and was returned to Select File last week to be amended by another Senator, who wanted to place LB 719 into the bill. LB 719 would provide a funding mechanism for the 911 emergency telephone communications system. LB 719 was on general file, but in a worse position than LB 129 had been. The amendment was adopted. The issue of germaneness was not raised, because both bills pertained to telephone service.

So much for the rule that all amendments must be germane to the original subject matter of the bill being amended. What started out as a bill relating to handicapped parking permits has become a bill to implement a hearing-impaired telephone system and a funding vehicle for 911. Nevertheless, Nebraskans have been served. Both of these worthy measures will now, undoubtedly become law. If the maneuvering had not occurred, there is a great likelihood that neither would have passed.

And what happened to LB 240, that little bill dealing with handicapped parking permits? It was amended into LB 516 last year. It's already law.

NCA: What does it mean?

A diploma from WHS will indicate at its base that the school is an accredited member of NCA.

NCA refers to the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools; A consortium of nineteen mid-western states whose purpose is to develop and maintain high standards of excellence. The NCA commission also monitors the effectiveness of instruction through an annual report required of member schools. Additional school accountability occurs through a self-evaluation study conducted once every seven (7) years.

Following the self-evaluation an outside team of education specialists visits the school for two or three days and reports to school personnel and the community its findings. The purpose of the evaluation process, continued improvement of the educational program.

Membership in the NCA is voluntary and only pursued by schools who have a commitment to excellence.

Wayne High School has been an accredited member of NCA since 1917 and will be conducting its self-evaluation during the 1990-91 school year.

By Pat Meterhenry

Cousin Paul called three months ago. They had a bonus week coming with their resort vacation plan and they had applied for a week in Florida in late January. Could we go along?

I heard the Big Farmer talking about leaving in winter and making all kinds of excuses, and I interjected, "We'll go!"

"You don't even know what we're talking about," my home-lovin' husband replied.

But I could tell from the conversation who he was talking to, and it sounded like they were talking about Florida because Uncle Reuben and cousin Vivian live there.

Not a bad state to visit in January.

WHICH IS HOW we came to be at the Kansas City International Airport last Saturday morning before the sun came up.

And how we came to be at the Orlando airport by 2:30 that same afternoon, and in a condo at Palm Coast, two hours away on the Atlantic Ocean, by 5.

It's strange to get out the swimsuits and shorts and go from 40 degrees to 70 degrees in just a few hours. It's even stranger to be in a lovely heated pool when you hear about a -23 degree wind chill at home.

It seems unreal to visit a 350-year-old fort when we are celebrating centennials.

It doesn't seem possible that we enjoyed a sail on the intercoastal waterways before watching the Super Bowl, and feasted on shrimp harvested in that same waterway.

WE HAD DUMPLINGS and kraut at the Biergarten in the German pavilion at Epcot on Friday noon, and lasagna at Grandma's in Lincoln the next day.

The real shock was leaving 87 degree weather and coming in to a slushy Kansas City airport and finding our car totally covered with ice.

One of the funniest episodes of the entire week took place at the Space Center. I had remarked to Murt in the Memphis airport that it was getting to be a real challenge to figure how to flush in all the different facilities we encountered.

I closed the door of the stall in the bathroom at Cape Kennedy and the stool flushed immediately. "How did that happen?" I wondered. After I finished, I looked around for a handle to pull on or a button to push. Nothing. I began to open the door and the thing flushed! I finally realized there was an electric eye on the wall. Now that's technology.

Then I laughed as other women came out with puzzled expressions. We came to the conclusion that they could at least post signs.

IT WAS A NICE break. The groundhog did not see his shadow. Dick took good care of the "girls" — our stock cows. We ate seafood, black beans and other delicacies.

McDonald's has opened in Russia and Disney is building in Paris.

It's fun to live leisurely for a few days, but we're ready to get back to work. We enjoyed seeing Nebraska's basketball team beat K State this afternoon on the tube. Now to get the papers read and the mail caught up.

Nebraska, the good life, is better when we can escape winter for a few days.

It's back to regular flush-toilets!

Cholesterol screening in Wakefield

WAKEFIELD - Marian Health Center began its third annual cholesterol screening program on Feb. 6 with a week-long series of outreach screenings scheduled in the Siouxland area.

In Wakefield, cholesterol screening will take place today (Thursday) from 6 to 10 a.m. at the Wakefield fire hall. Cost of the screening is $5.

Participants should fast for eight hours prior to the screening. Water and normal medications generally will not interfere with the test. Low cholesterol snacks will be provided following the screening. Test results will be sent to the participant and his or her physician within a week of the screening.

In addition to a cholesterol test, the profile includes HDL and triglycerides results. The HDL and triglycerides readings are necessary to evaluate the significance of the cholesterol level which, by itself, gives an incomplete picture of heart disease/stroke risk level.

A cholesterol reading is one factor used to determine if a patient is at risk for heart disease and the degree of that risk. Other factors which must be taken into account are family history of heart disease or stroke, smoking, activity level, blood pressure and weight.

NPPD plans cuts to wholesale customers by another 2 percent

AREA - The Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) has announced that it will be able to reduce costs to its wholesale customers by an additional two percent during 1990. The proposed reduction is possible primarily because NPPD's energy sales during 1989 were greater than budgeted, and the District was able to not only meet the requirements of its customers in Nebraska, but also was able to sell excess capacity to customers out-of-state.

NPPD Rates and Budgets Manager Ron Asche said that approximately $6.3 million of additional net revenues, due largely from the higher than estimated energy sales, are associated with the District's wholesale power service and allows for the wholesale rate reduction. NPPD will also have additional revenues of $1.8 million during 1990 from a recently-completed summer season sale of 300 megawatts of excess capacity to Northern States Power Company of Minneapolis, Minn.

NPPD had previously announced that a surplus in its production cost adjustment account (PCA) would have the effect of lowering power and energy costs to wholesale customers from 3.5 to 4 percent. The PCA account was created several years ago to accommodate increases and decreases in the cost of fuel to run the District's generating plants.

Rod Watkins, NPPD president and chief executive officer, said that the District's economical mixture of fuels, along with having reliable, low-cost generating units, make short-term sales to other utilities possible while still allowing NPPD to meet the needs of its customers both today and well into the future.

"The District enters the '90s well-positioned to meet Nebraska's electrical energy requirements, and at the same time keep our rates as low as possible," Watkins said. "While utilities in many areas of the country either are or probably will be experiencing energy shortages, we will continue to meet our customers' needs with our low-cost, dependable mixture of coal, nuclear and hydroelectric resources."

Twenty-six public power districts and cooperatives and 50 municipalities purchasing their total wholesale power requirements from NPPD will benefit from this proposed reduction in rates. Asche said the surplus and additional revenues were not known when the original wholesale rate study was conducted in August.

Hog meeting planned

Workshop for feed mixing planned in Laurel

Area hog producers who mix feed on the farm and want to become more competitive by mixing better quality feed and controlling feed costs can attend a workshop Feb. 28 at Laurel at the city auditorium.

The feed mixing workshop, co-sponsored by the Northeast Five Extension Program Unit and the Cedar County Pork Producers Association is limited to the first 80 producers who enroll. The registration fee is $15 per person. The fee includes a crude protein analysis of a feed sample. For an additional $10, a feed sample will be analyzed for calcium and phosphorus. The noon lunch will be courtesy of the Pork Producers Association.

A one-pound sample of either a grower or lactation diet must be submitted to the Extension office by Feb. 15. The registration fee must accompany the sample.

Feed is the largest single cost item in pork production. On the average, it accounts for 60 percent of all costs and about 80 percent of cash costs. Any decline in the quality of swine feed mixed on the farm can affect the "bottom line" profits.

Results of feed analyses will be available before the workshop so that questions regarding the results can be answered during the session. Producers submitting samples should bring feed tags, the amount of each ingredient in the mix and the cost of each ingredient to the workshop.

The morning program will spotlight feed mixing problems that rob feed quality and profitability, and point to ways of managing for lower feed costs.

In the afternoon, concurrent sessions will be offered on feed mixing practices for batch mixers and meter mills. A "feed-mixing merry-go-round" will feature several educational centers where Extension Specialists will answer questions on a wide array of problems relating to feeds and feeding of hogs.

The workshop will start at 9 a.m. and adjourn at 3:30 p.m.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste sticks to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. But that's expensive, and often only a temporary help.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquify even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money

A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too

Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a signal, act now. Start cleaning your drains the safe, effective, guaranteed way. Get Plumb Clean today!
