Salitros named to job

WAYNE - Mayor Wayne Marsh announced at a press conference Friday that Joseph Salitros has been selected as the new city administrator ministrator.

Salitros replaces Phil Kloster, who left in February to be city administrator in Newton, Kan.
Salitros, 42, will assume the position May 15 and his family will join him by late summer. He comes to Wayne after being an investment representative for Edward D. Jones for an unenedified number of wars.

In the fourth ward, Patty Wieland

Morris said that the low candidate turnout means one of two things: People are either satisfied with who's running and don't want to run or they're satisfied by how the governments are being run.

"I'm more apt to believe the public is satisfied with the way things are going," she said.

For other positions in city government, Sheryl Lindau is running unopposed for the third ward council position and Darrel D. Heier is unopposed for the first ward position.

FOR SCHOOL DISTRICTS, the most candidates are in School Dis-trict 95R in Winside. There are three vacancies and four candidates running. Brian Hoffman, a non-incumbent; Richard Behmer, a non-incumbent; Ken Kollath, an incumbent and Douglas H. Deck, a non-incumbent compose the bal-

Mary Nichols, a registered nurse and assistant director of nursing at the Wayne Care Centre, recalled briefly what her third grade teacher was like when she was a little girl.

Today, her teacher, who is unnamed for privacy purposes, is suffering from one of the most debilitating diseases known today — Alzheimers.

Medical reports seem to indicate that Alzheimers disease is the result of a faulty gene. Recent reports say it is a result of the same gene which produces Downs Syndrome, but that theory is one in a long series.

Diagnosis, however, is tricky. According to Carrol Baier, an RN and director of nursing services at the Wayne Care Centre, the closest facility for diagnosis of Alzheimers is at Lincoln General Hospital in Lincoln. The General Hospital in Lincoln. The problem exists that the only sure way to know if a patient suffered from Alzheimers is by performing an autopsy. In addition, diagnosed Alzheimers patients often lose their health insurance because Abuse and Neglect Council, spon-sored by Goldenrod Hills Commusored by Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency, was awarded $13,200 to continue increasing public awareness and education on child abuse and neglect. Positive and fleathy family relationships will be promoted through the distribution of family strengthening packets using the theme "Kids are "Indisposable." packets using 'Indisposable'

Parents, new parents, guardians, children, hospitals and the general public will be the recipients of the packets which present information and family strengthening material in a non-threatening manner.

Information on child abuse and alcoholism will also be included in the packet. Such booklets provide information to use self-help as an inexpensive and effective way to solve problems. This is a special effort to reach parents considered at risk to be abusive. The council thinks it is necessary to address the thinks it is necessary to address the correlation of alcoholism and child abuse in the distribution of prevention information.

Recently, the council has realized the growing population of Spanish individuals in the counties. For this population, a pamphlet has been included, to provide practical suggestions on how to cope with children. It explains concepts of discipline and suggests techniques for the successful resolution of

In 1987 the Northeast District Department of Social Services re-ported 7,658 cases of child abuse in the State of Nebraska. The number of substantiated cases to-taled 4,273; 7,254 of these cases involved children.

The problem of child abuse and ne problem of child abuse and neglect remains not only in the urban setting but also in the rural communities. In the 12 counties of rural northeast Nebraska that the council covers, families continue to experience difficult times.

The counties included in this area are Antelope, Burt, Cedar Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Madison Pierce, Stanton, Thurston and Wayne. These counties reported 1,106 cases of child abuse and ne-glect. Substantiated cases totaled 802, with 1,433 children being involved. Once again, we anticipate an increase in the number for this an increase in the number for this year. Direct deposit available

AREA - People in northeast Nebraska who receive Social Security checks, may easily arrange to have them deposited directly into an account in a financial institution. The account can be in a commer-cial bank, savings and loan associa-tion, Federal or State credit union or similar institution.

All a person has to do to arrange for direct deposit is to call Social Security or contact any fi-nancial organization. A monthly benefit check and a blank personal check contain all the information needed.

Some advantages of direct deposit are:

No worry about a check being lost or stolen.

No need to be home when the check arrives. The money is available in an account even if the person is out of town.
Time and transportation costs are saved and there is no standing in line to each the check.

"We need to look at new crops, not only in animal production but in grains," she said. "If you have an onion plant nearby but they have to bring onions in from Tennessee, then why not locate some onion farms nearby so the industry and the product can be closer to cather? That's sometime? gether? That's something I hope to do.

She said her ambition to run for a state-level office has long been in the works. She said she has served on numerous local elected boards in Syracuse but this is the first time she's run for a statewide position.

"This has definitely been a learning experience," she said. "I didn't want to go for the gover-nor's position but I think I can pro-vide a good balance as lieutenant governor. We need someone who will be innovative and someone who will provide leadership. That's something I can do."

She said she plans to initiate some of her plans through the Nebraska Economic Development facilities located throughout the state, as well as the University of Nebraska.

In addition to addressing campaign issues, Moul said she was glad to see the state legislature overturn Gov. Kay Orr's veto on LB 1059. She said although the bill isn't perfect, it provides the state with a good starting point. She also said she knows she has different views from those of her opponents but she will respect the other. but she will respect the other

"She made the contacts and had the information sent to us," deFreese said. "That's when things started to clear up."

BUT EVEN THOUGH things began to clear up, they didn't get better. Sue Larsen, who is their daughter, had her husband build a fence around the back yard so Rev defreese couldn't leave. If he did, and on occasion he would, he would wander aimlessly like a dog.

I had to keep the door locked so he couldn't leave the house," deFreese said. "If he got out, he'd become directionally confused and get lost."

In an effort to keep Rev. de-Freese busy, Mary had him do sim-ple tasks around the house. She said after a while, even that be-

"He tried to put up some shelves in the basement and he had always been good doing me-chanical things like that," she said. But I remember him hitting his head with his fists and say 'c'mon brain, c'mon' and that was frustrating. I think it was one of the things that hurt the most — seeing him know something was wrong and getting frustrated by it."

IN THE FINAL stages before Mary was forced to put Ken in the rest home, she recalls Ken asking her who she was.

"He looked up at me one night when I was putting his pajamas or and said 'who are you?' and I said 'Ken, I'm your wife. We've been married 40 years.'

Larsen said she's glad she lived nearby so she could help her mother.

"I don't know what Mom would've done," she said. "One thing which sticks out in my mem-ory was at one point when he was pacing the hallway, really agitated, he stopped and said to me 'this is really a change, isn't it?' and then he went back into his own little world. He knew i was caring for him just like he had for me when I was little."

After moving to Wayne in 1943 to be the minister at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Ken died quietly Feb. 9, 1988 of Alzheimers at the

Beware communism

The late Roy M. Matson, M.D., had posted in his waiting room in Wayne, "The Communist Rules for Revolution" for the public to read. These were obtained by Allied Forces at Diesseldorf, Germany in May 1919. Are these the rules they are still following here in America?

 Corrupt the young; get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex.

Get in control of all means of publicity. Get people's minds off their governments ... attention on athletics.

• Divide the people ... constantly harping on controversial matters ...

• Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext with a view of confiscating them and leave the population helpless. In Eastern Europe today, the Communist parties have changed their names to Social Democrat. This is the same name used in 1917 in Russia when Communists seized power. So their weapon today is to spread the illusion that day is to spread the illusion that Communism is no more.

Spring concert for WSC group

WAYNE - The Northeast Ne-braska Sinfonia (Wayne State Col-lege Orchestra) will present its spring concert Tuesday, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building's Ramsey Theatre on the college campus. The performance is free and open to the public.

The 40-piece orchestra will present a varied program featuring Borodin's "Polovtsian Dances from Prince Igor," Beethoven's "Overture to Egmont," the "Emperor" waltz of Johann Strauss, and selections from "The King and I."

Also featured will be Copland's

"Fanfare for the Common Man and Vivaldi's concerto in D majo for two oboes and string orchestra. Soloists for Vivaldi's concerto will be Lyn Gross and Dr. Jay O'Leary.

Gross plays solo English horn and oboe for the Sloux City Symphony. Dr. O'Leary is principal oboe with the Symphony and division head of fine arts at Wayne State.

Thanks for support

The Wayne Wrestling Club would like to thank everyone who helped in any way at out Junior Wrestling Tournament. Thanks also to WSC, the Huskerland organization, the officials who donated their time, Winside and West Point CC for the use of their mate and CC for the use of their mats and the always reliable, willing workers. The support of the wrestlers, coaches and fans from all over the eastern part of Nebraska, as well as lowa and Minnesota was fantastic. The enthusiastic support from everyone should send a clear mes-— we want wrestling at Wayne State!
