business attitude surveys. The surveys were used by the committee to determine the strengths and weaknesses facing Wavne and focus on the key issues wayne and rocus on the key issues affecting future development. The following is a list of the is-sues appearing on the surveys: • People in Wayne responded that local merchants should try harder to encourage local shopping. Forty percent indicated that they buy some of their goods and services outside of Wayne (10 to 30 percent). The most significant shopping occurs for men's, women's and children's clothing. Eighty percent of the people re-sponding said they usually buy these items in Sioux City or Norfolk.

• Residents seem to be gener-ally satisfied with the school and recreation programs, with the ex-ception of teen-oriented activities. Forty-three percent indicated dis-satisfaction with recreational programs for teens.

There was a clear, indication that Wayne needs to provide more housing for low-income and elderly residents. In addition, forty-seven percent of the respondents rated suitability of rental housing less than satisfactory.
 While the Wayne Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Inductions

Commerce and Wayne Industries received generally positive scores on responsiveness to the needs of the citizens, the responsiveness of city government was rated as fair by 22 percent of the respondents and poor by 13 percent. City services which scored high are fire protection and ambulance, library facilities and electricity. Of those answering the survey, 133 included a written comment about the high cost of water in Wayne. Winside youth cast in Wesleyan play

LINCOLN - Tracy Topp of Winside has been case in a Nebraska Wesleyan University student production of "The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940." She will play "Marjorie" in performances running from April 25-29 at Wesleyan's McDonald Theatre.

AREA - The Ninety-first legisla-ture — second session, concluded its business and officially adjourned sine die last Monday. Although the session may be remembered by many as the one consumed by the filibuster on abortion, several im-portant legislative measures were enacted into law.

of course, in my opinion, the single most important measure debated and enacted was LB 1059, the school finance bill. As you will recall, it increases the contribution of state aid from 26 per-cent to about 45 percent. It ac-complishes this through increases in both the income tax and sales tax. I want to reiterate that al-though the measure was never touted to be a property tax relief bill, most districts will see property tax relief.

The issue of the governance of higher education in Nebraska will be determined by the voter in November. The measures which were introduced this session to re-solve the problems of coordina-tion, were consolidated and will appear as a constitutional amend-ment on the ballot this fail. Affiliation for all Class I School given a boost over a gubernatorial veto with the passage of a mea-sure which will begin to deal with the hundreds of unlicensed landfill sites existing in Nebraska. The legislature also restored a tax on pari-mutuel betting and cut taxes on bingo and pickle cards which will assist municipalities and charitable organizations.

Early childhood education was enhanced enhanced through a measure which would provide a training center and grants in that area to finance pilot projects.

The pseudorables measure, was enacted into law, over the gover-nor's veto. I have previously stated stated the measure is just a start, but is one that is necessary if we are to eradicate this disease. A measure to help with law enforcement and corrections, by al-lowing the construction of more prison beds, allowing more correc-tional staff, permitting a more in-tensive probation system and allowing for electronic monitoring for probationers was approved. One of my measures, LB 260, creating a tax on illegal drugs was enacted, as was my measure to detect the illegal laundering of drug moneys. Minor increase in both the worker's compensation and the Social security tips Working after retirement

AREA - If you are approaching retirement, you are probably looking forward to a well-earned reward after years of hard work. Yet, you enjoy working and do not want to stop entirely. You may ask, "If I take a part-time job or run a small business, can I still get social security retirement checks?

The answer depends partly on your age. If you are under 65, you can earn up to $6,840 in 1990 and can earn up to 36,040 m 1990 and receive all benefits due. If you are 65 through 69, the annual exempt amount this year is $9,360. And if you are 70 or older, there is no limit on earnings. The exempt amounts increase each year to here nare with rising wage levels.

keep pace with rising wage levels. Even if you earn over these amounts, partial benefits may be payable. The basic rule is that for people under 65, $1 in benefits is' withheld for each $2 earned over the exempt amount. The with-holding is $1 of each $3 earned for people 65-69.

There is also a special rule that there is also a special rule that applies in only one year — usually the year you retire. You can get a full benefit for each month earn-ings do not exceed one-twelfth of the annual limit (in 1990, $570 if you are under 65, and $780 if you are 65 through 69). are 65 through 69).

This monthly rule allows you to start getting benefits right away in the year of retirement no matter how high your earnings are earlier in the year. If you are self-em-ployed, your time and services de-voted to the business are considered in addition to net income;

you can get more information on this at the Social Security office. To see how these two rules work, consider "Joe" who retired at 62 in 1989 and gets $450 a month from social security. He took a part-time job in January 1990 and will earn $9,000 in 1990. Under the basic annual rule, Joe will lose $1,080 or a little more than two months' benefits.

Now let's say Joe, instead, re-tired June 30, 1990, and earns $15,000 in the first six months. Then he works part time the last six months for $300 a month. Even though joe's total 1990 earnings are $16,800, he can get a full benefit amount for each of the last six months under the monthly rule

You should notify social security promptly any time you start or stop work or have a change in es-timated earnings. In this way you can avoid a possible overpayment. It's best to estimate on the "high side" to be safe since your benefits for the year will be based on that estimate.

If you have any questions, con-tact social security at 1-800-234-5772 or 402-371-1595. The Norfolk Social Security office is located at 1310 Norfolk Avenue.
