City Council goes with $330,271 project bid

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

The Wayne City Council awarded its bid for the renovation of the swimming pool Tuesday night to Christensen Construction of Pender, at a price tag of $330,271.

After listening to the recommendation by engineer Bruce Gilmore, of Bruce Gilmore and Associates; the board voted 7-0 to accept Christensen Construction's bid. Councilman Darrel Fuelberth was not at the meeting.

The bid includes relining the present swimming pool at the end of the summer as well as replacing the pool heater, the filter and pump and adding a stainless steel gutter system.

Gilmore said he would like to have the Council wait on its decision for adding a slide since he has come over some new information about slides which might save the city some money.

"The slide is an alternate and I'm not recommending it at this time because there's a slide four feet wide that is in the figure-8 and it's much less," he said. "We're asking you to wait on that until we can find a price for it."

Christensen Construction's base bid was over $100,000 lower than its competitors at the meeting Tuesday, April 10.

THE COUNCIL ALSO accepted bids for a four-wheel drive loader.

The lowest final calculation came from Case Power and Equipment of Omaha at $55,585 with delivery by July 22 while the highest final bid calculation came from Nebraska Tractor and Equipment of Omaha at a price tag of $68,975.

Other bids were submitted from Midcon Equipment Company of Sioux City at a cost of $57,949 for a John Deere loader; Nebraska Machinery of Omaha for a Caterpillar loader at $56,926; and Rose Equipment Company for a Fiat-Ellis loader at a cost of $64,355.

According to information provided by the city, the present loader has cost Wayne $11,525 for major parts replacement since 1985. The present loader, used primarily to change transfer trailers at the city's transfer station, is 18 years old but in good condition.

In addition to change transfer trailers, the loader is used by the city as a snow blower, a fork lift, a V-plow and a tree remover.

IN OTHER MATTERS, the City Council:

- Reviewed a request for a special designated liquor license by the Windmill Restaurant. The Council approved the request 7-0.
- Passed resolution 90-24 and ordinance 90-13 to request City Attorney Bob Enz to prepare an ordinance directing the sale of lot 9 in the Western Heights Second Subdivision. According to council information, an offer to purchase the property, which necessitated the resolution/ordinance, is from Steven R. Jorgensen and Gwendolyn M. Jorgensen at a price of $8,500. The city approved the sale 7-0.

- Approved a one-year lease with the Wayne Softball League and the Softball Complex. The lease will make the Softball Association responsible for discussion involving scheduling, liability insurance, trophies, utilities, equipment and concessions and charge sponsor fees for participants. The city, in turn, will charge $15 for individual dues to help the city offset its costs to upgrade and maintain the complex. According to City Clerk Carol Brummond, the $15 charge does not completely cover the city's maintenance costs.

Committee recommends that city create position

WAYNE - If the city acts on recommendations from a committee to appoint a director of leisure services, the city will have a new position in its governmental structure.

Speaking to the City Council Tuesday night, Marian Simpson, committee chairwoman, said the recreation study committee voted 7-1 to employ a full time professional director of community leisure services.

The committee's recommendation was for the leisure director to be placed on the city's flow chart at the same level as the city clerk, city treasurer, public works, police, fire and etc. The recreation board would continue as an advisory committee appointed by the mayor.

"We recommend this because we believe the director should be in charge of more than just sports recreational duties," Simpson said.

The committee did not delve into the position's duties since it wanted to wait and see what the City Council would recommend. No decision was made Tuesday night but the Council showed its appreciation for the efforts by the committee.

At the end of Simpson's presentation, Councilman Ralph Barclay read a letter from the START Steering Committee endorsing its support for the need for a leisure services director.

Barclay read from the letter: "The START Steering Committee did not make it one of its top five priorities because it was already under consideration. But since it is under consideration, the START Committee offers its support for the position."

Lone change of expression shows reasons for care unit placement

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the final article in a three-part series about the effects of Alzheimer's disease.

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

For a fleeting moment Alex Behnke looked down the hallway as his wife Gladys was leaving.

For that same split second, Alex's face looked like he wanted to say something.

The words never materialized and his excited expression faded to a look of confusion.

Alex is suffering from Alzheimer's disease.

He is a resident in a special unit of the Pierce Manor for Alzheimer's patients. In addition to Alzheimer's sufferers, the unit helps others suffering from other forms of dementia.

According to Jan Zierke, administrator of the Pierce Manor, an ARA living center, ARA was the first company to have Alzheimer's units in its rest homes.

In addition to being one of the nation's leaders for care of Alzheimer's victims, the company has quarterly conference calls among its 33 units to discuss what works for Alzheimer's patients and what doesn't.

THE PIERCE UNIT, one of two in the area — the other is in Stanton — is a 12 bed unit with 11 filled, Zierke said. In all, the Pierce Manor has space for 86 residents who need rest home care.

The Alzheimer's unit, though, is special to the staff there.

"We try to pick a special class of people to work in there and we hold a tremendous amount of respect for those who do," she said. Placing a loved one in a perma-

Date rape discussed Situational ethics create problems

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Anne Marie Aita wants to educate today's college youth about date rape, but so much revolves around situational ethics, she said Sunday during a lecture at Wayne State.

The lecture, sponsored by the Wayne State Psychology/Counseling Club, was presented to only about 20 people as it was competing with an Earth Day concert in the Willow Bowl.

"Learning to have healthy, adult relationships is healthy," Aita said. "The reason a lot of people aren't here tonight is because they are too shy to face it. Because of that problem, we're going to have a lot more hell to pay in the future with this problem."

AITA PRESENTED the lecture using terms common to the college students. In one part of her hour-long presentation, she gave the common reasons date rape occurs. The following is a list of reasons:

- Date rape occurs in return for money and time spent;
- To some men there is the misperception that "no" means "yes";
- Because of society's structures, some men believe women like aggression and sexually knowledgeable men;
- Some men believe it's a male's right;
- Peer pressure;
- Because of society's structures, men aren't allowed to express the same feelings, so it's a way for some men to communicate.

Aita asked the students at the session if these issues are seen at Wayne State and most said yes.

According to research she's conducted, Aita said women are more likely to be assaulted by someone they know (90 percent); date rape is more common on the first date; occurs most frequently to women ages 15-24; of women in college, 25 percent have been victims of date rape or attempted date rape; and date rape can happen with a "nice guy."

Aita included three motivations males see for raping their victim in a date situation — power, anger (rapist perceives something wrong with self and/or has been hurt by others so anger is expressed through violent aggression); and sadistic purposes (rapist enjoys inflicting pain).

AGAIN, SHE said many of these feelings begin at birth. She said society's structures play a big part on the aggression of the rapist.

Conway addresses lawmakers accomplishments

WAYNE - Despite a short legislative session, Sen. Gerald Conway, R-Wayne, said more was accomplished than people believe.

Conway said LB 1059, the school finance measure, was a collection of smaller bills in one. He said normally a series of about five smaller bills, dealing with public education would've been presented but LB 1059 rolled it into one.

"It caused people to think a lot wasn't done," Conway said.

The state senator, who represents Wayne, said LB 1059 caught Gov. Kay Orr in a tough spot. He said it has given democrats the opportunity to put Orr in a box.

"If she had signed the bill, they would say she supports a tax increase. If she vetoed it, they could say she's opposed to tax relief and school support. And if she let it slide by her desk without a decision, they'd say she has no leadership," he said.

ACCORDING TO a recent Omaha World-Herald poll, Orr's approval rating is down to 39 percent. Conway said this places her in a tough position because analysts have tried two different approaches and each time, the governor's rating has dropped.

"Many people approve of her actions, but not of her," he said. "I think she'll be able to rebound since any offensive her opponents stage, she can retaliate."

Conway then discussed the upcoming primary election pitting a large field of democrats against each other for the gubernatorial nomination. He said only three or four are viable candidates.

Wayne woman finalist for education award

Mrs. Betty Heier of Wayne, an English teacher at Wakefield High School, is one of five finalists in competition for the Freda Battey Distinguished Education Award.

The award is presented by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Teachers College and was established by the family of Mrs. Battey in memory of her own service as a teacher.

In establishing the award, the family determined that candidates would be nominated by seniors in the Teachers College. Mrs. Heier was nominated by a former student, Susan Stout.

SENIORS WERE asked to nominate teachers who inspired them to become teachers themselves and who served as models for others to emulate, according to James O'Hanlon, Dean of the Teachers College.

The award recognizes excellence in teaching as demonstrated by the holding of high standards for self and students, willingness to expend the extra effort needed to enhance the learning of all students, and school programs beyond activities of the regular classroom.

"The selection committee was most impressed by the excellent contributions you have made to your students and your school," O'Hanlon told Mrs. Heier in notifying her of the nomination.

In recognition of her status as a finalist, the University presented Mrs. Heier a memento for her dedication to her students.

Winside girls edged by Coleridge gals, 72-70

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Coleridge girls and Newcastle boys copped the team titles of the Winside Invitational held Tuesday at the Wayne State College track but neither team had an easy road to hoe.

Coleridge trailed Winside by 18 points with just two events remaining in the meet but the Lady Bulldogs won the 4x100 meter relay and the 4x400 meter relay to win the meet by two points at 72-70. Winside incidentally, did not place in either event.

Following the Wildcats which finished in the runner-up slot was Allen with 58 and Homer and Lyons-Decatur each with 50. Newcastle finished with 39 and Osmond netted 36. Wakefield finished the meet with 34 points and Laurel had 33. Hartington and Wynot rounded out the teams in order of finish.

Of course no one could match the sensational sophomore from Winside—Jenny Jacobsen who again won four gold medals and in doing so established another record in the long jump as she leaped 17-10 1/2. Her previous best jump was 17-4.

Along with the long jump Jacobsen won her usual 100, 200 and 400 meter dashes with times of 12.4, 27.2 and 60.2 respectively. Tina Hartmann seems to be over coming her injury suffered in basketball as she ran to a runner-up finish of 17.1 in the 100 meter hurdles.

Patty Oberle notched a third place finish in the 3200 meter run with a 14:26.5 effort and she finished fourth in the 1600 meter run with a 6:31.3 time. Shawn Janke finished fourth in the shot put with a throw of 32-8 while teammate Angie Thompson finished fifth in the same event with a 31-7 1/2 toss.

Jenny Topp finished sixth in the discus with a 97-4 effort and Shannon Holdorf finished in a four way tie for second in the high jump at 4-4.

Boys finish fourth

The Winside boys scored 53 points in the meet and finished in fourth place. Newcastle scored 115 to win the team title—but barely edge Wakefield with 112. Coleridge also finished ahead of the Wildcats with 60. Homer finished fifth with 41 points while Lyons-Decatur was sixth with 40. Allen notched 32 points and Wynot managed 30. Laurel finished ninth with 24 and Hartington and Osmond tied for last with 12 points each.

Brian Thompson led the Wildcat charge with a personal best and first place finish in the shot put with a throw of 52-2. Thompson unofficially rose to the top of the charts in Class D with that toss.

He finished second in the discus with a throw of 137-7. Randy Prince recorded second place finishes in the 100 meter dash at 11.7 and the 200 meter dash at 24.3 and he finished sixth in the long jump with a leap of 18-6 3/4. Max Kant finished third in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles with a 43.20 clocking while Winside's 4x800 meter relay team ran to a third place finish of 9:02.8.

Jeff Gallop finished fifth in the high jump with a 5-10 leap while Doug Heinemann finished fifth in the 3200 meter run with an 11:36.7 effort and sixth in the 1600 meter run with a 5:05.4 time. The Wildcat sprint relay team finished sixth with a 47.83 effort.

Jones leads Allen

Freshman Stacey Jones captured top honors in both the 1600 and 3200 meter runs with times of 6:01.8 and 12:56.7 while sophomore Denise Boyle crossed the finish line first in the 100 meter low hurdles at 16.7. Christy Philbrick finished sixth in the same hurdle race at 18.3.

Cindy Chase finished second in the long jump with a 15-8 3/4 leap while Philbrick ran to a fourth place finish of 52.77 in the 300 meter low hurdles. Carla Stapleton placed fourth in the 200 meter dash with a 29.1 effort while Brenda Sullivan placed sixth in the same event at 29.9. Stapleton also finished sixth in the 100 meter dash at 13.2.

Sonya Plueger finished fifth in the discus with a throw of 98-4 and Allen's 4x800 meter relay finished fifth with a 12:20.5 time. The Lady Eagle sprint relay team finished fourth with a 54.71 clocking.

In the boys portion of the meet for Allen's sprint relay team of Kent Chase, Barry Sullivan, Doug Kraemer and Shane Dahl finished second with a time of 46.77 while Dahl placed third in the 400 meter dash with a 55.7 clocking. Dahl also placed fifth in the long jump at 18-9 1/4 while teammate Mike Sullivan placed fourth in the same event with a 19-2 3/4.

The Wayne golf team duelled South Sioux at the Wayne Country Club Tuesday afternoon and Terry Munson's Blue Devils notched a 169-186 victory. WSC sluggers struggling

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State baseball team has been quite busy over the past week with games on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The Cats traveled to play Mt. Marty on Saturday in one nine inning contest and Lenny Klaver's gang scored four runs in the ninth inning to break a 5-5 tie and escape with a 9-5 victory. Don Graham got the pitching victory to even his record at 2-2.

COREY WEINMASTER aims toward home plate during WSC's double header with Kearney State Sunday in Wayne.

WSC softball squad suffers through losses

The Wayne State softball team struggled over the weekend at the Kearney State Invitational as they were winless in five outings. The Cats were defeated 4-1 by Kansas Wesleyan, 6-2 by Metro State, 3-0 by Air Force, 3-0 by Kearney State and 9-4 by Peru State.

Wayne State had a total of just 19 hits in all five games combined. In the Kansas Wesleyan contest Roni Johnson took the loss in a 4-1 decision. Johnson struck out eight in the game and scattered five hits. The Cats managed five hits as well with Dee Henningson singling twice and Eva Coons, Jill Gengler and Tanya Gappa all notching base hits.

The Metro State contest went nine innings before WSC lost 6-2. After the regulation seven innings of play the score was knotted at zeros. Then the teams went to the international playoff where a runner is placed on second at the start of each inning and you have three outs to try and get her in.

Both squads scored twice in the eighth inning but Metro State scored four times in the ninth inning and then held WSC scoreless to win the game. Roni Johnson took the loss even though she struck out eight in the process. WSC had five hits in the game but suffered with four errors.

Tanya Gappa had two singles and Eva Coons, Denise Kommes and Carla Gilbertson all had base hits.

Tina Blackburn took the pitching loss in the Air Force game in which the Cats lost 3-0. Blackburn pitched a great game in giving up just two hits but the Wildcats suffered five errors, three of which came in the first inning.

Marti Hunt had two of the Cats three hits with a pair of singles.

Blackburn also singled to round out the Wildcat hitting.

Blackburn was also given the loss in the Peru State game in which WSC lost 9-4. The Cats recorded six hits in the game but could not overcome the 10-hit performance of Peru State. Robin Lutt, Dee Henningson, Jill Gengler, Carla Gilbertson all notched base hits.

Wayne State was tossed a no-hitter against Kearney State in losing, 3-0. KSC's Susie Johnson was on the mound against WSC's Roni Johnson. KSC's Johnson struck out 20 WSC batters out of the 24 she faced. Roni Johnson struck out six Kearney State batters.

Loss twice in Omaha

Wayne State swept a double header with Concordia Monday afternoon in Seward. Roni Johnson was credited with both pitching victories. No stats were given to the Wayne Herald before press time on those two games.

Tuesday the Cats traveled to Omaha to play the College of St. Mary and once again WSC struggled and lost both contests, 4-0 and 3-1. In the opener WSC was tossed a 1-hitter by St. Mary's pitcher with Megan Dolesh notching the only hit—a single.

Roni Johnson took the loss from the mound, scattering six hits and striking out three in the process. The Wildcats suffered 10 strike outs in the game. In the second game Roni Johnson was again credited with the pitching loss. She scattered four hits in the process.

WSC actually out hit St. Mary's 5-4 but could not put the hits together. Marti Hunt was 2-3 with two doubles while Dee Henningson, Denise Kommes and Jill Gengler all hit singles. WSC is now 25-19.

WSC had eleven hits in the game while giving up fifteen. Both teams had two errors each. Shane Kober, Scott Schultz and Travis Nedved all rapped doubles to lead the Cats.

On Sunday the Kearney State Antelopes came a calling at Overin Field for a double header and for Wayne State the object was clear—to win the first game so the district record would improve to 9-3.

KSC however, didn't allow that to happen as they defeated the Wildcats by a 7-2 margin. Steve Kelliher was credited with the pitching loss and his record dipped to 2-4 with the loss. WSC suffered four errors in the contest compared to one by Kearney State.

The Lopers pounded out nine hits in the game while WSC recorded eight including a solo home run by Scott Schultz.

In the nightcap the Cats got revenge with a 7-6 victory. Corey Weinmaster got the win from the mound to up his record to 4-3 on the season. John Staab was the offensive catalyst for WSC as he went 3-4 from the plate and scored the winning run in the game in the bottom of the seventh inning as he sprinted home on Mark Wewel's two out, two strike squeeze bunt.

Cats lose to Briar Cliff

On Monday evening the Wildcats hosted Briar Cliff at Overin Field in one nine inning contest which got underway at 7 p.m. The bleachers were full of WSC supporters as most took advantage of the Spring Beef Barbecue, but when all was said and done the Chargers from Sioux City had a 9-5 victory.

WSC attempted a rally as they entered the bottom half of the ninth inning trailing 9-3. The Cats had scored two and had two on with the meat of the order coming to bat but could not over come the six run deficit they had staring them in the face before the inning began.

The Cats trailed 2-0 heading into the bottom of the third inning when WSC came alive. Tim Wobken started the rally with a double and had scored on an rbi single by Dusty Sheets. Sheets then scored on an rbi double by Rob Zulkoski who also scored on an rbi single by Shane Kober.

Briar Cliff scored a run in the seventh inning which tied the score at three each but the Chargers added five more in the eighth and one more in the ninth. WSC scored twice in the ninth with Therron Brockish reaching on a single and advancing to third base on a Chris Jones double. Tim Wobken brought them both in with a two-run double.

Joe Fulcher got the loss from the mound as he evened his record at 3-3. He pitched 7 2/3 innings and struck out five and walked four. Chris Simon came in to relieve Fulcher and pitched the final 1 1/3 innings.

Wobken went 2-4 in the game with two doubles and four rbi's while Dusty Sheets was 2-4 with a pair of singles. Brockish, Schultz and Kober all singled while Jones and Zulkoski each doubled.

On Tuesday afternoon-evening, WSC lost a double dip to Bellevue College of Omaha. Bellevue upped its record to 36-12 with the wins and are still ranked in the top 20 of the NAIA division polls across the country.

Bellevue took the first game, 4-3 as Kevin Boham took the loss. Chris Jones and Mark Wewel each had two hits. In the nightcap the visitors blanked WSC, 6-0 as Dave Roby and Don Graham had WSC's only hits. Corey Weinmaster took the loss. WSC has a 22-21 record and an 8-5 district mark.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Wayne County Weed Control Authority has dedicated itself not only to noxious weed control, but also to the prevention of dissemination of noxious weed seed. The Director of Agriculture has determined that noxious weeds seed may be disseminated through the movement of machinery and equipment, grain and seed, hay, straw, nursery stock, fencing materials, sod, manure, and soil as well as articles of similar nature. Methods of treatment have also been prescribed by the Director and may be obtained from the Wayne County Weed Control Authority.

With the harvest season approaching very rapidly, please keep in mind the provisions of the law requiring owners of harvest equipment to clean prior to movement to another field. This machinery and equipment being used in the harvest of crops should be treated or cleaned as follows:

1. Removal of all material from the tops and sides of all parts of the machine by sweeping and the use of forced air and water.
2. Opening the lower end of all elevator returns, and measuring devices and removal of all noxious weed seeds and seedlings from shakers, sieves, and other places of lodgment.
3. Run the machine empty for a minimum of five minutes, alternately increasing and decreasing the speed.
4. Follow the manufacturer's detailed instructions for cleaning the machine.

These treatments should be performed while the article or the machine itself is still on the land in which it became infested if at all possible. This will not only prevent spreading noxious weed seed from one field to another, but also from one land owner to another.

For treatment methods of all other articles and questions, please contact the Wayne County Weed Control Authority, Superintendent.

Chamber hosts coffee Friday for new signs

WAYNE - The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce will host the Chamber Coffee on Friday in conjunction with a ribbon cutting at the Welcome To Wayne sign on North Highway 15.

"The signs are now completed and the lights are being installed," said Gil Haase, chairman of the Visitors and Newcomers Council, an arm of the Chamber. "This has been an ongoing project of the Visitors and Newcomers Council and we are very pleased to have it completed."

During the 10 a.m. ribbon cutting, a check will be presented to complete paying for the signs. It has been a community project to continue the enhancement of the beauty of the community and has been funded by donations from the community.

Immediately following the ribbon cutting and the presentation of the check will be the Chamber coffee at the lower level of the Country Club. At this time the Wayne Ambassadors will also present the quarterly Congeniality Award.

At 10:45 a.m. everyone will gather between 9th and 10th Street on Main (in front of the Wayne Care Center) where Gil Haase will push a brick with his nose for one block as a replica of the finalization of the completion of the Welcome to Wayne signs at all four entrances to Wayne including the total payment for the signs.

"We are so pleased to have another project completed," said

Haase. "We would certainly like to take this opportunity to thank all of the people that donated time and money to the completion of these signs, including the tearing down of the old signs south of Wayne. Everyone has certainly joined in to making the dream of the Welcome signs a reality."

Other projects this Council has completed are "Welcome Flags" additional American Flags, and three editions of Welcome To Wayne brochures and maps.

Unit

nent care facility is not easily made. Zierke suggests that caretakers look around for a facility when the Alzheimer's victim begins wandering, which is common with the disease.

"They should put an Alzheimer's patient in a nursing home soon after diagnosis," she said. "If you keep them out too long, then it not only takes a toll on the patient but on the caregiver as well. It's almost as though caretakers are chosen to care for the patient though because they're usually so giving."

THE ALZHEIMER'S unit is different from the rest of the nursing home. Before entering the unit, as well as before you leave, you have to press a numbered code on the keypad, a code known only to nurses, staff and family members of patients. So far, Zierke said the patients haven't figured out the combination.

Walking down the hall, the top of the walls are padded with carpet to decrease noise from the rest of the building and the mood is quiet, subdued, she notes.

"Also, there's a locked courtyard that's secured," she said. "There's a fence high enough so that patients can't get over it. We have studied it enough so they can't get a foot or hand caught if they try to get out and injure themselves."

In the few years the wing has been for Alzheimer's patients, only two resident have climbed the wall and gotten out, but usually they don't make it very far, according to Vicki Summerfield, Wayne, director of nursing at the Pierce Manor.

Once diagnosed, patients are monitored daily for changes. Summerfield said if a resident becomes ill and is unable to communicate the pain, the nurses can tell by eating habits or responsiveness.

The nurses at the facility become very attached to the patients, too, she said.

"They're like family and there's a grieving process when someone dies," Summerfield said. "The residents believe when someone dies that a member of the family dies. We had one man who thought his wife died but it was actually a patient who reminded him of his wife."

Patients are often visited by family members but sometimes they don't know who relatives are. That was the familiar expression on Alex's face. It was like he knew who his wife Vicki was when she left, but he couldn't communicate his feelings.

"This is their world," Zierke said. "How was it said? They're not out of their minds, they're away from them."

Plant a tree

Earth Day and Arbor Day will both soon be past, but there would still be time to plant some trees in the newer, western part of the Greenwood Cemetery. It always appears to be well cared for, but every time I pass the cemetery, I sense a feeling of a cold, barren, windswept hillside. In my opinion, plantings of living trees in time would produce shade and solace to those mourning the loss of a loved one.

Why has there not been new trees planted? Is it to facilitate easier lawn maintenance, or a lack of financing, or both? If it is the latter, I would suggest fund raising would be a worthy and satisfying project for a service and/or community organization.

Merle Ring, Wayne

Conway

"It's still really up in the air with the primary so close," he said. "When you put it in that context, they're almost alike. It will be interesting to see which way they go with campaign support after the primary."

IN ADDITION, Conway said one of the most progressive bills passed was LB 163, which allows communities to deal with solid waste problems. He said despite Gov. Orr's veto of the bill, it puts Nebraska on the right track.

"We agreed that the bill still has some holes but we wanted to work on the perkability which exists with landfills right now," he said. "It puts us on the right track, although it isn't perfect."

Conway said he was pleased to see LB 1141 work through the unicameral. The amendment will coordinate state funded higher education facilities if voters approve it.

"Colleges in Nebraska represent one-third of production in the state and ... we need to have our schools well coordinated," he said.

LB 259, which forces Class I schools to affiliate with K-12 systems was a bill Conway favored. He said it addresses some of the same problems LB 1059 does but LB 259 is an attempt to say it's OK to keep rural schools open, providing residents pay for it.

"If you talk about consolidation in closing schools, that's not what this bill's doing," he said. "If you talk about consolidation in the tax base, it is that. ... That's what fit around here — it wasn't a problem with the quality of education but with the taxation."

In addition, Conway said he has five bills heading into law, of which was one for taxing illegal drugs. He said the bill will create a civil charge against anyone caught with illegal drugs for not having paid taxes on them. He said it offsets the criminal charge because you don't have to show the intent of the drugs but just possessing them is enough.

HE ALSO SPONSORED the money laundering drug bill which makes authorities send information to the Nebraska State Patrol in addition to the federal government for large cash transactions.

This coming year, Conway appears to be even busier since he will chair the council of state governments for the region which Nebraska sits. The council of state governments includes 12 states — Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Kentucky.

RESTRAINTS, Continued: So far, mail from health care professionals who claim putting restraints on elderly and/or feeble patients is cruel and unneeded is far outweighed by those writing in support of their occasional use. One such support letter comes from Sandra Mazuchowski, R.N., B.S.N., who is on the medical unit of a Lansing, Michigan hospital. She makes a logical and compassionate case for those times when restraints are used. I've excerpted part of her long and well-detailed letter for this column:

"Prevention of falls is our primary reason for using physical restraints. Our unit has recently instated a new protocol to prevent falls in all of our patients ... (by) assessing each patient on admission for high risk factors that could lead to a fall: (including) a history of falls, confusion, age over 65, cardiac arrhythmia, orthostatic hypotension, urinary frequency or incontinence, diarrhea ... We also assess patients ... receiving frequent or continuous pain relief medications. By totaling a patient's points (predetermined values are assigned for each risk factor), the nurse places the patient in Level I or II for required interventions. Patients are reassessed every 24 hours and as needed to update their risk status. This can call for initiation, continuation, or discontinuation of the interventions..."

Ms. Mazuchowski also noted that while the nurses "may initiate the use of restraining devices ... the physician must be notified within 24 hours to obtain an order for the restraints." There's more to her letter than we have space for (including a reference to medications — anti-anxiety agents, etc.). I'm sure I'll refer to it in future discussions. Again, many thanks to her and everyone for their invaluable help in bringing light to this matter. HOUSE ACTS TO RESTORE HEALTH BENEFITS: A bipartisan move in the House of Representatives could restore health benefits lost when the Catastrophic Coverage Act was repealed. These include breast cancer screenings, lifting the ceiling on hospice care for the terminally ill beyond the current 210 day limit, and extended home health care. A proposed 80-cent monthly rise in Part B Medicare premiums to cover costs is rejected by Rep. Brian J. Donnelly (D-Mass.) who says new funding is unneeded at this time.

MAIL CALL — To Charles, Illinois — So far as I know, there is no legal way to force adult children to take elderly parents into their homes. Your position that the law "requires parents to care for their children, so why shouldn't the same be true when we need help" — sounds logical, but most courts have found that it's not a workable solution to the problem. LEAD looking for young agriculturalists AREA - Young agriculturalists, ages 25-40, with proven leadership potential have until June 1 to apply for acceptance in the two-year LEAD (Leadership Education/Action Development) Program.

Gary C. Bergman, Nebraska LEAD Program Associate Director, said that the tenth group of up to 30 men and women from production agriculture and agribusiness will be selected to begin the program in October, 1990.

Sponsored by the Nebraska Leadership Council, the Nebraska LEAD Program is designed to enhance agriculture and rural life in Nebraska by developing more effective decision-makers, spokesmen and leaders for Nebraska and agriculture, Bergman said.

Men and women selected through application and interviews to begin the program will be participating in 13 three-day seminars and two study travel seminars during the next two years. One travel seminar will be in the United States and the second will be abroad.

Cost to the participants, in addition to their time, will be transportation to and from seminar sites and a participation fee of $800 for each of the program's two years.

"It is anticipated that the participation fee will come from organizations who will stand to benefit by human resource development in agriculture", Bergman said. Other seminar and travel costs are paid by the Council.

According to Bergman, the Fellowship received by each of the participants selected is equivalent to about $10,000 for the two-year period.

During the program, LEAD Fellows will:

- Develop a higher level of self-confidence and progress in achieving their potential.
- Sharpen their leadership and communication skills.
- Become knowledgeable in public affairs, communication, government, monetary and fiscal matters, environmental concerns, domestic and international trade and foreign relations.

The Council is supported by individuals, businesses, industries, colleges and universities from around Nebraska.

For more information or application, contact Gary C. Bergman, Associate Director, Nebraska LEAD Program, 302 Agricultural Hall, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE 68583-0709. Phone (402) 472-6810.

The GOLDEN YEARS
by Lee White

Turning 80 was no big deal to outspoken actress Katherine Hepburn, who told an interviewer why she let the milestone birthday go by without a celebration. "Who cares about my birthday? I don't, as long as I can get around and think straight." She also expressed great ambition: "There are 20 million books I haven't read, 20 million walks I haven't taken, and 20 million parts I haven't played."

Don't be too quick to say "senility" if an older person experiences confusion or forgetfulness. While such symptoms may indicate the onset of a serious disorder, they also might arise from temporary conditions, according to the National Institute on Aging. These include a high fever, poor nutrition, adverse medication reactions and depression. The confusion passes when these conditions are successfully treated.

Pictured helping him plant the tree is his son, Marlin Jones, also of Norfolk. Cliff, son of Sena Lambrecht Jones of Norfolk and the late Dewey Jones, was born and raised in the Winside area. His great grandfather, Thomas E. Jones, also planted trees in the Winside village park many years ago.

By Pat Melerhenry

As if the community having a Centennial wasn't enough, our church is observing one, too! One of the things it is doing is inviting its former pastors back to preach at intervals during the year.

Of course, the one who shepherded St. Paul's church the longest, H.M. Hilpert, is in Heaven, and won't be coming back. We weren't attending there then, but I knew Rev. Hilpert.

I cared for him after a mild heart attack. I cared for his mother, whose husband had pastored a church at Pierce for many years, when she was also hospitalized.

The thing that sticks out in my memory about the man was one hot day, just after we were in the new hospital, he was visiting members and discovered that our air-conditioning had conked out. We were stifling.

An hour later, he presented us with a dozen fans to use, taken right off the walls of his church in Winside. I often think of him on hot Sunday mornings, when those fans still cool us. And I think of him when I hear the hymn, "Children of the Heavenly Father," because it was one of his favorites. How that Swedish song got into that German congregation, I'll never know, but we all love it.

Anyway, as the former pastors come back, we have potluck dinners on those Sundays. Today was Pastor Fale's turn. And we had another potluck dinner. And it was my circle's turn to help in the kitchen.

There is nothing like a church potluck to ruin a diet! There are casseroles, scalloped potatoes, salads, baked beans, bread and rolls, and desserts: pie, cake, and bars. It actually makes you feel kind of sinful when you think of hungry people in the world.

I had the job of keeping the hot dishes supplied, which I've not done before. My informal survey tells me that ham and chicken are still the most popular, but meat balls do okay, too. I had a chicken and dressing dish that was great. There's a "moon cake" that keeps showing up at these occasions that is really delicious.

I ate last, of course, and sat opposite the wife of a prominent citizen in Wayne. She told me she had baked a bundt cake on Saturday. She left for the store before it was finished, and she asked Hubby to take it out of the oven. It was in an angel-food pan. You guessed it. He inverted it!

But she guessed that wasn't as helpful as another husband she knew who was sent to town to buy a "two-step" angel food. He couldn't find one, so bought two "one-steps" instead!

We had to miss the style show; thanks to the miracle of video, we will be able to watch it later. It all leads to the two big weekends in July when we celebrate one hundred years. Noteworthy occasions, preceded by much feasting and fun.

Meanwhile, we put up with wind and pray for rain.

Caffeine: Safe Stimulant? Many attempts have been made to link consumption of caffeinated beverages and caffeine with health problems including breast lumps, behavioral problems in children, heart disease, and cancer of the pancreas. But according to the Food and Drug Administration, caffeine is safe. Several studies have concluded that there is "no association" between coffee drinking and pancreatic cancer. An FDA review also failed to show any relationship between benign breast disease and coffee consumption. An FDA advisory panel considers caffeine to be a safe and effective stimulant in doses of 100 to 200 mg no more often than every 3 to 4 hours. Caffeine is available in several nonprescription stimulants. A cup of brewed coffee contains from 150 to 200 mg caffeine; a cola beverage, 40 to 70 mg.
