Officials say hike needed following rise in enrollment

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

While concerned that the recent hike in tuition rates at Wayne State College could have an adverse effect on student enrollment, officials are indicating that the increase was necessary.

According to Andrew Soll, vice-president for administration of finance at WSC, the 5.2 percent increase in tuition and student fees is necessary, partially due to increased enrollment and because state colleges have been underfunded in the past.

"The tuition increase is a result of legislative action," he said. "The board of trustees acted in response to the legislature's and governor's request to increase tuition and the increase is fairly equal with their demands."

According to Soll, when the state lawmakers approved higher education funding during its 1989-90 session, the increase was approved so long as state colleges would share the burden. He said although the school is concerned that the hike might affect enrollment, he doesn't think it will have that great an impact.

"With a 26 percent increase in enrollment this year (1989-90) and another 16 percent expected next year, the bottom line is that we needed to increase tuition and fee rates," Soll said. "... We're committed to cover costs through the increases as a better educational hub. We feel we can provide a better value for the money in return to the students."

THE 5.2 PERCENT increase will take tuition rates at Wayne State from $1,155 for in-state undergraduate students to $1,215 based on 30 credit hours per year. Fees for in-state and non-resident undergraduate students will rise from $182 to $206 per year.

For non-resident students, tuition will increase from $1,875 to $1,980 per year based on 30 credit hours per year.

Board and room rates will also increase from $1,250 to $1,300 per year and $940 to $990 per year, respectively.

"There is a concern that the rate hike might affect us with student enrollment but we need to continue telling people that Wayne State College is a good buy," Soll said. "The only way to make the college better is to increase expenditures and that cost has to be covered in some way."

Soll added that increased enrollment means greater wear and tear on buildings and it also means added costs in such things as library resources and laboratory equipment. He noted, that the rate increase might occur again in the near future, depending on what the state's lawmakers do.

"There is a possibility that rates may go up again but that depends on the state budget approved next year," he said. "We hope again that any increases will be justified by the improvements we make for the students."

Local meat processor wins award at state convention

WAYNE - Larry Johnson knows his meats and that fact is represented in the awards he won recently from the Nebraska Association of Meat Processors.

Johnson, who owns and operates Johnson Frozen Foods, came away from the convention with three first-place trophies and one second-place trophy for select meats and recipes for them.

Johnson's awards included: first place — pork speciality; lamb speciality; beef speciality and second place for bacon.

"Those are products out of what we sell," Johnson said, wryly. "The other night at a heart fund auction, I auctioned off a slab of bacon that brought $40. Maybe I should do that all the time."

THE PRODUCTS his business has delivered to its customers include using pork loin chops which utilize nut and cinnamon to make a delicious recipe. Johnson said his wife found the recipe one day out

Facing the child care dilemma

START committee to focus on child care woes

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Despite only one question on the START survey dealing with daytime child care, the task force has made day care its third-most important issue.

"It was interesting that day care came out as one of the five issues because only one question on the survey dealt with it," said Mary Temme, chair of the committee focusing on day care problems in Wayne.

Temme said it was interesting that 49.9 percent of the survey's respondents were ages 34-64. She said the 18.8 percent that responded in the 25-34 age category were not well represented in the survey, so with 65.5 percent of the respondents seeing a need for additional day care facilities in Wayne, the numbers were substantial.

"One of the comments someone included in the survey was that they had to call over 20 people before they found one who could care for their children while they worked," she said. "We didn't have a lot of data in the survey but all of us had heard there was an additional need for day care facilities."

According to Carolee Stuberg, personnel manager at Restful Knights, the lack of day care in Wayne has caused some problems for that business.

WITH RESTFUL KNIGHTS having two working shifts — one beginning between 6-8 a.m. and ending between 2-4 p.m. and another starting between 3-5 p.m. and ending between 12-1 a.m. — the business' employees have

Local family chosen

Kaups honored by Knights of Columbus

WAYNE - For Bill and Germaine Kaup, the word family is synonymous with love.

That might be one of the reasons the Knights of Columbus honored them Saturday, April 28 at the state Knights of Columbus convention in Lincoln. They were honored as family of the year for their years as foster parents.

Since 1966, the Kaups have provided foster care for 23 children, 11 of which they have adopted. In accepting their award, the Kaups are humble but their fellow Knights speak highly of them.

"The amount of times they've opened their doors and hearts to these kids was most impressive," said John Melena, Knights of Columbus district deputy, who handled much of the paperwork for the nomination. "They gave kids somewhere they would go that they could be loved. They've given a lot of love and attention and that's what family's about."

GRAND KNIGHT Mark Ahmann added his thoughts about the award.

"They've been really very helpful in donating items and time," to the local Knights of Columbus organization. "They've not only given to Knights of Columbus but to parish functions at St. Mary's (Catholic) church in Wayne. Aside from what they've done for these kids, they've found ways to donate of themselves."

Mr. Kaup, who has been a member of the Knights of Columbus for 32 years, said it was a surprise to be chosen but he and Mrs. Kaup were honored to receive the award.

"It's (adoption) something we've always wanted to do," he said. "We just want to thank the Knights for considering us and thank John Melena for the work he's done."

The Kaups have held to the philosophy that when they care for a foster child that if that child comes up for adoption, they'll adopt the youth. They said they want to provide a good atmosphere for the child.

"With foster children, you take care of them when you need to," Mrs. Kaup said. "To see them go back to their regular home is a joy for us because they're going back into a good atmosphere. But when a child would become adoptable, we wanted to adopt them because we wanted to offer a secure home."

The Kaups agree their situation is unique.

"There's a lot of people who do foster work, but not many adopt 11 children through the program," Mr. Kaup said.

Jammer wins top honors as photographer

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Winning the Alvin Duis Memorial Award was not something Wayne's Bill Jammer expected to do this year but it was just what happened.

Jammer received the award recently in Omaha during the annual Professional Photographers of Nebraska convention. He is only the 16th person to win the award, which recognizes Nebraska's best professional photographer.

Jammer said each entrant was allowed four prints, which were judged by a panel of five master photographers. He said the prints are scored starting with 100 points and points are taken away for technical errors the master photographers see.

"I really didn't think my photos would do as well as they did," Jammer said. "There's certain things that stand out in a photograph but I had no idea they'd do that well this year."

The winning portrait was a picture of Jammer's children — David, 6 and Jessica, 3 — walking in a meadow as the sun was setting. The photograph was entitled "A Walk in God's Light", he said.

THE PICTURE IS what Jammer calls unclassified. He said the dif-

In addition to winning photographer of the year honors, Jammer also won his second Kodak Gallery Award.

The photographer of the year "has been a long time coming," Jammer said. It started out when he was recognized as the 10th

Mark'n' the Spot

by Mark Crist

As I was out working on a photo assignment the other night at Wayne High School, where several youth were displaying their violin skills, I couldn't help but think of the dedication it takes to be able to play a musical instrument.

Then my thoughts passed to the steps being taken by the START task force.

Just like those students striving to perfect their skills, so too will the community need to strive to take each step to address its needs once the START task force is finished working over the survey. It's going to take a lot of dedication to continue what the START task force has started.

Wayne is the type of community that can achieve those goals. It's going to take some "blood, sweat and tears" to do it, as Winston Churchill might have said. But if we are to see our community become what it can be, we must follow through on those actions.

I guess it should be noted that while we'll need the guidance of the START team members, so too will we need to follow through on the action plan or the efforts made by the START team will be for nothing. I don't think that will occur, however.

The public will need to get involved at some point. Every family must do its part to see that we work together and when the START team ends its efforts, and if we continue to work together for a better Wayne, we can keep the flow of communication continued, which has been a result of the START team.

If we fail and don't ask what we can do to see these efforts are maintained and continued, we will not only fail ourselves but our children, who will ask why we quit them. It's a threat we all need to consider, not only for the future of our fine town, but of the future of the rural community.

We need to go through with the same dedication and determination as the young violinists. If we give up on the START program, it will be like dropping out of school.

DURING THE WHS MUSIC banquet, Jeanle Brown, Heather Thompson and Melissa Eckhoff performed a couple numbers.

The first effective antihistamines were developed over 40 years ago in France. Two of the first antihistamines introduced into the U.S., diphenhydramine and tripelennamine, are still popular ingredients in a variety of over-the-counter (OTC) products intended to treat a vast array of health problems. A frequent use of antihistamines is treatment of allergy. During an allergic reaction, histamine is released from the body's cells causing swelling and redness of the eyes, nose, and other tissues. An antihistamine blocks histamine and helps prevent or relieve allergic symptoms. A chief side effect of most antihistamines is drowsiness. For this reason, some of the more popular sleep aids contain diphenhydramine or another antihistamine as the active ingredient to help induce sleep.

WSC gals notch winning season

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State women's softball team took part in the St. Mary's Invitational in Omaha over the weekend and the Wildcats played this tournament much differently than the one they played in the weekend before where they went 0-5 at the Kearney State Invitational.

Dan Pollard's squad escaped the pool play unscathed with a 4-0 record but were defeated in the first round of the tournament by Briar Cliff, 1-0. In the first contest, held on Friday Tina Blackburn led the Cats to an 11-0 shut out of Nebraska Wesleyan.

Blackburn had a perfect game through four innings when Wesleyan got its only two hits of the game—both singles. Blackburn faced just 16 batters in the game. Wesleyan suffered six errors in the contest and added with 12 WSC hits, it added up to 11 runs.

Dee Henningson went 3-4 from the plate with four rbi's as she ripped a grand slam home run. Jill Gengler was 2-4 and Carla Gilbertson, Jodie Gillfillan and Marti Hunt all enjoyed 2-3 performances.

In the second contest the Cats defeated Tarkio College by a 7-0 count as Roni Johnson, tossed a 2-hitter en route to the victory. Johnson struck out four in the process.

Wayne State pounded out nine hits in the game as Jill Gengler, Marti Hunt and Megan Dolesh all went 2-3 from the plate. Gengler recorded three rbi's in the contest.

The Wildcats had a closer game with Midland but Roni Johnson was once again on the mound where she has been so tough all year and when all was said done, the Cats had emerged a 1-0 winner. Johnson struck out six and scattered three hits en route to the win.

The lone run came in the fifth inning as Eva Coons led the inning off with a walk. She advanced to second on an error and was moved to third on another walk. Megan Dolesh then hit into a fielders choice which scored Coons.

The lone WSC hit of the game came in the sixth inning on a base hit by Jill Gengler.

Johnson sets records

On Saturday the Wildcats faced Peru State in the final game of pool play. Roni Johnson was again on the mound and heading into the contest she needed just seven strike outs to become the all time career strike out leader among Wayne State pitchers.

Well, Johnson was brilliant in this game—striking out eleven Peru State batters and leading WSC to an 8-1 victory. The strike out total has climbed to 267—four more than the record held by Lauri Owens. Johnson has notched 205 strike outs this season alone—another WSC record.

Johnson also established another record over the weekend as she has now pitched more innings than any other WSC pitcher in history. At the conclusion of the Peru State game, Johnson had pitched a total of 195 2/3 innings of play which wipes out the old record of 176 1/3 innings pitched by Lauri Owens.

Beth Clark and Eva Coons each went 3-4 from the plate to lead WSC offensively past the Lady Bobcats while Carla Gilbertson and Jodie Gillfillan each went 2-3.

In the first round of tournament play following pool play, WSC lost a 1-0 decision to Briar Cliff. Tina Blackburn was given the pitching loss. WSC had four hits in the game as Marti Hunt led the way with two singles. Carla Gilbertson and Beth Clark each hit safely as well. Briar Cliff got its lone run in the first inning.

Henningson stealing records
WSC shortstop Dee Henningson has only been at Wayne State for one year yet she tied the school record for most stolen bases in a career over the weekend adding eight to her total. Henningson had already surpassed the single season base stealing mark earlier this year.

According to coach Pollard, Henningson needs just four more hits to break the single season hitting record which is 54. WSC will enter district play this Friday and Saturday in Lincoln.

The Cats are third seeded in the district behind top seeded Kearney State and second seeded St. Mary. Dana is the fourth seed while Peru State is seeded fifth. Midland drew the sixth and final seed and that is the team that WSC will face in the first round this Friday at 4 p.m.

If the Cats are successful they will play St. Mary's in a 5:30 p.m. contest. The winner of the Dana-Peru State game will play Kearney State also at 5:30. Wayne State will take a 29-20 record into the district 11 tournament and are assured of its 14th consecutive winning season.

WSC sluggers snap losing streak

The Wayne State baseball team broke a five game losing streak Monday afternoon as they defeated Briar Cliff—winners of nine straight games, 6-3. The Wildcats dropped the second game of the twin bill, 5-1 to lower the season record to 23-24.

In the opener Kevin Boham got the pitching victory with Corey Weinmaster earning the save. Weinmaster was again pitching in front of a Pittsburgh Pirate major league scout.

WSC scored twice in the top half of the first inning when Tim Wobken, the team's leading hitter this season, cracked a 2-run home run. Wobken scored in the fourth inning on a fielders choice hit by Mark Wewel.

Taking advantage of base stealing the Wildcats scored two runs in the fifth inning with out even connecting for a base hit. Wobken notched an rbi single in the seventh inning to round out the WSC scoring attack. Wobken's single scored John Staab.

WSC pounded out six hits in the contest and suffered just one error while the host Chargers had two errors to go along with six hits and three runs. "Our pitchers really did a nice job," head coach Lenny Klaver said. "Corey was on and looked good in front of the scout."

Unofficially, it seems that Weinmaster will be invited to a pre-draft try out in Chicago before major league draft day later this spring.

In the nightcap in Sioux City, Briar Cliff defeated the Cats, 5-1 with Joe Fulcher getting the loss for WSC. Fulcher went 5 1/3 innings and Bill Guenther came in to finish out the game.

WSC's lone run came in the sixth inning when Jeff Schneider knocked in Travis Nedved with a single. Nedved was 2-3 on the day while Shane Kober was 2-4. The Cats had six hits in the game while Briar Cliff recorded eight.

Lose two to Grand View
In a twin bill with Grand View College of Des Moines, Iowa, here

last Friday, WSC lost both by scores of 11-8, and 12-2. In the opener Corey Weinmaster took the loss as he gave up a 3-run home run in the eighth inning.

"Grand View really hit the ball well in both contests," Klaver said. "They combined for 30 hits in the two games and 23 runs." WSC scored one run in the first inning of the first game on a sacrifice fly ball by Tim Wobken. They added one more in the second on an rbi double by John Staab.

Then the Cats inlined for six runs in the fourth inning as Jeff Schneider notched a triple, Shane Kober belted a 2-run double, Tim Wobken cranked a 2-run home run and Mark Wewel hit an rbi single. WSC scored another run on a Grand View error.

Kober went 2-3 from the plate while Wewel was 2-4. Wobken was 1-3 but had three rbi's.

The second game lasted just five innings as Grand View 10-run-ner the host Cats. Jeff Gohr was given the pitching loss. WSC scored one run in each the third and fourth innings. Shane Kober scored in the third inning on a sacrifice fly ball and a Grand View error allowed another Cat run in the fourth.

WSC's chances of qualifying for the district 11 tournament looks slim at this point, Peru State has to lose at least the first game with their double header with Doane to be held Thursday.

If Peru State loses the first game and wins the nightcap of the Doane double header, and WSC sweeps two from Doane on Sunday in Crete, then a tie between WSC and Peru State will exist with the tie breaker being a one game play off to be held at a neutral site.

If Peru State should lose both games to Doane and WSC sweeps Doane then WSC would earn the fourth berth. If the Bobcats sweep Doane on Thursday, WSC's season would end next Monday with a game in Sioux City against Morningside.

Junior high track results coming

WAYNE-The Wayne Junior High track team hosted an invitational on Tuesday afternoon. Results and pictures of this meet will be run in Monday's edition of the Wayne Herald.

The meet was the Junior High's fourth track meet of the season and the last meet of the year for the junior-Blue-Devils at home. Saturday the seventh and eighth-grade squads will travel to South Sioux for the conference meet.

Banquet tickets on sale

WAYNE-Tickets are now on sale for the Wayne-Carroll Athletic Banquet to be held on Tuesday, May 15 at 6:30 p.m. Guest speaker for the evening will be University of Creighton men's basketball coach Tony Barone.

Cost of the tickets are $7 and may be purchased from Wayne High School, State National Bank and First National Bank. Everyone in the community is welcome to attend.

Simpson to step down as track coach

WAYNE-Dr. LeRoy Simpson will step down as head men's and women's track coach at the end of the 1990 outdoor season, according to athletic director Pete Chapman.

He will continue his teaching duties at Wayne State and will assist with both programs next season. "After 20 years with the program, it's time to take a different approach," Simpson said. "The change has been discussed for some time and now is the right time to let someone else be in charge of the program."

The search for a new head coach will begin immediately, according to Chapman. The coach will head both the men's and women's track programs and will teach in the Human Performance and Leisure Services Division at Wayne State.

"My relationship with the kids won't change," Simpson said. "I will be assisting the new coach. I hope this creates an opportunity for the women's program to continue its competitive growth and for the men's program to get some financial support."

Simpson has coached nine all-Americans at Wayne State. His 20-year tenure at Wayne State is the second longest among track coaches in the state.

WSC golfers win own invite

WAYNE-The Wayne State golf team captured their own invitational Friday at the Wayne Country Club. It was the first time that Wayne State has won an invitational since they have brought the sport back to the college.

The Wildcats carded a team score of 323—four strokes ahead of runner-up Nebraska Wesleyan who finished with a 327. Northeast Community College of Norfolk finished in the number three slot with a 332 and UNO finished fourth with a 343.

Wesleyan's Corky Stott was the medalist in the meet with a 78 but right behind was two Wayne State golfers—Pat Mehrens and John Anthens who fired 79's to finish second and third respectively.

Paul Parker fired an 82 while Mike Zadalis finished with an 83. Clark Cull was the fifth Wildcat golfer competing and he finished with an 84.

Devils finish fourth in golf meet

WAYNE-The Wayne Blue Devil golf team struggled a little bit at the Oakland-Craig Invitational Saturday, finishing fourth in the field of 14 teams. It was not an ideal day for golf as the Blue Devils tee'd off in windy conditions and a temperature reading of 29 degrees.

Oakland won the meet with a 335 and Blair and Valley tied for second and third place with a 349 each. Wayne followed with a 351 and West Point rounded out the top five teams with a 352.

"I hope we turn this performance into a positive one," head coach Terry Munson said. "We have been sailing along pretty well all year to this point." Munson said after the first nine Wayne was still in contention but they did not shoot that well on the second nine.

Brian Moore was Wayne's top finisher with an 82 and a sixth place finish. Jason Claussen finished with an 84 and an 11th place finish. Mike Nicholson carded a 91 and Kyle Dahl fired a 94. Jesse Brodersen rounded out the field of Wayne golfers with a 100.

Both the Wayne boys and girls track teams captured top honors in the Wisner Invitational held Friday in Wisner. The Blue Devil boys rolled up 138 points and were virtually never challenged as runner-up Pierce managed 91.

Ponca finished third with 71 and Tekamah Herman finished fourth with 68. Wisner-Pilger placed fifth with 42 and Pender held down the number six spot with 40 points. West Point Central Catholic, Emerson-Hubbard, Bancroft-Rosalie and Walthill rounded out the field in order of finish.

In the girls competition Wayne scored 82 points to win the team championship while Wisner-Pilger and West Point Central Catholic scored 74 apiece to tie for the runner-up slot.

Emerson-Hubbard scored 60 for fourth place and Pender managed 45 for fifth place. Pierce, Tekamah-Herman, Ponca, Bancroft-Rosalie and Walthill rounded out the field in order of finish.

All three of the Wayne boys relay teams finished first in the meet with the 4x800 meter relay team running to a time of 8:56.2 while the 4x400 meter relay team was clocked at 3:41.4. Team members were the same for both races with Greg DeNaeyer, Casey Dyer, Craig Dyer and Willy Gross.

The 4x100 meter relay team also took top honors with a 45.8

clocking and members—Chris Fredrickson, Jim Murphy, John Murphy and Matt Peterson. Peterson proved to be a force for the Blue Devils as he won the 100 and 200 meter dashes in times of 11.3 and 22.9—both of which were his season best.

Jose Luis Castro crossed the finish line in fourth place of the 100 meter dash and was clocked at 11.5 and in the 200 meter dash, Wayne got additional points from Casey Dyer and Jim Murphy who placed third and fourth with times of 23.6 each.

John Murphy finished first in the 300 intermediate hurdle race with a 43.9 effort while Craig Dyer and Willy Gross finished first and second respectively in the 400 meter dash with times of 53.4 and 53.6.

Todd Fuelberth was the Blue Devil catalyst in the distance races as he finished second in the 3200 meter run with a 10:52.8 effort—just five seconds behind Cole Hilker of Pender. Fuelberth finished third in the 1600 meter run with a 5:14.8 clocking. Hilker again won that race but Fuelberth was hot on his heels, just three seconds out of first and 1/2 second out of second.

Steve Dinsmore added points in the 3200 meter run with a fifth place finish of 11:10.3. Willy Gross and Greg DeNaeyer finished second and third respectively in the open 800 meter run with times of 2:12.8 and 2:13.9 and Chris Fredrickson placed second in the triple jump after a leap of 40-10.

Matt Bruggeman placed in both weight events, with a third place in the shot put following a 49.7 throw of the iron ball and a fifth place finish in the discus with a toss of 136.6.

"The meet again was run in the cold wind tunnel at Wisner," head boys track coach Rocky Ruhl said. "The kids all competed hard and it was a balanced attack that led us to the championship."

Ruhl added that it will be nice to see what the kids can do when the weather is warm.

Geiger leads Wayne girls

Tammy Geiger continued her torrid pace of leading the Blue Devils in gold medals this year as she again copped three by winning the 800 meter run with a 2:30.9 effort and by winning the 1600 in a time of 5:56.2. She was also a member of the winning 4x800 meter relay which was clocked at 10:31.2. Rachel Haase, Susie Ensz and Teresa Ellis were the other members of the foursome.

Ellis and Haase finished second and fourth in the 1600 in which Geiger won. Ellis was clocked at 6:08.6 while Haase was credited with a 6:33.6 effort. Ellis however, won the 3200 meter run with a 12:45.6 time and teammate Sheri Wortman ran to a time of 14:14.0 for a fifth place finish in the same race.

Geiger's lone second place finish came in the 400 meter dash where she finished behind highly touted Kimmy Sebade of Emerson-

Hubbard with a 1:03.3 clocking. Heidi Reeg placed second in the shot put with a 36.3 3/4 throw of the iron ball.

Danielle Fallesen and Danielle Nelson placed third and fifth respectively in the high jump as each jumped 4-6. Fallesen meanwhile, placed sixth in the 200 meter dash with a 28.7 effort.

Wayne's sprint relay team consisting of Liz Reeg, Danielle Nelson, Danielle Fallesen and Deanna Schlus placed fifth with an effort of 57.7 and the Blue Devil 4x400 meter relay team consisting of Susie Ensz, Tara Erleben, Kristen Davis and Rachel Haase also placed fifth with a 4:50.7 time.

"It was a cold and windy day to perform," girls head coach Dale Hochstein said. "Our distance people really came through for us, especially in the 1600 meter run."

Wayne will next compete in the Battle Creek Invitational to be held this Thursday.

Dealing with social security-account woes

How bank accounts affect supplemental security income (SSI) eligibility is an area that consistently confuses people who are receiving or applying for SSI. This column should help clear up some of that confusion.

To be eligible for SSI, a person must have resources of less than $2,000 ($3,000 for a couple). Bank accounts are usually considered resources; therefore, they count toward this limit.

What's so confusing about that, you wonder. Well, social security considers a bank account yours if your name is on it as owner or co-owner and there are no legal restrictions that keep you from taking money out and using it for your own benefit. This is true even if you don't use the account or don't consider the account yours. That means it's important that bank accounts are precisely titled to reflect ownership and access.

Let's suppose Mary Jones applies for SSI. Her daughter, Jane, has a $3,000 savings account. Jane listed Mary as a joint owner, primarily so Mary would have access to the money in case something happened to Jane. Although Mary doesn't consider the account to be hers, social security does, and she could be found ineligible for SSI because she is over the $2,000 resource limit. Of course, if Jane's account is titled to restrict Mary's access, the account would not be considered Mary's and would not affect Mary's eligibility.

Proper titling is also critical when community, civic or social groups collect money for a special reason such as to help pay an SSI recipient's medical expenses. Although the donors gave money to the person, they also placed restrictions on its use and the account must be titled to show the restrictions. As long as the account title shows the money cannot be used for food, clothing or shelter, the account is not considered a resource.

The best advice I can give is always check with social security about how to set up accounts involving SSI recipients. We can give you specific instructions so you can avoid jeopardizing someone's SSI eligibility. All it takes is a phone call. Our number is 1-800-234-5772 (toll free) or 402-371-1595.

Small animal workshop popular

Getting started with a small animal project can be a lot of fun especially when there are other 4-H'ers around to share the experiences that they have had.

A total of 74 4-H'ers and parents watched actual 4-H project animals and heard about experiences from 4-H'ers who had taken the project for several years. Successful showing practices, grooming techniques and county fair experiences were discussed. A few giggles and sighs were heard as participants learned more about the responsibilities, problems and frustrations that are also part of the learning process in a small animal project.

4-H'ers assisting with the program were: Ponca - Brian, Brett and T.J. Nelson, Jennifer and Susan Riffey from the South Creek Beavers 4-H Club; Wakefield - Chris and Kobey Mortenson from Pop's Partners 4-H Club; Wayne - Sandy and Amy Wreidt; and Coleridge - Bev Schroeder.

The program was sponsored by the Northeast Five Extension Program Unit (Wayne, Dixon, Dakota, Cedar and Thurston Counties). All Extension programs are open to the general public.

Adkins inducted into honorary

AREA - The 101st anniversary of Ivy Day was celebrated Saturday in Kimball Hall on the University of Nebraska-Lincoln campus.

Ivy Day, sponsored by the UNL Innocents Society and the Black Masque Chapter of Mortar Board, was established at UNL in 1889. Both organizations are senior honor societies that recognize and promote scholarship, leadership and service.

Over the years, typical activities included choral competitions, plantings of ivy, Maypole dances and the crowning of a May queen and her court. Until 1944, the day-long event was held outdoors, in the area where Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery stands today.

New members of both honoraries were initiated during the ceremonies. In addition, three UNL faculty and staff members were awarded honorary innocents memberships. Honorary members were given to Dr. Tom Osborne, head football coach and assistant athletic director; Dr. James Griesen, vice chancellor for student affairs; and Barbara J. Wright, director of student programs and reunions and coordinator of the Scarlet and Cream Singers for the NU alumni association.

In addition, scholarship awards, innocents outstanding seniors and mortar board notables were announced.

Inductees, the honors they received and their hometowns follow: Sara Adkins, Laurel, 1990 mortar board inductee.

The GOLDEN YEARS

When Otto Bettman fled Nazi Germany for the United States in 1935, he brought along two trunks containing his collection of historical photos and prints. That was the beginning of what became known as The Bettman Archive, a prime source for newspapers, magazines, book publishers and others seeking illustrations just right for their needs. Although he sold the business in 1981, Bettman, at age 86, was curator of rare books at Florida Atlantic University, which houses both The Bettman Archive and Bettman Newsphotos, whose contemporary pictures complement the historical Archive. Spare time endeavors included writing a book, taking long walks and playing the piano into the night. Bettman, who grew up in Leipzig where Johann Sebastian Bach composed his classics, offered advice for staying young: "Love, work, walking and Bach."

No wonder Social Security offices are kept busy: An average 5,500 Americans turn 65 on any given day of the year.

Remember When? October 14, 1947 - Captain Charles "Chuck" Yeager achieved the first supersonic flight, piloting the Bell XS-1 at 670 miles per hour over Edwards Air Force Base at Muroc, California.

Placing shrubbery in your yard helps improve its appearance

by Michael W. Lance
SCS Technician

Birds are good neighbors. Their songs, colors, lively activity and economic values add much to the joys of suburban or farm living. You know about manmade bird attractors — feeders, birdbaths, birdhouses, nesting shelves and the like. Let's consider some natural attractors — trees, shrubs and vines you can grow to invite bird visitation to your home or fields.

Plantings can beautify and conserve your land as well as attract birds. Birds often feed on berries, nuts and seeds many of which are brightly-hued and decorative. Hedges and other dense shrubbery provide shelter and fit handsomely in the background scene. Trees for nesting and singing offer shade, beauty and add productivity to the landowner. Sunflowers and other colorful annuals are seed producers. A small wildlife pond is an attractive addition.

Birds like variety. Remember, this when deciding what plants to use in your conservation planned area. Create a varied pattern with an intermingling of species, sizes and shapes. Give birds a choice of places for their activities — from the crowns of tall trees to low growing flowers and grasses. Give them a choice of food sources — seeds, nuts, fruits, berries and flower nectar. Many song and game birds combine these plant foods with animal foods like insects, worms and spiders.

BY KNOWING the wildlife value of the existing plants you now have, you can plan any additional plantings that will bring a diversity of plant forms, food producers and shelter plants that would otherwise be missing. Many common shade, windbreak and pulp producing trees provide little food for birds. Autumn-lives, cherry or good fruit-bearing shrubs are helpful additions. Yards and fields that have only deciduous trees can be improved by adding junipers, cedars, yews and other evergreens that provide winter shelter for birds. Likewise, areas that contain only evergreen species can profit by the incorporation of deciduous trees and shrubs for food and nest sites.

Be sure any bird plantings made allow you to view the birds easily. Put the plants where they can be seen from a window, patio or roadway. For best results, choose the kinds of plants reported to have high bird use. Careful attention to periods of bloom and the availability of choice foods makes it possible to have a succession of floral displays and bird foods throughout the year.

Birds have simple needs. They look for places to feed, sing, court, nest, rest and hide. As you do your planning you can provide all these places with a common mixture of trees, shrubs, vines and other ground plants. Even in small yards best photographer in the state in 1985 and he took sixth place in 1989; but for him, the thrill of the award is still there. "It was really exciting," he said. "I had no idea that my prints were scoring that high. When I got to the convention, some friends said I did well but I had no idea what well is. It's fun, though, because you're in the spotlight for a short time and that's really fun."

Jammer, whose wife is Sue, is a member of the United Methodist Church in Wayne. He is a graduate of the Hawkeye Institute of Technology in Waterloo, Iowa, one of three photography schools in the nation.

Letters

Improvements coming

In regard to the letter, "Plant a Tree," I'm only speaking for myself, but I'm sure more of those on the cemetery board will agree that we do need some trees in the second addition (west part) of the cemetery.

Yes, finances are a big part to any improvements we make. I do feel we have come a long way in the last three or four years — and still have a long way to go.

I am hoping we can get a few trees out yet this year. To determine the kind is one problem. Where to plant them is another.

There are so many factors involved. Money is one. Carrying water is another. A big thing is to watch where graves may have to be opened. Maintenance is another factor, and so it goes.

We had wanted to put some trees in the north circle, and hopefully some time there can be trees there. Also, other trees need to be removed and replaced. A lot of trees need trimming. Another problem is equipment to be able to trim them.

Another improvement we need badly is a rest room. We have a room, but the cost of getting it put in is another financial problem.

Our roads or streets in the cemetery could stand to be widened — another cost.

And too, we do need to look ahead to the future. Thirty years ago only about 10 graves were in the second addition. So you see, we do need to look toward purchasing more property.

We have had pancake breakfast benefits to raise money for the cemetery. We were unable to have one this past year. And too, there have been so many benefits for this and that, that we opted to try and not complain and get along.

We have been fortunate to receive memorial money. And too, some have realized that they had not given that much for their grave sites, and with the cost of maintaining the cemetery, have sent or given donations for which we are very grateful.

Anyone wishing to donate to the cemetery can certainly do so. It would be greatly appreciated.

The Cemetery Chapel and Office will again be open this year, Friday, May 25 through Monday, May 28. The coffee pot will again be on.

If you need any help or have any questions, I will be more than willing to help you. Anyone wishing to donate can do so at this time.

and fields the right plantings can meet many of these needs.

• WATER AREAS — Most birds need open water of some kind. A small nearby pool with stones in the shallow edges draw birds to drink and bathe. A pond may attract waterfowl at all times of the year but most often during the spring and fall migrations.

• Living Screens and Fences — Hedges and rows of trees screen off unpleasant views and reduce disturbances from highways. Conifers, autumn-lives, dogwood and honeysuckle can protect fields, replace wire in fencerows and add to home beauty.

• Open Areas — In seldom mowed areas try planting a variety of native grasses. They protect the soil and birds like meadowlarks and bobolinks favor open areas over trees and shrubs.

• Winter Protection — A windbreak of cedars, spruce or pines with a food plot nearby gives birds a safe, warm place to rest and nourishment throughout the tough Nebraska winters.

• Food Plots — Seed-eating birds such as goldfinches, cardinals, juncos and grosbeaks come to food plots of millet, grain, corn or sunflowers; all of which are good bird foods to plant. Wild bristle-grasses, ragweeds and seed bearing annuals also attract many birds.

WHEN PLANTING for birds you need to consider such things as soil, slope, drainage, climate, exposure and your personal wishes. Added benefits occur where plantings help provide shade, stabilize soil and control potentially damaging runoff water.

In general, trees and shrubs that attract birds grow satisfactorily on well-drained, fairly fertile, somewhat loamy soils not particularly suited for crops or flowers. Plants described in a pamphlet (available at the local Soil Conservation Service office) that attract birds also help control soil and water runoff.

Try to blend your plantings with your home, yard or field area. Planting on the contour of a hillside adds natural beauty in a pleasing eye pattern and helps to control soil erosion of the field.

Birdhouse, baths, feeders and perches can supplement your plantings to make the area even more inviting. The more simple and natural the better they are.

You can obtain further information on plants, soils, conservation methods, and possible financial assistance through a Long Term Agreement (L.T.A.0 directed toward improving wildlife areas by contacting the local Soil Conservation Service.

Wayne native profiled in article saluting women in the service

Wayne native Debra Bodenstedt was recently featured in a newspaper article saluting "Women in Service for America."

Bodenstedt, daughter of Robert and Marilyn Bodenstedt of Wayne, was one of several women profiled in the March 23 issue of The Gator during the Department of Defense's Women's History Month observance.

Lieutenant Bodenstedt joined the Navy in 1982 and is currently serving as operations officer aboard the USS Grasp.

HER FIRST duty station was USS Yellowstone where she served as diving officer. She moved on to Mobile Diving and Salvage Unit Two as operations officer and second class dive school training officer. From there she reported to the USS Grasp.

In the newspaper article profiling women in the service, Bodenstedt said she believes that women and men make equal contributions in the Armed Forces and thinks women should be allowed in combat.

"The Navy, and all services, train daily with men and women. This training is in preparation for emergency situations and combat. Why go into combat with half your team?," said Bodenstedt.

BODENSTEDT HAS set definite goals for herself — qualifying as engineering officer of the watch, and becoming executive officer of a salvage ship. She also wants to be a positive role model for young female sailors.

The Wayne native credits her own parents for serving as her role models. "They gave me my work ethics and morals," she said.

Bodenstedt also lists General Patton as her hero because, in her words, "He never gave up."

To women in the Navy striving for success, Bodenstedt passes on this advice: "To be successful, you have to go to sea. Set your sights high. Opportunities are available for everyone. Always give 100 percent and your efforts will be recognized."

Trustees award Welch First Tier award

WAYNE - Dr. Don Welch, professor of English and Reynolds Professor of Poetry at Kearney State College, has been named the recipient of the First Tier Teaching Excellence Award.

The award was announced Thursday evening, in Wayne at the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.

As the top faculty member chosen from among nominees from the four state colleges, Dr. Welch received a $3,000 stipend. A medallion designed by Everett Sheffield of the Kearney faculty will be presented at commencement.

The First Tier Teaching Excellence Award was established in 1984 in memory of George Rebensdorf, a long time member of the State College Board and a First Tier bank officer. The award identifies teaching excellence through public recognition. Nominations can come from students, faculty members, administrators and alumni. The award is based upon criteria which recognize teaching effectiveness, academic advising, professional development and course quality. Members of the Board of Trustees rate the applications to select the honoree.

"Dr. Welch is a dedicated, flexible and competent teacher who brings out the best in each student, encouraging and enlightening," said Dr. Joe Lutjeharms, chair of the selection committee. "He is likewise one of the finest poets writing in America today. He truly represents excellence in teaching offered through the state colleges."

Dr. Welch, a Nebraska native, received his undergraduate degree from Kearney State College. He taught and coached for two years in high schools, one in Colorado and one in Nebraska, before he accepted a position in the English Department at Kearney State College in 1959. He earned a masters degree from the University of Northern Colorado and a doctorate from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Dr. Welch has won other teaching excellence honors. Among those are the Paul and Clarice Reynolds Chair of Poetry, Kearney State College, 1989, the David and Tancie Martin Distinguished Professorship of English, Kearney State College, 1981-1989, and the Pratt-Heins Foundation Award for Teaching Excellence, Kearney State College, 1988.

Conservation efforts

Time to check residue for soil erosion

by Matt Glesinger

Soil Conservation Technician

AREA - Almost all of the conservation plans written to reduce erosion for compliance with the Food Security Act contain stipulations for conservation tillage and crop residue management. On January 1, 1990 these conservation plans went into effect. Although most of the plans written give the farmer a chance to progressively implement conservation tillage, now is the time to check your crop residue and see how your present farming practices match up with those on your conservation plan.

The first step in the process of soil erosion is detachment of the soil particle. This detachment comes about as the result of raindrops hitting the soil at a high velocity. On sloping land, the force of raindrops falling results in a great deal of splashed soil being moved downslope. Soil movement resulting from raindrop splash and surface runoff is called sheet erosion.

Conservationists often refer to this as "invisible erosion" because it doesn't leave behind a telltale scar on the landscape. Because of its subtle nature, this form of erosion is often underestimated in terms of its detrimental effects. Many people wrongly believe that no erosion has occurred unless a gully is formed during an intense rainfall. The truth is: that gully erosion accounts for only a small part of the soil which leaves a field as a result of a storm.

The detachment of soil particles at the beginning of the erosion process requires an energy source. The predominant energy source for soil detachment is the kinetic energy of raindrops. Crop residues that are directly on the soil surface reduce the velocity and energy of raindrops to nearly zero. Thus crop residues are very effective in protecting the soil from detachment.

Crop residue management is an essential component of any soil conservation system. During the non-crop period between harvest and planting when the crop canopy no longer exists in the field, crop residues play their most important role. If all the residue from a corn crop is left in the field with no tillage done prior to planting, soil loss is reduced by 75 percent, compared to the situation where fall plowing is done. If the entire crop is removed for silage, soil loss is reduced by only 30 percent compared to fall plowing.

Tillage method is the most important factor affecting amount of crop residue in the field. There are a number of common tillage methods:

1) With conventional inversion tillage, the field is plowed and disced one or more times leaving virtually no crop residue exposed.
 2) The chisel plow, used instead of the moldboard, plow leaves residue on the surface or mixed with the surface layer of soil.

3) With reduced tillage, utilizing only the disc, the amount of crop residue remaining will depend upon the size of the disc and the number of passes made with the disc. Anywhere from 30 percent to 50 percent of the existing residue is buried with one pass of the disc, the second pass is generally even more destructive to residue. Some have found that substituting a field cultivator or field finisher for the second pass with the disc maintains more crop residue on the surface.

4) With no-till, the crop is planted in a slot leaving the crop residue mostly undisturbed.

5) With ridge-till planting, row crops are planted on ridges and the residue of the previous crop accumulates in the furrow between ridges.

Other factors, such as weather and the crop planted, will also affect the amount of crop residue present after harvest. In some instances, crop residue management alone may be sufficient to reduce soil loss to acceptable levels. In other cases, a combination of residue management and weather management practices may be more appropriate.

Now is the time to have your crop residue measured. Your conservation plan states that the required amount of crop residue is to be measured after planting. The soil conservation service will be happy to come out to your farm and measure your crop residue and give assistance to help to meet the requirements on your plan. The Wayne field office is located at 709 Providence Road and the phone is 375-2733.

Interested persons should contact UN-L at 472-2175 to register.

This is the Madrigal Singers' fifth trip to Europe. They also performed at the Westminster, Ely and Coventry Cathedrals in England and Wales in 1986.

During the 1988 Christmas season, the Singers appeared on NETV, the only Nebraska choral group to be so featured. The Singers gain notoriety throughout the Midwest each Christmas season for their Elizabethan Christmas Feastes in which they are adorned in attire from 16th Century England.

The film showed the practical way that one family acted to help the hungry rather than just talk about it.

The Farmer's Wife
 By Pat Melerhenry

Mother Nature seems to be having a hard time deciding on an even spring temperature. I went scrambling for the flannel nightgown last night when the forecast was for freezing temperatures.

I do feel that the plum blossoms were unusually beautiful last week; but just a little early for May baskets.

Someone asked me at work today if I'd ever done a Maypole, and I had to say I never had. It seems to me that the Mortarboards at UNE used to have special activities on May day, but I certainly was never a part of that exclusive group.

There has been a lot of ground disced, fertilized, and readied for planting the past two weeks. I saw the first planter in the field at York on Sunday afternoon. But most of the state still needs rain just to germinate the corn.

We had 3/4" early in the week, and it was so pleasant to wake up to thunder and lightning. I don't know how long it's been since we heard that.

The Big Farmer and I had been trying to get to Wichita to see Jon and Kristi all month. It's a seven hour drive from here, so we planned to leave at noon on Friday. By the time we got all loose ends tied up, it was 2:30, but we made good time and found their apartment easily.

Mike had been hearing about a town named Kichi, northeast of Wichita, that specializes in antique shops. So we toured it on Saturday. They have twenty shops and we hit all that were open.

There was a quilting fabric place that was going out of business and

I got side tracked there. There was a photo of a couple being married in front of a double wedding ring quilt that was gorgeous.

I told the shopkeeper that we had a quilt like that, made by my grandmother, and she informed me it was very valuable. It has hundreds of little pieces and is hanging on a quilt rack at my moms. She says we aren't to fight over it!

I can not believe what folks consider collectibles! Glass pop bottles, the 10 ounce size; original Barbie dolls, rhinestone jewelry.

There were all kinds of crafts interspersed with the "junkie"; mostly stuffed rabbits, it seemed to me. It all kind of reminded me of the shops in North Carolina, except this stuff was more reasonably priced.

We ate lunch at the Creek House Cafe, a little house on Main Street with walls of unfinished planks and all sorts of old kitchen utensils hanging around. Our dessert was warm apple dumplings, just like Grandma makes.

Anyway, the newlyweds are still happy; and we made a short stop at Nebraska Wesleyan for an orchestra concert just to hear Kay on the French Horn again. We had cake with Grandma, and were home by midnight.

Today, it was back to work, catch up on the newspapers, and check on the NBA scores. Bev Ruwe says I need to quit writing about basketball! So I will, but the Lakers are coming on strong again.

Wayne High students win scholarships

AREA - Thirteen high school seniors in each of Nebraska's three Congressional Districts were designated by the Nebraska Department of Education as winners of the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships.

The scholarship program, named in honor of U.S. Senator Robert Byrd, is a federally-funded program begun in 1987 to recognize top senior scholars in the nation. Each winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship to assist in defraying expenses in the first year of study at an institution of higher education.

Among the winners were three students from Wayne High School. Sarah Glinsmann, Kevin Heier and Casey Dyer.

Winners were selected using criteria established by a panel of educators from high schools and colleges within Nebraska. Those criteria, which by federal guidelines, had to emphasize academic achievement and promise, included scores from the ACT (college entrance tests); grade point averages and rank in graduating class.

In announcing the awards, commissioner of education Joe E. Lutjeharms labelled the winners as "among Nebraska's best and brightest." He also announced tentative plans for presentation ceremonies to publicly present awards to recipients. A banquet and awards ceremony for scholars, parents, school officials and distinguished guests will be held in each congressional district. In District No. 1, which includes Wayne, the banquet will be held Thursday, May 10 at the Cornhusker Hotel in Lincoln.

Davis elected to state pharmacists board of directors

Social security office calls to increase efforts

AREA - The social security administration has called for an increased effort through an outreach plan to identify people who are eligible for supplemental security income payments but are not receiving them.

SSI is short for supplemental security income which pays monthly checks to people who are aged, disabled, or blind and who do not own much or have much income. It is a Federal program run by the social security administration, but the money to pay SSI checks comes from income taxes, not social security taxes.

Since SSI is not just for adults, monthly checks can be paid to disabled and blind children who have a physical or mental disability as severe as one that would keep an adult from working and is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death.

According to the local district manager, Tom O'Connor, the intent is in locating people potentially eligible for SSI benefits as well as educating outside organizations about work incentives that are associated with the SSI program. We are choosing the month of May to publicize the outreach effort which coincides with older Americans month.

We are planning a display exhibit throughout the month of May at the Sunset Plaza and will be featuring news items on the Cablecom Channel 34 - News Bulletin about SSI.

Any information or inquiries about the program can also be made through the local Social Security office in Norfolk, Nebraska, located at 1310 Norfolk Avenue or by calling 371-1595.

Attention: Please be advised these are sample ballots and because the law requires rotation of the candidate's names, the chronological order as listed may be different in your precinct. Because some listed candidates are nominated in specific districts some names listed on these sample ballots may not appear on the ballot in your precinct.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker. Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind. In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to roter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

SOCIAL SECURITY TRUST FUND UPDATE: Would you call Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan (D-N.Y.) irresponsible for introducing the bill to repeal the withholding increase for Social Security (saving the average American family $500 a year) and returning the Social Security Trust Fund to its once untouchable status? (Currently, the funds can be used for payments on the deficit and other government charges.) Well, according to Republican Minority Whip Newt Gingrich (Ga.), "Moynihan has done an irresponsible service because he's led every senior citizen to ask what happened to their money." (As if you'd rather not know, right?)

Gingrich is not alone in raising a ruckus about Moynihan's insistence that people know exactly what IS happening to their Social Security trust fund. However, lest you think this is a partisan situation, Senator John Heinz, Republican from Pennsylvania, is very much on Moynihan's side of the issue. Where some have called using the Trust Fund for non Social Security purposes thievery, Heinz out and out calls it extortion. Incidentally, Moynihan has gotten at least one effective Social Security measure passed. From now on, everyone who has a Social Security account will receive regular statements showing what was paid in, what the benefits will be, including survivors' benefits, disability, and retirement. (The latter would be an estimate.)

Meanwhile, long term care continues to be an important consideration for Congress. Edward R. Roybal, Chair of the House Select Committee on Aging, joined with

Senator Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.), and Representative Mary Rose Oaker (D-Ohio), to introduce the "Lifecare Long-Term Care Protection Act" (H.R. 4098), which would provide long term protection for both younger and older Americans. Roybal noted: "Initially, Lifecare provides home and community based care and nursing home care for disabled children, impaired elderly, and for Medicare-eligible adults under age 65. Ultimately, Lifecare will cover people of all ages, including those between ... 20 and 65 needing long term care."

I'll keep you apprised of developments.
