he meeting was sponsored by Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation Political Action Committee and panelists at the meet-ing were District 17 Sen. Gerald Conway and Stanton school board member Bob Chilco.

The meeting, attended by 25 people, allowed for a variety of questions about the school refi-nance bill passed by the Nebraska legislature during its last session.

"Most of the people opposing this had the opportunity to come forward and propose what they would like to see before the bill was even drawn up," Chilco said. "I understand it's easy to criticize, but where's the alternative?'

SENATOR CONWAY said the reason he favors the bill more than any of its alternatives is because it's fair. He said if there are some rough edges, the state's lawmakers will be willing to smooth them out.

He said there will be a small mi-nority of Nebraskans who will see property tax increases. He said the bill is fair because it offers equal monetary distributions to school districts, which were formerly definanced. In addition, it equals out the share of the tax burden by LB 1059 is from the Omaha Chamber of Commerce. Despite LB 1059, Nebraska is still a better bet than most states to bring in its share of new industries."

CONWAY SAID the availability of the laborforce and the work ethic of the people are more important to drawing in new Indus-tries than the state's tax structure. He said companies looking at Ne-braska like coming here because braska like coming here because the tax structure is fair across the erty tax burdens. That's not much, but it's not a net increase, either." Conway said one of the reasons for the 4 percent lid in LB 1059 was to help protect taxpayers. He noted, though, that there the 4 percent lid offers no guarantees. "There's no guarantees for bet-ter education," he said. "We've never said it was an education quality bill. It's a tax relief bill. Hopefully, it will result in better education through better effi-clency. ... There are no guarantees for taxpayers to start realizing their responsibility toward local, state and federal branches of government.

"I guarantee you that if 20-30 people showed up at our (school board) meetings and kept after people on the school board of county commissioners or what have you, that we wouldn't need spending lids in our bills," he said. "I have no trouble with the public voting on it," he said, "but it's important that the media edu-cate people about what the bill is. Right now, we've got a lot of smokescreens up and behind some of those smokescreens is information which isn't entirely factual."

18 and under goes 1-2 during week 14 and under places in League Tourney

It was quite a busy week for the Wayne girls fast pitch teams as the 14 and under team played in the League Tournament in Winside and placed second over the weekend. In the opener of the double elimination format Wayne was drilled 17-7 by Pender as Wendy Beier-mann took the loss from the mound.

Following the loss Wayne was forced into the losers bracket and they played the host team in Win-side right away and defeated them 19-5 as Tami Schluns took Schindler, Kristy Hall and Carrie Fink were the big hitters in the game as each connected for a double double.

Wayne then drilled Dixon by an 18-3 count as Tami Schluns was The second as the second secon gles and a double.

The locals then demolished Allen by that identical 18-3 count as once again it was Tami Schluns shutting down the opposition with her pitching. As if that weren't enough Schluns aided her own cause with a home run. "Everyone in the line up got at least one hit against Allen," head coach Doug Sturm said. "We really hit the ball hard and got contributions from everyone."

ATTENTION

ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS During these long hot days of summer your electric utility must buy more electricity to supply an evergrowing demand. Electric power becomes costly and these added expenses must be passed on to our customers through rate increases.

You can help us keep your electricity rates from increasing, by conserving where you can. When you know that it's going to be hot, do laundry in the morning or evening. Water your lawn in the morning or evening. Also, turn your air conditioner up a few degrees, between the hours of 12 noon and 7:00 pm.

If these measures are taken by you then we can keep your electric rates stable.

Bloomfield gets $358,100 from grant

LINCOLN - Governor Kay Orr announced the award of a $358,100 Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) in the Economic Development category to Knox County. The funds will be used by the Bloomfield Community Development Corporation to acquire and make improvements on a site to be leased to the Milton G. Waldbaum Co., resulting in the creation of 55 jobs.

Waldbaum's is headquartered in Wakefield and is one of the nation's largest producers of shell eggs. The company had been searching for a 120-acre expansion location since September 1989 and considered "sites in Iowa, South Dakota and 21 Nebraska communities. Working with Nebraska Department of Economic Development and Nebraska Public Power District officials in its search, Waldbaum's chose Bloomfield this spring.

"This project is an outstanding example of state and local leaders working together to keep this expansion in Nebraska," Governor Orr said, "The Milton G. Waldbaum company has demonstrated a commitment to invest in Nebraska agriculture, providing jobs and boosting our economy."

commitment to invest in Nebraska agriculture, providing jobs and boosting our economy." About 1.9 million bushels of corn will be purchased annually from local farmers to operate the facility. Waldbaum's also expects to purchase. $200,000 worth of miscellaneous supplies and services each year from the local business community. The annual payroll at the Bloomfield operation will be approximately $1,100,000. Besides the acquisition and improvements of land, the project involves the construction of 16 laying houses with each having a 120,000 chicken capacity; a processing building to grade production; and a feed delivery system with a capacity to produce 75,000 tons of feed annually.

The Community Development Block Grant funds are made possible by federal funds available to the State of Nebraska through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ONE FOR THE GOOD GUYS: Judge Terry J. Hatter of the United States District Court in Los Angeles found in favor of a suit brought by the American Association of Retired Persons against Farmers Group, Inc., (a local insurance company) for having denied certain former employees a pension and profit sharing benefits to which these people were entitled. The company was charged with violating the Age Discrimination Employees Act (ADEA) and the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) by freezing these benefits for all employees aged 65 and older.

Act (ERISA) by freezing these benefits for all employees aged 65 and older. The lawsuit was originally filed in 1986. Since that time, the ADEA was amended so that as of 1988, employers could no longer stop pension contributions to employees at age 65. It's estimated that before the 1988 amendments became effective (and before this judgment came down) some quarter of a million older workers may have been denied their full pension and benefits rights. Correction

There were a few mistakes in the Thursday, June 21 article about the German club students trip to Germany. Dachau was the first concentration carmp in Nazi Germany. It was not the only one. Dachau was liberated by Western Allied Forces. Its victims were primarily Jews, po-litical opponents, clergy and Rus-rian primore. sian prisoners In addition the American slaughter of Indians was at Wounded Knee, not Little Big

Horn

Also, the correct spelling of one of the students is Dwaine Junck.

Iron Requirements

Differ

The need for iron by both sexes increases from birth until the middle of the teenage years. At that time the iron need of males decreases significantly, while that of females remains constant. Females require more iron because of menruation. hlubA have essentially the same iron need throughout life. With the exception of peri-ods of pregnancy, females have a much higher iron requirement than men until the time of menopause. when iron needs of men and women become about the same. During pregnan-cy, women's iron need alcy, women's iron need al-most doubles and is about three times higher than that of men. Groups likely to develop iron deficiencies are infants, tenage girls, pregnant women, and the elderly. The elderly may need a suplament because need a supplement because of decreased iron absorption.
