Bad wiring causing some worries for officials

WAYNE - An apparent wiring problem with the fire system at Wayne Elementary School has resulted in a fire marshal mandate to have corrections made by Sept. 27.

The problem, according to information provided by Dr. Francis Haun, superintendent of schools, occurred when a new system was installed over the summer to update the school to current fire codes.

According to a letter provided by Dr. Haun, signed by Win Hoefner of Hoefner Electric of Hooper, Neb., "the problem lies in the extreme sensitivity of a solid state system plus a change in the state fire regulations as to equipment."

IN A LETTER TO Dr. Haun from Davis, Fenton, Stange and Darling, the architectural firm overseeing the project, the remaining fire alarm system, which was previously used in the building, was not included in the contract.

Waldbaum's history provides insight

WAKEFIELD - The Milton G. Waldbaum Company of Wakefield will celebrate its 40th anniversary with a three-day schedule of events on Sept. 27-29.

The Waldbaum Company, one of the world's largest processors and producers of eggs and egg products, was founded in 1950 by Dr. Milton G. Waldbaum after purchasing an abandoned produce station, the Wakefield Poultry Company.

In 1952, Daniel W. Gardner, currently CEO of Waldbaum's, joined the company. Together he and Dr. Waldbaum created one of the most successful and innovative companies in the egg and egg products industry. Starting with only 25 employees, today the Milton G.

Waldbaum Company employs more than 1,200 people throughout the country and reports sales of more than $140 million.

When it became apparent in the late 1960's that local egg suppliers could not produce enough product for their needs, Dr. Waldbaum and Mr. Gardner started Big Red Farms. Today, that facility, along with Husker Pride Farms in Wakefield and Hudson Farms in Colorado house almost six million laying hens.

CONTRACT FLOCKS make up the balance of more than 2.1 billion eggs graded and processed by the company each year.

In addition to these farm operations, the company's Gardner Growers Farms has two pullet farms in Wakefield, and the third is currently under construction. These pullet farms will grow approximately 4.4 million baby chicks annually to supply a total of 58 laying houses.

The Milton G. Waldbaum Company has pioneered many processing methods and new products which allows for the utilization of eggs in numerous and specialized forms.

Today, over 50 percent of all shell eggs are channeled to the breaking operations in Wakefield and Yankton, S.D. for further processing.

FIFTEEN BREAKING machines, each capable of separating over 25,000 eggs per hour, send the product to tanks from which it is drawn for manufacture to one of the many types and formulas of egg products.

These egg products, which may be frozen liquid or dried, are sold to baking companies, food manufacturers, food service operations, food service distribution companies and other industrial users.

In 1987, the Company was named "Supplier of the Year" by Pillsbury and also sells products to General Mills, Mars, Borden, International Multifoods, Kraft Foodservice, Sysco Corporation and Carnation Foods.

In recent years, Waldbaum's has led the industry in the development of hard cooked egg products. These products include hard boiled eggs and diced eggs which are sold to hotels, restaurants and institutions. In 1990, more than 25 million pounds of hard cooked product will be produced and sold in the market.

IN THE 1950S, Waldbaums delivered products on company owned trucks primarily to local customers and the New York produce docks. Today the company maintains a fleet of state-of-the-art over the road tractor trailers which deliver eggs, egg products and refrigerated items coast to coast and border to border.

In 1987, Waldbaum's first became associated with Michael Foods of Minneapolis, Minn. through the distribution of refrigerated products to the Denver market. The product line included a full line of domestic and imported cheese and refrigerated specialty items.

This venture led to Michael's purchase of 50 percent of Waldbaum's in 1988. In 1990, Michael Foods purchased the remaining 50 percent of Waldbaum's and in July of this year, named Daniel W. Gardner chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Michael's combined egg companies. David Gardner was named president of the Milton G. Waldbaum Company. The rest-of the family remains active with Kirk Gardner, Leslie Bebee and Tim Bebee serving as officers of the company.

THE COMPANY has dedicated itself to the concept that a healthy egg industry means more jobs and more success for those associated with it. To that end, Dan Gardner has taken an active leadership role within the egg industry for the past 40 years.

He has served on the Board of Directors of the Nebraska Poultry Industries, being named "Nebraska Industryman of the Year" in 1985. Mr. Gardner is also chairman of the host committee for the IEC Conference to be held in San Francisco this year. Additionally, he is the current chairman of the board for the United Egg Producers.

Through the years, hundreds of high school and college students have worked part time at Waldbaum's to defray school expenses. In fact, the effects of this large employer in the area have been dramatic on the local economy.

Waldbaums makes plans for 40th anniversary party

WAKEFIELD - Last year, Waldbaum's local payroll exceeded $12 million. In addition, the company paid over $1 million in utility bills and almost $500,000 in taxes.

On its 40th anniversary, the company is sponsoring a three day celebration which includes the following events. Persons wishing to tour should dress appropriately and remember that no cameras or video equipment are allowed in any facilities.

Open house tours of the Wakefield plant and Husker Pride-Farms will be held on Thursday, Sept. 27 from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m. and on Friday, Sept. 28 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

Persons wishing to tour these facilities should meet in the employee parking lot, off highway 35 in Wakefield. Tours of approximately 20 persons will be conducted in 15 to 20 minute intervals. Company ambassadors will be on hand to direct participants.

From 5 to 7 p.m. on Sept. 28, a free omelet supper will be held at the American Legion Hall in downtown Wakefield. This supper is open to the public.

BUSY AT WORK, LOCAL HOG PRODUCER Dan Hansen works on the blades of a silage cutter. Hansen says his family's hog production has thrived because of low overhead and a lot of hard work.

Hard times not so bad Hansens find faith, hope pays off

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

"For Dan and Bonnie Hansen, survival has never been in doubt but that's not to say there haven't been some lean times.

The Hansens, who farm corn and soybeans along with their swine operation northwest of Wayne, agree that keeping up has been a combination of faith, hope, patience and meticulous record keeping. In the 10-plus years since they were married, they have never had a year where the operation lost money.

"I don't know why some of the things we've done have worked but through hard work, they have," Dan said.

"It's taken a lot of sweat," Bonnie adds.

ALTHOUGH BY MODERN standards, much of the Hansens' swine operation is archaic, it has its advantages.

Mr. Hansen said the way they have been able to afford the production increases experienced over the years is through the ability to adapt old tools and machinery into useful devices. Mr. Hansen explains:

"As far as modern swine facilities are concerned, ours are almost crude. We've taken grain bins and adapted them into feeders. Things like that. If you start with all new stuff, you'll never get on top of it because the payments will kill you."

When the Hansens first began their operation in 1977, they started with 18 sows. Today, they have 175 sows. In 1990, Mr. Hansen estimates they'll produce about 1,650 hogs and about 2,500 feeder pigs.

ONE OF THE THINGS which has helped, especially in the last three years, has been the use of a program they've utilized through the Northeast Extension Center in Concord.

The program has enabled the Hansens to increase cattle production over the past three years. Hansen said accurate record keeping has allowed him to know exactly where production is. He said the records keep him abreast of where herd production is at all times.

Although the Hansens don't own the farm they operate, they have recently bought some acres of land to help diversify. Mr. Hansen said the corn they produce is used for feed and the soybeans are taken to market.

"Hogs hardly ever lose money," Mr. Hansen said. "It's much more labor-intensive but if you raise and breed your own, you never see a loss. I'd have to say right now, we're doing pretty well but we are in an expansion freeze."

ALTHOUGH MUCH OF THE work is a one-man operation most of the year, Bonnie does her part by sorting and vaccinating the piglets. Also assisting the operation during the summer is Brad Bush, a junior enrolled in pre-veterinary medicine at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"Brad's one of the reasons we were able to expand — he's always there to work when we need him," Mr. Hansen said.

Mrs. Hansen, who grew up in a small city near St. Louis, Mo., is also complemented by her husband because of her ability to work with the little pigs.

"She's the best hog sorter," Mr. Hansen said.

"That's because I don't get mad," Mrs. Hansen replies.

New plan in place Fairchild: Plan provides city guidelines

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Wayne residents might feel a little more content now that the city has a new emergency action plan in place, according to Police Chief Vern Fairchild.

The plan tries to identify hazards in the community or county which are man made or natural, Fairchild said. "Then it identifies agencies and resources in the event something goes wrong."

Natural foes given the greatest attention in the plan are those dealing with tornadoes and blizzards. In the form of man-made threats, hazardous materials and chemical spills such as anhydrous ammonia or propane, are given the most attention.

ALTHOUGH THE PLAN has limited use when the emergency actually occurs, according to Fairchild, it does provide guidelines ahead of time. He said by studying the book on a regular basis, it allows officials some direction in knowing how to respond.

For instance, if tornadic activity was threatening Wayne, the plan provides a series of how the situation should be handled.

ACCORDING TO FAIRCHILD, the city relies on reports from spotters and the National Weather Service station in Norfolk. If radar or actual observations indicate a tornado striking Wayne is imminent, than police will know it is time to respond by sounding sirens located around town.

"I think it's a pretty complete plan," Fairchild said. "More hazardous materials have been added since the last plan was drawn up in 1970 but that's the case in most modernized plans. The important thing about the plan is that it provides a guideline and that's a place to start."

In an effort to test the effectiveness of the plan, it is important for the city to continue its monthly tests of the sirens located throughout the city as well as conducting drills. Fairchild said although he doesn't know when the next drills will be performed, he said there should be some prior to next summer.

Scott to speak

WSC to feature talk by former hostage

WAYNE - Colonel Charles "Chuck" Scott, a military intelligence expert and Iranian hostage from 1979-81, will present a lecture Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 8 p.m. at Wayne State College. The public is invited to attend.

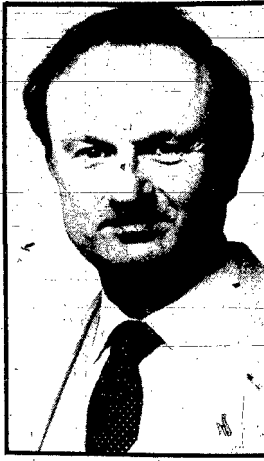

The lecture will be held in Ramsey Theatre located in the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building.

After nearly 30 years in the Army, Col. Scott gained a reputation as the Army's best qualified specialist in Middle Eastern affairs. He was appointed Chief of the Defense Liaison Office at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, Iran. When Iranians stormed the Embassy in 1979, he and his colleagues found themselves at the mercy of radical extremists.

In his lecture, Col. Scott relates his Iranian nightmare, which included extreme torture and deprivation, and other incidents of his military career.

Since his retirement from active military duty, Col. Scott has become an award-winning author, a consultant to international companies doing business in the Middle East and one of today's most sought-after public speakers.

On Saturday, Sept. 29 from noon to 2 p.m., an omelet luncheon will be held for all retired and present employees at the Logan Valley Golf Course or at the American Legion Hall in case of inclement weather.

From 2 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, entertainment for the entire families of retired and present employees will be held at the Logan Valley Golf Course. These events include demonstrations by the Emmy Gifford Juggling Club by 9-14 year old performers, musical entertainment, magic tricks and face painting, bubble blowing, dip-n-dye, Amate painting and lego building by the Omaha Children's Museum.

That same day, Sept. 29, a barbecue for all retired and present employees will be held at the west parking lot across from the depot in Wakefield. A large tent will cover the parking lot and all employees will be asked to enter through specified gates.

The final event of that Saturday will be a street dance held from 8 p.m. to midnight for all retired and present employees of the company.

Logan Valley Golf Course in Wakefield will be open for all retired and present employees on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 27 and 28. Please call ahead for tee times.

Wiring

According to the letter, if corrections have to be made, the old system, which is still used with the new, may not be included in the contract and the school may have to pay for further corrections.

Dr. Haun said his primary concern lies in the fact that the wiring corrections have to be made by the end of the month.

"If we have to hire another contractor, we will," he said.

NO COST ESTIMATES for the project are yet available, according to Dr. Haun.

The system currently being used in the school is multipurpose, meaning it has a variety of rapid heat detectors, smoke detectors and a sprinkler system.

The present fault in the system is that the trouble light in the monitor box is lighted, which means there is either an electrical short in the system or the wiring and the new appliances do not work together.

four children, Angie, 14; Tony, 11; Timothy, 5; and Alyssa, 4, give credit for much of their success to their faith. The Hansens attend St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside, where they are involved with a number of church programs.

Mr. Hansen also isn't shy about expressing his support for the agricultural industry. He said despite recovering from recent hard times, there is still a great deal of potential in agriculture.

"It takes good management and a strong knowledge of the product," he said. "Many will discourage their kids from going into agriculture but they shouldn't because that hurts the industry."

His address is: Pvt. Bryan Ruhr, PLT 2081, H-company, BN RTR, MCRD, San Diego, Calif., 92140.

Izaak Waltons meet Sept. 3 for meeting

WAYNE - The Wayne Izaak Waltons met Sept. 3 for their regularly monthly meeting.

The meeting was held at the Harvey Braasch home in order to present him with the "Tobin Award" from the national office.

This award is presented to a members of local chapters who have contributed much of their time and talents to improve conditions of the lake area.

After the presentation, members proceeded to the lake grounds where they met Elmer Hass of Fremont, who is the area membership chairman of Izaak Waltons.

With the Wayne group, he related his experience at the national convention, followed by a discussion of the future plans of the Ikes on a statewide basis.

WAYNE - A photography exhibit of Nicaragua by John Banasiak is on display through Sept. 28 at Wayne State College. Admission is free and open to the public.

The exhibit is located in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery on the upper level of the Val Peterson Fine Arts Building. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Principal's Office

By Donald V. Zeiss

The summer is a busy time for maintenance and custodial personnel of the Wayne schools. Custodians are charged with getting their buildings in shape for the opening of school while other maintenance crews are formed to perform various other necessary tasks. A primary goal of the program is to reach a point where maintenance can be performed on a preventative basis rather than from crisis to crisis.

Countless minor jobs have been completed this summer in addition to some major accomplishments which are as follows:

1. Refurbishing of art room cabinets
2. Replacement of hall electrical receptacles
3. Update of the foreign language lab
4. Repair of biology lab tables
5. Resurfacing of the gym floor

6. Refinishing of the classroom doors
7. Purchase of new desks and chairs

Gallons of paint have been applied to numerous classrooms and other facilities in all school buildings. A highly washable epoxy paint has been applied in highly used areas such as hallways and restrooms.

In addition, custodians have been performing odd jobs such as washing of windows, repairing of doors and windows, clearing brush, trimming trees, repairing fixtures, moving furniture and equipment, repairing roof leaks, and doing countless odd jobs.

The maintenance staff has made a concentrated effort to see to it that our facilities are as trouble free, functional and comfortable as possible. It is a fact that a good maintenance program is a team effort with school personnel and students cooperating to preserve school facilities. It is also a fact that a good maintenance program costs a great deal less than a program where the cooperative effort is meager.

Our maintenance staff takes pride in their work. The next time you visit school or attend an event, compliment them on their efforts; I know they would appreciate it.

Maintenance staff for the schools include:

- Superintendent of Building and Grounds: Richard Powers
- High School: Dean Newton and Mary Davis
- Middle School: Gail Gray and Dennis Mitchell
- West Elementary: Brad Gray and Norma Tietz
- Carroll Elementary: Dorothy Isom
- Building and Grounds: Lumir Bursh

FARM SAFETY WEEK SEPTEMBER 16 - 22

If you are thinking of building new grain bins for storage this fall, you should be aware of the new 1990 National Electric Safety Code clearance envelope. The location of your bins in relationship to existing power lines has been clarified by this code. Utilities are required to maintain these clearances for new installations.

The code states that the clearance on the loading side of the bin must be 18 feet above the highest filling or probing part of the bin. This clearance must be maintained for a distance equal to the height of the bin, plus 18 feet measured out from the edge of the bin. The best solution to this problem is to contact the District Office prior to picking the new grain bin site, and have District personnel check for possible clearance problems. We would also like to remind everyone to practice an extra margin of safety during the busy fall harvest season.

Wayne spikers fall in three sets

The Wayne girls volleyball team hosted Pierce Thursday night in the Blue Devils home opener and things looked good right away for head coach Marlene Uhing as Wayne streaked to a 14-0 lead in the first set.

Pierce, however, began plugging away and soon the score was tied up at 14. Wayne did comeback to win the set 16-14 but ended up losing the match in three sets dropping the second one 15-8 and losing the third set 16-14.

"I really thought the turning point in the first set was the fact that we started missing some serves," Uhing said. "We let up when we got a seven or eight point lead and you can not do that in volleyball."

Uhing did feel that when her Blue Devils came back to win the set that they would be alright for the second set but Pierce came out fired up and won 15-8. "We had an opportunity to win the third set," Uhing said. "After trailing 13-9 we managed to come back and take a 14-13 lead but we couldn't finish it."

Jennifer Hammer led the Blue Devils from the service line connecting on 21-22 with five aces and 17 points. Deanna Schluns was 9-10 with two aces and accounted for six points.

Rachel Haase and Liz Reeg did the setting chores with Haase connecting on 27 of 27 with six set assists and Reeg making good on all 22 of her set attempts with six set assists as well.

Jennifer Hammer led the team in spiking with eight kills while Deanna Schluns was 17-19 with five kills. "Serving and passing are the name of the game in high school volleyball," Uhing said. "We broke down in our serving game hitting only 84 percent."

Uhing was pleased however, with the senior leadership she got from Kari Lutt, Jennifer Hammer, Teresa Bennett and Deanna

Schluns. "In the third game these four took control and really got into the match," Uhing said. "We have to have that from all six players if we are going to be successful."

The Wayne junior varsity won in straight sets of 15-4, 15-12 as Danielle Fallesen and Angie Thompson led the way with 10 and eight points respectively, while the "C" team won 13-15, 15-11, 15-11 as Angie Thompson and Audra Sievers led the way with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Wayne State reserves defeat Doane, 19-6

The Wayne State junior varsity football team traveled to Crete on Monday night to play against Doane's junior varsity team and head coach Scott Frear witnessed his team come away with a 19-6 victory.

The score was 7-0 at the intermission as the only score came on a 42 yard touchdown pass from Mark Jacona to Leon White. In the third quarter Dave Mentzer was on the receiving end of a 31 yard touchdown pass from Clint Williams to give WSC a 13-0 lead.

The Wildcats closed out their scoring attack with a defensive play as Cory Spangler picked off a Doane pass and ran it back for a touchdown. Doane scored its only touchdown of the game with less than a minute to go in regulation.

"Defensively we played very well," Frear said. "We still have a lot of areas to improve on including getting rid of some of the mental errors but it's the first game. Offensively our line played very physical which is what we like to see."

There were no stats kept on the game but Tom Kleespies was said to have caught five passes for over 100 yards while Kurt Jensen kept the Wildcat ground attack potent with his running capability.

Defensively Frear pointed out the play of Brad Ottis who blocked a field goal attempt, blocked a punt and recorded a quarterback sack. "Brad Ottis played a good game," Frear said. "I also thought Jim Scott, Jeff Brownfield and Cory Spangler played very well. I believe we had six quarterback sacks and Jim Scott had three of them."

Wayne State's junior varsity team will play Iowa Central on Sunday at Memorial Field in Wayne at 1:30 p.m.

Girls golf team loses

WAYNE-The Wayne-Carroll girls golf team traveled to play Norfolk Thursday afternoon at the Norfolk Country Club and Richard Metteer's crew came away with a 192-242 defeat to one of the top Class A golf teams in the state.

Cher Reeg was Wayne's top golfer with a 54 while Jessica Rothfuss carded a 57. Jennifer Chapman finished third on the team with a 63 and Lisa Casey finished fourth for the Blue Devils with a 68.

The junior varsity team was also defeated by Norfolk by a 240-296 margin with Wayne being led by Kris Summerfield's 68. The Blue Devils will travel to dual Stanton on Tuesday before hosting the Wayne Invitational on Sept. 22.

Twin theatre to add boost to community

In the 14 years that Lee Wrede has been associated with the March Theatres/Hollywood-Video, he has seen a lot of changes in the movie and video market along with expansion changes at the location of 310 Main Street in Wayne.

The latest renovation came recently with the addition of the Twin Theatre which means that two movies are now being shown nightly at the same times so the people of Wayne and the surrounding area have two choices of movies to view at all times.

"The addition of the Twin Theatre is a real boost to the community of Wayne because we will now have a greater flexibility in programming and getting newer pictures here quicker," Wrede said.

Wrede also said that with two theatres they are able to keep movies here longer which attract more audience. "The ultimate reason for the renovation was to bring in the best movies as soon as possible," Wrede said. "One thing that we've noticed happening already is that families are attending more with the parents going to the 'R' rated movie and the kids going to the 'G' rated show or the 'PG' rated show which is something we like to see."

The remarkable thing about the renovation is that the theatre was only closed one weekend while the construction took place. "We have 180 seats in each theatre with new screens and and eight new electro voice speakers in each one," Wrede said. "The theatres are separated by a double wall with a lot of insulation so you only hear the sound from the movie you are watching."

In the control room changes have also been made with the addition of a five tier platter instead of the usual three tier platter. "The five tier platter allows us to run both movies off the same platter system," Wrede said. "The platter is where you splice the movies together from the shipping reels and that way there is an automatic continuous picture instead of a manual changeover."

Wrede also said there is a new QSC-Amplifier which is one of the highly rated amps in theatres. "We also added a new heating and cooling system, an indoor marquee and a new projection lens and screens to adapt to the new size pictures."

March Theatres has also changed the starting times for movies from the 7:20 p.m. time to the 7:00 and 7:15 times. On Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Tuesdays March Theatre offers a late show at 9:15 for those who can not attend the early shows.

State looking for nominees for 1990 'Take Pride' program

AREA - The state of Nebraska is requesting nominations of outstanding volunteer efforts in public lands and related environmental improvement programs for the 1990 "Take Pride in America" awards program, Governor Kay Orr announced recently.

The program recognizes volunteer efforts, both from groups and individuals, which have benefited Nebraska's public lands and natural or cultural resources.

Twenty-two winners from last year's program were recognized by Governor Orr in ceremonies last April. The Senior Center Organization of Polk is to be among the 89

Entries for this year's program must be received by Nov. 15. The State Awards ceremony will be held next spring and the National Awards ceremony next summer.

To receive an application form and a full explanation of nomination procedures contact: Take Pride in America, Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, P.O. Box 94876, Lincoln, Neb. 68509-4876. You may also call the Commission at (402) 471-2081.

Putnam elected president of WSC children's council

WAYNE - Dr. Jon Putnam, associate professor of education/psychology at Wayne State College, has been elected president of the Nebraska Council of Exceptional Children (CEC).

As state president he is required to attend local chapter meetings, preside at the monthly meetings and represent Nebraska at the Delegate Assembly at the national meeting. His term of office runs through June 1991.

Dr. Putnam, who came to Wayne State in 1986, earned his bachelor of arts in education degree from Wayne State College, his master's from Northeast Missouri State University and his Ed.D. from Memphis State University.

ATTENTION FARMERS!

As most of you know, trying to control musk thistles in the spring can be very erratic, especially when you're working with chemicals that are noted for volatilizing and injuring nearby sensitive crops. Fall is the only and the best time to control musk thistle with Tordon 22K at 8 ounce/acre rate. So we have taken the liberty of offering you this 1990 fall program through Dale's Flying Service. Book over 100 acres pre paid for only $8.34/acre. Price includes application, 8 ounces of Tordon 22K X-77 spreader sticker and LI-700, which lowers the pH in water so that the plant will not tie up the chemical. Other rates will differ for the control of Canada thistle and leafy spurge, so give us a call today and book your acres.

CHURCH WOMEN

The United Methodist Church Women met Tuesday with 10 members and two guests, Mrs. Marvin Coffey and Kathy Hunter of Stanton at the Bonnie Wylie home. Dorothy Nelson, president, conducted the business meeting. The secretary and treasurer reports were given.

A thank you was read from the alumni committee.

The annual fall meeting of the United Methodist Women Northeast District will be Sept. 22 in Osmond at 9:30 a.m.

The officers training workshop will be Oct. 2 at Westridge United Methodist Church in Norfolk at 1 p.m.

Election of officers was held. Elected were Dorothy Nelson, president; Dottie Wacker, vice president; Helen Holtgrew, secretary; and Audrey Quinn, treasurer.

Committees and their chairpersons are Grace Koch, Christian personhood; Marie Suehl, Christian social involvement; Rev. Marvin Coffey, global concerns; Bonnie Wylie, supportive community; Twila Kahl, program materials; Marie Suehl, membership; and Twila Kahl, Lenora Davis and Charlotte Wylie, nominating committee.

Audrey Quinn was honored for her birthday with a corsage for missions and the birthday song was sung. The two guests also were presented corsages for missions.

A card shower will be held for Elsie Reed of Winside on her birthday Sept. 21. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Kathy Hunter, adopted district officers, gave the program "Global Missions of Children Around the World."

Myrtle Nielsen was hostess.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 9. Dottie Wacker will have the program and Bonnie Wylie will be hostess.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Twelve members of the Roy Reed American Legion Auxiliary met Monday in the Legion Hall. Rose Janke, president, called the meeting to order.

Audrey Quinn, chaplain, opened the meeting with prayer. The flag salute and preamble were said, then one verse of "The National Anthem" was sung.

The secretary and treasurer reports were given. Dues are still due. A report on the Aug. 26 picnic showed 62 attended.

Beverly Nell of the Norfolk Veterans Home sent a letter regarding bingo dates. She also stated the home is in need of donations of large size womens clothing and all sizes of mens clothing, including shoes.

There will be a Department Leadership School in Lincoln on Oct. 6.

Servers were Esther Carlson, Marilyn Brockman and Vern Deck.

The next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 8. Servers will be Alva Farran, Lorraine Denklauf and Irene Titman.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Mrs. Bonnie Frevert hosted the Tuesday Town and Country Club with eight members and one guest, Mrs. Myron Miller. Pitch was played with prizes going to Marilyn Morse, Audrey Quinn and Loretta Voss. Marilyn Morse's birthday was observed.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 9 with Audrey Quinn. Hazel Niemann's birthday will be observed.

Metz is an associate professor of physics at Wayne State. He began teaching here in 1967. Metz earned his bachelor's degree and his master's of natural science degree from Arizona State University.

Dr. Dinsmore, who came to Wayne State in 1978, earned his bachelor's degree from Bob Jones University and his master's and Ed.D degrees from Ball State University.

Crouch joins Wayne Herald staff as editorial cartoonist

WAYNE - New to The Wayne Herald staff is cartoonist Chad Crouch, a Wayne State College junior, majoring in fine arts.

Crouch, an Omaha native, said he thinks local editorial cartoons are important to a community newspaper's opinion page. He said probably more than the written word itself, a cartoon is something that's easy for people to read.

"I want to get people interested in reading the paper more while having a little bit of fun at the same time," he said. "When you have someone living in Wayne doing the cartoons for the local paper, it makes it more personal."

Although a native of Omaha, Crouch said his naivete is good in what he does because it offers a little different perspective of the issues. In addition, he thinks an editorial cartoon might help people who don't normally read the paper to continue reading it.

As a cartoonist, Crouch said it's something he's always been interested in. He said when he lived in Omaha, he owned his own cartooning business but he decided after a few years of making money to return to school to get a college education.

Chad Crouch

"That is something I thought was important," he said. "I think I'll be glad down the road that I did."

PROPERTY TAX REQUIREMENTS FOR LOWER ELKHORN NRD DECREASE FOR NEW FISCAL YEAR

The property tax requirements for the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District are approximately 3% lower for fiscal year 1991.

During their August meeting, the Board of Directors approved a budget that sets the property tax requirements for the 15 county district at $997,824.00 or 2.95 cents per $100.00 valuation for fiscal year 1991, compared to $1,026,613.29 or 2.97 cents per $100.00 valuation in 1990.

Each of the 23 Natural Resources Districts are able to approve a maximum property tax levy of 4.5 cents per $100.00 as established by state statute.

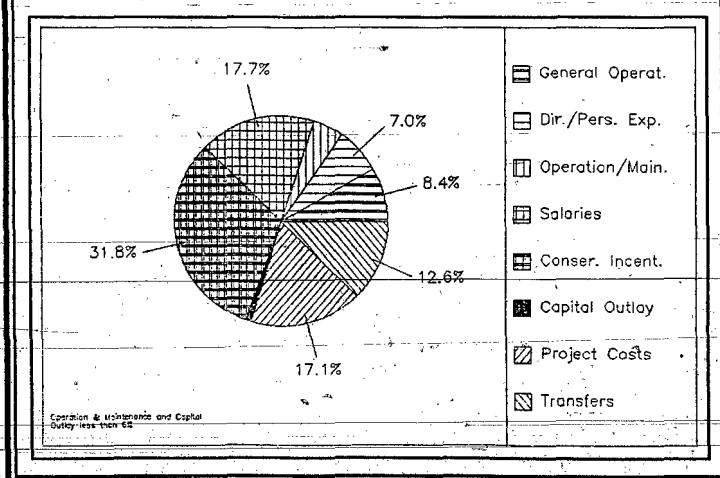

Included in the Lower Elkhorn NRD's budget expenditures for 1991 are conservation incentives, project costs, general operation, directors and personnel expenses, salaries, capital outlay and operation and maintenance.

As in 1990, the largest budgeted expenditure is for conservation incentives, with the largest share of that amount reserved for land treatment. The Lower Elkhorn NRD cost-shares with landowners for establishment of land treatment practices, such as construction of terrace systems, to prevent soil erosion.

District projects that will be supported by the new budget include the Clean Lakes Study of Maskenthine Lake and Willow Creek Reservoir, the Logan East Rural Water System, the Lyons City Park Project, nitrogen demonstration plot and water quality sampling.

In summing up the new budget, General Manager, Stan Staab said, "We are concerned about the public perception of the current tax climate. I believe the Board of Directors has been very responsible with the district's budget." Staab concluded by saying, "The 1991 budget will insure that current programs and projects will be sustained while holding the line on property tax increases."

The Lower Elkhorn NRD 1991 fiscal year began July 1, 1990 and will end June 30, 1991.

President Bush proclaims

National Farm Safety Week

CHICAGO—President George Bush has proclaimed the week of September 16-22, 1990, as National Farm Safety Week, the 47th annual observance.

"Preventable accidents, fires and work-related illnesses cost farm and ranch families dearly in both human suffering and dollar loss," said T. C. Gilchrist, president of the Chicago-based National Safety Council. The Council is a principal sponsor of National Farm Safety Week.

According to Council preliminary estimates, agricultural work accidents resulted in 1,300 deaths and 120,000 disabling injuries in 1989. The accident death rate was 42 per 100,000 workers, among the highest compared with the composite rate for all industries of nine per 100,000.

Thousands of farm and ranch residents suffered severe or fatal home, highway and recreation accidents last year, most of which were preventable. A leading cause of work-related illnesses suffered by farm workers is excessive exposure to toxic gases, chemicals, dust, sun, noise and other farming hazards.

"Farming also has the additional hazard of the combination of workplace and home. In most work situations, people leave their homes and families to go to work...families are not exposed to workplace hazards," says Jack Burke, agricultural safety specialist at the Council. "Farm families are exposed to workplace hazards around the clock and safety should be a part of every day life."

Another factor contributing to high risk in production agriculture is that a minimum or mandatory retirement age doesn't exist. Ages of persons working on farms and ranches range from eight to 80, instead of the usual 16 to 65 age range in most occupations. Children often begin helping with farm work at an early age, even operating machinery and vehicles, such as tractors, which are meant for adults. Likewise, many people continue to farm well past the standard retirement age of 65, which increases their chances of illness and injury. As a result, farm accidental death and injury rates rise at the upper and lower ends of the age spectrum.

In order to combat this problem, Burke recommends that children be assigned jobs suited to their age and capability. Older farmers need to draw on their experience and recognize their limitations. Farmers need to realize that as people age, they are less likely to recover quickly or completely from severe trauma and a longer recovery period will result in lost time and money.

"Some simple steps for reducing risk on a farm are for a farmer to take good care of his health, maintain his equipment and read instruction manuals and product labels in order to use them safely and effectively," Burke says.

Another overlooked, yet important aspect of farm safety is that each individual on a farm or ranch should be trained in basic first-aid and CPR. Farms are usually a long distance from a doctor or hospital, especially if the accident happens in a remote field. Many lives could be saved if farm personnel were trained in emergency response techniques.

Be Your Own Safety Director

Since a farmer is his own boss, he also must be his own safety director. The agriculture safety record in the 1990s could be greatly improved if every farmer would cut farm safety risks. The National Safety Council recommends the following tips to help reduce risks on farms and ranches:

- Make accident prevention a management goal. Realize that you are responsible for safety and health instruction.
- Reduce your risk of injury and illness with prevention. Read and follow instructions in operator's manuals and product labels and use personal protective equipment.

- Conduct routine hazard checks on equipment, buildings and grounds. Correct problems immediately and avoid hazards that can't be eliminated.
- Instruct employees and family workers on the proper way to do their jobs and to take care of their health, both on and off the job.

- Do what is necessary to protect children, the elderly and others in your care.
- Be prepared for each activity. Keep fit, respect your limitations and seek proper care for health problems.

The Library Card

This column is written twice a month to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at Wayne Public Library.

According to Publisher's Weekly, Aug. 24, 1990, these are the first 10 best selling hardcover books for that week.

1. The Burden of Proof by Scott Turow
2. Message from Nam by Danielle Steel
3. Coyote Waits by Tony Hillerman
4. Get Shorty by Elmore Leonard
5. The Women in his life by Barbara Taylor Bradford
6. The Stand: the complete and uncut edition by Stephen King
7. Stardust by Robert B. Parker
8. September by Rosamunde Pilcher
9. Hammerheads by Dale Brown
10. An inconvenient woman by Dominick Dunn

The library has all of these books but numbers 6 and 7. Number 10 is on order and should be in the library soon.

And according to an informal survey of the Wayne Library circulation, these are the books that Wayne readers are asking for:

1. September by Rosamunde Pilcher
2. Spy sinker by Len Deighton
3. Message from Nam by Danielle Steel
4. The burden of proof by Scott Turow
5. Presumed innocent by Scott Turow
6. The evening news by Arthur Hailey
7. The women in his life by Barbara Taylor Bradford
8. The Bourne ultimatum by Robert Ludlum
9. Don't shoot, it's only me by Bob Hope
10. The dark romance by Dian Fossey by Harold T.P. Hayes

We also have made up a list of books you may be overlooking — books that may not have caught your eye, but that you may find interesting on further scrutiny.

1. The Cardinal virtues by Andrew Greeley
2. Mowhawk by Richard Russo
3. Bittersweet by Lavryl Spencer
4. Mercy by David Lindsay
5. Lakota woman by Mary Crow Dog
6. On the trail of the assassins by Jim Garrison
7. Coyote waits by Tony Hillerman
8. Ghosts on a sea of grass: Ghost towns of the plains by Don C. Miller
9. The worst years of our lives: irreverent notes from a decade of greed by Barbara Ehrenreich

Now according to Publisher's Weekly, Aug. 31, 1990, these are the best sellers in children's books.

- Picture books:
1. Oh, the places you'll go by Dr. Seuss
 2. The great Waldo search by Martin Handford
 3. The true story of the three little pigs
 4. Find Waldo now by Martin Handford
 5. The eleventh hour by Graeme Base

- Younger readers:
1. The Berenstain Bears and the slumber party by Jan and Stan Berenstain
 2. Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles titles
 3. Karen's grandmother by Ann Martin
 4. Muggie Maggie by Beverly Cleary
 5. The silver slippers by Elizabeth Koda-Callan

- Middle readers:
1. Baby-sitters island adventure by Ann M. Martin
 2. Matilda by Ronald Dahl
 3. Jessi's baby-sitter by Ann M. Martin
 4. Wayside school is falling down by Louis Sachar
 5. Number the stars by Lois Lowry

- Young adults:
1. See you later by Christopher Pike
 2. Hatchet by Gary Paulsen
 3. Fall into darkness by Christopher Pike
 4. The parent plot by Francine Pascal
 5. Seventeen against the dealer by Cynthia Voigt
- There should be something on these lists for everyone! If you can't find it on the shelf, ask a librarian and she will help you find it, one way or another!

Raising a flag from the capital

STUDENTS AT THE WAYNE COUNTY DISTRICT 15 school show their respect for the flag by placing their hands over their hearts last week when the school was presented a new United States flag from American Legion officials. The flag, which has flown over the U.S. Capital in Washington, D.C., is one of a number of flags being presented to rural schools around the area by the Wayne and Carroll American Legion groups. In this instance, Gordon Davis, of Carroll, has the honors of taking the flag up the pole for the children.

Tenth LEAD group selected

AREA - The tenth group of 30 agriculturalists to participate in the Nebraska Leadership Education/Action Development (LEAD) Program has been announced by the Nebraska Leadership Council, Inc., said Gary C. Bergman, associate director of the Center for Leadership Development in charge of the Nebraska LEAD Program.

The 30 individuals, 20 in production and 10 in agribusiness, were selected from Nebraska applicants ages 25-40 years.

From the area are Kevin Kai, Wakefield; Lowell Schardt, Wayne; and Doug Temme, Wayne.

Participants will be involved in 13 three-day seminars during the two-year program. Seminars will be held at public and private universities and college campuses in Nebraska, as well as at selected agribusiness establishments.

The Nebraska LEAD Program is designed to develop leadership and spokespersons in the agricultural industry. It is supported by individuals, businesses, industries and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Among the other cooperating institutions is Wayne State College.
