County office ready for vote

WAYNE - With the election tomorrow (Tuesday), the Wayne County Clerk's office is gearing up for the event.

According to County Clerk Gretta Morris, if Tuesday isn't a record voting turnout she would be surprised. She said the final tally of people registering to vote for the general election is up 455 from the May primary figure of 5,919 voters. She said because of the increase, they have been forced to order additional ballots to meet the election demand.

Facing voters tomorrow when they go to the ballot booth include everything from local office holders to statewide offices and amendments. The following is a rundown of tomorrow's (Tuesday's) general election.

State candidates

In the race for U.S. Senate, incumbent J. James Exon, a Democrat, will square off against Republican challenger Hal Daub. Exon, who served two terms as Nebraska governor, has been in the Senate now for two terms, or 12 years. Daub, who served as a U.S. Representative from 1980-88, lost in a senate campaign bid in 1988, when Sen. Bob Kerrey won the vote.

For Congressional representative in the first district, incumbent Republican Doug Bereuter is squaring off against Lincoln Democrat Larry Hall. While it is Hall's first run for office he has been active in Nebraska labor unions for a number of years. Bereuter is seeking his seventh term of office.

FOR GOVERNOR, Republican incumbent Kay Orr is campaigning against Democratic challenger Ben Nelson. Running with Orr on the ticket is lieutenant governor Jack Maddux and running with Nelson is Maxine Moul. Orr has held the office for four years and has served in state government positions for a number of years. Nelson, who is making his first run for office, won the Democratic nomination by 44 votes in the May primary. The Democratic challenger, however, has a number of years experience as an insurance lawyer.

Nancy Sue Hansen, a Democrat, is seeking to replace incumbent Republican Secretary of State Allen J. Beermann.

FOR AUDITOR of public accounts, Ray A.C. Johnson, an incumbent Republican is looking to hold off Democratic challenger John Breslow.

For the office of state treasurer, Democratic challenger Dawn Rockey will be seeking to replace incumbent Republican Frank Marsh.

In the attorney general's race, Don Stenberg, a Republican, will seek to win the election over Democrat Gene Crump. Stenberg has the endorsement of former Gov. Charles Thone, while Crump has the endorsement of Democratic Sen. Bob Kerrey and incumbent Republican attorney general Robert Spire.

United Way making progress toward goal

WAYNE - With only $2,000 left to reach their goal, the Wayne United Way Board members are pleased with the response by the Wayne businesses and households.

As of Nov. 1, over $18,000 in contributions and pledges have been received. This demonstrates a real commitment on the part of the workers and citizens of Wayne to work together in supporting local agencies providing services to the community.

IN THE SPIRIT OF fun, several organizations encouraged employee-giving by engaging them in contests. According to Fauneil Bennett, who handled the Wayne Public Schools drive, "the winner of the raffle is Dan Johnson and he is looking forward to his one hour free from teaching his social studies class."

For every $5 given by a public school employee, their name was placed in a hat for a chance to win one hour of Superintendent Dr. Francis Maun's time to teach their class.

AT THE CITY of Wayne, City Administrator Joe Salitros might be found cleaning manholes for the wastewater department, as they earned a half day of his time with their contributions of $50 or more. Other departments that met Salitros' challenge are the city clerk, city treasurer, water and electric

State measures

Proposed Amendment No. 1 will create a constitutional amendment to allow for the legislature to provide that agricultural and horticultural lands be taxed under a separate category. A vote for the amendment will allow the unicameral to do this while a vote against will retain the current provision which allows only property to be taxed.

Proposed Amendment No. 2 will create a constitutional amendment to provide a right of direct appeal to the Supreme Court in capital cases. A vote against the proposal will reject the addition of an appellate court, while a vote for it will allow for the constitution to provide for a state court of appeals.

PROPOSED Amendment No. 3 will create a constitutional amendment to empower the legislature to authorize cities and village to use local sources of revenue for economic and industrial development with voter approval. A vote for the proposal will allow local governments to apply local tax levies while a vote against it will keep cities and villages without constitutional authority to appropriate local levied taxes for industrial development.

Proposed Amendment No. 4 will create a constitutional amendment for the coordinating commission for Nebraska's state financed postsecondary schools. A vote against the amendment will reject the establishment of a commission while a vote for it will create an amendment for the coordinating commission.

INITIATIVE Petition 405 will amend the Nebraska constitution so total appropriations cannot exceed 2 percent over the previous fiscal year. An increase exceeding 2 percent will require a four-fifths vote by the legislature for state spending and a public vote for local increases. If the four-fifths majority of the legislature denies the increase or if the local voters turn down a special election effort, a budget cannot be increased over the previous year's budget. A vote for the amendment will place it in the state constitution and a vote against the amendment will not create such an amendment.

Initiative Petition 406 will either retain or remove LB 1059 and LB 1059A from law, as passed by the Nebraska Unicameral during the second session of the 91st legislature. A vote against the petition will repeal LB 1059 and LB 1059A while a vote for the petition will retain LB 1059 and LB 1059A.

Initiative Petition 404 could create a statewide video lottery system to assist non-profit organizations and provide property tax relief. A vote for this amendment will create a statewide video lottery while a vote against it will not amend the Nebraska constitution.

Education's the goal

Key is to help others read

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Martha Svoboda has always enjoyed reading. Due to her interest, she directs her efforts toward those who can't.

Such is the case with whom she works on the Adult Basic Education (ABE) board. Svoboda, who is president of the board this year, shares a common concern with board members for people who haven't developed sufficient reading, writing and arithmetic skills.

The purpose of the advisory board is partially to act as a support group for volunteers. It is through the concerns expressed to the board that the program has been able to evolve in Wayne.

SINCE LAST May, the program has graduated seven students with general education diplomas (GED) and it currently serves 20 people working toward their diploma or working on their skills to prepare to go to college. It also has served 124 youth housed at the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center.

"Usually you work with low functioning people and it's not that they can't function but it's just they've never learned how," Svoboda said.

But the patience usually pays off. Svoboda said students who make a serious effort to improve their skills often excel in their studies. She said some students come into the program because although they can read, they can't comprehend or retain what they've read.

"Whenever I read a book or listen to the radio, I'll try to picture what's being said in my mind," Svoboda said. "With a lot of people, once they get into the learning techniques, they say they don't know why it was so hard before. Nine times out of 10, once you get them started on it, they'll exceed your expectations."

MEMBERS OF THE ABE board

include: Svoboda, Mark Ahmann, Dave Ley, Barb Heier, Ftr. Don Cleary, Sara Campbell, Donna Eckhoff, Rev. Gordon Granberg, Georgia Janssen, LeRoy Janssen and Terry Hansen.

Reasons vary, however, why volunteers as well as students get involved. For the volunteers, it's usually because they have a sincere interest in helping others while some want to see that others meet their educational needs. For the students, they enter the program either because they discover that they can't excel in life without at least a high school diploma while others do it because their family would like to see them get their diploma. Still others do it for personal reasons.

Marie Skokan, a retired Wayne-Carroll Schools teacher, said she became involved years ago because it's important for everyone to have a chance to learn.

"When you look at some of the people we work with, they are the future of our country," she said. "It's quite a bit different than working with students in the grade

High school students' poll finds 83 percent oppose lid

WAYNE - Wayne High School students had a chance to take the classroom on the road this past week when a government class assignment resulted in the collection of 1,331 signatures from people voicing their viewpoint on Measure 405.

The results, which were tabulated Thursday, were a little bit shocking to government teacher John Murtaugh.

THE RESULTS OF the unscientific, random survey showed that 1,102 eligible voters (83 percent) were against the lid while 111 (8 percent) were in favor of it. Nine percent, or 120 eligible voters, were undecided.

Murtaugh emphasized that the polling procedures were anything but scientific. He said a substantial number of people approached declined to voice a position on the issue. In addition, students did the best they could to avoid duplication of signatures.

"Right when school started I felt at some point we would take a poll on this issue," he said. "We made a concerted effort to make sure there were no repeat respondents.

FOR THE ASSIGNMENT, each student was required to gather a minimum of 20 signatures. Students were responsible for conducting a public opinion survey regarding Measure 405 (the 2 percent lid). Samples consisted of Wayne residents who are eligible to vote. Students were instructed not to try in any way to convince people to vote for or against the amendment.

"It worked well because it's such a controversial issue," Murtaugh said. "It worked well for the students because most people have an opinion on this issue."

Did the students enjoy the assignment?

"They seemed to enjoy it," he said. "They normally don't do things like this in a public school situation. It's an activity that really caught their interest. They learned that school can be fun."

Eagles down Orchard in district final

Allen state bound after win

The Allen Eagles volleyball team are state bound following a three set victory over Orchard Thursday night in Randolph for the district championship. Gary Troth's squad fell 17-15 in the first set rebounded to win the next two by scores of 15-13, 15-8.

"Orchard played very inspired and enthused volleyball," Troth said. "They really felt they could win the match despite their record which they still ended up going 11-8 for the year."

Allen led their foe 14-7 in the first game only to be defeated 17-15. "They had a server who rattled off eight in a row," Troth said. "She really did a good job and it cost us the first game."

But like many times already this season Troth's troops did not give in and thus were rewarded with their first trip to state since 1984. Christy Philbrick did a spectacular job for the Lady Eagles from the service line as she finished the match with a perfect 18-18 performance that included four aces.

"In the second game Christy really got us to where we needed to be," Troth said. "I brought her in for Wendy Boyle when it was Wendy's time to serve and she just did a great job of keeping us on top during the final two games."

Denise Boyle also did a superb job from the service line with a 13-

14 outing and four aces. As a team the Allen Eagles served just 85 percent which is below the 90 percent mark that Troth would like to see his squad connect on. "We were leading pretty handily in the third game," Troth said. "When we got to 14 points we missed four consecutive serves which brought our percentages down."

Carla Stapleton—the Allen setter throughout the year rose to the occasion against Orchard by connecting on 65-67 set attempts and recording 30 set assists.

Cindy Chase was the leading spiker for the Lady Eagles making good on 33 of 37 attempts with 14 kill spikes. Denise Boyle was 18-23 with nine kill spikes and Wendy Boyle was 8-11 with three kills.

Wendy Boyle was also the leading blocker for the Eagles with two. "I thought Carla really did a nice job of running the show for us," Troth said. "Our game plan was to keep everything in the middle and she did a great job of accomplishing that for us."

At press time it was not known what seed or who the Lady Eagles would be playing at the state tournament which begins Friday. It is known that the first match for Allen will be played at Lincoln East High School. The first match will be played at one of the following four times, 9:30 a.m., 10:50 a.m., 12:10 p.m. or 1:30 p.m.

Allen FFA competing in National Dairy Contest

The Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapter at Allen High School will compete at the 63rd National FFA Convention in the National Dairy Contest on Thursday, Nov. 8 in Kansas City, Mo.

The Allen chapter won the right to compete in the national contest after winning the state dairy contest.

"The National FFA Dairy Contest is an excellent opportunity for participants to see how they rank nationwide in judging, oral reasons, pedigree evaluation and dairy management," said Carol Duval, national FFA program manager for contests.

MEMBERS of the Allen FFA dairy team are Kelly Boswell, Paul Brentlinger and Renee Plueger, and team alternate is Brent Benstead.

The team is coached by Thomas Wilmes.

The dairy contest enables students to put the skills they've learned in their high school agriculture classes to use in a practical manner.

Participants will not only judge six classes of four animals each, they will give oral reasons on two classes, evaluate pedigrees, do a linear evaluation and make a sire selection.

The National Dairy Contest is sponsored by The Associated Milk Producers, Inc. and Babson Bros. Co./SURGE as a special project of the National FFA Foundation.

FFA is a national organization of 397,115 students in 7,705 local chapters preparing for agricultural careers.

FFA activities and award programs complement instruction in agricultural education by giving students practical experience in the application of agricultural skills and knowledge gained in classes.

his employees by stating that for the money they donate to United Way, he will match it with $5, which will be placed on the top of a "pole" for Gary VanMeter, co-chairman of the business drive, to retrieve.

Correction

Due to a reporter's error in Thursday's Wayne Herald, two mistakes appeared in the city council meeting article.

The first mistake dealt with a vote for an eight year payback for businesses undercharged on their electrical rates. The councilman who voted against extending the payback time to eight years was Darrel Heier. Councilwoman Jane O'Leary voted against the $500 down payment.

Also, Sandra Gathje's name was misspelled Gatheche. The correct spelling is Gathje.

Restful Knights is

RESTFUL KNIGHT employees like Julie Smith, above, are now rewarded for decreasing manufacturing costs.

How can a manufacturing company DECREASE their manufacturing costs, while INCREASING their employee's pay? Restful Knights has recently developed a new program designed to do just that! The program is called S.U.R.E., an acronym for Success Using Resources Effectively.

The resources the SURE program addresses are MATERIALS, MACHINES, and HUMAN RESOURCES. The program was implemented Oct. 1, 1990.

ACCORDING to Rob Stuber, director of the program, too often companies establish an incentive program that only rewards decreases in labor costs.

"This can actually encourage poor quality and increase material costs," said Stuber, adding, "In a 'piecework' system, for example, the employee gets paid for each piece with little regard for increasing quality or decreasing material waste.

"When material and overhead account for 90% of the cost of the product manufactured, this concept makes no sense in our situation. Our SURE program encourages decreasing the overall cost of the product and rewards the employees on a graduated schedule up to 50% of the savings."

THE SURE program consists of:
A STEERING COMMITTEE of 12 people chosen from a cross-section of employees. This committee meets monthly to work on ideas for strengthening the overall SURE program.

This Steering Committee is broken down into TWO SMALLER COMMITTEES. One committee deals with Materials and Machinery issues (M & M Committee) and the other deals with Human Resource issues (H & R Committee).

SURE DEPARTMENT MEETINGS. Each manufacturing department meets weekly to discuss any problems experienced and to brainstorm any new ideas for improvement. Each department meeting also has a safety topic.

A SUGGESTION PROGRAM. This is to be used for any ideas that for some reason are not brought up at a SURE department meeting.

A GAINSHARING PLAN. This plan measures improvements in the use of the company's manufacturing resources, and rewards all persons under the plan for those improvements with monetary bonuses.

"THE SURE program is a formal attempt to allow Restful Knights employees additional control in the management of our plant, cost of our products, and employee compensation. It focuses on people and the machines and materials they interact with. It includes systems for ideas and imaginations to grow into real actions.

"With all the ideas, opinions, confidence, teamwork, and open minds, this program WILL succeed," Stuber said.

Disagrees with views

I am outraged by the complete stupidity shown in the Wayne Herald's Viewpoint in the Opinion section in the Oct. 25 issue. The article I am speaking of dealt with political races in the upcoming general election on Nov. 6. The logic used in supporting Kay Orr for governor and Hal Daub for U.S. Senator was not only childish, but dangerous in a society where so many uninformed voters already exist.

Let's begin with the U.S. Senatorial race. I will attempt to take a second look at Sen. J. James Exon's record as the World Herald suggests as well as that of Hal Daub. The Wayne Herald points to the fact that Daub supports "limited congressional terms" and that he has "backed this position by serving only eight years in the House of Representatives."

Fact number one: Hal Daub left the House not because he thought eight years in Congress was enough, but because he wanted to advance his career into the Senate by campaigning for the position in 1988 and again his year.

Fact number two: When you add a possible two Senate terms for Daub along with eight years in the House you get $(2 \times 6) + 8 = 20$. Pretty neat arithmetic, huh? Guess what else. Twenty is greater than 18 (the number of years Exon would have served in the Senate if re-elected).

Fact number three (which the Wayne Herald neglected to mention): Sen. Exon is chairman of congressional subcommittees that are important to our state, such as Transportation, and is a member of important committees like the Budget committee. His power is such that in 1985 he prevented the Senate from railroading through a Farm Bill that would have hurt Nebraska by using his clout to shut down the Senate until changes were made. If Daub is elected he will most likely receive some rather unimportant committee assignments since he is a member of the minority party in the Senate. Too bad for Nebraskans, huh?

The facts speak for themselves in this race. If you want to try to use the argument about PAC contributions Mark Crist and the Wayne Herald, then why did you support Bereuter over Hall in the House of Reps. first district race when Hall said he would return a $24,000 raise to the U.S. Treasury if elected while Bereuter had no comment? (Obviously he would rather pocket the money.)

Your logic in picking Kay Orr in the Governor's race also borders on the absurd and you neglect to focus on the issues important to Nebraska. Since when does the number of campaign stops in one small town make one candidate better than the other?

I acknowledge the fact that Ben Nelson has changed his position on different issues during the campaign. But the Wayne Herald makes it sound as though it were a sin claiming he "U-turned" and claims his promises seem "empty and valueless." Let's get one thing clear. As governor for four years Kay Orr's main duty has been legislative. She has a staff of experts researching information for her. Ben Nelson hasn't had this luxury. It would be my hope that anyone entering politics would have an open mind and be willing to change their ideas and thinking on different issues as they come across new information. As far as Ben Nelson's tax records go, they are none of your business Kay Orr, Mark Crist and the rest of Nebraska. Candidates file financial information to the state which makes sure everything is on the up and up. If Ben Nelson cheated on his tax returns the IRS will take care of it. Gov. Orr's accusations about Nelson's business practices is about like me suggesting the only reason for her five visits to Wayne was because some individual or group of individuals from Wayne contributed large sums of money to her campaign. It's unfair, unjustified and childish. Enough's enough. Orr should quit trying to beat a dead horse and talk about the issues.

How about nuclear waste? Gov. Orr promised not to build the waste dump site without community consent. Then she turned around and dumped on the community. Now that Lowell Fisher went on a hunger strike, which lasted 30 days, the Governor has been too embarrassed and ashamed to talk about it. Too bad for Mr. Fisher and Boyd County, huh?

What about the candidates' positions? Ben Nelson backs education by supporting LB 1059. Kay Orr doesn't. Nelson favors a state lottery (not the video lottery joke on the ballot which gives hardly any money to the state) to help fund education. Orr doesn't and she claims gambling sets a bad example for our children. Yet I haven't heard her condemn the horse racing tracks in our state. It seems to me that these are also forms of gambling. The Governor's novel stand doesn't seem so novel anymore. Ben Nelson supports an Environmental Quality Fund to be used for waste recycling, asbestos abatement and repair of leaky underground tanks. He would re-establish the Water Management Board to deal with long-term water issues. Kay Orr's been too busy talking about Ben Nelson to even talk about the environment. I have yet to hear Kay Orr mention the word recycling during her campaign.

The next time the Wayne Herald wants to endorse political candidates maybe they will put some mature thought and effort into their editorial. Maybe you would like to take your foot out of your mouth and try again Mark Crist. You couldn't do any worse. Instead of trying to manipulate readers into voting for your candidates you could act like a mature editor and present the real facts. If you think I'm just a wee bit upset about your editorial, then you are right!

Apology to board

We would like to express our apology to the St. Mary's School Board of Education for any assumptions that may have been made in accordance to the petition. We never intended any one from St. Mary's to show whether they were for or against the facility being located at 514 E. 6th St or any where else.

Our intentions were only to state that in the area involved were several day care homes, a school and several businesses. Our major concern was for the children's welfare in the area.

When we attended the city council meeting last Tuesday we wanted to inform the public of the many questions and concerns that had arisen in our neighborhood.

Again our apology to the St. Mary's School Board of Education.

Scary situation

A 1990 USDA survey showed Nebraska ranks second in farm exports. This is a very good reason for taking care of our land and water.

Listed are some reasons that I am afraid of what the Boyd County situation could develop. Among them are four reasons that have come to my attention recently.

1. There are only a few states designated to receive mixed waste along with radio active waste. Bob Bernero of the NRC recommended that the states must identify the few LLRW dumps that will accept mixed waste for all.

2. Ed Helmski spoke at the low-level radioactive waste forum held in Florida early this summer. He remarked "with volume reduction of low-level waste only three sites, maybe only one site, will be needed." He summarized the situation by saying "that it looks like the governors of the dump states need to start talking in order to reduce the number of LLRW dumps."

3. The General Accounting Office stated that the Department of Defense need to work with other federal agencies, compacts and states to determine the feasibility of dedicating a portion of one or more disposal sites for the government's use.

4. Jerry Scoville who recently resigned as president of US Ecology, said "he wouldn't invest in a mixed-waste facility, he would use a thermal treatment (incineration). The new president of US Ecology is Bill Pracher.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The Winside Stop Inn hosted a Winside Scholarship Foundation members meeting last Monday with 16 members present. Chairman Ron Leapley conducted the meeting.

To date, $2,670 has been received from donations to the foundation. The purpose of the foundation is to provide aid for current or post graduates of Winside High School who wish to continue their education.

Members reviewed and discussed a proposed constitution for the foundation. It was decided to set the tenure of foundation officers at two years and committee chairman at one year. Two foundation members will be elected at large to serve on the executive committee along with elected officers and standing committee chairpersons.

The fund solicitation and publicity committee members will host a dance Saturday, Dec. 1 in the village auditorium with music by Art Schmidt and His Rhythm Swingers from 7:30-11:30 p.m. Admission will be $5 per couple and $3 per single. All area residents are asked to bring sandwiches or bars for a community cooperative lunch. Proceeds made from the dance will be used to cover printing, postage and other foundation expenses. The complete group will meet again last November to finish the proposed constitution.

The Library Card

This column is written twice a month to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at Wayne Public Library.

*Public libraries support a democratic form of government through public access to information and knowledge. Materials found in libraries provide challenge, perspective, comfort, assistance, opportunity, relief, and the access to information, to knowledge, to change. Libraries are learning institutions.

They provide an individual with the resources necessary to understand the past, cope with the present, and plan for the future. They nourish the mind, stimulate the spirit, and provide a means of escape from the shackles of ignorance. If libraries did not exist they would have to be invented, for a democratic form of government without access to information necessary for decision making is unthinkable.
