

Opposition begins to show

Channel One addressed

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

After flooring some questions from the public about the Whittle Channel One TV network, Wayne Community Schools Supt. Dr. Francis Haun reported that contact talks with Whittle Communications are proceeding.

Despite negotiations with Whittle Communications, there is no guarantee that the Channel One network will be pumped into the Wayne Community Schools, Haun said.

Channel One is a 12-minute TV news program geared for high school and middle school aged students. It has come under controversy in several states because of its 2 minutes of commercials to the 10 minutes of news and in some states it has been banned outright. The news programming offered by Channel One offers a students' perspective of what's happening in the world.

The reason it might not make it to Wayne is because Whittle Communications has limited the number of schools in Nebraska it will be bringing its programming into.

BUT A LETTER OF opposition has been sent to the Wayne School Board in opposition of the Channel One TV network. According to Jo Taylor, head of the Humanities Division at Wayne State, a letter signed by 15 individuals has been sent, which expresses four primary concerns of the proposed network.

Dr. Haun said at Tuesday's meeting that the board had not received the letter.

Taylor said the four reasons for opposition to the programming are:

- Channel One TV is a passive medium which does not encourage reading skills vital to functioning in today's world.
- Coverage of current events on the program are superficial.
- Teachers have no way of controlling possible slanted coverage.
- Students are required by law to be in school, so they're being required to watch commercials which are overpowering to the importance of the TV news.

CHANNEL ONE, however, was not the only item which resulted in discussion at Tuesday's meeting.

The board also reviewed a questionnaire from the Nebraska School Activities Association which solicited the board's opinion on whether or not they felt that school boards should be represented at the Nebraska School Activities Association Delegate Assembly.

According to the questionnaire response, the board would support efforts to have a district representative on the NSAA.

IN OTHER MATTERS, the Wayne School Board:

- Reviewed reports about the recent Nebraska State School Boards Association convention. Topics included middle school reorganization, public relations, business management, crisis management, ethical behavior of school boards and superintendents and implications of LB259, the law passed this year which requires all Class I schools to be affiliated with a high school.

- Looked at an in-depth review under the leadership of board member Cap Peterson of insurance coverage which the district presently has on vehicles, buildings, contents, workmen's compensation and liability. Findings in the report showed that premiums are up $3,495.

- Made note of the Chamber of Commerce coffee at the elementary school Jan. 11 at 10 a.m.

- Approved final reading of a revised version of the equal access policy.

- Appointed Cap Peterson as delegate from the board to the NSBA delegate assembly Jan. 13-14.

- Reviewed but took no action on a proposed consortium of Class III school districts.

- Updated board policy on option enrollment.

- Approved a proposed letter to be sent to all Class I school board members adjoining the Wayne school district for the purpose of inviting dialogue concerning the possibility of future affiliation of school districts.

- Designated State National Bank as the depository for school district funds for the 1990-91 school year.

- Learned that Dr. Ken Liska, chairman of the extra duty committee, that the committee will meet sometime after the first of the year.

WAYNE'S NEW MAYOR, Bob Carhart, gets sworn in at Tuesday's meeting.

NEWLY ELECTED COUNCILMEMBERS (at right) Patty Wieland and Pat Prather are sworn in by Clerk Magistrate Pearla Benjamin as City Clerk Carol Brummond holds the bible.

Meeting marks change of the guard

Former mayor bids farewell

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

With the departure of two city council members and the former Mayor Wayne Marsh, Wayne is losing 45 years of experience on its city council.

But with the passing of those collective years comes some new leadership.

The Wayne City Council retired Wayne Marsh, Larry Johnson and Carolyn Filter Tuesday night as Bob Carhart was sworn in as the new mayor and Patty Wieland and Pat Prather were sworn in as new council members.

AS CARHART'S first duty as mayor, he paid tribute to Marsh, Johnson and Filter for their collective 45 years of public service.

"It's certainly a pleasure for me to be able to present this award for past services," Carhart said. "To former Mayor Marsh and council members Larry Johnson and Carolyn Filter."

Marsh, who had been Wayne's mayor for 12 years, opted not to run for a fourth term. Johnson was defeated by Carhart in the mayoral race and Prather edged out Filter in the bid for councilperson of the second ward. Wieland won her bid against Gary VanMeter in the race for councilperson of the fourth ward.

"I first would like to thank each council member, the city clerk, the city administrator and all the employees of the City of Wayne," Marsh said in his tearful farewell address. "I guess that's all I have to say."

MARSH'S ADDRESS was given a standing ovation by the council and others in attendance.

In a separate council matter, the council voted by closed ballot for Darrel Heier to assume the duties as president of the council. Heier was selected over councilman Ralph Barclay.

On the sole agenda item of the evening, the council tabled until its next meeting approval of angle parking at three locations in Wayne.

The vote to table the measure came following opposition shown by Barclay when the request for an ordinance to create angle parking on the south side of the Medicap pharmacy, located north of the Wayne Post Office.

County officials honored by association

WAYNE - Wayne County Treasurer Leon Meyer and Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen were each honored last week while attending the Nebraska County Officials Association State Convention in Omaha.

Meyer was presented with the Outstanding State Treasurer award and Janssen was given the Presidential Award from the Nebraska Association of County Officials.

In Meyer's case, every county treasurer votes on their choice for a county treasurer of the year while Janssen's award was selected by nomination from the County Sheriff's Association and the president of the Nebraska County Officials Association.

BOTH MEYER and Janssen were humble about their awards.

"It surprised me a little because we have a number of good treasurers in Nebraska," Meyer said. "The lady who won it last year said then that she thought I deserved it, so I thought this might be my year."

LeRoy Janssen

"It makes you feel good that county officials have that much confidence in you," he added.

JANSSEN SAID he was honored to receive the award.

"Part of the business of being a county official is that you be involved," he said. "I think that's the way everybody should perform in county government and I think that's probably why I was given the award."

In Wayne County, Janssen has been county sheriff eight years while Meyer has been Wayne County treasurer for 20 years.

ESU 1 studying facilities

By LaVon Anderson
Assistant Editor

Educational Service Unit One (ESU 1) may be looking to secure a new facility or facilities to house the unit's two Wayne programs — the Wayne Children's Development Center, a program for severe and profound youngsters located east of Wayne in a building leased from Region IV, and the Wayne Learning Center, a behaviorally impaired program located in a building owned by ESU 1 on the east edge of Wayne.

During a meeting Tuesday night in Wakefield, board members unanimously approved a motion to have the building and grounds committee, comprised of Marvin Borg, Randy Hummel and Bev Novak, explore all avenues to secure more area for the programs, whether it be building a new facility or leasing.

Working with the committee is ESU 1 board member Marion Arneson of Wayne.

THE APPROVAL to investigate new facilities for the two Wayne programs came following a preliminary report presented Tuesday night by committee members. Borg told board members that the committee visited both of the Wayne programs last week.

"It is apparent that we have to

Making Christmas merrier

SIXTY-ONE YOUNGSTERS RECEIVED clothing certificates this Christmas season from $2,500 contributed by the M. E. Way Memorial Fund. Santa and Mrs. Claus were present to visit with youngsters Monday during distribution of the certificates at the Wayne Senior Center. Pictured visiting with the Clauses are Marcie and Mandi Reeg and Shane Dohmen. The M. E. Way Memorial Fund was established by Mary Elizabeth Way in her estate and for the past 10 years has been used for youngsters of Wayne at Christmas-time. Youngsters visiting the center Monday also received mittens supplied from the City of Wayne Employees Mitten Tree. Shoes also were donated by Wayne County Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8212.

Wayne OES chapter elects new officers

Election of officers was held during a meeting Dec. 10 of Wayne Chapter 194 Order of the Eastern Star (OES) at the Masonic Temple.

New officers for 1991 are Marilyn Carhart, worthy matron; Robert Carhart, worthy patron; Nancy Fuelberth, associate matron; Darrel Fuelberth, associate patron; Bette Ream, secretary; Mary Lea Lage, treasurer; Shirley Fletcher, conductress; and Sharon Paige, associate conductress.

Open installation of officers will take place on Jan. 14 at 7:30 p.m. with Beverly Sturm serving as refreshment chairman.

It was announced that Linda Teach has been appointed to serve in the Grand Chapter as District Grand Supervisor for 1991.

CHRISTMAS greetings were received from Worthy Grand Matron Bonnie Evans, Worthy Grand Patron Lester Webb, and Grand Secretary Shirley Frink, all officers of Grand Chapter of Nebraska OES.

Greetings also were read from children of the Masonic-Eastern Star Home for Children in Fremont, Elsa Noakes of Seattle, Wash., Janice Beckner of Lebanon, S. D., and Cub Scout Den 3 and Den Leader Frank Teach.

Boys of Den 3 also sang Christmas carols for the group prior to the meeting.

A CHICKEN a la king dinner, open to the public, is tentatively scheduled for Feb. 7, 1991 at the Masonic Temple.

Members of the Wayne chapter who enjoy singing are invited to take part in a choir during the Triennial Assembly of General Grand Chapter OES to be held Nov. 2-8, 1991 in St. Louis, Mo.

DONNA Liska, worthy matron, Orval Brandstetter, worthy patron, and Lynn Kramer, conductress, presented a program with the theme "Keeping Christ in Christmas."

The letters in Christ and lighted candles were used to tell the Christmas story, and Donna Liska narrated the closing poem, entitled "Love is Borne."

Prudence Thiel was chairman of the refreshment committee.

Christmas plates of fruit and cookies were filled to deliver to 50-year members and shut-ins.

Reception for graduate

Lisa Nelson, daughter of Gordon and Dorothy Nelson of Wayne, will be among graduates of Southeast Community College-Lincoln campus during ceremonies on Wednesday, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Activities Center.

Lisa, a 1987 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School, will receive an associate of applied science degree in marketing management. A reception in her honor will be held at 3512 R St., in Lincoln, following the graduation exercises.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend a reception honoring Lisa's graduation on Saturday, Dec. 22 from 2 to 4 p.m. at 408 Douglas St. in Wayne.

Hospice coordinator BPW guest

Wanda Kucera, coordinator of the Community Care Hospice Group, headquartered in Wayne, was guest speaker during a meeting Dec. 1 of the Wayne Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW).

Kucera, who was introduced by Mary Tiegs, said the Community Care Hospice Group provides support services to persons with terminal illnesses and their families within an area covering 17 communities.

Kucera told the group that 56 trained volunteers provide services in the areas of practical, emotional and spiritual support. The services are provided at absolutely no cost or obligation.

FOUR MEMBERS attended the December dinner meeting and program at the Black Knight. President Jociell Bull called the meeting to order and led in the reciting of the club collect.

District III BPW Director Irene Ladd sent her evaluation of the Wayne BPW Club and gave it an excellent rating. Ladd complimented the group on its enthusiasm despite having a small membership.

Members were encouraged to continue selling chances on a colored television. Proceeds will be used for scholarships to deserving students to attend Wayne State College.

Roberta Welte, legislative chairman, reported on a woman in Boston, Mass. who spent only $600 on her campaign, compared to her opponent's $25,000. The office she won was county register of probates.

Plans were made to purchase a Christmas gift for a resident of Wayne Care Centre.

THE NEXT regular meeting of the Wayne BPW will be Jan. 22 at noon at Geno's Steakhouse. Deb Gross will present the program and guests are welcome.

The couple plans a Dec. 30 wedding and will make their home in Anderson, Ind.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Ron and Karen Elsberry of Wayne and the granddaughter of Ralph and Maxine Peterson of Wayne.

Her fiancé is the son of David and Mary Lou Stevens of Delphi, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa visit at PAL Christmas party

The People Are Loved (PAL) Group met for a Christmas party on Dec. 6 at the First United Methodist Church with 55 attending.

Hostesses were Margaret Ritze, Deb Daum and Jill Snyder, with Deb Daum serving as greeter and handing out name tags. Margaret Ritze was mistress of ceremonies and welcomed the group.

Five booths were set up for Christmas games. Working in the booths were Kim Johnson, Kim Denklau, Missa Johnson, Sue Hord, Laura Bauermeister and Jill Snyder.

Receiving door prizes were Jeremy Reeg, Cliff Brown, Kami McCall and Laurene Dalrymple. Karen Marshall won the contest for guessing the number of M & M's in a jar.

THE GROUP sang carols around the Christmas tree with Jill Snyder leading and Regina Von Seggren accompanying at the piano.

Honored with the birthday song were Heath Corbit, Kris Bundy and Eric Boeckenhauer.

The evening also included a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus and refreshments served by the hostesses.

The next PAL meeting will be a Valentine party in February.

THE PAL organization is solely funded by contributions from individuals and/or organizations.

PAL provides a structured social evening for persons with disabilities and volunteers who come to a meeting to be a "pal" to an individual with a handicap.

Persons wishing additional information about the group are asked to call Deb Garwood, 375-3129; Emily Haase, 375-2243; Kay Cattle, 375-4073; Jeanette Geiger, 375-2179; Lynette Carmichael, 375-4040; or Sue Denklau.

WSC library receives good marks

WAYNE - The Government Documents Department at Wayne State College's U.S. Conn Library has received a very favorable report from the Government Printing Office for its 1990 inspection, according to Joanne Bock, Government Documents librarian.

In a report by the Government Printing Office, Government Documents received an "excellent" rating in the human resources category and "good" ratings in collection development, public service, cooperative efforts and bibliographic control.

"This is an avenue of federal and quasi-public information that would not otherwise be available in the area other than Omaha," says Bock. "It is of invaluable importance to the college as well as businesses and individuals throughout northeast Nebraska."

Wayne State College has been a depository for government documents since 1970. There are less than 1,400 depositories in the United States that public, college and university, and other governmental libraries.

tally outgrown both areas and that we have moved them to death," said Borg, adding that both programs started out rather small and are now "bursting at the seams."

Borg said the situation is especially critical in the severe and profound program.

"I WAS shocked," said committee member Hummel, pointing out to board members that ESU 1 is presently serving 13 children in the severe and profound program in a room measuring 20 feet by 36 feet.

"There is hardly room to get around to effectively work with these children. They need more room," stressed Hummel.

Rodney Garwood, ESU 1 administrator, explained that the building for the severe and profound program is leased from Region IV and used by ESU 1 during the day to work with the youngsters. At night, the building serves as a residential area for youngsters residing in the facility.

"Region IV is just responsible for the residential care," said Garwood, "and that is no problem." Garwood said the problem is with the six or seven students who reside at home and travel to the facility just during the day.

"The fact is," said Garwood, "we can't continue that program in the facility we have."

ARNESON ALSO addressed the board Tuesday night and echoed previous statements regarding space problems in the severe and profound program.

Health important to driving

Editor's Note: This message is provided by the Criminal Justice programs of Wayne State College and Northeast Community College. Information has been taken from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and other sources.

As we begin to get older, the physiological changes in our bodies affect our ability to drive safely. But just because you are getting over 40 years old does not mean you are an unsafe driver. Older drivers do have more accidents per miles driven, and have higher serious injury rates. Older drivers are more likely to have accidents such as failing to yield right of way, turning and stop sign problems and more accidents from inattention.

But older drivers can drive safely for many years if they are in good physical condition and driver responsibly. In fact, older drivers usually experience fewer accidents than young drivers. This safety record is partly due to driving fewer miles as we get older; but part of the safety is due to the maturity and judgement of the middle-age and older drivers. But no matter how wise you are, your body changes make adjusting how you drive a good way to be a better driver.

For instance, our reflexes slow down as we age. So, as you age, you should increase your following distance to the car ahead of you. Spend less time looking away from the road, and concentrate more on traffic. Drive a little slower to give you more reaction time (but within the safe driving speeds). Drive less congested routes.

Hearing losses common to aging may mean you should limit other noises such as the radio. Those drivers with hearing aids should avoid driving with the window down since wind noise may blank out the other sounds.

Arthritis sufferers should drive vehicles which are easier to maneuver, with power steering and power brakes and automatic transmissions. Good seat cushions, frequent stretch breaks and shorter driving days may make trips longer, but safer and more enjoyable.

Perhaps the biggest problem with driving as we get older is the aging of our vision. Older drivers may need larger mirrors for better peripheral vision, with no glare glass if possible. Clean windshields, mirrors and headlights help you see. Large instrument panel markings and turning up the panel illumination will help.

Since night vision problems particularly increase with age, learn to look at the lower right side of the road instead of looking at oncoming headlights. Drive with no interior light distractions, and always keep the windshield clean. Check wiper blades frequently, keep the washer full and use it particularly when dust, bugs or evening shadows make seeing more difficult.

An older driver can be a better driver, if the maturity also included changing how you drive to match the changes your body is experiencing. And no matter how old you are, buckle up! Seat belts save lives, but only if you put them on.

"That definitely is our first priority," said Arneson, "however there are also problems at the Wayne Learning Center."

Arneson pointed out that the Wayne Learning Center was purchased by ESU 1 with the idea of housing two to four clients. Since then, Arneson said the clientele has more than doubled to nine.

"With everything I'm hearing, I believe we should expedite this as soon as possible," said Board Chairman Ken Lahrs.

"We're not out to build any dynasty or empire," said Garwood, "We just need more space."

Borg told the board that the committee has looked at several buildings in Wayne. "They just aren't ideal locations," said Borg, adding that the committee will continue to study the problem and make a recommendation to the board.

BOARD members Tuesday night unanimously approved a contract with Betty Heier of Wayne to serve as unit one's inservice/staff development director.

Heier, who has taught at Wakefield Community Schools for approximately 15 years, will begin her new job with ESU 1 on Jan. 3.

Her contract calls for an annual salary of $32,000 to be pro-rated for the remainder of the 1990-91 year.

The inservice/staff development director is a newly created position of ESU 1 and received approval by the board last March.

Dr. Robert Schlimgen was offered the position in June but resigned after less than two months on the job to accept a position as dean of continuing education at North Iowa Area Community College in Mason City.

As the new inservice/staff development director, Heier will be in charge of visiting area schools and assisting them in establishing and prioritizing needs to help them plan local staff development activities.

In addition, she will be responsible for developing a repertoire of staff inservice activities that would be delivered at area schools, and developing and cultivating a date base of potential speakers and resource people.

IN OTHER business Tuesday night, ESU 1 board members:

—Approved a motion to purchase an SE 30 computer and laser printer for use in the coop program and to transfer $5,000 from the coop fund to the general fund to subsidize salaries paid in conjunction with the coop program;

—Unanimously agreed to accept the 1989-90 audit report prepared by Schleisman, White and Associates of Omaha. Garwood said ESU 1 had a good year financially and that revenues exceeded expenditures;

—Unanimously agreed to enter into a lobbying contract with June Remington to represent the Nebraska Educational Service Unit Boards Association. Garwood said ESU 1's share of the contract will be approximately $1,000;

—Unanimously agreed to enter into a one-year contract with Educational Service Unit 17, headquartered in Ainsworth, to administer the statewide coop purchasing program. The contract was developed and approved by a coop committee of which ESU 1 board member John Post is a member;

—Unanimously agreed on a recommendation by Garwood to bill schools served by ESU 1 only one-half of the base cost for 1990-91 nursing contracts;

—Voted unanimously to offer a contract to Connie Kueny to serve as school nurse at South Sioux City Public School. Garwood said her salary will be determined upon appropriate placement on the salary schedule;

—Voted unanimously to offer a contract to Robert Geist of Wayne to serve as a teacher at the Wayne Learning Center.

FOLLOWING Tuesday night's board meeting, Chairman Lahrs presented plaques to retiring board members Claire Hansen of Coleridge and Jim Martindale of Creighton.

Hansen has served as a member of the ESU 1 board for the past 16 years. Martindale is completing his fifth year as an ESU 1 board member.

The plaques were in recognition and appreciation for their years of service to children and schools of ESU 1.

Nebraska Beef Board selected in Nov. 6 vote

Nebraska Beef Board has received the official results on the November 6, 1990 election for the Nebraska Beef Board of Directors.

James H. Applegate, Jr., Sutherland, NE was re-elected to represent District 2 over Lindy Whips, Max, NE.

Larry Schaffer, O'Neill, NE won the election in District 4 against John McFadden, Taylor, NE. District 6 re-elected Darrel

Saltzman, Shickley, NE, who was running unopposed.

There will be an organizational meeting held in January 1991. The time and date of this meeting will be announced at a later date.

FOLLOWING INITIAL approval for the ordinance on a 7-1 vote, Barclay said he was upset that the parking on second street, in front of the new Medicap pharmacy building, formerly known as Griess Rexall, was constructed without council approval.

He said when council gave approval for the $40,000 gift to relocate Griess Rexall from its current location on Main Street next to the First National Omaha service center, a number of constituents were upset by the move. He said that, combined with the construction of angle parking without prior approval, made it so he couldn't vote in favor of the ordinance.

Barclay's 'no' vote and his reasons for casting it, apparently persuaded the council when it voted 5-3 in favor of tabling the issue until their next meeting. Voting with Barclay on the second vote was Sheryl Lindau, Wieland, Heier and Prather.

Had council given approval to the measure, it would have resulted in approval of angle parking on the east and west sides of the Wayne County Courthouse, which already exists and angle parking on second street by Medicap pharmacy.

Residential parking restrictions way too strapping for Wayne

For years, widespread parking restrictions throughout Wayne have created a ridiculous situation and it's something the Wayne City Council should give strong consideration to changing.

In many residential areas, the parking restriction is "no parking, midnight to 5 a.m." and throughout much of the business area, the parking restriction is from 3 a.m. to 5:30 a.m.

While enforcing parking restrictions throughout the business district has its merits — since Main Street also serves as an active highway through the city — the parking restrictions in the residential areas are too severe.

Parking restrictions in residential areas have "no parking this side" on one side of the street and "no parking, midnight to 5 a.m." on the other. Because of this, residents with guests have trouble finding parking and in some cases, the residents themselves have trouble. In a town where there is a great need for parking, limiting space is ridiculous.

An alternative to this is to maintain the "no parking this side" restrictions while opening up to 24 hour parking the "no parking, midnight to 5 a.m." To assist city crews when snowfall creates the need for clear roads, designated snow routes should be established where parking restrictions can be enforced in the event of a weather emergency.

Despite having narrow roads in Wayne, there is enough room for parking without unreasonable restrictions. Not only would lifting these restrictions meet the demand for additional parking, but it would alleviate unnecessary, additional work for the police and the county courts.

Support waiving for gulf policy; is war the avenue to pursue?

As reports continue to come in about American troops being sent to Saudi Arabia, it's high time that the government reconsider its stance on the situation.

Following a meeting last week at Wayne State College, there is a consensus that the U.S. role in the gulf has changed and that consensus includes criticism of a foreign policy which dictates a call to arms.

As more and more troops are being called up to fight against this so-called "naked aggression", as President Bush has called it, many at Wayne State and Wayne area residents are being affected by this situation.

Reports last week about Iraq's decision to release all its hostages was interpreted by President Bush as a clearing of the way for military response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait. That's an inappropriate way to look at the situation at hand and any criticism Bush receives over his administration's remarks are well merited. Since we have not even given the embargo time to work, it's absurd to assume that we're just going to jump into war.

One way to show our distaste for this situation is to write letters to congressmen and even the president. They deserve to hear our viewpoints on this matter and it's past time they get the message. Addresses for congressional representatives are included elsewhere on this page.

If this is the "kinder and gentler nation" President Bush said would be his administration's goal, it raises questions if this is the avenue we want to see our country pursue. Not only can we not afford another Vietnam, we can't stand for it.

Family: husband Brad; two sons — Chase, age 3; Justin, 5 months.

What aspects of your job do you enjoy the most: Working with the people of northeast Nebraska — they don't come any nicer.

What job or occupation are you sure you would not like? Why: I couldn't work in a candy store or donut shop — I'd eat up all the profits.

What recently made you laugh out loud: Hearing my own voice on an answering machine.

What would you like to accomplish if you were governor of Nebraska or president of the United States: Run a positive and upbeat campaign for governor; and resolve the middle east crisis without war, as president.

What's your favorite hobby? Why: Spending time with my two sons — all other hobbies are on hold for now.

What is the most unusual or daring activity you would try ... if you had the courage or nerve: I'd love to ride a thoroughbred race horse in the triple crown races (and win).

Briefly explain your ideal vacation: A warm and sunny place with sandy beaches and clear blue waters, surrounded by family and friends (but no telephones or TVs).

What do you remember most about being 10-years-old: Going to the store with my Mom to buy one pair of shoes to last the whole school year.

How would your friends describe you to strangers: I hope they would say I'm optimistic and I genuinely care about others.

Legislation approved by the House of Representatives in the last days of the 101st Congress will provide loan guarantees and technical assistance needed to expand U.S. trade into Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary. The conference report on the bill making appropriations for foreign operations and export financing was approved on Saturday, Oct. 27. That bill, which provides funds for the Export-Import Bank, the European Development Bank, various Eastern European Assistance Programs, and the International Student Exchange Program, is, in real dollar terms, 40 percent below the amount appropriated in 1981.

The Export-Import Bank's tied-aid funds are extraordinarily important to helping our businessmen be competitive. It is necessary to have these funds to fight fire with fire as long as we face tied-aid fund competition with foreign competitors for export markets.

I am also pleased to see that the United States is delivering, within the foreign assistance funds available, on the U.S. commitment to fund the so-called European Development Bank, and providing funds for the various Eastern European Assistance Programs which are directed especially to nations like Hungary, Poland, and now Czechoslovakia. We now have an important opportunity to expand trade into the newly democratized countries.

HEALTH CARE ISSUES WILL TOP CONGRESSIONAL AGENDA

Health care issues will be at the top of the agenda for the 102nd Congress. Long-term care, care for uninsured Americans, and the increasing costs of health care are issues that will have to be addressed by the next Congress.

Health care costs continue to escalate more than 20 percent each year and we need to address the problems faced by the more than 31 million Americans who lack health insurance coverage. As health care costs increase and the

NEBRASKA TIME LINE

By the Nebraska State Historical Society

This Dec. 29 marks the 100th anniversary of the Wounded Knee Massacre. On that winter day a century ago, more than 300 people died on Wounded Knee Creek in South Dakota, a result of events surrounding the Ghost Dance religion. This new creed was adopted by some Native Americans, who waited for the Second Coming of Christ and the return of all their ancestors. On that happy day the white population would disappear, they believed, enabling the Indians to return to their old ways of life.

At the Pine Ridge Reservation, an inexperienced agent mistakenly feared that the Ghost Dance was a prelude to war; he called on the U.S. Army for protection. Hundreds of soldiers began an occupation of the Sioux reservations on Nov. 20, 1890.

Among the Ghost Dance believers was Big Foot and his band of Sioux from the Cheyenne River Reservation. Big Foot's band was about to report to its agent, as ordered, when a rumor circulated that the men would be taken to a far-away prison. The group decided it would be safer to join its friends at Pine Ridge, and slipped away from army patrols. Captured and taken to a camp on Wounded Knee Creek, the Indians were told they must surrender their weapons. Colonel James Forsyth backed up his demand with 400 troops. Some guns were reluctantly given up, but the Sioux did not trust the army; the memory of past battles was still fresh. One Indian refused to surrender his rifle, and when soldiers tried to discharge him, it discharged. Almost immediately a general fusillade exploded, as Indians and soldiers fired point blank at one another.

The Sioux men were soon overwhelmed, and the army turned on the fleeing women and children, and a few men who survived the initial fight. Many sought refuge in a nearby ravine, but died there in the "Bloody Pocket" when the army turned its field cannon on this temporary haven.

By mid-day, when the killing had stopped, hundreds lay dead. Twenty-five soldiers were killed. The exact number of Indian fatalities will never be known, since many dead and wounded were removed by their kinsmen. Later, a burial detail went to the massacre site and interred Big Foot and 145 of his followers in a mass grave. Ironically, they were buried where the army cannon had been positioned on the day of the holocaust.

In 1903 the Indian survivors erected a monument at the site.

costs of health insurance increase, this problem grows more and more critical.

Congress also will have to focus on long-term nursing home care, and home and community based care. Increased life expectancies coupled with the aging of the baby boom generation will expand the need for long-term care services in the future. Given that all Americans will be affected by these demographic changes, long-term care is a concern not only of the elderly and disabled, but of Americans whose relatives need, or may require in the future, long-term care services.

There are no easy solution. There is increasing frustration among employers, consumers, the uninsured, the payers and the providers. The system faces competing demands to contain costs, improve productivity, increase equality and expand access. Changes in the American health care system are likely to be incremental rather than radical.

It's not a good situation and I don't like it. War is hell. I've been in one and I don't want to see others in one. I understand that we need to subdue the tyrants of power but I hope talks can get it resolved.

I think what we're doing is necessary and I support our policy in the Persian Gulf region. I think we need to stop the kind of aggression that occurred in Kuwait because the precedence of it threatens the security of the world.

Dean Pierson

I think President Bush is doing what he can but I hope he remains patient. I wish Congress would quit tearing this thing apart and giving Saddam Hussein a reason not to resolve it. I think if everybody would lay low for a while this thing would work itself out.

I have mixed emotions. I don't like aggression but I don't feel the U.S. should be the spearheading nation in the crisis. So far, I support what we're doing so long as we don't become the aggressors.

I feel now that we have our hostages out that we should pull out and let the Arabs handle it. I don't think it's worth a war because there are alternatives we can find to Arab oil.

Thank you

The friends and relatives of the service men and women serving in Saudi Arabia and around the world want to thank the people of the Wayne area for the overwhelming response to our tree of bows at the Fantasy Forest.

By Sunday, the tree have been completely covered by about 200 bows with many names, pictures, flags and stars. You made the tree special and beautiful.

The tree would not have been possible without the enthusiastic help and support of some very special people. We thank you! Also, a big thank you to the groups, businesses and all who gave bows: the City of Wayne; KTCH; The Morning Shopper; and Wayne Greenhouse. We also appreciate the honor of having our tree chosen Organization Favorite.

Again, thanks!

Devils claim invite

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne Blue Devil wrestling team captured their second Invitational-in as many weeks Saturday by winning the West Point Invitational. Wayne edged David City Aquinas 174 1/2-164. O'Neill finished third with 155 points while West Point Central Catholic finished fourth with 94. Neligh placed fifth with 83 1/2 points while West Point placed sixth with 66. Fort Calhoun placed seventh with 55 1/2 and Plainview placed eighth with 26 points.

"I thought we wrestled well in every round except one," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "In the wrestlebacks we struggled a little bit but the kids came back strong in the final round which allowed us to win the tournament."

For the second consecutive week the Blue Devils had five champions. Wayne medaled nine grapplers out of the 13 who participated with five of the seven qualifying for the finals, winning. In one of the tournament's biggest matches defending state champion at 189 lbs., Jason Ehrhardt of Wayne went up against the defending state runner-up at 160 lbs., in Thad Fox of O'Neill.

The match was a good one and went overtime before Fox upset Ehrhardt 3-2. Those who brought home gold medals included Brent Gamble at 119 lbs., who won by a 4-2 decision over Ryan Meier of West Point Central Catholic. Mike DeNaeyer was champion at 130 lbs. as he won 12-1 in the finals over Jeff Seier of Neligh.

Chris Janke was crowned champion of the 145 lb. category after pinning West Point's Kevin Landholm in the finals. Meanwhile, Cory Wieseler won the 160 lb. category by decisioning Chad Larson of O'Neill 8-7. Matt Bruggeman was the fifth Blue Devil to be crowned champion as he pinned Ed Schaaf of O'Neill in the finals. Schaaf had earlier won by pin over Dave Fiala of David City Aquinas which was considered an upset.

"Individually I felt Chris Janke, Matt Bruggeman, and Mike DeNaeyer were dominant," Murtaugh said. "It was also good to see Cory Wieseler come through and win the tournament at 160 lbs. Finally, I was probably the most pleased with the performances of Jason Fink and Brent Gamble."

For Brent Gamble and Cory Wieseler it was their first tournament win ever. Fink was awarded the fastest pin award as he disposed of his second round opponent in 13 seconds.

103—Todd Fredrickson—DNP—Won 11-2, Lost by Pin, Lost by Pin. 112—Randy Johnson—DNP—Lost by Pin, Won by Pin, Lost 7-4.

119—Brent Gamble—First Place—Won by Pin, Won by Pin, Won 4-2 over Ryan Meier of West Point Central Catholic.

125—Matt Rise—DNP—Won 13-8, Lost by Pin, Lost by Pin.

130—Mike DeNaeyer—First Place—Won by Technical Fall, Won 8-0, Won 12-1 over Jeff Seier of Neligh.

135—Trevor Wehrer—3rd Place—Won 4-0, Lost 10-5, Won 10-6, Won by Pin over Ryan Furstenau of Neligh.

140—Jason Fink—2nd Place—Won by Pin, Won by Pin, Lost 8-0 to Dan Morbach of David City Aquinas.

145—Chris Janke—First Place—Bye, Won by Pin, Won by Pin over Kevin Landholm of West Point.

152—Jesse Brodersen—DNP—Won by Pin, Lost 11-1, Lost 10-9 in overtime.

160—Cory Wieseler—First Place—Bye, Won 5-3, Won 8-7 over Chad Larson of O'Neill.

171—Dave Hewitt—4th Place—Won by Pin, Lost 16-2, Won 12-6, Lost 9-7 to Nick Sila of West Point.

189—Jason Ehrhardt—2nd Place—Won by Pin, Won by Pin, Lost 3-2 in overtime to Thad Fox of O'Neill. HWT—Matt Bruggeman—First Place—Bye, Won by Pin, Won by Pin over Ed Schaaf of O'Neill.

The Blue Devils will host the Wayne Invitational this Saturday in Wayne State's Rec Center. Wrestling will take place on three different mats and action is expected to get underway between 10 a.m.

Incidentally, the Wayne junior varsity team traveled to take part in the Stanton Invitational held Saturday with Dwaine Junck coming home the lone medal winner as he captured top honors at 171 lbs.

Jason Wehrer at 103 lbs., lost 7-1 and then won by pin. In his final match he was pinned. At 125 lbs., Terry Rutenbeck failed to place as he lost by pin and then won by pin. He lost by pin in his last match.

Jason Shultheis wrestled twice in his 130 lb. category and he was pinned in both matches. At 140 lbs., Brian Gamble failed to place as he lost 12-5 before winning by pin. In his last match he lost 6-3 in overtime.

Dwaine Junck received a first round bye before winning by pin in the second round. In the finals he won by pin over Chad Camenzind of Valley. "It was a great win for Dwaine," Murtaugh said. "This should help his confidence. I was hoping the reserves could bring home more than one medal but the main thing is that they got a chance to wrestle."

WSC trails by three with 32 seconds left to NCC school

Cats lose by 10 to NDSU

The Wayne State men fell to North Dakota State of the North Central Conference Tuesday night in Rice Auditorium, 75-65. The final margin of victory for the visitors was 10 points but the Wildcats trailed by just three points with 32 seconds remaining following a Ricky Watson 3-pointer which closed the gap to 68-65.

North Dakota State hit seven of eight free throws in the waning seconds of the game when the Wildcats were forced to foul to get the ball back. Watson had a phenomenal game for the Wildcats hitting seven of nine field goals including three of four from three point range.

Wayne State led 23-20 with 8:30 left in the first half before North Dakota State went on a 12 point run to lead by nine. The visitors maintained a 41-28 lead at the break.

Early in the second half the Wildcats trailed 45-31 before they went on a run of their own scoring 10 straight to close the gap to 45-41. The closest Wayne State got from their was 68-65 with 32 seconds remaining.

Watson led all Wildcat scorers with 19 points while Doug Kuszak and Casey Gates finished with 12 apiece. Michael Parks finished with nine points and Chad West chipped in six. Todd Dusenberry and Gerry Sagehorn rounded out the attack with five and two points respectively.

North Dakota State held a slim margin advantage on the boards at 42-40. Kuszak led the Wildcats in rebounding with eight caroms to his credit. Parks finished with seven and Gates six.

It was a well played game on both sides of the ball as WSC turned it over 16 times and NDSU, 14. Both teams had three blocked shots and NDSU recorded nine steals compared to eight by the Wildcats led by Parks who had three.

The Wildcats will close out their first semester schedule against Northwest Missouri State in Maryville, Missouri this Saturday.

Allen girls win first game

Allen girls head coach Lori Koester watched as her squad earned their first victory of the young season Tuesday night in the friendly confines of the Allen gym as they defeated Hartington, 50-48.

"The game ended up being close but we felt we were in control pretty much all the way," Koester said. "We didn't do too well at the free throw line in the fourth quarter hitting just 5 of 15 attempts which helped Hartington get back into the game."

Hartington actually led Allen 9-7 after one quarter but the Lady Eagles out scored Hartington 16-7 in the second quarter to take a 23-16 lead into intermission.

The visitors out scored Allen 32-27 in the second half to account for the two point margin. "I felt our defense made the difference in the game," Koester said. "We forced them into 39 turnovers."

Denise Boyle had a fine game for Allen as she connected on seven of 12 field goal attempts and finished with 16 points. The junior also pulled down 10 rebounds for Allen which was also a team high.

Heather Sachau had a major impact on the outcome as she poured in 15 points while Cindy Chase netted 12. Robin Schroeder finished with four points while Carla Stapleton and Sonya Plueger rounded out the Eagle attack with two and one points respectively.

The Eagles maintained a slim advantage on the boards at 30-29 with Boyle leading the way. Chase and Plueger did their share of board work as well with each hauling down six rebounds.

Allen was 16-35 from the free throw line while Hartington was 6-16. The Eagles were 17-49 from the field while Hartington was 21-43. Allen basically won the game at the free throw line where they out scored their opponent's by 10.

Wayne falls to S. Sioux

The Wayne Blue Devils evened their season record at 1-1 Saturday night as they fell to South Sioux by 20 points, 77-57. The game, played in Sioux City saw the Cardinals take an early lead and the catch-up minded Blue Devils could never take the lead.

South Sioux led 18-8 after the first quarter and increased their lead to 17 by halftime at 40-23. The Cardinals out scored Wayne 19-14 in the third period to lead by 22 heading into the final eight minute period.

"I really feel that this was a good learning experience for our young kids," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "We didn't have a good week of practice and we played exactly how we practiced."

Wayne did not execute their offense as well as Uhing would have liked. "We made some mistakes with South Sioux's press but basically we just weren't mentally ready to play," Uhing said. "You can see how mentally intense we were by looking at our free throws where we hit just 12 of 23."

Although 10 different players scored for the Blue Devils only Craig Sharpe and Brian Lentz were in double figures with 16 and 10 points respectively. Jeff Griesch and Kyle Dahl each had six while Bobby Barnes had five. Brad Uhing and Aaron Wilson had four each and Regg Carnes had three. Martin Rump and John Murphy rounded out the attack with two and one point respectively.

Wayne was 21-53 from the field and 12-23 from the charity stripe while South Sioux was 23-47 from the floor including seven three point field goals. The Cardinals were 10-14 from the free throw line.

Wayne was out rebounded 41-36 and the Blue Devils committed 21 turnovers compared to just 17 for South Sioux.

Winside finishes second

Class D wrestling power Winside took part in the North Bend Invitational Saturday and the Wildcats were just one of two Class D teams in the field as it was a predominantly Class B and C oriented meet.

Still, Paul Sok's Wildcats managed to place in the runner-up spot with 168 1/2 points. David City won the meet with 184 1/2 points in more or less a two team race. Wisner-Pilger placed third with 108 while Columbus Lakeview finished fourth with 83. Wahoo finished in the fifth spot with 75 and Murray Conestoga placed sixth with 67. North Bend Central, Class D's Weeping Water, Milford and Fremont's Jayvees rounded out the field in order of finish.

"We ended up doing a little bit better than I had originally projected," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "We got some nice performances from a couple of wrestlers who maybe went farther than what was projected."

Winside finished the day with four champions and three runner-ups but the feature match of the day didn't come until the final match of the tournament as returning Class C state heavyweight champion Scott Stara from David City took on defending Class D state heavyweight champion Brian Thompson of Winside.

Those that managed to stay for this match were not disappointed as it lived up to its billing. The two had wrestled last year in a match that saw Stara pin Thompson in just 65 seconds.

Wayne downs Schuyler

The Wayne boys basketball team traveled to Schuyler Tuesday night and Bob Uhing's troops pulled out a big win as the 2-1 Blue Devils won 63-60 over previously undefeated Schuyler.

"We were pretty much in control the whole game," Uhing said. "I was pleased with our performance because we did a good job of pressuring the ball."

The Warriors came into the ball game 4-0 with a highly potent offense which consisted of basically running and gunning but Wayne shut down the two biggest guns of Schuyler in 6-6 junior Jeremy Kildaire and senior point guard Jeff Gall.

Both players entered the contest with nearly 20 point averages and were held to seven and 12 points respectively by a pressuring Blue Devil defense. "Our half court defense did a nice job," Uhing said. "We did a good job of doubling up Kildaire once he got the ball and I think we got a little frustrated."

Wayne led 12-9 after one

This year however it looked as if Thompson would emerge as the victor as he led 4-3 with just 19 seconds remaining in the match. Then Stara got an escape point to send the match into overtime.

Neither champ budged in the first overtime period but with less than 10 seconds remaining in the second overtime period Stara got an escape and a takedown to take a 7-4 lead into the third period of the overtime. Neither scored in the third period which allowed Stara to escape unscathed.

"It was a good match," Sok said. "Brian was close to winning the thing in regulation but gave up the escape to send it to overtime. But I'm not disappointed because he took a two time state finalist and brought him down twice and almost a third."

112 pounder Marc Janssen captured the gold medal in his weight class by pinning Columbus Lakeview's Nathan Troser in the finals. "Marc beat a quality wrestler in the finals," Sok said. "He's really improving his technique even though we both know that he has a ways to go."

At 119 lbs., Chad Carlson decided Mike Sorwenson of Weeping Water 4-1 for the Wildcats second gold medal of the day. "Chad wrestled pretty controlled in the finals," Sok said. "The kid he beat finished sixth at state last year in Class B."

Wildcat 152 pounder Jeff Gallop captured his first ever tournament gold medal Saturday as the senior grappler decided Cory Daro of David City, 4-2 in the finals. "Jeff did a nice job of staying in control," Sok said. "He made very few mistakes and it's nice to see him get his first win in a tournament as tough as that one."

Winside's fourth champion of the day was 189 pounder Jason Krueger who pinned his way through to remain undefeated on the year. Krueger stuck Rob Gobble of Wahoo in the finals.

Winside had nine total medalists on the day as Kerry Jaeger at 160 lbs., and Doug Heinemann at 130 lbs., each finished in the runner-up slots. Heinemann fell to Greg Lance of David City by a 2-0 margin. "Doug really had to wrestle a tough kid from David City," Sok said. "He wrestled a lot sharper Saturday as a whole." Jaeger lost for the first time this year but in all fairness to the 160 pound senior, he fell to the defending state champion in Class C in Murray Conestoga's Marcus Colgrove.

Also placing for the Wildcats was Shane Frahm who finished third at 145 lbs. and Jason Magwire who finished fourth at 140 lbs. "We still have a ways to go and by participating in the Wayne Invitational this Saturday it will show us what we really need to work on in January to get ready for February," Sok said.

The Winside reserves will travel to Osmond for the Osmond Invitational also to be held this Saturday.

quarter of play and the Blue Devils built a nine point lead at the intermission at 31-22. Wayne led by as many as 14 points in the third quarter before leading by nine heading into the final eight minute period, 47-38.

With less than three minutes left in regulation Wayne's 10 point lead began disappearing. Eventually the Warriors got to within one before Jeff Griesch stepped up to the free throw line with 27 seconds left and hit both ends of a one-and-one.

Wayne went to the free throw line 11 times in the fourth quarter and hit six. Griesch was 9-12 from the charity stripe for the game. Schuyler had two attempts at tying the game but failed.

"Schuyler had a tough time of running their offense," Uhing said. "They like to run but its tough to run when you do a good job on the boards like we did. We also hurt their offense with our offense."

Four of the five Wayne scorers finished in double figures as Jeff Griesch and Craig Sharpe had 17 apiece. Regg Carnes finished with 12 and Kyle Dahl added 11. Brian Lentz finished with six points.

Carnes and Lentz led the rebounding stats with seven and six each. Wayne and Schuyler each had 28 rebounds. Wayne had 13 turnovers and Schuyler had 10 in a well played game.

The Wayne reserves fell 69-51 despite 11 points from John Murphy. In last Saturday's game with South Sioux Wayne's jayvees fell 70-33. Matt Ley led the way with 11.

Wayne will travel to Wisner Friday night in their fourth consecutive road game before returning home Saturday to play O'Neill. "These two games will be key for us," Uhing said. "We have to be ready to play both games and traditionally we haven't played well on Saturdays. O'Neill is coming undefeated and Wisner is always tough."

Wayne State rolls up big numbers in dual victories

The Wayne State Wildcats defeated South Dakota Tech in the friendly confines of Rice Auditorium Saturday night, 109-96 as seven Wildcat players reached double figures in scoring led by freshman Michael Parks who finished with 29 points.

It seemed like the only area the Papillion freshman had trouble with was in free throw shooting where he was just 3-9. Parks drained all four of his three point field goal attempts and he was 11-12 from the field for the game.

Ricky Watson and Doug Kuszak followed in the scoring column with 14 points apiece while point guard Todd Dusenberry netted 13. Dusenberry incidentally, established a new Wayne State record in assists as he dished out 15. The old record of 13 was set by Vincent White in 1986.

Freshman Chad West poured in 11 points while Eric Priebe and Casey Gates scored 10 points each. Gerry Sagehorn rounded out the Wildcat attack with eight points.

"We scored a lot of points in the two games with Chadron State on Friday and South Dakota Tech on Saturday," Wildcat mentor Mike Brewen said. "But that's not necessarily our style. Both of these teams forced us into that type of game where we race up and down the court. They both pressed us full court and once we broke the press it was one or two passes and the shot was up."

Brewen said that the Wildcats like to get the ball to the middle of the floor on the press so they have a lot of options of what they can do next. Wayne State also led the battle of the boards in Saturday's contest 45-40 as Casey Gates hauled down a team high of eleven.

Parks was in double figures in rebounding as well with 10 caroms to his credit. WSC dished out 25 assists compared to just eight by South Dakota Tech.

"The thing that was gratifying to me in each of the games on Friday and Saturday was that our bench did a nice job of scoring," Brewen said. "Friday against Chadron State we got 40 points from our bench players while Saturday we got 35."

Wayne State led the visitors by 11 at the intermission, 51-40 and then scored 58 points in the second half. The 58 points is the most in a half by a Wildcat team so far this season.

One of the pleasant surprises for Wildcat fans was the presence of Chad West who was not expected to play because of an illness. "Chad tried to sneak into practice on Wednesday and we had to tell him to sit out," Brewen said. "But Friday and Saturday he seemed to be fine and he played well."

Wayne State shot phenomenally well from the field connecting on 64.7 percent of their shots on 44-68. They were also 8-15 from three point range as Parks connected on four while Kuszak hit for two. Dusenberry and West each had one three pointer to account for the eight.

TODD DUSENBERRY HANGS in the air during WSC's game with South Dakota Tech Saturday night. The junior point guard broke the WSC assist record with 15.

Allen falls to Ponca

The Allen Eagles boys basketball team fell to 1-2 on the season last Friday night losing to Ponca in Ponca, 65-62. The Eagles however, are seven points from a perfect 3-0 record losing to Coleridge by four in a game the Eagles felt they should have won, and losing to the Indians by three.

Ponca led 16-13 at the end of the first quarter but Allen trimmed that lead to just one at the break, 34-33. Allen came out ice cold in the third quarter as they hit just 2 of 15 shot attempts allowing Ponca to enjoy a 13-6 scoring spree to take an eight point lead into the fourth quarter.

Once again the Eagles rallied but the comeback attempt fell three points short. Allen out scored Ponca 23-18 in the final eight minutes. "Shane Dahl really got hot in the fourth quarter," Allen head coach Jeff Schoning said. "I felt the third quarter was the definite turning point and it wasn't that we were doing anything wrong it's just that our shots weren't falling."

Allen shot just 37 percent from the field and Schoning said that's the first time in the young season his squad hasn't been over the 40 percent success rate in shooting the ball.

Dahl led Allen in scoring with 21 points while Jody Martinson poured in 17. Chris Sachau was the third Allen player in double figures with 12 while Jason Reuter netted four. Brad Greenough scored three points and Curtis Oswald and Kevin Crossgrove scored two each. Paul Brentlinger scored one point to round out the attack.

WSG women lose at Morningside, 100-73

Wayne State women's basketball head coach Mike Barry was not overly pleased with his team's performance at home last Friday against Chadron State. The Wildcats fell 77-73 to the Lady Eagles but WSC had many opportunities to win the game but did not capitalize on those opportunities.

Saturday night the Wildcats traveled to Sioux City to play Morningside in a make-up game from Nov. 27 that was postponed due to snow. Barry's troops once again suffered a sub-par night as they fell 100-73.

"I really think it's a combination of playing five games in nine days with a young club and just not being mentally into the game," Barry said. "Right now we just have to regroup and be ready for the games coming up."

Barry said the bottom line of Friday night's game was poor shooting while Saturday night a lack of execution eventually took its toll. "It was a 12 point game at one point in the second half against Morningside," Barry said. "We had three chances to get the lead under 10 points but we threw it away on one occasion, and we missed free throws on another."

WSC trailed by just 11 at the intermission at 37-26 but the host team scored 63 second half points compared to 47 by the Wildcats. Jodi Otjen and Lisa Schwab led the Wildcats in scoring with 14 points apiece while Mary Schnitzler added 13. Lisa Chamberlin poured in 10.

Point guard Dana Olmsted netted nine points and Kairi Backer added eight. Rounding out the scoring for Wayne State was Kerri VanVeldhuizen and Cyndi Savage with four and three respectively.

Barry's squad was out rebounded 44-40 despite a 15 rebound performance by Jodi Otjen. The Cats turned the ball over 22 times in the contest compared to 19 by Morningside.

Wayne State will host South Dakota University Wednesday night at 7 p.m. before hosting Briar Cliff Friday night and Mankato State Saturday night. The Saturday night contest is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Bellevue man wins contest

WAYNE-Ken Thomas of Bellevue won the Wayne Herald Football Contest last week as he missed just one game. Runner-up honors went to Pender's Andy McQuistan who missed just two games. Thomas lost his only game when the Los Angeles Rams fell to New Orleans. McQuistan also missed that game but he missed on the Atlanta/Phoenix game as well.

Trojans win twice

The Wakefield girls basketball team played games at Wausa Friday night and then against Homer in Wakefield on Saturday afternoon in a make-up game. First year head coach Gregg Cruickshank got his first win as a head coach on Friday night at Wausa and then doubled his success Saturday as the Trojans earned the sweep. Monday however, the Trojans traveled to play Emerson-Hubbard and were handed a 69-43 setback which evened the season record at 2-2.

At Wausa the Lady Trojans won 41-27 as Cruickshank's team played some solid defense the whole way. "Wausa grabbed an 8-7 lead after one quarter of play but then we out scored them 22-3 in the next 14 minutes to lead 29-11," Cruickshank said. "Then they made a run to close the gap to 35-27 before we spurted again by scoring the game's final six points."

Wausa shut down the Wakefield inside game holding high scoring junior Lisa Blecke to just seven points. Wendy Kratek led the Trojans with 12 points while Kristen Miller poured in 10. Lisa Anderson and Sarah Salmon each scored four points while Angie Peterson and Heidi Mueller netted two each.

"It was real encouraging to see Wendy and Kristen step up in the second half and score for us," Cruickshank said. "We also got a nice night on the boards by Sarah Salmon who hauled down 13 rebounds." Wakefield led the battle of the boards 37-24.

Against Homer on Saturday the Trojans won 36-19 as they raced to a 23-11 halftime lead and never looked back. "Offensively we were sluggish but I think that's because we were still tired from the road trip to Wausa Friday night," Cruickshank said. "Defensively we played very hard and dominated the boards. Our perimeter people did a great job of getting the ball to Lisa Blecke."

Blecke scored more points in the game that what Homer scored as a team with 20. Lisa Anderson and Wendy Kratek each scored four while Sarah Salmon and Kristen Miller each netted three. Angie Peterson rounded out the attack with two. Wakefield out rebounded Homer 36-17 as Salmon led the way with nine caroms to her credit.

The Wakefield junior varsity won 24-13 as Maria Eaton led all scorers with 10. Kali Baker poured in eight.

In Emerson Monday night four Lady Pirates scored in double figures which broke open a seven point halftime advantage to a 21 point lead heading into the fourth quarter.

"The first half I thought we played well," Cruickshank said. "We came out and got up 6-0 but they fought back and out scored us 17-4 to take a seven point lead into the second quarter."

Wakefield clawed their way back into the game by taking a 21-20 lead but Emerson regained the lead and never looked back. Wakefield was out scored 18-4 in the third quarter and 20-15 in the fourth quarter.

"We just plain wore down," Cruickshank said. "I think playing three games in four days just took its toll." Lisa Blecke led Wakefield with 22 points while Kristen Miller tossed in eight. Lisa Anderson scored six and Sarah Salmon netted five. Angie Peterson rounded out the attack with two.

Wakefield will host Hartington this Friday night in a girl/boy double header.

Laurel gals, 3-2

Mike Zimmerman's Laurel Bears raced to a 61-49 victory over Randolph last Friday night then traveled to play Ponca on Monday and got thumped by a 53-37 margin.

The 3-2 Bears were forced into a half court offense against Randolph, which was a first for the run happy Laurel squad. "I thought we did a pretty good job of running a half court offense since it basically was the first time we had to run it this season," Zimmerman said. "We out rebounded Randolph and offensively we got nice balance among our scorers."

Stacy Nixon led the way with 16 points while Sherri Hangman netted 13. Amy Peters and Bree Bebee also finished in double figures with 10 each. Brandi Mathiason, Tina Granquist and Betsy Adkins all scored four apiece.

Laurel led 12-9 after the first quarter and raced to a 34-22 lead at the intermission. In the third quarter the Bears out scored Randolph 14-6 to lead by 20 heading into the fourth quarter.

Against Ponca on Monday the Bears were shut down. "Ponca came into this game thoroughly ready to play us," Zimmerman said. "They had scouted a couple of our games and they came in knowing what they had to do to stop us and they succeeded."

Zimmerman also pointed out the fact that the Bears played their fifth game in 12 days with only two practice days mixed in. Ponca led 12-6 after the first quarter and 29-10 at the half.

Sherri Hangman led the Bears with 13 points while Amy Peters chipped in 10. Stacy Nixon scored five points and Betsy Adkins scored three. Tina Granquist, Bree Bebee and Brandi Mathiason all scored two each.

Laurel will travel to play Plainview this Friday. Incidentally, the Bears junior varsity evened their season record at 2-2 Monday night with a 31-29 win over Ponca.

Winside girls and boys lose to Bancroft

The Winside girls and boys basketball teams traveled to play Bancroft-Rosalie Tuesday night and host team proved to be ungracious hosts as they won both contests.

Paul Giesselmann's Winside girls team fell 44-31 while Randy Geier's boys team was defeated 73-51. In the girls contest Winside just plain suffered a poor night shooting from the field.

"We just couldn't get the ball to fall in the hole," Giesselmann said. "We hit just 14 of 67 shot attempts and were only 3-13 from the free throw line." Bancroft hit 19 of 54 shots and they made all six of their free throw attempts.

Winside was out rebounded 46-39 but Giesselmann attributed that to so many missed shots by the Wildcats and because of Bancroft's height advantage.

"They started two 5-10 girls and three 5-8 girls," Giesselmann said. "I thought we did a good job on the boards because we got 23 offensive rebounds but we couldn't convert the second chance point attempts."

Winside trailed 6-4 after one quarter of play and at halftime the deficit was only four, 20-16. Bancroft maintained just a five point lead heading into the final eight minute period but the Wildcats were out scored 16-8 in the final stanza.

Holly Holdorf led a balanced attack for Winside with eight points. Wendy Rabe finished with seven while Kelly Pichler and Christy Mundil had six each. Kari Pichler rounded out the attack with four.

Holdorf also led the Wildcats in rebounding with 11 caroms to her credit while Rabe had 10 and Mundil, nine. Kelly Pichler finished with four assists.

In the boys contest Winside trailed rated Bancroft 12-9 after the first quarter and that proved to be the closest Randy Geier's squad could come as the Panthers built a 30-18 lead at halftime.

In the second half Bancroft out scored the Wildcats 43-33 to account for the final margin of victory in a 73-51 score. "Bancroft has a fine team," Geier said. "They did a nice job of changing their defenses and we had trouble adjusting to what they went to."

Geier said his team did not do a good job of pinning out on the boards which allowed for Bancroft to score some second chance points. The Wildcats were forced into 21 turnovers which proved costly since the Panthers had just four.

"Offensively I thought our perimeter guys did a nice job of getting the ball into Mark Brugger," Geier said. "He finished with a team leading 21 points and 11 rebounds."

Cory Jensen was also in double figures for Winside with 14 points while Tad Behmer netted five and Jason Paulsen, four. Matt Brogren finished with three points while John Hancock and Jeremy Jenkins each scored two.

Winside will host Coleridge on Friday night in a girl/boy double header.

Seventh and eighth grade boys win

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh and eighth grade boys basketball teams defeated Pierce Saturday with the seventh graders winning 36-28 and the eighth graders winning 42-41 in overtime.

The seventh grade was led by Andy Witkowski who scored 14 points while Mike Imdieke poured in 10. Witkowski was also the catalyst on the boards as he hauled down a team high 12 rebounds.

In the eighth grade game Jason Carr and Ryan Pick led the way with 11 points apiece while Joe Lutt tossed in nine. Pick led the team in rebounding with five caroms to his credit. Both squads evened their record to 2-2 and play West Point Central Catholic on Thursday at the City Auditorium with the first game at 4:30 p.m.

Junior High tourney Saturday

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh and eighth grade girls and boys basketball teams will be in action this Saturday as part of the Wayne Junior High Basketball Tournament.

The seventh grade boys division will consist of games played between Hartington and West Point at 9:30 a.m. at the high school. At the same time will be Wayne and Pierce at the high school. A divider will be used on the basketball floor to play both games at the same time.

The consolation game is set for 1 p.m. with the championship slated for 5 p.m. on Monday. All seventh and eighth grade boys games will be played at the high school.

The eighth grade tournament will match Hartington and West Point at 10:45 a.m. while Wayne plays Pierce in the other bracket at the same time. The consolation game is slated for 2:15 while the championship is set for 7:30 p.m. on Monday.

In girls action the seventh/eighth grade team will play Pierce at 10:45 a.m. in the City Auditorium. The Hartington and West Point game will be played at 9:30 a.m. The consolation game will be played at 1 p.m. at the high school while the championship will be at 6:15 on Monday.

Husker wrestlers to be in Norfolk

WAYNE-The University of Nebraska's wrestling team will dual Clemson University on Jan. 17, 1991 at Norfolk Senior High School according to Nebraska head coach Tim Neumann.

This will be a great opportunity for Northeast Nebraska to observe college wrestling at its best and also be a part of history as this is the first time a University of Nebraska wrestling team has competed off campus in the state of Nebraska. "The Huskers are currently ranked third and Clemson is ranked 16th in the NCAA rankings."

Junior High girls teams split

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh grade girls team fell recently to West Point Guardian Angels, 27-12. Tonya Wortman led the seventh grade attack with six points while Tiffany Luther scored four. Sandi Burbach added two.

In the eighth grade game Wayne came out a 43-39 winner as Jenny Thompson led the way with 11 points. Carrie Fink followed with 10 and Traci O'Borny added eight. Molly Melena scored seven points in the win while Heather Nichols and Amy Ehrhardt rounded out the attack with four and three points respectively.

In last week's eighth grade game against Pierce the Blue Devils came out on top 41-13 after leading 26-1 at halftime. Carrie Fink led the way with 14 points while Jenny Thompson scored 12. Molly Melena and Angie Hudson scored six each while Darci Lubberstedt scored two and Traci O'Borny, one.

Geraldine Mohr

Geraldine Mohr, 79, of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, died Monday, Dec. 10, 1990 at the Madonna Care Center in Lincoln.

Services will be held Thursday, Dec. 13 at 10:30 a.m. at Home for Funerals in Norfolk. Dr. Marvin Koelling will officiate. Visitation was scheduled for 3-9 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 12 at the Home for Funerals in Norfolk.

Geraldine B. Mohr, the daughter of Justin and Anna Cox Richardson, was born Aug. 11, 1911 at Orchard. She attended school at Orchard and graduated from Orchard High School. She then attended Norfolk Beauty College and later was the owner/operator of Gerry's Beauty Shop in Norfolk. She retired in 1962. She was married to Roy Hoskinson and after his death she married John H. Mohr on Aug. 22, 1967 at Wayne. He died on Nov. 22, 1969. She then returned to Norfolk.

Survivors include one step-son, John G. Mohr of Wayne; one step-daughter, Mrs. Allen (Fern) Thorman of West Point; two step-grandchildren; three step-great grandchildren; and two sisters, Gengevie Beck of Wayne and Eva Walmer of Orchard.

She was preceded in death by her parents, two husbands, two half brothers and one sister. Burial will be in the Prospect Hill Cemetery in Norfolk with Home for Funerals in charge of arrangements.

Wayne Evangelical Free Church presenting 'Neon Nightlight'

The Evangelical Free Church in Wayne invites the public to attend the musical, "Nathan and the Neon Nightlight," on Sunday, Dec. 16 at 7 p.m. in Ley Theater on the Wayne State College campus.

"Nathan and the Neon Nightlight" has a message for all ages. The musical talks about secret fears that everyone has and presents the message of Jesus Christ. The message is very old and yet very contemporary.

Members of the cast include Elijah Powell, Cherie Nath, Virg Kardell, John Mayberger, Aaron Kardell, Audrey Kay, Amy Dickinson and Jody Campbell.

Shirck holds organ recital

WAYNE - On Dec. 5, Linda Shirck, daughter of Lloyd and Ione Anderson, presented an organ recital at the University of Nebraska-Omaha Strauss Performing Arts Center.

The recital, played on the 48 rank Casavant organ installed in December 1985, was part of the First Wednesday recital series featuring Omaha area organists. Shirck studied organ with Mr. Anthony Garlick at Wayne State College prior to receiving her BS in music degree from the University of Nebraska-Omaha in 1971.

For the past 16 years, she's been the organist at All Saints Episcopal Church in Omaha. Shirck is a counselor at Millard North High-

Letters To Santa

Dear Santa and Mrs. Santa

Rudolph who lights his nose up and other deer who don't light their nose up, please come in our door because we don't have a fireplace.

I would like a skateboard, a power wheel car with pictures of fire and it goes for real, a pair of roller skates that don't make me fall down, holster with guns and a big gun for hunting with Dad, a sled, and deer and a Rulph like Santa's.

Love,
Luke Grone, age 4

Dear Santa,

I love you. How are your reindeer doing? Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer; does he light up his nose?

I want a little Miss Magic doll, Baby Uh-Oh, make up and a Minnie Mouse brush and comb with a mirror. Also, a Barbie car.

Love,
Tara Grone, age 5

Dear Santa,

My name is Brandon Foote and I am 3-years-old. Mommy and Daddy say I've been pretty good this year. For Christmas this year I would like a big stuffed Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle, Peter Pan video, a gas pump, the Turtle Foot Cruiser, a puzzle and anything else you think I would like. We'll leave you and Rudolph and the other reindeer some cookies and milk.

Brandon Foote

Dear Santa,

My name is Jeremy Foote and I am 7-years-old. I think I've been pretty good this year. This year I would like a big stuffed Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle, turtle figures, Nintendo game, Bart Simpson figures, game-boy, Turtle chair and crafts. We'll leave cookies and milk for you Santa and the reindeer.

Love,
Jeremy Foote

One-act play led by Wilson

WHS team takes second at state

WAYNE - The Wayne High School one-act play team placed second last week at the state championships with 176 points. Finishing in first place was Cozad High School.

The news of the team's second place finish was made even sweeter as WHS senior Ben Wilson was named the best actor in the state in class B competition, according to WHS coach Ted Blenderman.

"He's an outstanding actor," Blenderman said. "He did well at conference and he received some high praise at districts. He really shined at state, though."

From three judges, Wayne's scores were 59, 59 and 58 in their rendition of "Sarat-Sade".

"I thought the competition was close," Blenderman said. "One judge said it was a toss-up and really, it's like judging your favorite TV show. I was pleased with our team's performance."

THE UNKIND CUTS CONTINUE: When the recent compromise on the budget was announced, some members of Congress called it a sell-out to liberal big spenders. They fretted over the decision to allow for less drastic cuts in Social Security and other social programs for the elderly, the sick, and the poor than the administration had originally called for. Shame on them. While no one wants to shirk his or her responsibilities in meeting the needs of the country, the fact is, the older folks in our country have already contributed well beyond the rate expected of this age group in any other industrialized western society. Over the past eight years, Social Security programs were cut back; many people were arbitrarily (and as it turned out, often unnecessarily) removed from benefits rolls; Medicare premiums went up. The fact that Medicare premiums are scheduled to go up again in this new budget plan is bad enough. But to have some members of Congress criticize the fact that the entitlement programs were not more deeply cut into is unconscionable.

Incidentally, I'm told there would have been far more intense cuts in benefits and higher Medicare premiums if it weren't for the fact that we're less than a month away from electing the full House and one third of the Senate. That means next year's budget crunch could be a more painful one unless we remind our elected representatives that any more cutting might best be done closer to where they function!

HOUSING CRISIS: Congressman Edward R. Roybal, Chairperson of the House Select Committee on Aging, warns of increased homelessness of elderly and low income persons because of a potential displacement of hundreds of thousands of persons due to conversions of low-income housing units. Because of mortgage prepayment policies, owners of Federally assisted housing who pay off their mortgages early are permitted under current law to raise their rents immediately to market rates. Most of the people currently living in these low-income housing units will be unable to meet the new rents, and with a decreasing stock of low-income housing nationally, many will not be able to find new homes, and will have to go into shelters or on the streets. As Roybal says: "Given the severe national housing shortage, we (must) ... consider the impact of our policy on preservation of existing low-income units."

MEDICAL NOTE: Be wary of ads for calcium pills purporting to reverse effects of severe osteoporosis. Research is going on to find a way to restore lost bone tissue, but any such medication, even if currently available, would need a doctor's prescription.

By Pat Melerhenry

Much as I like the effect that snow creates for Christmas, I'd vote for the weather we've been experiencing. It makes it so easy to get all the Christmas activities.

I don't have my cards addressed, or the tree up, or the shopping done, but I sure have been enjoying concerts and such.

The Big Farmer and I made it to the Elizabethan dinners on Friday night. The WSC Madrigals do a superb job of creating an old English atmosphere in the north dining room of the student center.

One song they sang was the one our choir struggled with last year: "This little babe so few days old, Is come to rifle Satan's fold, All hell doth at his presence quake, Though he himself for cold do shake, But in this weak unarmed wise, The gates of hell he will surprise."

On Saturday, we were charmed by memories of "A Child's Christmas in Wales", and I added that Gaelic countryside to the list of British Isles to visit. There were no T.V. sets; the children relied on imagination.

As I was doing home Health care visits all weekend, I visited a church between patients. It was totally decorated with greens and bows on the tree. A choir sang some unusual and beautiful carols, and the service centered around the second Advent candle, which speaks of Peace.

I began giving each child a tree ornament for Christmas long ago. This year's were purchased at Krist Kindie Market in Oberammergau.

Oberammergau is the village of the Passion Play. The play was one of the highlights of our trip, probably because we had looked forward to going for so long.

But it is long and the seats are uncomfortable and it is all in German. We had books of translation and there is a long lunch break.

There is live orchestra accompaniment and the music is unbelievable. The acting is very dramatic. We're glad we went.

But if you have an opportunity to see the one in Spearfish, or in the Ozarks, do. And enjoy them. They are very good.

Oberammergau, of course, is also famous for its wood carvings. And for its painted houses. The ever-present window boxes full of flowers are also here. But there are unique and beautiful paintings on the outside walls of its homes and buildings.

When I think of everything I have to do yet, I get a familiar panicky feeling. As usual, it won't all get done. But the music, and the cards, and the thoughtful notes and tokens, help to create the mood. Our card from our two youngest says it best:

"As a child, Christmas was a time of candy and toys, of surprises and parties, it was a magical time of excitement. But as the years have passed by and I have gotten older, I see a more beautiful Christmas, filled with laughter and tears, of giving and receiving, of sharing our dreams together.

That's what life and Christmas are all about - love and family."

Remember that in the hustle and bustle, and make them your priority.

tapes that have been referred as excellent resource material. The sessions offer programs for building better communication skills, which helps to build stronger families. Also, there are session that introduce skills for building assertive yet democratic discipline. You are asked to fill in the form sent in the Eagle at the first of December and return it to the school with you intentions.

Farm Bureau holds convention

Wayne and Dixon County Farm Bureaus were represented at the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation Convention held Dec. 2-5 in Kearney.

Attending the meeting as voting delegates from the Dixon County Farm Bureau were Courtland Roberts, Harold George, Mil Fahrenholz and Ed Fahrenholz.

Representing the Wayne County Farm Bureau as voting delegates were President Don Liedman and board members Julie Claybaugh and Ed Schmale, all of Carroll, along with board member Roxanne Meyer of Randolph.

Other Farm Bureau members attending from Wayne County were Brad Coulter, county manager, John and Marilyn Anderson of Wayne, and Dorrine Liedman, Sherri Schmale and William Claybaugh, all of Carroll.

THE 575 Nebraskans attending the convention banquet on Dec. 3 heard from British farmer and journalist Oliver Walston, who challenged what he called the American myth that the U.S. farmer is the most efficient in the world.

Low-cost producers are also found in Asia, New Zealand, Australia and Latin America, and in 15 years farmers in Eastern Europe could be strong competitors, said Walston, who toured Eastern European farms extensively this summer. Walston added that already farmers in those countries want access to the markets American farmers are supplying.

"There is no chance the European Community will agree to the U.S. position in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, calling for 70 to 90 percent cuts in supports and subsidies," said Walston.

"Most European farmers are small operators and their governments want to keep them in business, in part to prevent their migration to the cities, which are fraught with a variety of social problems."

Walston added that the 30 percent cuts advocated by the European Community are more likely to be agreed on.

CONVENTION participants also heard from Ken Cheatham, executive director for the American Veal Association, which is on the cutting edge of response to the animal rights movement.

Cheatham urged farmers and ranchers to think beyond their own specific commodities and join with other American agricultural producers to counter the well-funded animal rights movement.

"Education of consumers is the key," said Cheatham, "because many do not know which end of a cow gives milk or that a cow must give birth to a calf once a year to produce milk."

Cheatham said farmers should make opportunities for consumers to visit their farms.

IN POLICY sessions, voting delegates expanded Farm Bureau's position on commodity check-offs. They voted in favor of uniformity among the numerous check-offs, in terms of application procedures and term lengths for check-off board members.

The delegates also advocated a limit of 10 years' consecutive service on a commodity board.

The GOLDEN YEARS

A long-running scientific study has turned up a surprising find: Emotional well being in men at age 65 is strongly linked to close relationships in youth with brothers or sisters.

The study began in the 1940s among 240 Harvard students. Members of the group, now numbering 173, are assessed every five years. A close relationship with brothers and sisters at college age was found to be a much better predictor of good emotional health in later years than having a good marriage or career. Those who grew up as only children or who did not have close relationships with a brother or a sister did not do as well as the others in the study.

Mary G., Roebing was 30 when she became the first woman to head a major bank, and she was the first woman to join the board of governors of the American Stock Exchange. She was 79 when she gave up the chairmanship of one of New Jersey's largest banks. But in the six years since then, she hasn't been idle. In a three-day period this year, she was named U.S.O. woman of the year and on successive nights was honored for other community roles. She accepts the honors modestly. "I keep thinking people are confusing me with someone else."

Remember When? 1956 — "The Diary of Anna Frank" won the Pulitzer Prize as best play of the year.

Pharmacy & Your Health

WILL DAVIS SAV-MOR PHARMACY

Salt Tablet Danger

Some individuals use homemade saltwater (saline) in caring for their contact lenses. A letter recently mailed to eye care professionals from the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) indicates that "Homemade saline solutions (salt tablets or capsules dissolved in distilled water) can cause serious eye infections leading to blindness if used improperly." The FDA suggests: 1. Use homemade saline only before or during heat disinfection. 2. Never use homemade saline after heat disinfection. 3. Never use homemade saline with chemical disinfection including hydrogen peroxide. 4. Never use homemade saline as an eye drop or for wetting your lenses. 5. Fresh homemade saline should be prepared each day and discarded after use. The problem is that a small organism (Acanthamoeba) which causes blindness can survive in unpreserved saline.
