

Officials speculate on future

Wayne looking good for 1991

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Despite threats of a nationwide recession, Wayne appears to be on strong ground to battle the problem in 1991.

Expansion involving three area businesses have local officials optimistic about the prospects of the young year.

"We could be looking upwards of 200 new jobs between three businesses," said City Administrator Joe Salitros. "When you look at that, we're looking at a new business 2 1/2 times the size of Heritage Homes. The good news about this growth is that it provides additional payroll and spending within the community."

Heritage Homes is one of the three businesses which looks to be adding to its payroll in 1991. The other two are First National Omaha Service Center and D.V. Industries.

OF THE THREE businesses, Heritage Homes has taken out two new building permits for new office space and plant expansion. First National Omaha Service Center has hired additional personnel to expand operations in January with further plans to hire more people in March. D.V. Industries of Pender, also, announced it was opening a new plant in Wayne, slated for this week.

Salitros said he wouldn't be surprised to see more growth within the community in 1991.

While no new businesses are on the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce's list, Executive Director Colleen Roeber said she wouldn't be surprised to see growth continue but at what rate she is uncertain. She said some of the growth depends upon what happens in the Persian Gulf.

"I think Wayne will continue to grow but at what rate, I'm uncertain," she said. "We're probably going to see a leveling off process before we see more growth."

ACCORDING TO both Salitros and Roeber, the supposed recession probably won't affect Wayne as much as it will the rest of the nation. Salitros said the recession is less likely to hit Wayne as hard because this area is so dependent upon agriculture.

"What's a recession in other parts of the country doesn't mean that's what's going to happen here," Salitros said. "Recessions cycle through different parts of the country in different ways. For instance, maybe the auto industry is being hard hit but that doesn't mean it's going to affect the farming industry."

CONTINUED GROWTH, however, is expected during 1991. Officials said the recent START process has gone a long way to encourage economic growth in the future since it has targeted three specific areas: business retention and expansion, housing and child day care.

"We're not dancing with any prospective new businesses but you always want to be around even if you're not successful the first time," Salitros said. "You may have a nice community with all its promise and not get a business right away but as long as you continue to show interest in the market, you will likely get something in the future."

"You have to consider, too, that this is the first of the year and that's usually not a good time to attract new businesses. This time of year is just not good for businesses to look at expanding," Roeber said.

DESPITE SHORTAGES in the housing market and child care, neither Salitros nor Roeber believed it to be a problem. They both said that if a business wants to locate in Wayne badly enough, that the shortages don't pose a major problem.

"It's not like we're growing in leaps and bounds but I would gather from the START process that the growth we've seen is good," Salitros said. "If we see continued growth like it has been, we might see additional development in some of the areas of concern."

Laurel residents pray for peace

DURING A 24-HOUR VIGIL HELD at the Laurel United Methodist Church Monday and Tuesday, an unidentified resident prays for peace. According to estimates, about 200 people from the community signed up for the vigil, praying for 29 servicemen and women from the area.

Addition helps school deal with growth

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

With continuous rises in enrollment since 1987, 4,800 square feet goes a long way to meet the demand for Wayne Elementary students.

The long-awaited addition to the school was completed Dec. 10, 1990 much to the pleasure of school officials. Included in the six-room addition is a music room, a special education room, a Chapter One room, a third grade room, a speech office and a counseling office.

"At this time, every square footage that's been added is full," said Dave Lutt, elementary school principal. "If it hadn't been for parents and their cooperative approach to the school board, it might not have gone this smoothly."

THE ADDITION features a number of things the older building, built in 1959, didn't. While providing more class space, the extension features cork walls in well-lit hallways, carpeted rooms, sinkspace in the rooms and colorful pastel colors. It is a step above anything the school has seen in the past.

The need for the addition began in 1987 when total enrollment figures at Wayne Elementary registered 274 students. The 1990 census has 327 students enrolled.

Lutt said the school started to transform from two home rooms with approximately 30 students in 1984, to three home rooms with 22 students this year. He said because of the dramatic change, additional space has become ultimately important.

According to Superintendent Dr. Francis Haun, since the addition meets the schools' immediate needs, it will help improve the educational environment.

"Really, at this point we're just praying catch-up," he said. "People perceived a need for it and it's been critical for the past two years. When it comes to adding on, you have to take the costs you can get."

THE COST OF THE addition represents a pretty penny to the school. Figures show that the addition cost taxpayers $63.63 per square foot for a total price tag of $234,290, not including architect's fees. With architect's fees, the project cost over $300,000.

Two represent family on council

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Although Patty Wieland and Ralph Barclay share similar viewpoints of life, they're two separate, distinct individuals.

One similarity they share is that they both serve on the Wayne City Council. Another is that Patty is Ralph's daughter.

That may be where the similarity ends. Barclay, who has served approximately four years on the city council at various times — once by appointment and the other by election — may well represent the reason Wieland sought her bid for the seat.

WIELAND, A freshman councilmember, chose to run for the post because she saw a need for "someone on the council who doesn't work for the college or own a business."

Barclay, who like his daughter has lived in Wayne for 25 years, is the athletic director at Wayne State College.

"I think there's a need for a person from the younger populous. I represent the majority of Wayne: I'm more your common worker or homemaker. Nobody was really represented in this area," she says. "I don't think most people will be intimidated by calling me."

DESPITE THAT some critics may fear the nepotism which exists, Wieland and Barclay both agree that they're different persons.

"Patty's a very independent person and we will occasionally disagree," Barclay says. "I think some of me has rubbed off on her because she really strives to achieve her goals. Unlike Vince Lombardi, my philosophy is that winning isn't everything. I think that has rubbed off on her."

In spite of the fact of their relationship, they have varying viewpoints, but one item the two council members agree on is the need for recycling efforts in Wayne.

Wieland says that there is a definite need to begin recycling projects in the future. In addition to recycling, she places great emphasis on the need for incorporating leisure services into Wayne.

Barclay, who has long been an advocate of recycling, says Wayne must start looking at its future.

DESPITE THE FACT THAT Patty Wieland (seated) is Ralph Barclay's daughter, the two admit that they hold different opinions on items the Wayne City Council might deal with. The father-daughter representation, however, share similar viewpoints of life.

"If we go into recycling, we'll have to find out what the people recycle," Barclay says. "I'm not so much of an activist, but I'm concerned with the ecology. I think we'll see a point in the not-too-distant future where we'll have to recycle everything."

WHILE SURPRISED that his daughter decided to seek a council seat, Barclay said he was proud of her. He said not only does her age provide a new angle to council viewpoints, her willingness to take on issues makes her a valuable asset.

"There are two kinds of people in the world — the doers and the complainers," Barclay says. "Doers, instead of complaining, do something about things they don't like. I hope I've rubbed off on her as a doer rather than a complainer."

Often, you will find Wieland echoing that tone. One numerous occasions she will ask questions of the council on issues she doesn't understand or issues she has difficulty supporting.

"I was just like a lot of people, I'd sit back and grumble and ask a lot of questions, but not do anything about it," Wieland says. "I felt that this way, I might be able to do some good."

Drawing gets underway Fifth annual 'Great Giveaway' begins today

AREA - One of the area's top promotions each year is the Great Wayne Giveaway.

This year's fifth annual Wayne Great Giveaway is no exception as thousands of area residents can become eligible to be grand prize winners of Great Giveaway Bucks.

Grand prize this year is $250 in Great Giveaway Bucks and second prize is $150 in Great Giveaway Bucks. Both prizes are to be spent only at participating merchants.

This week's first installment of ads kicking off 1991's Wayne Great Giveaway are found on the inside of today's Wayne Herald and Marketer. Area residents should scan the advertisements and register at the participating businesses.

THE CONTEST and advertisements run for eight weeks, starting on Jan. 17 and ending on March 7. Each week, during the next eight weeks, drawings will take place Tuesdays at 1:30 p.m. at Hardee's of Wayne. Two winners will be picked each week.

At the end of the eight weeks,

16 people will be eligible for the grand prize drawings. The grand prize drawings will take place on Thursday, March 14 at 5:30 p.m. at The Wayne Herald.

SOME IMPORTANT guidelines to remember include:

• Each week a new drawing will take place, so be sure to register each week at participating merchants.

• Winners of the preliminary Tuesday drawings will be publicized in that Thursday's issue of The Wayne Herald.

• Only "ORIGINAL" registration coupons in the Thursday ads of participating merchants will be considered for the weekly drawings. No copies of the coupons will be allowed.

• Registration slips for a particular business must be entered at that business only. Entry blanks from other businesses will be voided. Deadline for registering will be 10 a.m. each Tuesday. Coupons missing the deadline for a particular week's drawing simply will be included in the next week's drawing.

• Although no purchase is necessary (but encouraged) at participating businesses, all registrants should be age 16 years or older.

• No restrictions exist on how many times you may enter the contest. Area residents wishing to register more than once at an individual participating business may obtain additional issues of The Wayne Herald at any of the regular newsstand dealers: Oberle's Market in Winside, Cash Store in Allen, H. McClain Oil in Carroll, Kratke Oil in Wakefield, Korner Mart in Wakefield and the Wayne business locations of Pac 'N' Save, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, Quality Foods, M&H Apco, Pamida, Casey's, 7-Eleven and The Wayne Herald office.

Participating businesses include: Pac 'N' Save, Fredrickson Oil and Convenience Store, Hardee's of Wayne, ERA Property Exchange, Clarkson Service, Midwest Land, Medicap Pharmacy, Farmers and Merchants Bank, Stoltenberg Partners, Taco Stop, Diers Supply and The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

Brechbill has a degree in pastoral ministries from Grace College of the Bible and has pastored the Westbrook Evangelical Free Church in Omaha for the past 14 years. He is married and has three adult children.

Persons with questions regarding Saturday's prayer breakfast are asked to contact Deb Dickey, 375-2469.

Indiana couple repeat vows in double ring service at Wayne

Making their home in Anderson, Ind. are Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Van Robin Stevens, who were united in marriage on Dec. 30 at the Wayne World Outreach Center.

The bride is the former Ronda Kay Elsberry, daughter of Ronald and Karen Elsberry of Wayne. She was graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1986 and from Indiana Wesleyan University in May 1990 with a BSN in nursing. She is employed as a registered nurse on the surgical floor at St. John's Hospital in Anderson, Ind.

The bridegroom, son of David and Mary Lou Stevens of Delphi, Ind., is a 1984 graduate of Delphi Community High School. He attended Indiana Wesleyan University and Perdu College, and is presently a student at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peterson of Wayne and Mrs. Arlene Elsberry of Orchard, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Hallie Blevins of Williamson, W. V. and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevens of Frankfort, Ind., grandparents of the bridegroom.

Gordon and Daniel Moeller of Lincoln sang "My Treasure" and "I've Never Been Out of His Care," accompanied by Mrs. Roger Fuoss of Wayne.

ON HER wedding day, the bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in long, white satin gown designed with a venise lace wedding band collar on a bodice of sheer illusion with insets of venise lace embellished with translucent sequins and pearls on the front and back.

The satin puffed sleeves were ruffled at the shoulders and elbows with lace extending to bridal points at the wrists.

The full bouffant skirt featured a lace flounce hemline and satin bows and swept into a chapel-length train.

The bride wore a headpiece lavished with dainty white flowers and sprays of pearls and sequins. A satin bow capped the back with a two-tiered-illusion-veil-in-floor-length dotted with tiny flower motifs.

She carried a cascade of white stephanotis, roses, peach carnations and blue forget-me-nots with Baby's breath, sprays of pearls and greenery backed by a lace tulle and long white satin streamers.

THE BRIDE'S attendant wore a peach satin frock in tea length, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and satin shoulder bows.

The princess seamed bodice tapered into a dropped waistline highlighted with a back candy box bow and full skirt. The three-quarter length sleeves were puffed at the shoulders and extended to the mid arm with lace cuffs.

She wore a hair piece of dainty white silk flowers and sprays of pearls, and carried a bouquet of peach and white lilies, roses and blue forget-me-nots with baby's breath and sprays of pearls fashioned with a lace tulle and long white satin streamers.

The men in the wedding party were attired in dark suits with white silk shirts and dark silk ties.

The bride's mother chose a blue silk dress in street length with a corsage of peach lilies, baby's breath and white satin ribbon. The bridegroom's mother selected a peach lace dress, also in street length, and wore a corsage of blue carnations with white satin ribbon.

GORDON and Carole Moeller of Lincoln greeted the guests who attended a reception afterward in the Wayne Woman's Club room. Arranging gifts was Tonya Elsberry.

The wedding cake was baked by Joyce Niemann of Carroll and cut and served by Janice Graft of Atkinson and Alice Meadows of Utica, Ohio. Dawn Moeller of Lincoln poured and Diane Boysen of Laurel served punch.

Assisting with serving were Lois Urwiler of Laurel, who was in charge of the kitchen, and Linda Dodson of Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson

Cummins, Johnson wed in Hartington

Vicki Cummins of Randolph and Earl Johnson of Laurel exchanged marriage vows during a 2 o'clock ceremony on Jan. 5 at the court-house in Hartington.

The bride is the daughter of Darlene Jensen of Randolph and Chuck Cummins of Windsor, Colo.

Parents of the bridegroom are Allan Johnson of Allen and Elsie Johnson of Laurel.

OFFICIATING at the service was Judge Alice Mahood of Hartington.

Vocalists were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wilkerson of Columbus and accompanist was Amy Johnson of Clarkston. Melissa Johnson and Angie Johnson were seated at the guest book.

Maid of honor was Renea Cummins of Loveland, Colo., sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Susan Hansen of Wakefield and Teresea Johnson of Omaha, both sisters of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Rod Flaugh of Hartington. Groomsmen were Emmett Johnson of Laurel, brother of the bridegroom, and Dale Hansen of Wakefield.

Flower girl was Brandy Johnson of Clarkson and ring bearer was Kevin Jensen of Randolph, brother of the bride.

A RECEPTION followed at the VFW Club room in Hartington.

The newlyweds traveled to Orlando, Fla. and are making their home in Laurel.

The bride is employed at Heritage Homes in Wayne. She is a 1985 graduate of Thompson Valley High School in Loveland, Colo.

The bridegroom is a 1985 graduate of Laurel-Concord Public School and a 1986 graduate of the Wyoming Technical Institute. He is employed by Bob Dickey in Laurel.

Support group plans coping sessions

NORFOLK - The Norfolk Support Group for Divorced, Widowed and Separated persons will sponsor a series of coping sessions for people who have lost a spouse through death, divorce or separation.

The six-week series will begin Monday, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. at Grace Lutheran Church, Norfolk. Sessions will address such issues as dealing with being alone, loneliness and stress, discovering and trusting yourself, dealing with an ex-spouse or the memory of a deceased spouse, accepting changes in relationships with others and social activities, and growth through divorce, death or separation.

Trained speakers and facilitators, who have also experienced the loss of a spouse through death or divorce, will present the series on coping. Persons wishing to register for the session or additional information are asked to call Bev Olson, 379-2071, Jerry Janssen, 371-8912 or 371-3087, or Randy Guill, 371-2292.

The group's monthly meeting is scheduled Sunday, Jan. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 105 Elm Ave. There will be a speaker and persons whose names begin with M-Z are asked to bring snacks.

Mary Pat Dolata, Randy Schuster wed at St. Mary's Catholic Church

The marriage of Mary Pat Dolata and Randy Allen Schuster was solemnized in one o'clock rites on Dec. 29 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne with the Rev. Donald Cleary officiating.

The intended co-celebrant, the Rev. Larry Meyer of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Lutheran Center, was unable to attend due to bad weather conditions.

The bride, daughter of Robert and Patricia Dolata of Wayne, is a 1983 graduate of Wayne-Carroll High School and a 1989 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln with a BS in home economics-interior design. She is presently awaiting an internship in interior design.

The bridegroom is the son of Arthur and Sharon Schuster of Pickrell. A 1985 graduate of Beatrice High School and a 1990 graduate of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, he is presently teaching secondary education at Kolb Junior High School in Rialto, Calif.

DECORATIONS for the double ring ceremony included a candelabra with unity candle, a large cream and pink marble poinsettia plant with 12 stems, and a white aisle carpet.

Seated at the guest book was Julie Jasa of Walthill. Wedding programs were distributed by Stephanie Brodine of Lincoln.

Wedding music included "Love is Commitment," a solo by Nic Sieler, and "Let There Be Peace on Earth," sung by the congregation. Organist was Coleen Jeffries.

Robert Dolata and Arthur Schuster, fathers of the bride and bridegroom, lit tapers on each side of the unity candle at the beginning of the ceremony. The bride and groom then lit the wedding candle with the tapers.

HONOR attendants were Kim Grasso of Richmond Heights, Mo. and Brian Schuster of Lincoln, brother of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaid was Krista Manz of Lincoln and groomsmen were Tim Schuster of Pickrell, also a brother of the bridegroom.

Flower girl and ring bearer were Debra Schuster of Pickrell, sister of the bridegroom, and Michael Dolata of Wayne, brother of the bride.

The ring bearer carried an ivory satin pillow covered with a handkerchief of Irish linen and hand crocheted lace. The handkerchief was carried by the bride's mother on her wedding day.

ON THEIR wedding day, the bride and bridegroom were escorted to the altar by their parents.

The bride wore a tea-length dress of ivory lace designed with a princess neckline and puffed sleeves. The dress was accented with sequins, pearls and a large ivory satin bow which fell from the hipline.

Her double length veil fell from a band of satin accented with lace appliques, sequins and pearls. She carried a silk bouquet of Victorian garden flowers and cascades of greenery.

The bridegroom was attired in a black cutaway tuxedo with a black vest and bow tie and an ivory pleated shirt. His boutonniere was ivory with berry accents.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore tea-length dresses with puffed sleeves. The bodices were of iridescent silver, gold and plum brocade and the skirts were hunter green satin with a bow at the back. The bridegroom's attendants wore black cutaway tuxedos with black cummerbunds and bow ties and ivory pleated shirts.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Schuster

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Dolata selected a dress with a three-quarter length jacket in the colors of navy, berry and earth gold. Her silk corsage was of cymbidium orchids in dark blue and berry, accented with iridescent leaves.

The bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece brocade dress in aqua green. Her silk corsage was of teal flowers with mauve accents set against iridescent leaves.

A RECEPTION and dinner followed the ceremony at the Black Knight in Wayne.

The newlyweds will make their home in Rialto, Calif.

Puls anniversary observed at Wakefield Senior Center

Friends and relatives helped Donald and Roberta Puls of Wakefield observe their 40th wedding anniversary during an open house reception held Jan. 13 at the Wakefield Senior Center.

They were married Jan. 12, 1951 in South Sioux City. The couple farmed near Pender for eight years and have resided at Wakefield for 32 years. Donald ran a custom shelling operation and worked for the local co-op.

The couple's children, who hosted Sunday's reception, are Robert and Patti Puls of Wayne, Richard and Brenda Puls of Wakefield, Calvin and Kathy VanderVeen of Fremont, and Joe and Kristin Conway of South Sioux City. There are six grandchildren.

THE 150 guests attending the reception came from South Sioux City, Pender, Emerson, Allen, Wayne, Winnebago, Crofton, Hartington and Thurston.

Amy VanderVeen of Fremont was seated at the guest book and arranged gifts.

Guests viewed pictures taken of the couple's wedding and throughout their years of marriage.

THE ANNIVERSARY cake was baked by Sara Miller of Emerson and cut and served by Kathy VanderVeen of Fremont and Brenda Puls of Wakefield.

Patti Puls of Wayne poured coffee and served punch.

Wayne Woman's Club meets

Fifteen members attended the January meeting of Wayne Woman's Club.

President Lillian Granquist opened the meeting with a reading by Helen Steiner Rice, entitled "Birthdays Are a Gift From God," and a reading on "January." Roll call was answered with a two cent donation for each shoe size.

Discussion focused on a Wayne Woman's Club scholarship to a deserving person interested in a nursing career. The matter was tabled at this time.

The women thanked Leona Kluge for conducting the Wayne Care Centre Christmas gift program.

Mrs. Kluge expressed her appreciation to the approximately 50 churches, service clubs and other organizations for their cooperation in making the yearly project a success.

MARGARET Storm was in charge of the program following the meeting.

Bingo was played and lunch was served by Leona Kluge, chairman, Eleanor Heithold and Orvella Blomenkamp.

The next meeting will include a program on quilts by Margaret Lundstrom on Feb. 8 at 2 p.m. Hostesses will be Hazel James, chairman, Ardyce Reeg and Pearl Magnuson.

Threat of war ominous

When we reach the year 2000, this world will, indeed, have survived a century of bloodshed. The first 90 years of this century, at least for the United States, started off with a tone of war. In 1900, this country faced the Spanish-American War, one which was manipulated by a power-hungry media.

Somehow, that war set the tone for an average of every 20 years hence.

Following the Spanish-American War, there was World War I, the war they called "the war to end all wars."

Twenty years later, there was World War II. Only after World War II, war couldn't stand to wait another 20 years. Instead, it was 10 when the U.S. battled in Korea.

Again, the scenario repeated itself, for another 20 years later, there was Vietnam.

Vietnam, unlike all other wars fought in U.S. history, was one where the U.S. could not and did not win. The politicians wouldn't allow it, the media manipulated it and the public opposed it. It was unwinnable because we lacked the will and support to win.

But from Vietnam, it was thought, the politicians learned their lesson. Wars are not for politicians but for generals. They are not fought in Washington, D.C. but on the battlefield.

Our elected representatives learned only one lesson following Vietnam and that is why Congress provided the president with ammunition to fight the war against Iraq.

Now, only time will tell us how it will end.

The difference between Vietnam and Korea and the crisis we face in the Persian Gulf is clear. In Vietnam and Korea, our government tried to sell us on wars that made no sense. Today, our elected officials have sold us short; they have not tried to sell the war.

Perhaps, we may ask whatever happened to President George Bush's objective of a "kinder and gentler nation." We can assume the same thing happened to that slogan as what happened to "read my lips, no new taxes."

At this point, we can only hope and pray that Katz's law is right: "People and nations will act rationally when all other possibilities have been exhausted."

God help us in this time of crisis.

Personality Profile

Elleen Lutt
co-owner
Rain Tree

Family: Husband, David; two sons, Jay and Brian, both students at Kearney State College.

What aspects of your job do you enjoy the most: Contact with the public.

What job or occupation are you sure you would not like? Why: Any job that would have me closed up in a room with paper-work. I need contact with the public.

What recently made you laugh out loud: I like to laugh, so it doesn't take much.

What would you like to accomplish if you were governor of Nebraska or president of the United States: There is so much to be done, where should one start? Taxes is the one item that people are most interested in.

What's your favorite hobby? Why: Puzzles I guess, because I enjoy the challenge and it relaxes me.

What is the most unusual or daring activity you would try ... if you had the courage or nerve: If I had the courage, the list would go on and on. Para gliding comes to mind first.

Briefly explain your ideal vacation: Anyplace with plumbing, where I don't have to clean or cook.

What do you remember most about being 10-years-old: Absolutely nothing.

How would your friends describe you to strangers: Hopefully as a good friend.

As a comparison of smaller projects, like the addition, to larger projects, and adjusted costs to the rate of inflation since the 1960s, which is the last time a major project was conducted, the elementary addition cost per square foot exceeds the cost it took to build the high school. Wayne High School, which was built in 1967, cost taxpayers approximately $16 per square foot.

The addition project was financed through tax anticipatory notes valued at $230,000 at 6.2 percent interest. The tax levy which will be assessed is .1001 per $100 of valuation, which comes from the school's building fund.

"It's a blessing to have all the kids down here. Knowing that we're offering services to all our students really feels good," Lutt said. "We're finally getting everything on track."

Bush decision in Soviet deals gives boost to trade

President Bush's mid-December decision to grant the Soviet Union temporarily less stringent trade privileges has drawn criticism from both the extreme right and the extreme left. Perhaps, however, there are some benefits those of us not involved in the Washington scene are unaware of. The waiver gives Soviets the privilege, through June of 1991, to purchase on credit $500 million to $1 billion worth of grain and food. There are varied opinions as to how much will be grain and how much will be food products. Bush himself has indicated some medical and technical assistance is included.

The USDA reported on Dec. 18 that 266,500 metric tons of corn were being exported at that time, from the United States to Russia. That converts to 10.5 million bushels and was the first purchase of corn from us for two months by USSR.

The Bush decision gives an obvious boost to U.S. grain marketing efforts. In addition it appears also to give credibility to Gorbachev among his peers, some of whom are desperately trying to undermine his efforts to democratize his country. Preserving Gorbachev's position as a reform communist in the obviously precarious power struggle now taking place in Moscow may have more importance to U.S. and world interests than is apparent on the surface.

Patrick Buchanan, a well known news writer who opposes any Russian aid, says "to stuff Moscow full of cash and credit in 1990 is to give this failed regime the same lease on life we gave Lenin in the '20's, Stalin in the '40's, and Brezhnev in the '70's. Like the CCC loans to Poland in the '70's and to Iraq in the '80's, we will never see the money again; all that subsidized food will have to be paid for by the American people." Perhaps. There is obviously no guarantee. It's certainly not a move the President made without forethought. Missouri democrat Richard Gephardt, the House Majority leader, has been criticizing Bush for nine months for not releasing the aid sooner. Robert Dole, the Republican Senator from Kansas was pushing for $3 billion instead of $1 billion. Bush was not looking for advice, and whatever happens as a result of his decision he'll still get lots of criticism.

Whether all of the grain and food involved in the new purchase reaches the people who need it is pure speculation. Continued reports from inside Russia indicate confusion and inefficiency dominate the entire Soviet distribution system. Rail yards in Moscow and many other cities are overloaded with freight cars which haven't been unloaded. Warehouses which are filled to capacity but with no means of movement to the empty store shelves are rumored everywhere.

Perhaps the aid we are now sending the USSR will get them through the winter. The temporary waiver of previous trade barriers is only cleared for a few months. Some leniency has materialized in the once-restrictive emigration policies exercised by the Soviets. Most notably the departure of 150,000 Soviet Jews in the last year. Soviet Foreign Minister Edward Shevardnadze has volunteered an opinion that this kind of freedom will soon become law. That gesture by Russia would eliminate the remaining barrier to favored-nation trade status for the Soviets. If that happens, it would facilitate the sale of large amounts of U.S. grain to them, improving both our agricultural economy and their overall economy.

Any long-term permanent solution to Russian economic problems, however, will only come with privatization of their food industry. Until their farm workers and those involved in their distribution system are given incentives, profit, or some compensation related to their accomplishments and work levels, nothing will change.

Haynes Johnson, a Washington Post columnist says "Bush has taken a long step toward closing the book on a Cold War era. His actions and his public comments stir fresh hope that a new, more productive partnership can exist between the erstwhile superpower enemies." Let's hope he's right. Mike Meterhenry

Bowl of popcorn earmarks change

Baby number one on the way

A bowl of popcorn, late night TV with the dogs begging me to play with them (or begging for the popcorn, I'm not sure which) and a draft from the closet next to my recliner earmarked a new stage in my life.

Last Wednesday, a day after my late-night appetizer, Rhonda and I learned of the joy that she's expecting our first child.

Yup, that's right. There will be a bambino in the Crist household sometime in August or September.

I don't remember seeing the stork nod his head at our home but sometime recently he must have done it. My beautiful, little wife is carrying our first little one.

AS A CHILD, I remember Mom and Dad telling me that when my Mom was carrying me that they called me "Sam." Because in a dictionary of names she had, "Sam" was defined as "a gift from God."

Maybe "Sam" is a suitable name for the little miracle Rhonda's carrying.

It's impossible to express in words all the emotions which flow through your mind when you find out that the love you and your wife share is blossoming into something much bigger. It almost allows me to understand all the hugs my parents gave me when I was growing up and I can believe in their words of wisdom at how much they love you. It's an overwhelming feeling, but the feeling is definitely there.

FROM THAT SPLIT-second thought, you turn to telling your parents, something which wasn't yet done at the authoring of this column. How will they feel? How will they react? What will Rhonda's parents say at the thought of, for the first time in their lives, becoming grandparents? How will her grandmothers feel at becoming great-grandparents?

Yes, these thoughts race through your mind.

With the same speed, your thoughts change to friends. How will I tell everyone? Who will I tell?

How soon can I let them know?

The list goes on and on. A few minutes after learning of this newfound joy I was asked what I was hoping for — a boy or a girl. Naturally, my first response was a boy. After I thought about it, I changed my response to a healthy child, gender not withstanding.

ALL DAY WEDNESDAY, my mind was filled with everything. You know how tough it is to write a column with everything in your mind?

At lunch Wednesday, we decided that we plan to use cloth diapers as much as possible to help save the environment. On the other hand, maybe we'll let the little tyke run around without one and clean up after him like we do the dogs following Thanksgiving turkey treats.

On second hand, I seriously doubt we'll do that.

In conclusion to this mixed, perhaps confusing prose of thoughts, I just want to express to my wife Rhonda how beautiful she is. Believe me, babe, I'm here for you now and I'm in it with you for the duration. You really are my inspiration to our glory of love.

Legislative session underway

Unicameral devotes its time to reorganization

LINCOLN - Last Wednesday, the opening day of the 92nd Legislature, First Session was devoted almost entirely to the reorganization of the legislature through the election of the Speaker, the Executive Board and the Committee Chairpersons. As you may know, I was elected Chair of the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee. That committee will meet three days per week and the other two days will have me back on the Banking Committee.

The work of the Government Committee will be additionally heavy this year with the additional responsibility of reapportionment and redistricting. Every ten years, following the Census, the district dividing lines for primarily the U.S. House of Representatives and the Legislature must be realigned to correspond with the population changes which have occurred. The Committee, with the assistance of mapping computers, will be working with census tract information in preparation of making those changes.

Beginning early the second day, and continuing to the commencement of the inaugural ceremonies at 2 p.m., bills were introduced and we adopted temporary rules. Although the content of this year's legislation will not be known for certain until the expiration of the first ten days, it is expected that the subjects of election laws, school finance, and both real and personal property taxes, will again receive considerable debate this year. With a new governor at the helm of the ship of state, an unknown legislative package awaits review by the legislature. From the tone of his inaugural speech, it is expected to be conservative and in tune with national economic trends.

Bills are now being referenced to the various Committees and will be scheduled for public hearings commencing Jan. 23. One way to keep track of the hearings and other business in the Legislature is through the "Unicameral Update". This is a brief publication that comes out every week during the session. It reviews the top devel-

1936 like 1990

A writer for the Albion Argus found reason for encouragement, even in the final dark days of 1936.

"Despite a corn failure and a major political campaign, Nebraska will mark 1936 as a comparatively good year, and the people are facing 1937 with optimism. Farm income will be higher than for any year since the depression; automobile and truck sales, along with farm machinery, will come close to the 1929 record; bank clearings are reaching new high figures, and retail sales volume generally has been the highest since 1930.

"For the next year, the PWA, WPA, and rural electrification administration will continue to occupy a conspicuous place in the state's economic scene.

"Construction is likely to start late this year on a student activities building to cost half a million dollars at the University of Nebraska. PWA has offered $180,000 to aid in financing the project.

"Excavation work has gotten underway on the North Loup river public power and irrigation district project. The district has a loan and grant from PWA totalling about $1,700,000. Work is to start yet this year on a $49,850 PWA storm sewer project at Columbus, while at Auburn, a bid of $51,255 has been accepted for construction of a new post office.

"Bids are being received this week on contracts for five PWA projects, including a sanitary sewer and disposal plant near Sargent, paving at Grant, water works improvement at Campbell, school improvements at Halsey, and a new school building at Douglas.

"Construction of rural power lines under the REA promises to be one of the flourishing businesses of the state during the next few years. Projects range from setting up hundreds of miles of power lines radiating from the Sutherland and Columbus plants to small county jobs.

"By this time next year it is anticipated that thousands of Nebraska farmers, representing every section of the state, will be lighting their houses with electricity, cooking, ironing, washing and churning with electricity, and hooking radios and electric fans to wall sockets."

THE GOLDEN YEARS
 By Lee Anne
 Models used to be considered "over the hill" by age 30, but not anymore. Advertisers and fashion magazines now welcome models with "laugh lines" and gray hair, and top modeling agencies have set up special divisions to fill requests for mature-looking women. The reason: Almost 100-million American consumers are over age 40. Mature models are "classic," not "older" women, says an agency executive. Says another: "It's OK to have lines now. It's OK to have gray hair."

Jack Horwitz was accepted by Yale in 1910 but opted instead to go into business. Injured in France in World War I, he went on to become a fashion pioneer in New York, winning the 1947 American Fashion Industry Award. Now, at age 98, he still leads a rather active life in his Long Island community even though he was hit by a van two years ago. He gave up driving at the urging of his children, even though he had qualified for an insurance discount by passing a safe driver course.

Remember When? January 10, 1920 — The League of Nations, created by the victors of World War I to preserve peace through collective security, met for the first time, in Geneva. In the 1930s, the League failed to act against Italy for its invasion of Ethiopia, and Japan for its invasion of China, setting the stage for Adolph Hitler to plan world conquest without coordinated international opposition.

Wayne grapplers pass big test at Elkhorn

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne wrestling team passed perhaps their toughest assignment of the season to date, Saturday in Elkhorn by winning the Elkhorn Invitational over highly rated Aurora and more importantly, over the number one team in Class B, Valentine.

Wayne tallied 152 points in the tournament, edging Aurora by 15 at 137. The Huskies squeezed past Valentine by a single point while O'Neill held down the fourth spot with 113 points.

Omaha Cathedral placed fifth with 64 1/2 points while Bennington came in sixth place with 64. Elkhorn placed seventh with 62 1/2 points while Gretna finished eight with 50. Wahoo placed ninth with 48 and rounding out the field of 10 teams was Raymond Central with 23 1/2 points.

"This was a great win for us," Wayne wrestling mentor John Murtaugh said. "I thought we did a good job of concentrating on what we had to do to win and not worrying about the quality of the competition. I tried to impress upon them that it was just another tournament in which we needed to wrestle well in order to win."

Mike DeNaeyer and Jason Ehrhardt were crowned champions on the day with Brent Gamble, Jesse Brodersen and Matt Bruggeman all earning runner-up finishes. Chris Janke and Dwaine Junck finished in their respective weight classes while Todd Fredrickson, Eric Cole and Cory Wieseler all managed to place fourth as Wayne medaled in 10 of 13 weight classes in the competitive packed field of teams.

"This was a tournament our kids were looking forward to and they wanted to win it very badly," Murtaugh said. "I am extremely happy for them but it is important that we keep our feet on the ground and continue to work hard to improve. The District Tournament is less than a month away and we need to improve each day so that we can wrestle our best at that time."

The following is a composite of how each Wayne wrestler fared at the Elkhorn Invitational. Wayne will travel to dual Wisner-Pilger on Thursday before traveling to Plattsmouth, Neb., on Saturday for perhaps their next biggest challenge of the season in the Plattsmouth Invitational. Plattsmouth won the Class B State Championship last year.

103—Todd Fredrickson—4th place—Won 8-4, Lost by Technical Fall, Won by Pin, Lost by Pin to Jose Fredrickson of Aurora.

112—Randy Johnson—DNP—Won 10-2, Lost by Pin, Lost 6-4.

During the time that the Wayne varsity wrestling team was taking part in the Elkhorn Invitational three reserve wrestlers took part in the Pender 9th and 10th Invitational.

All three of the Wayne wrestlers who took part came home with medals led by Matt Rise who placed first at 119. Rise won by technical fall before winning 7-3 in the semi finals. In the finals he won 8-2 over Mike Jenny of Columbus-Lakeview.

Jason Wehrer placed second at 103 lbs. Wehrer won by pin in the first round and won by pin in the second round. He lost 3-2 in the finals to Chad Gutzmaker of Sioux City Healan.

Terry Rutenbeck placed fourth at 125. Rutenbeck won his first match 13-4 but lost his second round match 4-2. He then won 5-0 before losing 10-5 to Jeremie Cason of Sioux City East.

"It was nice to see that all three of our wrestlers were able to medal," Murtaugh said. "We were pleased with their effort."

JESSE BRODERSEN WORKS over an opponent during the Elkhorn Invitational Saturday. Wayne went up against Valentine, Aurora and O'Neill and came out on top.

CORY WIESELER looks to score points in an early round match of the Elkhorn Invitational. Wayne has yet to lose a dual or Invitational this year.

Winside wrestlers score over 200 points for second time

The Winside Wildcat wrestling team scored 200-plus points in back to back weeks Saturday as they captured the Battle Creek Invitational with 204 1/2 points to easily out distance runner-up Norfolk reserves who tallied 148.

Winside scored over 220 points in last week's invite which was held in Winside. At any rate, third place honors at Battle Creek went to the host team with 119. West Point Central Catholic was fourth with 80 1/2 while Oakland-Craig placed fifth with 66. The Oakland-Craig reserves were sixth with 65 and Stanton was seventh with 63. Osmond placed eighth with 50 while Logan View was ninth with 28.

10th place went to Scribner-Snyder with 23 points while 11th was labeled unattached which scored 16. Howells and Elkhorn Valley rounded out the teams in order of finish with eight and three points respectively.

"We fared real well," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "Technique wise I think we are right on track where we have to be at this time but we have a couple critical weeks ahead of us especially at Greeley and Clearwater where we will face some of our district foes."

In Saturday's meet the Wildcats had nine wrestlers medal and all nine were in the finals with seven earning championships and the other two, runners-up. Chad Carlson remained undefeated on the year by winning the championship at 125 lbs. Carlson defeated David Engelmeyer of West Point Central Catholic by technical fall, 16-0 in the finals to go 19-0 on the season.

Doug Heinemann at 130 lbs., was also crowned champion on the day following a 4-1 decision over Craig Fischer of Norfolk's reserves in the finals. Shane Frahm took the title at 145 lbs., by Graig Johnson of Scribner-Snyder in 58 seconds while Jeff Gallop duplicated that championship feat at 152 lbs., by pinning Lance Schaecher of Battle Creek in 1:47.

Kerry Jaeger won the 160 lb. crown by decisioning Todd Uhlir of Battle Creek, 11-9. Jason Krueger pinned Bryan Choutka of Battle Creek in 2:31 of the finals at 189 lbs., while Brian Thompson did likewise to Byron Korth of Norfolk's reserves in the heavyweight division in 2:35.

Jason Magwire placed runner-up to Troy Thompson of Norfolk's reserves at 140 lbs., losing in the finals 4-0 while Jason Bargstadt was pinned in 3:53 of the finals at 171 lbs., by Colby Werner of Norfolk's reserves.

Both Krueger and Thompson improved their season records to 18-1 with championships Saturday and both lost their only matches to state champions of a year ago in classes higher than theirs. Krueger's only loss came to Class B's 189 lb. champ Jason Ehrhardt of Wayne and Thompson's only loss came to Class C's two time champ Scott Stara of David City.

Shane Frahm improved to 18-3 on the season with his championship while Jeff Gallop improved to 15-4. Kerry Jaeger upped his season mark to 16-4 and Doug Heinemann improved to 15-5-1.

The Wildcats will now turn their focus to the Oakland-Craig Invitational in a homecoming of sorts for Paul Sok who is a native of Oakland. "We have never won that tournament," Sok said. "We feel that if we wrestle well we can win this year."

Tekamah Herman's reserves will be at the meet and Sok feels they will be the team to beat.

While the Winside varsity was taking part at the Battle Creek Invitational Saturday, the Wildcat reserves went to take part in the Pender Tournament with all three wrestlers taking part, medaling. Kyle Frederick and Brady Frahm were crowned champions on the day while Jason Topp placed fourth.

Wayne boys lose by 22

The Wayne boys basketball team played a very good basketball game in the first half of Saturday's home contest with Seward. Unfortunately for the Blue Devils however, there are four quarters to every game and Seward blew out Wayne in the second half to breeze to a 78-56 win.

Wayne led the Bluejays 37-34 at the intermission but the Blue Devils were out scored 16-3 in the first four minutes of the third quarter to completely shift all the momentum and from then it was all Seward.

The visitors out scored Wayne 44-19 in the second half. "Right now it seems like when we get behind we expect to lose," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "We played a good first half but then we come out and turn the ball over the first three times we get which results in six points for Seward and gives them a three point lead right away. After that, we just quit playing."

Wayne connected on 21-28 free throw attempts in the game while Seward hit 17 of 25. The Blue Devils were out rebounded 31-29 and committed 15 turnovers compared to just eight by Seward. "The thing that really hurt was that we only had 10 rebounds in the second half and we had 10 of our 15 turnovers in the second half."

Wayne was led in scoring by the 16 points of junior Kyle Dahl. Jeff Griesch finished with 14 while Regg Carnes netted nine. Brian Lentz added six points and Aaron Wilson scored four. Bobby Barnes netted three points on a 3-pointer while Martin Rump and John Murphy scored two each.

Dahl also led the Blue Devils in rebounding with nine caroms while Wilson pulled down seven. "Coming out of the locker room at half we had three goals for the second half," Uhing said. "First we wanted to get the ball inside to Kyle and it took us five possessions to do that. Second, we wanted Kyle to shot fake once he got it and that didn't seem to pan out. Third, we wanted to get our wing players to flash and that didn't happen very often."

Uhing also stated that his squad needs to start getting scoring out put from other players such as Kyle Dahl, Regg Carnes and Jeff Griesch. "We need to have more than three people who can score," Uhing said.

The Wayne reserves were also defeated Saturday night 68-40. John Murphy led Wayne with 11 points while Bobby Barnes and Matt Blomenkamp added eight apiece.

Wayne will host Hartington Cedar Catholic, a 10-1 team, on Friday.

Winside gals win big

Paul Giesselmann's Winside girls team rolled to their fourth win of the season Tuesday night in Winside as they defeated Homer, 55-36. Winside doubled the score on the visitors in the first quarter at 12-6 and then went on an 18-8 scoring run that left them with a 30-14 lead at the intermission.

The only Achilles heel that the Wildcats faced on the night was at the beginning of the third quarter when they suffered some quick turnovers that resulted in three easy lay-ups for the visitors. But Winside responded and still maintained a 16 point lead after the third period.

"We enjoyed our best night of moving the ball on offense," Giesselmann said. "We set a new school record in assists with 22." The Pichler sisters were the prime reason for the new record as senior Kelly dished out 10 assists while freshman Kari recorded five.

Winside was led in scoring by Wendy Rabe who scored 25 points. Kelly Pichler followed in double figures with 12 while Christi Mundil netted eight. Kari Pichler, Holly Holdorf, Shannon Holdorf, Becky Appel and Jenny Wacker all scored two apiece.

Rabe reached double figures in the rebounding department as well with 12 caroms to her credit while Mundil had five. Winside out rebounded Homer 36-28. The Wildcats had 20 turnovers compared to 18 by Homer.

Winside will host Wausa in a girl/boy double header Friday night.

Allen girls earn victory

The Allen girls basketball team improved their season record to 4-5 Tuesday night in Allen with a 49-46 victory over Wynot. The visitors grabbed an 11-9 lead after one quarter of play but the Lady Eagles rebounded in the second quarter to take a 22-19 lead at the break.

Wynot trimmed the Eagles lead to one point heading into the fourth quarter but Allen hung on for the victory despite letting Wynot shoot 16 free throws in the final period.

Allen connected on 13 of 29 free throw attempts while Wynot was 16-27. The Eagles were out rebounded 43-38 but Allen's defense forced Wynot into 39 turnovers. Allen suffered 28 turnovers.

Cindy Chase led the Eagles with 20 points with 12 coming in the fourth quarter. Heather Sachau was the only other scorer in double figures with 11 while Denise Boyle and Robin Schroeder scored six apiece.

Sonya Plueger and Christy Philbrick rounded out the Eagles scoring with three and two points each.

Boyle led the Eagles in the rebounding department with eight caroms to her credit while teammates Heather Sachau and Sonya Plueger hauled down seven apiece.

"Our girls are starting to play with confidence," Allen coach Lori Koester said. "We're 4-5 right now and are looking forward to our next game." Allen will host Walthill in action Friday night.

Wakefield gals lose but boys gain win

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams hosted games on Monday with Gregg Cruickshank's girls losing to Ponca, 53-39. On Tuesday night Paul Eaton's troops entertained the home crowd with a 60-46 win over Emerson-Hubbard in the Trojans second win over the Pirates this season.

On Monday the Wakefield girls led Ponca 11-10 after one quarter of play and maintained that one point advantage at the intermission at 21-20. Ponca however, came out on fire in the third quarter and took advantage of the Lady Trojans missed shots and turnovers to turn a one point deficit into a nine point lead heading into the final stanza.

"It was a real competitive and hard fought game," Cruickshank said. "We actually hurt ourselves in the third quarter with some turnovers but we just couldn't put the ball in the hole even though we were getting the type of shots we wanted."

Wakefield had a hard time stopping Ponca's Belinda Bostwick who scorched the nets for 22 points. "We played pretty good defense," Cruickshank said. "Belinda Bostwick is just an excellent player."

Wakefield was led in scoring by Sarah Salmon and Lisa Blecke as each netted 10 points. Wendy Kratke poured in eight and Lisa Anderson scored six. Kristen Miller added four points and Kathy Otte scored one.

The Trojans were 7-18 from the free throw line while Ponca was 7-

12. Wakefield was out rebounded 24-20 in the contest. Blecke led the Trojans with five rebounds while Salmon, Miller and Kratke all had four each.

The 7-6 Trojans will host Hartington on Thursday before traveling to play Wynot on Friday.

In the boys game on Tuesday the Trojans led 14-10 after the first quarter but by halftime the game was tied at 24 apiece. Wakefield took a three point lead in the fourth quarter where they out scored Emerson 22-11 for the 14 point victory.

"It was a pretty even game for three quarters," Eaton said. "Our aggressive man-to-man defense kind of wore them down in the fourth quarter." Eaton noted that Emerson had the definite height advantage in the game with at times going with a front line of 6-6, 6-6 and 6-5.

Four Wakefield players were in double figures for the game with Marcus Tappe leading the way with 17 points. Matt Krusemark followed with 15 while Keith Wenstrand added 11. Anthony Brown was the fourth in double figures with 10. Doug Stanton added four points while T.J. Preston and Steve Clark rounded out the scoring with two and one point respectively.

Wakefield won the battle of the boards 30-21 as Wenstrand pulled down 10 caroms. Wakefield had just seven turnovers compared to 12 for the Pirates. The Trojans hit six 3-pointers on the night and were 16-23 from the foul line.

WAKEFIELD'S LISA BLECKE shoots over Winside's Holly Holdorf in action last Friday night in Wakefield. Blecke led the Trojans with 18 points and is the leading scorer for the season on Gregg Cruickshank's squad. The Trojans will take a 7-6 record into Thursday Night when they host Hartington in a make up game.

Wayne State men split weekend pair of games while women cruise to win

The Wayne State College men's and women's basketball teams were in action over the weekend at Rice Auditorium with the men playing games on Saturday and Sunday. The Wildcat women were in action in a rare Sunday contest.

On Saturday the men hosted Colorado Mines and the game was in Wayne State's control from the opening tip as the Wildcats rolled to a 105-69 victory. The highlight of the afternoon came from freshman Chad West and Michael Parks as each led the Cats with 24 points. West however, established a new Wildcat record with eight 3-pointers in the contest breaking the mark of seven held by Steve Dunbar and Scott Hurley.

West connected on eight of nine from the bonus range while Parks hit a very respectable four of eight from long distance. The Wildcats hit 15 of 26 three point attempts as a team.

Don Smith another freshman, connected on 9-13 from the field and followed West and Parks in the scoring column with 19 points. Ricky Watson was a perfect 4-4 from the field and finished with nine points while Doug Kuzsak scored seven.

Eric Priebe finished with six points and Gerry Sagehorn added five as did point guard Todd Dusenberry. Davy Summers and Gerard Ras rounded out the scoring with four and two points each.

Wayne State shot 60.2 percent from the field during the contest and nearly 73 percent from the free throw line on 8-11 while Colorado Mines hit 43.5 percent of its shots from the field and 80 percent from the charity stripe on 8-10.

"Colorado Mines is a ball club that's down a little this year," Wayne State coach Mike Brewen said. "They are an academically oriented school that has had some good teams but they are down this year."

Brewen said he was pleased with the fact that he was able to play a lot of players in the game. "Everyone got to play quite a bit," Brewen said. "We were a much quicker team than they were and we just put it to them."

Colorado Mines tried to play a match-up zone against the Wildcats which often left Chad West open from the three point line and West promptly responded by hitting eight of nine.

"Actually, to start off the game I thought Michael Parks was the only one who had the defensive intensity where it should have been," Brewen said. "The rest of the guys picked up the defensive intensity gradually but Parks did a good job of guarding Hank Prey."

Wayne State won the battle of the boards 38-29 as Doug Kuzsak led the way with eight caroms. Parks hauled down seven boards and Priebe pulled down five to lead the Cats.

Wayne State had just nine turnovers compared to 14 by Colorado Mines. The Wildcats dished out a team total of 25 assists compared to nine by the visitors. Davy Summers led the team by dishing out eight assists while Todd Dusenberry had six. West led the Cats in blocked shots with three while Parks led the team in steals with four.

Women down Mesa State

On Sunday afternoon the Wayne State women defeated Mesa State 98-72 after the game was tied at 45 at the half. Starting center Cheri VanAuker was unable to play in the game because of an illness but Cyndi Savage stepped in and filled in nicely for Mike Barry's Cats.

"We felt coming into the game that it was going to be tough to beat these guys because they had beaten Chadron State and Kearney State and they come in here with a 9-4 record," Brewen said. "At halftime we felt that if we kept pushing the tempo that they would tire out because this was the end of their road swing and that's what happened."

One thing Barry's troops did that may have surprised the visitors is press them. "Mesa State's coach told me that he hasn't seen his team pressed in two years because they themselves are a running, pressing shooting team," Brewen said. "They also had a pretty veteran ball team. But we just pressed mainly with our point guards and power forwards in Dana Olmsted and Lisa Schwab along with Lisa Chamberlin and Jodi Otjen and they all did a real nice job."

The Wildcats victory marked the fifth win in the last six games and gave the Cats an 8-7 record for the season. Wayne State got 34 points from its bench players. "Our depth is a key to our success," Brewen said. "It really showed in Sunday's game with Mesa State."

Lisa Chamberlin and Mary Schnitzler once again led the Wildcats in the scoring column with 24 and 18 points respectively but both girls nearly pulled off a triple double in the same contest as Chamberlin had her second consecutive game in which she scored in double figures and had double figures in rebounding with 24 points and 12 rebounds. The Norfolk native also dished out seven assists.

Schnitzler scored 18 points, hauled down 11 rebounds and dished out nine assists. Jodi Otjen was also in double figures twice as she scored 12 points and hauled down 12 rebounds. The Wildcats dominated the boards to the tune of 62-43.

Linda Heller was the fourth Wildcat in double figures with 10 points while Cyndi Savage scored eight. Kerri VanVeldhuizen scored six points but hit double figures on the boards with 10 rebounds. Lisa Schwab also scored six points while Kairi Backer scored five. Amy Rueger scored four points for Wayne State and Heather Rotherham netted three. Dana Olmsted rounded out the scoring with two points but the point guard also dished out five assists as the Wildcats finished with 27 assists as a team compared to 15 for Mesa State.

Otjen led the Cats in blocked shots with four while Schnitzler and Olmsted recorded three steals apiece. The Cats committed 26 turnovers in the game compared to 22 for the visitors from Colorado.

Men lose by 18

The Wildcat men fell to 6-10 on the season following an 87-69 loss to Mesa State in the second half of the double header on Sunday. The Cats trailed 47-34 at the half.

"Mesa State is a good team," Brewen said. "I think that we finally wore down after playing three games in four days. We've only had one day off since December 29th and that was a day in which we spent 13 hours on the road in a bus."

The Cats trailed by just five at 39-34 with just over three minutes left before half when they got sloppy which led to eight consecutive points by Mesa State, thus putting WSC down by 13 at the break.

"We pulled to within five at one point in the second half but then we just ran out of gas," Brewen said. "There were three critical points that hurt us. One, we started off slow as Mesa State jumped out to an 8-0 lead. Second, we missed a lot of open perimeter shots and three, we didn't have any intensity on defense."

Doug Kuzsak led the Wildcats with 17 points while Chad West and Michael Parks followed with 14 each. Don Smith finished with 12 as four Wildcat players were in double figures. Gerry Sagehorn scored four points while Eric Priebe and Davy Summers added three each. Todd Dusenberry netted two points to round out the scoring.

Wayne State was out rebounded 35-28. Smith led the Cats on the boards with eight caroms. The Cats suffered 16 turnovers but forced the visitors into 17.

Wayne State will shift its focus to Fort Hays State who will invade Rice Auditorium on Friday night in a women/men double header. "Fort Hays State is a very athletic team," Brewen said. "They are as good athletically as any team in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference."

The Wildcats have also added another game to their schedule despite it being only an exhibition as they will play the Athletes Fighting Substance Abuse on Saturday, Feb. 23 at 7:30 p.m. "This team is made up of former college players," Brewen said. "That will give us something to fill that two week gap between the Chadron State and Kearney State contests."

Future Stars in action again

WAYNE-The Wayne Future Stars basketball league played in their second week Saturday with the third and fourth grade boys teams in action first. The Bulls downed the Pistons 15-10 as Brian Hochstein scored 10 points for the winners. Lindau added two points for the Pistons.

In the second game the Spurs downed the Cheetahs 33-23 with Ryan Dahl leading the way with eight points. Joel Munson led the Cheetahs with six points.

In fifth and sixth grade action it was the Pistons downing the Bulls 41-21 as Nick Vanhorn netted 17 points. David Ensz led the Bulls with six. In the other game it was the Hawks downing the Knicks 33-17 as Terry Hamer led the way with eight points. Eric Hefti led the Knicks with four.

Future Star girls take part

WAYNE-The third, fourth and fifth grade girls taking part in basketball under Marlene Uhing at the high school began their league Saturday with the Bulls downing the Wildcats 24-12 and the Pistons defeating the Lakers, 21-16.

Allen loses in OT

The Allen boys fell to 2-7 on the season Monday night following a double overtime loss to Winnebago at Winnebago, 86-78. The Eagles came out slow as Winnebago built a 21-6 lead after the first quarter of play.

Then Allen went on a terror in the second quarter and closed the margin to six by intermission at 33-27. Winnebago however, came out fire up in the third quarter and built the lead back up to 11 by the quarter's end.

Jeff Schoning's Eagles hung tough though, and went on a 24-13 scoring run in the fourth quarter to force overtime at 71 apiece. In the first overtime both scored four points which forced another overtime.

In the second overtime Winnebago got ahead quickly which forced Allen to start fouling. Winnebago made most of its free throw attempts in the second overtime which accounted for the eight point victory.

Allen was led in scoring by Jody Martinson who scored 18 points. The Eagles had nice balance in the scoring column with five in double figures. Curtis Oswald followed with 14 while Shane Dahl netted 13 and Chris Sachau, 12. Paul Brentlinger finished with 11 points and Kevin Crossgrove added eight. Casey Schroeder rounded out the attack with two.

Allen was out rebounded 62-56 by Winnebago despite the Eagles having three players who reached double figures in the rebound department with Curtis Oswald leading the way with 12. Jody Martinson finished with 11 boards and Paul Brentlinger hauled down 10. Allen will host Walthill in action Friday night.

Help for filing income tax available from the IRS

AREA - Individuals who have questions about filing their Federal income tax return can get help from the Internal Revenue Service.

The IRS has toll free telephone assistance that people can call and get help with their tax questions. Telephone assistance is available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:15 p.m.

The IRS also has offices throughout Nebraska where individuals who fill out their own tax return can go to receive help or pick up forms and publications.

The IRS said it recommends to those individuals who only need a form or publication that they call a special toll free telephone number. The special forms number goes directly into the IRS forms distribution center and orders are mailed within 24 hours.

The following is a listing of IRS telephone numbers a person may call:

To ask questions in Nebraska call 800-829-1040. If you need only a form or publication, call 800-829-3676.

The IRS also has a telephone number people can call to receive prerecorded information on 140 different tax issues. Information about Teletax is located in the tax packages that were mailed to individuals earlier this year. The number to call toll free is 800-829-4477. After Feb. 1, 1991, you can also call the Teletax number to find out the status of your refund.

If you need to go to an IRS office for tax help or to pick up a form or publication, offices are open Monday through Friday at following Nebraska locations:

Norfolk: Westgate Professional Building, 1312 Norfolk Avenue. Office hours: 8 a.m.-4:15 p.m.

Laurel selecting 'Good Neighbors'

LAUREL - The Laurel Chamber of Commerce this year will be replacing its annual Citizen of the Year award with a new honor — The Good Neighbors award.

The Good Neighbors award will recognize an individual or group for his/her/their civic or neighborly contributions to the Laurel community and area.

Deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, Feb. 1. The award will be presented at the chamber's general meeting on Saturday, Feb. 9 at the Wagon Wheel Steakhouse in Laurel.

Students, faculty plan march

WAYNE - An anti-war march has been scheduled by a group of Wayne State College students and faculty for Friday, Jan. 18 at 3 p.m.

According to Sayre Anderson, a professor at Wayne State, the march is being organized by WSC student Mike Ware.

Marchers are being asked to meet in front of the Gay Theatre Friday, where the march is scheduled to begin. Marchers will walk up Main Street to Ramsey Auditorium where a rally is planned, featuring student and faculty speakers.

Anyone is welcome to take part in the anti-war march.

HIGHLAND WOMEN

The Highland Woman's Home Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Neal Wittler last Thursday afternoon with 11 members present.

The meeting opened with the Collect in unison and president, Mrs. Arnold Wittler presided. Hilda Thomas read the report of the December meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Roll call was taken and annual dues collected. The president gave a report of the recent Council meeting.

The Spring Event is planned for April 23 at Wayne. The State Convention will be held at Aurora, June 12-14. 1991 Fair Awards for various categories were also announced. Mrs. Arnold Wittler and Mrs. Neal Wittler will attend a Showcase planning meeting on February 7.

Each member selected a name from a list of names of service men and women who are in Saudi Arabia and will send them a "Thinking of You" card, signed by all club members.

The hostess reviewed the book, "Silver Boxes" by Florence Littauer, which emphasized how important the words are that we speak to other people and how one word can encourage or discourage some one. Kind encouraging words were compared to a gift in a "Silver Box". Members told about "Silver Boxes" they had given or received. Education leader, Mrs. Lyle Marotz, read several articles from a 1920 edition of a Teacher's Publication, "The Wayne County Teacher". Music leader, Mrs. Lane

Marotz led in singing a special song, which is a prayer for our men and women in service and is sung to the melody of "America".

Mrs. Martha Behmer will be hostess for the next meeting on Feb. 14.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

Mrs. Edwin Brogie entertained the Hoskins Birthday Club, Saturday. Guests were Mrs. Myrtle Winter, Vervyle Winter and Mrs. Clarence Kruse of Norfolk; Karen Larsen of Pierce and Mrs. Walter Koehler, Mrs. Clint Reber and Mrs. Norris Langenberg.

LADIES AID AND LWML

Leoma Baker was hostess for the meeting of the St. Paul's Ladies Aid and LWML last Thursday afternoon. Twelve members were present and Edna Hansen was a guest.

Pastor Ricky Bertels opened with prayer and led the topic discussion. The lesson was entitled "Pastor and People: A Community of Love" taken from the book of First Thessalonians, chapter 2:17 and 3:12. The hymn, "Jesus lover of My Soul" was sung following the lesson.

The business meeting opened with the installation of officers by Pastor Bertels. Officers are: Marilyn Hansen, president; Gertrude Ohlquist, vice president; Delores Helgren, secretary; and Mary Lou Krusemark, treasurer. Marilyn called the meeting to order. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurers report was given.

Gertrude Ohlquist, Christian Growth chairman, read "The LWML's Version of the Lord's Prayer" with members responding.

Correspondence included Thank You's from Leoma Baker, Elwood Sampson and family, Marie Vander Veen, Lillian Sanders, and the Wakefield Health Care Center. The LWML mite box offering was taken with the reading of the pledge and singing the LWML song.

The January birthday honored is Barb Greve. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

The next meeting is Feb. 14 with Janelle Nelson as hostess.

Last Wednesday guests in the Bob Hansen home were Ronaldo and Fernando Perez of Costa Rica, and Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Theis and Mrs. Gary Thies of Mapleton, Iowa.

Gary Krusemark and Lynn Swingen of Omaha were weekend guests in the Ed. Krusemark home.

Clarence Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Baker and Jared were Sunday dinner guests in the Donald Beith home in Sioux City, Iowa.

By Pat Melerhenry

I've just finished two busy twelve hour night shifts at the hospital, and I'm feeling a bit disoriented. While I was sleeping, the temperature was climbing. '40's' really sounds like a heat wave.

We took in the Husker-Iowa State game on Saturday, with over 13,000 other folks. Our seats were in row 32. I don't think I've ever been that high in the Devaney Center before! But we had a good view, and enjoyed seeing Rich King, Beau Reid, and Carl Hayes perform. They are the seniors, and are really providing leadership. But Clifford Scales is no slouch, and the others all seem to contribute.

Even this observer could tell they were tired, and never did really dominate the game. But they never gave up the lead, either, even if it was only by one point.

They've tied the previous record for consecutive wins, and that does make us optimistic. They had played 17 games in 51 days, many on the road. I remember reading they played The Citadel on Jan. 30, and I know that's in Charleston, South Carolina. They've had no holiday break.

We missed the Inaugural Ball on Friday night. We weren't invited, for obvious reason. We were asked to Kay's, and we received invitations to her birthday parties. I'm not sure why, as we had not contributed to her campaign either. Apparently, we are on a list of "good Republicans", whatever that is.

We did attend an inaugural ball, though, several years ago. Cousin Paul convinced us to take in Charley Thone's, which was at the Pershing Auditorium. I scrambled to find a long dress to wear, and found one on sale. Thank goodness, because I've never worn it since.

We really didn't dance, but observed from the seats all around the floor. It was just fun to see the state's political names; and we could identify them because they were introduced in the grand march, which was neat.

I already have a bone to pick with our new governor. I liked his idea of "one Nebraska", and having an evening featuring ethnic dances and buffet courses.

I would have enjoyed the Indian drums, black drill team, Czech dancers, Swedish dancers, Mexican dancers, meat balls, french cheese puffs, and Mexican chicken wings.

But, in everything I've read about the evening, not one reference to the Germans in our state. Surely, we were not overlooked.

Saturday's Lincoln Journal describes a day in Lincoln by numbers: 250, belts and hoses and produced at Goodyear, 35 million gallons of water used, 190 Jet Skies made at Kawasaki, 194 visitors to the Capitol, and 4000 runzas baked!

As we keep our eyes on the Mid-East, it almost seems wrong to be enjoying basketball and dances and food. I try to tell myself that this is partly what our soldiers would want us to do: these are the events that they can recall, this is part of the "good life". And I remind myself to appreciate them every day, or night at work, in snow storms and heat waves, reading the newspaper or watching TV, walking country roads, and attending prayer vigils at our churches. Let them be home soon.

Laurel farmer wins contest

LAUREL - A Laurel farmer was named last week as the winner of a $1,000 grand prize in a football contest sponsored by Jacques Seed Company.

The name of Dennis Dickey of Laurel was selected at random from a list of 148 finalists. To qualify for the final drawing, Dicky had finished among the top 10 predictors of college football games played on Oct. 6.

As a finalist, Dickey joined the top finishers from each week to the contest, which ran throughout the college football season.

Contest rules and entry forms were carried by Omaha-based Data Transmission Network (DTN), an electronic agricultural information service.

The announcement came as a shock to Dickey and his wife. While he recalled entering the contest "two or three times," Dickey didn't notice when his name was posted among the weekly finalists on DTN.

The winning entry was drawn by Jacques and DTN officials on Jan. 7, after the finalists from a season-ending bowl game contest had been determined.

WAYNE HIGH SCHOOL students Jason Pentico and Jennifer Huyck will perform at the UNL winter festival.

Two from WHS honored

WAYNE - On Jan. 18-20, the 1991 UNL winter festival for winds and percussion will be held in the music department on the UNL campus.

Over 200 students from Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri sent in audition tapes, in which only 50 students were selected to participate.

Those selected from Wayne High School include: Jennifer

Huyck, oboe, first chair; Jason Pentico, trumpet, first chair.

Huyck is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Huyck of Wayne and Pentico is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Val Pentico of Randolph.

The students will rehearse with several groups, including the wind ensemble, duets, trios, quartets and others. Also, a Festival Finale Concert will be performed Sunday, Jan. 20 at 3 p.m.

How to Improve Children's Discipline

"Every parent knows that children need discipline," says educator and family counselor Jane Nelsen. "But the traditional authoritarian approach — rules and regulations enforced by all-powerful parents — no longer works for the most part, and in any case, has negative long range results."

Nelson says discipline that's too heavy-handed encourages resentment, rebellion, revenge or retreat, and eventually may lead to low self-esteem.

She and other educators say misbehaving kids have mistaken ideas about how to achieve their primary goal — to belong. They say if kids are encouraged to feel a sense of belonging through positive discipline techniques, their main motivation for acting up will disappear. Among the recommended ways parents can encourage discipline:

- 1) Change one aspect of behavior at a time. "The child and the adult will be changing current patterns of behavior, and it takes practice for successful adaptation," Nelsen says. She suggests moving slowly and seeing mistakes as opportunities to learn.
- 2) Cool off before dealing with a problem. When both parent and child are angry not much can be accomplished. Wait for a time when tempers have cooled before confronting a behavior problem.
- 3) Let kids experience the logical consequences of their actions whenever practical. "See how fast Johnny learns to make it to the breakfast table on time if mom re-

Aspirin and Heart Attack Prevention

A study published in the New England Journal of Medicine reported on the use of one 325 milligram aspirin tablet taken every-other-day for 4 years by healthy men ages 40 to 84. Heart attack risk was lowered by almost 50 percent. Heart attacks are often caused by the lodging of blood clots in the blood vessels of the heart. Aspirin helps prevent blood clot formation by keeping blood platelets from accumulating and starting the clotting process. Should all healthy men take aspirin every other day? Most authorities do not suggest that all men take aspirin to prevent heart attack. Some people do not tolerate aspirin, aspirin interacts with some prescription medicines, and there are obvious concerns about side effects.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

RECESSION IN THE ECONOMY COULD EQUAL DEPRESSION FOR SENIORS: A letter from "Ben," one of this column's prolific and always welcome correspondents, leaves me a little perplexed. He writes that although he realizes some of the recent moves in Washington could create problems for seniors who depend on government programs, he says "... (the country) is for the young, and we have no business being selfish if it means leaving our grandchildren with big deficits ..."

The sentiment is laudable, but, I think, a little misplaced. The rest of the western world deals with its economic problems without inflicting undue hardship on those least likely to stand up to it, including the elderly and the sick. All this talk of selfish seniors being unwilling to give up some of their entitlements seems to me to be a deliberate attempt to create a rift between the generations.

There's lots of fat around that can be cut; let's not nick the bones in the already lean pickings of that segment of the population that long since contributed to its wealth through their hard work and taxes over the years. I welcome your comments. (And your reply to Ben.) MEDICARE REVISITED: On a related note, our good friend Edward I. Roybal, Chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, applauds the inclusion of the "Medicare Beneficiary Assistance Act" as part of the omnibus budget reconciliation law. This provision, which was proposed by Roybal and his congressional colleagues Henry Waxman, Matthew Rinaldo, and Ralph Regula, calls for the establishment of a health insurance advisory service that will operate within certain local federal offices such as Social Security District facilities. A toll-free telephone service will allow easy access for beneficiaries to the right source on such matters as: (1) information on, and problems with Medicare; (2) linkages to Medicaid; (3) federal information on private Medigap policies. Roybal says this legislation goes a long way toward "rebuilding the relationship" between beneficiaries and the system that had been weakened in recent years.

For more information on "Medicare Beneficiary Assistance Act" (H.R. 5517), write your congressman or Edward I. Roybal's office at 300 New Jersey Ave., S.E. Room 712, Washington, D.C. 20215.
