Chairs named

AREA - Residential chairpersons have been named in the American Heart Association campaign for 1991.

Those named chairpersons are: Barb Leapley, Winside; Larry Koepke, Hoskins; and Gene Rethwisch, Carroll.

Chairpersons will direct volunteers' efforts in the area to educate their neighbors about the impact of cardiovascular disease and stroke. Volunteers will also request contributions from individuals at their homes in support of AHA's research, public and professional education and community service programs. The goal for 1991's residential drive is just over $305,000. The monetary figure represents an 11 percent increase over last year's drive.

The door-to-door campaign will occur throughout the month of February.

Area tallies decline

AREA - All area towns except two — Hoskins and Concord — have experienced a decline in population from 1980 to 1990, according to final census reports issued by the University of Nebraska.

Based on percentages, Dixon experienced the greatest decline in population, falling from 127 residents in 1980 to 87 in 1990. The change represents a 31.5 percent decline in population. Allen lost the second-highest percentage of citizens, falling from 390 to 331 for a 15.1 percent decline.

On a countywide basis, Dixon County experienced the greatest decline in population, losing 994 residents since 1980, changing the census from 7,137 to 6,143. The change in numbers reflects a 13.9 percent population decrease.

Cedar County lost the second most percentage of citizens with a decline of 1,244 residents, changing the count from 11,375 to 10,131 for a 10.9 percent decrease in population. Wayne County's figures changed slightly from 9,858 to 9,364 for a 5 percent point change.

AREA CITIES which experienced growth since the 1980 census changed reflected only small numbers of citizens. In Concord, 11 citizens have been added to the community since 1980 for a 7.6 percent increase. Concord's population for 1990 is 156 residents.

Hoskins, the only other town to experience a rise, registered a numeric change of one citizen to place its population at 307 for 1990. The change is a 0.3 percent increase in numbers.

Roberts, Nelson named finalists

WAYNE - The names of Eldon Roberts of Wayne and Lena Nelson of Wayne have been added to those in the Fifth Annual Great Wayne Giveaway.

Roberts and Nelson who submitted their entries at Pac 'N' Save, have joined the list of four other people for the first place drawing of $250 in Great Giveaway Bucks and the second place amount of $100 Great Giveaway Bucks. Others on the list this year are Ed Kluge, Pam Nolte, Lois Lessmann and Russell Lutt, all of Wayne.

Drawing the finalists' names for this week's drawing at Hardee's was Dennis Spangler of Wayne.

TEN MORE finalists are yet to be chosen in the drawing. Two more names will be added to the list next week when the drawing takes place at 1:30 p.m. at Hardee's.

The contest will culminate with the final drawing for the grand prize on Thursday, March 7. When all 16 finalists have been selected, they will be brought together for the grand prize drawing on Thursday, March 15 at 5:30 p.m. at The Wayne Herald.

All participants are asked to clip out the respective store coupon inside today's Wayne Herald and drop them off at the same box as the business sponsoring the contest entry. Entries turned in to the wrong boxes are automatically eliminated from competition.

THE FOURTH installment of ads and coupons for the Fifth Annual Great Wayne Giveaway are found inside today's Wayne Herald and Marketer. Only original coupons in the Thursday ads of participating businesses are eligible for the weekly drawings. No copies of coupons will be allowed.

The deadline for entering for each week's drawing is 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Businesses participating in this year's Great Wayne Giveaway are: Diers Supply, Taco Stop, Stoltenberg Partners, Farmers and Merchants Bank, Medicare Pharmacy, Midwest Land, Clarkson Service, ERA Property Exchange, Hardee's of Wayne, Fredrickson Oil and Convenience Store, Pac 'N' Save and The Wayne Herald and Marketer.

CONGRATULATING DR. WAYNE WESSEL (right) on receiving the 1990 Citizen of the Year from the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce is last year's recipient Sam Schroeder. Wessel, who is a dentist in Wayne, said he didn't suspect that he'd be the selection for the annual award. He said he won the award, however, because of all the support he has received from numerous people in the community. The announcement of the award was made during the Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner, which was held at the Black Knight on Sunday.

Wessel presented annual award

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Dr. Wayne Wessel least expected to be a candidate for the citizen of the year award. That was, until last year's recipient Sam Schroeder said "and that's a 'FACT,'" alluding to the Friendliest of All College Towns program.

It was that one phrase that set Wessel, who has been instrumental in the program's development, off that he might win the chamber's highest award.

"My wife heard me gulp when Sam said 'a 1961 graduate of the University of Nebraska,'" Wessel said. "That's when we both all but knew."

"I'd written a letter of recommendation for another couple and I fully anticipated congratulating them. When Sam said 'that's a fact' I got awfully suspicious."

WESSEL, A partner in the Wayne practice of Wessel, DeNaeyer and Bierbower, joined an elite list Sunday night during the chamber's annual banquet. He was presented the award by Schroeder, who received the honor at last year's banquet for community service in 1989. Wessel's award was for service in 1990.

Others on the list and the year for which the award was given include: Dean Pierson, 1978; Stan Morris, 1979; Arnie Reeg, 1980; Wayne Marsh, 1981; Bob and Marilyn Carhart, 1982; Lyle Seymour, 1983; Dave Ley, 1984; Melvin Froehlich, 1985; J. Alan Cramer, 1986; Paul Otte, 1987; Kenneth Olds, 1988; Schroeder, 1989.

"I was thrilled to get the award and I was really honored," Wessel said. "This puts me on a select list of people who have contributed to the community.

"I don't know exactly how to put it but I feel there are so many people I've worked with who contributed to my receiving it. There's so many people I feel who have worked with me and I wish they all could be mentioned but the list is in the hundreds."

In all, 132 Wayne businesspeople attended the banquet.

AS A BUSINESS man, Wessel said the practice and the community go hand-in-hand. He said he thinks what's good for the community is good for business and vice-versa. He said while it's important to keep abreast of the changes in his profession, "it's important to stay active within the community and promote it the best I can."

Since coming to Wayne in 1963, Wessel has remained active. According to Schroeder, Wessel has belonged to several organizations and groups affiliated to his field work, held offices and received awards for outstanding performance in the profession.

"His leadership has been excellent and his positive attitude for Wayne are demonstrated through his preparation and action," Schroeder said.

Wessel is currently serving as chairman of the START community attitude, image and communication task force and he is instrumental in the Friendliest of All College Towns (FACT) program in Wayne. He is a member of the Wayne Chapter of Ducks Unlimited and he is an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Winside's Field is 'Elephant Man'

By Dianne Jaeger
Winside Correspondent

"The Elephant Man" is the name affectionately given to Winside resident Duane Field by his friends.

During the past 30 years, Duane has collected somewhere between 500 and 700 elephants.

"I really don't know why we started, except after we were married in the 1960's we needed some knick-knacks for the house."

"We found a real pretty rosewood elephant at a jewelry store and bought it. After that, we started noticing others and began picking them up here and there."

DUANE SAYS it's difficult to estimate just how many elephants are included in the collection.

"It's hard to say for sure because some are connected together, like the statue with two elephants on it or the one big elephant connected to three smaller ones by chains. Do you count those as one elephant or four?"

Duane's collection ranges in size from a one-quarter inch carved ivory elephant that serves as a plug for the top of a red bean to one sitting by the television measuring approximately one-foot square.

"The little red bean one we got at a shopping mall in Omaha. They said there are several more ivory elephants inside the bean, but I've never opened it to see and don't intend to."

Among Duane's most unusual elephants is a gourd from Peru which was purchased in Estes Park, Colo. It features a naturally shaped long trunk and is hand painted.

His collection also includes five crushed seashell elephants which are all of the same color and texture but range in size and come from five different places.

Elephants grace every room of the Field home, except the kitchen, and an elephant even greets visitors at the front porch.

The entire collection is cataloged.

WINSIDE RESIDENT DUANE FIELD is pictured with just some of the over 500 elephants he has collected during the years.

"I DON'T even have to go looking for elephants anymore," smiles Duane. "All our friends and relatives watch for us."

Duane, however, can still frequently be seen rummaging through boxes at auctions and local rummage sales.

"My very first elephant, which is about one-inch high, came from my great aunt when I was about six years old."

"My most special elephant is one our daughter Teri made when she was in grade school. You have to use your imagination a little when looking at it," chuckles Duane.

The most expensive animal in Duane's collection is a Lenox collectible porcelain elephant which cost about $125.

"I usually don't pay more than $20 and I've gotten lots of elephants at rummage sales for just a dollar or two."

Duane said he and his wife also visit flea markets and antique shops. One of his antiques is a set of four table markers with elephants on top that were used to number bridge tables one through four.

Also found in antique stores were three humidors (metal cans with covers) which hold cigars, cigarettes and tobacco.

ALSO INCLUDED in Duane's collection are statues, a necklace,

Carroll woman donates lap robes

PHYLLIS HAMM OF CARROLL is pictured with some of the 25 lap robes she presented recently to Wayne Care Centre. Phyllis began working on the lap robes in January and credits neighbors and friends for donating much of the material. "I'm never bored," smiles Phyllis, who last year donated 27 lap robes to the care centre for use by the residents. Mrs. Hamm's daughter, Susie Siefken, is activities director at Wayne Care Centre and said donations of lap robes are always appreciated. Other individuals or organizations interested in making lap robes for the centre may contact Susie for specific measurements.

Two hog meetings slated

AREA - "Hog Buildings" and "Healthier Pigs for Healthier Profits" are the themes of two swine production meetings to be held in Wayne County.

The first, "Hog Buildings", will be held Feb. 19, from 9:30 a.m. to noon at the Carroll Steak House. University of Nebraska Ag Engineer Gerald Bodman will discuss Designs for New Buildings. His focus is on optimizing the pig environment. Ventilation and manure handling are important parts of building design, and will be covered in the discussion. The pros and cons of various plans will be presented.

This meeting is for the swine producer who is interested in improving his current facilities. Time will be provided to answer individual questions. This meeting is sponsored by the Wayne County Extension Service and TWJ Feeds of Carroll.

The second meeting is "Whole Hog Days" to be held Thursday, Feb. 28 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium. This meeting will focus on raising healthier pigs. The registration is due Feb. 20 at the Wayne County Extension office. Enclosed is a brochure and registration form. This meeting is presented by the University of Nebraska Extension Service. The lunch is sponsored by the Wayne Area Feed Dealers.

The Whole Hog Day program will focus on Health. Dr. Harry Baker from the State Veterinarian's Office will explain the current regulations requiring all swine herds to be tested for PRV (pseudorabies) before Oct. 1, 1991. Other topics will be:

- Getting to the Bottom of Small Litters - Dr. Don Levis
- Managing to Prevent Health Problems - Dr. John Thomson
- Feeding Good Sows for Performance - Dr. Duane Reese
- Animal Agriculture/Myths and Facts - Videotape
- Manure Systems for Remodeled Facilities - Gerald Bodman
- Rats, Birds and Diseases - Dr. Scott Hygnstrom

All interested people are invited to attend. Remember, please register for Whole Hog Days by Feb. 20.

Both meetings will provide current information to help you improve your building and health management.

For more information contact the Wayne County Extension Office, 375-3310.

Duane's collection are kept neatly in two large curio cabinets, as well as some smaller cupboards, others sit on the floor, fireplace mantle, furniture and built-in wall shelves.

Duane's wife, JoAnn, says she has tried to thin out her husband's collection for years, but admits that she too has fun watching for new and unique elephants.

"I collect them — JoAnn cleans them," is Duane's motto.

IN ADDITION to the elephants, Duane has begun collecting bird ornaments for his wife and now owns over a dozen. "I thought JoAnn should have a collection of her own."

Duane and JoAnn also started purchasing glass eggs recently.

"I'm just a pack rat" smiles Duane. "You never stop looking. There are probably still some elephants out there that I don't have."

According to census officials, the change within this area is reflective of the rest of Nebraska. Reports said only 10 of Nebraska's counties gained population since 1980. During the 1970s, 42 counties gained population compared with 25 counties during the 1960s. Most of the changes in population was reflected in the more populous eastern portion of the state.

Officials cautioned that the greatest statewide decreases in population were in towns with populations of less than 100 persons.

OTHER AREA towns which also experienced declines in population include: Wayne, Winside, Wakefield, Carroll and Laurel.

In Carroll, the number of citizens dropped from 246 to 237 for a change of 3.7 percent. Laurel's population declined by 50 residents from 1,031 to 981 for a decline of 4.8 percent.

Wakefield's population also declined from 1,125 residents to 1,082 for a decrease of 3.8 percent. Winside's population changed from 439 residents to 434 residents, which is a change of 1.1 percent. Wayne's population dropped from 5,240 to 4,142 for a 1.9 percent decline.

Selection of Wessel for annual award marks a good choice

When the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce announced its selection of citizen of the year in Wayne Sunday, the selection of Dr. Wayne Wessel for the honor was a good one.

Wessel, who has been in Wayne since 1963, has given so much of himself to the community that the award he received is only a small way we can say thanks to people like him for the leadership they've provided.

Such is the case with past years' recipients. Each of the individuals who have been honored by the chamber of commerce in the past have given unconditionally of themselves to the community. The leadership each of the recipients have given, and continue to give, is something every one of us should take note of. Without leadership, a community would wander aimlessly as a dog in search of an elusive bone.

It is because of the leadership shown by those honored by the chamber that Wayne continues to thrive. It is a result of their leadership that we enjoy the luxuries of life other communities would kill for and it is thanks to their continued efforts that we can believe in the city in which we live.

Congratulations not only goes out to Dr. Wayne Wessel, but to the selection committee and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce for choosing him.

Cable TV networks having trouble finding new gulf news to report

If you haven't paid much attention to events in the Persian Gulf this past week, not much has been happening other than the continuation of air raids and the furthering of the propaganda war between the U.S. and Iraqi governments.

While many in Wayne are supportive of U.S. forces in the Persian Gulf, the war is bringing out a bad side of the broadcast media.

Over the past week, the events in the Persian Gulf have provided the networks — particularly CNN — with little to report since not much militarily has happened. With this being the case, they are turning to analysts reports of the crisis and live reports by one of their correspondents assigned to Baghdad.

The Cable News Network is losing focus of its objective of having a reporter in Baghdad: to report the news not be the maker of it. If Iraqi censors are so strict about what CNN can report, there's little use of having him there. Unfortunately, one of the faults of TV journalism that objectivity and accuracy becomes second hand to subjective descriptions of the pictures.

Now that we can see it in our own living rooms, this is the exact same reason why we have voiced an opinion against the Whittle Channel One network in the Wayne Public Schools. Subjective journalism is a far cry from objective, accurate journalism and there is a difference.

For news, the newspapers are still the best place to look.

Personality Profile

Matthew Polhamus
special agent
The Prudential

Family: Sheryl, 29 owns The Headquarters; Joel David, 6; Justin James, 3.

What aspects of your job do you enjoy the most: Helping people solve their financial problems and helping them set up budgets to plan for retirement.

What job or occupation are you sure you would not like? Why: Medical doctor. The first time I lost a patient or had a patient I could do no more for would hurt too bad. It takes a very special and caring person to be an excellent doctor; like our doctors in Wayne.

What recently made you laugh out loud: Joel's smile after he lost his front tooth last week.

What would you like to accomplish if you were governor of Nebraska or president of the United States: Lower gas taxes from the obscene level of 46 cents a gallon. Teach the spendacrats in Congress and their unicameral what a budget means and lower the terrible tax burden of the working middle class. Over 50 percent of our income goes to taxes.

What's your favorite hobby? Why: Flying. The freedom, excitement of precision and aerobically flying is undescrivable. The joy of flight has to be experienced to understand. Ask Orin Zach.

What is the most unusual or daring activity you would try ... if you had the courage or nerve: Air to air combat under war conditions in a F-16, FA-18 or ground support mission in a A-10 Warthog.

Briefly explain your ideal vacation: Flying around the world's greatest country — America. Two months of flying place to place with Sheryl, Joel and Justin. I'm afraid though, I'd fly and Sheryl would take the bus.

What do you remember most about being 10-years-old: Moving from a tiny house with a small yard to a new house that seemed huge and had three acres of land. Also, starting at a new school that year.

How would your friends describe you to strangers: Is this where I'm supposed to brag about myself? I would hope they would use terms like honest, caring, kind, friendly and helpful. Most likely, they'd say "Matt who?"

NEBRASKA TIMELINE

Growers' associations, promoting the raising of various crops, have long been an active part of Nebraska's agricultural scene. One of the more unusual of these groups was the Nebraska Tobacco Growers Association.

A rare document in the collections of the Nebraska State Historical Society is the published proceedings of the second meeting of the organization held Feb. 20, 1892, in Schuyler. Nineteen farmers attended, along with J.M. Estes, special tobacco expert of the Department of Agriculture in Washington. The proceedings confirm that Nebraska farmers, particularly several in the Platte Valley near Fremont and Schuyler, experimented with tobacco as a cash crop.

Evidently the first grower of tobacco in Nebraska was George E. Godfrey of Fremont. Godfrey had raised tobacco in Wisconsin before moving to Nebraska, and by 1892 he had "four or five tons of his own growing" in storage. He testified that land which would produce a good corn crop was suitable for tobacco. After sampling a cigar made entirely of tobacco grown in Colfax County, Nebraska, Godfrey pronounced it to be of a very good color, with excellent flavor. Two of the largest plots of Nebraska tobacco had been cultivated by H.W. Nieman and N.W. Wells, and C.J. Phelps, all of the Schuyler area.

The growers discussed various seed varieties and methods of cultivation. They agreed that storage of the crop could be provided initially by altering buildings already present on the farm. After the Nebraska tobacco industry was sufficiently developed, warehouses could be built for more centralized storage and processing.

Persian Gulf alters focus

Baltics need attention also

As the eyes of the world, and certainly people in this country, focus on the Persian Gulf, I think it is important that we be aware of what is apparently about to happen in the Baltic States. That is, they are about to feel the heel of Soviet aggression and oppression. I say "aggression" because the Baltic States were illegally annexed to the Soviet Union as a result of the infamous Molotov-Ribbentrop pact of World War II. The United States government has never recognized the legitimacy of the annexation of the three States of Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania.

In recent days Soviet General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev has moved to tighten his control of the seven breakaway republics that are seeking true self-determination. His reprisals against the tiny Baltic States of Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia are particularly severe, and seem to be designed to punish the states that have been in the forefront of the self-determination movement. Throughout the Baltic States, Soviet paratroopers have been conducting sweeps for the tens of thousands of young men who have refused to enter the Soviet Army. These young men had been given permission by their legitimate governments to perform public service in lieu of two years in the Soviet Army. It has become increasingly clear, however, that Gorbachev intends to put an end to this practice.

There are other ominous signs. In Lithuania, army troops have surrounded the legislative buildings, the printing plants, and the television stations. In Latvia, Interior Ministry forces took control of the country's printing facilities, denying both the local press and the Latvian Government the ability to publish material. Perhaps the most ominous, Gorbachev has suggested that he would extend "Presidential rule" to the Baltic States. Under Presidential rule

Keeping in Touch

By Cong. Doug Bereuter

Gorbachev could disband the national parliaments and ban demonstrations and political groups, effectively putting an end to the self-determination process.

Deputy Secretary of State Eagleburger summoned the Soviet Ambassador to express our Government's grave concerns about this crackdown. As Mr. Eagleburger rightly told the Soviet Ambassador, continued repression would almost certainly disrupt United States-Soviet relations.

These three Baltic States, along with Moldavia, have a legitimate case to be exempt from Gorbachev's actions to keep the Soviet Union together. We understand the Soviet President, Gorbachev needs to draw a line against the disintegration of his nation yet that line could and should be drawn to let the people of the Baltic States go free.

Mr. Gorbachev should know that America will not watch quietly. If, in fact, he comes down hard upon them and destroys their independence movement. This will severely damage Soviet-American relations. In the strongest possible terms I have urged the Soviets not to take action against the people of the Baltic States. Let them go free and explain quite clearly to the people of the Soviet Union that such action is not a precedent for the dissolution of the Soviet Union as these three Baltic States and Moldavia were illegally added to the U.S.S.R. during the World War II era.

Clean desk messes up orderliness

Some might say that the sign of an organized person is a messy desk. While I think that's true, last week that messy appearance got to be too much so I cleaned off my desk.

Now I can't find anything. Growing up, I remember my Dad's desk, both at the office and at home, was always a mess. Neither Mom nor I could find anything on it, nor could my brothers or sister.

Today, I can understand why my Dad could always find what he was looking for. The mess on his desk was his own and he knew where everything was. While I can say this for Dad, the reverse was always the case for Mom. Her desk was always cluttered and she seldomly could find anything (the same is true today but now everything is stored in a file cabinet in her PhD room.)

A GOOD EXAMPLE of a desk which is always clean is the president's desk we see in Washington, D.C. Perhaps, there's an ironic twist there. Since his desk is always clean, does it mean he (along with the rest of the government) is disorganized? That's just a thought but you can't help but ponder the ramifications of it.

Just once I'd like to see the president of the United States broadcast from the oval office with a messy desk. That would probably be a good place to start.

ANYWAY, BACK to my story. Last week, the piles of piles on my desk got to be too much. While each pile had its own, definite distinction, it was ugly and I couldn't remember the last time I saw my desk top. While the debris on top of my desk merited some value, I couldn't make the sense of leaving it the way it appeared.

In addition, there were several months where I had accumulated manila file folders from various undeterminable sources so I decided, "what the heck, let's use these puppies for the purpose they were made."

Now that I did, I have to search through each of them to find what I'm looking for.

IN THE PROCESS of tackling the monumental task, I did find several messages which had been relayed to me. You'll be glad to know that I remember when all those appointments were despite the fact they were all held a minimum of two months ago.

The nice thing about cleaning off my desk and filing them into distinct folders is that these folders are now all labeled. Really, there's not many folders on file but the ones I have will definitely help keep me in order even if I won't be able to find anything for which I'm looking.

Since it's now time to conclude this column, which my parents have also referred to as their letter home each week, I will start on the authoring of my next project — if I can find it.

Senators focus on debate

LINCOLN - With the conclusion of bill introductions last week, Senators have turned their attention to public hearings and legislative debates. Several of the bills introduced this session have already been withdrawn, indefinitely postponed (killed) or merged with other bills that have addressed the same issue. However, numerous bills on a variety of topics still await public hearings and a chance to be heard on the floor of the legislature.

The Government, Military, and Veterans Affairs Committee of which I am chairman, is currently in the process of hearing testimony on well over one hundred bills that have been referenced to our committee. We are trying to hear a minimum of seven bills each day in order for us to have our work complete by the first part of March when the legislature begins working the entire day debating on the Legislature floor.

A bill that I reintroduced this year, LB 313, was advanced out of committee on Wednesday. The bill provides that upon request a POW/MIA flag will be displayed on or near a public building. The bill will also provide an American flag for presentation during the funeral services for active National Guardsmen or for those honorably discharged after twenty years of service. This bill has the support of the Nebraska National Guard and numerous veteran groups throughout the state.

This past week, debate began on the floor of the legislature on a bill I co-authored, LB 88, the Tort Reform Act. As I indicated to you in this column last week, this bill will change existing law to allow recovery of damages based on a percentage of negligence determined by a jury. No action was taken on this bill but I expect further debate in the upcoming weeks.

'Parking stinks'

This overnight parking stinks in this town; it's just another way to rip off everyone. While the fine isn't much, you have to add the court costs and it's amazing how much they make in one year. People who come to visit have no place to park. They say we are a thriving city, so why don't they act like it and add 24 hour parking?

I know it will cut the city's revenue if we don't have to send police around at night and put tickets on cars.

On Thursday, Jan. 31, Governor Nelson presented his first State of the State address to the Unicameral. This is his opportunity to tell the legislators, as well as all Nebraskans, the direction that he wants to take the state during the upcoming year.

The Governor used his State of the State address to present his budget recommendations for the next biennium. This will be the second two-year budget that the state will implement. Beginning in 1989, the state began a two-year budgeting process that enables the administration and the legislature to plan a budget more wisely. With state revenues not reaching projections, talk of a recession, and uncertainty in the Persian Gulf, the budgeting process will be a more difficult task.

In his message, the Governor presented his budget with three basic criteria in mind: stability of tax rates, affordability, and equity and balance to the needs of all Nebraskans. He recommended that all current programs of state government be reduced by two percent and that all state aid programs other than entitlements be reduced across the board by one percent. He also recommended both increases and other reductions in specific areas of the budget.

During the legislative session the budget will be scrutinized overwhelmingly by the legislature and even though we will most likely reach the same bottom line, many adjustments will be made during our deliberations.

The GOLDEN YEARS

Suppose you are in your sixties and the unique little restaurant you own is about to be isolated by a new highway. What would you do? In a real-life case, the owner loaded his car with sample spices and the pressure-cookers he used to make his specialty, and he sold others on his original restaurant were springing up all over the country. A decade later, when he sold the chain, there were 600 franchises. Today, there are 8,000. And in Corbin, Kentucky, one of the earliest units, now has been turned into a museum honoring the founder: "Colonel" Harland Sanders, who died in 1980. His fried chicken may not have become world famous if a new highway hadn't turned him to new horizons when he was 65 years old.

An 81-year-old retired accountant who spends afternoons doing volunteer work for the March of Dimes, explained why. "Retirement should not relegate one to the rocking-chair brigade. Working as a volunteer...gives me a pleasant satisfaction that I am contributing to a very worthwhile cause even if only in a small way. This all adds up to a feeling of still being productive."

Remember When? February 19, 1960 — Britain celebrated the birth of Prince Andrew, the first baby born to a British monarch since 1857. He is the third child and second son of Queen Elizabeth II.

Wakefield captures Conference Title

The Wakefield Trojans boys basketball team repeated as Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament champs Saturday afternoon and got revenge at the same time with a 49-42 victory over Bancroft-Rosalie in Rice Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State College.

Wakefield, now 18-2 on the season, suffered a one point loss to Bancroft-Rosalie in the second game of the season at Bancroft. The Trojans used an aggressive defense which forced the Panthers into taking shots they normally do not like to take.

Wakefield led 13-11 after the first quarter of play but Bancroft-Rosalie grabbed a 23-21 half time advantage. Depth played a key role in the game as Wakefield had it, and Bancroft didn't.

"We had a little more depth than they did," Wakefield coach Paul Eaton said. "That plus the fact we hit our free throws were the keys to the game." The Trojans connected on 11 of 12 free throw attempts in the games final six minutes which sealed the Panthers fate and gave the Trojans its second consecutive championship, both of which came at the hands of Bancroft-Rosalie.

Wakefield out scored the Panthers 12-6 in the third period to take a 33-29 advantage into the fourth quarter. Every Bancroft run was answered by the Trojans and when Wakefield made a run Anthony Brown was usually at the center of focus.

The junior guard led all scorers in the contest with 21 points and was Wakefield's only scorer in double figures. Keith Wenstrand followed with eight while Matt Krusemark and Marcus Tappe netted six each. Ben Dutton scored four points while Steve Clark and Doug Stanton scored two points apiece.

Chad Hoefs led Bancroft with 11 points while Matt Richardson scored 10. Brandon Slaughter was held below his season average, scoring just eight points.

Wakefield will host Coleridge Friday night in the Trojans final home game of the season. Wakefield will close out its regular season schedule at Lyons-Decatur on the 11th and at Homer on the 15th.

THE WAKEFIELD TROJANS were crowned as Lewis & Clark Conference Basketball Champs for the second year in a row Saturday in Rice Auditorium following a seven point win over Bancroft-Rosalie.

Winside grapplers win at Clearwater

The Winside wrestling team closed out their regular season schedule Saturday at the Clearwater Invitational and they did so in fine fashion by completing dominating the field with 212 points while runner-up Elgin Pope John Central Catholic netted 133 points.

Plainview finished third in the meet with 94 while Osmond placed fourth with 85 1/2 points. Clearwater/Ewing was fifth with 678 and Creighton's reserves were sixth with 64. Albion's reserves were seventh with 53 and an Unattached team placed eighth with 38. Elgin/Petersburg was ninth with 30. The Neligh reserves placed 10th with 29 and Dodge/Howells rounded out the field with 23.

The Wildcats placed nine individuals in the finals and seven emerged as champions and perhaps the only reason that number of champions wasn't eight was because two Winside grapplers made it to the finals in the same division in the heavyweight category.

Another oddity for Winside was that eleven weight classes placed but yet 13 wrestlers medaled. That's because in the heavy weight division Paul Sok's troops placed three individuals as Brian Thompson pinned teammate Trevor Topp in the finals and Donny Nelson placed fourth.

The seven champions for the Wildcats included Thompson, Jason Krueger at 189, Keny Jaeger at 160, Shane Frahm at 145, Doug Heinemann at 130, Chad Carlson at 119 and Mark Janssen at 112.

Jason Magwire at 140 and Trevor Topp earned runner-up finishes and Jason Topp grabbed the lone third place finish for the Wildcats. Kyle Frederick, filling in for the ill Jeff Gallop, placed fourth at 152 and as already mentioned Donny Nelson placed fourth at heavy weight.

So how did the Wildcats look on the day? "We had an excellent week of practice leading up to the Clearwater Invitational," Sok said. "Obviously we had a pretty good day, scoring over 200 points."

Sok was especially pleased with Jason Krueger who he said wrestled with good control, and with the performance of Jason Topp who has become a consistent point getter for the Wildcats the last half of the season.

"I thought we only had a couple of matches in which we lost that I felt we should have won going into the match," Sok said. "I believe we are right at where we should be heading into districts."

Winside will travel to the district tournament in Newman Grove on Friday and Saturday. The top four individual placers in each weight class qualify for the state wrestling tournament in Lincoln on Feb. 14-16.

Future Stars season continues

WAYNE-The Future Stars Basketball League continued Saturday at Wayne High with girls and boys play. In girls action it was the Bulls downing the Wildcats by a 26-22 margin as Nikki Newman led the winners with four points. Megan Meyer led the Wildcats with 10.

Also, it was the Pistons defeating the Lakers, 24-21 as Becca Dorcey led the winners with four points. Alycia Jorgensen led the Lakers with five points.

In third and fourth grade boys play it was the Pistons defeating the Bulls, 23-21. Matt Munsell led the winners with six points while Ryan Haase had six points for the Bulls. The Spurs defeated the Cheetahs, 18-13 as Ryan Dahl scored six points. Joel Munson led the Cheetahs with four points.

In fifth and sixth grade boys action it was the Pistons over the Bulls, 37-16 as Nick Vanhorn led the way with 12 points. David Enz led the Bulls with four points. The Hawks defeated the Knicks, 36-25 with Paul Blomenkamp leading the way with 16 points. Matt Meyer led the Knicks with six.

WSC thinclads in action

WAYNE-A partial Wayne State track team traveled to take part in the Nebraska Wesleyan Invitational Saturday in Lincoln. In mens action Lee Harper leaped his way to a first place finish in the long jump with a 22-9 1/2 effort. The Wildcats finished fourth in the team race with 34 points. Wesleyan won the meet with 121 points.

Marlon Goolsby recorded WSC's next highest finish as he sprinted to a second place time of 6.4 in the 60 meter dash. Scott Fleming placed fifth in the same event with a 6.7 effort.

Rich Carstensen finished third in the two mile run with a time of 10:28.0 while teammate Brian Hunke finished third in the 60 meter hurdles with an effort of 8.2. Wayne's sprint medley relay team finished third with a 3:48.0 clocking and the 4x400 relay team finished fourth in a time of 3:42.0.

In women's action the Wildcats scored 24 points to place fourth. Wesleyan won its own invitational with 112 points. Stacy Dieckman won the shot put with a 40-9 toss while teammate Tracy Dittman placed fifth in the same event with a 39-1 toss of the shot put.

The Wildcats 4x440 meter relay team placed third with a 4:31.3 effort while the sprint medley relay team placed fourth in a time of 4:55.1. Jennifer Robotham placed fourth in the 60 meter hurdles with a 9.1 clocking while Roni Jackson placed sixth in the long jump with a 15-11 3/4 effort.

Winside girls defeated by Walthill

WINSIDE-Paul Giesselmann's Winside girls basketball team played a make-up game against Walthill Monday night in Winside and the host team had very little to cheer about as Winside was blasted, 66-40.

"This was our worst game of the year defensively," Giesselmann said as his Wildcats fell to 7-7. "Whatever we tried to do failed because Walthill was just shooting lights out. You have to give them credit for the way they shot the ball."

Winside trailed 22-11 after one quarter of play and 37-24 at the intermission. The visitors out scored Winside 29-16 in the second half. Winside was 5-10 from the free throw line while Walthill connected on 12 of 22. The visitors out rebounded the Wildcats, 47-31.

Winside was led in scoring by Wendy Rabe with 12 points. Christi Mundil followed with nine and Kari Pichler tossed in seven. Kelly Pichler scored six and Shannon Holdorf added four. Holly Holdorf rounded out the attack with two.

Rabe led the team in rebounds with nine and Kelly Pichler dished out four assists despite the loss.

ANTHONY BROWN stops and pops for two of his game high 21 points against Bancroft on Saturday during the finals of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament.

Wayne uses defense to beat Stanton by 10

The Wayne girls basketball team notched one of their most impressive wins of the season Tuesday night in Stanton as they defeated the Fillies, 42-32 which improved the season record to 8-10. The Blue Devils came out and hit their first four shots from the field to take a quick 8-0 lead before Stanton closed to within one at the end of the quarter at 12-11.

"We really played a good game," Wayne coach Marlene Uhing said. "We played real flat in the conference tournament after coming off a big win at Cedar Catholic and now after the conference tournament we knew we had three tough games left in the regular season and that we had to play well to even have a chance and that's what we did against Stanton."

Wayne led 22-19 at the intermission and maintained that three point advantage after three quarters of play but the Blue Devil defense stifled Stanton in the fourth quarter as the Fillies managed just two points in the final eight minutes.

Liz Reeg led the Blue Devils with 19 points while Jennifer Hammer and Danielle Nelson scored six apiece. Susie Ensz and Erin Pick rounded out the attack with five and four points respectively.

Wayne also won the battle of the boards, 29-17 as Reeg hauled down nine caroms while Hammer recorded eight. Amy Wriedt came off the bench and contributed by notching five steals.

The Blue Devils were 10 of 15 from the free throw line while Stanton was 0-2. Wayne committed 16 turnovers but forced Stanton into 19.

The Wayne reserves fell 43-39 despite the 12 points of Tami Schluns and five rebounds of Jenny Thomsen.

Winside teams split contests at Wynot

The Winside girls basketball team upped their record to 8-7 Tuesday night with a convincing 46-31 victory over Wynot in Wynot. It was the third time this season that Winside defeated Wynot and the Wildcats will see them once more on Monday night in the first round of the sub-district tournament in Randolph.

"We played a great game," Winside coach Paul Giesselmann said. "Wynot is a tough place to go and play but we managed to keep up our defensive pressure the whole game and it paid off for us."

The Wildcats trailed 11-9 after the first quarter but grabbed an 18-17 lead at the intermission. In the second half it proved to be all Winside as the Wildcats out scored the host team, 28-16.

"We made one little offensive adjustment at half time and it really worked for us," Giesselmann said. "I just can't say enough about our girls after we played so bad against Walthill and to turn around one night later on the road and play like we did at Wynot."

Although the Wildcats scored just 46 points they had three in double figures led by senior guard Kelly Pichler who poured in 15. Wendy Rabe followed with 14 and freshman Christi Mundil chipped in with 13. Holly Holdorf rounded out the scoring with four points.

Winside was out rebounded 54-44 but it wasn't because of Wendy Rabe as the junior center hauled down 19 caroms. Holly Holdorf recorded eight rebounds while Kari Pichler dished out five assists. Kelly Pichler had four assists but also recorded seven steals.

The Winside boys were not as fortunate as the girls in Wynot as Randy Geier's troops fell, 73-46. Wynot raced to a 19-7 lead after one quarter of play and never looked back as they led 42-20 at the half.

"Wynot shot lights out in the first half," Geier said. "They hit over 60 percent of their first half shot attempts." Winside was led by Matt Brogren who scored 15 points and hauled down 13 boards. Tad Behmer was also in double figures with 10 points.

On Monday night the Wildcat boys were defeated 71-59 by Walthill in Winside. Matt Brogren, Tad Behmer and Mark Brugger all scored 11 points apiece in the contest while Cory Jensen netted 10. Mark Brugger led the team in rebounds with 15 while Brogren hauled down 10 caroms.

Winside trailed 22-15 after the first quarter and 40-33 at the half. Walthill out scored the host Wildcats 31-26 in the second half to post the 12 point win.

Wayne upsets foe

The Wayne Blue Devils may have been a little surprised at who their opponent was in Saturday's consolation game of the Northern Activities Conference Tournament but that didn't detract from a poised effort by the Blue Devils as they upset South Sioux, 56-54 to even their season record at 8-8.

South Sioux, the pre-tournament favorite went home winless in the annual conference tourney after being upset by Cedar Catholic on Friday night and Wayne on Saturday.

Wayne came out fired up and was beating South Sioux at their own game with quickness and aggressive defense. The Blue Devils sprinted to an 11-0 lead and led 21-10 after one quarter of play.

The Blue Devils out scored South Sioux 12-6 in the second quarter to enjoy a 33-16 advantage at the break but South Sioux didn't fold and they came out and out scored Wayne, 20-13 in the third quarter to draw the game to within 10 points heading into the fourth and final period.

The Cardinals again had the advantage in the fourth quarter by out scoring the Blue Devils 18-10 but it wasn't enough as Blake Hirschback's eight foot jumper at the buzzer, rimmed away.

The Blue Devils biggest lead of the game was 18 points but foul trouble for Wayne led to South Sioux's come back attempt which nearly ended in an overtime battle.

"Our starters are good players," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "It's just that we have to make sure they stay in the game. A lot of times we get into trouble because we try and rest on defense and then foul because we are playing defense with our hands and not our feet."

One thing the Blue Devils did not lack in Saturday's game was senior leadership as Jeff Griesch and Brian Lentz played very good games from their starting positions and Aaron Wilson came off the bench and did a nice job of hitting the boards and even played a vital role down the stretch by hitting a bucket off an offensive rebound.

The game was tied at 54 apiece with 11 seconds left in regulation when Jeff Griesch was fouled and sent to the free throw line where he connected on both attempts which were the eventual game winners.

Griesch finished the contest with a game high 22 points while sophomore point guard Bobby Barnes, who also played a fine game, poured in 14 including two 3-pointers. Kyle Dahl and Regg Carnes each scored six points while Aaron Wilson and Brian Lentz netted four each.

Wayne notched two 3-pointers in the game while South Sioux connected on six from long range. The Blue Devils were 12-22 from the foul line while South Sioux was 10-13. Wayne did dominate the boards, 39-27 but committed 22 turnovers compared to 16 by South Sioux.

Griesch also led the Devils in rebounds with 10 caroms while Lentz and Dahl hauled down eight boards apiece. Wayne will travel to play Madison on Friday.

BRIAN LENTZ leaps high above teammate Kyle Dahl for a rebound during Wayne's consolation upset win over South Sioux City in Wayne Saturday.

Wayne girls drop two at home

Marlene Uhing's Wayne girls basketball team did not fare very well in the Northern Activities Conference Tournament played Friday and Saturday at Wayne High as they dropped a pair of games, thus falling to 7-10 on the season.

On Friday the Devils fell, 55-44 to South Sioux in the first round. The Lady Blue Devils suffered a dismal outing in shooting from the field, connecting on only two of their first 16 shots while South Sioux was hitting about every thing they put up.

"We ended up shooting just 33 percent for the game," Uhing said, "while South Sioux shot 23-37 for 62 percent on our floor." Uhing did note however, that many of South Sioux's shots were lay ups.

Wayne trailed 9-4 after the first quarter and 28-21 at the intermission. South Sioux led 38-27 after three quarters of play and both teams played even in the fourth quarter.

"We had chances to really cut into the lead," Uhing said, "We forced them into several turnovers toward the end of the third quarter but we couldn't convert the easy shots."

Uhing said her team played very hard during the game but they were not mentally into the contest. Danielle Nelson recorded Wayne's only 3-pointer in the game while South Sioux's Stacy McArthur drained two of the long range bonus shots.

The Devils were 11 of 17 from the free throw line while South Sioux was 7-12. Wayne out rebounded the Lady Cardinals, 30-27 but committed 16 turnovers compared to 11 by the visitors.

Liz Reeg led Wayne in the scoring column with 16 points while Jennifer Hammer and Danielle Nelson scored nine apiece. Susie Ensz added six points while Amy Wriedt and Erin Pick netted two each.

Hammer and Reeg were also the leading rebounders in the contest with 10 and seven boards respectively.

On Saturday afternoon in the consolation game the Blue Devils were defeated by O'Neill for the second time this season, 50-45. Wayne trailed 8-0 just three minutes into the game and the Devils trailed, 16-6 at the quarters end.

Wayne came alive however in the second quarter both offensively and defensively as they held the Lady Eagles to four points while scoring 17 to lead 23-20 at the break.

"We got a couple of the O'Neill girls in foul trouble in the second quarter which helped us," Uhing said, "I felt we had too many unforced turnovers which I really felt was the difference in the game."

O'Neill out scored the Blue Devils 17-9 in the third quarter to take a five point lead into the fourth quarter where both teams played to an even 13 all. Danielle Nelson hit Wayne's lone three point bucket of the game while Kara Putnam did likewise for the Eagles.

The Devils were 12-17 from the charity stripe while O'Neill was five of nine. Wayne dominated the boards, 28-14 but again committed more turnovers than their opponent, 24-18.

Liz Reeg led the Wayne scoring attack with 22 points while Jennifer Hammer poured in 13. Danielle Nelson scored eight points and Amy Wriedt rounded out the attack with a deuce.

Hammer and Reeg each finished with seven rebounds to lead Wayne while Reeg also dished out five assists. "Overall, I thought we were flat throughout the tournament," Uhing said. "We have to not only be ready to play each game physically, but mentally as well."

Wildcat women win home finale

The Wayne State women's basketball team was victorious in their final home outing of the season Saturday night with an 84-66 victory over visiting Adams State College of Colorado.

In the men's game which followed the women's contest, the Wildcats were defeated, 72-57.

Mike Barry's women's squad improved to 11-12 with their victory which saw eleven of twelve Wildcats score. Wayne State led 42-29 at the half and out scored the Lady Indians 42-37 in the second half even though the deficit had reach just five points at the 12:38 mark at 54-49.

Jodi Otjen led the Wildcats in the scoring column with 16 points while Mary Schnitzler poured in 14. Cyndi Savage netted 11 points while Linda Heller was the fourth Wildcat in double figures with 10.

Lisa Chamberlin and Lisa Schwab each scored seven points while Cheri VanAuker, Dana Olmsted, Kairi Backer and Kerri VanVeldhuizen all scored four apiece. Amy Rueger rounded out the scoring with three points. Wayne State connected on 30 of 76 shots for nearly 40 percent while the visitors were 26 of 66 for 39 percent. The Wildcats were 20 of 31 from the free throw line and Adams State was 8-10.

The Wildcats were just that on the boards as they out rebounded the Lady Indians, 56-36 led by Kerri VanVeldhuizen's 10 caroms. Jodi Otjen hauled down nine boards and Mary Schnitzler had seven as did Lisa Chamberlin. Wayne State dished out a team total of 18 assists in the game as Schnitzler and Schwab each had four. WSC also committed just 13 turnovers while forcing the visitors into 19. Schnitzler and Schwab also led the team in steals with three apiece while Otjen had two steals and blocked three shots.

The Wildcat men trailed Adams State by seven at the intermission at 36-29 and were out scored in the second half, 36-28 as they fell to 7-15 on the season.

The story line to this contest was the hot shooting of the Indians who connected on 29 of 52 attempts including nine 3-pointers for 55.8 percent while the home team WSC connected on 19 of 47 shots and five 3-pointers, for 40 percent.

Wayne State did hit 14 of 20 free throws for 70 percent while Adams State was 5-6 from the charity stripe. Chad West led Wayne State in scoring with 16 points including four 3-pointers while Don Smith added 10.

Doug Kuzak finished with eight points and Gerry Sagehorn scored seven. Casey Gates and Ricky Watson netted four apiece and Todd Dusenberry rounded out the scoring with two.

The Wildcats did win the battle of the boards, 31-27 as Don Smith led the way with six caroms while Chad West hauled down five. Wayne State committed 17 turnovers compared to 11 by Adams State.

Laurel boys lose to Coleridge

LAUREL-Mark Hrabik's Laurel Bears fell to 0-16 on the season Monday night losing to Coleridge at Laurel, 63-49. The visiting Bulldogs jumped out to an 18-7 lead after one quarter of play and led the Bears 36-27 at the intermission.

In the third quarter Coleridge doubled the score on Laurel, 18-9 to take a 54-36 lead into the fourth quarter before Laurel out scored the Bulldogs 13-9 in the final eight minutes.

The Bears hit four 3-pointers in the game while Coleridge connected on two. Laurel was 5-11 from the free throw line while the Bulldogs were 15-23. Coleridge also out rebounded the winless Bears, 26-20.

Andy Smith led Laurel in scoring with 14 points while teammates Dean Heydon and Justin Swanson poured in 10 each. Bruce Haisch added eight points and Kris Krie scored three as did Nick Strawn. Travis Monson rounded out the attack with a free throw.

Heydon and Haisch each hauled down five rebounds to lead the Bears on the boards. The Laurel reserves improved to 7-6 on the season with a 58-50 win in the pre-lims.

Hrabik advances in free throw contest

LAUREL-Stephanie Hrabik, eight year old daughter of Laurel boys basketball coach Mark Hrabik, advanced to the state Elks Hoop Shoot Contest to be held in Kearney. Hrabik won the school competition before advancing to the area competition in Norfolk where she won again.

Hrabik then traveled to York for the district competition and won again, thus advancing to state. Hrabik is one of six girls her age across the state who advanced to the state tournament.

Hrabik connected on 17 of 25 free throw attempts from eleven feet at the district meet which was good enough to win the competition and advance to the state competition.

If Hrabik should be lucky enough to win the state meet she would qualify for the national Elks Hoop Shoot Competition to be held in Denver.

All-Conference tourney team announced

WAYNE-Upon the completion of the Northern Activities Conference Tournament in Wayne, the all-tournament teams were announced for the girls and the boys.

Making the girls team was Amy Brodersen of O'Neill, Kristen Krause and Courtney Heimes of Cedar Catholic, Kelli Bartels of South Sioux and Liz Reeg of Wayne. The boys team consisted of Ryan Samelson and Kurt Thone of Cedar Catholic, Blake Hirschbach of South Sioux, Brandon Schmeichel of O'Neill and Jeff Griesch of Wayne.

Freshman tourney to be held Saturday

WAYNE-The Wayne ninth grade girls and boys basketball teams will travel to Hartington this Saturday for a freshman tournament. Both the Wayne girls and boys will play South Sioux in the first round beginning with the girls at 9 a.m. followed by the boys at 10:15 a.m. at Hartington High.

Allen gals down Wausa

ALLEN-The Allen Lady Eagles defeated Wausa, 51-45 Saturday night in Allen. Lori Koester and Gary Erwin saw their team come back from a one point half time deficit to post the six point win.

Cindy Chase led the Eagles with 23 points while Heather Sachau poured in 17. Denise Boyle and Sonya Plueger each netted four and Robin Schroeder finished with three points. Both Boyle and Plueger led the team in rebounds with 12 apiece.

Wakefield improves to 13-7 with win

The Wakefield Lady Trojans keep on-breaking records in the 1990-91 basketball season as with every win they earn, they set a new record. Gregg Cruickshank's Trojans improved to 13-7 Tuesday night at home against Allen but the home team needed to overcome a nine point fourth quarter deficit and an overtime to record the win.

"We came out a little flat but you have to give Allen a lot of credit," Cruickshank said. "They really played hard." The Eagles led Wakefield 10-5 after the first quarter and 23-20 at the intermission.

In the third quarter Allen out scored the Lady Trojans 18-12 to take a nine point lead into the final period. "We turned up our intensity a notch in the fourth quarter," Cruickshank said. "Don't ask me why we didn't do it earlier but we didn't."

Wakefield used a 19-10 scoring advantage in the fourth period to force the overtime. "We felt we were in total control for three quarters," Allen coaches Lori Koester and Dale Erwin said. "We gave up some easy buckets right away in the fourth quarter and Wakefield hit nine free throws in the period which helped their come back as well."

Allen did suffer some foul trouble in the fourth quarter and with two minutes to go in regulation they lost Denise Boyle. Then in the overtime they lost Sonya Plueger which did not help their cause.

Wakefield was led in scoring by Lisa Biecke with 24 points. Wendy Kratke and Kristen Miller also had good games with 14 and 12 points respectively. Heidi Muller and Sarah Salmon each scored two points and Lisa Anderson netted one.

Cindy Chase and Heather Sachau led Allen with 17 points apiece while Denise Boyle poured in 12. Sonya Plueger added three and Carla Stapleton and Robin Schroeder netted two each.

The difference in the game was the 28 turnovers by Allen compared to 23 by Wakefield.

CYNDI SAVAGE GRIMACES as she stretches for the rebound during Wayne States 18 point win over Adams State College Saturday at Wayne State. Savage scored 11 points.

The parents of the Wayne High Wrestlers want to wish Coach Murtaugh and the Blue Devils GOOD LUCK IN THE DISTRICT TOURNAMENT! We're with you all the way!

One of four teams honored is from area

LINCOLN - Four teams of Cooperative Extension personnel were recognized here Tuesday (Jan. 8) for excellence in programming.

Kenneth Bolen, dean and director of Cooperative Extension at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, presented certificates to team members in recognition of their work on long-term extension programs. The representations were made at an Extension faculty meeting. The winners were:

- The Northeast Five Extension Programming Unit extension home economics agents for their project "Good Nutrition - A Life-time Decision." Extension agent team members were Carol Schwarz, now Buffalo County and formerly Cedar County extension agent; Carol Larvick, Dakota County; Anna Marie White, formerly Dixon County extension agent; Nancy Lang, Thurston County; Mary Temme, formerly Wayne County extension agent, and Karen Wermers, Dixon County. The Two-year program reached consumers in the five-county area with information on recommended nutrition programs for heart, fiber, calories and calcium. Information was distributed in local media in an area grocery stores to 27,000 people.

- The Metro Extension Programming Unit Youth at Risk team for its "Growing Up Female" program. Team members were Maureen Burson, Lancaster County extension agent; Susan Williams, Saunders County; Mary Nelson, Sarpy County; Cynthia Hendricks, Douglas County; and Gary Gerhard, UNL-extension specialist in 4-H and youth development.

Their project is aimed at improving trust between mothers and daughters.

- The Logan Creek Special

Study Team, for its program to reduce soil erosion within a 50,000-acre target area in northeastern Nebraska. Extension team members are David Shelton, extension biological systems engineer, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord; Elbert Dickey, extension biological systems engineer, UNL; David Biere, formerly extension engineer at Concord; Andrew Christiansen, former Thurston County extension agent chair; Larry Howard, Cuming County extension agent; Paul Jasa, UNL extension engineer; Franklin Morse, Dakota and Thurston counties extension agent chair; Phil Rzewnicki, former Cuming County extension agent chair, now at UNL.

Staff members of the u.s. Soil Conservation Service and lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District also were recognized.

- The "Oat Production for Multiple Benefits" team, for its project aimed at increased public awareness of the opportunities and benefits of raising oats. Information was provided on yields, fertility needs, disease resistant varieties and seed availability.

Team members were Terry Compert, Knox County extension agent; Ralph Kuhl, Boyd County extension agent; Russell Moomaw, extension soil specialist at Concord; John Watkins, UNL extension plant pathologist; and Roger Hammons and Dennis Thompson of the Nebraska Crop Improvement Association in Lincoln.

Nice day to walk the dogs AS TEMPERATURES HAVE ZOOMED INTO the low- to mid-50s: this past week, many area residents are taking advantage of the situation. Lori Johnson of Wayne, is one of those enjoying warm temperatures as she walks her poodles (from left) Travis, Blackie and Koko. Warm temperatures are supposed to remain in the area for, at least, the next day or so.

Baptisms

Keith Marvin Kleensang

HOSKINS - Keith Marvin Kleensang, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Kleensang of Hoskins, was baptized during worship services Feb. 3 at Trinity Lutheran Church, Hoskins.

Fifth graders visit WSC

WAYNE MIDDLE SCHOOL FIFTH GRADERS (from right) Chris Dyer and Aaron Kardell check out one of a number of preserved animals which have been stored in a jar of formaldehyde. Fifth graders visited the Wayne State College math and science division last week as part of a science excursion. Giving the students a tour was Dr. Ali Hekmatl, a professor in the division.

Andrew Hillier

Hillier awarded funds for college

WAYNE - Andrew Hillier has been awarded a fellowship to attend the University of Minnesota's graduate school of chemical engineering. He is enrolled in a five year doctoral program. The fellowship includes tuition and living expenses.

Hillier graduated from Wayne High School in 1986 and the University of Nebraska in December 1990. He graduated from UNL's honors program summa cum laude and he is the first chemical engineer to receive that honor in UNL's history.

Hillier is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Sid Hillier of Wayne.

FUND RAISER

Approximately 55 persons attended a fund raising five point pitch tournament on Feb. 1 for the Wayne County Old Settlers Celebration, scheduled to take place June 22-23 in Winside.

Approximately $150 was raised at the event.

Winning high prizes were Dan Bowers and Ann Behmer. Low went to Tom Koll and Bonnie Frevert.

Other prizes were won by Dave Warnemunde, Rosemary Mintz, Teri Koll, Bev Voss, George Voss, Yleen Cowan, Dave Jaeger, Ernie Jaeger, Lloyd Behmer and Esther Carlson.

Chairmen for Old Settlers are Lynn and Gloria Lessmann and persons with suggestions regarding the event are asked to contact them.

The committee's next meeting will be Feb. 18.

GIRL SCOUTS

Fifteen members of Winside Girl Scout Troop 179 met Jan. 30 at the fire hall with leaders Melanie Mann and Pat Miller.

Two to attend NWU festival

Winside youth selected for 'Plainsman'

WINSIDE - Two Winside youth have been named to the Nebraska Wesleyan University's annual Plainsman Honors Festival to be held today (Thursday) and Friday.

Named to the honors festival are Kim Cherry, as first flute in the band and Jennifer Puls, as first flute in the band. They join 165 high school students from Nebraska cookies sold by each girl and the incentives they earned. Cookies are expected to arrive by March 1.

The girls will conduct a youth book drive for the Winside library. Persons who have children's books in good shape that the girls can collect are asked to call Pat Miller, 286-4262, or Melanie Mann, 286-4556.

The girls played 20 questions and had a hoola-hoop and yo-yo contest. Sarah Wagner served treats.

Jennifer Wade, reporter.

FAREWELL GIVEN

Dorothy Aurich was honored at her home in Wayne on Jan. 30 with a farewell party by nine members of Scattered Neighbors Home Extension Club.

Dorothy was a member of Scattered Neighbors for 13 years and joined another extension club after recently moving to Wayne.

Games and honeymoon bridge were played. Prizes were won by Doris Marotz, Lajeane Marotz, Lura Stoakes, Lois Krueger and Veryl Jackson. All prizes were forwarded to Dorothy as a gift from the club.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Carroll Senior Citizens met Feb. 4 in the fire hall with 12 present. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Roberts and Don Frink.

Rhonda Sebade also was present and took blood pressure readings.

Card prize winners were Adolph Rohlf, Vernie Schnoor, Alice Wagner and Lucille Schnoor.

The group signed a get well card for Lloyd Texley who is a patient in Lutheran Community Hospital, Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Roberts served homemade ice cream and cake to celebrate the 84th birthday of Perry Johnson.

The next meeting will be Feb. 11 with a potluck.

WAY OUT HERE

Way Out Here Club met in the Martin Hansen home on Jan. 29 with six couples present.

President Betty Rohlf conducted the meeting and Norma

Tooker chosen to go

WAYNE - Kathleen Tooker, a Wayne resident, has been selected to serve as one of 100 delegates to a Nebraska Information Partnerships statewide Conference on Library and Information Services, Feb. 24-26, 1991, in Omaha.

Tooker and the other delegates, representing a cross section of the state's citizens, will gather to discuss and envision ways in which the state's citizens, will gather to discuss and envision ways in which the state's library and information services needs can be met in the future through public and private partnerships.

The Nebraska Conference is a prelude to the White House Conference on Library and Information Services, July 9-13, 1991, in Washington, D.C.

Tooker, Wayne Public Library director and outreach librarian at Wayne State College, is a member of the State Advisory Council on Libraries. She says computers and telecommunications have allowed even small libraries to become the information centers of their communities and not just a warehouse for books.

The purposes of the state and national conferences are to review our library and information service needs and resources and to make recommendations to the Governor, the Congress, and the President on how these resources can be further developed. The information age makes these resources critical to our competitiveness as a nation and to our democratic system of governing.

For additional information about the Nebraska Conference, please contact Nancy Busch, Deputy Director, Nebraska Library Commission, 1420 P Street, Lincoln, NE, 68508.

Loberg received the birthday gift.

Winners at cards were Lester Menke, Merrill Baier, Glenn Loberg, Betty Rohlf, Elaine Menke and Norma Loberg.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Thursday, Feb. 7: EOT, Ann Hofeldt.

Saturday, Feb. 9: Library open, 1 to 3 p.m.

Wednesday, Feb. 13: Ladies Aid; Methodist Women.

Ruth Loberg, Tekamah, and Gerry Peirce, Lincoln, were weekend guests in the Glenn Loberg home. Guests Feb. 3 for dinner in the Glenn Loberg home for the hostess' birthday were Ruth Loberg, Gerry Peirce, Dan and Kris Loberg, Beth, Ashley, David and Megan, and Ken Loberg of Carroll.

Dorothy Isom and Jennifer traveled to Lincoln over the weekend to visit in the homes of Janee Isom and Jodi Isom.

Around The Region

Class I schools must plan now

WAHOO - Two Nebraska school law experts stressed the importance of Class I schools getting ready to affiliate with a high school system or have their doors close.

The affiliation, which is a product of LB 259 passed by the legislature last year, requires all K-8 country schools to affiliate with a K-12 system by Feb. 1, 1992.

The experts said if Class I K-8 schools don't affiliate soon, the fate of where their children attend school may not be their option.

Recycling critical to beat problem

OAKLAND - A recycling committee has been formed in Oakland to determine the best way to determine what to do with the city's waste.

The committee determined that there are four reasons why it's essential for the public to get serious about recycling: as a money maker; to save natural resources and energy; clean up the community; and aid the environment while reducing city expenses.

Projects receiving grant funding

LYONS - Five community projects have been earmarked to receive grant funds from the Lyons Community Foundation. The money, totalling $1,000, comes from interest generated from donations to the foundation endowment fund.

Money will go to Christmas lighting decorations, library computers, a city par improvement fund, a mural project, and a prom project.

Paving projects announced for city

WEST POINT - At least 15 paving projects are sitting in front of the West Point City Council for their debate as part of the one-and-six year street improvement program.

Cost for the street program is estimated to cost up to $260,000, some of which might be funded by funds from the federal government.

Plainview plans POW-MIA flag

PLAINVIEW - Under a project being conducted by the Plainview VFW and American Legion, a POW-MIA flag will be flown at times when the flags are on display.

The special flag is proposed to be flown at the main intersection of the business district.

Newspapers announce increase in rates

AREA - At least three newspapers in northeast Nebraska have announced that their cost for subscriptions will go up this year, in part, as a result of the increase in postal rates.

Newspapers which have announced rate hikes include: the West Point News, Pierce County Leader and the Bloomfield Monitor.

THIS SUMMER, AREA CROP producers might find themselves harvesting alternative crops as part of a program being promoted by the county extension office.

Variety of crops available

CONCORD - Cranbe, rapeseed, and canola are alternative crops farmers may be harvesting in many areas of the country.

Producers wanting to know about the potential, marketing and growing of these crops can learn about them at a video conference to be viewed at the University of Nebraska Northeast Center at Concord, Wednesday, Feb. 13, 1991 from 10 a.m. to noon.

Producers with home satellite dishes can tune into the program by dialing up Spacenet II, Channel 7.

For more information call the Wayne County Extension office at 375-3310. There will be opportunities to ask questions of a national panel of experts.

Dorcey recognized

FELIX DORCEY OF WAYNE was recently honored at the Nebraska state and county fair convention in Lincoln for more than 30 years of service as a member of the Wayne County Fair Board. Dorcey has contributed many hours of labor at the Wayne County Fairgrounds and he still serves as grandstand superintendent.

Members of 1991 Wayne Ambassadors

Haase recognized

Chamber board of directors

Special thank-you

DURING THE CHAMBER banquet Sunday, Bill Jammer (right) was thanked for service to the chamber board. Jammer stepped down from the post after 1990.

Area cattlemen set Feb. 11 date

WAYNE - The Northeast Nebraska Area Cattlemen will hold their annual membership meeting Monday, Feb. 11 at the Black Knight steak house in Wayne.

Social hour for the event is at 6:30 p.m. with the meal at 7:30 p.m. Bruns Cattle Company of Pender will sponsor the social hour. The meal will be free to all who have renewed their membership and also to anyone who joins that evening. Officials say they look forward to good continual support of the organization.

In addition, the best renewal and starting membership percentage (300 percent) from the previous year will be awarded an electric fence charger. That will also be given away during the meeting.

Those participating in the program are Cecilia Falk from the Nebraska Cattlemen and Col. John Phillips from the Wisner Sales Company.

Also, the Northeast Nebraska Area Cattlemen will have approval of the selected officers and board members for 1991.

All members, wives and guests are welcome. For further information contact Gale Lander at Pender at 385-3176.

Corn association marks all-time high

AREA - The Nebraska Corn Growers Association (NeCGA) has again reached an all-time high membership. Total membership is now over 1,700 and continuing to grow. This growth was achieved through the efforts of 62 members who signed over 200 new members.

The Corn Growers announced the membership numbers at the Annual Husker Feed Grains & Soybean Conference (HFG&SC) held in Omaha recently. This was the fifth annual joint conference of the Nebraska Corn Growers Association, Nebraska Corn Board, Nebraska Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Nebraska Grain Sorghum Board, Nebraska Soybean Association, and Nebraska Soybean Board.

The National Corn Growers Association, of which NeCGA is affiliated, has had similar growth in membership, reaching an all-time high of 25,684. The National Corn Growers experienced an 11.5 percent gain in 1990.

A local recruiter honored for his efforts is Mark Griesch of Wayne. "The continued growth of the association helps us achieve our primary goal of enhancing the profitability of Nebraska's corn producers," said NeCGA Field Services Chairman, Mark Griesch of Wayne.

February is heart month

Good time to check habits

CONCORD - February is American Heart Month and a good time to see how your diet relates to the new Dietary Guidelines for Americans.

"The new guidelines released in November 1990 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture reflect the latest understanding in the science of nutrition," according to Darlene Martin, University of Nebraska nutrition specialist at the Northeast Research and Extension Center here. "The guidelines are more positive and specific," she said.

"Many American diets have too many calories, and too much fat, cholesterol and sodium. We are not eating enough complex carbohydrates and fiber," Martin said. "The food we eat, heredity, environment and lifestyle determine how our body works and feels."

The Seven Dietary Guidelines for Americans are:

- Eat a variety of foods.
- Maintain healthy weight.
- Choose a diet low in fat, saturated fat, and cholesterol.
- Choose a diet with plenty of vegetables, fruits, and grain products.
- Use sugars only in moderation.
- Use salt and sodium only in moderation.
- If you drink alcoholic beverages, do so in moderation.

Martin states that these guidelines call for moderation. Eating a variety of foods daily requires knowing what is a good daily food guide for yourself. The USDA Food Guide has suggested the following servings:

Food group, Suggested servings: Vegetables, 3-5 servings; fruits, 2-4 servings; breads, cereals, rice and pasta, 6-11 servings; milk, yogurt and cheese, 2-3 servings; meats, poultry, fish, dry beans, and peas, eggs and nuts, 2-3 servings.

Most people should have at least the lower number of servings suggested from each food group. Some people may need more because of body size and activity level.

Goldenrod Hills chosen for $20,530 grant

AREA - Northeast Nebraska region has been chosen to receive $20,530.29 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area. Goldenrod Hills CAC was selected by a National Board made up of affiliates of national voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). United Way of America will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agency. The board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A Local Board made up of government, United Way, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Native American representation, National Council of Churches of Christ and Catholic Charities will determine how funds awarded to northeast Nebraska are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by the local services organizations in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local governmental or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice non-discrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they should have a voluntary board. Qualifying organizations are urged to apply.

Goldenrod Hills CAC has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously in northeast Nebraska with Nebraska Indian Inter-tribal Development Corporation, Salvation Army, Task Force for Domestic Violence, Good Neighbors, Norfolk Community Soup Kitchen and the Norfolk Food Bank.

Further information on the program may be obtained by contacting Mary Ann Powers, Goldenrod Hills Community Action Agency, (402) 529-3513.

Arboretum holds annual meeting

CONCORD - The second annual meeting of the Northeast Arboretum was held Jan. 11, at the Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord. Roy Stohler, president, welcomed a group of 12 people in attendance and emceed the program.

Guest speaker, Julie Lamphere, Curator of the State Fair Arboretum in Lincoln, presented a slide program depicting activities through the seasons as she manages the Arboretum on the State Fair grounds in Lincoln.

Lamphere, received her associate degree in horticulture in 1978, at the University of Nebraska School of Technical Agriculture (UNSTA) in Curtis. She worked for the Lincoln Parks Department for 11 years before accepting her current position as curator in June, 1990.

Lamphere said that heading up the beautification projects for the State Fair Arboretum is a year-round job. Her duties include everything from designing flower beds and planting hundreds of flowers per year to turf maintenance, tree trimming or any general maintenance needed to improve the beautification of the fair grounds. The State Fair Arboretum employs a seasonal crew of four people to assist Lamphere in her duties. A certificate of appreciation was presented to Lamphere by Board member, Anna Marie White of Dixon and board President Roy Stohler of Concord.

Lawrence Fuchs of Belden, officially assumed the duties as the newly elected president of the Northeast Arboretum.

Steve Rasmussen, Curator of the Northeast Arboretum and District Extension Forester of the Northeast Research and Extension Center at Concord, reviewed the progress of the Northeast Arboretum and outlined intended activities for the coming year. Events

Parents, 'Did You Know?'

Teen Parties — Part II
 Parent - Teen Guidelines for Hosting a Party

Parties are popular with young people. The intent of this three-part series of articles is to make students and parents aware of their moral and legal responsibilities, either as a participant or host.

1. Do not offer alcohol to guests under the age of 21 or allow these guests to use alcohol in your home. You may be brought to court on criminal charges and/or have to pay monetary damages in a civil lawsuit if you furnish alcohol to minors. Be alert to signs of alcohol use by teens — loss of inhibitions, mood alterations, slower response time and fatigue or illness. Guests who try to bring in alcohol or who otherwise refuse to cooperate with your expectations should be asked to leave. Notify the parents of any teen who arrives at the party drunk to insure the teens safe transportation home. Do not let anyone drive under the influence of alcohol.

2. Set the ground rules before the party. This will give both the parent and the teens a good opportunity to express feelings and concerns. This will also let the teen know what is expected of his/her guests.

3. Notify the neighbors that there will be a party. Encourage the teen to call or send a note to close neighbors telling them about the party and asking them to let the family know if there is too much noise.

4. Notify the police or sheriff when planning a large party. This will help the police and sheriff's officers to protect you, your guests and your neighbors. Discuss with the police or sheriff an agreeable plan for guest parking if needed.

5. Plan to have plenty of food and non-alcoholic drinks on hand.

6. Plan activities prior to the party.

7. Limit party attendance and times. When possible, make a guest list and send out invitations beforehand. It is important to discourage party-crashers. Avoid open-house parties. It is difficult for parents and teens to keep control over this type of party. Set time limits for the party that enable teens to be home at a reasonable time.

8. A parent should be at home during the party. A parent can bring in snacks and non-alcoholic beverages. Not only will your presence keep the party running smoothly, but it will also give you an opportunity to meet your teen's friends. Carefully decide what part of the house will be most comfortable and you can maintain adequate supervision. Teens frequently party at homes when parents are away. If you must be away, have a responsible adult friend, relative or neighbor supervise while you are away.

9. Do not allow any guest who leaves the party to return. This will discourage teens from leaving the party to drink elsewhere and then return to the party.

10. Other ideas. Get to know your teens friends and their parents. Keep in touch with them during your child's teen years. Many parties occur spontaneously. Parents and teenagers should understand beforehand that the above guidelines are in effect at all parties. If, despite your precautions, things get out of hand, do not hesitate to call your local police or sheriff's department for help.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!
 The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.
 Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.
 Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.
 In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course, all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a SIGNAL, act now. Get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today!

Centennial Notes

KTIV No Stars visit Allen

ALLEN - The Allen centennial committee sponsored a basketball game with the KTIV No Stars on Feb. 3 as a fund raising event. Playing the KTIV No Stars by quarters were junior high students, local women basketball players, local men, and anyone else on the floor.

An auction of centennial key chains took place during half time with Mert Nixon serving as auctioneer. Purchasing key chains were Galen Jackson, Pauline Karlberg, Betty Chapman, Mert Nixon, Darrel Novak, Wanda Novak, Greg Rastede, Clair Schubert, Cliff Stalling and Jerry Schroeder. Approximately $450 was raised during the auction.

The next 10 key chains will be auctioned during a Sweetheart Dance scheduled Feb. 16 from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Allen fire hall. Jerry Schroeder will be the disc jockey.

Melodrama tryouts scheduled

ALLEN - The Allen centennial committee is planning to present an old-time melodrama, entitled "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," on Saturday, March 30.

Tryouts will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Allen Senior Center. Characters in the play include Ida Rhinegold (big, buxom, dark and vampirish); Adam Oakhart (a handsome but rugged son of the soil); Mookie Maguggins (comic hired man); Widow Lovelace (a gentle old woman, white haired and soft spoken); Leonie Asterbilt (a sweet young thing with a bird-like manner; Fleurette (an ooo-la-la French maid); and Little Nell (any age, but small in stature, childish and cute).

All interested persons are encouraged to tryout for the melodrama or otherwise assist with the production.

Wayne fire department to take part in safety council program

WAYNE - Dale Preston announced that his department will again be working with the National Fire Safety Council in a continuing effort to reduce the staggering loss due to fire and burns. They are now organizing their annual Fire Safety and Burn Prevention Educational Program geared toward children in the community.

reducing the tragedy of fire loss, burns, and death.

The Wayne Fire Department will be mailing out program sponsor request letters immediately which explain the entire program to area business, industrial, and professional leaders. The letter will also solicit their financial support to help cover the cost of the materials utilized by the department for this desperately needed program.

Preston stated that all supporters will be acknowledged with a listing on the Prestige Page of activity manuals under the heading "Provided as a public service by people who care."

Preston also said this is the only Fire Safety and Burn Prevention Educational Program their department endorses or sponsors. Should any other person(s) call upon you for any other program, please contact his department immediately.

Preston said that in cooperation with the department, educationally sound fire safety educational materials will be provided to youngsters. The materials have been designed exclusively by National Fire Safety Council, a 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt, non-profit organization. This vital program will assist in teaching children fire safety and burn prevention. The department strongly believes that reaching the children in this way is the key to

FUND GROWS

Community efforts continue in Wakefield to raise approximately $60,000 for a new rescue unit. The fund got a $1,364.96 boost on Jan. 29 when the Lions Club presented checks to the Wakefield Fire and Rescue Squad.

The Lions Club sponsored a potato bake recently which produced receipts of $604. Following expenditures, the group raised $364.96 and made an additional $500 donation which was matched by Wayne County Lutheran Brotherhood with another $500 for a total of $1,364.96.

The rescue unit fund currently stands at $31,481.54, including a $10,000 grant from the Peter Kiewit Foundation.

Since its inception in 1971, the rescue squad has answered 4,380 calls, according to figures compiled by the department.

During 1990, the unit responded to 82 calls which required 355 man hours and 2,049 miles traveled.

The group has 20 EMT's, with Randall Barge currently taking an EMT course in Wayne.

Joining the squad during the year were Randall Barge, Tom Henderson, Charles Wahlstrom, Leynette Helberg and Brad Schwarten.

WINTER CONCERT

The music department of Wakefield Community Schools presented a winter concert on Feb. 4 in the school auditorium.

The program included selections by the junior high band, choir and swing choir, along with the senior high choir, swing choir and Trojan Band.

The concert culminated with an Armed Forces salute and the Wakefield American Legion Post presenting the colors.

The musical groups were directed by Brenda Miller and Neal Schnoor.

SCOUTS MEET

By Pat Meierhenry

A second item the Big Farmer and I "discuss" a lot; daily, in fact, is the thermostat in the house. As Shirley Lueth says, "I'm at the time in my life when I carry a sweater in one hand and a fan in the other!" And one of the items we are saving money on is furnace oil.

The Earth stove, our pride and joy, sits in the living room. When the thermostat there registers 70 degrees, the kitchen is about 65 and the bathroom might be lower. It all depends upon which direction the wind's in. We never know there's a north one here on the place, but a south one can cool us off quickly.

In order to get the "edges" of the house warm, the living room has to be cranked up to 74 or 76. Mike, of course, wears long johns and sweatshirts underneath his jeans and flannel shirt. Besides, he can tolerate a lot of heat.

I have a very narrow tolerance; about 2 degrees, actually. And there is no thermostat on the stove. Different types of wood burn at different speeds, as do different sizes. There is a vent control, from low to medium to high, that can speed up or slow down the burning.

There is also a fancy new gauge on the chimney that Monte got us, that shows where creosote build up occurs. Of course, this is at the lowest heat. Plus, the vent should be on high to get a fire really going initially.

Consequently, I am sneaking around a lot, turning the vent down after he has turned it up. This can create a lot of tension, (and creosote) even more than not replacing the cap on the toothpaste. Usually, I just give up and move my work wherever it is comfortable: kitchen if it's warm, living room if it's not. When we took the colonnades out ten years ago, we created a "great room."

Most activities of daily living, now occur in the great room, including getting dressed in the morning if the bathroom is really cold. Newspapers are read in here, the ironing board is set up here, the TV is here, and the organ. And, thanks to the space created by moving the piano, a large folding table is set up here.

It currently holds a 2000 piece puzzle, completed last Sunday, and the farm account books, being completed. In a moment, it will hold the typewriter as I type this.

We've gone full circle from the days of my childhood, when an oil burner heated the dining room in my parent's house. So far, I haven't hung lines for clothes drying; and we haven't set up the bath tub in front of the stove on Saturday night.

But I'm betting it's only a matter of time. The current warm weather has allowed me to get back into the kitchen. Who knows, I may even go upstairs to the sewing machine next week if this keeps up. Right now, I need to open a window to cool another "warm flash."

Runestad named to Dean's List with others at Concordia College

WAYNE - Concordia College, has announced the name of Eric Runestad of Wayne on the list of students whose superior academic achievement during the first semester of the 1990-91 academic year placed them on the Dean's Honor List.

To qualify for the designation, students must carry a minimum of 12 semester credits and have a grade point average of at least 3.5 on a 4.0 scale. Of all the students on the Dean's Honor List, 123 attained a 4.0 grade point average, placing them in the upper 4.2 percent of the college's total enrollment.

Meierhenry on Dean's List

HOSKINS - Among the 261 students at Nebraska Wesleyan University who made the Dean's List for academic achievement for the fall semester in 1990-91 is Kay L. Meierhenry, a senior, from Hoskins. Meierhenry is the daughter of Melvin and Pat Meierhenry of rural Hoskins.

To be named to the Dean's List, a student must have a minimum grade point average of 3.75 on a 4.0 scale and carry 12 or more hours of graded coursework.

LADIES AID-LWML

Seventeen members attended the Feb. 1 meeting of St. John's Ladies Aid and LWML of Wakefield. Hostesses were Elaine Holm and Margaret Turner.

Lillian Fredrickson was in charge of devotions and gave a reading, entitled "The Gospel and the Flag," followed with group singing of "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

The Rev. Bruce Schut led the discussion topic, "The Word Among Us," taken from the LWML Quarterly.

President Harriet Stolle called the meeting to order and opened with a poem, entitled "Measure Your Lifetime in Blessings."

Committee reports were given and it was announced that new cards, including Easter cards, are now available.

The friendship and sick call committee visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Doescher and residents of Wakefield Health Care Center. Sympathy cards were sent to Mr. and Mrs. Doescher and the George Roebler family, and a get well card was sent to Terry Nicholson. A thank you was read from the George Roebler family.

The Lutheran World Relief sewing committee reported that 10 members were present and 15 quilts were tied.

It was announced the LWML Spring Workshop will be held April 16 in Newcastle. The Ladies Aid will serve lunch following Lenten services on March 6.

Honored for their February birthdays were Viola Baker and Alice Brown, and honored for their anniversaries were Wilma Bartels, Pearl Meyer and Margaret Turner.

The meeting closed with the LWML pledge, Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

The next meeting will be March 1 with Angie Blatter and Meta Bartling serving as hostesses.

Melissa Rhodes of Lincoln and Herta Rhodes of Fremont were weekend visitors of Emil and Alice Muller and Bob and Phyllis Rhodes and Dalton.

The Bill Hansens were Sunday guests in the Jack Hansen home, Omaha.

The Alvin Ohlquists were weekend visitors in the Olga Eggli home, Genoa.

Time short for testing

Pork producers need to have herds checked

WAYNE - Pork producers may be unaware that time is running out to have their herds tested for pseudorabies under the provisions of a new law, a state Department of Agriculture veterinarian said.

Dr. Harry Banker, DVM, said that under LB1004, passed in the closing days of the 1990 legislative session, all swine herds must be tested for the disease by Oct. 1, 1991. The object is to identify all herds with the disease and develop a plan to eradicate the disease from herds, he said. Only 4,000 of 12,500 herds in the state have been tested, leaving 8,500 to go.

To get the word out and help avoid a last-minute crunch, Baker is taking his message to all 10 Nebraska Whole Hog Days meetings in January and February. Other topics will vary at local meetings, but Banker's presentation will be delivered at each site.

He said the Nebraska program is part of a state and national effort to eradicate pseudorabies (PRV), which can cause death, poor performance and reproductive failure. The Nebraska law was passed at the urging of the Nebraska Pork Producers Association.

"This is the first producer-driven, disease-eradication program," Baker said. "It didn't come from the regulators. The reason for it is that one producer can't clean up the problem. It has to be an industry-wide solution."

Other topics at the Whole Hog meetings are localized, having been selected by local advisory committees. All meetings are scheduled to last from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. local time.

The area site is scheduled for Feb. 28 in Wayne at the Wayne

City Auditorium. Topics include: preventing small litters, herd health management, sow nutrition, animal welfare (video), manure management systems, rats, birds and diseases and PRV eradication in Nebraska.

Registration fees are $15 for the first person from an operation, $10 for each additional person from an operation and $20 for late registrations. Each fee includes a copy of the 235-page printed proceedings. Meals are not included. Registrations should be returned to the host county Cooperative Extension office seven days before the event. More information is available from the host county Cooperative Extension Office for each meeting.

Fluoride for Good Dental Health

One can think about fluoride as a mineral supplement. Many individuals take iron or calcium supplements. Like these two minerals, fluoride is important for good health. About 60% of the U.S. water supply is supplemented with fluoride ("fluoridated"), including most of our largest cities. The National Institute of Dental Research estimates that children from areas that have fluoridated water have as much as 25% less tooth decay than their counterparts who drink water that does not contain sufficient fluoride. Fluoride is most beneficial before age six, when the permanent teeth are being formed. Obtaining regular dental care, eating a sensible diet, using a fluoride-containing toothpaste, and drinking fluoridated water should greatly improve dental health.
