Blane Bennett-The 6-0, 190pound wide receiver from Ponca High was an honorable mention all-state selection as a senior. Bennett also earned first-team allconference honors as a running back. In addition, Bennett was an honorable mention all-conference basketball selection and all-state high jumper and mile relay

"Blane will be as good as he wants to be," Wagner said. "He's a very talented athlete who's very explosive and could play a number of positions.

Joey Bergmanls—The 6-0, 235-pound defensive lineman from Fremont-Bergan High was the defensive captain for the 1990 allstate team. Bergmanis was an all-conference selection as a junior and senior. In addition, he earned first-team all-area honors this year after being named to the second team as a junior.

"Joey uses his size to his advantage and is a very aggressive player," Wagner said. "He's a great individual on and off the field. He has a lot of Randy Rouse characteristics."

Newman Grove finished in the ninth place slot with 33 and Flain/Petersburg placed 10th with Elgin/Petersburg placed 10th with 32. Brainerd East Butler and Scribner-Snyder rounded out the field of 12 teams in order.

Winside had 12 of the 13 weight classes filled and ended up qualifying 10 for the state tourna-ment in Lincoln which begins Thursday morning at 9:30 a.m. for the Wildcats.

There were a number of memorable matches on the day but at 119, Chad Carlson was glad to get a rematch with Jason Wood of Greeley—the only wrestler who defeated Carlson in the regular season. Carlson made the most of his rematch and escaped with a one point win, 3-2, the same margin of victory that Wood escaped with the last time the two squared

One of the toughest weight classes to qualify in for Winside was at 152 where five of the wrestlers at 152 had state tournament experience and only four could qualify for this year.

On Friday afternoon Jeff Gallop

wrestled in perhaps his most important match of the year against Rod Komenda of Brainerd East Butler, Komenda came in as a Butler. Komenda came in as a three time state qualifier but Gallop took him to overtime before defeating him 13-9.

"That was a crucial match," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "Jeff pretty much had to win that one in order to have a realistic chance to qualify and that's what he did."

Gallop went on to place fourth.

Gallop went on to place fourth in his weight class, thus qualifying for the state tournament. Winside had five champions on the day in-cluding Chad Carlson at 119. Doug Heinemann captured top honors at 130 by pinning Pat Stuhr of Pope John and Shane Frahm needed just 58 seconds of his finals match with Pope John's Mike Stuhr before earning his pin.

That 58 seconds will live in infamy for quite some time because with Shane Frahm's pin the Winside Wildcats became the all-time all-class leader in pins in a single season with 200. They went on to add two more on the day and the count is still on a state.

Jason Krueger at 189 pinned Jerod Adams of Newman Grove in 1:44 for Winside's fourth champion of the day and his short match will also be etched in the record books as Winside broke the Class D pin record for district competition with record for district competition with Finally, in the heavyweight division, Brian Thompson pinned John Gustafson of West Point Central Catholic in 3:25 and you guessed it, with Thompson's pin the Winside name was again etched in the record books as they tied the all-time all-class pin record for districts with 21.

Also qualifying for the state tournament from Winside is Marc Janssen at 112, who lost to the odds on favorite to win Class D in Schinstock.

Jason Topp at 135 qualified for Jason Topp at 135 qualified for 'finishing fourth and Jason Magwire finished third at 140 to earn a state berth, his second in a row. Jason Bargstadt at 171 finished third and also earns a trip to state.

"I feel real good about how we looked at the district tournament," Sok said. "We had a nice crowd on hand who was up on everything and knew what we had to do to and knew what we had to do to break those records. Winside will head into the state tournament as either the favorite to win it all or to finish behind Mullen who is the two time de-fending state champ. Winside of course, finished behind Mullen last year but the Wildcats appear to be ready to challenge for the top honor this season.

Marc Janssen will take a 23-9 record into state to square off against Jamie Thomas of Arapahoe who is 22-13. Chad Carlson, 30-1 will take on Jim Mezzacappa of Harvard who is 15-3 on the war. Florence Hughes, one of 12 chilfrom in her family, made it through seventh grade in Philadelphia before she dropped out to help earn money for the family. That was in 1925. At age 79, after working much of her life, she sat in on a discussion of recests. "I always repretted not grets, "I always regretted not having a high school diploma," she said. The discussion leader told her she could still get one, by passing a high school equiva-lency test. Mrs. Hughes, now a resident of Roslyn, Pennsylvania, suffered a stroke in 1981. so preparing for the test wasn't a snap. She studied for weeks and took practice tests - mathematics and algebra were the years after she dropped out of school. Florence Hughes got her high school diploma.

Walter Cronkite hasn't been idle since he retired as anchorman of the CBS Evening News 10 years ago. He continues to present TV documentaries, host special live programs, and has published his third book based on his sailing experiences, this one about a Pacific voyage from the Canadi-an border to Mexico. How does an border to Mexico. How does he manage to do so much at age 74? "My secret is...being inter-ested in life and wanting to do lots more than I have already done."

Allen centennial committee schedules sweetheart dance will sponsor a sweetheart dance on Saturday, Feb. 16 from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Allen fire hall. Admission to the casual dress dance is $5 per couple or $3 for singles, with Jerry Schroeder serving as disc jockey.

The event also will include a crazy sock contest and an auction of 10 centennial key chains.

PLANS FOR the dance were discussed when the centennial committee met Jan. 31 in the Allen Senior Center with 42 in attendance.

Reporting for the centennial food committee was Norma Warner, with the assistance of Don and Dottie Wacker of Winside.

Kathy Boswell updated the group on the progress of the March fund raiser which will be a melodrama. She reviewed characters for the play. Tryouts were scheduled Feb. 12.

Wanda Novak reported that the Centennial Store is open each Friday and Saturday morning from 9 a.m. to noon.

Tim Hill reviewed plans for the July 5 golf tournament to be held at the Wayne Country Club. Starting time will be 7:30 to 8 a.m. Information regarding the golf tournament will be sent with the next alumni mailing.

It was decided that the tournament will be open to everyone, although there will be no adver-tising, and participants will be cho-sen on a first-come, first-serve basis according to who sends their deposit fee first.

DUANE Koester reported there will be a meeting on Feb. 26 of alumni hosts and hostesses and committee members to continue plans for alumni social gatherings and the banquet.

Koester asked that persons with graduation pictures that they don't wish returned give them to the Alumni Association for use as decorations during the banquet. Alumni with address changes also are asked to contact Koester or Doris Linafelter to receive future mailings of the newsletter.

JACKIE Mitchell reported on progress of planning youth activities. She also announced that the town board was beginning to make plans for garbage disposal during the grand celebration, scheduled to take place July 4-7.

committee that he is continuing to look for a carnival to come to Allen during the celebration.

Joanne Rahn, chairman of the centennial quilt, reported that the blocks are ready to be embroi-dered by volunteers. Charles Fiscus was named chairman of the parking commit-LARRY Boswell, general chairman, reviewed the tentative schedule of centennial events and reminded everyone that wearing of centennial attire will begin with or centennial attire will begin with the Shrine Chanters concert on April 20.

It was reported that due to le galities, a train will not be able to run on the track through Allen and give rides.

The Saddle Club will discuss the possibility of a trail ride at its next meeting

THE NEXT meeting of the cen-tennial committee will be held on Monday, Feb. 25 at 8 p.m. at the Senior Center.

Members are asked to note the change of date due to a pops concert scheduled on the regular meeting day.

The Library Card

This column is written twice a month to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at Wayne Public Library.

What does it take to assist a child to learn to read? We know What does it take to assist a child to learn to read: We know that that is not a simple question with easy answers. Educators, psychologists, the public schools all are working on the problem. Count your library as one more agency doing its best to interest children in reading. And not just children — parents, too. Parents are the primary source and inspiration for encouraging and assisting this particle and interest to appear to a primary and inspiration.

are the primary source and inspiration for encouraging and assisting children to enjoy reading.

Reading out loud to a child from an early age is an excellent way to influence that child's interest in books. With that thought in mind, we have several books which are good guides to choosin mind, we have several books which are good guides to choosing books for children.

"The New Read-Aloud Handbook" by Jim Trelease not only has lists of excellent books to read out loud, but advice about when to begin to read aloud, the different stages of read-aloud, and some do's and don'ts of read-aloud.

"Choosing Books for Children" by Betsy Hearne. The author has some amusing observations about interesting children in reading. She says, "Few children will turn down an invitation to so something with an enthusiastic parent." Maybe that's one key. Her other observations are as cogent.

thing with an enthusiastic parent." Maybe that's one key. Her other observations are as cogent.
"For Reading Aloud" by Margaret Mary Kimmel and Elizabeth Segel is a guide to sharing books with children ages 5 to 15. Lists of books and appropriate grade levels are included.
"Best Books for Children: Pre-School Through the Middle Grades' edited by John Gillespie. Book suggestions in this book are indexed by age and by subject — fiction, sports, games, poetry, hobbies, history, geography, science, mysteries, mythology. Each book has a brief review-of the contents. These books-may be found in the adult collection.

For other ideas about good books to read to children, the library has bibliographies of books awarded the Newberry Medal and the Caldecott Medal. Books nominated by the Colden Sower Awards are listed by grade level, K-3, 4-6. Those books from this list which may be found on the library shelves are printed in capital letters. capital letters.

One more source of information about good reading — aloud books is the Reading Rainbow series on TV. The library has a Reading Rainbow bibliography available on the desk downstairs in the children's library. Reading Rainbow books have a special sticker on the cover to identify them. I almost always have a camera in hand, and we have stacks of photos and slides. But I've not felt I could afford a "camcorder", so have had to get copies, or even rent one on occasion. My goal is to someday edit all those pictures and get them on video.

Some friends made a "family collection" like this a couple of years ago for their Grandpa's birthday, and I got goose bumps watching it. It was a home video camera that shot that amazing footage of an auto disappearing off a bridge during the San Francisco earth-

With material furnished by the Fair Store, Sara has organized and assisted with the construction of 100 grocery bags which will be distributed free of charge to Fair Store customers.

Sara and the Fair Store ask that people who receive the bags, con-structed of washable heavy denim, corduroy, and other sturdy fabrics, bring the bags with them each time they shop to save on paper.

Sara has learned in her research that an average family of five uses 17 trees a year and that more than one-third of all solid waste is paper and paper products.
