Fire destroys car at airport

THE WAYNE VOLUNTEER FIRE Department responded to a car fire Thursday at 10:29 a.m. at the Wayne Municipal Airport. According to Wayne Fire Chief Dale Preston, the car, a 1981 Volkswagon belonging to Orin Zach of Wayne, caught fire when some corn husks became lodged adjacent to the catalytic converter. Preston said that Zach was driving on the far end of the airport runway showing airport officials where a series of posts were to be placed in a corn field. The car was totally destroyed in the incident but no injuries were reported.

WSC funds may decrease if budget goes unchanged

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Wayne State College students share reason for concern if the proposed biennial budget passes, because it could mean increases in tuition but losses in funding.

That's the word from Dr. Donald Mash, president of Wayne State College. According to information provided by the college, Wayne State could be operating with approximately $350,000 less in each of the coming two years if the 1991-93 biennial budget stays the way it is presently proposed.

More students and fewer dollars has long been a problem the college has faced. Mash expressed that concern at a recent meeting of the State College Board of Trustees. There he said the negative impact of budget cuts would be devastating to rural revitalization efforts.

'... Higher education is our best investment in the future.'
Dr. Donald Mash
WSC president

MASH ALSO rejected the notion of limiting enrollments to deal with budget shortfalls. He said that any effort to deny access to higher education in rural Nebraska would be "counter-productive and short-sighted."

"Denying access is exactly what we shouldn't do," he said. "If we are concerned with long-term rural development, higher education is our best investment in the future. Our challenge is to involve more of our citizens in higher education, regardless of age."

According to the budgetary plans, students would experience 5 percent tuition increases over each of the next two years but to counter-balance that increase, the general fund revenue would be reduced proportionately to hikes in tuition. Mash said he believes that if this happens, students' dollars aren't going toward higher education, but rather other state programs.

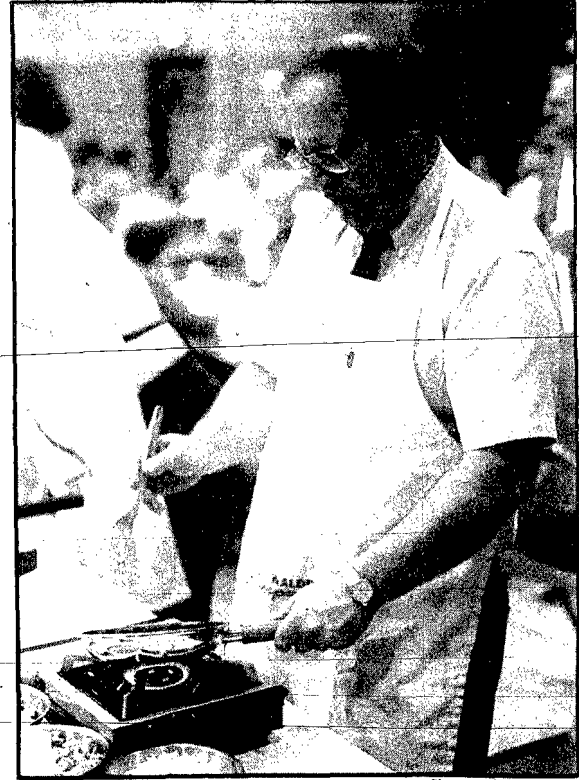

ONE OF THE major problems facing Wayne State, is that of the present four state colleges (Kearney will join the university system this summer), Wayne State offers the most public service and outreach programs of all the state colleges affected by the biennial budget, but decreases in funding could jeopardize those off-campus programs.

Another dilemma the college faces, is that of the three state colleges included in the 1991-93 budget, WSC has the greatest need for capital improvements. With cuts in state funding, new projects could be jeopardized, especially with the current tax dilemma facing the Nebraska Legislature. The last time Wayne State built a new classroom building was 20 years ago.

In addition, Wayne State College has experienced a 26 percent climb in enrollment over the past two years with no additional full-time faculty being added to the payroll.

"Due to a 26 percent increase of full-time, equivalent students in the current biennium, and the college's general level of underfunding, a reduction of this proportion would be severe," Mash said. "On top of this, it is likely that the college's enrollment will increase again in the fall of 1991."

Show of support

AROUND 800 PEOPLE TURNED out for the Corbit family benefit Thursday night at the Wayne City Auditorium. According to organizer Ralph Etter, a good deal of money was collected for the family but the total amount was not disclosed at the family's request. Other funds will be given for the Corbit cause are from Aid Association for Lutherans, Lutheran Brotherhood and donations left at any of the five banks in Wayne and Wakefield. Among those assisting in the benefit were Dr. Don Koeber, who kept busy cooking omelets.

Dates set for project

WAYNE - The START Beautification committee has set planting dates for the public gardens project. Perennials will be planted Sunday, April 20 at 1 p.m. and the annuals will be planted on Thursday evening, May 23. The gardens will be located at the bank park at Second and Main, the site of the old water tower in the 800 block of Main and at Viken Park. If funds permit, flowers will also be planted at the Wayne County Museum.

ACCORDING TO Chairman Gail Korn, monetary donations have been coming in, and some people have volunteered to help plant and maintain the gardens, but more is needed. She says that the committee would like to have as many of the perennials donated from area gardens as possible.

If individuals are currently growing any of the plants that will be used, the committee is hoping that they will donate some divisions to the garden project. The following paragraph lists what is needed with the common name in parenthesis:

Ten old-fashioned hollyhocks, 60 Aquilegia McKana's Giant (columbines), 34 Gold Midcentury Hybrid Lilies, 19 Chrysanthemum "Grandchild Pink", 16 Liatris "Blazing Star" (Gayfeather), three Yucca, five Tradescantia "Purple Dome" (spiderwort), 14 Verbena canadensis, five Boltonia Snowbank, 11 Coreopsis "Zagreb", 45 Hybrid daylilies, four Iberis sempervirens (candytuft), one Euphorbia, three Yellow spuria Iris, one Sedum spectabile aureovariegata, two Echinacea "Bright Star" (Purple coneflower), three new England Asters, eight Aster Snow Cushion, 10 Aster Professor Kippenburg, three Dictamnus (Gas Plant), six Statice dumosa, five Geranium sanguineum (Cranesbill), three Achillea Coronation Gold (Yarrow), three Tall Garden Phlox (any color), 12 Veronica Red Fox, three Sedum Autumn Joy. The 65 tall bearded iris have been donated by Hummels and DeNaeyers.

All of these perennials are fairly low in maintenance. People wishing to plant low maintenance gardens of their own could use combinations of these plants.

ACCORDING TO Korn, monetary donations up to this point have been good, as $175 has been collected, but between $500

Senator proposes handgun bill Ashford talks to WSC audience

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Legislation which began two years ago appears to be gaining momentum in the Nebraska Unicameral, but that was just part of the message delivered by Nebraska State Sen. Brad Ashford, R-Omaha, during his Wayne State College visit Wednesday evening.

Ashford, a proponent of a handgun control bill, suggests that the state needs legislation to create a first-time background check for handgun buyers, a two day process conducted by local law enforcement agencies, and an annual certificate allowing handgun buyers to purchase the weapons.

The bill, known as LB 355, does not include background checks for large weapons, like rifles or semi-automatic weapons, just handguns.

"I am elected to do the best possible job for Nebraskans," he said. "Gun control legislation is one of those areas of concern."

THE OMAHA senator said his package resembles the proposed Brady bill recently introduced to the U.S. Congress. He said that LB 355 differs from the Brady bill because it calls for a 2-day turn-around for background checks by local law enforcement for approval or denial of applications, rather than a 7-day turn-around by state law enforcement authorities, required in the Brady bill.

The Brady bill, handgun control legislation named after former Press Secretary James Brady, wounded and permanently disabled in the 1981 assassination attempt on then-President Ronald Reagan, has received strong opposition from the National Rifle Association (NRA).

"The problem we have in Nebraska is that a background check won't work on the state level because the state patrol keeps no criminal records and it would cost too much to establish a database with that information," he said.

Ashford said if the Nebraska bill passes, and an applicant is denied, there is an appeal can be made through local county court. He said it is written in the bill that appeals will take no longer than 30 days.

THE SENATOR'S legislation found opposition Wednesday night when a group of individuals grilled him on the measure, while stopping short of saying it violates their rights.

"Our intent behind this bill is to take handguns out of the hands of convicted felons and those who have been diagnosed with a mental illness," Ashford said. "We are not here to say that it will work because we don't know if it will. We want to provide a defense for those who might be killed each year if the legislation didn't exist."

Ashford also warns that if Nebraska doesn't pass its own handgun legislation, the federal government's legislation, requiring a 7-day waiting period, would take precedence. With state legislation in place, the 7-day waiting period wouldn't be required in Nebraska.

"Nebraska's bill, if it passes, would be relatively modest compared to other states," Ashford said.

He cited that in Oregon, a state which has the highest NRA membership in the nation, the waiting period is 15 days. At the time of the legislation's passage, the NRA endorsed the bill.

STATE SEN. BRAD Ashford talks about his proposed handgun control bill at WSC Wednesday night.

"If we can save one life, or two, or three, then this bill is valid," he said. "My intent is to do what is reasonably sound and justified. We just want to create a bump in the road before people purchase a handgun."

Reporting on plans for the Spring Event was Jean Lutt, chairman, who announced that the event will include two sessions — from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Registrations will be at 1:30 and 6:30 p.m. and a free will offering will be taken.

Lutt said doors to the auditorium will be open at 6 p.m. on Monday evening so that clubs can set up for the event. Each club will donate a door prize and these may be brought on Tuesday.

IN OTHER announcements, it was reported that the 1994 convention of the Nebraska Council of Home Extension Clubs will be held in South Sioux City and Wayne County will be asked to assist.

MILLIE VETO AND MAYOR BOB Carhart were all smiles last week at the signing of the Kinship Week proclamation.

Kinship Week April 8-14

Proclamation gets signed

WAYNE - As Wayne Kinship continues to grow, Mayor Bob Carhart signed a proclamation last week declaring April 8-14 as Kinship Week in Wayne.

Kinship is a program that matches adult volunteers with boys and girls, ages five and older. The goal of the program is to befriend children who, for a variety of reasons, need a special relationship with an adult who cares.

Each week, volunteers share at least an hour with the child, arranging activities that both can find enjoyable. One week they might go fishing or to a movie, the next week they might just stay home and bake cookies or wash the car.

According to Wayne Kinship President Millie Veto, a number of plans are on tap for Kinship volunteers and youth April 8-14.

Activities planned for the week revolved around two events. One includes a time of recognition for Pizza Hut, which has been an active contributor to the Kinship program but no date or time has been announced. Another activity slated for the week is a picnic for volunteers on Sunday, March 14 at 4 p.m. Volunteers will be presented Kinship coffee mugs in appreciation of their efforts.

Despite having a good number of volunteers, more are still needed, Veto said. She noted that presently, the Wayne Kinship program has 15 volunteers matched with children but more are always welcome. She said that Kinship needs more community involvement, though, as they are presently seeking a new director for the Wayne program.

Other businesses which sponsor the Kinship program, include: Wayne State College, Quality Foods, Geno's, Pac 'N' Save, Po-Pos, Wayne Greenhouse, Sav-Mor Pharmacy, Vel's Bakery, Nebraska Floral, Twin Theater, Casey's, Dairy Queen, Melodee Lanes, Taco Stop, Godfathers Pizza, Pizza Hut, Hardee's, Daylight Donuts and Presto.

For more information about Kinship, or to become a sponsor or a volunteer, contact Veto at 375-3564.

Project

and $600 is needed for the projects' completion.

If you have any of these plants to donate or would be interested in donating money or time, contact Korn at 375-3615. To make a donation, make all checks payable to START and note on them that it is for the Garden Fund. Checks should be sent to Bill Dickey at First National Bank in Wayne.

If you would like to help plant and/or maintain any of the gardens or portions of them, contact any of the members of the committee — Hollis Frese, Lois Hall, Jim Hummel, Gail Korn, Gloria Leseberg, Vern Schultz and Shannon Ahlmann.

Individuals who want to help plant and/or maintain the public gardens, or those who have already volunteered, are invited to attend a planning session Thursday, April 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall meeting room.

Winside boys put end to drought

The Winside Wildcats boys track team accomplished a rarity in last week's Coleridge Invitational—they won. Jim Winch's squad won a boys team title for the first time in 16 years.

Thursday in South Sioux the Winside boys made it back-to-back team titles as they captured the Newcastle Invitational with 108 1/2 points, edging Newcastle by 2 1/2 points. Brian Thompson was a two-time winner in the meet as he copped the shot put and discus with throws of 50-8 and 156-6 respectively. "Brian threw the shot put 53-2 in the Coleridge meet but he threw the discus 10 less feet than he did in South Sioux," Winch said. "We are pleased with his performance thus far."

three hits and two errors. WSC scored two runs in the second inning.

Rick Roberts doubled in Tim Wobken and Jeff Bjerke who had both reached base via a single. John Staab also had a hit in that inning. In the third inning the Cats' scored three more as Troy Test led off with a single and Shane Kober followed with a double. Wobken then stepped to the plate and smacked a 2-run double. Mark Wewel then singled in Wobken for the third run of the inning and a 5-0 WSC lead.

USD scored two runs in the top of the fourth with the aid of two Wildcat errors but WSC tallied three more in the bottom of the fifth to close out the scoring. Bjerke singled while Roberts and Staab drew walks which loaded the bases. Chris Jones then laced a 2-run single and Dave Shields hit an rbi single.

"We played very well offensively," WSC coach Lenny Klaver said. "Everyone in the starting lineup got a hit. Wobken enjoyed a 3-4 outing with two doubles while Bjerke went 2-4. Roberts went 2-2 with a double. "I was also glad to see that Chris Simon pitched so well," Klaver said.

In the nightcap the Cats' struggled a bit on both sides of the ball. WSC had two runs on five hits and again suffered three errors while USD had five runs on nine hits and one error.

Softball team wins two from Midland

The Wayne State softball team swept a doubleheader from Midland College in Fremont Wednesday, 8-3 and 4-3. The victories improved Dan Pollard's Wildcats to 5-7 on the year.

In the opener Jennifer McGowan improved her season record to 3-3. WSC had eight runs on 11 hits and two errors while the host team had three runs on eight hits and four errors.

Jodie Gillfillan had a double and two rbi's and a stolen base while Dee Henningsen had a single and two stolen bases. Marti Hunt had a single and a stolen base and Jenny Reuland had a single and one stolen base. Megan Dolish had an rbi single.

WSC scored three runs in the third inning to lead 3-1. They added two more in the fourth to lead 5-3 heading to the sixth in-

In the nightcap Alex Ross got the pitching win as she struck out four and walked one in the process. The Cats' got four runs on 10 hits and two errors while Midland got three runs on seven hits and three errors.

Michele Reinhardt was the offensive catalyst for WSC as she went 3-4 with two doubles, two rbi's and two stolen bases. Reinhardt hit a 2-out double in the seventh inning which knocked in Marti Hunt who had singled to lead off the inning in what was the game winning run.

Hunt went 2-3 with one stolen base and Henningsen went 2-3 with one stolen base. Henningsen improved her total stolen base mark to 17 on the season.
