State National Bank wins first award

FACT traveling trophy honors businesses

WAYNE - When FACT began in 1989, the chamber's education council and the chamber's board of directors recognized a need to promote and recognize the value of good people relations.

"We did not claim to be the friendliest," said Dr. Wayne Wessel, a member of the chamber council who got the FACT program going in 1989. "We only want to be known as the town that is working to be the friendliest of all college towns."

The importance of FACT, an acronym for Friendliest of All College Towns, has carried over since its inception. Because of its promotional efforts, the State National Bank and Trust Company will be honored today (Thursday) with the first ever award for promoting friendly relations in the community.

The award will be presented at a special ceremony at the State National Bank Drive-In at Ninth and Main. The ceremony will be at 11:30 a.m.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Wessel, FACT's first objective was to create an awareness of the need to be friendly and to cause people to want to be friendly. The next step was to improve people skills.

State National Bank was nominated and selected to receive the award for its "The Customer" program. The program requires seven to eight nights of training in customer relations and then practicing of those skills the following week.

Since "The Customer" program began, State National Bank Senior Vice-President Pat Gross, with the bank's approval, has shared the program and directed it for other interested members of the community. Other programs are planned in the future.

In addition to State National Bank's contribution to making Wayne the friendliest of all college towns, Wayne State College has played an integral part in promoting FACT.

WESSEL SAID FACT has had great support from Dr. Donald Mash and Wayne State College. He said Wayne State has shown its support through an interpersonal communication program conducted by Professor Ron Whitt, as well as support from other Wayne State organizations that have helped promote FACT.

"As a part of the FACT project, we are pledged to continue to remind each other of the need to be friendly," Wessel said. "That's why we're giving this special award to State National Bank."

The award State National Bank will receive will be a traveling trophy that recognizes a business or organization readily displaying a friendly attitude in the community.

Each month, recipients will receive the traveling trophy by a vote of organizations from the community and college or by some of the members of the honored business organization. Only members of the community pledged to the FACT project will be eligible for selection in the award process.

"We started our project by asking businesses, individuals and other organizations to sign our FACT pledge, which basically asks us and all members of our organizations or businesses to treat others as we would like to be treated," Wessel said. "If a friendly atmosphere prevails in our area we will feel better about ourselves and others will feel good visiting, doing business and living in Wayne."

Moth population a concern, but bugs not threatening to homes

AREA - If you haven't noticed, the moth population is in full bloom.

According to John Witkowski, extension entomologist with the Northeast Station in Concord, problems with this year's moth population are more severe than years past.

Witkowski said it is likely that problems with the pesky moths will continue for a while as they migrate to the Colorado Rocky Mountains. There, they will mature before returning in the fall, when they will plant eggs. He said most of the moths are cutworms.

Witkowski said the moths pose no threat at this stage of their development. He said right now, they're most likely feeding on flower nectar or dew drops. He said one reason the bugs are doing so well is because of the moisture the area has seen in recent weeks. "They won't feed on curtains or things like that," he said. "There won't be any feeding damage in the house and they're not reproductively mature to do any egg laying in the house."

THE CONCERN with the moths, however, is when they return, they

WSC set for third chemical conference

WAYNE - The third annual Safety and Chemical Awareness Conference for Educational Awareness will be held June 28-29 at Wayne State College.

The featured speaker at this year's conference will be Monona Rossol, an industrial hygienist who is the director of Arts, Crafts and Theatre Safety, Inc. of New York.

According to Dr. Pearl Hansen, conference director, this year's focus is on examining the environmental condition of the schools.

"The reason we decided to focus our attention on schools is because quite often people don't pay attention to what effects chemicals have on children," she said. "The same chemicals used in schools are used in homes. It's just something we don't think of."

While the conference will be attended primarily by teachers and administrators, Hansen said there is also a group of individuals who have been injured by chemicals and have suffered disabilities in one way or another. She said in all about 100 people are expected to attend.

THE WAYNE State art professor said two sessions Friday, June 28 will give special attention to chemical problems in schools. One session Saturday, June 29 will pay special attention to the effects of toxin exposure to children.

From 1-3 p.m. Friday, June 28 a session entitled "How Environmentally Safe Are Our Schools" will examine the effects of materials common to the classroom which may pose a threat. The session discussion will be spearheaded by Irene Wilkenfeld, a professional freelance medical writer on environmental health.

The second session Friday Hansen believes will be of public interest, which will be held from 3:15-4:15 p.m. It is entitled "School Liability." It will discuss the consequences schools may face unless alternative methods are taught when students use chemicals. It will be headed by Rick Wade, an attorney for the Nebraska State Education Association.

On Saturday, June 29 from 8-9 a.m. the session "Effects of Childrens Exposure to Toxins" will be discussed with Linda King leading the session. King is the director for Environmental Health Network in Harvey, La. Hansen said this might be a good session to attend if residents with children plan to do any remodeling to their homes.

Small group discussions will be led by Walt Shacklett, a science teacher at Bergen-Mercy High School in Fremont and Greg VanderWeil, an industrial technology education instructor at Wayne State.

For more information about the conference contact Dr. Pearl Hansen at 375-7356. Registration forms are available through Wayne State College.

will be laying eggs. Once the eggs develop and hatch, they pose a threat to alfalfa, wheat and some oats.

Witkowski said one way of keeping the moths out of the house is to keep them away from the house if at all possible. He said the moths are attracted to light within six to 10 feet. He said if outdoor lights are turned off, the pests won't be as likely to go indoors.

Another way to eliminate the moths is to get a bug zapper. Witkowski said since moths are attracted to the light, once they fly into the zapper, they probably won't survive the electrical current.

"We don't recommend any insecticide control," he said. "It's just not worth it."

Dandruff: No Cure

The good news about dandruff is that it is not a disease. Rather, it is a normal, yet rapid, shedding of scalp cells. According to the Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs, severe dandruff affects about 18 percent of the population. And mild dandruff affects another 18 percent. Dandruff is a special problem during winter months. And while there is no cure for dandruff, medicated shampoos help reduce the rapid cellular turnover rate, thereby enabling dead cells to be shed in a slower, less noticeable manner. In low concentrations, selenium sulfide and zinc pyrithione can be very helpful. Both are available without prescription. Salicylic acid helps loosen dead scalp tissue, making its removal easier. Some medicated shampoos have formulas that are better than others. Ask your pharmacist for advice.

Wayne gals fast pitch team, 5-1

The Wayne girls fast pitch softball team has jumped out to a quick start this year with the 16 and under team 1-0 after defeating Ponca in the season opener, 15-7 while the 18 and under team is off to a 5-1 start after defeating Ponca in the season opener by a 21-2 margin and then placing second in the Pender Tournament held Sunday in Pender.

At Ponca on May 28, the 16 and under team was paced by the pitching arm of Wendy Beiermann while pounding out 17 hits from an offensive stand point. Jenny Thompson went 3-3 with three singles and four runs scored while Tami Schluns had two singles. Heather Thompson had two singles and Tracy O'borny smacked a home run.

Jennifer Hammer was the winning pitcher for the 18 and under team as the game lasted just three innings. Wayne had 11 hits but Ponca pitchers walked 18 Wayne batters.

Kari Lutt was the offensive catalyst for Wayne with a 4-4 outing including a double while Lana Casey belted a pair of singles. Shannon Holdorf had a triple and Tara Exleben smacked a double. Holly Holdorf, Lisa Casey and De-vane Jensen all had singles. The Pender Tournament was supposed to be a two day affair but rain forced the whole thing to be played just on Sunday with a time limit of 90 minutes set for each game.

In the opener Wayne was forced to go 10 innings before disposing of the host team and the 90 minute time limit went by the wayside as the teams remained deadlocked after each inning.

Pender scored one run in the third inning to take a 1-0 lead only to have Wayne tie it up in the fourth inning. Neither team would score again until the ninth inning when Wayne scored three runs to take a 4-1 lead. Pender however, scored three times in the bottom of the ninth to tie the game and force the 10th inning where Wayne scored four times and then held off another Pender rally in the bottom of the 10th to preserve the win.

"The game lasted three hours," Wayne girls coach Doug Sturm said. "Both teams were determined to win. We just never gave up." Wayne had eight runs on 10 hits while Pender had seven runs on five hits.

Jennifer Hammer pitched the whole game and struck out 11 Pender batters in the process.

Holly Holdorf led the team with three hits while Hammer aided her own pitching cause with two hits. Shannon Holdorf had a triple and Tami Schluns had a single as did Kristen Swanson, Lisa Casey and Tina Schindler. "We played pretty good defense in the game as a team but Lisa Casey did an outstanding job at second base," Sturm said. "She stopped a couple of Pender threats with some great fielding."

Wayne loses to Norfolk Within five minutes after beating Pender in a three hour contest Wayne was forced to play the Norfolk Golden Gals. The energy level wasn't quite up to where it was in the opener and Wayne fell, 9-1 as Kari Lutt took the loss. Wayne managed just one hit in the game and that was a single by Jennifer Hammer.

"It was just a simple case of having no rest," Sturm said. "They had a six run second inning on just one hit so that tells you what kind of game it was."

Wayne came back to defeat Pierce in the next game 8-5 as Hammer got the win after striking out six. Wayne had nine hits in the game while holding Pierce to six.

Wayne was led by Holly Holdorf's two doubles while Kari Lutt singled twice. Shannon Holdorf, Devanee Jensen, Lisa Casey, Wendy Beiermann and Jennifer Hammer each had a single. Wayne scored five times in the seventh inning to come from behind and win.

The locals then drilled Emerson by a 19-2 margin as they pounded out 22 hits. The game lasted just three innings with Kari Lutt earning the win with relief from Wendy Beiermann.

Tara Exleben was the offensive gem for Wayne pounding out four hits in as many times at bat including a double. Shannon Holdorf and Shawn Schroeder each went 3-3 with Holdorf smacking a double while Hammer, Lutt, Lisa Casey, Lana Casey and Holly Holdorf each had two hits. Devanee Jensen and Beiermann each had one hit but each smacked a double. Wayne had a total of seven extra base hits in the game from seven different batters.

In the final game Wayne downed Ponca for the second time this year, this time by a 16-7 margin with Kari Lutt earning the win. All three pitchers got to pitch in the game. The locals once again showed batting prowess as they grounded out 16 hits compared to six for Ponca.

Tami Schluns led the way with a 3-4 outing while Wendy Beiermann, Devanee Jensen, Jennifer Hammer, and Lisa Casey all had two hits apiece. Lana Casey, Holly Holdorf, Kristen Swanson and Shawn Schroeder each had one hit.

"Considering the heat and playing five games back-to-back, I thought our team played very hard," Sturm said.

Wayne wins own tourney

The 9th Annual Wayne Junior Legion Baseball Tournament was reduced to a one day outing due to rainy weather but the local team came away with a 2-0 record Sunday to win the tournament.

O'Neill was supposed to be here but due to the shortage of time to play the games they decided it was not in their best interest to play so the tournament was cut to three teams in Hartington, Wakefield and Wayne.

Wayne opened up tournament play against Hartington and behind the arm of pitcher Jeff Griesch, the locals breezed to a 5-0 win as Griesch tossed a 2-hit shut out.

Wayne belted out eight hits which led to their five runs. Griesch aided his pitching cause by going 3-4 from the plate including two singles and a double while Rusty Hamer belted a 2-run double in the seventh inning. Travis Stracke, Cory Wieseler, Brian Lentz and Jim Hoffman also recorded singles in the win.

Wayne then watched as Hartington defeated Wakefield 4-1 as Dalton Rhodes took the loss. Both teams had four hits in the game but the difference was four Wakefield errors compared to just one by Hartington.

Marcus Tappe, Thad Nixon and Brad Nuernberger all hit singles for Wakefield while Travis Thompson had an rbi double.

Wayne then defeated Wakefield by a convincing 14-1 margin as the locals pounded out 14 hits while Wayne pitcher Brian Penne tossed a 2-hitter while striking out four and walking five. Matt Krusemark was the losing pitcher for Wakefield.

Rusty Hamer was the offensive catalyst for Wayne as he went 4-4 from the plate including a home run, two doubles and a single. Hamer notched four rbi's and scored four times.

Travis Stracke smacked a pair of doubles for three rbi's and Jim Hoffman went 3-3 with a double and three rbi's. Wakefield's two hits came on singles by Anthony Brown and Jon Johnson.

The locals will host Albion on Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at Overin Field.

Allen, a 6-6, 258-pound power forward, joins the Wildcats after playing for NCAA Division I University of Texas-Arlington. He earned Omaha World Herald all-metro honors in 1986-87 and 87-88 while at Creighton Prep High School in Omaha. Allen and WSC forward Doug Kuszak were teammates on the Las Vegas All-Star team.

"We've had a great recruiting year and David Allen is the cornerstone of this year's class," Brewen said. "He is a very important player for us because he gives us size, strength, and a rebounding inside."

Kevin Thurman, a 6-7, 210-pound center from Farmington, Missouri adds to WSC's inside game. Thurman's Mineral Area College team averaged 20 wins a season during his two years. Last year, Thurman posted a high of nine points and 12 rebounds against Moberly Junior College.

"Kevin is an excellent young man who will get over 100 rebounds for us, play tough post defense, and set picks for his teammates to get open," Brewen said. "Plus, he is an outstanding student."

Carlos Moore, a 6-4, 195-pound forward from Kilgore, Texas rounds out the trio. Moore helped Kilgore Junior College go 25-5 last season, and played for WSC assistant coach Russel Travis in 89-90.

"Carlos is a relentless offensive rebounder, plays excellent post defense, and comes from a winning program," Brewen said. "If you look at the five players we've signed so far, they all have come from highly successful programs that were 20-game winners."

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Lee Dwayne

Eli Finn was only 83 in 1973 when, after 41 years as a sales representative, he was retired by an appliance company. So he got a selling job with an independent stove company, taking the 7:04 a.m. commuter train daily from Norwalk, Connecticut, to New York City. "Even in a blizzard (he) made it in," said a co-worker. "People didn't think he'd ever retire." So when customers call now and ask for him, they are told "he's going to college." And that's the truth. At age 100, Eli Finn is taking courses at Fairfield University. To get there, he guides his 12-year-old auto onto Interstate 95, a heavily traveled road that many younger drivers avoid. A reporter accompanying him to get material on this centenarian's zest for life related how he quickly gets into the left lane and passes other cars and 18-wheel trucks.

Margaret Grossman is 88, and continues to serve as a volunteer at a geriatric center in New York City. To get there four days a week, she walks two miles each way to help cheer people worse off physically, some of them younger than she is.

Remember When? October 7, 1952 - The New York Yankees won their fourth World Series in a row, but the Brooklyn Dodgers made them work for it. The Yankees won the deciding seventh game of the series 4 to 2 at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn.

Area youngsters invited to join 'fly-in' at Wakefield Evangelical Covenant Church

All youngsters of the Wakefield area are invited to trace the history of flight during an imaginary fly-in scheduled Sunday through Thursday, June 9-13 at the Wakefield Evangelical Covenant Church, located at Eighth and Winter Sts.

The Rev. Chuck Wahlstrom said children and youth may join the adventure each night with the "Flying Machine," portions of a simulated Ford Tri-Motor. Take off is at 7 p.m. nightly, with landing at 8:15.

Parents are invited to attend with the youth as each service will be different yet historically continuous. Children will earn personalized Flight Cadet hats.

LEADING the nightly adventures will be the Rev. and Mrs. Willard Grant along with their flying machine, the Eagle.

Pilot Willard and his wife, co-pilot Margaret, have been youth evangelists since 1955. Together, they travel 45,000 miles a year to minister to more than 50,000 children.

This is the 11th theme the Grants have used in presenting the gospel in graphic and creative ways. They present a fast paced program featuring child participation, visualized songs, chalk talks and marionette performances.

More than two dozen 30-inch tall marionettes carved by Pastor Grant will travel through the history of flight each night. Gliders, balloons, dirigibles, aeroplanes and space ships will provide their transportation.

Marionette pilots, barnstormers, aeronauts and astronauts will be operated by the Grants.

THE GRANTS are graduates of Vennard College, University Park, Iowa; Seattle Pacific University, Seattle, Wash.; and North Park College and Theological Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Grant, a speech and drama major, prepares the programs and writes the scripts. A daughter, Mrs. J. Doug Toll of Kansas, a teacher and interior decorator, assists them in the painting of scenery and designing of marionette clothing.

The Grants will appear nightly in pilot's outfits from the Lindbergh period. The ministry of the pair is aimed at pointing young people toward faith in Jesus Christ.

They have ministered to overflow crowds of up to 5,000 children in churches throughout the United States, Canada, Hong Kong, Japan and Taiwan.

THE REV. AND MRS. WILLARD Grant will conduct a "fly-in" for area children and youth on Sunday through Thursday, June 9-13 at the Wakefield Evangelical Covenant Church.

BIG LIES AND BROKEN PROMISES: A few months ago, I did a column on the continuing assault on the Social Security system, in particular, Medicare. The column was called "Broken Record Department." It dealt with the government's disputed contention that Medicare funding will run out of money in 15 years, and taxes will have to be raised.

In April, John McCullough, Treasurer of Local 169, Federal Credit Union, in Philadelphia, Pa., wrote to comment on the piece. He said: "What you call 'the Broken Record Department' used to be called the 'Big Lie.' Tell a lie loud and often, and it becomes accepted as the truth. A modern maxim may help: 'If it works, don't fix it.' The Social Security Fund is solvent. Why fix it?"

Mr. McCullough included a bar chart with data from the U.S. Budget for Fiscal Year 1992. As he notes: "The first bar shows a $74 billion surplus in Social Security. The second bar shows a $362 billion U.S. Deficit, and the third bar shows a deficit of only $289 billion when the Social Security surplus is merged with the deficit. The third bar disguises the actual deficit and the Social Security surplus."

Rather than have Medicare recipients pay more for their benefits, Mr. McCullough says, "I... submit that a withholding tax on Medicare payments to doctors and other providers be collected and recycled back into the Medicare program..."

I don't know if Mr. McCullough's plan would work, but since so many bureaucrats are ready to sock it to the patients, they might also be receptive to taxing the true

WASHINGTON ALERT: Write your congress person if you believe the president's plan to limit the awards in medical malpractice suits is an idea whose time should never come! The president says it will hold down the costs of medicine. Even if that were so (and most authorities say it's very "iffy"), that's no reason to make what is, essentially, a judicial decision before a case is heard. President Bush would penalize states that don't comply by holding back payments for medical programs, in effect, making those in need of medical care victims of an ill-conceived plan.

SCAM REPORT: To the readers who sent me samples of pitches that could be scams, thanks. Most of them were on the edge of chicanery at the least. Two proved to be sleazy operations which make their money when folks call their 900 numbers for more information. Continue being suspicious. Never forget: if it's too good to be true, it probably isn't — true, that is.

By Pat Meierhenry

It's Sunday. The sun has shone all day, Mike is attacking the grassy jungle, the Lakers have squeaked by the Bulls and those pesky barn swallows are building on my porch again.

I usually love May, and there were a few beautiful days, I will admit. But a precious few. Memorial Day was lovely. And as I drove to West Point for a Hospice class, I heard a taped concert by the Wayne Community Band that was outstanding.

This past week has been sultry, stormy and soggy. As I took towels off the rack, they felt damp from the day before. Every night, the wind blew and the rain fell, and we wondered if we should head for the basement.

And, as always, seems to happen, the babies arrived at the hospital. Stormy weather must have something to do with it. When I got to work Thursday night, there were nine moms and babes.

Our total census had dropped over the holiday weekend, but it was on the increase rapidly. The evening shift had admitted ten. ER was hopping when I arrived.

By 11:30, I'd had report, and the two gals in emergency were finishing up. There were three ladies in labor, but they were progressing normally. We were having a cup of coffee, discussing how nice it was going to be to have full-time physician coverage after June 1.

Then the weather alert went off. The gal at the switchboard called to report a "tornado warning."

In 30 years at LCH, I had never had to move patients. A "tornado alert" requires us to be ready to move, and I had been through several of these. On Memorial Day, 1954, Madison experienced a tornado that resulted in fatalities. Folks from Madison who remember that day make nervous patients during a tornado watch, and I had been on night shifts like that.

I had seen the video of the one that hit Bergan Mercy in 1975 (the same day Winside got hit) and that was scary. The staff there had done everything right, and no patients were injured.

I notified second floor, first floor, ICU and I West, where all the moms were. The babies in the nursery were handed to their mothers, some were rolled in their bassinets; some women were in wheel chairs, some were pushing IV poles.

Everyone pitched in: house-keeping, security and evening shift people who were still there. Everyone was in a designated area in 10 minutes.

I sat down in a very crowded labor and delivery hall to hold the boarder baby, and looked around. The patients were surprisingly good-natured, considering they had been sound asleep. Then it dawned on me that four of the smiling mothers were from Winside! I don't know what was going on in our little village nine months ago, but there has been a mini alumni reunion in post partum this week.

Finally, at 1:30, the "all clear," and we moved everyone back to their rooms. But not before we got the polaroid camera and took a picture of this gathering. It will make a great addition to four baby books.

That's enough turbulence. Let's get on with summer and cut hay.
