Extended Weather Forecast:
Friday through Sunday; very warm and dry; highs, 90s; lows, mid-60s to lower-70s.

Subscription renewals are now due

AREA - Wayne Herald subscribers who receive their subscriptions by mail are reminded payments are due July 25.

Customers who previously received subscription renewal notices by mail will not receive a mailed notice. This is the second of two renewal reminders subscribers will see printed in The Wayne Herald during July.

Customers who receive their newspaper by mail can find out when their subscription runs out by locating the date next to their name on the white address label on the newspaper. For instance, if the renewal date appears: John Doe, Aug. 1, 1991, it means that your subscription runs out with the last newspaper date in July, which is Monday, July 29.

To avoid missing any issues, customers are asked to pay by July 25.

For more information about subscriptions, contact The Wayne Herald at 375-2600 or toll-free at 1-800-672-3418.

Cluck-off crowns new champ

After having the same winner in the National Cluck-Off for the past five years, the Wayne Chicken Show found itself a new national champion this year.

Joel Vavra of Crete bowed out as the national champion as Ed Howard of Marysville, Kan. came away with honors. Howard outscored Vavra in the cluck-off competition with his rendition of a hen. Vavra competed as a rooster.

During Saturday's event, the community played host to an estimated 10,000 people — one of the largest crowds on record — not to mention hundreds of chickens.

OTHER competitors in the National Cluck-Off found the competition stiff, although a number of individuals strutted their stuff proudly in four categories.

In the 12 and under hen competition, Ryan Feagan of Omaha placed first; Christopher Cluver of Omaha was second and Jeremy Hansen of Randolph came away with third place.

In the 12 and under rooster category, Chad Hammer of Austin, Texas crowed his way to first place honors. Brendon Ehlers of Lyman, Wyo. finished second and Matt Meyer of Wayne and William Kumm of Osmond tied for third.

Along with Howard's claims to the championship, he also won the 13 and over hen competition. Tami Schluns of Wayne placed second followed by Mary Schere of Lincoln and Lyle George of Wayne tying for third.

Vavra, who finished at the top of the roost in the 13 and over rooster competition was followed in second place by Greg Sunderman of Norfolk, with Mariah Vavra of Crete placing third.

ASIDE FROM the National Cluck-Off, Chicken Show participants found there were a number of other areas to take part in. For instance, a morning parade found a number of winners in various categories.

Taking top honors in the parade was the Wayne Eagles float. The entry with the best overall "Chickens around the World" theme was given to the Chickendales and the best group-children's float was given to the Tri-County Right to Life. Best individual children's entry went to Matt Woehler and the best organization float was won by the Wayne Rotary Club. Pac 'N' Save rounded out the parade entries with the best commercial float.

Starting off the day's events was the Fun Run, which was won by Cole Hilka of Pender, who competed in the men's race. Paul Wegner of West Point took second place. In the women's competition, Barb Stefanski of Omaha placed first and Tami Schluns of Wayne was second. More details about the fun run are included on today's Wayne Herald sports page.

WITH OVER 10,000 people in Wayne for the Eleventh Annual Wayne Chicken Show Saturday, people got to see and take part in a variety of events. In some examples, participants found out that catching eggs from the city's cherry picker wasn't that easy, as (above) this unidentified individual found out. The Chicken Show also crowned a new National Cluck-Off champion this year as Ed Howard (photo right), won the title. More pictures are on page 8A of today's Wayne Herald.

IN THE ROOSTER crowing competition, Matt Jensen's bird

Barred Old Eng Game Cock took first place with 62 crows. Matt is from Winside. Placing second was Mary Jensen's entry Silver Duck Wing, which had 45 crows. Mary is also from Winside.

In the chicken flying meet, Lori Newhall's entry soared 72 feet, 10 inches to run away with the heavyweight title. Lisa Gansbon's bird won the middleweight competition for flying 200 feet. Gansbon's entry in the bantamweight also took top honors for flying out of the park. Andrew Jensen's entry in the featherweight division took top honors for a flight of 45 feet, 9 inches.

IN THE CHICKENS on display competition, Road Island Red, a bantam cock owned by Mary Jensen, took top honors. The biggest chicken in the midwest was won by Laudon Grothe, whose bird weighed 9 1/2 pounds. The biggest egg entry was won by Marie Rathje, Rising City, whose egg weighed 111.4 grams. Lance

Vermillion-Newcastle bridge

Project hinges on study

Although it is unknown what impact a Vermillion-Newcastle bridge might have on the Wayne community, two spokesmen for the project addressed approximately 20 local businessmen at a Tuesday luncheon.

The dutch-treat luncheon was sponsored by Wayne Industries. It was held at the Black Knight restaurant in Wayne.

According to Cy Kniefl, Newcastle, and Don Meisner, Sioux City, who addressed the topic, it is unknown as yet what impact the bridge will have on Wayne. Details about the economic impacts of the bridge won't be known until a study is conducted by Simco of Sioux City at some later date.

"The one thing we believe will happen is that this will open up for business expansion," according to Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Curt Wilwerding. "Currently there is no thoroughway in that area and with this bridge, business activity is expected to increase."

ACCORDING TO information provided by Meisner, talk of a bridge began as early as the late 1930s. He said that effort, however, was put on hold due to World War II.

Meisner said there are two studies which could be conducted.

One study would be for feasibility and the other would try to forecast traffic patterns through the area. Each study could be used to determine the importance of the bridge.

'The one thing we believe will happen is that this will open up ... expansion. Currently there is no thoroughway in that area and with this bridge, business activity is expected to increase.'

Curt Wilwerding
Wayne Chamber

"There has always been this latent demand by people to get across the Missouri River at this site," Meisner said to the audience. "The construction of this bridge would expand the entire area's trade territory and it would introduce land use changes and development."

Meisner and Kniefl each said fund raisers to support this project have been conducted. Each spokesperson said some sort of study will be conducted, regardless of whether federal monetary support is made available by Congress.

THE PURPOSE of the spokesperson's visit to Wayne Tuesday was to ask for endorsements for this project. Meisner said it is important to have the support of both the City of Wayne and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

Once funding is complete, the group seeking to build the Vermillion-Newcastle bridge will seek Congressional authorization for the project. Authorization may occur for many of the country's highway projects as early as 1992. Meisner said this is a key step in the process.

"There are three ways to gauge projects," he said. "One is by the size of the project and the effects it will have on interstate highway systems, which obviously doesn't apply to this. The other is for dilapidated bridges, which doesn't apply. But the third is the innovative funds, which are the monies we're seeking."

If the bridge is eventually built, it will be located one mile east of Maskell.

"We want to make this a reality and we think it will be," Kniefl said. "It's just a matter of time."

Officials nab youth attempting escape

WAYNE - A 17-year-old runaway from Iowa was apprehended Monday morning when he apparently walked away from the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Facility.

The juvenile was being held in the non-secure portion of the facility because of his minor charges as required by state and federal regulations, according to Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen.

THE INCIDENT occurred at approximately 2:20 a.m. on Monday, July 17. The individual's name was not made public.

The juvenile was immediately apprehended. He was caught by authorities as he was searching a vehicle in the parking lot for keys.

Reports of the incident were forwarded to the Wayne County Attorney's office Monday for review.

The juvenile is now housed in secure custody at the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center pending further action.

Conway says special session will conclude without amendment

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

State Sen. Gerald Conway, R-Wayne, believes the Nebraska Legislature will end the special session without having reached any resolution to the state's property tax dilemma.

In a telephone interview late Tuesday afternoon, Conway said there are a number of senators who are uncertain whether an immediate resolution is needed to resolve the state's property tax problems. He said he believes the special session called by Gov. Ben Nelson will end this week to no avail.

"If the proposed amendment were to pass this legislative body and pass a public vote in September, ... it really wouldn't make any difference because taxes would still have to be assessed on personal property through Jan. 1," Conway said. "The courts are saying that whatever form of taxes you have in place have to be fair to everybody."

THE STATE senator said he does not favor eliminating the property tax system all together because some sort of tax on property is needed. Some tax activists have said the state should do away with personal property taxes because they're not fair to everyone.

While the legislature will likely end this special session without a resolution, Conway said he believes it will still take a constitutional amendment to solve the problem. He said at any rate, the unicameral will have to pass some sort of legislation which provides direction for county assessors to charge property tax on all property.

"We've found that we don't have to solve all our problems right now in order to solve the tax crisis," he said.

CONWAY said that the issue of an amendment ultimately lies with whether people want to make a change to the Constitution and right now, the legislature is uncertain whether it wants to do that.

He said the issue before the legislature now is whether they want to separate real and personal property in the form of a Constitutional amendment. The Wayne legislator said he is uncertain whether he wants to see that done because it could have long-term effects which might not be positive for the state.

"We are all policymakers who are trying to support constituents' interests," Conway said. "Right now, we aren't certain that jumping into a Constitutional amendment is the right way to go. Until our understanding of the matter is cleared up, we probably won't take any action. It's frustrating but it's the best process in the world."

Conway added he has been busy this week, balancing his time between two events. Conway is the chairperson for a regional legislator's convention in Omaha this week, along with taking part in the special session in Lincoln.

Briefly Speaking

Chloe Johnson observes 100th

CONCORD - Chloe Johnson, a former resident of the Concord area, celebrated her 100th birthday on July 14 at Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel.

The event was hosted by her daughters, Arline and Marvin Nitzsche of Remsen, Iowa and Ardyth and Lorence Anderson of Albia, Iowa, along with members of the Dorcas Circle of Concordia Lutheran Church, Concord.

Julie Schutte-Timothy Schmidt wed in Laurel Immanuel Lutheran Church

Gold vases of bright pink gladioli and carnations, accented with turquoise and white, decorated the altar of Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel on July 6 for the marriage of Julie Renee Schutte and Timothy Allan Schmidt.

The Rev. Tom Ramsey of Seward officiated at the five o'clock, double ring rites. Other decorations included bright turquoise pew bows.

Parents of the couple are Dave and Connie Schutte of Allen and Allan and Sandy Schmidt of Seward.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to Minneapolis and are at home at 1262 Kolterman, #6, Seward, Neb., 68434.

The bride graduated from Laurel-Concord Public School in 1988 and is attending Concordia College, Seward, where she plans to graduate in May 1992.

The bridegroom, a 1988 graduate of Baltimore Lutheran High School, also plans to graduate from Concordia College in May 1992.

GUESTS attending the couple's wedding ceremony were registered by Becky Schroeder of Belden, and ushered into the church by Kyle Schutte of Allen, brother of the bride, and Thomas Eggold and Tony Pollizi, both of Seward.

Lighting candles were Ben Schroeder and Clayton Schroeder, both of Coleridge. Flower girl was Emily Schroeder of Belden, and ring bearer was Marcus Papenhausen of Coleridge.

Maid of honor was Gena Schutte of Dixon, and bridesmaid was Teri Schutte of Papillion. Junior bridesmaid was Lana Schutte of Allen, sister of the bride.

Best man was Marty Schmidt of Stanley, Hong Kong, brother of the bridegroom, and groomsmen was John Schutte of Allen, brother of the bride.

Wedding music included "O Perfect Love," sung by the congregation. "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" were played for the processional, and "Allegro Maestoso" was played for the recessional. Organist was Marian Mallatt of Laurel.

Pinning flowers was Kris Schroeder of Belden, and handing out bulletins were Lukas Schroeder of Boone, Iowa and Matt Schroeder of Belden.

ON HER wedding day, the bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a white satin gown in floor length.

The dress was fashioned with slightly puffed short sleeves. The bodice was covered with a lace polka dot overlay, and a large bow and layered ruffles covered the back.

Her headpiece was covered with pearls and flowers and was made by the bride from her mother's veil. She carried bright pink, yellow and purple assorted roses with carnations, baby's breath and other summer flowers.

The bride's personal attendant was Lisa Papenhausen of Coleridge.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore tea-length frocks in turquoise satin, fashioned with short puffed sleeves with bows at the shoulders, and flared skirts with a large bow. Each carried pink long-stemmed roses.

The bridegroom was attired in a black tuxedo with a black tie and cummerbund, and his attendants wore black tuxedos with bright turquoise ties and cummerbunds.

The bride's mother selected a turquoise silk dress and the bridegroom's mother chose a pink polyester dress.

APPROXIMATELY 225 guests

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Schmidt attended a reception afterward in the Laurel city auditorium and were greeted by Marlin and Mary Bose of Dixon and Jim and Sue Schroeder of Boone, Iowa. Arranging gifts were cousins of the bride.

The wedding cake was cut and served by Kay Anderson of Avon, Ohio and Kathy Jani of Cranbury, N.J. Kathy Schutte of Papillion and Kathy Schutte of Sioux Falls, S. D. poured, and Jessie Monson of Laurel and Heather Pollizi of Seward served punch.

Granddaughter's poetry gains national attention

Miranda (Mandee) Glassmeyer, 14-year-old daughter of Diane Glassmeyer of Norfolk and granddaughter of Eleanor and Gilbert Raus of Wayne, is seeing her dream of published works become a reality.

Mandee began writing poetry as a hobby and has entered several poetry contests.

Her latest piece, entitled "Remember When," is to be included in "Windows of the World, Vol II" (Library of Congress ISBN: 940863-41-3, published by the National Library of Poetry).

The book will showcase a collection of major poetry anthology of today's poets and song writers.

MANDEE has been nominated for charter membership in the International Society of Poets and has been invited to the formal induction ceremony scheduled the middle of August in Washington, D.C.

She received the Golden Poet 1990 award last August from the World of Poetry Convention in Las Vegas, however due to conflicts was unable to attend the convention and receive her award personally.

Remember When
Remember when you were young and life was simple.

Mandee Glassmeyer

Remember when the earth was clean and wonderful.

Remember when the mountain streams were fresh and beautiful.

Remember when peace ran throughout the world.

Remember when all people were friendly and thoughtful.

Sometimes I wonder if the only way to describe the wonderful, peaceful and simple world we were born into is

Remember When.

The evening also included a reading, entitled "My Home Town," which was written by Dr. Glee Lockwood (Class of 1937), now residing in Daytona Beach, Fla.

The master of ceremonies also gave a reading, and the evening closed with the school song led by Chris (Ellis) Isom and the benediction by the Rev. Roger Green.

NEWLY elected officers are Sally (Mattes) Lubberstedt, president; Wayne Jones, vice president; Rita Mattes, secretary; and Gaylen Jackson, treasurer.

The next alumni gathering will be held the last Sunday in June 1994.

WELCA meets at St. Paul's Lutheran

St. Paul's Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (WELCA) met at the church on July 10 with 31 members and two guests, Irene Victor and Judy Peters. Hostesses were Elizabeth Anderson and Gloria Leseberg.

President Cleve Willers opened the meeting and welcomed the group.

Christian action reported sending three college graduate cards, seven get well cards, two baby cards and three sympathy cards.

A card was received from the Lutheran Student Center of Lincoln on making or repairing banners. There is a special need for seasonal banners.

Thank you notes were received from Elinor Jensen, from women of the First Church of Christ, from the Minnie Heikes family and Jim Hansen.

A thank you also was read from the Quilts for Children project for the quilts they received.

IT WAS announced that the drapery fund is nearing its goal and that donations and memorials are being accepted for the project.

Marilyn Carhart talked about drapery fabrics and members voted to proceed with the project. A sliding curtain for the stage in the social room will be taken care of at a later date.

THE PROGRAM was presented by the evening group with Leslie Hausmann as leader, and included a scripture reading and pledge to the Christian flag. The group sang "Bible Hymn of the Republic."

Readers included Gloria Leseberg, Arlene Ostendorf, Sharon Flier, Carolyn Vakoc, Cleve Willers, Virginia Backstrom, Lila Splitzger, Lillian Surber, Melia Hefti, Elizabeth Anderson and Marilyn Lohrborg.

Leslie Hausmann sang "Count Your Blessings One by One" and "Bless This House," along with presenting a scripture reading, and the evening group sang "God Bless America."

The entire group sang "America," followed with prayer by Gerry Williams and the song "How Great Thou Art" by Leslie Hausmann.

The next WELCA meeting will be Aug. 14 at 2 p.m. with the sewing group in charge of the program. Hostesses will be Inez Baker and Ruth Baier.

ALTAR GUILD of St. Paul's Lutheran Church did not meet in July. The next meeting will be Aug. 1 at 9 a.m. at the church with Helen Weible as lesson leader and Ardyce Reeg as hostess.

Sewing Circle met June 27, with the next meeting scheduled July 25 with a potluck luncheon at noon.

Esther Circle will meet today (Thursday) at Wayne Care Centre with Mary Martinson as lesson leader and Joyce Magnuson as hostess. The group will not meet during August.

Naomi Circle also will meet today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. Ida Myers is hostess and Evie Schock is lesson leader. There will be no meeting in August.

Evening Circle also will not meet during August. The next meeting will be Sept. 23 with Evelyn McDermott as lesson leader and Sharon Flier as hostess.

Engagements

Peters-Fiedler
Making plans for an Oct. 19 wedding at the Wakefield Christian Church are Amy Elizabeth Peters and Daniel David Fiedler, both of Wakefield.

Their engagement has been announced by their parents, Don and Marion Peters and Dave and Carol Fiedler, all of Wakefield.

The bride-elect is a 1987 graduate of Wakefield High School. She is attending Wayne State College and is employed at the Wakefield Korner Mart and Wakefield Drug.

Her fiance graduated from Wakefield High School in 1991 and is attending Northeast Community College, Norfolk. He is employed as a farmhand.

Youngsters travel to western frontier at library summer reading program

"The Western Frontier — Right Over Here in a Book!" was the theme for this year's summer reading program in Nebraska.

At Wayne Public Library, 150 youngsters age four through fifth grade registered for the five-week program.

Activities included a pony express reenactment, a pen pal letter exchange with the Pittsfield, Ill. library, weekly book sharing, Native American picture writing on a headdress and teepee, a visit from pioneer storyteller Alice Dietz of Norfolk, churning butter, coloring a story quilt and making a pioneer child's toy.

A CLOSING party for all children completing the program was held July 8 in Wayne city auditorium and included pioneer games, refreshments from a chuck wagon and door prizes.

Winners in the western costume contest were Jessica Dickey, Mary Boehler and John Temme.

First place received a Pizza Hut pizza coupon, second place received a free video rental from Hollywood Video, and third place received a liter of pop.

LIBRARIAN Sue Buryanek reported that 2,534 juvenile books were checked out during the reading program.

Reading the most books was third grader Darci Bargholz with a total of 56 books reported on. Second place, with a total of 55 books, was first grader Tony Carollo.

Darci received the American Girls Series Diary and Tony received the Jungle Book read-a-long book/audiobook.

Other top readers in each grade and the number of books they read were Monica Boehle, second grade (26); Hailey Daehnke, fourth grade (42); and Dawn Bargholz, fifth grade (14).

Also recognized as top readers in their grade levels were Crystal Thiele, Addie Polt and Heather Headley.

They were each awarded paperback books.

BRETT Parker, Jennifer Taber,

Alyssa Frick, Sarah Ekberg, Kathryn Taber and Addie Polt received neon western frontier pencils and ribbons for their drawings describing scenes in books they read.

Eric Shapiro, Beth Loberg and Monica Boehle received Dairy Queen gift certificates for the creative projects they constructed.

Free ice cream cone tokens were given to the 57 Book Club participants who completed their reading contracts. Certificates of participation were presented to Read To Me Club children and to Book Club members who read at least six books.

AMONG those assisting with this year's reading program were Fawn Lahndorf, coordinator; Mark Sorensen, who presented the opening day pony express reenactment; Dorothy Glinsmann and Deanna Petersen as guest readers; Cynthia Rethwisch who loaned props; and the library staff including Dorothy Stevenson, Marjo Sanoahl, Leslie Keating and Kelli Frye.

Omaha, Dakota City, Mead and Carroll.

Ethel Peterson, 90, was the oldest family member attending and her great grandson, one-month-old Patrick Peterson, was the youngest.

Hosting this year's reunion was the Melvin Magnuson family.

Stanley reunion

A Stanley reunion was held July 7 in the Laurel Senior Center with family members attending from Kansas City, St. Louis, Maryville and Peculiar, Mo.; Vallejo, Calif.; Springfield, Ore.; Norfolk, Wayne, Carroll, South Sioux City, Ponca, Coleridge, Dakota City, Laurel and Dixon.

Two deaths were recorded during the past year.

The 1992 reunion will be held the first Sunday in July at the same location.

Family reunions fill summer calendar

Brugger reunion

The 31st annual Brugger reunion was held July 13-14 at Wilmot, S. D. with 27 attending. Hosting the event was the Darwin Ballhagen family.

Family members gathered at the Ballhagen farm for Saturday evening supper and games, along with Sunday breakfast and dinner. The group planted a walnut tree with hopes of watching it grow as families attending yearly reunions grow.

Relatives came from Wessington, Huron, Strandburg, Ashton, Corona and Wilmot, S. D.; Fremont, Columbus, Wayne, Winside, Carroll and Hartington. The only person attending with the Brugger name was Mark Brugger of Winside.

Four births and one death were recorded during the year, along with three marriages.

The 1992 Brugger reunion will be held in the Wayne area with area relatives hosting the event.

Holm reunion

Descendants of Frank and Hulda Holm met for a family reunion on July 7 at the Wakefield park. There were four generations present with a total of 79 persons.

Towns represented were Lawrence and Abilene, Kan.; St. Joseph and Eagle Bend, Minn.; Boise, Idaho; Rosemead, Calif.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Huntsville, Ala.; Omaha, Pender, Allen, Syracuse, Lincoln, Concord and Wakefield.

The committee handed out the updated Holm family tree book.

Magnuson reunion

Magnuson families held their annual summer reunion on July 7 with a potluck dinner in the Laurel city auditorium.

The 92 relatives came from Indianapolis, Ind.; St. Paul and Pipestone, Minn.; Humboldt and Sioux City, Iowa; Wayne, Laurel, Concord, Wakefield, Winside, Lincoln,

Thumbs up to everyone who worked the Chicken Show

Again this year, the members of the Chicken Show committee deserve a pat on the back. For the eleventh year in a row, they pulled off Wayne's biggest and best event.

This year, the Wayne Chicken Show drew around 10,000 people. That represents a good number of people to have visited our community. Not only that, but it creates a positive experience for those who visit Wayne.

Most of us probably don't realize the amount of work it takes to pull off a major event like the Chicken Show. Even so, we should make an effort to thank each of the people involved.

Believe it or not, but plans are already being started for the Twelfth Annual Chicken Show next year. This goes to show how successful this event has been in the past and how popular it will be in the future. Let's make sure we thank everyone who is involved in putting this event together.

Tax problems must be solved before Nebraska gets hurt

HEADLINE: Governor calls back senators for special session.

HEADLINE: Unicameral looks for ways to solve tax crisis.

As a story in the Monday, July 15 edition of The Wayne Herald points out, we face a major problem in our state, not only on the local level but on a statewide level.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has ruled that all personal property tax must be placed back on the rolls. The high court's ruling also calls into question the current formula for real taxes. We must resolve the problem now before it creates an epidemic. The only problem is that state senators are finding themselves working as politicians rather than statespersons.

The time has never been more ripe than for the entire tax structure in the state to be overhauled. To heck with personal and real property, let's take the time to do it all right.

Like personal and real property, taxes on vehicle licenses is another area which could be challenged by in the Supreme Court. This basically leaves only income and sales taxes and if the personal, real and motor vehicle taxes are in jeopardy, there are probably problems we have yet to discover with sales and income taxes.

Let's encourage our state senators to overhaul the entire tax structure in the state. Let's start with personal and real property taxes.

Entering the Chicken Zone

Imagine if you will ... galliformes take over

Imagine, if you will, you have just arrived in this small northeast Nebraska town. Everywhere you look, it is fowl. The town has been all consumed by galliformes and galliform fans. People are ingesting half an avian. Even the squirrels have converted their religion to chickarees.

You have just entered the Chicken Zone.

In this zone, people and bird alike, go where no one wants to admit. They speak of chickens. If you don't speak the language, you may find yourself stuck in a coop. For that matter, you may find the residents trying to launch a coop.

This odd day happens on an annual basis. People, who are just like you and I, find themselves all consumed and all consuming of chickens.

ON OCCASION, birds and people alike rise to the next level. From this town of Wayne, Nebraska, cluckers will end up on popular television shows like David Letterman or Johnny Carson. To take a page from this possible text, you may find the 10 top references to what happens to this town and its 10,000 guests.

As it may be heard on Late Night with David Letterman, we examine the top 10 comments about the Chicken Show.

Number 10: Is this for real?

Number 9: Yes, this is for real.

Number 8: Did that youngster, who tried to crow, hurt himself when his voice did what it did?

Number 7: Yes, cock-a-doodle-doo is the right way to enunciate what a rooster does when it crows.

Number 6: Where did they come up with this?

Number 5: What did that kid feed the largest bird winner?

Number 4: I've never seen reporters from TV stations laugh that hard before.

Number 3: Wow. Mrs. Nebraska is pretty.

Number 2: How soon before I get my omelet?

And Number 1, the top of all of the comments heard at the Chicken Show: Boy that guy's chicken imitation sure is authentic.

Mark'n' the Spot
by Mark Crist

BEFORE WE continue, we must realize that this author has some new goals for next year's chicken show. Three of which, come to mind.

First, I will compete in the national cluck off as a hen despite what it does to my reputation.

Second, if I try to catch an egg during the egg drop, I will wear my glasses. It makes it easier to see where the egg is coming from.

Third, if my good friend in Omaha can come, we will participate in the chicken song contest after, at least, five minutes of rehearsal.

AND SO IT goes. The fowl atmosphere is gone for another year. The galliformes and galliformes fans have returned to their coops and the city has survived another coop attempt. The squirrels have also returned to normal.

We have left the Chicken Zone, only to return to it next year. Same place. Same time.

Crisis affects all of us

On July 2 when I called the Legislature back into special session I said we needed to act now to set the stage for a stable and fair property tax system in Nebraska.

Since then, I've visited Nebraskans at work across the state because the tax crisis is more than a paper problem; it affects the quality of life in Nebraska. It affects people; Nebraskans. It affects jobs. It affects communities. It affects our way of life as One Nebraska.

People are different and their jobs are different. Treating everyone the same when it comes to personal property is unfair.

We can't expect to get big businesses to pay their fair share and apply the same system to small businesses and family farms. If we apply the same system to everyone, we'll only be squeezing big business, but we'll crush small business and cost thousands of jobs for the 95 percent of Nebraskans who work in small businesses and over 60,000 family farms and ranches.

We need a system that is predictable and responsible. Big businesses already enjoy incentives and have ways of managing their tax load. But we need a system that protects small businesses, family agriculture and middle-income Nebraskans by giving them the same opportunities.

I have continually urged the Legislature to give the people of Nebraska the opportunity to vote in a special election on a constitutional amendment that treats all property fairly. Then we need to design a system to do just that.

Some have suggested waiting to address the problem. The problem has been put off too long already.

The Supreme Court issued another ruling on July 10 effectively forcing the Legislature to either return all personal property to the tax rolls or amend the Constitution.

If control of public tax policy is to be returned to the Legislature

One Nebraska Journal
by Gov. Ben Nelson

from the Supreme Court, action must begin now and attention must be given to the message in the Court's decision.

The latest decision appears to leave three options; doing nothing, which will probably bring further legal action; permanently returning all personal property to the tax rolls, which could crush small businesses and family agriculture and risks thousands of jobs for middle-income Nebraskans; and a proposed amendment to the Constitution separating real and personal property.

I still believe an amendment separating real and personal property is the approach that will protect middle-income Nebraskans and still allow the Legislature the most flexibility in setting policy to reflect the wishes of Nebraskans. I sense growing consensus that an amendment is necessary to clarify the responsibilities and authority of the Legislature in setting tax policy.

This is One Nebraska and we need a system that recognizes our differences, but treats everyone fairly.

I want Nebraskans to have an opportunity to vote to set the direction of property tax policy for our state.

Letters

Thank you

On behalf of the Wayne Lions Club and the Nebraska Lions Foundation, I would like to thank The Wayne Herald for publishing the news article about the Lions Medical Screening Unit which was in Wayne last Saturday for the Chicken Show. I am sure that that article did in fact alert many people that the unit would be available that day.

Last Saturday, 193 people were screened and there were 37 referrals for various problems. Again, I thank you for your cooperation in publishing that article.

Wrong choice

The last regular session of the Nebraska Legislature passed LB 425 requiring a woman under 18 years of age to get consent from a parent or guardian to get an abortion. An amendment was added stating that if the girl does not want to tell her parents or guardian, there is a provision for a judicial waiver.

The law also says that on or before Oct. 1 of each school year, each school district shall provide written information to all students in grades seven through 12, explaining the requirements for parental notification as a condition for obtaining an abortion and provision of the law in regard to seeking a judicial waiver of notification.

I feel it is wrong for our local schools to be involved in a method to deceive their parents on any issue. I believe the school should not be involved in this moral issue.

I believe the government should refrain from making decisions that belong to the family; such outside interference only serves to implement the destruction of the home.

I am aware that standards have changed and perhaps I was out of step in today's world. But when I found out that the citizens of the State of Michigan had caused their two house legislature to repeal the judicial waiver clause, dealing with teenage pregnancy, (their legislation was similar to Nebraska's LB 425 and its amendments), it was then I decided to make my concerns public.

Addicted babies the result

Drug epidemic a costly problem

The drug epidemic is filling our nation's hospital nurseries with babies who are born addicted. Nationwide, 375,000 babies are born each year who were exposed to illegal drugs before birth. That is one out of every 10 newborns. The estimated annual cost of hospital treatment for these babies ranges from $178 million in California in 1988 and $121 million in Maryland in 1989 to several billion dollars for the nation as a whole.

The Department of Health and Human Services' Inspector General estimates that, for the 9,000 drug-affected infants born in eight major U.S. cities in 1989, we will pay $500 million in hospital and foster care costs during their first five years of life and $1.5 billion if they are given comprehensive special education services to prepare them for school.

For many addicted pregnant women the only effective treatment is a comprehensive program in a residential setting that provides counseling, child care, room and board, and other services. The Institute of Medicine found that the clients of longer-term residential treatment programs stop virtually all illicit drug use and other criminal behavior while in residence. They exhibit lower drug use and criminal activity after discharge than other individuals who did not receive similar treatment. And, while the lifetime cost of caring for a drug-exposed, low birthweight baby can reach $400,000 the cost of comprehensive residential treatment for the pregnant mother is $20,000 or less.

Keeping in Touch
By Cong. Doug Bereuter

Tragically, pregnant women are among those least likely to obtain comprehensive residential treatment. There are very few programs for them, and the waiting lists are long. Two-thirds of the hospitals surveyed in 1989 reported that they had no place to refer pregnant addicts for treatment. More than half of the 78 treatment programs surveyed in New York City excluded all pregnant women and two-thirds refused those on Medicaid.

I am cosponsoring a bill that is aimed at reducing the financial and human costs associated with maternal addiction. The Alcohol and Drug Abuse Residential Treatment Grants Act of 1991 would address the shortage of residential treatment options for pregnant women by making grants available to public and nonprofit private entities to provide residential substance treatment services to pregnant and postpartum women and their children.

Facilities receiving grants under this legislation would be required to provide a comprehensive set of services including counseling and treatment based on an individualized treatment plan, therapeutic child care or counseling for children, parenting skills training, HIV prevention education, room and board, and assistance in obtaining other social services.

Every day that we fail to address this problem, more drug and alcohol-affected infants are born. We cannot afford to neglect these mothers and babies.

Hefner: few options, many risks

By Elroy M. Hefner

Why was the Legislature called into a special session? What does the Legislature hope to accomplish before it adjourns? What are the proposals before the body?

The Nebraska Supreme Court has issued two very important decisions this year on property taxes. The Court has ruled that our State Constitution requires real property and personal property to be taxed uniformly and proportionately. That means that personal property and real property must be valued in the same way and that the tax rates must be the same for both kinds of property. In addition, the Court has stated the Legislature cannot continue to exempt certain kinds of personal property from taxation, as has been done for the last 20 years. The specific tax exemptions which have been provided up to now have been: business inventory, farm machinery and equipment, grain, livestock, and feed.

The state is faced with few options, all of them have some risks.

1. If the Legislature did nothing, the Court may rule again, possibly striking down our entire property tax system. If that happens it will be a serious crisis. $1.2 billion in real estate taxes could be in jeopardy. Cities, counties, school districts, technical community colleges, Natural Resource Districts, and a lot of other special local governing units would be left without a tax base. The state is presently unable to replace the taxes which would be lost as a result of such a ruling. We don't know for sure if that is what the Court would do, but it is awfully risky to take a chance and not try to change the system in some way.

2. The Legislature could propose an amendment to our state constitution which makes a clear distinction between real property and personal property, clearly exempting personal property from taxes levied by valuation. In other words, such a proposal would keep our present system intact and hopefully the Court would not interfere again. I feel that adding personal property back on the tax rolls could cause a severe recession in our state.

The Governor supports an amendment like this and is asking the Legislature to call for a special election to be held in September giving the citizens the opportunity to make the decision as to which way we ought to go. The Legislature's Revenue Committee, of which I am a member, has advanced such a proposal to the full body for consideration.

The problem is that a call for a special election requires 40 affirmative votes from a total of 49 Senators. I support the proposal and I feel confident we can get the 40 votes.

3. In order to avoid the scenario in number 1 above, in the event there aren't 40 votes for the constitutional amendment, or in case the 40 votes are there but the voters reject the amendment on the ballot in the special election, the Legislature is also considering a bill which would enact a tax system to value and tax the following personal property tax items referred to above: business inventory, farm machinery and equipment, grain, livestock, and feed.

If this happens, I will push for a proposal to exempt farm machinery and equipment from state and local sales tax.

Northeast slates Utility Line Show

The Northeast Community College utility line program and the NREA (Nebraska Rural Electric Association) will host a utility line show Wednesday and Thursday, July 24-25 at Northeast.

The program will be held in the gymnasium of Northeast's Activities Center from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., and is intended for electrical and utility industry personnel, but all interested persons are invited to attend.

In addition to exhibits in the Activities Center, equipment such as boom trucks and transformers will be displayed in the Activities Center parking lot.

This show will provide an opportunity for all electric utility industry personnel to see the latest in tools and equipment, supplies and materials, services, and review the latest work procedures, according to Gary Miller, Dean of Instructional Services at Northeast Community College.

"It will be especially beneficial to managers, supervisors, purchasing agents, and directors or councilmen," adds Miller, "and we encourage line personnel to attend for the job-upgrading opportunity this show provides."

The program is being presented in cooperation with the NREA, and NREA Suppliers Group, and the Utility Section of the League of Nebraska Municipalities.

For more information, contact Gary Miller, Dean of Instructional Services at Northeast, 644-0457.

DENTAL VISITS FIGHT SKIN CANCER: Last week, I pointed out that more retirees are at risk for getting skin cancer because they tend to spend more time in the sun fishing, gardening, sailing or playing more golf and tennis. To reduce the risk of skin cancer, it's important to take precautions such as wearing the right sunscreen, and avoiding the direct rays of the sun.

Going to the dentist can also help detect skin cancer in its early stages. Unfortunately, many older people who have dentures don't consider going to the dentist a priority unless absolutely necessary. However, regular visits — even to check on dental work and make sure they're in good repair — can be life saving.

According to the Academy of General Dentistry, basal cell carcinoma, the most common skin cancer (and the one that former President Ronald Reagan had) can often be diagnosed first in the dentist's chair. The condition strikes over 250,000 people each year. It's responsible for 20 percent of these cancers in men; 12 percent in women.

Dr. Frederick Magaziner of the Academy said: "This type of skin cancer is always found on the head and neck. It appears as a crusty scar, usually near the nose. Dentists are trained to examine the patient's entire head and neck area, not just inside the mouth."

before this story broke. Maybe. But what I'd like to know is, if these checks were being processed regularly with the deductions taken before they were placed in the mail, then why not follow the check trail right to those folks who were supposed to be so hard to find?

MAIL CALL: Thanks for the wonderful letters that continue to come in commenting on our "How Old Is Old?" topic. So far, every one who has written, including three octogenarians, say their lives are full and, for the most part, they're hardly conscious of aging. The exceptions usually deal with medical or physical problems and, sadly, increased financial pressures that make it difficult to maintain certain living standards.

If you'd like to comment on this or any other topic, write me c/o King Features Weekly Service, 235 East 45th Street, New York, N.Y. 100017. P.S. I may not comment on your letter in this column, or reprint it, but I do read everything and it all proves invaluable in helping me understand how this column can best help you.

Gary Lubberstedt won the ninth flight with an 85 while Don Finn was second with an 89. Kevin Peterson was third with a 90 and Bob Keating was fourth with a 90.

Rick Endicott was crowned champ of the 10th flight with an 85 while Mike Mattson carded an 86 for runner-up honors. Scott Baker was third with a 91 and Jeff Moore was fourth with a 91.

Tim Gubbels won the 11th flight with a 92 while Jerry Denton placed second with a 93. Don Preston was third with a 96 and Mike Monaghan was fourth with a 96. Gary Poutre was the champion of the 12th and final flight with an 87 while Dan Bowers was runner-up with an 89. Rex Preston was third with a 93 and Denny Lutt was fourth with a 93.

JOHN ANTHENS TEES off on the number one hole at the Wayne Country Club. Anthens won the July Open Sunday with a 27-hole score of 105. His first 18-hole score was one stroke off the course record with a 66.

JASON PETERSON TEES off on the number nine tee box during the final nine holes Sunday. Peterson, who golfs for the University of Nebraska at Lincoln fired a 37 on the final nine holes.

Former WSC football coach excels

WAYNE-Former Wayne State defensive football coach Dennis Danielson recently came off a very successful coaching season with the London Monarchs of the World League of American Football. The WLAF completed its first season of existence with the London Monarchs defeating the Barcelona Spain team by a 21-0 margin.

Danielson is the defensive coach for the Monarchs and was responsible for coaching Danny Lockett who was named MVP of the World League for his play all season.

Danielson is a graduate of Willamette College in Salem, Oregon and has spent nine years as a college assistant coach. He coached at Wayne State and the University of South Carolina. He holds a Masters Degree from WSC.

Danielson tried out for the Houston Oilers pro football team following his collegiate career. He has coached four All-American linebackers. In 1980 he was a member of the U.S. Olympic Handball Team which did not compete in the Games due to the U.S. boycott. Monarchs head coach Larry Kennan stated, "Just watching Dennis is a joy. He is a very inspirational coach. He relates well to his players and they take well to his style of coaching. He is a very valuable member of our staff."

Wayne girls head to State Friday

WAYNE-The Wayne 16 and under team and the 18 and under fast pitch girls softball teams will take part in the Annual State Softball Tournament this Friday through Sunday in Grand Island.

The 16 and under team will play Barends which is a team from North Platte, at 8:30 a.m. Saturday according to head coach Doug Sturm. If Wayne should get by Barends they would play the winner of the Yutan-Osmond game at 11:30 a.m. Should Wayne not get past Barends they would play the loser of that same Yutan-Osmond game at 1 p.m. Saturday.

"I think the 16 and under got a pretty good draw," Sturm said. "We are a very young team and it will be important for our team to get off to a real good start, but if we get by our first game I believe we can go a ways in the winners bracket."

The 18 and under team will play Avoca in the first round at 8 p.m. Friday. If Wayne wins they will play Stromsburg at 10 a.m. Saturday. If the locals should lose the opening game they would play at 2:30 p.m. Saturday against one of three teams in Jefferson County Bank, Olympic Village or Dmilao.

"I think our senior girls got an excellent draw," Sturm said. "If they play up to their ability we could go a long way."

Wayne cagers place fifth

WAYNE-A group of Wayne boys basketball players teamed up to place fifth at the Annual Sioux City Summer Shootout which according to Wayne coach Bob Uhing is traditionally one of the strongest summer tournaments around.

Kyle Dahl, Bobby Barnes, Regg Carnes, Brad Uhing, Matt Blomenkamp, Robert Bell, Ryan Martin and Ryan Pick teamed up to defeat Irene, S.D., Red Oak, Iowa and Lemars, Iowa. The only loss suffered by Wayne was to Lemars, Iowa in the first of the two meetings between the two. Wayne defeated them in the game for fifth place.

There were just three teams from Nebraska playing in the 16-team field including Wayne, Lincoln Northeast and Omaha Bryan.

Chicken Run is won by Pender's Hilker

The Wayne Chicken Show Fun Run was held Saturday from Wakefield to Wayne and the winner of the 10.5 mile race was Cole Hilker of Pender with a winning time of 1:03.19. The 19-year-old Hilker was a 59 second winner over runner-up Paul Wegner of West Point who is 34.

Wayne's Todd Fuelberth crossed the line in third place overall with a 1:05.40 while Merville, Iowa native Todd Knudsen finished fourth in 1:06.10. Alan Sipes of Grant rounded out the top five men with a 1:07.24 effort.

Barb Stefanski was the top female finisher with a time of 1:13.44. Stefanski is a native of Omaha while runner-up Tami Schluns is from Wayne. Schluns crossed the time line in 1:17.01. Joan Giese of Pullman, Washington finished fourth overall in the women's category with a 1:31.06 effort.

Breaking into the age group categories Fuelberth won the 19 and under group while Ed Angel finished second with a 1:08.04 clocking. Joel Kieffer was third in 1:08.33 and Steve Dinsmore of Wayne was fourth in 1:12.40.

Todd Knudsen was the champion in the 20-29 age group while Richard Logan was second in 1:11.38. Cory Isbrand was third in 1:13.45 and Tom Hoffman was fourth in 1:19.03.

Paul Wegner and Alan Sipes finished first and second respectively in the 30-39 age group while Chuck Cooper finished third in 1:07.46. Randy Walters was fourth in 1:08.11 and Paul Coffin was fifth in 1:08.38.

Larry Jacobsen won the 40-49 age group with a 1:10 plus time while Harvey Kunz was second with a 1:11 plus time. William Moser was third with a time of 1:12 plus and Dale Jackson was fourth in 1:13 plus.

Sid Hillier of Wayne finished in first place in the 50-59 age group with a 1:10.12 effort while George Lee was second in 1:19.04. Paul Miller was third in 1:19.46 and Pat Gross was fourth in 1:34.53. Pat Finn was the winner of the 60 and over category with a time of 1:26.14.

In the female categories Schluns won the 19 and under division while Jensen won the 20-29 division. Giese won the 30-29 division while Rhonda Bloom finished second in 1:42.03. Jean Dickey was third with a 1:42.03 plus clocking.

In the relay division the York-Folk of Wakefield finished first in 1:06.32 while Future Stars of Wayne placed second in 1:07.48. First National Bank of Wayne's Roosters were third in 1:24.22 and the Eggheads of Wayne finished fourth in 1:30.36.

Runners came as far away as Chula Vista, California and Pullman Washington. Kansas City, Missouri was also represented in the race.

Puttin' Up With Pete

By Kevin Peterson

There seems to be something in the air at the Wayne Country Club this summer. To date there have been five hole-in-ones this summer with the latest being John Anthens and Jason Racely. Before them it was Al Cramer, Don Lutt and Bob Keating.

Cramer aced number three while Anthens aced number 12. Lutt, Keating and Racely all aced the number 17 hole. I was always told that a hole-in-one was next to impossible as well as improbable but yet there are five already this summer in Wayne.

Well, you better make that six. I have a story to tell about a good friend of mine. Most people that golf and that know me will notice that at least 80 percent of the time I'm out on the course that I am with Rick Kerkman. You all should know Rick from the commercials on KTCH. You know, Knock Knock, who's there. Well it's Rick Kerkman from AB Dick. (There, I got your plug in.)

At any rate, Rick and I have been golfing for about the same length of time with this being our fourth summer. Both of us take the game pretty seriously which means we like to enter tournaments.

Usually in the practice rounds we end up shooting the same score or within one or two strokes of each other. Perhaps, maybe that is why our handicaps differ by just four tenths of one stroke.

We have this outstanding dual about who ever makes the most birdies the other has to take them out for supper at the end of the year. By that I mean if he defeats me by four birdies total, I have to buy him four suppers. Well, here it is nearly three weeks into July and guess what—we are even on that too.

However, Kerk has me on one thing now and that is a hole-in-one—so to speak. You see, Sunday we were playing in the Wayne Open and on hole number 10 he hit a nice drive up the left side of the fairway. Well, the wind was blowing towards the road on number 10 and Kerk hit his drive pretty high.

The wind carried it toward the rough but that was alright because in the rough is where he and I hit most of our drives so actually we thought everything was normal.

Well, we were playing with Doug Rose and Tim Sutton, a couple of fine golfers in their own right and we all set off to hit our second shots. Within in a matter of seconds we were at my drive and that wasn't because we had a super powered cart so you figure out how far I hit it.

At any rate, Doug and Tim then hit their drives and then we began a quest for Kerkman's ball. We searched and searched and then we searched some more and still we couldn't find his ball.

I didn't realize that a golf ball could have so many names but Kerk had quite a slew of them. We were just at the point of having him go back to hit another ball when Doug yelled that he had found it. We drove up and saw that his ball had landed in a gopher hole which was about eight to ten inches deep.

I would just like to take this opportunity to say congratulations to Rick on his hole-in-one.

Now on to a more serious congratulation. John Anthens of Wayne was just crowned champion of the July Open. This is Anthens second tournament win in that last four Wayne Opens and in the other two he placed second to Chuck Fisher of Westminster, Colorado.

That is a really impressive feat by the Nebraska City bound school teacher. "I was really pleased with the way I played Sunday," Anthens said. "But you know, a lot of the credit has to go to Dan Pollard, Pat Mehrens and Troy Harder because they were really playing well and that made me play better."

That whole foursome qualified for the final nine holes to determine the winner of the tournament which was Anthens with a 105. The North Platte native fired a 32-34-39 on the day. The first 18 hole score was just one stroke off the course record.

Congratulations John! I know that your mother will receive a copy of this article back in North Platte and she ought to know from someone other than yourself that you just plain done good.

Also a quick note to those softball teams in the area that qualify for state. I will publish stories on your team as long as someone on your team brings the score books in with complete names.

Wayne Juniors end regular season baseball with 21-10 record; Defeat Wisner Monday

The Wayne Junior Legion baseball team finished out the regular season schedule Monday night with a home contest against Wisner. Wayne scored 12 runs in the first inning which was enough to 10-run the visitors in just five innings as pitcher Brian Penne tossed a 3-hit shut out giving Wayne a 12-0 win and leaving them with a 21-10 record on the season.

Although Wayne scored 12 runs in the game they managed just seven hits as Wisner pitchers walked several Wayne batters. Jeff Griesch led the Wayne offense with a single and a double while Brian Lentz belted a pair of singles. Brian Penne, Jim Hoffman and John Murphy each singled for the winners.

In the Midget contest preceding the Legion game Wayne scored one run in the bottom of the final inning to break a nine all tie as Tim Reinhardt got the pitching victory after going the distance.

Wayne scored five runs in the bottom of the second inning to take a 5-1 lead but Wisner scored three in the third to close the gap to within 5-4. Wayne added another run in the bottom of the third inning to lead 6-4 and in the fourth inning the locals scored three more runs to lead 9-4.

The visitors however, rallied to scored twice in the fifth and three in the sixth to tie the game at nine heading to the bottom of the sixth inning. Tim Reinhardt led off the bottom half of the last inning with a single and he advanced to second base on the sacrifice by Scott Day.

Reinhardt scored right away as the next batter, Robert Longe, laced a single into right field thus ending the game. Wayne had nine hits in the game while Wisner managed 10. Jason Wehrer led the Wayne offense with three singles while Mike Williams had a single and a double to his credit. Tim Reinhardt and Robert Longe each had two singles to round out the hitting for the winners.

Wayne places second Over the weekend a Wayne, Wakefield combination team traveled to Pierre, S.D. to play in a tournament. The combined squad finished second in the tournament but no score book was available for statistics.

It is noted however that Wayne lost its first game of the tournament to Pierre, the host team by a 17-1 margin. They then lost to Huron, S.D. by a 5-2 margin as Brian Lentz took the loss.

In the third game Wayne defeated Spring Valley, S.D. by a 11-3 margin as Wakefield's Scott Ballinger earned the pitching win. On Sunday the tournament concluded in a single elimination format based on how the teams fared on Friday and Saturday.

Wayne defeated Pierre in a rematch 7-5 in 12 innings as Jeff Griesch got the win after pitching all 12 innings. In the finals however, Wayne was dealt an 8-3 loss by Huron, S.D. as Doug Stanton took the loss from the mound.

Those representing Wayne in the tournament included Cory Wieseler, Brian Lentz, Jim Hoffman, Rusty Hamer, Jeff Griesch, Travis Stracke and Brian Penne. Hank Overin was the lone Wayne coach making the trip while Paul Eaton made the trip for Wakefield.

Wayne loses to Pierre On the eve before the Legion left for South Dakota the Legion and Midgets traveled to play Pierre. Wayne did not take its normal Legion team as most of them rested for the trip.

Wayne thus, lost to Pierre by a 11-4 margin despite out hitting the host team 6-4. John Murphy was given the pitching loss. Jim Hoffman led Wayne with three singles while Jim Murphy had two singles and Brian Gamble had one base hit.

The Wayne Midgets however, picked up another win as they come out on top of an 8-3 score. Todd Fredrickson was the winning pitcher. Tim Reinhardt led the Wayne offense with four singles while Scott Day had a pair of base hits and Mike Williams doubled. Robert Longe, Dane Jensen and Todd Fredrickson each singled.

JASON WEHRER SLIDES SAFELY into home plate Monday night during the Wayne Midgets victory over Wisner. Wehrer led the Wayne offense with three singles.

Anthens, Racely ace golf holes at Wayne recently

John Anthens of Wayne and Jason Racely of Wayne each carded a hole-in-one recently at the Wayne Country Club. Anthens used his 3-iron on the number 12 par three from the blue tees which is 236 yards to get the job done while Racely used his 6-iron on the par three number 17 hole which was 180 yards from the tee box.

Hoskins Play Day approaching

Antibiotic Suspensions

Antibiotic suspensions are among the most frequently dispensed liquid medicines. Special care is needed to make these medicines most useful. Because the antibiotic ingredient in suspensions is insoluble, it has little taste. This is good. However, the insoluble antibiotic tends to accumulate at the bottom of the container of the liquid in which it has been placed. Therefore, shake antibiotic suspensions before use. If not shaken, the first doses may contain little medicine, while the last doses removed from the container may be highly concentrated. Many antibiotic suspensions require refrigeration, posing a special problem in keeping them out of children's reach. Measure all doses accurately - preferably with an oral syringe or special dispensing spoon. Discard out dated liquids by flushing them down the toilet.

Bargstadt attends global conference in Malaysia

Shannon Bargstadt of Winside, a sophomore at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, was one of eight students who attended the first Global Conference for Creative Entrepreneurship and the eighth annual Pan-Pacific Conference held recently in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Bargstadt is majoring in business administration and participated in national competition in Kansas City earlier this year through a management class of Professor Robyn Anderson.

She is also a student in free enterprises — a social business organization at UN-L of which Professor Anderson is class advisor.

Because of her participation, Shannon received a $1,500 scholarship to help defray expenses of the Malaysian conference which was held June 10-12.

Shannon Bargstadt

as the taxi driver asked me to get rid of what I had in my mouth.

"But it is a beautiful country and I hope to go back someday," said Shannon.

The students participated in various tours, including several factories.

"We had our first experiences with open air markets and bargain buying in Hong Kong."

In Malaysia, the students toured the king's palace, a batik clothing factory, a cave temple, the National Mosque of Malaysia, a pewter factory and a crocodile farm, and saw how latex is taken from rubber trees.

"I was really thrilled when I saw Pearl Harbor," said Shannon. "The entire trip was a very rewarding and educational experience, and I feel very fortunate to have gotten to go."

SHANNON is the daughter of Randall and Connie Bargstadt of rural Winside.

THE CONFERENCE gave participants an opportunity to discuss industrial and trade policies, help assess the adaptability of various new management systems, understand the sociocultural background of economics and business in various countries, and help support educational programs through cooperative arrangements with regional and world trade centers and bilateral and multilateral trade associations.

Students also formed mock companies with partners from other countries.

Shannon and the other students left May 31 and also spent time in Hong Kong, Singapore and Hawaii.

"SINGAPORE is a very clean country. When we arrived at the airport we saw people dusting trees by hand.

"They have very strict laws and issue large fines for littering, jaywalking and not flushing toilets. I couldn't even chew gum in public

By Pat Meierhenry

It certainly appears that Allen had a wonderful centennial celebration last week. Since I work with a nurse from Allen, I've been reading about it, and clipping the pictures for her.

Bessie Bagley is her grandmother. Bessie, at 95, still lives in her own home in Allen. Her grandchildren and great-grandchildren presented a little play about her life, and pictures from that play were in the two-page spread in the Herald.

The largest photo was of Bessie herself, watching intently, dressed in centennial garb. It is a beautiful picture. Bessie is a beautiful lady.

My mother, at 75, had me holding a ladder for her while she picked apricots the other evening. I asked her how I was going to explain to the EMT's who would be coming in the ambulance after I called 911 that I had stood by and allowed her to get on a ladder! Of course, that didn't slow her down. She picked the darn apricots.

I have several friends in their 90's, and I enjoy their company. A favorite is Fay Gordon, who was Johnny Carson's English teacher. I saw her at a PEO meeting yesterday, and when I asked "How are you?" she replied, "alright, if I don't go into detail!"

Then she proceeded to tell me a couple of stories about the Golden Age. It seems two precious ladies had lived to be 100, and died within a few days of each other. Heaven was wonderful, and as they chatted with each other about how beautiful it was, how kind everyone was, and how delicious the food was, one remarked to the other, "And to think we could have been here a lot sooner if it hadn't been for that darned oat bran!"

The second has to do with three little octogenarians who shared a home. Each was a trifle forgetful. One evening, the youngest announced she was going upstairs to take a bath. As she straddled the edge of the tub, she mused to herself, "was I getting in or out?"

Presently, the next oldest started up the stairs to check on the first. As she reached the landing, huffing and puffing, she thought, "Was I going up or coming down?"

The eldest chuckled to herself about the poor memories of her friends, and said, "I hope I never get like that." Then she knocked on wood. "Was that the front door or the back?"

Bank holds successful blood drive

WAYNE - The Siouxland Blood Bank held a successful blood drive at the first ever one held at the First National Omaha-Wayne Service Center recently as 60 pints of blood were collected.

The blood collected will be used for patients of area hospitals.

Roger Boeckenhauer was honored for being a four gallon donor over an unspecified period of time and Michelle Otte was recognized for being a one gallon donor.

Business in Hoskins changes site

The Village Seamstress Shop in Hoskins has moved to a new location at the north end of Main St. in the building formerly known as K & R Design Boutique.

Owner Lou Deck is planning an open house on Tuesday through Friday, July 23-26 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Saturday, July 27 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Deck said everyone is invited to stop by for coffee and visit them at their new location.

Hefner says he's pleased by appropriations for bridge

State Senator Erloy Hefner, Coleridge, said he was pleased with the announcement that the House Appropriation Subcommittee on Transportation had included a special appropriation of $4 million per year in fiscal year 1992 for the proposed Niobrara bridge across the Missouri River to South Dakota. Hefner said construction of this bridge will be a great economic benefit to the people of both states and especially to northeast Nebraska. It will shorten the distance for farmers, grain and livestock shippers, motorists and increase tourism. Native Americans from the Santee Indian Reservation traveling to Wagner, South Dakota for medical services will also benefit. Hefner praised Congressman Bereuter of Nebraska and Congressman Johnson of South Dakota for their hard and dedicated work in securing funds for this project. Now we will be asking Senator Kerrey, who serves on the Senate Appropriation Committee, for his help from the Senate in seeking funds for this bridge.

Estimated construction costs are $10 million with the Federal Government furnishing $8 million and Nebraska and South Dakota each $1 million. Both states have designated its construction as the number one interstate bridge construction priority.

The new bridge will be located in Legislative District 19 which Hefner represents.

AAL branch recognizes local church volunteers

Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) Branch 2849, rural Wakefield, has received an AAL "Just Say Thanks" grant to recognize local church volunteers.

Branch members decided to honor all church volunteers of Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wakefield.

A coffee hour was held following worship services on Sunday, July 7.

AAL IS helping its 7,700 local branches across the country recognize outstanding local church volunteers.

The fraternal benefit society has committed $850,000 to make individual grants available to each of its branches nationwide in 1991 to honor congregational "unsung heroes" — those volunteers who go about helping their churches in their own special ways. The "Just Say Thanks" grants are made available to local branches by AAL to help volunteers feel appreciated.

"Church volunteers provide valuable services. They work tirelessly behind the scenes to support the ministry of the church," said Delores Kaiser, AAL benefit specialist.

AAL, BASED in Appleton, Wisc., provides its 1.5 million members nationwide with fraternal benefits while its affiliated companies offer members other financial services.

In addition, members are offered volunteer opportunities through their local branches to help others in their own communities.

Officers of AAL Branch 2849 are Larry H. Echtenkamp, president; Marvin Rewinkel, vice president; and Marvin Echtenkamp, secretary.

AREA - First through eighth grade youngsters of the United Methodist Churches in Winside, Randolph and McLean will present a summer musical program, entitled "God of Miracles" on Sunday, July 21 at 9 a.m. at the Randolph Methodist Church and again at 11:05 a.m. at the Methodist Church in Winside.

The public is invited to attend either program which focuses on Joshua and the walls of Jericho.

Apparent heart attack kills man

WAYNE - Jim Kelly, 46, of Sioux City died Saturday after suffering an apparent heart attack while in Wayne for the Chicken Show, according to Dr. Willis Wiseman.

According to accounts of the incident, Kelly and his wife, Nancy, were in Wayne for the Chicken Show festivities. Wiseman said the couple had just finished lunch at the Black Knight restaurant. While paying for lunch, Mrs. Kelly went outside to get the couple's vehicle while Mr. Kelly paid for the meal. After paying, Mr. Kelly apparently went down in the entry way of the business.

Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation was performed at the scene by Black Knight owner Nick Sieler before ambulance crews arrived. After crews arrived, CPR was performed for another 15 minutes but with no response.

A funeral was held for Kelly Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church of Norfolk with burial in Prospect Hill Cemetery. Home for Funerals of Norfolk was in charge of the arrangements.

Local student attends camp

Scott Olson, Wayne, is one of nearly 70 students attending a special math and science camp at Dana College in Blair, July 14-20.

In response to President Bush's education initiative that the United States become the world's leader in education of math and science by the year 2000, Dana College is hosting a creative week-long camp known as Technology, Ecology, Kids (TEK) for selected elementary and junior high students from around the state. The students will gather at Dana to learn basic hands-on technical and outdoor skills and see how these different technologies fit into today's environment.

During the week, students will study Robotics, a Micro-based Laboratory, Data Base Management, Biology, Outdoor Education, and Tech Physio-Fitness.

Dr. Ferguson continued that "the teaching staff is made up of teachers from throughout the area who are on the cutting edge of their respective fields. They have proven their abilities to involve and challenge each of the students in intellectually stimulating learning activities."

The GOLDEN YEARS

By Lee Johnson

Once they numbered 4,750,000 young men in uniform. That was at the peak of U.S. mobilization in World War I. Less than half finished training in time to go overseas, most of them to France, before the war ended on November 11, 1918. But 117,000 lost their lives, and more than 200,000 were wounded. Now, 71 years later, there are fewer than 90,000 surviving veterans of World War I and their average age is 95. One of them is Fred T. Wilson, a decorated infantry officer, retired banker and lifelong resident of Mamaroneck, New York. A widower, he still drives his car, goes shopping, and cooks his own meals. He so regularly attends the local Rotary Club meetings he was cited for perfect attendance for two consecutive years.

Now that he has celebrated his 95th birthday with a 45-minute show of jokes, songs and some soft-shoe dancing at a Las Vegas casino, George Burns is looking ahead to his 100th birthday show at London's Palladium. Singer Phyllis McGuire says Burns invited the McGuire sisters to appear with him at the Palladium, "if we're still around." "You can't help getting older, but you don't have to get old," Burns told the Las Vegas audience. "I'm going to stay in show business until I'm the only one left."

HIGHLAND WOMEN

All members were present when the Highland Woman's Home Extension Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. George Langenberg for their annual birthday party.

President, Mrs. Arnold Wittler conducted a short business meeting and led in reciting the Extension Club Creed. She also read, "Summer Memories". Roll call was "A Birthday Memory". Minutes and treasurers reports were read and approved. A report of the club tour was also given. The president reported on the council meeting and work schedules for the county fair were completed.

Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman and Mrs. Bill Fenske were in charge of the afternoon's entertainment. All members took part by naming important events in their birthday month and reading an article pertaining to that month. A song also pertaining to that month was used for group singing following each month. Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman read articles for months when there were no birthdays.

Mrs. Fenske also conducted contests. Winning prizes were Mrs. Norris Langenberg, Mrs. Lane Marotz and Hilda Thomas. The Birthday Song was sung and a gift exchange was held at the close of the afternoon. A special decorated cake centered the serving table and was cut and served by Mrs. Arnold Wittler. The club will not meet in August. Mrs. Norris Langenberg will be hostess for the next meeting on Sept. 12 when election of officers will be held.

LADIES AID-LWML

Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid-L.W.M.L. met Thursday with 10 members, Pastor Schwanke and 1 guest Susan Talbot, present. Mrs. Elaine Ehlers conducted the Mite Box devotion on "Independence Day". Pastor Schwanke led in the topic, "Go Ye", means me. President, Mrs. Larry Koepke, opened the meeting. Members responded to roll call by paying five cents to the Penny Pot if they had hosted or attended a 4th of July picnic and three cents if not. Secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Ralph Saegerbarth and Mrs. Clem Weich, respectively. It was announced the L.W.M.L. Zone Retreat will be held at Battle Creek on July 23. Mrs. Marie Rathman and Mrs. James Robinson will serve on the Flower committee for July. Hostesses were Mrs. Darrell Kruger and Mrs. Larry Koepke.

A-TEEN CLUB

The A-Teen Home Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Duane Kruger, July 10 with 10 members and 1 guest, Mrs. Terry Kumm, present.

President, Mrs. Walter Flear opened the meeting and led in reciting the Flag Salute, and in singing the Extension Club song and "America". Music leader, Mrs. Vernon Hokamp led in singing the Birthday Song and Anniversary song for members having a birthday or anniversary in June and July. Roll call was, "What I value as an American Citizen". Mrs. Irving Anderson, Health and Safety leader read an article on "Living Trusts". Reports were given on the Spring Event and the Club tour. The president reported on the council meeting. Achievement Day will be held at Carroll on Nov. 4. Work schedules for the county fair were completed. Hostess prize was won by Mrs. Vernon Hokamp.

The club will not meet in August. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Walter Flear on Sept. 11, when election of officers will be held.

FAREWELL SUPPER

A Farewell Potluck supper was held at the Trinity Lutheran Fellowship Hall, Sunday, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Tim Zander and family, who are moving to Wisconsin. Remarks were given by Pastor Nelson, Principal Jim Dretske and school board member, Doug Deck. A special song was presented by members of the church choir. Mrs. Zander taught grades K-3 at Trinity Lutheran school in Hoskins the past year and has accepted a call to teach at St. Paul's Lutheran school at Appleton, Wis.

Ivan Smith had cataracts. He had "Single-Stitch" Cataract Surgery.

"My cataract surgery was just plumb easy, not much to it, and it makes your sight much better. I was getting so I couldn't see well enough to drive the car. I was dangerous. It was scary. After surgery I could see cars coming a long way off.

I only have one good eye because of an injury, so it's even more important for me to have good vision.

If you are going to have cataract surgery have it done as soon as possible, you'll see better right away. I don't know why anyone would wait.
