Bust nets three suspects

Three individuals from Sioux Falls, S.D. were arrested Saturday, Sept. 28 around 5 p.m. by the Cedar County Sheriff's office on suspicion of harvesting marijuana out of a vacant farm place at an unspecified location south of Laurel.

Arrested were Sau Huynh, 23; Lance C. Barnes, 22; and Barbara A. Barnes, 19, all of 427 French Ave. in Sioux Falls. The three suspects were arrested by Cedar County Sheriff's deputies.

Seized in the raid was a 1984 Dodge Daytona pickup registered to Huynh and 21 lbs. 1.7 ozs. of marijuana with a street value of $12,000.

FOLLOWING the drug bust, over 1,000 marijuana plants, with an estimated street value of over $600,000, were destroyed. The plants were destroyed with assistance from the Nebraska State Patrol and the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

According to information from Cedar County Sheriff Elliot A. Arens, the three suspects were charged with possession of marijuana weighing more than one pound, a Class IV felony and possession of marijuana with intent to deliver, a Class III felony.

If convicted, the maximum penalty each suspect may face for possession of marijuana weighing more than a pound is five years or a $10,000 fine or both. The maximum penalty for possession of marijuana with intent to deliver is 20 years in prison or a $25,000 fine or both. Minimum is one year in prison.

LENRD board OKs plan for reductions

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District Board of Directors approved a plan to reduce the number of directors representing the district during their monthly meeting in West Point last Thursday.

Populations shifts between 1980 and 1990 required realignment of the NRD's subdistrict boundaries in order to stay within population limits established by law.

If the new plan is approved by the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission, the number of subdistricts will be reduced from nine to seven, and the number of directors from 19 to 15. There will continue to be two directors representing each subdistrict and one director-at-large.

THE NEW alignment would result in a one-to-one population ratio between the largest and smallest districts. This ratio would allow directors to be elected by the voters of their own subdistrict, rather than by the voters of the entire district which is the current system. By 1993, the Lower Elkhorn NRD will be served by 17 directors rather than the current 19, and that number would be reduced to 15 directors by 1995.

LENRD director Wendell Newcomb of Norfolk praised his fellow members for approving the new plan.

"In this day and age, it's encouraging to see that the directors put aside what affected them personally and voted for the good of the entire district," he said.

"In some cases this redistricting will result in friend running against friend. In other situations current positions will be eliminated completely, yet most of the directors supported an idea and I commend them."

IN OTHER action, the board approved a new well sealing cost share program for 1992. According to Lower Elkhorn NRD assistant manager Ken Berney, abandoned wells which are not sealed properly have been identified as one of the greatest potential sources of groundwater contamination.

"It has been estimated that the number of abandoned wells in some areas of Nebraska could be as high as 15 per square mile," Berney said.

The guidelines of the well sealing program state that sealing must be done by a licensed well driller or pump installer. The landowner's total cost will be $50 for a domestic well and $100 for an irrigation well. The application period runs from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31, 1992.

The board approved the expansion of the Logan East Rural Water System into an area in northeast Dodge County, west and south of Logan Creek to the Elkhorn River. The board also appointed Ronald Dierking of Scribner to the Logan East Rural Water System Advisory Committee to represent the expansion area.

The next Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District Board of Directors meeting will be held Oct. 24.

Police probe case at WSC

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

The Wayne Police Department responded to a report of a sexual assault early Sunday morning at Wayne State College.

According to Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild, a friend of the victim flagged down Sgt. Ron Penlerick as he was patrolling the area. The passer-by notified Penlerick of the incident and he investigated. Penlerick said the victim was attacked near the Benthack Applied Science Building.

Fairchild said the victim was taken to Providence Medical Center, where she was given a physical examination by a doctor.

The physical examination includes a variety of tests. Results of the tests could take anywhere from a week to one month. Testing of the samples are conducted in Lincoln.

ACCORDING TO Penlerick, the victim was allegedly sexually assaulted while returning to her residence hall Sunday around 2:30 a.m. According to Wayne Herald sources, the alleged attacker jumped the victim from behind and sexually assaulted her. Reports of the incident were made to the Wayne police at 3:50 a.m. Sunday.

Fairchild said the apparent victim lives on campus. Penlerick said he currently has no witnesses to the incident. He said he is going to re-interview the victim soon in hopes she will be willing to talk. He said she is currently very traumatic over what has happened. Penlerick added that he hopes to talk to friends of the victim.

There are no suspects in the apparent incident. The name of the victim has not been released.

Penlerick said the victim was not beaten in the incident.

County board selects Pieper for legal post

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Wayne attorney Michael Pieper has been selected to be the new attorney for Wayne County. The selection was made Tuesday at the Wayne County Commissioners meeting.

Pieper replaces former Wayne County Attorney Bob Ensz, who resigned from the post to become the new judge for the ninth judicial district. Ensz was sworn in at a ceremony at the Wayne County Courthouse Tuesday afternoon.

Pieper is a partner in Olds and Pieper Law Partnership of Wayne. He was sworn in as county attorney at a ceremony Wednesday.

ACCORDING TO minutes of the meeting, Pieper was selected to succeed Ensz on a 2-1 vote by the county commissioners. Pieper was one of three candidates for the position. The others were Wayne attorneys Duane Schroeder and John Addison.

"It was a tough decision to make," said Wayne County Commissioner Chairman Merlin Beiermann, who cast the only ballot against Pieper. "I think Mike will do a good job, but we had three very good candidates."

Beiermann said he voted against selecting Pieper because he is concerned that having a county attorney who is also the City of Wayne's attorney could result in a conflict of interest issue down the road.

"It was nothing personal," Beiermann said. "I will agree that Mike will probably provide the smoothest transition since he comes from the same law firm Bob worked in."

RECOMMENDATIONS for the candidates came telephone and by mail. Ensz did give his recommendation for Pieper to be chosen, Beiermann said.

Pieper is a 1985 graduate of Creighton University school of law. He has served two years as the deputy county attorney for Wayne County. Before coming to Wayne in 1989, he worked for almost four years in the Cheyenne County Attorney's office.

Pieper and his wife Diane, an employee at State National Bank, have two children: Jonathan, 3; and Ryan, 10 months.

Yankton authorities nab suspect in alleged sexual assault in Wayne

A Yankton, S.D. man was arrested Wednesday by the Yankton County Sheriff's Department and the Yankton Police Department after a warrant for his arrest was issued last week.

Kenneth D. Stark, 41, was sought by the Wayne Police Department and the Wayne County Sheriff's office on charges that he sexually assaulted a child Aug. 24 in a Wayne park. Charges were filed against Stark last week in the Wayne County Court.

Bond for his release has been set at $25,000.

REPORTS OF the incident allege that Stark was in a Wayne park Aug. 24 and was approached by four youngsters. Stark allegedly offered the children money and in return allegedly sexually assaulted a child.

According to a report, Stark allegedly offered two children money if they would pull down their pants. Reports allege that he paid one child money for touching him and allowing him to touch her.

The names of the children have not been disclosed by Wayne County authorities.

STARK WAS located Wednesday about 9:45 a.m. in Yankton. He was arrested without incident, according to Yankton Police Chief Leon Canton.

The Yankton Police Department and the Yankton County Sheriff's Office were assisting the Wayne Police Department in the effort to arrest Stark.

According to Canton, Stark is being held in the Yankton jail awaiting extradition procedures.

The warrant for Stark's arrest was issued by Judge Richard W. Krepela of Norfolk. Krepela is one of three county judges in the ninth judicial district.

According to information about the incident, Wayne Police Officer Robert G. McLean was in charge of the investigation.

Susan Rethwisch August bride of Thomas Holland in Lincoln church

Christ Lutheran Church in Lincoln was the setting for the Aug. 31 rites uniting in marriage Susan Kay Rethwisch and Thomas Doyle Holland, both of Lincoln.

Parents of the couple are Lowell and Marilyn Rethwisch of Wayne and Orva Lee Holland of Lincoln and the late Johnny Holland.

The Rev. K. C. Dehning of Lincoln officiated at the 3 o'clock, double ring service. Decorations included a unity candle, heart-shaped candelabras with white bows, altar bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and mums, and pew bows of fuchsia ribbon and white tulle.

GUESTS attending the ceremony were registered by the bridegroom's sister, Deb Holland of Norfolk, and ushered to their seats by Al Chambers and Jon Frank, both of Lincoln, Jon Rethwisch of Wayne and Rick Smith of Allen. Al Chambers and Jon Frank also lighted candles.

Honor attendants were Joy Smith of Allen, sister of the bride, and Dan Holland of Lincoln, brother of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaids were Ginny Hansen of Carroll and Mary Jo Bracht of Lincoln, and groomsmen were John Holland of Lincoln, Mont. and Bob Holland of Lincoln, Neb., also brothers of the bridegroom.

Wedding music included "All of Me" and "Wedding Prayer," sung by Joyce Reimer of Bellevue, and "Love is the Reason" and "The Lord's Prayer," sung by Gwen Jensen of Wakefield.

Program and gift attendants were Eric, Michelle, Nicole and Johnny Holland, Aaron and Jennifer Smith, and Jason, Jesse and Jeremiah Rethwisch.

The dress featured a Sabrina neckline with a sheer illusion back accented with satin buttons. Venise lace and pearls highlighted the bodice and long, fitted sleeves, and the full skirt flowed from a basque waistline and was enricled with scalloped hem lace.

Her fingertip veil with a small tulle pouf was attached to a satin teardrop hat with venise flowers and pearls and accented by a silk flower spray at the side.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses, white stephanotis and freesia with pearl flairs.

THE BRIDE'S attendants wore fuchsia-colored sophisticated suits of Bengaline taffeta, designed with floor-length straight skirts.

The fitted double-breasted jackets with long tapered sleeves featured shawl collars of white lace and bows at the back waistline to accent the peplums.

Each carried a silk bouquet of white roses with fuchsia tulle accented with fuchsia, blue and purple baby's breath.

The bridegroom was attired in a white hip-length tuxedo with white paisley accessories. He wore a white rose and stephanotis boutonniere.

His attendants wore black tuxedos with shawl collars. Their vests and ties were of black Fantasia fabric with a subtle fuchsia, blue and purple pattern. They wore fuchsia boutonnières.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rethwisch chose a navy street-length dress with a pleated bodice and skirt. The bridegroom's mother selected a rose dress with a lace trimmed bodice, also in street length. Their corsages were white roses with fuchsia accents.

APPROXIMATELY 200 guests attended a reception afterward in the church basement. Hosts were Linda Koch of Omaha, and Mitch and LaVonne Sorensen and Judy

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Holland

Stromback, all of Minneapolis, Minn.

Cutting and serving the wedding cake were Cynthia Rethwisch of Wayne and Dawn Holland of Lincoln.

Judy Holland of Lincoln; Mont. poured and Diane Holland of Lincoln, Neb. served punch.

THE NEWLYWEDS traveled to Kansas City and are making their home at 4507 So. 58th St., Lincoln, Neb., 68516.

The bride graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School and received her bachelor's and master's degrees in business education from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She is employed as an instructor at Southeast Community College in Lincoln.

The bridegroom graduated from Lincoln Northeast High School and received degrees in electronics from Southeast Community College in Milford and Lincoln.

He is an electronic technician at Instrumentation Specialties Co. in Lincoln.

Floyd and Anita Burt

Card shower requested for Burt 60th anniversary

The family of Floyd and Anita Burt of Norfolk, formerly of Wayne, is requesting a card shower in honor of the couple's 60th wedding anniversary on Saturday, Oct. 12.

Cards may be sent to the couple's home at 1701 Riverside Blvd., #33, Norfolk, Neb., 68701.

Burts were married Oct. 12, 1931 in Yankton, S.D. Their attendants were John and Agnes Horn.

They are the parents of three children, Gary of Colorado Springs, Colo., Rick of Regina, Canada and Glenda of Reno, Nev. There are 16 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

The occasion was observed by the family with a small dinner on Sept. 14.

ON HER wedding day, the bride was given in marriage by her parents and appeared in a white gown of satin trimmed with venise lace with a semi-cathedral train.

Local delegates announced Women of the ELCA schedule annual convention in Omaha

Dorothy Aurich and DeAnn Behlers of St. Paul's and Redeemer Lutheran Churches in Wayne will represent local Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America as delegates to the fourth annual convention of the Nebraska Synodical Women of the ELCA on Oct. 11-13 in Omaha.

Theme for the convention is "Let Your Light Shine." Following this year's session, conventions will be held every two years.

The program will include three Women of the ELCA leaders from out-of-state. Merle Freitje, president of the Eastern North Dakota synodical organization, will speak at the banquet on Saturday. Esther Arne, treasurer, and Faith Fretheim, Director of Literacy, will represent the churchwide organization at various sessions. All three will conduct workshops.

Video on rural roads shown at Home Extension Council

The Dixon County Home Extension Council met Sept. 11 and viewed a video, entitled "On Country Roads," which is a thrust area from the National and Nebraska Extension Homemakers Council.

Studies have shown that counties with the highest traffic death rates have the lowest population and that of the average 47,000 traffic deaths annually in the United States, two-thirds occur in rural areas and nearly half of those on country roads.

The reason for traffic deaths on rural roads are related to differences in road characteristics, travel speeds, types of vehicles and failure to use safety belts.

GIFTS FOR the Lutheran Pantry and Project Hope, both in Omaha, will be brought as tangible offerings. Monetary offerings will benefit Bethpage Mission at Axtell, the Martin Luther Home at Beatrice, Hosanna Lutheran Church in Plattsmouth and Rejoice Lutheran Church in Richard.

Bishop Gerhard N. Jessen will lead a Bible study. The Rev. Daphne Hamburg of Augustana Lutheran Church, Omaha, will be the presiding minister, with the Rev. Gretchen Ritola of Kearney, assistant to the Bishop, speaking on Sunday morning.

Two panel presentations are scheduled. Persons who work with the homeless will be heard on Saturday morning and representatives of different cultures will speak before the convention adjourns at noon on Sunday.

THE COUNCIL'S regular business meeting followed and included approving goals for 1992, identifying District F Conference representatives for the conference to be held Oct. 22 in Hartington, and reporting on the recycling booth sponsored by the Dixon County Home Extension Council at the county fair.

Lois Berns of Wakefield won the quilted wall hanging made by Anna Marie White for the NEREC Arboretum fund raiser at the county fair.

THE BUDGET meeting was set for Oct. 10. Outgoing and incoming officers will meet on Nov. 6 to set plans for 1992.

Open house to honor couple wed in Black Hills

Peggy Bowers and Ron Ayer, both of Omaha, were married Aug. 28 at the Chapel in the Hills near Rapid City, S.D. Honor attendants were the bride's parents, John and Donna Bowers of Carroll.

An open house reception honoring the newlyweds will be held Sunday, Oct. 6 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center in Randolph. All friends and relatives are invited, and the couple requests no gifts.

ABE creates fond memories

Rennick recalls experiences

Marion Rennick fondly recalls the day a student proudly announced that he had read his first book the night before. "I always wanted to read Dr. Seuss to my kids," the student said, "and I did it twice!"

Teaching anyone how to read is exciting, but when the student is an adult, the experience is special, says Rennick, a tutor in the Adult Basic Education (ABE) program through Northeast Community College.

The ABE program teaches basic skills such as reading and writing to adults who either cannot read or who have had difficulty learning these skills in the past.

A teacher her entire life, Rennick gained national recognition for a program she developed for children with learning disabilities in the Wayne-Carroll school system. Upon her retirement, she traveled throughout the U.S. helping other schools implement the program, appropriately called "Project Success."

Upon settling down to enjoy retirement on her farm near Pilger, she answered an ad asking for tutors in Northeast's ABE program. She soon discovered that much of what made "Project Success" work so well for school age children would also help adult learners.

"Many students drop out of school because they have problems learning—not because they aren't intelligent. They just need to learn in a different way," Rennick says.

Her method includes a very structured phonics program with a lot of drill. "The approach is multi-sensory—using visual, auditory and motor skills with gradual skill accumulation."

"We strengthen weak areas while using a student's strong area," Rennick says. "The students respond very quickly—it's an exciting experience for them and for me."

Not only are the adult students surprised and happy that they can indeed learn, Rennick says she believes their self-esteem is dramatically improved. "Many students who fail are labeled delinquents because of the way they feel about themselves. If only someone had recognized that they just weren't being taught in a method that worked."

One of Rennick's students was a student who had graduated from high school but who still had considerable difficulty reading. "He was very bright and was determined to go to college," she says. "So I helped him learn to read while he took a computer class. Imagine that, the first book he ever read was a computer programming textbook!"

While teaching adults to read and write is rewarding, she'd like to help them much earlier in their lives. "What I really wish I could do is change the system of teaching," Rennick says. "We spend a lot of time remediating—but we're not preventing the failure."

Conference on tap at WSC

WAYNE - Lieutenant Gov. Maxine Moul will be the luncheon keynote speaker when Wayne State College hosts the third annual Cooperative Rural Development Conference Friday, Oct. 11.

Several of Nebraska's rural development authorities will make presentations concerning topics such as food processing, recycling, housing, how to market your community, financing rural development and dependent care.

"THE CONFERENCE will focus on community and economic development issues and concerns which rural communities are facing," says Connie Keck, director of the Bureau for Community and Economic Development at Wayne State.

"The conference provides an opportunity to bring together business, education, political and community leaders to share information, ideas and experiences for community improvements," she adds.

For more information concerning the conference, contact Connie Keck at Wayne State College. Her number is 375-7533.

Plaque of recognition

JEAN ROEMER, OFFICER IN CHARGE of the Wayne Post Office, presents a plaque of recognition to postal employee Jim Atkins. The plaque recognized Atkins as a 35-year employee with the federal and postal branches of government. Atkins also received a 35-year pin with the presentation.

ASCS sets dates for review

The Wayne County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reviewed and set community boundaries for the ASCS community committee elections to be held between Nov. 22 and Dec. 2.

"This is one of the first steps in administering the annual ASC committee election," said Teresa Post, county executive director.

She said that in compliance with changes required by the Food Security ACT of 1985 the ASC committee set boundaries around ASC local administrative areas (LAA) that help provide farmers with effective farm program administration through local representation.

Wayne County is divided into 3 local administrative areas. Only LAA number two will have an election.

A list of ASC communities, a boundary map, and the number of farms within each community are available to the public at the Wayne County ASCS Office. The ASC communities in Wayne County are as follows: LAA1-Sherman, Deer Creek, Wilbur and Strahan, LAA2-Hunter, Logan, Brenna, Plum Creek and Leslie and LAA3-Garfield, Chapin, Hoskins and Hancock.

Other events concerning the upcoming election will be announced as they occur. Participation in ASC elections is open to all eligible farmers regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, marital status, or handicap.

FRIENDS plans activities

During the month of October, junior and senior high students in Wayne and across Nebraska are being challenged to commit to a lifestyle free of tobacco, alcohol, and other drugs.

The Wayne FRIENDS (Facts Raising Interest Ending needless Drugs), with chapters in the middle and high schools, is sponsoring a variety of activities to raise community awareness and encourage students in grades 7-12 to sign the drug-free pledge.

In 1990, the second annual "Pledge Month Across Nebraska" statewide campaign saw over 1,500 junior and senior high students pledge. In Wayne, 65 students became pledged members of FRIENDS in 1990. This year, the Wayne FRIENDS is well on its way to reaching its goal of 100 pledged members. The Wayne FRIENDS is one of 90 groups participating in the "Nebraska Network of Drug-Free Youth", sponsored by the Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Council of Nebraska.

Alcohol is America's #1 drug problem among youth. In 1985, over 4 million 14-17 year-olds experienced negative consequences because of alcohol use (i.e., arrest, involvement in a car crash, impaired health or job performance). The greatest number of car crashes for 16-19 year-olds incurred at a much lower level of BAC (blood alcohol concentration) than for those in older age groups.

Although the use of alcohol is illegal for anyone under 21 in Nebraska, it remains more widespread among youth than use of tobacco or any illicit drug.

Quilt show ends

QUILTS ON DISPLAY AT THE Wayne County Museum have gone down for the summer as the museum ended its summer season last Sunday. Pictured with one of the quilts on display is Loreta Tompkins, a museum board member. The quilt was pieced during the 1940s and it was presented to Milton and Jacquelyn Owens.

The GOLDEN YEARS

by Ruth Lichy

Jeanne Louise Calment celebrated her 116th birthday to become recognized as the world's oldest person at a retirement home in Arles, France. Slightly weakened by a case of the flu, Calment still was able to blow out three candles on her birthday cake. In younger years she was a vigorous tennis player, fencer, mountain climber and hunter. And she rode a bicycle until she turned 100.

Nettie Stear got her first driver's license in 1929. At age 93 she took a defensive driving course — along with a daughter and son-in-law in their 60s. "My daughter said I couldn't drive any more unless I took the course," she said, "but all three of us did it to reduce our insurance rates." Today, she says everyone goes much faster. "They're more careless and cut in front of you...they tailgate and don't use signals. You never know what they're going to do so you have to be alert if you're going to drive."

Remember When? April 14, 1939 — "Wuthering Heights," one of the great movie classics, premiered in New York. It was nominated for an Academy Award, but lost out to the all-time masterpiece, "Gone With the Wind."

Let's support United Way

With the United Way fund drive getting underway and continuing through this month, it's time for the community to rally. Let's get behind this year's drive 110 percent.

Many of us probably don't realize what United Way means to the community. Without its support to the various organizations it's raising money for, those organizations may not be able to stay afloat. The ones that could survive without United Way support would find themselves strapped.

On the United Way sign, located at the corner of 2nd and Main Streets on the State National Bank park, the campaign goal is $23,000. We'd like to encourage that the community and its businesses not only reach the goal but surpass it. We'd like to see the community hit the peak mark of $28,000 and beyond.

The best way of complimenting the Wayne United Way volunteers and the board members is to kick in as much money as possible. Let's show other communities that Wayne can do it.

Like the United Way message says: "Thanks to you, it works for all of us."

Spending grant money wisely

At a public hearing last week, some day care operators advised people from the Nebraska Department of Social Services how to use leftover money from a grant. Some of them wanted to see it used to get the word out to the public that day care operators are professionals.

We have a problem with that.

It is our belief that any leftover money the Department of Social Services has from a federal grant should be used to further educate and train day care operators and their staffs or be split to assist shortfalls due to high insurance rates. To believe that spending money to get the word out that any occupation is a profession, would be improper in our judgement and a gross misuse of taxpayer dollars.

By using the money for staff training, or to help alleviate the skyrocketing costs of insuring day care operations, day care providers will become professionals.

Professionalism, in our judgement, is not something that is given away, it is either earned by attrition or learned through education.

We hope the Nebraska Department of Social Services uses the money for training or to help struggling operations with unfairly high insurance rates.

Should Congress require that doctors be tested for AIDS?

Tara Anderson
Omaha

Yes. Because if I'm going to trust them to take care of me, I should have the security of knowing whether or not they have AIDS.

Kristin Carlson
Lincoln

Yes. I think there needs to be more research done. Until we know all the facts about AIDS, it should be our right to know whether the doctors who care for us have the disease or not.

Peggy Lackas
Randolph

I think it would be a good idea. They deal with the public, so it would ensure public safety.

Scott Nelson
Ponca

Yes. I think it would be good for public awareness and safety.

Rebecca Freler

Yes. They want to know if we have AIDS, don't they? If they get their blood mixed with yours, you've had it.

Henry Kamphaus

Yes. If a doctor has AIDS, he shouldn't be in a position where he could infect other people.

President offers support for newspaper week

I am delighted to join with newspaper personnel and readers across America-together with the Newspaper Association Managers-in celebrating National Newspaper Week.

The course of public opinion and policy making in American has been profoundly influenced by our daily newspapers. Indeed, Wendell Phillips might have had a valid point when he wryly noted, "We live under a government of men and morning newspapers."

Free and open debate in our Nation's print media has always been a hallmark of our Republic.

Our newspapers continue to enjoy tremendous popularity, thanks to their timely and thorough coverage of world events, as well as their ability to foster a lively exchange of ideas and information among citizens across the country. I commend newspaper staff members for the commitment that they have shown to their profession, and especially for the benefits that they bring to us each and every day.

Barbara joins me in sending best wishes for every future success.

President Bush

Revealing people's concerns

During my statewide environmental tour last week, we heard from Nebraskans on many topics related to our environment and the quality of life in Nebraska. There were differences of opinion, but there was also a consistent appreciation of and concern for the natural resources around us.

In many ways we are like the pioneers who settled this region. They faced great hardships at the hands of nature, but they knew the potential the land held and did not give up.

We Nebraskans of the 1990's tend to follow in these footsteps. We don't like to give up, particularly when we know we have something of great value and likely worth a great deal more than we realize.

And, like those pioneers, when we see something good that can be made even better, and we have the means of doing that, we'll do it.

We see the opportunities that we have to reclaim our land, and to reclaim the environmental purity that we seek for our water, our air and our ground; we must recognize it as a commitment that we have-an obligation that is ours-a commitment that we can make for ourselves and for the future.

The product of the week's tour will be a comprehensive strategy outlining the long-term environmental goals for Nebraska.

The strategy will be a collection of policy papers examining groundwater protection and cleanup needs, surface water, integrated waste management (dealing with solid, hazardous, special and low-level radioactive waste), air quality management and soil conservation, to name a few.

Draft documents on each topic will be prepared by the Department of Environmental Control in conjunction with the Department of Health, Department of Water Resources and Natural Resources Commission.

In addition to our work to prepare a comprehensive blue print for our environmental future, we should be very pleased and proud that Nebraska's young people (those who will inherit the future) have a great appreciation for the issues involved in protecting the environment.

During class discussions around the state, students gave me their ideas on how to balance the sometimes competing interest of agriculture, industry and the environment. We discussed learning models prepared by the Department of Environmental Control and the Nebraska Department of Education which called upon students to weigh private and public concerns in dealing with issues like wetlands management.

The positive response from schools to these learning models has prompted me to consider suggesting that the departments work together to prepare a statewide curriculum offering on the environment. Such an offering was one suggestion made at our town hall meeting in Lincoln during the tour.

It's evident that all the Nebraskans I met with during the tour know that interest in preserving Nebraska's natural resources must begin early in life. The interest in the environment doesn't favor any one age group. It's never too early to begin, nor is it ever too late to begin.

Celebrating newspaper week

I don't know how many of you out there realized next week is National Newspaper Week but it is. The theme this year is "Celebrate the First 200 Years of Free Speech."

National Newspaper Week runs from Oct. 6-12. This year, I'd like to encourage everyone to give a reporter or editor a hug. If a hug is too much, maybe a pat on the back. Still asking for too much? How about a handshake.

In my 1 1/2 years at The Wayne Herald (it doesn't seem that long), I've seen quite a few things come and go. One thing's for sure: With all the activity here, it's an exciting time to be in Wayne.

PROBABLY THE most incredible event that I've seen here has to have been the unfortunate loss of Geno's Steakhouse a few weeks ago. I remember as clear as if it were yesterday what I thought when the fire whistles went off that Friday night.

"Not now. I'm only one headline away from finishing the paper," I thought to myself before realizing what was happening.

It was an eerie occurrence, however. Even though I heard the city's emergency alert fire system sound off, I didn't hear any fire trucks. That's strange because I can usually hear them since we're right next door to the fire department.

About five minutes had passed since I first heard those fire whistles and I called the Wayne Police Department.

"Where's the fire?" I asked. "At Geno's," the dispatcher responded.

So, thinking it was probably a small grease fire, I casually went out the door. Much to my amazement, smoke was everywhere and flames were shooting out of the roof. The first thought I had was for Gene and his family: Were they safe? Why did this have to happen now? There was a zillion questions but little time to ask them. Time was wasting. I had to act quickly.

THAT'S THE life of being a newspaper person. When big stories break, there's little else that can be done but try to cover them—accurately and if possible, objectively.

That's probably why the First Amendment is so important to me. News work has steadily become my life, ever since the first semester of

Mark'n' the Spot

by Mark Crist

my senior year of high school, when I took my first journalism class. It has, and it continues to intrigue me. There's nothing quite like putting those words down on paper and taking the notes and composing them into a story people can relate to.

Media law is another area which interests me. Along with having a media law book on my desk, I am constantly contacting the Nebraska Press Legal Hotline for tips to make sure what I'm doing is in order. Also, when I'm not at work, I'm always reading about what's happening in the newspaper industry, whether it be through trade publications, or the newspaper I get at the newsstand.

I'VE ALWAYS believed that there are four branches of government. You have the three we all know of: the judicial, the legislative and the administrative. But you also have the media. In the United States, they're always checking on one another.

Without freedom of the press where would we be? I think that's a question we must all ask ourselves. There are times when bringing the news into your home is enjoyable. There are other times it isn't. But reporting (and recording) the news always remains intriguing and it's often fascinating. The creation of a permanent document somehow leaves me with the knowledge that I will live forever although I know the opposite to be true.

If I were testifying, this would mark my celebration of 200 years of free speech.

200 Years of Freedom

Amendment 1
Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

Imagine if you had to seek permission from the government when you wanted to distribute a petition, give a speech, or report the truth about events in your community. Even if you wanted to write a simple newsletter for your club or church. That's the way it's done in many countries, but not ours.

During National Newspaper Week, we are joining with newspapers across the nation to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the United States Bill of Rights. And we especially cherish the freedom to say what we think. Freedom to report the truth. Freedom to be free!

WSC reserves thump Doane, 23-6

Scott Frear's Wayne State reserve football team got back on the winning track Monday under the lights of Memorial Field with a 23-6 thumping of Doane's reserves.

Wayne State never trailed in the contest as they jumped out to a 3-0 lead with 5:59 remaining in the first quarter on a 27-yard field goal by Chad McNeese. The score remained that way until the 11:30 mark of the third quarter when Bob Lowe caught a 19-yard touchdown pass from Clint Williams to give the Wildcats a 10-0 lead.

Ossie Santos was on the receiving end of a 12-yard touchdown pass from Williams on the first play of the fourth quarter to give the host team a 17-0 lead before Doane scored on a 30-yard blocked punt return. The Wildcats final scoring came on a 11-yard touchdown pass from Jeff Gall to Lowe with 2:53 left in the game.

Wayne State's offense definitely came to play as they rolled up 425 yards on 188 rushing yards and 237 passing yards while holding Doane to 84 yards rushing and 129 yards passing for 237 total yards.

The Wildcats executed ball control by owning the time of possession with nearly 36 minutes of offense compared to 24 for Doane. Lamont Rainey carried much of the load for WSC by rushing for 154 yards on 22 carries. Rainey's longest run of the evening was 24 yards. Jason Wood carried eight times for 23 yards and Jason McIntyre carried once for 27 yards. Williams was 12-22 in the passing department with one interception and two touchdowns for 163 yards while Gall was 6-9 with one interception and one touchdown for 74 yards.

Kevin Brown caught seven passes for 33 yards while Bob Lowe caught four for 92 yards and two touchdowns. Santos caught five passes for 89 yards and one touchdown while Ryan Sundberg and Wood caught one pass each.

Defensively the Wildcats were led by Pat Hoefener with 12 tackles while Sean Francisco had nine. Jason Dworak finished with eight tackles as did Mike Tagel who also had an interception.

Warner Roberts had six tackles while Jeremy Hook and Brian Clausen had five each with Clausen recording the only quarterback sack. Jason McIntyre, Bill Heimann and Davarryl Williamson each had four tackles.

Wayne harriers take part in Crofton meet

The Wayne High girls and boys varsity and reserve cross country teams traveled to take part in the Annual Crofton Invitational Friday.

Rocky Ruhl's girls team suffered a major setback for the second straight week when leading runner Tammy Geiger collapsed on the steep hills with muscle spasms in her calves. During the same meet Susie Enz got sick during the race but her courageous efforts netted her a fifth place individual medal.

"We have had some pretty good luck or we have just been fortunate the last couple of years not to have anything bad happen to our team," Ruhl said. "We have our fingers crossed that Tammy can come back. At the time she collapsed she was in the lead but Tami Schluns really did a nice job of running hard and she finished first with a 13:40 clocking."

Enz was timed in 14:58 for fifth and Jessica Wilson finished with a seventh place time of 15:56. Sheri Wortman competed for the reserves and she finished 10th with a 16:18 effort. Wortman moved back to Wayne after starting her senior year in Lincoln.

Crofton edged the Wayne girls for first place honors following Geiger's absence. The host team had 16 points while Wayne still managed to have a good team score with 20 points despite adversity.

Fuelberth keeps on ticking

The Wayne boys were also defeated by that same 16-20 score to Crofton but Todd Fuelberth just keeps on ticking for the Blue Devils as he has yet to suffer an individual loss this season. Fuelberth's winning time was clocked at 10:59.

Matt Ley garnered a fifth place finish in 11:38 while Nate Stednitz was sixth in 11:40. Aaron Geiger was eighth in 11:54 and Jason Johs placed ninth in 12:22. Mark Meyer rounded out the top 10 finishers with a 10th place effort of 12:26.

The bright spot for Wayne on the day was the performance of the reserve team which consisted of freshman and sophomores as they tied Crofton for the win. Wayne incidentally, finished first because they had the best fifth runner.

Chris Headley finished first in 13:08 while Aaron Schnier was sixth in 13:26. Robert Bell was seventh in 13:49 and Mark Lentz was ninth in 14:06.

"This was a very strange meet to say the least," Ruhl said. "Crofton runs their meet different from everyone else. They have two divisions broke into an A and B category. The A division was to have Wayne, Crofton and South Sioux but South Sioux did not attend which meant we were competing in a duel that was supposed to be an invitational."

"We did not run well and we got beat," Ruhl said. "I don't know if we were just looking ahead to David City's invitational on Thursday or if it was just a let down from thinking we were just competing in a duel."

The Cross Country teams will host Norfolk in duel action on Tuesday before the Conference meet on the 10th at South Sioux.

WSC to induct two members into Hall

The most successful Nebraska high school basketball coach, and one of the state's top basketball officials will be inducted into the Wayne State College Athletic Hall of Fame together during ceremonies at Saturday's WSC vs. Fort Hays State University football game.

Mick Anderson and Marty Going join 52 others who have been selected to the Hall of Fame since its initiation in 1978. The Hall is designed to recognize those who have made significant contributions to Wildcat athletics.

Anderson, a 1970 Wayne State graduate, was a member of Dave Gunther's Wildcat squad which posted a 71-12 record and appeared in three national tournaments from 1968-70.

Anderson is the most successful high school basketball coach in the history of the state. His Wahoo High teams have won a state-record 90 straight games, and four consecutive state titles. The 90-game winning streak is the sixth longest in national history.

He was the first Nebraska coach for Las Vegas All-Star game in 1981, as selected by the Nebraska Basketball Development Association. Anderson has been named Omaha Metro basketball "Coach of the Year" the past two seasons. He also earned the same honor from the Omaha World-Herald in 1990 and Lincoln Journal Star in 1991. He resides in Wahoo with his wife, Kathy, and three children, Justin (16), Amy (12), and Andrea (8).

"When I talk about Wayne State College, it always has special meaning to me," Anderson said. "I have a lifetime of memories and friendships from people I met there."

Marty Going starred in football and baseball at WSC from 1969-72. Going earned honorable mention all-America honors in baseball in 1970, and quarterbacked the Wildcats to their last football victory over the University of Nebraska-Kearney in 1971. He graduated from WSC in 1973.

Going, head football coach at Millard South High School in Omaha, is one of the top basketball officials in the state. He has officiated in five Nebraska state high school tournaments, including two that featured Mick Anderson's Wahoo High team.

Going and his wife Jeanne, live in Omaha with their children, Elizabeth (15) and Scott (13). "I hope that I am capable of fulfilling the honor that's bestowed," Going said. "The inductees before me were tremendous athletes, and just to be mentioned with them is an honor."

Kickoff for the WSC vs. Fort Hays State game is 1:30 p.m. The pair will be honored at halftime, and a formal induction ceremony will take place in a 6:30 p.m. dinner at the Wayne State Student Center.

Sports Briefs

Women's golf team unbeaten

WAYNE-The Wayne State women's golf team improved to 9-0 downing Chadron State and Doane in a triangular meet in Crete, Friday. The Wildcats finished with a team score of 389 while Chadron State carded a 420 and Doane, 472.

Dawn Garrett was meet medalist for the Wildcats with an 85 while Keri Goette finished second with an 88. Deena Curtis and Shannon McGuire rounded out the Wildcats scoring with a 101 and 115 respectively.

Lois Lessmann wins football contest

WAYNE-Lois Lessmann of Omaha, won the Wayne Herald football contest last week by way of a tie-breaker over five other entries. All six involved in the tie missed two games but Lessmann's tie-breaker of picking the total number of rushing yards that the Huskers would have against Arizona State was the closest.

Runner-up honors in last week's contest went to Peggy Grosz of Wayne. Grosz edged her husband Mike, and Marv Brummond of Wayne as well as Nick Zimmer of Niles, MI., and Lamont Keller of Wisner.

Linafelter places in national contest

WAYNE-Meghan Linafelter, daughter of Brian and Kim Linafelter of Sioux City and granddaughter of Ken and Doris Linafelter of Allen, recently placed second in the National Kiddie Pedal Tractor Pull in Omaha.

Meghan placed second in the five-year-old division. The top finishers in each division then took part in the International competition with Canada and Linafelter placed second in this competition as well.

Her placing at the Allen centennial earned her the right to compete in the Nebraska State competition in which she won first place. There were 25 states involved in the National competition.

Wayne gals host golf tournament

WAYNE-The Wayne girls golf team hosted the Wayne Invitational Saturday at the Country Club with seven teams in attendance. Blair won the team title with a 386 while Stanton was second with a 420. Norfolk reserves were third with a 451 and Columbus Scotus was fourth with a 442. Columbus Lakeview finished fifth with a 451 and South Sioux was sixth with a 467. The Blue Devils placed seventh with a 472.

The top 15 individuals received medals for their efforts with Stanton's Joy Dubsky capturing first place by 11-strokes with an 83. Wayne did not have anyone place in the top 15 but Kim Liska led the Blue Devils with a 115—just two strokes from placing.

Christi Carr was second for Wayne with a 118 while Lisa Casey finished with a 119. Jennifer Chapman rounded out the team scoring with a 120. Lana Casey also competed for Wayne.

Devils lose three matches at Madison

Wayne spikers fall below .500

Marlene Uhing's Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team suffered three losses in the Madison Invitational Saturday which dropped the season record to 5-6. In the opening match Wayne fell to Wisner-Pilger for the second time this year, 6-15, 8-15.

The Blue Devils were 89 percent from the serving line which is below what Uhing feels her team needs to serve. Jenny Thompson led the way with five points while Kristine Swanson was 7-7 with four points and three aces.

Danielle Nelson and Angie Thompson each had six set assists and Erin Pick led the way in hitting with five kill spikes.

"We suffered a lot of unforced errors," Uhing said. "We are struggling right now in that we can not maintain any kind of consistency. We were down just 7-6 in the first game and then we let one girl serve out the game."

In the second match Wayne lost to Pierce in a rematch of a contest in which Wayne won in straight games at Pierce nine days earlier. The Blue Devils however, lost 10-15, 17-15, 10-15. "In the first game we were behind 6-5 and again we let one girl serve for seven straight points," Uhing said. "The second game pretty much went back and forth but in the third game we kept the game close until we missed three of four serves toward the end of the game."

Wayne was 88 percent in the serving category with Liz Reeg leading the way with a perfect 17-17 outing with 10 points and three aces. Reeg and Pick each had eight kill spikes while Nelson had 20 set assists. Pick did a marvelous job of blocking during the match with 10 ace blocks.

The third match Wayne played was against the host team Madison and the Blue Devils were downed 11-15, 2-15. "We got behind 11-2 in the first game and fought back before losing," Uhing said. "Then we talked about coming out and making sure what happened in the first game didn't happen again but it did because we fell behind 11-1."

Again the Blue Devils were below the 90 percent success mark in serving. Reeg led the squad with an 8-8 outing and four points while Swanson has six points and three aces. Reeg incidentally, was a perfect 29-29 on serving for the day.

Pick and Swanson led the team in hitting with four and three kill spikes respectively while Nelson had seven set assists. Pick had four ace blocks despite the loss.

"Right now I don't think we are mentally tough enough," Uhing said. "We don't have everyone playing well all of the time. There seems to be a lack of communication and we are missing serves at critical times."

On a positive note Uhing noted that Swanson seems to be getting her timing down on hitting which has been effective for the Blue Devils. "I thought Kristen Swanson and Liz Reeg had good overall tournaments as did some of the players that came off the bench for us like Carrie Fink and Jenny Thomsen," Uhing said. "Erin Pick had a real good tournament for us in blocking."

Several honored for achievements this summer

Ladies golf awards night held

The Wayne Women's Golf Awards Night was held recently at the Wayne Country Club to honor those who made significant gains during the 1991 golf season.

Ginny Hansen received an award for the most birdies during morning league during the summer with six birds and one eagle while Sandra Sutton received the same award for the afternoon league with five birdies.

Irma Hingst was honored for the least amount of putts during one round of morning golf while Char Bohlin accomplished the feat in the afternoon league with 15.

Hansen was also awarded a prize for the most improved handicap by lowering her average score by six strokes. Joni Holdorf accomplished the same feat in the afternoon league by lowering her average score by six strokes.

Teri Bowers earned an award for breaking into the 40's while Colleen Bressler earned an award for breaking into the 30's. In the morning league, Vicki Pick scored the most points during the year for A golfers while Mylet McGath and Judy Sorensen tied for runner-up honors for the most points. Hansen and Bohlin finished third in the scoring.

The B golfers were led by Holdorf for the most points while Judy Berres and Dee Wacker tied for second and Hingst was third. Betty Meyer scored the most points of the morning C golfers while Lil Suhr and Carol Novak tied for second. Blanche Collins finished third in points scored for all morning C Golfers.

Elizabeth Griess scored the most points of all D golfers in the morning league while Luella Marra finished second. Marge Reeg was third in points scored.

In the evening league Char Bohlin scored the most points for A golfers while Sue Denton and Sandra Sutton tied for second. Tami Diediker finished third. The B golfers were led by Jackie Nicholson in scoring while Jan Casey was second and Irma Hingst third.

Kathy Luhr led all C golfers in scoring while Verna Vandeky was runner-up and Connie Endicott was third. Sharon Olson meanwhile, led all D golfers in the afternoon league while Julie Murphy was second in scoring and Loreene Gildersleeve was third.

The newly elected board members for the 1992-93 year include Judy Sorensen, Sandi Dorcey and Carol Novak for golf and Dorothy

Troutman for bridge. These members will take the place of Shelley

Frevert, Judy Koll and Joni Holdorf for golf and Rachael Wolske for bridge.

Goolsby, Valencia among leaders

WAYNE-Wayne State wide receiver Marlon Goolsby, who recently tied a Wayne State record for most receptions in a game with 10, is currently tied for 10th in the nation of all NCAA Division II schools with catches per game with six receptions per contest.

Wildcats punter Adam Valencia is currently ranked 11th in the nation in punting with a 40.9 per kick average.

Wayne reserves lose to Cedar WAYNE-The Wayne reserve football team lost 21-6 to Hartington Cedar Catholic recently. The Blue Devils lone score came in the first quarter when quarterback Matt Blomenkamp connected on a 10-yard pass to Brian Brasch.

Wayne however, fell behind 14-6 at the break and could never challenge the Cedar lead in the second half. Blomenkamp was 8-21 in the air with two interceptions and one touchdown for 76 yards.

Chad Paysen led the defense with 11 tackles while Matt Robins had nine and Brasch had five.

LUTHERAN CHURCH WOMEN

The Women of ELCA of Salem Lutheran church of Wakefield met Thursday, Sept. 26. They had as their guests about 45 ladies from St. John's Lutheran Church of Wakefield, Presbyterian Church, Evangelical Covenant Church, Christian Church, Immanuel Lutheran Church and St. Paul's Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield.

President Clarice Schroeder welcomed members and guests with Bible passages, a poem and prayer, all emphasizing friendship. Program chairman Marian Christensen announced the singing of the hymn "What A Friend We Have In Jesus". Devotions given by Sharon Salmon gave the importance of living an unselfish life of service so that someone will be thankful for us. Pastor Kip A. Tyler was introduced and sang "Amazing Grace" accompanied by Margaret Fischer.

Shirley and Roy Stohler, who are members of the United Methodist Church in Laurel, presented their "Good News Puppets". Through the colorful puppets they gave a message of love, forgiveness and brotherhood.

The program ended with a medley of hymns played by Martha Mortenson on the organ and Famy Johnson and Vi Ring on the piano. There was no business meeting.

President Clarice Schroeder reminded members of Women of ELCA to bring their items to be taken to the convention in October and also articles to be donated to Martin Luther Home.

The meeting closed with the hymn "Blest Be The Tie That Binds".

Pastor Tyler offered prayer and led in the singing of the table prayer. Lunch followed in the church basement served by the regular committee and aided by the evening circle.

A member of the Channel 9 KCAU news staff was also present for the program video taping the "Good News Puppets". They are scheduled to appear on the 6 p.m. news on Oct. 7 and on the following day's morning news.

MARCHING FESTIVAL

Over 1,900 band members from twenty-five Nebraska bands will be arriving in Columbus to compete in the 17th annual Columbus Marching Festival on Oct. 5. This group will include the Trojan Marching Band. The annual event will feature two competitions; a street competition at 10 a.m. in downtown Columbus and a field competition at 12:30 p.m. at Pawnee Park Stadium.

Bands competing in the street competition will be judged.

The parade will be followed by the field competition at Pawnee

Park Memorial Stadium. Each band competing in the field competition will perform a marching show about 8 to 12 minutes in length.

Following the field competition, awards will be presented at approximately 5 p.m.

STAFF ENGINEER
The Solvents and Coatings Materials Engineering Division of Union Carbide recently named Kurt Dolph a staff engineer for his contributions in several business areas. Kurt is the son of Arlene Dolph and the late Don Dolph of Wakefield. He has been with Union Carbide in Charleston, W. Va. since 1982. He is a chemical engineering graduate of the University of Nebraska and obtained a Master in Science degree in chemical engineering from the University of West Virginia COCS this past year.

Kurt has worked in the Isopropanol, Ethanol and Oxo areas and is presently providing project and process support to Solution Vinyl Resins.

Prizes and gifts given at event

Over $1,000 in prizes and gifts were presented to participants in Pumpkin Days festivities held last month at Wakefield. Funds for Pumpkin Days are derived primarily from the sale of T-shirts. A fifth anniversary cookbook was also published.

RECEIVING THE $100 first prize for the best yard decoration was the Dan Dutcher family. The second place prize of $50 went to Floyd and Evelyn Johnson.

A 75-pound pumpkin displayed by Megan Brown was named the heaviest in the pumpkin contest. The best carved pumpkin was displayed by Angela Renken, followed by Regina Dutcher and Kristen Eaton in the 12 years and under division.

Best carved pumpkin in the age 13 and over category was submitted by Sherie Hampl, with second and third going to John Green and Tim Renken respectively.

Elizabeth Dutcher had the best decorated pumpkin in the 12 and under division, with second going to Heath Keim and third to Kurt Thompson. Travis and Zach Rouse took first place for best decorated pumpkin in the over 13 division, followed by Matthew Renken and Sue Miller.

DIVISION winners in the kids pedal tractor pull were Renee Felt, Joel McAfee and Kurt Thompson, nine-year-olds; Adam Jorgensen, Linnea Wahlstrom and Ty Nixon, eight-year-olds; James Felt, Jason Simpson and Joseph Nelson, seven-year-olds; Josh Soderberg, Lee Clarkson and Jennifer Haglund, six-year-olds; Aaron Jorgensen, Jake Olsulka and Logan Ronhovde, five-year-olds; and David Rastede, Regina Dutcher and Titus Nelson, four-year-olds.

Dottie Boley and Coreen Bard won first and second respectively in both the stitchery category and the pumpkin division of the arts and crafts show. Gertrude Ohlquist was winner in the miscellaneous division.

The first place quilt was shown by Ada Bartels. Brenda Meier and Scott Ladelly were winners in the photography area and Jane Dolph displayed the top painting.

Also on display during the arts and crafts show were some of the top 4-H entries in the photography contest held at the Nebraska State Fair. The exhibit will travel throughout the state during the year.

OVER-ALL first place winner in the kids parade were Ross, Melissa and Nicole Hansen, Kendra Thompson and Joey Fischer. David and Linnea Wahlstrom won second place honors and Torin and Kelsey Bard received third.

Other kids parade winners were Todd McQuistan, Tim and John McQuistan, and Sarah, Jena and Andy Meyer, first place in "walk" division; Drew Rose, first place in "pull" division; Brooke Kahl, first place in "pedal" division; and Kurt Thompson and Josh Peterson, best "push" entry.

Winners in the pumpkin roll competition were David Wahlstrom, Ryan Otte and Tanner Soderberg, five and under category; Jessica Dutcher, Timarie Bebee and Joe Brown, six to eight-year-olds; Heath Keim, Ross Gardner and Thoa Tran, nine to 11-year-olds; and Matt Kucera, Andrea Carson and Tyler Peters, 12 and over.

Barb Greve entered the best pumpkin pie in the pumpkin bake-off contest. Angela Renken was second and Janice Gardner third.

In the cookie and bar division, Matt Renken was the winner, with Becky Stout finishing second and Annie Renken third.

Chris Salmon submitted the best pumpkin dessert. Second place went to Polly Hank and third to Lu Kay. The miscellaneous division was won by Mary Baker, with Fran Hallstrom receiving second and third place honors.

A 1971 Chevelle owned by Roger and Becky Opplinger of Columbus was selected "participants choice" in the car show. The "spectator's choice" from the 30-plus entries was a 1939 Ford belonging to Tim and Lesjé Bebee of Wakefield.

There were 13 three-member teams in the Pumpkin Days golf tournament. Winners were team members Bill Stipp, Wayne, Harold Von Minden, Martinsburg, and Melvin Wilson, Pender, with a 73 on 18 holes.

Dale Mayberry, Emerson, Pat Erwin, Wakefield, and Arlie Juhlin, Wakefield, finished second with a 74, followed by Robert Wahlstrom, California, Dave Nicholson, Wayne, and Bus Schroeder, Wakefield, with 75.

The fourth place team was Marvin Wickett, Laurel, Warren Bressler, Wakefield, and Charles Wahlstrom, Wakefield.

Honoring the ceremony of a nephew-attorney

One of our nephews passed the bar exam this summer, and was "sworn in" at the capitol last week. Since we couldn't make it to his graduation in May, we made an effort to get to this event.

The ceremony took place in the rotunda, and by the time there were places for all the new lawyers, the black-robed justices, and families, the place was full.

The speeches got a little long, I hadn't been the capitol building for awhile, so I looked around. I always forget how really beautiful it is. There is even a plaque that says "It is difficult for Nebraska to realize what it has done, but the people of your nation know. It is a jewel among historical monuments."

Carved in strategic places, or on stained glass, are uplifting statements, like "A community, like an individual, has a work to do", "Law and order deliver the soul", and the preamble that states "All people have a fight to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." Meanwhile, the fledgling attorneys were swearing "to uphold the constitution".

I was in the hall of fame, where the busts of famous Nebraskans stand high over those who come and go. There is Neihardt, the poet, Norris, the politician, Cody, the Indian fighter, Pershing, the soldier, Father Flanagan, humanitarian, and Cather, author of pioneer tales. She is quoted, "The history of a country begins in the heart of a man or of a woman."

It all kind of gives you the shivers. I could almost hear "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" in the background.

On Saturday, I shared a panel discussion with Helen Boosalis. She is an unpaid volunteer representative to the AARP and reported on its goals and policies.

I'm not certain about this lady's age, she has always had that white hair, but I know it was five years ago when she and Kay Orr made history in the governor's race.

She was saying that she and her husband were just back from visiting a retirement community in Tucson. It was lovely; and the folks who live there play a lot of golf, bridge, and tennis.

I commented that Maggy Kuhn, head of the Grey Panthers, feels it is better to live where there is a mixture of ages. Helen offered this observation. She asked her friend how often she saw her grandchildren. They came back to Nebraska once a year. And did the family visit them in Arizona? Children were not allowed in the complex. We were both appalled.

Incidentally, Nebraskans visiting in Arizona on Saturday night kind of surprised their hosts. It got too late for me, but it must have been some football game.

Jennifer Salmon
Salmon graduates from program, becomes officer

Jennifer Salmon graduated Sept. 4 from the Lincoln, NE. Police Department Training Program. At that time she became a commissioned officer with the Lincoln Police Department.

The Training Academy is a 12 1/2 week program consisting in courses such as fire arms qualification, defensive tactics, emergency vehicle operations and other police related courses.

She is presently involved in a six-month "on-the-job" training program.

Salmon is the daughter of Mardelle Wiseman of Wayne and Jim Salmon of Wakefield.

She's a 1987 graduate of Wayne High School and a 1991 graduate of Wayne State College.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

SCHOOL DAZE???? Ed W. from Illinois has an interesting point to make, to wit: "...scholarships seem to be always for the younger student. I can understand that. But it seems to me that it would pay to have scholarships for seniors who want to retrain or upgrade their skills and go back into the job market. This would help the economy (especially) in getting a lot of people off public assistance. Also, it's been shown that seniors who work at jobs they enjoy are healthier and this would also save taxpayers some of the costs of treating older sick people..."

Ed, who says he's a retired school teacher who is trying to get back into teaching "... wherever they can use me ..." suggested that companies that cater to servicing older people's needs sponsor these scholarships.

I'm all for this suggestion. And, I'll go a step further. I don't think we necessarily have to limit the scholarships, or tuition aid programs to those who intend to take their training into the workplace. Sometimes the joy of learning for its own sake is sufficient and, incidentally, can be healthful, too. Dedicated scholars, like artists, or conductors of symphonic orchestras, tend to live long and relatively healthy lives.

WORK DISCRIMINATION: Speaking of work — which is something many seniors not only want to do, but must do in order to support themselves and their families, employment discrimination against middle aged and older workers seems to be growing.

Edward R. Roybal, Chairman of the House Select Committee on Aging, is conducting hearings to determine the nature and extent of age discrimination and its impact on workers. One focal point of the hearings will be the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA). This is the federal law that prohibits age discrimination in the workplace. Is the law effective? How, where, when, and why — and by whom — is it circumvented?

An important fact that will be stressed at these hearings is the results of several studies that show that there is a great deal of misinformation about the physical and mental capabilities of older workers. It's this misinformation that underlies much of the age discrimination practices.

OVERMEDICATION — A CONTINUING HAZARD: It seems the dangerous practice of over-medicating seniors in nursing homes is still with us. Administrators apparently feel keeping patients "quiet" is one way to deal with insufficient personnel to handle patient care duties. If you have a relative or friend in a nursing facility, be sure you know what medications they're on, and why.

Burial was in the Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne with Schumacher-McBride-Wiltse Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Edna Byers

Edna Byers, 94, of Wakefield died Thursday, Sept. 26, 1991 at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

Services were held Tuesday, Oct. 1 at Salem Lutheran Church in Wakefield. The Rev. Kip Tyler officiated.

Edna Mae Byers, the daughter of William and Maggie Meyer Schwitzer, was born Nov. 14, 1896 at York, Pa. She attained her education in Pennsylvania and practiced as a registered nurse in the Panama Canal Zone during World War I. She married Dr. William L. Byers in 1920 at Omaha. The couple lived in the Gresham, Lincoln and Allen communities before establishing their practice in Wakefield in 1939. She worked with Dr. Byers as his assistant. Dr. Bill Byers died in 1957. She continued to work in the dental office for her son, Dr. Paul Byers, until 1975. She also had a maternity home for mothers from 1940-1945, where she acted as a mid-wife. She was active in her community on various committees and organizations such as the Salem Lutheran Church and its Women's Organization, the American Legion Auxiliary and PEO.

Survivors include two sons and daughters-in-law, Bill and Yvonne Byers of The Dalles, Ore. and Paul and Norma Byers of Wakefield; five grandchildren; one brother, Roy Schwitzer; and two sisters, Dora McGuigan and Helen Long.

She was preceded in death by her husband, four brothers, two sisters and one grandson.

Honorary pallbearers were Charles Soderberg, Ephraim Johnson, Jermi Johnson, Jerome Pearson and Jim Gustafson.

Active pallbearers were Al Hitz, Robert Paul, Norman Swanson, Alvin Sundell, John Viken and Harry Mills.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery with Bressler-Humlicek Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Anderson joins board

Nebraska Humanities Council elected five new board members at its Sept. 13-14 meeting in Brownville.

Among those elected for a three-year term was Sayre Anderson, chairman of Center for the Humanities and associate professor of English at Wayne State College.

Everett Carr

Everett Carr, 99, of Allen died Saturday, Sept. 28, 1991 in the Wakefield Care Center.

Services were held Wednesday, Oct. 2 at the United Methodist Church in Allen. The Rev. T.J. Fraser officiated.

Everett Maurice Carr, the son of Horace B. and Flora Rauch Carr, was born June 20, 1892 at Alexandria, S.D. He moved to Nebraska at the age of 13. He married Iva Allen on Jan. 2, 1917 at Allen. The couple farmed in the Allen area until 1937, when he opened the Carr Service Station and Hotel on Highway 20. Everett had interests in music by playing in the town band and also interested in baseball, as he was the pitcher for his team. He was a member of the United Methodist Church in Allen.

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Hap (Verna) Dunsmore of Denver, Mrs. James (Phyllis) Fegley of Sioux City, Mrs. Allen (Wilma) Money of Fairfield, Calif., Mrs. Bill (Paulene) Kjer of Allen, Lucille Chapel of Sioux City and Velma Cohen of Las Vegas, Nev.; three sons and their wives, Maurice and Norma Carr of Denver, Loren and Betty Carr of Allen and James and Charlene Carr of Orlando, Fla.; 22 grandchildren; 32 great grandchildren; one great great grandchild; two brothers, Joe and Leslie Carr of Allen; and one sister, Iva Jotzke of Sioux City.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Flora in 1976; two sisters, Agnes and Etta; two brothers, Earl and Clarence; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Larry, Greg, Richard, Jon and Scott Carr, Steven Chapel, Gary and Michael Fegley, James Fegley Jr. and Kenneth Stewart.

Burial was in the East View Cemetery in Allen with Bressler-Humlicek Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Focusing on bereavement

Compassionate Friends sponsoring workshop

Sascha Wagner, M.A., will present a mini-workshop, entitled "Bereavement: Endurance and Recovery," on Sunday, Oct. 13 at 1 p.m. in the meeting room at Immaculata Convent, 300 N. 18th St., in Norfolk.

This is an interdenominational workshop sponsored by The Northeast Nebraska Chapter of The Compassionate Friends.

The workshop will focus on the aftermath of bereavement, its devastation and its chances for finding peace, growth and hope "in the ashes."

While Wagner fully acknowledges the importance of courage and strength, she says patience and emotional honesty are indispensable factors in healing from loss and she cautions against rushing the grieving process or denying the grief.

WAGNER, who has herself lost two children, is well-known as a speaker and as the author of several books.

Her work is published in Compassionate Friends newsletters in the United States, Canada, South Africa and Germany, and she is founding editor of "Life After Repeated Grief: Options," a newsletter for those who have been bereaved more than once.

As a professional, Wagner provides bereavement care and grief support. In addition, she offers seminars and workshops on coping with and healing from grief. Most recently, she has presented her work in Winnipeg, Manitoba Canada, in New Orleans, La., and in Hastings, Neb.

In the spring of 1992, Wagner will conduct a grief-support training workshop in Hamburg, Germany. She plans to publish another volume of verse in 1993.

REGISTRATION for the workshop in Norfolk will begin at 12:30 p.m.

The cost is $10 for one person or $15 per couple and reservations should be sent to Marcella Hughes, Rt. 2, Box 177, Neligh, Neb., 68756 by Wednesday, Oct. 9.

PICTURED IS THE cast of "Never Be the Same," a musical for the entire family to be presented Monday, Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. in Ley Theater on the Wayne State College campus. The event is sponsored by the Wayne Evangelical Free Church.

Entire family invited to 'Never Be the Same'

The National Touring Company will offer an evening of music, comedy and drama for the entire family when they present the musical, "Never Be the Same," on Monday, Oct. 7 at 7 p.m. in Ley Theater on the Wayne State College campus.

The public is invited to attend the performance which is being sponsored locally by the Wayne Evangelical Free Church.

There is no admission charge, however a free will offering will be received.

THE SETTING for the musical is a circus complete with clowns, ringmaster, the villainous Harley the Hobo and a wild animal trainer named Zack whose menagerie of animal characters lead the audience through a story with a message and one filled with laughter and tears.

Greg Gulley has created the story, characters and script and is joined by Lenny LeBlanc in writing the music.

Gulley and LeBlanc may best be remembered for their "music for worship" as both Integrity Hosanna and Maranatha Music have used their compositions on recent releases.

Their work together has so far spanned six musicals and over 60 compositions.

THE NATIONAL Touring Companies that New Life Ministries sponsor have traveled recently to the Soviet Union, Eastern Europe, and the Far East presenting their productions.

Show features WSC

WAYNE - The Wayne State College Planetarium will present the show "Wayne State Through the Seasons" on Sundays at 3:30 p.m., beginning Oct. 13 and running through Nov. 24. The shows are free and open to the public.
 Presentations will be made in the Dale Planetarium, located at the south end of Wayne State's Carhart Building.
 This program explores the causes and effects of seasonal change as experienced in Northeast Nebraska, and incorporates specially selected views of the Wayne State campus representing each of the four seasons.

 This celebration of the seasons at Wayne State is one of many activities on campus scheduled to mark the 100th anniversary of the college.
 In addition to regular Sunday showings, special presentations concerning a wide variety of topics can be arranged by contacting Carl Rump, Wayne State College, (402) 375-7343.

CARROLL - The Carroll Fire Department will sponsor a pancake feed and raffle on Sunday, Oct. 13 in the Carroll auditorium. Tickets will be available at the door.

The raffle is for a 12-gauge Winchester pump shotgun. Tickets may be purchased from any fireman up to the time of the drawing.

Nelson named court services officer

CARROLL - Cory D. Nelson is the new court services officer in Winner, S.D. He replaces Paul Bennett, who retired.

A Carroll native, Nelson graduated from Wayne-Carroll High School in 1987. He received his degree in criminal justice from Wayne State College in December 1990.

After graduating from college, he worked as a supervisor at First National Bank of Omaha service center in Wayne.

Kiwanis hear program on Haven House

WAYNE - Paul Campbell, speaking on behalf of his wife Sara Campbell, director of Wayne's Haven House, presented the program at the Sept. 30 noon luncheon meeting of the Wayne Kiwanis Club at the Black Knight.

Campbell, who was introduced by Secretary-Treasurer Sam Schroeder, detailed operation of the facility which serves victims of domestic abuse.

Haven House is one of several local agencies and organizations slated to receive funds from Wayne's United Way fund drive. Previous Kiwanis programs in September focused on other agencies assisted by the Wayne United Way.

Mark Ahmann presided at the weekly meeting for the final time as president and thanked the group for their support. Dr. Ken Liska will be in charge of preparing the Kiwanis float for the Wayne State College homecoming parade this Saturday.

Next week's Kiwanis meeting will be presided over by George Phelps, new club president. New board members for the year are Teri Higbee and Dale Simmons.

Allen-Waterbury rescue unit grant

ALLEN - The Allen-Waterbury Rescue Squad has received an $8,000 grant from the Gardner Foundation, founded by Dan and Jeanne Gardner of Wakefield.

The grant, which was applied for by the rescue squad, brings the total to the $36,500 needed to complete the purchase of a new ambulance. The fund for the new ambulance was started before Allen's centennial year and was put on hold during the centennial with any excess funds to be used for the new ambulance. The centennial committee presented the rescue squad with $15,000 at the close of the event.

The new unit has been purchased and is now in use.

September weather totals recorded

WAYNE - Extreme temperatures in September indicated that fall is just around the corner, according to weather data supplied by Wayne weather observer Pat Gross.

The month's high temperature was recorded Sept. 7, when the mercury hit 92 degrees. The month's low temperature was recorded 12 days later, when the thermometer reached a low of 27 degrees.

The average monthly high temperature was 77 degrees with the average low temperature falling to a comfortable 50 degrees.

Precipitation for the month was 2.10 inches, which is .35 inches lower than the 10 year average. The greatest rainfall for September was recorded Sept. 12 when .81 inches fell.

The calendar to year precipitation totals measure at 19.90 inches, below the 10 year average of 23.09 inches.

Diabetes: Four Forms of Care

An estimated ten million Americans have diabetes, a condition that occurs when the pancreas either totally stops producing insulin or does not produce enough insulin to meet the body's metabolic needs.

Proper care of diabetes depends on a number of factors including a person's age, weight, and the type of diabetes he or she may have. An appropriate diet, containing the correct amounts of fat, carbohydrate, and protein, is one of the most important forms of care. Insulin injections and/or oral medications are important in regulating insulin levels. Routine measurement of blood glucose levels with monitoring devices gives the diabetic information which is useful in planning and carrying out daily activities. Routine foot care is important in order to avoid infections and unnecessary loss of toes or feet.

CARDS OF THANKS
THE PAL (People Are Loved) committee would like to thank all who helped make our cake walk/bake sale a great success. Thanks to the ladies who donated the delicious cakes, bars, and cookies. Thank you, Carol Gustafson, who brought in her horses for us to use for rides. We would also like to thank Pac 'N' Save who let us use their parking lot. And a big thank you to the community for coming out and helping a good cause!

WITH LOVE and appreciation I say "Thank You" to my family. I am thankful for their help, love and concern. I want to thank all who remembered me in various ways during my stay at Marian Health Center and at Providence Medical Center, also since I came home. Thanks to Drs. Benthack and Martin and the complete staff of Providence Medical Center for the loving, cheerful care. Sister Gertrude and Pastor Jack Williams' visits and prayers gave me the lift for each day. Thanks to all. May God bless each of you. Ruth Fleer. Oct3

WE WISH to thank everyone who remembered Norma during her illness. Thanks to the staff at Providence Medical Center and Marian Health Center for their care and concern. We also wish to thank all who remembered me with cards, flowers, food and memorials at the time of her death. A special thanks to Pastors Jeff Anderson and Merle Mahnken and the ladies aid for serving lunch. Also, special thanks to Darlene Frevort for being there when we needed her. REPEAT THAT IF YOU WOULD
The rock and roll generation is discovering it's getting harder and harder to hear the music. Premature deafness and ringing in the ears is the result of noise. Live concerts, headsets, stereo tape players and car stereos at high volume are the culprits. Damage to your hearing can result when the noise level, no matter how much you enjoy it, is too loud. It's too late when you are not able to hear soft sounds and loud sounds begin to sound harsh. Turn it down now, prevent the problem.
