Council eyes on department report

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Three items dominated the Wayne City Council's discussion Tuesday on a night where the council erased three items from the agenda.

Items not ready to be discussed involved the review of a manager liquor application for the 7-Eleven store, library staffing and mayoral appointments.

Consuming almost an hour of discussion, the council listened to a load management report from Gene Hansen, supervisor of the city's electric plant.

Hansen told the council that steps need to be taken to reduce the city's maximum electrical output while increasing the load during the winter months.

During the summer, the city hits its peak electrical usage, which sets rates for the following year's electrical charges by Nebraska Public Power and the Western Area Power Administration, the two electrical providers to the city. During the winter, because usage is lower, the city is losing upwards of $22,000 because winter consumption is too low.

DUE TO FINDINGS in the report, Hansen suggested two options the city may want to evaluate. He told the council that the city can encourage residents to either install electric heating and water heater systems or install a radio-controlled system to residential homes with central air, which could be used to regulate the amount of electricity used during peak periods. The latter of the two alternatives, Hansen said, would be expensive.

"It's an expensive alternative but the project could save the city $42,000 a year," he said. "Similar systems like this one are used in Randolph, Beatrice and Crete and many other cities around Nebraska."

The way the radio-controlled system operates would run air conditioners in cycles. In other words, central air systems would run for 15 minutes and then shut off for seven minutes. The only exclusion to the proposal would be homes which provide air conditioning to the elderly.

"The comfort zone is not supposed to be disturbed any with this system," Hansen said. "The system could be used an average of 10 times in the summer, during peak periods, which occur between 4-5 p.m. The system, however, would not be used on weekends."

According to the report, the remote program could be extended by the city on a voluntary basis or it could be made mandatory. Hansen added that rate incentives could be offered for customers who use the radio-controlled system.

IN A SEPARATE matter, the council set a public hearing date for the annexation of Longe's Subdivision to Wayne. The subdivision is located south of 14th Street west of the Wayne America water tower.

Gravemarkers damaged in Concord

Authorities seek clues to vandalism

Two separate incidents of vandalism to gravemarkers in the Concord cemetery have the Dixon County Sheriff's office searching for clues.

According to Dixon County Sheriff Dean Chase, vandals have pushed over approximately 27 headstones in the Concord cemetery. Due to the nature of the crime, Dixon County authorities have no substantial leads.

CHASE SAID reports of vandalism were reported Sept. 25 when people noticed that 10 headstones had been knocked over. A second vandalism report was made Oct. 3 after vandals had knocked over 17 headstones.

All of the vandalism has occurred in the eastern part of the cemetery. A number of the headstones date back to Concord's earliest days.

"The stones are among some of the first ever put in the cemetery,"

Chase said. "There's not so much damage to the stone but they are expensive to remount."

THE DIXON County sheriff said the vandals appear to have entered the cemetery on the road area, leave their vehicles and push over the gravemarkers.

"I wish we could say there would be some arrests in the immediate future but at this time, we can't," he said. "We're going to try to concentrate more time with personnel in that area to see if we can get some leads."

Anyone with information about the damage to the Concord cemetery is encouraged to contact the Dixon County Sheriff's office at 755-2255.

Wayne State College prepares to celebrate 100 years of heritage thanks to foresight

Wayne State College will celebrate its 100th year of heritage next week due to the foresight of a mathematics professor from Fremont Normal School who ventured north in the summer of 1891 to teach several summer school courses in the community of Wayne.

During his stay, James M. Pile was so impressed with Wayne County's desire for higher education that he began dreaming about opening a private college in the Wayne area.

Mr. Pile's dream came true in November of 1891 when Nebraska Normal College opened with seven students enrolled. Funding was provided by a group of community leaders who formed the "Nebraska Normal College Association." The association purchased a tract of land and divided it into 600 lots which sold for $35 each. Two lots were set aside for the college and the remainder were sold.

WITH JUST over $20,000 in the bank, the association's board of trustees named Mr. Pile president and decided to construct a college facility.

After temporarily locating in a small downtown structure, the college was moved to a new three-story building that was located on the current site of the Brandenburg Education Building.

The building, pictured on the cover, cost $19,895. It contained all classrooms, offices, a kitchen, chapel and music room. President Pile and his family lived on the first floor, and some of the first male students resided in the attic.

The board of trustees authorized Mr. Pile to purchase the following items prior to the first academic year: one complete set of maps; one set of anatomical charts; one 12-inch globe; one hundred chairs; three tables; one chapel organ; two hanging lamps; and two dozen erasers.

BY 1892, Nebraska Normal College employed six faculty, including Mr. and Mrs. Pile. The president taught nine classes daily and was the chief administrator. Classes were held from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Tuition, room and board cost $125 per year in 1895. During hard times in the 1890s, garden produce, eggs, butter, milk and labor were often substituted for tuition. Eight cent per-bushel corn was accepted and burned for fuel.

Any student who could read an ordinary textbook was admitted to the Nebraska Normal College. Students could adjust class schedules to meet their needs. They could enter a class at any time and receive credit when the subject was sufficiently mastered.

AFTER FIVE years of operation, annual enrollment grew to 910 students, an average of 281 per term.

The college expanded to five acres and two homes were acquired for men's dormitory space in 1897.

President Pile's college continued to grow and expand until his death in 1909.

Controversy arose when the State of Nebraska proposed purchasing the private college in 1909. The state legislature was inundated with objections to the choice of Wayne and with letters proclaiming the advantages of other schools and communities.

Survey provides board some food for thought

A survey conducted by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the State Department of Education has given the Wayne School Board some food for thought. The survey was presented to the school board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Ward Sybouts of the University of Nebraska presented an in-depth report to the school board about the survey.

While Sybouts did not make specific recommendations to improve the school's facilities and professional development, he did outline five areas the schools should pay attention. The report offered recommendations for the five areas of attention.

THE FIVE areas of special emphasis include:

- What will the population enrollments and shifts in Wayne County mean for future enrollments in the Wayne Public Schools?
- What will future enrollments dictate in terms of elementary school facility needs?
- What will the needs for a middle school in the Wayne school district involve?
- Are there special space needs in the senior high school?
- What impact will affiliation and the choice issue cause on future enrollments?

"I feel that the options he outlined down the road are really valid responses to what will happen in the school district," said Superintendent Dr. Francis Haun. "There are a lot of variables which will have to be taken into account. The board was pleased with the way he presented things."

More details about options provided in the survey will be in Monday's Wayne Herald.

THE BOARD also listened to a report compiled by the state energy office which gave a review of energy savings at Wayne High School as a result of the energy conservation project undertaken in 1989 and 1990.

According to Dr. Haun, the data in the report indicates that the high school had an energy cost saving of $6,085 as a result of implementing eight energy cost savings projects which was funded by a loan through the Nebraska Energy Office.

The area makes up 5.22 acres. Once annexed it will house Wayne Children's Development Center, a program for severe and profound youngsters, and the Wayne Learning Center, a behaviorally disordered program.

Due to stipulations of city laws, ESU 1 will have to donate one acre to the city for park usage and drainage.

According to City Administrator Joe Salitros, the tract of land that composes the subdivision runs parallel to Providence Road and perpendicular to 14th Street. The land runs adjacent to the tract of property which will be used for the new Wayne Care Centre.

The public hearing date was scheduled for Oct. 29 at 7:35 p.m. Following the public hearing, the land can be annexed by city ordinance.

IN OTHER MATTERS, the city council:

• Reviewed and discussed code interpretations regarding hook-up fees for property located at the corner of 1st and Douglas Streets. The hook-up fees are being challenged by the landowner of the property since the former Wesleyan Church has been converted into a 5-plex. City codes call for $500 hook-up fees to be assessed for residential property and $1,500 for non-residential (commercial) property. Under the administration's interpretation, the property falls into the non-residential category since it will be used as rental property.

• Gave final approval to the redistricting plan for city council wards. The plan will take effect in the November 1992 elections.

• Reviewed and approved the application of Tom Sievers to the Wayne Fire Department. With the addition of Sievers, the city will have 40 active members on the fire department's roster.

• Listened to a concern from Gary Costello, speaking on behalf of the El Toro Restaurant and Lounge during the public forum. Costello said he would like the city to bring its codes up to date with state laws, which permit the sale of alcohol on Sundays.

• Approved the manager application alcohol license for Jeannette Frazier of the Preston Company, Inc.

Heritage

FOUR LOCAL men, Phil H. Kohl, Henry C. Ley, James Britton and John T. Bressler are given credit for the passage of Bill 139, which eventually provided for the purchase of the Wayne school by the state.

On Jan. 3, 1910, the Pile family agreed to sell their college to the State of Nebraska for $70,000.

The first classes at State Normal School at Wayne began Sept. 19, 1910. Mrs. Pile agreed to lead the college for about one year until a new president, Dr. U.S. Conn, was selected.

In 1921, by an act of the legislature, the name was changed to State Normal School and Teachers College. In 1949, the Legislature changed the name to Nebraska State Teachers College at Wayne and in 1963 changed the name to Wayne State College.

Today, comprehensive college enrolls nearly 4,000 students in more than 50 academic programs and enrollment continues growing.

THE WAYNE State College of today is strong because President Pile and local visionaries could foresee great possibilities arising from empty lots on the north edge of the Wayne community.

Had Mr. Pile and local leaders not undertaken the challenge of bringing higher education into northeast Nebraska, the current campus may still be pasture land, farmland, or a housing district.

Instead, the campus on the northern section of Wayne is alive, active and still growing.

RANDOM ACTS OF SENSELESS VANDALISM damaged a number of tombstones in the Concord Cemetery. Shame on those who committed the acts.

Shame on you!

The recent vandalism of grave markers at the Concord Cemetery brought tears to the eyes of many who drove through the cemetery this week to view the destruction.

Many of the those driving through did so with trepidation. Hoping, praying, that it wasn't their loved ones whose markers had been toppled and broken.

Shame on you! Shame on whoever is responsible for committing such a senseless, violent act. Shame on whoever randomly strolled through the cemetery knocking to the ground gravestones marking the spots where children, mothers, fathers and grandparents were laid to final rest by their loved ones.

We wonder if those responsible for the deed would care to "stroll" through the cemetery again and read the markers lying crumpled among the grass and leaves.

Buried beneath one marker are two-year-old Stella and four-year-old Carrie, children of R.C. and M.D. Thompson. It took 20th century "punks" seconds to destroy the 19th century tombstone which for decades has withstood the harsh Nebraska winds and snowstorms. The marker, lovingly inscribed by their parents, reads "Our darling ones have gone before, To greet us on the blissful shore."

Standing beside the marker of little Stella and Carrie, tears well in our eyes as we think of the heartbreak their parents suffered all those years ago when they laid their darling daughters to rest and the unspeakable heartbreak they would feel now.

What kind of person or persons (we'll not even afford them the dignity of being called human beings) could do such a thing.

Shame on you! Shame on you for kicking or pushing over the grave marker of young Katie, born in August of 1894 and laid to rest on that serene hilltop near Concord less than a year later, in February 1895.

Stella, Carrie and Katie are among the nearly 30 loved ones who now lie beneath gravestones fallen and shattered because of a pitiful act of random vandalism.

Shame on you! Shame on whoever is responsible. We lay awake in our bed and wonder why. Do you lay awake in your bed? Do you feel any guilt or remorse?

While we realize that whoever is responsible for such a deed is not likely to turn his or herself into the proper authorities, perhaps a call of apology, even if it is anonymous, to members of the Dixon-Concord Cemetery Association is in order.

Shame on you!

Letter brings up concern that needs addressing: privacy vs. right to know

A letter in today's Wayne Herald from readers Perry and Lesa Backstrom brings up a viable concern: The public's right to know versus the privacy issue law enforcement officials like to maintain when a serious crime is alleged.

We understand both sides of the issue.

On one side, allegations have been made that a man sexually assaulted at least one child in a Wayne park. The public has a right to know that this allegedly occurred at the time it was reported to police. Informing the public through any medium is the only way people can protect themselves from crime, especially crimes where children are involved. We understand that and we acknowledge and support that concern.

On the side of law enforcement, the reverse has become true. Like the Miranda rights read, "anything you say can be used against you." If law enforcement releases information prior to the arrest of a suspect involved in a crime, than that suspect may wind up going free — either by the knowledge s/he is being sought for the crime therefore permitting the him/her a channel to elude police, or because something the police said in a newspaper article can be used in the alleged criminal's defense.

CONSEQUENTLY, law enforcement doesn't want to say anything that could hurt the prosecution's chances of winning a case. Newspapers have a tendency to get stuck in the middle. Should we report incomplete allegations as we know them or should we wait until something more formal occurs, like charges and arrest warrants. In the instance where a Yankton, S.D. was arrested last Wednesday on charges he sexually assaulted a child, the latter occurred. Had he not been arrested prior to press time, a story about the matter was ready to run.

Mark 'n' the Spot

by Mark Crist

A similar concern was raised in late July, early August, when three juveniles escaped from the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center. Citizens complain that law enforcement isn't quick enough about getting out the word that something bad has happened.

WHILE WE don't condone law enforcement officials' silence, we understand it. At the same time, we wholeheartedly support the public's right to know and we'd like to see greater cooperation from law enforcement when serious crimes occur.

Most of the time, law enforcement officials are very cooperative. Sometimes they aren't. Sometimes law enforcement officials don't have the information the people want to know, so they can't get the word out.

We support the concerns of the Backstroms and others who hold similar worries. In cases where the public's safety is at risk, and especially the safety of children, we believe the public should be informed through any and every medium available.

Addressing the League of Municipalities

Cooperative ventures are effective

On Oct. 4, I had the opportunity to address the annual meeting of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, and tell participants of the work of state government to emphasize efficiency and effectiveness, and urge them to do the same.

I also encouraged community partnerships to address issues ranging from education to the environment and economic development.

Local governments represent the very best elements of our society; the talents and energies of our citizens working for the good of all. Together, state and local government can look with pride at the achievements of Nebraskans, and with excitement for the potential the future holds.

Nebraskans have always placed a premium on efficiency and accountability.

Today, for those of us serving in public office, the task of balancing the bottom line-delivering services efficiently and with accountability-is increasingly challenging. While the demands on government to do more continue to rise, taxpayer concern over tax burdens grows more intense. This bottom line challenge has been complicated in Nebraska by our tax crisis.

I do believe teamwork and input from concerned Nebraskans will help solve the property tax problem and, in the mean time, it is essential that our state, including our communities and this Administration, remain focused on our vision for a better state, through cooperation and creative partnerships; a vision of One Nebraska.

This week I will be holding a retreat for state agency directors to take stock and refocus our Administration for the coming year. When I talk with my directors I will reinforce my commitment to efficiency and the effectiveness that comes with it. This is not a new idea for the Nelson Administration.

We have held the line on state budget growth-even with the funding for LB 1059 and LB 829, for aid to education and property taxes respectively. With both formulas included, the budget grew just about 6 percent for the biennium. However, without that aid to local governments, the growth in the cost of state operations was kept to just .01 percent.

Tough budget decisions don't indicate stinginess. Instead, many factors affect our economy, which in turn affects the state's budget outlooks. As I told the League of Municipalities, we cannot let ourselves go wild with tax dollars generated by a stable economy when we can't be sure of the long-term health of the current economy-although Nebraska leads the nation in job creation and low unemployment.

As much as we'd like to try, government can't be all things to all people. We have to set priorities, and we have to look for opportunities to form partnerships; all with an eye on effectiveness-delivering the best possible, and most responsive services at the best value for Nebraskans. I also told the League of Municipalities that I believe we must always remember money for government does not come from a magic source...it comes from people. The time is now to emphasize government effectiveness.

I plan to issue a mission statement to my agency directors this week; one that highlights effectiveness and efficiency.

I want state government to understand that when I say 'effective' it means to be fiscally efficient at something-at meeting the expectations of our boss, the people of Nebraska.

Peterson miffed

In the Sept. 9 edition of The Wayne Herald, it was reported that Sen. Gerald Conway, chairperson of the Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee, which oversaw the redistricting process, was "a little miffed" at a group opposing the legislative redistricting plan of LB 614 in its suit filed to have LB 614 set aside for the reason that it violates Article III, Section 5 of the Nebraska Constitution, which provides: "... In any such redistricting, county lines shall be followed whenever practicable..."

The Wayne Herald article says that "District 21 Sen. Richard Peterson of Norfolk had his chance to save his district but passed it by, Conway said." This statement would lead the reader to believe that if an amendment to LB 614 had been introduced which would have kept District 21 representation of Madison County, it would have been passed. The facts clearly show that such was not the case.

Senator Conway was part of a coalition that took control of the Legislative leadership in January, 1991. It is not by chance that Conway came out of that organization with the chairmanship of the strategic Government, Military and Veterans Affairs Committee, which controlled the upcoming redistricting bills. This gave him control of the committee and its staff, including computer staff, essential for any senator wanting to present a redistricting plan. Since Madison County had a population of 32,665, with more than 443 of the ideal legislative population district figure of 32,212, and in view of the Nebraska Constitutional directive of following county lines where practicable, as representative of Madison County's District 21, I had no reason to expect that Senator Conway's Committee Plan, LB 614, would eliminate the district I represent.

Since the committee's plan was kept in secrecy until the date of the public hearing on May 16, it took the other senators off guard. Even four of the eight members on the committee said they were not aware of all the changes being made by Chairman Conway to the bill and were surprised to learn of some of its provisions. For example, at one time Madison County was divided between three other legislative districts, and when some of the committee members found out, Sen. Conway divided it between two.

Once aware of the proposal, it left other senators, of which there were 28 to 32 senators or their staff including myself and Senators Elmer and Dierks' staffs, only 14 days to each share the two computer staff persons' time of the Government Committee to come up with alternate proposals in their responding to the committee's plan. Many of these senators and staff put in many hours individually and with the committee's computer staff (which had to be shared by these senators) to have their own plans ready in amendment form to LB 614 when it came up for amendment on May 31. In preparing these plans, many of these senators and their staffs worked through the nights and weekends to be ready. Compare this to Senator Conway's coalition group that had the entire summer and fall of 1990 plus time till May 16 to formulate their proposal that became LB 614.

In exercising his power and authority, one would hope Senator Conway treats his students fairer than he has his legislative colleagues.

Sen. Richard Peterson

Volunteers sought

We are in need of more volunteers to deliver the meals on wheels served Monday through Friday. Each winter our count rises to near 40. Today, we have 30 persons receiving meals on wheels. This is one of the many programs at the Senior Center, but a very important part of these peoples day. This program helps to keep the older person in their home and not needing the long term care system.

Please, if you can volunteer for one hour of your time, call the senior center. You will receive as much as you give. Call the Senior Center, 375-1460.

Need to know

As parents of two girls, ages 2 1/2 and 5 years, we are appalled to read in The Wayne Herald of the sexual assault which took place Aug. 24.

Why did we find out of the incident in the Oct. 3 Wayne Herald when it took place Aug. 24? Is it the fault of The Wayne Herald or the Wayne Police Department? Why weren't we told which park the incident took place?

Shouldn't we have known of the incident when it happened so that we may have been able to protect our children?

WSC suffers homecoming loss

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne State Wildcats suffered a 28-20 homecoming loss to Fort Hays State Saturday at Memorial Field amidst snowy, blustery conditions.

The weather however, hardly had an effect on the Wildcats offense which tallied over 400 yards while the defense held the visiting 18th rated Tigers to 217 yards.

In fact, Wildcats quarterback Troy Mott set a Wayne State completion record in the contest with 29 receptions and wide receiver Marion Goolsby tied the Wayne State record with 10 completions in a game—a record he has tied twice this season in five outings.

Fort Hays State took advantage of three Wayne State interceptions to score 14 points which set the tone for the Wildcats first-loss at home this season. Following a scoreless first quarter the Tigers capped a 11-play, 66-yard drive when Richard Funkhouser scored from one-yard out.

The score remained 7-0 in favor of Fort Hays State until the 9:42 mark of the third quarter when Vashone Adams intercepted a Mott pass and rambled 61-yards to paydirt for a 14-0 lead.

Just over four minutes later Gar Ball intercepted another Mott pass and all but scored when he returned the ball to the one yard line before Funkhouser scored the second of his three touchdowns on the day—all from one yard out.

Trailing 21-0 the Wildcats got rolling. Lamar Daniels plunged over from a yard out with 52 seconds left in the third quarter to close the gap to 21-6. In the beginning of the fourth quarter Fort Hays State mounted its second long drive of the game which was capped by Funkhouser's one yard dive for a 28-6 lead.

Wayne State defensive back Terry Bear intercepted a Fort Hays pass and returned it to the Tiger 19-yard line and the Wildcats took it in and scored when Mott dove over from one yard out. The two-point conversion was completed when Mott connected with Goolsby to put WSC within 14 points with 7:28 left in regulation.

Wayne State scored its final touchdown with 1:38 on the clock when Mott hit Goolsby from four yards. The two-point conversion attempt failed. Blain Branscum then on-sides kicked the ball in which Chris Nelson recovered for WSC at their own 49-yard line.

The drive for a possible tie ended at the Fort Hays 10-yard line where three straight passes into the endzone by Mott fell incomplete. "It was just too little, too late," Wayne State head coach Dennis Wagner said.

"After watching films, the grades of our players as individuals weren't bad but we made some crucial mistakes at times. The ones that stick out were the two interceptions. One was returned for a touchdown and the other led to a one-play drive."

Wagner said that statistically Wayne State won the game but that doesn't matter at the end of the contest. "We're disappointed with the loss and we never want to be satisfied with losing," Wagner said. "On the positive side, it would have been easy to fold up the tent being down 28-6, but we didn't do that."

The sputtering Wildcats rushing game was led by Daniels with 61 yards while Mott finished with eight on six carries. Mott was 29-52 with three interceptions and one touchdown for 325 yards.

Goolsby caught 10 balls for 132 yards while Adam Valencia caught six passes for 69 yards. Lee Harper caught five passes for 60 yards and Daniels caught three for 14. Mario Gonzalez caught three for 18 while Tom Kleespies and Bill Blondin each caught one.

Defensively the Wildcats were led by all-America candidate Bob Sterba with 22 tackles. Cory Reeder finished with 17 tackles including two quarterback sacks and Jerry Kleidosty had 13.

Bear had nine tackles with an interception while John Lanier and Roderick Starling had six stops apiece. "We believe that we beat ourselves in this game," Wagner said. "We have to eliminate the mistakes if we want to win."

Things do not get a whole lot easier for WSC as they travel to face arch-rival University of Nebraska-Kearney on Saturday in the first of three straight road games.

Wayne State will return to Memorial Field to close out the season with home contests against the defending NAIA national champions Peru State on November 2, and rated Chadron State on the ninth.

Allen gridders win

Mike Busselman's Allen Eagles football team recorded their first victory of the season Friday night with a 18-6 win over Wynot at Wynot.

Allen jumped out to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter when Casey Schroeder caught a 23-yard touchdown pass from Curtis Oswald. In the second quarter the Eagles went up 12-0 when Oswald sprinted in from six yards out.

Wynot closed the gap to 12-6 in the third quarter but Allen retaliated in the fourth period with a 65-yard punt return by Oswald. "That was the first punt return for a touchdown for Allen in nine years," Busselman said.

Allen finished with 18 first downs to nine for Wynot. The Eagles rushed for 189 yards and held Wynot to 79. Oswald was 5-13 with one interception, one touchdown and 58 yards while Wynot was 7-24 for 119 yards and two interceptions.

Steve Sullivan rushed for 100 yards on 26 carries while Oswald had 53 yards on 15 attempts. Ben Mattes rushed for 26 yards. Lane Anderson caught two passes for 23 yards while Jay Jackson caught two for 12.

Wayne spikers third at Laurel

Marlene Uhing's Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team took part in the Laurel Invitational Saturday and placed third.

The Devils defeated Wakefield in the opener 15-13, 15-7 but were then surprised by the host team Laurel, losing 13-15, 5-15. In the consolation finals Wayne defeated Randolph 15-11, 17-15.

"It was a roller coaster day for us," Uhing said. "In the first game we looked good and did a nice job of communicating but against Laurel we didn't do anything of the sort. Right now we are still in search of a team leader."

Wayne served 92 percent against Wakefield but that dropped to 82 percent against Laurel and 89 percent against Randolph.

Wayne had 15 set assists against Wakefield and nine against Laurel. The Wayne setters had 19 set assists in the Randolph match. Wayne finished with 13 kill spikes against Wakefield and 12 against Laurel. The Blue Devils notched 18 kills against Randolph.

There were four blocks against Wakefield, one against Laurel and five against Randolph. "Against Wakefield we served and passed real well," Uhing said. "We were really into the game emotionally."

Uhing said that her squad was totally flat against Laurel. "Laurel really played a great game. They did a good job of digging our spikes and serving. They deserved to win the game."

Against Randolph Wayne was tied at 11 in the first game before serving out the game. In the second game the Blue Devils trailed 14-12 before rallying to score the next five points for the match.

"Randolph really battled us," Uhing said. "They played right with us the whole match." Danielle Nelson led the team in serving throughout the day with a 22-22 outing for 16 points. She also had seven aces. Liz Reeg finished the day 22-23 with three aces and 11 points.

Reeg was the leading hitter with 32-38 and 15 kill spikes for a .236 kill percentage while Kristine Swanson had 12 kills and a .281 kill percentage. Erin Pick led the team in blocks on the day with seven while Nelson recorded 34 set assists.

Wakefield cops first place in Laurel tourney

The Wakefield Trojans volleyball team captured top honors in the Laurel Invitational Saturday despite losing the first match to Wayne, 13-15, 7-15. The Trojans came back to down Randolph 15-3, 15-7 before meeting Laurel in the finals where they won 15-7, 16-14.

Against Wayne the Trojans were playing without two starters and four servers as they were attending another school function. "We had some kids playing in positions they don't normally play," assistant coach Arnie Cerny said. "We ended up missing eight serves in the match which made a difference for us because our first two servers in rotation were not there."

Wakefield ended up connecting on 34 of 42 serves for 81 percent and six aces. The Trojans had 10 set assists and 12 kill spikes along with eight blocks. Against Randolph, Wakefield was 43-48 in serving with 12 aces as they welcomed the return of their missing starters.

"Eight of the 12 aces we had in serving came from the girls who were not in the Wayne game," Cerny said. "We really played well the rest of the day." Wakefield had 10 set assists and 18 kill spikes along with 14 blocks.

In the championship game the Trojans were 51-60 for 85 percent with four serving aces. There were 19 set assists and 29 kill spikes along with six blocks.

"We had a real good game attacking the ball," Cerny said. "We were 56-65 with 29 kills. Our set location was a little off so we got a lot of kills by tipping the ball."

Cerny noted that Sarah Salmon really played well against the Bears as she recorded 10 of her 12 total kill spikes on the day in that match. Kristen Miller ended up being the leading server for Wakefield with a 29-32 performance and six aces. Lisa Blecke was 34-36 with four aces.

Karla Boeckenhauer led the team in set assists with 23 while Miller finished with 14. Blecke had 19 kill spikes on the day while Danielle Fallesen had 18. Blecke finished the day with 16 blocks. Wakefield improved to 7-3 with its two victories.

Blue Devils spikers improve to 9-7 Wayne wins tournament

Two days after a lack-luster performance at the Laurel volleyball tournament, Marlene Uhing's Wayne volleyball team traveled to South Sioux for the Cardinal Invitational and won the championship.

In the first match Wayne defeated Sioux City Heelan easily, 15-2, 15-6. The Blue Devils connected on 91 percent of their serves led by Liz Reeg who was 12-13 with 10 points and one ace. Angie Thompson was 10-11 with nine points and four aces.

Uhing says one of her team's goals in each game is to have a two-to-one ratio in serve aces to serve errors and her squad did better than that against Heelan.

Danielle Nelson led the team in setting with 11 assists while Kristine Swanson was the leader in hitting with a 12-12 performance and five kill spikes. Reeg was 5-5 with four kills and Erin Pick had four kills.

In the championship game Wayne defeated the host South Sioux team, 15-8, 15-4. The Blue Devils were 45-46 in serving for 98 percent. Pick led the way with three aces and seven points while Nelson had eight points and two aces. Angie Thompson was the leading setter with 11 assists while Pick was 12-12 in spiking with six kills. Reeg was 10-11 with five kill spikes. Jenny Thomsen led the team in blocks with two.

"We only missed four serves throughout the whole tournament," Uhing said. "I think one thing we accomplished that we hadn't been doing is looking for ways to score instead of just trying to get the ball over the net."

Uhing was also pleased with the way her team attacked the ball in the South Sioux match. "We had a team kill percentage of .352 which is excellent," Uhing said. "We had a real balanced attack on offense and on defense we played well the whole night."

The 9-7 Blue Devils had three girls make it on the all-tournament team which was voted on by the referees only. Kristine Swanson, Liz Reeg and Erin Pick were named to the team.

"I think having three hitters named to the all-tournament team says a lot for our setters," Uhing said. "Our team needed a tournament performance like this," Uhing said. "We are getting set to play three conference opponents in our next three matches before the conference tournament."

Reserves place third On Monday night in South Sioux there was a sophomore tournament in which the Blue Devils placed third. Wayne lost the opener to Heelan, 15-12, 8-15, 4-15. Then in the consolation finals the Blue Devils defeated Sioux City West, 15-6, 5-15, 16-14.

Molly Melena led the team in the first match with 10 points while Carrie Fink scored 10 points to lead the team in the second match.

College's Center for Outreach presents 'Opera on Rural Themes'

Wayne State College's Center for Cultural Outreach will present "An evening of Opera on Rural Themes" Thursday, October 17, as part of the College's 100 Years of Heritage celebration. The public is invited to attend.

Performance time is 8 p.m. in Ley Theatre, located in the Brandenburg Education Building on campus.

The program includes scenes from Aaron Copland's "The Tender Land," Carlisle Floyd's "Susannah" and "Slow Dusk," Douglas Moore's "The Devil and Daniel Webster,"

Wayne High Homecoming

Plans in place for week

With Wayne High School's Homecoming just a week away, plans are being finalized for Homecoming week.

It was announced Monday who the finalists are as Homecoming royalty.

Selected as queen candidates are: Christi Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Carr; Kim Liska, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Liska; Sheri Wortman, daughter of Mrs. Connie Wortman; Tammy Geiger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Geiger; and Mindy Scrivner, daughter of Richard and Linda Scrivner.

King candidates include: Jason Claussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Claussen; Kyle Bensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Bensen; Kyle Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Dahl; Matt Ley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ley and John Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Murphy.

As with homecomings of years past, this year has a number of events slated and themes for each day of the week.

Homecoming week will get underway Monday, Oct. 14 as students will be asked to dress like hippies or GIs. The events planned for the day include a pork supper from 5-8 p.m. in the high school commons, followed by coronation ceremonies in the lecture hall at 8 p.m. Immediately following the coronation, the Wayne High School cheerleaders will hold a bonfire at the Wayne Country Club.

Tuesday, Oct. 15 will feature students wearing the latest in clash clothing or wearing their clothes inside-out.

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, students are encouraged to wear either pajamas to school or dress like tourists. From 7:30-8:30 p.m. there will be a dance in the commons, with juice and donuts provided compliments of the student council.

Thursday, Oct. 17, students are asked to wear clothing that imitates their favorite (or not so favorite) person. The other attire theme for this day is hillbilly clothing.

Friday will finish off the Homecoming week with all students being asked to wear blue. Wayne High will also be holding a parade and downtown pep rally at 2:45 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m. the Wayne High Blue Devils will play host to Tekamah-Herman High School. The game will be held at Memorial Stadium on the Wayne State College campus.

The homecoming dance is scheduled to run from 9:30 p.m. Friday to 1 a.m. Saturday. This year's dance will feature the music of Celebration Mobile Music. Concessions will be provided by the student council.

The Wayne High Student Council will also provide a free pizza party to those students who worked on the top float entry. Judging will be based on appearance, theme and originality.

Prizes will also be awarded daily (Monday through Thursday) to the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior students judged most appropriately dressed for the theme of that day.

Hefner plans DWI bill

"It's a tragedy when innocent lives are lost on our roads due to drunken drivers and the driver goes scot-free," a State Senator told the Legislature's Transportation Committee at a hearing in Omaha last Friday.

"The purpose of our DWI laws is to hold drivers accountable for their irresponsible behavior behind the wheel, and to discourage others from driving when under the influence of alcohol or drugs. But our laws have become ineffective in counties bordering other states when drivers are transported to out-of-state hospitals, because they can escape DWI penalties," said Sen. Erloy Hefner of Coleridge.

Hefner was presenting a bill he has drafted to close a loophole in Nebraska's DWI laws. In the past year four innocent lives have been lost in two traffic accidents in his district involving drivers who were under the influence of alcohol. The drivers were transported to an out-of-state hospital and law enforcement officers were unable to obtain blood alcohol tests. The Committee was gathering information in preparation for the legislative session beginning in January.

The bill Hefner has drafted includes a provision which allows blood alcohol tests obtained from out of state hospitals to be admitted as evidence in Nebraska courts of law. The bill also contains incentives for other states to release the information to Nebraska law enforcement officers and prosecutors. Under the proposal any persons refusing a blood alcohol test can be prosecuted for a refusal, even if they leave the state.

The Coleridge lawmaker plans to introduce the bill in January and will name it his priority bill. He has added an emergency clause to the bill which will make it effective when the Governor signs it. In presenting his initial version of the bill on Friday, Hefner gave other Senators an opportunity to study his proposal the session begins in January. Hefner felt the Committee was very responsive to his proposal. The Committee will be holding further hearings across the state to gather more information.

Four Northeast Nebraska 4-H's won calves in the Catch-A-Calf contest. To be eligible to catch a calf, the 4-H'er must have exhibited a beef animal at Ak-Sar-Ben the previous year and during the current show. Youth must have at least one year of 4-H eligibility left and cannot be a previous calf winner.

In November, the 31 winners will receive project calves from Homer Buell at Shovel Dot Ranch near Rose. Each calf winner has a sponsor, a member of the greater Omaha business community, whom the 4-H'ers report to during the production phase. The sponsors are invited to observe the animal judged in the Ak-Sar-Ben showing the following year. Each Catch-A-Calf winner agrees to reimburse Ak-Sar-Ben about 33 percent of the sale price to help fund the program.

Headaches: Most Common Pain Complaint

On any one day, about 10 million Americans suffer from headache pain - the most common pain complaint. Medical researchers estimate that over 70 percent of Americans have at least one headache during the year.

Two of the most common types are tension headaches and sinus headaches. Both may respond to nonprescription pain relief medicines such as ibuprofen, aspirin, and acetaminophen.

Sinus headaches may be relieved with decongestant medicines. Decongestants help open blocked sinus passages, thereby relieving pressure and pain.

Tension headaches are caused by neck and scalp muscle spasms. Neck and shoulder massage and application of heat to the neck may help.

The GOLDEN YEARS
by Pat Sheehy

Analysis of 1990 census data underscores the growth of the population group that is 65 or older. The total U.S. population grew by almost 10 percent from 1980 to 1990. But the number of people 65 or over jumped by 22 percent. Americans over 65 now exceed 30 million — outnumbering teenagers. On average, people now reaching 65 will live about 17 more years, according to the National Center for Health Statistics.

Fifty men and women aged 52 to 83 responded to an offer by the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester, New York. They signed up for music instruction in preparation to form a senior-adult band. About one in three had not played an instrument since school days, and some had no experience at all. They learned quickly. Eastman instructors had these comments: "Maturity can be an advantage rather than a disadvantage in learning..." "They come early and stay late..." "They really practice!"

Remember When? 1934 — A Broadway-bound musical featuring Cole Porter songs went through name changes from "Bon-Boyage" to "Hard to Get" before it premiered as the smash hit, "Anything Goes."

What is a Garth Brooks?

What in the world is a Garth Brooks? Ann drove to Lincoln to hear him sing, and now has a T-shirt with his name on it. She's never been a country music fan before. No one at our house has been a country music fan.

I mean, everyone knows who Johnny Cash is, right? And Alabama and the Oak Ridge Boys make beautiful harmony. Kenny Rogers is in a special category by himself. After that, the names are just names to me: Randy Travis, Reba McEntire, Tammy Wynette, The Judds, George Jones.

Oh, yes, there's one more: Dolly. You would have to live on a deserted island not to know who Dolly Parton is. And judging by the crowds in Pigeon Forge when we were there two years ago, she has a lot of fans.

So, last Wednesday night, I was trying to baste two pieces of fabric together that were not going together very well. I had On Golden Pond on the tube. After Henry Fonda finally caught old Walter Trout and hugged his daughter, Jane, I switched to the County Music Awards.

They were singing about friends in low places, no fences, and rolling thunder. They were wearing Western-cut tuxedos and ten-gallon hats. And the guests included friends in high places, the President and Mrs. Bush! I could not believe it.

The chubby, balding one in the all-white department collecting these pointed glass trophies, and thanking everyone, over and over. This was the Garth Brooks.

It was quite a show. And it ended with Dolly singing a neat song about women, dedicated to Barbara Bush. There was something distracting about her dress that made it difficult to concentrate on the song, but it really was a beautiful song.

They haven't converted me. You've heard about subliminal messages when recordings are played backward. Know what you get when you play country music backward? You get your house back, your money back, your lover back!

THE BIONIC BODY IS HERE

Remember the Bionic Man and the Bionic Woman on TV? Joint replacement is becoming a relatively common procedure today. Age appears to be no barrier with successful procedures being performed in people in their 70's and 80's. Cement is generally used, but now in younger patients a new procedure is an implant with a surface into which bones can grow. We may not reach the point of the Bionic Man on TV, but we're sure moving in the right direction.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER LIVING WILLS: The American Geriatric Society's Washington Update service advises that Congress has acted on the question of whether health care workers should be involved in discussing living wills with their patients. The answer is YES. Following the Supreme Court's decision last session on a petition in a right to die case (the Cruzan case), Congress has enacted legislation that would require hospitals and nursing homes to ask patients at the time of admission whether they have a living will or a health care proxy. While some criticize the move as increasing bureaucracy's place in our lives, the fact is that more people are having living wills drawn - not only to avoid having unwanted therapies for themselves, but also to avoid putting the burden of difficult decisions on their loved ones. Do living wills really make a difference? That's another question. A friend whose husband was diagnosed with terminal cancer, had his living will, with its Do Not Resuscitate provision typed in capital letters - and his very clearly stated choice of her as his proxy should he not be able to make decisions on his own - filed with his hospital chart. Not once during his stay did the doctor approach her about signing a DNR (Do Not Resuscitate) agreement with him which was required by the hospital. Finally she called him and after several tries, got him to complete the agreement. "Doctors and nurses don't like doing this," my friend was told. "They're always afraid other members of the family will come back and sue them for malpractice..." Maybe so. Legislation should be enacted to immunize health care workers against law suits if they do follow the directives in a living will. LOOK FOR CHANGES IN MEDICAID LAWS: Some savvy Democrats are set to support major changes in Medicaid to help strengthen their own political positions against Republicans who are perceived as Medicaid misers in this tight economic period. CAUTION ON ZINC: A recent article about the use of trace elements, such as zinc, to help slow the progression of age-related eye problems, such as macular degeneration, does not mean anyone with such a condition should rush out to buy zinc or other supplements. You need to check with your doctor before using any vitamin or mineral supplement for any reason. ALCOHOL WARNING: Women, especially those who are post-menopausal, and who drink even moderate amounts of alcohol (two beers or 1.5 ounces of liquor) daily are more vulnerable to fractures of the hip and forearm than non drinkers.
