Council suggests change

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

It appears that Geno's owner Gene Claussen may have had some new life breathed into his project to provide elderly and handicapped housing in the B-2 district Tuesday night.

According to Wayne Mayor Bob Carhart, the city planning commission has come up with a way to relax city ordinances to allow for ground-floor apartments in the B-2 zone. He took that recommendation to the city council.

Carhart and City Administrator Joe Salitros told the council that the planning commission is looking not only at expanding the uses for the city's three commercial zones, but it is also eyeing a change which would allow for residential space within 30 feet of the front lot line.

"We're taking an intermediate step to what the planning commission will likely bring forward," Salitros told the council.

As a result of that announcement, council members Darrel Fugelberth and Sheryl Lindau voted to rescind their motion to leave the ordinance as it stood and they recommended to the planning commission to preclude living space within the first 30 feet of the front lot line, which would permit ground-floor, multi-family residences in the B-2 zone.

IN ANOTHER development dealing with the construction of the Wayne Child Day Care Center, Salitros informed the council of a directive he has received from the Nebraska Department of Economic

Exploring the options: what are they?

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

If the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center (JDC) closes, what options are there? Where can it be relocated? Should it be relocated?

Is the current facility in Wayne County sufficient? If a juvenile detention facility is so desperately needed, why not keep it in Wayne County? Why not put it somewhere else?

These are just some of the questions officials from the 22 governing bodies may be asking themselves when they meet Jan. 29 to review the problems with the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center. The Wayne County Commissioners, however, have withdrawn funding and site support for the juvenile detention program. Some expect that the meeting will provide an opportunity to resolve the problems, others think it will create some avenues for other opportunities.

"I only know what I've read in the paper at this point," Madison County Commissioner Louis Barry said. "After the first of the year, the counties will have to get together to see what our options are."

Barry is the board chairman for Madison County and he is also the county's representative on the juvenile detention board.

Other counties

County officials from Madison and Dakota Counties, which could be sites for the JDC if Wayne County eventually closes the one in Wayne, indicated that placing the facility in either county would rea series.

This is the third and final article in a series focusing on the closure of the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Center.

The first article, which appeared in the Thursday, Dec. 12 edition, focused on problems the JDC has faced in the past. The second article, which appeared in the Monday, Dec. 16 edition, focused on other counties concerns over the closure.

quire some long-term planning. It would also be a minimum of four years before a facility could be relocated to either county.

Dakota County Sheriff James Wagner said the soonest a juvenile detention facility could be relocated to Dakota City is four years. He said right now the county board is looking at options of constructing a new adult facility, which depends on whether or not a bond issue passes in February. He said if the bond issue passes, it will be a minimum of four years before a new adult jail is constructed and that's the soonest the current jail could be renovated to house juveniles. He noted, however, that the current facility is in bad shape.

IF THE WAYNE COUNTY JDC closes, contracted governing bodies may find themselves bound to find options.

"Right now, we're sitting on pins and needles to see what will happen" in Wayne, Wagner said. Renovating the Dakota County jail for juveniles is "a matter of how much money you want to put into it. I hope the Wayne County facility doesn't close."

Madison County, like Dakota County, is looking at constructing a new adult jail because of problems with overcrowding. But Barry, who

At Redeemer Lutheran

WELCA has annual Christmas potluck

Redeemer Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (WELCA) held their annual potluck Christmas dinner on Dec. 11 at noon in the church basement. Forty-seven members and guests were in attendance.

President DeAnn Behlers welcomed the group. Sandy Rothfuss led the Christmas litany and responsive reading, followed with prayer by the Rev. Mike Girlinghouse.

FOLLOWING the meal, an Advent skit was presented by Sandy Rothfuss, Dorothy Fegley, Roberta Carman, DeAnn Behlers and Dean Bilstein. Sue Olson accompanied group singing of Christmas carols.

Sign-up sheets were distributed for next year's WELCA leaders and programs.

Secretary Barb Heier read minutes of the last general meeting and correspondence. Sue Olson read the treasurer's report and presented the 1992 budget prepared by Olson and Margaret Anderson. The budget was adopted by the membership.

Reports were given by Olga Nissen, prayer chain chairman; Erna Karel, visitation chairman; Frieda Jorgensen and Donna Lutt, kitchen supplies chairman; and Blanche Backstrom, Christian service chairman.

Nebraska Children's Home representative speaks to United Methodist Women

Teri Wendel of Norfolk, a representative of the Nebraska Children's Home, was a guest of Wayne United Methodist Women on Dec. 11.

Wendel told about the adoption and foster care programs of the Nebraska Children's Home. Her presentation was followed with a question-and-answer session.

Norma Ehlers presented Wendel a check from United Methodist Women to be used for the children at Christmastime, along with sweatsuits which United Methodist Women members donated toward the goal of the Nebraska Children's Home of providing each child with a new outfit.

Marjorie Porter was in charge of the program which opened with group singing of Christmas carols.

TWENTY-FIVE members attended the December meeting. Marjorie Porter read correspondence which included thank you notes from the Elsa Surber family and from Epworth Village for the soup labels they received.

Marian Clark reported on the Christmas Fair held Dec. 7 and thanked those who donated their time and items for the event.

Roberta Welte reported on the success of the knife sales and announced that another order has been placed and will arrive before Christmas.

The group voted to purchase a poinsettia for the church sanctuary and to purchase Christmas gifts for three residents of Wayne Care Centre.

It also was decided to help defray expenses of a delegate attending the Senior High Youth Christmas Conference at Aurora on Dec. 26-28.

PEARLA Benjamin was in charge of the December birthday table honoring Kay Kemp and Dola Husmann.

Everyone brought cookies which were served for lunch and the remainder shared with shut-ins of the congregation. New handbooks for 1992 were distributed.

The next meeting of Wayne United Methodist Women will be a noon luncheon on Jan. 8. Serving on the luncheon committee are Joyce Niemann, Rachel Wolske, Becky Wilson, Agnes Gilliland, Imogene Brasch, Loreene Gildersleeve and Elma Gilliland.

The Library Card

This column is written twice a month to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at Wayne Public Library.

One of the American authors we will be meeting when Chautauqua comes to Wayne next July is Herman Melville. If the name is unfamiliar to you, let us introduce him.

Herman Melville was born in New York City on Aug. 1, 1819. Melville's grandfather participated in the Boston Tea Party and served with distinction in the American Revolution. His father was an importer of French luxury items for women — silks, gloves and bonnets. His mother was the daughter of a wealthy Dutch family from Albany.

The Melville family suffered financial reverses when Herman was 11. His father died suddenly on a business trip. The death of his father was a serious blow to Herman as was the unaccustomed poverty the family experienced.

Melville attended a prestigious academy, through the kindness of his mother's family, clerked in his uncle's bank and seemed to be headed for a career in business, until a national economic depression in 1837 forced him into bankruptcy.

Further efforts to establish himself in business or teaching were unsuccessful. He decided to seek his fortune at sea.

Out of his experiences at sea came several novels: "Redburn," "Typee," "White-Jacket," "Omoo" and "The Whale" ("Moby Dick"). He continued to write, but financial success eluded him.

He died in New York City in 1891 almost unknown. His obituary mentioned one book, "Typee," which was, in the general opinion of his readers at the time, his best remembered work. As time passed, however, "Moby Dick" has become his best-known novel.

After Melville's death, a manuscript of a novel, "Billy Budd," was found in his desk but it was not published until 1924. "Billy Budd" has become second only to "Moby Dick" in popularity.

The library has several volumes of the collected works of Herman Melville which include those mentioned in this column. We hope you will begin your reading for the Chautauqua with one or more of the novels by Herman Melville.

Briefly Speaking

DAV Auxiliary meets

WAYNE - Wayne County Unit 28 of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary (DAVA) met Dec. 10 in the Wayne Vet's Club room. Commander Eveline Thompson presided with five members present.

Chaplain Enid Stanton gave the opening prayer, followed with the flag salute. A card was signed for Winnie Craft, who is hospitalized at St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City recovering from back surgery. Correspondence was read from several national committee chairmen.

The DAVA and DAV held a gift exchange and played card bingo following the meeting. A lunch of cookies was furnished by auxiliary members.

The next meeting will be March 10 at 8 p.m. in the Wayne Vet's Club room.

Homemakers celebrate Christmas

WAYNE - Logan Homemakers Club held its Christmas party at the Black Knight on Dec. 6 with all members and nine guests present. Cards were played and prizes were won by Ronald and Jean Penlerick, Gilbert and Eleanora Rauss, Alma Welershauser and Wilbur Nolte.

Eleanora Rauss will be the Jan. 2 club hostess.

Square dancers twirl in Laurel

LAUREL - The Town Twirlers Square Dance Club of Laurel met Dec. 15 in the Laurel auditorium. Ten squares, representing nine area clubs, danced to the calling of Pat Chambers. The Leather and Lace Club of Wayne retrieved their banner.

Drawings were held throughout the evening for tree ornaments and four door prizes. Hosts were the Ed Fahrenholzes of Allen, the Jim Urwilers of Laurel, and Mrs. Irene Meyer and Mrs. Lavern Greunke, both of Winside. Greeters were the Vernon Millers of Hoskins.

The next regular dance will be Jan. 5 with Dean Dederman of Norfolk calling. All area square dancers are invited to a free 40th wedding anniversary square dance honoring Courtland and Darlene Roberts on Dec. 28 at 8 p.m. in the Laurel auditorium.

3 M's Club exchanges gifts

WAYNE - Eight members of the 3 M's (Monday Merry Mothers) Home Extension Club and six guests attended a Christmas supper on Dec. 16 at the Black Knight. The evening was spent socially and included a grab bag gift exchange.

Joceli Bull will be the Jan. 20 club hostess and Marj Porter will present the lesson, entitled "Women and Nutritional Concerns."

BC Club ends year with luncheon

WAYNE - BC Club members and their husbands ended the year with a Christmas luncheon on Dec. 7 at the Black Knight. Pitch furnished entertainment and everyone received a prize.

Marie Soden made the tallies and new club books which were filled out by the members.

Club meetings will resume in May.

Wayne, Winside residents benefit from programs

Wayne and Winside residents benefitted from community services provided by Northeast Community College, according to Northeast's 1990-91 annual report.

In Wayne, Northeast held 32 adult and continuing education classes, serving 492 people. In Winside, the community college held four adult and continuing education classes, serving 49 people.

Northeast responded to personal, community and economic needs of 23,502 adults in its 20-county service area. This represents a 4 percent increase in the number of people served last year.

Over 1,500 credit and non-credit classes were held in 91 different communities. Topics included adult basic education, career development, hobbies and recreation, personal improvement, business and secretarial, community and economic development and farmer assistance. Northeast also provided continuing education for emergency medical technicians, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses and other related professionals.

Change

Development following their observations of a similar project in Kearney.

The city administrator informed the council that DED recommended that the city will run and own the project so it can be overseen by the city since the city's responsible for the money, which comes from a Community Development Block Grant. Upon completion, the project will be sold to the Wayne Child Day Care Board, a non-profit organization.

The Community Development Block Grant was approved Aug. 17. It was granted by the state for the acquisition and construction of a child day care center. The grant is for $165,300.

One problem with this change in procedure, since the city will be overseeing it, is that it will require bid waivers from all contractors except one, which is Heritage Homes, the firm which has worked closely with the Wayne Child Day Care Board. If all waivers are not returned, bids will have to be taken on the project. Salitros said at any rate bids will have to be advertised.

THE COUNCIL also received some good news Tuesday when a local entrepreneur informed the council that he was starting a recycling center in Wayne.

Speaking to the council was Fred McGuire of Wayne. McGuire said he is approaching communities within a 30 mile radius of Wayne for recyclable products. He said he plans to work with community organizations and area governments to promote this project. He also plans to conduct an educational campaign, to inform the public what types of recyclables he will accept.

Currently, he is taking aluminum, paper, 1 and 2 numbered plastics (with exceptions) and glass. He said he plans to do everything he can to work with organizations which currently take recyclables, so not to step on any toes. He said the primary purpose of his paper recycling will be to bail the product in the form of bedding for livestock.

Public Works Director Vern

Schultz, who was directed by the council to work with McGuire, said the work McGuire is doing falls right in line with the ideas proposed by the city's appointed recycling committee.

IN OTHER matters the council:

- Held a public hearing and approved a resolution over the sidewalk improvements conducted last summer and fall. The project results in $22,161 in assessments, which figures out to be $.25 per lineal foot. Participants in the program will be permitted to pay back the assessment over a seven year period.

- Held a public hearing, approved a resolution and held first reading of an ordinance for a budget revision for self-funded employee benefits. The budget revision will result in just over a $200,000 increase in the city's budget. The change was necessitated by a change in state law.

- Heard a report from Phil Lorenzen of Kirkpatrick, Pettis, Smith, Politan, Inc. of Omaha regarding the city's debt structure. He said, basically, he and Salitros will look at consolidating some debts to allow the city to take advantage of current low interest rates.

- Gave initial reading to an ordinance amending city codes in relation to parking violation fines. The change will boost parking fines from $5 for the first five days and $10 for time periods from six to 15 days.

(On the two ordinances proposed to the council, neither could be approved Tuesday night since three council members were absent from the meeting. Absent were council members Jane O'Leary, Ralph Barclay and Patty Wieland. To pass, ordinances must be approved by a 6-3 margin).

- Approved resolutions approving State National Bank, FirstTier Bank and Farmers and Merchants State Bank as depositories. No action could be taken on First National Bank as a depository since it would have been a conflict of interest for Lindau to vote on it and it requires a majority approval. As a result, First National Bank's approval was put on hold.

Options

Beiermann said he would like to know if the juvenile detention center could be placed in a different community in northeast Nebraska. He said the Wayne County facility doesn't fit the bill of jail standards he would like to see for a juvenile program.

Despite Beiermann's view, Wayne County Commissioner Bob Nissen said he believes there are more options that haven't been looked at. He said there are things about the current operation, with the Wayne County Sheriff's office running out of the same facility, that he'd like to see change. He said, however, that he believes the current facility is adequate to the task. Nissen was the only commissioner not voting for the JDC to be closed.

"I think we need to talk this over with other counties," Nissen said. "We'll all be in the same shoe if it closes, so I'd like to talk about it and see what can be worked out."

"I think we need to set up a crime commission, which will, in return, hire an administrator to oversee the facility's operation. I'm not saying LeRoy didn't do his best because I think he did. I just wonder if it wasn't too much for him."

According to Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen, who is the administrator of the facility, the Wayne County JDC is meeting the challenge. He said that each time an escape has occurred, measures have been taken to seal up opportunities juveniles look to for escapes. He said each of the times an escape has occurred, they have happened at different locations, with the exception of one.

Why not Wayne?

Over the course of this series, officials contacted have said they would like to see Wayne continue to host the juvenile detention program. Of eight of the 22 governing bodies contacted by The Wayne Herald, all eight have said that more needs to be done to assist Wayne County with the problem. At a meeting of the Dakota County Board of Commissioners in November, it was reported that they realized Wayne County had become tired of dealing with the problem by themselves.

The current facility in Wayne County, which was built in 1966, has room for 26 juveniles and it has been at capacity only once in its three years. While juveniles are housed there for two different types of crimes — status and criminal — the majority of the juvenile offenders have fallen into the status category. Status offenders are youth who break laws established for juveniles. Criminal offenders are juveniles which break laws which apply to adults and juveniles, alike. By law, status offenders cannot be kept behind bars 24 hours a day but criminal offenders can. The majority of escapes have involved youth who are status offenders.

Janssen said he believes it would be in the best interest of the juvenile justice program in northeast Nebraska if the JDC stays in Wayne, although he wouldn't be bothered by any necessary changes in the administration of the facility. He offered no position whether he would support or oppose having the sheriff's office moved into a separate facility. His main concern with placing the sheriff's department in a separate facility is cost but he said the idea merits consideration since it would allow for easier access by the general public.

The biggest problem Janssen sees with the Wayne County facility is security. He said efforts are constantly being made to beef up security and evaluations of the building are continuously being conducted to prevent escapes. The other major problem the JDC faces revolves around dealing with the future. For instance, three years ago there was an average of five juveniles per day who stayed for an average of five days. Today, that figure runs between 10 and 15 juveniles per day average with an average stay of 10 to 20 days. Juvenile crimes have also become more severe.

"As this program grows, it will have to add more programs," Janssen said. "That's one benefit of leaving it in Wayne. We have all the resources here and in place to fit the needs of a juvenile center. We have the college, the ministerial association and a strong educational system. I just think the resources we have are invaluable."

Kiwanis celebrates holiday season

Wayne Kiwanis generously donated numerous items to the Toys for Tots program this month.

Also in the holiday spirit, the club purchased a Christmas gift for a resident of the Wayne Care Center.

Earlier in December during Farm-City Week, club members invited several local rural residents to be guests at the club's regular weekly meeting held Monday noons at the Black Knight.

"In January we're looking forward to commemorating the 77th anniversary of Kiwanis International," said Wayne President George Phelps. "On behalf of our entire membership, Wayne Kiwanis would like to wish everybody a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year."

Viewpoint

Thanks Dr. Haun

For 28 years, Dr. Francis Haun has been Wayne's superintendent of schools. Like any public official, he has taken his share of criticism and praise, but he has decided that the time has come to step aside and let someone else take over the reins of operating our public schools.

In last Thursday's Wayne Herald, Dr. Haun said the greatest thing that has happened since he became the superintendent in Wayne was seeing the passage of the bond issue for the high school in 1966. He said, "that's not necessarily my accomplishment but it happened during my tenure."

That response was typical and it's indicative of a leader. Dr. Haun did not take credit on his own for that achievement — one which has benefited students for 25 years.

Wayne's superintendent is the kind of individual who is modest about accomplishments that have happened under his direction. He is truly a gentleman for that because in today's society, people will be willing to take all the credit by themselves. Dr. Haun's achievements and honors during his career would indicate that he is the type of person who has always given of himself: A leader by example.

From a newspaper's point of view, there aren't many public officials who are easier to work with than Dr. Haun. He's always willing to provide materials reporters/editors can use to strengthen a story. Although he's not a man of many words, he's always been willing to assist any way he can; usually through reading materials. This indicates that he is truly an educator.

We just want to take this opportunity to say thank you, Dr. Haun. Good luck during the final six months of your career and have a happy and healthy retirement.

Your presence will be missed.

Forget credibility; Stater becomes toilet towel

Back in October I was willing to take a stand and say that it was wrong of Wayne High School to ban delivery of the Wayne Stater to its doors. In fact, I almost got into an argument over it.

Now, I'm second guessing myself.

After a full semester's work of making every effort possible to give its newspaper credibility, the Wayne Stater has ruined everything it may have achieved in one flailing swoop: The Wayne Stater.

THIS PARODY issue, meant to amuse rather than confuse and embarrass, was the weakest attempt at humor I've ever witnessed, aside from the foul-mouthed routine of fly-by-night comedians like Andrew Dice Clay. As a member of the journalism profession, I was offended by this edition.

Humor takes many shapes and many forms. It's often said that people don't laugh at us, they laugh with us. To the Stater editors who put this joke edition together, I want you to know: The community is not laughing with you, they're laughing at you but in an aggravated and angered tone.

Comments I have heard from college students indicate the section was stupid, childish, immature and a whole lot of other four-letter words that I won't put in print. Let's hope The Stater staff takes this as a test that they failed and won't try again, especially if they're heading into the profession. If they think this backlash was wicked, wait until the real world slaps them in the face.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong with making fun of what is, instead of trying to dream up what isn't. (unless it has some literary value). For example, in the movie "Good Morning Vietnam," Robin Williams, who plays Adrian Cronauer, asks a superior officer whether it's a wise idea to broadcast an upcoming press conference with then-Vice President Richard Nixon. In that line of dialogue, he asks something

Mark'n' the Spot
by Mark Crist

like this: "Do you really think we should announce the VP's PC because if we do the VC may be listening and then the VP could end up an MIA and that would result in all of us having to do KP."

That's funny. Telling people (basically) that you're going to bite off their heads and defecate down their throats isn't humor. It may be appropriate for the locker room, or an R or NC 17 rated movie, but it's not something that respects community standards; Wayne State's or the City of Wayne's.

SOME QUESTIONS I believe The Stater staff failed to ask themselves is: "What community are we serving? Is it just the Wayne State community? Or do we serve the community of Wayne as well?" Since your newspaper-turned-toilet towel is delivered to businesses in the community, as well as public schools, do you think you're serving just the Wayne State community? I believe you — NOT!

While we're on this topic, ask yourselves another question: "Who pays for this publication?" Remember, 25 percent of it is paid for by tax dollars. I don't appreciate seeing my tax dollars wasted in this fashion. The government already does a good enough job of that.

It's difficult to believe that the work of a couple people can ruin the reputation many have worked to achieve. To believe Stater advertisers didn't take offense to it is unbelievable and for Stater staff members to believe that nothing printed was offensive is reprehensible.

Introducing appellate judges

It is with great pleasure and pride that I present to you the six judges of the new Nebraska Intermediate Court of Appeals, representing each of the six Supreme Court Districts.

Richard D. Sievers of Lincoln (1), Lindsey Miller-Lerman of Omaha (2), Edward Emil Hannon of O'Neill (3), John F. Irwin of Papillion (4), William M. Connolly of Hastings (5), and John F. Wright of Scottsbluff (6).

Individually, these new judges are qualified in character, wit, wisdom and experience to sit as appellate judges. And their individual qualifications to be judges, of course were of prime importance to me.

But, in appointing them, I considered more than their excellent qualifications. For, I had the unique honor to appoint a court and not simply six individual judges.

The Nebraska Intermediate Court of Appeals is a new court, approved by Nebraskans as an amendment to our Constitution, and it has an historic function to serve.

The Nebraska Supreme Court will no longer provide an appeal as of right to all litigants on all claims.

That inevitably means that this new Court of Appeals will provide the only appellate review afforded to some of our citizens. Over time, that also may mean that the Intermediate Court of Appeals will be the last word on certain areas of Nebraska law.

The first six judges to sit on this new court will have a major role in shaping its destiny, and they will have an impact on the law of Nebraska well into the next century.

It was my special responsibility to assure that this new court would reflect a wealth of diverse backgrounds, a breadth of professional and personal experiences, and a willingness to work together for the people of Nebraska.

I should add that I am particu-

One Nebraska Journal by Gov. Ben Nelson

larly proud that my appointment of Lindsey Miller-Lerman eliminates Nebraska as the only state with no woman on a general jurisdiction court; she is just the second woman in Nebraska to hold such a seat.

As Governor, I make many appointments to a variety of public service positions. Each is important to me, but none more important than the appointments to the bench.

Judges wield great power. And they stay in office longer than most other gubernatorial appointees. In fact, they serve quite a while longer than the governor who appointed them.

The judges who will sit on the Intermediate Court of Appeals have an awesome responsibility of citizenship, just as Nebraskans who voted on the court's creation exercised their rights as citizens.

How they judge is critical to the citizens of this One Nebraska, who may appear before them and who must trust their public officials, governor and judges alike, to do their jobs well.

Christmas cheer hit tough times in 1883

Stirring up even a little Christmas cheer in the frontier village of Valentine, Nebraska, was difficult to do in 1883. More important business confronted the city and its trade area. The recently established Valentine Reporter in issues immediately prior to Christmas campaigned against "promiscuous shooting in the streets" by the lawless element; the citizens were concerned with digging a community water well, then at a 90-foot depth; and the mundane requirements in getting established in the new town or on ranches in the Sandhills required most of the settlers' energy.

If Valentine merchants Thacher, Cornell and Co. and Sparks Bros. had stocked Yuletide merchandise, they did not advertise it in the Reporter. But J.M. Thacher, post trader at nearby Fort Niobrara, carried "toys, Christmas cards, and other Christmas goods." The editor thought it worthwhile for Valentines to drive out to the fort to shop. "Thachers have just opened their Holiday Stock and it is worth seeing. Go over to the store and make your little ones happy when Santa Claus comes." The editor in his local items column also noted that "Xmas draweth near," and inquired hopefully: "Will the citizens of Valentine indulge in a Christmas tree this year? We ought to if we desire to keep up with our neighboring cities."

By Dec. 20 the townspeople still had not arranged for a Yule tree or program, but invitations were out for a "Grand Christmas Ball...to be held on Tuesday eve, Dec. 25." An item in the paper announced: "The best music available has been engaged....Tickets are on sale at Dr. Lewis' drug store and at J.M. Thacher and Co.'s at the Fort."

At Fort Niobrara about 41/2 miles east of town, military authorities, however, had arranged for a Christmas program and a symbolic tree at its assembly Hall. "Presents were mostly for children," according to the Reporter, "but there were specimen-stick of the wood that will be furnished on next year's contract. Capt. Bisbee a pair of ice tongs"—the latter to assist in the "ice harvest" which had just commenced on nearby streams following a hard freeze.

If any holiday-related church services were held in Valentine, they were not reported by the newspaper, but military authorities arranged such a program for soldiers at the post on Sunday prior to Christmas Day and invited "everyone...to attend the praise service at the Hall."

The Grand Ball came off as scheduled and the Reporter commented on it in its first edition following the event: "The Christmas dance was a decided success in every way and was well attended by our citizens. Several partners from the Fort were in attendance....Johnny Stetter appointed himself as 'grand bouncer' at the dance Tuesday evening and proved quite adept at bouncing all the stray dogs that put in appearance." On Dec. 26 events were back to normal.

Dealing with property tax crisis

The property tax crisis, as it is being billed, is a very difficult issue. As I have traveled around our legislative district, I find that many thoughtful constituents find it difficult to evaluate what they are hearing and reading due to lack of information or in some cases blatant misinformation. There are some people around the state that believe that if we can not reach an agreement that they would win this struggle. (This would cause the Supreme Court order to go in to effect and put all real and personal property on the assessment schedules).

In northeast Nebraska, our economy is very diverse, with people making a living in all sorts of ways; as wage earners, farmers, and business persons. We have a vested interest in sharing in the solutions and the burdens of taxes just like we share in every other aspect of our lives.

In order to begin to make decisions, I have listed below some facts that I believe are helpful when we begin to consider what this issue is really addressing. I don't believe the proposal by the 3R Committee is complete, however I do believe it is an approach that deserves very close scrutiny and an opportunity considered in light of facts:

Capitol Views
By Sen. Gerald Conway

Fact: This is an argument regarding who pays not how much. The amount of tax is determined by what ever the locally elected boards (School Boards, City Councils, County Commissioners, etc) budget for their needs at the local level. The current issue does not change the amount of taxes to be collected.

Fact: This is not a question of State taxation. Property taxation is a right reserved for local governments. The State can only levy sales taxes, income taxes, use taxes, etc., for State purposes.

Fact: Prior to the Supreme Court's ruling, we were assessing and taxing: real estate, licensed vehicles, business equipment, railroad property pipelines, and others. The Legislature had determined that certain exemptions related to business inventories and agricultural operations were not in the best interest of the State. This proceeded satisfactorily until the railroads and some businesses claimed it was unfair. The court agreed ruling that the constitution requires fairness.

Fact: In order to meet the Supreme Court order, the 3R Committee proposal recommends that all of the property be on the tax roles except livestock and inventories (to do this it will take a Constitutional Amendment voted on by the people).

Fact: In the 3R Committee proposal only property that is being depreciated will be assessed, and only assessed at its book value. This applies to both business and agricultural property. The theory is that if the property is used to offset paying income taxes, then it will be assessed for property taxes purposes.

Fact: Any farm machinery, breeding stock, business equipment or machinery, that is not being depreciated on a federal income tax schedule will not be assessed on a county personal property tax schedule. Real Estate and licensed vehicles would be assessed as they were before.

Fact: To take all personal property off of the tax rolls would leave the entire property tax burden on real estate, driving up real estate taxes even higher than they already are. Some are advocating that we take all of the personal property off-and-increase the State sales and income tax. We could then use this money to replace the lost revenue to the counties.

(Note: my analysis shows that this approach causes the majority of the counties to pay into the state significantly more than they will ever get back. This is because the majority of the new taxes collected will be distributed to those counties that were collecting the largest amounts from railroads and pipelines, but would no longer be allowed to tax them. The problem I have with this approach is the disproportionate burden on many counties so that the railroads and pipelines don't have to pay their fair share).

I hope this information is helpful as you deliberate on this issue. If you or any group of you have ideas you would like to share or need information please contact my office at 471-2746.

SCHOOL BOARD

During the regular Board of Education meeting on Dec. 9 business department instructors, Susan Tyler and Lisa Newton, presented information about programs in their department and the new communications modem that has been installed. The modem was made possible through a federal Carl Perkin's grant.

Several board members and Superintendent Hartman reported on the fall school board and administrators convention they recently attended in Omaha.

The board discussed the possibility of refinancing the outstanding school bonds which are all to paid off over the next four and one-half years.

Derwin Hartman reported that seven new students had enrolled since the November meeting and that the class sizes in the fourth and fifth grade is becoming a serious concern. Mr. Hartman distributed copies of Jesse Kai's letter to the board members about the feasibility of initiating a debate class for the 92-93 school year. Jesse will attend a future board meeting to discuss this matter further.

Superintendent Hartman also told the board that he and Bob Miner were exploring the cost of installing a stand-by generator to operate the heating system when the school is without electricity.

Sandy Otte, chairman of the transportation committee, reviewed the revised bus specifications and the board voted to advertise for bid for a 1992 bus. The bids will be opened at the Jan. 13 board meeting.

The next and revised school district GOR map has been completed and Bob Miner will be building a frame for it so that it can be displayed and used in the board room, according to Mr. Hartman.

The board approved the option enrollment requests for the following students to attend school in Wakefield: Jessica Schroeder (grade 1) for 91-92 school year, Bree Oswald (grade 7) for the 92-93 school year.

The board passed a hardship resolution in regard to the 1990 personal property pay back to Dixon County in the amount of $1,286.12.

As the last item of the business board president Ronnie Wenstrand reviewed the board members' annual evaluation of the superintendent's job performance.

ACCEPTS BID

The Wakefield City Council voted to accept the bid of H.D. Haulaway, owned by Mike and Coleen Hammer of rural Wakefield, for city-wide residential garbage pick-up as of Jan. 1. The action was taken after the council decided to close the local landfill east of town earlier this fall.

The council received two other proposals, one from Solid Waste Service of Sioux City, Iowa for city-wide residential pick-up and one from Can Can Recycling (Charlie Curmy) of Wakefield proposing a haul yourself and recycling center.

At the January meeting the council will look at and probably adopt an ordinance setting rates for city curb side pick-up. Under the proposal Wakefield businesses will continue to arrange their own individual contracts with a private hauler or dispose of their waste on their own.

The city of Wakefield is also going to encourage recycling. Presently the council is looking for persons interested in serving on an advisory committee. Anyone interested in helping establishing a recycling plan for Wakefield is asked to contact the City Office of Charlie Curmy.

EASTERN STAR MEETS

Golden Rod Chapter 106 Order of the Eastern Star held their annual Christmas supper in the Star Hall on Dec. 3. The meal was catered by Herb and Joyce Niemann of Wayne. The Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron exchanged gifts and the 1991 officers received gifts from Worthy Matron Bonnie Bressler.

Following the meal the monthly meeting was held. It was opened in due form. Grand Representative Bonnie Bressler, Iowa in Nebraska, was presented to the chapter.

Under communications were Christmas greetings from the Children's Home in Fremont, the Eastern Star Home in Plattsmouth and the Grand Family.

Golden Rod Chapter will again participate in the Wakefield Health Care Center's Christmas under the tree by purchasing gifts for three of the residents. A memorial was received from Howard Gillespie in memory of his wife, Melba.

CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

The annual Christmas luncheon of the Women of ELCA of the Salem Lutheran Church was held Dec. 7 in the church basement. Before and during the meal Becky Simpson from Wakefield and her instructor Debi Bonds from Wayne entertained with Christmas music played on the violin.

After the catered lunch which was served by girls from the confirmation class, President, Clarice Schroeder called on Esther Oberg to tell something about her gift to Salem which is an exquisite ebony nativity set hand carved by African craftsmen. She also described the making of batik wall hanging which was on display, which was a gift to her from friends when she retired from her missionary duties in Africa.

The Advent program was given by the members of circle IV and began with devotions read by Janice Newton. The program continued with various articles and symbols associated with Christmas used to present and reflect upon the promises of God. After each presentation an appropriate Christmas Carol was sung by the entire group of assembled women.

Pastor and Sherri Tyler sang a duet "One Small Child", accompanied by Margaret Fischer on the piano. Famy Johnson played while the offering was received and Pastor Tyler offered prayer.

Officers for 1992 were installed they are: President, Mae Greve; vice president, Miriam Halund; treasurer, Becky Swanson and secretary, Shirley Woodward.

Committee chairpersons installed were: membership, Eileen Fegley; Christian Action, Ruth Johnson and Ardath Utecht; kitchen, Emma Harding and Marian Christensen, program.

Pam Lempke was presented a poinsettia and a monetary gift in appreciation for her work as custodian.

The program closed with the benediction given by Pastor Tyler. ATTEND LOCK-IN Wakefield Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) members were invited to attend a lock-in at the bowling alley on Nov. 22.

The time in the bowling alley was rented exclusively for FBLA members. Skating and bowling were provided free of charge.

The "Wakefield FBLA" held an open house on Nov. 25 in recognition of American Education Week in the business department of the high school.

FBLA members held demonstrations on computer programs in the school has purchased for the business classes. Refreshments were served.

CAN, PAPER PICK-UP

The Christian Church has scheduled the December newspaper and can pick-up for Saturday, Dec. 21. The recyclables will be picked up between 10 and 11 a.m. Residents are asked to place secured packages at the curb side before 10 a.m.

The project is a fundraiser for the youth of the congregation. CHRISTMAS SUPPER

The Royal Bagette Cake Club went to Sioux City to the Sirlin Stockade on Dec. 9 for their Christmas supper. Six members attended. They held a gift exchange. They returned to the Milton Douppnik home for refreshments.

Their next meeting is Monday, Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. in the home of Jean Douppnik.

The Allen community Christmas will be held Saturday afternoon. It is sponsored by the village of Allen and the Allen Community Development Club. A party for the youngsters will be held at the fire hall beginning at 1:30 p.m. with a video and a visit from Santa with treats for those in attendance. A drawing for 12 turkeys, along with other gifts from merchants of the community will be held in the town square at 2 p.m. Be sure to register at the various business places while shopping in Allen.

MEETING NOTICES

Due to the busy season, the Allen Community Development

Club, the Dixon County Historical Society and the rescue squad will not meet during the month of December. They will continue with their regular meeting dates in January.

BAND CALENDAR

The Allen band is sponsoring the community birthday and anniversary calendar this year. The calendars are now on sale by the band members for $5 each. They have the band featured in color on the front of the calendar. The Allen Community Development Club has sponsored the calendar for the centennial fund the past three years.

CENTENNIAL SOUVENIRS

There are still some centennial souvenirs which may be purchased for Christmas giving. They are available at the village office, which is open each morning, Monday through Friday. Available are bells, spoons, Christmas ornaments, cookbooks, history books and playing cards.

SCHOOL ANNUALS

Orders for the 1991-92 school annual are now being taken. The cost for the annuals is $14 without the name engraved and $16 with the name. Orders will be taken until Friday, Dec. 20.

LIBRARY OPEN HOUSE

The Springbank Library Board will host an open house at the library on Saturday, Dec. 21 from 1 to 3 p.m. They invite you to come in and enjoy coffee and cookies. They also have new items to check out in the video department. They have the centennial video of both the parade and the highlights. The library board members are Pat Philbeck, Deb Snyder, Vicki Pupp, Virginia Fraser and Kathy Wilmes. Bonnie Kellogg is the librarian. Library hours are Friday from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and on Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon.

Tobacco: As Addicting as Heroin

Nicotine produces some of the same elevated mood states as does heroin and cocaine. Nicotine use provides "pleasure." However, there is a large body of evidence linking tobacco use to mouth cancer, lung cancer, emphysema, heart disease, and other health problems that can lead to premature death. Understandably, many tobacco users have the desire to quit and have done so. Nicotine reduction or replacement therapy helps some persons give up tobacco. A nicotine derivative in a gum-like tablet is used several times daily in place of tobacco. Over a long period of time (some experts recommend one to two years), the number of tablets used daily is decreased until none is used. This gradual tablet discontinuation allows the body to adjust to having less nicotine in the bloodstream.

Blue Devils beaten 72-52 by number two ranked Warriors

Wayne loses to Schuyler

The Wayne boys basketball team clashed with Class B's number two rated team in Schuyler Tuesday night at Wayne High and for three-plus quarters, Bob Uhing's troops hung right with the visitors.

Schuyler, however, out-scored Wayne 22-9 in the final eight minutes to break a close game open and win going away, 72-52. The storyline for the Warriors was simple—get the ball to one of Class B's most talented athletes in Jeremy Kildaire.

The 6-5 do-it-all player did just exactly that for his squad as he finished with 33 points. Wayne led 13-11 after one quarter of play but Schuyler out-scored the Blue Devils 19-13 in the second period to lead 30-26 at the intermission.

In the third quarter Kildaire took over as he scored 16 of the Warriors' 20 points and the visitors took a 50-43 lead into the fourth period. Wayne cut the lead to five in the fourth quarter but then hit a dry spell in which Schuyler took advantage.

"There were two reasons why we lost the game," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "We did not pin out on the boards very well and we did not play well as a team."

One player who did play well for the Blue Devils was Brad Uhing as the junior guard poured in a team high and a career high 23 points on 10-16 shooting from the floor.

"Being down by five in one stretch of the fourth quarter and losing by 20 just proves we weren't competitive," Uhing said. "We took some bad shots and we had kids who were just looking to shoot the ball on every trip down the floor instead of setting up the offense."

Wayne got very little production out of two of its primary players in Kyle Dahl and Regg Carnes. Dahl scored 27 points against Columbus Lakeview on Saturday but scored only two against Schuyler on two free throws. Carnes scored just seven points.

Bobby Barnes followed Uhing's 23 points with 15 while Robert Bell came off the bench and scored four. Matt Ley finished with one point.

Wayne out-rebounded the Warriors, 38-34. Dahl hauled down a team high 11 caroms while Ley had nine. Wayne had 20 turnovers while Schuyler had just 10. The Blue Devils were 9-13 from the foul line while Schuyler was 8-12.

Wayne will look to even its record at 2-2 Friday night when they host Wisner-Pilger.

WAYNE'S BRAD UHING lays a shot off the glass for two of his team high 23 points against Schuyler.

Allen girls win; boys defeated

The Allen girls basketball team improved to 2-1 Tuesday night with a win over Hartington, 40-37 in Hartington. Gary Erwin and Lori Koester's Eagles were playing without the services of three players due to sickness—most notably, Cindy Chase. Dawn Diediker and Holly Blair also missed the contest.

"We were in control of the game pretty much all the way," Koester said. "Hartington started throwing up shots in the fourth quarter and they started falling which made the game look closer."

Allen grabbed an 8-3 lead after one quarter of play but Hartington rallied to tie the game at the intermission at 18-18. Allen, however, came out in the third quarter playing solid defense and held the host team to just two, third quarter points while taking an eight point lead into the fourth period.

"We're very pleased to come away with a win away from home," Koester said. "The girls played well despite having to fill in for the spots left by the three girls who sat out with the flu."

Heather Sachau, Denise Boyle and Steph Martinson all scored 11 points each to lead Allen while Christy Philbrick scored five and Steph Chase added two.

Allen held a slim 32-30 advantage on the boards with Boyle leading the Eagles with 11 caroms. Allen did a good job of controlling the ball with only 14 turnovers while forcing Hartington into 23.

The Eagles will travel to play state rated Newcastle on Thursday.

Boys lose by eight:

Jeff Schoning's boys team did not fare as well as the Lady Eagles as they were defeated, 60-52 which left them with a 1-3 record. Allen took a 14-12 lead after one quarter of play but trailed by two at the intermission at 28-26.

Hartington maintained a five point advantage after three quarters and kept control of the lead in the fourth period. "We got hurt on the boards," Schoning said. "Hartington got a lot of second chance points and we shot very poorly from the field."

Casey Schroeder led the Eagles with 12 points while Jason Reuter and Curtis Oswald scored 10 points each. Chris Sachau finished with seven points and Lane Anderson finished with six. Jay Jackson and Brian Nelson rounded out the team scoring with four and two points respectively.

Hartington out-rebounded the Eagles, 46-36. Oswald led Allen on the boards with 10 rebounds while Anderson had nine. Allen had 26 turnovers in the contest while the host team suffered 22. The Eagles were 6-12 from the foul line and Hartington was 12-17.

Allen will travel to play Newcastle Friday night.

KYLE DAHL ATTEMPTS a shot over a Schuyler defender during second half action of Wayne's 20 point loss to the second rated Warriors on Tuesday at Wayne High.

Winside basketball teams remain winless

The Winside girls and boys basketball teams were defeated at home Tuesday night by Bancroft-Rosalie. Paul Giesselmann's girls team was handed a 37-34 setback while Shannon Pospisil's boys were beaten soundly, 85-45.

In the girls game Winside trailed just 19-18 at the intermission and actually led 30-28 heading into the fourth quarter over highly the highly touted Lady Panthers.

"We had our chances to win the game," Giesselmann said. "The game was tied at 34 with 1:10 to go and Bancroft made a shot. We came down the court and turned the ball over. We changed defenses and ended up fouling them and they made one of two free throws to lead 37-34. We shot a 3-pointer and missed and they came down the court and we fouled them again. They missed the free throw and we had about three or four shots at the bucket and missed them all."

Wendy Rabe led Winside with 14 points while Jenny Jacobsen had eight. Kari Pichler finished with four while Christi Mundil and Chris Colwell had three points apiece. Holly Holdorf rounded out the scoring with two points.

"Things are starting to come around," Giesselmann said. "The girls executed the offense and played hard. We did miss four front ends of one-and-ones in the fourth quarter which hurt us and we only hit 28 percent of our shots from the floor and yet we came close to beating an undefeated team."

Rabe and Mundil led the Wildcats with 12 rebounds apiece. Winside had 20 turnovers while Bancroft had 17. The Wildcats were 6-16 from the foul line while the visitors were 5-19.

Boys fall to 0-4

The Winside boys remained winless following their 85-45 setback. Bancroft led 43-20 at the break and never looked back enroute to the 40 point victory. "We just played very poorly," Pospisil said. "We didn't hustle once we got down. We got shook with their press and that forced us into a lot of turnovers."

John Hancock led Winside with 13 points while Jason Paulsen finished with eight. Cam Shelton and Ryan Brogren had seven points each and Cory Miller scored six. Cory Jensen and Colby Jensen each scored two points.

Bancroft held a 49-39 advantage on the boards with Shelton and Miller leading Winside with 10 caroms apiece while Jensen hauled down eight boards.

Winside finished with 25 turnovers while Bancroft had just 13. The host team was 16-22 from the foul line while Bancroft was 13-17. Winside will travel to play Coleridge on Friday in a girls-boys double-header.

Eighth grade boys place third

WAYNE-The Wayne eighth grade boys basketball team placed third in the Wayne Tournament held Saturday at Wayne High. The Blue Devils lost a 35-15 decision to West Point Central Catholic in the opening round but rebounded in the consolation finals with a 66-12 walloping of Pierce.

In the first game Mike Imdieke led the way with six points. Imdieke also led Wayne in the consolation finals with 16 while Andy Witkowski poured in 12. Everyone on the team scored for Wayne including Scott Sievers, Adam Diediker and Carl Samuelson who each managed six points while Scott Olson, Ryan Junck and Josh Starzl scored four apiece.

Danny Tiedtke, Matt Carner, Steve Weber and Gunner Spethman each netted two points to round out the scoring.

Wayne reserve grapplers compete

WAYNE-John Murtaugh's Wayne reserve wrestling team traveled to Norfolk to compete against the Norfolk freshman team and tied one. No team score was kept but Wayne won 12 matches, lost 13 and tied one.

Terry Rutenbeck went 3-0 on the day with two decisions and a pin while Juan Mota won twice by pin and Chad Paysen won by pin and by decision in his two outings.

Jason Shultheis went 2-1 with two pins to his credit and his third match ended with a 6-2 setback while Dusty Jensen went 1-1 with a 3-0 win and a 4-3 loss. Ryan Brown also went 1-1 with a pin and a 6-2 loss. Jeremy Sturm won a 9-2 decision but lost twice while Cory Exleben and Mike Williams went winless in three outings. Brett Geiger managed to tie one of his matches at 5-5 while losing two others.

Sports Briefs

Wakefield girls defeat Emerson

WAKEFIELD-Gregg Cruickshank's Wakefield girls basketball team improved to 3-1 with a convincing 43-18 win over Emerson-Hubbard on Monday in Wakefield.

The Trojans jumped out to a 12-6 lead after one quarter and never looked back as they led 22-10 at the intermission. The story of the game was defense as the Trojans held the visiting Lady Pirates scoreless in the second half until the final two minutes of the fourth quarter.

"Our girls rebounded from a tough loss to Wausa last Friday," Cruickshank said. "We played very hard and that was our best defensive performance of the season."

Lisa Blecke led the Trojans with 14 points while Angi Peterson added six. Lisa Anderson, Sarah Salmon, and Kali Baker scored four points each while Heidi Muller added three.

Kristen Miller, Kathy Otte, Megan Sandahl and Cindy Torczon rounded out the attack with two points apiece. Wakefield out-rebounded Emerson, 40-32 with Blecke leading the way with 10 caroms while Salmon had eight.

The Trojans finished with 14 turnovers while forcing Emerson into 22. Wakefield will host Osmond on Thursday before traveling to play Hartington on Friday.

Wakefield boys blast Lyons

WAKEFIELD-The Wakefield boys improved to 3-1 with a 60-35 victory over Lyons-Decatur in Lyons on Saturday. Brad Hoskins' squad sprinted to a 14-4 lead after the first quarter and were never threatened.

"We were pretty much in control the whole game," Hoskins said. "We jumped out to a 9-0 lead and our defense didn't allow a point in the games first five minutes."

Wakefield had a 29-14 lead at the intermission and they came out the third quarter much like they did to start the game as Lyons was held scoreless for the first five minutes of the third quarter while the Trojans rolled up 17 points to take a 46-20 lead into the fourth quarter.

Anthony Brown led Wakefield with 19 points while Marcus Tappe poured in 14. Steve Clark scored eight and Ben Dutton added six. Dalton Rhodes and Brad Nuernberger scored four points each while T.J. Preston and Jon Johnson netted two points apiece. Larry Johnson rounded out the attack with one point.

Wakefield held a commanding 32-17 advantage on the boards with Dutton leading the way with eight caroms. Rhodes and Clark each hauled down seven boards. Clark also dishes out five assists to lead the Trojans while Brown had four assists and was 8-12 shooting from the floor.

Allen boys beaten by Ponca

ALLEN-The Allen boys basketball team fell to 1-2 with an 80-54 setback to Ponca last Friday in Allen. Jeff Schoning's Eagles suffered 23 first half turnovers which led to 50 Ponca points.

"Ponca had us in a man-to-man press and we were just trying to hurry the ball up the court instead of just taking our time," Schoning said. "That had us down 50-21 at the break and that's just too many points to make up."

Chris Sachau led Allen with 12 points while Curtis Oswald and Jason Reuter had 11 each. Lane Anderson finished with seven and Jay Jackson added six. Casey Schroeder netted five points and Brian Nelson added two.

Oswald led Allen with eight rebounds while Anderson and Jackson had six caroms each. Despite having 23 turnovers in the first half the Eagles only had six in the second half.

Junior high girls win tourney

WAYNE-The Wayne Junior High girls basketball team captured their own tournament Monday with a 27-23 championship win over Hartington Holy Trinity. The Wayne team was composed of seventh and eighth grade girls combined and they were playing a Hartington team that had just beaten the Wayne eighth grade team by 46 points just four days earlier.

Jill Klaver's combined team, however, was more than Holy Trinity could handle. Kari Wetterberg led Wayne with 11 points and six rebounds while Katie Lutt had eight points and five rebounds.

Christine Swinney finished with four points while Sarah-Metzler and Cori Langenfeld scored two points apiece.

Wayne got to the championship game following a come from behind 26-23 win over West Point Central Catholic on Saturday. "We were down by seven points in the third quarter before rallying to win," Klaver said.

Lutt led Wayne with 11 points and six rebounds while Wetterberg had five points. Langenfeld had four points but hauled down 12 rebounds and Metzler finished with two points.

Wayne seventh grade boys win tourney

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh grade boys basketball team captured their own tournament Monday night at the high school with a 23-16 win over Hartington Holy Trinity in the championship contest.

Nick Vanhorn led the assault for the winners with 14 points and 11 rebounds while Paul Blomenkamp added four points and seven rebounds. Matt Morrison scored three points and Terry Hamer rounded out the scoring with two.

The 5-2 Blue Devils got to the final round with a 32-22 victory over West Point Central Catholic on Saturday. Vanhorn led the team with 13 points while Blomenkamp poured in 10. Munson and Hamer followed with four and two points each while Tom Zach added two and Morrison, one.

Blomenkamp led Wayne in rebounds with six while Jeremy Lutt hauled down four. Hamer and Vanhorn had three caroms each while Morrison and Tony Polt each had two. Wayne will close out the year on Thursday at Wakefield.

Junior high wrestling team in action

WAYNE-The Wayne Junior High wrestling team took part recently in a dual with Schuyler. No team score was kept but Wayne won eight of the 10 matches that were held.

Jeremy Meyer and Andy Rise each won two matches during the dual with Meyer winning by a 9-4 decision and by a 7-0 decision while Rise won by pin twice. Rise pinned his first opponent in 56 seconds and pinned his second opponent in 39 seconds.

David Farmer also wrestled twice and won by pin in 1:20 in his second match but lost a 4-2 decision in his first outing. Chad Billheimer won by pin in 1:57 while Tyler Endicott won by a 6-0 decision.

Spencer Stednitz lost a 6-3 decision and Travis Koester won a 2-0 decision.

Junior high girls play Hartington

WAYNE-The Wayne Junior High girls basketball teams hosted Hartington Holy Trinity recently, with the seventh graders coming out on top of a 24-17 decision. Kari Wetterberg led Wayne with eight points and seven rebounds while Christine Swinney added six points and three rebounds.

Katie Lutt scored four points and added four rebounds while Sarah Metzler, Carrie Hampton and Melissa Weber scored two points apiece. Metzler hauled down seven caroms as well.

The eighth grade team was blasted 57-11 by Holy Trinity. Cori Langenfeld led Wayne with six points and five rebounds while Sandy Burbach and Beth Meyer added two points apiece. Erica Stoltenberg added one point. Burbach also finished with four rebounds.

Blue Devils compete in West Point Invitational Wayne wrestles to fifth place

The Wayne wrestling team traveled to take part in the West Point Invitational Saturday and John Murtaugh's Blue Devils placed fifth of seven teams.

O'Neill won the team title with 173 points while David City Aquinas was runner-up with 157.5. Neligh was third with 124 and Fort Calhoun was fourth with 111.5. Wayne was fifth with 108 and West Point Central Catholic was sixth with 102.5. West Point rounded out the field of teams with 36.5 points.

"I really felt we made a lot of progress in this meet," Murtaugh said. "I was impressed with the great amount of improvement the kids showed." Murtaugh said that his team set two goals for the meet which included medaling eight wrestlers and scoring at least 100 points and the Blue Devils accomplished both of those goals.

Jason Wehrer drew praise from Murtaugh after missing all but one day of wrestling practice last week due to the flu and yet he wrestled and placed third.

Brent Gamble was Wayne's lone champion at 125 lbs., while Jason Fink finished second at 145 and Dwaine Junck placed second at 171. Wehrer placed third at 112 and Jason Shultheis placed third at 135. Cory Erxleben at 103, Matt Rise at 130 and Jeff Hamer at heavyweight all placed fourth.

103—Cory Erxleben, (4th), Won by Pin; Lost by Pin; Won by Pin; Lost by Pin to Jamie Eickmeier of David City Aquinas in 2:12.

112—Jason Wehrer, (3rd), Lost 10-5; Won by Pin; Won by Pin; Won 2-0 over Jason Husk of Fort Calhoun in overtime.

189—Leon Brasch, (DNP), Lost by Pin; Won 9-0; Lost by Pin. Hwt—Jeff Hamer, (4th), Bye; Lost by Pin; Bye; Lost by Pin to Pat Fiala of David City Aquinas in 3:45.

While the varsity was taking part in the West Point Invitational the Wayne reserves went to participate in the Stanton Invitational and four of the five brought back medals.

Jeremy Sturm took part at 112 lbs., and did not place but at 119, Mike Williams placed third. Williams received a first round bye before losing by pin in the second round. He then won by a pin and won 6-3 over Bryan Corkle of Atkinson West Holt.

Brent Geiger wrestled at 125 and placed fourth. Geiger received a first round bye before losing by pin. He then received another bye before losing by pin to Brad Straw of Norfolk Catholic.

Terry Rutenbeck placed second at 130. Rutenbeck won by pin in the first round and won 4-3 in the second round. He lost by pin to Dennis Murphy of Norfolk Catholic in the finals.

Chad Paysen placed fourth at 140. Paysen won by pin in the first round and lost by pin in the second round. He won 7-5 before losing by pin to John Klein of Battle Creek in 5:20.

"It was good to see our reserves bring back four medals from a varsity tournament," Murtaugh said. Wayne will host its own invitational on Saturday beginning at 10 a.m.

Sports Briefs

Zimmer's win football contest

WAYNE-Nick Zimmer of Wayne won the Wayne Herald Football Contest last week and was the only participant to miss just one on his entry. Zimmer's lone miss was picking the Los Angeles Raiders to defeat New Orleans on Monday night.

Runner-up honors went to Keith Zimmer of Lincoln. Zimmer edged Wayne's Wayne Tietgen as both missed two games but Zimmer's tie-breaker was closer.

DeNaeyer on wrestling team

WAYNE-Mike DeNaeyer, a two-time state placer for John Murtaugh's Wayne wrestling team including runner-up finish last season, is on the Buena Vista wrestling team this year.

DeNaeyer, son of Richard and Mary DeNaeyer, wrestles in the 142-150 pound weight divisions.

Big-Brother, Big-Sister party

WAYNE-The Wayne Big-Brother, Big-Sister program at the high school will be having a Christmas party Friday night following the varsity boys game with Wisner-Pilger in the commons.

The party is for the little brothers and sisters and both parties are to bring an inexpensive gift.

Wayne boys lose to Columbus Lakeview

The Wayne boys basketball team evened their record at 1-1 Saturday in Columbus as they were handed a 63-58 loss by Lakeview. Wayne trailed 16-12 after the first period and 32-26 at the intermission.

The margin got two points larger after the third quarter as Lakeview took a 45-37 lead, but Wayne fought back and took the lead with three minutes to go in the contest before falling.

Unfortunately for the Blue Devils, they had to play more than half of the game without one of their top guns in Regg Carnes who lost the battle to fouls.

Carnes played just 3:46 of the first half before sitting down with three fouls and he played 8:30 of the second half before retiring to the bench with his fifth foul.

Guard Bobby Barnes also battled foul trouble and he, too, fouled out of the game down the stretch with Wayne scratching for its initial road victory of the season.

"We just plain weren't mentally ready to play," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "That added with the fact that we didn't play well as a team and that's how you come up with a loss."

Uhing was disappointed with some of his veteran players for picking up foolish fouls. "We aren't a real mature team right now," Uhing said. "A good mature team comes ready to play every night."

Kyle Dahl poured in 27 points to lead the Blue Devils while Barnes netted 16. Brad Uhing scored six points and Carnes was held to five because of his limited playing time. Matt Blumenkamp and Robert Bell rounded out the scoring with two points apiece.

Wayne held a narrow 32-30 advantage in rebounding with Dahl hauling down 11 boards to lead the Blue Devils. Carnes had six caroms while Lakeview had 17. The Blue Devils were 14-21 from the free throw line while Lakeview was 10-14.

WSC women beaten by Doane

Mike Barry's Wayne State women's basketball team lost a home contest to Doane Saturday night in Rice Auditorium, 72-62 which left the Wildcats with a 4-4 mark.

Cheri VanAuker scored the first points of the game on a short jumper and Doane answered with a bucket by Michelle Mason but WSC then went on a 15-2 run to take a 17-4 lead with 12:12 remaining in the first half.

WSC continued to lead by 13 at 24-11 with 8:29 left in the first half before Doane went on a scoring run of its own, out-scoring the Wildcats, 25-5 to close out the first half with a 36-29 advantage.

In the second half WSC managed to take a two point lead at 58-56 with 7:29 remaining in regulation when Lisa Chamberlin connected on a lay-up. Doane, however, went on another run of 11 straight points to lead 67-58 with under 3:30 left in the contest.

WSC was led in scoring by Mary Schnitzler with 21 points including a three-for-three performance from 3-point range. Chamberlin was also in double figures with 16 while Jodi Otjen and VanAuker scored eight points apiece. Dana Olmsted added seven points and Kairi Backer rounded out the scoring with two points.

Mason led all scorers from Doane with 32 points and Mary Kaye Bell added 17. The visitors were 25-63 from the field for 39.7 percent while hitting 17-25 free throws. WSC was 25-61 from the floor for 41 percent and the Wildcats were 9-13 from the foul line.

The Wildcats were out-rebounded 47-36. VanAuker led WSC with 11 caroms while Otjen had seven. Olmsted dished out five assists while Lynn Nohr had four.

Chamberlin led WSC in steals with six while Olmsted had five. The game proved to be very sloppy as WSC suffered 33 turnovers while forcing Doane into 32.

The Wildcats will travel to Minnesota for the Mankato Classic on Friday and Saturday.

Wildcats lose to NDSU

The Wayne State men's basketball team fell to 2-6 Saturday night following a 74-65 loss to North Dakota State University in Fargo, N.D.

The Wildcats scored first on two free throws from Billy Patterson but NDSU scored eight straight points and the host team never trailed again enroute to their fourth win of the year in six outings.

WSC trailed 36-27 at intermission and each team scored 38 second half points. Steve Dunbar led WSC with 19 points including four, 3-pointers while Patterson poured in 14. Doug Kuzak scored 13 and David Allen was also in double figures with 11 points but Allen's contribution came on the boards where he hauled down a game high 20 caroms including 10 offensive and 10 defensive rebounds.

Kevin Thurman scored four points while Carlos Moore and Omar Clark rounded out the attack with two points apiece. Jeff Griffin led NDSU with 16 points while Bart Inniger added 15 and Mark Arzdorf, 13.

The Wildcats shot 40 percent from the field hitting 25 of 62 shot attempts while sinking 9-11 from the charity stripe. NDSU hit 44 percent of its shots from the floor on 25-56 but the host team may well have won the game on the free throw line where they connected on 22 of 27 free throws.

WSC won the battle of the boards, 41-34. Following Allen's 20 caroms was Dunbar with five boards and Kuzak with four. WSC also suffered 24 turnovers while NDSU had 16.

Allen led WSC with four assists while Ricky Watson dished out two. Patterson had four steals and Allen had three. The Wildcats will travel to take part in the Washburn Classic on Friday.

Obituaries

Mary Crain

Mary Crain, 87, of Omaha, formerly of Carroll, died Sunday, Dec. 15, 1991 at the Millard Good Samaritan Nursing Home in Omaha. Services will be held Thursday, Dec. 19 at 2 p.m. at the Bethany Presbyterian Church in Carroll. The Rev. Gail Axen will officiate. Visitation is scheduled for 9 a.m. to noon at the Schumacher-McBride-Wiltse Funeral Home on Lincoln Street in Wayne.

Mary Jane Crain, the daughter of William and Margaret-Owens Jones, was born Jan. 23, 1904 at Columbus Junction, Iowa. She moved to the Carroll area in 1913 when she was nine year old. She attended rural school District 83. She married Ralleg Crain on Aug. 2, 1934 at Tekamah. The couple lived in the Carroll and Dixon areas before moving to South Sioux-City in 1939, Paulina, Iowa in 1943 and Sioux Falls, S.D. in 1952. He died in 1964 and she moved to Omaha in 1979 to be near her daughter.

Survivors include one son, Ronald Crain of Mitchell, S.D.; two daughters, Eva Tylor of Phoenix, Ariz. and Mrs. Ray (Marlene) Schuetz of Omaha; 12 grandchildren; seven great grandchildren; one brother, Elwyn Jones of Norfolk; nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband, three brothers and one sister.

Pallbearers will be Mike Kelley and Anthony, Rollin, Roderic, Kurt and Raymond Schuetz.

Burial will be in the Concord Cemetery with Schumacher-McBride-Wiltse Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Christmas cantata at Methodist Church

The chancel choir of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne will present a Christmas cantata on Sunday, Dec. 22, during the 9:30 a.m. worship service.

"The Promise of Christmas," a musical celebration by Dan Burgess, will be performed with orchestral accompaniment tape and will feature Gerelda Lipp, Gwen Jensen, Brett Fuelberth and Adam Goos as soloists.

Connie Webber, director of the 37-member chancel choir, said the public is invited to attend this special worship event.

State 4-H leaders invited to attend forum in Kearney

Topics from motivating youth to glass etching will be discussed Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 at the Nebraska State Volunteer 4-H Leaders Forum in Kearney.

According to Marilyn Schepers of Lincoln, forum coordinator, the fifth annual meeting is a chance for leaders to look over new and different project areas as well as exchange ideas with other volunteers.

The forum, which will be held in the Kearney Ramada Inn, is expected to attract about 150 volunteers and leaders, said Schepers, adding that enrollment is limited to 200.

In addition to workshops and sessions, four optional educational tours through Kearney businesses will be offered to forum participants.

THE registration fee of $100 should be included with the registration and returned by Jan. 10 to 4-H Youth Development, 114 Agricultural Hall, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Neb., 68583-0700. The registration fee includes four meals. A $5 late fee will be charged for registrations received after the deadline.

Schepers said lodging accommodations must be made by each individual, a change from previous years. A special room rate is available at the Ramada Inn and reservations can be made by calling 1-800-248-4460.

Additional details can be obtained from local Cooperative Extension offices throughout Nebraska.

Gifts and Giving

Gift giving is one way we show our love for others.

A gift is fully received when it is accepted.

In church you can receive God's gift of love as reflected in the birth of Jesus. Accept this precious gift in any church of your choice.

HIGHLAND WOMEN
The Highland Women's Extension Club met at the home of Hilda Thomas for a no-host Christmas dinner Thursday. Following the dinner, Mrs. Arnold Wittler, president, conducted a short business meeting and led in reciting the Club Collect. Roll call was "what singer or group of singers do you enjoy most, singing Christmas carols?" Hilda Thomas reported on the November meeting and gave the treasurer's report. New year-books were distributed and reviewed. Christmas cards were signed to be sent to shut-ins and elderly in the community. A monetary gift was sent to the Good Neighbors program.

Mrs. Gerald Bruggeman and Mrs. Bill Fenske were in charge of entertainment. They presented a program of Christmas poems, a contest and the "Christmas Story" was read by Mrs. Bruggeman, combined with group singing of Christmas carols. Contest prize winners were Mrs. Lane Marotz, Mrs. Mary Kollath and Mrs. Neal Wittler.

A gift exchange was held and coffee, cookies and candy were served at the close of the afternoon.

The first meeting of the new year will be at the home of Mrs. Neal Wittler on Jan. 9.

HOLIDAY SERVICES
Area churches have planned their special holiday services. Zion Lutheran Church will have their Christmas Eve program at 6:30 p.m. and services on Christmas Day at 8:30 a.m. They will also have a service on New Year's Day at 10 a.m.

Peace United Church of Christ will have their Christmas Eve program, with Sunday school children and choir at 7 p.m.

LADIES AID
The St. Paul's Lutheran Ladies Aid of rural Wakefield held their Christmas luncheon Thursday with 24 members and guests attending. Group two of the Aid, with Leoma Baker as chairman and Elaine Hansen as co-chairman, hosted the meeting.

Pastor Ricky Bertels was in charge of the program, entitled "Unto You A Child Is Born." He presented the Christmas story through scripture readings and all joined in singing Christmas carols.

Entertainment followed the program with the group playing crazy bridge. Winning prizes were Gertrude Ohlquist, Howard Greve and Bob Hansen for high scores, and Ada Bertels and Ed Krusemark for low.

The next meeting is Jan. 9 with Dorothy Meyer as hostess.

MEN'S CLUB
St. Paul's Men's Club met Dec. 10 with Albert and Blaine Nelson as hosts. Twelve members were present. They decorated the Christmas tree outside and also the tree in the church. Pastor Bertels had the program, "Unto You A Child Is Born," relating the story with scripture readings and all joined in singing Christmas carols.

Trinity Lutheran Church will have their children's Christmas Eve program at 7 p.m. and a song service on Christmas Day at 10 a.m. There will be a New Year's Eve communion service at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

LADIES AID-LWML
Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid-LWML held their annual no-host Christmas dinner and bake sale Thursday at noon. Mrs. Elaine Ehlers and Mrs. Clem Weich were in charge of serving. Mrs. Larry Koepke, president, conducted the business meeting. Members answered roll call by paying one cent to the Penny Pot for each letter in the word, "Christmas."

Mrs. Ralph Saegebarth read the report of the November meeting and Mrs. Clem Weich gave the treasurer's report.

Altar Guild for December is Hilda Hamm and Delma Vyhldal. Flower committee is Mrs. Ralph Kruger and Mrs. Duane Kruger.

Officers were in charge of the program and presented a skit on "The Origin and Significance of the Advent Wreath," with group singing of Christmas carols. A gift exchange was held and secret pals were revealed. Coffee, cookies, bars and candy were served at the close of the afternoon.

The next meeting will be on Jan. 2.

BIRTHDAY CLUB

A holiday message

On April 30, 1978, Doris Longacre preached a sermon at the church. She concluded her message with this list. It was reread at her memorial service on November 13 of that same year.

"Time seems to be the greatest enemy that we have. We can never do all the things that we want to do. We all must decide on our own set of priorities.

"Life is too short to ice cakes. Cakes are good without icing.

"Life is too short to read all periodicals.

"Life is too short not to write regularly to your parents.

"Life is too short to eat factory bread.

"Life is too short to keep all your floors shiny.

"It's too short to let a day pass without hugging your spouse and all of your children.

"Life is too short to nurse grudges and hurt feelings.

"It's too short to worry about getting ready for Christmas. Just let Christmas come.

"Life is too short to spend much money on neckties and earrings.

"It's too short to be gone from home more than a few nights a week.

"It's too short not to take a nap when you need one.

"It's too short to give importance to whether purses match shoes or towels match bathrooms.

"It's too short to stay indoors when the trees turn color in the fall, when it snows, or when the spring blossoms come out.

"It's too short for bedsprings that are too fancy to sleep under.

"Life is too short to work in a room without windows.

"Life is too short to put off Bible study.

"It's too short to put off improving our relationships with the people that we live with."

I saw this on the bulletin board of the social worker at York Hospital, and am including it in my Christmas cards. There's a lot of truth in these sentences, and some good precepts for what's really important. Have a blessed Christmas.

The GOLDEN YEARS

by Pat Lichty

An ordinary kitchen table is on display, but not for sale, at a mail-order distribution center in Virginia Beach, Virginia. It's the same table which Lillian Katz used for packaging orders when she started her business in 1951 in her Mount Vernon, New York, home. She was 24, pregnant and used wedding-gift cash to start the Lillian Vernon Company. Still headquartered in Mount Vernon, the company employs about 125 people there and as many as 1,000 at its Virginia Beach distribution center. This year, at age 64, Lillian remained active as chairman and chief executive officer, doing some of the buying, reading all of the copy written for the catalogs, and adding her own touches.

Since 1948, Dixon Miller has lived in a stone cottage in the Pocono Mountains near Long Pond, Pennsylvania, collecting data for the U.S. Weather Bureau and serving as a forest-fire spotter. In spring and fall fire seasons, he daily climbs the 106 steps to the top of his observation tower. At age 80, that isn't his only exercise. He is an avid skier, and rides a unicycle to help keep in shape when there is no snow.

Remember When? November 30, 1939 - Soviet planes bombed Helsinki, signaling the start of its invasion of Finland.

GRANDPARENTS AS PARENTS: I'm still getting some wonderful letters in response to the columns that ran over the past two years regarding grown children who return home for one reason or another. In some cases, broken marriages are the cause of the return trek; in other instances (and increasingly so), the economic downturn has forced people out of the labor market, and left them unable to meet high rents or mortgage payments. The basic theme of the CBS series, "The Royal Family," features a newly single young mother returning to her parents with her three children because she can't make it economically on the outside. This would seem to prove the saying that — when nowhere else makes you feel welcome — home always does.

The facts, however, make the situation less than rosy. For one thing, as many of you have written, it's not easy laying down house rules for the behavior of grown children. But as many of you have advised, it's still your home, and if they can't comply with your rules, let them get out on their own again.

Now, another situation is developing quickly among seniors: becoming parents to their grandchildren. While grandparents have historically been back-up parents for youngsters whose own mothers and fathers are not able to care for them, that's usually been in response to a tragic death or illness. However, today with drugs a factor in every economic stratum, and with a rising crime rate and a demand that judges sentence people to jail, instead of on probation — children in these homes either go into foster care or, where possible, to their grandparents.

In some cases, grandparents are paid to care for grandchildren the way foster parents are. But hard-pressed communities are beginning to question this process, pointing out that no taxpayer should compensate someone for doing what should be done by virtue of blood and love. Others argue that the state is getting a bargain. Helping grandparents financially to raise their grandchildren is usually cheaper than putting the kids into foster homes, and also helps preserve family ties.

However, for most grandparents, assuming the duties of parents means making not just a physical and emotional adjustment in their lives, but also a serious financial reassessment, with many going into reserves once set aside for retirement. For them, some supplemental income could make an important difference in the quality of their changed lives.

What do you think? Should taxpayers help grandparents raise their grandchildren? Please write me c/o King Features Weekly Service, 235 East 45th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.
