Buying a home computer

Investment is for long-term

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

Purchasing a home computer isn't something you should take lightly, it's something that's a long-term investment, according to two local computer dealers.

Kim VerWey of Office Connection and Janelle Simpson of Complete Computer Systems, both have tips to consumers buying a home computer. While computers are intimidating to some, they are the wave of the future.

"We always recommend that people buy the best computer they can with the amount of money they have at the time because computers become outdated so quickly that if you buy beneath your means, you'll notice it in the future," VerWey says.

WHILE COMPUTERS today may seem too advanced for some to understand, Simpson says she believes they will become more advanced in the future. This means computers become more easy to use—or more user friendly.

"When you start, you have a healthy fear of them but once you get past that first element of fear, you develop a great deal of respect for the computer," Simpson says. "That's what we find generally with customers who have never used a computer before. Once that fear dissipates, it turns into excitement and adventure."

One reason the purchase of a home computer shouldn't be taken lightly is because of the expense of the machine and its programs. An Apple/Macintosh Computer, which Office Connection sells, runs anywhere between $1,075 on the low end to over $2,300 on the high end. An IBM computer, or an IBM compatible, runs as low as $600 to a high of a like amount to its competitor, depending on what you purchase.

IN ADDITION to the expense of the machines, computer buyers could incur greater expenses down the road. For instance, if you purchase a computer that was state-of-the-art in the early '80s, it's likely it is unable to comprehend modern software.

"When a person comes in to buy a computer, we try to sit down with that person and discover what their present needs are and then try to determine what needs they will see in the future," Simpson says. "We try to find a way to customize our computers to the users' needs."

VerWey adds that a good reason to buy a personal computer isn't only for the typewriting abilities it provides but the accounting and entertainment incentives that come along with it.

WITH BOTH the Apple/Macintosh and the IBM brands, personal computers help people keep better records of budgets and they provide them with data banks which can store anything from telephone numbers and addresses to spreadsheets.

According to Simpson, the most popular computer is one which includes an eight-in-one program, usually in the IBM 386SX or the 286. She says if customers want to purchase an older computer at a low-cost, she can set one up for $600 but it has its limitations.

With the Apple/Macintosh brand, VerWey says the Macintosh Classic and the Macintosh Classic II are the most popular purchases. She says with each system they sell, there are programs which come along with them. The most standard program people use costs around $300. Other programs cost between $25 and $100, depending on what you buy.

With both brands, there are also tutorial programs which allow the user to learn by using the computer. Both businesses also provide training when customers buy a computer.

"A great deal of learning can occur just by playing around with the computer," VerWey says. "No matter what you do, so long as you have your original discs, you'll be OK."

Correction

In the Thursday, Feb. 13 edition of The Wayne Herald, it was incorrectly reported that defense attorney Duane Schroeder advised his client to testify in a trial over nine burglaries in Wayne, which occurred Aug. 17.

According to Schroeder, he advised Edmond Ricardo Arruza not to testify and upon that advice, Arruza declined the opportunity to testify in his defense.

The Herald apologizes for the mistake.

Seven seek posts on various boards

The Wayne County Clerks office has received seven filings since Tuesday for various elected positions in Wayne County.

Leading the list of candidates is Ralph Barclay of Wayne. Barclay is looking to retain his position as a representative of the third ward on the Wayne City Council. If elected, he will be serving his second four-year term. He filed Feb. 11.

All filings for the positions in the county are non-partisan.

Seeking re-election to the District 17 board of education is Sid Hillier, Wayne. Hillier, an incumbent, is seeking his third four-year term to the Wayne Community School Board. He filed Feb. 13.

ROGER D. Reikofski of Carroll, is the only non-incumbent running for election to the Carroll Village Board. If elected, this will be his first term in office. He filed Feb. 13.

Seeking re-election to the Wayne Airport Authority Board are Carl Rump, Wayne, and Logan McClelland, Wayne. Rump filed for re-election Feb. 11 and McClelland filed for re-election Feb. 13.

Two candidates have also filed for re-election to the noxious weed board. Lester Menke, Carroll, and Don Pippitt, Laurel, are both seeking another term. Both candidates filed Feb. 13.

Cooking school on tap Tuesday

Just as the lives of many area residents, "Lifestyle" will be fast-paced. This Homemakers School sponsored by The Wayne Herald Tuesday, Feb. 18 will be lively and entertaining, maybe even a little hectic at times, according to Home Economist Jana Lamplot. The festivities begin at 7 p.m. at the Wayne City Auditorium with doors opening at 5 p.m.

Not only will Lamplot use appliances from Charlie's Refrigeration, Schaefer's Maytag and Doescher Appliance, but she will also utilize cookware from a number of local sponsors. The food she's using to prepare many of her tasty dishes will be provided by Pac 'N' Save and Quality Foods Center.

At the close of the evening, the attractive, mouthwatering foods will be shown, ready for the drawing when some lucky winners will be announced. Students from the Wayne State College Home Economics Department and members of The Wayne Herald staff will be assisting Lamplot during the day and evening.

EACH PERSON attending will receive a free gift bag with the 1992 "Lifestyle" cookbook, coupons, recipes and much more.

Wayne Herald Publisher and Editor Les Mann will draw the names of 40 lucky winners, who have the chance to win over $1,000 in prizes supplied by the sponsors who are helping The Wayne Herald bring this event to DISTRICT 17 SENATOR Gerald Conway points out to Rep. Doug Bereuter what part of his district shifted following the 1990 census.

Bereuter aids Conway in bid for re-election to district post

At a news conference Wednesday at the State Capitol in Lincoln, Congressman Doug Bereuter, R-Neb., endorsed State Sen. Gerald Conway, R-Wayne, in his bid for re-election to represent the 17th legislative district.

"It is very untraditional for me to stand up and endorse someone for election or re-election to any office," Bereuter said. "However, I feel strongly enough about the quality of Jerry Conway as a person, and as a legislator representing northeast Nebraska, that I today offer my full endorsement and recommendation to my constituents in Wayne, Thurston, Cuming and Dakota Counties to re-elect Jerry Conway."

"I have known Jerry a long time. He and I have the pleasure of representing northeast Nebraska. In our elected capacities, we have worked together very closely—as closely as I have worked with any state senator—on a variety of issues that affect this entire district."

CHALLENGING CONWAY in his bid for a third term to the Unicameral is Kurt Hohenstein, a Republican candidate from South Sioux City. Hohenstein, who is the Dakota County Attorney, made the announcement that he was running Monday, Feb. 10.

Bereuter noted that he and

School board deals with array of issues

The Wayne Community School Board dealt with a number of issues at its meeting Tuesday night but two items appeared to garner most of the board's observation.

One dealt with a report from school nurse Lu Ellingson and board member Neil Sandahl concerning their attendance at a three-day workshop in Aurora, sponsored by the State Department of Education, dealing with comprehensive health education for Nebraska schools.

The purpose of the workshop was to identify components of a proposed K-6 curriculum to enhance middle and high school student education on the dangers of the AIDS virus.

Other faculty members attending the conference were Joan Sudmann, Don Koenig and Marlene Uhing.

IN A SEPARATE matter, the board adopted and amended board policy dealing with the possession of weaponry on school grounds.

According to the policy, the possession on school property of firearms or other weapons capable of doing bodily harm is expressly forbidden. This includes instruments capable of firing blank ammunition as well as pellet and bb guns.

Under terms of the policy, administrators, teachers and sponsors are responsible for enforcement of the policy.

High School Principal Dr. Donald Zeiss also presented an in-depth report concerning procedures used to select high school texts, modify curriculum and integrate curriculum with other grade levels.

According to Zeiss' report, the curriculum committee is composed of 10 areas, including: business education, foreign language, language arts, math, visual/performing, PE/health, science, social studies, practical arts and support curriculum.

The curriculum study will also in-

Concord man pleads guilty under agreement

A plea agreement has been reached in the case of a Concord man who was charged with several felony counts for causing problems with his estranged wife.

Under the agreement, Kenneth Ellis of Concord pled guilty to second degree arson, a Class III felony, and criminal mischief, a Class IV felony. In both cases, a pre-sentence investigation is ordered prior to sentencing. Ellis entered the pleas Feb. 10 in the Dixon County District Court.

He had been charged with six felonies and two misdemeanor charges but under a plea agreement arranged between his attorney Brien P. O'Brien of South Sioux City and Dixon County Attorney Leland Miner of Ponca, he pled guilty to criminal mischief and had three felony counts dropped, Judge Robert E. Otte accepted the guilty pleas and found Ellis guilty of the two charges.

THE CHARGES against Ellis dates back to two separate incidents, one in September, when he set his wife's residence on fire, and one that dates back to November, when he picked up his wife near her Concord residence and violated conditions of his bond.

Sentencing in the case is scheduled for March 9 at 2 p.m. in the Dixon County District Court.

A Class III felony is punishable by one to 20 years in prison or a $25,000 fine, or both. A Class IV felony is punishable by a maximum of five years in prison or a $10,000 fine, or both.

Wayne OES chapter honors Brandstetters

Wayne Chapter 194 Order of the Eastern Star met Feb. 10 at the Masonic Temple for the regular meeting and program honoring 50-year members Orval and Dorothy Brandstetter.

Guests included a son and daughter-in-law, Larry and Faye Brandstetter of Red Oak, Iowa, and grandson Chris Brandstetter of Wayne.

Taking part in a ceremony honoring Brandstetters were Star Points Mildred Richardson, Shirley Straight, Joanne McNatt, Doris Harmer and Margaret Hansen, Worthy Matron Marilyn Carhart, Worthy Patron Robert Carhart and Chaplain Mary Sensenig. Sue Powell played and sang a selection.

Mrs. Carhart presented the couple their 50-year pins as gifts from the Grand Chapter of Nebraska.

Brandstetters were initiated into OES in 1941 in LeMars, Iowa.

HONORED GUESTS at the meeting were Mrs. Marjorie Ward, general grand youth committee member, Mrs. Marleen Dinklage, associate grand matron of Grand Chapter of Nebraska, and Mrs. Evelyn Schlueter, worthy matron of Wisner Star Chapter 149.

Mrs. Joan Mann was installed as secretary, Mrs. Linda Teach as conductress and Arnold Marr as treasurer of Wayne Chapter 194 for the 1992 year. Installing officer was Marilyn Carhart, assisted by installing Marshal Bonnie Lund.

It was announced that Mrs. Sally Swancutt of Omaha, district grand supervisor, will be in Wayne for a school of instruction on March 14. All members are invited to a luncheon at noon.

The annual chill supper at the Masonic-Eastern Star Home for Children will be Saturday, Feb. 22 from 5 to 8 p.m.

The Wayne chapter was also invited to a President's Day soup and pie dinner sponsored by Wisner Star Chapter 149 on Saturday, Feb. 22 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

THE CHAPTER received notice of the death of member Myrtle Johnson of Garden City, Kan., on Sept. 20, 1991.

Greetings were received from Marjorie Whitmore, Wallingford, Penn., and Martha Brune, Richmond, Va.

Refreshment chairman was Joan Lackas. The next regular meeting is scheduled March 9 with Bette Ream as refreshment chairman.

Weight wellness lesson topic at Klick and Klatter meeting

Sixteen members of Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club attended a meeting Feb. 11 in the home of Barbara Sievers and answered roll call with whether or not they are happy with their present weight.

Viola Meyer gave the lesson, entitled "How is Your Weight Wellness?"

The meeting opened, with the flag salute and collect led by President Lee Moller. Marian Jordan was recipient of the hostess gift and led in the singing of the extension club song.

STELLA Liska, citizenship chairman, reported that the Nebraska Legislature publishes information on bills and the unicameral has updated weekly publications available.

Joyce Niemann read "Be a Spendthrift in Love" and "What is Love?" Marvel Corbit read an article, entitled "What Every Woman Must Know About Her Heart."

For family well-being, Dorothy Aurich presented an article, "We Are Losing Home Life," pertaining to family togetherness.

Vila Meyer, cultural arts leader, reported on upcoming college presentations.

A thank you was acknowledged from Mary Roberts.

DOROTHY Aurich, thrust chairman, handed out literature on material accepted at the recycling center. Pauline Lutt gave a list of monitored children's programs on ETV.

It was announced that the "Know America" tour is scheduled in September.

Pauline Lutt will host the next Klick and Klatter meeting, scheduled March 10 at 2 p.m.

Engagements

Ammon-Wulf

Rhonda Lynn Ammon and Jeffrey James Wulf are planning a March 7 wedding at the United Methodist Church in Bassett.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Harold and Delores Ammon of Bassett. She graduated from Wayne State College in August 1990 with a bachelor of science degree in human services counseling and is presently residing in Wayne.

Her fiancé resides in Pierce and is the son of Jim and Jean Wulf of Pierce. He attended Kansas City Music Conservatory in Kansas City, Mo. for two years. He then attended Norfolk Flight School where he received his pilot's license.

Travel safely: eat right and exercise regularly

(February is Heart Month and the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association is sponsoring a series of articles designed to educate the public).

You're traveling on business or vacation. You're eating the typical high-fat, high-cholesterol foods, and you're not exercising.

It doesn't have to be this way. "With a little savvy, you can travel in style, enjoy local cuisine, and still keep a healthy lifestyle," says Kris Giese, president of the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association (AHA).

"When you choose your menu — whether at home or on the road — follow the American Heart Association's dietary guidelines," advises Giese. "They're for healthy people trying to prevent heart disease."

THE AHA suggests breaking down your diet into a little more than half of the calories from carbohydrates, a third or less from fat and the rest from protein. Limit cholesterol intake to fewer than 300 milligrams per day, and keep sodium (salt) intake to about a teaspoon per day.

If you drink alcohol, limit your daily intake to one or two ounces ethanol. An ounce of ethanol (pure alcohol) is contained in two ounces of 100-proof whiskey, eight ounces of wine, or 24 ounces of beer.

The AHA also suggests maintaining your ideal weight and eating a variety of foods.

margarine instead of butter. Choose fish and poultry more often than lean red meats. Choose low-fat dairy products such as skim and one-percent milk, low-fat or non-fat yogurt and low-fat cheese.

HERE ARE some "rules of the road" on how to stay fit and healthy:

—When flying, get up and move around. It improves blood circulation and could prevent a blood clot in your legs.

—Order your airline meals in advance. Most major air carriers offer special low-fat, low-cholesterol meals.

—While on a flight, have mainly non-alcoholic drinks, and go easy on the alcohol. Because you may get dehydrated, it's good to drink liquids every hour. This also will force you to get up once in a while.

—Choose restaurants with healthful alternatives to rich foods and sauces. Many ethnic foods such as Oriental or Mediterranean offer good taste with relatively little saturated fatty acids and cholesterol compared to what you'll find in haute cuisine.

—Choose a hotel with an exercise facility. Then use it every day if only for a couple of laps in the pool or around the track.

—Walk wherever possible: up stairs, sightseeing, shopping, to a restaurant or meeting. The exercise you'll get makes a difference in how you feel. You also won't gain weight when you balance exercise with food intake.

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid marking 65th year

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid-LWML will meet at the Black Knight on March 11 at noon to celebrate the 65th anniversary of Ladies Aid-LWML. Members will return to the church at 2 p.m. for the business meeting.

Plans for the 65th observance were discussed when the group met Feb. 12 at the church with 45 members and one guest, Alice Roeder. Hostesses were Frances Bak, Bernita Sherbahn and Delores Utecht.

Ellen Heinemann reported that the anniversary banner is nearly complete and Ardene Nelson suggested making a donation to the LWML mission project.

PRESIDENT Delores Utecht called the meeting to order and Ellen Heinemann had opening devotions, entitled "Why the Doers Do and the Do Nots Don't." She also led in the singing of "Oh that the Lord Would Guide My Ways."

Esther Hansen read an invitation to the 100th anniversary banquet of Lutheran Family Services to be held Feb. 23. She also announced dates for other upcoming events.

Esther Brader reported on visits and cards sent by the visiting committee, and Leora Austin reported sending flowers to Elenora Heithold.

Elenor Jensen announced that the Duo Club and Evening Circle donated money to purchase additional folding chairs. They will be ordered in the near future.

It was announced that the sewing group will meet Feb. 27 at 1 p.m. Anyone wishing to help is welcome to attend.

The care centre committee will be visiting Wayne Care Centre on March 2.

RUTH KORTH read a letter from Lee Weander. Ardene Nelson will write to Weander this month and Roberta Oswald will write to Mike Erickson.

Delores Utecht reported that she attended the zone executive board meeting and that Grace

Ladies Aid-LWML was asked to make another banner to carry at the district convention. Ellen Heinemann and Esther Brader volunteered to assist members of Evening Circle.

Mrs. Utecht also announced that the zone workshop will be April 21 at Immanuel Lutheran in Laurel, and the district convention is set for June 19-20 at Christ Lutheran in Norfolk.

Letters and thank you notes were read and a donation was received from the Wayne Circuit Pastors Conference for serving the meal on Jan. 7.

ELLEN Heinemann read Psalm 121 as a memorial tribute to Marie Brittain.

A video, entitled "Women of Faith," was shown, and the meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

Seated at the birthday table were Esther Hansen, Clara Echtenkamp, Frances Samuelson, Cynthia Rethwisch, Ruth Victor and Florence Rethwisch.

May Van Valin

May Van Valin, 87, of Ames, Iowa, formerly of Wakefield, died Tuesday, Feb. 11, 1992 at Mary Greeley Hospital in Ames.

Services were held Friday, Feb. 14 at the Presbyterian Church in Wakefield. The Rev. Jesse and Rev. Arlene Patrick officiated.

May Evelyn Van Valin, the daughter of James and Stella Ebbesen Brodersen, was born Aug. 12, 1904 at Herman. Her mother died when she was two years old and was raised by her father and step-mother. She attended the New England High School near Herman and later Wayne State College for two years, where she attained a teachers certificate. She taught school for three years before her marriage to Carroll Van Valin at Sioux City, Iowa on March 4, 1927. The couple made their home in Wakefield where he was a druggist for Longe Drug, presently the Rexall Drug in Wakefield. He died on Jan. 14, 1986. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Wakefield and was active with its Ladies Aid. She moved to Ames, Iowa to live with her son in 1989.

Survivors included sons and daughters-in-law, Richard and Lynne of Ames, Iowa and Charles and Ann of Boulder; daughter and son-in-law, Janis and Herbert Riehl of Denver, Colo.; four grandchildren; two great granddaughters; and one brother, Robert Brodersen of Tekamah.

She is preceded in death by three brothers; one sister; one son, James; one still-born daughter, Pricilla Ann; and two granddaughters.

Pallbearers were Joe Cameron, Tom Sherlock, Eugene Swanson, Don Puls, Larry Brodersen and Charles Brodersen.

Burial was in the Wakefield Cemetery with Bressler-Humlicek Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Marvin Fuoss

Marvin Fuoss, 64, of Winside died Friday, Feb. 14, 1992 at the Lutheran Hospital in Norfolk.

Services are pending at the Schumacher-McBride-Wiltse Funeral Home.

Ida Truby

Ida Truby, 97, of Laurel died Wednesday, Feb. 12, 1992 at the Hillcrest Care Center in Laurel.

Services were held Saturday, Feb. 15 at the United Presbyterian Church in Laurel. The Rev. Gail Axen officiated.

Ida Louise Mathilda Trube, the daughter of George and Minnie Poutsch Geiger, was born Nov. 25, 1894 in Spencer, S.D. She moved to Allen with her family in 1902, and attended school in Allen. She married Jesse E. Truby on March 3, 1920 at her parents home near Allen. The couple moved to California in 1936; to Sioux City, Iowa in 1938; to South Sioux City in 1939; to Yankton, S.D. in 1940; and then to Laurel in 1941, where they owned and operated Truby's Palace Market until retiring in 1958. She was in fellowship with the United Presbyterian Church in Laurel and a member of the Laurel American Legion Auxiliary.

Survivors include one son and daughter-in-law, Jesse Jr. and Marian Truby of Lincoln; one daughter, Mrs. Keith (JoAnn) Owens of Carroll; six grandchildren; and 13 great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband in 1978, four brothers and one sister.

Honorary pallbearers were the Laurel American Legion Auxiliary.

Active pallbearers were Michael Bolte, Galen Miller, Steven Trubbe, Timothy Wacker, Randall Owens and Gregory Owens.

Burial was in the Eastview Cemetery in Allen with Schumacher-McBride-Wiltse Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Conway

Conway had recently worked on a drug enforcement program to bring a DEA agent to the Sioux City/Dakota City area. The state representative praised Conway for leading the effort to solve the interstate boundary drug issues that Nebraska has with South Dakota and Iowa. Bereuter said because of Conway's leadership, there has been remarkable success in northeast Nebraska stopping interstate drug trafficking.

"Jerry is also very active in many business areas and I think this is the special expertise he brings from his experience as a production worker on the line at IBP and Metz Baking, two of the largest employers in Dakota County," Bereuter said.

CONWAY RECENTLY faced the question whether to continue service as a professor at Wayne State College or continue serving as a state senator. Conway decided, following a supreme court ruling barring him from doing both, to continue serving in the Unicameral.

"We need qualified, able legislators with experience in the Nebraska Legislature," Bereuter said. "I say that as a citizen and as a person who served four years in the Unicameral. Jerry Conway has my full support."

Authorities search residence on suspicion of drugs

On Sunday, Feb. 9 a search warrant was issued based on information received by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department through the Nebraska State Patrol in Dakota County.

The information and search warrant led to the search of a residence at 402 E. 8th St. in Wayne at about 9:30 p.m.

A small amount of marijuana and a small amount of drug paraphernalia were seized as a result of the warrant search.

A 23-YEAR-OLD male resident of the address, named in the warrant, was arrested for misdemeanor possession of marijuana and misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia. The name of the suspect arrested has not been released since charges are still pending. The officers reports were forwarded to the Wayne County Attorney's Office for filing of charges in the Wayne County Court. The coordinated effort of law enforcement were part of the North East Nebraska Drug Enforcement Program (NEDEP).

IN OTHER MATTERS, the school board:

- Made plans for teacher recognition day March 3.
- Learned from board member Dr. Kenneth Liska that he still had minor work to do before making a bus radio recommendation.
- Heard a report from Cap Peterson dealing with issues facing the Nebraska Legislature. The report included a bill which would amend the abortion-notification law.

- Authorized Dr. Francis Haun, superintendent, to negotiate fees for bleacher repairs in the school gymnasium.
- Conditionally approved the 1992-93 school year calendar.
- Accepted with regrets the resignation of Mary Lou George as a special education teacher in the district.
- Nominated Peterson as potential director for a vacancy existing in the Nebraska Association of School Boards region 11.
- Discussed personnel and negotiations matters but took no action.

Wayne sews up second seed

The Wayne Blue Devil boys basketball team wrapped up a second seed for the coming district basketball tournament in Norfolk after defeating Madison, 61-57 Friday night in Wayne.

Wayne improved to 12-6 with the win but coach Bob Uhing wasn't entirely pleased with his team's outing against the 3-12 Dragons. "We just came out flat again," Uhing said. "We've been that way since the week of the Randolph game and we haven't broken out of it yet. We just played without any emotion."

Wayne led 17-15 after the first quarter but Madison grabbed a 34-32 advantage at the break. The host Blue Devils regained the lead after the third quarter at 47-46 and eventually had the lead built to nine points in the fourth period before Madison rallied at the end of the game.

"We missed a lot of easy lay-ups and short jumpers," Uhing said. "Madison dominated us on the offensive boards in the first half and the combination of the two kept the game close."

Madison had 14 offensive boards in the first half including 10 in the first quarter. The visitors finished with 23 offensive boards for the game out of their 38 total rebounds while Wayne had 18 offensive boards of its total of 35 for the game.

Both teams had 20 turnovers and Wayne was 16-21 from the foul line while Madison was 8-13. "The free throw line was one of our bright spots," Uhing said. "We hit 12 of 14 in the second half."

Regg Carnes, Bobby Barnes and Kyle Dahl all scored 14 points to share team honors while Matt Blomenkamp poured in 11. Brad Uhing and Matt Ley scored four each to round out the scoring.

Uhing said he wasn't sure why his squad was flat after they had a good week of practice but he was sure that they would have to have another good week of practice before they play Pierce on Friday in Wayne's last home game.

Winside splits with Osmond

The Winside girls closed out the regular season basketball schedule on a high note Thursday night with a 53-46 home victory over Osmond while the Wildcat boys fell to highly touted Osmond, 56-38.

In the girls contest the Wildcats grabbed a 9-8 lead after the first quarter but Osmond maintained a 26-24 lead at the intermission. Both teams traded leads in the third quarter before Osmond took a slim one point advantage into the fourth at 33-32.

Winside fell behind by a 38-34 margin just into the fourth period before Holly Holdorf sank a long 3-pointer to cut the gap to one. Winside took the lead on the ensuing possession and the Wildcats put continual pressure on the visiting Tigers which in turn, created easy buckets on fast breaks.

Winside built its lead to as many as nine points in the fourth quarter before settling for a seven-point victory. "When these two teams get together, it is always a hard fought game," assistant coach Todd Lavelle said. "We executed our offense well and our defense forced 28 turnovers."

Jenny Jacobsen and Wendy Rabe closed out their home careers by leading the Wildcats with 15 points each while Holdorf and Mundil scored eight apiece. Kari Pichler and Chris Colwell rounded out the scoring with four and two points respectively.

Winside finished with 41 rebounds and although Osmond's rebound stats weren't available at press time, it was believed that the Wildcats held the advantage. Rabe hauled down 18 rebounds while Holdorf had six and Colwell, five.

Winside had just 11 turnovers in the game which directly led to 12 Osmond points while Osmond had 28 turnovers which led to 21 Winside points. The Wildcats were 10-21 from the free throw line while Osmond was 7-11.

Winside will play Newcastle in first round action of sub-districts Monday night in Laurel at 6 p.m. The second game will pit Allen against Winnebago with the two winners squaring off at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the same place.

Boys slow down pace

Shannon Pospisil's Wildcats came out in a slow down pace against the Tigers, who came in averaging over 75 points a game. Winside won the battle but lost the war, 56-38.

"I was pleased with the way we controlled the tempo of the game," Pospisil said. "We wanted to come in and play well and I think we did. We were patient on offense which was our game plan. Obviously, we wanted to slow Osmond down even more and for us to score more but I was happy with our effort."

Osmond led 15-4 after the first quarter break and the visitors held a 30-10 halftime advantage but Winside actually out-scored the Tigers 28-26 in the second half and that was against the first string for all but the last two minutes of the game.

Cory Miller was the Wildcats only scorer in double figures with 18 points while Cory Jensen and John Hancock scored eight apiece. Cam Shelton and Matt Brogren rounded out the scoring with two points each.

Osmond held a 30-28 advantage on the boards despite 10 caroms from Miller and nine from Jensen. Winside only had 11 turnovers in the game but Osmond suffered just eight.

The Wildcats were 6-13 from the foul line while the visitors were 5-7. Winside will close out the regular season schedule on Friday at home against Newcastle.

Wayne gals win by 27

The Wayne girls basketball team improved to 9-10 with a convincing 46-19 victory over Emerson-Hubbard Thursday night in Wayne. The Blue Devils have completely turned their season around after struggling through an 0-5 start.

Wayne jumped out to a 7-0 lead very quickly and never trailed. The Blue Devils had a 10-4 lead after the first quarter and didn't allow the visitors a single point in the second quarter while opening up a 22-4 halftime advantage.

Both teams managed to score eight, third quarter points but Wayne went on to out-score the Lady Pirates by a 16-7 margin in the fourth quarter to notch the 27-point victory.

"Emerson really played hard," Wayne coach Marlene Uhing said. "They played good defense but they struggled on offense. We got a lot of points in transition."

Liz Reeg led the Blue Devils in their final home game with 15 points while Erin Pick was also in double figures with 12. Susie Ensz added six points and Jenny Thompson scored five while Angie Thompson netted four. Tami Schluns and Jenny Thomsen rounded out the scoring with two points each.

Wayne dominated the boards nearly as convincingly as they did the score, 37-20. Ensz led the Blue Devils with nine caroms while Reeg hauled down seven and Pick, six.

Wayne had 17 turnovers in the game while Emerson had 16 and the host team was 5-9 from the charity stripe while Emerson was 1-3. "We've been playing good basketball lately," Uhing said. "We will have to really play well on Thursday because we face the number two team in Class B in undefeated Schuyler."

Wayne will close out the regular season schedule in Schuyler before the district tournament, which begins Monday, Feb. 24 in Norfolk's Northeast Community College.

The Wayne reserves also defeated Emerson-Hubbard on Thursday, 25-17. Jenny Thomsen led the Blue Devils with 16 points.

Area wrestlers fare well in Sioux City

A group of 10 Wayne area boys took part in the 2nd Annual Siouxland Kiwanis Saints Wrestling Tournament held at Sioux City East High School last Saturday.

Nearly 500 elementary grapplers from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota attended the meet. Those attending from Wayne included Aaron Jorgensen, Brad Hansen, Lucas Munter, Tanner Niemann, Shane Baack, Adam Jorgensen, Jon Pickinpaugh, Robbie Sturm, Chris Woehler and Tyler Endicott.

Aaron Jorgensen received a third-place medal in the mini-pee wee group for his efforts on the day while Hansen, Munter and Niemann received second place medals in the pee wee division while Sturm earned first place honors in the intermediate division.

Baack and Woehler placed third in their respective weight divisions of the intermediate division while Adam Jorgensen and Pickinpaugh earned fourth place medals. Endicott placed second in the senior division.

The wrestlers were coached by Tim Pickinpaugh and Roger Niemann.

Wakefield boys down Coleridge

Brad Hoskin's Wakefield Trojans upped their record to 17-5 with a 63-55 victory over Coleridge Friday night in Coleridge. The Trojans built a comfortable 35-24 lead at the intermission and led by as many as 17 in the third quarter before the host team battled back to within one point at 54-53 in the middle of the fourth quarter.

Wakefield, then went on a 9-2 run to close out the game. "They went on a run in the last couple of minutes of the third quarter and the first few minutes of the fourth quarter," Hoskins said. "I was pleased though, that we were able to respond like we did in the last few minutes to build the lead back up to eight."

Steve Clark led all scorers in the game with 25 points including 11 of Wakefield's 18 in the second quarter. The senior sharp shooter had four, 3-pointers in the first half.

"Steve really sparked us in the second quarter," Hoskins said. "At one point he scored nine of our 11 points in the period on three, 3-pointers." Marcus Tappe was also in double figures with 16 points while Dalton Rhodes added 10 and Anthony Brown, eight.

Ben Dutton rounded out the scoring with four points. Wakefield held a 28-27 advantage on the boards with Dutton leading the way with nine caroms while Rhodes hauled down eight.

Wakefield suffered 14 turnovers but forced the host team into 22 and the Trojans were 8-13 from the foul line while Coleridge was 7-12. "Coleridge really beat us on the boards in the second half," Hoskins said. "They really attacked on every shot."

Dave Fox and Ben Schroeder shared scoring honors for the Bulldogs with 19 apiece. "We wanted to keep Fox under 20 and we accomplished that feat," Hoskins said. "It wasn't easy but we did it."

Wakefield will host Homer in its last regular season game on Friday.

SUSIE ENSZ AND ERIN PICK battle an Emerson-Hubbard player for a rebound during Wayne's win on Thursday.

Runner-up honors went to Melodee Lanes with a 2725 with Darci Frahm, Nancy Guili, Josie Bruns, Trixie Newman and June Baier. Rolling Pins placed third with a 2649 and rounding out the list of money winners was Lucky Strikers with a 2628.

In the singles category Ardie Sommerfeld copped top honors with a 611 while Evelyn Hamley placed second with a 592. Money was awarded to one out of every five bowlers which as it turned out, saw 13 singles money winners.

Third place honors went to Lynne Thompson with a 592 while June Baier was fourth with a 586. Judy Sorensen was fifth with a 574 and Sandra Gathje placed sixth with a 562.

Bev Sturm placed seventh with a 561 with Pam Matthes and Virginia Rethwisch tying for eighth and ninth with a 559 each. Nina Reed finished 10th with her 555 while Susan Thies placed 11th with a 549. Amy Poggensee finished 12th with a 548 and Joni Jaeger placed 13th with a 545.

Seven doubles teams placed in the money with Christie Shupperd and Cherie Foote earning championship status after combining for a 1199. Frances Leonard and Sue Thies placed second with a 1133 and Linda Downs and Mary Ann Roberts placed third with a 1123.

Jeanette Swanson teamed up with Sue Denton for fourth place honors with a 1118 while Gina McDonald and Diane Roeber combined for fifth place with a 1094. Cindy Sherman and Cec Vandersnick placed sixth with a 1093 and Lisa McIntyre teamed up with Sandra Gathje for seventh place with a 1078.

Sommerfeld was also crowned champion of the all-events, title which combined series totals in the singles, doubles and team categories. Sommerfeld finished with a 1565 while runner-up Sue Thies was just six pins back with a 1559.

Gathje placed third with a 1553 and Sorensen placed fourth with a 1538 while Baier was fifth with a 1525. Reed placed sixth in the all-events division with a 1507 while Joni Holdorf was seventh with a 1495. Vicky Skokan was eighth with a 1459 and Cindy Echtenkamp was ninth with a 1438. Peg Paulsen was 10th with a 1432 and Shupperd rounded out the money winners with a 1413.

WSC cage stars among best in nation
WAYNE-Wayne State men's basketball player David Allen has taken over the reign as the leading rebounder in the nation on the NCAA Division II level. The Omaha junior is averaging nearly 13 caroms per game as well as leading the team in scoring with a 14.1 per game average.
Mary Schnitzler of the women's squad ranks as the fifth most accurate shooter from 3-point range in all of NCAA Division II and the junior from Battle Creek also ranks seventh in the nation in 3-pointers made per game at nearly three per outing.

Wakefield gals upend highly rated Bulldogs

Gregg Cruickshank's Wakefield girls basketball team has been struggling lately, trying to find the right combination that could put them over the top. Thursday the Trojans traveled to play highly rated Coleridge after they had dropped a five-point decision to Allen just two nights earlier.

Whatever the combination Cruickshank used, he looked like genius as Wakefield pounded the favored Lady Bulldogs, 48-33. The win by the Trojans set a new school record for Wakefield girls basketball with 14 victories—breaking the old record of 13 set by this team a year ago.

Wakefield out-scored Coleridge in every quarter. The Trojans led 15-12 after the first period and led 21-16 at the intermission. "I think the key to the game was our man-to-man defense," Cruickshank said. "Sarah Salmon had 22 points but nobody else was a factor."

Cruickshank said his team's goal was to put as much pressure as possible on the 6-3 Hansen but that her scoring wouldn't be that detrimental if the Trojans could shut down the other four players.

"Sarah Salmon did a nice job of defending Hansen," Cruickshank said. "Hansen's just a fine player." Lisa Blecke led Wakefield's charge with 17 points while Salmon poured in 11. Jamie Oswald netted eight points while Lisa Anderson and Kristen Miller scored four each. Kali Baker and Heidi Mueller rounded out the attack with two points apiece.

Wakefield won the battle of the boards, 29-26 as Salmon led the way with eight caroms while Blecke hauled down six. Wakefield had 13 turnovers but forced Coleridge into 21. The Trojans were 6-8 from the free throw line while Coleridge was 3-6.

The victory left a three-way tie for the Clark Division championship between Wakefield, Coleridge and Wausa as each finished with 5-1 marks within the division.

Wakefield will now play Ponca in the first round of sub-district play on Monday at 6 p.m. in Rice Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State College.

Allen girls improve to 9-6 Friday

The Allen girls basketball team will show up in Laurel Monday night for first round sub-district play against Winnebago riding a two-game win streak after Lori Koester and Gary Erwin's Eagles defeated Beemer, 37-35 Friday night in Beemer.

The Eagles were still flying high after last Tuesday's 41-36 come from behind win over Wakefield and despite shooting a lackluster 24 percent from the field in Beemer, they still managed to escape with the win.

"We were just cold from the field," Koester said. "We only hit 13 of 52 shot attempts from the floor but we got the victory and that's what counts."

Allen trailed the Lady Bobcats, 6-4 after the first quarter but the visitors went on a 15-6 scoring run in the second quarter to post a 19-12 halftime advantage.

Beemer cut that lead to five by the third quarters end at 28-23 and the game was as close as one point in the last minute before Allen sealed the win with free throw shooting.

"Our defense deserves a lot of credit for keeping the score down when our offense wasn't producing a lot of points," Koester said.

Denise Boyle led the Eagles with 11 points while Cindy Chase scored 10. Steph Martinson, Sonya Plueger and Tanya Plueger scored four each while Christy Philbrick scored three and Heather Sachau added one.

Allen out-rebounded Beemer, 36-27 as Tanya Plueger led the way with eight caroms while Chase had seven. The Eagles had 16 turnovers but forced 22.

Wayne City Rec

Men's City League basketball action continued last week at the City Auditorium in Wayne in all three leagues. In "A" league action team Two ran its record to 5-0 with a 70-67 victory over team Six.

Willy Gross scorched the nets for 51 points to lead the winners while Dan Gross scored six and Bill Melena added five. Team Six was led by Adam Mrsny with 22 points while Randy Korger poured in 21. Leif Olson finished with nine.

In the second game it was team Five narrowly defeating team Seven, 72-71. Troy Young poured in 29 points for the winners while Matt Jonas added 16 and Marty Jonas netted 13. Chad Metzler led team Seven with 23 points while Steve Sorensen netted 22. Scott Hammer was also in double figures with 19.

In the third game it was team Four defeating team One, 49-47. Chris Loofe led the way with 16 points while Monte Tilgner added 14. Stuart Clark was also in double figures for team Four with 10 points. Kelly Stallbaum led team One with 13 points while Dustin Pecena finished with 12 and Paul Dean added nine.

In "B" league action it was team Six defeating team Four, 62-45 as Brad Erwin led the way with 22 points while Steve Anderson netted 18 and Kevin Gade added 13. Tim Koll led team Four with 15 points while Bob Schoenherr added nine. Doug Carroll and Larry Wetterberg scored eight points apiece.

In the second contest it was team Three defeating team Seven, 61-53. Breck Giese led the winners with 23 points while Nick Hochstein added 19. Jim Lindau finished with eight. Brad Jones led team Seven with 18 points while Jeff Dion added 11 and Wayne Hinrichs scored 10.

In the third game it was team Two downing team One, 58-52. Mike Meyer paced the winners with 18 points while Jeff Zeiss added 11. Al Nissen and Al Walton each finished with eight points. Dan Ingwerson led team One with 17 points while Bob Keating and Randy Dunklau scored 10 apiece. Jeff Brandt tallied nine.

There will be no games on Tuesday so "B" league action will resume on Feb. 25.

In "C" league action last Wednesday it was team Two defeating team Three, 56-36. Dave Olson led the winners with 21 points while Glen Nichols added 11. Dale Jackson and Bill Blecke scored seven apiece.

Marion Arneson led team Three with 13 points while Denny Bowers and Pat Garvin scored eight each. In the last game, it was team Four defeating team One, 51-45. Bob Dyer paced team Four with 15 points while Brent Lessmann scored nine. Bob Kinney and Bob Nelson finished with eight apiece.

Team One was led by Jack Imdieke with 15 points while Ted Baack scored nine. Dan Loberg finished with six points and Craig Tiedtke netted five.

Jason Williams headlines list

24 gridiron recruits sign to play for WSC

The Wayne State football team recently received signings from 24 recruits to attend WSC to play for the gridiron Wildcats next fall. The following is a brief biography of each player signed which tells where they went to high school, what positions they will play and any honors received while in high school or junior college.

JASON WILLIAMS

Jason Williams of Omaha, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-1, 210-pound tailback sat out last year after transferring from Iowa State University and will be a sophomore at WSC in 1992. Williams, averaged 7.2 yards per carry on 19 rushes at Iowa State, including a 43-yard run against Nebraska in 1990. He led the Cyclones in punt returned (4-38, 9.5) and returned 12 kickoffs for 184 yards.

Williams led Creighton Prep to three consecutive state championships (1987-89) while earning all-Super State and all-metro honors. He rushed for 1,106 yards on 179 attempts (6.2 per carry) and scored seven touchdowns as a senior. He added 16 receptions for 310 yards and three TDs. He also lettered in basketball and track and field.

His brother, Gene, is an offensive lineman for the National Football League's Miami Dolphins.

"Jason is definitely an impact player," says Wayne State head coach Dennis Wagner. "He is big and strong with deceiving speed and great hands."

JIM BAUMAN

Jim Bauman of Falls City, Nebraska will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-3, 260-pound offensive/defensive lineman was a first-team all-state and all-conference performer at Falls City Sacred Heart High School. He also was a two-time placewinner in the state wrestling tournament.

"Jim is a very physical football player," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He is a big man who is still growing. Jim will be a great one!"

MATT BLETSCHER

Matt Bletscher of Falls City, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-5, 225-pound offensive/defensive lineman was a first-team all-state and all-conference performer at Falls City Sacred Heart High School in 1990-91. He also excelled in track and field at Falls City.

"Matt is one of the most dedicated high school athletes to come to Wayne State College," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He is a great leader and a hard worker who has great potential."

MIKE FEHRENGER

Mike Fehrenger of Bloomfield, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-9, 170-pound defensive back was a first-team all-state and all-conference performer at Bloomfield High School. His brother, Matt, is also a member of the Wayne State Wildcats.

"Mike has a great work ethic and should develop into a fine player" says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He comes from a family with a strong football tradition."

DAVE FINLAY

Dave Finlay of Omaha, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-2, 230-pound offensive/defensive lineman was a first-team all-division, second-team all-metro, and honorable mention all-state performer at Omaha Benson High School. Finlay is also a honor student.

"Dave is a very good athlete who could challenge for the varsity long-snapper spot as a freshman," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He played both ways for Omaha Benson and has great feet."

AARON HASS

Aaron Hass of Beemer, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-10, 170-pound running back/defensive back was a two-year all-state and three-year all-conference performer at Beemer High School. Hass also was part of two state champion mile relay teams.

"Aaron was a great eight-man player and will be a great 11-man athlete when he learns the system," WSC head coach Dennis Wagner says.

JOEL HIGGMAN

Joel Higman of Akron, Iowa will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-2, 235-pound offensive/defensive lineman was a standout at Akron-Westfield High School and will help add depth to the Wayne State College offensive line.

"Joel is a hard worker who should fit in well with our system," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner.

CHAD HOLLINGSWORTH

Chad Hollingsworth of Omaha, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-2, 200-pound defensive back had a stellar career at West Orange High School in New Jersey after leaving Omaha-Burke in 1988. He attended an academy school for the past two years.

"Chad is a very talented athlete who will battle for a starting position immediately," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He has the speed and size to become an outstanding defensive back."

JOHN JONIATIS

John Joniatas of Omaha, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-4, 240-pound offensive/defensive lineman was a first-team all-metro, and honorable mention all-state performer at Millard South High School. He also placed fifth at states in the discus as a junior.

"John has the potential to get very big, yet he has excellent agility," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He is a very physical football player who will dominate the line of scrimmage."

TODD MOHLER

Todd Mohler of Superior, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-2, 240-pound offensive lineman was a first-team all-conference performer at Superior High School. He also was a three-time state qualifier in the shot and discus.

"Todd has excellent quickness for a big man, and he has the ability to be a very good center or guard," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner.

KEN PORTER

Ken Porter of Omaha, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-1, 190-pound I-back/defensive end was a first-team all-division and all-metro performer at Omaha Bryan High School. He also earned second-team all-state honors and was named the team's most valuable offensive and defensive player.

"Ken is an outstanding athlete whose speed (4.5, 40-yard dash) is his greatest asset," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He will certainly add depth to our linebacking corp."

ZACH STREEPY

Zachary Streepy of Sioux City, Iowa will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-11, 180-pound place-kicker/punter was a first-team all-conference performer at Sioux City North High School. Streepy was also named the kicker for the Iowa All-Star game.

"Zach is an American-style soccer kicker with good leg strength for deep kickoffs and long-range field goals," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "Last season he ran a punt from his own end zone when the blocking broke down all the way for a touchdown."

PHIL TUPPER

Phil Tupper of Pawnee, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-6, 260-pound defensive lineman was a first-team all-state and all-area selection as a senior in 1990 at Pawnee City High School. Tupper was also a two-time all-conference selection, who originally came to WSC last fall but did not play football.

"Phil is going to be a big man with great athletic talent," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He wears size 15 shoes and has fingers so long you need a yardstick to measure them. He runs very well and loves the game. He could be very scary to opposing quarterbacks."

LARRY BOULTON

Larry Boulton of Brooklyn, N.Y. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-11, 200-pound defensive back earned honorable mention all-conference honors at Merced Junior College in California following a stellar career at Samuel G. Tilden High School in Brooklyn.

"Larry is a junior college transfer with the experience needed to help the Wildcat secondary," says WSC defensive coordinator Mark Gritton.

"Larry needs to come in and take over for Terry Bear, who was a two-time all-Nebraska free safety," says head coach Dennis Wagner.

MIKE COOPER

Mike Cooper of Honolulu, Hawaii will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-9, 175-pound wide receiver earned honorable mention all-conference honors at San Diego Mesa Junior College in California, and was also voted the Scholar Athlete of the year.

"Mike is strong, quick has great hands and a super attitude," says WSC offensive coordinator Keith Simons. "He will be an impact player as soon as he learns the system."

WILLIAM FEDERSON

William Federson of Las Vegas, Nev. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-1, 215-pound linebacker was a second-team junior college all-America at College of the Desert in California. He also earned first-team all-state and all-conference honors in 1989.

"Bill sat out last season, but is a proven competitor," says WSC defensive coordinator Mark Gritton. "He's a great athlete and is getting stronger every day. He'll be hard to keep out of the starting line up."

DANNY FERGUSON

Danny Ferguson of Temple, Texas will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 5-10, 180-pound wide receiver was an all-conference selection in football, baseball, and track at Temple High School before attending Iowa Lakes Community College.

"Danny will be an impact player as soon as he learns the system," says WSC offensive coordinator Keith Simons. "He's fast and very strong to go along with soft hands and a great attitude."

WILSON HOOKFIN

Wilson Hookfin of New Orleans, La. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-0, 180-pound defensive back earned first-team all-conference and all-state honors at Antelope Valley Junior College in California. Hookfin also was an honorable mention junior college all-America.

"Wilson must come in and be an impact player at cornerback for our pass defense to improve," says WSC defensive coordinator Mark Gritton. "He has great speed, and excels in one-on-one coverage."

JEFF LEO

Jeff Leo of St. Paul, Neb. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-0, 230-pound linebacker transferred from Peru State College where he was a part-time starter for two seasons. He had a standout prep career at St. Paul High School.

"Jeff is a very physical player and possesses great speed," says WSC defensive coordinator Mark Gritton. "He helped the Bobcats (Peru St.) make the playoffs two straight seasons."

ADONICE NUNN

Adonice Nunn of Racine, Wis. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-4 330-pound nose guard was a first-team all-conference performer at the College of DuPage (IL) Junior College. He also earned first-team offensive and defensive line all-conference honors in high school.

"Adonice is a very big man who is also an excellent athlete," says

WSC head coach Dennis Wagner. "He possesses excellent strength and quickness, and should take over the starting nose guard position immediately."

OBIAJUNWA ONUJIOGU

Obiajunwa Onujiogu of Carver, Mass. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-6, 350-pound defensive lineman transferred from Springfield College, but has been out of football for the past two years. He is originally from Nigeria, and will have three year of eligibility at WSC.

"O.B. is the biggest man I've ever seen," says Wayne State head coach Dennis Wagner. "With three years of eligibility remaining, he is a great prospect that could reap dividends down the road."

DAMON SCOTT

Damon Scott of Indianapolis, Ind. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-0, 180-pound defensive back earned honorable mention all-conference honors at Illinois Valley Junior College.

"Damon has good physical skills and will provide much-needed depth in the defensive secondary," says WSC defensive coordinator Mark Gritton.

DAMON THOMAS

Damon Thomas of Clovis, Calif. will continue his academic and athletic career at Wayne State College.

The 6-3, 200-pound wide receiver was an all-state and all-conference kick-off returner for Fresno City Junior College.

"Damon has great size for a wide receiver and is one of the fastest players on the team," says Wayne State offensive coordinator Keith Simons. "he runs like a deer and will be a big-time player."

"Damon will make an immediate impact on our football team, and could extinguish Marlon's (Goolsby) receiving records," says WSC head coach Dennis Wagner.

Campbell presents paper Professor at conference

Dr. Paul Campbell, associate professor of criminal justice at Wayne State, presented a paper at the sixth annual Campus Violence Conference which started Feb. 5 in Baltimore, Md. The conference runs through Feb. 9.

The paper, "A Fraternity Response to Dating Violence on Campus," describes several things the Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Wayne State has done or is planning to do to address the problem of dating violence on college campuses.

Taking a proactive, leadership role in confronting dating violence, Tau Kappa Epsilon has modified its own policies, and has adopted a plan to sponsor campus education and awareness concerning dating violence. Tau Kappa Epsilon has also undertaken various activities to support the public education and awareness of Haven House, the local domestic violence and sexual assault agency for Wayne County.

Dr. Campbell, who came to Wayne State in 1980, earned his bachelor's degree from the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, and his master's and Ph.D. from Utah State University.

Racing along, remote control style

MEMBERS OF THE OVER THE WALL GANG, a radio control car club in northeast Nebraska, get one of many races underway during competition at the Wayne City Auditorium last Sunday. The organization, which meets on a regular basis, is part of a Nebraska network with teams from the Wayne area, Omaha and Grand Island.

Scientists add piece to puzzle

A technique developed in a University of Nebraska-Lincoln laboratory might someday lead to improved vaccines against pinkeye, a costly cattle disease, a UNL veterinary scientist said.

Pinkeye causes eye irritation and even blindness in severe cases. The culprits of this disease in cattle are bacteria called Moraxella bovis. The bacteria produce one or more toxins that enable them to invade the cornea and membranes of the eyelid, where damage can be severe, said Douglas Rogers, UNL veterinary science diagnostic and research pathologist. A different bacterial species causes pinkeye in humans.

Pinkeye research has slowed since the mid-1980s because scientists couldn't separate the toxin from the bacteria and maintain it for analysis, an important step for closer study, Rogers said.

Jeff Gray, a UNL veterinary science graduate student, appears to have solved the problem.

He created a nutrient broth that simulates the environment in which pinkeye bacteria thrive. Using techniques modified from other livestock disease studies, Gray then successfully separated and stabilized the pinkeye toxin.

This new technique might spur interest and improve funding for pinkeye research, Rogers said.

The ability to isolate the toxin will allow scientists to study and understand it more thoroughly.

"Ultimately, we hope this will lead to an improved vaccine," Rogers said. A vaccine incorporating the toxin could provide more effective immunity.

Better pinkeye vaccines are needed, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources scientist said.

Pinkeye is the third most costly disease for U.S. cattle producers. In 1976, it cost the livestock industry an estimated $150 million in treatment expenses and decreased rates of gain among infected calves, he said.

"You talk to veterinarians, cattlemen and ranchers in the field and they say (pinkeye) is important," said Rogers, a veterinarian in private practice before joining UNL.

Many cattle producers now vaccinate cows and calves for pinkeye. Some cattle producers have had good luck with these vaccines while others say they do no good, he said.

"In most cases it just lessens the severity and shortens the course of the disease," Rogers said.

No existing vaccine effectively delivers immunity to the eyes or tears to combat the bacteria before infection starts, Rogers said. Such a vaccine is needed in order to prevent pinkeye.

Gray's and Rogers' research was conducted in cooperation with Paula Cray, a former UNL veterinary scientist, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service's National Animal Disease Center in Ames, Iowa, as well as IANR's Agricultural Research Division. Cray is a microbiologist and a lead scientist at the center.

Pflueger plans seminar

Bradley R. Pflueger, the Wayne representative for the financial-services firm Edward D. Jones & Co., will host a series of seminars for area business owners beginning Thursday, Feb. 27, with a presentation titled "Alternative Sources of Financing."

"So many business owners I know want to see their businesses grow, but they feel constrained by a lack of capital," Pflueger said. "Although small-business loans from traditional sources have become more elusive, there are attractive alternatives out there if you know where to look. This program will profile some of those alternatives."

The seminar, broadcast live via satellite from Jones' St. Louis, Mo., headquarters, will feature Bob Andrews of the Small Business Administration, Jim O'Donnell of Capital for Growth, and Dan Burkhardt of Jones' Investment Banking Department. The panel will discuss programs available through the Small Business Administration, sources of venture capital, taking a company public and much more. Because the program will be live, seminar guests will have an opportunity to address questions to the panelists.

Following the Feb. 27 broadcast, the seminar series will continue with a program titled "Tackling Rising Employee Benefit Costs" on May 12 and "For Business Owners Only: Critical Tax and Legal Issues" on July 23.

Edward D. Jones & Co. traces its roots to 1871. Today, with more than 1,700 offices in 48 states and the District of Columbia, it is the largest financial-services firm in the nation in terms of retail offices and is one of only a handful of firms to serve more than a million investors.

For more information on the Professional Education Network, contact Pflueger at (402) 375-4172. Her office is located at 300 Main Street.

Hoskins girl gets chosen

The Nebraska 4-H Incentive Program provides inspiration and motivation to many 4-H'ers. Members compete for County, District, State and National recognition by reporting their 4-H project achievements and accomplishments, as well as their leadership and citizenship activities.

This year 34 4-H'ers from eleven counties in the Northeast District participated in District Competition, according to Vickie Genoff, Northeast District 4-H Youth Specialist. Forty-six records were reviewed by the 1992 Award Judging Committee and over half of the records were selected to on to state competition this summer. One 4-H'er from Wayne County was nominated to represent the Northeast District in State Competition.

The judging committee was composed of volunteers and county staff from Holt, Knox, Madison and Dixon Counties.

District nominees will be eligible to compete in July for the opportunity to compete at the National level.

Wayne County's nominee, who was selected for her outstanding leadership, was Becky Appel, Hoskins, in the Horse and Swine areas.

WSC show continues

The planetarium show "Springtime of the Universe," is continuing at Wayne State College.

The shows, which are free and open to the public, are on Sundays, running through March 1, at 3:30 p.m., in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium, located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on the Wayne State campus.

The show includes a look backward through time to the beginning of the universe and forward to the time when the last stars will die and the universe will become dark, according to Carl Rump, director of the planetarium.

Special showings can be arranged by school groups and organizations by contacting Carl Rump, Wayne State College, (402) 375-7343.

Jury finds man guilty

A Wayne County District Court jury found Gary Quick, 48, of Winside guilty of sexual assault of a child, a Class II felony, Thursday in district court.

The 12 member jury, composed of nine men and three women, deliberated the case for over 4 1/2 hours Thursday before reaching the guilty verdict. The case stems from an incident which occurred between April 25, 1987 and April 9, 1988 in Winside in which Quick sexually assaulted a member of his family.

THE CASE was filed in the Wayne County District Court Sept. 24, 1991 by Wayne County Attorney Mike Pieper. The jury trial started Tuesday afternoon.

Sentencing in the case has been set for April 1, 1992 at 10:30 a.m. Judge Richard Garden has ordered a pre-sentence investigation prior to sentencing and an evaluation under the mentally disordered sex offenders act.

A Class II felony is punishable by a maximum of 50 years in prison or a minimum of one year in prison.

Management program on tap

Managing a farm with 1990 expenses on a 1970 income is the "Challenge of the Decade". Farm input prices have continued to rise annually. Fertilizer, Health, Energy, Equipment, Transportation, Family Living Cost, continually exceed expectations. Feel like you have lost control? Time to be refreshed. Come see us in Norfolk at Northeast Community College on Feb. 21 for the Third Annual Northeast Nebraska Farm Management Conference, 8:30 a.m.-4 p.m.

Now is the time to get your information current. Ten major farm areas will be addressed. Top presenters will provide usable, practical take-home and use material. Topics to be addressed are:

Medical Insurance: What should a person buy and why? What is excluded in the fine print?
Income Tax Issues: What's new? Why does the tax bill get bigger each year?
Estate Planning: What happens to the farm after you're gone? How do you plant it, so what you want, happens.
Returning to the Farm: Can you afford to start a son or daughter? Can you get started?
Opportunities for Beginning Farmers: How can you grow? How you can get help.
Marketing for Farmers, The Conservative Approach: How to take advantage of good prices and not lose your shirt.
Computer Family and Farm Accounting: A program you can learn to use in one day and it only costs $50.

Financial Standards in Ag: A way to measure where you stand financially. What needs to be changed, improved?
Nebraska Tax Issues: What are the possibilities? What are the costs? Will changes impact your farm?

Leadership Opportunities in Ag: How can you become involved? Learn the possibilities of how to have an impact on your community, state, and country.
Feb. 21 is fast approaching, make plans now to attend the third annual Northeast Nebraska Farm Management Conference to be held at Northeast Community College in Norfolk, 8:30-4 p.m. Keynote speaker, Sue Schlichtmeier Nutzman, will discuss Farm Family Relationships: How to keep on top of things and build a strong family. Dr. Roy Frederick, University of Nebraska Public Policy Specialist, will outline global opportunities for Nebraska farmers in the new Europe—life after the Soviet Union.

This conference addresses many of the major issues confronting farmers. Stretching dollars to cover expenses will continue to be the challenge facing Nebraska farmers. Knowledge of current tools and information will keep you on the cutting edge. It will help you develop the skills you need to survive or prosper in farming.

For more information, contact Rod Patent, Wayne County Extension Agent at 402-375-3310 or Wayne Erickson, Northeast Community College at 1-800-348-9033.

Weeds found in area are noxious

Director of Agriculture Larry Sitzman has declared spotted and diffuse knapweeds as state designated noxious weeds. The designation follows a recommendation from the Nebraska Noxious Weed Advisory Committee and a public hearing.

Geir Friisoe, supervisor of the Nebraska Noxious Weed Program, said that a survey conducted by the department's noxious weed field staff found nearly 3,000 acres of knapweeds in the state. The majority of the infestations were found in Holt and Antelope counties; smaller infestations were found in Banner, Cedar, Knox, Rock, Sheridan and Wayne counties.

Knapweeds are a threat to pastures, meadows and rangelands destroying valuable forage. Friisoe said that knapweeds are aggressive plants that have the ability to release chemicals that poison other plants, killing out and preventing competition from more desirable grasses and broadleaves.

Although knapweeds are relatively new to the state, other nearby states have found these knapweeds for many years. Montana reports average losses at $4.45 million due to knapweeds.

Dave Boschult, the northeast district noxious weed inspector, said that landowners will be required to control or manage knapweed infestations on land they own or control. The county weed superintendent can issue fine notices up to $1,500 or force control the infestation and bill the landowner if voluntary control is not achieved. Local county weed superintendents are trained professionals and are willing to work with the public on noxious weed problems, Boschult said.

The northeast district that Boschult is responsible for has a number of spotted and diffuse infestations, and county weed superintendents are taking them seriously given the history of the week in neighboring states and the damage they can cause.

"I have watched these infestations grow bigger every year taking more and more land out of production. I'm glad we'll be meeting this problem head-on before it gets any bigger. We have a lot of work cut out for us this next summer," said Boschult.

The federal government is also concerned about the knapweed problem. In 1991, they began initial releases of biological control agents in a number of northern counties. Dave Boschult found these parasites (seed head fly) at a number of sites this summer. "We found them hundreds of miles from the release sites so it is unclear if they arrived naturally or if they moved this long distance from the release sites. Mr. Boschult said, "I found the seed head fly in knapweed infestations in Antelope, Knox and Pierce counties. The level of parasites in knapweed in Antelope County was higher than in Knox or Pierce counties. The heads where the parasites were found had few, if any, seeds present. I was surprised and pleased to find these parasites in the knapweed heads."

News Briefs

Benefit held for Hoskins couple

HOSKINS - A large crowd attended a benefit dinner and auction on Feb. 9 for Pete and Sharon Peter of Hoskins, who lost their home in a fire last November.

The event was sponsored by Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 439 of Hoskins and was held in the Trinity Lutheran fellowship hall. An auction of donated items followed with Richard Doffin Sr. and Roger Langenberg serving as auctioneers.

The Aid Association for Lutherans will match up to $1,500 of the proceeds from the benefit.

Wakefield native awarded scholarship

WAKEFIELD - Wakefield native Karla Stelling Schlimgen has been awarded $8,463.75 from the Olive Aistroppe Lamb Scholarship Fund for this school year at the University of Nebraska Medical Center in Omaha. The funds pay Karla's tuition and mandatory fees in the School of Medicine where she is a senior.

The Olive Aistroppe Lamb Scholarship is awarded to Wakefield High School graduates who attend the University of Nebraska School of Medicine or School of Nursing.

Beef Expo and Trade Show in area

AREA - The Greater Nebraska Beef Exposition and Trade Show is coming to Columbus Feb. 26-27 at the Platte County Ag Park.

The show provides the opportunity for beef producers and livestock feeders to get a look at the latest and best in quality products from 35 to 50 exhibitors with a variety of products and services for the beef industry.

Huron names Wayne student to list

Dr. Tom Barket, vice-president for academic affairs at Huron University, recently announced that Jean Hansen of Wayne has been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester with a 4.0 grade point average.

Huron University is located in Huron, S.D. with branch campuses in London, England and Sioux Falls, S.D.

Wakefield student on USD's Dean's List

Matthew Carl Anderson was among the 354 students in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of South Dakota to have been named to the Dean's List for the fall semester.

Anderson, who graduated from Wakefield High School, earned a perfect 4.0 grade point average for the semester.

Professor displays art

Dr. Pearl Hansen, associate professor of art at Wayne State College, has had two paintings accepted for display in the Fred Wells 16, 12-state juried exhibition at the University of Nebraska Wesleyan's Elder Gallery.

Exhibition dates are Feb. 16 through March 26.

She will also be giving a presentation on "Environmental Hazards in the Classroom," at the EMC In-Service Day today (Monday) in Blair. It is a conference in-service for educators, grades seven through 12.

Dr. Hansen, who came to Wayne State in 1976, earned her bachelor of fine arts in education degree from Wayne State College, her master's degree from Kansas State University and her Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Providence plans screening program

Providence Medical Center, in conjunction with the Wayne Chapter of the American Heart Association and Saint Luke's Regional Medical Center in Sioux City, Iowa, will sponsor a cholesterol screening program on Feb. 25, 26 and 27 from 7 to 11 a.m. at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

results and so can be consumed anytime.
 The cholesterol profile will include total cholesterol, HDL or "good" cholesterol, LDL or "bad" cholesterol, triglycerides and an estimated risk factor for heart disease based on the results. Pamphlets will be available on risk factors; nutrition and other heart related issues. The cost of this program is $7. Payment will be required upon registration.

Persons participating in this program will be required to fill out a short registration form prior to having their blood drawn by venipuncture. For accurate results, participants should abstain from alcohol 24 hours prior to testing and from food 12 hours prior to testing. Water will not affect test

Because of the low cost and popularity of this program, PMC is asking that participants allow at least 15 or 20 minutes for completion of registration and venipuncture procedures.

Contest has local girl competing

Kimberly Liska, daughter of Dr. Ken and Jan Liska of Wayne, has been selected finalist for Nebraska's 12th annual homecoming queen selection to be held May 9-10 at the Omaha Marriott.
 Liska is the Wayne High School homecoming queen. Nebraska's homecoming queen will receive a cash scholarship plus an expense paid trip to compete with queens from the other states for America's homecoming queen in July at the Disneyland Hotel and Convention Center in Anaheim, Calif. America's homecoming queen will receive a cash scholarship plus an expense paid educational trip to Europe.
