DeMarus "De" Carlson, Crofton, announced her candidacy Wednesday to seek election to the District 19 seat in the Nebraska Legislature.

Recently reorganized, District 19 includes all of Cedar and Dixon Counties, and parts of Knox, Pierce and Wayne Counties. The position and Wayne Counties. The position is being vacated by the current of-fice-holder, Sen. Elroy Hefner, R-Coleridge. He is leaving the Legislature after 16 years of service.

"I want to continue the tradition established by Senator Hefner, to work hard for the 19th District,"

Filings short as deadline nears

Incumbents seeking re-election to office have only a few more days to file.

That's the word from Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn. While a number of individuals have filed for re-election to various boards in Wayne County, a number have yet to do so.

The filing deadline for incumbents is Thursday, Feb. 27. Filing deadline for non-incumbents is March 13.

Village boards and councils in Wayne County have had a number of people file for election.

IN CARROLL, there are three positions up for election. Positions open are those currently held by Sue Gilmore, Richard Hitchcock and Sharon Junck. By Thursday, Gilmore had filed for re-election and two non-incumbent filings have been received from Terry G. Davis and Roger Reikofski.

On the Winside board, there are two positions open and two are two positions open and two candidates have filed for re-election. Nancy Warnemunde and Darci Frahm have both filed to retain their seats.

Positions open on the Hoskins Village Board are those held by Patricia Brudigan and Ken Elkins. So far, no election papers have been filed.

In Sholes, there are three positions up for election and all three incumbent candidates — G.H.

More filings:

Two candidates have filed for election with the Wayne County Clerks office.

Daniel C. Jaeger, an incumbent, has filed papers to seek a second term to the Winside School District 95R board. He filed Thursday, Feb. 20 for the four year term. Filing for the Carroll Village Board was Terry G. Davis, a non-incumbent. He filed for the four-year term Thursday, Feb. 20.

Nelson, Tom Bauer and Marvin Beardshear — have all filed papers to seek re-election. At this point, all three are running unopposed.

Positions on the Wayne City
Council up for re-election are in each of the four wards. By Thurs-day, Darrel Fuelberth and Ralph Barclay have filed to retain their seats in the second and third ward, respectively. Yet to file are Stanley Hansen and Jane O'Leary, who hold seats in the first and fourth wards, respectively.

ON SCHOOL boards, in Wayne County, there are also some candidates which have not yet filed to seek re-election.

Course offers unique setting

By Mark Crist Managing Editor

A class required of all home economics students at Wayne State College not only provides a unique opportunity for students but for families with young children.

The early childhood development course provides students hands-on experience in dealing with home day care operations, as well as pre-schools, according to Director Margaret Hansen. The program has enrollment for 24 children and 14 college students. It is geared for 3- to 5-year-olds. For families, it costs only $25 per semester but enrollment is limited.

CURRENTLY, children are being enrolled for 1995 and there are waiting lists for 1992, 1993 and 1994. Because of strong public in-terest, it's difficult to provide ser-vices to all the families who have children they would like to get into the program. "It's real unique in the fact that it gives students a chance to see that there is a difference" between 3-year-olds, 4-year-olds and 5-year-olds, Hansen said. "In this situation, we don't force them to do anything. If we have one child who doesn't want to take part in an activity, we tell them that they have to sit back and watch. After a while, that child usually realizes that the rest of the class is having fun and then they

Hansen describes the atmosphere of the Child Development Learning Center as "relaxed." She said it is not as structured as most home pre-school programs be-cause it works better for the col-lege students and the children who

ONE NICE thing about Wayne State's program is that it gets a youngster ready for pre-schools. Local pre-schools also utilize college students who have worked at the center as interns. After young-sters have been through the program for a year or two, Hansen recommends to parents that they enroll their child in a pre-school program.

Since there is a waiting list, Hansen helps parents determine whether youngsters are ready to be enrolled. She said on most oc-casions, parents have been very willing to work with them.

"There's been a few instances where the child just wasn't ready," she said. "I had one instance where the parent just pulled their child out and decided to wait a semester. We did that and the semester. We did that and the child had*ño problems at all.

"Most often, they'll visit with you and we'll talk about things. We had one situation where we left the child in and took it easy and it was just like overnight the child was ready. We don't force them to do anything."

FOR THE COLLEGE student, there are two things the program emphasizes. The first is that each child is a unique individual. The second is that all behavior is caused.

Hansen said college students reap benefits because it allows them to learn how children behave. For students majoring in el-ementary or secondary education, the program provides the opportunity to learn something about young children they can carry with them into their educational practices. That's important if the col-lege student ends up teaching about child development.

"It helps college students be more understanding," Hansen said. 'I've had students come in who are actually afraid of the kids. But once they come in and start working with the kids, they aren't as afraid of the kids. It creates better feelings toward little children."

Couple dies in mishap near Laurel

A two-car accident Thursday has claimed the lives of two Laurel residents.

Melvin E. Manz, 82, and his wife Iva B. Manz, 76, of Laurel, were killed when the car they were in was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Myra L. Heegle, 49, of Randolph.

According to Cedar County Sheriff Elliot
Arens, the Manz were headed westbound on U.S. Highway 20 approximately 2.5 miles west of Laurel, near where a Burlington Northern train derailed Sunday.

ARENS SAID although the accident is still under investigation, it is believed the Manz vehicle was at a standstill on the road while the couple was reviewing the wreckage of the train when Heegle's vehicle ran into the back end of the Manz vehicle. Arens said neither of the Manz were wearing seat belts but Heegle was.

Arens said Heegle reported that Mr. Manz, who was driving, was leaning in the direction of the wreckage.

Wayne and Dixon County residents may or may not be aware of the changes in legislative districts as a result of LB 614, passed by the Nebraska Legislature in 1991.

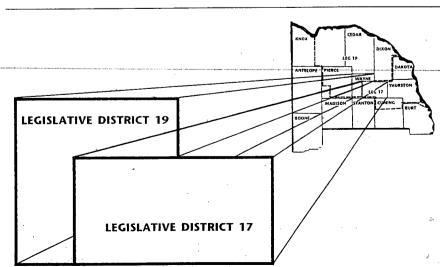

The bill became law without the signature of Gov. Ben Nelson on June 12, 1991. It shifts many of the legislative districts in northeast Nebraska as a result of the 1990 census. Counties shifted include Wayne and Dixon Counties.

The change in boundary lines affecting Wayne County resulted in the Garfield, Hoskins and Wilbur Precincts being shifted into the 19th Legislative District.

PREVIOUSLY the Sherman and Deer Creek Precincts in Wayne County were in Legislative District 19. The Garfield, Hoskins and Wilbur Precincts were previously in Legislative District 17.

Towns affected by the redistricting process include Carroll, Sholes and Hoskins. Those three villages are now voting on the District 19 senator as their represen tative. Before, only Carroll and Sholes were in District 19.

Adkins selected national youth safety coordinator

Betsy Adkins of Laurel has been selected as the national youth safety coordinator by the National Safety Council at the Feb. 15-18 conference in Orlando, Fla. The selection was made follow-ing extensive interviews and review of applications from youth period of applications from youth nominated by national youth organizations, including FFA, FHA, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H, FBLA, Camp Fire Girls, VICA, AIC and DECA.

Miss Adkins was the national 4-H representative and has estab-lished an impressive safety record with that organization and the Girl Scouts.
In 1990 she was named the National Safety Winner at National Club Congress in Chicago, the National Presidential Scholar, and in 1991 became the national youth representative to Safety Congress in New Orleans.

THE TWO-YEAR term as Safety Council youth coordinator brings challenges to implement safety programs for the nation's youth and to work with the youth activi-ties division of Safety Council to plan the 1992 National Safety Congress in Orlando, Fla. and serve as the 1993 youth consultant.

Diseases of the heart and blood vessels, including heart at-tack and stroke, are the leading causes of death in the United States," says Kris Ciese, president of the Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association

Giese adds that nearly one million Americans die each year due to cardiovascular diseases.

Extensive studies have identified several factors that increase the risk of heart attack and stroke. No single factor causes heart disease, however the more risk factors involved the greater the chances of developing it.

Some risk factors cannot be changed. For example, heart disease can be hereditary. Black Americans tend to develop cardio-

Being a male is another risk fac-tor, and older people have a greater tendency toward heart disease.

OTHER RISK factors, however, can be changed and the AHA focuses on the following:

---Cigarette smoking is the most preventable cause of death and the most significant risk factor for heart attack. Cigarette smoking puts extra strain on and causes temporary changes to your heart. It also causes a shortage of oxygen in your heart. So if you don't smoke, don't start. Quit if you do.

—High blood pressure. Blood pressure is the force exerted by the heart when it pumps blood through the arteries. It's too high if you have a series of readings over 140/90. The fist number, called systolic, is the pressure while your heart beats or contracts. The second, diastolic, is the pressure in the arteries while your heart is fill-ing and resting between beats. Have your blood pressure checked eating a healthful diet, exercising regularly and limiting how much sodium you use. You also may need to take medicine.

—High blood cholesterol. Cholesterol is a fat-like substance found in human and animal tissue. The higher your blood cholesterol level, the more likely that fats and cholesterol will build up in your artery walls. This process is called atherosclerosis. It slows blood flow or blocks off blood versels comor blocks off blood vessels com pletely, causing either a heart at-

Mentors in program are pairing people up

A program designed to encourage Nebraska high school students to enter scientifically related fields is being promoted by 4-H, according to Ken Schmidt, 4-H and youth development specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

The "Mentors in Science" program will allow his Science for the school street will allow his science in the school street.

gram will allow high school students with scientific aptitude to perform research projects, gain scientific knowledge and apply for college credits based on their work, Schmidt said.

Mentors in Science is an out.

Mentors in Science is an out-Mentors in Science is an out-reach program for the University's NULAB honors program that brings students and UNL faculty members together. NULAB, directed by for-mer biochemistry department head Herman Knoche, is a joint academic program offered by the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Agricultural Sci-ences nd Natural Resources allowing high school students to gain up to six college credits.

University faculty mentors are recruited to work with the students, who must submit a research proposal prior to beginning the program. The mentor will advise, provide support and award the college credits if deserved. Several students already have inquired or applied for the program, Schmidt said, adding that the program is not limited to students living close to UNL. While Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources professors will serve as mentors, research projects can be carried out at any of the University's research and extension centers, as well as other locations across the state. The role of the faculty member as an advisor to faculty member as an advisor to the student is completely volun-tary, Schmidt said.

Schmidt said that while the program is being promoted through 4-H, it is not limited to 4-H participants.

"What is important is that the capable students become aware of capable students become aware or exciting opportunities at UNL.

These students, through the NU-LAB and Mentors programs, are going to have the opportunity to learn scientific research methodists and expand their knowledge in their particular interest area," Schmidt said.

Applications for the Mentors in Science program can be obtained from any local extension office or from the state 4-H department at

Trojans get a taste of sweet revenge

As the Wakefield Trojans found out Friday night, revenge can be so sweet.

Playing host to Homer High School, Wakefield avenged a loss they suffered to Homer two weeks ago by dumping the visitors 71-65.
Hitting 10-for-12 free throws in the fourth quarter before a full-house crowd, the hosts began to pull away from Homer, outscoring their opponents 27-18 for the final quarter of the game. But that ad-vantage seemed far away when-the Trojans started the game.

To start the contest, Wakefield found themselves down 18-8 at one point, slowly fighting their way back into the contest to end the first quarter down by four at 22-18. In the second quarter, Wakefield moved ahead for a halftime score

"Actually, we started to get going late in the first half and it carried over into the second half," Wakefield Coach Brad Hoskins said. "When we found ourselves down 18-8 with 2:19 left in the first quarter, we took a time out. By the close of the half, we had outscored Homer 22-9."

Leading scorers for Wakefield were Marcus Tappe with 20, Anthony Brown with 19 and Dalton Rhodes with 16. Steve Clark added eight in the effort and Ben Dutton scored six. Jon Johnson rounded out Wakefield's scoring with two. For the contest, Wakefield shot 15-for-21 from the stripe. Homer went 11-for-22.

"The biggest play was in the fourth quarter when Homer got called for a blocking foul and then got called for a technical," Hoskins said. "We made two of the four free throws and we followed it with a jump shot."

At that point, the home crowd almost blew off the roof to Wake-field's gymnasium. With the game knotted in most categories (both teams finished with 23 rebounds and each team suffered 11 turnovers), the turnaround pleased the Wakefield coach.

At this point in the season, Homer and Wakefield have met three times with the Trojans holding a 2-1 advantage. If Wakefield gets by Ponca Tuesday night, then the Trojans may face Homer again in sub-districts.

"Anytime you get a win like this one, it builds momentum," Hoskins said. "We've been playing well since mid-January and we're hoping that continues."

Eagles lose close one Wynot 53-48

Jeff Schoning's Allen High School basketball team was nick and tuck all the way with Wynot Friday night, but rather than tucking a win under their belt, they got nicked 53-48.

The contest was close most of The contest was close most of the way as Wynot took a 15-8 lead after one period only to find themselves up by two at halftime 23-21. In the third period, each team scored 14 points but in the fourth quarter, Wynot edged Allen with 16 points to the Eagles' 13. "Our shooting percentage hurt us," Allen Coach Jeff Schoning said. "I thought we played a good game

"I thought we played a good game but we had a number of shots rim out and we were 3-of-16 from the three point area. It wasn't that we were taking bad shots, we just didn't get them to fall."

For the game, Allen shot 33 percent from the field to Wynot's

45 percent. In all other categories, however, Allen was paced ahead of their guests.

From the charity stripe, the Eagles went 5-for-14 to Wynot's 1for-9; rebounding the hosts took the edge 36-30 and Allen had fewer turnovers (17) than Wynot

(19). Scoring for the Eagles was led by Jason Reuter, Curt Oswald and Brad Greenough, each with nine. Brian Nelson and Lane Anderson each had seven. Casey Schroeder had four and Chris Sachau had three to round out the Eagles'

Leading rebounders for the Ea-gles were Anderson with 12 and Oswald with nine.

Wayne finds deficit to be too much, Pierce gets win

Although Pierce scored only one field goal in the fourth quarter, it was more than enough to down the Wayne Blue Devils Friday night as the Blue Jays won the contest 65-44.

That's not to say, however, that Wayne didn't have Pierce scared. Heading into the fourth period, Pierce held a comfortable 49-28 lead. But with 2:29 left, Wayne pulled to within 10 at 51-41.
Despite a strong defensive

Despite a strong defensive fourth quarter effort, the Blue Devils couldn't catch up. They found themselves forced to foul down the stretch and five players ended up fouling out of the contest. Pierce was also able to fend off the Blue Devil's threat by nailing most of their 12-for-20 fourth quarter free throws within the 2-minute mark of the game.

"Regg (Carnes) played really well and it hurt us when he fouled out," Wayne High Coach Bob Uhing said. "It got down to where a number of people were fouling out. The key to the game was their ability to hit free throws late."

If there was any element that was an Achilles heel for Wayne, it was their shooting from the charity stripe.

To start the game, the Blue Devils missed went 1-for-8 from the line. In the first half, they went 6-for-14 and for the game, they finished 8-for-17. Pierce finished the game 23-for-36 from the charity stripe.

charity stripe.

In the second half, Pierce committed very few fouls. By the time is was 3:41 in the third period, and Pierce ahead 43-20, "Wayne had recorded its seventh team foul, putting the Blue Jays into the bonus category. Wayne didn't get any bonus shots from their opponents in the half nents in the half.

"We needed to come out hard and start competing" in the second half, Uhing said. "We didn't com-pete until we put the sophomores

"In the fourth quarter we had a chance to win it. But they started to hit their free throws and we missed a couple of shots. I was real pleased with the effort in the fourth quarter."

Wayne State football team holds annual awards dinner

WAYNE - The Wayne State Football team held its annual football awards banquet last Saturday in the North Dining Room of the Student Center. Those in attendance were parents, family mem-bers, coaches and other dignitaries associated with the football pro-

The master of ceremonies for the evening was Kit Lathrop of Phoenix, Ariz. He was a profes-sional football player in the Na-tional Football League and the United States Football League. Lathrop spoke about goal-setting, being committed to those goals and to have the faith that one can achieve those goals.

The following are reward recipients: Jason Wood, offensive scout team player; Jeremy Hook, defen-sive scout team player; Adam Va-lencia, work ethic award, offense; Scott Vokoun, work ethic award, defense; Marlon Goolsby, most valuable player award, offense; Terry Beair, most valuable player award. defense: and Kleespies, commitment to excel-lence award. Wildcat players voted on award recipients.

After three quarters, Winside found themselves ahead of their guests 42-26 but in the fourth quarter, Newcastle scorched the nets with 25 points to Winside's 11.

They're a team that normally doesn't shoot a lot of 3-pointers," Pospisil said. "But in the fourth quarter they were shooting quite a few threes. We missed some free throws at the end but we still played well."

For the game, Winside went 12-

11 from the charity stripe.

But Miller also dominated the boards, pulling down 15 rebounds while teammate Shelton pulled in 11. Winside won the battle of the boards 47-35.

"I think this win gives the kids a ot of confidence heading into districts," Pospisil said. "It will make them believe that they can play with good teams."

With the win, Winside's record climbs to 4-11 on the season.

Schuyler upends Wayne girls

After falling behind 8-0 after the first quarter and 24-10 at the half, the Wayne High School girls basketball team had their work cut out for them in the second half but Schuyler proved to be too strong Thursday night, downing the Blue Devils 61-33.

Schuyler jumped out quickly in the third period by scoring 22 points to Wayne's seven and that left the Blue Devils in a hole from which they couldn't recover. The Blue Devils outscored Schuyler 16-15 in the fourth period 15 in the fourth period.

According to Wayne High Coach Marlene Uhing, it took the Blue Devils too long to adjust their defense to start the third period.

"They got a couple easy baskets to their 6'3" and 6'1" girls inside," the Wayne High coach said. "If we had started well in the third period, we would've been all right."

Schuyler, rated second in gitls Schuyler, rated second in gifts Class B in the state, boasts sisters Jacci Miratsky, a 6'3" senior center, and Janelle Miratsky, a 6'1-8' sophomore forward. To win the game, the Blue Devils needed to stop that pair, Uhing said.

"I didn't think that we played very well," she said. "Offensively, weren't really aggressive.

Against a rated team, that can really put you behind."

Wayne State professor receives Lions certificate

Dr. Fred Webber, a professor of mathematics at Wayne State College, has been awarded the Lions International Certificate of Appreciation at the Nebraska Lions District 38-B Midwinter Convention held in Plattsmouth on Feb. 2

Webber won the award "in recognition of exemplary involve-ment in meeting the service objectives of the International Association of Lions Clubs."

The certificate, which is signed by Lions International President Donald E. Banker, was presented by Lions International Director Dr. William West of Clemson, N.C.

Webber has been an active member of the Wayne Lions Club for 18 years. During that time, he has served as president, vice-president, secretary and member of the board of directors. He is also club historian, a position he has held for over a decade.

Beyond the local club level, Webber has been zone chair and presently serves as region chair, an office involving work with 10 Lions Clubs in eastern Nebraska. Webber has been club delegate to three Lions International Conventions: in Chicago in 1980; Denver, 1988 and St. Louis, 1990.

In addition to his service in official capacities, Webber has been involved in virtually every major club activity: Jaws of Life, candy sales, diabetes drives, sight and hearing conservation, Lions Club Park, talent contests, athletic competitions, and Lions Mobile Screening Unit petitions, an Screening Unit.

Dr. Webber has been married to his wife Connie, a professor of music at Wayne State, for over 23 years. The couple has two children: Susan, 16 and Steve, 14.

may be in that condition because the dry fall delayed germination, Wysong said. Nothing can be done except to wait and see how the stands survived the winter, then make a decision on whether to re-plant with a different crop, he said.

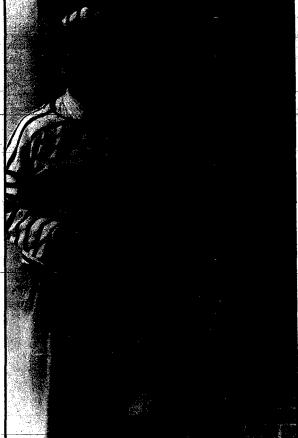

Wheat also is the crop mostly likely to show weed effects from the winter, said Alex Martin, weeds specialist. That's because spring weeds will thrive in thin, slowgrowing stands damaged during the winter, he said.

"Otherwise, the spring and summer weather will have a bigger effect on weed populations," Martin said. "We'll probably have weeds this year like we do every year. But since it always happens, they don't catch people by surprise like some of the other things do."

He found an empty place. He then looked down upon this earth and saw your tired face. He put his arms around you and tace. He put his arms around you and iffed you to rest. God's garden must be beautiful. He always takes the best. He saw the road was getting tough and the hills harder to climb. He closed your weary eyes and whispered "Peace to thine." It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone. For part of us went with you the day God called you home. Our heartfeld thanks to our relatives and friends for the many relatives and friends for the many expressions of love and sympathy we received during the illness and death of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Dean Bruggeman Sr. Thank you to all who called, sent flowers, cards, memorials and food. Special thanks to Dr. Bob Benthack, nurses, Sister Gertrude and Pastor Tom Mursick for being there in our special time of need with prayers, love and comforting words. Special thanks to the American Legion Post #54, Laurel Fire Department and Rescue Squad. May God bless you all.
