Area man takes run for office

Long-time Carroll farmer Donald Liedman has filed to seek the District 19 Legislative seat held by retiring Sen. Elroy Hefner, R-Corlidge.

Liedman, 50, is a native of the Randolph-Carroll area, where he has engaged in farming and livestock feeding all his life. He is a graduate of Randolph High School and he attended the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

Liedman, a Republican, has been active in the community. He served as a 4-H leader for 11 years, and 16 years as assistant livestock superintendent in charge of the Wayne County 4-H beef show. He was a member of the local school board, and he has served as president of the Wayne County Farm Bureau. He was on the Farm Bureau's board of directors from 1984 to 1991.

He currently serves on the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Committee.

THE DISTRICT 19 candidate was voted the Wayne County Jaycees Outstanding Young Farmer for 1973 and took runner-up honors in the state competition that year. In 1985, he was honored for his outstanding service to agriculture by Wayne State College and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce.

Liedman says he considers himself a fiscal conservative.

"In visiting with people in this district, some of the more pressing concerns seem to be the state's tax dilemma, the rising costs and availability of health care to rural Nebraskans and holding the line on state spending and government growth," he says. "I share some of these same concerns and believe it's time we 'pull in the horns,' so to speak, on spending and growth of our state government. I will not be a stranger to my constituents. I will be in touch with the feelings and the wishes of the people in District 19."

Many posts up for grabs

A number of candidates have filed for offices in Dixon County, ranging from positions on the county board of supervisors and school districts to village and city boards.

Shaping up to be one of the most contested races in the county appears to be for supervisor of the sixth district, which is the City of Wakefield in the Wakefield precinct. In that district, incumbent Dale Anderson will be challenged by Alfred B. Benson and Deloy E. Benne, both of Wakefield.

By Tuesday, incumbent candidates Palmer Lund in District 2 and Dorothy Mattes in the fourth district were running unopposed to retain their seats on the county board of supervisors. No other filings had been registered with the Dixon County Clerk's office for county positions. District 2 is in the Newcastle and Ponca areas (excluding Ponca) and District 4 is in the Concord and Dixon areas.

IN THE CITY of Wakefield, some interesting races appear to be taking shape. In Ward One, incumbent Alfred Benson will be squaring off against non-incumbent Larry D. Murfin.

In Ward Two, Ted Helberg and Sidney D. Preston, both non-incumbent candidates, will square off for the position currently held by Fred Salmon, who has yet to file for re-election.

Running to represent the Village of Allen are Tim Hill, Richard Bupp and Dwight Johnson, all non-incumbents. By Tuesday, they were running unopposed for three openings.

Running to represent the Village of Dixon are LeRoy Bathke, Marvin Nelson and Leo Garvin, all incumbent candidates. By Tuesday, all three were running unopposed.

Seeking additional terms on the Concord Village Board are Ray Stohler, Victor Carlson and Steve Martindale, all incumbents. By Tuesday, all three were running unopposed.

ON THE Wakefield School Board, there are three openings. Incumbents Sanford K. Otte and Michael Salmon are incumbent candidates and Richard L. Puls is a non-incumbent.

On the Allen School Board, incumbents Diane M. Blohm and Myrna McGrath are seeking re-election. However, there are three openings for the board and by Tuesday, only two candidates had filed.

The filing deadline for incumbents is today (Thursday) and the filing deadline for non-incumbents is March 13.

Chief lists activity in 1991

During an annual report delivered to the Wayne City Council Tuesday night, Wayne Fire Chief Dutch Sitzmann had a chance to show his pride in the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department.

In 1991, the WVFD responded to 38 fires, which accounted for 1,743 plus man hours. During the September fire at Geno's Steakhouse, the department received 146 plus man hours of mutual aid.

The department also responded to mutual aid in a call to Wakefield for the Big Red Farms fire in January. For that, the department deployed 84 plus man hours of aid.

DURING 1991, fire loss and damage amounted to $324,810. Major losses included the Golf Course Club House fire early in the year, estimated at $45,000 and the Geno's Steakhouse fire totalling $240,000. The department also battled the Wiseman's bunkhouse fire totalling $11,500.

The department's extrication team responded to five car accidents, accounting for 62 plus man hours of service.

"While there were damages and losses for 1991, it would be interesting to know how much property was saved," Sitzmann said. "Unfortunately, no dollar amount is possible to estimate."

At the conclusion of his report, Sitzmann said the department's manpower is composed of 40 volunteers.

Two incumbents file papers for re-election

The Wayne County Clerk's office has received two more filings for re-election to public office.

Jane O'Leary, who is finishing her first term as a member of the Wayne City Council, filed papers for re-election Monday, Feb. 24. Currently she is running unopposed to retain her seat as representative

REFLECTIONS

As I sit along the lake and watch the sun fall beyond
I can see it all; the birds, the trees
all in one place.
The world always seems so busy,
so cluttered.
Here beside the lake I sit alone
it is all so harmonious and so alluring.
Everything looks so beautiful in a reflection of the water.
The water so smooth and still almost like a big mirror saying,

Mandee Glassmeyer

"Here, look at the peace and beauty,
Look at me!"
Now the sun is but a memory
As I stand and walk away
I think of the world
as a reflection, one beautiful reflection
And I think at that,
I shall leave it that way.

Lamere discusses election at WSC

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

A meeting Monday night featuring Frank Lamere, second associate chair of the Nebraska Democratic Party, intertwined a "Kerrey for President" theme with "Taking our Rightful Place in the Process."

The event was put on by the Young Democrats of Wayne State College.

Lamere, a native of South Sioux City, said he "is committed more than ever, like a number of other Native Americans, to see Bob Kerrey elected president."

He related his feelings toward the Kerrey for President ticket to a loosely translated quote from Chief Crazy Horse, saying, "Finding a man with a vision is like finding an Eagle that can fly into the deepest blue of the sky."

THROUGHOUT HIS presentation, Lamere said the public needs to get involved with the process. He said the public, and the perception it's been given from the media, hasn't provided a clear picture of who the top candidates are.

"Politics and the political process determines whether you live or die," Lamere said. "It determines whether we go to war. It determines if we fight the pollution problem. It determines how we work to solve the problem with the hole in the ozone layer. That's what politics is about: power."

Lamere suggested that if 100 percent of the public turns out to vote, there would be a different president in the White House. He also criticized President Bush for spending over $600 million for the bailout of the Savings and Loan Industry, while not providing adequate welfare at a cost of $6 million.

"We need to get a clearer picture of what's happening," Lamere said. "Sometimes we take what we hear for granted and never look into the situation. Maybe that's what's wrong with the political process. We never get the chance to formulate ideas in our mind about the candidate."

Group plans registration day

The Wayne State College chapter of the Young Democrats is hosting the county clerk's office for two days of voter registration on the college campus March 4-5.

Registrations will be taken in the lower level of the Student Center from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. both days and in the upper level of the Student Center from 4-6 p.m. both days.

The public of Wayne County can also come and register to vote at these times.

Light manager gives proposal

By Mark Crist
Managing Editor

The Wayne City Council has Ok'd a load management proposal presented by Light Plant Manager Gene Hansen.

Under the proposal, the city will purchase load controls at an estimated cost of $26,450. The program takes homes with central air conditioning and places them on a radio-controlled system, which will reduce the city's peak energy usage. The system is strictly voluntary at this point.

"The next phase we will need to fall into is getting information out to the customers, whether we do that through the media or one-on-one," Hansen said. "We're also planning to go to service clubs and churches to inform people about the program. We'll go anyplace where people meet."

DURING THE presentation Tuesday night, Hansen provided the council with a breakdown of estimated costs. It includes: a printer, $550; IBM compatible computer, $1,600; software valued at $4,000; metering interface equipment, $500; radio-controlled interface, $2,650; radio transmitter, $4,200; FCC licensing, $250; load switch, $10,600; test switch, $550; miscellaneous equipment, $100; installation expenses, $1,000; and miscellaneous expenses, $150.

Hansen said he believes this summer will be a test period. He said in the worst case scenario, it will be a $26,000 outlay for a $10-15,000 return. Currently, the city hopes to install 100 switches to homes in Wayne for property owners who request them.

IF DEMAND is greater than supply, Hansen said he expects that the city can come up with an additional number of switches. He said installation is free to the customer.

"Once installed to homes with central air, the customers' bill will not be affected measurably because of the small amount of time the switch will be activated," Hansen said.

Other business

In other matters, the City Council:

- Approved a $1,500 donation for Chautauqua.

- Approved Alan Jensen's rental bid for $62.80 per acre. The land being leased is located near Restful Knights, the sewer lagoon and Great Dane.

- Approved special liquor permits for the Wayne Eagles Club and the Black Knight.

- Approved the acceptance of the Well No. 10 project.

- Approved by resolution and ordinance the sale of land in lot one of McCright's First Subdivision to the City of Wayne to Spartan "8" for the purpose of constructing a $500,000, 41 unit motel. Building permits have been approved for the first phase.

- Approved an update of city building codes: life safety, uniform building, permit fees, plumbing code and electric code. The change in law brings the city up-to-date and raises fees.

- Dedicated a minute to the memory of former Wayne Fire Chief Ivan Beeks, who died recently.

Center recognizes efforts of Nebraskans at banquet

Neil Oxton and Drey Samuelson, leaders of the successful petition drive to place Initiative 300 on the ballot 10 years ago, will be honored at a dinner during the Center for Rural Affairs' annual meeting in Milford on Feb. 22.

Oxton was president of the Farmers Union of Nebraska in 1978 when he surprised even his own organization by proposing the petition drive to ban corporate farming after Prudential Insurance Company purchased several large farm properties in Nebraska in 1981. During the petition drive and the election campaign that followed, Oxton was principle spokesperson for Initiative 300. The measure passed by a margin of 56 to 44 percent.

Samuelson was administrative assistant to Oxton and coordinated the work of over 1,700 volunteer Circulators who collected over 56,000 valid signatures—more than enough to place the issue on the ballot. He also coordinated media for the election campaign.

Both men worked hard to involve urban as well as rural Nebraskans by including labor, church, and other urban groups in the petition drive and the election campaign.

The dinner will be a cap a day-long series of events as part of the Center's 19th annual meeting in the Welsh Center at Southeast Community College in Milford at 7 p.m. Ticket reservations at $6 are required. Call (402) 846-5428.

the third amount at 13 percent. Women participating in the programs fell into the smallest category with only 6.8 percent participating.

Activity participation is as follows:

Middle center, 100 participants; men's basketball, 105; ladies volleyball, 34; Co-Ed volleyball, 40; basketball (boys 7th and 8th), 25; basketball (girls 7th and 8th), 21;

Change helps

Some might complain that Sen. Gerald Conway of Wayne, who chaired the legislative redistricting effort last year was shrewd in his carving up of Wayne and Dixon counties into new legislative districts.

Precincts where Conway previously had not fared well in elections are now a part of someone else's legislative district. The result is that Wayne County is more strongly divided into separate districts and this divisiveness is seen by some as negative.

We're not so quick to condemn the result as we might be the process.

We don't see the result of halving the county in two districts as entirely negative. Wayne County, unlike many counties in the state, will have two strong voices in the legislature, not just one.

Even more dramatic will be the effect on the residents of Wakefield, whose town now straddles two legislative districts. When the mayor and council of Wakefield need something done in the legislature, they will now be able to call two different senators to carry their issue.

These advantages may not have been a part of the original intent of the legislative redistricting process, but they should be seen as benefits nonetheless.

Needed work

Although weather has been mild for much of this winter, temperature extremes appear to have taken their toll on Highway 35 between Winside and Hoskins. A stretch of Highway 35 between the two villages is in desperate need of repair. It's almost to the point of being dangerous for travel, especially for eastbound traffic.

Unfortunately, the State of Nebraska Roads Department has not listed it as a priority item, according to a recent report for roadwork planned in 1992.

We believe the Department of Roads will probably come in and do some minor patchwork, something which will get the stretch by until next year, when it's even worse.

Why should we have to wait to have our highways repaired, especially when Highway 35 between Hoskins and Winside is so heavily traveled by people commuting between Wayne and Norfolk and Sioux City and Norfolk?

We shouldn't. If Highway 35 is to become a major thoroughfare between Norfolk and Sioux City, we would like to encourage the Nebraska Department of Roads to conduct more permanent repair work until the time is ripe for the highway to be turned into a freeway.

We shouldn't have to wait until it crumbles to the point it's dangerous and unsafe for travel.

Statehood in doubt in 1866

One hundred and twenty-five years ago this month, there was a real question about whether Nebraska would become a state. In June of 1866, voters had narrowly approved a state constitution in a controversial election. The Nebraska constitution restricted suffrage to free white males. The question of voting rights for blacks had been debated in territorial legislatures around the country during the civil war, but was almost an academic question in Nebraska, where there were very few potential black voters.

When the constitution was reviewed in Washington, the Republican Congress was disappointed to see the restrictive clause. The bill to admit Nebraska as a state was amended, so that it would provide Nebraska entry to the Union only "with the fundamental and perpetual condition that...there shall be no abridgment of the exercise of the elective franchise or of any other right to any person by reason of race or color, excepting Indians not taxed." Further, Nebraska would be required "by a solemn public act...declare assent of said state to said fundamental condition." Once Nebraska agreed to the terms, it would be admitted to statehood without any further congressional action.

President Andrew Johnson, embroiled in controversy with Congressional factions, vetoed the bill on constitutional grounds. Congress promptly overrode the veto on Feb. 9.

By the Nebraska State Historical Society

"The solemn public act" took the form of Territorial Governor Alvin Saunders calling both state and territorial legislatures into session on Feb. 20, 1867. The body had to decide if it would accept the "fundamental condition." The legislature promptly passed the necessary act, which negated the restriction on voting in the original state constitution.

Now it was just a question of proving to Congress that Nebraska accepted the fundamental condition. No overnight express delivery in 1867. General John M. Thayer, who had acted as an intermediary between Congress and Nebraska territory, hand-delivered a certified copy of the Nebraska legislature's act to the U.S. capital.

On March 1, 1867, President Johnson signed the proclamation admitting Nebraska as the thirty-seventh state.

Thanks to all those generous folks

I have quite a few "thank you's" to give out this week to a number of individuals for their help in my recent effort to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

According to Jeff Pasold, who was the organizer of the local MDA Lock Up, I finished in second place in the fund raising efforts. My sincere thanks goes out to Bob Carhart, Lori Corollo, Dianne Jaeger, Deb Finn, Leon Meyer, Carol Brown, Lynda Cruickshank, Rod Patent, Jo Ostrander, Ellen Carlson and Farmers and Merchants State Bank and Jones Interchange. Each one of the individuals and businesses lent me their support for a good cause.

Besides, I didn't have to get locked up.

IN ALL, THERE WAS APPROXIMATELY $1,050 RAISED IN THE CAMPAIGN, WHICH INVOLVED A NUMBER OF individuals from the community. Jailbirds included myself, Beth Pasold, Ron Gentrup, Lorna Smith, Bob Keating, Curt Wilwerding, Joyce Reeg, Pete Chapman, Jeanette Frazer, Tim Koll, Joel Ankeny, Jacques Kinnert and Jeff Pasold.

Boy, what a bunch. Congratulations to all of them who donated their time and efforts in the campaign. I have to tell you, raising money isn't the easiest thing in the world to do, especially when you're as busy as I've been lately. I don't know if it was procrastination or forgetfulness (or a combination thereof), but I kept putting off raising funds until the day before the lock up.

(I think most of the people who donated to the cause did it because they either enjoyed watching me beg or they couldn't stand it.)

"Let's see, if I give this guy some

Shoot the guy who calls this fun

The next time you see a moving van heading down the road, whether it is a move-yourself rental truck or a professional crew of burly furniture wrestlers, please...please for me, doff your cap and say a little prayer for the family represented there.

For, you see, that moving van symbolizes a family at risk. It represents a family in turmoil; a family in confusion; a family which can't find its underwear.

Every moving van stands for a family which needs your prayers to survive the great American adventure known as moving. And while you're about it, throw in a prayerful word for the guy who coined the phrase, "An adventure in moving." He needs your help too. Because all the world over, families who are moving are heaping hot cursing coals on his head.

Adventures should be fun. Moving isn't that.

What it is, I have discovered, is the root cause of all of the modern problems with society. Crime, violence, drugs, moral decay, landfill overcrowding, yes, even the disappearing ozone, all can be traced to our transient nature.

Sociologists have been studying and conjecturing about the causes for all of our society's problems for years.

The answer is in a heavy cardboard box in the basement of the new Mann abode. It is marked "storage/miscellaneous." I'm afraid to open it. It represents the problems of a family in transition. Millions of families move every week in America. There's more moving going on now than ever in the Nation's history. Hence, there's more problems. How can we expect society to solve its problems when a big percentage of the population can't find its underwear.

Don't blame the educational system. Don't blame the government. Don't even blame the media. Relocation is the reason.

I'm not kidding, families who move are the root cause of society's ills. The country has been going down hill ever since we discovered the Oregon Trail and sent millions of families to California.

The proof is in a smattering of the following sound bites that were recorded at the Mann household this week.

"When are we going to leave?"
"When are we going to be there?"

"Hey, Mom, Guess what, Dad's lettin' us have candy for breakfast."
"When are you going to hook up the TV dad?"

"What do you mean the refrigerator won't fit?"

"Can you hook up the TV now dad?"

"We're sorry Mr. Mann, the bedroom set simply will not go up those stairs. We'll have to put it in the dining room."

"How come I have the smallest room?"
"Mom, she called me a fat head."

"She deserved it. Make her leave me alone."

"Whaaaaa! I don't want to ride with Mom, I want to go with Dad."

"What are you doing just sitting there, get up and get busy."

"Mom, can you make dad hook up the TV now."

"I'm too old for this."

"How come we brought all this dust with us?"

"Look, if we had dusted everything before we packed, it would have damaged the ozone."

"Huh?"

"Where's the Scrabble Game?"

"You don't need it now."

"Yes, we do!"

"You didn't throw away my bold plaid sport coat did you?"

"Hey, Mom the garbage men are going through our trash and laughing."

"Oh Dear, do you have any idea which box my underwear is in?"

Limit terms

If you, like me, are fed up with professional politicians on both the state and national levels, then sign a petition for term limits.

Petitions are circulating in Nebraska right now, and if you can't find a circulator in your county, you can call 1-800-453-5556, toll free, to get one close to you.

Signing the petition means you are in favor of putting the term limits issue on the ballot this fall, when Nebraskans can decide for themselves whether or not to say to officeholders that enough is enough.

Bill brings Nebraska up to date

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN - I remember when my grandmother moved to Nebraska 10 years ago after spending her whole life in another state. She was a little perturbed when she found out Nebraska state law didn't recognize living wills.

Bills that would authorize living wills in Nebraska always ran into a little problem in the Legislature. They'd get killed.

Such bills always faced strong lobbying opposition from right to life groups and the Nebraska Catholic Conference, who argued they were a first step toward euthanasia.

Well, my grandma didn't live to see the day, but history was made last week when Governor Nelson signed into law a bill that would for the first time recognize in state law an individual's written declaration that life-sustaining treatment be withheld.

Its passage ended years of efforts by living will backers and Senator David Landis of Lincoln in particular to get such a law passed.

The bill this year was probably helped by a recent federal law that required hospitals to inform elderly patients on federal assistance about what their rights were as to last wishes. There was also a highly-publicized U.S. Supreme Court case dealing with death-bed wishes.

More than anything, Landis said, elderly Nebraskans finally came together and realized a vocal minority was keeping them from having something they wanted.

The measure passed overwhelmingly (34-9) in the Legislature, which also passed a bill that would allow Nebraskans to designate a specific person to make such life-sustaining decisions.

Until the bills passed, Nebraska was one of only five states nationally without a living will law and one of only two nationally without either of the death-bed options.

The living wills' bill offers an example of the form a living-will declaration may take:

"If I should lapse into a persistent vegetative state or have an incurable and irreversible condition that, without the administration of life-sustaining treatment, will, in the opinion of my attending physician, cause my death within a relatively short time, and I am no longer able to make decisions regarding my medical treatment, I direct my attending physician, pursuant to the Rights of the Terminally Ill Act, to withhold or withdraw life-sustaining treatment that is not necessary for my comfort or to alleviate pain."

The will would be signed by the person making the declaration or another person at the direction of that person and would be witnessed by two adults or a notary public.

When all is said and done, the bill probably won't affect a lot of people. In the case of my grandma, for example, when she lost her capabilities, her wishes were kept by her family and doctor, regardless of whether they were on a piece of paper.

But I think she would have felt a little more comfortable and secure knowing her wishes would be recognized. And that, I think, would have been worth something.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

money, will he go away?" was the question I'd bet many of them were asking themselves.

In either case, it must have worked because my goal was $100 and I surpassed it.

If you notice, many of the people who donated to get me out of jail were from the courthouse. Since that's where I've been spending a majority of my time recently, I think they did it to get me out of their hair.

IN A PSEUDO-related note, I kept score for a bowling fund raiser for the United Methodist Church Sunday afternoon, and I don't think anyone there had as many nines as I had a few weeks ago at a young member function.

If you're wondering why these two items are related, it's because my MDA fund raising effort was based on receiving fourteen $9 checks.

At any rate, I don't think any of the bowlers Sunday had as many nines as I did. In fact, I don't think everyone combined has as many nines as I had a few weeks ago. I think they all said "nine" to nine.

Don't worry, though, Rev. Don Nunnally and Randy Pedersen asked why I wasn't trying for some more nines.
I guess I just said "nine."

Winside grapplers place sixth at state; Trevor 'Topps' Hwt. field

The Winside Wildcats wrestling team placed sixth at the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Bob Devaney Sports Complex in Lincoln and had earned three medalists in the process.

The Wildcats scored 81 points—28 of which came from heavyweight Trevor Topp, who claimed state championship honors. Topp pinned Weeping Water's Rex Cave in 1:26 of the finals after he had decided him 6-0 in the district finals in Brainerd exactly one week earlier.

Greeley/Spalding Academy won the team title with 113.5 points, dethroning three-time state champs, Mullen. Arapahoe placed runner-up with 109.5 and Mullen placed third with 98.

Weeping Water finished fourth with 90 points and Harvard placed fifth with 86.5. Winside was sixth with 81 and Elgin Pope John was seventh with 77. Cambridge came in eighth place with 75 points while Oxford placed ninth with 74. Humboldt rounded out the top 10 teams with 69 points.

Topp became Winside's 20th state champion while spending a total of 10 minutes and three seconds out of a possible 24 minutes on the mat in four matches at the state meet.

The senior grappler pinned his first round foe, Richard Cool of Anselmo-Merna in just 16 seconds in advancing to the quarterfinals. There he met Darren Warner of Arapahoe, who lasted 2:21 before being stuck.

The actual state championship match for Topp came in the semifinals where he faced the number one rated wrestler in the state in Richard Licking of Mullen.

This was Topp's only match that went the distance and his second period escape was the match's only point as Topp took a 1-0 decision into the finals. The championship closed out a 31-3 season for Topp with his three losses coming to Class C opponent's Matt Hoskinson of Battle Creek, twice, and to David City's Scott Stara.

Hoskinson went on to place third at state and Stara went on to become a 3-time state champion.

Jason Krueger closed out his high school wrestling career with a third place finish at state at 189 pounds. Krueger was a four-time state qualifier and a three-time state placer with third being his highest finish.

Krueger was in the same predicament as Topp in the semifinals where he faced the second rated wrestler in the state in Culbertson's Rex Hart. Krueger brought his undefeated record into state with the number one ranking.

Both wrestlers were definitely even with Krueger leading 6-5 with less than 30 seconds in the match. Hart managed to escape and tie the score which resulted in overtime.

The overtime rule states that the first person to score wins and Hart got the first points on a take-down to advance to the finals. Krueger, meanwhile fought back through the wrestlebacks to earn third place. Krueger closed out the season with a 25-1 record.

Winside's third medalist was senior 112 pounder Marc Janssen. Janssen easily won his first two matches to earn a semifinal berth against the number one rated wrestler in his weight class in Harvard's Jeff Nielsen.

This match was also a tight one with Nielsen earning two reversal points in the final 20 seconds to post an 8-6 decision which advanced him to the finals. Janssen also fought back through the wrestlebacks to earn third place and closed out his season with a 29-6-1 record.

Winside head coach Paul Sok was hoping his team could finish in the top five at state this year but said his team's sixth place finish was not all that disappointing.

"We had a good time this year," Sok said. "It was a lot more relaxed in practices because we didn't feel we had as much pressure on our team after losing eight seniors off of last season's runner-up team."

Winside will graduate four seniors off this year's team but will have five state qualifiers on next year's team. The Wildcats initiated three new wrestlers to state tournament experience this year with Scott Jacobsen, Jason Wylie and Brady Frahm earning trips for the first time.

Jason Topp, Jason Magwire and Chris Mann each returned after qualifying last year. "Scott, Jason and Brady picked up 13 of our 81 points at state," Sok said. "You take those points away and we finish in 10th place, so they were very valuable points."

The following is a composite of how each Winside wrestler fared at the state wrestling tournament.

103—Scott Jacobsen (DNP) Won 9-5 over Bob Potter of Beaver City; Lost 6-2 to Ben Mader of Crawford; Lost 7-5 to Cory Peterson of Arnold. Finished year with 24-15 record.

112—Marc Janssen (3rd place) Won by pin in 1:45 over Terry Houser of Cambridge; Won 8-2 over Dan Ridenhour of Clay Center; Lost 8-6 to Jeff Nielsen of Harvard; Won by pin in 2:29 over Lee Hauschild of Weeping Water; Won 5-0 over Jason Boner of Republican Valley. Finished year with 29-6-1 record.

119—Jason Wylie (DNP) Lost by pin in 4:47 to Matthew Rogers of Mullen; Lost by pin in 1:09 to Joey Lucas of Shelton. Finished year with 17-17 record.

125—Chris Mann (DNP) Lost 18-3 to Elden Echtenkamp of Clay Center; Lost 3-0 to Andrew Long of Bertrand. Finished year with 22-17 record.

140—Jason Topp (DNP) Lost 10-6 to Mike Stuhr of Elgin Pope John; Won 10-6 over Donny Lepper of Republican Valley; Won by pin in 4:00 over Brian Christen of Shelton; Lost 11-5 to Cory Foster of Friend. Finished year with 24-15 record.

145—Brady Frahm (DNP) Won by pin in 1:54 over John Dugger of Palmer/Wolbach; Lost 14-2 to Brandon Mues of Arapahoe; Won by pin in 3:44 over Charlie Cover of Weeping Water; Lost 7-0 to Kenis Byan of Ansley. Finished year with 26-11 record.

160—Jason Magwire (DNP) Lost by pin in 1:47 to Curt Faust of Elgin Pope John; Lost by pin to Jori Pearson of Sumner/Eddyville/Miller. Finished year with 8-5 record.

189—Jason Krueger (3rd place) Won by pin in 1:24 over Monty Holen of Loomis; Won by pin in 2:45 over Dig German of Arnold; Lost 8-6 in OT to Rex Hart of Culbertson; Won by pin in 39 seconds over Abe Wilder of Hyanis; Won by pin in 2:09 over Chris McCurdy of Elwood. Finished year with 26-1 record.

HWT—Trevor Topp (State Champ) Won by Pin in 16 seconds over Richard Cool of Anselmo-Merna; Won by pin in 2:21 over Darren Warner of Arapahoe; Won 1-0 over Richard Licking of Mullen; Won by pin in 1:26 over Mitch Cave of Weeping Water. Finished year with 31-3 record.

TREVOR TOPP NEEDED JUST 1:26 to pin Weeping Water's Rex Cave in the finals of the heavyweight category at the state tournament on Saturday in Lincoln.

MARC JANSSEN WORKS OVER an early round opponent at the state wrestling meet at the Bob Devaney Sports Complex last Friday. Janssen placed third at 112 pounds.

Winside wrestler overcomes adversity

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Some might consider what Winside's Trevor Topp accomplished at the state wrestling tournament a Cinderella story—going from reserve as a junior to state champion as a senior.

If you take a closer look, however, you will see that the glass slipper is full of cracks. That's because Topp has paid a heavy price in earning that state gold medal as Class D's elite heavyweight wrestler.

Topp's athletic career at Winside High School the last four years reads like a MASH unit report straight out of a war with all of the injuries he's suffered. "It's not just high school," Topp said. "In seventh grade I broke a finger when it got caught in a football helmet and in eighth grade I broke my arm when I fell off a farm wagon."

The senior grappler managed to get through his freshman year unscathed but he broke his right hand during his sophomore season and was forced to sit out quite a while.

He returned, however, that year and qualified for the state tournament at 189 pounds. Since it was his first year at state, Topp maybe wasn't expected to place but that didn't phase him.

He ended up bringing home a sixth place medal for his efforts. As a junior, Topp broke his left leg in a football game with Beemer. Topp was enjoying an excellent season and was known as a defensive force along with teammate Brian Thompson before the incident.

That injury sidelined him for quite a while during wrestling season but Topp showed up for practices everyday. When he healed he was forced to wrestle reserve because he could not beat out defending state champion Brian Thompson.

"There were times that I wondered why I kept practicing so hard when I was wrestling reserve anyway," Topp said. "But then I considered how much I love the sport of wrestling and I kept coming back and also, I had been wrestling since I was in the second grade. Plus, I knew that it was Brian's senior season and that I'd have to be ready to step in the next season to fill his shoes."

Topp did wrestle in three tournaments in his junior year and he fared well in all of them. When the season ended and Thompson captured his second consecutive state championship, many considered Topp to be either the second or third best heavyweight in Class D and he was wrestling reserve.

"I always kept a comment made by Coach Sok when I was in junior high, in the back of my mind," Topp said. "He said if I work hard and always look to improve, that someday I could be a state champion."

Topp began his senior athletic season on the gridiron and again, he was dominating in the middle of the defensive line—until tragedy struck again. In the Osmond contest Topp suffered a broken left wrist which sidelined him for the rest of the season.

The wrist kept him off the wrestling mats for duals and invitationals for the first couple weeks but he returned for the rest of the season in which he made history as he became Winside's 20th state champion.

"Trevor's asset was his persistence," Sok said. "He kept with it when times were tough. He did not like to lose and in his senior season that only happened three times."

Topp lost twice to Class C's Matt Hoskinson of Battle Creek who went on to place third at the state meet. His other loss was to Scott Stara of David City who finished his career as a three-time state champ.

Topp's wrestling career ended with him on top—of Weeping Water's Rex Cave that is. Topp was confident after winning his semifinal with Richard Licking of Mullen that he would fare well against Cave.

"After beating him in districts, I really felt my chances of winning state were pretty good," Topp said. Before he wrestled, Topp took part in another ceremony—the parade of champions, played before a packed Bob Devaney

Sports Complex of 10,000 plus people.

"That really gave me a rush," Topp said. "I was ready to wrestle right then but I had to wait over two hours before it was my turn." The rush must have lasted quite a while because Topp needed less than 90 seconds to pin Cave.

Now that his career is over, Topp has turned his focus on a May graduation before attending Norfolk Community College in hopes of earning a degree in animal sciences. "I'd also like to learn the construction trade with metals and woods," Topp said.

It doesn't matter what Topp decides to choose as a profession because he is a near lock to be a success—After all, persistence is his virtue.

Third place medals put final touches on two Winside careers

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

Two of Winside's most consistent point scorers wrestled their final high school matches during last Saturday's climax of the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln.

Marc Janssen at 112, and Jason Krueger at 189 ended their respective careers with wins as they both claimed third place medals. Krueger was a four-time state qualifier for the Wildcats and a three-time state placer.

As a freshman and sophomore, Krueger wrestled at 171, placing fourth as a sophomore. The past two years he has wrestled at 189, placing fifth as a junior and third this year.

Krueger came into the season with a lofty goal of being a state champion and to earn his 100th career win. He battled three elements in the first month of the season that led to competing in just three matches.

First, there was the shoulder injury that he suffered in football. Second, was his determination to lose weight to get to 189 after bulking up for football and third—the most crucial of all, was the week he was sidelined with respiratory influenza.

Still, Krueger had his goals set before the season started and although his first three matches were at heavyweight, they were victories and the race was on for his 100th victory.

Krueger notched his 97th victory of his career in the district finals over Matt Garris of Humboldt and he knew he was on track to get both goals of being a state champ and to get his 100th win.

"I figured if all went right, I'd get my 100th win in the semifinals," Krueger said. "Things just didn't turn out the way I wanted but I fought back to get my 100th win in the wrestlebacks and ended the season with a win and a third place medal, which was my highest placing in high school."

"Looking back now that the season is over, I'm pretty well satisfied with my performance," Krueger said. "If I had to wrestle Rex Hart in the semifinals all over again, I don't think I would have done anything differently. I just couldn't get position on him. He had won a lot of freestyle matches the summer before and he was a much better wrestler than he was the year before when he beat me in the last 20 seconds of the quarterfinals with a reversal."

"Jason really showed a lot of determination," Winside coach Paul Sok said. "He had to overcome a lot of obstacles in his senior year to produce the results he did. His most difficult task was not having anyone to wrestle in practice against, until Brian Bowers—an assistant coach for Winside, came in at least once a week and practiced with him."

"I think Jason really appreciated the help Brian gave

Wayne wrestlers fail to win match at state tournament

The Wayne Blue Devils wrestling team suffered a dismal setback at the 1992 Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Lincoln's Bob Devaney Sports Complex.

One year after the Blue Devils brought home the runner-up team trophy for Class B, they failed to score a point in four matches.

Junior Randy Johnson, competing at 119 pounds, had a tall order to fill in his first match against 27-0 Dan Quinn of Columbus Lakeview.

Johnson trailed Quinn by a 2-1 margin after the first, two-minute period but Quinn was able to hold off Johnson in posting an 8-3 decision.

The loss put Johnson in the first round wrestlebacks on Friday morning where he faced 14-9 Kelly Homan of Nebraska City.

Again, Johnson wrestled admirably but fell short in an 8-4 decision which ended his season at 22-16.

Wayne's best chance of scoring points came at 125 pounds where Brent Gamble returned after placing fourth at state the year before.

Gamble, however, found the going quite tough as he was upset in the first round by Ryan Moyer of Nebraska City, 17-4.

Moyer came in with a 27-6 record and pretty much dominated Gamble. The loss sent Gamble to the first round wrestlebacks on Friday morning where he was defeated by Shawn Myers of O'Neill, 15-2.

"When I think back about the season, I have mixed emotions," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "I was pleased with the regular season because we had a winning record in duals and we were competitive in most of the tournaments.

However, I was disappointed in our performance at districts in Elkhorn and our state performance in Lincoln. As the head coach, I take full responsibility for these poor performances."

McCook virtually ran away from all Class B teams in claiming the team title of the state tournament with 112 points.

The real race came down to which team was going to win the runner-up trophy.

Tekamah-Herman and O'Neill went into the finals Saturday afternoon separated by a single point but Brett Ray's championship at 140 pounds, sealed the trophy for Guy Mytty's Tekamah squad.

Tekamah scored 82 points while O'Neill managed 75. Boys Town placed fourth with two state champions, with 60 points while Cozad rounded out the top five with 58 points. Ashland-Greenwood, Omaha Roncalli, St. Paul, Aurora (last year's state champions), and York rounded out the top 10.

Wayne girls end season with 59-52 setback to West Point in districts

The Wayne girls basketball team closed out their season Tuesday night in the first round of districts, but not without giving number three seed West Point a real scare.

The 16-3 Lady Cadets, used a 17-10 run in the third quarter and relied on near perfect free throw shooting down the stretch to post a 59-52 win over the Lady Blue Devils. West Point hit 9-10 free throws in the fourth period and was 13-18 for the game.

Wayne trailed 11-7 after the first quarter with Liz Reeg scoring all seven of Wayne's points. In fact, Reeg scored the Blue Devils first 10 points of the contest before Erin Pick hit a bucket following an offensive rebound.

The Blue Devils closed the gap on West Point and at the intermission it was a 19-18 contest. Reeg was sent to the bench with still three minutes to go in the first half after she picked up her third foul but freshman Jenny Thompson responded by hitting two, 14-foot jumpers to keep Wayne within striking distance.

"I felt the difference in the game was right after halftime when West Point went on a run because we weren't executing our press offense very well," Wayne coach Marlene Uhing said. "We also didn't do a very good job of getting the ball inside to Erin Pick in the second half."

Uhing, however, was pleased with the way her squad played hard the whole game. Wayne trailed 36-28 after the third quarter but the Blue Devils went on a run of their own as they closed the gap to two points at 38-36 before West Point exploded for a 10-0 run.

In the fourth quarter Wayne scored 24 points with Reeg and Pick accounting for 11 and 10 respectively, while Susie Ensz drained a 3-pointer. Reeg finished as the game's leading scorer with 25 points while Pick scored 12 and Ensz, nine. Jenny Thompson scored four and Angie Thompson netted two.

Wayne owned the boards, 35-22 as Pick hauled down 10 cars while Reeg had nine. Wayne had 18 turnovers while West Point suffered just eight. The Blue Devils were 15-22 from the foul line.

Danielle Nelson didn't score but she showed a lot of courage and determination to play with an Achilles tendon problem. "We had her on crutches through Tuesday afternoon to keep her off the foot," Uhing said. "She really showed some guts with her determination."

Wayne closed out the season with a 9-12 record.

LIZ REEG LOOKS TO SCORE two of her game high 25 points during Wayne's seven point loss to West Point in first round district action at Norfolk Community College on Tuesday. Wayne gave third seeded West Point all they could handle before losing.

RANDY JOHNSON TRIES TO GET the advantage of Columbus Lakeview's Dan Quinn in first round action of the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament in Lincoln last Thursday. Johnson was defeated by Quinn, 8-3. Wayne did not score at the state meet.

Wrestling wrap-up notes

Just a few more notes to wrap up another wrestling season. First off, since this is my column I get to express what I feel and get away with it. Wayne wrestling coach John Murtaugh is perhaps one of the classiest coaches and gentleman, I've met since. I've been in Wayne—over four years and counting.

In today's issue of the Wayne Herald he took complete blame for Wayne's dismal performance at the district and state wrestling meets. Although I feel this is an admirable gesture on his part I respectfully disagree with him.

In my opinion it was nobody's fault but just plain bad luck. Last season things fell into place during the last three hours of the state meet and Wayne claimed the runner-up trophy.

I didn't hear anyone saying it was John's fault why Wayne got a state runner-up trophy. All I heard was people congratulating the team on how well they wrestled—and rightfully so.

So I question why when the Blue Devils are on top it is because they are doing a great job, but when things aren't going so well, it's the coaches fault. For those of you wondering about the Wayne program, don't. I believe that Murtaugh will again lead the Blue Devils to greatness like last year's team:

I would also like to say a special congratulations to the Wayne senior grapplers for their efforts this season. It was a tall order to fill, in replacing so many vacancies left by the team last season but they did an admirable job.

Regardless of what happened at state, Wayne has two of the best coaches in all of Class B in John Murtaugh and Aaron Schuett. After watching other coaches at state react to their respective teams up and downs, I wouldn't trade our coaches for anyone.

I also would like to say a few lines of congratulations to a former Wayne State student and a good friend who moved from North Bend to Rushville this season and led his wrestlers to a state championship.

Ward Wacker may have stepped into a program that was established, after winning state the year before, but he kept the fire going and kept his team unified and they virtually breezed to the team title.

Good job Ward. You deserve all the accolades you'll undoubtedly receive. Don't forget to come back and play softball with us this summer, however.

Hats-off also to Paul Sok, Tom Koch and Brian Bowers for the job they did with the Winside program this season, leading them to a sixth place finish after losing eight seniors off the 1991 runner-up team.

him," Sok said. Krueger went on to post his 101st career win in the match for third place. "I had a feeling that whoever was going to win the semifinal would be the state champion," Krueger said. "I gave it everything I had but came up an overtime takedown short."

Krueger isn't the only one in his family to enjoy a successful wrestling career. His father, Dean, was a three-time state qualifier in the early 70's and brought home a third place medal in '71 and a fourth place medal in '72. The elder Krueger pocketed 93 career victories.

Krueger says he plans on attending Norfolk Community College after high school to major in utility lines and electrician work. He's opting to choose a career that's far above the mats he is used to working on but Krueger knows, that's just another decision that will prove he is a winner.

Janssen takes third again

Janssen, much like Krueger, came within an eye lash of possibly becoming a state champion but fell two points shy in the semifinals with number one rated wrestler Jeff Nielsen of Harvard after a reversal in the final half minute of the match.

Still, Janssen is satisfied with his career at Winside including this year's performance. "My goal was not to have over five losses this year and I fell a little short of that goal with a 29-6-1 record," Janssen said. "I am happy to come back after losing in the semis, to place third for the second straight year."

Only two of Janssen's losses came to Class D opponents this season. He lost to state champ Ken Nordhuus of Greeley, 6-2 and he lost to Nielsen of Harvard, the state runner-up, 8-6.

His other losses came twice to Lee Ober of Stanton, and to Jeremy Johnson of Neligh. O'Neill's Derek Krause also decided Janssen but the 112 pounder also recorded some big wins on the year—the most notable, the convincing decision over Kyle Habben of Osceola—this year's Class C state champion.

Janssen also tied West Point Central Catholic's Ryan Meier who went on to become a state champion this year at 119 in Class D. "Marc's biggest asset was his consistency," Sok said. "The last two seasons he has done a real good job of not trying to be too flashy. He stuck with what he knew well."

Now that high school wrestling is over, Janssen will look toward a May graduation before departing for San Diego, CA, on the last day of May for the Marine Corp. "I'm heading to Camp Pendleton at the end of May," Janssen said. "It's something I've wanted to do for a long time and I signed up early last summer."

Janssen said his eventual goal is to become successful at land scaping and construction. Janssen's career will involve quite a bit of earth moving which is a far cry from moving 112-pounders around the mat.

TAMI SCHLUNS PUTS UP a shot during second quarter action of Tuesday's game with West Point. Wayne closes out the year with a 9-12 mark.

Wayne boys blast Creighton in last game before districts

The Wayne boys basketball team closed out their regular season schedule Saturday, with a dominating victory over Creighton, 93-58 in Creighton. The win moved the Blue Devils record to 13-7 heading into the district tournament which begins Saturday.

Wayne will be the second seed in the tournament behind top seeded Schuyler. The Blue Devils will play Madison at 6:30 p.m. A Wayne victory would put them in the semifinals on Monday night at 8 p.m. against the winner of the Logan View-West Point game which will be played at 8:15 p.m. Saturday.

The finals will be played on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. All games will be played at Northeast Community College in Norfolk. Schuyler will be playing Columbus Scotus at 3 p.m. Saturday followed by Columbus Lakeview and Tekamah-Herman.

During Saturday's game at Creighton the Blue Devils maintained just a five-point half-time lead of 42-37 over the host team but Wayne came out firing in the second half and out-scored Creighton, 51-21 in the final 16 minutes.

"Our kids really played well together," Wayne coach Bob Uhing said. "I think we needed a game like this right before districts to restore out confidence." Uhing said there were two keys to his team's success against the Bulldogs.

"First, we shut them down defensively which led directly to our offense," Uhing said. "Second, we scored 51 points in the second half because of our fast break and our good shot selection."

Five Wayne players scored in double figures led by senior Kyle Dahl with 20. Regg Carnes poured in 19 and Brad Uhing netted 18. Senior Matt Ley tossed in 14 points and Matt Blomenkamp scored 10. Robert Bell added six points while Mike Fluent scored four. Randy Kaup rounded out the potent Blue Devil attack with two points.

Wayne dominated the boards, 42-25 as Dahl led the way with nine caroms while Carnes hauled down eight. Wayne had just eight turnovers while forcing the host team into 19. The Blue Devils were also highly successful from the free throw line, hitting 12 of 14 attempts while Creighton was 15-21.

Ley led Wayne in assists with nine. "Our bench is really playing well for us," Uhing said. "We will need that all the way through districts if we are going to be successful."

The Wayne reserve team also won in Creighton, 63-41 as Bobby Barnes led the way with 14 points in the only quarter he played in.

WSC men defeated, 86-62

Mike Brewen's Wayne State men's basketball team was defeated, 86-62 by Fort Hays State in Hays, KS. Saturday. The loss left WSC with a 9-16 mark heading into Saturday's rematch with Fort Hays in Rice Auditorium.

The Wildcats trailed the Tigers, 42-29 at the intermission and was out-scored 44-33 in the second half. WSC connected on just 39 percent of its shots from the floor with a 22-56 outing.

David Allen and Doug Kuzsak led WSC in scoring with 12 points apiece while Billy Patterson chipped in 10. Ricky Watson added nine points and Keith Whitfield scored five while John Schott netted four.

Steve Dunbar suffered a lackluster performance with just three points after struggling through a 1-10 night from the field. Omar Clark also scored three points while Kevin Thurman and Jason Bangs scored two each to round out the scoring.

Fort Hays State had four players in double figures and two more finished with nine points each. Damian Evans led the Tigers with 20 points while Bryant Basemore added 14. Darrell Hudson scored 12 points and Toby Kuhn netted 11 while Mark Willey and Jay Sawyer scored nine apiece.

Fort Hays connected on 60 percent of its shots on a 33-55 performance from the field. WSC held a 33-30 rebounding advantage led by Allen with 11 caroms while Kuzsak hauled down five.

The Wildcats had 20 turnovers while Fort Hays had 15. The Tigers did a better job of executing the offense based on the assist to turnover ratio as they had 24 assists and 15 turnovers while WSC had 20 turnovers and 11 assists.

Dunbar, Whitfield and Patterson led the Wildcats with three assists each. WSC was 14-20 from the free throw line while Fort Hays was 14-19.

Baseball debut in Omaha

Wayne State beats Creighton

The Wayne State baseball team pulled off a major upset in their first game of the season, Saturday in Omaha as they defeated the 11th ranked NCAA Division I Creighton Bluejays, 5-4.

Creighton, playing its first game since it appeared in the College World Series last season, came back to win the nightcap from Lenny Klaver's Wildcats, 10-1.

In the eye catching opener, however, Jeff Lutt picked up the pitching victory while Jeff Bjerke earned the save. Chris Jones provided the power for WSC with a second inning, 3-run home run while Jeff Schneider smacked a 2-run single in the fourth inning for what proved to be the game's winning runs.

Lutt pitched the first four innings of the contest and gave up two hits on four runs and two walks while striking out four. Bjerke pitched the final three innings and gave up two runs on three hits and allowed one walk while striking out two.

Creighton's Alan Benes, brother of San Diego Padres pitcher Andy Benes, was credited with the pitching loss. Creighton finished with four runs on seven hits and no errors while WSC had five runs, five hits and one error.

Cory Reeder led the team with two hits—both singles, while Jones hit a home run. Dave Shields and Schneider each managed to hit a single.

In the nightcap the Wildcats gave up 10 runs on 10 hits and suffered four errors while Creighton gave up one run on four hits and one error. Jeff Gohr was given the pitching loss after pitching the first 3 2/3 innings and giving up five runs on five hits and two walks while striking out one.

Jeff Schneider and Larry Ballinger also saw pitching time in the contest. The Wildcats lone run came in the second inning while Creighton scored twice in the first and second innings while adding one more in the third. The Bluejays crossed home plate five times in the fifth inning.

Jeff Burger and Troy Test each hit doubles in the game for WSC while Cory Reeder and Brent Cameron each singled. The Wildcats will travel to play Missouri Western on Saturday at 1 p.m. before traveling to play UNO, March 5 to play the Mavericks.

The Wildcats will depart for a five-game San Diego road swing on March eighth.

Wakefield advances to finals

The Wakefield boys basketball team advanced to the sub-district championship game to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Rice Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State College, after defeating Ponca, 54-42 on Tuesday.

Brad Hoskins' team sprinted to a 19-13 lead after the first quarter before struggling in the second and third periods. Wakefield led 28-20 at the intermission but the Trojans went five minutes into the third quarter before scoring a single point which allowed Ponca to close the gap to one at 29-28.

"We were just trying too hard in the third quarter," Hoskins said. "We weren't playing that solid on offense and then when the shots weren't falling we began to press harder and that complicated things."

Defensively, the Trojans played well the whole game as they held Ponca far below its season average. "I was pleased with our defense not allowing Ponca to get the lead from us at all in the second half even though it was within a single point," Hoskins said.

Wakefield's first and fourth quarters were very productive offensively as they scored 19 in each period. Despite scoring just 54 points the Trojans had four players in double figures.

Steve Clark led the way with 15 while Anthony Brown and Dalton Rhodes scored 12 each. Marcus Tappe was also in double figures with 11 while Ben Dutton and Jon Johnson scored two apiece.

Wakefield held a 27-22 advantage on the boards led by Dutton with eight caroms while Brown and Rhodes had seven apiece. Wakefield had 19 turnovers while Ponca suffered 22. The Trojans were 14-19 from the foul line while the Indians were 4-

8. Wakefield will take its 19-5 record into Thursdays championship game with Wisner-Pilger, who upset Homer, 59-54 on Tuesday.

WAKEFIELD'S JON JOHNSON, right and Dalton Rhodes battle with a Ponca player for a rebound during first round sub-district action on Tuesday in Rice Auditorium.

Winside breezes past Winnebago

Shannon Pospisil's Winside boys basketball team advanced to the sub-district championship in Class D after defeating Winnebago on Tuesday night in Laurel, 68-53.

The Wildcats led 11-5 after the first period and 24-16 at the intermission before they went on a 19-7 run in the third quarter for a 20-point advantage at 43-23.

Winnebago out-scored Winside by a 30-25 margin in the final eight minutes. The victory was the first post-season win for Winside in several years.

"Our kids are playing with confidence," Pospisil said. "Winnebago really packed its zone in the paint early in the game because their game plan was for us to beat them from the outside and that's what we started doing."

In the second quarter the Indians extended their zone a little more but Winside was still hitting on all cylinders. "Our defense was an important key to our win,"

Pospisil said. "Offensively, we attacked the bucket a lot more and that led to shooting more free throws."

Cory Miller blasted the Indians by scorching the nets for 35 points including a 12-15 performance from the free throw line. Cory Jensen poured in 19 and John Hancock added six while Cam Shelton and Colby Jensen scored two apiece. Jeremy Jenkins and Jeremy Bruggeman each scored one point.

Winside held a 38-32 advantage on the boards with Shelton hauling down 14 rebounds to lead the way while Miller recorded nine caroms. The Wildcats once again, took good care of the basketball with 12 turnovers while Winnebago had 14.

Winside was 20-31 from the foul line including a 17-27 outing in the fourth period. The 5-12 Wildcats will now play Newcastle—a team they upset last Friday night in Winside with a 53-51 victory.

Workshop focuses on tree care

The Nebraska Forest Service and Nebraska Cooperative Extension are sponsoring a Tree Care Workshop on Tuesday, March 3, in Norfolk at Godfather's Pizza, located at 714 West Benjamin.

The workshop is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 4 p.m. Landscape tree care will be the main focus of the day, although many of the topics to be discussed will relate to trees in any situation. Topics that will be specifically addressed include: repairing storm damage, hazard tree identification, and tree valuation.

This is the seventh year for this annual Tree Care Workshop. It is designed to be an informal meeting to provide basic and advanced, up-to-date information on tree care to anyone who works with trees. The cost is $15. An assembled packet containing reference material is provided with the fee.

For more information, contact Steve Rasmussen, Northeast Research and Extension Center, Concord, (402) 584-2261, to register.

Hospital visit is fun

YOUNGSTERS IN DIANE EHRHARDT'S Stepping Stones Pre-School paid a visit to Providence Medical Center Tuesday to discover how a hospital works. In some instances (top, left) children learned what a cast feels like from tour guide/RN Louise Jenness. For Ashley Centrup (above), the visit was a special one because with Ehrhardt's assistance, she got to see her newborn sister Kelly. Youngsters also got a feel for what it was like to go through physical therapy, just as Christa Jeffries discovered, as she was helped by Providence Medical Center's Physical Therapist Diane Peterson.

Waldbaums takes part in promotion

Company markets healthy eggs

Michael Foods, Inc., has announced that it plans to soon begin marketing reduced cholesterol liquid whole eggs to the foodservice, industrial and retail markets. The new product will be sold under the brand name Simply Eggs.

The new product is made using an extraction technology which removes 80 percent of the cholesterol from egg yolks. The yolks are combined with egg whites, resulting in reduced cholesterol whole eggs which are ultrapasteurized, making them salmonella free. U.S. patents for the cholesterol reduction process are either pending or issued.

The new reduced cholesterol eggs are being produced by a joint venture in which Michael Foods and SKW Nature's Products, Inc. are equal partners. The joint venture is completing a pilot plant which is engineered to produce up to 13 million pounds of eggs annually. The joint venture will process the reduced cholesterol eggs for Michael Foods' M.G. Waldbaum subsidiary on a toll basis. Michael Foods will ultrapasteurize, package and market the eggs. U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) approval of the pilot plant is necessary prior to product sales beginning.

Limited production has occurred at the joint venture's pilot plant in Gaylord, Minn., and small shipments have been made to potential customers for test purposes. The joint venture has also begun construction of a full scale production facility which is expected to be operational in late 1992. The joint venture partners have committed approximately $30 million, in total, to construct the pilot plant and the commercial scale plant.

Richard G. Olson, Michael Foods' president and CEO said, "We have been working on reduced cholesterol eggs for several years. The results are an outstanding new egg product that does not sacrifice taste or nutritional value because it contains both egg yolks and whites, unlike egg substitute products currently being marketed. We hope this new product will result in greater consumer acceptance of eggs as a staple food in home and restaurant use, as well as an ingredient in commercial food products such as baked goods, mayonnaise, pasta and ice cream."

Dr. Allan L. Forbes, physician, food industry consultant and former director, Office of Nutrition and Food Sciences of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), said, "This product meets a significant need. Studies show that eggs are the source of almost 36 percent of the total cholesterol in the U.S. diet. This new product will allow people to continue to consume eggs, which are an excellent source of vitamins and protein, while greatly reducing concerns about cholesterol intake."

"Most Americans enjoy eating eggs. This new product will make it much easier to meet the Dietary Guidelines for Americans, as issued by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the goals of the National Cholesterol Education Program."

The FDA has filed, on Michael Foods' behalf, a generally recognized as safe (GRAS) affirmation petition regarding the new product. The company has based its GRAS determination on an evaluation of beta cyclodextrin (BCD), a processed starch substance used to absorb cholesterol from egg yolks, by a panel of food safety experts. In the cholesterol removal process, the processed starch substance is mixed with the egg yolks and is then removed, along with the cholesterol, by centrifugal force. The panel has determined, using established scientific procedures, that the use of the processed starch substance in this process is safe. Such determinations are an acceptable means by which GRAS status for food ingredients is established in the United States. Additionally, BCD is approved for use in Japan and several European countries.

SKW Nature's Products, Inc. is an affiliate of SKW Trostberg AG, Germany. The company has extensive expertise and production capacity related to decaffeination of tea and coffee, extraction of fruit flavors and extraction of hops for brewers.

Michael Foods is a diversified food processor and distributor with particular interests in egg products, refrigerated grocery products, frozen and refrigerated potato products, specialty dairy products, and refrigerated soups and salads. Principal subsidiaries include M.G. Waldbaum Company, Crystal Farms Refrigerated Distribution Company, Northern Star Co., Kohler Mix Specialties, Inc. and Sunnyside Vegetable Packing, Inc.

WAYNE MIDDLE SCHOOL STUDENTS DONATED A $60 check to Mary Temme of the Wayne Child Day Care Board Tuesday. The project was one of a series of class projects conducted by 15 students.

Students learn about service

Wayne Middle School students recently completed projects they had undertaken in a number of classes. The projects were geared toward service learning, in which students provide a service to the school or the community for no monetary reward.

The fifth hour class set up a friendship day for the entire middle school. On this day, students were encouraged to send each other "happy grams" and hold a positive attitude in school.

The sixth hour class visited the Wayne Care Centre. During their visit, they sang songs and took treats to Care Centre residents.

The seventh hour class raised money for the Wayne Child Day Care Center, which is scheduled to begin construction sometime this spring. The children raised $60 through cookies sales and the money was donated to the board for the purchase of some of the toys which will be used in the new center.

The seventh hour class also worked on providing boxes for classroom papers. Once the boxes fill up, their contents will be recycled.

Teachers involved in the projects taken on by the various classes included Mike Mallette, Bill Wilson, Fauneil Bennett and Kathy Fink.

Sharing prose about calving

As the calving season begins, I want to share an item that showed up in our office last month, apparently written by the famous "anonymous."

There is a distinction in the live-stock business between ranchers and farmers. But how does a city slicker tell the difference? I have some guidelines that should be helpful.

1. Ranchers live in the west. Except beet growers in Idaho, cotton farmers in Arizona, prune pickers in California and wheat producers in Montana. Farmers live east of Burlington, Colorado. Except for cattle ranchers in the Sandhills of Nebraska, cracker cowboys in Florida, Flinthills cowmen in Kansas, and mink ranchers in Michigan.

2. Farmers wear seed company caps except when they're attending the PCA banquet, the annual cattlemen's meeting or going on a tour to a foreign country. (The Big Farmer wore his to Germany.) Ranchers wear western hats except when they're roping, putting up hay or feeding cows at 30 below zero.

3. Ranchers wear western boots except when they're irrigating and sleeping. Farmers wear western boots except when they go to town.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

4. Farmers work cows afoot, on a tractor, a three wheeler, a motorcycle, in the pickup, snowmobile, road grader, canoe or ultralight. Virtually any motorized contraption except a horse. Ranchers work cows horseback.

5. Farmers can identify grass. Ranchers have trouble distinguishing grass from weeds and indoor-outdoor carpet. Farmers think grass is green. Ranchers think it is yellow.

6. Ranchers haul their dogs around in the pickup and pretend they are stock dogs. Farmers usually leave their pets at home.

7. Farmers think a rope is good for towing farm equipment, tying down bales and staking the milk cow along the highway. A rancher's rope hangs on the saddle and is only used to throw at critters.

8. A rancher wouldn't be caught dead in overalls. A farmer never wears a scarf or spurs.

9. Farmers complain about the weather, the market, the government, the banker, taxes, county roads, the price of seed, equipment, veterinary work, pickups, tires and kids. So do ranchers.

Now that I've made it perfectly clear, let's assume you see a man on Main Street in Enid, Oklahoma. He's wearing western boots, a seed corn cap and has a pocketful of pencils. He's driving his pickup complete with a dog, a saddle, and a three wheeler in the back. Which is he, a farmer or rancher?

He's either a rancher on his way to a roping or a farmer coming back from the flea market. The only way to be sure is to examine his rope. If it has more than two knots in it, he's a farmer.

Magnesium and Chronic Fatigue Syndrome

Persons who have chronic fatigue syndrome may complain of lack of energy, pain, and emotional reactions. The cause of chronic fatigue syndrome is unknown, and treatment is aimed at relieving symptoms. A study reported in the medical journal Lancet indicates that the mineral magnesium may help persons who have chronic fatigue syndrome. Eighty percent of patients given magnesium sulfate injections weekly for 6 weeks claimed to have benefited from treatment, compared to only 18% of those who received injections of a placebo. Other studies have shown that persons who have chronic fatigue syndrome may have low magnesium levels. The mineral has been used for years in treatment of certain types of anxiety and insomnia and is an ingredient in many antacid preparations.

The GOLDEN YEARS
by Pat Schecky

Music therapy to treat conditions that particularly affect the elderly has come a long way in the last 40 years. Combining rhythm, melody and psychology, music now is employed in clinical applications by about 5,000 accredited music therapists. Among their experiences: some Alzheimer patients who can say nothing intelligible can sing the words of songs they knew in their youth. At a U.S. Senate committee hearing, representatives of the National Association for Music Therapy testified in favor of recognition and regulation of music therapy for the aged and to recommend funding of more research.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK'S SENIOR CITIZEN CORNER

AN ADVERSARIAL RELATIONSHIP: Seniors are becoming increasingly upset with policy changes that have been coming down from Washington and tend to threaten situations already considered precarious.

One example is the continuing debate about taxing Social Security and Medicare benefits — as if the proponents have forgotten that these are funds which the recipients have contributed. These are not income factors. What do we tax next? Life insurance proceeds? It could happen!

Another example is the debate currently going on about reducing entitlements to reduce deficits. (This year, the word "entitlement" is taking on the same pejorative baggage that "liberal" had in 1988.) Rescinding the hefty raise accorded our Congress and the vice president might be helpful. Or, we could start to charge them for health services provided to them and their families, gratis.

A compromise on an important issue affecting Medicaid was reached in December when Congress passed legislation to block a federal regulation that would have prevented states from using special taxes levied on hospitals and other medical services, or funds from voluntary donations, to increase the federal matching funds that the state receives for Medicaid.

The compromise, while important, served only to make a bad situation less onerous for a time. The original rule would have seriously eroded financial support for Medicaid programs in many states. The new legislation allows states already using funds from provider-specific taxes or voluntary donations for their Medicaid programs, to continue to receive federal matching funds — but only until October 1, 1992. Afterward, federal matches for voluntary donations will be discontinued, and provider-specific taxes cannot exceed more than 25 percent of the funds a state puts up for Medicaid matching. (My thanks to the American Academy of Pediatrics AAP Washington Report, January 1992 issue for this information.)

SEEING EYE DOGS — UPDATE: My thanks to Ms. Ned Lindsey of Greeley, Colorado, for her nice words about our suggestion that retired seeing eye dogs be permitted to become "residents" of nursing facilities. (P.S. Betty White of "Golden Girls," a long time animal lover, also likes the idea.)

TO SYLVIA: The fact that your employer is putting in a computer for you means he has faith in your ability to learn how to use it. Take the computer course that the company's offering. It'll prove that you can learn to use it as easily (or even more so) than the younger people in your office. You'll also find it's fun, and a lot easier than a typewriter on arthritic fingers.
