

Tax levies drop but bills to go up for taxpayers

By Les Mann
Herald Publisher

If your property value stayed the same this year, you'll have more money in your pocket after paying taxes since combined levies in most districts went down compared to last year.

The problem is, few property values stayed the same. Total Wayne County valuation climbed 13 percent this year due to re-assessment formulas, personal property tax revisions and property improvements.

According to figures released today by Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn, a typical home owner in Wayne with $50,000 worth of property will be paying $1,225.45 this year. Last year a $50,000 assessment drew a tax bill of $1,273.60.

HOWEVER, because of the assessment changes, real estate went up an average of 9 percent in value, according to Joyce Reeg. That means last year's $50,000 house is this year's $54,500 house and your total tax outlay will be about $60 higher than last year.

Similar calculations apply to homes in the Wayne County portion of Wakefield, in Hoskins, Carroll and the rural areas of the county.

Actual changes in your tax bill will depend on what your assessment notice said in April.

Taxpayers with the best news in the county were those living in Winside. Their property values went down 2.2 percent and the levy went down 12.2 percent.

A TYPICAL $25,000 home owner there will have $75 extra dollars in his pocket this year, according to Mrs. Finn's figures.

Schools take the biggest bite of each tax dollar, according to the tax figures. In Wayne, the school district gets nearly 51 cents of every tax dollar while the city gets 28 cents, the county gets 15 cents and the other entities split the remaining 6 cents.

Taxing entities with small levies that make up that combined 6 cent total include the Educational Service unit, The Natural Resources District, The County Ag Society, Northeast Community College and the Fire District.

'Phenomenal' term used for pumpkin bash

By LaVon Anderson
News Editor

"Phenomenal" is the term Pumpkin Days organizers are using to describe this year's sixth annual event in Wakefield.

Chuck Wahlstrom and Barb Stout, co-chairmen of the three-day celebration, said warm weekend weather more than likely contributed to the large number of participants.

Wakefield streets were lined Sunday afternoon with persons who came to watch the Q125 parade in recognition of Nebraska's 125th year of statehood.

Organizers said over there were over 60 parade entries from Wakefield and surrounding communities, including a float from Laurel which invited parade goers to attend their centennial celebration next year.

PUMPKIN Days kicked off early Friday morning with a golf tournament at the Logan Valley Golf Course in Wakefield.

The three-man scramble featured 37 entries, with first place going to the team of Jerry Royal, Harry Mills and Ron Wenstrand, all of Wakefield.

Placing second was a team comprised of Lee Tietgen of Wayne, Harold Von Minden of Martinsburg, and Merle Schwarten of Wakefield, and third place went to John O'Neill of Wakefield, and Gordon Nuernberger and Marvin Nelson, both of Wayne.

Fourth place in the three-man scramble was captured by Pat Erwin of Concord, Lawrence Jepsen and Bob Smith, both of Emerson, and Melvin Wilson of Pender, and fifth place was awarded to Rick Dicus, Roy Wiggans and Lyle Boeckenhauer, all of Wakefield.

OVERALL winner of 50 Wakefield Dollars during a Kids Parade on Saturday morning was a "Pumpkin Juice-Saloon" float featuring Nicole, Melissa and Ross Hansen, Kurt and Kendra Thompson, and Martina and Maria Georger.

Other pumpkin-related events on Saturday include a bike ride to Ponca State Park, pumpkin

Homecoming season

AREA — This week kicks off the Homecoming season for schools in the Wayne area.

The first homecoming event will be this Friday at Laurel-Concord High School. Pictures of the candidates there will be in the Friday Wayne Herald, with crowning scheduled Friday night in the new gym following the football game with Wakefield.

Homecoming activities for other area high schools will be Oct. 2 at Wakefield, Oct. 9 at Wayne-Carroll and Winside and Oct. 16 at Allen.

Wayne State's Homecoming is Oct. 3 when the Wildcats take on the University of Nebraska-Kearney.

Wakefield's royalty crowning will be at 2:30 on Oct. 2. Wayne's royalty will be enthroned on Monday, Oct. 5 at 8 p.m. at the lecture hall. Winside coronation will be during halftime at the football game the night of homecoming. Allen royalty will be crowned Oct. 16 at 2:30 p.m. in the gymnasium followed by a pep rally downtown.

Health conference

WAYNE — A special teleconference on American Health Care for Teachers will be held at Wayne State College on Friday, Sept. 25 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Conn Library, Room 201.

Even though the program is geared towards teachers, organizers say the general public would benefit from attending. The seminar, which is free, runs until 12:30 p.m. If persons want to stay for lunch and an afternoon panel discussion, they are welcome. Lunch will be $5. Reservations for lunch must be called in by Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 375-7509.

CROP Walk scheduled

WAYNE — The Wayne area CROP Walk will be held Sunday, Oct. 4 with a rain date set for Oct. 11. Registration will be at 1 p.m. Walkers will start at 1:30. Starting and registration is at Church of Christ, East 7th Street in Wayne. People interested in walking should contact Rev. Michael Girlinghouse at 375-1234 or 375-1736.

Rainbow Ride-a-thon

WAYNE — A horseback ride-a-thon will be held to benefit the Rainbow Riders Therapeutic Riding Program in the Wayne area on Sunday, Sept. 27. The riders will leave Winside at 8:30 a.m. and are scheduled to arrive in Wayne in time for a pork lunch at the Fairgrounds from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The public is invited to join the riders for lunch. Cost for riders is $6 and for the non-riding public $4.

Strike up the bands!

Approximately 1,000 northeast Nebraska junior high and high school musicians representing 18 schools will perform during Wayne State College's annual Band Day, Saturday, Sept. 26.

The bands will begin the day with a parade through downtown Wayne starting at 2 p.m., and they will also perform with the Wayne State band at halftime of the Wayne State-Mayville football game.

A $200 scholarship is available for the top band in each of the five classes represented (B, C1, C2, D1 and D2). The money, funded by Wayne State College and the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, may be used by band members who plan to attend Wayne State, according to Fred Hanna, director of bands at Wayne State.

Judging the competition will be band directors Brian Anderson, Fremont High School; Randy Neuarth, Bloomfield High School; and Paul Gausman, Wisner-Pilger High School.

Enthusiasm is 'magic'

Northeast Nebraskans are encouraged to attend the "How To Stay Motivated and Be a Top Performer" seminar being presented by Jim Savage of the famed Zig Zigar Corporation at Wayne State College's Rice Auditorium on Tuesday, Oct. 6 at 6:30 p.m.

Savage is senior vice president and publisher for the Zig Zigar Corporation, and is co-author of the best-selling "Top Performance."

This seminar is designed to start with people where they are, and help them go where they are capable of going. The concept has helped hundreds of thousands of higher levels of accomplishment and goal achievement.

SAVAGE'S presentation is built on the establishment of honesty, character, integrity, loyalty and love as the foundation stones for a successful life. Also included are ideas on the "magic" of enthusiasm and specific steps to help each person become more effective on the job.

Clerks wear many county hats

By Kathy Stalling-Berry
Herald staff writer

Wayne County Clerk, Debra Finn, has been involved in county government for approximately 13 years. Although she has served as County Clerk for part of her first term, one and a half years, this type of work is familiar to Mrs. Finn.

Before running in the county election, Mrs. Finn worked as a bookkeeper for the county for 12 years. She received her bachelor's degree in accounting from Wayne State College and says that her background has been important in making her career in county government.

"The most important thing when running in an election is background. It's not something that you can just step into because this office is so diversified," Mrs. Finn said. "Experience is beneficial in obtaining knowledge of how the government operates." That is important for her and her staff because of the many varied duties that they perform.

THE COUNTY clerk also automatically assumes the positions of Registrar of Deeds and Election Commissioner. "We are three offices in one," Mrs. Finn said.

As County Clerk, Mrs. Finn and her staff issue certificates of title for motor vehicles, note and release liens on title certificates. Approximately 2,350 titles have been issued in the past year.

"The majority of the people that come into our office are here for motor vehicle titles," Mrs. Finn said. "It gives us an opportunity to meet all of the people in Wayne County at one time or another," Mrs. Finn said.

The County Clerk also issues marriage licenses.

"It brings a lot of young people into our office. It's exciting to do those because, usually, the couples are so excited," Mrs. Finn said. Marriage licenses average about 100 per year.

Walkers see 'gold'

Olympic gold medalist swimmer Crissy Ahmann-Leighton will be the honorary chairperson for the Wayne State College Fourth Annual Women Helping Women Walkathon.

The event is scheduled for Saturday, September 26 at 9:30 a.m. on the Memorial Stadium track on the WSC campus. In case of inclement weather, the event will be held inside the Recreation Center on the indoor track.

"This is the sole fundraiser for women's athletics, which goes towards scholarships and recruiting," says event coordinator Cyndi Wagner. "We've grown from 36 participants to over 200 with the area women getting together and truly enjoying the event."

Ahmann-Leighton was part of the gold medal 4x100 freestyle and 4x100 medley teams at the 1992 Summer Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. The 4x100 medley squad set a world record in winning the event. She earned a silver medal in the 100 meter butterfly competition, missing the gold by 12 hundredths of a second.

Crissy Ahmann-Leighton

"We are very honored and excited to have Crissy Ahmann-Leighton be a part of our event this year," Wagner said. "We appreciate her time and greatly admire what she has achieved in her life. She is truly a role-model for everyone."

Hands-on training

Deadline for NEAS registration is Oct. 9

The registration deadline for the National Engineering Aptitude Search (NEAS) test is Oct. 9. The test will be given on Nov. 14 at Wayne State College.

The NEAS examination battery was developed by the American College Testing (ACT) program and is the only guidance-oriented examination available to give students an opportunity to assess their academic strengths against other students who are considering a college major of engineering, technology, mathematics or science.

Components of this three-hour exam include tests in mathematical understanding, science reading and problem solving, an interest inventory, out-of-class accomplishment scale and a biographic questionnaire.

The fee for the exam is $20. For more information, contact the Wayne State College Division of Mathematics and Science, 375-7329.

Fat chance

Supporters of the constitutional amendment to establish a state lottery in Nebraska have everything going for them in the campaign to win voter approval for the measure.

Dollars are pouring in for their campaign from gambling interests, teachers unions and environmentalists.

Under the Nebraska lottery proposal, the proceeds will be split between education, the environment and a small amount will be used to help encourage addicted to gambling to stop.

With the money going to such worthy causes, with the political "stars" supporting the measure, with Nebraska being only one of a handful of states without a lottery and with a structure that even purports to help addicted gamblers, with polls which indicate a large majority of voters support the lottery, with the state facing massive budget shortfalls, it would seem the lottery is a sure bet.

But, before we rush off and jump on the trendy bandwagon, we need to consider the hidden costs of the lottery. Of the $65 million supporters say Nebraskans will wager, over $11 million will be spent on out-of-state corporations which administer the services, on advertising and marketing to get more people to buy lottery tickets, on supplies and equipment and on retailer commissions.

Many states which implemented lotteries have found that the income projections did not live up to the estimates touted by lottery supporters during the campaign to win votes. But the expense side usually meets or exceeds projections — in spades.

We believe voters should approach the lottery proposal with about as much skepticism as they should approach the purchase of an individual lottery ticket.

Our chance of coming out ahead in either case is one-in-a-million.

An ode to orange orbs

'Melon head' has pumpkin affinity

It's here, it's official, it's fall and none will convince me that it is anything but the best season of the year. Fall, you see, is the season of pumpkins. And I have a real affinity for the orange orbs.

I think my close relationship with fall, and more specifically with pumpkins dates back to the days as a bumbling strapping when my cruel siblings saddled me with such epithets as "melon head" and "squash for brains."

It was a characterization I could not live down, so I made the best of it, and came to love the fruit they had tried to disgrace me with.

Pumpkins are by far my favorite food, when properly converted into pie.

I was sorely disappointed to be out of the state on business over the weekend thereby missing the annual Pumpkin Days celebration in Wakefield.

I'd have been there otherwise, sporting my pumpkin bow tie and eating every pie in sight.

Many people think pumpkins are a vegetable because they are closely related to squash which we are supposed to hate when they try to make us eat it as kids.

But neither pumpkins, nor squash, are vegetables; they are fruit — in the same family as berries to be precise.

They are like berries because they are formed from the pistil of a single flower. I'll halt this birds and bees discussion here before I get into trouble.

Anyway, did you know pumpkins were completely unknown in Europe before Columbus. There, you might say that this year is the 500th anniversary of greatest discovery of the modern era. The domesticated pumpkin.

They had been growing in the western hemisphere for some 5,000 years. What the Native Americans called them is not clear, but French explorer Jacques Cartier is credited with reporting the discovery of "gros melons" in the St. Lawrence Region.

The English translation was not

Mann Overboard
By Les Mann

"big melons" as you might expect, but "pomptions," later adapted to pumpkins.

Historians figure there was some form of pumpkins, albeit not pie, served at the first Thanksgiving feast.

Pumpkins have shared other notable pages in history. In 1948, a Maryland farmer was walking out in his pumpkin patch when he discovered several containers of microfilm in a hollowed-out pumpkin. Thus began the famous "Pumpkin Papers" scandal involving espionage and Alger Hiss.

Some say the episode helped launch the national political career of then Congressman Richard Nixon. Just think, will you, how recent history might have been different if not for that pumpkin divulging its secrets.

Wait a minute, maybe pumpkins aren't so great after all.

Nah, pumpkin pie tastes too good to get down on over some slight miscalculation like breaking up a spy ring.

One of my Almanacs said any idiot can grow pumpkins. (Here we go with that affinity thing again.)

The almanac must have been right. Before moving to Wayne, I was the largest ersatz commercial pumpkin grower in three counties of Western Nebraska. (I weighed a good 50 pounds more than the other two guys.)

We have several pieces of pumpkin art hanging about the house, including a commissioned portrait of pumpkins from our former patch. (Friend-wife occasionally indulges my eccentricities.)

All this is to say, I'm a pumpkin kind of guy and it is nice to see that a lot of good folks in Wakefield share my affinity.

Incidentally, if you would like to join the World Pumpkin Confederation, which annually holds a contest for the official heaviest pumpkin in addition to promoting the use of pumpkins, you may write to the organization at 14050 Gowanda State Rd., Collins, N.Y. 14034.

Story in Herald was reminder of 'first love'

Dear Editor:

Receiving my Herald in the mail today and seeing the picture of "My First Love", I had to sit down and write to you! When I saw the picture of the Wayne airport it brought back memories that made the eyes a little moist.

Irvn Erxleben used to fly over Wayne and do some aerobatics about the time I started school and then a fellow from the West Point area had a small plane and used to land in a field south of the Fairgrounds, across from the old country school and sell rides for a couple of dollars. To see it fly and to talk to someone who could actually do it was probably the greatest thing that could happen to me then!

Not long after that, in 1940, the government decided they needed to build up an air arm of the military. They needed to get as many trained in the basics of flying as they could, in a hurry. The government sponsored a program for high school seniors and college students, all volunteers, male or female. They called it the CPT Program, Civilian Pilot Training.

When they decided to build an airport at Wayne, they hired a young 36 year old Instructor-Pilot, Stanley G. Fuller, from Spirit Lake, Iowa to come over and manage it. He and Mrs. Fuller lived in one of the apartments at the College.

That June 1st, 1940 stands out as the day they started to build the airport. John Parke, Claude Harder and I walked out from town to watch. No airplanes that day, but we knew there would be someday!

The airplanes came and there were a lot of students. All great people, many to go on to fly Bombers, like Lyle Seymour who also had an instructor in the military that worked with me in the old CAA and now FAA, Federal Aviation Administration. We only live about fifteen minutes apart. Small world.

It seems the safety record was very good. I can't remember but one accident and that would have to be classified an incident. Professor Gulliver was going to instruct in the Ground School and was to get some flight training. Somehow he stuck his elbow through a window.

I cleaned up, washed and gassed a lot of airplanes in the years following but finally did get my Private Pilot License in 1946 from R.G. (Dutch) Fuelberth. Bev Canning had been my instructor after coming home from a German Prison Camp after being shot down over France and being a guest there for quite some time. I remember someone asking Dutch if he thought I was safe and he said he didn't think I would do anything irrational in an airplane. He and Bev taught me a lot and I can say that what I learned from them helped me a lot with my own flying and later, when I had employees flying for me. There were rules patterned after those taught to me in Wayne. Some of the safety precautions impressed by Dutch helped a great lot in the fact that we never had an insurance loss.

Looking at the photo again as shown in the paper, I can only see progress to be made in the future of Wayne. A town is only as progressive as it's airport is modern. The airport is like a handshake of two persons meeting. It is there with meaning or it is just there. At present it looks good.

I must apologize for writing such a long letter, but the airport photo just got me started and I could go on for more pages about so many others; Al and Bob Johnson, Jack Kingston, and especially Lawrence Kohrt. We boarded the bus at the Morrison Hotel in November of 1946 and headed to Ft. Crook, now Offutt AFB, Omaha to be sworn into the Army Air Corps. I wonder if he has aged. I haven't, though my granddaughter just graduated from High School. Three more to go!

Thank you for listening, I'd love to get back there for a visit, but I think that one thing I learned as a child in Wayne will stop me. My mother kept college students to help us financially and I learned to smoke at a very early age. I was hooked early and did not let up until ten years ago when suddenly I ended up on oxygen. To be quite honest, it's not really the best feeling to have an oxygen tube in your nose all day and then a mask on when you sleep - but - it does beat what it could be.

We'd love to hear from anyone interested.

Sincerely,
William (Bill) O. Martin

Mental illnesses need compassion

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Former Nebraska football player Scott Baldwin lies paralyzed in an Omaha hospital. The circumstances that put him there provide more fodder for second-guessing than any football game ever could. The whole thing is tragic from beginning to end.

You know the basics of what happened. Baldwin earlier this year clearly became a sick man. He had a psychotic episode, stripped off all his clothes, and severely beat a Lincoln woman.

He was acquitted on the beating by reason of insanity and underwent treatment for the illness that brought on the violent attack. He seemed to be doing better.

Then came the relapse. On the day of NU's football season opener, another psychotic episode. Baldwin again running naked through the streets, again out of control. Another struggle with police, this time in Omaha, a gun pressed against his chest and a crippling gunshot.

Like I said, for second-guessers, this one is a Sunday morning quarterback's dream.

Why hadn't Baldwin been watched more closely? Given that his previous episode had been triggered by his frustration with not being able to play football last year due to injuries, why wasn't anyone watching to see how he would react to another football season starting without him?

Why didn't anyone know he had stopped taking medication, a key behind the relapse? Why didn't he know what risks he would face if he failed to take his medication?

As far as the shooting goes, why did two female officers, no match for a major college football player, try to arrest him without more help? Why didn't the officers know that as they pulled the trigger, additional help was just seconds away?

Anyway, all the circumstances tumbled against Baldwin.

Some may have trouble feeling sorry for Baldwin. To feel that way is to not understand what mental illness is all about. It's a disease, and it can afflict anyone. Black, white, rich, poor, young, old. Its victims have no choice in the matter.

The victims of mental illness are not demented. They are regular people who have chemical imbalances in their brain that in many cases can be controlled by medication.

Some feel Baldwin got off scot-free for his previous assault. But the assault was caused by his mental illness. Now, ironically, because of that same illness, Baldwin has paid a price far more severe than any court system could dish out.

Broadcast engineers do not 'over-modulate'

Dear Editor:

I wish to take exception to Merlin Wright's column "Noodlehead Acres". I realize that it is supposed to be a folksy, hometown, Garrison Keillor's Lake Wobegonish column, but it should not be a place for personal attacks such as occurred in last week's paper. Mr. Wright ends his column with the statement, "Remember! For Safety, take an extra parachute when you jump to conclusions." If Mr. Wright did take along the redundant parachute, he forgot to pull the ripcord and splattered himself all over journalistic integrity. For even in Lake Wobegone a person should check their facts before printing ridiculous accusations.

Where I have a difference of fact with Mr. Wright start with his Pet Peeve #2: adjusting the sound on your radio or television only to have the station's engineer turn up the volume during the commercials. All radio and television stations are required by FCC regulations to have a device called a "limiter". This limiter automatically controls audio levels into the transmitter, in order to avoid overmodulating the transmitter, which would cause unwanted distortion (the last thing a station manager wants is distorted commercials). In addition to subjecting the signal to distortion, continued overmodulation can subject the station to hefty fines and threaten the loss of the station's license. The engineer's job is to make sure that a station's signal complies with all FCC rules and to maintain the transmitter within strict operating guidelines. No engineer sits at a modern radio or TV station and turns up the volume during commercials. Most station's signal processing is automatically handled by microprocessor based equipment, and is "untouched by human hands." The reason there is an "apparent" increase in volume is, you turn on your radio to listen to Garth Brooks and instead you hear a soap commercial. The soap commercial is an intrusion into your day, much like telemarketing, it is someone trying to sell you something when you really are wanting to get down and boogie. So, simply because it is an intrusion, it is perceived as loud.

The second point of contention is Peeve #4: the lunacy of the Sioux City television stations blocking area cable customers from watching Omaha affiliates. Again,

Mr. Wright has put pen in gear before brain was engaged. He has been taken in by cable company propaganda. The Sioux City TV stations have absolutely no control over the local cable companies, and can not force them to do anything. The control that Mr. Wright is alluding to is again with the FCC. The FCC regulates the cable industry, not the local TV stations. The local stations spend a great deal of money for the exclusive rights to air such shows as "Wheel of Fortune", "Star Trek the Next Generation", and "Oprah". This works fine for people who receive the signal, free, over the air. But, for people who sign up for cable, can now import a distant signal. So when Channel 42 runs the above mentioned programs, the local station has lost the exclusivity that they paid dearly for. So the FCC passed a rule, that cable systems with a certain number of subscribers had to protect the local station by blocking out duplicate imported signals. The original intent of the rule was to protect local stations from superstations like WTBS, WGN, WOR who paid the same syndication fee as a local station, but could scatter the signal all over the globe through satellites. But, when you regulate for the big guys, sometimes the little guys get regulated too.

I am not saying that the Sioux City stations are right, (I still wonder why channel 4 gives Wakefield temps and ignores the bigger city and county seat) but in this instance, they are totally blameless. I have been a broadcast engineer for 23 years and feel that Mr. Wright owes all engineers an apology. We want only to transmit the best signal possible for the consumer, for we are consumers too.

Company apologizes for 'error' Cable subscribers see red

By Merlin Wright
Staff Writer

Douglas Cable subscribers in Wakefield got an unexpected surprise Saturday. The morning mail brought notices to nearly 300 patrons warning their cable service would be disconnected if they didn't pay up.

Patrons were astonished when they received a "third and final notice" from Douglas, with headquarters in Topeka, Kan., warning "Your account is now over 45 days past due. Your cable television service will be disconnected and your account referred to DCCLP credit and collection for additional action." There had never been a first and second notice, according to Mayor Merlin Olson.

The red-inked warning continued "Call now to prevent this disconnection and potential impact on your individual credit standing." Individual customers assumed, upon receiving the notice, they were the only person receiving the notice. Many customers had paid their cable fee two months in advance as requested by Douglas Cable, and angry citizens attending the Pumpkin Days parade downtown Saturday morning compared notes to discover most cable subscribers had received the same notice with its "Disconnection Notice!"

RICHARD ROARK, Douglas Cable representative, fielded

numerous complaints about the notice while manning a booth at the Elementary School as part of the Pumpkin Days celebration. Roark said the disconnection notice had occurred due to a "computer error."

Mayor Merlin Olson said Monday the cable subscribers were bewildered by the notices and he anticipated that subscribers "will get a written apology for the company's error."

Barry Fitzgerald, director of communication for the Topeka cable firm, advised the Wayne Herald Monday that an employee at the firm's headquarters made an error while accessing a computer database. The database was supposed to adjust credits for Wakefield customers who were without one day of service when the company relocated its antenna and transmitting equipment from mid-town to the southwest corner of the city. The error caused the inaccurate mailing of the disconnection warnings, Fitzgerald explained. "We're embarrassed it happened," he continued, "We received a number of calls about it. We value the business in Wakefield and don't want to alienate anyone."

RICK NAGLE, a customer service representative for Douglas, said the company was mailing letters of apology to Wakefield customers Monday afternoon.

City Administrator Lowell Johnson says Douglas Cable has a non-exclusive franchise with the city for another 10 years. He described the relationship between Douglas Cable and Wakefield residents as not being real satisfactory. In early June the system went down for three days when a problem developed between the company and the private owner of property rented by the cable company for its disk antennas and transmitter.

A decision in the disagreement may come as early as today in the Dixon County Court.

The cable company has about 300 customers in Wakefield and returns three percent of the franchise fees to the city which amounts to $1,800 annually, according to Johnson.

DOUGLAS CABLE took over the Wakefield system in 1987 from Midland Cable which had installed the system in 1982. City records show the company also pays $3.75 per pole for utilizing 72 power poles to which cable is attached for signal distribution.

Fitzgerald said he was not aware of any current plan for adding additional channels or expanding the Wakefield facility.

New bookstore at WSC

Wayne State College President Dr. Donald Mash cuts the ribbon officially opening the new Barnes and Noble bookstore at the Wayne State College Student Center. The company won the contract to provide the official bookstore services for the campus last spring and opened with the start of classes last month. The bookstore hosted the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce for a Chamber Coffee on Friday at which time the official ribbon cutting was held.

Governor's guests

Student enters Navy...later

Shannon Spoor, a senior at Wayne High School, recently qualified and enlisted in the United States Navy for guaranteed training at the Navy's Hospital Corpsman school.

Spoor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Spoor of Wayne, enlisted under the delayed entry program, and will complete high school before reporting for active duty in June 1993 at Orlando, Fla. There she will undergo basic training to prepare for her Navy life.

Upon completion of basic training, Spoor will begin 14 weeks of schooling at Great Lakes, Ill., to prepare her for her job in the hospital corpsman field. Hospital corpsmen assist professionals in providing health care to serve members and their families. They act as pharmacists, medical technicians, food service personnel, nurses' aids, battlefield medics, X-ray technicians, physicians' or dentists' assistants and more. Their work falls into several categories: first aid and minor surgery, patient transportation, patient care, prescriptions and laboratory work, food service inspections and clerical duties.

Senator says attend session on highways

State Sen. Elroy Hefner of Coleridge encourages interested citizens in Northeast Nebraska to attend and express their opinions at the annual informational meeting conducted by the State Highway Commission and the State Department of Roads.

The District 3 meeting will be held at the city auditorium in Wayne on Wednesday, Sept. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

Hefner said information concerning the highway construction program for the years 1993 to 1998 will be presented.

Speaker

though we cannot tailor-make the situations that arise in life, we can tailor-make our attitudes in life.

Topics to be covered include steps to top performance, conditioning for success, developing excellence in yourself and others, the power of enthusiasm and how to stay motivated.

The seminar is being presented by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and the Wayne State College Student Activities Board.

TICKETS FOR the seminar are $10 per person. They are available in Wayne at the Chamber office, State National Bank, First National Bank, Farmers and Merchants State Bank, Pac 'N' Save and M&H Apco.

Wayne State students will be admitted free with the proper identification.

Barbara Junck

Junck joins Herald staff

Barbara Junck of Carroll joins The Wayne Herald staff this week as news correspondent in Carroll.

She and her husband, Dean, farm northwest of Carroll and are the parents of four children. Daughter Pam, 21, is employed at Ampride in Norfolk, and Dwaine, 18, is a student at Northeast Community College, Norfolk. Maribeth, 15, is a sophomore at Wayne-Carroll High School, and Lynn, nine, attends fourth grade at Carroll Elementary School.

Barbara and her family are members of Trinity Lutheran Church, Winslow, where she serves as Sunday school superintendent.

She also is a member of the Carroll Craft Club, organizational leader of the Carrolls 4-H Club, and secretary of the Monday Afternoon bowling league in Wayne. She enjoys bowling, sewing and reading.

Carroll area residents with news events they would like publicized in The Wayne Herald are asked to call Barb at 585-4857.

Norfolk LaVitsef honors local folks

Local citizens will be honored during Norfolk's annual LaVitsef Time Fall Festival to be held Sept. 24-27. The theme of the festival is "Sowing The Seeds Of The Good Life."

The outstanding citizen representing Laurel is Lynette Joslin. Twenty-five residents from other area communities surrounding Norfolk will be presented an award for Outstanding Citizenship during a breakfast to be held in their honor on Sept. 26 at the Norfolk Country Club. The Outstanding Citizen from each town will also be escorted in the grand parade at 10 a.m. the same day.

Outstanding Citizens are chosen on the basis of nominations received by the LaVitsef Time committee from the various communities. Selection is based on community involvement and service to mankind.

Many activities are planned for this year's festival — some favorites repeated from previous years and several new events to celebrate Nebraska's 125th birthday.

A pet show will start the festivities on Thursday evening at City Square Park at 6 p.m. Friday begins the Life Signs: A Celebration of Health Fair at the NECC Activities Center. A Nashville concert with Dickie Lee and Jim Casey is scheduled for Saturday evening in the new Johnny Carson theatre.

Other activities throughout the weekend include a kiddieland carnival at the mall, fun time in the park for teens, fun runs, antique show and flea market, muzzle loaders gathering, a craft fair, soccer tournaments, a pie and ice cream social, slow pitch softball tourney, rubber ducky races, Verges Park cave opening and antique car show, marching band competition, radio control car and remote boat races, a baby contest and many special dinners at various places. The final activity will be the Sweet Adelines "Celebration of Song" at the Senior Citizens Center.

EXAMINE THE COST OF YOUR HEALTH CARE

In the moment that you need health care, the cost is the furthest thing from your mind. It's afterward, when the bills roll in that you realize the cost of care is taking a bigger and bigger bite out of your budget. I'm just as concerned about it as you are.

Today, having insurance that's affordably right for you is more important than ever before. Finding it, however, may not be easy. A good way to start is to ask yourself some tough questions about your health insurance.

Do you have the right coverage? Are you paying for protection that you don't need? One way I've addressed rising health care costs is to tailor policies to fit what people need and can afford.

If you'd like to hear more about how American Family can help give you a healthier outlook on health insurance, just give me a call today.

Wildcats amass 587 total yards in 44-7 rout

Wayne State ends losing string

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Wayne State football team snapped an eight-game road losing streak and notched their first win of the season, Saturday in Bemidji, Minn. with a 44-7 thumping of Bemidji State.

The Wildcats rolled up 587 yards of offense—the second highest in history by a Wayne State team and they scored all 44 points in just over two and a half quarters.

The host Bemidji team took its first possession and went 69 yards in five plays as quarterback Marty Follis hit David Schmidt on a 48-yard scoring strike for a 7-0 lead.

That would be the last time Bemidji State saw the endzone as WSC kicked it in gear and the scoring explosion began early in the second quarter when Andy Parr booted a 33-yard field goal to cut the gap to four at 7-3.

At the 7:58 mark of the second quarter WSC took the lead for good when Lamont Rainey darted over from three yards out for a 10-7 Wildcat lead. Jason Williams then got into the scoring act on a one-yard plunge with 4:42 left in the first half to give WSC a 16-7 lead.

Wildcat quarterback Troy Mott called his own number from one yard out with 1:52 remaining in the first half and the 'Cats owned a 23-7 intermission lead.

Williams scored twice in the third quarter, the first on a 23-yard scamper with 11:02 remaining in the quarter and the second on a two-yard run with 2:58 left in the period to give WSC a 37-7 lead.

The Wildcats final score of the game came with 4:38 left in the fourth quarter when Clint Williams plunged over from three yards out.

"We could have really ran up some bigger numbers," Wayne State coach-Dennis Wagner said. "We took 50 players and all 50 had played before the end of the third quarter."

Wagner said it was important for his squad to not only get back on the winning track but it puts the 'Cats in good position to come home to a five-game home stand where Wagner is 11-3 in his career.

"We call our home field the 'cat carpet,' and we take a lot of pride in playing at home," Wagner said. "I think it all started a couple years ago when we defeated Fort Hays State who at the time was ranked fifth in the nation."

Wagner's lone three losses in his tenure at WSC in Memorial Stadium are to Kearney, Minnesota-Morris and Emporia State.

"We went into the Bemidji game with a different approach from the running back standpoint," Wagner said. "Instead of alternating Williams and Rainey on every possession we alternated each quarter."

The potent combination rushed for a total of 197 yards as Williams netted his first 100-yard rushing game as a Wildcat with 119 yards on 22 carries.

"We wanted to run the ball successfully so we could set up our passing game," Wagner said. "We did that effectively because our lineman did a better job of run blocking and opened up some good holes for our backs."

Wagner said he was pleased that his team didn't lose their composure when Bemidji scored on its first possession. "Our guys were focused on the fact that we knew we were a better team than what we showed the first two weeks," Wagner said. "Jason and Lamont both ran the ball very well and Troy Mott played well other than the two interceptions when he tried to force the issue."

Damon Thomas was the leading receiver for Mott for the third straight game, with nine receptions for 108 yards. It's his second consecutive game over 100 yards in receiving. Thomas currently ranks third in the nation in NCAA-II in receptions per game at 9.3 and he ranks 25th in yards per game receiving at 92.0.

Troy Mott
Completed 26 of 35 passes for 283 yards in WSC's win.

Williams, incidentally, was named Nebraska NCAA-II Co-Offensive Player of the Week after Saturday's performance of 119 yards rushing and 43 yards receiving.

Defensively, the 'Cats were dominant at Bemidji, giving up just 17 rushing yards and 148 total yards. "We played some good defense," Wagner said. "We put Brad Ottis on one of Bemidji's linemen who was struggling and Ottis was in their backfield the whole day."

Ottis finished with 14 tackles, including nine unassisted. He had three quarterback sacks and four other tackles behind the line of scrimmage. He also forced a fumble.

Linebacker Jerry Kleidosty also had 14 tackles in the game while Cory Reeder netted 12. Bill Federson finished with nine while Adon-ice Nunn and Jim Meyer had three each. The 'Cats had eight tackles for losses plus three quarterback sacks. Brian Clausen recovered the lone fumble.

"It was a nice victory but we can't savor it too long because we have to get ready for Mayville State," Wagner said. "Mayville is 1-2 and got its first win of the year last Saturday over Huron State."

Mayville State is located in Mayville, North Dakota. "It is important for us to get this five-game home stand off on the right track," Wagner said. "We believe we must come out of this period with a winning record and the best way to do that is to start with a win over Mayville State."

Game time for the Wildcats home opener is set for 5:45 p.m. at Memorial Field.

Winside gridders suffer worst offensive outing

Randy Geier's Winside Wildcats were looking forward to traveling to play Coleridge last Friday as they were searching to keep an undefeated record in tact.

What they got, however, was the worst offensive performance in Geier's six-year tenure as the Winside coach. "I was really surprised that they beat us that bad," Geier said. "We totalled 78 yards for the entire game which is the lowest in the 48-games I've been here."

Geier said his team had some breakdowns in punt coverages and that they just got whipped at the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball.

Coleridge scored 16, first quarter points on a 23-yard field goal, a 21-yard pass play and an eight-yard run. In the second quarter they added 13 points on a two-yard run and a 43-yard pass. The final 13 points came in the third quarter on a 78-yard run and a one-yard run.

Coleridge scored on its first five possessions of the game and all were a result of good punt returns.

Winside garnered just five, first downs and 41 yards rushing while Coleridge got 12 first downs and 228 yards rushing. The Wildcats were 3-16 in the passing department for 37 yards and three interceptions while the host team was 6-13 for 92 yards.

Winside had five turnovers in the game compared to a pair by Coleridge. Lonnie Grothe was Winside's leading rusher with 34 yards while Brady Frahm gained 25 yards.

Marcus Stueckrath caught two passes for 21 yards and John Hancock caught the other one for 16. Cory Miller led Winside's defense with 10 tackles while Hancock had nine. Jeff Bruggeman finished with seven.

"For some reason when we play Coleridge we have a mental block," Geier said. "On their first five possessions of the game, the worst field position they had was on our 36-yard line."

Winside will look to get back on the winning track on Friday when they host Osmond.

Wayne harriers fare well at Scotus meet

The Wayne cross country teams traveled to compete in the Columbus Scotus Invitational last Friday and the Blue Devil boys placed runner-up to Albion by three points, 38-41 while the girls placed third with 52 points.

In boys action Logan View placed third with 50 points while Schuyler finished fourth with 73. Columbus Lakeview placed fifth with 89 points and Norfolk Catholic scored 101 for sixth place. Columbus Scotus, East Butler, Wisner-Pilger and David City Aquinas rounded out the teams in order of finish.

Spencer Stednitz was Wayne's top finisher with a 17:05 clocking while his brother Nate was eighth overall with a 17:22 time. Chris Headley finished 13th in 17:43 and Travis Koester was 16th in 18:01 while Mark Meyer placed 17th in 18:02. Aaron Geiger also finished in the top 20 with a 19th place effort of 18:24.

David City Aquinas won the girls title with 21 points, followed by Columbus Scotus with 30. Schuyler was fourth with 53 and Albion was fifth with 74.

Tami Schluns placed second in the individual standings with a 17:01 effort while Susie Enz placed seventh with a 17:56 effort. Jill O'Leary was Wayne's next best finisher with a 19:21 clocking while Jessica Wilson was timed in 19:41. Beth Meyer's 20:50 and Emily Wiser's 21:30 rounded out Wayne's participants.

"I thought the boys ran a pretty good race," Wayne coach Rocky Ruhl said. "We looked like we could win with 800 meters to go but our young squad just could not salvage enough to hold on. We came a little closer to Albion. If we get Aaron healthy we will have a shot at them at districts."

Ruhl said his girls team seems to have some improving while others are staying consistent. "We do need to improve because Schuyler looks like they could be tough at districts," Ruhl said. "Tami showed signs of running back to form. Melodee Lage tried but needs more time. Jill really ran well improving from a time of 20:49 last season to 19:21 last Friday."

The Wayne reserve team won their team title with 22 points. Brad Uhing placed second in 19:29 while Aaron Schnier was fifth in 19:37. Randy Johnson placed sixth in 19:46 and Robert Bell finished ninth in 20:02. Spencer Bayless and Chad Stalling also competed.

Junior High competes

While the Blue Devils high school team was in Columbus last Friday, the junior high team competed at Norfolk with competition coming from Norfolk, Fremont, Yankton, Ralston and Wayne.

Wayne placed second to Norfolk as a team on the 1.2 mile course. Matt Meyer placed second overall with a 7:09 clocking while David Enz placed eighth in 7:37. Chris Dyer finished 11th in 7:52 and Aaron Kardell placed 15th in 8:07.

There were eight, eighth graders in top 15 in individual standings and all four of Wayne's top finishers are seventh graders.

Bears blank Ponca

After dropping its first game of the season to a ranked Randolph team, Tom Luxford's Laurel team has won two straight including last Friday's 22-0 blanking of Ponca in Ponca.

It was the first shutout for a Laurel team since the playoff team of 1989. "Ponca has a pretty good team," Luxford said. "We just capitalized on their mistakes."

Laurel led 8-0 after the first quarter as Derek Ehlers darted in from two yards out, Ehlers also converted the two-point play on a run. In the second quarter the Bears got a touchdown run of one yard from quarterback Travis Monson and Ehlers again converted the two-point play on a run.

The final scoring of the game came in the fourth quarter when Cody Carstensen scampered seven yards to paydirt. "Our defense is playing very aggressive right now," Luxford said. "Our offense did a nice job of taking care of the ball when we had it. We seemed more focused right now and we're not making the mental mistakes."

Laurel finished with 16 first downs and the Bears rushed for 283 yards while Ponca had 10 first downs and 72 yards on the ground. Laurel had zero yards through the air as Monson was 0-3 while Ponca was 10-17 for 130 yards and an interception.

Kelly Arens was the top Bears ground gainer with 109 yards while Monson rushed for 98. Ehlers finished with 59.

Defensively, Laurel was led by Ehlers with 11 tackles and an interception. Monson and Steve Stanley each had nine stops and Dustin Roberts had five.

Roberts, Stanley, Mark Dickey and Monson each had a fumble recovery as Ponca suffered five turnovers. The Bears will return home this week for a homecoming showdown with Wakefield.

Missed two-point conversion attempt difference in Wayne setback

Blue Devils slip to 0-3 with narrow 7-6 defeat

Wayne's first two football games of the season were pretty much decided by the third quarters end, but last Friday's home opener against Grand Island Central Catholic was a completely different story.

Lonnie Ehrhardt's Blue Devils gave a valiant effort against the visiting Crusaders but when the dust had settled, Wayne was left with an 0-3 mark after a 7-6 loss.

"It was a tremendous defensive performance for both teams," Ehrhardt said. "We came out fired up and went right after them but our offense was slowed by their defense."

GICC scored its lone touchdown with 4:14 left in the opening quarter when quarterback Ricky Rosno connected with Dan Carey on a 48-yard scoring strike.

The touchdown pass came on a second down and 30 play call. The defenses then took center stage as neither team allowed each other to move the ball with ease.

In fact, there were a total of 24 tackles for loss in the contest between the two squads. Wayne had seven quarterback sacks and 12 tackles for losses while the Crusaders had 10 quarterback sacks and 12 tackles for losses.

GICC head coach Randy Athay was impressed with the Blue Devils defensive performance. "You have to give Wayne some credit," Athay said. "They really came after our kids and they rattled us."

Wayne's offense did reach GICC's 16-yard line after Bobby Barnes returned a punt to the 31 to set up shop, but Regg Carnes was picked off at the nine-yard line by Dan Carey.

At halftime the Blue Devils had a total of 20 offensive yards while GICC had 109. In the second half Wayne managed 49 yards but the Blue Devils defense held the Crusaders to just seven, second-half yards.

Late in the fourth quarter Carnes intercepted a Rosno pass and sprinted 52 yards into the endzone to cut the gap to one at 7-6. Wayne set up to kick the extra point but faked it and went for two. Barnes attempted to pass the ball for the two-point play but was sacked by a host of GICC defenders.

Both teams finished with seven, first downs and Wayne rushed for a minus total of eight yards while GICC had 15 yards on the ground. Carnes was 8-21 with three interceptions and 77 yards while GICC was 7-29 through the air with three interceptions and 116 yards.

Wayne had eight penalties for 71 yards and the visitors had nine penalties for 65 yards. Dusty Jensen was Wayne's top rusher with 28 yards while Jack Swinney had seven and Barnes, six. Barnes also caught four passes for 38 yards while Tim Reinhardt and Swinney each caught two.

Chad Paysen led the defense with eight tackles while Carnes, Matt Robins and Matt Rise had seven each. Arnold Schwartz had six stops while Jason Brandt and Jeff Hamer each had five.

Wayne will host David City Aquinas on Friday night at Memorial Field in Parent's Night. All parent's of football players, cross country members and girls golf team members, are asked to meet at the field at 7:10 p.m. to be recognized.

WAYNE-QUARTERBACK Regg Carnes found the going quite tough last Friday against GICC. Wayne lost 7-6.

DEFENSIVE BACK JACK Swinney stepped in front of this GICC pass and intercepted deep in Wayne's territory in the first half of Wayne's game last Friday in Wayne.

ROBERT LONGE grabs Grand Island Central Catholic quarterback Ricky Rosno's jersey and clings until he wraps him up for one of Wayne's seven quarterback sacks.

WAYNE'S BOBBY BARNES tries to gain extra yardage on a punt return by pushing away a Grand Island Central Catholic defender. Wayne fell to 0-3 with its 7-6 loss in the home opener last Friday. Wayne will host David City Aquinas on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Wayne golfers fourth at Blair

Richard Metteer's Wayne girls golf team notched their highest overall tournament finish in two years last Friday when they placed fourth at the Blair Invitational.

Wahoo won the team title with a 395 while the host team Blair, finished second with a 413. Columbus Scotus placed third with a 433—just four strokes ahead of the Blue Devils.

Gretna placed fifth with a 456 and Stanton and Syracuse tied for sixth with 464's while Plattsmouth placed eighth with a 491. Elkhorn finished ninth with a 512 and Blair's "B" team placed 10th with a 529.

The top 15 individuals received medals and Wayne's Kari Schindler placed seventh with a 100 while Krista Remer placed 14th with a 107. Other Wayne golfers included Kristine Kopperud who finished with a 110 and Molly Melena with a 120. LeAnn Green also competed for the varsity.

Last Thursday the Blue Devils hosted Norfolk's reserve team with the visitors defeating Wayne, 199-220. Norfolk's Melissa Fletcher was medalist with a 48 while Wayne's top finisher was Kari Schindler with a 52.

Kristine Kopperud fired a 53 and Molly Melena carded a 57 while Krista Remer finished with a 58. LeAnn Green also competed for the varsity and carded a 67.

The Wayne reserves were also defeated by Norfolk's other junior varsity team, 202-297. Meghan Wright of Norfolk was the top golfer on the day with a 48 while Wayne's top golfer was Tisha Rothfuss with a 66.

Erica Stoltenberg finished with a 69. Krissy Lubberstedt, Jenny Reinhardt and Krissy Hadcock also competed for Wayne.

Trojans earn first victory

Wakefield got its first gridiron victory of the season last Friday with a 25-12 victory over Plainview at Plainview.

Dennis Wilbur's crew led 7-0 at the intermission and led 13-0 after three quarters of play. Plainview cut the lead to 13-6 but the Trojans scored the next 12 points to put the game out of reach. The host team scored its final points with less than five seconds remaining in the game.

Ryan Ekberg got Wakefield on the board with a 26-yard scamper and the point after by Cory Brown was good for the 7-0 halftime lead. Brown then got loose for a 17-yard scoring run to put the visiting Trojans up 13-0.

Brown scored his second touchdown of the night later in the third quarter which put Wakefield on top 19-6 after Plainview had scored on a five-yard run.

Wakefield's final score came on a six-yard run by T.J. Preston. "I thought we played well enough to win but we have a long way to go," Wilbur said. "Our defense played exceptional, but on offense we sputtered at times."

Wilbur was pleased with his team's opening drive in the second half which consumed 71 yards on 14 plays and took over eight minutes because it was all on the ground.

"I think Plainview ran a total of three plays in the third quarter," Wilbur said. The Trojans finished with 13 first downs and 243 yards rushing while Plainview had six first downs and rushed for zero yards.

The Trojans had zero yards passing and Plainview was 7-27 for 98 yards with two interceptions. Wakefield had a total of three turnovers and Plainview had four.

Ekberg was the leading rusher for the Trojans with 79 yards while Pat Jepson had 60. Miah Johnson finished with 45—all on one carry.

Pat Jepson and T.J. Preston led Wakefield's defensive charge with five tackles apiece while Dave Jensen had four including three behind the line of scrimmage. Jason Ladely had three tackles and all three were behind the line of scrimmage.

Larry Johnson and Miah Johnson each had an interception and Jepson had two fumble recoveries for the 1-2 Trojans. Wakefield will travel to play Laurel on Friday.

WAYNE'S MOLLY MELENA gets out of the sand trap on hole number four at the Wayne Country Club during last week's dual with Norfolk.

Allen still in search of win

The Allen football team spotted Newcastle 30 points in the first quarter and a half of last Friday's football game in Newcastle, before the Eagles decided it was time to play football.

Warren Jensen's team nearly pulled out a miracle comeback, but fell to 0-3 on the season with a 30-26 defeat. "Being down 30-0 we could have just gave up and quit," Jensen said. "But our guys hung in there and felt they could play with Newcastle and for the last two and a half quarters we whipped them."

Newcastle scored on a six-yard run and then a safety for a quick 8-0 lead. Then the host team got a two-yard scoring run and a seven-yard scoring run to lead 22-0 after the first quarter.

The Red Raiders then scored on a 22-yard scamper for the 30-0 lead. Allen's first score came on a one-yard dive by Steve Sullivan. Later in the period quarterback Curtis Oswald hit Casey Schroeder on a 21-yard pass play to cut the gap to 30-12 at the intermission.

Sullivan scored his second touchdown of the night in the third quarter on an eight-yard run. He also completed the two-point conversion to cut the lead to 30-20. In the fourth quarter Oswald cut loose on a 31-yard scoring run which left the contest a four-point margin.

"We actually scored the winning touchdown," Jensen said. "We picked up a Newcastle fumble and ran it in from 40 yards but the official called us for clipping so it was called back."

Allen faced a fourth down and one from Newcastle's 32-yard line but failed to convert and Newcastle ran the clock out.

"We feel we should be 3-0 if we could put four quarters together," Jensen said. "We keep hurting ourselves with costly turnovers and penalties. I think the reason we are having these problems is because we are so young."

Sullivan led Allen with 120 yards rushing on 28 attempts while Oswald had 63 yards on 19 carries. Oswald was 7-14 with one touchdown and an interception for 65 yards with Schroeder being his favorite target with four receptions for 34 yards.

Jay Jackson caught two balls for 29 yards and Sullivan had one catch for one yard. Bren Mattes led the Eagles on defense with 17 tackles while Sullivan finished with 15.

Allen finished with 261 yards in the game compared to 199 for Newcastle. The Eagles will host Bancroft-Rosalie on Friday.

WSC harriers compete in Lincoln

WAYNE-The Wayne State men's and women's cross country teams took part in the Woody Greeno Invitational, Saturday in Lincoln's Pioneer Park. The Wildcats men placed 11th of 15 teams with 330 points while the women placed 14th of 16 teams with 318 points.

Chirs Huff led the men with a 78th place time of 28:44.9 in the 8000 meter course while Brian Bergstrom placed 81st in 28:48.4. Cody Hawley placed 84th in 28:54.3 and Dave Patten placed 91st in 29:13.0. Rich Carstensen and Steve Dinsmore also competed.

Jennifer Kennedy paced WSC's women's team with a 37th place time of 20:09.8 on the 5000 meter running surface. Lucy Peter placed 48th in 20:34.0 and Jackie Heese placed 67th in 21:06.0 while Keri Kamrath crossed the finish line in 89th place with a 22:06.0 clocking. Angie Chvala also competed.

The Nebraska Cornhusker women's team won the team title while HCA Wesley-Athletics of Wichita, Kan., won the men's title. "I thought our teams ran well considering the quality of meet-runners-present," WSC coach Rick Moorman said. "It was a good meet for us to see where we stand in comparison to other big time programs. Our times are improving which is nice to see at this stage of the season."

WSC will compete in the UNO Invitational on Saturday at 10 a.m.

Wildcat golfers undefeated

WAYNE-Wayne State College Athletic Director Pete Chapman announced this year's class of incoming freshman student-athletes had a 3.04 core grade point average on a 4.0 scale in high school.

"We feel good about the type of student-athletes the coaches are recruiting at Wayne State," Chapman said. "This is the first year we've conducted this type of study, and the results may be indicative of NCAA schools at this level."

Core classes are recognized academic courses which must be taken in English, Math, Natural or Physical Science, and Social Science at the high school level.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) requires incoming freshman to have a 2.0 high school core grade point average to be immediately eligible for athletic competition.

Wakefield's pumpkin pioneers

"PUMPKIN PIONEERS" was the theme for this year's sixth annual Pumpkin Days celebration in Wakefield, honoring Q125 and Nebraska's 125th year of statehood. The three-day celebration included activities for residents of all ages and was highlighted with a kids parade on Saturday morning and a grand Q125 parade on Sunday afternoon. Among those taking part in the kids parade on Saturday was Alex Anderson, top right photo, who couldn't remember if the theme was "Pumpkin Pioneers" or "Pumpkin Pie in Your Ears." Alex is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderson. First place in a community yard decorating contest (center photo) went to the Dan Dutcher family. Other entries in Saturday's kids parade included (bottom center and bottom left) Pumpkin Pioneers Garek Bebee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bebee, and Whitney Rouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Rouse. In the center photo at left, Wendy Kratke maneuvers her small car in and out of participants in Sunday afternoon's parade. Other photos taken during the event include residents taking a closer look at several classic cars which were on display, center, and another yard decorating entry by the Kenny Wolff family, "Pioneer Pumpkin Skool Daz," top left.

JOIN HOST Carl Mesecher and a panel of University of Nebraska experts for the third season of "Gardening etc..." beginning the week of Oct. 4 on Wayne's local access cable Channel 19. Topics will include lawn and gardening maintenance and environmental issues for Nebraska.

Local cable airs 'Gardening, etc.'

A panel of University of Nebraska specialists will discuss lawn and garden maintenance and environmental issues on "Gardening etc..." which will be broadcast on the Jones Intercable local access channel in Wayne, according to Rod Patent, Wayne County Agent.

"This half-hour series should prove valuable to people with any interest in the outdoors. Panelists will provide a valuable service to Nebraskans," Patent said.

"Gardening etc..." is produced by NU Cooperative Extension. It begins its third season this fall on cable Channel 19 for 25 weeks beginning Oct. 5. Wayne residents can watch the program every Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m.

The series complements the popular "Backyard Farmer," which recently completed its 39th season on Nebraska ETV.

"Cooperative Extension wants to fill a void for garden enthusiasts when "Backyard Farmer" isn't on the air," said Carl Mesecher, producer. "Lawn and garden information is in high demand in Nebraska."

Each episode of "Gardening etc..." will be devoted to one specific topic for discussion in depth. Joining Mesecher will be three Nebraska specialists. The specialists will vary from show to show.

"Our goal is to teach and inform the public using different disciplines," said Mesecher. "The program is focused on environmentally-friendly methods relating to the yard, garden and home."

Topics will range from organic and container gardening, insect and animal pest prevention and control to lawn care, conservation practices and proper waste disposal.

Mesecher says "Gardening etc..." is an excellent way for gardeners and landscapers to get timely topics. Much useful information is available to help plan next year's lawn and garden season, he said. NebGuides may be available on some topics.

For more information, contact the extension office at 375-3310.

decorating contest and bake-off, arts, crafts and apron show with a Q125 theme, Pumpkin Days market, free omelet feed, kids pedal tractor pull, "Show 'n Shine" car show, carnival games, Pumpkin Days play, pork supper and firefighters dance.

Receiving first place for displaying the heaviest pumpkin (119 pounds) were Bryce, Stephanie and Logan Owens. Second place went to Jennifer Sandahl, and third place was awarded to Tammie Sandahl.

In the 12 and under category for best decorated pumpkins, winners were Jessica Dutcher, first; Jamie Puls, second; and Regina Dutcher, third. Winners in the category for ages 13 and over were Tim Renken, first; Melinda Rischmueller, second; and Edith Erickson, third.

Awards for best carved pumpkins in the age 12 and under category were earned by Jeremiah Renken, first; Sabrina Kucera, second; and Leslie Boeckenhauer, third.

First place winner for the best carved pumpkin in the category for ages 13 and over was Matthew Renken.

WINNERS OF the kids pedal tractor pull included: four-year-olds — Tanner Soderberg, Jordan Puls and Luke Henderson; five-year-olds — Keri Odens, Christy Witt and Parker Dolen; six-year-olds — Aaron Jorgensen, Jacob Olsufka and Tyler Schwartz; seven-year-olds — Josh Soderberg, Nathan Wacker and Ryan Otte; eight-year-olds — Jason Simpson, James Felt and Eric Klein; nine-year-olds — Adam Jorgensen, Ty Nixon and Kyle Roeber.

In the pie division of the pumpkin bake-off, winners were Jacob Renken, Angela Renken and Matt Renken. Other bake-off winners were Patsy Wolff, Edith Erickson and Jon Ulrich (cookies and bars); Ruth Felt and Matt Renken (desserts); Cathy Schroeder, first and second, and Matt Renken (breads and muffins); and Jeremiah Renken (cakes).

This year's "Show 'n Shine" car show featured 63 entries in 15 classes, with participants coming from LeMars, Atlantic, Sioux City, Sergeant Bluff and Remsen, Iowa; Sioux Falls and Jefferson, S.D.; Pierce, Norfolk, West Point, Ralston, Fremont, Columbus, Belden, Omaha, Beemer and Hartington.

Dennis Witt of Atlantic, Iowa receive the award for traveling the furthest distance. Other area winners were Dennis Engstedt of Wakefield, third in the '61 to '70 stock class, and Jennie Anderson of Wakefield, third in the '68 to '77 Vet class.

WAKEFIELD residents also were invited to decorate their yards in a "Pumpkin Pioneers" theme, with first place and 100 Wakefield Dollars going to the Dan Dutcher family.

The Kirby Mousel family received second place and 50 Wakefield Dollars for their yard decoration, and Educational Service Unit Number One won 50 Wakefield Dollars in the division for businesses.

Ardath Otte of Wayne was also the winner of 50 Wakefield Dollars in a drawing sponsored by the Wakefield Community Club.

Visitors to Wakefield on Saturday also were given an opportunity to take part in community scenic hayrack tours highlighted by the decorated yards and other sights of interest in the community.

Student wins scholarship

Maureen Braadland, Wayne, has been awarded the $500 Chi Omega Sorority Alumni Scholarship to Wayne State College.

Clerks

fers have been recorded from the original Land Patent, which dates back to the 1800's, until the present time. Because the records date back so far, Mrs. Finn said many family trees and land histories are researched in their office.

THE COUNTY CLERK must also assume the role of Election Commissioner. This position involves being in charge of voter registration and absentee balloting, filing candidates for office, preparing ballots, appointing Judges and Clerks of Election and conducting elections. This also requires canvassing all votes at elections and certifying it to the state.

"Election work is very challenging due to all of the divisions in Wayne County," Mrs. Finn said.

"Because the job is multifaceted, it gives us an opportunity to serve the public and help them understand how government operates," Mrs. Finn said. "I enjoy the opportunity to work with the public because we always try to maintain a personal perspective while trying to meet the rules and regulations of this office."

Mrs. Finn is currently serving as Secretary/Treasurer of the Northeast Nebraska Association of County Clerks, Registrar of Deeds, and Election Commissioners.

Because she has been in office such a short time, Mrs. Finn's staff is fairly new, too. She says that their biggest accomplishment is "having reached the level of efficiency that we have. They are very personable and knowledgeable."

Evelyn Doescher has been Deputy County Clerk for two years. She is responsible for doing "just about everything." "What is so nice is that there are so many varied duties," Mrs. Doescher said. "I like working with the customers because we do so many things for them."

MRS. DOESCHER worked at a Wayne bank for 13 years previous to becoming a part of the County Clerk team. "Experience helps because it makes you comfortable with what you are doing and makes it easier for transitions because we handle so many areas," Mrs. Doescher said. She also said that she is looking forward to the excitement of the upcoming election. "This is my first time going through an election, from the inside. Nobody really knows what it's like, they just read the results or see them on t.v."

Mrs. Doescher's husband, Darrell, owns an appliance store in Wayne. They have two children, Dave and Doug. Dave works at Great Dane and lives in Wayne with his wife, Jan, and their two children. Doug teaches in Fremont and will be married soon to Michelle Lutt.

Sharolyn Biermann is also a Deputy County Clerk. She has worked in the County Clerk's office for one and a half years and has ten years experience as a legal assistant. Mrs. Biermann works mainly with filing and indexing real estate documents. "I like the challenge and variety because there is so much to do," Mrs. Biermann said.

IN ADDITION TO her other duties, Mrs. Biermann has been setting up the formats for many of the documents on the word processor. "In order to make our office more efficient and to help with the work load, we started setting up the formats to make the documents a little clearer for the public to read and understand," Mrs. Biermann said. She also said that her varied background has helped in this area because it makes it easier for her to understand what they must record, file and index.

Because she hasn't lived in Wayne very long, Mrs. Biermann's position has allowed her to get to know people in the county. Mrs. Biermann's husband, Brian, farms southeast of Wayne, and they have a 16 month old son, Brandon.

The only part-time person on staff is Marie Janke. She has been the bookkeeper for the County Clerk's office for four years. Mrs. Janke pays the payroll for the county and Accounts Payable, works on the books and computer entering claims, printing reports and doing the checks, but she also helps the others when it gets busy.

"I have a variety of duties. Every day is different. One minute I help someone register to vote, and the next, someone comes in to get their vehicle title. It leaves little opportunity for boredom," Mrs. Janke said. Mrs. Janke's husband, Robert, is a farmer, and they have two sons, a seven year old and a five year old.

Levies

county this year? Residents in rural school district 15, North of Wayne have the lowest levy in the county at $1.0756 per $100 of valuation, $50,000 worth of property there would draw a tax bill of $537.

The highest tax rate in the county this year will be paid by those residents in the Wayne County portion of Wakefield. Their levy, at $2.4716 per $100 valuation edges out Wayne's levy of $2.4509.

Individual entities with levy increases included School district 2P with a 58 percent hike from .8265 per $100 to $1.3026 per $100. Also posting an increase was the Stanton Rural First district area in Wayne County which went up from 1.7 cents per hundred to 5.5 cents this year, a 228 percent increase.

THE LOWER Elkhorn Natural Resources District also broke the trend of taxing entities with lower levies than last year. The NRD will be drawing a nearly 14 percent increase out of taxpayer pockets this year.

Mrs. Finn said she was surprised and disappointed, after compiling all the tax rates, that the levies had not gone down more than the figures indicated.

She said she had hoped the levies would have been considerably lower since most entities made dramatic efforts to hold down budget expenses.

Janssen to lead Sheriff's Association

By Merlin Wright

Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen, soon to be named president of the Nebraska Sheriff's Association, says he anticipates the forthcoming challenge that post will offer.

Janssen is slated to assume the post for 1992-93 at the NSA's annual November conference to be held in Kearney this year. He succeeds Sheriff Rex Southwick of Fairbury.

The 38 year-old native Nebraskan says his job of sheriffing in Northeast Nebraska for 10 years has been an enjoyable challenge, and feels his job has provided him opportunity to implement a kaleidoscope of ideas coordinated with responsibilities.

Having served as NSA's first vice-president since November 1991, Janssen says his prime objective as sheriff is "to be able to offer quality law enforcement in spite of budgetary restrictions placed on county governments across the state." As NSA president he says he plans "to continue the tradition of providing effective low-cost training to sheriffs, deputies and other personnel through the NSA."

Discussing priorities, Janssen said major challenges include functioning within budget cuts, balancing the drug and alcohol abuse issue between education and enforcement, improving public perception of law enforcement, officer dedication and commitment to serving the public, and enhancing agency cooperation.

One of Sheriff Janssen's ideas, a juvenile detention center that would eventually serve 49 Nebraska counties, emerged in 1988 after he persuaded the county commissioners of 20 counties and two tribal entities to unite in forming an inter-local agreement. The resultant detention facility was housed in the existing sheriff's adult jail. Wayne County adult prisoners were then contracted out to surrounding counties.

Upon implementing the detention center for juveniles, Janssen was named administrator of the facility in conjunction with his full-time law enforcement duties. He said, "This program not only provided opportunity to work with other counties, but also a doorway toward seeking economic solutions to juvenile detention standards mandated by Federal guideline."

"Ideas in the spectrum of law enforcement, in my opinion, must include a community effort that utilizes citizen participation in order to effect a balance of law and order that is desired by all persons of every age in that community," Janssen said.

He noted the detention center activated a rainbow of opinion from the community. "Citizen input and support from the community provided a lot of motivation to develop and continue to project making the task easier," he said.

The detention facility, now re-organized, is under the direction of the Northeast Juvenile Services Corporation and continues to maintain pre-adjudicated juveniles from Northeast Nebraska. Daily population of the center has averaged approximately 10 youths.

Although Sheriff Janssen is no longer involved in the operation of the JDC, he says the idea, its conception and implementation proves the economic feasibility of counties working together toward a common goal.

Janssen's interest in people and

Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen is taking aim at a new state-wide leadership role when he takes over as president of the County Sheriff's Association.

LeRoy Janssen has been sheriff in Wayne County for 10 years and says he has enjoyed the challenge of providing excellence in law enforcement under tight budgets.

working with them finds him active in associations such as the Nebraska Association of County Officials where he has been a member of the board of directors four years. He has also served eight years on NSA's board of directors.

Other interests of the sheriff include working with the Wayne Area Youth Advisory Council; acting as assistant Cubmaster of Pack 174 of the Wayne Cub Scouts; serving as treasurer for the Trinity Lutheran Church in Altona, NE for 10 years; and he is a member of the Nebraska Critical Incident Stress Debriefing Team.

As sheriff, Janssen heads up a staff of three deputies and one part-time clerical person, Dee Gable. Deputies Doug Muhs, Richard Reed, and Jay Langemeier assist in patrolling the 444 square miles in Wayne County which has a population of approximately 9,500. The sheriff's office contracts enforcement duties with Wayne County communities, Winside, Carroll and Hoskins.

"My staff and I are also involved in the Northeast Drug Enforcement Project, code name "KNEE-DEEP", which is a cooperative drug enforcement team consisting of sheriff's offices in six counties and the Nebraska State Patrol." Purpose of the team is to join forces in the war on drugs and utilize federal funding designated for such activities.

Innovation is a genuine necessity in carrying out law enforcement responsibilities on a minimum budget, according to Janssen. He borrows from an example of innovation made by his own seven-year-old son who wanted his dad to give him a book written on a high school level. Janssen said his son asked for the book and insisted he could read it, although he was a first grader. The sheriff told his son that if he could read one full sentence out of the book, it would be his. His son, accepting the challenge, carefully opened the book to the back page and read "The End", closed the book and, looking at his father said, "Thanks for the book, dad!"

Looking into the challenges of his presidency, Janssen urges NSA members to be innovative in seeking alternative solutions within the parameters of responsibility.

The sheriff and his wife Jane have been married 16 years. Their son, Ryan, resides with them in Wayne.

Nelson calls on Bush to act fast

Governor Ben Nelson called upon President George Bush to take immediate action to include ethanol as an alternative fuel in provisions of the Clean Air Act. The Governor said he is not asking for special treatment of ethanol, only that it be given a fair change to compete in the reformulated gasoline market.

"I call upon President Bush to resolve this issue. Ethanol investment decisions are being made now. For every day that a decision is delayed, ethanol is losing part of its potential market," said Governor Nelson. "It's up to President Bush to settle this matter."

The Governor said it is unfortunate that the upcoming election will probably be the turning point for action by the administration, because Nebraska farmers and farmers across the country have been waiting for more than three years for some kind of action to be taken. One of the Governor's priorities is to get the Environmental Protection Agency to eliminate its restriction against ethanol.

"The President and the Environmental Protection Agency have sufficient evidence to make an informed decision regarding ethanol," Governor Nelson said. "A growing volume of scientific evidence points out that ethanol is far better than conventional gasoline and does not exacerbate ozone pollution."

Governor Nelson encouraged Nebraskans to voice their opinions about ethanol to their representatives in Washington, D.C.

High academic achievement

Indieke National Merit Scholarship semifinalist

Kim Indieke of Wayne has been named as a National Merit Scholarship semifinalist, an honor which Wayne-Carroll High School Guidance Counselor Terry Munson is indicative of one of the highest academic achievements in the country.

Only 124 students in Nebraska have attained the semifinalist ranking in the contest based on PSAT scores.

Wayne is the only school outside Norfolk in northeast Nebraska with a merit scholar, said Munson. He added Miss Indieke is worthy of the honor and of the opportunity to continue in competition with other students in the country for scholarships and other awards.

The semifinalist pool of academically talented high school seniors is made up of about half of one percent of each state's graduating class. Semifinalists have an opportunity to continue in the competition for some 6,500 Merit Scholarships, worth over $25 million, to be awarded next spring.

More than one million juniors in over 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1993 Merit Program by taking the 1991 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which served as an initial screen of entrants. The number of semifinalists designated in each state is allocated according to the state's percentage of the national total of graduating high school seniors. Semifinalists are the top scorers in each state, and they must now advance to the final level of the competition in order to be considered for Merit Scholarships.

To qualify as a finalist, a semifinalist must have an outstanding academic record, be endorsed and recommended by the high school principal, and submit SAT scores that confirm his or her PSAT/NMSQT performance. The detailed scholarship application that each semifinalist and the school must file also includes information about the student's educational interests and goals, as well as participation and leadership in school and community activities.

About 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists, and all Merit Scholars will be chosen from this exceptionally able group. Selections will be made on the basis of professional evaluations of finalists' abilities, accomplishments and personal attributes considered important for success in rigorous college studies.

Three types of Merit Scholarships will be awarded in 1993. Every finalist will be considered for one of 2,000 national Merit $2,000 scholarships to be allocated on a state representative basis. Although corporate organizations will support about 20 percent of these awards, the majority of the "national" scholarships will be underwritten with NMSC's own funds.

Corporations, foundations and other business organizations also will finance some 1,300 Merit Scholarships for finalists who meet a sponsor's preferential criteria. Most corporate-sponsored awards will be offered for children of employees of the grantor organization, but some will be specified for residents of communities a company serves or finalists whose career goals a sponsor wishes to encourage.

More than 3,200 Merit Scholarships of a third type will be funded by colleges and universities. Winners of college-sponsored Merit Scholarships will be chosen from among finalists who will attend the institutions providing the awards.

Winning youth

These youngsters were presented awards from the Wayne County Pork Producers Association for achievement with their 4-H Swine projects. Justin Bowers, left, won trophies for Rate of Gain and Pen of 2, Joshua Jaeger won the Swine Achievement Award and Jeremy Jaeger won the Swine Percent Lean contest. The awards were presented at the Association's Annual picnic, held recently.

In conjunction with state fair Speaking contest held

Paul Cain Jr. of Burwell and Casey Foster of Friend won the State 4-H Public Speaking Contest held Sept. 4 in conjunction with the 1992 Nebraska State Fair. Latisha Schaller of Wayne was a finalist in the contest.

Sixteen district winners participated in the state event, conducted by University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension and sponsored by Radio Station KRVN of Lexington.

By capturing top honors, Paul and Casey each received $500 scholarships from KRVN. The awards were presented by Rich Hawkins, KRVN farm director. Each of the other 14 participants will receive a $50 savings bond from KRVN.

This is the first time that each participant has received an award and the $500 scholarships are the largest amounts given to date, according to Keith Martikainen, contest coordinator and youth specialist at the NU South Central Research and Extension Center near Clay Center.

Paul, 18, is the son of Velma and Paul Cain Sr. of Burwell. His speech was entitled "Stress." He said the topic was appropriate the year he wrote it. That year his grandfather passed away, his mother broke her foot and he had a 10-page paper due. In addition, he wrote the speech on stress the night before the paper was due. Now Paul said that stress is waiting to see how he did on speech contests.

Casey, 16, the son of Stan and Beverly Foster of Friend, entitled his speech "You Must Be Running." He explained that it encompassed the three levels of 4-H: being a member, being a junior leader, and being an alumni.

For both youths, this was their first win at a state speech contest.

Self-esteem emphasized in Women in Ag Conference

By Cheryl Alberts
IANR News Writer

Agricultural women may consider their role to the farm and ranch operation -- and perhaps even to the family -- as "not all that important."

But the three main scheduled speakers at the eighth annual Women in Agriculture Conference in Kearney emphasized that rural women and their roles are indeed very important.

The speakers planned to emphasize farm women's self-esteem, their "sanity" and their potential at the Sept. 17-18 conference. They urged their audience to believe in themselves, laugh and soar.

Speaking were Jo Bek, coordinator and assistant professor of the Feedlot Management program at the Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture at Curtis; Joyce Keen, director of the Department of Clinical Psychology at Iowa Methodist Medical Center in Des Moines, Iowa; and Karren Boehr of Henderson, farm wife, columnist and author of "Ants in the Sugar Bowl."

Farm women, like women everywhere, can suffer from low self-esteem. Typically, Bek said, a farm wife and mother may have the attitude "they really don't do that much -- they're just 'helping out.'"

Farm women's role is much more than just "helping out," Bek said.

One way to show that is through role reversals. After all, if farm women help outdoors, the men should help them indoors.

"Everybody needs to know how to do everybody else's job," Bek said.

When farm women know their job is important, their self-esteem will improve. "Women need to feel they really are contributing," Bek said. "They need to be aware of it and feel good about it."

"It's your attitude, as much as your aptitude, that determines your altitude," she said.

Sometimes the realization that "you are important" comes from outside the immediate family. Bek said extended families and neighbors can be a driving influence on shaping self-esteem and positive attitudes.

A survivor will find that person to relate to, she said. Touch is also important. "You can't love or hug someone too much -- that helps self-esteem as much as anything," Bek said.

Speaker Joyce Keen agreed about touching. In her "Staying Sane" discussion, Keen noted that a lack of touch and the incidence of violence have a definite correlation.

Two countries with the least amount of social touching -- the United States and England -- also have the highest levels of violence, Bek said.

"We've set ourselves up with problems in trying to be good people," she said. Keeping people at a distance and the accompanying loneliness, depression and helpless feelings show a lack of internal serenity, she said.

Touch is one of the six forms of stress management that Keen relayed. Others are not only proper nutrition, sleep and exercise, but play and laughter and mental relaxation.

Adults have forgotten how to generate joy within themselves, she said.

"What we've become is a culture waiting to be entertained." When a person laughs aloud, 16 different physiological factors occur -- not the least of which is that muscles give up their tension. Humor is so important that some doctors are using it as partial treatment at oncology bedsides, she added.

Karren Boehr of Henderson, writer and humor lecturer, emphasized that women in agriculture are valuable and have a definite place, regardless of what they do.

"The quality of farm life can't be beat," Boehr said. "A woman is the stabilizing factor on the farm. A farm woman wears many, many hats."

Often with a tongue-in-cheek approach, Boehr discussed how anyone can choose to be a crow and flop in the "muck," or an eagle, soaring through life as a challenge.

"You were created for this time and this place," Boehr said. "It is as important as any role out there. Don't belittle yourself."

"Bloom where you're planted. It's a decisive decision you have to make."

"Uncork that power within you to do the things you want to do," she concluded.

The conference on farm and ranch management was sponsored by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln's Department of Agricultural Economics, and Cooperative Extension in the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Winning Pork Producers

Wayne County Pork Producers Association presented several awards at the recent annual picnic, held at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. Verdel Lutt, left, was presented the Pork Booster Award. Jim Stout, center, received the Commercial Award. Howard Greve, right, was given the Outstanding Pork Producer award. Over 150 attended the picnic, according to Jim Lutt, president of the association.

Schedule of release of agricultural emergency funds is announced

BY TERE POST

Secretary of Agriculture, Edward Madigan, informed ASCS offices of the release of appropriated emergency funds for agricultural disasters applying to program crop losses incurred in 1990, 1991, and 1992.

The announced disaster schedule is as follows:

Sept. 14, 1992 - Application period for Phase II begins in county offices.

Sept. 30, 1992 - Last day to purchase Multiple Peril Crop Insurance for 1993 Wheat, Barley and Oats.

Oct. 2, 1992 - Last day for producers to apply for benefits under the Phase II program.

Oct. 9, 1992 - Last day to accept production evidence and signatures for other producers on a farm.

Oct. 13, 1992 - Application period for Phase III begins in county offices.

Feb. 12, 1993 - Last day for producers to apply for Phase III benefits.

Phase II deals with $100 million appropriated for disaster benefits for program crops planted in the fall of 1991 for harvest in 1992 (wheat, oats, barley). Very few if any producers in Wayne County will be involved in Phase II.

Phase III deals with $655 million appropriated for disaster benefits for 1990, 1991, and 1992 crop losses, but not for any year that had already received benefits under the original $995 million allocated during Phase I.

Disaster assistance is available on a per farm basis for any two of the three years mentioned.

Producers with qualifying gross revenues of less than $2 million per year may file claims for losses of participating and non-participating program or non-program crops that have sustained a loss due to a disaster.

Producers with crop insurance must have had losses greater than 35 percent. Producers without crop insurance must have had losses greater than 40 percent. Producers with 1992 crop losses may be required, under certain conditions, to purchase crop insurance for 1993.

Producers intending to file for assistance should begin to assemble their records now to simplify the sign up when they come to the office. We will be taking appointments for disaster sign up in the very near future, so if you feel that you qualify, please give the ASCS office a call.

Five Reasons Why Farm Credit Services Is Your Best Ag Lending Source...

NICK LEUSCHEN

JIM DEUEL

JIM ENGEL

DIXIE FOSTER

KIRK FRIEDRICK

1. Experience

You'll find ag lending professionals at Farm Credit Services...experienced, competent credit officers who specialize in ag lending. At Farm Credit, you do business with someone who knows your operation and ag lending!

2. Flexibility

At Farm Credit Services, your loan is customized to fit your individual needs and financial goals. Choose from fixed, adjustable and variable rate loans from the Production Credit Association (PCA) or Federal Land Bank Association (FLBA) with terms from one to 30 years.

3. Service

Time is money...and Farm Credit Services will work with you at one of our convenient office locations. Or, if you'd rather meet over your kitchen table at your ranch or farm, we'll arrange a meeting at your convenience!

4. Competitive Rates

Interest rates are at historically-low levels. You can lock in a competitive fixed rate now while keeping the option to convert to an even lower rate if this downward trend continues.

5. Confidentiality

Many ag operators don't want their financial records shared among multiple lenders. At Farm Credit Services you receive confidential service. And with our lending capacity, you won't have a "correspondent lender" reviewing your financial statements or records.

FARM SAFETY WEEK SEPTEMBER 20-26

Modern farming requires the use of large, complex machinery. Each year a tragic number of accidents are caused by careless handling of farm equipment around electric power lines. We urge you to use caution at all times...to watch for overhead power lines and utility poles and to avoid contact with this potentially lethal power equipment. Be aware of the location of overhead lines and power poles around grain and equipment storage areas as well as their locations along the roads and near your fields. Also, if you are planning to construct new grain handling or storage facilities this fall, be sure to contact the District Office to make sure you comply with the clearance envelope for grain storage bins. We'll be happy to come out and make sure these facilities are located well away from potential hazards. Farm safety is an investment that yields high dividends. Just a few minutes each day to check for hazards, along with seeing that your family and workers are "educated" to the dangers of the farm, will net immediate results.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Rose Ann Janke conducted the Roy Reed American Legion Post 252 Auxiliary meeting last Monday. Sixteen members and one junior member answered roll call. Audrey Quinn, chaplain, led in prayer. The flag salute and preamble were said and one verse of the National Anthem was sung.

Marilyn Brockman gave the secretary report and Gertrude Heins, the treasurer report. There are currently 49 members and four junior members of the post.

The Wayne County area Auxiliary and Legion meeting will be in Winside on Nov. 6 with a 6 p.m. dinner at the Winside Stop Inn and then the meeting will be held in the Legion Hall afterwards.

There will be a leadership school on Oct. 24 in Grand Island. Correspondence was received from District 3 President Geraldine Cline of Pender. The district convention will be March 13 in Thurston.

Beverly Neel reported on the Unit Constitution update, which was discussed and approved.

Installation of officers was held, with Lorraine Denklaue as the installing officer. Officers installed were Rose Ann Janke, president; Evelyn Jaeger, vice president; Marilyn Brockman, secretary; Gertrude Heins, treasurer; and Audrey Quinn, chaplain.

The meeting closed with one verse of "America" and a prayer. Hostesses were Arlene Pfeiffer, Beverly Neel and Eva Thies.

The next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 12 at 7:30 p.m. with initiation of new members. Hostesses will be Dorothy Wert, Audrey Quinn and Arlene Weible.

FIREMEN'S MEETING

Eighteen Winside volunteer firemen and rescue personnel met Sept. 14 with Myron Miller, president, conducted the meeting. The secretary and treasurer reports were given.

Terry Thies has set up a meeting with Ron Leapley to discuss the school's disaster plan. Shawn Kai and Terry Nelson will chair a consignment auction to be held in 1993 with proceeds going to the Winside Public Library.

The annual Firemen's BBQ will be held Sunday, Nov. 8 in the auditorium from 5-8 p.m. They will be serving beef and pork sandwiches, chips, beans and beverages. Cost is $2 for one sandwich and $4 for two. They will also be drawing for four $25 cash prizes. Don Nelson, Dean Hansen and Russell Longnecker will be chairman.

The Winside firemen will sponsor a workshop on street drugs for EMT, fire and police personnel. It will be held in the Legion Hall on Nov. 16 from 7-10 p.m.

A donation will be made to Ron Leapley's hunter safety program. VerNeal Marotz gave the annual rescue and fire report, which showed the rescue squad answered 51 rescue calls in 1991 and transported 41 patients. There was an average of three EMTs per call. There was 294 hours of classroom time and training held in 1991 and there are now a total of 15 certified Emergency Medical Technicians.

The fire department answered 19 fire calls in 1991, with an average of 10 men per call. There were 11 drill nights in 1991 with a total of 30 hours spent at drill nights. Also, 14 firemen participated in a house burn which the Winside Fire Department hosted for a total of 84 hours of additional training. Six firemen participated in a house burn in Carroll and five firemen attended fire school.

The next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 12 at 8 p.m. in the fire hall.

LIBRARY BOARD

Members of the Winside Public Library Board met Sept. 14 with Kim Sok, president, presiding. The secretary and treasurer reports were given. There were 830 items loaned in August and one renewed and four new readers.

The Norfolk Public Library informed Winside they would no longer provide bulk book inter-library loans.

New books received at the Winside library include a quilting pattern book, Sports Star books featuring Larry Bird, Fernando Valenzuela, Isaiah Thomas, Carl Ripken Jr., Dan Marino and one back-ordered book on Magic Johnson. Also other adult and children books have been donated. The library always welcomes donations of books that are in good shape.

Each trustee received a job description. The library would like to set up a volunteer program for anyone seventh grade through adult who would like to help with various duties in the library. If you are interested in helping, contact librarian JoAnn Field.

The next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m.

SCATTERED NEIGHBORS

Lois Miller hosted the Wednesday Scattered Neighbors Home Extension Club, with six members present. Doris Marotz, club president, conducted the business meeting and opened with the Home Extension Creed.

Roll call was "a memory of a teacher." A thank you was read from Pat Roberts. A trust committee report was given by Veryl Jackson. Lura Stoakes, health and safety leader, reported on the benefits of eating fruits and vegetables.

A motion was passed to make a donation to Pennies For Friendship.

Election of new officers was held. They will be Patty Deck, president; Veryl Jackson, vice president; and Arlene Pfeiffer, secretary/treasurer.

Money maker was 10 cents if you went on a vacation and five cents if you didn't.

Veryl Jackson gave the lesson, "Do Yourself A Flavor Using Spices and Herbs."

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Oct. 21 with Lajeanne Marotz. Lois Krueger will have the lesson.

MUSEUM COMMITTEE

Bill Burriss conducted the Winside Museum committee meeting last Tuesday with five members present. The secretary and treasurer reports were given with $129 in memorials, $41.50 in tours and $7.75 for newspapers collected.

Bids are still being taken for the front steps and a ramp construction.

The organ will be repaired. Some items from the Danish Brotherhood were received, as well as a jar of volcanic ash from St. Helena. A plaque was donated by Dennis Brune in memory of his father and grandfather.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

SCOUTING FOR FOOD

Winside Cub and Boy Scouts will be delivering scouting for food bags to Winside residents on Thursday, Oct. 1 door to door. They will return on Saturday, Oct. 3 at 9 a.m. to pick up donations. Food given will go to Winside's Outreach Program, sponsored by all three Winside churches to give to needy families at Thanksgiving.

Any out-of-town residents who would like to contribute to the program can pick up bags at Oberles Market, then return them Saturday morning to St. Paul's Lutheran Church parking lot. Anyone needing more information can contact Scout Master Joni Jaeger at 286-4553.

HOSPITAL GUILD

Five members of the Lutheran Hospital Guild from Winside met Sept. 14 to discuss a project for the annual hospital holiday fair. They will work on these items Thursday, Sept. 24 in the Stop Inn at 1 p.m. Anyone who would like to help is welcome to attend.

The holiday fair will be held in Norfolk at the Lutheran Hospital on Sunday, Nov. 8 from 1-4 p.m.

CREATIVE CRAFTERS

Five members of the Creative Crafters met last Tuesday at the Dianne Jaeger home. Each brought a craft item or hint to share, then worked on making paper necklaces.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, Oct. 20 with Melanie Mann at 7:30 p.m. Each one is to bring a holiday craft of their choice to work on. New members are always welcome. For more information, call Melanie at 286-4556 or Dianne Jaeger at 286-4504.

Potpourri requires forethought

Homemade potpourri lets gardeners capture the fragrance of their summer flowers and herbs for the long winter, said Amy Greving, horticulture assistant at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

"Don't let the literal French translation of 'rotten pot' stop you from making potpourri," Greving said. "The main point is to harvest and store plants throughout the spring and summer as they come into season. That way you'll have them available for the final blend."

Traditional potpourri is a moist mixture of pickled flowers and leaves, she explained. This older method gives a longer-lasting perfume, but is harder to create and less visually attractive. Dry potpourri, made of flower petals, fragrant leaves, herbs, spices, seeds, essential oils and a fixative such as orris root powder, is easier and can be displayed in open bowls, she said.

"When drying flowers for fragrance, dry whole, perfect flowers," Greving said. "Leaves should be dried whole and then break or crush them into the blend to release their scent."

Orange and lemon peel often are used in spicy blends. To make dried peel, take a thin layer of peel with a grater, zester or potato peeler, avoiding the white pith, she explained. Dip in orris root powder to intensify the scent and dry slowly.

"Making dry potpourri is simple," Greving said. "Combine the flowers and leaves, mix the fixative with the spices and blend together. Add a few drops of essential oil if desired, then seal and store in a warm, dry, dark place for six weeks to cure."

Many common flowers can be used, according to Greving. Tulip, lavender, rose, calendula, strawflower, delphinium, salvia, larkspur, heliotrope, honeysuckle and lily of the valley add both color and scent. Good choices for an aromatic scent are lemon verbena, lemon balm, sweet woodruff, bergamot, mint, scented geranium, rosemary, thyme and sage.

A recent report in Pharmacy Today indicates that hospitals in the United States spend over $6 billion annually for the treatment of patients with blisters (sometimes called pressure sores or decubitus ulcers). The U.S. Agency for Health Care Policy and Research (AHCPR) recently released guidelines for the prevention and treatment of blisters. AHCPR encourages caregivers to:
• identify persons who are at risk of developing blisters,
• improve tolerance to pressure to prevent injury, such as by cleaning the skin and avoiding dry skin,
• protect against the effect of skin pressure, such as by repositioning the at risk person every two hours, and
• reduce the incidence of blisters through education.

The GOLDEN YEARS
by Pat Schlotzky

Anna Bencker earned a nursing degree half a century ago and worked in hospitals, clinics, industry and home nursing — while raising her seven children. It was a new career challenge that led her to become a prison nurse in Eagleville, Pennsylvania, in 1983. At first, she came close to quitting the environment of metal detectors, bars and razor wire. But she became aware that inmates depended on her and trusted her, and she stayed on into her 70s. Her idea of retirement was to go part-time five years ago. Inmates call her "Moms" because they find her kind and considerate, and say she's one of the most respected people at the site.

Actress Shirley MacLaine published her seventh book, much of it dealing with her roles as daughter and mother. What would brighten MacLaine's future? "I'd be so happy with a grandchild," she told an interviewer.

Remember When? October 1971 — The Shah of Iran spent millions for a party to celebrate the 2500th anniversary of the Persian Empire. Guests included eight kings, three ruling princes, 13 presidents, a cardinal and U.S. Vice President Spiro Agnew.
