'Crime wave' keeps police hopping

By Les Mann
Herald Publisher

Wayne police have been kept busy in recent days investigating a minor crime wave of malicious vandalism, grab and run thefts and mail tampering.

Police believe two Wayne grab and run thefts are related to a rash of recent cases in the region where individuals make small purchases then grab money from the till when change is being made.

The first such incident was reported

Wednesday, Nov. 11 at the Wayne State College Student Center. Witnesses said they saw three black males unplug a cash register and leave the building with the machine and contents under a coat.

THIS PAST Tuesday, two individuals matching the same description as those involved in the previous week's incident, made off with $137 out of the till at the Hair Studio.

According to police reports, a thin black male approximately 5 feet 8 inches tall with a goatee and moustache and short black hair purchased a comb at the Hair Studio, while another man waited in the car outside. While the attendant was making change, the man reportedly grabbed the ones, fives and tens from the till.

The car the two departed in was stolen from the Wayne High School parking lot and was recovered by Wayne Police at the swimming pool that afternoon.

Meanwhile, a similar case was reported in South Sioux City and Columbus in which cars were stolen from high school parking lots and used in "till tapping" incidents.

WAYNE POLICE have been assisting Norfolk police today in the investigation of yet another incident which occurred Thursday night at

Also involving individuals matching the same description.

Police suspect the group is working this region and is currently living in this general area. Shortly after the Hair Studio incident in Wayne Tuesday three black men were reported to be purchasing gas in Winside. They were in a late 70's or early 80's maroon two-door.

In other incidents being investigated by police, mail tampering was reported at a home in the 500 block of Logan. Someone rifled through the mail at a home and is believed to have taken money out of a birthday card.

NOTING THAT mail tampering is a federal offense, police asked the public to be on the lookout for suspicious activity in their neighborhoods. Perpetrators might be looking for checks, cash or gift items delivered by mail, police said.

Meanwhile, the recent wave of crime in the Wayne area expanded to extreme vandalism to the Darold Beckenhauer residence in rural Wayne.

The Beckenhauer's are renting the house and were amidst fixing it up to move into, when they returned Thursday morning to find 18 windows broken out, two doors broken into, a refrigerator toppled

Winside parents/grandparents discover

Good 'ole school days not the same

By Dianne Jaeger
Winside Correspondent

Winside High School and junior high students experienced their dreams come true this week when they were told by the administration not to attend classes the morning of Nov. 17.

And their parents approved! The student absenteeism was contrived by school officials, who filled the desks instead with parents, grandparents and other adult relatives.

"THIS IS the first time we've tried this," said Winside High School Principal Ron Leapley, adding, however, that the student/parent/grandparent exchange program has been conducted in other schools and has served to not only increase the public's knowledge and awareness of school operations, but to increase the school's rapport with the public.

Leapley said approximately 60 students and their substitutes participated in the exchange at Winside on Tuesday morning. In some cases, where both parents are employed, the desks were occupied by grandmothers, grandfathers, aunts, uncles, and in a couple of cases close family friends.

Parents received a packet ahead of time with their student's class schedule, locker combination, and a map of the high school.

They were required to pre-register so the school knew which students were to be gone and which were actually absent.

GARY APPEL, who was attending school in place of daughter

Becky, said he was delighted to receive A's in two classes where there were tests given, including the Home Economics Adult Living Class.

"I thought it was a real neat experience," said Gary. "The classes really went fast and I learned what the kids go through in an average day."

Most of the adult substitutes attended two to three classes, with a study hall, however several attended four classes between the hours of 8:30 and 11:30 a.m.

One mother, Cheryl Mann, said she hopes the school will repeat the exchange program, but in the afternoon, as her son only has one morning class on Tuesdays, followed by three study halls.

"I did enjoy Mrs. Penny Baier's English class," said Cheryl. "It was on poetry, which I don't remember ever being particularly fond of, but it was really interesting."

Cheryl added that her study halls did afford her an opportunity to work on the computer in the school library.

Highway plan to go public

By Les Mann
Herald Publisher

A public meeting has been called to review the design plans for widening of Highway 35 in Wayne. The meeting will be held at the City Auditorium from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Dec. 9.

While the project is not scheduled for construction next year, the completion of the design plan could mean the actual construction might occur as early as 1994, depending on the prioritizing of other projects in the state, highway officials have said.

The highway department plan calls for widening the route through Wayne from a 31.5-foot wide roadway to 45-foot. The additional width would allow for a turning lane throughout town and permit traffic flows as high as 35 mph.

THE ANTICIPATED $2.3 million worth of work will include re-aligning of the intersection at 7th and Dearborn which will require shifting Dearborn street to the east to align with Pine Heights Road.

The land acquisition for this move (part of the Pamida parking lot), the moving of several driveways and acquisition of right of way on several pieces of property bordering the street will be the extent of the property work which will be done. No buildings will be threatened by the work.

However, 37 trees have been given a death sentence in the highway plan. Safety for line of sight and the actual pavement widening will require the removal of the 37 trees, all of which are on the north side of the roadway.

Dreams do come true

Two brothers were at the controls of United Airlines flight #815 from Los Angeles to Sydney recently.

Captain Don Beckenhauer, a Line Check Airman, was conducting Initial Operating Experience for Captain Arnie Beckenhauer on the 747-400.

The two are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beckenhauer of Wayne and have crossed paths before at United.

By coincidence, they were in the same new-hire class in 1964. They were training partners in DC-6 First Officer school in 1964 and again in 747-100 Captain training in 1990.

In 1976, the brothers shared 727 cockpit duties on a flight to Omaha from California during which their mother was a passenger.

Both were assigned to United flights carrying troops in Desert Storm.

TOGETHER, the brothers have a combined total of over 45,000 hours and 78 years experience in military and commercial aviation.

While at United, they have flown the Douglas 6, 7, 8 and 10 fleets and Boeing 720, 737, 757, 767, 747-100, and 747-400 aircraft.

Don, 55, and Arnie, 54, are both based in San Francisco and are the two oldest of nine children born to the Beckenhauers.

"It was always a dream of theirs and it seems like from the time they were children they wanted to fly," says their mother, Dorothy Beckenhauer, adding that the brothers are just 16 months apart in age.

"They worked hard to make that dream come true and I think it's unique they both accomplished that dream at the same time.

"There's no doubt about how proud we are of them."

Wakefield area residents to have recycling survey

Wakefield filed its plan for solid waste management before the Oct. 1 deadline. The State of Nebraska has established waste reduction goals of 50 percent by 2002.

A dedicated group of rural and town residents in the Wakefield area are hoping the Wakefield City Council will include plans for recycling, reducing and reusing "trash."

This group is working on a presentation of ideas and hopefully a viable plan of attack to combat the growing waste problems.

The first step is a survey which the Pops Partners 4-H Club will be delivering house to house Nov. 27 and 28. The questions will be centered around interest in recycling and methods preferred by the Wakefield area. If time allows, the 4-Hers themselves will ask the questions and note the answers at the same time they deliver them. Rural residents' opinions are sought also and their surveys can be picked up at the Fair Store, bank, bowling alley and drug store.

The new officers are Erin Palu, president; Nicole Trevelt, vice president; Brandy Jones, secretary; Craig Rahn, treasurer; Kelli Penn, news reporter; and Carla Rahn, citizenship leader.

New club members are Rena Wilde, Amy Creamer and Elizabeth Zulkosky.

A report was given on the success of club members during their first year of participation in the Wayne County Fair last August.

Group outings and fun group projects are being planned for this year.

Kelli Penn, news reporter.

POP'S PARTNERS

Pop's Partners 4-H Club met Oct. 27 in the basement of Graves Library in Wakefield. Sara Mattes called the meeting to order and Jennifer Simpson led the flag salutes.

Brian Mattes reported that the club received a check from the state fair from the senior song group. He also reported that flowers were given to St. John's Lutheran Church as a thank you for use of the church during the Dixon County 4-H song contest.

Record books were handed back and Nick Miller was accepted into the club as a new member.

New officers were elected and include Sara Mattes, president; Brian Mattes, vice president; Jennifer Simpson, secretary; Susan Brudigam, treasurer; and Tiffany McAfee, news reporter. They will begin their duties in January.

New assistant leaders are Greg and Denise Simpson.

SPRING BRANCH

The Spring Branch 4-H Club met in the Trinity Lutheran fellowship hall in Hoskins on Nov. 15 for a mexiburger supper. Attending were 20 members, three leaders and 10 visitors.

Vice President Becky Appel opened the meeting with the 4-H pledge and assisted Beth Deck in handing out awards and certificates of achievement.

It was announced that the Livestock Commission will meet at Columbus Federal in Wayne on Nov. 23 at 8 p.m.

Newly elected officers are Becky Appel, president; Stacy Bowers, vice president; Melissa Miller, secretary; Emily Deck, treasurer; and Buffy Appel, news reporter.

Rachel, Emily and Laurie Beth Deck handed out door prizes. The next meeting will be Jan. 10 at 2 p.m. in the Trinity fellowship hall.

their seventh graders. Both noted that the main changes they observed were the cooperative study groups in the Social Studies class. "It seems like a good idea because the students are exposed to more ideas than their own."

"The worst part of the experience was getting into my son's locker," smiles Teri. "I couldn't get it open and had to ask the principal several times to open it with his key."

Teri agreed with other parents that the exchange was an eye-opening experience. "Seventh grade math is really difficult. They are learning things we learned in about ninth grade. I also learned how overcrowded the classrooms are."

Both mothers said they would like to see the exchange program conducted annually.

ONE OF the largest classes was choir, where vocal instructor LeNell Quinn said she and the substitutes had a lot of fun.

"Most came in saying they couldn't sing," chuckled LeNell, "but by the time the hour was over they had learned a brand new piece of music and were amazed at how much they had improved."

"I feel it was good for the parents to see that we don't just teach singing, but the students also learn about rhythm and how to read notes."

"If the parents gain a better appreciation of what we do, then maybe they will encourage their kids to participate. And the more students we have, the better and more fun the groups are."

BIOLOGY class proved to be interesting to a number of parents, particularly mothers and grandmothers, who were asked to participate in the day's assignment — dissecting a tarantula and a grasshopper.

The assignment was completed in groups of four and there were no reports of anyone getting ill or fainting.

The Rev. Jeffrey Lee filled in for his daughter, Jessica, who is in eighth grade. "Before I left for school this morning my daughter said, 'Now remember who's father you are and don't get into any trouble!'"

Pastor Lee attended four classes and found Dallas Puls' typing class especially interesting. "I was using an IBM electric typewriter which I wasn't familiar with. By the time I figured out all the functions, the class was over. Guess I'm used to my computer."

KATHY Hladky's Spanish class seemed to be a big hit, with many parents saying they would enjoy an adult education Spanish class in Winside.

Helen Hancock, who works in Norfolk where there are a number of Spanish speaking individuals, said what she learned from just one hour in class will help a lot in her job.

"It was great," said grandmother Delilah Quinn, who attended school in place of grandson Jeff Bruggeman. "I found out though that I've lost my sense of concentration. I would love to do it again."

Delilah, a Norfolk High School graduate of 1951, says she can't believe the freedom students have today. "They can talk during class, wear what they want, and a few even talk back to the teachers."

"Things were a lot more strict when I went to school."

ALL PARENTS and other substitutes were required to take down assignments for their children and take notes in class.

Jim Halferty, who teaches history, said it was nice to have a class pay attention. Halferty said he enjoyed the adults in class and hopes the program will initiate more parent involvement in the schools.

Students interviewed about the exchange program agreed that it was a great idea, even though most of their parents kept them busy at home during the morning.

One student was asked to babysit his little sister, another cleaned the house, another had to prepare food for a farm crew, and another did farm chores.

Members of the Winside Student Council were kept busy at school during the morning guiding the parents from room to room.

HARLIN BRUGGER, foreground, concentrates on his history lesson during student/parent/grandparent exchange day at Winside High School last Tuesday morning. Harlin is surrounded by other adults who attended school during the morning hours in place of the students.

Dixon 4-H'ers gain recognition

The Dixon County 4-H members and leaders were recognized on Nov. 8 at a recognition event held at the fire hall in Allen.

Preceding the event was a pancake feed fund raiser sponsored by the 4-H Exchange Group planning to visit Arizona 4-H this summer. A capacity crowd attended the events. MC's for the event were Teen Leaders, Sara Mattes from Wakefield and Bobbi Strivens from Allen.

Gerald Kramer from West Germany served as a guest speaker at the event. HE spoke about the positive and negative aspects of the German reunification. He is staying with the Ross Armstrong family at Ponca.

Fair trophy winners announced and trophies awarded at the event were:

The American Dairy Association of Nebraska sponsored a plaque awarded to the Top Senior Dairy Presentation Winner. This year the award went to LeAnn Stewart of Dixon.

The First Nebraska Bank at Emerson sponsored the 1992 Herdsmanship Trophy which was awarded to the South Creek Beavers 4-H Club from Ponca.

The Wakefield National Bank sponsored both the Junior and Senior Livestock Judging trophies. The winner of the Junior Trophy was Kari Stewart and the winner of the Senior Trophy was Jeff Stewart, both of Dixon.

Chris Clover Awards, which are given to first, second and third year members based on a point system from their involvement in 4-H were: Gold level: Jennifer Hoelsing, Newcastle. Silver level: Justin Warner and Melissa Wilmes, both from Allen; Jennifer and Kyle Roerber, both from Wakefield. Two year leader service pin recipients were Jeri Ann Allen, Lynda Bensen, Mary Brudigam, Chris Hansen, Jeanette Kneiff, Mary Kneiff, Corey Lorenson, Jim McGrath, Latricia Olson, Debbie Plueger and Marci Roerber; five year service pins: Randy and Vicky Kahl, Tammy May and Elizabeth Mohr; 10 year service pins: Lee Johnson and Kathleen Plueger; 15 year service pin: Beverly Stewart; 20 year service pin: Frank Plueger; and 30 year service recipient: Darlene Roberts.

Gerald Kramer

The Teen Leader Sponsors Marilyn Abts, Karen Lorenson and Sondra Mattes received gift certificates from the Teen Leaders.

Other awards and accomplishments recognized were in the areas of Citizenship Washington Focus, Camp Counselors and District Campers, State Fair and Ak-Sar-Ben Achievements and Expo-Visions.

Nearing United goal

The Wayne United Way continues its push toward the 1992-93 goal of $24,000. At the present time, the United Way fund drive has received $21,000 in cash and pledges toward the 1992-93 drive.

The Wayne United Way Board of Directors are very pleased with the positive response of the entire Wayne community for this drive. In particular the Wayne business section has led the way as more businesses have gotten 100 percent participation from their employees than in past years.

Businesses who have not indicated their participation yet are reminded to drop their packets off at the following locations: Farmers and Merchants State Bank, First National Bank and State National Bank.

Belated war service recognition

Former Wayne State College professor of business, Dr. Charles S. Wehrer of Wisner, left, is presented a certificate of recognition at Offutt Air Force Base by Lieutenant General John E. Jackson, Jr., current commander of 15th Air Force at March Air Force Base, Calif. Wehrer accepted the certificate and belated thank you recently on behalf of the 2234th Quartermaster Air Force Truck Company that operated from Cerignola, Italy during World War II. The truck company was cited for its outstanding support to 15th Air Force B-24 bomber units and crews who flew missions against enemy forces in Southern Europe. The 2234th played a critical role in transporting tons of vital munitions and equipment to the bomber units who successfully delivered decisive firepower in support of Allied objectives. Wehrer was commander of the truck company assigned to the 43rd Air Service Group, 15th Air Force, United States Army Air Corps, during the period cited. Wehrer returned from WSC in 1988.

3 M's club meets for 20 years

All eight members of 3 M's (Monday Merry Mothers) Home Extension Club, along with five guests, celebrated the club's 20th anniversary during a dinner on Nov. 16 at the Black Knight in Wayne.

Members present were President Delores Utecht, Vice President Leola Larsen, Secretary Lanora Sorensen, Treasurer Roberta Carman, Jociell Bull, Roberta Welte, Marj Porter and Verdina Johs.

Guests included former club members Marian Clark, Pearla Benjamin and Mardella Olson, along with Home Extension Agent Lynda Cruickshank and daughter Kara.

As a community project, members brought items for the Wayne Food Pantry.

VERDINA Johs organized and presented a half-hour video of 3 M's Club, including a poster of snapshots and ribbons received for the club's theme booths at the Wayne County Fair, a list of previous members, the original 3 M's charter, the recent Waste Buster award for Lee Larsen's environmental recycling lessons and members' efforts in recycling during 1992, a certificate for attendance at all five leader training sessions in 1992, the book "Shiloh" which was presented by 3 M's to Wayne Public Library in observance of National Children's Book Week, along with other 3 M's memorabilia.

The 3 M's Club was organized by Marj Porter on Oct. 11, 1971 in the home of Verdina Johs. Both women are still active in the club.

There were eight charter members and all of them had kindergarten age children.

The club was chartered by the Wayne County Home Extension Council in 1972. The home extension banner with the extension yearbook cover symbol hangs in the home extension agent's office and was made by 3 M's members.

FOLLOWING the 20th anniversary program, Lanora Sorensen gave the lesson, "Do Yourself a Flavor — Using Herbs and Spices."

Members responded to roll call with a condiment, spice, herb or flavoring they use most often and the food dish they use it in. They also shared uses for seasonings and reviewed a list in the NebGuide.

The group was reminded of Family Life Week, which will be observed Nov. 22-28.

The club will meet for a Christmas dinner and $5 grab bag gift exchange on Dec. 21 at 6:30 p.m. at the Black Knight. The club is also planning to purchase a Christmas gift for a resident of Wayne Care Centre.

Extension Council promoting National Family Life Week

The Wayne County Home Extension Council and clubs are joining the state and national organizations in promoting the week of Nov. 22-28 as Family Life Week.

The Extension Council encourages everyone to plan an activity as a family unit during this week.

With the approaching Thanksgiving holiday, families are encouraged to "walk" in familiar and comfortable moments together with thanksgiving and warm memories and to look at habits and activities that have developed in their family which bring a sense of history and joy.

The following activities are examples of how families can have fun together without spending a lot of money.

- Try reading aloud for half an hour or an hour one or two evenings a week. There are many books that can be enjoyed by both adults and children. Ask adults and older children to take turns being the reader.
- Have a "special" meal once a week. Even hamburgers are special on the good china by candlelight. Let everyone get involved in planning and preparing the meal.
- Get out those games. Have a good old-fashioned Monopoly marathon, or one of those new trivia games. Learn some card games that children and adults will have fun playing.
- Get the cardboard box full of snapshots out of the closet and let everyone help sort and mount them in books or in a display. Adults will enjoy the memories and children can learn more about their "roots."
- Share an evening with friends. Popcorn and conversation can be as much fun as an elaborate party. Ask friends to bring their children and let them all play together.
- In the afternoon build a snow fort or a snow man together. Show your children how to make snow angels. Go sledding together. Take a walk in the snow. Go ice skating or skiing.
- Watch an ETV program such as NOVA, and talk about what you see.
- Build a birdhouse, bird feeder or squirrel feeder. Everyone will enjoy the entertainment, and children will learn how important their role as "provider" is to the winter survival of wildlife.
- Visit the local museum and planetarium.

Activities shared with the whole family will be remembered with pleasure and may provide a helpful model for the next generation of parents and children.

At United Methodist Women

Thank offering program presented

Della Mae Preston, chairman of Christian global concerns, presented a program, entitled "World Thank Offering — Ecumenism and Peace," at the Nov. 11 luncheon meeting of Wayne United Methodist Women.

She explained that the thank offering is used to bring peace with justice throughout the world.

Fern Kelley, chairman of Christian personhood, also spoke on Church Women United and their work for peace world-wide.

A special world thank offering was taken to be used for global ministries.

THE SISTERS of Patience interest group hosted the November luncheon, with 36 members attending. Gladys Gilbert and Sue Wert received corsage for mission ribbons in honor of their November birthdays.

President Norma Ehlers opened the meeting with a poem, "Move Me O Lord" by Frank Keith.

Methodist women received a letter asking for matching funds for the UMHE (United Methodists for Higher Education). The group approved a motion to give $25 so they can receive the matching funds.

It was announced that seven attended the officers training meeting at Newman Grove on Nov. 9. They were Norma Ehlers, Marj Porter, Dola Husmann, Doris Stipp, Roberta Welte, Fern Kelley and Helen Rose.

It was announced at the officers training meeting that members are to continue collecting Campbells soup labels until Feb. 15 for "Charlotte's Dream."

WOMEN were reminded of the upcoming Christmas Fair on Dec. 5 at the Methodist Church. Plans were made to clean the church kitchen prior to the event.

Mary Sensenig reported that she has both religious and non-religious Christmas cards for sale, and Dorothy Hubbard reported on this month's prayer concerns.

New program books for 1993 will be ready for the December meeting.

BARBARA Nunnally was in charge of the installation of 1993 officers. The title of the service was "Hands Through Which Christ Serves."

Installed were Norma Ehlers, president; Marj Porter, vice president; Dola Husmann, secretary; Doris Stipp, treasurer; Kyle Rose, chairman of nominations; Fern Kelley, Christian personhood; Jeannette Geiger, Christian social involvement; Della Mae Preston, Christian global concerns; Helen Rose, supportive community; Gerelda Lipp, secretary of program resources; Roberta Welte, chairman of the membership committee; and Julie Myers, secretary of financial interpretation.

The service concluded with group singing of "Take My Life and Let it Be."

THE NEXT meeting of Wayne United Methodist Women is scheduled Dec. 9 at 2 p.m. Everyone is asked to bring one dozen cookies.

"Sharing Music With Children" will be the title of the devotions and program.

Engagements

Sorensen-Bierling

Mrs. Delwyn Sorensen of Wayne and Dr. Rev. William Bierling of Sun Valley, Calif. announce the engagement of their children, Anne Marie Sorensen and Randall William Bierling, both of California.

The couple will be wed on Nov. 27 at Calvary Bible Church in Burbank, Calif.

The bride-elect is an English instructor and counselor at Los Angeles Lutheran High School. Her fiancé is a commercial electrician employed with J.W. Stevens, Inc.

Grace Ladies Aid elects '93 officers

Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid-LWML elected new officers for 1993 during a meeting on Nov. 11 at the church.

The new officers are Delores Utecht, president; Mary Janke, first vice president; Maria Ritze, second vice president; Cynthia Rethwisch, secretary; and Elinor Jensen, treasurer.

The auditing committee will be Joann Temme, Leona Janke and Irene Victor.

Ardene Nelson will write to Vicar Mike Erickson.

PLANS WERE announced for a cookie walk on Dec. 13. Each member is asked to bring at least three dozen cookies or Christmas breads on Dec. 12 or prior to Sunday school on Dec. 13. Cookies will also be donated by the Evening Circle and Dog Creek 4-H Club.

They will be sold during Sunday school and following the worship service, with proceeds going to the building fund. Cookies will also be taken to shut-ins.

ATTENDING the November meeting were 42 members and guests Erna Greenwald, Jean Kinney and the Rev. Merle Mahnken. Hostesses were Melvy Meyer, Maria Ritze and Ellain Vahlkamp.

Pastor Mahnken led the group in singing Psalm 136 for opening devotions, and President Delores Utecht called the meeting to order.

Bonnadell Koch reported that the visiting committee had made eight visits and sent seven cards. The Aid is planning to purchase Christmas gifts for five residents of Wayne Care Centre.

Agnes Pfeil gave the funeral report and thanked everyone who has assisted with serving. Pastor Mahnken also thanked the Aid for organizing and serving lunch for funerals at Grace Lutheran.

The group voted to purchase more Christmas cards. Irene Lutt reported that the sewing committee completed six quilts during the month.

Bernita Sherbahn read a letter from Lee Weander. Roberta Oswald will write to him this month and

They will be sold during Sunday school and following the worship service, with proceeds going to the building fund. Cookies will also be taken to shut-ins.

A thank you was received from Project Hope for the donation of 16 quilts and six boxes of clothing. A thank you and donation were received from the family of Amanda Sedlak, and a donation was also received from the family of Ralph Blomenkamp.

FOLLOWING the business meeting, Jean Kinney spoke to the group about her involvement with the Wayne Community Care Hospice Group. The Lord's Prayer and table prayer followed.

Seated at the birthday table were Bonnadell Koch and Leona Janke.

The next meeting will be a carry-in luncheon on Dec. 9 at 12:30 p.m. Members are to bring a guest. Hostesses will be Ellen Heinemann, Esther Baker, Esther Hansen and Betty Wittig.

The Christmas offering will go to Camp Luther, and the birthday offering will go to the seminary students.

Minerva history reviewed

Hollis Frese presented a program on the history of Minerva Club during a meeting Nov. 9 with hostess Beth Morris.

Mrs. Frese provided information on members whose names are still familiar in Wayne, houses where they lived, and businesses the families started or were involved in.

Scrapbooks and pictures also were displayed from the club's charter date of October 1896 through the early 1900's. The 25th anniversary of Minerva Club was celebrated in 1921 at the former Boyd Hotel, and the club's 75th anniversary was observed in 1971.

THE CLUB observed the November birthdays of Beulah Atkins, Pauline Nuernberger, Norma Koeber and Beth Morris.

Members will meet for a luncheon on Dec. 14 at noon at the Black Knight. Afterward, they will travel to the home of Mildred Jones for a Christmas party and program led by Marjorie Olson.

The next regular club meeting is scheduled Nov. 23 in the home of Verna Rees, with Arlene Ellermeier as program chairman. Members are asked to bring a favorite verse or short poem for roll call.

Area fall squads enjoy good year

Friday's volleyball match between Wayne State and Kearney will mark the official end of all fall sports for the Wayne Herald coverage area. This gives me a chance to reflect on several different items from a sports editors perspective on how I viewed the season.

First off, we'll begin on the college level with the Wildcat football team. It was great to see Dennis Wagner's crew come away with a winning record. The fact that a 5-4-1 record is maybe not overly impressive, when you consider they lost two games in the final minutes and another one in which they completely dominated in statistics, it makes you believe that the Wildcats program is headed in the right direction.

WSC led in all 10 of its games and the Morningside game is the only one in which they were thoroughly beaten and in that contest the 'Cats held a 7-0 halftime lead.

Sophomore running backs Jason Williams and Lamont Rainey proved to be every bit as impressive as the preseason build-up on them. Wide receiver Damon Thomas has professional football speed and skills and should be quite exciting to watch again next fall.

One player who will not return in a Wildcat uniform is senior linebacker Jerry Kleidosty who closed out a spectacular career at WSC. Kleidosty came to Wayne from the University of Nebraska at Lincoln where he was playing full-back.

In his three-year stint as a Wildcat, he led the squad in tackles each year. It was only fitting that he went out like a champion in the final game with a 74-yard interception return for a touchdown.

I congratulate the 'Cats on a quality football season and am already looking forward to the '93 season.

Nancy Clark's volleyball team did not enjoy the success that the 1991 season brought them but it's not always easy to replace such stars as Shelly Lueders, Kristi Jaminet and Tracy Kuester.

One player who this sports writer will miss watching is senior Cori Weinfurter who had a magnificent career with WSC. Weinfurter played all four years on the Wildcats on the varsity level. She had a major impact on the 'Cats success and is a vital reason why WSC volleyball has risen to a new level.

It always seemed that an average game for Weinfurter was like a super game for any other player. She could always be counted on for consistency in serving and was a constant leader on defense and just plain hustle ability. It doesn't take a genius to figure out that Weinfurter really loves the game of volleyball.

Turning from the college level to the high school level, one has to tip their hat to the job the Wayne girls volleyball team did in 1992. Setting a school record for wins with 22 and earning a trip to the state tournament were the highlights along with earning the conference crown.

The majority of the girls on the team are seniors and played their final game in a Wayne volleyball uniform but they went out on top which is a goal they set for themselves back in junior high school.

Wayne's quality of play this season was so much higher than it was a year ago it was almost as if it was a whole new team. But that's what experience does for you—there just isn't any substitute for it. Congrats to the Wayne girls volleyball team.

This area was flooded with great volleyball teams this season because three of the five teams covered by the Wayne Herald qualified for the state tournament.

For Pete's Sake

By Kevin Peterson

Angie Schroeder and Tracy Kuester entered into the head coaching professions for the first time and both were rewarded with great teams and state tournament berths.

Winside may be building a small dynasty as they went to state for the third straight time. Hopefully, next season will be the fourth and the Wildcats win a match or two at the state meet.

Holly Holdorf is the only senior on the Winside team which leaves Schroeder with a solid nucleus coming back. Kuester took over the helm at Allen from her roommate Buffy Romshek and her team didn't miss a beat as they earned a trip to Lincoln and avenged last year's loss to Winside at sub-districts with a win over the Wildcats in Winside during the regular season.

Allen will lose a fair share of players on this year's team to graduation but if the team can survive three head coaches in the last three years, then they can survive anything.

High school football was not a strength for the Wayne Herald coverage area with the exception of Laurel as the Bears finished with an 8-3 record before ending the year in the quarterfinals of the state tournament.

Tom Luxford is obviously doing a great job as the Bears mentor as Laurel's two state trips in school history have been under his dictatorship. The Bears played with a tremendous amount of heart led by senior signal-caller Travis Monson.

It's not very often that your quarterback on offense is your leading tackler on defense and one of your all-around toughest kids but Monson fit that mold and he did an outstanding job.

In next week's Wayne Herald, the all-area teams will be coming out. Tuesday's edition will feature the volleyball team and Friday's paper will feature the football team.

One thing I want to remind readers is the selections were solely made by the Wayne Herald. Coaches had nothing to do with nominations or selections.

The selections are based on how the sports staff viewed the individuals in the games they witnessed and not just on season stats.

Now as we turn the corner into the winter sports seasons, we want to wish good luck to all the area teams and to the Wayne State Wildcats. Speaking of Wildcats, the men play host to the College of St. Francis on Saturday night in Rice Auditorium.

This should be a great basketball game as St. Francis comes in with three NCAA-Division I transfer students while WSC features all-America candidate David Allen. If that isn't enough to draw you out of your easy chair then the halftime entertainment should be the Bud Light Daredevils invade the auditorium.

The Daredevils will feature an eight-minute halftime segment of dazzling aerial slam dunks with trampolines and other gadgets. It should be an exciting game and a phenomenal halftime bonanza so come on out and enjoy the night—who knows, you might just get hooked.

MANY AREA youth are taking part in the WSC Junior Cat Club which allows youngsters to participate in basketball drills on Saturday mornings in November and once in December. The youth are instructed by the Wayne State men's basketball team. Junior-Cats consist of students in grades one through six.

Nearly 300 attending Saturday sessions

Junior Cat hoop club expands

Anyone who sees Wayne State College men's basketball coach Mike Brewen on a November Saturday morning must think "this middle-aged bachelor sure has a lot of kids."

Brewen was recently greeted by nearly 300 area grade-schoolers eager to have fun, and maybe learn a little something about basketball along the way.

The Junior Cat Club was formed three years ago to get area youth involved at Wayne State College men's basketball games. The clinic portion of the program began last year with 75 participants. This year nearly 300 area grade-schoolers participate in the basketball funfest.

"When we initially started this year, we hoped to increase to about 100," Brewen said. "We reached that very quickly. Even as late as a week before, I thought we might have 250 and we were amazed at that number. We had another 50 register the first Saturday morning in November and that kicked us up to about the 300 range."

Brewen, along with the rest of the men's basketball staff and players, host the Wayne State College Junior Cat Basketball Clinics on Saturday mornings from 9-10:30 a.m. at WSC's Rice Auditorium and Recreation Center. The clinics are held on the first three Saturday mornings in November, along with December 12.

In addition to basketball skills, Junior Cat benefits include a Junior Cat t-shirt, basketball, free attendance to all Wayne State home basketball games, the opportunity to perform at halftime of the December 12 game with Mankato State, along with a free pizza party and pool party.

Boys and girls in grades 1-6 can join the Junior Cats for $25. Family discounts are also available. "Our concept and goal is to create fun and enthusiasm," Brewen said. "We basically go through ball-handling, dribbling, passing, and shooting basics. The drills have a competitive aspect to them, like a shooting contest, but the main purpose is to have fun."

Brewen and junior Wayne State College point guard Davy Summers both understand what it's like to have fun in a basketball environment. Brewen's father, Lloyd, was a very successful high school coach in the St. Louis area during the 1950's and early 60's, while Summers' father, Dave, guides the Oakland-Craig men's basketball team.

"Summers and I both are basketball coaches sons," Brewen said. "We were reminiscing about how much fun it was growing up in a basketball environment, and we hope we pass that feeling on to these kids. You try to establish a relationship between the kids and the team, and create excitement about the sport of basketball."

First-year assistant coach Willie Brown worked with fifth-graders during last week's Junior Cat Clinic. "I enjoy seeing the kids learn and have fun while they're learning the game of basketball," Brown said. "It's a thrill teaching them things they didn't know and seeing them getting excited about the things they're learning. The main thing is having fun."

Jason Bangs, a 6-5 junior forward from Glenwood, Iowa also enjoys the time he spends with the Junior Cat first-graders. "The best part of it is getting to see the smiles on their faces," Bangs said. "You know they're having a good time. It's like a two-hour recess—they all have fun, and so do we."

Brewen credits the success of the program to the area sponsors. "We've had tremendous sponsorship from local businesses and individuals," Brewen said. "Bob Reeg, (president of First National Bank of Wayne) gave us some really good ideas, and has helped us every step of the way."

Pizza Hut has been with us since the start, while M & H Apco, Dairy Queen, Farmers & Merchants State Bank, the Wayne Herald & Morning Shopper, and Affiliated Foods of Norfolk all have been very supportive," Brewen added.

WSC women start season Friday

WAYNE—Coach Mike Barry's Wayne State women's cage team opens the season on Friday in a 5:50 p.m. contest in Fargo, North Dakota against national-runnerup North Dakota State University.

NDSU returns 10 letterwinners from last year's 29-4 squad, and enter this season as the second ranked team in NCAA-II. The 'Cats return nine letterwinners from a 17-10 season.

All-Area teams released next week

WAYNE—The Wayne Herald All-Area girls volleyball and boys football teams will be released next week. The volleyball team will be announced on Tuesday with the football team release on Friday.

Fourteen of the area's best volleyball players make up the list along with 25 of the area's best football players. Each player making the team will receive a certificate from the Wayne Herald. The male and female athletes of the fall will be announced as well as coaches of the year in volleyball and football.

College athlete to be

Early success

Wayne resident Al Foote was a step ahead of many area deer hunters on opening day last Saturday. Foote bagged his deer very early in the morning out by the airport. Foote shot the deer with a .243 caliber rifle.

Wrestling Open House slated

WAYNE—There will be a wrestling open house on Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school gym according to Wayne coach John Murtaugh. The open house will consist of introductions of wrestlers, an explanation of the rules and scoring of wrestling, and a number of demonstrations.

There will also be a wrestling club meeting just prior to the open house at 7 p.m. This meeting will be held in room 101 at the high school.

Wildcats lose home finale

The Wayne State women's volleyball team closed out the home portion of their fall schedule on Tuesday night against rated Morningside College of Sioux City, Iowa.

It was the final home appearance for seniors Shannon Dunning and Cori Weinfurter as they were honored in a pre-game ceremony that also honored the parent's of all the volleyball players. The Wildcats played solid volleyball in the first game and earned the victory, 15-8.

Morningside, however, responded by winning the next three games to win the match, 15-8, 15-11, 15-8. The loss left Nancy Clark's squad with a 21-22 record and just one match remaining—a Friday rendezvous with rival Kearney in Kearney.

Cori Weinfurter paced the Wildcats in hitting as she has all season with 11 kill spikes while Cassie Vescio finished with eight ace spikes. Betty Boldt had seven kills and Lisa Skradski, six while Tanya Rotherham netted five ace spikes. Lora Grant and Shannon Dunning had two kills each.

Weinfurter heads into Friday's final match with 336 ace spikes on the season while Skradski's 280 is second on the team. Dunning netted 37 set assists on the night while Rotherham had four. Dunning currently has 1349 ace sets on the year.

Dunning also led WSC in ace serves with two which gives her a total of 46 for the year. Weinfurter added to her team leading digs total with 22 against Morningside which gives her 473 for the season.

Dunning finished with 16 digs and Rotherham had 13 while Skradski netted 10. Weinfurter finished with nine digs while Jaime Melton and Grant had six apiece.

Vescio was the blocks leader for Clark's crew with eight while Boldt and Dunning had six each. Skradski had five blocks and Rotherham finished with a pair. Boldt leads the team with 273 blocks for the year.

SHANNON DUNNING and Tanya Rotherham hustle after the volleyball after an errant pass. WSC plays their final game of the season on Friday at Kearney.

Winside honorees

Three Winside volleyball players were named to the Clark Division all-conference team including from left to right: Christi Mundil, Kari Pichler and Holly Holdorf. Chris Colwell was named to the honorable mention team while in football, Winside failed to land anyone on the first team but had four named to the honorable mention list including Brady Frahm, John Hancock, Jason Topp and Cam Shelton.

BETTY BOLDT hits a ball right through the arms of a Morningside blocker during action in Rice Auditorium on Tuesday night. The 'Cats lost three games to one as they closed out the home portion of the 1992 schedule.

The Siouxland Blood Bank of Sioux City announces that Terry Nicholson of Wakefield became an eight-gallon donor with his donation on Nov. 4.

Also acknowledged were Sanford Oute, seven-gallon donor; Willard Bartels and Pat Nicholson, five-gallon donors; Ron Krumaker, two-gallon donor; Martell Holm, Diana Hughes and Dan Jensen, one-gallon donors.

Others donating were first time donors Maria Eaton, David Jensen, Tammy Kramer, Kelly Kruger and Katherine Oute.

The blood bank also extended a special thanks to Arlene Benson, Betty Bressler, Viola Baker, Elaine Holm and Lois Schlines for working during the blood drive and to any other volunteers who have lent a helping hand to make the blood drives a success.

EASTERN STAR

Kaki Ley of Wayne presented a musical program of spiritual songs and Christmas music prior to the Nov. 3 meeting of Golden Rod Chapter 106, Order of Eastern Star held in the Wakefield Masonic Eastern Star Hall.

Kathy Potter, conductress, presented Sister Bonnie Bressler, Grand Representative, Iowa in Nebraska, to the chapter. The Charter was draped in memory of ALDA Christensen and William Beckenhauer.

Communications included an invitation to Laura Chapter 301 of South Sioux City's Friendship Night on Nov. 17. Any member with a copy of the bylaws and constitution of the order are to destroy the old ones and buy new ones if they so desire.

Most Worthy Grand Matron Virginia Painter reminds members to send in applicants for the Rose Award, which is a service of excellence award for Star members. There was also a reminder of the list of children needing gifts for Christmas at the Masonic/Eastern Star Childrens Home in Fremont.

Anna Jansen of Pender was elected as an affiliate member of Golden Rod Chapter 106.

Nov. 21 was chosen as a cleaning day for the Star Hall. Members are asked to be there at 9 a.m. and bring any cleaning supplies you may need. Nov. 23 will be the joint potluck supper for Masons and Eastern Star members and their spouses. The supper will begin at 6:30 p.m. Rolls, butter, jelly and beverages will be provided by the host committee. Elizabeth Ekberg will be in charge of entertainment.

The annual Christmas supper for all members of Golden Rod Chapter will be on Dec. 1 at 6:30 p.m. in the Star Hall. Only the officers are to bring cookies. Female officers may wear any outfit they want, instead of the regular gowns. Members planning to attend are to notify Priscilla Eaton or Elizabeth Ekberg by Nov. 23. Worthy Matron Nancy Kinney reminded the chapter that it will be election of officers in December. She also thanked everyone who helped make the Grand Officer's visit a success.

It was voted to give monetary gifts to the Plattsmouth Home and the Childer's Home again this year. Donations are needed for roof repairs. Donations to the building fund should be sent to Bonnie Bressler. Karen Jones reported on Iowa's Grand Chapter which was held in Sioux City.

Hostesses for the evening were Kathy Muller and Kathy Potter.

CHOIR TO SING

The "Hallelujah Chorus" will be sung by a community choir during the annual high school Christmas concert. Coleen Jeffries, vocal director, said she planned to make the popular number from Handel's Messiah a traditional part of the holiday concert each year.

Anyone interested in singing should call the school for music or more information. Mrs. Jeffries has scheduled an evening practice for Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school music room. The Christmas concert is set for Dec. 15.

CAKE WALK

The Wakefield Junior Girl Scouts conducted a cake walk in conjunction with the Christmas craft fair on Nov. 7 held at the Wakefield school. The money earned from the walk will be used for various scout activities and supplies, which include trips and badges.

Winners of the cakes were Timarie Bebee, Helen Domsch, Pat Lunz (2), Hollie Tyler, Lu Kay, Lori Brudigan, Mary Alice Utecht, Glee Gustafson (2), Kim Barge and Brittany Peters.

NEW BOOKS

The name General H. Norman Schwarzkopf became a household word during Desert Storm. Graves Public Library in Wakefield has a new book on Schwarzkopf entitled "It Doesn't Take a Hero." Other new non-fiction books for adults include "The Guns of the South" by Harry Turtledove, "Honored and Betrayed" by Richard Secord, "Rising in the West" by Dan Morgan, "Shadows of Forgotten Ancestors" by Carl Sagan and Ann Druyan and "The Reckoning" by David Halborstorn.

For youth in the family, check out "How Do You Say It Today, Jesse Bear" by Nancy White Carlstrom, "Carl's Masquerade" by Alexandra Day, "Sheep Out To Eat" by Nancy Shaw, "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" by Jean Taylor or "Dancers in the Garden" by Joanne Ryder.

GIRL SCOUTS

Girl Scouts Troop #73 met Nov. 2. Members aid the Pledge of Allegiance and Girl Scout Promise. The troop practices the candle lighting ceremony. The Girl Scouting Around the World and Girl Scouting in the USA badges were also completed.

Javanah Bebee served treats and Andrea brought a cake for Juliette Low's birthday. Low is the founder of Girl Scouting.

ALL-STATE CHOIR

Adam Goos, a junior at Wakefield High School, has been selected as a member of the All-State Choir. Approximately 450 students from across the state were selected from auditions to participate.

The students will be in Lincoln from Nov. 19-21 with a final concert set for Saturday night, Nov. 21. During the three days the choir members will rehearse, attend clinics and other special activities. Adam's director is Coleen Jeffries.

Annual community Thanksgiving service planned at St. Mary's

The Wayne Ministerial Association will sponsor its annual community Thanksgiving worship service on Sunday, Nov. 22.

The ecumenical service will begin at 5 p.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church, 412 East Main St. The offering collected at the service will be divided between the Wayne Food Pantry and the Ministerial's Emergency Assistance Fund.

Following the service, at approximately 6 p.m., there will be a soup and pie supper. A free will offering will be taken to defray the cost of the meal, and anything over that amount will be given to the pantry and emergency assistance fund. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Wayne State professor discussing Hinduism

Meena Dalal, Ph.D., a professor in the social sciences division at Wayne State College, will present a program on Sunday, Nov. 22 at the Northeast Nebraska Unitarian Universalist Fellowship. The Fellowship was formed last year to provide an opportunity for people of diverse religious backgrounds to discuss ethical and spiritual issues of current social concern.

The group meets at 10:30 a.m. on the second and fourth Sundays of each month at 201 Miller Ave., in Norfolk.

DR. DALAL will begin her presentation by describing a five-day festival held each fall in Calcutta, India to honor the Goddess Durga. Children will be included in this part of the program.

During the second part of the program, Dr. Dalal will discuss Hindu philosophy and its effect on the perception of feminism. Everyone present is welcome to join the discussion.

Persons wishing additional information or to arrange for car pooling are asked to call Laureen Martin at 375-4370 or 375-7018.

Task force recommendations outlined at Wakefield council

Members of the Wakefield START committee's Community Image and Appearance Task Force met recently with the Wakefield City Council to discuss their proposals.

The task force is recommending that all cracked, raised or broken sidewalks be repaired and/or replaced, with a suggested deadline for completion of five to seven years. The group further suggested that a sub-committee be formed of two council members and two START task force members to coordinate the sidewalk improvement project.

IN THE area of parking restrictions, the task force proposed additional handicap parking spaces along Main St. in Wakefield's business district, with at least one handicap space in the middle of each block.

They also suggested posted parking time limits in front of the Wakefield Post Office.

Regarding parking in residential areas, the task force recommends parking on one side of the street only. They suggested that all north/south streets be designated parking on the east side since this has already been done on Michener and Highland Sts. in the area of the school. Parking on all east/west streets would be on the south side.

The task force further recommends no parking on streets from 1 a.m. to 6 a.m. year round for snow removal, street cleaning and other maintenance tasks.

The group also addressed the problem of junk cars on streets and property and asked for better monitoring and enforcing by the police department of existing regulations.

MEMBERS of the task force stressed that their goal is to improve the attitude and appearance of the community, with the support of Wakefield residents, council members, the administration and police department.

The council took no action on the task force recommendations. City Administrator Lowell Johnson said the council would like additional input from other residents of the community regarding the suggestions.

No Weeds in These Seeds
A MAN OF WORDS AND NOT OF DEEDS IS LIKE A GARDEN FULL OF WEEDS

People look, see and listen. They measure you; weigh you on the scales. They check your actions to see if they confirm what you say are your beliefs.
Well, how about it? Talk, after all, is cheap.
A major goal of all Christians is to align their language with their total behavior.
How grow your verbal vegetables?
"Be not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the word." James 1:25

Wakefield school board gives tentative approval to after school program

The Wakefield board of education has given tentative approval for use of the school facility for an after school program.

Vicki Schwarten and Lori Lueth, members of the START education committee, appeared before the board on Nov. 9 to discuss the program.

The committee is suggesting a supervised program each day from 3:30 to 6 p.m. for youth in kindergarten through sixth grades, with the program funded by those participating.

ALSO addressing the board of education were Barb Preston, Lizz Ekberg and Curt Jeffries, representing the Wakefield School Music Boosters.

They talked about equipment needs for both the school vocal and instrumental programs. The board approved the organization's plan to seek funds to pursue the matter.

Superintendent Derwin Hartman reported that a PTA interest meeting was attended by approximately 45 people. A second meeting is scheduled Jan. 19 at 7:30 p.m. to decide on a format for future meetings.

Hartman also reported that participation in recent parent-teacher conferences totaled 98 percent in the elementary school and 90 percent in the high school.

BOARD member Michael Salmon, chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported on modifications needed to comply with the Americans With Disabilities Act. Superintendent Hartman said plans are to do some of the required work during the Christmas vacation.

Due to the deterioration of the school auditorium roof, the board instructed Superintendent Hartman to advertise for bids on the roof's replacement.

The board also discussed a request by Rural School District 25, located south of Wakefield, to affiliate with District 60R. The board will take action on the petition for affiliation at the December meeting.

The Chapter 1 program improvement plan was discussed and a request for funds was approved to be used for computer equipment and software in the English department.

DALLAS PULS, business instructor at Winside High School, displays the new computer software donated by Wayne NPPD.

Software donated to Winside school

Winside High School recently received Q & A computer software from Nebraska Public Power District and Symantec Data Corporation in cooperation with the Wayne County Public Power District.

The business software is part of NPPD's commitment to education and was used by NPPD before the utility upgraded its software.

This is the third phase of NPPD's software donation program. Over 100 schools have received Lotus 1-2-3 and Freelance software through a similar program with Lotus Corporation.

A spokesman for NPPD said the utility is pleased to make the donation in support of education in Nebraska as part of the Business/Education Partnership.

Sandra Bottger, consumer education specialist with NPPD, presented the software package to Ron Leapley, Winside principal, and Dallas Puls, business instructor.

Assisting with the presentation were George Jaeger, director for the Wayne County Public Power District, and Marvin Cherry, Winside village board chairman.

SCS Chief meets with Lower Elkhorn NRD Board

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District's board members had an opportunity to discuss continued cooperation with the state Soil Conservation Service chief at the October meeting held at the Norfolk NRD office, Thursday evening.

Ron Moreland, Nebraska's State Conservationist attended the monthly meeting to discuss future partnerships between the Lower Elkhorn NRD and Area II Soil Conservation Service field offices.

"Our continued partnership and commitment is very important in preserving northeast Nebraska's soil and water resources," said LENRD general manager, Stan Staab.

The board also heard a special report on the "Sandhills Area Study" from Gerald Wallin from the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission. According to Wallin, concerns about the potential for nitrate and land erosion in the Sandhills prompted the 10-year study.

The LENRD board approved funding of the soil sampling and analysis cost-share program at $20,000; setting a 50-percent cost-share limit.

"The soil sampling and analysis program encourages landowners to practice deep soil sampling and analysis as part of a total nitrogen management program," said LENRD assistant manager, Ken Berney. "By taking all sources of available nutrients into consideration, a producer may save money by reducing the amount of fertilizer applied, while protecting the quality of groundwater."

The soil sampling and analysis program requires that a NRD certified consultant or dealer take the soil samples and send it to a state certified lab for analysis. The soil sampling cost-share assistance for each cooperator is limited to three years.

In other business, the board voted to continue the Wildlife Habitat Improvement Program for fiscal year 1994. The directors also decided not to provide future funding for the Livestock Waste Control Facility program.

The board also approved the equipment subcommittee's recommendation to purchase a Gateway 2000 computer for the Water Resources program.

The next Lower Elkhorn NRD board meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 24 at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant in Laurel.
