Wayne water fails test for copper in it

By Les Mann
Herald Publisher

Wayne is one of 19 cities in Nebraska that the Nebraska Department of Health will be retesting for high copper levels in residential water.

Last fall the Wayne Water Department submitted water samples from 40 residences in the community for State Health Department testing to determine the levels of lead and copper in the drinking water. Under Environmental Protection Agency guidelines, the state is required to test all municipal water systems.

WHILE LEAD levels in the Wayne water tests were well below EPA action levels, the city did not pass its copper test with the same high grades.

The copper level in seven of the 40 single-family residential locations tested exceeded the federal action levels and three were slightly over the acceptable levels for copper content. Eighteen other Nebraska medium-sized communities (3,300 to 50,000 population) had similar results.

City officials were quick to point out that the state tests indicate that the city's overall water quality is very good.

Federal rules declare a system out of compliance if the copper concentration is greater than 1.3 parts per million. State Health Department Official Scott Peterson said he thinks the results of the tests indicate that the copper concentrations leached out of household copper plumbing and not the municipal water systems.

COPPER DOES not pose the same health risks as lead, health department toxicologists said. In the kind of concentrations found in the city water samples copper is seldom more than a gastrointestinal irritant, sometimes causing nausea or diarrhea.

Wayne water department foreman Meri Marshall advised residents with copper water pipes to run their tap for a brief time before using it. He said the longer water is allowed to sit in pipes, the more copper can leech into it. When the water tests were conducted, he explained, the city was required to draw water from pipes which had been allowed to sit idle for at least six hours.

In spite of the low risk health problems and the ease in avoiding problems by allowing taps to run a few seconds before drinking, if the city's repeat tests for copper content still show high copper content, Wayne could be forced to adopt several methods to bring the community under compliance.

ONE MEASURE might be to ban copper plumbing in the community. Another measure might be to add treatment measures to reduce the copper content throughout the whole city.

Still the champ!

Wayne held onto its record as the top town in sending attendees to the Nebraska Chamber of Commerce and Industry annual meeting in Lincoln.

Fourteen Waynians caused Gov. Ben Nelson to raise his eyebrow when they were introduced during the Chamber luncheon Thursday. The governor addressed the large group of chamber officials from all over the state on the significant accomplishments which have been made in recent years in Nebraska.

He cited the strong rural base in the state with agriculture as the root for the state's merging new economy which also is incorporating information industries and global focus.

"The property tax issues are laid to rest with amendment one" the gover-

Foundation gets gift of $30,000

Walter and Phebe Benthack of Wayne have made a $30,000 gift to the Wayne State Foundation's $11.5 million "Building Bright Futures" national fund-raising campaign.

The gift will fund the Eleanor Benthack Ingram Memorial Endowed Scholarship for pre-med majors at Wayne State College, according to Wayne Groner, vice president for development and executive director of the Wayne State Foundation.

"This generous gift from the Benthacks will provide needed financial assistance for pre-med students for many years to come," Groner says. "We appreciate the Benthacks' thoughtfulness. They have been longtime supporters of Wayne State College."

Dr. Benthack practiced medicine in Wayne for over 50 years before retiring in 1986. Mrs. Benthack raised the couple's five children and also helped with cooking and other duties at the hospital.

Dr. Benthack was a member of the Nebraska State Teachers College Board of Trustees from 1939 to 1945. He was board chairman from 1942 to 1943.

Dr. Benthack began practicing medicine in Pierce in 1925. He moved to Wayne in 1930. The couple still reside in Wayne.

nor told the chamber leaders and he said we will now see the state turn its collective attention to growth and the future.

He called the property tax issue and the current medicaid and medicare funding shortfalls "adversities" that may result in the state becoming stronger. Dealing with adversity usually makes individuals and families stronger.

The governor said the coalition of different factions that came together to solve the property tax issue proves that by working together any problem can be solved.

He said he likes the mix of rural-urban, private and government partnerships that are working on other issues in the state including improvements in education through Nebraska 2000, economic development and welfare reform.

"The state can't do anything for an individual or a community, but together we can do great things."

Top officials due here next week

The State's top government officials and economic developers will be in Wayne next week for the quarterly meeting of the Nebraska Rural Development Commission.

Gov. Ben Nelson will be addressing the group Friday.

The governor will join round table discussions with the commission Friday morning.

Public comment will be encouraged at the end of the commission meeting Friday at 3 p.m. at the Wayne State College Student Center.

A special town hall meeting with the commission will be Thursday at 7 p.m. at Wayne High School in the Commons Area. The topic for the town hall session is "How state and federal government can work better for communities in terms of development?"

The town hall meeting is open to all citizens of the region. A good sized group is anticipated for the meeting with the Wayne Chamber is organizing a welcome and hospitality effort for the commission members, according to Nancy Endicott, Chamber President.

"It is a great opportunity for us to have all the top leaders in the state in our community," said Mrs. Endicott.

The Rural Development Commission was established by the Nelson administration to foster development in rural areas of the state. The commission has 21 members. In addition to those attendees and the governor's office staff, other agency officials and private developers are expected to attend the meeting according to Connie Keck, director of the Nebraska Department of Economic Development field office located in Wayne.

Forum is Feb. 15

Wayne State College Economics Forum will present a National Issues Forum entitled "Prescription for Prosperity: Four Paths to Economic Renewal."

The event is scheduled on Monday, Feb. 15 in the North Dining Room, Wayne State College, from 3 to 4:30 p.m. All students and community members are welcome to attend and participate.

There is no admission charge. Four strategies for economic renewal will be considered. They are free market, public investment, debt reduction and industrial policy.

A National Issues Forum is nothing but a "Town Meeting" where several different viewpoints on a particular issue can be openly discussed.

At the end of the forum the participants will try to reach common ground on the issue. This is a way to bring citizens into the process of democratic problem solving. When the whole society is affected by a serious problem, we should not allow professional politicians, lobbyists and other "experts" impose their decisions upon us.

Films focusing on 'Children at Risk'

The Wayne Ministerium invites the public to attend a Focus on the Family film series, entitled "Children at Risk." The film series will begin Sunday, Feb. 7 at 6:30 p.m. in the lower auditorium of Wayne High School, and will conclude at the same time on Sunday, Feb. 14. The charge is $1 per family.

Following each film presentation, audience members will break-up into discussion groups to consider possible applications in the local area. Refreshments also will be served.

"CHILDREN at Risk" features Dr. James Dobson, founder and president of Focus on the Family, along with Gary Bauer, president of The Family Research Council in Washington, D.C., and senior vice president of Focus on the Family.

Dobson and Bauer trace the "great unraveling" of American culture and morals that has occurred over the last 30 years, and give common sense advice to parents, teachers, and government leaders on how children can be protected.

They portray in vivid terms the cultural battle raging around: the role of faith in society, what values must be taught in schools, how the family can be strengthened and protected, and the sanctity of life.

Dobson and Bauer look toward the 1990's as a time that is ripe for lasting, true values to be re-integrated into American life. In "Children at Risk," they offer a plan for the "great re-learning" — an agenda to recreate a stable society using family as the basic building block.

Yes Virginia, Jan. was cold

Area residents probably don't need to be reminded that January 1993 was cold, however local weather observer Pat Gross says the month was back to normal, compared to the unusually warm weather experienced a year ago.

January 1993 only saw eight days when the high temperature was above freezing, while in January 1992 there were only five days when the high temperature was not above freezing.

Gross said the average high temperature in January 1993 was 24 degrees, compared to an average high of 41 degrees in 1992, and the average low during January 1993 was six degrees, compared to an average low of 19 degrees in January 1992.

The highest temperature recorded in January 1992 was 62 degrees, while the high temperature in January 1993 (recorded on Jan. 27) was 42 degrees.

The lowest temperature in January 1992 was minus nine degrees, compared to minus seven degrees in 1993 (recorded on Jan. 1).

THE "GREATEST" daily snowfall last month was 5.0 inches, recorded on Jan. 21, with a total of 13.5 inches recorded during the entire month of January, compared to 1/2 inch in January 1992.

Total snowfall to date for the winter of 1992-93, as of Jan. 31, was 22.0 inches.

Gross said precipitation during the month of January amounted to .60 inches, with precipitation up .22 inches compared to a 10-year January average of .38 inches.

Water

There is a chance the EPA will force out of compliance systems to conduct corrosion control studies. Such a study in Lincoln could cost as much as $100,000 the Associated Press reported.

Marshall suggested that residential customers, especially those with fairly new copper plumbing, consider letting their water run from the tap before using it for cooking or drinking anytime the water in the faucet has not been used for more than six hours.

He added that many Wayne water customers already use water softeners because the Wayne well water is relatively hard.

Wayne cage teams lose in NAC Conference tourney

WAYNE'S CARRIE FINK tries to dribble past a Cedar Catholic defender during first round action of the NAC Conference Tournament in South Sioux, Thursday.

Both the Wayne girls and boys basketball teams entered Thursday's first round of the Northern Activities Conference Tournament as top seeds and both were upset in South Sioux by the fourth seeds.

Marlene Uhing's girls were defeated, 54-47 by Hartington Cedar Catholic while Bob Uhing's boys were edged, 61-59 by South Sioux.

In the girls game Wayne trailed 9-8 after the first quarter and 25-19 at the half. The Blue Devils trimmed three points off the lead after three periods of play at 37-34 but were out-scored over the final eight minutes, 17-13.

"We basically got out-hustled for three-and-a-half quarters of the game," Uhing said. "We didn't work hard on defense and we didn't use the ball on offense."

Uhing said her team had 13 possessions of the basketball in the second quarter and they lost it 10 times. The 12-4 Blue Devils were led by Liz Reeg with 20 points while Jenny Thompson tossed in nine. Erin Pick scored eight followed by Jenny Thomsen and Angie Thompson with four points each. Danielle Nelson rounded out the scoring with two.

Wayne out-rebounded Cedar by a 33-24 margin as Pick led the way with 10 rebounds while Nelson hauled down eight from her point guard position. The Blue Devils had 18 turnovers and were 10-14 from the free throw line while Cedar had 12 turnovers and was 12-17 from the charity stripe.

"One of the keys was offensive rebounding where Cedar had 14," Uhing said. "That's a lot of second chance points." Uhing did note the quality play of Erin Pick and Jenny Thompson. Wayne will play Saturday in the consolation game of the conference tournament against O'Neill or South Sioux in a 3 p.m.

contest in South Sioux's mini-dome.

THE STORY LINE in the boys game was a simple one—free throws! Wayne stepped to the charity stripe 24 times during the contest with South Sioux and came away with just five points. Wayne was 3-14 from the free throw line in the fourth quarter while South Sioux was 10-19 from the line for the game, but 7-11 in the final eight minutes.

Wayne led 19-15 after the first period but the game was tied at 29 at the break. The host Cardinals took a five point lead into the fourth quarter and built a lead of seven early in the final stanza before Wayne rallied and took a one point lead of its own at 52-51.

South Sioux answered with a three-pointer for a 54-52 lead but Robert Bell responded with a basket to tie the game at 54 with under two minutes left in the game. From then it was a free throw contest and Wayne failed to respond.

Uhing said in a post game interview that his squad is simply not focused right now and it showed in all aspects of the game against the Cardinals. He even went as far as to say that anyone blind folded could have shot free throws better than his team did on Thursday.

Bobby Barnes led Wayne in scoring with 18 points including 14 in the first half on the wings of four, three-pointers. Robert Bell netted 13 and Brad Uhing scored 11 while Regg Carnes added eight and Matt Blomkamp, seven. Arnold Schwartz rounded out the scoring with two points.

Wayne will play the loser of Cedar Catholic and O'Neill on Saturday in a consolation game of the conference tournament.

Wayne will travel to compete at the district tournament on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 12-13 at Gretna.

ROBERT BELL PUTS up a shot after an offensive rebound during Wayne's first round conference tournament game with South Sioux. Wayne fell to 14-2 after a 61-59 loss to the Cardinals after going 5-24 from the foul line.

Wakefield advances with overtime win; Allen falls in semis

The Wakefield girls basketball team advanced to the finals of the Clark Division tournament, Tuesday with a 54-49 overtime win over Wynot in Wausa.

Gregg Cruickshank's team improved to 9-8 with the win and will play Wausa in the finals of the division tournament on Friday in Wausa with the winner advancing to play the Lewis Division winner, between Newcastle and Bancroft-Rosalie on Saturday at Wayne State College in a 5 p.m. contest.

"It was a close game all the way through," Cruickshank said. "We had a chance to win the game in regulation with a three-point lead with 13 seconds to go but Wynot drained a long basket at the buzzer to send the game into overtime."

Cruickshank said the girl who made the tying basket attempted only one shot the entire game—at the buzzer. Wakefield, however, shook off the last second heroics of Wynot by out-scoring the Blue Devils, 8-3 in overtime.

Angi Peterson was the catalyst of Wakefield's overtime win as she made four of five free throws in the three-minute extra period. "Angie hit seven of eight free throws in the fourth quarter and overtime period combined," Cruickshank said. "That was definitely the difference in the game."

Peterson led Wakefield with 15 points followed by 14 from Maria Eaton and 10 from Heidi Muller. Kali Baker finished with six and Jaime Oswald scored four while Kathy Ote and Stacy Preston rounded out the attack with three and two points respectively.

Wakefield held a 27-24 advantage on the boards with Preston leading the way with seven caroms. The Trojans had 18 turnovers compared to 23 for Wynot and Wakefield was 10-18 from the free throw line compared to 5-11 for Wynot.

WHILE WAKEFIELD WAS advancing to the Clark Division finals, Allen was defeated by Bancroft-Rosalie in the Lewis Division semifinals, 62-46. Gary Erwin and Lori Koester saw their team dip to 10-6 with their second loss of the season to the Lady Panthers.

"I thought the first half was the difference," Koester said. "We played a lot better defense in the second half and consequently, we out-scored them 24-21 over the final half after being down 31-22 at the half."

Koester, however, was quick to give Bancroft's defense credit. "You have to give them credit for playing great defense," Koester said. "They held us to just 43 shot attempts for the game which is far below our average."

Heather Sachau led the Eagles with 17 points followed by Christy Philbrick with nine. Sonya Plueger and Marcia Hanson each tallied six while Steph Chase scored four. Steph Martinson and Holly Blair rounded out Allen's scoring with two points each.

Allen was out-rebounded, 29-25 despite 11 rebounds from Sonya Plueger. The Eagles suffered 23 turnovers while Bancroft had 17. Allen was 12-16 from the foul line and the winners were 6-13.

"Offensively, we just didn't shoot the ball as well as we have been," Koester said. "I thought we were getting the shots we wanted, but they just weren't falling."

Allen will travel to play Wakefield on Tuesday before hosting Beemer in the final regular season game on Thursday. Allen will then prepare for districts where they will face Wynot in the first round on Feb. 23.

Wayne State sees 13 point lead disappear in 63-56 loss

The Wayne State men's basketball team slipped to 7-14 on the season with a 63-56 home loss to Quincy College of Illinois, Wednesday night in Rice Auditorium.

Mike Brewen's team saw a 13 point, second half lead disappear in the game's final 13 minutes. In fact, Quincy's first lead in the game did not come until the 4:39 mark of the second half. WSC scored first in the game on a short jump shot by Dan Anderson after nearly two minutes was gone in the first half. The 'Cats would build a first half lead of nine points at 21-12 at the 7:44 mark before Quincy dwindled the lead down to one before intermission at 25-24. Billy Patterson scored the second half's first points with Anderson and David Allen following with buckets along with a pair of free throws by Davy Summers as WSC went on an 8-0 scoring run to lead 33-24.

WSC eventually led 39-28 when Quincy coach Steve Hawkins was whistled for a technical foul. Summers nailed both free throws to give WSC its biggest lead of the game at 41-28, but from then on it appeared to be all Quincy as they out-scored WSC 35-15 the rest of the way.

Quincy went on a 20-7 run to tie the game at 48 in an eight minute span as WSC's shooting touch went cold. The 'Cats missed nine of 11 shots during that span including three lay-ups.

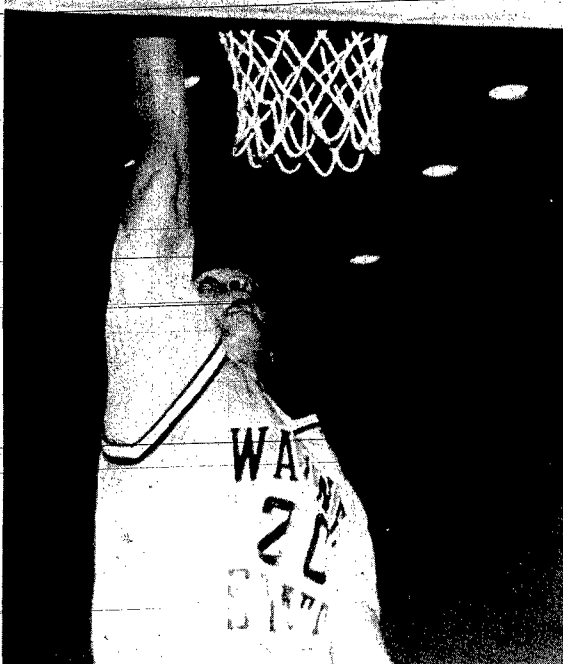

Trailing 56-53 with under a minute to go David Allen sank a three-pointer to tie the game but five of Quincy's next seven points came from the foul line and WSC failed to convert on the opposite end. Allen led WSC with 17 points followed by Summers with 11 while Anderson and Michael Parks netted six each. Greg Ryan scored five and Keith Whitfield added four while Patterson scored three. Kyle White and Omar Clark rounded out the attack with two each.

WSC edged Quincy on the boards, 46-44 as Allen notched 18 rebounds to lead the 'Cats. Summers dished out a team high four assists and Allen had three steals for team honors.

WSC had 17 turnovers compared to 16 for the visitors. The 'Cats were 20-62 from the field for 32 percent and 15-23 from the free throw line while Quincy was 20-59 from the field for 34 percent and 17-26 from the foul line.

The Wildcats will travel to play Wisconsin-Parkside on Saturday before hosting Briar Cliff on Wednesday.

WSC'S MICHAEL PARKS dunks the ball against Quincy College in first half action on Wednesday's game. The 'Cats lost by seven, leaving them with a 7-14 record.

Trojan boys gain finals berth; 'Cats lose to Coleridge

Brad Hoskins' Wakefield boys basketball team advanced to the finals of the Clark Division Conference Tournament by defeating Osmond, 55-47, Thursday night in Wausa.

The Trojans got even for an earlier loss to the Tigers and they did it by shooting free throws. "We've lost a few games from the free throw line this season so it was nice to finally win one from here," Hoskins said. "We hit 20 of 34 from the line but the main thing is we hit them down the stretch."

The game was tied at 13 after the first quarter and the Trojans led 23-22 at the intermission. Wakefield doubled that lead to two points heading into the final quarter before out-scoring Osmond, 16-10.

"In the first half we weren't concentrating very well," Hoskins said. "Still, we were very pleased to go into the locker room with the lead. We did play a good second half on both ends of the floor."

Cory Brown led the winners with 17 points followed by Larry Johnson with a dozen and T.J. Preston with 10. Ben Dutton and Wes Blecke each scored seven and Miah Johnson rounded out the attack with two.

Wakefield dominated play on the boards with a 56-32 advantage as Dutton notched 15 rebounds while Brown had 13. Larry Johnson had 10 caroms and Miah Johnson notched eight.

Wakefield had 13 turnovers and forced Osmond into 19. The Trojans will face Coleridge in the Clark finals at Wausa with the winner advancing to the championship of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament on Saturday at Wayne State College in a 7 p.m. contest.

WINSIDE'S BOYS LOST its bid to be in the championship round of the Clark Division with a 63-48 set back to Coleridge in the game preceding the Wakefield contest Thursday night.

Shannon Pospisil's team got down by 10 points after the first quarter at 17-7 and could never regain enough of a come back to threaten the top seeded Bulldogs.

"Rebounding was the story," Pospisil said. "We failed to box out on the defensive end of the floor and Coleridge got 15 offensive rebounds which resulted in a lot of second and third chance points."

The 6-8 Wildcats were led in scoring by Cory Miller with 17 points followed by Ryan Brogren with nine and Cam Shelton with seven. Marty Jorgensen tallied six and John Hancock netted five while Jeff Bruggeman rounded out the list with four points.

Coleridge out-rebounded Winside, 46-33 despite Miller's 14 rebound performance. The 'Cats had 12 turnovers and connected on four of six free throws while the Bulldogs had 13 turnovers and hit six of eight from the charity stripe.

Coleridge's leading scorers all season long have been Ben Schroeder and Tim Hoffart and the two combined to score 42 of the Bulldogs 63 points against Winside.

Winside will travel to play Wynot on Tuesday before traveling to play Osmond on Thursday.

Bears lose to Crofton by 13

The Laurel boys basketball team earned the top seed by flip of a coin in the NENAC Conference Basketball Tournament which allowed them to play eighth seeded Creighton in the first round.

Bears coach Clayton Steele, however, is the first to admit that the eighth seeded team should have probably won the first round contest played at Crofton last Saturday but favored Laurel held them off in double overtime, winning 54-46.

"I thought we were beat all the way," Steele said. "That was a game we rescued from the jaws of defeat. They had the ball with a chance to win at the end of regulation and had the ball with a chance to win at the end of the first overtime but failed twice."

The Bears led 16-14 after the first quarter and 24-22 at the half. Creighton knotted the game up at 35 after three periods and both teams scored nine, fourth quarter points to send the game to overtime. Each team managed just two points in the first overtime but Laurel out-scored Creighton by an 8-0 margin in the second overtime to earn the win.

Wildcats breeze in 95-71 win

Mike Barry's Wayne State women's basketball team rolled over Dakota State, Tuesday night in Madison, S.D., 95-71 to improve to 12-7 on the season.

The Wildcats have won seven of their last eight ball games and nine of their last 11. Despite the huge margin of difference Barry felt his team could have played better.

"I guess you could say we played just well enough to win by 24," Barry said. "We really didn't have much intensity on defense but we got some solid play from our big people and our bench."

Barry's team led 44-27 at the half and they out-scored the host team in track meet fashion, 51-44 in the second half. "We had five people in double figures which is the first time this season that has happened," Barry said.

Mary Schnitzler led the Wildcats with 22 points followed by Lisa Chamberlin with 19—which allowed her to surpass the 1000 point mark in her career. She currently has 1014 points with seven games remaining in her junior season.

Jodi Otjen, Kristy Twait and Linda Heller all finished in double figures with 11 points each while Lynn Nohr tallied seven and Cheri VanAuker, six. Brenda Te Grotenhuis scored four while Ann Kramer and Robyn Wiese netted two points apiece to round out the scoring.

WSC was out-rebounded 50-49 despite 13 caroms from Otjen. Heller hauled down eight boards and VanAuker had seven. Nohr dished out a team high six assists while Chamberlin, Schnitzler and Te Grotenhuis had four each.

The Wildcats had just 12 turnovers while forcing the host team into 23. Chamberlin and Te Grotenhuis were responsible for six of those turnovers as each recorded three steals. The 'Cats had 14 thefts as a team.

WSC was 39-88 from the field for 44 percent and 10-15 from the foul line while 4-17 Dakota State was 26-67 from the field for 39 percent and 14-18 from the charity stripe.

The 'Cats will travel to play Bemidji State on Saturday before returning to Rice Auditorium for a four-game home stand beginning with Morningside on Tuesday.

...But for the Grace of GOD...
M.I.A.s and P.O.W. Hostages. The jailed. They all say it helped greatly to know other people were pulling for them, thinking about them, and praying for them.

That's something anyone can do.
Churches do it often. You can be part of it, too. Come, join together.
