

Governor praises new Wayne center

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Praising the vitality of all sectors of the Wayne community, Nebraska Gov. Ben Nelson Tuesday help officially open what he called an impressive new facility for the region.

Nelson cut the ribbon at Riley's Convention Center Tuesday as some 200 area leaders enjoyed a reception and a shower of favorable comments about the community.

The governor said Wayne and the region is showing a vitality that goes beyond jobs creation and industrial development. He said Riley's is a prime example of private enterprise involvement in economic growth.

IT WAS obvious, said Nelson, that many different sectors of the community and region are involved in community improvement in Wayne, adding it takes a large and diverse group pulling together to make progress.

The governor stressed the need to have the state and local governments be a partner in the community development efforts and volunteered the state's support.

"This center is making a statement about this community and this region and it is a very positive statement," said Nelson. He said the new banquet/meeting facility and ballroom would be a complement to the entire region and especially to Wayne State College.

Convention center owner Rod Tompkins, who thanked the governor for his participation in Tuesday's well-attended festivities, told the Wayne Herald it really wasn't that difficult to get the state's chief executive to come to Wayne for the ceremony.

"WE JUST asked," said Tompkins, giving Carolyn George, the center's banquet manager the credit for making the arrangements with the governor's office.

"It is an honor to be here," said Nelson, who after being introduced to Riley Broderson, the center's namesake and 1 year old grandson of Rod and Loretta Tompkins, added, "I couldn't think of a better name for this facility."

Nelson was presented with a Wayne Chicken Show mug and a key to the city by Wayne Mayor Bob Carhart who praised the governor for taking the time to make several trips to Wayne since he has been in office.

NELSON GREETED Wayne elementary school students who happened to be at the airport on a field trip when his plane landed Tuesday. He told the convention center audience

Hundreds due for day

Almost 600 area high school students will compete in Wayne State College's annual Business Day Competition on Thursday, April 15.

Students will compete in Accounting I and II, Business Communications, Business Comprehensive Knowledge, Business Law, Computer Literacy, Filing, Keyboarding I and II Timings, Printing Calculating Machines, Sales Presentation and the Young Entrepreneurs Contest.

The top five winners in each category will receive certificates, ribbons or medals.

Plaques or trophies will be awarded to the top three schools with the highest total points.

Riley meets the governor

Young Riley Brodersen, after whom Riley's Convention Center is named, got to meet Gov. Ben Nelson Tuesday. The governor was in Wayne to help dedicate the new banquet and ballroom facility. Riley is being held by his grandfather, Rod Tompkins, the owner developer of the center. In the background is Mayor Bob Carhart.

Story hour

WAYNE — Wayne area youngsters ages three through seven are invited to attend a story hour at Wayne Public Library on Saturday, April 17.

The story hour will run from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and is sponsored by Lambda Phi Omega.

Sponsors needed

WAYNE — Adult sponsors are needed for the Wayne High School varsity choir's trip to Worlds of Fun in Kansas City. The group will leave on Saturday, April 24 and return home on Sunday, April 25.

Interested persons are asked to call Kathryn Ley, 375-3150 or 375-2017.

Post prom support needed

WAYNE — The Wayne High School Booster Club members are encouraging businesses and parents of juniors and seniors who have not taken the opportunity to financially support the 1993 post prom to do so as soon as possible.

The boosters have issued special thanks to those who have already donated. Businesses are asked to return their donation to their local bank. Parents or others can send their donation to John Witkowski, RR1, Box 185, Wayne.

The post prom party was started a number of years ago and has been a tremendously successful effort to offer a time, a safe place, fun and prizes for our high school students and their friends immediately following the prom.

These are eggciting times in egg business

Milton G. Waldbaum Company's Butch Utemark says the Easter holiday is one of the busiest times of year for the Wakefield egg plant.

"We end up hiring extra temporary help for this time of year to help out with our special projects," Utemark said, "We color Easter eggs and ship them to retail stores throughout the country."

Utemark said they have orders for the pre-cooked Easter eggs in Alaska, Hawaii and everywhere in-between.

Sunny-side up, scrambled, hard-cooked, processed for liquid form or decorated for the Easter season are a few ways that the many eggs produced in Nebraska each year can be enjoyed.

Sheila E. Scheideler, poultry specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, said Nebraska ranks 13th nationally in egg production, and industry products range from fresh eggs to dry ingredients for cake mixes.

Scheideler said an egg, which has 80 calories, can provide a person with 15 percent of the daily recommended allowances for protein.

"If you eat an egg, you meet almost all of the cholesterol need for the day," she said, adding that the American Heart Association, aware of the threat of high cholesterol levels, recommends a diet of three to five eggs per week. There also are some liquid egg products on the market which are free from cholesterol.

Julie A. Albrecht, UNL food specialist, said that from a food safety standpoint, raw eggs in the shell will keep in the refrigerator without significant quality loss for up to three weeks after they are purchased.

Artists show Easter story

By LaVon Anderson
News Editor

The Rev. Donald Nunnally of Wayne's First United Methodist Church knew he had a congregation filled with a variety of talented people, but it wasn't until this Lenten season that the Wayne pastor realized the extent of that talent.

"I think the entire congregation really anticipated and looked forward with excitement to the weekly Lenten services," said Pastor Nunnally, pointing out that the object of that excitement was the unveiling of artwork provided by several members of the church to illustrate each week's Lenten theme.

Nearly a year ago, Pastor Nunnally approached several members of his church and asked if they would be willing to provide artwork for the 1993 Lenten season.

"They were absolutely wonderful," said the pastor, adding that the only guidelines he provided were that the artwork provided by each individual follow the weekly Lenten theme he or she was assigned, and that they remain "somewhat realistic."

"I wanted each of them to be able to express themselves individually," said the pastor, "and each artist did just that in his or her own special way."

"It's been very exciting."

ARTISTS participating in the Lenten project were Bud McNatt, Jan Kohl, Megan Cornish, Nancy Berns, Marie Hubbard, Amy Tiedtke, Nicki Tiedtke and Sam Leonard.

That group included three generations of artists (Sam Leonard, Nancy Berns and Megan Cornish) and two generations (Nicki Tiedtke and Amy Tiedtke).

All of them were given several months to come up with an idea and finish their artwork, with the exception of Jan Kohl who at the last minute was asked to pinch-hit for a church member who moved away.

"It was nice and it was a good experience," says Nancy. "It was a situation we got ourselves into and couldn't get out of, but once we got involved it really seemed effortless and I think it provided an opportunity for all of us to do what we really enjoy doing."

WAYNE STATE COLLEGE
NEBRASKA

Hey, this is neat!

Gov. Ben Nelson showed his pleasure Tuesday when Wayne Mayor Bob Carhart presented him with a key to the city because the governor has made numerous trips to Northeast Nebraska.

Governor

that he told the kids he was on a "field trip" from Lincoln.

He added he likes to get out of the statehouse as much as possible to avoid "Limestone Fever." He describes it as a loss of the sense of judgement about the real needs and the real people of Nebraska. He said he avoids the fever by getting out and listening to Nebraskans outside of Lincoln.

Eggciting

to an internal temperature of 160 degrees F. will destroy any Salmonella bacteria that may be present, Albrecht said. Stirred soft custards reach serving consistency between 175 degrees F. and 185 degrees F., she said, adding that homemade ice cream and eggnog can be made with recipes using a cooked custard-type basis.

Hard-cooked eggs, in the shell or peeled, should be eaten within five days after cooking, the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources food specialist pointed out.

Scheideler said for the hard-cooking process of eggs for Easter coloring and decorations, cook only eggs with good shells that don't contain cracks.

"You should put eggs in a single layer in a saucepan with about an inch of water over them," she said, adding that as soon as the water boils, the eggs are then taken off the heat and left in the hot water for 15 minutes. Over-boiling an egg will result in a green ring around the yolk.

After the 15 minutes, the egg can be cooled by running cold water over it and then place immediately in the refrigerator, Scheideler said. "Even cooked eggs should be refrigerated immediately to prevent any bacterial contamination."

If the Easter tradition involves hiding the hard-cooked eggs outside overnight, it isn't safe to eat the eggs the next day unless the weather has stayed below 40 degrees during the night, she said.

Albrecht explained that most harmful bacteria survive and grow when the temperature is between 40 degrees F. and 140 degrees F. But reheating the food to a higher temperature won't make it safe to eat after exposure for more than two hours at an unsafe temperature. The food should be discarded, she added.

When preparing and serving eggs for a large group, use pasteurized egg products, Albrecht said. Pasteurized egg products are available from food brokers or wholesalers, and aren't generally sold in regular food stores, she said.

She recommended dried egg products for camping trips or other times when no refrigeration is available. "They are light weight and easy to pack," Albrecht added.

Further information about eggs can be obtained by calling the Nebraska Poultry Industries Office at UNL at (402) 472-2051.

WAYNE-CARROLL elementary students chosen to attend an "Aspiring Young Author's Festival" in South Sioux City on April 17 are, from left, Emily Brady, daughter of Jeff and Mary Brady; Stacy Kardell, daughter of Jan and Virg Kardell; Beth Loberg, daughter of Kris and Dan Loberg; and John Jensen, son of Dr. Dennis and Monica Jensen.

Elementary students selected to attend 'Young Author's Festival'

Four students from the Wayne-Carroll Elementary School System have been selected to attend an "Aspiring Young Author's Festival" on April 17 at E.N. Swett Elementary School in South Sioux City.

Chosen to attend from Wayne-Carroll and the title of the stories they wrote were fourth grader Stacy Kardell, "The Giant Elf"; fourth grader Beth Loberg, "New Beginnings"; second grader Emily Brady, "A Visit to the Dentist"; and second grader John Jensen, "The Octopus Story."

Their parents are Jan and Virg Kardell, Kris and Dan Loberg, Jeff and Mary Brady, and Dr. Dennis and Monica Jensen.

The local writing contest in which the four top students were chosen to attend the South Sioux City festival was open to all kindergarten through fourth graders in Wayne and Carroll.

Chairman Roger Reikofski said judging was based on quality of content, mechanics, and vivid language.

RUNNERS-UP were: Julie Reynolds; Bryan Milander, Allison Hansen, Andrea Simpson, Leah Dunklau, Jacob Kruger, Ryan Guill, Mike Elfers, Mark Finn and Anthony Munsell.

Receiving honorable mention from Wayne-Carroll were Erin Magnuson, Britni Bethune, Shawn Ford, Kristine Fink, Autumn

McIntyre, Brad Hansen, Logan Berry, Adam Noecker, Jordan Neuhaus, Charity Kroecker, Katie Nelson, Molly Hill, Kyle Schmale, Stephanie Topp, Adem Rudin, Stacie Hocman, Katie Barnes and Mark Kanitz.

CONDUCTING the day-long writing workshop in South Sioux City will be Elaine Moore, a gifted speaker who writes adult short fiction and award-winning books for children.

Moore is the recipient of the prestigious Jenny McKean Moore fellowship at George Washington University and grants from the Virginia Commission of the Arts, Poets & Writers, Inc., and the Foundation for Advanced Education in the Sciences. In the past six years, Moore has presented in over 300 schools (elementary through college level), PTA meetings, conventions, and writing seminars across the United States and into Canada.

She is referred to as the lady with the purple hat and wears her Purple Writer's Hat as standard apparel as she begins her adventures in the world of writing.

Winside student impressed with leadership conference

By Dianne Jaeger
Winside Correspondent

Winside High School student Tabitha Lindahl, 16-year-old daughter of Don and Barb Orris of rural Winside, recently returned from a five-day trip to Washington, D.C.

Tabitha was selected to participate in the National Youth Leadership Conference by the National Youth Leadership Council of Washington, D.C., based on her grade point average.

The purpose of the week-long conference, which was attended by 350 youths from throughout the nation, was for students to learn more about the government and how it works. Tabitha was one of two students who attended from Nebraska.

The students stayed in the National 4-H Center and were guided by faculty advisors, many former participants of the National Youth Leadership Conference.

FOLLOWING their arrival on March 2, the students were divided into small groups, with each group given the name of a former U.S. president.

Tabitha's group was named Madison (after President James Madison). It was a democratic group representing the Education and Labor Committee.

The group participated in a mock congress and listened to two bills (Educational Choice Act and Hand

Tabitha Lindahl

Gun Violence Prevention Act 1993) and voted on each.

The groups also had breakfast at the National Press Club and listened to Anita Estelle, special assistant to the secretary of the Department of Education, discussing "Education in the 90's - Looking Forward."

Other sites visited during the week included the Smithsonian, Arlington National Cemetery, the Vietnam Memorial Wall, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, the State Department, German Embassy, and an outside tour of the White House.

They spent time on the floor of the House of Representatives listening to Representative Tim Penny, a democrat from Minnesota.

The students met other senators and their representatives and attended two seminars - one on Washington internships and one on lobbyists.

The final night featured a dance for all of the conference participants at the Omni-Shorcham Hotel.

"THE WEEK was a lot of fun, I was impressed with everything, and I learned a lot" said Tabitha. "They even gave us homework while we were there to do as a group."

Tabitha received support for her trip from Lee and Rosie's, Daisy Janke, Ron Leapley, Winside State Bank, T.J. Olson, Charles Jackson, Schelley's Saloon, Winside/Pilger Co-op, Ray's Locker, Oberle's Market, Winside Welding and Weible Transfer.

Children's Fun Fair planned to kick off 'Week of Young Child'

The Wayne Area Child Care Providers have teamed up with the Wayne preschools and Wayne State College child development students to plan a community-wide celebration to kick off "Week of the Young Child."

A Children's Fun Fair is scheduled to take place in the West Elementary School multi-purpose room in Wayne on Saturday, April 17. There will be two sessions, with activities repeated at each session. A morning session will run from 9:30 to 11 a.m., with the afternoon session running from 1 to 2:30 p.m. Children and their parents are invited to attend any or all of either session.

The Children's Fun Fair will provide an opportunity for parents and children to enjoy working together with a variety of art materials. The activities, targeted for preschool age children and their parents, will include play dough fun, painting experiences, gluing projects, and story telling.

Funding and supplies for the event have been provided by the following local merchants: Farmers and Merchants State Bank, State National Bank and Trust Co., First National Bank, Pac 'N' Save and Quality Foods Center.

Persons wishing additional information are asked to contact Joanie Burleigh, 375-4881, or Bonna Barner, 375-2198.

Rural Wakefield church is setting for Jacobsen-Swick wedding rites

Immanuel Lutheran Church of rural Wakefield was the setting for the March 20 ceremony uniting in marriage Lori Jo Jacobsen and Patrick Swick.

The bride, daughter of Duaine and Donna Jacobsen of Wayne, graduated from Wayne High School, Southeast Community College and Joseph's College of Beauty. She is employed at the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission in Omaha.

The bridegroom is the son of John and Joyce Swick of Hamilton, Ohio. He graduated from Edgewood High School in Trenton, Ohio and is serving in the United States Air Force stationed at Offutt Air Force Base.

The newlyweds are living in Omaha and will be leaving for Germany in June for three years.

Personal attendant was Laura Gamble of Wayne, and in charge of balloons was Sara Young of Des Moines, Iowa.

ON HER wedding day, the bride was given in marriage by her father and appeared in a full-length ivory satin gown with pearls and sequins on the bodice, sleeves and cathedral train.

Inserts of lace were in the train as around the deep V back accent with a large bow at the waistline. Her waist-length headpiece was covered with pearls, and she carried a cascade of roses and lilies.

The bride's attendants wore teal-length iridescent emerald green taffeta frocks with a black lace overlay on the bodices. A bow accented the back waistlines.

The bridegroom was attired in black tailcoat with an ivory shirt and vest and a green/black tie, and his attendants wore black tailcoats with ivory shirts and green/black vests and ties.

The bride's mother chose a plum satin dress in tea length, and the bridegroom's mother selected an emerald green print short suit.

A RECEPTION was held in the Wayne National Guard Armory and was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Mel Young of Des Moines, Iowa.

The wedding cake was served by Diann Young of Des Moines and Yvonne Manning of Bennington. Pouring coffee was Judy Jacobsen of Winside, and serving coffee was Michele Broekemeier of Columbus. Assisting in the kitchen were

Seminar set for persons considering pregnancy

Individuals and couples considering having children are invited to a free seminar addressing pre-pregnancy issues at St. Luke's Regional Medical Center in Sioux City.

The program, entitled "Maybe a Baby..." will be held Thursday, April 15 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in St. Luke's Institute for Health Education's Auditorium, located in the medical center's lower level.

Presenter Julie Shroyer, childbirth educator and nurse counselor for St. Luke's Centre for Women's Care, will provide information on pre-pregnancy planning, including emotional, financial and behavioral adjustments; optimizing fertility; genetic factors and the anticipation of lifestyle changes.

Shroyer is a registered nurse with a bachelor's degree in sociology and a master of science degree in education, counseling and guidance.

Participants will also learn average costs related to pregnancy and childbirth, budgeting strategies, the importance of good health prior to conception and during the critical first trimester of pregnancy; when genetic counseling may be advisable and how to use a checklist to aid in deciding whether to have children.

Persons wishing additional information or to register for the free program are asked to call The Professionals at St. Luke's at 279-3333 or toll-free, 1-800-252-8652.

Public library wants testimonials

WAYNE - Wayne Public Library continues to seek testimonials in celebration of National Library Week, April 18-24. This year's theme is "Libraries Change Lives."

Librarian Jolene Klein said testimonials should focus on how the library has changed lives and should be short (a couple of paragraphs in length), include the writer's name and permission to use for possible publication during National Library Week.

Testimonials can be dropped off at the library or mailed to Wayne Public Library, 410 Main St., Wayne, Neb., 68787.

Hillside elects officers

WAYNE - Hillside Club met April 6 in the home of Dorothy Gronc for election of officers. The new officers are Berlene Kinslow, president; Ellain Vahlkamp, vice president; Janet Reeg, secretary; and Virginia Dranselka, treasurer.

Dorothy Gronc read the amended constitution, and pitch furnished entertainment with prizes going to Virginia Dranselka, Ellain Vahlkamp and Janet Reeg.

Janet Reeg will be the May 4 club hostess at 1:30 p.m. It will be the annual birthday party with a $2 gift exchange.

Clubwomen tell most hated jobs

WAYNE - Members of the Logan Homemakers Club met in the home of Amanda Meyer on April 2 and answered roll call with the job they hate most when spring comes.

The group sang "Easter Parade" and the hostess gave three readings. Pitch furnished the entertainment.

The May 6 meeting will be with Alta Meyer and will feature a flower or bulb exchange.

Grandparents remembered at club

WAYNE - Central Social Circle met in the home of Lillian Granquist on April 6. Six members attended and answered roll call with a remembrance of their grandparents.

Verna Creamer read two poems, "Chickadee" and "Full Pink Moon," and shared an article from Reader's Digest on Thomas Jefferson. Cleve Willers received the door prize.

The next meeting will be with Cleve Willers on May 4 and will include election of officers.

SUPERIOR RATING

Brian Mattes received a superior rating on his science project, which he displayed at the Junior Academy of Science Fair at Wayne State College recently. A seventh grader, Brian is the son of Bill and Sondra Mattes. His science instructor is Arnie Cerny. Brian also qualified to participate in the state event of the Academy of Science.

The State Academy of Science Fair will be held on Friday, April 16 at Nebraska Wesleyan in Lincoln. Brian will again make a presentation. According to Mr. Cerny, the Academy of Science event in Lincoln will include participation by students junior high through college, also by teachers, professors and others who are doing research work. He continued saying the junior high students, such as Brian, will not be rated but will receive recognition from the Academy for their participation during a banquet in the evening and will be presented a medal for qualifying from their region.

Other results from the seventh grade class included: Mindy Anderson, Susan Brudigam, Kevin Johnson, Jim Rusk, Julie Schroeder, Jessie Sharpnack, and Jennifer Simpson, all superiors; Kristin Preston, T.J. Walsh and Katie Wilbur, excellent ratings; and Hared Baker and Darin Hartman, good ratings.

Andrea Kai, an eighth grader, received an excellent rating. Wes Blecke, a freshman, received a superior rating and classmates Justin Dutcher, Matt Paterson and Michael Rischmueller received excellent ratings on their projects.

PLACE IN CITIZEN BEE

Mike McQuistan and Chris Mortenson placed third and fourth respectively in the Norfolk area Citizen Bee competition held in Norfolk on March 27. The two, along with two Wayne students and a Laurel youth, qualified for the state finals set for Saturday, April 24 in Lincoln.

The Norfolk area youths were competing for savings bonds of $300, $200, and $100. The top two prizes went to the Wayne High students and Mike received the $100 bond. State winners will advance to the national finals in Washington, D.C. in June.

The students will compete for a total of $48,000 in scholarships. The Citizen Bee, patterned after a spelling bee, is sponsored by the Close Up Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Maria Eaton also represented Wakefield in the competition. She and Mortenson are both seniors and McQuistan is a sophomore.

BLOOD BANK VISITS

Harland Ulrich, of Wakefield, and Dale Oetken, of Emerson, were first time donors to the Siouxland Blood Bank and among the 34 individuals who volunteered to donate at the recent drive at the M.G. Waldbaum Co. The Blood Bank reported that 30 pints of blood were collected in the drive on March 23.

Career Day at WSC

College and high school students from the area are invited to the third annual Criminal Justice and Social Sciences Career Day on Wednesday, April 14 in Wayne State College's student center.

The event will begin in the morning and last until the middle of the afternoon.

Local, state, federal and private employers representing a variety of service professions will attend. Included will be the FBI, the Secret Service, the U.S. Marshal Service, the IRS, the Peace Corps, the Nebraska State Patrol and the Nebraska Department of Social Services.

Law schools and graduate schools will also be represented.

For more information, contact Dr. Tom Cook or Dr. Paul Campbell, Wayne State College, 375-7292.

WHO IS GOING TO PROTECT YOUR CROP INVESTMENT AFTER APRIL 15?

It can be a long time from spring to fall. And if the weather isn't cooperative — or is downright bad — the days and weeks can seem mighty long.

In times like these, it can be a big comfort to know that — come what may — your crop investment is protected.

But there's only one way you can be certain it's protected: By carrying crop insurance. And there's only one time to do it: Soon. Because after April 15, it will be too late to apply for insurance.*

*April 15 is the deadline to apply for crop insurance on most spring-planted crops in most areas. Check with an agent for information about insurance for the crops you produce.

An Easter message

The Rev. Jack Williams
St. Paul's Lutheran Church

"The Word" dances through our lives. "The Word" stimulates us to sing and to descent, to melt and to mold.

Words! We bow to them and retreat from them. We pretend we don't hear them and they genesis new hope within us. Words create images of green veggies, glistening diamonds, monumental home runs and slimy mold. Everything exists in the words.

In the word "Easter" so much exists. Easter vocalizes spring with tulips and green grass, sun and smiles, buds and the tractors hum as the farmers rearrange the soil for the seed. Easter means ham, and hunting for hard-boiled eggs.

"THE WORD" in Easter conveys much more for the Christian — not hard-boiled by this world.

Easter speaks God's word for sin: "He died once for all." Easter embraces God's promise: "Surely he took up our infirmities and carried our sorrows...he was pierced for our transgressions...and by his wounds we are healed." (Is 53:4-5) Easter meanders solemnly along the road to Jerusalem and to the cross: "From that time Jesus began to explain that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things...and that he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life." (Matt 16:21).

Words! How do you explain such love? How words fail us! Our words are limited. Explain death, love, a flower or even a hot dog. Explain a sunset or a spider web glistening with morning dew. Words fail us.

A few years ago the People's Republic of China opened its doors to a few Western corporations. Pepsi Cola seized the opportunity to venture into this new market with its "Come Alive" theme. Unfortunately, the Chinese characters read this way: "Drink Pepsi to Bring Back the Dead." It was frightening even to the Chinese who believed in ancestral worship.

TO THE Christian the Word in Easter breathes new life into our hearts. "He is not here; he has risen." (Matt 28:6).

The Word of resurrection filled the women afraid with joy. With one Word God created a new people with hope. With one Word God destroyed the tyranny of Satan and the emptiness of hell. With one Word God created a "peace that passes all understanding."

God's "Yes!" dances today! Hear the Words. "Alleluia! He is risen!" Drink in the Word! "He is not dead, he is alive!" Absorb the scene! "Come and see the place where he lay." Immerse body, soul, mind and being in the promise: "He has risen from the dead and is going ahead of you." (Matt 28:7).

God's Word does not fail. The "Word" gives life and hope because God gave "His Word" and kept His "Word."

Alive and Well

The faithful were overcome to see Jesus alive, after his death. People ever since have seen Jesus at work, alive and well. He does what he did 2,000 years ago: teach truth, present God and heal all aspects of life. See Jesus more clearly than ever this Easter Sunday in church.

Art

PROVIDING the first piece of art during Sunday services on Feb. 28 was Bud McNatt. That week's theme was "The Rooster — Peter's Denial of Christ."

Bud's artwork was actually "resurrected" from the early 1950's and was a rooster which he designed, painted and glittered for use during early bird breakfasts once sponsored by the Wayne Chamber of Commerce.

"I was on the Chamber's membership committee in 1952 and I made the rooster and sat it on the piano during the early bird breakfasts with the words 'Something to Crow About,'" explains Bud. "It was designed as an incentive to increase Chamber of Commerce membership."

On March 7, the weekly theme was "30 Pieces of Silver — Judas' Betrayal of Christ," and featured the artwork of Jan Kohl, who was approached only about a week before when the original artist chosen for that week moved from Wayne.

Jan chose a silhouette to illustrate Jesus' betrayal by Judas. "I hadn't done anything like this since college," smiles Jan, "and that was some 40 years ago."

"THE CROWN of Thorns — Mockery of Soldiers" was the theme on March 14. That week's artwork was provided by Megan Cornish, a senior at Wayne High School.

Megan's air brush painting, featuring a cross and crown of thorns, was completed in about a month during daily art classes at the high school.

Nancy Berns, art instructor at Winside Community School, selected an oil painting to illustrate her week's theme on March 21, "The Hammer and Nails — Ignorance." Nancy's oil painting shows Jesus on the cross.

"I had my idea fairly quickly," says Nancy, adding that she visited the crucifix at Greenwood Cemetery in Wayne and took pictures from various angles to help in her painting project.

"I stretched my canvas over Christmas vacation," smiles Nancy, "and that collected dust for about three weeks. But when I actually got at it, the painting only took about a month to complete."

MARIE Hubbard's wall hanging of Jesus washing the feet of Peter and the other disciples provided the artwork on March 28 when the theme was "The Towel and Basin — Service."

Marie said the wall hanging was designed from an original 12th-century French illumination and is "applied, quilted, painted and just about anything else that worked."

Marie noted that in the construction of the wall hanging she attempted to retain the early "primitive" look with irregular lines and shapes.

Nicki Tiedtke, a kindergarten teacher at Wayne and Carroll, was asked to provide the artwork for April 4. Her theme was "The Palms — Palm Sunday."

Nicki, who minored in art while attending college, said she has always enjoyed spending time with art — and "avoiding cleaning." Her pastel drawing depicts Jesus' entry into Jerusalem.

ON MAUNDY Thursday, when the theme was "The Bread & Chalice," the artwork was provided by Amy Tiedtke, a sophomore at Wayne State College majoring in art education. Amy's watercolor took approximately two weeks to complete. "It took longer to think of what I was going to do than to actually do it," smiles Amy.

Nancy's painting of Jesus on the cross was also used during the ecumenical Good Friday service at the First United Methodist Church.

The final piece of artwork, to be unveiled Easter Sunday morning, will be that of Sam Leonard and is entitled "The Living Christ — the Empty Tomb."

Sam said his oil painting is patterned after the 16th century artist, Taddeo Zuccari, and pictures Jesus leaving behind the wrappings of the tomb and bursting forth into the living Christ.

"I interpret the painting as Jesus going from the mortal to the immortal," explains Sam, adding that it took him much longer (four to five months) to come up with the idea for his painting and about three weeks to complete.

"I COULDN'T have been more pleased with all of them," said Pastor Nunnally.

"My only dilemma now is what to do next year?"

Spring Fest will feature Pender pastor's family

The Rohler family — Adam, Elizabeth, Pam and Pastor Philip Rohler — will be featured at this year's Spring Fest sponsored by the Covenant Women of the Evangelical Covenant Church in Pender.

The concert, entitled "All God's Creatures Got a Place in the Choir," is scheduled for Sunday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary and will be followed with refreshments in the fellowship hall.

"All God's Creatures Got a Place in the Choir" emphasizes the unique contribution that each child of God makes to life and the church. The message is expressed through a slide show, music, and drama.

The concert is open to the public, and an offering will be received to support the Covenant Women's Ministries.

For more information call Pastor Philip Rohler at 385-2738 or 385-2780.

WSC baseball team earns split with UNO; now 5-13

The Wayne State baseball team dropped a twinbill with Morningside last Monday in Sioux City, losing the first game 5-1 and the second game, 4-3.

Then on Tuesday the Wildcats travelled to Omaha to play UNO and the 'Cats earned a split with the Mavericks, losing the first 7-3 but rebounding to win the nightcap, 5-4.

In Monday's first game with the Chiefs Steve Paxson took the pitching loss after going the distance and allowing five runs on eight hits while walking one and striking out five.

WSC grabbed a 1-0 lead after an inning-and-a-half but Morningside scored three in the bottom of the second and added two more in the sixth. The 'Cats finished with seven hits led by Dave Shields' two singles. Travis Nedved and Tim Kurtz belted doubles while Mike Stauffer, Russ Hamer and Chris Loofoe had base hits.

In the second game Jon Janssen took the loss, pitching the distance and giving up four runs on seven hits with three walks and five strike outs. Morningside broke a 3-3 tie with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning.

The 'Cats took a 3-2 lead after the fifth inning but the Chiefs scored one in the sixth and the winner in the seventh. WSC had five hits in the game with Jeff Schneider leading the way with two singles while Anthony Brown, Russ Hamer and Tim Kurtz recorded base hits.

On Tuesday the 'Cats lost the opener to UNO, 7-3 despite out-hitting the Mavericks, 9-4. Five of WSC's nine hits were doubles led by Chris Loofoe's two doubles and 3-3 performance from the plate. Loofoe also added a single.

Russ Hamer, Mike Stauffer and Jeff Burger also had doubles with Burger adding a single and two rbi while Cory Reeder and Tim Kurtz rounded out the hitting with base hits.

Jeff Schneider was tagged with the pitching loss after pitching the first four innings and allowing seven runs on four hits (four earned runs) with five walks. Chad Stalzer came in for relief in the final two innings and gave up no hits and no runs with one strike out and no walks.

WSC scored twice in the second and once in the fourth while the Mavericks scored one in the first, one in the second, three in the third and two in the fifth.

In the second game the 'Cats

jumped out to a 5-0 lead, then had to hold off the host team after they scored three in the fifth and one in the sixth, to win 5-4.

Chad Gillispie got the pitching victory and Bill Guenther earned the save. Gillispie pitched the first 4 1/3 innings and gave up three runs on two hits while walking two and striking out two.

Tim Fancher then pitched the next two innings and gave up one run on three hits with one walk before Guenther pitched the final 2/3 innings to notch his second save of the season.

Mike Stauffer, Travis Nedved and Dave Shields each had two singles in the game with Stauffer notching two rbi while Jeff Burger had a base hit and an rbi.

John Manganaro's team slipped to 5-13 following the four games and will travel to play Peru State for a double-header on Saturday before returning to host Morningside in twinbill action on Monday at Hank Overin Field.

Wayne golfers place sixth

WAYNE-The Wayne High golf team placed sixth of 14 teams at the Pius X Invitational, Tuesday at Mahoney Park Country Club in Lincoln. Pius dominated the meet, winning by 26 strokes with a 304.

York finished runner-up with a 330 followed by Beatrice with a 336, Norris with a 338 and Fairbury with a 341. Wayne tallied a 343 and was followed by the Pius B team with a 351, Columbus Scotus at 354, Crete with a 355, Seward at 356, Nebraska City with a 367, Columbus Lakeview at 368, Falls City with a 378 and Waverly with a 384.

Nate Salmon placed ninth of the 70 golfers competing with an 81. Other Wayne scores included Kelly Hammer and Jason Carr with 86's, Ryan Martin with a 90 and Ryan Pick with a 93.

Wayne golf coach Terry Munson said he was pleased with the level of play from his squad. The Blue Devils will host a triangular with Hartington Cedar Catholic and South Sioux on Tuesday at 4:15.

Rec teams compete in Wakefield

WAYNE-The Wayne Recreation girls basketball seventh and eighth basketball teams took part in the recent Wakefield Invitational.

The seventh graders lost to Emerson-Hubbard in the first game, 25-17. Gayle Olson and Molly Linster led Wayne with four points apiece while Carla Kemp, Lindsay Baack, Mindy McLean and Jenni Beiermann added two each. Rebecca Dorsey closed out the scoring with one point.

In the consolation game Wayne fell to Leigh, 21-12. Mindy McLean poured in 10 points for Wayne and Gayle Olson scored the other two. The seventh grade closed out the season with a 2-8 record.

The eighth grade team defeated Wynot in the first game, 31-24 as Melissa Weber led the way with 13 points. Katie Lutt and Kari Weterberg scored six apiece and Katy Wilson netted four while Lacy Bebee rounded out the attack with two.

In the second game Wayne was defeated by Newcastle, 23-22. Kari Weterberg led Wayne with nine points followed by Kellie Lubberstedt and Katie Lutt with four each. Katy Wilson and Melissa Weber tossed in two each and Carrie Hampton added one.

Wayne won its third game of the tournament with a 32-28 victory over Wakefield. Katie Lutt scored nine to lead the way while Melissa Weber added eight. Katy Wilson and Carrie Hampton had four apiece while Sarah Metzler netted three. Anne Wiseman and Kellie Lubberstedt added two apiece.

In the final game Wayne lost to Newcastle for the second time in the tourney, 37-34. Katie Lutt led the team with 13 points while Anne Wiseman netted nine. Katy Wilson and Melissa Weber scored four each while Lacy Bebee and Carrie Hampton finished with two apiece.

The eighth graders closed out the season with a 6-6 record.

Nate Stednitz and Melodee Lage combine for six golds

Wayne hosts invitational

Both the Wayne girls and boys track teams finished third at the annual Wayne Invitational, Tuesday. Schulyer won the girls team title with 139 points followed by Columbus Lakeview with 117 and Wayne with 86.

Pierce finished fourth with 77 and Wisner-Pilger was fifth with 39 while Hartington Cedar Catholic rounded out the field of teams with 34 points.

Melodee Lage led the Lady Blue Devils with a three-gold medal performance. Lage won the 1600 in 6:06.3 and captured first in the 3200 in 12:59.9. Her third gold came in the 3200 meter relay which was clocked in 10:45.9. Carrie Fink, Erin Pick and Tami Schluns also ran in that relay.

Jenny Thompson won the 300 meter hurdles in 52.5 and finished one-tenth of a second behind the winner of the 100 meter hurdles with a 17.9 effort. Schluns finished second to Lage in the 3200 with a 13:10.3 time and the freshman medley relay placed second in 5:15.2 with Sandy Burbach, Kim Nolte, Beth Meyer and Krissy Lubberstedt.

Angie Hudson placed third in the 200 meter dash in 29.4 and Erin Pick placed third in the 1600 in 6:23.7. Wayne's 1600 meter relay team placed fourth in 4:44.8 with Liz Reeg, Carrie Fink, Angie Hudson and Jenny Thompson.

Burbach managed a fifth place finish in the 200 meter dash in 29.8 while Fink placed fifth in the 800 meter run with a 2:43.2 clocking. Pick placed sixth in the same event with a 2:44.9 effort and Audra Sievers rounded out the scoring with a sixth place finish in the shot put at 30-9.5.

"I thought the girls ran very well for the first out door meet," coach Dale Hochstein said. "We knew we were returning some strong distance runners with Carrie and Tami and the addition of Erin and Melodee has really toughened up our distance core."

Hochstein also said Jenny Thompson ran very well in the hurdles despite being ill. "What was really pleasing, was picking up additional points in the sprints and to have Audra Sievers place in the shot put for us," Hochstein said. "Our youth also shows promise with its second place finish in the freshman medley."

Stednitz leads boys

Columbus Lakeview captured top honors in the boys division with 171 points and Schulyer placed second with 111 while the Blue Devils scored 98 for third place.

Pierce finished fourth with 81 followed by Wisner-Pilger with 31 and Hartington Cedar Catholic with 29.

For Wayne, the day belonged to Nate Stednitz who captured three gold medals with first place performances in the 400, 800 and 1600 meter runs. Stednitz was timed in 55.3, 2:12.0 and 5:06.2 respectively. The 3200 meter relay team of Matt Blomenkamp, Aaron Geiger, Chris Headley and Spencer Stednitz placed second in 8:59.4.

Jeff Hamer placed runner-up in the shot put with a 45-11 throw and Aaron Geiger placed second in the 800 meter run in 2:13.0. Spencer Stednitz added a runner-up placing in the 3200 with a 10:52.7 time and the freshman medley relay team ran to a second place time of 4:11.4.

Arnold Schwartz placed third in the discus with a 116-4 toss and Mark Meyer finished third in the 300 meter hurdles with a 46.5 clocking. Andy Witkowski threw the discus 112-7 for fourth place honors while Wayne's 1600 meter relay team finished fourth in a time of 3:58.0 with Mark Meyer, Matt Blomenkamp, Robert Bell and Nate Stednitz.

Schwartz placed fifth in the shot put after a throw of 43-4.5 and Wayne's sprint relay team placed fifth in 53.8 with Cory Erxleben, Chad Paysen, Ted Perry and Regg Carnes.

Ted Perry placed sixth in the high jump with a 5-6 leap and Robert Bell ran to a sixth place finish of 59.6 in the 400 meter dash while Headley added a sixth place effort in the 3200 meter run in 11:33.2.

"I thought Nate Stednitz had an exceptional day," coach Rocky Ruhl said. "He won three tough events. He came in focused and ready to run. I was also pleased that our weight people scored 20 points. I think they will really give us a boost going into the running events."

Cornhusker State Games registration opens recently

Registrations opened this week for the 1993 Cornhusker State Games with invitations sent to the state's 93 counties.

With a theme of "93 in '93", Games organizers announced a competition among visiting counties for the most entries per capita, with a scholarship awarded to a Games competitor from the winning county.

"We've been stuck on 86 or 87 counties represented for the last few years," Executive Director Tom Ash said. "We're campaigning for full state participation, with our arms open especially to the residents of Sioux, Banner, Garden, Arthur, McPherson and Hayes counties, where we were blanked last year."

The Cornhusker State Games will award a $1000 scholarship to a Nebraska college or university. Qualifying criteria will be announced later, Ash said. The top three counties in participation percentage last year, outside of Lancaster, were Wheeler, Platte and Hooker.

Registrations for the ninth annual amateur sports festival opened with a luncheon Thursday at the Villager Motor Inn, attended by corporate sponsors and directors of the 42 Games events.

The July 10-18 activities will be held at more than 70 sites in Lancaster County and are expected to attract more than 17,000 Nebraskans. The 1992 Games drew 16,978, ranging in age from 93 years to six weeks, officials said.

Entry materials have been distributed to more than 900 outlets statewide. Entry deadlines are May 16 for bowling open qualifying, June 9 for basketball, soccer, softball and volleyball and June 28 for other sports.

"The Cornhusker State Games continues to grow in popularity and continues as a national pace-setter because it doesn't cater to the elite athlete. We certainly have a place for the top athletes in Nebraska, but our widespread appeal is our philosophy of participation, for all ages and levels of ability," Ash added.

Entrants will compete for more than 5,000 gold, silver and bronze medals. Those entering the non-competitive walk and cycling tours will receive participation awards. All participants will receive a Games T-shirt and passes to the opening ceremonies July 16 and the athletes party July 17.

Additions this year will be barrel racing, pole bending, and reining in the equestrian events, handball, judo, synchronized diving, four and six-person sand-volleyball and disabled events in archery, badminton and walk.

Games activities will start June 5 with bowling regionals. The promotional torch run will begin June 26 at the Wyoming border and will involve more than 900 runners and local observances in 35 communities.

Games finals competitions will start with pocket billiards and soccer July 10, sporting clays July 11 and tennis July 12. Most events will be held July 17-18.

A Cornhusker State Games radio network, originating from Lincoln's KLIN, will carry features and regional results across the state.

The following is a list of the activities to choose from at this year's Cornhusker State Games: Aquatics (diving, open water swimming, swimming), archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, boxing, cheerleading, chess, cycling (competitive, tour), equestrian, fencing, golf, gymnastics, handball, horseshoe pitching, martial arts (judo, karate, taekwondo), pocket billiards, racquetball.

Road race, roller skating, sailing, shooting, (BB gun, air rifle/pistol, biathlon, muzzleloading, pistol, rifle, sporting clays, trap and skeet), soccer, softball, table tennis, tennis, track and field (masters and youth), triathlon, walk, volleyball and wrestling.

Last year 27 participants from Wayne county took part as well as 10 participants from Dixon County. The Wayne Herald and Stadium Sporting Goods are the two locations in Wayne County where you can pick up handbooks and entry information.

Wayne State women lose double-header to 12th rated Chiefs

Joan Scherbring's Wayne State softball team was blanked by Morningside, Tuesday in double-header action in Sioux City.

The Wildcats were defeated 4-0 and 8-0 by the 12th ranked Chiefs. In the opener Morningside's Jerce Carlson tossed a three-hitter and struck out 11 WSC batters.

Wildcat freshman hurler Maryellen Livingston was tagged with the loss leaving her with a 3-4 record despite allowing only five hits. Livingston doubled for the 'Cats on offense, while freshman Lori Foster and Michele Reinhardt added singles.

In the second game the Morningside pitching continued to be strong as Dickens blanked the 'Cats by tossing a two-hitter. WSC's Jenny Nieland took the pitching loss. Lori Foster recorded both WSC hits.

The Wildcats fell to 9-12 after the losses. "I thought Maryellen really pitched a nice game in the opener," Scherbring said. "Three of Morningside's four runs came on sacrifice fly balls and in both games combined, we suffered 10 errors which is a total lack of concentration." Scherbring said in the second game that Morningside hit two home runs over the fence, scoring four of the eight runs. Three other runs were scored because of Wildcat errors.

The 'Cats were slated to play in the Southwest State Tournament on Friday and Saturday but the tournament was cancelled on Thursday.

Green Card will offer area golfers a myriad of courses to play on Golfers from Wayne and 23 other area courses can now take advantage of almost unlimited golf with the purchase of the 1993 Nebraska Golfing Green Card.

The $44 card will allow any golfer who is a member of one of the 23 courses, to play 414 holes if they play on every course which include: Ainsworth, Neligh, Bassett, Laurel, Croighton, David City, Valentine, Stanton, Hooper, Norfolk Fair Play, Beemer, Crofton, Wakefield, Niobrara, O'Neill, Ord, Pierce, Rolling Hills, Schuyler, Madison, Pender, Fremont Valley View and Wayne.

Each Green Card holder may play 18 holes at each of the courses until October. Nine-hole courses of course, can be played twice to total 18 holes. Golfers who purchase the Green Card must contact any of the courses before they venture out to play due to various closed periods of play. Each phone number is listed on the billfold-size Green Cards for the convenience of the golfers.

When an entire family belongs to one of the participating courses, subsequent family members are entitled to purchase a Green Card at a discount. For members of the same family household, the first Green Card costs $44 while the second is reduced to $34 and the third, etc. to $24 each.

For further information or to purchase a Green Card, golfers may contact: Northeast Nebraska Green Card, 420 West 4th St., Wayne Ne 68787. You may also call 375-5434.

Levi Webb ready for competition

WAYNE-Wayne's Levi Webb and wife Rhonda will leave Saturday for Stockholm, Sweden where he will compete for TEAM USA in the powerlifting competition against Sweden and Finland.

Webb's fund-raising efforts were completed early this week and enough money was raised through donations to sponsor his trip. "I'm very excited and pleased to have this opportunity to represent the Wayne community and the United States," Webb said. "Things really fell together this week which has enabled us to go."

Webb did say that he had to borrow $1500 from the Association for International Cultural Exchange which will have to be paid back so some of the fund raising efforts will continue even after his trip.

The Webb's will fly from Omaha to St. Louis where they will pick up a flight to New York City. After an hour shuttle they will arrive at JFK Airport where they will board the plane which will take them directly to Stockholm, Sweden.

"This will be the first time I've ever flown," Webb said. The Webb's will return to Wayne on April 16.

Umpire clinic set for April 25

WAYNE-The Nebraska American Legion will be sponsoring an American Legion baseball umpire clinic for all people in Northeast Nebraska who are interested in umpiring American Legion Baseball this summer.

The clinic will be held Sunday, April 25 from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the American Legion Post 16 in Norfolk. The address is 1305 Riverside Blvd. The clinic will consist of classroom session from 9 a.m. to noon followed by field work from 1-3:30 p.m.

A $10 registration fee is required which includes an umpire manual and lunch. Participants may pre-register by mailing registration fee to: Bill Reynolds, RR#2, Box 167, Verdigr, Ne. 68783. You may also register from 8:30-9 a.m. at the American Legion the day of the clinic.

Steve Farlee of Norfolk will serve as chief instructor assisted by other veteran American Legion umpires.

Winside to host volleyball tourney

WINSIDE-The youth group of Trinity Lutheran Church in Winside is sponsoring a Co-ed Volleyball Tournament fund-raiser for April 17-18. Entry fee is $25 per team and you must be registered by April 10th. To register call Bob or Peg Krueger at 287-2483 or Brad or Joanie Roberts at 286-4932.

Area kids compete in Huskerland

WAYNE-Several Wayne and Winside youth participated in the Huskerland Wrestling Tournament held Saturday in Lincoln's Bob Devaney Sports Center.

In the third and fourth grade division Wayne's Adam Jorgensen and Winside's Nathan Suelh were crowned champions in their respective weight classes while Lucas Munter of Wayne placed second. Ben Meyer and Chris Woehler each placed third while Tanner Niemann and Dan Roerber placed fourth. Winside's Eric Vanosdall received a consolation medal. Jon Pickinpaugh, Lynn Junck and Josh Carr also took part for Wayne.

In the fifth and sixth grade division Robbie Sturm and Josh Murtough of Wayne each placed third with Ryan Dunklau also participating while Winside's Ryan Krueger placed second and Jeremy Jaeger, fourth.

In the seventh and eighth grade division Tyler Endicott placed second while Jody Campbell and Jon Marburger each competed but did not place. Winside's Justin Bowers and Robert Wutler placed second while Eric Lech and Landon Grothe each placed third. Shawn Magwire finished fourth while Jeff Jacobsen competed but did not place.

In the high school division Scott Jacobsen placed second while Josh Jaeger finished fourth for Winside while David Paulsen competed but did not place. Jeremy Sturm and Brian Campbell each competed for Wayne but did not place.

Softball tournament approaching

WINSIDE-An Earlybird Softball Tournament will be held in Winside on April 24-25 in Winside according to tournament director Todd LaVelle. The men's slow pitch tournament will be a USSSA double elimination format.

Cost of the tournament is $60 per team plus one blue dot softball. Deadline for entry is Wednesday, April 21 at 5 p.m. For additional information or to enter call LaVelle at 286-4108.

Officers elected for men's softball

WAYNE-The election of officers for the 1993 season was held Thursday night at the Wayne Herald. Steve Jorgensen was re-elected as president while Randy Denklau was re-elected to the vice president post.

Mike Grosz and Kevin Peterson were re-elected as co-secretaries and treasurer and Doug Carroll was re-elected as the men's softball representative.

One of the new rules for this year's summer league is a home run rule which allows each team three home runs over the fence per game. Any more than that results in a single. Any team that was not represented at Thursday's meeting needs to get in touch with one of the above mentioned officers for details on other topics discussed.

Senators want 'friendly' ink

Several U.S. Senators including Bob Kerrey (D-NE), this week introduced legislation requiring the federal government to use environmentally friendly, vegetable-oil-based inks made from soybeans, corn, and other agricultural commodities.

"These vegetable oil-based inks provide both new markets for agriculture and a better environment," Kerrey said. "I am pleased that we have reached a point where these products are commercially feasible and ready for everyday use."

Kerrey said the bill sets minimum vegetable ink usage levels -- where technology feasible and cost competitive with petroleum-based inks -- in federal publications.

THANK YOU

THANK YOU to everyone for the cards, letters and phone calls I received while I was in the hospital and since returning home, also to the Allen Rescue unit, Dr. Martin and the Pender Hospital staff. May the Lord bless you all. Naomi Ellis. A9

THANK YOU to the officers of AAL Branch #1960 for organizing the volleyball tournament for us. To everyone who got a team together and took the time to play volleyball. Thank you to the people and stores that donated the food and for everyone who worked in the food stand. To Winside Public School for letting us use the gym. Thank you to everyone who came to cheer on the teams and for helping us reach our goal. God bless you: Karen Smith, Bill and Gina. A9

IN MEMORIAL. In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Robert L. Dangberg, who would have celebrated his 44th birthday this Easter Sunday, April 11. We miss you every day, but we know you are safe with our Savior Jesus. Our love, Mom, Dad and Dennis. A9

THE FAMILY of Anna Janssen wants to thank each of you for sympathy extended to us at the time of her death. Perhaps you sent an inspiring card, came to call, brought food and necessities to the house, sent a beautiful floral tribute or a thoughtful memorial, or attended the service, your acts of kindness made us realize how wonderful friends and family are at a time like this. May God richly bless each of you. Jim and Betty Puckett and family, Phil and Alice Dietz and family, Les and Kelly Pederson and family, Ron and Elaine Witter and family. A9

THE FAMILY of Don Echtenkamp wishes to thank their many friends for their support, loving care and encouragement during his illness. A special thank you for the cards, flowers, memorial gifts, the food and visits at the time of death. A9
