

FCC hits at cable TV rates

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Federal Communications Commission released cable television rate regulations which will freeze cable rates that are in effect as of April 5, for 120 days for every cable system not in a competitive marketplace, as defined by the 1992 Cable Act.

During the freeze, the FCC will develop a benchmark formula to determine "reasonable" cable television rates for cable television systems. Until this formula is set, no price decreases can be determined by cable television companies.

The FCC is expected to set forth the benchmark formula sometime in May. Among other variables, the benchmark formula may take into consideration the size of the community, the number of basic channels, the capital and operating costs, as well as the number of subscribers per mile of cable.

According to Andy Gordon, manager of the Wayne branch of Jones Intercable, Wayne is not in a competitive market. "My only comment right now is that it's business as usual at this time," Gordon said. Carroll is also considered a non-competitive market.

Gordon did say that it has been made very clear that broadcast basic is going to be regulated by the FCC. "We've worked very hard at Jones Intercable to arrive at what we feel should meet the benchmark formula to be set in the coming months," Gordon added.

As of now, Wayne's broadcast basic includes 10 networks and a total of 24 channels for an $11.95 fee per month. The networks in-

Red letter day for kids

Pre-school youngsters in Wayne had a chance to show what they have learned in their classes Friday, as they performed skits and songs at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce coffee held at the Child Care Center at Wayne State College. This being proclaimed the Week of the Young Child by Mayor Bob Carhart, it was a red letter day in Wayne. Chamber members joined members of the Wayne Day Care Board in officially breaking ground on the new Rainbow Day Care Center, immediately prior to the coffee Friday.

Wayne adopts plan for housing fix

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne City Council addressed one of the city's most pressing concerns at Tuesday's meeting—that of housing needs, and in turn, took a giant step in curbing some of that problem by approving Resolution 93-20. That resolution is the hiring of Hanna-Keelan associates to come in and work with Wayne in the organizational structure of its housing needs.

"The community has recognized that Wayne has a housing problem," mayor Robert Carhart said. "The immediate positive thing about Hanna-Keelan is that they've been in our community for two-and-a-half years helping us with our comprehensive upgrade and with building zone ordinances among other things."

Both Carhart and city administrator Joe Salitros felt that

Hanna-Keelan was the appropriate people to bring on board. "Hanna-Keelan's familiarity with Wayne really puts them ahead of any other development group," Salitros said. "They can come right in and start running, whereas another company might spin their wheels for several months before getting up to speed."

The START committee identified housing improvements in Wayne as a priority, including additional housing, rentals and rehabilitation. Hanna-Keelan has experience in all facets of housing and they possess the ability to write grants to assist with private enterprise to help programs such as Wayne's get started.

Salitros said that Hanna-Keelan would be in Wayne for 16 months at a cost of no more than $2,000 per month. "Hanna-Keelan can work with and help with several selected funding agencies," Salitros said. "They know what it takes to bring a project such as this to fruition."

Carhart said there is a variety of housing areas that need to be addressed and that Hanna-Keelan has the mechanisms available to help upgrade the quality.

Salitros said there isn't anyone on the City of Wayne's staff that would be working directly with Hanna-Keelan per se but it could involve a number of people.

Carhart added that Hanna-Keelan can start at the city's discretion and it could be as early as the first of May.

Wayne Co. share of food stamps is slim

By Al Kosse
Herald Correspondent

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) dispersed $13,528 to families in Wayne County through the Food Stamp Program in 1992.

Began as a pilot program in 1961 and developed into a permanent format in 1964, the USDA has appropriated a total of $24.6 billion for the food assistance program nationwide this year.

The Food Stamp Program operates through administrative offices set up regionally in the state's social services departments. It is one of 14 programs supported by the USDA through the Domestic Food Association.

The program is designed to supplement income of low-income families with stamps to be cashed in for food. Ideally, needy members will purchase a greater variety of nutritious meals — leading to bet-

'Futures' goal is increased

The Wayne State Foundation executive committee has voted to raise the goal of its "Building Bright Futures" campaign from $11.5 million to $13.5 million.

The Foundation has raised $8.9 million since the campaign was launched in May of 1992. It will run through Oct. 1, 1994.

"As excellent progress is made, it is not unusual in campaigns such as this to adjust goals upward," says Bob Reeg, president of the Foundation. "Therefore, the executive committee has voted to raise the goal of the estate and futures component."

The estate and futures goal component will be increased from $6 million to $8 million, Reeg said. The cash component will remain at a goal of $5.5 million.

"The campaign's success can be directly attributed to the financial and volunteer commitments we've received from alumni, friends, students, faculty and staff," Reeg said.

Schools consider long day

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Each year public schools are called on to teach more and more to students and the additional curriculum demands often mean other things must be slighted...unless, more time is added in the school schedule.

That is exactly what is being discussed for the Wayne Schools next year, the addition of another hour in the school day would allow for additional time for students to take advantage of elective subject offerings and for the schools to add new subjects.

"We can offer more electives and more student flexibility when it comes to schedule choice which will mean less conflicts for students," said Dr. Dennis Jensen, schools superintendent.

THE IDEA of an 8-period day was presented to the school board by High School Principal Don Zeiss at the board's meeting Tuesday night.

Addition of the time in the students' daily schedules would make it possible to offer required keyboarding, applied math classes, additional English, speech and journalism offerings and provide students with more opportunities to enroll in fine arts and other academic classes said Jensen.

The additional class period idea will be discussed in further detail at the board's meeting in May.

The change to an eight period day was identified as a need during a community meeting last fall and has been endorsed by the school administration for inclusion as the district considers changes in curriculum, new outcome guidelines for graduation and a new vision statement for the schools.

THE VISION statement and goals for graduation for the schools and status of the outcome guidelines identified by the restructuring committee have been finalized and were discussed at Tuesday meeting. Before final consideration by the board the new guidelines, vision statement and graduation requirements will be considered at length by the school staff.

A community meeting is also being planned in May, similar to the one which started the change process last fall. The meeting will be held to review the proposed changes before adoption.

Schools jointly work on technology network

A partnership of 57 Northeast Nebraska schools, colleges and educational service units has been formed to study ways to use television and existing technology to reach more people in the region with new educational opportunities.

The study will determine how much it will cost to set up a network that would allow classes to be conducted in multiple locations via a two-way television system. By watching television monitors, the students and teachers would be able to see and hear each other at the same time.

Among the many uses of the proposed network are increased K-12 educational opportunities; post-secondary and adult continuing education; delivery of teacher development activities to remote sites; and a format for the sharing of instructional and data resources among the schools without unnecessarily duplicating services.

The proposed network would use underground fiber optic lines and overhead phone lines in the delivery of the programs to the various educational sites. The study will analyze what kind of equipment is already available, what equipment would still be needed, and which of the available systems for sending television signals would be most economical for the partnership. Finding common, compatible equipment among all the schools will be a primary goal.

The firm hired to conduct the study, Tele-Systems Associates of Hastings, Minn. will be visiting area schools in April to gather information for the project. Tele-Systems representatives will meet with local school officials to discuss the potential of the two-way, interactive network and how it relates to education and economic development for the area.

Five evening public information sessions will also be held on April 13, 7 p.m. at Wayne Public School; April 20, 7 p.m. at Neligh Public School; April 21, 7 p.m. at Hartington Public School; April 21, 7 p.m. at O'Neill Public School; and April 22, 7 p.m. at Norfolk High School.

The proposed system would include all levels of education. "We

Wayne plans sidewalk work

The City Council, Tuesday discussed the proposed 1993 sidewalk improvement project area.

City Administrator Joe Salitros outlined several areas of town in which sidewalks needed to be replaced, repaired or added. The council did select the area from the new parking lot at Wayne State College, south on Walnut and to tie in with the existing sidewalks where St. Mary's Church is located to be the first done.

At the next council meeting there will be a budget set up to cover that amount of work and a schedule for a public hearing to discuss future sidewalk developments.

In other action at Tuesday's meeting, mayor Robert Carhart signed a proclamation signifying April as Alcohol Awareness Month.

Contest was April 3

Over 75 friends and family members came to support the 29 Wayne County 4-H members who participated in the 4-H Timely Topic Public Speaking Contest held April 3 at the Wayne State College Student Center in Wayne.

The contest is designed to provide an opportunity for 4-H youth to gain experience and confidence in speaking before an audience.

Public invited to celebrate National Library Week

The public is invited to take part in several activities next week at Wayne Public Library, designed to celebrate National Library Week, April 18-24. This year's theme is "Libraries Change Lives."

Librarian Jolene Klein said activities will begin Monday, April 19 with tours and CD-Rom demonstrations from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

Youngsters ages four through seven are invited to take part in "A Night of a Thousand Stars" on Wednesday, April 21. The evening features a pajama story hour "under the stars," beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the lower level of the library. There will be "celebrity" readers, and refreshments will be served.

Fine Free Day will be celebrated at the library on Thursday, April 22. This is a day when all persons with overdue books can return them without a fine. Books must be brought to the desk, and those left in the book drop will not be counted. Klein said Fine Free Day does not apply to books already returned with fines assessed.

On Friday, April 23, the library will host the weekly Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce coffee at 10 a.m., with the public invited.

Registration deadline

The registration deadline for Wayne State College's annual Math Contest is Friday, April 23.

High school students will compete in Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry and Senior Math during the contest which will be held Monday, May 10.

"I strongly encourage area schools to send teams of students," says Dr. J.S. Johar, division head of math and science at Wayne State.

"It gives them an excellent opportunity to assess their academic skills against others, and it gives Wayne State College the opportunity to recognize students for their achievements."

Cable

cluded are CBS, ABC, NBC, Fox, TBS, WGN, PBS and the three networks from Omaha. Also included is Mind Extension University and all access channels.

When assessing the reasonableness of cable system's rates, local certified franchising authorities may not require systems whose September 30, 1992 rates are below the yet-to-be established benchmark to reduce their rates further.

Cable systems whose September 30, 1992 rates are above the competitive benchmark may be required to reduce their September 30, 1993 rates to the benchmark or by 10 percent, whichever is less. Their current reasonable rate would then be determined by adjusting the reduced rate forward for inflation.

Rates for premium and pay-per-view program services are not subject to the price freezes, according to the FCC.

Cuts in the cable television system could total as much as a billion dollars nationally with approximately two-thirds of the nation's cable systems being forced to reduce prices for most services by 10 percent.

The FCC guidelines will apply to basic service that includes local broadcast signals plus any public access cable channels. The FCC also will apply a rate formula to the "expanded" basic service that includes superstations such as ESPN, CNN, C-Span, and the Discovery Channel.

The rate cuts are not automatic. The FCC is still working on the details, but each local government must first ask the FCC to certify it as a legitimate regulatory authority over their cable systems, and they will then be able to regulate the price of basic cable service.

Students participating in Bloomfield Honor Band

Several students from Wayne High and Wayne Middle School auditioned and were accepted to participate in the Bloomfield Junior High Honor Band on Saturday, April 17 at the high school in Bloomfield.

The honor band is held for area seventh, eighth and ninth grade band students. The band rehearses in the morning and afternoon, and will present a final concert at 4 p.m. which is free to the public.

The guest conductor for this year's band is Jack Fisher, band director at Norfolk High School.

Chosen to participate from

Wayne were: Clarinet — Sara Hall (first chair), Kristine Kopperud, Kim Nolte, Krissy Lubberstedt, Melissa Weber, Molly Linster, Carla Kemp and Kayla Koeber; Alto sax — Krista Magnuson; Baritone sax — Sara Metzler; French horn — Liz Lindau; Trumpet — Katie Lutt, April Beckenhauer, David Enz and Matt Meyer; Trombone — Chris Nelsen and Trevor Luther; Percussion — Ryan Nichols (second chair), Paul Blomenkamp and Matt Carner; Mallets — Rachel Blaser (first chair).

ter health and possibly lower health expenses.

THELMA Moeller, income maintenance supervisor for the Nebraska Department of Social Services in Wayne, says that there are misconceptions about the program.

"Some people believe the allotments available through The Food Stamp Program are meant to be the entire food budget for a particular family. "This is not the case," Moeller said, "because of course, not everything can be purchased with food stamps. The program is meant to supplement other income."

Maximum food standards change with the start of the USDA's fiscal year in October. Currently, a family of four, with a monthly income of $1,163 or less, could be eligible for as much as $370 each month in food stamps.

A single person, in relation to the Federal Poverty Guidelines, could receive as much as $111 per month as long as their monthly income tallied less than $568.

"Resources can be no more than $2000 per month for any size household, unless there is a person living with them over age 60," Moeller said of the qualifying standards. "In that case, the household can have resources as high as $3,000."

TO APPLY for The Food Stamp Program, persons must visit with the social services department in the county in which they reside.

They must be a legal citizen of the United States or be a legally admitted alien. Applicants must have a social security number and will also go through at least one face-to-face interview.

The Department of Social Service will then review the applicant's resources such as cash, money on hand in checking and savings accounts, stocks, bonds, and certificates of deposit. Personal belongings and home property are not included.

"If a family is applying, they can bring in verification of child care and medical expenses if they are over 60 years of age to be used as deductions," Moeller said. "Before we can make any determination of allotment, everything stated on the application must be verified."

"The whole process can be done in a matter of a week," she added, "if all of the paperwork and verification is brought in immediately. All we have to do is input the information into the computer and let it figure out the allotment."

AT LAST count, 144 households in Wayne County were involved with the program. A total of 309 people received support.

Once accepted into the program, persons are eligible to purchase food products, including meals delivered (such as meals on wheels) and garden seeds which can be turned into edible products.

Alcohol, tobacco, hot foods and food products prepared for immediate consumption (such as in a restaurant and deli) are not allowed to be purchased with food stamps.

Stamps are mailed during the first week of each month and if a household's income is under $150 per month, it would be necessary to get them delivered within the first five days, according to Moeller.

ALSO available to the low-income public is food assistance through the Special Distribution Program which began in 1981. Originally started to release surplus cheese on a monthly basis, the commodities now include butter, corn meal and flour, and are given away semi-annually. The next scheduled date will be in May.

"People do not have to be receiving food stamps in order to receive commodities," Moeller said. "All we have for this is a name-only sign up sheet. It's a self-declaration program."

Super fund raisers

The Northeast Library System has recently awarded a matching funds grant in the amount of $300 to Wayne Middle School for the purchase of CD-ROM software. According to school-library-media specialist Faunell Bennett, software purchased will include the Time Magazine Compact Almanac, USA Factbook, Time Table of Innovation and Science, Desert Storm, USA Wars: Civil War, Amazing Universe, and Learning All About Animals. This software will be used primarily as reference resource material for social studies and science students in grades four through eight to help students understand that information can be found in sources other than books. The matching funds came when Middle School Student Council members sponsored fund raisers such as selling pop, candy, root beer floats and a dance. Pictured from left to right standing are council members Addie Polt, Jessica Meyer, Mandy Hansen, Sarah Metzler, Amy Magnuson, Sarah Kinney, Amanda Kurgeweit, Stacey Langemeier.  CORNELL UNIVERSITY recently performed a study, commissioned by Garden Way, which showed that mulching mowers cause "significantly greater turf-grass growth and create healthier, lusher lawns." The purpose of the study was to compare the influence on shoot growth and visual quality of Kentucky bluegrass when cut with a mulching mower versus a rear bagger. Results showed forty percent more growth when the grass was cut by a mulching mower. With the recent purchase of a commercial mulching mower, we can provide this service for you.

Engagements

Salmon-Hurley

Making plans for a Nov. 6 wedding at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Wayne are Jennifer Salmon and Robert Hurley, both of Lincoln.

Their engagement has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Dr. Willis and Mardelle Wiseman of Wayne, and James and Lisa Salmon of Wakefield.

Miss Salmon, a 1987 graduate of Wayne High School and a 1991 graduate of Wayne State College, is a police officer with the Lincoln Police Department. She served six years in the Air National Guard.

Her fiance, son of James and Janet Hurley of Seward, also is a police officer with the Lincoln Police Department. He graduated from Seward High School in 1983 and from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln in December 1990. He served three years active duty with the Army in Germany, and is now serving as a first lieutenant in the Army National Guard.

Harrold-Loberg

Owen and Shirley Harrold of Palmer, Iowa announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Kenneth Loberg, son of Glenn and Norma Loberg of Carroll.

The couple plans a June 5 wedding at the Church of the Resurrection in Pocahontas, Iowa.

Miss Harrold graduated with a certificate in physical therapy from the University of Iowa. She is a coordinator of rehab outpatient physical therapy services at Marian Health Care Center in Sioux City.

Her fiance is a student at Wayne State College and is employed on his family's farm near Carroll.

Reception planned for Velma Milliken's 90th

Velma Milliken, a longtime resident of Wayne, will celebrate her 90th birthday with an open house reception on Saturday, April 24.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend the event from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church in Wayne. A program will be presented at 3 p.m.

The open house will be preceded with a dinner, hosted by her children and their families.

Mrs. Milliken was born Jan. 13, 1903 at Pierce to Frank and Lucy Powers. She married Albert Milliken on Dec. 20, 1922 and they lived on farms southwest of Wayne until moving into Wayne in 1962. Albert died in 1965.

Velma is the mother of Betty Bull, Patty Chicoine, Albert Milliken Jr., Robert Milliken and Larry Milliken. There are 16 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren.

Klick and Klatter pays tribute to Irene Victor

Klick and Klatter Home Extension Club met April 13 at the Black Knight with Barbara Sievers as hostess. President Loreene Gildersleeve led the group in the flag salute and club creed. She also read an Easter poem.

Thirteen members were present and each answered roll call with a tribute to Irene Victor, who had been voted as the most valuable member of the club. She was presented with a plant.

Irene Victor, music leader, led in the singing of "Springtime in the Rockies." Ruth Fleer, citizenship leader, read "Benefits of the Mother Earth."

Barbara Sievers read an article, "I Am Getting a Bug About Spring," and Health Leader Stella Liska read "Eat, Drink and Be Healthy." Joyce Niemann, family well-being leader, read articles on prayers at mealtime.

Lee Moller, cultural arts leader, told of several events at Wayne

Velma Milliken

State College, including the alumni recital held April 13, the planetarium show on April 18, a violin recital in Ley Theatre on April 20, and the annual children's play in April, "Robin Hood."

Members were encouraged to attend the convention at Seward in June.

Emelia Larsen received the hostess gift and Marcella Larson presented the lesson, entitled "Enhancing the Self: Clothing for the Older Woman."

Irene Victor will be hostess for Fun Day on May 11 at 1:30 p.m.

Briefly Speaking

Country Club spring banquet slated

WAYNE - The Wayne Country Club spring banquet will be held Tuesday, April 27. The cards that were mailed out incorrectly stated that the banquet was April 16.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m., followed with dinner at 7. Reservations are due April 16 and can be made by calling Kathy Luhr at 375-3498 or Carol Novak at 375-5157.

Superintendent gives program

WAYNE - Twenty members of Wayne PEO Chapter AZ met April 6 in the home of Ruth Haun. The hostess was assisted by Donna Liska, Helen Bressler and Margaret Lundstrom.

Dr. Dennis Jensen, superintendent of Wayne Public Schools, presented a program on the direction the Wayne schools will be taking. He said the goal is to achieve excellence for all students.

During the meeting, Pauline Nuernberger gave a report on Cotley College in Nevada, Mo. It is a liberal arts college with approximately 370 students.

Kristine Giese announced that the Sioux City reciprocity group has invited the Wayne chapter to their annual Founder's Day on April 24 at the Marina Inn. She also informed the chapter that the state convention will be in McCook on June 18-20 and the theme is "The Plus of PEO."

The next meeting of Chapter AZ will be on April 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Marilyn Carhart.

Mixers schedule tour in May

WAYNE - The Merry Mixers Club has scheduled a May 11 tour in Norfolk. Members will meet in Norfolk at 1 p.m.

Twelve members and two guests, Helen Beckman and Lois Schlines, attended the club's annual birthday party on April 13 in the home of Faye Mann and answered roll call by telling what they did Easter Sunday.

The meeting opened with group singing of "The Little Brown Church in the Vale." Vera Mann explained how to make a pillow quilt, and the afternoon was spent playing cards. Prizes were won by Ella Lutt and Janet Reeg.

A birthday cake, made by Lois Schlines and featuring each month of the year, was served with ice cream for lunch.

Care Centre celebrates Easter

WAYNE - An Easter egg hunt was held at Wayne Care Centre on April 9 for children and grandchildren of staff members. Twelve children and 38 residents attended. The eggs were decorated and filled by the residents on Thursday.

Members of the Helping Hands 4-H Club hid the eggs in the dining room on and among residents. They entertained with live animals, music and a bunny costume. The 4-H'ers also served cookies and punch, and a six-foot Easter bunny brought treats from Hardees for everyone.

Staff members conducted a Good Friday Tenebrae service on Friday morning, and Easter Sunday services were conducted by the First Church of Christ.

First Trinity LWML discusses upcoming workshop in Concord

Clara Heinemann was hostess for the April meeting of First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML) of Altona. Six members attended, and guests were Janelle Vyborny, Nicole and Argentina Kindschuh.

The Rev. Ricky Bertels gave the lesson from the LWML Quarterly, "Being Used," and the group recited the hymn "Take My Life and Let it Be."

The LWML pledge was recited as the mite box offering was taken.

DARLENE Frevert presided at the business meeting. The Spring Workshop will be April 20 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Concord. Members are bring hardcover books, including Bibles, as well as National Geographic magazines for the Lutheran Schools project in Brazil.

The group served the Wayne Zone Pastors Conference at Altona on April 6.

Reports were given on serving at the Allen and Bernice Splittgerber sale, and plans were made to entertain at Wayne Care Centre in June, along with the vacation Bible school students.

It was suggested that each member make a homeless kit. The Lutheran Women's League gives instructions for making the kits. Where to distribute them will be decided later.

CORRESPONDENCE was read from the Open Door Mission in Omaha. A thank you was read from the Splittgerber family.

The birthday song honored Pastor Bertels, Clara Heinemann and Mabel Pflueger.

Several women visited Mabel Pflueger at Wakefield Health Care Center on April 7 for her birthday.

The meeting closed with singing "Praise and Thanksgiving" and the Lord's Prayer.

The next meeting will be May 6, beginning at 9:30 a.m. for quilting. A salad luncheon will be served at noon, followed by the lesson and business meeting.

Janssen earns first victory as WSC downs Mt. Marty

Wayne State's baseball team notched a 5-1 victory over Mount Marty, Thursday in Yankton, S.D. as Jon Janssen got his first pitching victory of the season.

The win left John Manganaro's squad with a 7-14 record heading into Friday's double-header against Morningside in Sioux City.

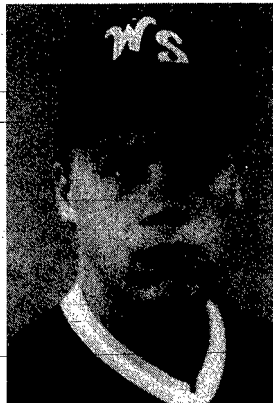

The 'Cats pounded out 11 hits in scoring five runs and they suffered two errors while Mt. Marty had seven hits and one error. WSC scored once in the third inning and once in the fourth before scoring two in the seventh and one in the eighth. Mt. Marty scored its lone run in the sixth inning.

Chris Loofe belted his first collegiate home run to lead the 'Cats offensive attack while Cory Reeder hit two singles and drove in two runs. Tim McDermott and Jeff Schneider each doubled for WSC.

WSC will entertain a busy schedule during the next week, making up several games because of snow and rain. On Saturday, WSC will travel to play Augustana in Sioux Falls, S.D. in a twinbill and on Sunday they travel to play the Kansas State Wildcats in Manhattan, Kan. in double-header action.

WSC will be at home on Tuesday for two games with Mt. Marty before hosting UNO on Wednesday in a double-header. The 'Cats will remain at home to host Midland on Thursday for two games and Hastings on Friday for a double dip.

Knights of Columbus golf tourney

WAYNE-The Knights of Columbus 3-Man Best Ball Golf Tournament will be held on Sunday, May 2 at the Wayne Country Club. There is a $20 entry fee per person and you must form your own groups. There will be lunch available along with coffee and donuts. Call Larry Berres for reservations and tee times at 375-1152. Proceeds of this tournament go toward scholarship funds.

Scholarship given

Joe West of Wausa, has been awarded the 1993 "Paul Sobansky Memorial Scholarship" to continue his academic and football career at Wayne State.

The scholarship is given by Robin Sobansky and her sons, Matthew and Cody, in memory of Paul, their late husband and father. The "Paul Sobansky Memorial Scholarship" is part of the Dan Gardner Fund at Wayne State College.

"Paul had great respect for and dedication to the sport of football," Robin says. "He also placed high value on the importance of education, and was appreciative that he had the opportunity to pursue both at Wayne State. This scholarship allows us to share Paul's enthusiasm and determination to succeed."

Sobansky moved to Oakland, Neb. from Arizona as a sophomore and graduated from Oakland-Craig High School in 1978. He graduated from Wayne State in 1983 with a degree in Industrial Education, and was a defensive tackle for the Wildcats from 1978-81. He died in an automobile accident December, 29, 1988.

"I always admired Paul's dedication and desire to help the team," Dr. Ralph Barclay said. Barclay, Division Head of the Human Performance, Leisure Studies department, served as Wildcat defensive coordinator during Sobansky's playing days.

"Paul was a very hard working individual who made the most of his abilities," Barclay said.

West, a 6-3, 195-pound outside linebacker, earned all-conference and honorable mention all-state honors at Wausa High School. West was also selected to the 1993 Eight-Man All-Star game.

"Joe is one of the finest athletes in Northeast Nebraska, fifth-year WSC Head Football Coach Dennis Wagner said. "He has a great future ahead of him at Wayne State."

Wildcat softball team falls to 9-14

WSC swept by Mankato

The Wayne State softball team slipped to 9-14 after suffering a pair of losses to Mankato State, Tuesday.

Joan Scherbring's squad was unable to get the offense untracked as WSC managed just four hits total in the two games. The 'Cats lost the first contest, 1-0 before dropping the nightcap, 2-0.

In the first game Mankato State blanked WSC with a one-hitter as only two players reached base for the 'Cats. Marti Hunt broke up the no-hitter with a single and Jill Gengler drew a base on balls.

Michelle Harris took the pitching loss despite giving up just one run which came in the bottom of the seventh inning. Harris scattered seven hits.

In the second game the 'Cats gave up two runs to the host team in the first inning and that proved to be the last scoring of the contest. Maryellen Livingston was credited with the loss after tossing a three-hitter which scored two. Livingston struck out three and walked one.

WSC got three hits in the game with singles from Lori Foster, Michele Reinhardt and Jenny Reuland.

The Wildcats will be playing in the University of Nebraska at Kearney Tournament on Friday afternoon and Saturday. WSC's first game will be at 4:30 p.m. Friday when they play Regis.

Marti Hunt

Saturday at 9:30 a.m. the 'Cats play Adams State and at 2:45 p.m. they play UNO. The last scheduled game is at 4:30 p.m. when they play the Air Force.

Wayne golf team hosts South Sioux and Cedar

The Wayne High golf team hosted a triangular with South Sioux and Hartington Cedar Catholic on Thursday despite the windy, rainy and cold conditions.

South Sioux won the varsity division of the meet with a 173 while the Blue Devils finished second after carding a 177. Cedar followed with a 188.

Cardinals golfer Ed Berggren was medalist on the day with a 40. Wayne was led by Nate Salmon with a 42 while Jason Carr fired a 43. Kelly Hammer and Ryan Pick followed with 46's and Ryan Martin finished with a 47.

The Blue Devils reserve team won their meet with a 195 followed by Cedar Catholic with a 198 and South Sioux with a 206. Todd Koeber led Wayne with a 46 while Alex Salmon carded a 47.

Erik Wiseman and Adam Diediker each fired 51's to round out the team scoring. Brandon Novak also competed for the reserves and scored a 53.

"It's really kind of difficult to determine just where we are at this point as a team," Wayne coach Terry Munson said. "We've had so little practice time with the poor weather conditions."

Wayne will travel to play in the O'Neil Invitational on Wednesday.

"Ag in the Classroom"
scholarships available from Lower Elkhorn NRD
 The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District is now accepting teacher scholarship applications for the 1993 Ag in the classroom summer workshop in Columbus from educators in the 15-county district.
 The summer workshop will be covered in two weeks at Educational Service Unit #7 headquarters beginning July 7. Teachers may earn three hours of credit for completing the workshop.
 Ag in the Classroom workshop participants will become acquainted with different areas of the food and fiber system. Classroom sessions will involve group discussion, experiments, demonstrations, computer programs and more. Teachers will develop projects for use in their own classrooms which meet existing curricular objectives and receive more than $150 worth of resource materials.
 The Ag in the Classroom scholarship application deadline is April 30. Teachers interested in applying for full-tuition scholarships should contact the Lower Elkhorn NRD in Norfolk at 371-7313.
 For more information on the Ag in the Classroom summer workshop in Columbus, contact Doris Busse at ESU #7 by calling 564-4414.

Joy Full
Joy is more than just happiness. Joy's roots are serenity, confidence, and a sense of well-being. Joy bubbles up from there. You can't force joy. You can't suppress it, either. God wants to give you real joy. Fill yourself with joy at church this week.

In your presence there is fullness of joy.

Anne Nolte is designated Master Senior Appraiser

Anne Nolte of Wayne has been awarded, the highest professional designation granted by the National Association of Master Appraisers, according to Dr. Marvin Deane, the national president.

The designation Master Senior Appraiser (MSA) was conferred after completion of all the qualifying procedures of the organization.

Requirements include intense educational courses in appraising residential, farm and land and commercial property, and the preparation of appropriate demonstration appraisals.

"Each member of the National Association of Master Appraisers has agreed to subscribe to the highest professional standards of conduct required by the organization's code of ethics," said Deane.

The National Association of Master Appraisers designates those members of the real estate profession who have attained a high degree of excellence in the art and science of real estate appraisal.

It also encourages specialized education in real estate appraisal through cooperating schools, to provide the industry with fundamental courses, educational seminars and workshops.

Such educational courses are designed to ensure the public will have qualified professional real estate appraisal services when buying or selling real estate.

Fun in the mud

Members of the Wayne Day Care Board used children's toy shovels, above, to official break ground on the new Rainbow Day Care Center being constructed on East 14th near the Wayne America Water Tower and Tower School. The ceremony was held Friday morning and was witnessed by dozens of community leaders and members of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce. This week, April 18-24, was declared the Week of the Young Child by Mayor Bob Carhart. The new child care center is scheduled for completion this year.

Wakefield START committee reports

Program impacts community

The Omaha World Herald, a financial sponsor of the Strategic Training and Resource Targeting (START) program in Wakefield and statewide, recently invited Chairperson, Jeanne Gardner and the TaskForce Chairs to a luncheon in Omaha to report the impact the START program has had on the community.

Representatives from Wakefield giving reports were Lowell Johnson, housing committee; Lori Utemark, business retention and recruitment; Butch Utemark and Janice Gardner, recreation facilities; Phyllis Rhodes, community, image; and Lynda Cruickshank, educational opportunities.

The first year has flown by for all of the volunteers involved in the START program. The five committees wrote community action plans last April, and it's been exciting how many of the plans have been accomplished within the first year. Several long range plans are also in progress.

The following are highlights of the committee reports to the Omaha World-Herald.

HOUSING

Accomplished: 1) met with the Wakefield Housing Development Group and city administration to compile information on local housing stock and availability, 2) completed a housing needs assessment, 3) created an information center at the city office to collect housing needs and finance information and 4) promoted the education of the local population regarding grants and financial assistance programs.

Still in progress: 1) two building projects to provide a 12 unit and a 24 unit apartment complex and 2) potential bond financing through the city for non-means tested (any income) types of housing.

RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

Accomplished: 1) worked with the Park Board to recommend maintenance and improvements for the city park, 2) toured other communities to assess their recreational facilities and funding sources and 3) drafted a preliminary plan for a community Wellness Recreation Center.

In Progress: 1) finalizing comprehensive plans for the Wellness/Recreation Center, 2) hold a townhall meeting to unveil the construction plans and 3) create a Wakefield Community Foundation to provide financial support for the new facility and other START projects.

BUSINESS RETENTION AND RECRUITMENT

Accomplished: 1) established themselves as a formal committee of the Community Club with the following sub-committees: education/resource, promotions; education/advertising, business retention and recruitment and central business district; 2) hosted Department of Economic Development (DED) representatives on a "Familiarization Tour" of the Wakefield community; 3) made contacts with businesses with the potential to relocate or start-up in Wakefield; 4) set up a delegation to visit Michael's Foods in Minneapolis and had representatives of the company visit Wakefield, 5) offered a customer service seminar and 6) improved communication, cooperation and retention efforts amongst current Wakefield businesses.

Still in progress: 1) more educational seminars, 2) continued communications and retention efforts for local businesses and 3) develop an incubator facility for start-up businesses.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Accomplished: 1) Compiled support letters for Head Start grant application, 2) have added specific classes to the Adult Education program through Northeast Community College, 3) started the teachers and parents organization at the school, 4) determined a demand for school age child care through parent survey and 5) compiled feasibility plan and grant application for an after school program.

Still in the works: 1) possibility of a community child care center and after-school program in cooperation with the Milton G. Waldbaum and 2) college credit courses offered at the high school through Northeast Community College and 3) work with the recreational facilities committee to develop a community foundation to support the child care program.

COMMUNITY IMAGE

Accomplished: 1) surveyed residential sidewalks and made recommendations to the city council for repair, 2) outlined a proposal for the city council regarding street maintenance, repairs, snow removal and parking restrictions and 3) compiled ideas for "Wakefield Identity" landmarks and signs and 4) created new handicap parking on main street.

In the works: 1) new-welcome signs north and south of town and 2) new signs for the city park.

would be able to reach more schools with the best programs and the best teachers," said Rod Garwood, ESU 1 administrator. He said the impressive participation in the study shows area school and college recognize the importance of utilizing emerging technologies in educational programming.

Besides the 51 area K-12 school districts, the partnership includes Educational Service Units 1 and 8, Northeast Community College and Wayne State College. Also cooperating in the study is the Northeast Research and Extension Center in Concord, and the Nebraska Indian Community College.

Sharing life's story

Concord church invites public to Ebel concert

Joi Kircher-Ebel will be in concert at the Concord Evangelical Free Church on Sunday, April 18 at 7 p.m. The community is invited to attend.

Joi is a native of Hawarden, Iowa and has experienced many life shattering events in her 34 years. At age nine she became diabetic, and at age 14 discovered she had kidney disease.

Following kidney failure in 1976, Joi underwent a kidney transplant, and in 1979 she had a pancreas transplant. Her vision failed in 1988, and also that same year she discovered cancer on her lower lip.

In 1990, Joi traveled to Morristown, N.J. and trained with a seeing-eye dog, Tasha, with whom she now travels. She was married to Marv Ebel in May of 1991.

Joi tells in story and song of God's love and faithfulness throughout her life, using the theme song of her life, "He is My Song."
