Man dies of fight injuries

A fight outside of the Max Lounge in Wayne last Friday has resulted in the death of 28-year-old Robert Jones, an Omaha native and resident of Phoenix, Arizona.

Jones never regained consciousness before being pronounced dead late Wednesday night in Sioux City's Marian Health Center as a result of a severe brain injury and trauma.

Another Omaha native and former Wayne State graduate Bob Sterba, was arraigned Thursday morning in Wayne on first-degree assault charges. Wayne County Attorney Michael Pieper said that Sterba could face additional charges as the investigation into the incident is still on-going. Pieper also said that other participants may be charged.

Sterba was originally placed in custody of the Pierce County Jail on $100,000 bond but during Thursday's arraignment his bail was reduced to $75,000.

A preliminary hearing for Sterba has been slated for Thursday, May 27 in Wayne at 2:15 p.m. He is currently out of jail on bond after 10 percent of the bond was posted.

City finds meaning of 'where sidewalk ends'

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

"Where the Sidewalk Ends" is a popular children's book, and Wayne City Council heard a grown-up version of the story Tuesday night as an overflow crowd argued for and received several changes in the city sidewalk policy.

More than 50 residents attended the meeting to discuss a variety of issues involving sidewalk requirements and policies.

The city is entering the third year of a comprehensive sidewalk improvement plan. Until Tuesday, the plan had been to provide joint funding for replacement of damaged or substandard sidewalks and it had sought to encourage (some say force) property owners without sidewalks to install them.

THE PLACEMENT of new sidewalks where none existed before is what brought out Tuesday's mild and often light-hearted protest.

"If people don't want it, why do we do it," said attorney Duane Schroeder arguing for elimination of what he called an effort to force new sidewalks down residents' throats.

"I don't think there is a need for them everywhere," said Dick Gavitt. Ed Brogie told council members he was a member of a special "sidewalk-o-phobia" club in Wayne and was opposed to the idea of new sidewalks everywhere. In a more serious vein he said, "Good ideas don't always make good laws or good ordinances, especially when you have to enforce them."

NO ONE SPOKE against the idea of repairing existing sidewalks, but a proposal to place a new sidewalk on the west side of Walnut Street as part of this year's improvement program drew almost universal opposition from residents along that side of the street. Gene Fletcher, who lives on the street said the residents would have no place to park and would lose front yards and landscaping if the proposed sidewalk was installed. He said the houses on the street, built in the 60's are too close together to allow the addition of garages and are too close to the street to allow for the installation of sidewalks.

Council agreed with the hardship sidewalks would create on Walnut and removed that segment from the 1993 plan in a unanimous vote.

BUT, COUNCIL members argued for the general need for sidewalks in many areas of the city where they aren't currently located.

"New sidewalks should be a priority and then make exceptions (like Walnut Drive)," said Jane O'Leary.

Council member Darrell Fuelleberth proposed that new and existing sidewalks be treated separately under different improvement districts. Four of the other council members agreed and passed that proposal with O'Leary and Vice Mayor Darrell Heier opposing.

All the council members agreed that hearings on formation of future improvement districts should be held

Farmers rush 'like ants' to do field work

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Only about 20 percent of the Wayne County Corn Acres have been planted to date, according to the Wayne County ASCS office and most of that was planted in the last two days as farmers scramble to make use of the seasonable weather.

Cool wet conditions statewide have delayed field work and created potential weed and pest woes.

"They're out like ants in those fields now," said Terri Post, Wayne County ASCS director explaining that everyone is trying to make up for lost time.

By comparison, last year at this time, 95 percent of the county corn crop was planted and 70 percent had already emerged, she said. Last year's cool summer delayed maturity, however, and she said she hopes that does not happen again.

Many farmers missed the window for planting of oats, she said. Estimates in the county show the wet weather delayed oat seeding until it was too late. She said about 40 percent of the designated oat acres have gone unplanted and that land may be shifted to other crops.

By this time last year, 15 percent of the soybean acres in the county had been planted. "We've got none planted so far this year," she explained.

By comparison 27 percent of the corn acres are planted according to statewide estimates. During the first week of May, rainfall exceeded 200 percent of normal in eastern Nebraska according to Al Weiss, agricultural meteorologist.

The ASCS office reported they haven't heard of farmers shifting to short season corn plantings in Wayne County yet. Ms. Post said at the rate farmers are planting now, most of the crop could be planted in the next few days.

New store owners like city greeting

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Tom and Carmen Tilgner like what they saw and heard about Wayne. They liked it enough to leave their hometown in Hawarden, Iowa and move the family Ben Franklin Store operation to Wayne.

As one of the key businesses on Main Street, the Tilgners were officially welcomed to town by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors during a ribbon cutting Thursday.

They have only been open in Wayne a few months, and already they say they are convinced they made the right decision.

"IT'S BEEN just what we had hoped for," said Tom of the community and its acceptance of their new enterprise. Tom has been involved in the family's Ben Franklin store in Hawarden all his life. His father bought the store in 1940.

Carmen came to Hawarden from Rochester after college, as she said, only to spend a couple years teaching there before moving on. Tom said he knew of her plans so he had to "move fast."

Both admit it wasn't an easy decision to leave the town where they had been so active in civic and church affairs.

TOM HAD served as president of the chamber there twice, was Rotary president, library board president, industrial development corporation director, Cub Master and junior college board member.

Carmen was active in the church, served as United Good Neighbors (United Way) President, hospital board member, on the PEO and as a member of Beta Sigma Pi.

The couple has four grown sons, Kory, Tracy, Tappen and Monte, who is a teacher in Wayne. Their daughter-in-law, Missy, who is also expecting their first grandchild in July, helps at the store.

THE TILGNERS said they have been heartened by the good comments and support they have seen from the Wayne Community. They will be joining the Methodist Church in Wayne this weekend.

The couple plans establish their store as an anchor for downtown Wayne. They want to attract customers from the entire region. Crafts are a speciality in the plans.

Classes are offered in a variety of

School changes discussed; students are liking math

the impact of the additional academic offerings begins to show with multi-media, said Jensen.

The 1993 school year is not yet history but students, teachers and administrators are already looking to the 1994 year with anticipation.

More than 300 students have enrolled in math classes at the high school level, which means an additional part time faculty position is being added to handle the increased math load.

Principal Don Zeiss reported that more students are enrolled in math classes than ever before at Wayne. Several factors have led to the increase, according to Superintendent Dennis Jensen.

MORE COLLEGE requirements in math and science, a new class in applied math and the addition of an extra period each day which allows students to take more elective classes and helps avoid schedule conflicts are all reasons for the hike in math enrollment, he said.

Jensen said he will be interested to watch test scores in coming years as

Besides the growth in math enrollment and the addition of an extra period in each high school day, other changes for next year were discussed at the Tuesday night School Board meeting.

THE SCHOOL day will start at 8:15 next year.

A new computer lab, and 25 lap top computers for high school English will greet students next fall. The lab in the high school will be linked through a network with the library which will allow students to write papers and do research from the lab.

Keyboarding class will be a requirement for all high school students.

A new special education position, a staff development program are also planned additions next year, said Jensen.

Playground adaptations for handicapped students are also in the plans. Updated science curriculum for kindergarten through 8th grade students will offer a "hands-on focus" enhanced

A NEW VISION statement for the school district will be considered for approval after a May 25 parent/townhall meeting. Board members wanted to gain more input from faculty and parents on the proposed statement before passage.

Herman will speak during an assembly at Wayne High School at 1:30 p.m. on Monday.

He also will present a program for the public that evening at 7 p.m. in Ley Theatre on the Wayne State College campus.

"THE PURPOSE for bringing Doug into the schools is not only to better educate students on the realities of AIDS, but to also help the students deal with grieving, loss and dying," explained Pastor Steinbach.

"It is our desire to give high school students love and hope in the midst of hurt and the uncertainties brought on by the fear of AIDS and by the loss of those who die prematurely."

In addition to presenting programs in Wayne, Herman will be speaking in Norfolk, Winside, Oakland, Plainview and Stanton High Schools throughout the week.

He is the director of Family Matters, Inc., of Colorado which conducts school assemblies, seminars and various other services.

Farewell to District 77

By LaVon Anderson
News Editor

"No more pencils, no more books, no more teacher's dirty looks." While that lighthearted ditty may be sung with gaiety throughout the area within the next few days as school students exit the hallways for summer vacation, it's a different tune for the eight students of Wayne County School District 77, located two miles west and five and a half north of Hoskins.

Monday was a day of mixed emotions for the youngsters and their teacher, Mrs. Sharon Shelton, as they prepared to clean out their desks — for good. The final day of classes for the students and their teacher was Tuesday, May 11.

District 77 is closing after a rich history of educating rural school students since 1897.

Recently, a majority vote of the district resulted in the school being shut down and merging with Pierce.

WHILE this year's batch of students may not yet realize it, they will become an important part of the school archives as they will be the final class to be educated in the one-room school.

The students, who will all attend school in Pierce next fall, are kindergartner Richelle Wachter, daughter of Cate and Scott Schroeder; first grader Olivia Marten and fourth grader Jedediah Marten, children of Ginny and Joe Marten; second grader Joshua Koepke and fifth grader David Koepke, children of LeRoy Koepke; fourth grader Cassie Asmus and sixth grader Danielle Asmus, children of Jan and Doug Asmus; and seventh grader Brett Weich, son of Liz and Larry Weich.

Mrs. Shelton has taught school a total of 20 years, including the past 12 at District 77, and will also be going to Pierce next fall to teach there.

"These kids are really special, and I'm going to miss my babies," smiles Sharon. "They don't like being called that, but they are my babies. I've had every one of them since kindergarten."

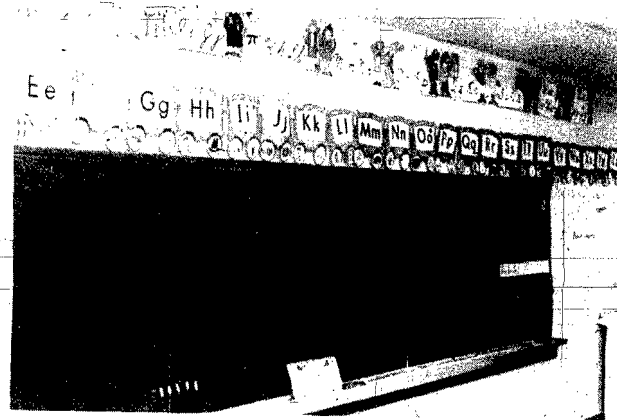

Sharon says what she will miss most of all is the closeness which has developed between she and the students. "It's a family atmosphere and the kids know if I'm not feeling well or upset — and vice versa. When someone is experiencing sadness or joy, it affects us all."

Sharon is visibly proud of her "babies" and is quick to point out that she has never encountered any discipline problems. "The young ones respect the older ones, and the older ones look out for the little ones."

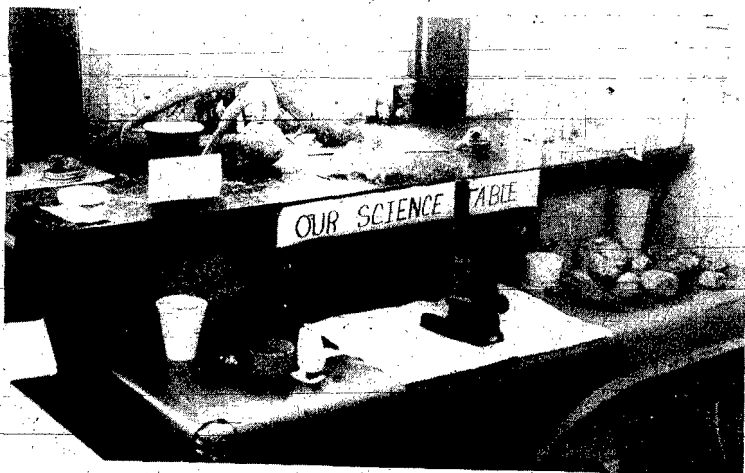

"That's just the way it is, and I hope all of them remember that closeness and the time they spent in District 77."

"DISTRICT 77 school is a classic one-room school," says parent Ginny

Sullivan won the 100 and 200 meter dashes in 11.3 and 23.7 while Schroeder placed second in the 100 meter dash in 11.4. Mattes also qualified in the shot put after a second place throw of 45.3.

Lane Anderson and Sam Malone had their track seasons end on a sour note as each was edged by less than one inch for an automatic state berth. Anderson placed third in the triple jump after a 41-5.75 effort—one quarter inch behind the runner-up finisher. Malone, meanwhile, long jumped 19-5.5—one inch behind the runner-up placer.

Anderson also high jumped 5-10 which earned him third place while the 1600 relay and 3200 relay teams placed third in 3:49 and 9:34. The 1600 relay comprised of Casey Schroeder, Steve Sullivan, Curtis Oswald and Jay Jackson while the 3200 relay was Craig Philbrick, Davis Miner, Josh Snyder and Jackson.

Schroeder added a fourth in the 200 in 24.7 while Aaron Thompson placed fourth in the shot put after a 43-8.25 effort. Thompson came back with a fifth place toss of the discus of 115-8 while Malone placed fifth in the 400 in 55.3.

Mattes was clocked at 11.9 for fifth in the 100 and Anderson long jumped 17-10.5 for sixth place.

Allen coach Doug Schnack was pleased with his team's performance. "The only thing I'm disappointed in is the fact that Lane and Sam just barely missed out,"

Schnack said. "Overall, however, it has been a great year and we hope it continues in Omaha."

IN GIRLS action the Eagles scored 92.5 points—just two-and-a-half points shy of Beemer. Newcastle was third with 77 and Wausa was fourth with 70. Niobrara finished fifth with 46 and Bancroft-Rosalie was sixth with 40 while Coleridge placed seventh with 34.5. Wynot and Santee rounded out the field of teams with eight and zero points respectively.

Three Allen girls qualified for the State Track Meet in a total of four events. Christy Philbrick and Sonya Plueger were double winners at the district meet.

Philbrick won the 100 hurdles in 17.1 and the 300 hurdles in 52.0 while Plueger won both the shot and discus after throws of 35-2.5 and 110-10. Tanya Plueger also qualified in both weight events after throws of 34-9 and 99-4.

Jenny Thompson breaks school, district 300 hurdle record

Wayne thinclads qualify six for State Meet

The B-4 District Track Meet was held in Pierce, Thursday and the Wayne Blue Devils girls placed fourth with 58 points and qualified four girls in five events for next Friday's State Track Meet in Omaha's Burke Stadium.

Jenny Thompson raced to a first place time of 47.6 in the 300 meter hurdles which set a new district record and a new school record. Thompson also qualified for State in the 100 hurdles after a 16.4 clocking.

Danielle Nelson qualified for State after a 5-1 high jump netted her third place while the distance twosome of Melodee Lage and Tami Schluns qualified for State in both the 1600 and 3200 meter runs.

Lage was timed in 12:27.5 in winning the 3200 and 5:48.7 in placing second in the 1600 while Schluns ran to third place times of 5:49.9 and 12:53.3, respectively.

Schuyler won the girls team title with 80.5 points while West Point was second with 76. Columbus Scotus was third with 75 followed by the Blue Devils.

Columbus Lakeview was fifth with 52 and Pierce was sixth with 40. Albion was seventh with 35.5 and Madison was eighth with 33. Logan View, Hartington Cedar Catholic and Tekamah-Herman rounded out the field teams in order.

Other Wayne points came in the 1600 relay which was timed in 4:17 with Erin Pick, Angie Hudson, Sandy Burbach and Thompson and Pick in the 1600 in 5:57.9.

"We really had a great day," girls coach Dale Hochstein said. "We were hoping to finish with a minimum of 50 points and a fourth place. We were able to accomplish both. Now we need to end our dry spell at State and score some points at Burke."

Boys qualify two

The Wayne boys qualified two for the State Track Meet as Nate and Spencer Stednitz scored 14 of Wayne's 18 total points. Nate placed second in the 800 in 2:04.5 while Spencer was third in the 3200 in 10:32.1.

Winside girls and Laurel boys breeze to district championships at Wayne State

By Kevin Peterson

Three Wayne Herald area track teams were in Wayne, Thursday for the C-4 District Track Meet at Wayne State.

When the dust had settled, Jim Winch's Winside girls and John Jonas' Laurel boys had captured district championships.

Winside scored 94 points to easily out-distance runner-up Wakefield with 55.5 and Emerson-Hubbard with 51.5. Homer, Stanton and Laurel scored 48 points each for a fourth place tie while Ponca scored 36 for seventh place.

Randolph was eighth with 33 and Pender was ninth with 31 while Walthill tallied 11 and Hartington, nine. Winnebago failed to score.

Winside's 3200 relay team won in 10:17.4 with Wendy Miller, Catherine Bussey, Kristi Oberle and Melinda Mohr. Mohr added first place finishes in the 1600 and 3200 meter races with times of 12:02.7 and 5:34.4 while placing second in the 800 in 2:28.4.

Kari Pichler qualified for State in both hurdle races after racing to a 17.3 clocking in the 100 hurdles while establishing a new school record of 50.1 in the 300 hurdles.

Amy Thompson qualified for State in the 200 meter dash with a runner-up time of 27.8.

WAKEFIELD QUALIFIED

one person for State in Richelle Woodman who ran for the first time in several weeks and earned a state berth in both distance races after a 5:37.7 effort in the 1600 and a 12:21.7 time in the 3200. It is possible however, that the 3200 relay team could qualify depending on how other districts fared.

LAUREL SCORED 48 team points with Amanda Hartung leading the way with first place finishes in the long jump at 17-6.25, the 100 meter dash in 12.9 and as an anchor for the winning sprint relay team.

Other members of that relay foursome include Jeanne Hanson, Gina Monson and Samantha Felber.

Laurel boys dominate

It was virtually no-contest for the Laurel boys at the district meet as they tallied 153 points—68 points ahead of runner-up Homer with 85. Ponca placed third with 77 and Randolph was fourth with 57 while Wakefield rounded out the top five teams with 46 points.

Hartington was sixth with 32 and Stanton was seventh with 25 while Winside finished eighth with 23. Emerson-Hubbard, five, Winnebago, two, Walthill and Pender closed out the teams in order.

The Bears had 13 qualifiers for the State Track Meet which begins next Friday in Omaha. The Bears won seven events and placed runner-up in six more.

Chris Hartung won the long jump with a 21-2.25 leap and he won the 110 high hurdles in 15.7—the first time he's broken the 16-second barrier. Derek Ehlers won the 100 and 200 meter dashes with times of 11.4 and 23.3 while running a leg on the school record setting sprint relay which was timed in 45.29. Other members of that relay were P.J. Penne, Mark Stone and Jeff Wattier.

Travis Monson won the discus with a toss of 143-9 and Cody Carstensen won the 1600 in 4:55. Hartung added a runner-up finish in the triple jump of 42-5.5 while P.J. Penne was second to Hartung in the long jump at 19-11.25.

Dustin Roberts placed second in the 800 in 2:06.7 and he placed runner-up to Carstensen in the 1600. Mark Stone finished second in the 400 in 53.8 and Jeff Wattier placed second to Ehlers in the 100 meter dash in 11.5.

BOTH WINSIDE and Wakefield had one State qualifier each as Cam Shelton placed second in the shot put for the Wildcats after a throw of 47-1.5 while Tory Nixon won the 3200 in 10:36 for the Trojans.

AMY THOMPSON leans across the finish line in the prelims of the 100 meter dash. Thompson finished third in the finals. She placed second in the 200.

LAUREL'S DUSTIN ROBERTS breaks the tape with Homer's Mike Stinger in the 800 meter run. It was determined that Stinger won by two-hundredths of a second but both runners qualified for the State Track Meet.

CHRIS HARTUNG hurdled his way to the championship of the 110 meter highs during district action, Thursday.

Strange softball season ends

The Wayne State softball team recently completed one of their strangest seasons of all time and head coach Joan Scherbring says this is one truth that really is "watered down."

The Wildcats played all 38 games on the road after numerous attempts at home contests failed because of wet weather. WSC finished with a 14-24 mark.

"Actually the conditions were so poor that we only had three outdoor practices on the diamond in Wayne through the whole season," Scherbring said. "The weather just didn't cooperate for us."

Scherbring completed her first season as the mentor of the 'Cats and despite the record, she feels her team played some pretty good softball.

"The competition around here is very tough," Scherbring said. "I felt we had a very solid team but we got a lot more consistent toward the end of the season."

Scherbring said one of the early season troubles the 'Cats had was lack of leadership and Jill Gengler. "Jill being out with her injuries she suffered in an automobile accident took its toll on us," Scherbring said. "We really missed her leadership skills."

Overall, Scherbring said it was not a typical season because the team couldn't get into a rhythm of playing games. "We spent most of the time trying to reschedule games around the weather," Scherbring said. This was also the first year a Wildcat softball team played all but three contests against NCAA-II teams.

Lori Foster finished the season as the 'Cats leading hitter with a .324 average while Jeni Umbach was at .320. Maryellen Livingston finished with a .300 average and Renee Miller was at .262 while Jill Gengler finished fifth with a .255.

Foster collected 35 hits on the season while Umbach had 33 and Marti Hunt, 26. Jenna Flesner and Miller finished with 24 and 22 hits, respectively.

Foster led the team in doubles with five while Gengler had four. Flesner and Miller had three each. Gengler had two triples to lead WSC and both Gengler and Miller belted one home run each.

Alex Ross led the pitchers with a 6-3 record and she had the best earned run average at 1.56. Livingston led the pitchers with 44 strikeouts.

WSC said goodbye to seniors Jill Gengler and Marti Hunt. "It's too bad these two seniors had to play their final seasons with out a home game," Scherbring said. "Still, they were very solid players which made our outfield consistent."

"Offensively, Jill's bat and Marti's speed on the base paths were crucial and both of those things will be missed next season."

JILL GENGLER and Marti Hunt may be the lone seniors on this year's Wayne State softball team but coach Joan Scherbring says their leadership will be missed.

Proving It

Jesus asked for proof of his followers' love. They were to show it by doing what Jesus said. Jesus' request has been passed down to those who love him. Showing love for Jesus is a Christian's aspiration.

District 77

Marten. "The students have the benefit of one-on-one teaching, and they all have a close relationship with Mrs. Shelton.

"She makes learning fun for the kids with her humorous ways and excellent teaching abilities.

Ginny pauses to point out that Mrs. Shelton was featured in the May 1982 edition of Woman's World magazine in an article they did on rural schools.

"All of the kids get along well despite the age differences," adds Ginny. "They all watch out after one another, and it's common to see the older kids helping the younger ones with their studies."

Ginny says the highlight of the year was probably during the Christmas holidays when the students put on a play for relatives and friends. "The kids and teacher worked very hard."

Ginny said she is very disappointed and sad to see District 77 shut down and she sincerely hopes that all of the children will someday realize the significance of the little school on the hill and the role it played in their lives.

ACCORDING to an article which appeared in a Wayne County history book and was written by Leonard Nelson, the first teacher at District 77 was Frankie Stimson, who conducted three terms between January 1897 and March 1898.

The first two terms were two months long and the third was four months. Only reading, writing and arithmetic were taught and the pupils were arranged in grades A, B and C according to their achievements.

Patrons of the district are proud to boost the fact that Nebraska Poet Laureate John G. Neihardt also served as a teacher at District 77 from December 1898 through the following March.

School attendance was irregular during the first few years, with records showing that in 1898, during a two-month term, one boy attended school three days and was tardy each time. Enrollment figures in 1900 showed 49 students attending District 77.

The number of students attending the school has continued to decline in recent years, with records indicating an average of 14 students in the 1950's, and an average of 16 students in the 1960's and 1970's.

During the past 12 years, enrollment at District 77 has averaged seven students per year.

THE PRESENT school structure, which was constructed in 1924 when the original school building became rundown, will be auctioned off, along with its contents, on Sunday, June 6.

Present plans call for the school bell to be cemented in on the school grounds as a memorial to Wayne County School District 77 and the hundreds of children who passed through it's doors.

April weather: wet as usual

Wayne weather observer Pat Gross says the month of April was wet as April's go, with 5.04 inches of precipitation compared to a 10-year average of 3.75 inches.

Gross said that is, considerably short of the record 8.74 inches in 1984 or the 7.91 inches in 1920 and the 7.42 inches in 1927. Other recent amounts of interest in the last 10 years include 6.99 inches in 1985 and 6.73 inches in 1986.

"The farmers, especially those with livestock, could sure use some drying weather," observed Gross, pointing out that the greatest daily rainfall for the month came on April 20 with 1.37 inches.

The average high temperature was 55 degrees for the month, however Gross said there wasn't an abundance of sunshine and wind to make for good drying conditions.

The average low temperature for the month was 34 degrees. The coldest days of the month were April 2 and 3 with 18 degrees, and the warmest was 73 degrees on April 24.

"There is no doubt Spring is well on its way: the grass is green, the trees are budding and people are sneezing more," said Gross. "And we are seeing old friends who have returned from winter hibernation."
