

Activity heightens as county fair time and fun approaches

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Agricultural Park looked like an anthill that had been run over by a lawn mower Monday night.

Workers were scurrying everywhere getting things ready for the start of the 71st annual Wayne County Fair. Activities begin Wednesday with interview judging and small animal shows.

More than 150 industrious volunteers showed up for the annual pre-fair cleanup night Monday and scrubbed down the buildings, mowed the grass, prepared the barns, painted, tilled and straightened.

"The work needed to be done, since indications are the 1993 fair will be bigger than many in the past.

LIVESTOCK ENTRIES are up in several categories and 4-H and open class exhibits are expected to be up as well. Some horticulture exhibits may be down, however, because the cool weather has hampered garden maturity.

Four-H entries and interview judging will take place Wednesday and the Extension office is asking the public cooperation in staying out of the 4-H building on Wednesday. The building will be open for public view Thursday morning.

Interview judging will give the 4-H youngsters the opportunity to talk to the judges as their exhibits are being judged. The goal is to make the process a learning experience for the youngsters, said extension assistant Mindy Lutt.

Open class exhibitors will enter their products and those will be judged as in the past on Thursday morning.

FAIR

SAM'S AMUSEMENT Co. will provide the carnival midway and rides. The midway will be open 5 p.m. Thursday.

A couple of new events at the fair this year will be the Meat Heart of the World celebrity cook-off on Thursday beginning at 5 p.m. Featuring local notable cooks, both men and women, fight it out over pots and pans and barbecue grills in the Little Theater. Chef coordinators are Mae Greve, Liz Ekberg and Mary Bruns.

Also on Thursday will be the ugly pickup parade in front of the Grandstand at 6:30 p.m. A new event for 1993, the parade will pay tribute to the hard working farm pickups in the region that seem to long outlive their live expectancy.

THE PRESENTATION of the Kilroy Award to the region's fire and rescue units will also be Thursday evening in the grandstand. One of two stage shows held during the fair will be on Thursday evening at 7:15 and will feature "We Three" a musical trio.

The Nashville Country Music Revue will headline the Friday night activities with its stage show at 7:15. That show will follow the annual

Remember when...

This picture promoting the Wayne County Fair in 1963 kicks off a weekly feature which will appear in each Tuesday edition of The Wayne Herald. Every week, the Wayne Herald will select old photos from its files to jog the memories of area residents. Subscribers also are invited to bring in their old photographs to share with Wayne Herald readers. For those who haven't guessed, the two pictured above are Marty Willers, at left, and Albert Topp, right, who publicized the Wayne County Fair 30 years ago during the Old Settlers Parade in Winside by riding a not too contented cow and a burrow. Their picture appeared in The Wayne Herald on July 31, 1963. For more "Remember When" photographs of the Wayne County Fair, turn to the Northeast Nebraskans section inside today's Wayne Herald.

Commencement is Friday at WSC

Dr. Carrol Krause, executive director of the Nebraska State College System, will be the featured speaker during Wayne State College's summer commencement ceremonies beginning at 10 a.m., Friday, Aug. 6 in the Willow Bowl, the college's outdoor amphitheater. The public is invited.

Dr. Donald J. Mash, president of Wayne State, will present 62 bachelor's degrees, 35 master's degrees and two education specialist degrees.

Krause, a native of Petersburg, has served as executive director of the Nebraska State College System since October of 1991. Previously, he served as commissioner of higher education in Montana, 1985-1990; deputy commissioner for academic affairs for the Montana University System, 1982-85; vice president of Prairie States Marketing Corporation in Rapid City, S.D., 1979-82; and as provost at the University of South Dakota, 1971-79.

Krause earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in biological science from Wayne State College, and his Ed.D. from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

RECEIVING THE Alumni

Achievement Award during commencement exercises will be Charles Peterson, president of Direct Transit, Inc., in North Sioux City, S.D. The award recognizes outstanding business and professional accomplishments of Wayne State alumni.

Peterson, a 1964 graduate of Wayne State, was recently named Entrepreneur of the Year by Inc. Magazine, Ernst & Young, and Merrill Lynch. Direct Transit, a trucking firm, was founded in 1985 when 15 employees were hired by Peterson. Today, the company employs 2,200 people, making it one of the top 50 trucking lines in the country.

Summa cum Laude graduates are Wendy Kay Babl Hawk, O'Neill; Dale Dean Ruzicka, Rogers; Kathy Lynn Rudder, Lawton, Iowa; and

Countian in air crash

A Hoskins woman was among five persons killed last Friday afternoon during a midair collision which occurred southeast of Norfolk.

Marianne Thoendel of rural Hoskins, who was employed by the Simplex Motel Group as an assistant vice president of purchasing, died in the collision along with fellow Simplex employees Candy Mayes and Lisa Bruns of Norfolk.

Also killed were the pilots of the two airplanes, Bradley Swanson of Fort Dodge, Iowa and Renato Balestra of Norfolk.

Balestra was flying the three

Simplex employees to Norfolk from Mountain Home, Ark., where earlier Friday they had visited a motel owned by Simplex.

The Simplex Group owns several motels across the country, including the new Super 8 Motel in Wayne.

Health Care is topic of WSC Forum

The public is invited to the National Issues Forum (NIF) "The Health Care Crisis: Containing Costs, Expanding Coverage" from 7 to 9 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 7 in Ley Theatre, located in Wayne State College's Brandenburg Education Building.

This forum is part of the first Public Policy Institute being held at Wayne State Aug. 6-8.

Participants in the Public Policy Institute will join citizens from the city of Wayne and from the campus community for the forum. Moderators will be Yvonne Sims, a veteran NIF moderator from Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jim Kubik, an instructor at Norfolk Senior High School.

Forums are designed to provide institute participants with firsthand experience which gives them knowledge of ways to encourage citizens to think and talk together and to work through the difficult choices contained in all of the issues, according to Jan Dinsmore, coordinator of the Public Policy Institute's Steering Committee and director of extended campus at

Cluster Headaches: Common in Men

Headache pain can result from stress or tension on the facial, neck, or scalp muscles. Another common cause of headache pain is swelling of certain blood vessels in the brain. These are called vascular or migraine headaches.

A rare type of vascular headache that occurs more commonly in men is referred to as "cluster headache." Typically, this headache type occurs without warning, in clusters or series of closely spaced attacks that persist for 45 minutes to 2 hours. Use of alcohol, tobacco, and vasodilator medicines such as nitroglycerin may cause cluster headaches. The pain is severe, located on one side of the head, and often is centered over the eye. While certain medicines may relieve cluster headaches, the preferred approach is prevention. A recent report in American Family Physician indicates that prednisone, lithium, calcium blockers, and indomethacin may prevent cluster headaches.

'Part of our Past'

By The State National Bank And Trust Company

Moving buildings from LaPorte to Wayne was one of the big problems in 1881-82.

A man from Yankton was contracted to do much of the moving using a horse and windlass. He constructed his own road and a bridge was built over Logan Creek south of Wayne where the present Highway 15 bridge is located. Dr. R.B. Crawford's house was one of the largest and most difficult to move. After it had been taken over the creek safely a rope broke and struck the contractor on the head, knocking him senseless.

His mother refused to allow an operation and for seven years he lay in an unconscious state. His mother finally consented to her son's operation and as soon as the brain pressure was removed, he asked, "How's Crawford's house coming?"

Wayne Midgets lose to South Sioux City in Area Tourney final

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Wayne Midget Legion baseball team came with in two innings of qualifying for the State Baseball Tournament in Gothenburg this weekend, but South Sioux came on strong in the final innings of Saturday's championship game in Blair to earn a 9-5 victory and the automatic state berth.

Wayne did sport the biggest win of the Area Tournament on Friday as they defeated the defending state champions, Blair by a 7-5 margin.

Ryder Hoffman earned the victory from the mound, throwing 6 1/3 innings before Dusty Jensen relieved him.

Jensen came in with one out in the seventh inning and the score at 7-5 with runners on second and third base. He promptly set the next two batters down in order via strikeouts to set up the championship game with South Sioux—10-5 winners over rival Dakota City in the other semifinal game.

Wayne had seven runs on five hits and two errors and Blair had five runs on eight hits and two errors. Adam Bebee laced two singles to lead Wayne while Jeremy Sturm ripped a two-run single. Jensen and Jason Starzl also had base hits.

Wayne trailed Blair by a 3-1 margin heading to the bottom of the fourth inning where they scored four times highlighted by Sturm's single. Jaimey Holdorf began the rally when he bunted the ball, and on a fielder's choice the pitcher threw to third base for a force out.

The throw was errant which scored a Wayne run and began the rally. Blair changed pitchers but the reliever hit three straight Wayne batters.

In Saturday's championship game Wayne did not earn a hit until the fourth inning when Craig Wetterberg laced a single. Wayne trailed South Sioux, 1-0 until the fifth inning when they crossed home plate four times for a 4-1 lead.

South Sioux scored twice in the bottom of the fifth inning to close the margin to one at 4-3 and in the sixth inning they exploded for six runs on four Wayne errors and three hits. Wayne added one more run in the seventh inning for the final margin of 9-5.

Wetterburg was tagged with the pitching loss with Dusty Jensen and Ryder Hoffman also seeing action. Wayne had five runs on five hits and four errors while South Sioux had nine runs on nine hits and one error.

Dusty Jensen had a double and single while Jeremy Sturm ripped a two-run double. Adam Bebee also doubled while Wetterberg closed out the hitting with a single. Wayne closed out the season with a 20-11 record.

A SMILING JOE Lutt crosses home plate during the fifth inning of the Midget Championship game against South Sioux, Saturday in Blair. Lutt received a high five from teammate Ryder Hoffman while the Wayne fans show approval in the back ground.

Winside softball team places fifth at State

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Winside girls fast pitch softball team placed fifth at the Nebraska State Softball Tournament in Class C, recently. Todd LaVelle's crew overcame a first game loss to Allen after a first round bye and fought their way back in the loser's bracket.

Winside lost 13-11 to Allen in extra innings. Holly Holdorf was tagged with the loss but was the offensive catalyst with a double and single for two of Winside's seven hits. Kristi Oberle also doubled while Kari Pichler, Christi Mundil, Wendy Miller and Yolanda Sievers each singled.

Winside began its mission of fighting back through the loser's bracket after an 8-7 win over Walthill. Holly Holdorf earned the pitching victory. Kari Pichler laced a pair of singles to lead Winside while Christi Mundil doubled. Catherine Bussey, Wendy Miller and Stacey Bowers each singled.

Winside defeated Plainview, 15-13 in the next round as Holly Holdorf again earned the pitching victory. She was also the offensive spark with a 4-4 outing from the plate with three singles and a double.

Christi Mundil doubled and singled while Kari Pichler had a pair of base hits. Wendy Miller and Kristi Oberle each had one base hit as Winside avenged three regular season defeats to Plainview.

Winside edged Kearney, 6-5 in the next round as Holly Holdorf earned, yet another victory. Mindy Marotz doubled to spark the offense while Kari Pichler, Holdorf, Christi Mundil, Catherine Bussey and Kristi Oberle each singled.

PERHAPS THE biggest victory for Winside of the whole state tournament was an 8-0 blanking of Waverly—one of the pre-tournament favorites.

"The win over Waverly was our best game of the season," LaVelle said. "They had one of the best teams in the tournament and the fastest pitcher we'd seen all year."

"Kristi Oberle, however, pitched strikes and our defense did the rest. Catherine Bussey threw two girls out from center field and Wendy Miller threw out a couple of would-be base stealers from her catcher's position," LaVelle added.

Oberle earned the pitching victory. Mindy Marotz led the offense with a pair of singles while Holly Holdorf and Christi Mundil each doubled. Yolanda Sievers, Wendy Miller, Oberle and Catherine Bussey each added singles.

Winside's bid for a trophy fell one game shy as they were defeated by a 9-8 margin by Geneva in the next round. Holly Holdorf was tagged with the loss. She did have Winside's only extra base hit of the game with a double while Kari Pichler, Christi Mundil, Wendy Miller, Catherine Bussey and Mindy Marotz each singled.

"Our team goal before we left Winside was to make it to the trophy round," LaVelle said. "We came close with a fifth place finish out of 28 teams. After our first loss to Allen, the girls kept their heads up and ready to play the next game. It's a lot tougher fighting through the loser's bracket."

LaVelle said the leadership his team got from seniors Holly Holdorf and Christi Mundil was outstanding. "Those two really came through with some clutch hits for us," LaVelle said.

Winside closed out the season with a 17-7 record.

Pitching clinic set

WAYNE—There will be a pitching clinic on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, taught by Wayne State softball coach Joan Scherbring.

The clinic costs $5 per session per pitcher and all pitchers are to furnish their own catchers. The clinic is open to all pitchers ages 12 through incoming seniors.

Beginners or new pitchers should report to the August 10th session from 1-3 p.m. and/or August 11th from 10 a.m. to noon. Advanced pitchers are slated for sessions on August 11th from 1-3 p.m. and/or 6-9 p.m.

All clinics will take place at Hank Overin Field in Wayne. For further information contact Scherbring at 375-2530.

Shade seekers win sand volleyball title

The second season of the Wayne Sand Volleyball League came to a close, Sunday at the Wayne County Fairgrounds. The Shade Seekers rapped up the season as the champions followed by the Sand Sluggers and Gamble's team.

The Shade Seekers, comprised of players from Wakefield and Pender finished with a 32-7 record while the Sand Sluggers yielded a 29-10 mark. The Gamble's closed out the year at 26-10.

"This was the final year that the Sand Volleyball League will be at the fairgrounds," City Rec and Leisure Department Director Jeff Zeiss said. "Construction on a new facility at the Wayne City Softball Complex has already begun."

Zeiss said he believes the new facility will be a good move for everyone involved because of the easier accessibility to the public. This year's league had a total of 10 teams.

JULIE ROSE returns a ball over the net while Heidi Muller looks on during the final night of the Sandy Volleyball League.

The Wayne Dolphins swim team competed in the District Swim Meet in West Point, recently, and Wayne came away with a fifth place finish, scoring 142 points.

North Bend was the champions with 591 while West Point placed runner-up with 459. Arlington followed with 432 and Dodge was fourth with 196. Following Wayne was Scribner with 76 and Schuyler with 58. Valley rounded out the field of teams with 11 points.

Individual medals were won by Emily Kinney with a third place in the backstroke and Ben Meyer, second in the butterfly and the backstroke. Heidi Johnson, Darci Bargholz, Lisa Walton and Ellie Jones placed third in the freestyle relay while Brittny Frevert placed second in the butterfly.

Sara Kiney placed third in the breaststroke and Brandy Frevert placed second in the freestyle. Other placers in the eight-under category included Emily Kinney in the individual medley with a fifth place effort and sixth in the breaststroke.

Brad Frevert was fourth in the freestyle, fourth in the backstroke, fourth in the individual medley, and fourth in the butterfly. Ryan Hix placed sixth in the backstroke and the medley relay team of Emily Kinney, Ryan Hix, Brad Frevert and Marilyn Fletcher placed fourth.

In the 9-10 year-old division Ben Meyer placed fourth in both the freestyle and the individual medley while Roy Ley placed sixth in the breaststroke. Katie Walton, Cody Sobansky, Danika Schuett and Ryan Teach finished sixth in the medley relay and Sam Kinney, Ley, Stacy Kardell and Shawn Ford placed sixth in the freestyle relay.

Brittny Frevert finished fourth in the individual medley and the backstroke and placed fifth in the freestyle. In the 13-14 year-old division Stacey Langemeier placed fifth in the butterfly while Sara Kinney finished fifth in the individual medley and sixth in the freestyle.

Brandy Frevert was fifth in the backstroke and sixth in the individual medley and the medley relay team of Frevert, Jessica Ford, Becky Fleicher and Erin Ford placed fifth. The freestyle relay team of Erin Ford, Jessica Ford, Audrey Jones and Sara Ellis placed sixth.

In the 15-18 age bracket Amy Guill placed fourth in the butterfly and fifth in the individual medley.

Wayne Pony's in Norfolk tourney

The Wayne Pony League baseball team competed in the Norfolk Tournament over the weekend and finished with a 1-2 record.

On Saturday, Wayne defeated Columbus, 13-3 as Tyler Endicott earned a complete game pitching victory, striking out five in the process. Wayne had nine hits in the game compared to just three for Columbus.

Brian Fernau led the offense with two doubles while Terry Hamer doubled and singled. Endicott added his pitching cause with a double while Kurtis Keller, Brad Mariott, Nick Hagmann and Justin Thede each singled.

Wayne lost a 9-7 decision to Norfolk in the second game with Brad Mariott taking the loss.

Wayne finished with seven runs on seven hits while Norfolk had nine runs on 10 hits.

Brian Fernau sparked the Wayne offense with three base hits while Terry Hamer, Mariott, Adam Endicott and Paul Zulkosky each singled. Wayne led 4-2 until the fifth inning when Norfolk exploded for seven runs.

On Sunday Wayne fell to Norfolk, again, this time in the championship round, 12-6. Tyler Endicott was tagged with the loss.

Wayne finished with six runs on 11 hits, but suffered seven errors while Norfolk had 12 runs on 12 hits and five errors.

Brian Fernau led Wayne for the third straight game on-offense with a triple, double and single while Terry Hamer had a double and two singles. Josh Starzl doubled and singled and Kurtis Keller had two base hits while Paul Zulkosky rounded out the attack with a single.

Wayne and Norfolk had six games between them this season and they split the series at three wins apiece.

ber Executive status.

A rigorous program of advance study and testing is required and attendance is mandatory at all classes in order to gain credit. Courses cover such specialized subjects as government relations, management philosophy, interpersonal relations, volunteer recruitment and training and economic and environmental concerns.

Faculty for the program are chosen from universities, executives in the field and consultants with specialized chamber of commerce and association management skills. Instruction in the program of study is considered unique for its depth and range of knowledge and experience.

The program is produced by the Center for Leadership Development, an educational foundation of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in Washington D.C. More than 2,200 individuals participate in the program every year. Other universities that host Institutes are the University of Oklahoma, Stanford University, University of Georgia, University of Notre Dame, Southern Methodist University and the University of Delaware.

Commander's honors

CIVIL AIR PATROL Cmdr. Sharon Sanford, Norfolk is shown presenting Keith Brasch of Wayne with the Commander's Commendation for the outstanding duty performance at a recent squadron meeting. Brasch has been promoted to 2nd Lieutenant in the CAP. The squadron, composed of search and rescue specialists from throughout Northeast Nebraska will be directing traffic and providing security services at the Wayne County Fair this week.

Retreat isn't rest

I spent two days at a monastery last week. I agreed to go because it was called a Retreat, which sounded like something I needed. It was a break: no televisions, phones or pagers, and I appreciated that part. But it turned out to be a lot of work.

The Crosier Retreat Center in Hastings is a large, peaceful building situated among lots of big trees and huge gardens. It was a seminary. In the '70's, when enrollment dwindled, it was opened to groups.

Incidentally, Hastings was hard hit by wind on July 8th, also. There are broken power poles, downed tree branches and missing shingles.

This was a quarterly meeting of Nebraska Hospice Assoc., a group to whom I've sent a check for dues for a very long time. It began about 20 years ago and was then mostly lay people who dreamed of having Hospice care available in this state.

It has evolved into a larger group, now mostly professionals, who are actually providing that care; and are still dreaming of making that kind of care accessible to everyone in Nebraska.

There has been enough growth that the officers decided we should hire a "strategic planner" to help set some goals. This fellow is a former teacher from Northwest Iowa who offers these kinds of workshops for boards, mostly of non-profit organizations.

We all know that most organizations have governing boards, some with lots of authority, others with less. Most of us have even served on some of these boards. Their meetings can be a real pain, depending upon the person who conducts them, the food served and the facility hosting them.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

Usually, these boards have officers, by-laws, agendas and functions. This planner was there to assist in analyzing our strengths and weaknesses and come up with realistic goals. And remember, goals need to have a time frame and the ability to be measured. What a way to earn a living!

Hospices in Nebraska are as diverse as its people and its geography. There are large, hospital-based types and small, all volunteer agencies. Many are directed by outspoken, determined individuals who have definite opinions. Get the picture?

Anyway, I'm happy to report that the Hospice movement is alive and well in Nebraska. The people involved are still dedicated to the concept that it be available to every person in the state, that it be quality care and that it can be cost-efficient. A tall order, but these are committed people.

I came home from the "Retreat" tired, but satisfied; recognizing that we still have a big job ahead. It was an interesting two days!

Residents assist with sandbagging

WAYNE - Edna Nissen of Wayne and her great grandson, Ben Nissen of Columbus, volunteered with sandbagging on July 5-6 to help flood victims in the Coralville/Iowa City area while visiting relatives. Ben is the grandson of Bob and Marlene Nissen of Wayne, and the son of Tom and Brenda Nissen, who will be moving back to Wayne in August.

Attends basic training

Heather Gustafson, daughter of Joel and Rita Gustafson of rural Emerson, left last month to begin basic training with the U.S. Army at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

She is expected to complete her basic training on Aug. 12 and then be sent to Fort Sam Houston, Texas for advanced training.

Pvt. Gustafson enlisted for six years and plans to serve in the medical field. She is a 1993 graduate of Wakefield High School.

Her present address is Pvt. Heather Gustafson, 508 93 2812, 3 Plt., E Co., 5th Battalion, 10th Infantry Regiment, Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; 65473-6300.

More puppies than they can handle

Members of the Scott Schultz family of rural Wayne were surprised last week when their Blond Lab "Taffy" delivered 16 puppies in one healthy litter. Schultz children Alex, 1, and Breinne, 8, are shown with the tired mother and her litter. Schultz said the veterinarian told them Taffy will not be able to rear the near record litter and they will have to find new homes for all but ten of the little labs. Schultz said they are looking for people who would be willing to adopt and bottle feed some of the little ones. They are free, said Schultz, whose number is 375-3152.

Jesse Rethwisch gave a report on the Chicken Show parade and Beth Loberg announced that the theme for the fair booth will be "A Hare Raising Experience."

It was announced that all 4-H's, 11 years and older, are expected to work at the food stand and that each family must bring a pie to the food stand at that time.

Members discussed the Randolph Fair, along with the club seal and Ag Olympics. Hailey Daehnke and Brandon Williams reported on the Halsey 4-H Camp which had a safari theme.

Jason Rethwisch gave a speech, entitled "A Kitten, Kids, and Camp."

The next meeting will follow fair cleanup on Aug. 2.

Nine families of the Blue Ribbon Winners 4-H Club met July 18 for their annual picnic in the Winside park. Entry tags and fair information were discussed.

The club will hold its annual pizza party following their adopt-a-highway cleanup on Aug. 22. Members are to meet at Mick Topp's at 2 p.m., with a rain date of Aug. 29.

YOUNG KATIE Schwartz assists Dale Mundil in performing a magic trick during the Winside library's summer reading closing program.

Magician performs for closing library program

The Winside library summer reading program, entitled "Books Come in All Flavors," concluded July 26 with ice cream cones for everyone and a magic show presented by Dale Mundil of Hooper.

Mundil is a student at Wayne State College and has been performing magic since age five when he received a magic kit for Christmas. At age seven, he entered a talent contest with his magic tricks and received first place and an engraved plaque.

Since then, Mundil has spent many hours practicing and improving his skills, often performing shows for scout groups, children's parties, library programs, community events and fund raisers throughout Nebraska and into Iowa.

His father, Ed Mundil of Hooper, serves as his agent and often assists him.

OVER 80 children participated in this year's reading program at Winside. There were 26 preschoolers enrolled in the weekly activities and 25 elementary age children. Of those, nine elementary children completed the games.

An average of 55 children participated each Monday evening.

Over 1,000 books were read, with Heidi and Christopher Kirsch reading the most books.

Each participant received a book mark, pencil and coupon to Goodrich Dairy. Prizes also were given away for the various game activities.

In addition to Winside library board members, other helpers for the summer were Connie Van Houten, Sarah Wagner, Sarah Rademacher and Wendy Morse.

Business seminar set

Northeast Nebraska business managers and employees can learn how to give visitors the best impression of their businesses and communities by participating in the seminar "Hospitality, Tourism, Customer Relations: Marketing Training for Your Employees and Your Business" on Wednesday, Aug. 18 in Northeast Community College's Agriculture/Allied Health Building.

Participants may attend one of two seminars, either 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. or 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

This seminar is being presented by Don Bell, nationally known for his stimulating, thought-provoking seminars designed to help businesses build a solid base of loyal satisfied customers.

Participants will learn three things that shape our attitudes and our actions, seven silent signals that draw customers to you, the power of asking rather than telling, how to handle stress — theirs and yours, what to do when the customer isn't right, how to anticipate complaints and diffuse them and a method better than compromise for resolving conflict.

Cost of the seminar is $10 per person.

For more information, or registration instructions, contact Northeast Community College, 1-800-348-9033, or 644-0600, or the Madison County Convention and Visitors Bureau, 371-2932.

In Pierce County

Wayne man receives Hall of Fame award

Wayne resident Ben Fuelberth, formerly a long-time resident of the Osmond community, was recently named recipient of the 1993 Pierce County Fair Hall of Fame award.

Fuelberth was a member of the fair board for 32 years, beginning in 1945 when he served as superintendent of the horse department, until 1977 when he decided it was time to step aside.

Ben Fuelberth

He was an enthusiastic supporter of the fair and through the years saw many changes. The fair played a large role in the lives of he and his first wife, the late Bertha Fuelberth.

His picture will now join the ranks of others named to the Hall of Fame in previous years, including Irvin Schomberg in 1983, Mae Malone in 1984, Emil Reikofski in 1985, Clara Parks in 1986, Owen and Betty Birch in 1987, Carol Pint in 1988, Erwin Kolterman in 1989, Malinda Thompson in 1990, Henry Kumpost in 1991, and Jason Wynn in 1992.

Fuelberth's family includes his present wife, Lena; son Alton and wife Leoma of Osmond; son Del and wife Jeanie of Battle Creek; and son-in-law John Cory of Wisner. A daughter, Elaine Cory, is deceased.

He has eight grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Irrigation specialist warns producers to watch soils

Irrigation systems in Northeast Nebraska have been inactive thus far due to abundant rainfall, but Bill Kranz, Irrigation Specialist with the University of Nebraska Northeast Research and Extension Center, hopes that irrigators will watch soil water contents closely during the next 6-8 weeks.

Frequent rainfall tends to make us assume that irrigation isn't necessary, says Kranz. However, since both corn and soybeans are developing rapidly, crop water use will increase sharply during the next 1-2 weeks, Kranz continued.

If rainfall doesn't fully meet crop water demand, soil water contents will drop. For example, for seven days (July 21-27), 1.5 inch of rain was recorded at the Northeast Center. Crop water use for corn emerging on May 26 was approximately 2 inches. Thus the soil water content was reduced by 0.5 inches.

When the soil water content is reduced to about 50 percent of the total water available to the crop, stress is possible. Stress that causes a one inch reduction in crop water use could result in a yield reduction of up to 8 bushels per acre. The most critical time for soil water content is at pollination. Stress during this period could cause an even greater yield reduction, stated Kranz.

Kranz also wants city residents to be mindful that center pivots are used to meet crop production goals other than water. For example, farmers with center pivots often apply nitrogen fertilizer through the irrigation system. Abundant rainfall this spring did not allow many farmers to apply nitrogen fertilizer.

Wayne County Bean Weed Wars

The 'Bean Buggies' were out in force this week with crews battling the weeds in what may be a good crop if there isn't an early frost. Area crops are still as much as two weeks behind schedule because of the cool wet summer.

Washington D.C. aides due for farm visits

When 12 legislative aides to urban Members of Congress leave Washington, D.C. Aug. 6, they will head to farms and ranches in Nebraska to gather information about agriculture through Nebraska Farm Bureau's Legislative Assistants Visitation Program.

The legislative aides will take time during the Congressional recess to spend a long weekend on a Farm Bureau member's farm and learn about the people and process of agricultural production and the effects of the severe storms that have recently swept through Nebraska.

"The timing is very good for the Congressional aides to visit Nebraska in order for them to see how the floods and wind storms have affected farm operations. At a time when Congress is considering disaster assistance and reforms to crop insurance, their visit will certainly give them a better understanding of how disasters personally affect farm families," said Rob Robertson, Farm Bureau vice president/government relations. The aides will be in Nebraska through Aug. 9.

This is the sixth year for the program. Each year 12 legislative aides are recommended by Nebraska Rep. Doug Bereuter's Washington staff, Robertson said. All handle agriculture or natural resources issues for their Member of Congress. However, all legislative aides are from urban areas and their knowledge of agriculture is limited. The visit to Nebraska will help them to see every step in agriculture, from the process food takes to get to the grocery store, to how changes in government affect a farmer or rancher, Robertson said.

"It's important to show the legislative assistants rural American life, to bridge the gap and build better relationships between rural and urban people. This visit is not a lobbying effort, but simply a chance for the legislative assistants to learn. As a result, they can give agriculture's perspective on the issues so an urban Member of Congress may be able to better understand rural America," Robertson said.

Farm Bureau host families will meet their guests in Lincoln Aug. 6 and take them to the farm. They will first get an orientation about Nebraska agriculture from Nebraska Director of Agriculture Larry Sitzman. Then they will visit the University of Nebraska's Food Processing Center, so the legislative aides get a firsthand look at what goes into the processing of food, Robertson said. "The legislative assistants will see how farmers must sometimes change the way they raise food to make it more appealing to the consumer," he said.

At the farm, host families will continue their daily chores. "Over the years, the aides have helped feed the livestock, farrow pigs, irrigate crops or whatever the farm family was doing on the farm or ranch," Robertson said. Host families will also find time to schedule other events for the aide, such as attending county fairs, community picnics or visiting other farm operations in the area, he said.

In Northeast Nebraska, the Farm Bureau host families and their visiting legislative aides are:

Dakota City — Tim and Barbara Heikes, members of Dakota County Farm Bureau, will host Gioia Lucic, legislative assistant for Rep. Robert Torricelli (D-NJ).

Madison — Bryce and Shirley Neidig, members of Madison County Farm Bureau, will host Alfred Raider, director of the House of Representatives Export Task Force made up of many Members of the House.

Wayne — Merle and Donna Ring, members of Wayne County Farm Bureau, will host Rick Gonzales, legislative assistant for Rep. Lucille Roybal-Allard (D-CA).

BEEF BY-PRODUCTS

When most of us think of beef we usually think of meat and that's it. While 98% of every animal is used, less than half is actually eaten as nutritious beef.

Extracts from internal organs such as pancreas, liver, and small intestine are used in the treatment of anemia and hypoglycemia. Epinephrine from the adrenal glands is used to stimulate the heart and to treat asthma. Insulin and glucagon from the pancreas is used in the treatment of diabetes, reduces inflammation of burn victims, and is used for cataract removal. Parts of the pituitary glands are used in labor-inducing drugs, arthritis and allergic treatment and is used for cancer treatment.

Industrial uses of fat and gelatin include rubber tires, photographic film, stage light filters and the transfer of ink to the copy paper in printers.

External products of hide, hooves, and hair are used in sports equipment, leather furniture and clothing, glue and paint brushes. Stop by for more beef facts and recipes.
