'In Wayne County we work together'

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Working in unison with cities and villages was a recurrent theme of the Wayne County Commissioners meeting Tuesday.

The commissioners approved inter-local agreements with Wayne for trash disposal and implementing E-911 charges on phone bills, discussed the request of a rural school board for better staffing of the county superintendent's office and proceeded with plans to implement a joint County Village Planning Commission.

New environmental rules have forced the county to offer alternative waste disposal methods for rural residents than the traditional burning and private landfill methods in use today.

THE NEW RULES take effect Oct. 1 and the county will be contracting with the city of Wayne to permit rural residents to take their trash to the city transfer station for hauling to the landfill near Jackson.

Rural residents will have to pay the yet to be settled fee for disposal at the transfer station, but it will likely be the same fee charged to city residents, said Mike Pieper, County Attorney. Pieper also followed the joint operating theme of the meeting, in asking commissioners to recognize, in their minutes, that he is working on the agreement as both city attorney and county attorney. He said the problem with conflict of interest in the case was minimal since everyone's best interests were being served by the agreement.

Additional county users of the city facility will increase the revenue used to finance the Wayne transfer facility.

UNDER THE new state and federal environmental regulations, rural burning pits, open burning and landfills on private property will be outlawed with residents required to take their refuse to licensed landfills or transfer facilities.

Permits will be required for any open burning such as trees and shrubs. The new rules are also expected to put an end to the city burning pile on Highway 15 by Logan Creek. Wayne is already investigating a grinder to turn the piles of leaves and limbs into mulch.

The commissioners also approved the implementation of a 50 cent surcharge per month on all phone bills within the 375 exchange. The surcharge funds will be used to help finance the cost of equipment to implement the enhanced 911 emergency dispatching system. With E-911 emergency dispatchers will know the exact address of the person who calls for an emergency even if the caller does not know the location or cannot stay on the line.

IT WILL BE several years before the system is available in Wayne, according to Police Chief Vern Fairchild.

A group of parents and school board members from Wayne County Rural District 25 attended the commissioners' meeting Tuesday to ask that the board reconsider its announced budget cutting move to reduce the work load and pay for Maxine Kraemaer, assistant county superintendent.

With fewer schools open and affiliation and merger efforts, the commissioners during budget talks had decided to reduce the salaries in the superintendent's office, but the school group said the assistant superintendent was too valuable to them. It was suggested to reduce the pay of the Superintendent Harry Mills instead, or contract with another county for superintendent services for the rural schools.

MILLS' SALARY as an elected official, is set for four years and cannot be changed until the next election in 1994 county clerk Debra Finn explained.

"We know you have to make cuts," said Glen Meyer, a member of the school board, "but you have to make the right cuts and we don't think this is one of them." He and others in the group said Mrs. Kraemaer has done

Taking a breather

Wayne State running back Lamont Rainey takes a breather by putting a cold towel over his head after scoring his second touchdown during the Wildcats 32-19 romp over UNO, Saturday. Wayne State's home opener will be Saturday with a 5:45 p.m. contest against Morningside, a 34-7 winner over NAIA rated Northwestern, Saturday.

Former senator sues partner

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) -- A former state senator awaiting sentencing for a theft charge has sued his former law partner over assets from their law firm.

In a lawsuit filed this week in Dakota County District Court, former Sen. Kurt Hohenstein of Dakota City seeks an unspecified share of assets from the law firm he once had with Kurt Rager of South

Sioux City.

Hohenstein resigned from the Legislature and pleaded guilty to one felony theft charge under a plea agreement. A special prosecutor's promised not to file state charges for other alleged thefts listed in the plea agreement. However, Hohenstein may be ordered to pay restitution in those cases.

Hohenstein pleaded guilty last month to a charge stemming from the theft of about $30,000 from a client. The incident occurred before Hohenstein's election to the Legislature in November 1992.

No sentencing date has been set. Prosecutors have said Hohenstein may have stolen as much as $50,000 from the Rager and Hohenstein firm

Four-star display site is sought

A group of Wayne veterans are trying to decide what to do with several crates of military memorabilia gathered during the state-staged career of Wayne native James B. Davis.

Davis, who retired this summer as a four-star general in the Air Force, has sent 500 pounds of awards, gifts and other memorabilia to Wayne for possible display at the Wayne Vets Club. Davis, at the time of his retirement was commander of the allied forces in Europe.

He and his wife have retired to Florida.

"We know it isn't every town or even every state that has a full general to be proud of, but the veterans associations in town have very limited finances," said Roy Sommerfeld, who said a group has formed to raise funds to properly house and display the artifacts.

"He is certainly worthy of recognition by his hometown," said Wayne Denklauf, county veteran's service officer.

One suggestion the group has already been given is to name the municipal airport after Davis and place a display room there for the decorated Vietnam combat veteran's

'Cats need homes

Wayne area families are still needed who are willing to "adopt" a Wayne state college freshman to serve as the student's "home away from home."

Under the new fledgling "adopt a student" program, implemented through the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce, families in Wayne are helping students from long distances to become more familiar with the community and overcome any "homesickness," according to Curt Wilwerding, chamber executive.

Over 20 students signed up for the program and a few families from Wayne are still needed to "adopt" them. The adoption procedure usually means nothing more than inviting the student over for dinner occasionally, remembering them on birthdays and special occasions, helping them fit in at church or other community organizations, and baking them brownies during finals week," said Wilwerding.

He recalls as a college student, being adopted by a local couple who were especially helpful one semester when he got sick.

Lifelong friendships are developed through programs like this, not

It never rains, but...

Everything seems to go wrong at once.

If your paper is late today, we apologize. We have to tell you in print because you'll have difficulty calling to complain. The phones are out at The Wayne Herald. Besides that delaying factor and the disruption that a Monday holiday brings to the schedule, the crews also experienced computer aggravations galore.

General repairs have been promised Wednesday.

A lot is a lot

The parking lot on the east edge of Wayne State College gives a clear indication that enrollment is up because there is no room for any more parking. This lot is not unlike any other WSC parking lot as those wishing to visit the campus, must plan accordingly.

Planting project draws praise

WAYNE — The tree planting project conducted by Wayne County to introduce a variety of healthy new trees to the courthouse square has drawn words of praise from state forester Steve Rasmusen.

The state forester, who helped the county plan and orders the trees, told the Small Business Administration in a letter concerning the county's application for grant funding for the tree planting project, that the county has done an excellent job of watering and caring for the trees.

Smoke-free

WAYNE COUNTY — Don't smoke if you go to the Wayne County courthouse to do business. The commissioners officially implemented a smoke-free workplace policy for the courthouse Tuesday. The new rules will take effect Oct. 1. Smokeless tobacco users are still okay in the courthouse as commissioners, one of whom still enjoys a chew, decided to wait and see how the new smoking ban would be accepted before taking any other steps.

Forum to be held at the library

WAYNE — The Wayne Public Library will be holding a National Issues Forum on "The Day Care Dilemma: Who Should Be Responsible for the Children?" The program will be held on Friday, Sept. 17 at 7 p.m. in the lower level of the library.

The Day Care Dilemma is one of several topics offered by the National Issues Forum as a means to bring citizens together to listen and discuss problems of common interest. Three choices for possible solutions will be presented by moderator Pat Lutt. No group consensus is attempted so that each participant can make his/her own choice.

Day Care providers, parents and any caregivers are encouraged to attend. Booklets are available at the library to read before the forum. Refreshments will be served.

"I just thank the Lord for Dr. Feidler."

Dolores Barker had cataracts.

She had "No-Stitch" Cataract Surgery.

"We were in New Jersey to see my new granddaughter and we came through a terrible mountain snow storm. It was like two hours of constant snow on the windshield. When we got to the motel I told my husband that my left eye was real blurry. The next morning it felt better, but my vision was still blurred. So when we got home I just thought I needed my glasses changed. My vision just kept getting worse. When I came to Dr. Feidler's office, he examined my eyes and discovered cataracts.

I had no-stitch cataract surgery at 7 a.m. and took the patch off that afternoon. I had virtually no pain, and I could see fine. You don't realize how bad your vision is until you have the surgery and can actually see everything perfect. If you have cataracts...have it done immediately. Today I have 20/20 vision in my eye, thanks to Dr. Feidler. I just thank the Lord for Dr. Feidler"

The view from backstage

Dear Editor:
Did you know that Chorus members Connie Hall and Karen Schardt, when not onstage for three song and dance numbers in Act I, were Gwen Jensen's dressers backstage — changing Mame into 154 different costumes each performance (plus three dress rehearsals!)
When chorus member Dave Lebsock wasn't singing onstage, or being a painter or policeman, he was prompting "backstage right."
Father Burnside (Evelyn Sheekler) is a ham radio operator and American Red-Cross volunteer. When not onstage for the Fox Hunt scene, she was busy backstage left lining up properties to be grabbed by actors, prompting lines and ringing doorbells.
Agnes Gooch (Lindy Welch) in real life teaches music at Newcastle and is the 'backstage wife' of Todd Welch who designed the sets for his senior theatre project for WSC. Several cast members including Lindy, Chris Headley, Glenda Schluns and Tom Cook, helped Todd and Dan Chase build and paint the sets.
The "Mame" song backdrop was originally used in "The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe." Todd merely painted out the castle. Sunday from 5:30 to 7 p.m. all cast and crew members helped disassemble these very sets, removing nails from anything "longer than your forearm," storing them for use by WSC in future productions. Todd says that wooden sets can be painted over anywhere from 10 to 14 times!
AND the chorus member, Shelley McLendon, who adjusted her garter in Scene 1 and passed for a teenager in Act II (she's 24), was visiting her friend Cousin Fan (Tamera Redmon) for two weeks from Greenville, S.C. Special thanks to director Corinne Morris for all her choreography and good direction. And another round of thank yous to WSC college students in their first week of fall semester for serving as stage crew and members of orchestra. Thanks and sympathy to cast members who performed each night during their first week of school, too, and to those who were working their "day jobs" all during the many July and August rehearsals. That's Show Business in Wayne, America.

I recruited Connie Hall for the chorus in early July because we needed more first sopranos. At the first chorus rehearsal she attended, Corinne did our first walk through of the "Mame" dance. Afterwards, Connie smiled "sweetly" at me and said, "You didn't tell me we were going to have to dance, too." And I said "I didn't know." Thanks to music director, Darci, for never doubting we could learn to sing "It's Today." And thanks to Karen Schardt for teaching the chorus how to dance the Charleston. Did you know that Patrick (Jon Gathje) never practiced at home, and had his lines learned before some adults had theirs learned? Ah, youth! And a special thanks to the children in the chorus for learning to sing "Open a New Window" and "The Fox Hunt" at least as well as the adults!

Capitol News —

'Operation pipeline' gets plugged

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — "Sure is nice weather we've been having. Can I see your license and registration, and, oh, how about letting me search your car for drugs?"
Increasingly, this type of seemingly casual banter has become one of the Nebraska State Patrol's key weapons in its fight to stop the flow of drugs through the Cornhusker State.
Dubbed "Operation Pipeline," the state patrol initiative has troopers cruising the interstate, looking for potential drug runners. If a trooper finds a likely looking suspect, he or she will see if there isn't some reason to pull the driver over.

The trooper saunters up to the stopped car and starts chatting about seemingly innocuous things like the weather or where the suspected drug runner is going. If the driver's story doesn't seem believable or if the trooper spots something else to raise his suspicions, he asks if he can search the car.
Oh sure, the driver can refuse the search. All he has to do is look right in the eye of that guy in the Smokey the Bear hat — you know, the one with the large shiny badge and the big gun on his belt — and say, "No, thank you."

Imagine the nerve of some people. The trooper has training, a badge from the state, a gun and the zeal to remove drugs and drug runners from the streets. For the drivers who get stopped, all they have on their sides is a little 'ol thing called the United States Constitution.
Well, thank goodness for judges. Nobody wants drugs in our community. But that doesn't mean we should want the police harassing people by detaining and searching them based on the color of their skin. That sounds a little like racism to me.
York County Judge Bryce Bartu said earlier this year that troopers stopping people to search their cars for drugs better have a better reason than the fact the driver is a Mexican driving an old car with out-of-state license plates. The Nebraska Court of Appeals said last week that Bartu was right.

This country offers constitutional protections that prevent the police from going on searches willy nilly. They have to have a very good reason, or in legal terms, "probable cause."
Probable cause means they have to have some reason for thinking you committed a crime. The fact that your grandparents came from Spain or Mexico doesn't even come close.
In Nebraska, Hispanics make up about 3 percent of the state population. But when you look at the Operation Pipeline arrests you will see that 46 percent of those busted by the State Patrol are Hispanic.
It makes you wonder how many people, Hispanics included, were stopped and searched when troopers didn't find any drugs.
Drugs are a terrible scourge in our community. They are taking a toll on all of our lives in countless ways.
Trying to stop the flow of drugs is a worthy fight. But it's not worth trampling all over the constitutional bedrock of our society in a way that could cause more damage than the drugs ever could.
The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Proud of performers

Dear Editor:
Last weekend we attended the Wayne Community Theatre production of "Mame." People traveled hundreds of miles to see this production and it was an outstanding performance.
Wayne should be proud to know that they have a community of wonderful people who can pull together and create entertainment for all age groups.
We would like to commend the people who helped make "Mame" possible. Their long hours over the summer have not gone unnoticed.

Gwen Jensen who played the role of "Mame," Jon Gathje who played "young Patrick" should especially be commended for their extraordinary theatrical and singing roles.
We're proud of you!

don'tcha take Dorie an' git yerself up to the courthouse. So-o-o-o, yer wanta go?"
"I'll hafta git all gussied up."
"Well, gitta gussian, an' let's go."
"HERE'S THE courtroom. S'pouse they'll let us in?"
"No problem! Act like ya know whatcher doin'. Actin' is the name of the game, Dorie."
"Whatcha mean?"
"An' actor is a person who tries not to be 'imself. Believe me, the courtroom is a place fer actin'. Sorta like professional wrestlin', ya know? Let's sit right here."
"Who's the feller in the black robe?"
"Sh-h-h-h! That's the judge. Makes 'im look diplomatic."
"What character duz he play?"
"Depends on the case. Sometimes the judge sez 'yes', but means 'perhaps'; an' when he sez 'perhaps', he means 'no'; an' when he sez 'no', the lawyers don't like it a bit!"
"Why don't they jist go with the truth?"
"Theater ain't a place fer truth, hon. It's fer actin'."

"Is that a crook in front of the bench?"
"Yes an' no. He's a crook now. He wuz a lawyer."
"I declare! Then, whose that feller standin' 'side 'em?"
"That's the crook's lawyer. They feels two heads is better'n none."
"MUST BE THE actin' judge talkin' now?"
"Right. An' in front of 'im are the actin' lawyers an' the actin' defendant. Ain't this somethin'!"
"How's they actin'?"
"Like veterans, Dorie, but confusin'! See, the felon usedta act as county attorney, then he got lected as state senator. While actin' as senator, folk discovered that while he wuz actin' as county attorney he wuz also actin' as a thief. Bein' found out, he quit actin' like a lawyer and senator, an' now he's actin' as a felon. Understand?"
"Ya means the felon has played attorney, prosecutin' lawyer, state senator, an' now the judge thinks he's ready fer playin' the big time? What an actor!"

Wannabe flyboys

Following the mystic of old warbird

Some youngsters never outgrow the love they hold for ships, planes and cars that gets instilled in them when they build models in their youth.
Historic sailing warships were my passion although I built more than my share of model B-17s, P-51s, and F-104s. The Strategic Air Command Museum in Omaha is higher on my list of favorite places to waste a few hours than the dining room.
That's why I was excited when the Confederate Air Force announced it would be flying its one of its historic B-17s to Norfolk next week for a three-day display (Monday through Wednesday).

Mann Overboard

in one of those little models that dangled from a string on the ceiling of his room.
Oh, well, maybe there will be other opportunities.
Speaking of opportunities on the airplane front, Wayne has a tremendous opportunity to honor one of the nation's top flyboys, four-star general, James B. Davis.
When Davis, a native of Wayne, retired after serving as commander of Allied Forces in Europe, he sent over 500 pounds of memorabilia to the Wayne Vets Club for possible display.
A four star general who is the commander of key forces accumulates a good bit of awards, gifts from heads of state and all the trappings of a distinguished career as a decorated combat pilot in Vietnam. A place to display his collection is needed.
Additionally, the community needs to raise a fitting monument to the accomplishments of Davis.
Rowan Wiltsch hit on what I think is a capital idea. Lets name the airport after Davis and get the Air Force to send us one of the jets he flew in Vietnam to put on a pedestal out there as a monument to our native son's achievements.
We could have quite a party surrounding the naming and unveiling of the monument. The governor would likely want to come. A room could be dedicated at the airport for the General's memorabilia and we'd have an attractive new entrance feature for the community.
We should be proud of the general's accomplishments and we should let all passersby know of our pride in him.
Naming the airport after him and getting a big jet to display there is a great idea.
Especially since then I won't have to go so far to wait so long to walk around a big warbird and dream.

I plan to go take the tour. The last time I was in a B-17 I still recall as one of the great regrets of my life. The Confederate Air Force (historic airplane buffs who restore and fly old warplanes) landed the other of its two B-17s in Chadron one afternoon on a refueling stop.
The old flyboys from miles around flocked to the airport, many of them had flown in the bombers during the war. While the crew refueled and ate lunch, we visited and I learned they were flying to an air show in Pendleton, Ore., my home town. When I told them this, they offered me a seat in the Plexiglass nose of the big bomber. The pilot said I could ride out there with them that afternoon and catch a commercial flight back.
I was too busy, too chicken, too responsible, and now too sorry.
It would have been the trip of a life time for a kid who once dreamed of flying

No back-to-school worries this year!

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

The Big Farmer reminded me this week that this is the first fall in 27 years that we don't have someone in school. He's right.

No back-to-school clothes, notebooks, or back packs. No volleyball practices. No tuition bills, or books to buy, or schedules to worry about.

They were all making their own car payments a couple of years ago. Now they are all paying their own insurance, also. Hallelujah!

Sure enough, the minute schools were starting again, the temperature cranked up. The pool at the park was almost empty yesterday afternoon. And the traffic in Lincoln was unbelievable. Guess it isn't quite done raining either.

As I followed the school bus on our road, I remembered:

Sue's first day and the look she gave me as she opened the door and disappeared into that big old school building. Kindergarten graduation a short nine months later.

Music programs, field days, the annual fourth-grade trip to Lincoln, band lessons, Christmas parties, class plays, slumber parties and birthdays.

Book reports, geography maps, math flash cards, science projects and art displays. I found some of these when I was packing last fall.

There were forgotten PE clothes, lost meal tickets and parent-teacher conferences.

Junior high brought lockers, study halls, Saturday games and band uniforms.

High school: algebra, computers, English Lit, swing choir, band trips, homecoming, music contest and track meets at WSC; varsity uniforms, prom, musicals, year books, conference clinics and ACT tests.

All of a sudden, the Kindergarten was in college and had a roommate in a dorm. Then, a job, an apartment, new friends, tougher subjects.

Her siblings followed and kept us busy for 12 years. But it's a strange feeling when the goals we set so long ago are finally reached. I suppose we'll have a short period of withdrawal. Then the grandkids will repeat the cycle. I just hope we can stick around long enough to relive some of the high spots with them. Yes, Moms, it really does come to an end. Enjoy!

Fourth annual senior citizen camp planned

The Nebraska State 4-H Camp at Halsey recently announced the organization of a statewide Senior Citizen Camp.

According to Bernie Lorkovic, State Camp Director, "Camp 'YEPIE' (Youthful Energetic People Interested in Everything), as it is named, is open to all Nebraskans 50 years of age, and older." "A variety of educational and recreational activities will be provided," according to Lorkovic.

The camp is located two miles west of Halsey in the Nebraska National Forest on Highway 2. The camp is scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 18 and end on Wednesday, Oct. 20 around 1 p.m.

According to Meryn Haight, Director of the Agency on Aging in North Platte, co-organizer of the event, "There is a little bit of everything in the schedule. It's almost like going to summer camp all over again. This is the fifth year for Camp YEPIE, and each year it gets bigger and better."

"We intend to make use of the beautiful sunsets, and the morning smell of the pines rushing over hills, to its fullest," according to Lorkovic. "The campers will stay in cabins, each fully heated with private bath and shower facilities."

Those who wish to register for the camp, or need more information, should contact their local Senior Center, or the Nebraska State 4-H Camp at Halsey, PO Box 87, Halsey, NE 69142 or (308) 533-2224.

Glen Van Ekeren, director, from the People Building Institute will take the audience through a process where they get out of the "chicken coop" as "chickens" and take to the sky, live like an eagle, experiencing life to the fullest. Participants will learn to take the common elements in their life and use them to achieve uncommon heights.

Registration is due Sept. 13, for a fee of $15 which includes materials, lunch and breaks. After Sept. 13, the late registration fee is $20. Send registration to Cooperative Extension, P.O. Box 245, Waldhill, Neb. 68067. Phone, 846-5656.

If you are interested in improving the quality of child care this conference has many workshops that will teach "hands on" activities working with kids.

Some of the workshop that will be presented are as follows: "Are You a Day Care Doormat?" Attitudes; business-savvy; location, economics and self-esteem influence how others treat you. Discover changes that can help you dig out of the doormat trap.

"Cheap Science Tricks — Part II." Back by popular demand, Mary and Kathey Albrecht, have a whole new set of science tricks. Creativity will abound with easily obtained materials for both indoor and outdoor play.

"Taming the Tigers." Discipline becomes difficult when you are challenged by a strong-willed child. How to deal with lying, blaming and constant aggression. How to work with children that defy the ground rules and find themselves constantly faced with correction.

Cable negotiations ongoing

As the deadline approaches for the implementation of the 1992 Cable Act, Carroll CableVision continues to negotiate with local broadcasters to gain permission to broadcast their signal. Any necessary changes to Carroll CableVision's channel line-up as a result of the 1992 Cable Act will be announced on Sept. 15 and implemented on Oct. 6.

"In an attempt to avoid unnecessary rate increases and keep our rates in line with other cable television companies, we must negotiate with local broadcasters for the lowest possible rates. This is exactly what we are doing," said Ken Mowery, Carroll CableVision's technician.

The 1992 Cable Act gives local broadcasters the right to ask cable systems for compensation for their signal while it remains free to non-cable subscribers. Permission to broadcast a local signal on a cable system may be granted with or without compensation. KMEG (CBS) and KCAU (ABC) both from Sioux City have given Carroll CableVision their consent to broadcast their signal at no-cost. Presently KTIV (NBC), also from Sioux City, is asking Carroll CableVision for compensation. Negotiations with KTIV will continue until Sept. 14.

Renee Myers, Carroll CableVision marketing manager, said, "Presently, we are negotiating with KTIV, hoping to achieve no-cost consent since non-cable subscribers will continue to receive KTIV free of charge. Our ultimate goal is to continue to provide the absolute best cable television service to our customers at an affordable price. We will continue to maintain this position keeping our subscribers' interests as our top priority."

Carroll CableVision is willing to answer any questions and respond to any concerns. Please call the marketing department toll-free at 533-1000.

Hohenstein neither admits nor denies having taken funds from the firm, said his attorney, David Domina of Omaha.

"There is money due Kurt no matter what," Domina told the Omaha World-Herald.

Hohenstein's lawsuit, which was filed Monday, asks the court to dissolve the corporation involving Hohenstein and Rager and to liquidate its assets.

Rager has argued that Hohenstein forfeited his interest in the firm when he voluntarily surrendered his law license in April.

Rager's allegation that Hohenstein misappropriated law firm money will be an issue in the case, said Wayne Boyd of South Sioux City, Rager's attorney.

"In all likelihood, there will be offsetting claims," Boyd said.

Leadership class

Northeast Community College will sponsor the Developing Your Leadership Style program from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 8, 15 and 22.

The program is three, one-day comprehensive, intensive workshops aimed at enhancing high performance of leaders, and those they lead.

The workshops are Developing Your Leadership Style, Leading into the 21st Century and Building a Customer Base.

Participants will explore their optimum leadership style and learn to capitalize on their strengths. They will also learn to analyze the leadership styles of others, and find ways to better understand and capitalize on the strengths of others. They will also discover the secrets successful leaders know about how to lead groups effectively, and how to deal with difficult people.

Participants will also learn to listen to improve productivity, use time more wisely, and deal with difficult people effectively and efficiently.

For more information concerning the workshops, costs and registration procedures, contact Joe Ferguson, Northeast Community College, 644-0587.

THE COMMISSIONERS said they would take the request under advisement.

In another round of working with local entities, the commissioners approved the concept of working with the villages of Carroll, Hoskins and Winside to implement a joint planning and zoning authority for the county and those villages.

The goal is to implement land use planning, especially in the southwest corner of Wayne County, which is experiencing the urban spread from Norfolk. Specifics of the inter-local agreement still have to be worked out, but time is of the essence, said Sid Saunders, county highway superintendent.

A "road race of development" is underway, explained Saunders as developers seek to get projects underway before the new zoning regulations are implemented. Hog confinement facilities, housing projects and more are in the works, he said.

"IF WE DON'T get moving on this, we're going to get so much grandfathers in, it won't make any difference," said Saunders. He said he expected the villages involved to act on the agreement this month and possibly the new joint planning commission could meet next month. Presentation of a new comprehensive plan and subdivision regulations would be about the first item on its agenda and public hearing could be held on those new regulations as early as January, he said.

The nine-member board would oversee development in all areas of the county except Wayne. If its decisions could be appealed to the village boards or the county commissioners, in whose area the development is proposed. One member each on the board would serve from the three villages.

New instructor hired

The GOLDEN YEARS

by Pat Lichty

Inspired by a New York City exhibit of the works of painter Constance Sampson, age 96, a member of the Arts Council in nearby Putnam County proposed an exhibit with a unique twist: Participating artists would be age 75 or older. Among the first to sign up was Henry Wallace, 82. A retired chemist, Wallace now is a painter, photographer and poet. "It's essential to remain active," Wallace told an interviewer. "You have to contribute to life in order to live."

The "empty nest" isn't so empty for a growing number of older parents. An increasing number of adult sons and daughters are living with their parents, mainly because of economic pressures. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 12 percent of Americans in the 25 to 34 age group are living with their parents.

Arthritis? Capsaicin Cream Is Different

Osteoarthritis is the most common form of joint disease and occurs in most of us with advancing age. For pain, many people rely on nonprescription medicines containing aspirin, ibuprofen, or acetaminophen. These medicines are effective pain relievers. Some people apply a nonprescription ointment, gel, or cream to painful areas. Many such products have the aroma of wintergreen and contain methyl salicylate.

Another approach to arthritis pain is application of a capsaicin cream to joint areas. Capsaicin comes from plants and, according to Dr. Thomas Schnitzer, M.D., Ph.D., writing in Postgraduate Medicine, has no serious adverse effects. It does not have a wintergreen odor and is available without prescription. Capsaicin causes depletion in nerve endings of a substance that is necessary for pain to be transmitted to the brain. Dr. Schnitzer rates capsaicin as effective.

'Cats break two offensive records in 32-19 win over UNO Salisbury launches air assault

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Wayne State senior quarterback Brett Salisbury may have played his first game ever as a Wildcat, Saturday against UNO in Omaha, but he made an impression both on the Mavericks and the WSC record books.

Salisbury picked apart the UNO secondary for 487 yards en route to leading the 'Cats to their most prolific total offensive day in history with 569 yards.

The Wildcats defeated UNO, 32-19 in a game that wasn't nearly as close as the final score in front of 4900 onlookers. Mavericks return man Maurad Cave gave the partisan UNO supporters something to cheer about early as he returned the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, giving the host team a 6-0 lead after just 13 seconds. The extra point kick failed.

The rest of the game was all Wayne State. The first snap of the game was Salisbury's first football action in two seasons and the layoff didn't seem to hurt him as he completed a six-yard pass to another first-year player, wide receiver Byron Chamberlin.

The pass to Chamberlin was the start of another Wayne State record as Chamberlin finished the game with 210 total receiving yards to etch his name into Wildcat history.

WSC punted the ball on its first possession and the Wildcats defense took the field for the first time at the 12:31 mark of the first quarter and simply looked impressive.

UNO quarterback Josh Luedtke over threw his first pass attempt on first down and Lamont White was tackled behind the line of scrimmage on the second play leaving the Mavericks with a third down and 11 call. That's when Luedtke was sacked for a nine-yard loss—the first of 11 quarterback sacks by the 'Cats.

WSC began moving the ball on its second possession which ended with a 25-yard field goal from Andy Parr. The 'Cats' next possession ended with Salisbury hitting Chamberlin on a short pass play which ended up going 90 yards for a touchdown on a third down and four call from their own 10-yard line.

Early in the second quarter it was Damon Thomas' turn for a big play. The 'Cats had the ball again at their own nine-yard line. Salisbury hit Thomas for a 10-yard gain and then hit Thomas again with a 21-yard strike. On the next play Salisbury found Thomas again on a short pass pattern and Thomas did the rest, scoring from 60 yards out.

WSC had a 16-6 lead at the intermission on its way to scoring 32 unanswered points. The Wildcats took the opening kickoff in the third quarter and marched 73 yards on nine plays, culminating on a 10-yard run by Lamont Rainey.

The 'Cats defense held UNO on its first possession and on the next offensive possession they marched 70 yards in 10 plays and Rainey scored from four yards out giving WSC a 29-6 lead. The final scoring of the day for WSC came at the 10:35 mark of the fourth quarter as Parr booted his second field goal of the day, this one from 30 yards out.

UNO added two touchdowns in the final nine minutes of the game on a 24-yard pass from Jason Cahill to Todd Hurt and an 18-yard pass to John Medley leaving the final margin of victory at 13.

"This was a big win for us," Wayne State head coach Dennis Wagner said. "It sets the tempo for our season and it's a big win over an inter-state rival which helps on bragging rights in recruiting, but despite the fact it was a big win, we have to forget about it and prepare for a good, solid Morningside team which will come in here and play us on Saturday."

Wagner said he has a confident Wildcat bunch but it's a cautious confidence. There were several new faces in the WSC offensive line and Wagner felt they played pretty well. "I was a little disappointed in our run blocking but we gave Brett plenty of time to throw the ball," Wagner said. "As far as our new quarterback Salisbury is concerned, he did everything we hoped he would do and more."

Wagner said his senior signal caller showed great leadership. "After UNO scored on the opening kickoff, 'Salsy' called the offense together and told them not get shaken because there was a lot of game left and they hadn't even taken the field yet," Wagner said. "He did a nice job of keeping things in order."

Wagner said his biggest disappointment on the game was the lack of quality special teams play. "It wasn't just kickoff coverage but all of our special teams play," Wagner said. "We missed a couple key blocks on our returns which could have went for big plays and we had a bad snap on an extra point attempt so it was our special teams play across the board that was below satisfactory."

Defensively, the 'Cats played well. "We had a couple of defensive linemen get hurt which didn't allow us to substitute the way we would have liked," Wagner said, "but when we needed a big play on defense they responded."

Wagner said his defense did some bonding but did not break. Defensive coordinator Mark Gritton thought his defense played steady. "We played pretty well with the exception of that last quarter," Gritton said. "When you can shut out a team for three-plus quarters on its home field you are playing pretty good defense."

Gritton said Shaft Baker didn't even make the trip because of an elbow injury and that Jason Claussen went down with a slight ankle injury. Mike Wilson was also dinged a little bit but Gritton says that all three will be in action Saturday against Morningside.

Senior defensive tackle Brad Ottis finished with eight unassisted tackles, including five quarterback sacks, a fumble recovery and a total of minus 50 yards in losses.

Bernie Muller and John Adkisson each had nine tackles while BYRON CHAMBERLIN hauls in one of his eight catches against UNO, Saturday. Chamberlin set a Wayne State record for receiving yards with 210.

Bill Fedderson and Scott Eisenhauer had seven stops each. Fedderson had three quarterback sacks while Eisenhauer and Adkisson had one apiece.

Maurice Arrington and Jason McIntyre had six tackles each and Wilson Hookfin had four. Mike Wilson had three tackles including a quarterback sack and Rupert Williams also had three tackles as did Sean Francisco.

Salisbury was 28-37 through the air for 487 yards and two touchdowns with one interception after a tipped pass. Chamberlin finished with 210 yards receiving while Damon Thomas had 10 catches for 165 yards.

Jason Williams was the top rusher with 42 yards on 11 carries while Lamont Rainey had 30 yards on 14 carries.

Saturday's contest with Morningside in the "Egg Bowl" will begin at 5:45 p.m. at Memorial Field.

THE WAYNE football team fell to Schuyler by a 27-12 score. Coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said the Blue Devils played a good football game with the exception of a couple mental mistakes. Wayne will remain at home Friday for a contest with Hooper-Logan View.

Wayne Blue Devils lose season opener

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Wayne football team opened up the 1993 season at home against the 10th ranked Schuyler Warriors, Friday night and Lonnie Ehrhardt's squad fell, 27-12.

Wayne battled two major hurdles the whole game—mental mistakes and Schuyler running back Ryan Holscher, both of which proved costly. Holscher gained 176 yards on 19 carries and scored all 27 of Schuyler's points on four touchdowns and three extra points.

"Obviously, we're disappointed with the loss," Ehrhardt said. "I'd have to say the number one reason, though is because of mental mistakes. We came out with a real inexperienced team and we had plenty of chances to make good things happen but just didn't."

Holscher scored his first touchdown with 4:34 left in the first quarter on a two-yard run. His second came on a 35-yard scamper with 11:11 left in the second quarter and the third of the first half came with 22 seconds left before intermission on a 22-yard run.

"Being down 21-0 at the half we could have folded but we didn't," Ehrhardt said. "We played well in the second half scoring two touchdowns and just missing on two more."

Schuyler took a 27-0 lead at the 9:19 mark of the third quarter on Holscher's 23-yard run. Wayne's first score came at the 5:16 mark of the fourth quarter on a three-yard run by Josh Starzl. Then with 36 seconds left in the game Ryan Pick hit Jason Carr on a seven-yard scoring strike.

In the third quarter Wayne's Dusty Jensen scored what was thought to be the first touchdown of the year for Wayne but the official spotted the ball inside the one yard line. Then on fourth down quarterback Matt Blomenkamp's sneak was also short.

"That hurt some of our momentum," Ehrhardt said. "Then later in the period we moved the ball down in to scoring territory again and we were intercepted in the endzone."

Ehrhardt, however, said his team gave a tremendous effort against the 10th ranked Warriors. The Blue Devils garnered 93 rushing yards and 125 passing yards while Schuyler ran for 228 yards and threw for 27 yards.

Blomenkamp was 5-16 with three interceptions for 118 yards and Ryan Pick was 1-2 for seven yards and a touchdown. Dusty Jensen ran for 48 yards to lead the ground gainers and Jason Carr was the top receiver with 64 yards on three receptions.

Defensively, Wayne was led by Matt Robins with 12 tackles while Jason Shultheis had nine. Jensen and Josh Starzl had seven each while Kelly Meyer and Jeff Hamer had six apiece. Mike Williams finished with five while Jason Carr, Cody Stracke and Andy Witkowski had four each.

Jason Starzl had Wayne's lone interception while Carr, Witkowski and Ryan Brown each had a fumble recovery.

Wayne will look for its initial win of the season on Friday when they host Hooper-Logan View at 7:30 at Memorial Field.

Wayne nets runner-up finish at Beemer

The Wayne volleyball team settled for runner-up honors at the Beemer Invitational, Saturday in Beemer.

The Blue Devils defeated North Bend in straight games in the semifinals before losing a straight games decision to Wisner-Pilger in the finals. Against North Bend, Wayne won 15-13, 15-9. Jenny Thompson was 12-12 in serving with three aces and nine points while Amy Post was 12-13 with two aces and eight points. Wendy Beiermann was 6-6 with three points.

Carrie Fink was 38-40 in setting with nine set assists while Wendy Beiermann was 25-25 with seven aces. Thompson was 28-29 in hitting with nine kill spikes while Angie Hudson was 11-12 with four kills. Katie Lutt was 9-10 with two kills.

"I thought the girls really played well against North Bend," first-year coach Joyce Hoskins said. "We didn't make many mistakes. We served well, served received well and hit the ball well."

Hoskins said North Bend had a little trouble with serve receiving and digging some of the Wayne spikes. "They had to hit a lot of free balls over the net which allowed us to set up our offense a little easier," Hoskins said.

In the championship with Wisner-Pilger, Wayne fell, 8-15, 12-15. Amy Post was 10-10 with one ace and scored five points while Carrie Fink duplicated those same numbers with a 10-10 serving outing with one ace and five points. Wendy Beiermann was 7-7 with three points.

Fink was 28-29 in setting with five aces and Beiermann was 22-25 with three aces. Jenny Thompson had four kill spikes on 17-20 hitting while Katie Lutt had three kills on 12-12 hitting. Heather Nichols was 3-3.

"The girls looked a little tired against Wisner," Hoskins said. "It seemed like we were one step behind on defense and offense and we didn't pass the ball very well."

Overall, however, Hoskins said she was pleased with her team's performance in the tournament. The 2-1 Blue Devils will host Schuyler on Tuesday.

Allen spikers place third at Pender volleyball invitational

The Allen Eagles placed third in the Pender Invitational Volleyball Tournament on Saturday. The Eagles fell to Bancroft-Rosalie in the semifinals, 12-15, 17-15, 6-15 before defeating Pender in the consolation match, 15-12, 15-4.

Against Bancroft-Rosalie, Dawn Diediker was the leading server with a 13-13 outing and four aces. She also led the team in scoring with nine points. Steph Martinson was 9-10 in serving with three aces and eight points and Holly Blair was 9-10.

Blair was the top setter with at 22-25 with six aces while Diediker was 24-30 with four aces. Martinson was 16-19 in hitting with four kills while Jamie Mitchell was 7-10 with three kills. Michelle Isom was 7-11 with three kills and Steph Chase was 9-12 with two kills.

Martinson finished with six blocks while Mitchell had four but none were recorded as aces. Both Blair and Diediker led the team in digs with 17 each.

"Our hitting wasn't really on top," Allen coach Tracy Kuester said. "Our defense was a little slow and our passing was not efficient."

In the match with Pender, Kuester said she changed the rotation a little bit which made a difference. Abbey Schroeder came in to play back row and serve.

Schroeder ended up leading the Eagles in serving at 12-12 with one ace. Holly Blair was 9-12 with three aces. Steph Martinson led the team in scoring with nine points while Steph Chase, Holly Blair and Schroeder had four points each.

Dawn Diediker was 15-15 in setting with seven aces while Blair was 17-18 with six aces. Martinson led the hitters with four kills on 6-7 hitting while Jamie Mitchell was 9-10 with three kills. Steph Chase also had three kills.

Martinson and Mitchell were the leading blockers with a total of five ace blocks between them and Diediker and Blair had seven digs each while Chase had five.

"I thought our hitters were a lot more aggressive at the net in this match," Kuester said. "Our percentages overall, still aren't where we would like them to be but it's still early."

Allen plays its first home game on Tuesday against Wynot.

Laurel gives rated Randolph a scare

The Laurel Bears gave rated Randolph all they could handle, Friday night in Laurel in the season opening gridiron contest for both teams. The Bears eventually succumbed, 22-11.

Randolph scored first on a 15-yard run by Erick Arens—the first of three touchdowns by Arens who scored all 22 of the Cardinal points. Laurel cut the lead in half in the second quarter when foreign exchange student Sami Piira connected on a 32-yard field goal.

The game was 6-3 until the third quarter when the Cardinals' Arens ran one in from 12 yards out. Arens also ran for the two-point conversion for a 14-3 advantage.

Laurel, however, did not fold and came back in the fourth quarter, scoring on a one-yard pass from Tyler Erwin to Jared Reinoehl. The two-point conversion run was successful by Jeff Wattier closing the gap to three at 14-11.

"The biggest play of the game was a third down and eight call from the 50-yard line by Randolph," Laurel coach Tom Luxford said. "If we hold them we get the ball back with over three minutes to go but they ran a quarterback bootleg for 12 yards and on the very next play Arens broke one for 38 and scored a touchdown."

Despite the loss Luxford had nothing but positive to say about his squad. "We played them one whale of a football game," Luxford said. "They had all but just a few of their players back from last year and we had several kids starting their first games on the varsity level."

Jeff Wattier led Laurel in running with 42 yards while Randolph was led by Arens with 184 yards. Tyler Erwin was 9-16 in passing for 93 yards with Jared Reinoehl on the receiving end of six passes for 80 yards.

Defensively, Laurel was led by Cody Carstensen with 10 tackles while Todd Arens had seven and Cody Urwiler, six. Mark Stone was in on five defensive stops.

Carstensen and Jeremy Reinoehl each recovered a Randolph fumble.

"All we asked our kids to do was to give us a chance to win the game in the fourth quarter and they did that," Luxford said. "I am really proud of them."

Laurel will have a tough task this Friday as they travel to play Crofton, a 12-6 winner over the C-2 fifth rated Ponca Indians last Friday.

Winside defense keys win by stopping two-point try

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Two Wayne Herald coverage teams collided in Winside for the first gridiron contest of the year, Friday and the contest came down to a two-point conversion attempt.

Allen came into the game with a tremendous arsenal of speed but Winside did an admirable job of containing the high flying Eagles and used some speed of its own in posting a 28-26 victory.

At the 1:33 mark of the final quarter Allen quarterback Curtis Oswald scored on a two-yard run to make it a 28-26 game. The two-point conversion attempt to tie the game failed.

Winside never trailed the Eagles, scoring first on a five-yard run by Lonnie Grothe at the 6:32 mark of the opening quarter. Allen countered with an 11-yard touchdown run by Steve Sullivan with 50 seconds left in the first stanza.

Winside quarterback Benji Wittler burned the Allen defense on a 63-yard run at the 7:49 mark of the second quarter and the two-point conversion pass to Jeremy Jenkins was successful. Sullivan, however, scored on Allen's next possession on a 25-yard run but the two-point conversion attempt failed leaving Winside with a 14-12 advantage.

Less than two minutes later Wittler sprinted into the endzone from 27 yards and the two-point attempt was successful from Wittler to Brady Frahm. Allen took the ball down to the goal line and with six seconds left Oswald's quarterback sneak attempt was thwarted by the Winside defense.

There was no scoring in the third quarter but Winside took a 28-12 lead at the 9:58 mark of the fourth quarter after a 25-yard scamper from Grothe. Allen did mount a comeback as Sullivan scored his third touchdown of the night on a one-yard plunge with 7:03 left to go. The two-point attempt was good on a pass from Oswald to Casey Schroeder.

"We told our team that it was real important to get off to a good start," Winside coach Randy Geier said. "I thought we accomplished that by scoring on our second possession."

Geier said Wittler's success on the ground was due to the fact that Allen was loading up the middle on defense to stop the trapping game which left the outside game open.

"I thought the key point to the game was our goal line stand right before half," Geier said. "I also felt our kicking game was valuable because we kept the ball away from their speedy return people."

Allen coach Warren Jensen was extremely disappointed with the loss. "I'd have to say this is the most disappointing loss I've ever had," Jensen said. "I think we are going to have a great football team but you always want to start off on the right foot and we didn't do that."

Jensen said he was proud of the way his squad never quit fighting. "The kids were pretty down at half but we didn't fold," Jensen said. "We have to get ready for this week's game with Beemer and forget this one."

Steve Sullivan was the top ground gainer in the contest with 159 yards on 35 carries while Winside's Wittler gained 113 yards on just nine attempts. Oswald was 5-11 through the air for 99 yards while Sullivan was 2-2 for 44. Casey Schroeder caught five passes for 124 yards while Winside's Wittler was 2-6 for 41 yards with Brady Frahm catching a 33-yard strike.

Defensively Winside was led by Brady Frahm with 17 tackles while Marty Jorgensen had 14. Jay Shelton and Colby Jensen had a dozen stops each while Jeff Bruggeman had 11.

Steve Sullivan led Allen with 20 tackles while Curtis Oswald finished with nine. Winside will travel to play Hartington on Friday while Allen hosts Beemer.

Wakefield rushing attack rolls up big numbers in 20-6 win

Dennis Wilbur's Wakefield Trojans football team defeated Tilden Elkhorn Valley, Friday in Tilden, 20-6 to begin the season 1-0.

After a scoreless first quarter the Wakefield ground gain began punching holes in the Elkhorn Valley defense. In fact, in the second quarter alone the Trojans amassed 178 rushing yards.

Wakefield's first score came on an eight-yard run by Miah Johnson which capped a 7 play, 87 yard drive. On the next possession the Trojans went 72 yards in 10 plays culminating in a nine-yard run by quarterback Cory Brown.

Elkhorn Valley did hook up on a 39-yard scoring strike before half-time to make it a 12-6 game but Wakefield virtually controlled the second half. The lone touchdown in the second half came in the fourth quarter on a four-yard run by Ryan Ekberg.

The Trojan defense which proved dominant all game, scored a safety in the fourth quarter when Todd Mattson tackled the Elkhorn Valley quarterback in the endzone.

"It wasn't so much that it took us a quarter to get untracked," Wilbur said. "We moved the ball well in the first quarter but we just stalled ourselves."

Wakefield's defense intercepted a pass on their own 20-yard line in the first quarter and moved the ball deep into Elkhorn Valley territory before stalling. Then they began moving the ball at will in the second quarter.

The Trojans gained 345 yards on the ground in 65 attempts while holding Elkhorn Valley to just 27 yards rushing on 16 attempts. Ryan Ekberg led Wakefield with 175 yards on 31 carries while Cory Brown had 99 yards on 20 attempts. Cody Skinner ran the ball 11 times for 51 yards and Miah Johnson had three rushes for 20 yards.

Defensively, Wakefield was led by Brown with 11 tackles while Ekberg had seven and Miah Johnson, five. Skinner also had five and Mattson had just two, but for a total of 19 yards in losses.

"The tone of the game on defense was set by Cody Skinner," Wilbur said. "He really popped some of the Elkhorn Valley receivers and once he did that they started dropping passes." Todd Gilliland, Brown and Johnson all intercepted an Elkhorn Valley pass. Wakefield will travel to play Pender on Friday. "That will be the renewal of an old rivalry," Wilbur said. "The two schools haven't played since 1978."

Russian farmers want to learn farm methods

The Russian Farmer Exchange Program will be sending selected English speaking Russian farmers to the United States for the entire crop season (April-October 1994). These farmers are mostly those recently granted a strip of land and having other members of the family taking care of it while he/she is absent.

The Russian farmers will be staying with a host family and will work wherever and whenever required by the host. It is desirable that during the season the guest acquire necessary skills and knowledge to be able to run his private farm upon return. Some kind of general introduction to Nebraska agriculture and a cultural program (social events, visiting churches, places of interest) would be beneficial, say the exchange organizers.

Nebraskans interested in hosting a Russian farmer may contact the Russian Farmer Exchange at the following address or phone number. Russian Farm Exchange, P.O. Box 540662, Omaha, NE 68154-0662, (402) 449-8600.

FIRE AND RESCUE REPORT

Verneal Marotz, Winside volunteer rescue squad captain, reports that for 1992 there were 52 rescue calls, with 46 patients transported. There was an average of four persons per call at two hours per call, which equals 416 hours of volunteer time spent on rescue calls.

Winside now has a total of 14 certified Emergency Medical Technicians.

The Winside Volunteer Fire Department answered 21 fire calls in 1992. They averaged 12 men per call, for a total of 360 hours at calls. The volunteers spent 928 1/2 hours on training during the year. Winside also hosted a house burn on March 29, 1992 and a bus accident drill for area departments on Aug. 4, 1992.

The total of 1704 1/2 hours consumed in training and fire/rescue calls multiplied by $6 per hour equals a $10,227 savings to Winside and the rural area because of the volunteers' time and service. Equipment purchased by the department from donations and memorials totaled $3,483.62.

NU video receives blue ribbon award

Two NU faculty members from the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord, were among a small group of NU faculty and staff which received a blue ribbon award from the American Society of Agricultural Engineers (ASAE) in its Educational Aids Competition.

Charles Shapiro, NU agronomist, and Bill Kranz, NU ag engineer, received the award for their contributions in a video entry, "Calibrating Anhydrous Ammonia Applicators." The 24 minute video reviews the basic setup of an anhydrous ammonia applicator and possible application problems. The intended audience are fertilizer dealer employees, producers using anhydrous ammonia and students interested in production agriculture.

"We chose video as the best form of presentation because of the complicated nature of anhydrous ammonia," said Shapiro. "We needed to use visual animation to show the relationship between the environment and application rate problems."

According to Shapiro, production of the video began in January 1990 and was completed for distribution in June 1992, too late for last year's competition. It is the first closed captioned for the hearing impaired video produced by the University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources. It was partially financed by the Natural Fertilizer and Environmental Research Center of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The 24 minute video, which also includes a shortened 14 minute version, sells for approximately $30 and can be purchased through Betty Castan, Communications and Computing Services, Ag Communication Bldg., P.O. Box 830918, University of Nebraska, Lincoln, NE 68583-0918.

The Society, headquartered in St. Joseph, Mich., has over 10,000 members in 50 states, 10 provinces in Canada, and 110 countries.
