Board sets special meeting

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Wayne School Board members have decided to look a gift horse in the mouth.

Board members have called a special meeting for 4 p.m. next Wednesday to consider whether to accept the offer of the Wayne Athletic Boosters to finance the construction of an estimated $25,000 weight and fitness training facility for the high school.

Several members of the booster club attended Tuesday's school board meeting to argue for board endorsement of their plan to raise the money from private sources and fund raising for an unattached building to house weight training equipment.

Temporary quarters for the weight room at the high school are inadequate, everyone agreed, but board members were reluctant to endorse the booster club offer without first considering all the options.

"I feel it's a rush," said board president Dr. Sid Hillier. He said the board needed time to digest the proposal and consider the proposed site for the building, which, according to the proposal, would be a frame building constructed by the building trades students at the high school during the current school year.

Booster club members expressed concern about the need to move on the project quickly to get the foundation poured for the facility before the onset of bad weather.

Besides site considerations, the board members said consideration should be given to the aesthetics of the proposal, liability issues and use of the proposed facility if a more permanent solution to the high school space problems were suggested by the facility study committee which is being formed by the board.

"It can always be used as storage," said board member Marion Arneson. He added he was concerned about the aesthetics of the proposal.

Next week's board meeting to consider the booster offer will be open to the public.

In other business at Tuesday's meeting, the school board heard about a new activities conference proposal from Ron Carnes, athletic director of the high school and witnessed a video presentation on the Nebraska Math and Science Initiative which the Wayne schools have been "very much involved in" according to Dr. Dennis Jensen, superintendent.

Jensen also presented information on new legal and policy resource information available through computer software being developed by the state. The new data would assist the board in its ongoing revision of the school policy manual.

The board also accepted the bid of Lueders G-Men for refuse service for the schools. Fees will be $232.92 per month for school trash. The unsuccessful bid was for $459 from Frank Mrsny.

Pending WRLF loan

New business to open

By Lea Calhoun
For the Herald

The Wayne City Council met in regular session, Tuesday and considered the Wayne Revolving Loan Fund (WRLF) application of Rod Tompkins.

Tompkins, president of Heritage Homes Inc., is planning to open a new business in Wayne called Heritage Surround Systems Inc. He requested the maximum amount of $200,000 allowable by WRLF to be used to buy the former Emphasis building and surrounding 10.01 acres located on North Centennial Road. The building was last used for recycling and storage.

"We are now in the process of hiring people for this new business," Tompkins said. "We will be a manufacturer of fiberglass Automatic Teller Machine surroundings. The sign and framework that goes around the machine is what we will be building."

Tompkins said the surroundings for the ATM machines will be sold nationally by bank equipment distributors. "We hope to have about 16 employees including an architect and engineer within the next 12 months," Tompkins said.

The cost of the building is $250,000 and an additional $45,000 is the estimated cost of start-up, employees and equipment. Wayne Industries reviewed Tompkins' application and recommended it to the council for approval. The council set a public hearing date on the matter for Tuesday, Oct. 26 at 7:30 p.m.

Hohenstein takes first step in appealing jail sentence

DAKOTA CITY, Neb. (AP) -- A former state senator who pleaded guilty to felony theft took the first step Tuesday to appeal his sentence.

Kurt Hohenstein was sentenced by Dakota County District Judge Mark Fuhrman on Oct. 1 to the maximum six years and eight months to 20 years in prison.

Hohenstein's attorneys on Tuesday filed a notice of appeal with the clerk of the Dakota County District Court. The notice will be forwarded to the state Court of Appeals.

Hohenstein will be eligible for parole in three years and four months and would face mandatory release in 10 years based on good behavior while behind bars.

Fuhrman also imposed a $25,000 fine and ordered Hohenstein to make $35,354 in restitution to clients and government agencies.

Hohenstein was Dakota County attorney, a part-time position, before his election to the Legislature in November 1992.

In August he pleaded guilty to felony theft, admitting that he took insurance money that was supposed to pay medical bills for clients who were injured in a motor vehicle accident. He simultaneously resigned from his 17th District seat in the Legislature as part of the plea agreement.

The plea bargain included a promise that he would not face state charges for other alleged thefts.

When Hohenstein was sentenced, attorney David Domina of Omaha said any appeal likely would argue that Hohenstein's sentence was unduly harsh when compared to those imposed on other public officials and lawyers who had been convicted of crimes.

Domina did not immediately return a telephone call to his Omaha office.

Council agenda full

Cable was a topic at the Wayne City Council meeting, Tuesday. A resolution was considered on authorizing filing of Federal Communications Commission (FCC) forms pertaining to rates of basic cable services and cable programming services and establishing an ad-hoc citizens cable review committee.

The Council has received a number of complaints and concerns over the past few years regarding cable rates. Council members said they will set up a community cable service committee consisting of seven members.

In order for the City of Wayne to have influence in regulating rates they must make application and be certified by the FCC. They must also agree to hire the technical advice to administer rate regulation.

The citizen committee would serve as a communication link between the cable customers, cable operators and franchise authority as the City Council may from time-to-time request.

The Council also heard a resolution on Pierce County's request to use Wayne's transfer station for their unincorporated areas. This use would be primarily for the southeast and east side of the county.

The city attorney's office which also represents Pierce County, is to draft the documents for the resolution which may present a conflict of interests. An additional agreement is Pierce County would have an opportunity to take over the transfer station if Wayne ever decided to get out of the transfer station business.

"This is not to be looked at as an exclusive agreement," Wayne mayor Bob Carhart said. "They can use any arrangements they want."

Funds generated from the annual sale are used for sight and hearing conservation activities. The club also helps with community improvement activities and sponsors a talent contest, a football skills contest and a track meet for area youth. Residents may contribute used eye glasses and used hearing aids to Lions members calling on them.

Ribbon Week set

Students in Wayne who have pledged to live drug-free lives will be helping the community celebrate Red Ribbon Week Oct. 15-22.

The Red Ribbon Week Campaign originated when federal drug enforcement agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The Red Ribbon became the symbol to reduce demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized support for the hostages in Iran and the green ribbon became a public outcry for the murdered children in Atlanta.

In Wayne, the FRIENDS organization of drug free youth are encouraging businesses and individuals to show their support for substance abuse prevention by displaying a red ribbon.

Communities throughout Nebraska will be taking part in the annual campaign sponsored by the National Federation of Parents for Drug Free Youth.

Four counties have adopted rural road numbering system

Other counties besides Wayne in Nebraska are adopting the rural addressing system developed here to gear up for the Enhanced 911 emergency dispatching system.

Besides Wayne, three other counties have approved and are implementing what could end up becoming a statewide system of three digit county road numbers.

Wayne County Highway Superintendent Sid Saunders first proposed the road numbering system in November of 1991 when Norfolk Police Chief William Mizner asked Madison, Stanton, Pierce, Wayne and Dixon Counties to make provisions to accommodate the Enhanced 911 system. Saunders said he developed the plan with the assistance and advice of neighboring county highway superintendents.

Under Enhanced 911, dispatchers automatically receive a readout of the address emergency calls are placed from. This means dramatically improved emergency response times and fewer problems with translating often crucial emergency information.

This also means households in rural areas of the counties which have traditionally been given postal route and box numbers for addresses will have to be assigned an easily identifiable road name or number and house number.

Saunders' plan has been to designate county roads, which generally follow section lines, with numbers which correspond to the section lines from border to border.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Council considered a resolution regarding the authorization of a grant application for drug control and system improvement discretionary grant program.

The grant is for the hiring of two police officers for the next fiscal year. The Bureau of Justice Assistance has a police hiring supplement program that would pay 75 percent of the cost and the City of Wayne would be responsible for 25 percent of the expense.

The total cost would be $177,754 of which Wayne would play $7,400 per officer per year. According to Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild, Wayne has had seven full-time officers since 1974. "In that time the number of citations and arrests has risen 139 percent," Fairchild said. "Calls for service rose 77 percent and the crime rate has risen 154 percent. Miscellaneous investigations are up 325 percent and calls to unlock vehicles is up 230 percent. All of this takes time and paperwork," Fairchild added.

The new officers would be funded for three years, after which, Wayne would re-evaluate its ability to afford them in the future. The application was given approval by the Council to be sent to Washington.

Wayne is site for new course

Members of a new Northeast Nebraska economic development coalition announced a new entrepreneurial training program, "Fast Trac," for Nebraska this fall and winter. Wayne will be one of the sites for the course.

Making the announcement Monday were Joe Ferguson, Northeast Community College; Connie Justis, Nebraska Department of Economic Development; Kathy Small, Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District; Craig

Evert, Antelope County Resource Center; and Dewey Teel, Nebraska Cooperative Extension Service.

The Fast Trac entrepreneurial training program focuses on entrepreneurship and development of small businesses as a means for economic development. It is an intensive 40-hour, 11-week course that equips entrepreneurs with skills to develop and run successful business ventures.

It is a program for entrepreneurs taught by entrepreneurs. It assists entrepreneurs in developing and writing business plans in a condensed period of time. Submission of the business plan is a requirement for graduation.

Besides Wayne, the course is being offered in three other locations in Northeast Nebraska, including Neligh, Norfolk and West Point. Each location has site coordinators and instructors selected by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the northeast coalition.

Persons interested in taking the course need to submit an application. Applicants selected to participate in the Fast Trac course will be required to submit a participation fee of $160.

Connie Keck of Wayne will be the coordinator for the Wayne course, which will be taught by Kendall Scheer of Stanton. Ken Hallgren of Wayne will be the instructor of the Norfolk course.

US West has contributed

$145,000 to the University of Nebraska for the Fast Trac Entrepreneurial Training Program.

Road

With one section line each mile, there would be roughly 464 possible road numbers from west to east and 208 from south to north in Nebraska.

"The chief advantage of the statewide three-digit system is the avoidance of duplicate route numbers," said Saunders.

Saunders said since the plan was adopted by the Wayne County Commissioners in September, 1992, the numbers have begun to be used by the sheriff's office and the highway office in designating roads and bridges for inventories and accident reports. County Sheriff's deputies have reported the system is convenient to use and especially makes it easy to calculate distances between different roads.

Subsequent to Wayne County's adoption of the plan, Dixon County has approved it and Wayne Police Chief Vern Fairchild has begun the process of implementing the enhanced 911 system for residents in the 375 phone exchange. That process will take several years, Fairchild has said.

Fairchild said the Post Office has accepted the plan and will eventually ask residents to change their specified addresses for mail purposes to the new three-digit numbering system. Dawson and Gosper counties have been the latest to announce implementation of the proposed statewide plan. Saunders has made presentations to state associations and continues to lobby counties for the implementation of the uniform plan. He has the assistance of Wayne County Commissioners who have passed a resolution sent to other counties encouraging their commissioners to adopt the same numbering system.

Several areas of the state are working to implement enhanced 911 services.

Meanwhile, with the help of a student intern, Elizabeth Pasold from Wayne State College who worked on the effort from January to May of this year, Saunders has also begun the process of assigning house numbers to rural residents.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

There's a nip in the air. The days are getting shorter and the night comes on sooner. That means there is time for a quiet evening at home. We have just the thing for these fall evenings. We recently placed on the adult video rack the PBS program on the Civil War which was so popular when it ran. There are nine videos to the entire series, more than enough entertainment for at least a week of watching. Other videos new to the adult section are a Bill Moyers interview with Maya Angelou; Crane River, a National Audubon Society special on the Platte River during the annual migration of Sandhill Cranes; two nature videos - one on dogs and one on cats; "Nice Shot," a golf instructional; two videos on the newest dance craze - line dancing featuring step-by-step instructions; a video on "Living with Diabetes"; and an interesting video on "Pyramid."

We have received a helpful guide to parents contemplating homeschooling for their children. "Home Schooling Resource Guide and Directory of Organizations" is on reference only, but copies may be made of the pamphlet. Ask at the desk.

According to Publishers Weekly, "The Bridges of Madison County" by Robert James Waller remains on the top of the best seller list. Our two copies of the book are always out, but if you haven't read it yet, ask to have your name placed on the reserve list. "Lasher" by Anne Rice is second. "Lasher" is on the new book shelf. Tom Clancy has done it again. "Without Remorse" is third on the list and also on our shelf! Fifth on the list is a Tony Hillerman mystery entitled "Sacred Clowns." Always interesting and mystifying. Laura Esquivel's "Like Water for Chocolate" is sixth. Eighth is "Streets of Laredo" by Larry McMurty. Ninth is "The Client" by John Grisham. Tenth is "Vanished" by Danielle Steel. "Pigs in Heaven" by Barbara Kingsolver is 12th and 13th is "The Night Manager" by John le Carre. All these are in the library.

Non-fiction books on the best seller list and in the library are "Women Who Run with Wolves" by Clarissa Pinkola Estes. "Wouldn't Take Nothing for My Journey Now" by Maya Angelou. "Maybe (Maybe Not)" by Robert Fulghum. "The Fountain of Age" by Betty Friedan.

Wayne patrons are still reading John Grisham's "The Firm," "A Time to Kill," "The Pelican Brief" as well as "The Client"; any book by Danielle Steel; "Homeland" by John Jakes; "Cruel and Unusual" by Patricia D. Cornwell and "Honor Among Thieves" by Jeffrey Archer.

We have been very pleased with the number of people who took the time to answer the questions on the survey we recently sent out. And we are pleased with the candor of your answers. Whether your opinion was favorable or not, your answers are important to us as we study the future needs of the library in our community. We do appreciate your willingness to give us your ideas. Thank you. We will try to incorporate your suggestions where we can.

Library hours remain the same for September through May - Monday through Friday, 12:30 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and Sunday, 2 to 5 p.m.

October recognizes Domestic Violence Awareness Month

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Family Violence is an epidemic in Nebraska which cannot be ignored. National statistics show that women are the victims of family violence in 95 percent of reported cases. Because of this fact, this article will address women as victims, recognizing, of course, that anyone can be a victim of family violence.

Domestic violence comes in many forms. All forms of abuse are destructive to the individuals involved and to the entire family. Physical abuse is the most commonly thought of aspect of abuse. Hitting, slapping, choking, pushing or restraining a person from leaving are forms of physical abuse. However, another form of violence, emotional abuse, is as devastating as the physical abuse. Emotional abuse usually begins in a very subtle way; such as attacking a person's self-esteem by calling them derogatory names or by making fun of them, by threatening and intimidating them, and by isolating them from friends, family and community involvement. These two forms of control, in addition to economic dependency make it very difficult for a woman to leave an abusive relationship. She fell in love with her partner, not the violent behavior, and have hopes that this behavior will change.

It is also difficult for a woman to leave a relationship when support systems do not understand how she can love someone who abuses her. Family and friends often wonder what she did to provoke the violence. That attitude, along with economic dependence and feelings of worthlessness, further isolates her and reaffirms her belief that she has no choices.

At a time when many women have more rights and opportunities than ever before, it is hard to believe so many women are still being held prisoners in their own homes. Women need to understand that their situation is not hopeless. By understanding what abuse is and the forms it takes, women may begin to realize that they are not responsible for the violence, and they do have choices.

One of those choices is to call a crisis line for support. If you are in an abusive situation and would like to explore your options, call Haven House at 375-4633. Collect calls are accepted, and our crisis line is available 24 hours a day.

WHICH CAME FIRST?

The chicken or the... well, you know the dilemma. It's a point Siskel and Ebert could argue 'til the chickens come home. And what about your newspaper? Chances are your hometown paper was recording history before there were many chicken eggs around town. So what's the point of chicken eggs? There's not really a point, it's rather a dull rounded end. Oh, you meant the point of this discussion?

Well, it's not really which came first... it's the fact that your paper is still here and still very much a part of your life. We believe that a community without any connection to a newspaper is doomed to become stale, if not extinct. Your newspaper helps create a sense of community, helps define goals and reach those goals. It helps give your community its identity.

Without your newspaper, where would you be? Unattached and unhatched.

Break out of your shell...rediscover your newspaper!

HeartFest offers Wayne more than ever before

When the American Heart Association changed the name of its national nutrition event from Food Festival to HeartFest this year, they changed more than just the name.

"This year, we're offering consumers more educational materials than ever before," said Lou Ellingson. "At HeartFest, consumers will find two new brochures to help them choose a diet low in total fat, cholesterol and sodium."

The 1993 HeartFest, held here and nationwide in more than 6,000 grocery stores and other sites, aims to reach more than five million American consumers with heart-healthy nutrition information.

"Citizens of Wayne can get our new brochure, 'How To Shop Smart To Help Your Heart.' It shows shoppers how to cut the fat in their diet easily and painlessly," said Ellingson. "They'll also learn how to read and understand the Food and Drug Administration's new food label requirements that will appear on all packaged foods by May of next year. Our brochure, 'How To Read the New Food Label' will show them how shopping for low-fat food products will be easier and quicker."

Part of the reason that this year's HeartFest will be bigger than ever is that it is being sponsored by a group of food manufacturers. These companies will underwrite the cost of the educational brochures and will advertise the HeartFest event in national consumer magazines.

And in the brochure, "How To Shop Smart To Help Your Heart," sponsors will offer coupons for their own low-fat food products.

The local grocery store participating in the event is Pac 'N' Save on Saturday, Oct. 16 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"There'll be something for everyone at HeartFest," said Ellingson. "It's a heart-to-heart message from the American Heart Association to the people of Wayne. We want to show how to help prevent heart disease, America's No. 1 killer. And low-fat eating is a big part of the answer."

HeartFest is sponsored nationwide by ConAgra (Healthy Choice), The Quaker Oats Company, Campbell Soup Company, Guiltless Gourmet, Keebler and the Morningstar Group (Second Nature Real Egg Product).

The AHA recommends that total fat intake be less than 30 percent of calories eaten each day, and that saturated fat be less than 10 percent of total calories. Cholesterol intake should not exceed 300 milligrams a day, and sodium intake should not exceed 3,000 milligrams a day.

The AHA is the nation's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to reducing disability and death from cardiovascular diseases and stroke which annually kill more than one million American men and women. Last year the AHA spent more than $232 million for research support, public and professional education and community programs.

For more information, contact the American Heart Association at 1-800-AHA-USA1.

Perspective draws out negative before positive

Before they look for the positive, most people will see the negative. It's all a matter of perspective, according to the coordinator for the Center for Leadership Development at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Sheila Kepler speaks out on the fact it's our perspectives that makes us speak and act the way we do. The good news is, we can change.

"We have complete power" to change negative thoughts into more positive thoughts, said Kepler, who is also the president of Es-Kay Enterprises, a Lincoln consulting service.

As coordinator for the Center for Leadership Development, Kepler gives workshops on topics such as on happiness and on leadership.

Kepler says the self must overcome two basic things in helping change its perspective: First, people are taught as children to think critically, even of themselves. Second, it's human nature to first see what's "wrong" with something different.

"Our self concept is based on our perceptions. But our perceptions aren't always accurate," Kepler said.

Perspective is a large part of personalities, such as peoples' characteristics, their reward systems, how they work best and communicate. It's also a contributor to their pitfalls, said Kepler. She described traits of four different personality types:

• Stabilizers: Loyal, responsible, hard working and good with facts and details. Prefer standard operating procedures and stated expectations. Need an abundance of appreciation. May be too particular and rigid.

• Troubleshooters: Impulsive, bold, fun-loving. Quick starters. Procrastinators. Great crisis managers. Prefer directions to procedure. May create problems when there's nothing to solve. Easily bored.

• Catalysts: Highly energetic, people motivator. Like new problems. Dislike routine and precision. Prefers the "big picture" to details. May be viewed as impersonal. Tend to avoid conflict and carry grudges.

• Visionaries: Independent, great innovators and planners. Like solving new problems, patient with complicated issues. May appear impersonal, aloof, may hurt people's feelings without realizing it. Cannot give a simple answer and may miss the immediate.

Knowing your personality type and that of others helps to understand — and to put into perspective — why people behave and talk the way they do, Kepler noted.

Having various personality types on a team helps create balance and stimulates more ideas, added the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources staff member.

"We don't see our own blind spots," said Kepler.

Kepler's workshops on happiness and on leadership were held during the 1993 Women in Agriculture Conference in Kearney, Sept. 9-10.

We believe in immediate treatment of pain but hope to prevent that pain by timely thorough examinations and preventive care. We believe you can prevent pain, tooth loss, and the expense of complicated dentistry with good preventive procedures.

Dr. Burrows has adopted those principles and has pledged to help you in any way he can. He and his wife Traci like Wayne and want to work to make it prosper.

We thank you for your 30 years of loyalty to our office. We also thank you for your patience, understanding, and help through these changes. We wish Dr. DeNaeyer well in his new practice. Bible Institute continues in Wisner WISNER — There were 120 people in attendance at the second session of the Lutheran Bible Institute of the West Point Circuit of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod. It was held on Oct. 10 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wisner.
The Bible study on the Book of Revelation was continued by Rev. Paul Krentz of St. John, Beemer. In keeping with the theme, Surviving the End Times, Rev. Phillip Vance of St. John, Pilger, led the discussion "Preparing for Road Work — Reading the Signs."
"Ask the Pastor" resumed this week with Rev. Prewitt, Pender, and Rev. Tolzman, Decatur, on the panel.
Lunch was provided and served by St. Paul, Bancroft. The Institute will meet again on Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

CROP Walk Funds and walkers exceed goals for year

Both participation numbers and amount of funds raised were up this year of the CROP walk for the hungry in Wayne according to the Rev. Mike Girlinghouse, organizer of the event.
The 107 CROP walkers who traversed the 10 kilometer (6.2 miles) course through Wayne Sunday generated $2,668.30 in pledges, said Girlinghouse. He said both the funds raised and the number of walkers exceeded the goals for this year.
Last year 80 Wayne participants raised $2,500.
Five Wayne churches were represented by walkers this year.
The funds raised are used in humanitarian hunger relief efforts both locally and worldwide.

A faith that will work

Doctors practice their profession daily to become successful doctors. Baseball players practice their profession daily to become successful baseball players. Many times we see people jogging along the side of the road disciplining themselves for sports or for good health (1 Cor. 9:24-25).
How many people discipline themselves for the purpose of godliness (1 Tim. 4:7; 6:3; Titus 1:1)? How many people try to learn what is pleasing to the Lord (Eph. 5:10)? How many force their bodies to behave (1 Cor. 9:26-27)? How many are imitating Jesus Christ daily (1 Cor. 11:1)? How many Christians are practicing their profession daily?
Did Jesus Christ have a working faith or a faith with no works (James 2:14, 17-18, 22, 24, 26)?
Yes, Jesus' gospel worked for those who believed it and put it into practice because it had good works!

Wayne harriers capture district championships

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Wayne girls and boys cross country teams captured district titles, Thursday in North Bend and will now travel to compete in the Nebraska State Cross Country Meet next Friday in Kearney.

The Lady Blue Devils scored 21 points to out-distance runner-up Columbus Scotus who finished with 35. Schuyler placed third with 61 and North Bend was fourth with 72.

Wahoo rounded out the top five with 78 and Albion placed sixth with 103. Columbus Lakeview and Logan View rounded out the field of teams in order.

Wayne senior Tami Schluns placed runner-up in the individual standings with a 15:34 clocking—just three seconds behind Scotus runner Erin Trouba. Richelle Wockman placed third in 15:50 and Melodee Lage finished fourth in 15:59. Jessica Ford ensured Wayne's district championship with a 12th place time of 16:42. Tammy Teach also ran for the varsity.

Turning to the boys meet the Blue Devils were dealt a set-back before they even took to the course as Aaron Geiger was sidelined with the flu. Still, the Blue Devils overcame the adversity and edged Columbus Lakeview by four points, 33-37.

Albion placed third with 41 and Columbus Scotus was fourth with 45. Schuyler rounded out the top five teams with 71 and Wahoo was sixth with 93. Logan View finished seventh with 130 points and North Bend placed eighth with 166. Ashland finished last with 180.

Sophomore runner Spencer Stednitz led the Wayne charge with a runner-up finish in 16:29. He finished about 50 meters behind Brian Ballweg of Lakeview. Nate Stednitz placed sixth in 17:00 and Chris Headley was seventh in 17:04.

Ryan Martin solidified the Blue Devils crown with an 18th place effort of 17:53. Clint Dyer and Robert Bell also ran very well for Rocky Ruhl's team, tying in the 28th spot with 18:20 clockings.

"Both teams ran great races," Wayne coach Rocky Ruhl said. "To have the girls finish second, third, fourth and 12th was excellent—they just blew away the field."

WAYNE SOPHOMORE Spencer Stednitz led the Wayne boys to the district championship, Thursday.

Ruhl said he felt the boys team responded very well with the loss of Geiger. "Our top three runners did what they usually do—a great job," Ruhl said. "Then Ryan Martin really put us in position to win by passing four runners in the last 300 meters. It was just an overall great day."

WAYNE SENIOR Tami Schluns will lead the Blue Devil girls into the state cross country meet.

The win marked the fifth straight year the Blue Devil boys have won the district crown and the girls rebounded from a third place finish at districts a year ago.

At next Friday's state meet the girls will run at 1 p.m. with the boys to follow at 1:30 p.m.

Allen spikers soar to win over Winside in three

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Winside and Allen volleyball teams clashed on the hard court in Allen, Thursday night and when the dust had settled the Eagles had soared to a 10-15, 15-10, 15-10 victory.

The loss snapped a six-game win streak for the Wildcats and left them with an 8-4 record while Allen improved to 12-3—all three losses are to Bancroft-Rosalie.

The match lasted nearly 90 minutes in Allen and in the first two games, the winner had to come from behind. Winside trailed 9-5 in the first game before rallying to win and Allen trailed the Cats, 8-4 in the second game before coming back to win.

Allen jumped out to a quick lead in the third game and then had to hold off several Winside come-back attempts. Just when it appeared Allen was going to win going away with a 10-3 lead, Winside came back to win in one at 10-9. Match point was played six times before Allen notched the 15th point.

Steph Martinson led Allen with 11 points while Steph Chase scored nine. Holly Blair and Dawn Diediker each tallied five. Chase was 18-20 in serving with two aces and Abbey Schroeder was a perfect 17-17. Diediker was 13-14 with two aces.

Diediker also led the setters with 11 assists while Blair notched eight. Steph Martinson was nearly unstoppable in attacks with 16 kill spikes. Chase finished with six kills and Jaime Mitchell had four. Martinson and Mitchell each had two ace blocks and Martinson led the team in digs with 11 while Chase had nine and Schroeder, eight.

"In that first game we ran out of subs," Allen coach Tracy Kuester said. "We used a lot of people in this match and everyone contributed. I think the biggest key to the second and third games was we went out and played aggressive instead of waiting for Winside to make mistakes," Kuester added.

Kuester gave credit to the play of Tracy Jackson off the bench and the defense of Schroeder and the net play of Martinson and Mitchell. Allen will play at Homer on Tuesday.

WINSIDE WAS led in scoring by Catherine Bussey with eight points while Chris Colwell and Christi Mundil scored seven each. Stacy Bowers netted five and Wendy Miller scored four.

Bowers was 57-60 in setting with 18 assists and Kari Pichler was 38-39 with 16 assists. Wendy Miller came off the bench and connected on 25 of 26 spike attempts with a dozen kills. Bussey was a perfect 22-22 with 11 kills and Colwell was 10-15 with nine aces. Mundil was 13-20 with five kills and Yolanda Sievers was 5-6 with four aces.

Bowers had four blocks to lead the Wildcats and Mundil and Pichler notched three each. Bussey was the defensive catalyst with 20 digs while Sievers had 12 and Miller, 11.

Winside will travel to play in the Hartington Invitational, Saturday. Other teams in the meet include Bancroft-Rosalie, Wynot, Ponca and Walthill. Winside is slated to play Hartington at 1:45 p.m. and Walthill at 4:15 p.m.

STEPH MARTINSON spikes the ball between Winside blockers Chris Colwell and Yolanda Sievers during third game action of Thursday's match.

Wakefield girls win 14th game of year

Paul Eaton's Wakefield volleyball team won a pair of games this week to improve their season record to 14-1. On Tuesday the Trojans breezed past Newcastle, 15-7, 15-6 in Newcastle and Thursday they won in straight games at Coleridge, 15-7, 15-9.

Tuesday, the Trojans were led by Kali Baker with 10 points while Mary Torczon scored seven. Maria Eaton and Kathy Otte were the top servers as each went 8-8 with two aces while Baker was 11-12 with one ace.

Otte was 36-38 in setting with 17 assists with Torczon leading the hitters with seven kills on 10 of 12 attempts. Baker was 10-10 with four kills and Jaime Oswald was 7-8 with four kills. Amy Hattig was a perfect 6-6 with two aces.

Torczon had two ace blocks to lead the defense at the net and Eaton was the top passer at 16-18 and she had six digs. Betsy Erickson was 6-10 in passing and notched three digs. The "B" team won, 15-5, 12-15, 15-7 as Andrea Lundahl led the way with an 18-19 performance from the serving line.

"I thought we really played well," Eaton said. "We were in control the whole match and we got to play all 15 girls on the team."

THURSDAY IN Coleridge the Trojans were led by Mary Torczon with nine points while Maria Eaton tallied five. Eaton was 10-12 in serving with four aces and Andrea Lundahl was 4-4 with one ace.

Kathy Otte was 29-32 in setting with 13 aces and Torczon notched nine kill spikes for team honors. Jaime Oswald had five kills and Amy Hattig finished with two.

Torczon was also the leader in blocks with three and Kali Baker was the top passer at 11-13 and she finished with four digs. "We played well enough to win," Eaton said. "We didn't serve all that well."

Eaton said overall, his team is making progress but there are still things to overcome. The Trojans will travel to play Emerson-Hubbard on Thursday.

YOLANDA SIEVERS attempts to spike the ball against Allen defender Holly Blair but Blair responded with a block. Allen defeated Winside two-games-to-one.

Wayne falls to Cedar

JENNY THOMPSON nails down a spike during second game action of Wayne's match with Cedar Catholic. The Blue Devils fell below the .500 mark for the first time.

The Wayne volleyball team fell below the .500 mark on the season after a straight games defeat to Hartington Cedar Catholic, Tuesday in Wayne, 11-15, 4-15.

The 9-10 Blue Devils got down quickly to Cedar in the first game before mounting a come-back which fell four points short. "We're having a lot of communication problems right now and the girls know it," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "It's one of those things we're just not correcting the way we should be."

Hoskins also said her team appeared to be a little intimidated by the Cedar squad because they came in with good record. Amy Post led the team in serving at 8-8 and Melissa Weber was 6-6 while Jenny Thompson, Carrie Fink and Wendy Beiermann were each 5-5.

Post and Weber scored four points each for team honors and Fink netted two while Thompson and Beiermann had one each. Fink was the top setter for the Blue Devils with a 31-31 outing that included 10 aces while Beiermann was 16-16 with four assists.

Thompson was 29-33 in hitting with 13 kills and she also had one ace block as did Katy Wilson. "We really miss Katie Lutt right now," Hoskins said. "We still don't know when she will be able to come back but we're hoping it's soon if she's able."

Lutt is still on the injured list with a back problem and Wayne's record since she's been out of the line-up is 2-5.

The Blue Devils "B" team defeated Cedar, 15-5, 8-15, 15-12 and the "C" team was defeated, 8-15, 15-8, 7-15.

Lower Elkhorn NRD Board Adopts Fiscal 1994 Budget

The Lower Elkhorn NRD board adopted the fiscal budget for 1994 which requires a slight property tax increase, but a lower property tax levy.

The 1994 budget requires $1.213 million in property taxes, a less than one percent increase, as compared to $1.207 million required the previous fiscal year.

The property tax levy will be set at 3.17 cents per $100 of valuation, lower than the current levy of 3.24 cents.

Soil conservation is an important priority for the district. The board allocated $380,000 for land treatment cost-share assistance and $150,000 for intergovernmental cost-share assistance to build five road structures within the district.

The feasibility study for the proposed Butterfly Creek dam and reservoir project south of Stanton is expected to be presented to the board for a vote this year. The feasibility study, design, land appraisals and land rights for the proposed project are shown in the graph as surface water projects.

The board has also placed $680,000 in a sinking fund to help pay for a new office. The proposed building would be constructed along Highway 81 near the Game & Parks Commission office in Norfolk.

The total Lower Elkhorn NRD budget is $3.29 million, including state and federal funds.
