118TH YEAR — NO. 19

Music, fun food & more

Many Wayne area businesses are open extended hours for the holiday shopping season, including Sunday schedules.

A special open house is planned downtown Sunday, Dec. 12 from 1 to 2 p.m. with the Wayne State College brass ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Craig Hancock, providing live Christmas music. The minstrels will stroll from store to store while they perform musical favorites.

Many stores will also be offering refreshments to shoppers during this festive time.

Murder trial is delayed

PIERCE, Neb. (AP) -- The murder trial for a Plainview man accused of stabbing a 10-year-old boy to death in a city park has been postponed for three months.

Richard Barnes, 23, is charged with first-degree murder in the death of Mitch Ziemer of Pierce.

District Judge Richard Garden rescheduled the trial for March 15 at the request of Barnes' attorney, Douglas Stratton of Norfolk.

Stratton filed a motion last week asking for a delay on a Dec. 8 trial date. He wanted more time to prepare and to complete an investigation into the case, Pierce County Attorney Verlyn Luebke said.

Barnes has pleaded innocent. He is being held without bond in the Pierce County Jail.

He allegedly lured Ziemer into a bathroom on Aug. 20 and stabbed him to death. At the time, Ziemer and a friend were fishing at a lake located on the outskirts of the city park.

The friend did not go into the bathroom and was not harmed.

The slaying shocked this northeast Nebraska community of 1,500 located about 13 miles northwest of Norfolk.

Fantasy Forest hikers

Mr. and Mrs. John Hochstein of Wayne were among the hundreds of Wayne area residents who strolled through the Fantasy Forest Thursday night. At some times the crowds were so thick at the popular display of decorated trees that there was hardly room to move.

Education expert to talk here

Dr. Doug Christensen, Deputy Commissioner of Education for Nebraska, will be speaking in Wayne on Monday, Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Haun Lecture Hall, located at the high school.

Christensen's topic will be "Education for Citizenship in the 21st Century." This topic will deal with high performance and outcome based education models as well as effective schools.

He was named Kansas Administrator of the Year in 1982 and Nebraska Superintendent of the Year in 1990. His past experience includes superintendent of schools at North Platte, Bloomfield and Colby, Kan. He also served as associate commissioner of education prior to his current position as deputy commissioner. There is no charge the event is being sponsored by Wayne Elementary Boosters (WEB). This is the program that was postponed from Nov. 9 due to illness.

Schools seen as heart and soul of community

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Members of the committee studying school building needs and problems with a goal of recommending action to the Wayne School Board got to see all the warts Tuesday night.

In its initial meeting, the 30 plus member committee made up of townspeople, parents, teachers and administrators, toured the Middle School building and discussed procedures for reaching a decision with school building consultant Jim Dyck of Lincoln.

Dyck, an architect, said schools all over the state are in the same situation as Wayne, in a transition effort to modernize and upgrade curriculum educational standards.

Building needs usually enter the picture during those times of transition and especially now since the enactment of Americans with Disabilities Act standards have made nearly every school building in the country substandard in one way or another.

Dyck said whenever communities talk about quality of life issues, schools are listed as the top one or two items.

"We're dealing with the heart and soul of this community when we're dealing with the schools," he as most members of the community nodded their assent.

He said trends in education and curriculum should be considered in the planning and design of school buildings so that the architect can enhance the work of the teachers rather than making their jobs more difficult with non functional aesthetic additions.

He said it is important to consider the trend in education that is making "teachers more a guide on the side rather than a sage on the stage."

Whatever recommendations the committee makes and the school board finally implements, should be planned as something that will be functional for the community for 70 to 90 years, he said. Thus the facilities should have built-in flexibility.

More community involvement at the schools and use of school facilities for community education and recreation programs in a growing trend he explained, but he encouraged members of the committee to consider the problems and the needs of the schools before they start formulating ideas about solutions.

The group's next meeting will be at the Carroll Elementary School Building at 7 p.m. on Jan. 4.

During Tuesday's tour of the middle school the committee observed numerous areas where it will be difficult "if not impossible" to make the building fully handicap accessible. Additionally, they were shown cracking walls, deteriorating foundations, water leaks, heating problems and more.

The building was built in 1908 and underwent its last addition and renovation in 1941.

Retired WSC professor joins music hall of fame

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Former Wayne State College music professor Dr. Raymond Kelton was swept into the Nebraska Music Educator's Hall of Fame on a wave of nominations from former students and associates during the state meeting of the organization in Kearney last month.

Kelton, who served as head of the fine arts division and of the music department during his years at Wayne State, retired in 1984, but he and his wife, Barbara have maintained their home in Wayne and their love of music.

He was director of bands at the college for many years and remains active in community music groups including the Sioux City Municipal Band. Until recently when a medical condition made it painful to play his euphonium and trombone, he was a mainstay with the Touch of Brass group based in Wayne.

When he was inducted into the Hall of Fame last month the speaker said the normal procedure is for those inducted to receive letters of nomination from three association members. In Kelton's case, however, it was said the nominations came from about "half the population of the state."

That is a mark of the number of musicians whose lives he has touched said Barbara.

The Keltons came to Wayne in Inventor enjoys solving problems

by Clara Osten
for the Herald

"Inventing a product is easy. It's getting a patent and trying to market it that is extremely difficult," said Marvin Dranselka of rural Wayne who has invented several over the years.

Dranselka, who spoke to Wayne Middle School fifth graders recently, said most of his inventions have developed out of necessity.

One of his inventions was a locking hitch pin after noticing many loads of grain being hauled to town with only a bolt and nut.

In 1973 when he moved to the farm where he currently lives, he needed to remove several steel and wood posts so he invented a three-point post puller.

He patented this invention and a company in Graettinger, Iowa manufactured 500 of them. After 480 were sold, the manufacturer decided it was no longer profitable and no more were made.

DRANSELKA'S most recent invention, the Country Boy Exerciser, was developed when his father was ill and needed therapy after a three week hospital stay.

Because his father was a large man, a stationary bicycle was not practical. Dranselka then came up with a way for him to sit down and exercise.

Dranselka first began by welding old bicycle parts to a folding chair. This allowed his father to sit on the chair and pedal to exercise his feet.

"While this worked, it was too big and awkward to be practical. I worked on it for a while and condensed it to the present size before we applied for the patent," said Dranselka.

DRANSELKA explained the complicated process of obtaining a patent. "We worked with a patent attorney from Omaha. For a year he conducted a patent search to see if this was a unique product."

"After this was completed, a drawing of the product, showing specific details of the exerciser, was completed. Our patent contains seven claims, which are details specific to this exerciser. This makes it more difficult to copy."

The name, Country Boy Exerciser, is also copyrighted.

The patenting process is costly. "The patent search cost approximately $4,000. The fee for obtaining the patent itself is at least $800," said Dranselka.

"Our first patent was obtained when a patent was good for 17 years but the law has now been changed. The second patent we had was good for only five years. We have let that one run out because of the cost of renewing it."

THE EXERCISER is designed for both leg and arm exercises. For leg exercise, the device attaches to a chair where it can be held firmly in place. It can be adjusted to the size of the user and has an adjustable drag to vary the resistance while pedaling.

"One of the nice features of the exerciser is that it is adaptable to each individual. It fits on a wheel chair or on any other-type of chair," said Dranselka.

The exerciser can be lifted to a standing position to allow for exercising the upper body. This too, can be done while sitting in a chair.

After the exerciser was developed and patented Dranselka began the marketing process. He first submitted a picture and article to Farm Show Magazine in Minnesota.

THROUGH THE article the magazine printed and by word of mouth, over 100 units were sold, some as far away as Canada. Most were sold to nursing homes and hospitals throughout Nebraska and the western half of the United States.

The initial success of sales led Dranselka to order 100 more units from the Columbus manufacturer. He worked with the Nebraska Economic Development office and produced a promotional video for the exerciser.

He then attempted to get a contract with the Veterans Administration Hospitals. While several employees gave high praise to the exerciser, the hospital would not grant Dranselka a contract because of the small size of the operation.

This setback, along with the high cost of marketing, has caused Dranselka to lose interest in selling the exerciser. "The VA Hospital saying no took the wind out of my sails and I guess I have just lost interest."

DRANSELKA does have several units at his home for sale and says he sells two or three a year by word of mouth.

"The units sell for under $100 and has been used by several nursing homes and many individuals with favorable results. The Pender Care Center has had one for over six years," said Dranselka.

Today Dranselka uses his spare time for doing various wood-working projects. He has made several types of shadow boxes, small animals, cars and squirrel feeders.

"Even though I'm getting close to retirement age, I don't believe in quitting. If I'm not out in my workshop, I like to fish and my wife and I have taken up golf. I'm not one to just sit around and do nothing."

"We love the farm and I think keeping busy is the key to staying alive. I'm always thinking of new things to make or do to keep busy."

Musician

1960 when Ray accepted a job as associate professor of music. Prior to that he had taught in public schools and colleges in Texas, Montana and Oklahoma.

A native of Tucson, he received both his bachelor of music and master of music degrees from the University of Arizona in 1942. He received his PhD in music in 1960 from the University of North Texas.

He served as a musician in the Navy during World War II.

"I really enjoyed my work with, and association with students and faculty members," he said. He added he enjoys following the successful careers of his former students, like Wayne High School's band director Brad Weber, who has received numerous state honors.

"I'm very proud of it and very honored to be chosen," he said of the Hall of Fame presentation. The inscription on the certificate of honor reads: "For outstanding service to the young people of Nebraska, personal musicianship of the highest order and exemplary teaching accomplishments."

He said he is often saddened by the low esteem music and the arts receive when it comes to budget decisions by schools. When there are financial problems music is often the first thing to get cut, he said.

Raymond and Barbara have two sons. Phil is married to the former Karen Wills, of Wayne. They live in Austin, Tex. where he is on the faculty of the University of Texas in the astronomy department. Harry teaches music at Suffolk University in Boston and also serves as a church organist and choir director.

Even though he has reduced his playing time because of the health condition, he said he still gets a great deal of enjoyment out of listening to good music.

Cowboy poet to hold Wayne Library recital

One of the best known cowboy poets, Wallace McRae, will be presenting his poetry at the Wayne Public Library on Monday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

McRae recites his poems regularly on a syndicated television program, "The West," and is often a featured performer at the annual Cowboy Poetry Gathering in Elko, Nev. He has performed at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, and in 1990 became the first cowboy poet to be granted a National Heritage Award from the NEA in Washington, D.C. Wally McRae, who manages a 30,000 acre cow ranch in Forsyth, Mont. has published four books of poetry.

This event is a part of the Plains Writers Circuit and is funded in part by the National Endowment of the Arts. McRae's latest books "The Cowboy Curmudgeon and Other Poems" is available at the Wayne Public Library.

The program is open to the public.

UNL officials visit

Two University of Nebraska-Lincoln officials will be in Northeast Nebraska Dec. 7 as part of UNL's statewide tour.

Irv Omtvedt, University of Nebraska vice president and vice chancellor of the UNL Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources, and Cecil Steward, dean of UNL's College of Architecture, will visit Norfolk and Wayne that day.

At 10:30 a.m., Omtvedt and Steward will meet community leaders at the Norfolk City Council Chamber, 309 Madison Ave. They will also attend the Norfolk Rotary Club luncheon that day.

At 2 p.m., they will meet community leaders in Wayne at Riley's Pub, 113 South Main Street.

At both meetings, Omtvedt and Steward will gather input for a vision statement for UNL that will be developed in the spring. Norfolk and Wayne are the third and fourth stops on the tour, which earlier visited McCook and Syracuse.

'Star' show to be held at WSC

Wayne State College will present its planetarium show "The Star of Christmas" on Sundays, Dec. 5 and 12. The public is invited.

The shows will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium, located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on the Wayne State campus.

This holiday show begins with a view of the evening skies of December, containing some of the brightest stars of the any season. After looking at the modern skies, the show takes the audience back 2,000 years to explore the astronomical and historical events surrounding "The Star of Christmas."

Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by contacting Carl Rump, director of the planetarium, Wayne State College, 375-7343.

WSC brings science kids to Wayne

Approximately 600 students and teachers from throughout the region will be participating in the Northeast Nebraska Junior Academy of Science at Wayne State College on Saturday, Dec. 4.

This one-day conference offers a wide variety of hands-on scientific workshops that will be presented from experts from throughout the region.

The purpose of the academy is to promote interest in science and mathematics while serving as positive role models for the students, according to Dr. Mary Eitel, assistant professor of chemistry at Wayne State.

An invitation is extended to junior high and high school students and all teachers in the public and private school systems in northeast Nebraska, as well as other interested individuals to participate in the workshops.

Library is going computerized

The Wayne Public Library is finishing preparations through the month of December to begin automated circulation beginning Jan. 2. Patrons can now ask for their new barcoded cards at the desk. At this time, records will be verified and any outstanding fines should be paid.

Among advantages to staff and patrons for quicker checkouts and other centralized records, the computer will keep track of fines and will bar checkouts if they are unpaid. Rural patrons, that is, anyone who lives outside the city limits of Wayne, can now pay the annual fee of $15 for year from date of issue, instead of January to January. This amount is equivalent to the amount paid per capita in tax support by city residents.

Patrons should also be sure to stock up on Christmas vacation reading needs early, as the library will be closed Dec. 25 and 26 and Jan. 1 for holiday observations and also on Dec. 29, 30 and 31 for the changeover and inservices for the new circulation computer.

For questions regarding this new service or any other questions about the library, please call the Wayne Public Library at 375-3135.

Hours are 12:30 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Mail pickup added for holidays

To assist with the rush of holiday mailing, the Wayne Post Office will be adding a daily pickup and dispatching of the mail leaving Wayne. This extra service will be at 3:30 p.m. each weekday afternoon from Dec. 6 to 23 and will be in addition to the regular mail dispatches, according to Postmaster Dave Kirkpatrick.

He said this service should allow holiday mailers to get their items in the system sooner and ensure quicker delivery.

Several personnel changes have also been announced by Kirkpatrick for the Wayne Post Office.

Darlene Hoffman has been promoted to regular postal clerk and has taken a position in Wichita Falls, Tex. That move was effective Oct. 30.

Julie Hendricks was promoted to postmaster in Thurston, Neb. effective Nov. 27.

Lonnie Lemke will be promoted to regular carrier for Sioux City, Iowa effective Jan. 8.

New arrivals to fill vacancies in Wayne have been Barbara Zastrow, PTF Carrier from South Sioux City and Daryl Harrison, PTF Clerk, who has transferred from Norfolk.

Fair board honors Dorcey

The Wayne County Agriculture Association has honored long-time Fair Board member Felix Dorcey with an award naming him a director emeritus of the board for as long as he lives.

The unanimous vote of the fair board in presenting the unique award, was in response to Mr. Dorcey's long and meritorious service to Wayne County Agriculture and to the fair in particular said board president Mick Topp.

Mr. Dorcey is a retired real estate broker in Wayne.

Briefly Speaking

Minerva Club holds guest day

WAYNE — Minerva Club guest day was held Nov. 22 in the United Methodist fellowship hall for a noon luncheon and program. Eleven members and 10 guests were present.

Becky Keidel presented the program on Alaska, its extremes, beauty and travel in Alaska.

Club members will meet Dec. 13 at Riley's at 11:30 a.m. for a program and gift exchange.

Wayne Home Ec instructor participates in workshop

In October, Kathy Fink, home economics instructor at Wayne High School, participated in a workshop entitled "Helping Youth At-Risk Understand the Work of the Family."

The workshop was made possible through a grant funded by the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Act. Mrs. Fink was one of 74 Nebraska home economics teachers to participate.

The workshop focused on "the work of the family" and examined reasons why it is not being done. As a result, the teachers identified the related broad concepts that should be taught in home economics.

Mrs. Fink was commended for her dedication to furthering her knowledge so that she can continue to incorporate it into the curriculum.

Rainbow World Child Care will sponsor food program in Wayne

Rainbow World Child Care has announced the sponsorship of the Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP).

Application forms for free and reduced price meals are being sent to households of all enrolled participants. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the center. The information provided on the application will be used to determine eligibility and signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct. Households are required to report increases in household income of more than $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size or a loss of benefits from Food Stamps, AFDC, SSI or Medicaid.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. The same meals will be made available to all enrolled participants regardless of race, color, sex, age, national origin or handicap, and there is no discrimination in the course of the meal service. Nonpricing programs provide meals at no separate charge. Pricing programs provide free and reduced price meals to those meeting the approved eligibility criteria. Persons who believe they have been treated unfairly in receiving food services for any of these reasons should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The following household size and income criteria will be used for determining eligibility. Participants from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. Households receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) or Food Stamps are automatically eligible for benefits. Adult care center participants receiving Food Stamps, SSI or Medicaid are automatically eligible for benefits.

Special event being planned at Pender

A special event — Men and Boy's Night Out — is scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 15, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and will be held at the Pender Evangelical Covenant Church, 814 Whitney Street. A meal with ham and fixin's will start the evening in the church's fellowship hall. Then guest speaker Stan Parker will address the group. Parker is a former UNL and professional football player and is currently a regional representative for Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA).

The cost for the event is $5 for adults and $4 for those under 18.

This night out is for all men and boys in the area.

Reservations are necessary and can be made by contact Pastor Philip Rohler at 385-2738 or 385-2780. RSVP by Monday, Dec. 13.

Jesus is the reason for the season

The Wayne Herald will be publishing a special informational guide for the area churches for their special programs, events and services planned for the Christmas season. It will be in the Tuesday, Dec. 7 issue.

WHOLE WHEAT BIBLE STUDY

God's royal insurance policy

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

Being a servant of God has so many benefits that it truly is a royal insurance policy. God's royal insurance policy protects you from famine, disease and war (Psalm 33:19; 91:3, 5-7; 103:3; Prov. 10:3). It will lead you out of all your troubles (Job 5:20-27; Prov. 11:8; 12:13, 21). All things in life turn out for good for those who are the policy holders (Rom. 8:28). If someone came to your door and offered such a policy and you had faith in the company, it would be the easiest policy in the world to sell (Acts 2:40).

This policy gives you wisdom just for the asking, spiritual power just for the asking, and answered prayer, when in accordance with the will of the policy (James 1:5; 1 John 3:22; John 9:31; 15:7, 16; 16:24; Matt. 21:22). It guarantees you nice things for your home, abundance, joy, peace and love, as Abraham had (John 10:10; 17:13; Gen. 24:1; 25:8). It guarantees you obedient children who do not go astray when they are older (Prov. 22:6), when you follow the royal advice of Proverbs 29:15 and 17. It even guarantees you power to get wealth the right way—God's Way (Prov. 10:22; 13:21).

God wants you to partake in this royal insurance policy, but you must remain faithful to the premium. Jesus Christ qualified you to be a policy holder regardless of your present condition, but you must not stay in your present condition. You must die to self and deny your old way of life daily (1 Cor. 15:31; Luke 9:23). Instead, you must live Christ's new Way of life (Heb. 10:20; Matt. 21:32). This is done by practicing righteousness, good deeds and good works to please and glorify the Father (1 John 2:29; Gal. 6:9; John 10:25, 32, 37-38; 14:12; Matt. 5:16). You must do all that you do and say in Christ's name as a happy slave of Christ (Col. 3:17; Eph. 6:6; Rom. 6:18-19).

Overcome your nature by doing good, being zealous, persevering in good works and keeping Christ's deeds, which are all righteous—God's righteousness (1 Peter 3:13; Rom. 12:21; 2:7; 10:3; Luke 21:19; Rev. 2:26; Prov. 19:17). You must strive until God creates in you a new nature, establishes you, and puts your nature under your heel (Luke 13:24; Prov. 22:9; 1 Peter 5:10; Heb. 10:36; Rom. 16:20).

Jesus Christ's Way is easy and pleasant (Matt. 11:30). Children would have no problem with it (Matt. 19:14; 18:4). But once you start, don't look back; just keep going straight forward into the good life, which is the godly life that God has been waiting for many to live (Luke 17:31; 1 Tim. 4:7; Eph. 5:1; 1 Cor. 11:1; Titus 1:1).

1993 Wildcats finish up most impressive season

The Wayne State College football team recently finished up the most impressive season in school history with a 9-1 record and narrowly missing the playoffs. In Division II total offense the team finished #1 with 581.5 yards per game.

The most impressive offensive accomplishment of the season has the Wildcats standing alone in the National Collegiate Athletic Association record book. For the first time at any level in the NCAA a team has finished the season with a quarterback who threw for over 3,000 yards, two receivers who surpassed the 1,000 yard mark and a runningback with rushes totaling over 1,000 yards.

In 1993, quarterback Brett Salisbury completed 276 of 395 for 3,729 yards and 29 touchdowns. Wide receiver Damon Thomas came up with 81 receptions for 1,162 yards and 12 touchdowns, and wide receiver Byron Chamberlain pulled down 78 passes for 1,015 yards and 7 touchdowns. Finally, runningback Lamont Rainey rushed for 1,031 yards and 13 touchdowns on 148 carries.

Defeat Sioux City West

Wayne girls come from behind to win

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

The Wayne High girls trailed by six points with two minutes left in the season opener at Sioux City West Thursday night when coach Roger Reikofski, told them during a time out that the game was theirs.

The Lady Devils went back on the court with defensive fire in their eyes and held the Sioux City girls scoreless on only two difficult field goal attempts while ripping off eight unanswered points to win 38-36.

"It was very exciting," said Reikofski following his first game as head coach. Carrie Fink hit the go-ahead three point shot on an assist from Jenny Thompson with 15 seconds left in the game. West had a shot at the end but Katie Lutt grabbed the rebound for the Blue Devils to seal the win.

"We played 13 girls during the game, which really benefited us towards the end," said Reikofski. He said the Wayne team was able to take control in the final minutes of the game against an older, more experienced team, because his girls were rested.

He said he was proud of the entire team's performance for a first game "on the road in a tough place to play."

Carrie Fink and Tami Schluns finished the game in double figures for the Blue Devils with 13 and 11 respectively. Jenny Thompson added 8 and Katie Lutt hit two buckets.

Jenny Thompson lead rebounders with 8 and Carrie Fink and Katie Lutt each added 7.

"We grabbed some excellent steals and hit some important shots and free throws down the stretch," said Reikofski.

The Wayne girls lead at the intermission 19-14, but a cold third quarter allowed the home team to gain the advantage. The stingy defense in the first half and 4th quarter contributed to West's posting of only 21.7 percent field goal shooting.

The Wayne JV team also won 27-13. In that game Erica Stoltenberg and Corinne Langenfeld both scored 9 points and Katy Wilson added 5. The Wayne girls play in Pierce Saturday in a freshman, JV, varsity series that begins at 4:30.

Wildcats lose at home

Wayne State shot cold in the second half Wednesday night at Rice Auditorium and allowed the visiting Wisconsin-Parkside team to escape with a 85-73 win going away.

The Wildcats led 39-37 at the half but Coach Mike Brewen said it was like his team ran out of gas in the second half.

Trailing by as many as 10 points before the intermission, the black and gold squad had scrapped back to take the lead, which it looked like they were going to keep early in the second half.

The Wildcats came out and outscored their opponents 7-2 in the first three minutes but Parkside knocked it at 63 with 6 minutes left and took the lead for good 45 seconds later.

Dan Anderson paced the Wildcats with 20 points while Terry Mailloux added 15 and Omar Clark and Nate Parks each added 10. Mailloux also contributed three blocked shots and 11 rebounds.

The Wildcats, now 1-4, travel to Mankato State on Saturday and return home against Morningside Wednesday.

Wildcat women handed set back

Ranked seventh nationally, the Augustana College women's basketball team gave the Wayne State lady 'Cats a rough treatment Thursday night in Sioux Falls.

The 3-2 Wildcats were handed a 104-65, setback by the 2-0 Augustana team.

Kristy Twait came off the bench to lead the Wildcats with 16 points including 4 for 5 from three point range. Lisa Chamberlain added 11 for the visitors.

Five players were in double figures for Augustana.

WSC volleyball team 3-1 in Peru tournament

The Wayne State volleyball team went 3-1 in the Peru State Tournament over the weekend leaving Sharon Vanis' team with a 9-26 record heading into the final week of the season.

WSC will host South Dakota on Tuesday before playing host to the University of Nebraska at Kearney on Thursday in the season finale.

WSC lost its first match at Peru State to the host team in straight games, 10-15, 8-15, 10-15. Lora Grant led the team in hitting with 12 kill spikes while Cassie Vescio had seven. Cindy LeCrone notched 29 ace sets and Laura Pfister had eight digs for team tops. LeCrone and Vescio each had seven ace blocks while Jenifer Svitak had four blocks to lead WSC. Grant finished with three blocks.

Against Park College of Kansas City, Missouri in the second match, WSC won in five games, 10-15, 15-4, 15-13, 11-15, 15-12. Grant again led the way with 26 kill spikes while Laura Pfister and Tanya Rotherham had 13 aces hits apiece.

LeCrone had 71 set assists while the defense was led by Grant's 26 digs. Pfister notched 13 digs while Grant and Vescio shared team honors in blocks with three each.

The Wildcats won the third match in straight games over Benedictine College, 15-11, 15-9, 15-9. Grant had 11 kill spikes to pace the 'Cats offensive attack while Jenifer Svitak, Vescio and Lisa Skradski had five ace hits each.

Cindy LeCrone had 24 set assists to lead the winners while Laura Pfister had seven digs for team honors. LeCrone, Grant, Svitak and Jennifer Hammer each had six digs. Svitak led the blockers with five.

In the final match of the tournament, WSC defeated York College, 15-4, 15-4, 15-8. Hammer paced the offense with 11 kill spikes while Cassie Vescio had seven. Lisa Skradski and Laura Pfister had six kills each. Jaime Melton led the setting crew with 17 ace sets while LeCrone settled for 14. Svitak had seven digs to lead the defense while Annette Fluckey notched five.

"It was a good tournament for our team," Vanis said. "Obviously, the competition wasn't as strong as a lot of the teams we played this season but Peru State is very good and Park College has a real nice team."

Vanis said this tournament was a little different for her squad because they went into the weekend knowing they would play well and they played with a lot of confidence.

"We played relaxed volleyball and just had fun," Vanis said. "The girls knew there was no pressure on them and they played well."

Turnovers hurt Winside

Allen girls win

Winside girls coach Angie Schroeder took her team into the season opener with a lag behind everyone else.

That's one of the reasons she said she was not surprised at the drubbing her girls took at the hands of Allen Thursday night. The final was 60-28.

The Winside girls started practice over a week behind everyone else because of a trip to the state volleyball tournament.

"We played pretty sloppy," said the coach who cited 29 turnovers.

On the other side, coach Lori Koester for Allen was pleased with her team's performance in its first game.

Four players finished in double figures with Tanya Plueger contributing 13 and Dawn Diediker, Steph Martinson and Holly Blair adding 10 each.

The Allen girls shot 44 percent from the field and from the line.

Allen never looked back after taking a 15-12 lead in the first quarter. The score was 34-20 at the half and 49-25 after three. The whole team contributed well in the winning effort said Coach Koester.

Wrestlers win

All of Wayne's points came on pins Thursday as the Blue Devil wrestlers opened their season in a dual meet at Schuyler. The home team won the meet 50-18.

Wayne scored on pins by Jarrod Anderson, at 112 lbs., who caught Eric Loseke at 3 min, 24 sec.; Terry Rutenbeck, at 140 lbs., who made quick work of Nick Markson at 1 min, 9 sec. and Dusty Jensen, at 160 lbs., who pinned Keith Kovak in just under two minutes.

The Wayne junior varsity won 25-9 behind pins scored by Matt Ebmeier and Jeremiah Rethwisch along with decisions won by Corey Erkleben, Brian Campbell and Ryan Brown.

The next competition for the Wayne grapplers will be the Blair invitational, Saturday.

Coach pleased with team's performance

Wakefield Coach Greg Cruickshank said he was pleased with his team's performance for a first game against highly touted Pender in the opening game for both teams in girls' basketball competition Thursday.

Currently ranked third in C-1, Pender won 44-36, but Cruickshank said he saw a "real good effort" from his whole team and expected them to show even more improvement defensively. Mary Torczon led Wakefield scorers with 9 and Stacy Preston added 6.

Wakefield plays Saturday in Allen.

Winside Wildcats open with win over Allen

Winside boys opened their 1994 basketball campaign with a win over a tough Allen team Thursday.

Allen jumped out to a 23-13 first quarter lead and maintained the ten-point margin at the half before hitting a defensive wall in the third quarter, according to Allen Coach Jeff Schoning.

He said the visitors from Winside switched to a zone defense in the third quarter and his team went "stone cold."

"I thought our zone offense was better in practice," said the Allen Coach. He said his team played much better in the first half against Winside's man coverage, however.

Allen scored only two field goals in the third quarter, allowing Winside to knot the score after three at 41.

The Allen team was out rebounded 46-29 which is indicative of the size advantage enjoyed by Winside, he said. Leading scorers for Winside were Jeff Rugman with 18, Marty Jorgensen, with 17 and Ryan Brogren added 10.

For Allen, the scoring leaders were Jay Jackson with 15 and Casey Schroeder with 13.

City Rec

The results from the Wayne City's Men's Rec Basketball League were as follows. In "B" league action Monday night it was Team eight defeating Team three by the score of 92-91. Breck Giese led the way for the victors as he poured in 39 points while Terry Luhr followed with 19. Team three was led by Jerry Carraway's 29 points, Curt Hanis followed with 25.

Results for Tuesday nights "B" action saw Team one blitz Team two by the score of 90-71. The winners were led by Rod Hunke's 29 while Russ Thede added 24, respectively. Leif Olson dished in 33 in a losing effort while Nick Hochstein contributed 15. Team four edged Team seven by the score of 62-60. Steve Anderson led the way for the winners with 24, Eldon Hutchison paced the losers with 16. Team six defeated Team five by the score of 70-62. Team six was led by Tim Koll's game high 30. Bob Keating poured in 24 points in a losing cause for Team five.

In "C" league action it was Team four burying Team one by the score of 54-36. The winners were paced by Chris King's 17 points. The losers were led by Dale Jackson's 21. In other action it was Team two drilling Team three 47-28. Ted Baack's 11 led the way for the winners while Dave Diediker's 10 points were good enough to pace the losers. Team five received a bye for the week.

Pender downs Wakefield

The 1993-94 boys basketball season started Thursday night for two area schools, as Pender downed Wakefield by the score of 72-63. Brad Hoskins's Wakefield Trojans (14-11, last year) were looking to continue the two game win streak against Pender from last season, while the Pendragons (10-11, last year) were looking to capture the win for 1st year head coach Todd Strom.

In the first quarter of action, Wakefield was one better than Pender, as Justin Dutcher drilled two three-pointers to help his team take a 14-13 led. The second quarter of action saw both teams trading baskets as Penders senior veteran, Steve Vogt, caught fire with 11 points in the quarter. The score at half-time was 36-35 in favor of Pender. After intermission, the Pendragons came on strong as they built a 53-46 led. The 4th period of action saw both teams go to the charity stripe quite often, with Pender having the advantage. With this advantage, the Pendragons stretched their led as the final score was 72-63 in favor of Pender.

Pender was led by Steve Vogt's game high 25 points, 16 of them before intermission. Travis Thomson was next in scoring with 14 with no other player scoring in double figures for Pender. Cory Brown led the way for Wakefield as he poured in 24 points with Justin Dutcher adding 14 on the realm of 4 threepointers. Both teams committed their fair share of fouls as Wakefield was whistled for 28, while Pender added 24. Pender was 18-29 at the stripe, Wakefield 18-33.

Choral concerts this weekend at WSC

The Wayne State College Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Cornell Runestad, will present its annual Christmas concerts on Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 4 and 5 on campus. The public is invited.

Performance times are Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m., in Ramsey Theatre, located in the Peterson Fine Arts Building.

The Wayne High School Choir, directed by Kathryn Ley, is this year's guest choir for the concerts. The Wayne State Madrigal Singers and Women's Chorus will also perform. Ley also directs the Women's Chorus.

One of the Midwest's most widely-traveled groups, the Wayne State Concert Choir has toured Europe extensively since 1980. Wayne State choral groups have performed in the Netherlands, Austria, Germany, France, Switzerland, Hungary, England and Wales.

In April 1989, Dr. Runestad received the Rebensdorf Excellence in Teaching Award given annually to the outstanding faculty member of the Nebraska State Colleges.

Fantasy Forest festivities

Scores of people attended the annual Fantasy Forest at the Wayne National Guard Armory Thursday evening. The Wayne High School Jazz Choir entertained the crowd with Christmas songs. Over 40 decorated trees were entered by area groups, organizations and businesses. The event was sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne State College Interior Design Club.

Sinfonia concert in season of sound

The Northeast Nebraska Sinfonia will present a concert at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 7 in Ramsey Theatre, located in Wayne State College's Peterson Fine Arts Building. The public is invited.

The concert will feature music of the 20th century including works by Aaron Copland and Virgil Thomson. Selections include "Quiet City," "John Henry," the suite from "The Louisiana Story," and "Rumanian Folk Dances" by Bela Bartok.

The Northeast Nebraska Sinfonia, a college/regional orchestra, features performers from the Wayne State student body, faculty and staff as well as amateur and professional musicians from throughout Northeast Nebraska and Siouxland, according to Dr. Christopher Bonds, director of the Sinfonia and professor of music at Wayne State.

One-act winners

DISTRICT ONE-ACT play competition was held at Wayne State College this past week. Dr. Andre Sedriks, professor of theatre at WSC is shown presenting the first place plaque to Marlene Pick, director of the Coleridge one-act play. Coleridge High School won the Class D competition.

The right toy can bring a child happiness for the whole year, but the wrong one can bore or even injure a child.

During the holidays, parents need to think carefully about the gifts they give their children, Herb Lingren, University of Nebraska-Lincoln family life specialist, said. First, they need to set spending limits because people tend to spend more when they don't know what they're looking for — especially if children are with them in the store. Another way to check spending is to limit the number of toys a child receives.

"Some younger kids get five presents under the tree and they experience overload and don't have a chance to appreciate what they have," Lingren said. It may be better to distribute the toys over two or three days so that a child can learn to play with a toy and also so parents have time to help the child learn to appreciate the toy.

Second, parents need to think about a toy's safety, and if it is well-made, durable, and appropriate for the child's age and development, Lingren said. Before buying any toy, ask these questions:

—Will it cut? A toy may have sharp edges, hard plastic or metal tabs.

—Will it come apart? Toys that have small pieces may become a choking hazard to a younger child.

—Will it bruise? Some toys are too heavy for a particular child.

—Will it puncture or stick? Projectile toys, arrows, air guns, target pistols and spring loaded guns that fire objects can damage eyes.

—Does common sense tell me this toy is not safe? Avoid buying toys of faulty design or that are very inexpensive.

Be cautious of imported toys because they are not regulated the same as domestic toys, Lingren continued. Most domestic toy manufacturers have eliminated many unsafe toys. Some toys will cost more, but generally, they will be safer and more durable.

Other toy-buying tips include:

—Read the warnings that some toys carry on the package or on the toy. "Not intended for children under 3 years of age," means the toy is potentially dangerous for younger children.

—Be extremely cautious about giving a child an electronically-operated toy or chemistry set. These should only be used with adult supervision.

—Avoid buying toys that produce excessively loud noises. An innocent looking toy cap pistol fired too close to a child's ear can cause damage.

—Read the label of toys that have fabric parts and paint. Look for words like nonflammable, flame resistant, washable, or hygienic materials on stuffed toys and dolls.

—Remember that a child will not use a toy in only one way. Children are creative and curious and they will play with a toy when Mom and Dad aren't around, so make sure that the toy is appropriate for the particular child.

Finally, Lingren said, parents need to think about how they will help the child use the gift. Avoid buying toys that are too advanced for a youngster, but buy them a toy that will challenge creativity. That way parents have a chance to interact with the child.

"Enter the child's world by playing with him or her. Help them to assemble the toy or learn the rules of a game, but don't do it for them. If you work as a partner and make it a learning experience you will both share the pride of accomplishment and the child will remember something special that he or she can use while playing with other kids. That can be more special than a toy," said the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist.

Team approach touted for education

By Mr. Uhing
Special Education

School-age is one of the many exciting times in a child's life. As you build your team and make the very most of the opportunities for yourself, staff, parents and children, may you always remember that a balance in all opportunities is important as well as the fact that memories are built in many small ways from each and every day. This is your opportunity to touch a life and make a difference in often small ways. It is important to keep in mind that small steps lead to big ones as you enjoy the school-age experience as a TEAM.

In order to create and maintain optimum learning options for school-age children and those who work closely with school-age children, the following components are necessary:

1. A "Team Approach." A team may be defined as two or more individuals associated together building a cohesive, encouraging and supportive environment for all. A team is most successful if it includes:

a. Adults who enjoy, appreciate and support one another and the philosophy of the program in which they are involved.

b. Adults who enjoy, appreciate, support and understand the developmental levels of children ages 6-21.

c. Children who are encouraged to be creative, responsive, independent, self-disciplined, respectful of themselves and others and who are eager to learn.

d. Opportunities for adults and children to plan experiences and activities together.

e. Individuals and opportunities from within the surrounding community building a supportive network for the program, children, parents and staff.

2. Planning for caregivers or teachers at specific and regular times; for caregivers or teachers and children to explore options of learning together; for parents as they review the many opportunities the program can offer their children and family as well as share in the activities with time, talents, energy, resources and advice; and for administrators as they consider the many facets of the program for financial reasons.

3. Evaluation processes that ultimately demonstrate the strengths and weaknesses of the entire program. Both planning and evaluation are ongoing processes that involve continual communication and review by all involved on the Team.

4. Curriculum that includes setting goals for the program and each child involved in the program, specific activities, planning of daily events in the schedule, transition experiences, availability of materials and the routine tasks.

The "Team Approach" has been very beneficial to the Wayne staff. I am very appreciative of our parents for their input and involvement in their children's education. Everyone's input allows teachers the opportunity to develop the best educational programs for students. Working together helps kids and allows our school system the opportunity to meet your child's developmental needs.

CONTEST WINNER

Jamie Kliver was first place winner in the Christmas Green contest for the track members selling the most greens. Abbey Schroeder was second.

VOCAL CLINIC

Mr. Lacy and vocal students Holly Blair, Michelle Isom, Megan Mahler, Megan Kumm, Marcy Johnson, Dawn Diediker, Shelly Smith, Wendi Karmann, Amy Morgan, Bobbie Stingley, Bobbi Strivens, Penny Brentlinger, Steph Chase, Jamie Mitchell, Jason Mitchell, Davis Miner, Josh Snyder, Jeremy Kumm, Michael Blohm, Chris Ford and Tom Wilbur attended the Lewis Division conference vocal clinic held at Homer recently.

Members of the honor choir were Holly Blair, Bobbie Stingley and Jeremy Kumm. During the day, Rex Towns, the day's director, worked with choirs from the conference division schools as a mass choir. The group presented a concert in the evening.

QUILT CLUB

Eleven 9 Patch Quilt club members decided to participate in the "Challenge" Project which was introduced at their regular meeting Nov. 15 at the Allen Senior Citizens center. Vice president Carol Jean Stapleton conducted the business meeting and explained "Challenge" guidelines. Each member was given 1 1/3 yard printed fabric. The challenge is to use this fabric to create any quilted project. Other fabrics may be added and the finished project may be any size. The club's baby quilt project was basted together and hand quilting was started. There will be no meeting in December. Next meeting will be Jan. 17, at 7:15 pm at the Senior Center in Allen.

SEASON TICKETS

The students in the elementary grades are asking people to save the Campbell labels. The sixth grade is in the lead with 631 labels. To date: Kindergarten has 505, first, 253; second, 219; third, 172; fifth, 151; sixth, 631.

If you do not have a student in school, call the school and they will make arrangements for someone to pick them up, or give them to a friend to bring to school. The labels are used to get educational items for the school.

Season activity tickets are available in the third floor office and at the home games. The season tickets are for seven home games - Adult, $10.50; Student, $7; Girls - 6 home games, Adults, $9; Student, $6; Boys - 5 home games, Adults, $8; Student, $5. These include all double varsity games.

Today the "King" will be crowned 40,

Happy Birthday Chris!

FOOD DRIVE

The members of the FHA/HERO Chapter are having a food drive to collect canned goods to be used for Christmas boxes. There will be collection boxes placed at all home basketball games through Dec. 21 for the community to place canned goods. The donations will be distributed locally.

GEOGRAPHY BEE

All students in grades 5-8 took part in the National Geography Bee sponsored by National Geographic World and Amtrak during National Geography week, Nov. 15-19. Questions were categorized in the topics of U.S. location and orientation, historical geography, potluck geography, North America, physical geography, cultural geography, and Economic geography.

The students with five or more correct answers in the seven rounds of questioning then advanced to the final round. Students participating at this level were Micky Oldenkamp, James Schneider, Jessica Bock, Adam Gensler, Kristen Hansen, Randy Sullivan, Carrie Geiger, Billie Gotch, Candice Ford, John Stallbaum, Jeremiah Strehlow, and Leslie Ellis.

Carrie Geiger was the winner at this level, missing only one question. She then took a written test which was sent to National Geography Society for grading. If she is among the top 100 students in Nebraska, she will qualify to participate in the state Geography Bee in the spring in Omaha.

Cabinet clean up

Allergy sufferers often search the medicine cabinet for signs of relief during late summer. The Safety and Health Council of Greater Omaha reminds you that children aren't the only ones who can be poisoned by things found in the cabinet.

Clean out your medicine cabinet once a month. Almost all medicines deteriorate with age, particularly when exposed to heat, air, moisture and light. Get rid of them! Flush liquid medications down the toilet and thoroughly rinse the bottles before disposing of them. Solid medications should be discarded carefully as well.
