County plans will preserve rural areas

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Keeping urban development in the cities and towns and limiting rural development to protect agricultural production capacities are two of the key policies outlined in the draft of the Wayne County Comprehensive Plan.

Members of the Wayne County Planning Commission reviewed the provisions in the plan, which is a precursor to the land use and zoning regulations, at their meeting Thursday night.

The document, which has been more than two years in the making, is available for public review in the county clerk's office. A public hearing has yet to be set on the plan, but will be held before it is finally adopted.

IT WILL STILL be several months before the next step in the process, zoning regulation, is ready for adoption, said Sid Saunders, Wayne County Highway Superintendent, who is serving as recording secretary for the commission.

Beth Smith, with the planning firm of Hanna Keelan Associates of Lincoln, met with the commissioners Thursday to review the first draft of the plan.

In it, goals are written to encourage compatible adjacent land uses and prohibit mixing of incompatible uses, to encourage preservation of agricultural land and to encourage traditional agricultural practice and regulate more intensified agricultural practices.

The plan also calls for the eventual adoption and enforcement of a zoning ordinance for the county and the establishment of minimum standards for new residential developments through subdivision regulations.

THE PLAN is written for all rural areas of the county as well as the communities of Carroll, Hoskins and Winside. Wayne has had its own land use plan and zoning regulations since 1979 and just last year completed an extensive revision of those plans.

The county plans are projected through the year 2003.

Between now and then one of the most pressing needs facing the county and its communities according to Ms. Smith will be the need for additional housing. While the total county population is projected to continue to fall down to 8,975 by 2003, she said, the need for housing will continue to rise.

THE REASON for this is the continued decline in the average number of persons per household, she said. As family size falls, more households are created, she said.

She said the communities of

Reading really lights their fire

"Roaster" the Dragon is helping students at Wayne Middle School get excited about reading. School librarian Fauniel Bennett, right, challenged students to read 1000 books by Feb. 11. Each book is represented by a flame hung near their pet dragon. If there are enough flames by the deadline, the students will have created enough heat to pop popcorn for a party, said Mrs. Bennett. There are already 350 "flames" burning around Roaster. The whole school has been decorated in the dragon theme. Shown stringing new flames for Roaster, are, from left, Matt Topp, 12; Jeremy Nelson, 13; Sara Kinney, 14, and Michelle Saul, 13.

Theme set for 14th fun fest

"Poultry in Motion" is the theme for the 14th annual Wayne Chicken Show, which will be July 8 and 9 this year.

The Chicken Show Committee laid the theme after much scratching and cackling Thursday evening.

The traditional commemorative t-shirts which depict the annual theme will be available in April but the design is a closely kept secret until then.

Other schemes hatched by the committee Thursday included the scheduling of the first "Chicken's Indefinite" banquet on Saturday night of the Chicken Show. Patterned after the Ducks Unlimited and Pheasants Forever banquets at which funds are raised for bird habitat, the committee also plans to offer auction items such as chicken art and collectibles.

WSC program

WAYNE — A graduate-level communication arts education program at Wayne State College has been approved by the State College Board of Trustees.

Students now can study journalism, mass media, speech or theater, said Jo Taylor, the college's academic vice president.

The new options were developed after a survey of the needs of teachers in Northeast Nebraska, Taylor and President Donald Mash said.

Some Wayne students traditionally have used their degrees in journalism as springboards to employment with newspapers or broadcasters, as well as teaching, Taylor said during the board's meeting on Friday.

WSC choir to sing at churches

WAYNE — The Wayne State Choir, with Dr. Cornell Runestad as conductor, will be appearing in two local church services this weekend. On Saturday evening they will sing at the 6 p.m. mass at St. Mary's Catholic Church and on Sunday morning at the 9:30 worship service at First United Methodist Church.

These are part of the choir's appearances prior to their February tour to Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Nebraska.

Arens said witnesses reported the pickup the suspect was driving sped up before it hit and killed Ellen Gray in a Main Street crosswalk in broad daylight.

The 59 year old suspect is being held in a Sioux City hospital pending filing of charges.

Miss Northeast Nebraska Pageant set for March 19

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Members of a committee organizing a Miss Northeast Nebraska Scholarship Pageant have set the date for the event and already have lined up the minimum number of contestants needed to stage a preliminary event to the Miss Nebraska and Miss America pageants.

The pageant will be March 19 at Ramsey Theater on the Wayne State College campus. Four contestants have already signed up to participate in the pageant, and others have verbally indicated they will enter by the Feb. 19 deadline, said Mardelle Wiseman, who is directing the event with the help of Nancy Schulz, co-director.

MRS. WISEMAN said a friend of hers is the executive director of the Miss Nebraska Pageant and the friend had for several years encouraged her to start a pageant in Wayne to be a preliminary to the state pageant.

"When I started calling people everyone said yes," said Mrs. Wiseman.

She emphasized that the pageant is a scholarship pageant not a beauty contest. Contestants participate with talent, a private interview with

Urgent call for blood

Siouxland Blood Bank has been contacted by the American Association of Blood Banks requesting assistance to overcome a national blood supply shortage.

"Our nation is facing many different disasters from the earthquake in California to the deep freeze in the Midwest, South and East coast," said Pam Masching, donor coordinator for Siouxland Blood Bank.

All blood banks across the nation have been asked to help out in this serious situation.

Siouxland Blood Bank's inventory is still lower than normal. But at this point we are meeting our transfusion needs, she said, adding Siouxland feels an obligation to help during this national crisis.

"WE ARE IN need of healthy volunteers to donate. Individuals must be a minimum age of 17 and be in general good health," Ms. Masching added.

The blood bank is located at 1019 Jones in Sioux City. The

Region IV Services celebrates 20 years

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

"There are no limits on human potential." This has been the philosophy of Wayne's Region IV for the past 20 years.

On Jan. 15, 1974 a Behavior Shaping Unit was set up in Pile Hall on the Wayne State College campus as a satellite of the Northeast Nebraska Opportunity Center of South Sioux City.

Lynne Ammann was the Project Director and Ellyn Fallesen was the head teacher. Their objective was to educate children with developmental disabilities.

In the fall of 1974 a workshop for adults needing services was opened at 206 Logan Street. The children's facility was moved to a location on East Seventh Street in 1978 and both the central office and the workshop moved to the present location on South Main Street in January of 1984.

SINCE 1975 the Wayne program has been an independent area within the Region IV program. This program serves seven cities of northeast Nebraska, including Bloomfield, Columbus, Norfolk, Oakland, O'Neill, South Sioux City and Wayne. Wayne is also the home of the Central Administrative Office.

Region IV provides two types of direct service, depending on the individual's needs. These are day services such as job placement and on-site job coaching and training in work skills (both physical and social), and residential services such as supporting individuals for living in apartments or private homes and training them to follow domestic routines independently.

At the present time, Wayne is serving nine children and 31 adults in three group homes and four mini-groups.

A group home is defined as a residential facility which is home to four or more persons that must be

WSC president touts community development at Aurora presentation

Wayne State College president Dr. Donald Mash was the invited guest speaker for the Aurora Chamber of Commerce annual awards banquet on Tuesday, Jan. 18. Dr. Mash spoke about Rural Development in the Age of the Knowledge-Driven Economy.

Dr. Mash

Aurora, located about 20 miles east of Grand Island on Highway 34, is a progressive community that has built a substantial portion of its infrastructure with private contributions rather than tax dollars.

It has active community foundations and development corporations working on behalf of community development. Strong community leadership has been evident in Aurora.

IN MAY OF 1989, Dr. Mash addressed the Nebraska Industrial Developers Association at its spring meeting and pointed to several trends which suggest that one could be optimistic about the prospects for rural development. Mash has continued to speak to encourage rural communities to prepare to take advantage of coming opportunities.

Since then a number of these trends have developed more fully, and Nebraska, as well as other mid-western locations, is beginning to reap the benefits. The trends include (1) the movement of people from urban and suburban locations to rural settings, (2) the decreasing importance of location due to communication technology, (3) the increasing importance of quality of life coupled with the growing dissatisfaction with our larger cities, (4) the number of jobs being created in the technology and service sectors, and (5) the mobility of modern information and technology-based businesses.

ALSO, MASH points out that lower operating costs and production advantages are often available in rural settings which provide a competitive edge.

Mash feels that leadership and the development of workable public policy initiatives are required to initiate and drive a successful development process. The successful implementation of such a process will require collaboration among state government, education, business and local communities.

Local leadership, Mash says, is the key for communities attempting to position themselves to take advantage of opportunities for future development.

Nebraska or Miss America could very well be in our back yard."

SHE ADDED she felt compelled to get involved in the scholarship pageant because she believes there are more opportunities for educational scholarships for men through sports than there are for women.

Winner and runners-up at the local pageant will receive scholarships to the college of their choice. Members of the local pageant committee will be soliciting businesses in the area for funds to provide the scholarships.

Former Miss Nebraska winners, including Miss Schnitzler, have agreed to provide entertainment and assistance with the Wayne Pageant.

Those interested in additional information about the pageant may contact Mrs. Wiseman at 375-4189 or Mrs. Schulz at 375-2240.

Deadline nears for filing for Lower Elkhorn NRD Board

The deadline is approaching for interested individuals to file as candidates for the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District board. The Lower Elkhorn NRD is a local, political subdivision which sets the policy and programs regarding natural resources issues for the 15-county area.

NRD board members are elected through primary and general elections to serve on the board for four-year terms. Elections are held by subdistricts. Voters cast ballots for representatives within their respective subdistricts; with one at-large representative also elected in 1994.

The LENRD board approved a plan to reduce the number of directors serving on the board in 1991. The adopted plan provides for a substantially equal population between the reorganized subdistrict boundaries.

In 1994, eight of the 17 current

LENRD board positions will be up for election. Fifteen directors will comprise the Lower Elkhorn NRD board after the upcoming general election.

The filing deadline for incumbents is Feb. 24; other candidates must file prior to March 11.

The Lower Elkhorn NRD board meets at least twice each month to discuss issues and address local natural resources concerns.

For more information on subdistrict boundaries and Lower Elkhorn NRD director responsibilities, contact Stan Staab, general manager at the LENRD office in Norfolk at 700 West Benjamin Avenue in Norfolk or call 371-7313.

Lower Elkhorn NRD Board incumbents in the Wayne area are Gary Anderson, Dixon and Alvin Sundell, Wakefield.

The primary election will be held May 10 and the general election will be on Nov. 8.

Changes should be reported

"Wayne County producers are urged to report any changes in their farm operations which could affect farm program benefits in 1994," Teresa J. Post, County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said.

In order to help producers get full program benefits, she said farm records must be up-to-date.

If a farm will have a new owner or operator effective for 1994, or if a change is made in the operation of an existing farm unit, producers should contact ASCS.

"Requests to combine farms or divide a farm should be made as early as possible because reconstitutions require special processing as well as county committee approval which does take time."

The ASCS official said any changes in land owned or operated should be reported to ASCS as soon as possible.

Temperatures sets the price

Mother Nature began setting the price for a Runza Sandwiches on Jan. 19, possibly creating frigid temperatures for next-to-free Runzas!

The promotion, which is termed "Today's Temperature is Today's Price," is based on a correlation between temperature and price. Every day, until Jan. 31, the temperature will be taken at 10 a.m. and announced by KFRX radio station.

That temperature will then dictate the price of the Original Runza Sandwich that day. The Original Runza is a blend of fresh ground beef, cabbage, onions and special spices baked inside homemade bread. Customers must also purchase a large fry or onion ring and a medium drink to qualify for the deal.

Horsing around in the library

The Rainbow Riders organization has donated several new volumes on horses and horse care to the Wayne Public Library. Nancy Lunzer, left and Connie Thompson, right, are shown presenting the books to librarian Jolene Klein. The Rainbow Riders leaders challenged other groups in the community to contribute books in their interest areas to help expand the circulation at the library.

Region IV

licensed by the Department of Health and the Fire Marshal while a mini-group is a facility which is home to three or less persons. Licensing is not required for this type of unit.

REGION IV Services are separate from those provided by the Educational Service Unit's Tower School. The Service Unit provides special education to children up to the age of 21. Region IV's involvement with these children is limited to providing residential services to those students who do not live in Wayne.

Region IV employs more than 90 persons including four management and two support staff members. The remainder of the employees provide direct care to the individuals with developmental disabilities.

According to Kim Kanitz, Area Director, "This sounds like a lot of employees for only 40 persons but this includes all employees, both part time and full time. The majority of these people work only part time. Because we need to have people on duty 24 hours a day and college students generally are willing to work unusual hours, we do employ many college students."

"Our goal is to increase the variety of people we employ. The college students are enthusiastic and work well with the individuals we serve, but, unfortunately, they tend to graduate and move on. We would like to find some older people in the community to work here," said Kanitz.

ENTRY-LEVEL staff at Region IV must be at least 19 years of age, have a high school diploma and hold a valid driver's license. All those in management positions should have a bachelor's degree in human services, counseling or a related field.

Funding for the services provided by Region IV comes from a variety of sources. Originally, all funding was provided by the county or private donations. However, in recent years state funding has provided most of the revenue. Approximately 80 percent of the operating funds come from the state. The individuals served pay room and board fees which make up 12 percent of the revenue. Additional funding comes from the county and miscellaneous sources.

The total budget for the seven community agencies was more than $6.6 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1993.

KANITZ HAS been the area director of Wayne's Region IV for the past four years. "All people, including those we consider 'normal' are different. Those we serve here are challenged in their ability to learn but are still members of society and as such, they must have a part in the community," he said.

"I feel Nebraska and the Midwest in general have been in the forefront in the care of the developmentally disabled," said Kanitz.

"At 20 years, we feel that Region IV has reached 'adulthood' as a service agency. The first shaky steps are behind us. Ahead of us lies the challenges and triumphs of maturity. We look forward to providing a quality service to Wayne and its residents in the years ahead," said Kanitz.

Cold contributes to fire

Last week's extremely cold temperatures were listed as a contributing factor to a fire which destroyed a $30,000 hog barn. All but two of the 50 feeder pigs which were in the barn near Winside were rescued from the burning barn.

The fire was reported on the Jack and Marilyn Brockman farm northwest of Winside at approximately 6 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 13.

Winside fire chief Don Nelson said it appears the cause of the fire was electrical, "probably from a switch sticking from the cold weather."

The Carroll Volunteer Fire Department assisted Winside units in bringing the blaze under control.

Two blood drivers are scheduled in Wayne in coming days. An employee only drive will be held at the First National Bank of Omaha Wayne processing center on Monday, Jan. 24.

The public is encouraged to participate in a drive on Thursday, Jan. 27 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Providence Medical Center in Wayne.

A NATIONAL appeal for blood has never been done in this association's history.

Potential blood donors on the west coast are working in earthquake aftermath, she said. There is no water or electricity so the blood centers there are not operational.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Texas and other Southern states are hampered by roads closed to inclement weather and the mobile units are unable to get to the donors and donors are unable to get to the blood centers.

On the East Coast, power outage problems due to the ice and cold are creating critical blood shortages.

"We are appealing to individuals to volunteer to donate blood to help us meet Siouxland area needs and also to help out with the national blood shortage," Ms. Masching said.

Plans

Carroll, Hoskins and Winside should plan to provide 68 more owner occupied and rental housing units to meet the minimum anticipated demand in the next ten years. She called the total number a "conservative estimate."

The plan's projection of a four percent decline in rural population between 1990 and 2003 is well below the ten percent drop the county has experienced in each of the last two decades, but the commissioners said the loss of rural residents should be offset somewhat by anticipated growth in the county's communities.

"WE JUST hate to admit it," said Neil Sandahl, chairman of the commission about the rural population decline.

The effort to minimize growth and expansion of urban development into agricultural areas of the county should reduce the risk of adverse environmental impacts the plan says. It also contends that agriculture, while providing fewer job opportunities than the nonfarm sector, will continue to act as the primary foundation of the economy.

UMW meets Jan. 12

The United Methodist Women met on Wednesday, Jan. 12 with 25 present. Dorothy Brandstetter, Dorothy Hubbard, Jo Day and Dola Husmann provided and served the refreshments for the meeting.

Pauline Merchant gave the "Missionary Minute" with emphasis on the Silver Creek Methodist Church that was destroyed by fire. It was suggested to make this a Mission Project for the year.

Becky Wilson, Mission coordinator of Christian Social Concerns, had copies of the prayer of "St. Francis of Assisi" distributed on the serving tables so that it could be repeated in unison. She invited everyone to take a copy and repeat the prayer once a day for a month.

Dorothy Hubbard and Marj Porter were honored for their January birthdays. Helen Rose presented each with a "Corsage for Missions."

Hallie Sherry reported on the reading program. The two books she recommended this meeting were

"No Wrinkle On The Soul" by Richard L. Morgan and "Mister Leprosy" by Phyllis Thompson.

Dola Husmann read a thank you from Erma Koester at the Wayne Care Centre for remembering her at Christmas and to the Theophilus Interest Group for sending cards at different times of the year. She invited the UMW members to stop in and visit with her.

Julie Claybaugh, president, read a note from Pastor Don Nunnally to the group. Afterwards there was a discussion about what is a UMW member and what are the requirements to belong.

Even though the collective body of UMW have collected a million Campbell's soup labels for Charlotte to get a van for Epworth Village, we are asked to continue collecting until Feb. 28. The labels can be applied to another project.

It was voted to continue to have Dee Carroll clean the church kitchen four times a year.

The Mid-Winter Christian Mission Conference is at Ogalalla this year on Feb. 11 to 13. Registration is due Feb. 1.

Jan Kohl reported on the Ellis Scholarship Fund and said this spring we can offer one scholarship to a graduating Methodist senior.

The "Call to Prayer and Self Denial" program was presented by Marj Porter. The theme was "Building for Missions in the 21st Century." A collection was taken at the conclusion of the program.

Fern Kelley had devotions. She used an apple to help us understand that the arable land on our planet is a very small percentage of the entire area and must be taken care of to provide food for the world.

The next meeting will be Feb. 9 at 2 p.m. Norma Ehlers is chairman of the lunch committee, with Ruth Luhr, Eileen Mitchell and Virginia Wright assisting.

Heart Month activities are discussed

The Wayne County Affiliate of the American Heart Association met at Providence Medical Center to discuss activities for Heart Month in February and activities for 1994.

The packets for the residential campaign will arrive early in February. Those who have agreed to help with the campaign, and who do not receive a packet should call Ginny Otte at State National Bank. This aspect of fund raising is vital as it is one of the major sources of income.

There are several other organizations with heart in their title that try to collect money. Some of them use as much as 90 percent of the funds to perpetuate their organization and 10 percent actually is received by some aspect of heart research.

Vera Brogie is honored for her birthday

Vera Brogie of Hoskins was honored for her 80th birthday on Sunday, Jan. 16 with an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Christ Lutheran Fellowship Hall in Norfolk.

Her son, Ed Brogie, welcomed the 120 guests who attended. A video was shown of special events in the life of the honoree and her family. Sara Hoffman and Chase and Colby Langenberg presented a reading and she was honored with the birthday song by her grandchildren, John and Joe and Ben and Ann Brogie. The Rev. John Bass spoke and closed with prayer.

The event was hosted by her sons, Ed and Mark and their families.

Eighty-two percent of the money raised by the AHA goes to research, education and community service. Since so much of the fund raising is conducted by volunteers (like those that come to your house) it only takes four percent to finance all of the projects during the year.

"Remember, cardiovascular diseases are still the number one cause of death and give generously to the volunteer that comes to your home. There will not be a business campaign, so give at home," said Marian Simpson of Wayne, spokesperson for Wayne County's chapter.

Other activities during the month will be educative and informative in nature. Heart trivia will be a part of the activities, Providence Medical Center will have a two-day cholesterol check for a nominal fee, worksite blood pressure checks, care center Home With Heart and activities in the schools will include posters, special heart healthy meals and Smoke Free Class of 2000.

Other activities for the year will be Jazzercise for Heart by the classes in Wayne, Jump Rope for Heart, Swim for Heart and a new nationwide event in May, Heartride. This will be in place of the Celebrity Waiter dinner and the Wayne bicycle group is helping with the May event.

So far in 1993-94 fiscal year, Wayne has contributed $1,251 through memorials, Swim for Heart and the Providence Fitness Center's Aerobics for Heart.

"The goal for the year is $6,000 to $8,000. We have usually met or come very close to meeting our county's suggested goal and we can do it again," said Mrs. Simpson.

Bell to toll

As a reminder to the community, the bell of Grace Lutheran Church will toll at noon on Saturday, Jan. 22 in memory of the more than 30 million babies that have died because of legalized abortion.

"It has been 21 years since seven U.S. Supreme Court Justices took it upon themselves to play the role of God and through the Roe vs. Wade decision have taken away the unborn baby's most precious, basic right to life," said Debbie Rise of Wayne.

Eighteen members attend Grace Evening Circle

Grace Evening Circle was called to order on Jan. 11 by Bea Kinslow, president, with 18 members present. Lanora Sorensen gave opening devotions.

Correspondence consisted of various thank yous being read and a letter from Burt Garwood, seminary student, was shared.

Committee reports were given. There are still some cookbooks available for sale. It was reported by Twila Wolters, co-chairman, that 65 people who attended the advent service on Dec. 9 were served a light meal before the service. Marilyn Rethwisch reported that a Christmas gift had been purchased for a name at the Care Centre.

Lorraine Johnson and Susan Beckman will co-chair the cake walk for the Grace Family Fun Afternoon on Jan. 30.

LWML members are invited to attend the "Gift Shop" workshop at Our Savior Church in Norfolk on Jan. 29 from 8:45 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The purpose of this workshop is to discover your gifts and develop better use of them to the greater glory of God in the ministry to other people.

Pastors' wives retreat will be held Feb. 11 and 12 at York. The Zone meeting was to be at the Campus Center Jan. 17.

The group is going to try something different for February. The meeting will be moved to 5:30 p.m. with the committee serving soup.

Susan Beckman and Flora Bergt, committee, had Pastor Mahnken lead a Bible study about the use of time. Lunch was served by Elsie Echtenkamp and Carol Rethwisch.

WHOLE WHEAT BIBLE STUDY

What is the reward of the righteous?

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

If all the rewards for being righteous were known, we would have many more people who would want to be disciples of Jesus Christ. "Who is the Almighty that we should serve Him?" (Job 21:15). What would we gain if we did? Is there any pleasure to the Almighty if you are righteous, or profit if you make your ways perfect (Job 22:3; Matt. 5:48)? You bet there is! The following are just a few examples:

1. God hears your prayers and delivers you from trouble (Psalm 34:17; James 5:16; Prov. 11:8).
2. The Lord will not allow the righteous to hunger in times of famine (Prov. 10:3).
3. You will be delivered from death (Prov. 11:4).
4. You will be rewarded with prosperity (Prov. 13:21).
5. You will be protected from harm (Prov. 12:21).
6. You are guaranteed answered prayer (Prov. 15:29; John 9:31).
7. You will be protected from a whole list of woes (Job 5:20-27).

8. God will save you from sickness (James 5:14; Psalm 41:3).

The list goes on and on, but how can we be righteous in God's eyes (Psalm 145:17-18)? The word of God says those who practice righteousness for God are righteous.

Wayne awaits conference talks for possible entry

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The demise of the Northern Activities Conference will not officially be complete until the end of the 1995 school year, yet two of the four teams have already been accepted into other conferences.

Hartington Cedar Catholic has been accepted into the Mid-States Conference and South Sioux City has been accepted into a new conference called the River City Conference which will consist of Ralston, two other metro schools along with two Council Bluffs, Iowa schools.

That leaves Wayne and O'Neill in search of a conference. Both schools have applied to the Mid-States Conference and Wayne has applied into the East Husker Conference which would be likely split into a big school/small school division if accepted.

Both Cedar Catholic and South Sioux will more than likely participate in conference activities in their new conferences next season which means the death of the NAC may unofficially happen before the end of the 1995 school year.

The Mid-States Conference was a seven-team conference with Norfolk Catholic, Battle Creek, Albion, Madison, West Point Central Catholic, Stanton and Tilden-Elkhorn Valley.

However, Tilden has jumped out of the conference leaving them with six teams, but Hartington Cedar Catholic and Pierce have been accepted into the conference, bringing the total number of schools in the conference to eight.

Pierce jumped from the NENAC to the Mid-States and Tilden switched from the Mid-States to the NENAC. The Mid-States Conference officials like the idea of an eight-team conference but it seems that Stanton and West Point Central Catholic are interested in getting out of that conference and jumping over to the East Husker Conference.

In fact, Dennis Dolliver, athletic director at Stanton says they've already applied to the East Husker. "We just don't think we can compete with the schools in the Mid-States anymore because of size differences," Dolliver said. "We have a total of 47 boys out for football in Stanton in grades 7-12 while Albion has 60 kids out for football in junior high alone."

DOLLIVER SAID Stanton has enjoyed a good relationship with all of the Mid-States schools but the size difference in football is just too great. West Point Central Catholic has been voicing the same reasons as Stanton for wanting to get out of the Mid-States.

If these two schools get accepted into the East Husker there will be two openings. However, Wayne has also expressed an interest in joining the East Husker and according to superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen, Wayne's first concern is to join a conference and there is no preference.

"We've written letters to both conferences," Jensen said. "They meet in late February and March so we won't know anything until then."

There seems to be a couple of factors working against Wayne when it comes to joining either of these conferences including size and transportation costs and these factors also seem to be staring O'Neill in the face as well.

Currently in the Mid-States Conference, Albion is the largest school with an enrollment in grades 9-11 of 177 expected for the 1994-95 school year. Madison is second with 168 followed by Battle Creek with 147 and Norfolk Catholic with 131.

Tilden-Elkhorn Valley has 113 students while West Point Central Catholic and Stanton have 112 each. Cedar Catholic joins with 123 students and the newest member, Pierce will step in with the most enrollment at 201.

Wayne will enter the school year in the fall of 1994 with 202 students in grades 9-11 which hardly means there is a concern about size. O'Neill will yield 238 students in grades 9-11.

Battle Creek athletic director Bob Schnitzler said Cedar Catholic was already voted into the Mid-States Conference, making up the eighth team while Pierce was accepted after Tilden-Elkhorn Valley decided to get out.

"O'Neill has already applied to the Mid-States Conference and we've told them that we're full," Schnitzler said. "Of course, a lot depends on what happens with the East Husker Conference in their February meeting." Schnitzler said at this point there isn't much talk of the Mid-States ever growing to a 10-team conference.

TURNING TO the East Husker Conference, Hooper-Logan View has 190 students in grades 9-11 for the fall of '94 while Tekamah-Herman and West Point have 171 apiece. North Bend will have 159 followed by Wisner-Pilger with 120 and Pender with 111. Oakland-Craig with 99, Lyons-Decatur with 96 and Scribner/Snyder with 89 round out the rest of the East Husker Conference teams and enrollment.

If accepted into the East Husker Conference, the teams would go into a big school/small school division with the big schools consisting of Hooper-Logan View, Tekamah-Herman, West Point, North Bend, Wisner-Pilger and Wayne on one side. Another factor the conferences will have to consider when voting on accepting Wayne is the growing enrollment.

Jensen said since 1987 the K-12 school district in Wayne has increased by approximately 100 students. If that keeps sky-rocketing then Wayne's enrollment will get to the point where it exceeds the other conference schools by a large number.

The 1994-95 school year will also be the year the reclassification goes into effect leaving Wayne as a C-1 school. The top 24 schools in the state in enrollment will be Class A followed by the next 32 schools in Class B.

The next 64 largest schools will be Class C-1 followed by the next 64 schools in Class C-2. The remaining schools will be divided equally into two Class D divisions.

In the Wayne Herald coverage area, Laurel and Wakefield will both be C-2 schools with Winside and Allen in D-1. Laurel will enter next school year with 108 students in grades 9-11 while Wakefield has 82. Winside will have 68 and Allen will have 53.

'Cats fall to 5-10 with 32 point defeat

WSC men lose at Moorhead

The Wayne State men's basketball team was blasted at Moorhead State of Minnesota, Wednesday, 111-79 leaving the 'Cats with a 5-10 record on the season heading into Saturday's home contest with Minnesota-Morris in Rice Auditorium.

Mike Brewen's squad trailed the host team by 25 points at the half, 59-34 and they never challenged in the second half. Omar Clark returned to the team after a one-game suspension and he led the 'Cats with 22 points while Dan Anderson tossed in 15.

Billy Patterson was in double figures with 14 and Terry Mailloux chipped in with eight. WSC was out-rebounded, 51-43 despite a nine carom performance by Anderson and eight rebounds from Mailloux.

Nate Parks, Patterson and Anderson each dished out three assists to share team honors but the 'Cats had just 11 team assists while turning the ball over 28 times. Patterson did managed to record five steals but the story to this game was hot shooting by Moorhead State.

The host team connected on 42 of 81 shot attempts from the field for 52 percent and they connected on seven of 15, three-point field goal attempts. Moorhead was also 20 of 31 from the foul line.

WSC hit 41 percent of its shots on 29 of 70 and they were just 4-19 from three-point range. The 'Cats did hit 17 of 24 free throw attempts.

WSC (79), Moorhead State (111): WSC—Omar Clark, 22; Dan Anderson, 15; Billy Patterson, 14; Terry Mailloux, 8; Kyle White, 7; Greg Ryan, 6; John Rollman, 4; Nate Parks, 3.

Ottis to play in Bowl

Former Wayne State defensive football standout Brad Ottis was notified by telephone early Thursday afternoon that he would be playing in Saturday's Senior Bowl in Mobile, Alabama.

Ottis was originally an alternate but due to an emergency in the family of Bryant Young, the All-American defensive lineman from Notre Dame, Ottis got the call.

The game will be the 45th Senior Bowl and Ottis will have just one day to practice with the North squad team, coached by Philadelphia Eagles mentor Rich Kotite and his staff. The South squad, incidentally, will be coached by Miami Dolphins legendary coach Don Shula and his staff.

The Senior Bowl is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday and will be televised by ESPN with play-by-play and color by Ron Franklin and Mike Gottfried.

Ottis will be one of seven defensive linemen playing for the North. Senior Bowl rules state both teams must play the 4-3 defense. The 4-3 rule means that although he will only have one day to prac-

OMAR CLARK returned from a one-game suspension to lead Wayne State in scoring with 22 points against Moorhead State.

DAN ANDERSON chipped in 15 points and hauled down a team high nine rebounds in the 111-79 loss to Moorhead, Wednesday.

Otis should see his share of time on the field.

Ottis has been an alternate for the game since his sterling performance in the Blue-Gray Bowl on Christmas Day. In that game he played for more than a half and came up with three unassisted tackles, three assisted tackles and a quarterback sack.

When a Green Bay Packers scout was asked who he liked during the telecast he said, "Undoubtedly, Brad Ottis has been the most impressive player on the field today."

Laurel basketball teams sweep Hartington on road

The Laurel girls and boys basketball teams swept Hartington on the road, Thursday night in a make-up game from Tuesday. The Lady Bears won by a 65-56 margin as Rick Petri's squad improved to 3-8.

Laurel led 12-4 after the first quarter and 28-19 at the half. "We never trailed in the game," Petri said. "We got off to a good start in the first quarter and we maintained a comfortable lead from then on."

Samantha Felber poured in 22 points to lead the winners while Becky Schroeder and Leann Stewart netted 10 apiece. The Bears dominated the boards, 48-35 as Felber hauled down a game high 14 cars while Schroeder had nine.

Laurel committed 18 turnovers but forced Hartington into 21. The biggest difference in the Bears, however, was free throw shooting. After a dismal performance at home against Creighton last Friday the Bears warmed up as they hit 15 of 25 in Hartington.

The Laurel boys disposed of Hartington by a 74-57 margin as Clayton Steele's squad upped their record to 8-3. The visitors jumped out to a 20-11 lead after the first quarter and led 36-28 at the intermission. The Bears put the game on ice in the third quarter when they out-scored the host team, 20-11 for a 56-39 advantage.

"We played real well," assistant coach Tom Luxford said. "We got to play a lot of kids which led to a complete team effort." Cody Carstensen led the winners with 16 points while Jeremy Reinoehl netted 15. Rich Rasmussen and Jared Reinoehl were also in double figures with 11 apiece.

The Bears did an excellent job of shooting free throws as they connected on 25 of 30 attempts. Laurel will host Bloomfield on Friday night in a girl-boy double-header and the girls will host Hartington Cedar Catholic on Saturday.

Laurel girls (65), Hartington (56): Laurel—Samantha Felber, 22; Becky Schroeder, 10; Leann Stewart, 10; Tara Erwin, 5; Amanda Hartung, 5; Dawn Wickett, 4; Cathy Mohr, 3; Alissa Krie, 2; Kari Kraemer, 2; Heather Cunningham, 2.

Laurel boys (74), Hartington (57): Laurel—Cody Carstensen, 16; Jeremy Reinoehl, 15; Jared Reinoehl, 11; Rich Rasmussen, 11;

BANQUET HELD

The Wakefield Volunteer Firefighters and Rescue Squad hosted a banquet Jan. 8 to honor the Gardner Foundation and family along with their own members. The Gardners were presented a plaque of appreciation for the foundation's contributions to purchase the new rescue unit and fire truck recently put into service. "Without the Foundation," Fireman Dallas Roberts said, "it would have been years before the two new pieces of equipment could have been put into use. Because of the Gardner's generosity," Roberts continued, "the department has been able to get back to the purpose of learning and answering emergency calls and not have to spend a lot of time on fundraising projects."

Present at the event to accept the awards were Dan and Jeanne Gardner along with Leslie and Tim Bebee.

The department also expressed its appreciation to the Mayor and city council with certificates and to the rural fire board for its support. Mayor Lefty Olson and councilmen Sid Preston and Alfred Benson along with board members Alvin Sundell, Bob Jones, Bill Hansen and Lyle Ekberg were present to accept their certificates.

A special award was presented to Lowell Johnson who was a member for the fire department and rescue squad and served as training leader for the rescue personnel for a period of time.
