Wayne mayor, Co. treasurer will not run

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

It's decision time for area elected officials and those who think they would like to be. Filing for local elected positions has begun at the Wayne County Courthouse.

Incumbents have until Feb. 24 to make up their minds on seeking

First to file

Lorraine J. Johnson of Wayne became the first candidate to file for election in Wayne County. She will be seeking the position of County Treasurer to replace Leon Meyer, who has announced he will be retiring.

Mrs. Johnson has been an employee of the county treasurer's office for more than 25 years and is currently serving as deputy county treasurer.

She is married to Wayne businessman Larry Johnson. She said she has been thinking about running for the position for some time and hopes to continue to provide the excellent service the taxpayers have come to expect from the office.

reelection and challengers have until March 11. Already, a couple of local incumbents have publicly announced they will not be filing for reelection.

Wayne Mayor Bob Carhart said he will not be a candidate for a second term and Wayne County Treasurer Leon Meyer has announced he will retire at the end of his current term. Carhart said he indicated when he ran four years ago that he would be setting a self imposed term limit on his position as Wayne Mayor.

"I SAID IT was a one-term proposition and that is what it is," he said.

Most of the other local incumbents contacted by the Wayne Herald in a thumbnail survey, have said they are still either trying to make up their mind or not ready to announce their intentions.

In state legislative posts 18th District Sen. Stan Schellpeper, Stanton, has announced his candidacy for reelection, and 17th District Sen. Pat Engel, South Sioux City, had agreed to run for election this May when he was appointed to fill the

Wayne is 'powerful' town

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Last week's deep freeze weather created a new record demand for electric power for winter time in the city of Wayne but that peak usage does not come close to the peak reached last August.

Each summer the electric users post the peak demand for electricity to power air conditioners and that peak is what determines the cost the city pays for its electricity all the rest of the year.

Last August, during a brief hot spell, the city recorded its highest electrical use ever, said Gene Hansen electrical generation superintendent in his annual report to the city council. Last summer's peak was 10,359 kilowatts on August 26.

THE FEES THE city pays for electrical energy it purchases from NPPD is determined for the entire year by the amount of the peak demand in the summer. The higher the peak, the more the city pays for electricity all the rest of the year.

But even with that peak demand, Hansen said the city saved $11,250 because of a peak load control system installed last year.

Snow watch

Northeast Nebraskans will apparently be paying the piper this week for last week-end's unseasonably pleasant weather. Snowfall, possibly heavy, is predicted for most of the region beginning Wednesday evening and into Thursday.

A winter storm watch has been issued for the period by the National Weather Service. Predictions of freezing drizzle followed by snow with accumulations of up to six inches have been announced.

was placed voluntarily last summer on 200 home air conditioning units. The load management system will continue to help keep the peaks from being higher, Hansen said.

The city has 200 more of the load control switches ready to install on homes this summer and is hoping for additional savings next year, Hansen said.

HANSEN SHOWED a comparison of residential electric rates paid by other communities which lists

Wayne as having the lowest overall rate at just over 5 cents per 1000 kilowatt hours.

He said he anticipates city electrical users will continue to enjoy lower rates than most other comparable communities in the state because of the management system and the investment in electrical generation capacity at the Municipal power plant.

Both wholesale suppliers have warned the city of electric rate increases in 1994. NPPD power will be going up three percent and hydroelectric power purchased from the Western Area Power Administration will be going up 15 percent, he said.

THE IMPACT these wholesale prices will have on retail customers is still uncertain, said Hansen.

He also told city council members in his report that the city should look seriously at a feasibility study for adding increased electrical generating capacity at the diesel fired power plant because of the increased electrical demands in the community.

Hansen also reported that electric customers in Wayne benefited from $7,216 worth of incentive rebates in

February is Heart Month

AREA — The Wayne County Chapter of American Red Cross has announced two first aid classes during the month of February. Community/standard first aid includes cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Participants may decide which sections are desired. Preregistration is required. For more information, contact Linda Teach, 607 Fairacres Road, Wayne, Neb. 68787 or call 375-1521.

The first class will be Feb. 7 to 9 from 6 to 10 p.m. and the second will be a one-day session on Feb. 12 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Correction

WINSIDE — The first reports of the hog barn fire in rural Winside last week were in error. Of the 70 hogs in the barn only 30 were saved. The Wayne Herald erroneously reported only two hogs were lost.

The fire was on the Jack and Marilyn Brockman farm northwest of Winside on Thursday, Jan. 13.

911 service

ALLEN — The 911 emergency phone numbers will take effect Feb. 1 and will be available for persons with a phone prefix of 635 or 638.

If you live in a fire district that is not served by the Allen-Waterbury fire and rescue and you have a 635 or 638 number you will need to call that fire department. If you are served by the Allen-Waterbury fire and rescue and you do not have a 635 or 638 number, you will need to dial 755-2255 and the dispatcher at the Dixon County sheriff's office will page the fire department needed. 911 may be used for calls for fire, rescue and law enforcement.

Planetarium shows scheduled at WSC

WAYNE — Wayne State College will present its planetarium show "Dawn of Astronomy" on Sundays, Jan. 30 and Feb. 6, 13, 20 and 27. The public is invited.

The shows will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Fred G. Dale Planetarium, located at the south entrance of the Carhart Science Building on the Wayne State campus.

This show chronicles the earliest astronomical discoveries, and features the pyramids and temples of Egypt and Stonehenge in England. Early humans are presented as intelligent and resourceful, fully capable of building astronomical monuments of incredible size and precision and using them to measure and predict a wide variety of astronomical events.

Special showings may be arranged for school groups and other organizations by contact Carl Rump, director of the planetarium, Wayne State College, 375-7343.

Schools studied to find a fix

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

All the options will cost money and members of the Wayne Schools Facility Study Committee have asked the school architect to return to the next committee meeting with estimated costs of the different options to rectify the district's numerous building problems.

Monday, the committee of citizens, school board members and administrators completed its tours of the different buildings in the district and prioritized the most pressing needs.

HIGH ON THE lists for each building in the district is the need to address Americans With Disabilities Act requirements, said Dr. Dennis Jensen, superintendent. However, he said many other shortcomings were outlined in the committee study.

The longest list of problems were outlined for the Middle School Building and The Carroll School.

Coleridge is stunned by death

COLERIDGE, Neb. (AP) -- A 59-year-old Coleridge man charged with running down and killing a 74-year-old woman with a pickup truck was being brought back to Nebraska Monday, Cedar County Sheriff Elliot Arens said.

James Forsberg was being held in Sioux City, Iowa, where he was treated at a hospital for minor injuries after his pickup truck slammed into Ellen Gray and a concrete column on Thursday.

"He waived extradition this morning, and I'm just headed out the door to pick him up," Arens said from Hartington.

Cedar County Attorney Mark Behm said he filed what he called "alternate" charges of first-degree murder, second-degree murder and manslaughter against Forsberg.

A judge or jury will decide which charge, if any, Forsberg is guilty of, Behm said. The charge could be amended before trial.

Behm said Forsberg's first court appearance was tentatively scheduled for 1 p.m. CST Thursday in Cedar County Court in Hartington.

Coleridge, stunned by the incident, worked to comfort the Gray family.

"Yes, this community has been rocked by this thing ... but the real spirit of Coleridge is that everyone here is ministering to the family," said Jim Wintz, director of Wintz Funeral Home.

Pastor Roland Olesen of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, who presided over Monday's funeral for Gray, declined to comment on the case.

Forsberg was taken into custody by Sioux City, Iowa, police and taken to the Woodbury County Jail on Sunday after he was discharged from the hospital. The farmer had suffered head injuries and broken ribs.

Some people in Coleridge have linked Gray's death to a smoldering feud.

Townpeople say that Forsberg had been harassing the Gray family for years in this northeast village of 600 located 34 miles north of Norfolk.

Witnesses said Forsberg was driving slowly along the street, then sped up and hit Gray, Arens has said.

It wasn't the first sign of trouble.

Gray -- who owned the Coleridge National Bank with her late husband, James L. Gray Sr. -- had complained about Forsberg in the past, but no charges were ever filed against Forsberg, Arens said.

It was always Gray's word against

Mounting the library drive

Members of the Wayne Library Foundation Board have begun the work toward a community-wide funding drive to help finance a new library and senior citizen center for the community. Wayne City Council will discuss a possible sales tax vote at its meeting tonight. Part of the sales tax revenue would help fund the new facility, but the Library Foundation hopes to raise as much as $500,000 from private sources to help with the facility which is anticipated to cost approximately $1.2 million. Members of the foundation front row from left are Jolene Klein, librarian; Rusty Parker, and Phyllis Hix. Back row is Stan Morris, Merlin Wright, Pat Gross and Sam Schroeder.

The Golden Years

The number of day care centers in the U.S. for older men and women has increased from less than 1,000 only four years ago to more than 3,000 today. The trend is expected to continue because the centers fill widespread needs, both for the aged and for family members who take care of them at home. This is especially true for family members who work fulltime and whose parents are not in condition to be left alone. Spending the day in a group setting at one of these centers also can be meaningful to the elderly person who otherwise is housebound.

In 1941, Harry Callahan was a clerk for a Detroit auto maker. He had a camera, but didn't know much about using it. Then legendary photographer Ansel Adams came to Detroit to exhibit and explain his works. That inspired Callahan to embark on his own distinguished career in photography. At 81, he took time from his work to accept the 1993 McDowell Medal, awarded each year "for an outstanding contribution to the nation's culture."

Thoughts on a walk...

EDITOR'S NOTE: Allen O'Donnell offers his thoughts on the "Walk for Life" held in Lincoln Saturday. We are offering his views over three parts in the next three issues of the Wayne Herald.

Having just returned from the "walk for life" in Lincoln I must say that it was invigorating. For one thing, the weather turned out to be quite lovely. We started the day wrapped up for warmth, and by the end of the walk at the University we were carrying our coats over our shoulders. While it was intoxicating somewhat, still it was somber considering why we were there. More than 5,000 Nebraskans made the walk on the anniversary of Roe vs. Wade. And there were 12 of us from Wayne County, and about seven from Dixon County. That is impressive, I think.

Cal Thomas gave a strong talk to the assembled 5,000 at the State Capitol. One of his telling lines was: "As I look out on this great audience I know that tomorrow I'll read that all 75 people showed in Lincoln, yesterday!" He was getting in a jab at the national press which is not pro-life-friendly, and which usually sees pro-life demonstrations as hackneyed and "country."

Besides Cal Thomas we heard addresses from a couple of State Senators, a few "big red" ballplayers, the presidents of "lawyers for life" and "physicians for life," and some other notables. Of course, there were those campaigning for public office handing out literature. It was all very urban, very metropolitan.

I saw about 10 "pro-choice" types hanging around the edges of the crowd showing disdain and shouting derision, a few of them made up clown-like to show their feelings and their fears. I was surprised that there weren't more of them.

One of the speakers pointed out that there are about 5,000 abortions every year in Nebraska. That made me look at the crowd I was part of: 5,000 is a large number when you are standing in the middle looking out.

Five thousand. That is close to the number of people now living in the city of Wayne. Then I heard the number "one-point-six-million." That's the number of abortions in America in 1993.

My Turn

Consider that there were about 800,000 Americans killed in the Civil War, and about 300,000 in World War II, and another 100,000 killed in the Korean and Vietnam Wars, but there were 1,600,000 human lives killed in American in 1993 through abortion alone. That says something about America in modern times, doesn't it?

Here I am, after spending 20 years in the military to "defend America against communism," and more than a quarter-century teaching college in middle America (and I lived more than seven years overseas), and I still cannot, for the life of me, figure out what has happened to America! Why has America chosen death over life? Why do we allow women the right to destroy the human life that God has given them? And why would a medical doctor, highly trained in all aspects of human life, permit himself/herself to abort human life?

There's more than 5,000 years of history of human life to be studied, and we know that there is always a reckoning. There have been 35 million human lives aborted from the wombs of American women since Roe vs. Wade. As one walks through this type demonstration one must think, and I had to think about the fact that all these abortions were legal abortions, and they were done with the support of our Supreme Court, our medical profession, our legal profession — even a number of church ministers claim to support the "choice" of abortion. In other words, the "cream" of the western world has permitted these killings of human life in the womb. Why? That's the question. Why would our morality allow this killing of human life? We know what has happened to those early civilizations that showed disdain for human life.

All bills are in

By Stan Schellpeper
District 18 Senator

We finished bill introduction this past week with more than 500 bills being introduced. In a short session, most of the bills will not be discussed except in the various committees. All bills not enacted into law by the end of the session on April 15 will automatically die and, subsequently, would need to be reintroduced next session. Eventually, the legislature needs to place a limit on the number of bills that an individual senator can introduce.

The Revenue Committee, of which I am a member, heard a bill that would allow a school district to implement a local option income tax with the approval of the voters of the district. The revenue from such a tax would be used by local school districts for building construction only. An election would need to be held in the school district in order to allow an income tax to be imposed. Under the proposal, any amount up to 1% of Nebraska taxable income may be levied on

Most popular fibs really get around

There is a commandment against lying but that hasn't stopped anybody. Breaking that commandment has always been a popular American pastime.

So popular in fact is lying, that most of us do it without even realizing it.

That's one of the reasons Ed Cooper has compiled a list of great American lies. You'll undoubtedly find some of your favorites on his list. I know I did. All too often these little phrases pop out without us even realizing what they are.

- Lies...
- The check is in the mail.
 - I'll start my diet tomorrow.
 - We service what we sell.
 - Give me your number and the doctor will call you right back.
 - Money cheerfully refunded.
 - I gave at the office.
 - One size fits all.
 - This offer limited to the first 100 people who call in.
 - Every cloud has a silver lining.
 - Your luggage isn't really lost, it's only misplaced.
 - Of course I'll respect you in the morning.
 - Leave your resume and we'll keep it on file.
 - It's better to give than to receive.
 - This hurts me more than it hurts you.
 - I just need five minutes of your time.
 - My wife doesn't understand me.

Mann Overboard
By Les Mann

- I thought the ad was due next week.
- Your table will be ready in a few minutes.
- Money can't buy happiness.
- Open wide, it won't hurt a bit.
- You don't look a day over 30.
- Let's have lunch sometime.
- Don't call us, we'll call you.
- Not tonight, I have a headache.
- It's not the money, it's the principle.

I think there are a few other popular fibs Mr. Cooper might have forgotten.

- They include:
- My car gets 32 miles per gallon.
 - The economy is going to turn around. It has to, it can't get any worse.
 - My child would never do a thing like that.
 - I played that hole in 5 strokes (golfing).
 - I'll be losing money on the deal, but...
 - Never needs ironing.
 - Young people are going to ruin this country.
 - Your car will be ready on Tuesday.
 - It's alright, he won't bite (barking dog).
 - I think my speedometer is broken officer.
 - You have such a sweet baby.
 - I'm fine, thank you.
 - There's an 80 percent chance of rain tomorrow.
 - Yes dear, it's delicious.
 - I was sure I had told you.
 - You never told me.
 - Monday's child is full of grace.
 - I'd love to help, but I'm going to be out of town that week. (2 at once)
 - I always tell the truth.

Capitol News —

It's just one bill after another

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — Three weeks and 516 new bills after the 1994 session began, the Nebraska Legislature is beginning to dig into the work of governing the Cornhusker state.

Put every red cent on this bet: not all of those bills will become law.

Not even close.

How come?
The business of a state senator includes introducing several bills sought by local constituents, area groups and, of course, those friendly special-interest groups and state agencies.

A lot of these bills are just plain dumb ideas or pure political posturing.

Scratch those first. Some good ideas only benefit a few folks and hurt others. Or, its impact is unclear.

That's when the Legislature orders a study (which isn't always such a bad idea) thus delaying a bill.

Even if a bill is a great idea, who's time has come, and a proposal that would deliver property tax relief to every living thing on the planet, there isn't enough time to get to pass everything this year.

By the time you read this column, the 60-day session will be one-fourth over with.

Unless a bill is designated as a priority by a senator, it doesn't stand much of a chance in 1994.

After the first quarter, here's a few impromptu awards for the Capitol:

— The How to Win Friends and Influence Colleagues Award. Sen. Kate Witek of Omaha, for introducing bills to do away with outcome-based education then challenging the chairwoman of the Education Committee, Sen. Ardyce Bohlkke of Hastings, to a public debate through a newspaper story.

Regardless if the idea of outcome-based education is a little fuzzy, you don't tick off the committee chair, especially when that person sets the hearing dates on bills.

— The Working Together Cup.

The National Rifle Association and State Sen. John Lindsay of Omaha, the chairman of the Judiciary Committee. The NRA ran a last-minute power play against a bill addressing juvenile crime and Lindsay, who has worked the measure for several years, didn't like it.

Neither did the governor, Sen. David Bernard-Stevens or a host of other senators who back the bill. The NRA is the last lobbying organization that needs more enemies in the Legislature and in one day, they earned a few more.

— The Nice Try/Wrong Year Award. To the rural senators who are pushing the repeal of all property taxes as a way to force a fairer tax system. Most legislators are sick of dealing with property taxes. In a short session that's an election year, big changes aren't adopted anyway.

Of course this doesn't mean such a proposal won't make it on the November ballot anyway — a petition drive pushed by Holt County ranchers that does the same thing is reportedly doing well.

— The When 35 Co-Sponsors Might Not Be Enough Citation. To Omaha Sen. Chris Abboud, who obtained 35 co-sponsors for the package of adult crime bills forged by Gov. Nelson, Attorney General Don Stenberg and Omaha Mayor P.J. Morgan. While 36 senators out of 49 looks like a sure thing, one of those not walking with the crowd is Omaha Sen. Ernie Chambers, who has burned halting legislation into a work of art.

Chambers will be tougher than a tight end in blocking that bill.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

How we think is how we are

We are equal to our thoughts. A Biblical sage wrote: "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." The mind can work for us or against us. It is a "thought factory" with conveyers and inventory.

Foremen in charge of production are: Mr. Positive and Mr. Negative. Both are brilliant strategists. Work makes each stronger. Positive manages building constructive thought. Negative oversees production of "Ain't nothin' good gonna happen to me today!"

As general manager, you give orders to both. Awaking, you immediately call one of them. Negative, a loser, is in charge of design and development of such thoughts as "You're inadequate, unattractive, and socially clumsy". Mr. Positive likes to work all the time but often gets shoved aside. He thinks it's an extraordinary day with great potential for success. Then, stubbing your toe, Negative reminds you "I told you so!"

Your "thought factory" whir-r-rs. Foreman Negative underestimates the general manager's brain power, and overestimates the brain power of others, resulting in excuses. Foreman Positive advises you opportunities are at hand, and is not concerned about how much intelligence you have, but how you are going to use what you have. Positive knows the mind is for thinking, not a warehouse for negative overstock.

Negative manages your harbor of fear. Fear sailed in and docked with its cargo of psychological infection. Negative is an expert in unloading anxiety over failure. Foreman Positive knows you are what you think you are, and advises you to think only fruitful thoughts. He knows perception is reality. Are you going to push and shove or lead? Negative proposes you can't do anything right. Positive suggests you remember that, your mind, like a bank, thrives on beneficial thought investments. Ideas earn interest only when acted upon.

"You're a big dreamer", Negative says, "but what will others think?". Negative is the structural engineer of the student who feels he can't make A's or the football team, so he pretends he doesn't care. In contrast, it was Foreman Positive who told Abraham Lincoln, Einstein, Henry Ford, Alexander Graham Bell, Marie Curie, Charles A. Lindbergh, Amelia Earhart, Martin Luther King, Jr., Sally K. Ride and Sandra Day O'Connor to plunge ahead despite the odds!

Which of your foremen prevailed today?

WAYNE—Wayne Eagles Auxiliary met Jan. 17 at the Aerie home at 8 p.m. with nine members present. Doris Gilliland, president, called the meeting to order.

The secretary reported the Western Zone conference is scheduled in Lexington on April 23 and 24. A printed copy of the proceedings of state convention, which was held in June in Grand Island, was received.

A Valentine potluck supper is planned for Saturday, Feb. 5 at 7 p.m. Members should bring one meat dish and one other dish.

The smoker is scheduled for Feb. 12, starting at 6 p.m. at the Aerie home.

Serving at the January meeting were Mardella Olson and Lori Beebe. Serving Feb. 7 will be Helen Sommerfield and Bonnie Mohlfeld.

Six squares gather for Town Twirlers

AREA—Town Twirlers met Sunday, Jan. 16 at the Laurel auditorium with six squares from four area clubs. Vernon Miller from Hoskins was the caller.

Hosts and hostesses for the night were Merlin and Kaye Saul of Wayne, Forrest and Norma Smith of Allen and Vernon and Lois Miller of Hoskins. Greeters for the night were Gary and Cindy Geer of Laurel.

Ron Schroeder of Norfolk will be the caller for the Feb. 6 Valentine dance.

Selected by National Board

Goldenrod Hills awarded funds

Northeast Nebraska has been chosen to receive $15,456 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the area.

Goldenrod Hills Community Services was selected by a National Board and consists of representatives from The Salvation Army, American Red Cross, Council of Jewish Federations, Catholic Charities, USA, National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA and United Way of America which will provide the administrative staff and function as fiscal agent.

The Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A local board made of government, United Way, Salvation

Army, Red Cross Native American representation, National Council of Churches of Christ and Catholic Charities will determine how funds awarded to the Northeast Nebraska region are to be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by the local services organizations in the area.

The local board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local government or private voluntary organizations chosen to receive funds must: 1) be non-profit, 2) have an accounting system and conduct an annual audit, 3) practice nondiscrimination, 4) have demonstrated the capability to delivery emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 5) if they are a private voluntary organization, they must have a voluntary board.

Qualifying organizations must follow a formal application process with application being mailed to Goldenrod Hills Community Services by Jan. 24.

Goldenrod Hills Community Services has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously in Northeast Nebraska with Nebraska Indian Inter-tribal Development Corporation, Salvation Army, Bright Horizons, Good Neighbors, The Link, Norfolk Community Soup Kitchen and the Norfolk Food Bank.

Further information on the program and the required application procedures may be obtained by contacting Robin Snyder, Executive Director, Goldenrod Hills Community Services, 529-3513.

Low Sodium

If your doctor told you to start a low sodium or "salt-free" diet, there are many hidden sources of salt of which you must be aware. A surprising source may be your medications, as some over the counter medications contain significant amounts of sodium (for example, 554 mg of sodium in each Aika Seltzer™ tablet). If you have questions concerning the sodium content of your medications, contact your pharmacist.

Construction of recreation fields at Wayne State set for phase two

Implementation of the master plan for development of the outdoor recreation and sports complex at Wayne State College has moved into Phase Two, with approval by the Executive Committee of the Wayne State Foundation for expenditures of $135,000 of unrestricted funds.

Construction will begin this summer on Phase Two which involves redevelopment of the intercollegiate softball and baseball fields and intramural flag football fields.

Construction is expected to be completed before the start of the fall semester. However, the fields will need time to mature from seeding and sodding and likely will be ready for use in the spring of 1995.

The master plan was funded by unrestricted gifts to the Foundation, from alumni, friends and businesses.

Phase One was completed over the summer of 1993. In addition to Foundation unrestricted funds,

Phase One received support from a grant from the Gardner Foundation of Wakefield and from the college's operating budget. Phase One involved a new crown, sodding and installation of an irrigation system for the football field, development of two football practice fields and two intramural softball fields and a new water system from the city of Wayne's main on the west edge of the campus to Memorial Stadium.

The multi-phase master plan will be implemented over a period of several years at a total estimated cost of $1 million. Sidewalks, vehicular access, restrooms, concession stands, ticket booths and enhancements to the locker rooms and training facilities in Memorial Stadium are among the planned improvements.

Area students on tour

Krista Remer, Melissa Eckhoff, Stephanie Bourek, Davin Flatmoe and Ben Wilson, all of Wayne, will be performing with the Wayne State College Concert Choir when it begins its 1994 Winter Tour with a 2 p.m. performance on Sunday, Jan. 30, at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside.

One of the Midwest's most widely-traveled groups, the Wayne State Concert Choir has toured Europe extensively since 1980. Wayne State choral groups have performed in the Netherlands, Austria, Germany, France, Switzerland, Hungary, England and Wales, according to Dr. Corriell Runestad, director of choral activities at Wayne State.

The choir will perform in the Czech Republic and Austria during its European tour this summer.

Other stops on the Concert Choir's tour are St. Cecilia's Cathedral in Omaha; First Plymouth Congregational Church in Lincoln; Dordt College in Sioux Center, Iowa; Waldorf College in Forest City, Iowa; Luther College in Decorah, Iowa; St. John's Lutheran Church in Des Moines, Iowa; Cathedral of St. Raphael in Dubuque, Iowa; Tremper High School in Kenosha, Wis.; and Hinsdale High School in Hinsdale, Ill.

The tour concludes with an 8 p.m. performance on Tuesday, Feb. 15 at Wayne State. The public is invited.

Senator

residents or partial year residents of the district. The bill, LB 905, will likely be very controversial because it allows local school districts to use a revenue source that has been used primarily by the state in the past. Income and sales taxes are currently used to fund state government, but with LB 905 there would be an estimated $130 million a year that could be raised locally by the state's school districts. We need to continually look for different methods to fund education so that we can reduce property taxes which are unfairly high and need to be lowered.

I sponsored or co-sponsored several bills that attempt to help the horseracing industry in Nebraska. It is estimated that the horseracing industry generates over $200 million for the Nebraska economy each year. With the many other forms of gambling available in Nebraska and surrounding states the horseracing industry is very close to closing down permanently. We need to discuss the different ways that racing might be able to survive without the necessity of raising tax revenues.

Wayne United Way passes $25,000 goal

The Wayne United Way has topped its goal of $25,000 due to the tremendous support of many businesses of Wayne and the generous contributions of many individuals throughout the Wayne area.

At this time the Wayne United Way has received cash and pledges in the amount of $25,646.

The Wayne United Way board will be meeting next week to discuss the distribution of funds to the agencies selected last fall. The United Way board wants to thank everyone who contributed to make the 1993-94 campaign the most successful in the history of the Wayne chapter.

Your donations to this year's United Way will go directly to the following local agencies: PAL's, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Wayne Senior Citizen Center, Wayne Haven House, Wayne Ministerial Association, Wayne Child Care Board/Rainbow World, Kinship, Wayne Friends, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Wayne Department of Recreation, Rainbow Riders and Wayne Community Hospice.

Weather observer dies while hunting near Allen

ALLEN, Neb. (AP) -- James Samuel "Jim" Quinn, who was in charge of the National Weather Service in Sioux City, Iowa, died Saturday of a heart attack. He was 55.

Friends said Quinn was struck by the attack Saturday while hunting in the Allen, Neb., area.

Quinn was born Sept. 23, 1938, in Plattsburg. He graduated from high school there and attended college in Pensacola, Fla. He married Jo Ann May Nov. 16, 1957, in Plattsburg. He was a 25-year career Navy veteran.

After his retirement, he moved to South Sioux City in September of 1980, and worked for the National Weather Service in Sioux City where he was Official in Charge at the time of his death.

He was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Dakota County Chapter 22 Disabled American Veterans and the Siouxland Navy Chiefs' Association. He was an instructor in the hunter safety program in South Sioux City, and was an avid hunter and fisherman.

Survivors include his wife, three daughters, and four grandchildren.

position vacated by former Sen. Kurt Hohenstein. Hohenstein was convicted last year of felony theft charges.

County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen said he will seek reelection and Joanne Ostrander, Clerk of District court said as of now, it is her intention to seek reelection.

ALL OTHER county officials except Commissioner Robert Nissen, are up for reelection, but all have either said they are yet undecided or they were unavailable for comment when the Herald attempted to contact them.

Wayne School Board members Will Davis, Cap Peterson and Dr. Ken Liska are facing reelection. Each said they were undecided. Davis quipped he, "didn't know whether to run for the school board or run from it."

In city council races, Ward 1 incumbent Darrell Heier, Ward 2 incumbent Pat Prather, Ward 3 incumbent Sheryl Lindau, and Ward 4 incumbent Patty Weiland are all facing reelection. Heier said he will be filing for reelection.

In neighboring towns, Carroll Trustees Kevin Hansen and Virginia Reithwisch are up for election. Hoskins voters will decide on the positions of incumbents David Thurstensen, Darrell Maier and John Scheurich. Sholes voters decide on incumbents John Hansen and Don Bauer. Incumbents up for election in Winside include Frederick Weible, Warren Gallop and Marvin Cherry.

INCUMBENTS on the Wayne County School District 95 board facing reelection will be Douglas Deck, Brian Hoffman and Richard Behmer.

Mitch Nissen is up for reelection to a six year term on the Wayne Airport Authority.

Filing fees for each position are 1 percent of the annual salary for each post. Candidates for most county posts pay $245. Commissioner posts and county school superintendent will require a $147 filing fee. School board candidates, who receive no pay, don't have a filing fee. City council members in Wayne pay a $10 filing fee.

WAYNE HIGH'S Claire Rasmussen gets honored in Hastings with a $1,000 forensics scholarship after placing high in a recent speech tournament.

Rasmussen honored

Wayne High's speech team took third place honors at the Hastings College Heartland Tournament on Saturday, Jan. 22.

Special awards went to Claire Rasmussen for top speaker in the tournament. She received a $1,000 forensics scholarship to Hastings College.

Team awards went to Clair Rasmussen, first place in persuasive and extemporaneous speaking; Tim Heinemann, first place in humorous impromptu; Robb Heier, first place in entertainment speaking; and Kerry McCue and Matt Chapman, semi-finalists in duct acting.

Contributing team members were Kathy Guilliam, Sarah Blaser, Megan McLean, Chris Headley, Jolene Jaeger and Jimi Okobanjo.

In this 36 team tournament, Raymond-Central placed first and Millard North, second.

Schools

These included structural problems, mechanical and electrical needs and adequate space in addition to access restrictions. High school problems listed by the committee included inadequate art room, special education space limitations, the need for a larger theater/auditorium facility, library space and more.

SEVERAL OPTIONS were discussed for solving these problems and the committee, at its March meeting, is expected to select one or more of those options to recommend to the full school board.

The options might include building a new high school building and renovating the old high school for use as a middle school. Renovation of the existing buildings to remain in their existing uses is also an option. Renovation or replacement of the Carroll School is also an item which will have to be recommended to the board.

THE SCHOOL architectural consultant Jim Dyck of Lincoln will return to the committee's March meeting with cost estimates for each of the options along with anticipated property tax impacts on financing the needed construction through a bond issue election.

If a bond issue is recommended by the committee and is passed on by the school board, it is likely the voters would face the issue on the November general election ballot this year.

Death

Forsberg's, Arens said. "James Forsberg has harassed that family for years at various times and places," Behm said. The Grays had nothing against Forsberg, he added. Amy Ravenscroft of Coleridge, Gray's sister-in-law, said Forsberg harassed people he thought were wealthier or powerful.

In 1988, Forsberg was acquitted of beating his daughter to death. Barbara Forsberg Corey was killed at Forsberg's farmhouse in 1987. Mrs. Corey's husband, William, testified that he left his wife and father-in-law alone for about 45 seconds and returned to find her in a pool of blood and Forsberg standing over her with a shotgun.

Forsberg testified that the man who beat his daughter also beat him unconscious with the shotgun. Attorneys for Forsberg accused Corey of killing his wife, though prosecutors said there was no evidence to support the claim.

Jurors were not convinced of Forsberg's innocence, but had reasonable doubts as to his guilt, the jury foreman said.

1993. The Wayne Electric Department helped the customers obtain the rebates through NPPD for installing electrical appliances and upgrades, he said.

Hansen encouraged others in the community to take advantage of the electric rebates and Load Management program by contacting the city.

Conway is candidate

Former state senator Gerald Conway of Wayne has filed as a Republican candidate for the Public Service Commission. Conway, 46, seeks to represent the 15 Northeast Nebraska counties that make up the Commission's third district. Conway served eight years in the Nebraska legislature and currently serves as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges.

"I believe Nebraska's economic future rests with available and affordable telecommunications and transportation systems. We need to be on the cutting edge of technology and the PSC is crucial in the development of public policy that is consistent with these goals," he said.

Conway, a business consultant, said his diverse background gives him a balanced perspective that makes him well-suited for the position.

"My life experiences have taken me from the farm, to Vietnam, to working in industry and as a business professor. These experiences coupled with the opportunities I have had to hold public office all contribute to the knowledge and skills necessary to understand and work for the people's interests," Conway said.

The post, which pays $42,000 per year, is currently held by Duane Gay of Columbus.

Winter can last longer

We aren't missing the ice and snow, but the cold snap is reminding us it's only January; and winter can go on for awhile.

There was a time when I had flannel sheets on all the beds during the winter. Eventually, everyone had electric blankets, too. Then we got our waterbed, with its own heater. Each of the kids got one before we did, actually. The flannel sheets were packed away.

In this house, the bedroom is in the northwest corner, and it gets cold in there. Plus, the wood stove is not close by, as it was in the house on the farm. The heater on the waterbed is at a comfortable point, but the bed's cool to get into.

I decided to dig out flannel sheets a couple of weeks ago. They aren't fitted, and our other bed was not queen size. They're big enough, but you just can't tuck in very far on a waterbed.

I've always been a stickler for a well-made bed. I like sheets tight. And nurse's training in the 50s emphasized that. These flannel sheets do not stay tucked in! Plus, there are little flannel fuzz balls all over the floor.

We had a nice gift certificate to the mall for Christmas. So I set out to buy a fitted flannel sheet.

I suspected I wouldn't be able to buy just one, and I was right. They come in sets: bottom, top and matching pillow cases.

I also found that most people have queen size beds. January really is the time to buy bedding, but the queen size is gone. There are king, full and lots of twin, but very few queen size.

By Pat Meierhenry

When I finally found some, there was no choice of color. Fortunately, what was left is predominantly blue, so I bought a set. For me, it has to be blue.

Tonight, I've washed and dried them, and got them on the bed. When the design is only on one side, where do you put the design on the top sheet? Mom says it should face the design on the bottom sheet; I like it to face up.

Incidentally, when I explained to the clerk why I needed a fitted sheet, she commented that she had just discovered that sheets were not always fitted! She's so young.

So now it's time to get into my flannel pj's and slide between my flannel sheets. And, yes, I do still sleep with the Big Farmer. He's the one who's been insisting on flannel sheets!

Wayne boys grounded by aerial assault of Randolph

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Costly miscues in the final seconds of regulation earned the Wayne boys basketball team a pair of defeats at Hartington Cedar Catholic last Friday and at Randolph on Monday in a make-up game from last Tuesday leaving them with a 10-3 record.

The Blue Devils were edged, 53-52 by Cedar Catholic and fell to Randolph, 75-72 on Monday after Lyle Nannen's Cardinals launched a potent aerial assault on Wayne with 12, 3-pointers.

In fact, Monday's game saw a total of 21, 3-pointers between the Cardinals and Blue Devils, three shy of the state record held by Crofton and Madison.

Randolph jumped out to a quick 5-0 lead on Wayne before Rocky Ruhl's squad mounted a 12-0 run. That run was sparked by Kirk Carmichael who notched two steals and scored six, first quarter points. Wayne led 19-11 after the first quarter and had built a 14 point lead in the middle of the second quarter before Randolph went on a run of its own.

By halftime the host team had dwindled Wayne's lead to four after a 3-pointer by Erick Arens with four seconds left in the quarter made it a 34-30 score at the break.

Both teams lit up the score board in the third quarter with 20 points each. Wayne had built its lead back to eight points but Randolph hit a pair of 3-pointers to draw with in two before settling for a 54-50 deficit after three quarters.

In the fourth quarter Wayne was out-scored, 25-18. Blue Devil guard Ryan Pick, however, did a magnificent job of trying to keep the Blue Devils ahead as he scored 11 of his 16 points in the final eight minutes, including a driving baseline jumper while getting fouled.

At the 2:11 mark Randolph took its first lead since they led 5-0 but Robert Bell answered on the other end with a short jumper at the 1:50 mark—the last points that would be scored by the Blue Devils.

Randolph regained the lead with 1:07 left and Wayne came down and missed a shot attempt. The host team got the rebound and was fouled by Blomenkamp. The foul turned out to be a good one because the Cardinals missed the front end of the one-and-one.

Wayne got the rebound and held the ball until the 32 second mark before calling time out to set up a play. The Blue Devils held onto the ball before suffering a turnover with eight seconds left. Randolph got the ball in-bounds against the Wayne press and it appeared as though Chris Korth was going to make a lay-up but he was fouled and he sank both free throws.

Wayne had a chance with four seconds left to tie the game with a 3-pointer but Blomenkamp's attempt drew iron at the buzzer. "Randolph was on fire and we just couldn't find them," Ruhl said. "We knew we had to stop Arens, Korth and Matt Dowling and we didn't. They combined to score 65 of Randolph's 75 points."

Ruhl said the Cardinals hit 12 of 17 shots from 3-point range and they connected on 63 percent of their shots for the game as a whole. "Randolph is a tough place to play but defensively, we just didn't have our heads on," Ruhl said. "We're kind of in a slump right now and we just have to come into our games more focused and with more intensity."

Wayne was led in scoring by Ryan Pick and Kirk Carmichael with 16 points each. Carmichael, however, did not score in the fourth quarter. Robert Bell tossed in 15 and Blomenkamp netted a dozen.

Wayne out-rebounded Randolph, 27-17 as Mike Fluent led the way with seven boards while Bell and Carmichael had six each. Both teams had 13 turnovers and Wayne was 7-9 from the foul line. Randolph was 9-20 from the charity stripe.

IN THE CEDAR contest on Friday, Wayne built an 11-point lead early before falling. The Blue Devils had an 18-10 lead after the first quarter and a 26-21 lead at the half. The game was tied at 39 after three quarters.

Wayne, trailing 53-52 with 18 seconds left set up a play which they hoped would be the game winner. The Blue Devils wanted to get the ball to Joe Lutt and have him eventually drive to the hole and shoot with the worst possible scenario being he would get fouled and since he's Wayne's best free throw shooter, then maybe he could win it from the line.

The plan worked to perfection with one exception—there was no foul called and Lutt was knocked to the floor. "We played hard," Ruhl said. "It was your typical Wayne-Cedar war."

Ruhl said one of the biggest swings in the game came in the third quarter when Kirk Carmichael was called for an intentional foul on Cedar's Jaime Jones. "The official felt that Kirk was going for Jones' body instead of the ball," Ruhl said. "We didn't feel that way but Jones hit both free throws and then on the in-bounds play Jones threw the ball of the back of a Wayne player and picked it up and scored a lay-up and was fouled where he completed the three-point play for a five-point swing."

Wayne was led in scoring by Robert Bell with 16 points while Carmichael netted a dozen. Matt Blomenkamp and Mike Fluent scored nine each.

Wayne won the battle of the boards, 28-21 as Fluent hauled down eight caroms while Bell had five. The Blue Devils had just nine turnovers but Cedar suffered just four. Wayne was 13-17 from the foul line and Cedar was 9-15.

Wayne will continue its road swing this weekend with games at West Point on Friday and at Hooper-Logan View on Saturday.

Wayne (52), Cedar Catholic (53): Wayne—Robert Bell, 16; Kirk Carmichael, 12; Matt Blomenkamp, 9; Mike Fluent, 9; Ryan Pick, 4; Joe Lutt, 2.

Wayne (72), Randolph (75): Wayne—Ryan Pick, 16; Kirk Carmichael, 16; Robert Bell, 15; Matt Blomenkamp, 12; Jason Carr, 6; Joe Lutt, 5; Mike Fluent, 2.

MATT BLOMENKAMP attempts to score over a Randolph defender during Monday's make-up game with the Cardinals. The Blue Devils lost their second straight game.

Laurel girls on winning streak

The Lady Bears of Laurel won a pair of games over the weekend with wins over Bloomfield on Friday and Hartington Cedar Catholic on Saturday. The victories left Rick Petri's squad with a 5-8 record but more importantly, a 3-game win streak.

The Bears defeated Bloomfield, 45-24 in a game dominated by the Laurel defense. "We played very good defense the whole game but the second half was especially good because we held them to 10 points," Petri said. "We're sort of turning the corner right now and we've noticed improvement each time out."

Laurel led 22-14 at the half and out-scored the visiting Bees, 23-10 in the second half. Samantha Felber and Leann Stewart paced the winners with 13 points each. The Bears out-rebounded Bloomfield, 47-37 as Felber hauled down 10 caroms while Becky Schroeder notched seven.

Laurel committed 17 turnovers while Bloomfield had 12 and the Bears were 8-15 from the free throw line compared to 6-14 for Bloomfield.

The Bears-Cedar clash was a little different kind of game as it took the host team three overtimes to post the victory, 64-57. Cedar led Laurel, 13-8 after the first quarter but the game was tied at 18 at the intermission.

Laurel took a 36-32 lead into the fourth quarter only to have Cedar tie the game and send it to overtime. Both teams scored four points in the first overtime and three points in the second overtime but Petri's Bears took control in the third overtime with an 8-1 scoring run.

"This was a big win for our team at this point of the season," Petri said. "There is a possibility we could face Cedar again in sub-districts." The Laurel mentor watched his team get out-rebounded, 45-40, suffer 11 more turnovers than the visitors, 31-30 but win the game.

"We shot the ball better from the field," Petri said. "Cedar put up 10 more shots than we did but made one less bucket and we hit 14 of 22 free throws while they connected on 8-17."

Leann Stewart led Laurel with a career high 17 points while Samantha Felber poured in 16.

Becky Schroeder was in double figures with 15 and Cathy Mohr was close to the double digit mark in scoring with nine points.

Schroeder hauled down 13 rebounds to lead the team while Felber had eight. Laurel will host Wakefield on Thursday before traveling to play in the first round of the conference tournament on Saturday in Pierce where they play Randolph.

CLAYTON STEELE'S boys team blasted Bloomfield, 74-44 last Friday which improved the Bears season record to 9-3. The Bears led the Bees, 40-32 at the half but then went on an 18-4 scoring run in the third quarter to put the game away.

The Reinoehl twins proved to be double trouble for Bloomfield as Jeremy and Jared combined to score 46 points with Jared leading the way with 26. Cody Carstensen chipped in with nine while Tyler Erwin and Rich Rasmussen netted six each.

Laurel out-rebounded Bloomfield, 35-17 with Jared Reinoehl leading the way with seven caroms while Jeremy Reinoehl, Erwin and Carstensen had five boards each.

Laurel will play at Homer on Tuesday before hosting Wakefield on Friday. The Bears will then travel to Randolph on Saturday to play Bloomfield in the first round of the NENAC Conference Tournament.

Laurel girls (45), Bloomfield (24): Laurel—Samantha Felber, 13; Leann Stewart, 13; Amanda Hartung, 4; Dawn Wickett, 4; Alissa Krie, 4; Heather Cunningham, 3; Becky Schroeder, 2; Tara Erwin, 2.

Laurel girls (64), Cedar Catholic (57): Laurel—Leann Stewart, 17; Samantha Felber, 16; Becky Schroeder, 15; Cathy Mohr, 9; Amanda Hartung, 4; Dawn Wickett, 3.

Laurel boys (74), Bloomfield (44): Laurel—Jared Reinoehl, 26; Jeremy Reinoehl, 20; Cody Carstensen, 9; Tyler Erwin, 6; Rich Rasmussen, 6; Shane Schuster, 3; Ryan Kvols, 2; Travis Stingley, 2.

RYAN PICK looks to drive past a Randolph player during first quarter action of the Blue Devils 75-72 setback to the Cardinals on Monday. Pick scored 16 points.

Winside grapplers claim second place at Oakland

The Winside wrestling team was edged by Oakland-Craig by three points in the race for the championship of the Oakland-Craig Invitational, Saturday in Oakland.

Paul Sok's crew tallied 138.5 points for runner-up honors while Norfolk Catholic placed third with 107.5. West Point Central Catholic finished fourth with 107 and Dodge/Howells was fifth with 82.

Scribner-Snyder placed sixth with 72 followed by Battle Creek with 38, Clearwater with 36, Hooper Logan View reserves with 15, Lyons-Decatur with 15 and Tekamah-Herman reserves with 14.

Class D's number one rated Brady Frahm at 152 pounds was defeated in the finals by West Point Central Catholic's Kreikemeier, 3-0 but in fairness to Frahm, Kreikemeier is the number one rated wrestler in Class C.

"Brady had a shot to take him down couple times but he didn't take advantage," Winside wrestling coach Paul Sok said. "It was a good match between two good wrestlers."

Sok was pleased with the overall performance of his squad as they draw closer to the district tournament which will be held in Howells this year on Feb. 11-12.

"We did alright," Sok said. "I would say that in some cases we need to crank up the intensity a little bit more but our conditioning at this point is good and we're improving on our bottom position."

The Wildcats had nine medal winners in the meet led by Scott Jacobsen at 112, Josh Jaeger at 125 and Shaun Magwire at 145 as all three were crowned champions.

Jason Wylie at 119, Lucas Mohr at 130 and Frahm each placed runner-up while Steve Svatos at 135 placed third. Joe Schwedhelm at heavyweight and Robert Wittler at 119 each placed fourth.

Jacobsen needed just 43 seconds to pin Oakland-Craig's Cope while Jaeger pinned Oakland's McCabe in 1:40. Magwire, perhaps the surprise of the tournament, pinned Oakland's Miller. Magwire pinned all three of his opponents.

Wylie was defeated for the third time this season by Del Hawkins of Oakland, 15-9 while Lucas Mohr was edged 7-6 by Oakland's other Hawkins.

Svatos won an 8-6 decision over Oakland's Loftis in the consolation finals for third place while Wittler was beaten, 11-2 by West Point Central Catholic's Schlickbernd.

Schwedhelm was pinned by Oakland's Bergman in 1:21 of the consolation finals.

"I'd say Scott Jacobsen looked pretty good but I'm not sure how tested he was," Sok said. "In the next couple of weeks he will be tested very thoroughly as he wrestles competition he saw at state last year including the kid he beat in the finals and the number two rated wrestler in Class D, behind him."

Sok said Jaeger wrestled very consistent en route to claiming his championship. Nate Behmer at 103 went 0-2 on the day while Dave Paulsen at 189 went 1-2. Lonnie Grothe at 160 also went 1-2.

Winside will dual Plainview on Friday before traveling to compete in the Ainsworth Invitational on Saturday.

Wakefield girls, boys earn sweep of visiting Wynot

The Wakefield girls and boys basketball teams swept visiting Wynot, Friday as Gregg Cruickshank's girls won by a 41-36 margin just one night after Wynot had upset Allen. In the nightcap of the twinbill Brad Hoskins' boys defeated Wynot, 70-66.

Wynot's girls had a 7-6 lead over Wakefield after one quarter of play but the game was knotted at 16 at the intermission. Wakefield came out on fire in the third quarter and built an eight point lead at 30-22 before holding off a Wynot rally attempt late in the fourth quarter.

Mary Torczon led the winners with a dozen points while Jaime Oswald tallied 11. The Trojans were 5-12 from the foul line and Wynot was 6-9. Wakefield will travel to play Laurel on Thursday.

In the boys game the Trojans held an 18-16 lead after the first quarter but trailed, 36-35 at the half.

The host team managed to regain the lead in the third quarter and took a 51-49 lead into the final eight minutes where they hung on for the four-point win. Cory Brown sank a free throw with less than one second remaining to put the game out of reach.

Brown finished with 16 points but he scored nine of them in the fourth quarter to protect the Trojans lead. "Cory did a nice job," Hoskins said. "He took good shots and hit six of eight attempts and the two he missed were from three-point range. He also had five assists and five rebounds while notching two steals."

Justin Dutcher poured in 14 points including three, 3-pointers and Tory Nixon in his first start tallied 10 points including three, 3-pointers. Lucas Tappe and Ryan Ekberg were near the double digit mark in scoring with eight each. Although Miah Johnson was well below his season average with just four points, the senior play-maker dished out six assists and had two steals.

Wakefield was out-rebounded, 39-33 and the Trojans were led by Miah Johnson on the boards with seven caroms while Blecke and Ekberg had six rebounds each.

Wakefield had just nine turnovers and Wynot had 10 in a well played game. The Trojans were 14-26 from the charity stripe and Wynot was 10-18. Wakefield, 9-5, will travel to play Laurel on Friday before hosting Hartington in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Tournament on Monday. In fact, Wakefield will host the first three rounds of the boys tournament.

The Wakefield freshman and sophomore team captured the championship of a tournament they competed in over the weekend. The Trojans beat Laurel in the semifinals, 54-51 and defeated South Sioux in the finals, 50-38.

The Wakefield reserves currently sport an 8-0 record and they will face a 10-0 Laurel reserve team on Friday.

Wakefield girls (41), Wynot (36): Wakefield—Mary Torczon, 12; Jaime Oswald, 11; Maria Eaton, 7; Suzann Ekberg, 6; Kathy Otte, 5.

Wakefield boys (70), Wynot (66): Wakefield—Cory Brown, 16; Justin Dutcher, 14; Tory Nixon, 10; Lucas Tappe, 8; Ryan Ekberg, 8; Wes Blecke, 5; Miah Johnson, 4; Andy Muller, 3; Matt Peterson, 2.

WAKEFIELD'S JUSTIN Dutcher looks to lay in two of his 14 points during the fourth quarter of the Trojans four point win over Wynot, Friday.

LADY TROJANS player Mary Torczon looks to score two of her game high 12 points over a Wynot defender during Wakefield's game with the Blue Devils, Friday in Wakefield. The host team won the game, 41-36 and Gregg Cruickshank's squad will travel to play the Laurel Bears on Thursday before beginning play in the annual Lewis & Clark Conference Basketball Tournament.

WHEN THE game is on the line one of the best players to get the ball in crunch time in the area is Cory Brown. Here, Brown scores two of his nine, fourth period points.

Wrestling Club meeting set for 31st

WAYNE—There will be a Wayne Wrestling Club Meeting on Monday, Jan. 31 at the high school in room 101 at 7:30 p.m. Among the topics to be discussed include the Little Kids Tournament. A parent of a child wrestling needs to attend for information and to provide shirt size to order shirts for wrestlers before the season. Anyone interested in helping assist coaches please attend this meeting.

Coed softball tournament coming

WAYNE—There will be a coed softball tournament in Wayne on Feb. 12-13 at the Wayne Softball Complex. It is the first annual Snowball Coed Tournament with all proceeds going to the Wayne girls Softball Association.

The double-elimination format cost $60 per team with an entry deadline slated for Sunday, Feb. 6. For more information or to enter, call Todd Oborny at 375-5324 or Bob Oborny at 286-4715.

Wayne rec teams defeated

WAYNE—The Wayne seventh and eighth grade girls and boys rec basketball teams went 0-4 against Hartington Holy Trinity, Saturday. The seventh grade girls team lost, 33-23. Brooke Parker led Wayne in scoring with nine points followed by Carol Longe with six and Shona Stracke with four. Hailey Daehnke and Jessica Raveling each netted one.

The eighth grade girls team fell, 35-8. Mindi McLean had four points to lead Wayne while Marci Post and Jenni Beiermann had two each. The seventh grade boys team was defeated, 48-9. Ryan Dahl had three points to lead Wayne while John Magnuson and Ryan Dunklau netted two each. Robbie Sturm and Dustin Sutton each netted one.

The eighth grade boys team was defeated, 41-26. Justin Thede led Wayne with eight points while David Boehle tossed in six. David Enz finished with five and Matt Meyer chipped in with three. Chris Dyer scored two points while Brad Maryott and Aaron Beltz netted one each.

Allen gals split pair of weekend contests

The Allen Lady Eagles suffered a 37-34 setback in Wynot last Thursday but the Eagles responded on Friday by beating Walthill, 54-37 in Walthill. Lori Koester and Gary Erwin's squad did not shoot the ball well in Wynot and Allen was hampered even further when starting guard Holly Blair left the game at halftime after an injury to her back.

Steph Martinson scored 12 points to lead Allen while Tanya Plueger netted 11. In Friday's game at Walthill the Eagles were back on track and the win boosted their record to 9-3.

Allen led 10-8 after the first quarter but trailed by a 21-14 margin at the half. The Eagles managed to tie the score at 39 after the third quarter but Allen out-scored the host team, 54-37 in the fourth quarter to post the 17 point victory.

"We just got a couple quick buckets early in the fourth quarter and things began to pick up for us," Koester said. "We ended up shooting 12 free throws in the final quarter as Walthill was forced to start fouling and we did a good job at the free throw line."

Steph Martinson scored 14 points to lead the winners while Abbey Schroeder netted a dozen. Dawn Diediker was also in double figures for a very balanced scoring attack with 11 points.

Allen out-rebounded Walthill, 40-29 as Tanya Plueger and Martinson shared team honors with 10 caroms each. The Eagles took extremely good care of the basketball with just 12 turnovers compared to 18 from Walthill and Allen was 14 of 21 from the foul line while Walthill was 5-9.

Allen will host Coleridge on Tuesday night before traveling to play Emerson-Hubbard on Thursday. Allen will then return home on Saturday to host Beemer in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference Basketball Tournament.

JEFF SCHONING'S Allen boys team fell to 1-9 after a 70-60 setback to the Bluejays. The Eagles mentor said the game was close throughout and that the 10-point deficit at the end was not indicative of how close the game really was.

"We were down by two points with just over a minute-and-a-half to play in regulation," Schonning said. "Walthill got a three-point play and they sank a three-pointer at the buzzer to make the score look a little more out of reach than it was."

Casey Schroeder led Allen with 23 points including five, 3-pointers while Curtis Oswald tossed in 17. Jack Jackson tallied eight while Tim Fertig and Craig Philbrick rounded out the attack with six points each.

The Eagles were out-rebounded, 34-29 with Oswald leading Allen with seven caroms. Allen committed 18 turnovers while the Bluejays had 16 and the Eagles were 1-1 from the foul line while Walthill was 3-7.

"This was the least amount of fouls I can recall in a game," Schonning said. "We never got into the one-and-one all night and Walthill had just one trip to the foul line with a one-and-one."

Allen will travel to play Emerson-Hubbard on Friday night and then make a return trip to the same place next Monday in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament.

Allen girls (54), Walthill (37): Allen—Steph Martinson, 14; Abbey Schroeder, 12; Dawn Diediker, 11; Tanya Plueger, 6; Jamie Mitchell, 5; Debbie Plueger, 2; Mindy Plueger, 2; Steph Gregerson, 2.

Allen girls (34), Wynot (37): Allen—Steph Martinson, 12; Tanya Plueger, 11; Jaime Mitchell, 4; Dawn Diediker, 2; Holly Blair, 2; Debbie Plueger, 2; Abbey Schroeder, 1.

Allen boys (60), Walthill (70): Allen—Casey Schroeder, 23; Curtis Oswald, 17; Jay Jackson, 8; Tim Fertig, 6; Craig Philbrick, 6.

Wildcat women now 15-3 while men fall to 5-11 WSC splits games with Morris

The Wayne State women's and men's basketball teams hosted Minnesota-Morris, Saturday in Rice Auditorium and the host teams managed to split with the visitors as Mike Barry's women improved to 15-3 with a 90-72 victory while Mike Brewen's men fell to 5-11 with a 93-66 setback.

In the women's contest the Wildcats built a 44-32 lead at the intermission and appeared to be in control. However, Minnesota-Morris despite sporting just a 4-12 record refused to lay down and die and actually grabbed the lead from WSC and with less than 10 minutes to go in the game the visitors had built a four point lead.

Barry's troops then took matters perhaps a little more serious and the 'Cats came back with a vengeance, out-scoring the visitors by 22 in the last six minutes to post the 18 point victory.

Lisa Chamberlain poured in 30 points to lead the winners, her season high. Jodi Otjen tossed in 11 while Deedra Haskins, Linda Heller and Deb Kostreba netted nine apiece.

WSC was out-rebounded by a 44-42 margin, something that hasn't happened a lot to the 'Cats this season. Mindi Jensen led WSC on the boards with eight rebounds while Amy Brodersen, Heller and Ann Kramer had five caroms apiece.

Brodersen dished out seven assists to lead the 'Cats and Otjen notched four blocked shots. WSC had 25 turnovers and forced Morris into 29. The host team was 28-65 from the field for 43 percent and they connected on 31 of 43 free throws. Morris was 28-70 from the floor for 40 percent and they were 11-17 from the foul-line.

WSC will play in Sioux City on Wednesday against Briar Cliff before traveling to play the number one rated team in NAIA-II, Northern State, who's only loss on the season is to WSC in the first game of the year.

THE MINNESOTA-Morris

men's team came into the contest with a sparkling Northern Sun Conference leading 15-2 record and the visitors, despite leading by four at half, 44-40, turned up the intensity in the second half and went on to post their 16th win of the year with a 93-66 victory.

Wayne State actually cut the lead to 44-42 early in the second half but it was all Minnesota-Morris from that point on. The Cougars had two players that WSC virtually could not stop in sophomore guard Jeff Timonen and freshman forward Todd Hanson as the two combined to score 55 points.

Timonen scored 29 points and notched nine, 3-pointers while Hanson poured in 26 including four, 3-pointers. The 'Cats were led by Kyle White with 16 and Omar Clark with 15. Billy Patterson and Terry Mailloux were also in double figures with 11 points each.

WSC held a commanding 44-36 advantage on the boards as Mailloux led the way with 13 caroms and Patterson dished out a team high five assists but WSC suffered 20 turnovers compared to just 12 by Morris.

The Wildcats struggled from the field, hitting 22 of 61 shot attempts for 36 percent while the visiting Cougars hit 33 of 67 shots for 49 percent. WSC was 16-24 from the foul line and Morris was 13-20.

The 'Cats will play at Briar Cliff on Wednesday before traveling to play Northern State on Saturday.

WSC women (90), Minnesota-Morris (72): WSC—Lisa Chamberlain, 30; Jodi Otjen, 11; Deedra Haskins, 9; Deb Kostreba, 9; Linda Heller, 9; Ann Kramer, 8; Mindi Jensen, 4; Brenda TeGrotenhuis, 3; Kristy Twait, 3; Marla Stewart, 2; Amy Brodersen, 2.

WSC men (66), Minnesota-Morris (93): WSC—Kyle White, 16; Omar Clark, 15; Billy Patterson, 11; Terry Mailloux, 11; Dan Anderson, 6; Greg Ryan, 6; John Rollman, 1.

LINDA HELLER gets hacked in the act just three seconds after the tip off to start Saturday's game with Minnesota-Morris in Rice Auditorium.

LISA CHAMBERLAIN lays the ball up for two of her 30 points against Morris. She was named the Nebraska NCAA-II Player of the Week for the second straight time.

TERRY MAILLOUX attempts to score against Minnesota-Morris after getting his own offensive rebound during second half action. At right, Omar Clark attempts an off-balanced shot. The Wildcats trailed by just four points at half before Morris blew the game open to win by 27.

Wayne girls slip past O'Neill

Roger Reikofski's Wayne girls basketball team defeated O'Neill, 54-53, Saturday at Wayne High School. The win evened the Blue Devils season record at 6-6 and Wayne will host Tekamah-Herman on Tuesday and Hartington Cedar Catholic on Thursday.

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 22-8 lead after the first quarter of Saturday's game but O'Neill fought back to with in three at 29-26 at the intermission.

Wayne built its lead back to seven by the third quarter's end at 44-37 but O'Neill clawed back to take a 53-52 lead with less than 30 seconds to go. Katie Lutt was fouled with 20 seconds left in regulation and the freshman sank both free throws to give Wayne the lead.

"O'Neill came down and took a shot and missed but they got their own rebound," Reikofski said. "They went to shoot again and Katie Lutt blocked the shot."

Jenny Thompson led Wayne with 18 points while Lutt poured in 13. Carrie Fink was also in double figures with 10 followed by Amy Post with five and Anne Wiseman and Tami Schluns with four each.

The Blue Devils were edged on the boards, 32-30 despite a 10-rebound performance by Wiseman. Lutt blocked two shots and had four steals while Fink and Schluns shared team honors in assists with five each. Wayne had 18 turnovers in the game but forced O'Neill into 26.

Winside cage teams beaten

It was not a productive trip for the Winside Wildcats girls and boys basketball teams, Friday as they traveled to play Wausa. Angie Schroeder's girls team was blasted, 78-42 and Randy Geier's boys squad was rocked, 71-46.

In the girls contest the Wildcats were playing with out point guard Kari Pichler who was out with the flu. Wausa jumped out to a 15-6 lead after the first quarter and never looked back as they built a 39-16 lead at the intermission.

"Wausa shot extremely well from the field," Schroeder said. "They were 33-55 from the field. We just got hurt by trying to press. It was like we didn't even get it set up and Wausa was making a lay-up."

Schroeder said the Vikings quickness was the difference. Catherine Bussey led the Wildcats with 14 points while Christi Mundil netted 10. Wendy Miller followed with seven and Chris Colwell tallied six.

Wausa dominated the boards, 38-22 with Miller and Colwell leading the 'Cats with five boards each. Winside committed 35 turnovers in the contest while the host team had 20 and Winside was 2-6 from the foul line while the Vikings were 11-24.

Winside, 3-8, will travel to play Clarkson in a make-up game on Tuesday before playing at Hartington on Thursday and at Wausa again on Saturday in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Tournament.

THE WINSIDE boys may have lost to Wausa by 25 points but the Wildcats mentor felt the game was much closer. "We only trailed by nine early in the fourth quarter," Geier said. "In fact, with 90 seconds left in the first half it was only a four point game-but then we had a couple turnovers which they converted into points and they sank a 3-pointer right before the half to push the lead to 10 at 33-23."

Winside was only out-scored by two in the third quarter and trailed just 48-36 before the bottom fell out. "Again we suffered some turnovers early in the fourth quarter and that turned into points for Wausa as they began hitting 3-pointers," Geier said. "We felt the game was much closer than the final score indicated."

The 1-9 Wildcats were led in scoring by Kurt Jaeger with 13 points while Marty Jorgensen tallied nine and Jaimey Holdorf, eight. Winside was out-rebounded, 41-32 with Jaeger leading the 'Cats with seven caroms while Colby Jensen had six boards.

Geier's troops committed 21 turnovers compared to 15 for Wausa and Winside was 10-15 from the foul line while the winners were 5-11. Winside will play at Clarkson on Tuesday and at Hartington on Thursday.

Winside girls (42), Wausa (78): Winside—Catherine Bussey, 14; Christi Mundil, 10; Wendy Miller, 7; Chris Colwell, 6; Emily Deck, 4; Sarah Painter, 1.

Winside boys (46), Wausa (71): Winside—Kurt Jaeger, 13; Marty Jorgensen, 9; Jaimey Holdorf, 8; Jayme Shelton, 6; Ryan Brogren, 4; Colby Jensen, 4; Jeremy Jenkins, 2.

Wayne grapplers place last

The Wayne wrestling team finished last at the Plattsmouth Invitational, Saturday in Plattsmouth. The Blue Devils mustered just 37 points while Springfield-Platteview won the team title with 132.

Plattsmouth finished runner-up with 118 and Falls City was third with 102.5. Seward placed fourth with 102 followed by Auburn with 96 and Blair with 92. Elkhorn also finished ahead of Wayne with 91 points. Todd Viereck's squad had just two placers in the meet with Jeff Hamer placing runner-up at heavy-weight while Jeremy Sturm netted a third place finish at 145.

Hamer earned a bye in the first round and he decided Justin Pestel of Plattsmouth, 1-0 in the semifinals. He was pinned by Plattsmouth's Brandt Wade in the finals in 56 seconds.

Sturm defeated Mike Lieb of Seward in the first round, 11-5 before falling to Ron Tex of Falls City, 13-3 in the semifinals. He won by pin over Joey Kalin of Blair and then won a 5-3 decision from Jeremy Richey of Falls City to claim third place.

Jared Anderson wrestled at 112 for Wayne and lost both his matches while Rick Endicott, wrestling at 119 went 1-2. Tyler Endicott wrestled at 125 and lost both his matches while Cory Erxleben went 1-2 at 135.

Terry Rutenbeck went 1-2 at 140 and Brent Geiger went 0-2 at 152. Dusty Jensen won his first round match at 160 with a pin but lost his next two matches while Jason Shultheis at 171 won his first round match but lost his next two.

Ryan Brown wrestled at 189 for the Blue Devils and went 1-2. Wayne will dual Pender in Pender on Thursday before traveling to compete in the Albion Invitational on Saturday.

Elementary students receive awards

Winside elementary students, grades K-6, assembled Friday, Jan. 15 to receive the first certificates for being respectful toward other students, their property and staff members. These students also show they are responsible by getting their work done on time. The students are basically judged by their teachers, teacher aides, lunchroom supervisor and bus driver.

Teachers and staff in the elementary school developed this award as well as a grade school honor roll certificate to hopefully motivate the students to do better and to develop pride in themselves and what they do. These awards will be given each nine weeks. The student may earn these awards one nine weeks and then not receive any the rest of the year or vice versa.

The A and B honor roll is for students in fourth, fifth and sixth grades who have all grades 86% and above and receive S or S+ in music, art and physical education.

The A (highest) honor roll is for students in fourth, fifth and sixth grades who have all grades 94% and above and who receive S or S+ in music, art and physical education.

There will also be an annual certificate presented to any student who maintains an "A" honor roll achievement for all nine weeks during the year.

Those who received awards were straight A's and S and S+ were fourth grader Trista Jaeger and fifth grader Laurie Deck.

A and B honors went to fourth graders Kayla Bowers, Samantha Deck, Adam Hoffman, Ashley Hoffman, Crystal Jaeger and Amy Rademacher.

Fifth graders Aimee Buresh, Jennifer Cleveland, Melinda Fleer, James Gubbels, Dannielle Nelson, Mandy Petersen, Eric Schultz, Eric Vanosdall, Dustin Wade and Jessica Wade.

Sixth graders: Brooke Boelter, Claire Boelter, Amy Hancock, Shannon Jaeger, Hans Julius and Aaron Lessmann.

Respect and responsibility awards went to kindergarteners Amber Aulner, Danae Dalton, Blaire Hokamp, Jessica Janke, Benjamin Mann, Katelyn Schwartz, Andrew Sok and Lorrie Stubbs.

First graders: Brandon Bowers, Kimberly Deck, Jessica Geier, Lindsay Harmeier, Ashley Jaeger, Christina Jaeger, Tara Koll, Stephanie Meyer, Stephanie Petersen, Bryce Roberts and Taylor Suehl.

Hoopers are coming to Winside

WINSIDE—If you're looking for some fun family entertainment, mark Sunday, Feb. 6 on your calendar. Fifteen University of Nebraska football players, known as the Nebraska Husker Hoopers, will be coming to Winside to play basketball against the "Winside Wild Ones," more familiar to local folks as parents of the summer recreation youth.

Doug Shelton, one of the summer rec coaches, is responsible for lining up the event. It will be a fund raiser for the Winside summer recreation program. The teams will compete in the Winside High School gym at 3 p.m. on Feb. 6. UNL players scheduled to attend include former Norfolk Kevin Raemaker, Wausa's Lance Lundberg and Cory Dixon, Mike Anderson, Gerald Armstrong, Ernie Beller, Troy Branch, Zeke Cisco, Bruce Seizys, Darrin Williams, Ken Mehlen, Dave Fiala, Mike Heins, Dave Moore and David Noonan.

Admission to the event will be $3 for adults and $2 for students. Pre-schoolers attending with an adult will be admitted free.

The players will be available after the game for autographs. The summer rec committee will also be selling tickets to win several University of Nebraska autographed footballs.

Education director says he will resign

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) -- Ending months of speculation, the executive director of the State Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education has announced his intention to resign.

Bruce Stahl, 50, is expected to submit his resignation at the commission's Tuesday meeting in Lincoln, said Patsy Martin, commission spokeswoman.

His resignation is expected to take effect on or before August 31, Martin said.

"I've been expecting this for some time now, but when it finally came, there was some surprise," said Eric Seacrest of North Platte, chairman of the commission.

As the first executive director of the relatively new commission, Stahl was often criticized for bogging down campuses with requests for extensive information.

Expressing support for Stahl, Seacrest said directors of coordinating commissions throughout the nation "tend to get ground up because it's such a tough job."

"I hope the thing that gets emphasized is that he really worked for the people of Nebraska," Seacrest said.

The Associated Press attempted to call Stahl Friday night at his home in Lincoln, but there was no answer. State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly said he wasn't sorry to hear of Stahl's intentions.

"In fairness, I should say that the commission had a big workload and Bruce has worked hard at it," Warner said. "He's tried hard and worked hard, but I'm inclined to think it's a good move."

State Sen. Scott Moore of Seward said Stahl never developed the necessary relationships needed in his position.

"He appeared to have difficulty developing the working relationships to make the whole thing work," Moore said.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Any grains put into storage in the Nebraska Ag Product Company, in Wisner, Cumming County, will not be eligible for price-support loans during the period this facility is removed from the list of warehouses approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Wayne Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office, said today.

Removal action was taken by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Commodity Office at Kansas City, Missouri, because the warehouse has failed to submit the financial statements required under the Standards for Approval of Warehouses, and is no longer licensed as a public warehouse of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement which controls the storage of Government-owned grains.

SAFELY HOME: I am home in Heaven, dear one; Oh, so happy and so bright! There is perfect joy and beauty in this everlasting light. All the pain and grief is over. Every restless tossing passed; I am now at peace forever. Safely home in Heaven at last. Did you wonder I so calmly trod the valley of the shade? Oh! but Jesus' love illumined every dark and fearful glade. And He came Himself to meet me in that way so hard to tread; And with Jesus' arm to lean on, Could I have one doubt or dread? Then you must not grieve so sorely, For I love you dearly still! Try to look beyond earth's shadows, Pray to trust our Father's Will. There is work still waiting for you. So you must not idly stand; Do it now, while life remaineth — You shall rest in Jesus' land. When that work is all completed, He will gently call you Home; Oh, the rapture of that meeting, Oh, the joy to see you come! Words cannot express our thanks to our family and friends for their acts of kindness given at the time of our loved ones death. We will miss him so much. Thank you from the families of Mrs. George Sullivan Sr., George and Diane, Sandie and Duane, Gary & Sharon, Connie & Brad, Nancy & Dennis, Patty & Larry, Steve & Sandy, Bob & Julie, Randy & Laura and grandchildren. Special Education

Wayne Public Schools will be having two workshops in February sponsored by the Dorothy Ley Fund. The first workshop will be Thursday, February 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the Wayne High School F.R. Haun Lecture Hall. C. Wilson Anderson will conduct a workshop for parents who have children in school. Wilson Anderson is the past president of the International Dyslexia Association and is presently employed at the Menninger Center for Learning Disabilities in Topeka, Kansas.

Topics to be covered in the parent workshop include: homework responsibilities of students and what parents can do to monitor their child's work; what a parent can do if a child cannot accomplish a homework task; and the maximum time a child should spend on a subject. Wilson will address how parents can reward achievement and keep track of their child's progress in school. He will clarify what the student's responsibilities are each day and each week and give both parents and students suggestions on who to organize to alleviate conflicts over homework. This workshop is free for anyone who wishes to attend.

Wayne Schools will be offering a second workshop for teachers of children in grades 7-12 on Friday, February 18, from 8:30-3:30 at Wayne High School. C. Wilson Anderson will conduct this workshop as well. Wilson's workshop will concentrate on working with students who are struggling in the classroom. He will focus on how teachers can construct tests and study guides to meet the needs of students having a difficult time in the classroom. Wilson will clarify the responsibilities of parents, teachers, and students regarding homework assignments. He will speak on how teachers can establish structure in their classroom so that routines become good habits for their students. Finally, he will look at how staff can help children develop self-confidence in the classroom.

We are very excited to have such an outstanding speaker as Wilson Anderson address our staff and parents. He presents throughout the United States and is recognized as a leading authority on working with students who are having a difficult time in the classroom. This is a great opportunity for parents to hear a knowledgeable person talk about improving our students' homework organization and learning skills.

NEWS FROM SCHOOL

A monthly feature brought to you by The Wayne City Schools with space donated by The Wayne Herald and Morning Shopper.

From the Desk of the Superintendent

At last evening's pancake supper at church while doing the dishes, the conversation turned to report cards and homework. I was more than just a casual listener to what was being said; especially interesting was the various techniques used in homes to insure that homework was being done — and how parents were monitoring the quality of homework time. Of course, there are many studies on homework that one can read, but it always seems different when dealing with your own child. As my own children grow older and begin to face more difficult subjects, the subject of how to establish the proper homework procedure in my house becomes more important. From the time I have given to reading what research says, the following is a quick reference to help save you time on what most studies agree on regarding homework.

1. Studies show the amount of time students spend learning a skill directly affects their ability to master it. Research shows that many successful teachers assign meaningful homework. By asking students to spend some of their out-of-class time working on a specific skill or subject, teachers make it possible to spend class time teaching students more content.

2. For schools to do the best possible job educating each student, parents and schools must work together. Homework is one way parents can make a meaningful contribution to helping their sons and daughters achieve. When students see that their parents think education is important, their performance improves.

3. The best schools have confidence that their students can and will achieve. Assigning meaningful homework is one way of letting students develop confidence in their own abilities.

4. Through the discipline associated with the routine of homework, students learn to manage their time. They learn the importance of setting goals and working to achieve them. They learn to be responsible for their own achievement. All these skills will help them continue to be successful throughout their lives.

5. Homework procedure: find a place for studying — laying down is not the best position for studying; sitting by a table or desk is the most conducive for studying; a specific time set aside every evening is best — but the schedule can vary; set specific study goals, preview the study materials, draw conclusions from the assignment, create analogies, categorize information, and testing yourself — are all good hints at making the most of having to do homework.

The most important thing parents can do is help their children believe that the hours spent studying can and do make a difference in enhancing their chance for success after graduation.

Whether a parent of an elementary or secondary student, homework cannot become the parent's responsibility. One of the purposes of homework is to give students the opportunity to take charge of part of their own learning. Sometimes problems do surface with homework due to negative feelings toward classmates or teachers. Help your child see that while these feelings are normal, they are no excuse for a mediocre performance. On the other hand, students sometimes have problems due to a situation beyond their control. For instance, classwork could be too hard — or too easy. In that case, the parent may want to meet with the teacher to discuss the problem. The child may have a physical problem that makes learning difficult. Emotional problems and certain learning disabilities can prevent students from performing at their best. Teachers or a school administrator can help parents get the advice they need to work at solving these problems.

From the Elementary Principal David L. Lutt

When parents ask how they can help enhance their child's academic development at home, a surefire suggestion that's always appropriate, no matter what the age of the student, is that the parents read aloud to the child each day. In fact, the idea's such a popular one that Jim Trelease, a writer, parent and husband of a teacher, has written a how to guide for parents called "The Read-Aloud Handbook" (Penquin Books). It includes a bibliography of suggested books and does and don'ts. These pointers can help make the read-aloud experience a more pleasant and productive one.

Make parents read-aloud partners

DOS —

•Read as often as you and the children have time for, but try to set aside at least one special time for reading, such as before bed.

•Picture books can be read easily to a family of children widely separated in age.

•Follow through with the reading. If you start a book, finish it unless it's a book that doesn't interest the children.

•Occasionally, read above children's intellectual level to challenge them but never read above children's emotional level.

•Allow your listeners a few minutes to settle down before you start reading.

•Allow time for discussion after reading a story, but don't turn the discussion into a quiz or insist on prying interpretations from the children.

•Use plenty of expressions when reading and speak slowly.

•If children find it difficult to just sit and listen, provide paper, crayons and pencils to keep their hands busy while reading.

DON'TS —

•Don't continue reading a book once it is obvious it was a poor choice.

•Don't select a story that children have already seen on television.

•Don't start reading if you don't have enough time to do the story justice.

•Don't be unnerved by questions while you are reading.

•Never use a book as a threat. "Pick up your room or no story tonight."

The Principal's Office Dr. Donald V. Zeiss Character Education

Parents will always be key players in character education. A recent two year study by the Josephson Institute for Ethics found that 76 percent of high school students and 81 percent of University students consider their parents to be the biggest influence on their character development.

Author Thomas Lichona points out that by teaching children to respect authority, parents set the foundation for moral growth. He believes that one of the most effective parenting strategies is to expect obedience but explain the reasons behind the rules.

The National PTA offers a list of discipline tips that parents should consider. These guidelines will help parents shape good character.

Set a good example. Children learn more from how parents act than from what they say.

Set limits on behavior. Be careful not to make too many rules. Generally, young children need more rules than older ones.

Avoid constant criticism and nagging. Try to ignore unwanted behavior unless it is destructive or dangerous. Instead, offer praise and positive suggestions, which foster self-esteem.

Take time to listen to your child. Especially if he/she wants to discuss a problem or rule.

Encourage your child's Independence. Help them realize that they can cope without you.

Let your child help make family rules. They will be less likely to break rules they have helped to make.

Be consistent. A few rules that are always enforced are more effective than many rules that are enforced only sporadically.

Act quickly when misbehavior occurs. Don't let a problem fester.

Be flexible. Some rules need to be changed. Be especially careful to eliminate rules that are no longer necessary as your child grows older. This flexibility will encourage their independence.

Make sure your child understands the rules and the penalties for breaking them.

Avoid power struggles with your child. Discipline is not a game with winners and losers.

Keep your sense of humor. It can work wonders with your child and help you keep your perspective about what is really important.

Treat your child as you would your best friend with respect, courtesy and love.
