Detention Center head pushing for new youth facility

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Construction of a new Juvenile Detention Center in Wayne is being planned by the director of the multi-county Northeast Nebraska Juvenile Services Corporation while other communities in the region have been making overtures to have the center located in their towns.

Greg Eckel, director of the agency which holds juveniles awaiting court appearances or who have been sentenced to short term detention, said the current facility next to the Wayne County Courthouse is in violation of federal standards and must be replaced.

The optimistic goal is to break ground on the new facility by the end of 1994, said Eckel. He said the funding structure for the new capital project is already in place and architectural and financial advisers have been retained by the corporation board of directors.

THE MAIN shortcoming that keeps the existing facility out of compliance with jail standards rules have to do with square footage and security. Those issues would be addressed with the construction of a new center, which would be anticipated to cost around $2 million he said.

A delegation of five state senators toured the Wayne Center last week. Eckel and corporation Attorney Chris Connolly also were in Lincoln last week for meetings with state lawmakers about the needs for the center here. He said he learned not to expect any state aid for the construction or operation of the new facility.

The Wayne Center is currently averaging 18-20 detainees per day for which the center receives from $65 to $105 per day, depending on the county from which the youth is sent here.

THERE ARE 14 counties which make up the Northeast Nebraska Juvenile Services Corporation. Those counties pay $65 per day for every detainee sent to Wayne. Other counties pay $105. Lancaster County has a contract with Northeast to send youngsters here for $75 per day.

Wayne's is one of only four Juvenile Detention Centers in the state and all are at or near capacity for occupation. Eckel said the new facility to be built in Wayne should

Warming to his work

Henry Schulte, III, who recently transferred from Omaha to Wayne as a city mail carrier braved the sub-zero temperatures, the stout wind and the snow in the swift delivery of his appointed rounds Monday. He just didn't have to contend with sleet and gloom of night. Weather is predicted to remain frigid and blustery through the week.

Screen for cholesterol

Providence Medical Center and the Wayne County Chapter of the American Heart Association will be sponsoring a cholesterol screening program on Monday, Feb. 14 and Tuesday, Feb. 15.

People wishing to have their blood tested can come to the hospital between the hours of 7:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m. on those dates.

The fee for the screen is $7 and includes total cholesterol, LDL (bad) cholesterol, HDL (good) cholesterol, triglycerides and a calculated risk factor for heart disease.

Persons taking part in this program should not ingest food (water is allowed for 12 hours prior to testing) and should abstain from any alcoholic beverages for 24 hours. A short questionnaire will be filled out prior to the blood being drawn by venipuncture.

Participants should plan on the whole procedure taking not more than 15 minutes and should obtain their results by mail in about a week. Educational material dealing with heart health, exercise and diet will be available.

'Unsung Hero' declines the recognition

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

Nursing homes and neighbors are the beneficiaries of good deeds by this month's Unsung Hero, Ray Petersen.

In fact, this interview had to be scheduled around Petersen's snow removal duties.

Petersen, who has more than once declined any recognition for his deeds, goes about his neighborhood on Walnut Street taking care of various chores for several elderly neighbors.

A retired Wayne County Public Power employee, Petersen said, "I don't have any hobbies and I need the exercise and fresh air. I have a snow blower and it doesn't take that long."

The person who nominated Petersen listed numerous activities that he has done without asking for money or recognition. These include snow removal, cutting down a neighbor's fallen apple tree, watching over a vacant house in the neighborhood and taking a neighbor for cancer treatments.

PETERSEN'S neighbor, Reynold Loberg, recently completed a series of 25 treatments for skin cancer. "Mr. Loberg had to go to Norfolk five days a week for these treatments. I did not take him every day, but tried to take him when I could. I suppose I took him about a dozen times," said Petersen.

Petersen has also taken an elderly neighbor to the hospital in the middle of the night.

While Petersen claims to have no hobby, he uses his talents as an accordion player to provide music to numerous nursing homes and care centers in the area. He said he regularly plays at seven or eight places throughout the month and did admit to having three "jobs" for Valentine's Day, Wisner in the morning, Wakefield in the afternoon and Emerson at night.

He also visits Randolph, Stanton, Norfolk and Osmond senior and care centers.

SOMETIMES he plays alone, "but when I am in the Norfolk or Randolph areas, Virgil Podany of Randolph plays the saxophone and his brother Frank plays the drums."

Unless he is playing with a band for a dance, Petersen refuses to take any money for his playing.

He is more willing to talk about his accordion playing than his neighborhood activities.

"I got my first accordion when I was about 10 years old. It had the directions to play one song, 'Home Sweet Home'. After I learned that, I learned to play by listening to music. I haven't had any lessons and I don't use notes. I play different kinds of music, fox trots, polkas, waltzes, country, and other dancing music."

"After I wore out my first accordion, I didn't play for a long time. Then about 15 years ago my wife got me an accordion for Christmas. I've been on the go ever since."

"MY WIFE and I like to go dancing and make an effort to go to the Polka Fest in Gibbon, Minn. In fact, last year that is where I got the accordion that I am using now."

Petersen's wife Mabel commented on Ray's love of music and the accordion by saying, "Ray loves his accordion so much, I'm not sure if I'm his first love or his second."

Even though he has been fully retired for three years, Petersen does still occasionally spend time helping out at Wayne County Public Power.

"My cleaning sidewalks is not a big deal for me. We farmed before moving to Wayne in 1957. I also worked in a service station and when I worked full time for Wayne County Public Power, I spent a lot of time outside. I really do enjoy being outside."

The Petersens have two sons, Dwaine and his family who live in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and Dale and his family who live in Norfolk. Petersen tries to downplay his accomplishments and denies having any hobbies but according to the person who nominated him, "Ray's hobby is helping other people. I feel he is very, very deserving of some recognition."

Commissioner, attorney join incumbent filers

Three more candidates have placed their names on the ballots for the May primary in Wayne County. Incumbent Wayne County Commissioner Jerry Pospishil from district three, which is generally southwest of Wayne, filed for reelection Friday. Pospishil, a Republican, was first elected to the commission in 1978.

Michael Pieper, Wayne County Attorney, filed for reelection Monday. Pieper, also a Republican, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Robert Ensz, who went on to become District Court Judge.

Doug Shelton, Winside, filed Tuesday as a challenger for the Winside School Board, District 95R.

Deadline for incumbents to file for reelection is Feb. 24 and challengers have until March 11 before all filings cease.

Search is on

The search committee assigned to hire a new executive director of the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and Wayne Industries will begin interviewing prospective candidates this week and next according to Chris King, chamber President.

King said he was pleased with the quality of candidates who have applied for the position since Curt Wilwerding announced his resignation last month. Wilwerding's last day is Feb. 11.

King said the committee will be accepting letters of application through the end of February for the position. He said there have been 15 applications so far and few of those were from local applicants.

Wilwerding, who has been the executive director of the organizations since 1991, will be joining the IDS Financial Services organization with George and Jennifer Phelps in Wayne as a certified financial planner.

Pig kissers seek votes

Members of the Wayne High School Friends organization will be sponsoring a kiss a pig contest again this year as a fund raiser for anti-drug and alcohol programs in Wayne.

The candidates who will be seeking votes to have the (ahem) honor of kissing a live pig at the half time of the home basketball game on Feb. 18 include Dr. Dennis Jensen, Natasha Lipp, Jeremy Meyer, Rocky Ruhl, Terry Munson and Judy Zobel.

Those who wish to vote for the person they would like to see kiss the pig may cast their votes with Friends members, at the high school or during home basketball games.

Votes are $1 each or 7 for $5.

The Golden Years

You've probably read about the growing trend among Americans to exercise for fitness. Older men and women often are featured as regulars at tennis, swimming, running or other sports. But a survey of 87,000 adults by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention found a majority of Americans get little or no exercise. Among men and women age 55 or older, the survey classified 62 percent as living sedentary lives. The study found that people who exercise tend to have more income and education than those who are sedentary.

Ted Schwartz, a retired salesman, took on a new role at age 73 — distributing thousands of used books to hospitals, churches, schools and other institutions in Miller Place, New York. Turned down when he tried to get a bookmobile to serve centers for the elderly, he started his one-man operation. Service clubs help gather books. So does the local post office, which posted a notice inviting contributions. Patrons donated more than 2,000 books in one weekend. The people who give books thank him, as do those who receive them, Schwartz says. "What I do makes everyone happy."

Firing is a mistake

Dear Editor:
When I was 15, junior varsity basketball coach Ron Carnes put me at point guard and showed me that I could be a leader.

I was cocky and sometimes out of control, but Mr. Carnes taught me to keep a cool head and to keep control of myself and my teammates. Mr. Carnes showed me patience because he had the confidence in me to lead my team. His confidence gave me something I did not have before in my life — self-confidence.

Along the way, Mr. Carnes also taught me to respect other people, to set an example for the younger children in Wayne through good sportsmanship and to be a leader. Mr. Carnes taught me some of the biggest lessons in my life, and I learned them well because I respected him.

My respect for Mr. Carnes grew from the integrity and professionalism he showed. He took his jobs as junior varsity basketball coach and athletic director very seriously. He loved doing his job, and he loved working with kids. This was obvious to anyone who ever played for him, and because of it, he earned the respect of his athletes and other students.

When I heard on Jan. 8, that Mr. Carnes was being fired as the athletic director at Wayne I couldn't believe it.

No single person has meant more to the athletic programs in Wayne than Ron Carnes. He has given most of his professional career and personal life to making the Wayne High athletic teams the best they could be.

Mr. Carnes has played a major role in creating winning athletic teams at Wayne for decades, and more importantly, he has instilled a winning attitude with athletics that says with them for the rest of their lives.

Firing Ron Carnes as the athletic director at Wayne High School is a mistake. He has shown a dedication to the students, the teams, the school and the community that is unmatched and will be next to impossible to replace.

By firing Mr. Carnes, Dr. Jensen has shown that he cares more about proving who is in control of the school system to the teachers and the community than he is about the well-being of the students of Wayne High.

Thank you Mr. Carnes for showing the thousands of athletes you coached at Wayne High that you cared about us.

State employee growth alarming

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — You've probably already heard the joke: "What's orange and sleeps three?"
Answer: "A State Department of Roads vehicle."

I always get a laugh out of that punch line, but the number of state workers — and particularly the growth in their numbers — is not chuckle material for some folks.

They look at their ever-growing tax bill and come to the conclusion that there's just too darned many people riding around in state, county, school and village vehicles.

There's some studies that back up that feeling, though state government has shrunk slightly in recent months after years of growth.

One of those East Coast think tanks — the Rockefeller Institute of Government in Albany, NY — recently studied growth of state employees between 1990 and 1993.

It found that the number of state workers in Nebraska grew by 4.5 percent during that period to more than 15,500. (The study included state university and college workers, by the way.)

That prompted a finger-pointing editorial from the Wall Street Journal, which scolded Nebraska and other states where growth in state workers exceeded the increase in state population.

Overall, Nebraska's growth in state employees ranked 19th among all states but was second-highest among surrounding states (only Colorado, that state of snow and obnoxious football fans, ranked higher).

The increase in Cornhusker state workers was despite a hiring freeze instituted by Gov. Nelson. It has reduced state employment by 39 full-time equivalent workers in the past year.

Why can't politicians get a better rein on the growth in state government?

The cynics among us would complain that they just don't have the guts to make the tough cuts.

It's much more complicated than that.

Federal mandates, which have drawn the wrath of Nelson and other state governors, is part of the reason.

Take the State Department of Environmental Quality for example. It used to be a quiet little agency located above a coffee shop when it was created in 1971. With only 20 employees, it was impossible to organize a department touch-football game, much less regulate the environment.

Today, DEQ has 170 workers and a slew of federally mandated jobs, like watching local landfills (we don't call them dumps now), checking out ground water and plotting the plodding progress of the low-level radioactive waste project.

Elsewhere in state government, while Nelson's job freeze was eliminating 150 jobs, 100 new jobs were being added to staff the new state lottery and guard inmates at a new state prison.

Cutting the number of state employees is tough, politicians contend, when taxpayers seek tougher laws on crime (and thus more prisons, cops, judges and attorneys), more jobs (more economic developers and job trainers) and better roads (more engineers and planners).

The state, and other wings of government, just have a hard time figuring out how to do more with fewer employees.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Historian seeks tokens

Dear Editor:

I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by general stores, barber shops, pool and billiard parlors, saloons and other businesses years ago. The tokens are usually metals, and are good for 5¢, 10¢, 25¢ or more in trade or merchandise or "good for" a loaf of bread, one drink, one shave or whatever.

Farmers, for example, would bring their cream and eggs to the General Store and the store owner would give him 5 percent more if he would take tokens. That was all right because the barber would take them as he bought groceries, etc. The tokens became community money.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area years ago and I would like to contact those who may have some of them, with the hopes of adding them to my collection.

I am hoping that if you have a "Letter to the Editor" section in your newspaper that you might mention my search. I know that this request is relatively unimportant but I do get a great deal of enjoyment from my hobby and I do believe that these concrete reminders of our great heritage are worth preserving. Being retired I am making the preservation of these old tokens one of my main goals.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these old tokens or from anyone who might be able to help me.

Any help that you can give me would be greatly appreciated. My home address is: 1906 Scenic Way, Sioux Falls, S.D. 57103, phone 605/334-6910.

Mothers, Earth, others, always are reproducers

Thinking of Spring? Let's consider Mother Earth.

Mothers are reproducers. If earth did not reproduce, the human species could not exist.

We plant seed and earth brings forth food. Animals subsist on what earth produces, then we humans eat some of the animals. Quite a food chain!

Do you realize our houses came out of the ground? Look at the wood in the rafters, floors, doors and drawers. That wood was once a part of a tree. Where were you when that wood was a sapling? Staircase railings, bookcases, picture frames, and ornate grandfather clocks are often made of wood. In days gone by that wood was but a seedling, then a small tree bending in the wind. After maturing, lumbermen cut it. Then craftsmen turned the wood into tables, chairs, or lumber for a house. Fascinating! As you recline in your easy chair, look around. Take note that you are actually sitting in the midst of yesterday's forests.

Can we possibly imagine all the innumerable treasures from Mother Earth? From out of her depths come diamonds. If you have one, look at it and try to comprehend the millions of years it was in the making! You want an antique? Your diamond is likely your best one! Numerous other jewels also come from earth's collection. Then there is the gold, greatly valued by mankind, which has always been at home under the earth.

Tin, iron, coal, lead, zinc, silver, and all the other elements are also from earth's wonderful storehouse.

Merlin Wright

The clothes we wear consist of particles originally from earth. The books we read are made mostly of wood products and ink: ground grown!

Many hot water heaters, kitchen ranges, and furnaces operate on natural gas. Where did the gas originate? Right! Another major underground product is oil. We wouldn't travel much without oil unless we'd revert back to the horse and buggy. Even the buggy had to have axle grease.

As you look at your Spring seed catalog and dream of turning over that first spade of old Mother Earth, remember how good she's been. She's a gift of God.

One last thing: your body is of the earth. Guess where it returns when you're through with it? Earth wants it back to hold close to her breast!

A real mother! Be good to her!

Police report has valuable purpose

Publication of the police report in the Wayne Herald is a waste of time and newspaper space according to an anonymous young reader in a none-too-kind letter we received last week.

I don't normally respond to weaklings who don't have the guts to stand behind their opinions and who try to blind side others with their arguments. But this one I saw as an inside fast ball I wanted to send to the center field bleachers.

The normal listing of activities in the weekly police report in Wayne apparently is an irritation for some young people who long for life among the bright lights in the big city. Many young people, sadly, see the day to day life of low crime in Wayne as proof of or small-town lack of excitement --it's a sign of our backwardness. Apparently it is galling for some to have to face this day to day reminder of our dull, uneventful, boring, rural lifestyle.

Motorists who lock their keys in their car, complaints about neighbors who have not cleared the snow off their walks, reports of shoplifters, loose dogs, and petty vandalism--these are the things that take up the bulk of the police blotter in Wayne. Admittedly, these aren't the same reports of violence, mayhem and high crime that cover the police blotters in many communities, but thankfully, not everyone holds the opinion that reporting what does go on here (exciting or not) has some redeeming value.

More than one new family which has relocated to Wayne, has cited the low crime rate as a prime reason they moved here. One new professional couple said they chuckled with their metropolitan friends when they read their police report in the Wayne Herald before the family relocated here. Their friends were envious, they said, about the fact that they were moving to a place where high crime was a shoplifter at 7-Eleven and an occasional domestic dispute. Where they came from their police reports kept track of the number of murders and assaults the way ours keeps track of locked out motorists.

While some people think our police reports are worthless and unexciting, others look at a broader picture and desire to raise their families in relatively safe small towns like Wayne.

Yet there are other reasons why we list the activities of our local law enforcement officers. When police are trying to gather information about incidents, sometimes the listing of events in the newspaper can cause unsuspecting witnesses to come forward with information that can help police.

It is also important for the public to know that its police officers are busy. They need know that their tax dollars are being well-spent. In Wayne the things officers are busy with are service type calls, helping the residents of the community most generally. And we like reporting that.

Police Chief Vern Fairchild had to reach some recently in his annual report to city council about his department. He tried to paint a picture of a dangerous community for police officers in requesting higher pay. Surely, being a police officer in Wayne is more dangerous than most other occupations in the area, unless you look at the farm accident statistics. However, a better argument for higher wage scale for officers here should be the fact that they are willing and able to provide traditional personal services to the taxpayers. These are services that most other communities have forgotten about in the rising tide of violence and mayhem. I think they are services most people in the community appreciate and want to see continue.

Call us dumb and backward for reporting the often dull, boring facts about police activity in Wayne. Some of us happen to be happy about reading those reports.

I think we'll continue to be dumb, if that's what it is. Dumb like a fox.

Slow week at Capitol

By Stan Schellpeper
District 18 Senator

It was a relatively slow week in the Legislature this past week as one bill required a considerable amount of debate. Introduced by Senator John Lindsay and others at the request of the Governor, LB 988 is a comprehensive juvenile crime bill aimed at enhancing the penalties related to juveniles and handguns while also improving the state's ability to effectively rehabilitate youthful offenders during incarceration.

While I am truly supportive of curbing violence, I am also concerned that while doing this we do not take away the rights of young people to use firearms for lawful sporting purposes. The majority of the debate on the bill has centered on an amendment almost identical to LB 1023 which I introduced and is currently held in committee.

These proposals are supported by the National Rifle Association and would provide for certain exceptions to unlawful juvenile possession of a firearm. These exceptions were necessary to allow juveniles to hunt and participate in hunter's safety courses, to practice in the use of firearms, to engage in target shooting with qualified adult supervision at an established range, and to engage in organized competition involving the use of a firearm.

The amendment would allow juveniles to possess a firearm on another person's property with their permission and also to possess a firearm at their own residence with their parent's or legal guardian's permission. Most senators were generally supportive of these activities. I felt it was essential that we have this amendment so that law abiding citizens would not be

He said as envisioned, the new Wayne Center would be built by private investors who would then lease it to the corporation. He said he thought a practical location for the new facility would be the industrial park area on the city's east end.

Currently the Juvenile Services Corporation pays Wayne County $2,000 a month for lease of what was the old county jail.

ECKEL he was a little surprised recently when Fullerton requested to be considered as a site for a new Juvenile Detention Center in Northeast Nebraska, that the people of Wayne didn't object to the possibility of losing the economic benefit of 30 jobs and a $1 million a year operation.

"If we don't get a new building, we will be closed down," said Eckel of the jail standards rules. He said the current facility is being used for something it was not designed to do. He said the new facility would be designed specifically as a juvenile detention center with stronger security and better layout.

Zero the hero strikes again

Students in kindergarten classes at West Elementary School in Wayne Friday celebrated the 100th day of school with the special annual appearance of "Zero the Hero". The masked, caped character traditionally arrives on the 100th day of school each year to help kids celebrate with songs, games and treats. Zero was portrayed this year by Ellen Kietzman. Also shown is her daughter, Miranda.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE

Fourteen Wakefield Youth in junior high and high school have perfect attendance during the first semester of school.

At the junior high level Austin Brown, Kelli Johnson, Justin Paulson, and Jennifer Roebber from the seventh grade class, along with Mindy Anderson, Susan Brudigam and Kevin Johnson from the eighth grade have perfect attendance.

A TREE CITY

Wakefield has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation. It is the fourth year Wakefield has received this national recognition.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by the National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with USDA Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters.

To become a Tree City USA, a community must meet four standards: a tree board or department, a city tree ordinance, a comprehensive community forestry program and an Arbor Day observance.

"A community's tree-planting program is a living memorial to the citizen's concern for the quality of life. The trees we plant and care for today will increase property values, cool and beautify our cities, fight pollution, conserve energy and give wild-life a home for years to come." John Rosenow, the National Arbor Day Foundation's executive Director, said.

"An effective community forestry program is an on going process of renewal and improvement, a program of tree planting and care that continues through the years," Rosenow said. "The Tree City USA award is an excellent indication that there is a solid foundation for that process of improvement."

ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED

A Local Micro-Loan Business Association called "The Logan Creek Small Business Association" has been organized in Wakefield to help secure financing and support for self-employed businesses, including home based, farm based, store front, part time, full time, new and existing businesses. The Association is sponsored by the Center for Rural Affairs, Rural Enterprise Assistance Project (REAP). Nancy Schulz of rural Wakefield is the chairperson of the recently organized Logan Creek Small Business Association. The group meets at noon on the third Friday of each month at the Hotel. Lisa Lutz is serving as secretary of the association and Deloy Benne as treasurer.

Small businesses are at the core of the economic activity in the area, according to the Center for Rural Affairs. While individually these businesses may be small, when added together they are an important resource for the creation of new wealth in the local economy.

The association formed to provide small loans ($100 to $10,000) in addition to basic business management training and networking with other businesses. A session is being planned for February.

Members of 13 other REAP associations in Nebraska have benefited a great deal from the networking that has taken place at a meeting, the Center for Rural Affairs states. They have acquired skills in making successful loans for fellow association members. The business training provides an opportunity for building business ideas, fine-tuning current business operations and planning for the future.

penalized by the enhancement of the penalty for possession of a firearm from a Class III misdemeanor to a Class I misdemeanor. A Class I misdemeanor is punishable by up to one year imprisonment and as much as a $1,000 fine.

Several hours of debate were spent discussing the issue of whether the amendment expanded opportunities for youths to legally possess handguns. Numerous other senators and I contended that many juveniles presently enjoy hunting on their grandparents' or other relatives' farms, and they must have this right preserved.

Several changes were made to the amendment which clarified the intent, but a true consensus was never achieved. Since this amendment threatened the portions of the bill its supporters deemed were more important, an amendment was offered to eliminate this provision. If we are not able to agree on an amendment that is acceptable to hunting interests our current laws will stay in place. I will continue to fight to protect the lawful use of firearms by juveniles for lawful sporting purposes. We must act this session to protect the lives of our young people and ensure that in rural and urban areas they will not be threatened by violence.

As always, if you would like to comment on this bill or any other legislation, please do not hesitate to contact myself or my staff at 471-2801.

WAYNE'S ROBERT BELL goes up for a shot over Cedar Catholic's Russ Hochstein and Jaime Jones during the championship game of the conference tournament.

Wakefield boys lose to Walthill in finals of Lewis and Clark

The Championship game in the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament in boys play, pitted two number four seeds in Wakefield and Walthill. Brad Hoskins, however, had to watch his Trojans settle for the runner-up honors after falling to the Bluejays, 57-52.

The game, played in Rice Auditorium at Wayne State, was tied at 38 after the third quarter and it was nip and tuck throughout the final stanza until the final minutes when Walthill gained the advantage.

"Our bench didn't contribute a single point for us," Hoskins said. "That's unusual because we normally get solid performances from the non-starters. Then again, they only shot the ball five times."

In fact, Wakefield as a team only got 37 shot attempts during the championship game which Hoskins attributed to Walthill's defense and a lack of execution on his squad's offense.

Gone for Wakefield is the eight-game win streak which had vaulted them into the top 10 in the rankings. The Trojans were led by Cory Brown with 16 and Miah Johnson with 11. Tory Nixon and Wes Blecke were also in double figures with 10 apiece while Ryan Ekberg tallied five.

Wakefield was out-rebounded, 38-37 despite an 11 rebound performance from Brown and eight from Blecke. Wakefield had 22 turnovers compared to 13 for the Bluejays and the Trojans connected on 18 of 25 free throw attempts compared to 15 of 25 shooting by Walthill.

THE TROJANS advanced to Saturday's championship match-up with Walthill after coming from behind to defeat Coleridge, Friday night in Wakefield in the Clark Division finals, 67-59.

The Trojans trailed by a 42-40 margin to the Bulldogs after three quarters of play but Coleridge scored the first 10 points of the fourth quarter and managed to increase its lead to 12 before Wakefield closed out the final six minutes of play with a 27-7 run.

"We hit 10, 3-pointers," Hoskins said. "That was the difference. Justin Dutcher made five and Miah Johnson hit three. We just decided to start playing basketball after we let Coleridge get up like that in the fourth period. That's basically all there is to it."

Dutcher led the winners with 21 points followed by a dozen from Johnson and 11 from Cory Brown. The 12-6 runner-up Trojans will host Newcastle on Tuesday before traveling to play Coleridge again on Friday. Wakefield will play at Laurel on Saturday.

Wakefield (52), Walthill (57): Wakefield—Cory Brown, 16; Miah Johnson, 11; Wes Blecke, 10; Tory Nixon, 10; Ryan Ekberg, 5.

Wakefield (67), Coleridge (59): Justin Dutcher, 21; Miah Johnson, 12; Cory Brown, 11; Wes Blecke, 6; Tory Nixon, 6; Lucas Tappe, 6; Ryan Ekberg, 5.

Wayne hoop teams beaten in NAC Championship tilts

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Both the Wayne High girls and boys basketball teams qualified for the Northern Activities Conference Tournament finals in Hartington, Saturday. The good news, however, ends there.

Both Blue Devil squads were defeated in their bid to sweep the NAC championships as the girls were beaten by Class A's number five ranked South Sioux, 80-57 and the boys were edged by Hartington Cedar Catholic, 51-46.

In the girls game Wayne trailed 21-0 in the first quarter before scoring on a Katie Lutt free throw. The period ended with Wayne trailing, 25-4. South Sioux kept its pressure on in the second quarter and went into the locker room with a 50-22 lead.

In fact, Roger Reikofski's squad trailed by 35 points at one time in the third quarter, 60-25 before they rallied to close out the game with a 32-20 scoring run.

Wayne's scoring rally was against all of South Sioux's starters as Cardinals coach Kelly Flynn pushed for his team to gain a 40 or 50 point victory but Wayne showed great character by not giving up.

Carrie Fink was a major reason the Blue Devils managed to look respectable against a team that has made it a hobby this year to not only defeat opponents but to embarrass them and enjoy it in the process.

Fink drained the nets for 24 points including five, 3-pointers in just eight attempts while Jenny Thompson tossed in 11 points. Katy Wilson netted seven points and Audra Sievers tallied six.

Cardinals sensational sophomore Charlie Rogers poured in a game high 32 points. The Blue Devils drained nine, 3-pointers in the contest—unofficially the fifth best team total in Nebraska history.

Wayne was out-rebounded by the much bigger South Sioux squad, 45-37. Fink led Wayne from her guard position with eight caroms while Anne Wiseman and Katie Lutt had seven rebounds each.

The Blue Devils had 29 turnovers but the Cardinals suffered 30. Wayne was 14-28 from the free throw line while South Sioux was 19-30. Jenny Thompson and Katie Lutt were named to the all-tournament team but Carrie Fink was left out.

"Carrie should have been on the all-tourney team," Reikofski said. "She scored 35 points in two games and was probably the best shooter overall in the whole tournament. I don't like the way they choose the all-tourney team because they tell each of the four coaches to put down any eight names and then they choose the all-tourney team of six players at halftime of the championship game."

Not only is leaving Fink off the all-tourney team a travesty but Cardinals player April Sailors was named to the all-tourney team after being held scoreless by the Blue Devils in the finals. Sailors netted 27 against Wayne in the first meeting at Wayne High but the Blue Devils bottled her up in the championship game.

THE WAYNE girls qualified for the championship game by beating Hartington Cedar Catholic for the second time this season, 46-45, Friday at Cedar. Wayne jumped out to a 15-5 lead after the first quarter but led by only three at the half, 25-22.

Cedar narrowed the gap to one by the third quarter's end but Wayne managed to build a five point advantage with under a minute to go. "We missed a couple free throws and Cedar hit a couple late buckets but their last score came with under five seconds left and all we had to do was hold the ball out of bounds which is what we did," Reikofski said.

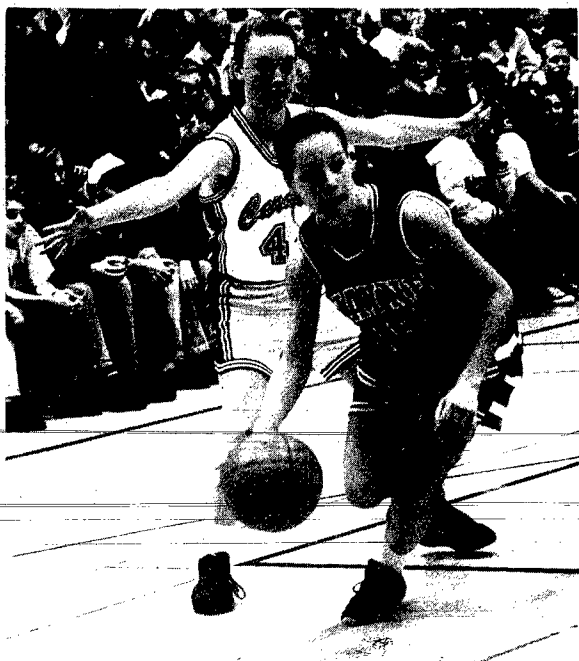

Tami Schluns had a marvelous game for the Blue Devils, scoring a career high 13 points while hauling down a team high 10 rebounds. Jenny Thompson led the team with 16 and Carrie Fink was also in double figures with 11.

"Tami really played well," Reikofski said. "She and Carrie were our top rebounders from the guard position because there were a lot of long rebounds and a lot of weakside rebounding." (Schluns, incidentally, scored two points against Cedar in the first outing between the two teams last Monday night at Wayne High but her scoring was inadvertently left out of the box score in last Tuesday's Wayne Herald.)

Wayne edged the Trojans, 43-42 on the boards with Schluns and Fink leading the way. Fink had eight rebounds. The Blue Devils committed 18 turnovers but forced the host team into 22 and Wayne was 7-15 from the foul line while Cedar was 3-12.

The 9-7 Blue Devils will host Stanton on Tuesday which is a vital game for Wayne as district seedings are pending on the outcome.

THE WAYNE boys scored the first two points of the championship game with Cedar Catholic as Ryan Pick stole a ball at half court and made a lay-up. That, however, was the last time Wayne would lead as Cedar came back with a vengeance, out-scoring the Blue Devils, 10-2 the rest of the period.

TAMI SCHLUNS changes direction to avoid the South Sioux press during fourth quarter action of the girls championship of the NAC Tournament.

Wayne fell victim to ice cold shooting, hitting just two shots in the first quarter on 11 attempts. Both teams scored 16, third quarter points to leave Wayne with the same six-point deficit at 26-20.

The positive thing for the Blue Devils was the play of Kirk Carmichael who came off the bench to score nine, first half points. The Blue Devils managed to trim two points off the Cedar lead by the end of the third quarter and went into the fourth stanza trailing, 36-32.

The closest Wayne got was one point on two different occasions. Ryan Pick drained a 3-pointer with 2:30 left to make it a 44-43 game and Robert Bell sank a pair of free throws at the 1:07 mark to make it a 47-46 contest. Cedar scored the final four points from the free throw line as their go-to player Jaime Jones sank four charity tosses.

Jones, incidentally, only scored one basket from the field but the 6-6 junior nailed all 11 of his free throw attempts including a perfect 9-9 performance in the final stanza.

"I felt the biggest difference in the game was rebounding," Wayne coach Rocky Ruhl said. "We were out-rebounded by six, 28-22 but we gave up a lot of offensive rebounds which resulted in second and third chance points."

Wayne also shot poorly from the field for the game at 31.5 percent. Pick led the Blue Devils with 13 points while Matt Blomenkamp and Carmichael netted 11 each. Blomenkamp had seven rebounds to lead Wayne and Mike Fluent had five.

Wayne was 10-15 from the foul line while Cedar was 17-26. The 13-4 Blue Devils will host Madison on Friday. Blomenkamp and Bell were each named to the all-tournament team.

Wayne girls (46), Cedar (45): Wayne—Jenny Thompson, 16; Tami Schluns 13; Carrie Fink, 11; Anne Wiseman, 2; Katie Lutt, 2; Traci Oborny, 2.

Wayne girls (57), South Sioux (80): Wayne—Carrie Fink, 24; Jenny Thompson, 11; Katy Wilson, 7; Audra Sievers, 6; Katie Lutt, 4; Amy Ehrhardt, 2; Tami Schluns, 2; Cori Langenfeld, 1.

Wayne boys (46), Cedar (51): Wayne—Ryan Pick, 13; Matt Blomenkamp, 11; Kirk Carmichael, 11; Robert Bell, 6; Mike Fluent, 4; Joe Lutt, 1.

Laurel gals split contests

The Laurel Lady Bears suffered a 57-45 setback to Wisner-Pilger, Friday in Wisner, but Rick Petri's squad rebounded Monday to defeat Ponca in Laurel, 52-36.

The 6-10 Bears will close out the regular season with games on Friday at Neligh and Saturday at home against Wakefield in a make-up contest.

In Friday's game the Bears led the Gators, 11-8 after the first period but were out-scored, 19-13 in the second quarter leaving Laurel with a 27-24 deficit at the intermission.

"The key to the game was turnovers," Petri said. "We had 34 of them compared to just 11 for Wisner. We didn't do a good job of handling their press which is evident from the fact 20 Wisner points came directly off our turnovers."

Samantha Felber led Laurel with 14 points while Leann Stewart chipped in 13 followed by Amanda Hartung with nine and Becky Schroeder with five. Cathy Mohr finished with three points and Tara Erwin netted one.

The Bears out-rebounded Wisner, 39-27 as Schroeder led the way with nine caroms while Felber and Hartung had nine each. Laurel was 8-14 from the free throw line and Wisner was 5-10.

ON MONDAY the Bears broke open a close game in the second quarter with a 24-8 scoring run to take a 30-12 lead into the locker room at half.

Petri's squad never looked back in the second half. "We had 10 girls get into the scoring column," Petri said. "We felt our three-quarter court trapping pressure caused them a lot of problems and we connected on 60 percent of our shots from the field in the second quarter."

Amanda Hartung led the winners with 14 points while Leann Stewart was in double figures with 10. Heather Cunningham netted six and Alissa Krie tallied five.

Samantha Felber, Dawn Wickett and Cathy Mohr tallied four each while Tara Erwin and Tracy Ankeny finished with two each. Becky Schroeder rounded out the attack with a free throw.

The Bears dominated the boards, 46-30 led by Felber, Hartung and Krie with seven boards each.

Wayne State women down Bemidji; men fall by eight

The Wayne State women's and men's basketball teams earned a split with Bemidji State, Saturday in Bemidji, Minnesota.

The Wildcat women won an 87-79 decision from the host team but the men lost an eight point decision, 99-91. Mike Barry watched his crew improve to 17-4 and the WSC mentor liked what he saw in the WSC as the 'Cats took a comfortable 53-35 lead into the locker room.

"We played as well a first half as we had all season," Barry said. "In the second half, we started missing a few shots and Bemidji got some momentum going and they cut the lead to four before we pushed it back to 10."

The Wildcats came into the game a little banged up physically and things didn't get better for WSC. "We had five girls nursing injuries either suffered in practice or during the Bemidji game," Barry said. "Mindi Jensen, Lisa Chamberlain, Marla Stewart and Lynn Nohr were all nursing ankle sprains and Linda Heller was playing with a bad back."

Despite her injurious back, Heller played her finest game of the season, netting 23 points, hauling down eight rebounds, dishing out two assists and notching two steals. Heller was 11-14 from the foul line. "Linda played very well," Barry said. "We needed her down the stretch and she delivered."

Deb Kostreba poured in 14 points while Lisa Chamberlain and Jodi Otjen finished in double figures with 11 apiece. The 'Cats narrowly edged the host team on the boards, 39-38 with Heller leading the winners with eight caroms and Otjen finished with five.

WSC had 22 turnovers in the game but forced Bemidji into 30. The 'Cats have six games remaining in the regular season and are currently ranked sixth in the Region. The top five teams qualify for post season play and the team right ahead of WSC is Kearney—a team the 'Cats have to play twice yet. WSC will host Winona State on Wednesday.

THE WILDCAT men slipped to 5-14 on the season after the eight point setback. WSC trailed by a 55-43 margin at the break and outscored the host team, 48-44 in the second stanza.

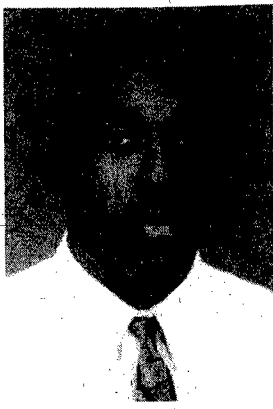

Kyle White led WSC with 20 points while Billy Patterson tossed in 17. Dan Anderson chipped in 14 while Omar Clark and Terry Mailloux finished in double figures with 13 apiece.

The 'Cats held a 40-31 advantage on the boards with Mailloux leading the way with 13 caroms while Anderson hauled down seven. Clark and Patterson each dished out four assists.

WSC had 15 turnovers while Bemidji had 13 and the 'Cats connected on 47 percent of their shots from the field at 35-74 while the host team converted on nearly 60 percent of their shots, 40-67. WSC was red-hot from the free throw line, connecting on 17 of 20 charity tosses.

The 'Cats will host Winona State on Wednesday in Rice Auditorium. The twinbill with Winona will be Wimmer's Wiener

KYLE WHITE led the Wayne State men against Bemidji State with 20 points. The 'Cats will host Winona State tomorrow.

LINDA HELLER enjoyed her finest day ever as a Wildcat at Bemidji by scoring 23 points and hauling down eight rebounds.

Night with a hot dog eating contest at halftime of both contests.

It is also Three Dog Night in Rice Auditorium with hot dogs on sale, three for a buck. Fans will also be treated to music from Three Dog Night.

WSC women (87), Bemidji State (79): WSC—Linda Heller, 23; Deb Kostreba, 14; Lisa Chamberlain, 11; Jodi Otjen, 11; Amy Brodersen, 7; Mindi Jensen, 6; Brenda TeGrotenhuis, 4; Deedra Haskins, 4; Kristy Twait, 3; Ann Kramer, 2; Marla Stewart, 2.

WSC men (91), Bemidji State (99): WSC—Kyle White, 20; Billy Patterson, 17; Dan Anderson, 14; Omar Clark, 13; Terry Mailloux, 13; Nate Parks, 8; Greg Ryan, 6.

Allen girls lose to Emerson in finals

ALLEN-The Allen Lady Eagles were defeated by Emerson-Hubbard for the third time this season, Friday in the finals of the Lewis Division of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament, 50-46 in Emerson.

Lori Koester and Gary Erwin have now lost by six, one and four points to the highly state ranked Lady Pirates who went on to blast Newcastle in the championship, Saturday in Rice Auditorium on the campus of Wayne State College.

"We had a one point lead heading into the fourth quarter," Koester said. "Again, it came down to free throw shooting and we did a poor job." The Eagles connected on just four of 15 charity tosses while Emerson was 11-15.

"We ended up shooting nearly 50 percent from the field for the game and yet, hit just 27 percent of our free throws," Koester said. "In the final period we missed three front ends of one-and-one's."

The 11-6 Eagles got 15 points from Steph Martinson while Tanya Plueger tossed in 13. Holly Blair netted a dozen on the scoreboard but her worth on the court proved to be inspirational to the Eagle players as she played with severe back pain—an injury suffered in an earlier game that hasn't healed yet.

"Holly means a lot to our team and she's not the kind of player that will nag about an injury," Koester said. "Not a lot of people could tell by her playing that she was suffering and she gave us a terrific effort."

Jaime Mitchell, Dawn Diediker and Abbey Schroeder rounded out the scoring with two each. The Eagles edged the Pirates on the boards, 26-25 as Plueger led the way with 11 rebounds while Mitchell hauled down seven.

Allen had 16 turnovers compared to 11 for Emerson. Allen's final regular season game will be Friday at Beemer and sub-district action will start next Monday in Emerson for the Eagles.

Winside grapplers place in final meet

The Winside wrestling team competed in its final tournament of the regular season, Saturday in Clearwater and Paul Sok's troops came away with a third place team finish despite not having the services of 152-pound senior Brady Frahm.

Frahm was suffering from a skin condition that required medication and sat out of Saturday's competition but should be ready to go at districts which get underway Friday and Saturday in Howells.

Elgin/Pope John—the favorite at districts this weekend, won the team title at the Clearwater Invitational with 179 points while Newman Grove finished runner-up with 123. Winside scored 112—one point ahead of Howells while Norfolk's reserves placed fifth with 89.

Elgin/Pope John placed sixth with 57 followed by Plainville with 53 and Osmond with 45.5. The host team Clearwater was ninth with 33 and Creighton's reserves were 10th with 18 while Neligh's reserves scored 9; Randolph rounded out the team scoring with nine.

The Wildcats had two champions on the day along with two runner-up winners. Scott Jacobsen at 112 may of had his best outing of the season with wins over the wrestler he beat at state last year in the finals in this tournament's semis and with a 5-0 decision over Elgin Pope John's Jason Sturek—the state's third rated wrestler in Class D in the finals.

Josh Jaeger continued his highly successful sophomore year with a championship medal at 125. Jaeger pinned Newman Grove's Eric Bell in 3:24 of the finals.

The Wildcats probably should have had a third champion in 119 pounder Jason Wylie but the Winside grappler got caught in a precarious position after leading by a 7-0 margin in the finals to Jesse Borer of Elgin Pope John and was pinned.

Also claiming second place honors was Shaun Magwire at 145. Magwire was pinned by Newman Grove's Matt Schmitt in the finals. Lucas Mohr claimed the only third place medal by Winside at 130 where he won a 4-0 decision from Elgin/Pope John's Scott Borer in the consolation finals.

Fourth place medals went to Robert Witter at 119, Steve Svatos at 135 and Lonnie Grothe had 160. Witter lost a 3-0 decision to Elgin/Petersburg's Jeremy Ketteler in the consolation finals while Svatos was defeated, 8-3 in the consolation finals by Osmond's Chris Washburn. Grothe was pinned by Ben Aschoff of Osmond in 2:33 of the consolation finals.

"Heading into districts I think we're in as good of shape as anybody," Sok said. "We may not be as sharp on certain techniques but we have a few days to iron all that out before districts."

Action in the D-1 District in Howells will get underway about 3:30 p.m., Friday with Saturday's starting time slated for approximately 11 a.m. The finals are expected to start around 5 p.m., Saturday.

Scott Jacobsen at 112 and Josh Jaeger at 125 will take the number one seed into districts in their respective weight classes while Brady Frahm is seeded second at 152. Jason Wylie at 119 and Lucas Mohr at 130 drew the fourth seeds while Shaun Magwire at 145 and Lonnie Grothe at 160 are seeded sixth.

The top four wrestlers in each weight division qualify for the Nebraska State Wrestling Tournament which begins Thursday, Feb. 17 at the Bob Devaney Sports Complex in Lincoln.

Wayne rec girls compete in Sioux City

WAYNE-The Wayne seventh and eighth grade girls rec basketball teams competed in Sioux City over the weekend with the seventh graders splitting a pair of games on Saturday while the eighth graders won both of their games on Sunday.

The seventh grade team defeated Dow/Anco from South Dakota, 28-19 as Brooke Parker paced the winners with 10 points while Gretchen Wilke and Jessica Raveling chipped in with five points apiece. Carol Longe added four with Shona Stracke and Abbie Diediker rounding out the scoring with two each.

Wayne was defeated by the Pepsi Shooters from Sioux City in the second game, 17-14. Parker led Wayne with six while Stracke netted four. Wilke and Longe tallied two apiece.

The eighth grade girls beat the Midwest Fire Flies from Sioux City, 30-22 in their first game. Lindsay Baack led Wayne with 11 points while Marci Post tossed in nine. Molly Linster finished with six and Jenpi-Beiermann scored three. Brandy Frevert rounded out the attack with one.

Wayne also defeated the E.T. Girls from Hoover, 23-9. Carla Kemp paced the winners with six points followed by Michelle Saul with five and Gayle Olson with four. Mindy McClean scored three and Alycia Jorgensen and Rebecca Dorcey chipped in two apiece while Sara Kinney netted one.

The eighth graders improved to 3-1 and the seventh graders notched their first win of the season while suffering three losses.

Local farmers will answer questions on ag surveys

Virginia Gosch of Randolph will be calling on several Wayne County farmers in February and March, asking for their cooperation on a major survey, according to the Nebraska Agricultural Statistics Service in Lincoln.

The local farmers were selected to participate in the 10th annual Farm Costs and Returns Survey, which will collect information from more than 12,000 farmers and ranchers nationwide. The survey is being conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's statistics-gathering agency, the National Agricultural Statistics Service and its state offices.

The statistical office in Lincoln, which is handling the Nebraska portion of the survey, hired and trained Virginia Gosch. Like her counterparts nationwide, Gosch will be collecting data on farm expenses, finances, capital purchases and costs of production for 1993. The information will be used to assess the economic well-being of different sizes and types of farms in different parts of the country. Survey findings will also be used to estimate costs and returns for producing individual commodities.

"Being a farm wife myself, I know how busy farmers are, and I know that surveys can be extra work," said Gosch. "But I also know how important it is to have accurate, detailed, up-to-date information of financial conditions throughout agriculture. A lot of people depend on it, and reliable information has to come from the source — farmers themselves."

According to Don Bay, acting head of the National Agricultural Statistics Service in Washington, D.C., the survey is intended to "take the pulse of agriculture." The information it yields is used by farm policymakers, state agriculture officials, extension agents, USDA and university economists, and farm organizations.

"The survey lets farmers and those who represent them know what's happening in different regions and sectors of agriculture. State agriculture officials and policymakers in Washington base many of their decisions on information gleaned from this survey," Bay said.

Gosch wants to make sure that Wayne County farmers are properly represented in both the state and national samples, so that local farming conditions are reflected in the survey results. She pointed out

Grandparents really do have all the fun

When the holiday letters began arriving in December, it seemed our peers were all (1) grandparents, and (2) retired, or planning for retirement.

Since collecting from Social Security depends upon what was paid in, and I blew my small IRA on a trip to Germany, and our "nest egg," the Farm, is still being paid for, there's no retirement on our horizon. Besides, I decided long ago that I was never going to retire. Change vocations, perhaps, but not retire.

Becoming a grandparent, however, had always been a goal of mine. I had been observing grandparents, and they appeared to be having a very good time. Men who had not had the time or the energy to play with their own children were playing with grandchildren and obviously enjoying themselves. Women who had been strict with their own kids seemed to relax their standards with their children's offspring. We hoped we hadn't raised a bunch of yuppies, and waited impatiently for the experience.

Finally, Thomas arrived and provided entertainment for all of us. By the time Ann and Max were married, we knew he would have a sibling; and a cousin. In fact, the due dates were only three weeks

But babies have always arrived on their own schedule. First date came and went. Ultra sounds and non-stress tests were performed.

Finally, an induction date was set. I made plans to use some accumulated vacation time. Early on the morning I was to go to Seward, Groundhog Day, Sue called to tell us that Alex had arrived, with no prompting.

Which is why I'm writing this in Seward. I've been doing grandmotherly things and enjoying Thomas; who has been rather nonchalant about the whole business.

As a former obstetrical nurse, I can't believe how fast they leave the hospital. As a home health nurse, I can understand the advantages.

No matter how "natural" the process, giving birth is exhausting. Plus, there are hormonal changes and interrupted sleep after the event. Grandmas are definitely needed, at least for a few days.

Now we're waiting for a call from St. Joe. We still don't have a granddaughter. Grandmas can only resist dolls for so long.

Honor band festival

Toby Mattson, an eight-grader from Wakefield, plays the alto saxophone during Wayne State college's annual Honor Band Festival held Saturday. He is the son of Judy Mattson and Steve Dalton of Wakefield. About 150 junior high and high school musicians from 40 schools were present. Schools from Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota were represented.

New airman from Carroll finishes training

Air Force Airman Jason Brandt has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Brandt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Brandt of rural Carroll.

Future Homemakers honored at WSC

The Home Economics Department at Wayne State College hosted 90 Future Homemakers of America (FHA) students from nine high schools during the FHA District V SEARCH (Student Events for Achievement and Recognition in Consumer Homemaking) event held recently on campus.

Students whose presentations received top ratings will advance to the state SEARCH level in Lincoln on April 11.

The objective of the SEARCH program is to assist students in developing personal leadership, citizenship and occupational knowledge and skills for personal, family and community living through vocational home economics education, according to Dr. LaVera Roemhildt, professor of home economics at Wayne State.

How to conservation video available to area farmers

How-to videos are available on just about every subject lately, from aerobic exercise to home repairs. A video tape entitled "Conservation On Your Own" is also available to assist farmers to do some of their own conservation work.

The "how to" video, which is available at county offices of the Soil Conservation Service, explains eight common conservation practices that farmers can implement on their own farm to control soil erosion. Some of the practices covered in the videotape include How to measure and manage crop residues and How to control small gullies with grass.

According to Randal Gunn, SCS District Conservationist in Wayne, both of these segments can be valuable tools this spring as farmers wind up installation of required conservation practices on highly erodible cropland. Gunn reminds farmers who wish to receive any USDA benefits that all practices such as conservation tillage and crop rotations must be applied this spring (1994).

Maintenance of conservation practices is also a crucial part of erosion control, Gunn says. Terrace systems, for example, also require periodic inspection and maintenance. Tips on where problems can occur with terraces and how to fix them are also included in the segment How to keep your terraces working.

If you would like to view the Conservation On Your Own videotape or have other questions, contact your local office of the Soil Conservation Service. All programs and services of the United States Department of Agriculture - Soil Conservation Service are offered on a nondiscriminatory basis, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, disability, political beliefs and marital or familial status.

Farm Credit Services support youth projects

Farm Credit Services offices in Norfolk, Albion and West Point are making funds available to finance 4-H and FFA projects of immediate family members of Farm Credit Services (PCAM & FLCA) Stockholders. Through its "Youth in Agriculture" program, Farm Credit Services will provide this financing for a small service charge in lieu of interest.

According to Nick Leuschen, Branch Manager of the three offices, "The intent of this program is to provide youth with real life exposure to obtaining a business loan.

The young person will prepare an application which will include a personal balance sheet and cash flow for the specific project, in addition to signing a note. At the end of the project the youth will complete a final report for the project."

Applications will be taken at all three Farm Credit offices, until March 15. Applications are subject to a specific pool of funds so will be handled on a first come, first serve basis.

For more information, contact your Farm Credit Services office.

Sustainable Agriculture Society meeting is set

The Nebraska Sustainable Agriculture Society's (NSAS) annual meeting is the highlight of the year for the organization. Good ideas, great speakers, interesting exhibits, fabulous farmers and delicious food make this a memorable event.

The meeting will be held at the New World Inn in Columbus on Saturday, Feb. 26 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registration is $30 in advance or $35 at the door (spouses $15). Additional information is available from the Nebraska Sustainable Agriculture Society, Box 736, Hartington, Neb. 68739 or phone 402-254-2289.

This year we have arranged for two keynote speakers with very different yet interrelated backgrounds. Both speakers will be presenting workshops later in the day to provide further information and answer any questions you might have.

John Ikerd is an Extension Economist and Coordinator of the Center for Sustainable Ag Systems at the University of Missouri-Columbia. He also serves as coordinator of "Sustainable Agriculture Quality of Life Task Force," mandated by Congress and from which SARE (Sustainable Agriculture Research and Education) fund were appropriated. His talk will be entitled "Sustainable Agriculture and Quality of Life."

Robyn Van En is co-founder of Indian Line Farm, the first modern day example of Community Supported Agriculture (CSA). The basic principle of CSA's is to generate cash for production costs by charging "dues" or selling "memberships" in advance. Participants then receive a "share" of fresh food items produced or losses incurred because of weather. Ms. Van En's attendance is being co-sponsored by the SELL Project (Strengthening Economic Links Locally), University of Nebraska. Robyn's talk will be entitled "Community Supported Agriculture."

In addition to the speakers, morning and afternoon workshop topics include: Biological Control of Thistles and Other Weeds, Grass Fattening of Cattle, What Farmers Should Do With Their Wastes, Dealing With the Public — Xmas Trees & Raspberries PYO, Rural Recycling, Panel Discussion of Crop Rotations, Whole Grains — What About Them?, Lost-cost Farming & Feeding of Hogs, Manure & Compost Management, Designing a Diverse Farmscape and Growing & Marketing Herbs. Informal discussions will conclude the day.

Invite your neighbor. Bring your spouse. Come have a great time.

Local dealers honored by regional seed company

Golden Sun Feeds, Inc. has just completed a series of Dealer Recognition Meetings where selected dealers received plaques noting their achievements in sales and service.

Golden Sun Dealers from Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, South

Dakota and Missouri attended the meetings Jan. 22-23 in Sioux Falls.

Farmers Feed and Seed of Wayne was honored for feed sales achievements at the recognition meeting. Persons attending were Skip and Bea Kinslow and Bob and Joan Schmoldt.

Farm Bureau offering waivers for seminars

The Wayne County Farm Bureau announces the availability of two and possibly three registration waivers valued at $85 each for the upcoming 1994 Citizenship/Safety Seminars to be held March 20-22 at the Nebraska Youth Leadership Development Center at Aurora.

The program includes visits to the Nebraska Unicameral as well as the University of Nebraska Food Processing and Animal Science Buildings. Any high school junior or sophomore interested in attending and residing in Wayne County is eligible for the registration waivers.

For further information and/or application materials, contact Michael Rethwisch, RR 1, Box 179, Wayne, 375-4924. Applications must be received by Feb. 17 to be eligible for tuition waiver consideration.

NOTICE OF HEARING
A hearing will be held at 4:00 p.m., on March 21, 1994, in the City Council Chambers, 3rd Floor of the Wayne City Offices, 306 Pearl Street, Wayne, Nebraska, to determine whether all or part of the water appropriation A-16429 should be cancelled because of nonuse for more than three consecutive years.

Water appropriation A-16429 is a water right with a priority date of July 12, 1985, to divert water from Deep Creek at a point in the NE 1/4 SW 1/4 of Section 10, Township 26 North, Range 3 East of the 6th P.M. for irrigation of the following described lands:
Township 26 North, Range 3 East
Wayne County, Nebraska
Section 10: N1/2SW1/4 41.0
NW1/4SE1/4 40.0
SW1/4SE1/4 39.0
TOTAL 120.0

Department records indicate that part of the land approved for irrigation under A-16429 has not been irrigated for more than three consecutive years.
The hearing will be held as provided by §§ 46-229 to 46-229.5, R.R.S., 1943, as amended. If no one appears at the hearing, the unused part of the water appropriation may be cancelled.

Individuals with disabilities may request auxiliary aids and service necessary for participation by contacting the Department of Water Resources, P.O. Box 94676, Lincoln, Nebraska 68509-4676, telephone No. (402) 471-2363, by February 28, 1994.

February 1, 1994
The Wayne County Board of Commissioners met in regular session at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, February 1, 1994, in the Courthouse meeting room.
Roll call was answered by Chairman Beiermann, Members Nissen and Pospishil, and Clerk Finn.
Advance notice of this meeting was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, on January 25, 1994.
The agenda was amended to delete the special purchase of road maintenance equipment. The minutes of the January 18, 1994, meeting were examined and approved.
Bryan Reinhardt, Nebraska School Bus Inc., requested coordination of county maintainer snow removal routes in establishing a snow emergency bus route to be used when school starts late. Various problems incurred by the county were discussed. Reinhardt stated he was not asking the county to change their routes, rather just to know where the maintainers would be. The goal is to have a snow emergency bus route established for next fall.
Merlin Beiermann was appointed as the Wayne County Commissioner representative to the Enhanced 911 Advisory Committee for the City of Wayne on motion by Nissen, seconded by Pospishil. Roll call vote: Nissen-Aye, Pospishil-Aye, Beiermann-Aye, No Nays.
Motion by Nissen, seconded by Pospishil, to recess for a public hearing at 10:00 a.m. Roll call vote: Nissen-Aye, Pospishil-Aye, Beiermann-Aye, No Nays.
The Commissioner's meeting reconvened at 10:31 a.m.
Highway Superintendent Saunders expressed his concerns on LB976 creating a municipal infrastructure fund. It is not clear where the state money will come from, however, due to the aging and deteriorating infrastructure of roads and bridges, Saunders was directed to send a letter to NACO with the opinion that if the bill is considered at all then counties should be included.
County Attorney Pieper, Assessor Reeg and Clerk Finn participated in the discussion amending the personnel policy to clarify reimbursement of continuing education expenses. A proposed amendment will be circulated and voted on at the February 15 meeting.
A compensatory time plan for road maintenance employees was discussed. Pieper was directed to draw up a rough draft that could be reviewed by the Commissioners and respective employees.
Saunders reviewed the One and Six Year Road Improvement Plan submitted in draft form. Recommendations made by the board will be incorporated prior to the public hearing scheduled for Tuesday, February 15, 1994, at 9:30 a.m. in the courthouse meeting room.
The following officers' fee reports were examined and approved: Joann Ostrander, Clerk of District Court, $286.05 (January Fees).

PUBLIC HEARING
Wayne, Nebraska
February 1, 1994
A public hearing was held at 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday February 1, 1994, in the courthouse meeting room, to discuss consolidation of the Hoskins and Garfield precincts for election purposes.
Roll call was answered by Chairman Beiermann, Members Nissen and Pospishil, and Clerk Finn. No members of the public were in attendance.
Advance notice was published in the Wayne Herald, a legal newspaper, and aired on KTCH radio, on January 31, and February 1, 1994, mailed to poll workers in Garfield and Hoskins precincts, and mailed to Wayne County Republican and Democratic Chairmen.
Oral and written testimony received prior to the hearing was reviewed.
Motion by Nissen, seconded by Pospishil, to adopt the following resolution:
No. 94-7: WHEREAS, the Americans with Disabilities Act mandates that all polling places are to be accessible to the physically handicapped, and
WHEREAS, there are no available sites that meet accessibility requirements located within Garfield precinct; and
WHEREAS, the polling site used by Hoskins precinct meets accessibility requirements;
NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the precincts of Garfield and Hoskins be consolidated for voting purposes only.
Roll call vote: Nissen-Aye, Pospishil-Aye, Beiermann-Aye, No Nays.
Motion by Pospishil, seconded by Nissen, to adjourn the hearing and reconvene the Commissioner's meeting at 10:30 a.m. Roll call vote: Pospishil-Aye, Nissen-Aye, Beiermann-Aye, No Nays.

Norfolk physician to seek regent post

Getting the University of Nebraska to do more to keep the state's best young people to stay within its borders is one of the goals of Dr. Keith Vrbicky, Norfolk, as a candidate for the university's Board of Regents.

Vrbicky is the first to announce as a candidate to represent Burt, Cedar, Colfax, Cuming, Dakota, Dixon, Dodge, Madison, Platte, Stanton, Thurston, Washington and Wayne Counties on the university's governing body.

Margaret Robinson, Norfolk, who is completing her second term as the regent representing the area, has announced that she will not be a candidate for re-election.

"One of Nebraska's leading exports is an undesirable one: its best and brightest young women and men," Vrbicky said. There are two ways, he said, that the university can help change that situation. The university should do a better job of recruiting the state's top high school graduates, according to Vrbicky.

The university must also do more to help in Nebraska's economic development so that there will be attractive jobs in the state for university graduates, Vrbicky declared.

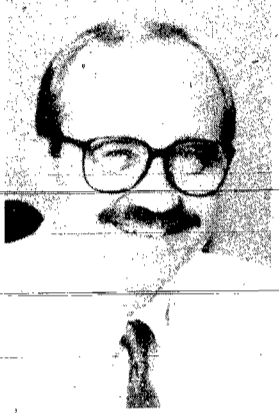

Vrbicky, a native of Columbus, grew up in Clarkson. He received both his undergraduate and medical degrees from Creighton University, Omaha, where he took his residency in obstetrics and gynecology and taught for two years.

Vrbicky serves on the advisory board of the Creighton School of Medicine and participates in the program of the University of Nebraska Medical Center to encourage medical and physician assistant students to practice after graduation in rural Nebraska. He is also a member of the Nebraska Medical Association's ad hoc committee for young physicians.

Vrbicky has practiced in Norfolk since 1985 and travels to other nearby communities to work with family physicians in those towns.

He has been a director of the Norfolk Area Chamber of Commerce and chief of staff of Lutheran Community Hospital and is currently on the boards of Norfolk Catholic High School and Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital Foundation.

Vrbicky and his wife, the former Karyn Miller, a native of Battle Creek, have five children.

that each farmer selected for the survey represents many other farmers in similar circumstances. Once a name has been selected, no one else can take that farmer's place.

The make the survey interviews as convenient as possible for participating farmers, Gosch will conduct the interviews in the farmer's home. Most farmers selected for an interview have already been notified by mail, and Gosch will try to set up a convenient time.

Responses to survey questionnaires are confidential, Gosch said.

After the summary data are fed into computers, all questionnaires will be destroyed so that no one can trace responses back to an individual farmer or farm operation. Results will be analyzed by USDA, which will report its findings to Congress, farmers and the public. Everyone participating in the survey will automatically receive a summary of the results on a state, regional or national level.

Also, a unique service available to survey participants is an individual farm analysis report that compares the respondent's operation with state averages from farms of similar size and type.

Honors for new cleaners

Owners of K & G Cleaners in Wayne were honored with a presentation by the Wayne Ambassadors and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce. Karen and George Holm are the owners of the new business, shown making the presentation are Ambassadors President Bill Dickey and Chamber President Chris King.

Defensive driving class offered Student accepted

The Safety Council of Nebraska will be conducting a Defensive Driving Class on Feb. 19 at Norfolk Police Department, 202 N. 7th, from 8 am to 5 pm.

This class is approved to grant a 2-point credit on the drivers' license of a person in danger of losing his/her driving privilege.

Interested persons should contact Sgt. Richard Holter at (402)644-8700.

The Safety Council of Nebraska, Inc., a chapter of the National Safety Council, is a non-profit, non-governmental organization promoting safety and health throughout Nebraska.

Terry Rutenbeck, who will be a 1994 graduate of Wayne High School has been accepted for admission at Buena Vista College. The son of Chuck and Kathy Rutenbeck of Wayne, Rutenbeck plans to major in teacher education. He has also indicated an interest in participating in wrestling and weightlifting at the college level. Rutenbeck will begin his freshman year of college this fall.

Sunset through the corn cribs

The western sun dipped below the clouds long enough Sunday to present a sparkling winter sunset captured in this photograph taken southwest of Wayne. With many weeks of livestock feeding left before spring arrives, the sight of empty cribs might be distressing to those who don't remember that most grain and feed supplies are stored in different fashions these days.

FOUNDATION MEETS

Several members of the Winside Scholarship Foundation met Jan. 31 for the Foundation's annual meeting. Randall Bargstadt, current president, conducted the business meeting. Carol Jorgensen gave the treasurer's report and Dianne Jaeger gave the secretary's report.

Members discussed amending the Foundation's constitution regarding the date of the annual meeting and the number of meetings per year. Because of a lack in attendance. This and all other business discussed will be discussed at the meeting, scheduled for March 21 in the Winside Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m.

CPR COURSE

Winside firemen are organizing an evening CPR (cardio pulmonary resuscitation) course for March or

April. There is room for several more students. The course will run two nights and will teach resuscitation of both adults and infants as well as choking techniques. If you are interested in this class, contact either Don Skokan at 286-4112 or VerNeal Marotz at 286-4227 as soon as possible.

CUB SCOUTS

Chris Hansen was selected as the new denner at the Feb. 1 Wolf/Bear Cub Scout meeting. Chris took attendance, dues and led in the pledge and promise. He also served the treats.

The boys worked on communications by learning some Indian sign language. Lori Hansen then gave them a lesson on signing for the hearing and speech impaired.

The next meeting will be Feb. 15 after school. Collin Prince will serve treats.

POST PROM

Parents on the Winside Post Prom soliciting committee will be contacting area businesses and individuals in the near future for donations to this year's May 7 post prom party.

An organizational meeting was held Jan. 28 with all parents of the juniors and seniors. Committees were set up with Dan and Terry Bowers and Jon and Peg Behmer selected as co-chairmen. This year's chairmen are Joe and Janice Mundil and Kenny and Darci Frahm. Any-one wanting to make an individual donation may contact any of the above.

SENIOR CITIZENS

There was a good turn out for the Senior Citizens Card Party even though it was a cold evening. Prize winners were Darrell Novak, Kenneth Anderson, Carol Jackson, and Twila Ogle. Bill and Pearl Snyder hosted the evening. Hosts are needed for the February card party to be held on Feb. 10. The ladies have been playing cards each Wednesday. Anyone can come and join them, they always have a lot of fun. Of course the men and ladies also play whenever they can get four or more together.

It was decided at the council meeting that plans should be made for a cleaning day each month. This day will be tried on the third Tuesday right after dinner. It will include cleaning shelves, frig, bathrooms, kitchen areas and whatever else needs done. It won't take long if enough people volunteer.

Coffee and Rolls will be served on Feb. 13 from 8 am to 12:30 pm in honor of Valentines Day. Volunteers are needed to work and make rolls.

If the School is closed due to bad weather, the Nutrition Site will not serve meals and no Meals-On-Wheels will be delivered. If someone can get to the Center, the Coffee Shop will be open.

SOUP LABELS

The sixth grade is in the lead collecting Campbell's soup labels with 1,208. The fourth grade is not far behind with 968 and Kindergarten has 872. Second grade has brought in 381; first grade, 375; fifth grade, 371; third grade, 225; and eighth grade, 32.

March 1 is the mail-in-date deadline for this year. Campbell

Soup Labels are used to help purchase School Equipment.

Bette Diediker is recuperating nicely at home in Dixon after having surgery done on her knee at St. Lukes Hospital in Sioux City.

Shari Jones Hinzman is hospitalized at Marion Health Center in Sioux City. The Allen-Waterbury Rescue unit was called to Shari's home (Virgil Moseman Farm Place) on Thursday evening, after Shari had suffered a jolt to her neck while on a tractor pushing snow. Shari developed a terrible headache and called her parents to come to her home. After Rescue Personal had transported her to the hospital, tests were taken and an aneurism was discovered on the left side of Shari's head. Doctors operated and at this time Shari is recuperating as well as can be expected in the Intensive Care Unit at Marion Health Center.
