

Jobs are cut in Waldbaum shift of headquarters

Shifting of headquarters operations for the M.G. Waldbaum Company from Wakefield to Minneapolis will affect about 40 administrative jobs at the Wakefield plant the company announced this week.

At the same time the firm announced plans to invest more than $12 million to expand and upgrade operations in Northeast Nebraska.

The personnel changes will be effective by July 1.

For the past year, Waldbaum's president, William L. Goucher, and several senior managers and staff have been headquartered in Minneapolis, where Michael Foods, Inc., the firm's parent company, also is based. New functions to be transferred to Minneapolis include finance and accounting, information systems, human resources and industrial sales.

GOUCHER SAID the consolidation will have little if any impact on the egg production and processing units located in Wakefield since the change is limited to staff positions.

The headquarters positions removed from Wakefield will be replaced by approximately 15 positions dedicated to support the operations in and around Wakefield. Most other affected employees are being offered an opportunity to move to Minneapolis, the company said.

Employees not offered new positions in Wakefield or Minneapolis, or who are unable to relocate, will receive severance packages that include assistance in finding new jobs, Goucher said.

"THE STRATEGIC benefits of having all of our headquarters people in one place were just too compelling to ignore," said Goucher. "There also are some clear benefits from being able to work closely with our parent company headquarters staff and with other Michael Foods companies that are based in the Twin Cities.

"We have a strong commitment to Northeast Nebraska that is exemplified by our plans to invest more than $12 million this year to expand and improve our facilities in the area," Goucher said. "We expect that this capital investment will lead to additional employment in the area."

THE WAKEFIELD processing plant has over 300 employees and the company's egg production facilities employ another 600 employees near Wakefield, Plainview and Bloomfield. Waldbaum also has processing and

The spoils of victory

Wayne boys basketball head coach Rocky Ruhl made a deal with his squad before the district tournament that if the Blue Devils win the district title and qualify for state, that he and assistant coaches Dave Hix and Duane Blomenkamp would have their hair cut off by the team. Wednesday after school was collection time for the basketball team and over 100 students attended to watch the coaches get trimmed by Jason Carr. The Blue Devils qualified for state with a 53-51 win over Columbus Scotus, Tuesday in Norfolk. A chartered bus will be going to the game and those interested may ride for just $15.50 each. The cost gets you a game ticket and bus fare to and from Lincoln next Thursday. The bus will leave around 5 p.m. from the high school parking lot and return following the game. To sign-up go to Stadium Sporting Goods. Only 12 seats remain at press time.

Another option: Home schooling

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

Amid the challenges for parents of school-age children is the growing concern about the quality of education available through the public school system. In addition to public and private schools, another option is available to parents — that of teaching their children at home.

While the numbers of home schooled children is relatively small in Wayne County, it is an option that is gaining nationwide attention. Last week, Congress unsuccessfully attempted to pass Resolution HR 6 which would have required all home schooling teachers to be certified.

Flight 232

Students hear stories on disaster reports

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Newsmen who covered the tragic crash of United Flight 232 in Sioux City July 19, 1989 offered advice and insights into news coverage of major disasters to Wayne State College communications students during a seminar Thursday.

The tragedy galvanized the nation when DC-10 pilot Al Haynes attempted to land his badly damaged airplane at the Sioux City airport. The tumbling, burning crash landing was captured on videotape by television reporter Dave Boxum.

Because of the heroic act of the pilot and the tremendously quick response of emergency crews in Sioux City, 184 of the nearly 300 people on the plane survived the accident.

CAL OLSON, retired editor of the Sioux City Journal, told students about the role of the media in telling the important story and the inside story in the difficulties of gathering the information the day of and days following the crash.

The newsmen discussed ethics of news decisions and the role of newspaper becoming a part of the huge story.

The difficulty of gathering information in the heat of the moment was discussed from both the standpoint of newsgatherers and hospital and emergency crews public relations personnel. Dave Smetter, who was the news director of KTVI television at the time of the crash, has since become director of marketing and public relations for Marion Health Center in Sioux City. He told students of the difficulty of balancing the privacy rights of patients and victim's families with the desire of newsgatherers to get immediate information and eyewitness accounts.

ETHICS OF the news process were also discussed. The types of images which could be tastefully presented to readers and viewers and how those views were obtained were also discussed. The psychological impact of the tragedy affected the victims, the volunteers and emergency personnel who responded to the disaster and also to the news people who covered it, the newsmen said.

Boxum said news workers were not immune to the nightmares from seeing the human carnage resulting from the jumbo jet crash.

Boxum and Smetter said they were frustrated that the exclusive footage of the crash was, in effect, pirated by other networks from the satellite when it was transmitted to NBC in New York for the national network. Even the competing television stations in the

Suspect pleads guilty

PIERCE, Neb. (AP) -- A 24-year-old Plainview man has pleaded guilty to murdering a 10-year-old boy, who was stabbed to death in a bathroom park while fishing on a summer afternoon.

Richard Barnes agreed to plead guilty Wednesday to first-degree murder and, in exchange, the state promised not to request the death penalty, Pierce County Attorney Verlyn Luebke said in a written release.

Barnes was accused of luring Mitch Ziemer into a restroom at a city park and repeatedly stabbing him to death. Ziemer's death shocked this northeast town of 1,600, located about 15 miles north of Norfolk.

Barnes was scheduled to stand trial later this month, and had earlier pleaded innocent to the charges.

In addition to murder, Barnes also pleaded guilty to use of a weapon to commit a felony.

He is scheduled to be sentenced on April 11, and remains in the Pierce County Jail without bond.

Ziemer was the son of Dan and Connie Ziemer of rural Pierce. He would have been a fifth grader at Pierce Elementary School this year.

Barnes graduated from Plainview High School in 1988. Plainview is located 15 miles northwest of Pierce.

Senator recalls role of freshman

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Freshman State Sen. Pat Engel said his first few weeks in the statehouse were similar to his first few weeks in Lincoln when he was a freshman at the University many years ago.

"I feel like a freshman in college again," he laughed, explaining that when he went to college he hadn't realized how much work it would take to succeed either.

"At first it was kind of overwhelming," he said. But, like his college days he said he soon learned to make the grade you had to work and study hard. "It's not as easy as I thought," said the senator from South Sioux City who has faced the awkward task of filling the seat of a predecessor who is now serving prison time on theft charges.

ENGEL SAID HE is beginning to feel effective on the important Appropriations Committee and has learned the most in that role.

"You get to talk to and about everybody and every department in state government," he said. The Appropriations Committee decision making process is little different than his experience on other committees including his work as county commissioner. "You're just working with a few more zeros on the numbers," he said.

He said he has been frustrated by the state bureaucracy and sees a lot of overlapping of responsibilities by different departments.

ALSO FRUSTRATING has been the delays in action on certain issues. He said the senate has debated the juvenile crime bill for three weeks as amendment after amendment is considered. He said he would like to settle the issue and get on with other important issues.

Engel designated as his priority bill, LB 902 a measure introduced by Sen. Bill Wichersham of Harrison which would attempt to equalize appraisal and valuation of agricultural and horticultural land by soil types within a district. The measure would establish eight districts in the state with county commissioners appointing representatives to the district board.

HE WAS SCHEDULED to bring the measure to the floor on Thursday. He said he didn't expect the bill to be controversial because it wouldn't cost anything and it is timely since it attempts to address

Wayne-Carroll Jump Rope for Heart is set

Jump Rope for Heart will be held in Rice Gymnasium on Saturday, March 12 from 1 to 4 p.m. Refreshments and prizes will be a part of the fun. This is the Jump Rope for Heart that is held each year by the students at Wayne-Carroll school. The students are required to bring the pledged money the day of the event. This allows the prizes to be here before the end of the school year. For this reason, when you make your pledge for the student be sure to give them the money at that time. Students are reminded to remember the money on Saturday, March 12.

The St. Mary's Jump Rope for Heart was held last week and the 35 students that participated have turned in about $800 so far. These students are to be commended for a job well done, for a very worth while cause. Nearly everyone's life will be touched by some type of cardiovascular disease. Research and improved care has made a big difference in treatment and recovery from cardiovascular problems, however, it still is disease that claims the most lives. Jump Rope for Heart is one of the nationally sponsored event to raise money for education, research and treatment of cardiovascular problems.

The two schools, St. Mary's and Wayne-Carroll Schools, raised about $2,300 in 1993.

The snow has represented a problem for some of the volunteers that are collecting in the residential drive. If you have not been contacted and wish to give you may contact Ginny Otte at the State National Bank. Someone will come to your house for your donation.

TREE CITY U.S.A.

The Allen Town Council has received notification that Allen has been named a Tree City USA for 1993. This is the first time the town has received this national recognition. The Tree City USA honor comes from the National Arbor Day Foundation; a nonprofit education organization dedicated to tree planting and environmental stewardship. Communities entering the nationwide program receive the Tree City USA designation upon recommendation by state foresters, who co-sponsored the program. Communities qualify which meet the following standards: a city tree ordinance, a legal tree governing body, a comprehensive urban forestry program, and observance of Arbor Day.

Tree City USA communities receive a flag with the program's logo and a walnut-mounted plaque. Winners also receive the Tree City USA community signs. Presentation of the Tree City USA flags and other recognition materials will be at the Arbor Day Ceremony in April to which the public is invited.

The Allen Tree Board is currently making plans for making trees available for residents to order and receive for Arbor-Day delivery. All residents are encouraged to continue with the forestry program begun in Allen and order a tree. More information will be available soon. Contact person is Marsha Rastade.

Kids enjoy special bowl

Area special education students do not have an opportunity to participate in Special Olympics activities the way they can in many other communities. Because of this, the Tower School staff organized a bowling tournament for the youngsters similar to a Special Olympics program.

With the assistance of education students at Wayne State College, the special education students were treated to a bowling tournament at Wakefield Bowl. Medals were presented to the winning bowlers and those who assisted them. Every participant got a certificate and a t-shirt.

Rex Hawkins director of the Tower School said the program might be expanded in the future with more bowlers and other events.

He said a problem organizing

Special Olympics, usually held on the weekends has left area special education students without an opportunity to participate in these type of worthwhile activities. He said a school-time program is one way around this.

Girl Scout Week is March 5 to 12

March 12, 1994 marks the 82nd birthday of Girl Scouting in the United States. Girl Scout Week, March 5 to 12, is celebrated annually to commemorate the beginning of the Girl Scout Movement in the United States.

On March 12, 1912, Juliette Gordon Lowe, the founder of the organization, met with 18 girls in Savannah, Ga., and formed the first Girl Scout troop. The first nationwide Girl Scout Week was celebrated in 1919.

Prairie Hills Girl Scout Council is one of five Girl Scout councils in Nebraska and serves nearly 2600 girls in 19 counties in Northeast Nebraska. Today, there are nearly 2.6 million members of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., making it the world's largest organization for girls.

Lutherans to elect a pastor for Bishop

Two Lutheran ministers from Northeast Nebraska are on the list of nominees from which Nebraska ELCA Lutherans will elect a pastor to serve a six-year term as Bishop. Twenty-three names surfaced as possible nominees for that position on Feb. 26. The vote will be in June.

All seven convocations of the Nebraska Synod, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, met Saturday, Feb. 26, and nominated candidates, resulting in the 23-name list. Bishop Richard N. Jessen, who was elected in 1990, is included in that list, and is eligible for re-election. Any rostered ELCA pastor can be nominated. The Rev. David P. Kramer, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Pender and the Rev. Kenneth L. Marquardt, pastor of United Lutheran in Laurel, have been nominated.

"Each pastor nominated must be contacted and agree to be considered for the Bishop's office before the candidate list is official," said Pearl Goldenstein, Synod vice president.

Constitution amendments in 1991 established a nominating process from conference assemblies for bishop's office. Biographical data for the nominees who agree to be considered will be compiled and sent to Assembly voting members at least 30 days before the election. Voters can meet the candidates for bishop during the registration period on the first day of the Assembly.

The 1994 Assembly is June 3 and 4 at Pershing Auditorium in Lincoln. Voting members include:

the elected congregational lay representatives; Synod Council members; all rostered clergy under call; all retired clergy; and active rostered associates in ministry, certified and commissioned lay professionals.

The Nebraska Synod constitution requires that its bishop be elected from an ecclesiastical ballot. The conference assembly nominees, who agree to run, will be listed on the first ballot, and voters may write in additional names.

A 75 percent majority is required for election on the first ballot.

If no one is elected on the first ballot, that ballot becomes the Assembly's "nominating ballot" and voting members would again vote. A 75 percent majority is required for election on the second ballot. In 1990, there were 112 names on the second ballot.

If no one is elected on the second ballot, the seven top vote-getters (plus ties) go to the third ballot. Before the third ballot can be voted, biographical information for each candidate must be distributed to the voting members. A two-thirds majority elects on the third ballot.

If no one is elected on the third ballot, the top three vote-getters (plus ties) go to the fourth ballot. Each candidate will address the Assembly. A 60 percent majority elects on the fourth ballot.

If no one is elected on the fourth ballot, the two top vote-getters (plus ties) go to the fifth ballot. The fifth ballot, and any further ballots, require a simple majority for election.

Wayne edges Columbus Scotus by a hair Blue Devils qualify for State

By Kevin Peterson
Sports Editor

The Wayne boys basketball team proved the third time's the charm, Tuesday as they defeated Columbus Scotus, 53-51 in the B-4 district championship held at Northeast Community College in Norfolk.

The Blue Devils had reached the district title game each of the past three seasons but fell to Schuyler by 10 in 1992 and lost to Cedar Catholic by four last season.

This year, however, it was Wayne's world as the Blue Devils hung on for the two-point victory after leading by five with less than 30 seconds remaining in regulation.

Wayne fans had to wait until the buzzer sounded before celebrating victory because following a missed free throw, Scotus had just under four seconds to either win the game or tie it and send it to overtime. The eight-foot shot attempt at the buzzer drew iron, however, and Wayne had earned a berth in the state tournament for the first time since 1987.

Some might call the Blue Devil victory a hair-raising experience because coaches Rocky Ruhl, Duane Blomenkamp and Dave Hix promised the team they would have their hair cut off if Wayne qualified for state and Wednesday was payday.

Jason Carr did the honors of giving the three coaches a buzz cut—an event witnessed by over 100 students after school. The hair care seminar was held in the gymnasium.

Wayne will take a 19-4 record into the state tournament next Thursday and the third seeded Blue Devils will play sixth seed Omaha Gross, a triple overtime winner over Gretna in their respective district final.

Gross was ranked number one early in the season, ahead of Wahoo, because of its difficult metro schedule.

THE BLUEDEVILS jumped out to a 17-12 lead after the first quarter and held a slim 28-25 lead at the intermission. Scotus cut the gap to two after three quarters of play at 37-35 and the Shamrocks took their first lead midway through the final stanza.

Eventually, Scotus built a five-point lead at 44-39 but Wayne rallied back behind the shooting of Ryan Pick. The junior guard hit two key free throws to bring the Blue Devils with in one at 46-43 and on the ensuing Scotus possession, Pick literally picked the pocket of one of the Scotus guards.

Instead of taking the Scotus player one-on-one to the hoop for a possible lay-up and/or foul, Pick pulled up from 3-point range and drilled his target to tie the game at 46. Pick had hit several 3-pointers in-a-row in warm-ups before the second half started from the exact point where he launched the game-tying bucket at crunch time.

Scotus scored on its next possession for a two-point lead but Kirk Carmichael came back and nailed both ends of a one-and-one to tie the game at 48. Wayne's Matt Blomenkamp then stole the ball from a Scotus guard and sprinted down court for the easy lay-up giving the Blue Devils the lead once again—a lead they would never relinquish.

Wayne eventually built a five-point cushion at 53-48 but the Shamrocks didn't lay down and quit as they connected on a 3-pointer of their own with less than 30 seconds to go.

The Blue Devils could have put the game out of reach but missed four front ends of one-and-one's in the final seconds. "We played a new defense against Scotus and it worked," Ruhl said. "Instead of a zone or a man-to-man we were in a scramble defense with the inside players playing man and the outside players playing zone."

Blomenkamp paced Wayne's attack with 15 points while Joe Lutt poured in 11. Lutt, one of the unsung heroes of the game, broke out of a recent dry spell and supplied Wayne with some fantastic plays including a baseline lay-up from behind the backboard.

In fact, Lutt was 4-4 from the field from two-point range and he nailed a 3-pointer to open the scoring in the third quarter for a perfect 5-5 night of shooting.

Pick finished with 10 points and Kirk Carmichael came off the bench to toss in eight. Wayne out-rebounded Scotus, 24-18 led by Blomenkamp with nine caroms while Mike Fluent had six boards.

Fluent also had three blocked shots and scored four points.

Blomenkamp recorded five steals while Pick had three thefts. Wayne suffered just 11 turnovers compared to nine for Scotus and the Blue Devils were just 7-14 from the free throw line. Scotus finished the season by hitting six of seven from the charity stripe.

The Blue Devils will play Omaha Gross at 9 p.m. in Lincoln's Pershing Auditorium.

Wayne (53), Scotus (51): Wayne—Matt Blomenkamp, 15; Joe Lutt, 11; Ryan Pick, 10; Kirk Carmichael, 8; Robert Bell, 5; Mike Fluent, 4.

WAYNE SENIORS Matt Blomenkamp, Robert Bell and Mike Fluent accept the championship district tournament plaque from director Will Meadows.

IT WAS HAIR today and gone tomorrow for Wayne assistant basketball coach Duane Blomenkamp after Jason Carr finished his hair styling technique.

JOE LUTT drives baseline to score two of his 11 points on a perfect 5-5 shooting night from the field.

CHADRON-Brian and P.J. Penne of Laurel were placemen for the Chadron State College track and field team at the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference Meet held last Saturday in Golden, Colo.

Brian, a sophomore placed in both the long jump and triple jump and in doing so, established career best marks. The elder Penne leaped 23-1 in the long jump for second place and had a mark of 43-2.5 to place fifth in the triple jump. He bettered his previous bests by nine and 11 inches, respectively.

P.J., a freshman placed sixth in the long jump after a 21-9 leap, bettering his best mark by nearly nine inches.

Winside junior wrestlers place

WINSIDE-Some Winside junior wrestling participants competed at the Pender Kidragon Tournament, recently with Justin Koch placing fourth in his fifth grade bracket while Jeremy Jaeger placed second in the his sixth grade bracket. Collin Prince also competed.

Landon Grothe was third in his division and Jeff Jacobsen placed fourth. Rickey Bussey, Trent Suehl and Koynn Reese also competed.

City Rec league nears end

WAYNE-The Wayne men's city rec basketball "B" league is nearing its completion for the year after consolation games were held this week.

In the consolation bracket it was team TWO downing team ONE, 86-78 as Leif Olson poured in 35 to lead the winners. Nich Hochstein tossed in 23 and Lee Stegemann tallied 13. Rod Hunke led team one with 29 while Russ Thede added 12 and Mark Moser, 11.

Team FIVE edged team SEVEN in the second game, 82-79. Bob Keating tickled the twine for 32 points followed by Doctor Lindau with 22. Randy Gamble and Terry Luhr each netted 10. Team seven was led by Chad Metzler with 21 points and Nate Klenke with 19.

The fifth place game will be played Monday and the semifinals will be played Tuesday. Monday's game pits team TWO vs. FIVE while the semis have team FOUR vs. SIX and THREE vs. EIGHT.

Allen girls give top rated team all they can handle despite loss

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Allen Lady Eagles gave top ranked Chambers all they wanted and perhaps more, before bowing out of the Nebraska Girls State Tournament with a 57-44 setback, Thursday at Lincoln Southeast High School.

Lori Koester and Gary Erwin watched as their Eagles appeared unimpressed by the top ranked and undefeated Chambers squad. In fact, with less than a minute to go in the first half the Eagles held a 20-19 lead but then Chambers top scorer Darcy Stracke, stole the ball and hit the lay-up and the ensuing free throw because of a foul which gave Chambers the lead. Stracke then scored off another steal before half for a 24-20 Chambers advantage at the break.

The game was close throughout the third quarter and much of the fourth period before Chambers pulled away for the 13-point win. Allen closes out the season with a 15-7 record while Chambers looks to continue its season at 23-0.

Chambers came into the state tournament having blown out nearly every opponent on the season. The number one ranked squad had won by an average of nearly 30 points a game and they beat Keya Paha by 37 points in the district championship.

The Allen game was the third closest game Chambers had all season. Chambers came in as the third most prolific scoring team in any class this season at nearly 75 points a game but the Eagles held them far below that mark with good, aggressive defense.

Stracke, the go-to player for Chambers is only a sophomore and she transferred to Chambers this season after leading Stuart to the Class D-2 State Championship a year ago as a freshman. Stracke poured in 26 points—2.5 over her season average.

Stracke also surpassed the 1000 point mark for her career and she is still in her sophomore season. She is aiming at the all time state record for career points set by Cindy Hayes of Osceola in 1988 and at the half way point of her high school career, she is on track to do so.

Regardless of the loss, the Eagles have nothing to hang their heads about because they played admirably. Junior post player Tanya Plueger poured in 20 points for Allen after a 9-13 shooting night from the floor. Plueger also hauled down 16 rebounds as the Eagles won the battle of the boards.

Steph Martinson scored 14 points in her final game as an Eagle before fouling out late in the fourth quarter.

Allen (44), Chambers (57): Allen—Tanya Plueger, 20; Steph Martinson, 14; Dawn Diediker, 4; Jamie Mitchell, 4; Mindy Plueger, 2.

STEPH MARTINSON shoots the ball over a Chambers defender during first half action of the Lady Eagles game with D-1's top rated team. Allen lost a 57-44 decision to unbeaten Chambers but the Eagles put forth a valiant effort.

ALLEN'S JAMIE Mitchell battles for a loose ball with two Chambers players during first round state tournament action at Lincoln Southeast, Thursday.

New director named at Centre

Connie Disbrow has been appointed as the new director for the Wayne Care Centre effective March 1.

Disbrow has been a licensed administrator since 1975 and has worked in long term health care management for 21 years. She has spent the last five years as administrator at a skilled nursing facility in Omaha, and prior to that she was at Sargent for six years.

She started her career in long term health care as an activities and social services coordinator and worked towards taking her national boards to become a licensed administrator in 1975.

With the target date of May 1 as the opening of the new facility for Wayne, Disbrow said it is every administrator's dream to be able to open a new facility such as the Wayne Care Centre.

Disbrow said she was excited to be at the Wayne Care Centre. She is impressed with the staff and the quality of care given to the residents.

"There is a good core of care givers and many of the key people and department heads are long term employees," said Disbrow.

The next few weeks are going to be incredibly busy and everyone will be working towards making the move into the new facility.

Disbrow said she hated leaving Omaha, but has found Wayne to be a very friendly helpful community.

The lack of housing has created a problem and the transition has been made more difficult by a broken toe. She is in hopes she can find a place to live shortly as she has until the end of March to vacate her apartment in Omaha.

Great Dane plant honors quality vendors for service

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Firms who supply materials and services to the Great Dane Trailer plant have been honored with presentations of the plant's second annual Valued Vendor Award according to plant manager Terry Hanson.

He said the trailer manufacturing plant cannot produce the highest quality trailer available without the highest quality products and services from their "business partners."

That is why Hanson said it was particularly enjoyable to present three Valued Vendor awards this year to firms that maintain very high standards and are crucial to the growth and success of his business.

Two of the firms cited by the manufacturer this year are small, local businesses.

Leonard Jones Masonry and Construction of Wayne and Schneider Graphics of Wakefield were presented with plaques honoring their contributions to the growth of the firm this week.

Jones, who operates his business with his wife Jean, worked odd hours and over weekends and holidays to complete plant expansion projects on schedule and without hampering plant production schedules said Hanson.

The Jones firm has completed many projects for the plant over the years and has always had the lowest prices, in addition to doing excellent quality work and getting things done on time said plant managers.

Schneider Graphics is a husband and wife team of Ward and Kris Schneider who moved to Wakefield from Altoona, Iowa after the volume of work they were called on to do at the plant increased.

The small firm applies graphic decals to the finished trailers as per customer specifications. Hanson said quality graphic work is crucial because that is the first thing the customers notice when they take delivery of trailers.

He said Schneider Graphics solved a problem for the plant, said Hanson. "Their decaling work is exceptional and helps make our product one of the best on the road today," said Hanson.

The two small firms were selected from over 400 vendors which supply goods and services to the plant. The large vendor award this year was presented to Alumax Aluminum from Yankton, S.D. The trailer manufacturing plant purchased over $11 million worth of high quality aluminum from Alumax, last year.

FORMER NEWS GATHERERS from Sioux City who were on the job in July 1989 and had a hand in covering the worst airline disaster to strike Siouxland when United Airlines Flight 232 crashed at the Sioux City Airport, talked about their experiences with Wayne State College mass communication students Thursday. From left is Dave Smetter, Dave Boxum and Cal Olson.

Disaster

Sioux City market showed the footage on their own news shows with their own credits said the former television reporter.

BOXUM SAID THE story is still being written and reported in Sioux City. This summer a statue will be erected on the river front in Sioux City memorializing the event. He said with the extended coverage of the crash, the investigations of the causes and the seemingly countless follow-ups he said he was soon wishing it would go away.

Each of the panelists praised the volunteer effort of the people in and around Sioux City in responding to the disaster. Olson said he thought the disaster really brought the people together and it has had a lasting positive impact on the city.

Exciting two weeks give 'Olympic Fix'

It's time for our nightly Olympic "fix." It's been an exciting two weeks and a dramatic one. Highlights for me have included the tiny Bosnian team, especially during their flag raising; seeing Dan Jensen finally win a gold, and watching the incredible Bonnie Blair get a fifth one.

I'm no judge of figure skating, but I felt Kerrigan should have had the gold, too. Not to take away from the orphan from Ukraine, but I felt the judges were sympathetic to her. And poor Tonya! I could not believe a broken lace on a $500 pair of skates.

Thanks to the capricious Mother Nature, we could relate to the Norwegians this past week. I had to dig out my long underwear Friday morning, and I haven't worn them for years. I don't mind the snow, it's beautiful; if it would just stay where it falls. But the wind always seems to blow in Nebraska.

I've long been fascinated by the political process. My father was a confirmed Republican, and so is the Big Farmer.

Right after we were married, I remember being at a strategy meeting for Clarence Schroeder's bid for the legislature.

I've done a bit of campaigning for my friend, Doug Bereuter; and I even stumped for a Democrat once, when Bob Enz ran for county attorney.

The Farmer's Wife
By Pat Meierhenry

Like a lot of Americans, I've become disillusioned with this "political process," and with politicians in general. So, when my neighbor Judeen called to schedule a meeting at the Farm House for Alan Jacobsen, I said, "who's Alan Jacobsen?"

Turns out Alan Jacobsen is one of the Republican candidates for governor. And he was at our house for a soup supper this past week. He's young, energetic, conservative, articulate, smart, sincere; in short, too good to be true. After he left, I asked Mike if he thought he was always that nice!

But I'm a sucker for idealism, and I impress easily. So I'm telling you, check this one out.

Now it's back to the closing ceremonies. Lots of impressive idealism. The Norwegians have done themselves proud. Oof-da!

Pheasants Forever plan banquet

The Logan Creek Pheasants Forever chapter annual banquet will be held March 25 at Riley's Convention Center in Wayne. The evening will begin at 6 p.m. Banquet tickets are $10 and members are encouraged to renew their annual Pheasants Forever memberships for $20.

Tickets may be ordered by writing to the Pheasants Forever Chapter at 110 West Second Street, Wayne, NE 68787.

Door prize drawings, auction of art and collectors items and other fund raisers are a traditional part of the banquet.

Funds raised during the banquet are used for habitat improvement in this area. In 1992 and 1993 the chapter planted 2,600 trees and shrubs. Each year approximately 100 acres of food plots are planted in 30 some locations throughout Wayne County.

The food plot effort will be continued this year and the chapter has already ordered 3,000 trees and shrubs for planting this spring. In addition to this, the chapter is also sponsoring an Eagle Scout project which will result in the planting of an additional 300 trees and shrubs for wildlife habitat.

The chapter is also seeking locations of approximately two-acre tracts for new habitat plantings. The land is preferred to be rough and chapter members will plant and provide herbicide for grass and weeds.

Volunteers are also needed to help with the planting and habitat development projects.

Anyone wishing to volunteer land or time for the effort should contact the chapter at the above address.

WSC women lose to UNK

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The Wayne State women's basketball team either ended their season at Kearney, Wednesday with a 65-58 setback to the Lopers or they will earn a berth in the annual NCAA-II Playoffs.

Unfortunately, the 'Cats season rests in the hands of voters who have not even seen WSC play but then again—the football team knows full well what Mike Barry and his squad are going through after having the door slammed in their face by the so-called experts in the Regional Committee last November.

Of course, the Wildcats lost the grip on controlling their own destiny when the Lopers defeated them just four days after WSC literally blasted them by 24 points in Rice Auditorium.

WSC closed out the regular season at 21-6, the second most wins in Wildcat history while Kearney ended its regular season with a 19-8 record, yet the unofficial nod will go to the Lopers for the final spot in the playoffs from the Region—you figure out the logic.

Barry's team shot a dismal 34 percent in Kearney but more importantly, leading scorer Lisa Chamberlain will hold to just two points by the Lopers, her season low.

Still, WSC had a 27-26 lead at the intermission but the host team out-scored the 'Cats, 39-31 in the second half to post the win and an undefeated season at home—the same feat WSC completed, Saturday against the same Kearney team.

Linda Heller and Jodi Otjen led WSC with 13 points each while Lynn Nohr tallied seven. UNK was led by Ginger Keller with 29 points and Angie Osborn with 22.

WSC did win the battle of the boards, 44-37 as Heller hauled down a dozen while Otjen grabbed seven caroms. Heller also dished out four assists in what could be her final game as a Wildcat.

The 'Cats also had 18 turnovers while forcing 23 but the bottom line was free throw shooting and poor field goal shooting. WSC was 6-11 from the foul line and the host team was 18-25.

The official pairings for the NCAA-II Playoffs will be announced Sunday morning.

THE WAYNE STATE men's team got into a track meet with the Lopers basketball team and despite playing very well, Mike Brewen's 'Cats fell to Kearney by a 106-92 margin.

Kearney scorched the nets for 59, first half points and the Lopers hit 60 percent of their shots in the process. UNK had a 13-point cushion at the intermission.

The second half was virtually even between the two rivals with the Lopers edging the 'Cats, 47-46 for the 14-point win. Greg Ryan enjoyed a season-high performance with 16 points including a couple monster dunks while hitting six of seven attempts from the field.

Billy Patterson tossed in 14 and Dan Anderson tallied 13 while Omar Clark was in double figures with 10. WSC was edged on the boards, 54-51 with Terry Mailloux leading the 'Cats with eight caroms followed by Patterson and Clark with seven rebounds each.

Patterson dished out a team high five assists while Kyle White came

A rose once grew where all could see, sheltered beside a garden wall. And, as the days passed swiftly by, it spread its branches, straight and tall... One day, a beam of light shone through a crevice that had opened wide - The rose bent gently toward its warmth then passed beyond to the other side... Now, you who deeply feel its loss, be comforted - the rose blooms there - Its beauty even greater now, nurtured by God's own loving care.

Strategic planning in works for Wayne State College

Wayne State College is attempting to develop strategic initiatives for the next five years (1995-2000), according to Donald J. Mash, president of the institution.

The college has developed a strategic-initiative questionnaire that is being shared with faculty, staff, students and Northeast Nebraska citizens.

The questionnaire seeks opinions about Wayne State's mission, strengths and weaknesses. Furthermore, it asks what factors are necessary for future success, what the college can do to enhance educational experiences for students and how Wayne State can heighten its regional service role.

"Wayne State College has progressed rapidly during the past five years," says Mash. "Now we are taking a serious look at how we are going to continue to enhance our work over the coming five years."

"We are determined to carry out our mission by meeting the educational needs of our students and the regional development needs of Northeast Nebraska. Our plans will enable us to build upon the progress we've made in recent years and to continue moving forward into the twenty-first century."

Mash and others have been visiting the college's academic divisions in recent weeks, seeking input from the college's faculty and administration.

He will also meet with student focus groups and business and community leaders to seek their inputs.

The president says the information will be processed, analyzed and incorporated into a plan of strategic initiatives to guide the college's work.

Persons interested in providing input may request a copy of the strategic-initiative questionnaire from the president's office by calling or writing.

'Normal' winter has returned

Northeast Nebraska is just getting back to normal winters after a string of four or five mild ones in a row, according to Wayne's official weather observer Pat Gross.

February temperatures were on the cold side at an average of 26 for the daily high and 6 degrees for the daily low, but that is in the range of traditional averages for February, he said and even is a couple degrees higher than the averages posted in January this year.

The low for the month was also the low temperature for the year, minus 20 degrees recorded on Feb. 10. The high for the month was a balmy 59 degrees recorded on the 19th.

Eight inches of snowfall were recorded for the month, the greatest amount coming down on the 23rd when five inches blanketed the area. February's totals bring to 28 inches the total of snowfall for the winter to date. Gross pointed out that last year no snow fell after February.

Normal precipitation for the first two months averages .95 inches. This year, the total is 1.08 inches.

Schooling

In the state of Nebraska the number of home schooled children has risen from 939 in 1985 to 3,323 during the 1993-94 school year. This represents a 254 percent increase. These children come from 1,819 families across the state, with Douglas and Lancaster counties having the largest percentages of students.

IN WAYNE county there are nine families who have chosen to teach their children at home. At least 11 students are involved. The number may be slightly higher because it is possible that students who have not been counted in the census are receiving home schooling. Also, the law states that children between the ages of seven and 16 must be accounted for, so those who are at either end of the age limitations may not be counted in this number.

According to Rule 13 which governs home schooling in Nebraska, parents who wish to educate their children at home are required to go through the Division of Education Services and fill out the required forms.

By signing the forms, the parents state that they are keeping their children at home for religious reasons. They exempt themselves from sending their children to an accredited school.

STATISTICS indicate that those students who receive their education at home score as well or better than those who receive a more traditional schooling. According to Linda Stroh, a leading authority on home schooling, youngsters educated at home achieve higher than national averages in standardized measures.

The Oct./Nov. 1993 issue of the National Center for Home Education states "a state-wide home school survey was conducted in Montana and the results revealed that home school families tend to be more intact, to be larger than the general population and had median incomes between $20,000 and $30,000 per year. The mother was the primary teacher 93 percent of the time and the average family spent $400 or less per student per year."

The article continued, "this figure is less than 10 percent of the money spent per student in government schools. The average Iowa test scores were 22 points above the national average. They averaged in the 72nd percentile in reading, language and math."

THOSE WHO are interested in home schooling can get more information from the Nebraska Christian Home Educators' Association in Lincoln.

According to Diane Marburger, who home schools her son, "we feel the reasons to home school include spending more time with and interacting with our children during their formative years, helping our children understand and form their values and beliefs, helping them acquire discipline and valuable character traits, the opportunity to oversee peer contact, the opportunity to tailor their education and help them in areas they may struggle and the opportunity to foster closer family relationships."

"We feel for us home schooling is a valuable option too great to do without. We also believe as parents we have a responsibility to raise our children the way we believe is best for them. I am glad we have the freedom to be able this."

Miss Northeast Nebraska Pageant tickets on sale

Tickets are on sale at the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce and First National Bank in Wayne for the first Miss Northeast Nebraska Scholarship pageant which will be held Saturday, March 19 at Ramsey Theater on the Wayne State College Campus.

Eight confirmed candidates will be vying for the right to represent Northeast Nebraska in the Miss Nebraska Pageant in North Platte this summer. That event is the preliminary to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City.

An entertaining show is being planned as part of the pageant, according to Mardelle Wiseman, director of the local event. Miss Nebraska 1993, Mary Lynn Schnitzler will attend to crown the first Miss Northeast Nebraska, she said. Miss Nebraska will also perform during the pageant.

The event includes judged competition in talent, poise, and swimsuit categories.

The winner and runners up will receive valuable scholarship awards to Wayne State College and other colleges.

Among the candidates who will be competing for the title here are Catherine Lynn Bussey, a senior at Winside High School who plans a career in nursing. She is the daughter of Rick and Cathy Bussey of Hoskins. Her hobbies are dancing and her talent performance will be a jazz dance.

Monica Marie Hollenbeck is a Wayne State College junior majoring in pre-law. She is the daughter of John and Lonita Hollenbeck of O'Neill. Her hobbies include reading, singing, piano playing, exercising, dancing, cooking and biking. Her talent will be a vocal performance.

Amy Adkins is a junior at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. She is majoring in marketing. Her parents are Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel. Her hobbies include classical piano playing, jogging, reading, snow skiing, aerobics and guitar playing.

Tara Lynn Erwin is a senior at Laurel-Concord High School who hopes to enter college to study fashion merchandising. Her hobbies include swimming, singing, dancing and shopping. She plans a vocal performance in the talent competition.

Black and Gold Series continues

The Acting Company will present its new production of Henrik Ibsen's classic drama "A Doll House" at 8 p.m., Wednesday, March 23 in Ramsey Theatre, located in Wayne State College's Fine Arts Building.

The performance will conclude Wayne State's 1993-94 Black and Gold Series.

Ibsen's "A Doll House" created a sensation when it was first produced in 1879. The play shocked audiences of the day by challenging the popular and accepted perception of marriage as an automatic provider of bliss and stability, and the righteous dominance of male authority.

It tells the story of Nora and Torvald Helmer who, after eight years of marriage, find their relationship at a crossroads as a result of attempted blackmail. Nora, shocked by her husband's response, realizes that he thinks of her as a doll, not as a human being. Determined to make a life of her own, she leaves her husband and small children and embarks on a journey of self-discovery.

Ibsen was inspired to write "A Doll House" by the plight of his friend Laura Kieler, upon whom the character of Nora Helmer is based.

The Acting Company has been under the artistic direction of Zelda Fichandler since 1991. She was also the founding director of Arena Stage and held the post of producing director at Arena from its first season in 1950 through the close of its 40th anniversary season.

Fichandler's visionary artistic leadership inspired Arena's creative evolution and, by her history-making example and eloquence, she has become a leading national figure in the performing arts.

Tickets, $5 for adults and $3 for high school age and younger, may be purchased in the Business Office located on the first floor of Wayne State's Hahn Building, or by sending payment to Black & Gold Tickets, c/o Business Office, Hahn Building, Wayne State College, Wayne, NE 68787.

For more ticket information, call 375-7517.

Kiwanians are honored

Seven long-time Wayne Kiwanians were honored Monday for their years of service to the club. As part of the local club's 71st anniversary celebration, President Rusty Parker presented Legion of Honor certificates and pins to the following members:

Bob Carhart and Jim Hummel, members since 1965; George Phelps, 1968; Dean Pierson, 1958; J. Alan Cramer, 1957; Kenneth Olds, 1949; and Willard Wiltse, 1947. In addition to their membership longevity, members of the elite group were recognized for offices held: Phelps, president 1991-

92; Carhart, 1972-73 president; Hummel, 1970-71 president; Wiltse, 1957 president; and Olds, 1951 president and 1957 district lieutenant governor.

"The strength of our club is our membership," Parker said. "Our individual members bring many talents and resources to our club but, most importantly, a willingness to serve and work for the betterment of the community."

"Today we recognize these members who have carried the Kiwanis banner and the attitude to serve for many, many years," Parker said.

Wayne receives a Tree City USA Growth Award

Wayne has been named a Tree City USA by The National Arbor Day Foundation.

It is the third year Wayne has received this national recognition.

Wayne is also the recipient of a Tree City USA Growth Award for demonstrating progress in its community forestry program in the following activity areas:

- in education and public relations for publications and continuing education for tree workers, and
- in partnerships for new project or organization.

The Growth Award was created to recognize environmental improvement and higher levels of tree care in Tree City USA communities.

The Tree City USA program is sponsored by The National Arbor Day Foundation in cooperation with the USDA Forest Service and the National Association of State Foresters.

To become a Tree City USA, a community must meet four standards: a tree board or department, a city tree ordinance, a comprehensive community forestry program and an Arbor Day observance.

"A community's tree-planting program is a living memorial to the citizens' concern for the quality of life. The trees we plant and care for today will increase property values, cool and beautify our cities, fight pollution, conserve energy and give wildlife a home for years to come," John Rosenow, The National Arbor Day Foundation's executive director, said.

"An effective community forestry program is an ongoing process of renewal and improvement—a program of tree planting and care that continues through the years," Rosenow said. "The Tree City USA award is an excellent indication that there is a solid foundation for that process of improvement."
