

Hearing is set on draft plan

The Wayne County Joint Planning Commission will be conducting a public hearing on Thursday, Sept. 1 at 8 p.m. in the Wayne County Court Room. The purpose of the hearing is to receive public input on the draft Comprehensive Plan prior to submittal to the County Commissioners and respective Village Boards.

The Comprehensive Plan presents goals, objectives and action strategies for all activities which affect growth and development in rural Wayne County and the Villages of Carroll, Hoskins and Win-side.

The Plan provides background information as well as recommendations for such components as population and economics, housing, land use, public facilities, the environment and transportation. The plan was drafted to be effective through the year 2004.

"The planning process is an organized way of finding out what a community's or county's needs are and then establishing goals, objectives and action strategies for future development. In planning, the ultimate objective is for effective and efficient change which will make the communities and county a better place to live," said Jeffrey Ray, planning specialist with the consulting firm Hanna/Koelan Associates.

Planning helps shape the drafting and adoption of local zoning and subdivision regulations, he said. These regulations will assist the governing bodies and the Planning Commission in ruling on development proposals which would bring either small or large changes to the county and/or communities.

Zoning regulations are the next step in the process, once the comprehensive plan is adopted by the governing bodies.

The village clerks, Wayne County clerk and the local libraries have copies of the proposed Comprehensive Plan for public review and preparation of written comment.

Wayne students score better in ACT testing

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Wayne High School students last year scored well above both the state and national averages of students who take the college entrance exams sponsored by American College Testing (ACT) in Iowa City.

Wayne students averaged 22.9 compared to a 21.3 average for the state and 20.8 for the nation. Approximately 75 percent of the graduating seniors last year took the test according to Wayne High School Guidance Counselor Terry Munson.

HE SAID MANY schools have only the top students taking the test which would increase their averages, but in Wayne's case the testing is encouraged for all students planning to attend college after graduation.

"That makes our student averages even more significant," he said adding that Wayne teens have traditionally been well above the state and national averages on the test. Last year's scores were slightly above the previous year's test scores, but Munson cautioned against comparing one class with another, suggesting rather that trends are a better indicator of comparing the success of school programs.

He said in the last five years, the scores have been "very, very good". ACT officials have said the best way to prepare for the test, which is given nationally, is for students to take as many courses as they can in the core curriculum.

THE RESULTS INDICATE students in Wayne are taking the course work offered. In a move to give them more schedule opportunities to load up on core curriculum courses, Wayne High School shifted to an eight period day last year, and Munson said that move may result in even higher scores for Wayne students in the future.

ACT calculates a different average for students who have taken four full years of English and three each of math, science and social

WSC becoming 'model' college

"Wayne State College is on the threshold of becoming a model regional public college of national distinction. All of the pieces are in place. The only missing ingredient is modest but steady support from the State of Nebraska," said Wayne State president Dr. Donald J. Mash at the college's opening faculty meeting.

"We've helped ourselves finance our progress while the State wrestles with Medicaid and shrinking federal support of other social and infrastructure programs," added Mash.

"State support will continue to be our most important source of funding, and will improve when the State gains some control of these difficult fiscal issues, and when we fully understand that money spent to support public higher education is not merely additional State spending, but Nebraska's best investment for a bright future. In the meantime, our self-help aggressiveness must continue."

MASH CITED the college's additional revenue from its dramatic growth, and private dollars from its first-ever national fundraising campaign, as the difference-makers in the college's recent progress.

"The model regional public college of the future will remain affordable to ensure access and opportunity will stress strong undergraduate teaching and personalized student support services, and will emphasize active public service programs directed at its service region's schools, communities and citizens," said Mash.

Mash also emphasized the importance of a manageable size as a significant advantage in being able to provide an outstanding undergraduate experience. "All of the pieces are in place at Wayne State," Mash said.

MASH congratulated and praised his faculty and staff for their energy, their cooperation and their willingness to put the college's goals above those of their departments. He summarized the highlights of the growing college's "tremendous progress" over the last five years, and pointed to the things that will ensure continued progress for the remainder of the decade.

Chamber plans Yule promotions

The Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Retail Council in cooperation with Wayne banks, will be sponsoring the popular Santa Cash promotion again this year.

The retailers decided at their meeting Thursday to offer holiday shoppers in Wayne the opportunity once again to make their holiday purchases using interest free loans from local banks.

Shoppers can apply for loans of up to $1,500 and banks will issue Santa Bucks that can be used like cash at most of the Wayne businesses. Many area shoppers participated in the program in the last two years, using their income tax refunds to pay back the interest free loans.

Retailers said the program provides a real benefit for shoppers who often pay high interest rates on their credit card purchases for the holidays. Plans call for making the Santa Cash loans available Oct. 15.

Other plans for the holiday season in Wayne include the return of the Fantasy Forest event Dec. 1 and 2 at the National Guard Armory. A Christmas Parade is being planned to precede the ceremonial first lighting of the Christmas Trees in the Fantasy Forest on Dec. 1.

The Wayne Chamber Agriculture Council will be inviting farm implement owners to decorate their equipment with Christmas lights powered by portable generators and drive the equipment through the parade.

The Chamber will also offer the traditional Holiday Magic promotion in Wayne which allows shoppers to win back the value of their purchases in weekly drawings during the season.

Shoplifter is caught after chase

A shoplifting incident at Pamida Discount Center in Wayne, Tuesday turned into a chase before police captured the suspect.

An unidentified minor entered the store and was later seen by an employee sticking merchandise into his pocket.

Once he was outside the store, Pamida assistant manager Keith Vanderlin went out and attempted to question the suspect at which point the suspect allegedly pulled a pellet gun from under his shirt.

Vanderlin backed off and returned to the store and jumped in the police car that had just pulled up. The suspect, meanwhile, had run away from the premise.

Similar name creates confusion

Mark A. Christensen, Wayne, is the victim of mistaken identity and he is trying to get the word to all his friends and business associates who may have assumed the wrong thing when they read the name Mark B. Christensen, in recent court proceedings.

The two men both live in Wayne, and both are about the same age but they are not related, says Mark A., who is the local sales representative for the Aid Association for Lutherans.

He said several acquaintances have asked him about the circumstance, some kidding and he thinks many might believe the two names are one in the same.

Free concert in Norfolk

A free street concert featuring Dana Scott and J. Scott Gaeta is planned in Norfolk on Friday and Saturday from 11:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. each night. The concert will take place in the city parking lot at Fifth Street and Brasch Avenue and everyone is invited to attend.

The purpose of the concert is to provide an alternative activity for young people on the streets at that time. Victory Road Assembly of God Church has received approval from the Norfolk City Council and Police Chief William Mizner to sponsor the concert which will feature contemporary music by professional musicians Scott and Gaeta.

Currently, teams of men and women from Victory Road Assembly of God are walking the streets of Norfolk all week in an effort to establish relationships and create a positive influence in the lives of young people they find. The concert is another effort in this project.

Eligible farmers can now apply for loans

Eligible family farmers in Dixon and Thurston Counties, who suffered physical and production losses in 1994 because of natural disasters, may now apply for Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) emergency loans. FmHA County Supervisor, Mark Moser, said.

Bun, Cedar, Cuming, Dakota and Wayne Counties also became eligible under existing legislation which provides that family farmers in counties bordering on those which have been designated for disaster assistance, may also qualify for such assistance. Applications for assistance will be accepted by FmHA until April 4.

Farmers in all seven counties have eight months in which to apply for emergency (EM) loans to help cover part of their actual losses.

Family farmers who suffered a qualifying physical and production loss (at least a 30 percent reduction from normal) in a single enterprise from this disaster, who are family size operators, and are unable to get credit elsewhere, may apply for low interest loans to cover up to 80 percent of their actual production losses, or $500,000, whichever is less.

The loans carry a 3.75 percent interest rate, must show repayment and must be adequately secured. Funds may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock or to make payments on current real estate and chattel debts.

Mark Moser asked that those family farmers needing farm credit as a result of sudden thunderstorms and widespread hail, and who think they are eligible for FmHA assistance, make application at the FmHA county office, 709 Providence Road, Wayne, between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Applicants for all USDA programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race, color, sex, creed, status or national origin.

"What are we going to do for an encore?" Mash asked. "We're going to get better at our most important functions — teaching, supporting students and enhancing the campus' physical, cultural and recreational climate. And, we're going to continue our strategic planning to identify the things that will enable us to be more efficient while getting better. We will continue trimming and pruning as we grow to sharpen our focus on those things a regional public college must do well."

The college is anticipating another record freshman class and full dormitories with all classes for the fall beginning on Wednesday.

Governors pass resolution seeking farm aid

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) -- If the Department of Agriculture goes on a budget-trimming rampage as expected, Midwest governors want Congress to redirect the expected $3 billion in savings back to the farm.

The governors wrapped up a three-day farm bill summit Tuesday with a package of resolutions to give USDA and congressional leaders some ideas on how to spend the funds expected to be freed up over the next five years.

Gov. Ben Nelson said the governors don't want the agricultural sector to be victimized by the USDA's efforts to trim its own budget.

The farm bill won't be drafted until next year but Nelson said the idea of the conference is to start working with other Midwest governors to try to protect their interests in the legislation.

"We hope it won't get taken and utilized for something else in the overall budget," Nelson said. "When money is tight and you get an administration looking for dollars, there's always that temptation."

The direction considered for the 1995 farm bill and its economic impact on the Midwest were the main areas of interest for the governors.

Wayne man is promoted

Spec. Douglas L. Herout of Wayne was recently promoted to the rank of Sergeant in the U.S. Army Reserves. He received his promotion with Detachment 1, 1012th Quartermaster Company in Norfolk.

Herout is a full-time student at Wayne State College and is the son of David and Mary Herout of Clarkson.

They searched the area for the suspect and Vanderlin spotted him in different clothes. The suspect was arrested and the gun was later found in the back yard of a resident near the Runza Restaurant where the suspect had apparently ditched it.

Charges are pending review by the Wayne County Attorney's office.

Nelson estimated that the USDA will save more than $3 billion over the next five years mainly from cuts in the bureaucracy and reductions in export enhancements as free trade agreements kick in.

Nelson said that if Congress failed to pass a 1995 farm bill, rural parts of the nation would be hit hard and that generally causes an economic impact on urban centers in the Midwest.

The governors called for:

-A 10-year extension of the Conservation Reserve Program and its secure inclusion in the Congressional Budget Office's budget recommendations.

They proposed that contracts be renewed on the most highly erodible land first and other land be kept out of production after a case-by-case review.

-Redirecting $1 billion in savings and exports enhancements arising from free trade agreements into other market promotions that will help expand world markets and develop new ones.

studies. Known as core curriculum students the averages for these students in Wayne were even more impressive compared with state and national averages than those for the composite group.

Wayne's core students averaged 26.3 on the ACT compared with 22.7 for state core students and 22.0 for national core students.

A guilty verdict carries a maximum sentence of one year in jail and/or a $1000 fine and a minimum sentence of no jail and no fine. The arraignment date for Carnes is set for Thursday, September 1 at 9:30 a.m.

ing from free trade agreements into other market promotions that will help expand world markets and develop new ones.

-Considering a revenue insurance plan that would insure a base farm income and give farmers flexibility to make market- or environment-based decisions.

-A "prudent" approach to raising loan rates to avoid U.S. products being priced out of the world market.

-Increase money for biotechnology research and commit to discover new industrial uses for commodities.

Couple buys Feed Bunk

Bob and Penny Bell of Wayne are the new owners of the Feed Bunk in Wakefield. They took over on Aug. 9 and have made changes in decor and employee uniforms. They plan to make more changes and other improvements in the future.

The Bells have extended hours from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week. They plan to extend their hours further after ballgames as needed. They will also have daily specials.

The Bells have been in the food service business for 14 years. For the last 10 years they have worked for Professional Food Service Management at Wayne State College. He was the director of dining services and she was the director of purchasing. Penny said they decided to go into business because their youngest son had graduated from high school.

The Bells have three children. Mick, 24, lives in St. Paul, Minn.; Lisa, 23, lives in Tekamah; Robert, 18, will attend the University of Nebraska-Lincoln this fall.

Shannon Dunning of Wayne a half-time 10 month contract as the Technology Coordinator. In other staff related action, the board accepted Julie Boshart's resignation as an English instructor and voted to offer a contract to Rodney Sailors of Lyons for the position. They also accepted Linda Stienman's request for horizontal movement on the salary index as she received her master's degree this summer.

Prior to the regular board meeting two budget hearings were held. One to exceed the zero percent, but that the total budget tax request will increase by 7.1%. He went on to say that approximately 3% of the general fund dependence increase is due to the implementation of more technology in the school.

The regular budget hearing followed the zero percent lid hearing and Hartman discussed a few changes that had been made in the budget as a result of budget committee recommendations. Visitors at both hearings were Terry Baker, Marcia Kratke Barb Preston and Bruce Schut.

In other business Supt. Hartman discussed with the board staff members receiving hepatitis immunizations as a precautionary means when applying first aid to cuts, etc. The board, felt that certain groups of staff members should have the option of being immunized.

Hartman also informed the board of the planned pre-school meeting for both certified staff and support staff and the board decided to host a get-acquainted dinner at the school for all staff members.

Elementary teacher assignment were discussed and Mr. Hartman reported that plans are to have two sections for kindergarten, first, second and fourth grade students and one section for third, fifth and sixth grade students. School bus route packets were given to the board members to take home.

Option enrollment request for three students to attend the Wakefield Community Schools were approved. Requests were from Christa Jeffries, a second grade student from Wayne; Matthew Benson and eighth grade students also from Wayne and Tom Sailor, a freshman from Lyons.

Season begins for area teams Thursday, September 1 Area teams set for openers

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

The start of the 1994 fall sports season begins next Thursday for Wayne Herald coverage teams. Football, Volleyball, Cross Country and Girls Golf teams will begin for the Wayne Blue Devils, Laurel Bears, Wakefield Trojans, Allen Eagles and Winside Wildcats.

The Wayne football team will have some new looks calling the shots this season as John Murtaugh returns after a year absence from the Wayne school system to call the defensive plays as defensive coordinator, replacing Don Koenig who resigned that post at the end of last season.

Dan Fehring will help head coach Lonnie Ehrhardt with the offense as well as specializing with the offensive and defensive linemen. "After just one day of practice this season the technique and skill factor was improved from last year's first practice," Ehrhardt said. "We return a lot of experience this year despite the fact that our numbers are down below 50 players."

Ryan Pick is slated to be the starting quarterback with Ryan Junck, Paul Blomkamp and Terry Hamer playing behind the senior signal-caller. Josh Starzl and Dusty Jensen will return to the backfield after starting last year. Cody Strack, Brian Fernau, Josh Furman and Tyler Endicott are also looking to see playing time in the backfield.

Jason Carr headlines the list of returning receivers along with Jason Starzl, Jason Zulkosky, Scott Sievers and Tyler Endicott. The interior linemen looking to lead the way for the offense includes Andy Metz, Jeff Hamer, Nate Salmon, Jeremy Boeckenhauer, Shawn Nolte, Jeremiah Rethwisch and Nick Vanhorn.

Defensively, Wayne will have the services of leading tackler Josh

Starzl back this season along with Dusty Jensen and Jason Carr—the top three tacklers from a year ago.

THE VOLLEBALL team will look to improve on last season's 11-12 record and with every-one off of last year's team eligible for another season of play, things appeared to be in place.

Second year coach Joyce Hoskins, however, said two of last year's starters did not return to the team this year citing personal reasons. At any rate, a solid corp of experienced players did return including seniors Jenny Thompson, Carrie Fink, Amy Post and Angie Hudson and Hoskins is looking for their leadership to lead this year's squad.

"I'm real excited with the number of experienced girls we have coming back," Hoskins said. "They seem to be playing with much more confidence which is something we lacked as a team last year. This should be a huge asset for us."

Hoskins said her team went to the Kearney team camp and fared very well earlier this summer. Katie Lutt returns for her sophomore year after starting as a freshman a year ago and Katy Wilson, Anne Wiseman and Melissa Weber will also compete for starting positions.

Of the 26 girls out for volleyball, 13 are freshmen. Dale Hochstein will return to assist Hoskins and coach the junior varsity team while Phyllis Trenhaile is head coach for the freshman team.

THE CROSS COUNTRY teams at Wayne will be seeking another successful season as the boys run for their sixth consecutive district championship. Eighth-year head coach Rocky Ruhl says despite his team moving to the Class C-1 level this year because of the reclassification, districts will be very tough.

"We're not changing our team goals because of the class we are in," Ruhl said. "We feel we have a chance to compete well every time out and our goal is to eventually put ourselves in position for either a state championship or a top three finish."

Spencer Stednitz will highlight the list of returning letterwinners along with Chris Headley, Ryan Martin and Clint Dyer.

The girls team will lack depth according to Ruhl with just five runners out. Mel Lage, Jessica Ford and Tammy Teach will return for another season and they welcome freshman Sara Kinney and Lisa Walton.

"I think by the end of the season we will have a solid girls team," Ruhl said. "Lack of depth is a factor so we have to make sure we work hard on staying healthy and we'll have a pretty good team."

THE WAYNE GIRLS golf team has a new coach this year in Dave Hix who replaces long-time coach Richard Mettler. Hix welcomed nine girls to this year's Blue Devils golf team including returning state qualifiers Kristine Koppe-rud, Molly Melena and Erica Stoltenberg.

Kari Schindler would have been a junior and returning state qualifier but she moved with her family and senior LeAnn Green, the fifth state qualifier last season, did not go out.

Sophomore Ann Swerczek and juniors Krissy Lubberstedt, Sandy Burbach and Tisha Rothfuss will compete for the final two varsity spots. Senior Amy Ehrhardt and freshman Melissa Ehrhardt round out the 1994 golf team.

"Our team goals are to improve each time out both team wise and individually," Hix said. "We've been working a lot on our short game in and around the green because that's where you score."

Hix said one of the team goals is to break 400 by the end of the season and of course a team goal is to return to the state golf meet which is going to be held at the Norfolk Country Club this year.

THE LAUREL BEARS football team will be in search of yet another state playoff appearance which if successful, would be the third straight for head coach Tom Luxford who enters his seventh year at the helm.

Although the Bears finished last season with a 4-6 record, they earned a state playoff berth because of a strong schedule and that schedule will follow Laurel again this season.

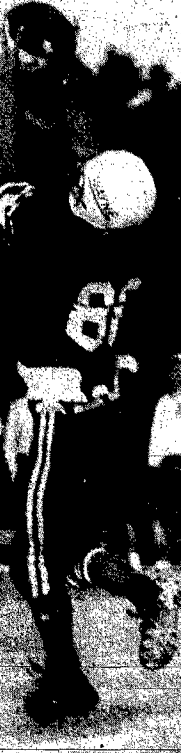

"The NENAC Conference is very competitive," Luxford said. "Week in an week out it's one of the strongest conferences in the state." Seven seniors will look to provide the needed leadership for the Bears including Jared Reinoehl, Jeremy Reinoehl, Cody Carstensen, Dustin Ankeny, Brian Rastede, Phil Marburger and Jim Dickey.

"I think we have a more mature team than we had last year," Luxford said. "We're not going to change much but we'll be able to do some extra things to make us a better football team."

Luxford said his squad did an excellent job of keeping in shape over the summer and the team attended several camps including the WSC Camp in which the Bears went undefeated and didn't allow a single point.

"With the schedule we have this year, it will be a dog fight every week," Luxford said. "Randolph, Bloomfield, Pierce, Crofton, Neligh and Wakefield will all be improved but none may be as much improved as Plainview who returns 16 se-

No. 24-35: BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners of Wayne County, Nebraska, that amendment to Section 4.1(A) of the County Personnel Policy Manual is hereby adopted effective immediately.

Section 4.1 (A), Benefits, Subsection A, is amended to read as follows:

A. Wayne County provides individual or family group health insurance for all permanent fulltime employees who have been employed by the County for 30 continuous days. An employee who previously made the election prior to January 1, 1994, may continue to be reimbursed for his or her individual health insurance plan, not to exceed the amount that the County would pay for his or her coverage under the County health insurance plan. Those employees who have made such an election prior to January 1, 1994, are required to provide proof that the health insurance was in force and premiums had been paid by the employee in order to be eligible for reimbursement by the County for the employer's share of the insurance premiums. An employee may not take salary in lieu of health insurance.

In Loving Memory of Ervin Jerman

Aug. 30 marks one sad and lonely year since you were called away — there wasn't time to thank you for all you meant to me — no time for a last goodbye as I held you in my arms — part of me went with you that night, and in the stillness of each night I reach out for you, to clasp your hand, your happy face to see, to hear your voice and see your smile that meant so much to me. The constant pain of losing you is so difficult to endure — in my heart you hold a special place no one can ever fill. I give my special thanks for the wonderful years we had together.
Your loving wife, Evelyn.

niors and appears to be very strong on paper."

THE LAUREL volleyball team will attempt to dig up another winning season after finishing last season with a 10-6 mark. Head coach Patti Cunningham is set to enter her second year as the mentor for the Bears squad.

"We have four returning letterwinners from last year," Cunningham said. "However, we're still a very young volleyball team with just two seniors on the team," Katie Newton and Dawn Wickert.

The headliner on the Bears team appears to be sophomore hitter Tracy Ankeny who sports an outstanding vertical jump and solid volleyball skills. "Our girls played an awful lot of volleyball over the summer months," Cunningham said. "This will help us as we prepare for the season opener on September first against Randolph."

THERE WILL be a new face pacing the sidelines of Winside's volleyball court this year as Lisa Schroeder takes over the helm from Angie Schroeder who resigned at the end of last basketball season to assume head coaching duties of Northeast Community College's volleyball program in Norfolk.

Schroeder walks into a program well established and successful with four straight state volleyball appearances. "A good tradition is always nice to step into," Schroeder said. "I'm looking forward to the challenge of having another successful year."

Schroeder, a graduate of Midland College in Fremont, spent the last two years as an assistant coach in Waterloo. "I really don't feel any pressure at all about stepping into a program like Winside," Schroeder said. "We're just going to take things one game at a time and see where that leads us."

The Oxford, Nebraska native said she's focused a lot of her early season practices on solid defense.

"We're looking to get good, quality leadership from our seniors in Stacy Bowers, Tammy Thies, Mindy Marotz and Sarah Painter with help from juniors Emily Deck and Wendy Miller," Schroeder said.

RANDY GEIER welcomed 29 players on opening day of practice—the largest number in nearly 15 years at Winside. The Wildcats will be looking to improve on last year's 4-5 record and the Winside mentor is optimistic on what he's seen so far.

"The kids came into fall camp with a great attitude and the work ethic has been very good," Geier said. "We're pleased with the amount of players we have and it definitely helps our depth."

Geier's team will play just eight games, however, this season due to the fact they lost Hartington from the schedule because they went to 11-man football with enrollment increases.

Benji Wittler will return to his starting quarterback position with most of the competition for the spot coming from his brother Robert. Lonnie Grothe returns to the fullback position he held last season and Colby Jensen has been moved from end to I-back. Jeremy Barg will also see considerable playing time at I-back.

The offensive line will be anchored by seniors Jeff Bruggeman and Jayme Shelton while Jaimey Holdorf headlines the list of returning receivers. Wally Johnson and Tim Stubbs are assisting Geier in the coaching department.

THE WAKEFIELD volleyball team lost just three matches last season—all at Winside. Paul Eaton returns to his head coaching position for the Lady Trojans and despite the fact he returns some quality experience off last year's squad, they're still very young.

"We do have a very young team overall," Eaton said. "Unfortunately, we've been slowed in the preseason because of sickness, we can't seem to get everyone healthy and at practice at the same time."

Headlining the list of returnees is senior spiker Mary Torczon. The leadership role will also be put on the shoulders of senior returning starter Stacey Preston. Carly Salmon is also looking to supply some added power in the spiking department as is sophomore Allison Benson who sports outstanding leaping ability. Amy Hattig will also return to the Trojans front line for added spiking punch.

THE WAKEFIELD football team 33 players out for head coach Dennis Wilbur and John Torczon. The Trojans will seek to improve on last year's 2-7.

One of the most athletic players in northeast Nebraska is Cory Brown who leaves his position as signal-caller this year and moves to running back. Justin Dutcher will take Brown's place as the quarterback.

Wakefield did lose a plethora of players from last year's team including the starting center, guard, tackle, tight end and two running backs. The Trojans lost seven starters on defense.

"We have a very young team this year but we do have some quality experience returning," Wilbur said. "We'll be thin in experience in the offensive line area. Even though we were only 2-7 record wise last year, we did lose some very close games."

Wakefield did get some transfer students in this year in freshman Justin Macklin from Osmond, Eric Beacom from Emerson and Tom Snailor from Dakota City.

THE ALLEN volleyball team will have two new coaches pacing the sidelines this year in Rachelle Borg and Michelle Evans. They replace Tracy Kuester and long-time assistant Sandy Chase.

Borg, a Wayne State senior inherits a team that has just two returning letterwinners from a year ago in Abbey Schroeder and Jamie Mitchell. Still, the new coach is optimistic and says her crew is very hard working so far this fall despite the lack of experience.

"The seniors we do have along with some juniors and sophomores are really stepping to the front," Borg said. "I think we'll compete very well with the teams we face."

Borg says her Eagles will run an I-4-2 offense with Andrea McGrath and Debbie Plueger as the setters while Tanya Plueger, Mitchell, Jill Sullivan and Schroeder will supply the hitting power.

THE ALLEN football team has 23 players on the roster but head coach Warren Jensen and long-time assistant Dave Uldrich will have to find a way to replace the vacancies of experienced starters Curtis Oswald, Steve Sullivan, Casey Schroeder, Jay Jackson, Tim Fertig and Jason Moran.

"We lost the major part of our offense and our leading tacklers on defense," Jensen said. "We'll have to improve our defense from last season after giving up an average of 36 points per game."

The defense will be led by the four seniors, Craig Philbrick, Aaron Thompson, Davis Miner and Brian Webb. Josh Snyder will step into the quarterback position with David McCorkindale seeking to start in the I-back slot.

Scott Williams will be one of the starting ends with Brian Webb the other and the line will be filled out by Thompson, Miner and Jason Mitchell.

JUMPSTART PROGRAM

The Winside Public Library along with thousands of libraries around the country, is encouraging parents to give their children a "JumpStart" at the library with a new program directed to parents of first, second, and third graders. The program, sponsored by The Prudential in cooperation with the American Library Assoc. (ALA) is designed to promote library card sign-up and use among children and to give parents fresh, practical information on reading and learning.

"We are always looking for ways to bring community forces - schools, parents, business, and libraries - together on behalf of children," said JoAnn Field, Winside Public Librarian. "JumpStart gives that opportunity. We know that children who become comfortable with reading and libraries early in their education process really do have a "jump start" on success in school and in life."

Libraries initiated the JumpStart process by contacting schools last spring. In September (Library Card Sign-Up Month) schools that have agreed to participate will distribute the JumpStart 10 page, full color newsletter to parents. Winside Elementary Public School will be one of the participating schools. The last page of the newsletter carries a perforated card that plays two roles. One, an official library card in their own name when their parents bring them into the public library. The other side is a sweepstakes entry that parents turn in for a chance to win a college scholarship for their child, Macintosh Performa Computers, World Book Encyclopedia sets or childcraft sets.

When children return to class with their library cards, they get to "sign in" on JumpStart posters and receive JumpStart stickers.

"Kids who read succeed, because almost 75 percent of learning is reading-based," said ALA president Arthur Curley. "We greatly appreciate that The Prudential recognizes the importance of reading we applaud the Winside Public Library and thousands of other libraries around the country who have reached out to schools to make JumpStart happen."

The Winside JumpStart effort reflects the spirit of Goals 2000, the national education goals recently signed by President Clinton. "Community-based partnerships that encourage parental involvement will make the difference in the future of our children," said Susan Roman, executive director of the Association of Library Service to Children. "If we can begin working with parents early, making them part of the process, all of the other education goals start to fall into place. JumpStart provides a wonderful base for that partnership."

Maskenthine Lake to receive help

When Maskenthine Lake was built in the mid-seventies, the designers left room for only a certain amount of sediment. By 1994, that sediment is more than the lake can handle.

"The main concern is that Maskenthine Lake, as with all man-made lakes, was designed for a certain level of sediment loading," said Dave Shelton, NE extension agricultural engineer, "but recreational uses, such as fishing and swimming, were impaired, and the overall area of the lake was reduced."

As a result, fewer people were using the lake, the wildlife was harmed, and the overall area of the lake was reduced.

This led the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District, and the Northeast Research and Extension Center to develop an agreement to help improve the quality of Maskenthine Lake.

"It's a project trying to help reduce the amount of sediment reaching Maskenthine Lake," Shelton said. "One of the things is to provide the land owners, operators, and others with educational materials."

Shelton added that the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resource District would help provide structural help in the water shed and creek areas, while NEREC would educate producers on ways to lessen the sediment problem.

"So the education and demonstration programs are only one aspect of the total project at the lake area," Shelton said.

The project agreement between the two groups will be in effect until October of next year.
