

Pumpkins, bands featured Saturday

Northeastern Nebraskans will find plenty of activities to fill their weekend with Band Day Activities scheduled to take place in Wayne and Pumpkin Days Activities in Wakefield.

Band Day activities will begin with rehearsals at 8 a.m. at Wayne State College. At 10 a.m. the parade will begin at the college and continue to the downtown area. During the parade each of the 17 bands that are scheduled to compete will be judged. Trophies and scholarships will be awarded to the winning bands in each of the five classes.

Following the parade the students will be allowed time for lunch before the Wayne State football game. Just prior to the game, each of the schools and the director of each band will be introduced. At half time of the game, all of the nearly 850 musicians will perform several musical selections. Bands competing in this year's competition are from various locations throughout Northeast Nebraska.

The eighth annual Pumpkin Days celebration will also be taking place in Wakefield on Friday and Saturday.

A three-man golf scramble will be held at the Logan Valley Golf Course on Friday. The event is open to the first 72 entries. There will be pin prizes and cash awards to the winners.

A Kids Parade will take place at 9 a.m. on Saturday, followed by other children's activities such as a pedal tractor pull and games of skill.

Omelets will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Cost for the omelets is $1.

A classic car show will also be held with registration from 9 a.m. to noon and judging from noon to 3 p.m.

The Pumpkin Days bike ride will originate at the school grounds and ride from Wakefield to Ponca State Park and back.

A Jackpot Steer Roping Contest will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the arena along Highway 35 and Jackpot Novice and Open Team Penning will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Day Care Center is at capacity

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Nearing its first full year of operation, the Rainbow World day care center in Wayne has surpassed most of the goals set for it by the board of directors and there are new goals being talked about already.

A new director, Tracy Meadows, has been appointed to take over for Meg Watson, who stepped aside this week to move to Florida, where her husband has taken a new job. Both Tracy and Meg were with the center when it opened last October and they have experienced a year of rapid growth.

THE CENTER is licensed for 60 youngsters and they are running at full capacity already. Projections when it opened were not to reach that stage for many more months or even years, said Mary Keane, one of the founders of the center.

"We're very excited about the situation right now," she said of the prospects of the future. A first anniversary celebration is being planned for next month.

INITIAL GOALS for the non-profit board which applied for a block grant to help fund the new facility on 14th Street were to fulfill two acute needs for the community—additional infant care for the community, and provide services to low

Monarch rest stop

Thousands of monarch butterflies are making their way toward their winter home in Mexico. According to Keith Jarvi, entomologist at the Northeast Nebraska Station at Concord, "the butterflies congregate annually from as far away as Canada. A fair number of them will make it to Mexico where they will live in a small number of forested areas. While the monarchs migrate south annually, there appears to be a higher number around this year, making them more noticeable to butterfly watchers. These fragile insects will travel thousands of miles to Mexico and then when the weather warms up in the spring, they will begin the trip back."

Speaker prescribes doses of laughter

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

One of the key strategies for self improvement is to laugh more, according to the Sr. Mary Christelle Macaluso, the St. Mary College professor and motivational speaker who bills herself as "The Fun Nun."

She had her audience laughing a good deal Monday night during a presentation at Wayne State College's Ramsey Theatre. Her appearance in Wayne was sponsored by the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce Education Council and the Wayne State Student Activities Board.

"TAKE YOUR LAUGH medicine at least 15 times a day," she said. It has been medically proven that smiling lowers blood pressure and being happy is healthier than being depressed, she said. "Depression lowers the immune system," said the medically educated member of the Sisters of Mercy religious order.

Developing a sense of humor doesn't mean going around and telling jokes all the time, she said, it simply means "developing the ability to bring happiness to the life of another human being as well as your own."

Biker lives 67 yr. dream

By Jim Reece
For the Herald

Earl Norman of Wayne fulfilled a lifelong dream again this last summer, as he made his journey across country on his touring bicycle.

He made his first trip last year after he retired at age 67 from Wayne State College, where he had been the engineer for the college radio station for 11 years.

Last year Norman had traveled across the country, starting June 6 and ending on July 31, his 68th birthday. At that time, he traveled by himself, meeting people along the way.

"I enjoyed the solitude by myself, it wasn't lonely. I had a chance to meet a variety of people throughout the trip," he said.

THIS YEAR Norman and three other bicyclists across the country, had answered an ad, found in their Bike Adventure magazine. The woman who placed the ad had been contracted to write a story for the "Bike Tourist." The story would appear in a Mountaineering magazine, about her experiences on the open road.

Soon after answering the ad, Norman had shipped his bike to a packaging center in Newport News, Va. and caught a plane out of Epply airfield in Omaha.

Together the five bicyclists began their journey on May 18 in Yorktown Va., at the site of the Victory Monument where Washington accepted the surrender of the British during the Revolutionary War.

HIS TOURING bike carried on the average about 60 to 70 pounds of equipment and living essentials to make the trip possible. He said he reduced the weight of his gear this year by about 30 pounds.

Wayne High to participate in Band Day

WAYNE — The Wayne High School marching band will be participating in the WSC Band Day activities on Saturday, Sept. 17.

The students are to be at the WSC football field by 8:15 a.m., dressed in their marching uniform. After massed band rehearsal they are to meet in the Sav-Mor parking lot at 9:30 a.m. for the 10 a.m. parade.

The Wayne High School band will be the first band in the parade. The students are then to meet at 12:30 p.m. in their marching uniforms on the south side of the WSC Fine Arts Building for the pre-game parade of bands starting at 12:45 p.m. The WHS band will then perform with the massed bands at halftime.

Again this year, the Wayne High School marching band will not be taking part in the parade competition since they are the home town band.

Tree tour set in Wayne

A walking and short driving tree tour will be held in Wayne from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. on Thursday evening, Sept. 15. The program will start in front of the Wayne County Courthouse at 510 Pearl Street with a walk on the grounds looking at the trees planted last season which Wayne County obtained with the help of a Nebraska Forest Service - Small Business Administration grant.

Following the walk around the courthouse lawn, two different landscapes in Wayne will be visited to look at specimen trees.

Discussion on what trees are most recommended for planting in Wayne and general tree care will be lead by Steve Rasmussen, District and Extension Forester. In addition, Harold Reynolds with the City of Wayne will discuss the tree promotion program the city has made available to citizens and proposed trees for next year's program.

For more details, contact Steve Rasmussen at the UNL-NEREC office, 584-2261, or Rod Patent at the Wayne County Coop Extension Office, 375-3310.

Tracy Meadows, the new director of the Rainbow World Day Care Center in Wayne, and Mary Kranz, who helped found the center, are excited about the acceptance of the facility by the community and the growth potential for the services offered there.

Care

and moderate income families:

"We are meeting those goals," said Mrs. Meadows. Over 51 percent of the youngsters who attend the day care center come from low and moderate income families and the infant room is at capacity at 18 babies, she said. The low and moderate income families receive child care subsidies through the Nebraska Department of Social Services. Mrs. Kranz said she thought the center would be at between 40 and 45 youngsters attending at this point. That number of youngsters was thought to be the break even point, she said.

THE GROWTH HAS required the addition of staff members. Currently the center employs 14, nine of them full-timers. It would consider adding a Saturday and evening shifts if there was sufficient demand, said Mrs. Meadows.

Transportation to and from school is provided for youngsters who are enrolled at the center, said Mrs. Kranz and that has added to the enrollment numbers. The center is open from 5:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The center is still accepting drop-ins but parents are asked to call ahead to make sure there will be space available, said Mrs. Meadows.

SHE AND HER husband, Scott, who works for People's Natural Gas, moved to Wayne from Sioux City in April 1993. They have one son, Spenser, who is 3 months. She was involved in day care work in Sioux City for over 10 years and trained in early childhood development at Western Iowa Technical College.

Mrs. Kranz praised the work of Meg Watson, the center's first director and said the board was fortunate to have an able backup to take her place. Mrs. Meadows has been the assistant director since the center opened.

"The board is really appreciative of all the work Meg has put in," said Mrs. Kranz. "She went above and beyond the call." While she will be missed, Mrs. Kranz said the board is pleased about the ease of transition.

Care Day

Saturday Sept. 10 was designated by the Nebraska Legislature as Child Care Providers Day in the State to show support for the efforts of child care providers, according to Irene Fletcher, Wayne, president of the Nebraska Family Childcare Association.

Sixty-six percent of the children in Nebraska reside in homes where either both parents or an only parent are in the labor force and the child care providers for these children play an important role in their lives, says the legislative resolution which established Child Care Providers Day.

The providers complete their work without a great deal of monetary compensation, personal accolades or public praise and the Legislature "thinks the neighbors, grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins and professional child care providers for caring for Nebraska's young."

Christian men's rally in Omaha

Promise Keepers-Nebraska will be presenting a men's rally in Omaha this fall similar to the Promise Keepers International seminar held annually in Boulder, Colo.

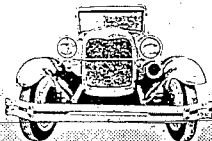

The event will be Friday, Oct. 21 from 6 to 10 p.m. at Aksarben in Omaha.

Promise Keepers is a Christ-centered ministry dedicated to uniting men through vital relationships to become Godly influences in their world," said Bob Zetocha, Wayne, one of the organizers of the Omaha rally.

Speakers for the event will be Tim Burke, former major league pitcher; Dr. Charles Cooper, a pastor; Tom Turi, Omaha, emcee and others from Promise Keepers International.

Music, ministry and materials similar to the popular Promise Keepers National Men's Conferences will be available at the Omaha gathering said Zetocha. Admission to the session will be $7 per person.

Seating will be limited so he encouraged interested men to get their tickets early. For more information you may contact Zetocha at 375-2623.

Coordinating Commission reports accomplishments

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) -- The people involved with Nebraska's colleges and universities are talking to each other more than ever, says a report prepared by the state Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education.

That's a major accomplishment of the postsecondary group in its first two years and nine months of existence, said Chairman Dr. Randolph Ferlic.

Leaders of the University of Nebraska system, state colleges and community college systems, as well as private colleges, have been communicating better and the result is better cooperation at all levels, he said.

Ferlic said colleges have worked to make courses transferable from one institution to another, and to make programs compatible statewide.

"The sectors understand their own place in higher education better than they did before," Ferlic said during a Wednesday preview of the draft report prepared for the Legislature. "That's been our greatest accomplishment."

Nevertheless, Ferlic admitted the going hasn't always been easy as critics have accused the 11-member commission of interfering in the operations of individual institutions.

"Some governing boards felt we might have transgressed upon their powers, but we had statutory authority to do what we did," he said.

A recently passed state law clarifies that the commission should be restricted to issuing guidelines, and to prioritizing rather than approving or disapproving capital improvement or budget items.

Nevertheless, the new bill says "we have to hold the governing board (of an institution) responsible for their actions," Ferlic said.

The commission meets Friday in Omaha and is expected to approve a report to the governor and state lawmakers on its accomplishments.

The report demonstrates the commission has been effective, but also shows an organization that has had growing pains, Ferlic said.

With a staff of 11 people and the lowest budget of any coordinating commission in the country, Nebraska's commission has worked hard to promulgate rules and recommend changes in higher education after getting input from all the sectors involved, he said.

The commission drew up a comprehensive plan for colleges and universities in the state and made recommendations for a number of specific programs and policies.

"We have made real progress in a quiet way and feel frustrated with those who find it necessary to lash out and impugn the integrity of this industrious body," he said.

Ferlic said he expects the commission to put more emphasis on

A better way

By the time the state was done with all the legal wrangling and appeal defenses before the execution of convicted killer Willie Otey it would have been cheaper just to keep him in prison for the rest of his life.

There's a lesson in Otey's execution for future death penalty decisions. On purely practical grounds, the penalty doesn't make sense. It costs too much to implement and it is a proven failure as a deterrent to capital crimes.

Justice would have been served just as well for the family of Jane McManus if they could have been assured that Willie would have been a captive of the state at hard labor for the rest of his life with no chance for parole. And all proceeds from his life's work should have gone to the McManus estate.

But sadly, the practical side was not much in evidence last week in the frenzy of political activism surrounding the execution event.

Politicians wanted the execution to further their careers, blood lust sickos with signs heralding the State Pen's "BarBQ" wanted to satisfy their prurient interests, pro-life groups wanted to use the event to make a political statement about their movement and one of their members chose to burn a United States Flag in the process.

Taking of life should be left for murderers and legally declared warriors. A civilized state should be able to find better ways to deal with punishment of those murderers.

Great performances

Wayne/Wakefield area youngsters look to have brought home more than their share of hardware and accolades from the Nebraska State Fair.

Jennifer Thomsen of Wakefield showed the grand champion beef animal at the fair. Jolene Jager was a top winner in the demonstration contest. The improvisation team from Wayne High won the fair's "improv" contest.

Megan Adkins, Laurel, won a reserve championship in market beef and Josh Behmer, Hoskins brought home hardware for his commercial yearling heifer. There were many others who represented the area well in the state competition.

We're proud of all their performances and the great things their efforts foretell for the future of Northeast Nebraska.

Objects to Lion trash

Dear Editor:
"Remembering how much our family enjoyed Walt Disney movies when our children were growing up, I was really looking forward to seeing the Lion King when it came to Wayne.

Rating this as a "G" movie is very deceptive and the wide popularity of this film and the vast plethora of merchandise promoting it even before the movie was released is one of the saddest commentaries on the degeneration of moral values of American society that can be imagined.

I would suspect that many parents had to deal with some very upset children after viewing this film that very graphically trivializes death, glorifies bad manners, presents New Age theology as reality, alludes favorably to drug cultures, uses vulgar modern slang, disparages women and promotes the idea that the child is right in blaming himself for the parent's death and think the right thing to do is to run away. This movie vividly demonstrates that even great creative talents can be misdirected into a very destructive mode. How I wish parents of today had enough courage to object to this trash.

Decries slick Senate campaign

Dear Editor:
Liberal ("turned conservative") Democratic Senator Bob Kerrey has dipped into his huge political campaign coffers to pay for an expensive early TV ad campaign to convince Nebraskans of all the great things he has been doing for them.

First of all, if he has truly been doing that great, why spend all that money to tell us what we should already know?

Secondly, is it not ironic that our Democratic incumbent Senator is spending big bucks raised from non-Nebraskans to tell Nebraska voters what a great job he has been doing? (The Federal Election Commission reported that most of Kerrey's contributions of $200 or more have come from people outside of Nebraska.)

Watch for many more "big bucks" to be spent convincing you to vote for Kerrey as the latest report shows he has three times the campaign money as his conservative Republican challenger Jan Stoney.

Don't trade your precious vote for a slick ad campaign, use it wisely to send a new conservative Republican face to Washington, Jan Stoney.

Fight federal abortion mandates

By Melvin Paul
Statchouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — Gov. Nelson, a staunch critic of unfunded mandates from the federal government, drew a line in the sand on one recently.

The governor said Nebraska would resist a federal directive to expand Medicaid payments to include abortions for victims of rape and incest.

In doing so, Nelson sided with a somewhat half-hearted opinion of Attorney General Don Stenberg that Nebraska could beat Uncle Sam on this one.

The governor also put at risk $390 million in federal Medicaid funds — 61 percent of the money spent by Nebraska to provide health care for poor and aged Nebraskans.

Federal officials have threatened to cut off such funds for any state that refuses to comply.

So far, the feds haven't had to cut off any funds because the courts have forced states to cave in before they could.

Five states have fought the mandate and all have lost. That's 0-5, the kind of record that gets football coaches reassigned to sweeping the school gym.

But it's apparently not a clear enough signal that Nebraska would lose its own court challenge. So into a potentially expensive legal battle we go.

Nelson assured folks that at the first hint of trouble (like losing all or any part of that precious $390 million) he would move to comply with the mandate.

After all, $390 million is hardly chump change. The state would have to raise its sales tax by 4 to 5 cents — about doubling the current sales tax — to make up that much money.

So, we're fighting but we're not going to fight all that hard.

This has all the signs of another Nelson-Stenberg spat to me. Both are against abortion, but their correspondence to each other over this mandate has included as much political bickering as agreement to fight the feds.

Stenberg's legal opinion said Nebraska should fight and that Congress didn't intend to force states to expand abortion coverage (the state only pays in cases where the mother's life is in danger right now). But the attorney general also approved state rules to comply with the mandate, and gave Nelson the option to sign them into law.

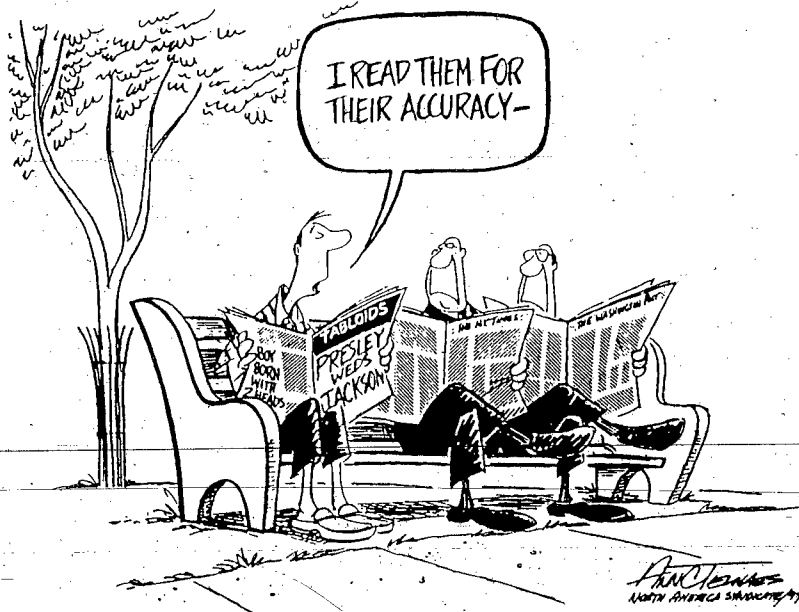

That painted Nelson into a difficult corner. He responded by putting those rules on hold and launching a fight against the mandate. But he also questioned Stenberg's legal opinion, saying he forgot to consider a recent opinion by a U.S. Supreme Court Justice that states must comply with the mandate.

That focuses the blame on Stenberg if Nebraska loses an expensive legal battle.

The ironic thing is that this timid battle against the federal government is over about four or five abortions a year, amounting to about $4,000 in state funds.

Abortion is an emotional, moral issue, no questions about it, but at times like this, you wonder if there aren't more important issues.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

SNAC bill suggests other measures

Bill and Jim got the grill ready while their wives prepared the steaks.

"Noticed any difference in crime since the $30 billion dollar Crime Bill passed?" Jim asked.

Can't say that I have.
"According to the political wags in Washington, this law will clean up America. Extraordinary what politicians can accomplish with a SNAC program!"

What do you mean, SNAC?
"Silly Nonsense About Crime."

If crime is decreasing, I wonder why sales of electronic security systems, stronger locks, Mace sales, hand-held sirens, burglar alarms and The Club have all increased? Guess we don't understand that Congress can end crime by passing a law.

"Recall what Clinton said? This crime bill is going to make every neighborhood in America safer. Just imagine! Every neighborhood! Safer!"

Isn't that a hoot! I wonder why Presidents say such crazy things? You can't legislate morality. No crime bill ever passed has made any American neighborhood safer. Taking assault weapons away won't keep muggers from mugging, rapists from raping, or crooks from crooking.

"You know the FDA insists manufacturers accurately label products as to content. Too bad Presidents don't have to label the content of their ridiculous promises! 'Going to make every neighborhood in America safer' is like putting a label on aspirin that it will cure every ailment. The FDA can sue manufacturers for such fraudulent claims. Maybe they ought to insist on a 'truth in labeling' bill for politicians."

They probably would but there aren't enough lawyers to handle all the claims!

"How about a law curtailing officials from making nonsensical statements, or lying?"

Taking away lying from power makers is like trying to take guns away from bad guys.

"Wouldn't it be ironic if deception came to be the focal point of serious legislation in Congress?"

Congress can't outlaw deception because they would have to deceive some to pass the law.

"Are you going to hold President Clinton to his promise?"

He's made so many and kept so few. You mean the 'safer neighborhood' bit?

"That's his latest."

When I see them remove the airport metal detectors, and those at schools and courthouses; when I see police officer's work cut in half; when reform schools close due to lack of juveniles; when kids quit killing kids, then I'll know the crime bill worked.

"But that will be the same day hell freezes over!"

And the disingenuous politicians ice skate on it!
"Steaks ready?"

Random thoughts at the computer; or, is this thing on?

Farm people know more than most others about the importance of high production and good breeding. Why then is it that the latest ag census report shows a reduction in the average size of farm families?

Inner city single mothers are having babies at record rates and stable rural families are letting their production slide. Buying futures options on the gene pool doesn't look like a good investment to me.

Continuing on a random thought vein with the column this week, I noticed the news out China that says a new insurance company is doing fairly well offering marriage insurance policies. The firm pays premiums and a fat dividend back to couples who stick together.

Split up and you loose the whole enchilada. Seems like adding one more incentive for couples to stay together, even a purely crass one, might be a good idea.

The Wall Street Journal has reported that newsprint companies have announced another round of price increases for this fall, which, if they hold, will mean that the wholesale cost of the paper you are holding will have increased more than 50 percent in the last year.

Environmental and recycling issues have not added immensely to that massive price hike, it has been mostly supply factors and adjustments of manufacturing capacities. Two thirds of the newsprint used in the production of your newspaper comes from Canadian paper mills. One third comes from Texas. One hundred percent of it has recycled pulp content. It has been costly for mills to add the recycled capacity to their operations and that has certainly been a factor in the pricing adjustments but a long cycle of low newsprint prices prior to this has probably had more impact on the current situation than any other.

Incidentally, we use about 300 tons of newsprint a year here at the Northeast Nebraska Media plant. Over 75 percent of that amount is used to print newspapers and publications for other communities and companies that contract with us for printing services.

We are looking for ways to cut costs and increase efficiency rather than simply passing the increased costs on to our customers and readers.

I enjoyed last night's appearance of Sr. Mary Christelle Macaluso, The Fun Nun, in Wayne. A small crowd at Ramsey Theatre appeared to share my view of her speech.

She talked on strategies for self improvement and had her audience doing a lot of silly things before she was through with us. But most of all, she had us smiling and laughing which her medical school training and research indicates is one of the key elements of good health.

Upwards of 150 were on the road to good health when they left the theater last night.

Reminds me of the story about the youngster who found the true secret of happiness at home. He was telling his friend about it.
"You see, mom got this new bathroom scale and each day I turn the knob on the back of it a little. You can't believe how much nicer she's been."

College Fair set Sunday

The Northeast Nebraska College Fair will be in Norfolk on Sunday, Sept. 18 from 1 to 4 p.m. It will be held at the Northeast Community College in Norfolk. There is no admission charge.

Colleges from throughout the region will be represented at the session and information will be available on program offerings, financial aid and other considerations on post secondary education.

Members of the State Ballet of Missouri will perform in Wayne Thursday, Oct. 6 to kick off the 1994-95 season of the Black and Gold cultural series at Wayne State College. The popular culture series annually brings a wide variety of talent to Northeast Nebraska.

Getting healthy

Members of the audience who heard "The Fun Nun" Sr. Mary Christelle Macaluso speak in Wayne Monday night got a good dose of the health medicine she said they should take at least 15 times a day--hearty laughter. She had her audience on their feet and acting silly. Additional story and photo is on Page 1.

EARL NORMAN reached the end of his biking trek across the country here at Anacortes Washington. The biking tour took 70 days and the total mileage exceeded 4500. Norman is already planning for another trip across the country on his bike.

He also mentioned the advantage he had since there wasn't nearly as much rainfall as last year.

The group of bicyclists quickly went from five to Norman and another bicyclist.

"The young lady writing the story had been stopping everywhere talking with people, that was keeping us behind," Norman said. So with the information they received from the bicycle club, the two continued on their journey, riding on the average, 50 to 60 miles a day.

AT NIGHTS they would stay in their tents, or sometimes community hostels. In the hostels accommodations included kitchens, lockers, and laundries. Many hostels have dormitory-style housing, ranging from private family rooms, to rooms shared with others where you could just lay your sleeping bag down on a cot and sleep for the night.

"Some hostels even had sign up sheets for a chore to do that night, to keep the place clean for the next person," Norman said.

He talked about a hostel in Washington State that was so nice it was more of a bed and breakfast. He said he had chicken stir fry, fruits and wine. "In the morning we just donated however much money we wanted to, usually $10 to $15."

NORMAN WAS amazed at all of the things he saw and experienced. He talked a lot about the encounters he had along the way. His encounter with the "Cookie Lady" in Afton, Va. was one of the first. "The Cookie Lady would fill your water bottles and try and help us if she could, in return for a photo of herself and the bicyclist. Her walls were covered with photos of all kinds of bicyclists."

Norman went on to talk about the friendliness of all the people he had met along the way. He received a free slice of pie in Colorado, just for stopping in this particular restaurant and signing one of the employees' scrapbooks.

In Kentucky, he recalled a young man who went all over looking for a particular tool Earl needed to fix his rear tire on his bike when he was having trouble. He also told about an east coast family that let the bicyclists camp out in their front yard for the night and left the house open in case they needed anything.

"I GOT A better feeling about people in general, after seeing so many positive things," Norman said.

He went on to tell me how he set up camp at Knob Creek Farm, where president Abraham Lincoln had lived a few years during his childhood.

"They had running water in the backyard, so we set up camp." A close call in Kansas, involving a combine and trailer, left Norman on the side of the road covered in a curtain of mud.

He rode over the Hoosier Pass in Colorado, which got as high as 11,542 foot. In Eads, Colo., he and companion had to stop riding altogether due to 60 mph winds.

"Luckily the sheriff of Eads had spotted us and picked us up in a van so we were safe and our gear wasn't lost," Norman said.

"WYOMING was beautiful." He talked about snow in Yellowstone on the sixth of July, and a herd of cattle being driven through some small town in Montana.

"I can't remember the name of the town, but there were the cattle running right down Main Street."

In Missoula he was almost charged by an overprotective moose cow. "It looked to be upset, a smaller moose with her was caught in a fence on the side of the road, luckily it got itself untangled and no harm was done," he said.

Norman and his companion separated in Missoula and Earl went north to Glacier National Park in Montana, then up to Waterton, Canada, where he spent three days.

NORMAN THEN ended his trip in Anacortes, Wash. on the 26th of July. This ended his 70 day tour with a total of 4,550 miles he had traveled on his bicycle.

"The interesting thing during my entire trip was out of everyone I saw, I never met anyone my age or older," he said.

Norman has already been thinking about next year and making a third trip.

"I don't have any definite plans yet, but I'm leaning towards Maine and the North Carolina to see one of my sons."

general higher education policy and the statewide needs of Nebraska's students, rather than focusing only on reviewing specific programs, projects and budgets.

He said the recent appointment of David Powers, formerly of the Minnesota Higher Education Coordinating Board, as executive director of the Nebraska commission will help it move into this broader role.

Motion Sickness

Motion sickness is caused by a number of factors such as reading, poor ventilation, fear and anxiety, alcohol or excessive eating during or before travel. Minimizing or eliminating these factors may help to reduce the nausea, dizziness, headache, fatigue and general discomfort associated with motion sickness. Other suggestions include positioning yourself where there is the least motion (such as in the middle of a ship or boat, over the wing in an airplane or in the front seat of a car); sitting up straight with the head facing forward; taking frequent but small amounts of fluids and simple food during extended periods of motion or avoiding reading; getting out of the car or going on deck for a breath of fresh air. If these prophylactic techniques do not work, there are over-the-counter medications (such as Dramamine) which can be taken one hour before exposure. If you have further questions or concerns about a specific medicine, consult your pharmacist.

Lesla McDermott is bride of Mark Norcott

Lesla A. McDermott, Wayne, became the bride of Mark Norcott, Sioux City, during a wedding ceremony August 20 at 11 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wayne.

The bride is the daughter of Evelyn and the late Charles McDermott of Wayne. The groom is the son of Anita and the late Valentine Norcott of Sioux City.

Pew bows with mixed flowers and floral bouquets and greenery decorated the sanctuary for the double-ring ceremony which was officiated by the Rev. Jack Williams.

Music was furnished for the wedding and reception by a string quartet from the Sioux City Symphony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Harold McDermott, the bride chose a white gown of silkened organza with a multilayered bouffant skirt. Venetian lace adorned the v-neckline, sculptured bodice and short sleeves. The slightly dropped Basque waistline topped off the long bouffant skirt.

Her headpiece featured a veil of white illusion designed around a cluster of pink and white rosettes. She carried a hand-tied swag of mixed garden flowers.

Maid of honor was Jennifer Stoltenberg, Gladstone, Mo. She wore a tea-length cotton dress in a lilac and roses print.

Best man was Seth Norcott, Sioux City. The men wore black tuxedos and black ties.

Candle lighters were Tony Drake and Clark Lewis, both of Sioux City.

A reception with catered dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Norcott from the Black Knight was held at the Wayne Country Club following the ceremony. The reception was hosted by Norris and Beth Leamer, Pierce and Mark and Marsha Ladwe, Sioux City.

Following a wedding trip to Omaha, the couple will be making their home in Sioux City.

A graduate of Wayne High School, the new Mrs. Norcott is corporate counsel for Great West Casualty Insurance Co. She holds degrees from the College of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn. and the University of Nebraska College of Law.

The groom is a graduate of Central high school in Sioux City and of the University of South Dakota. He is employed at Milcs Homes.

Should children change schools?

QUESTION: Do you ever favor removing a child from one school to transferring him to another?

Dr. Dobson: Yes, there are times when a change of schools - or even a change of teachers within a school - can be in the child's best interest.

Educators are reluctant to approve these transfers, for obvious reasons, although the possibility should be considered when the situation warrants.

For example, there are occasions when a young student runs into social problems that can be resolved best by giving him a "clean start" someplace else. Furthermore, schools vary tremendously in their difficulty; some are located in higher socioeconomic areas where a majority of the children are much more intelligent than would ordinarily be expected. The mean IQ in schools of this nature may fall between 115-120.

What happens, then to a child with average ability in such a setting? Although he might have competed successfully in an ordinary school, he is in the lower 15 percent at Einstein Elementary.

My point is this: success is not absolute, it is relative. A child does not ask, "How am I doing?" but rather, "How am I doing compared to everyone else?" Little Johnny may grow up thinking he is a dummy when he would have been an intellectual leader in a less competitive setting.

Thus, if a child is floundering in one academic environment for whatever reason, the solution might involve a transfer to a more suitable classroom.

QUESTION: I am an adult who is not coping so well with the problems of self-doubt. I feel ugly and disrespected and unworthy. What encouragement can you offer?

DR. DOBSON: Isn't it about time you made friends with yourself? Aren't there enough headaches in life without beating your skull against the old brick wall or inadequacy, year after year?

If I were to draw a caricature that would symbolize the millions of adults like you with low self-esteem, I would depict a bowed, weary traveler. Over his shoulder, I would place the end of a mile-long chain to which is attached tons of scrap iron, old tires and garbage of all types.

Each piece of junk is inscribed with the details of some humiliation: a failure, an embarrassment, a rejection from the past. He could let go of the chin and free himself from that heavy load which immobilizes and exhausts him, but he is somehow convinced that it must be dragged throughout life. So he plods onward, digging a furrow in the good earth as he goes.

You can free yourself from the weight of the chain if you will but turn it loose. Your inferiority is based on a distortion or reality seen through a child's eyes. The standards by which you have assessed yourself are themselves changing and fickle.

Dr. Maxwell Maltz, the plastic surgeon who authored, "Psycho-Cybernetics," said women came to him in the 1920's requesting that their breasts be reduced in size.

In King Solomon's biblical love song, he asks his bride to overlook his dark skin that had occurred from exposure to the sun. In his day, right meant white. But now bronzed Solomon would be the pride of the beach. False values!

Modern women are ashamed to admit that they carry 10 extra pounds of weight, yet Rembrandt would have loved to paint their plump, round bodies.

Don't you see that your personal worth is not really dependent on the opinions of others and the temporal, fluctuating values they represent? The sooner you can come to accepting the transcending worth of your humanness, the sooner you can come to terms with yourself.

I must agree with the writer who said, "While in the race to save our face, why not conquer inner space?" It's not a bad idea.

Upton-Craig wedding in Wayne

Kathlyn Upton, Winside, and Brian Craig, Norfolk, were united in marriage August 20 during a double ring ceremony at First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

The bride is the daughter of Lynn and Connie Upton of Winside and the groom is the son of Randall and Barbara Craig of Norfolk.

The Rev. Gary Main officiated at the 5 p.m. ceremony.

Shawn Schroeder, Ames, Iowa, best friend of the bride was the maid of honor. The bride's sister, Michele Bailey, Lexington, Neb., was the bridesmaid.

Allan Rosenbaum, Norfolk, best friend of the groom, was the best man. Groomsman was Rick Craig, Norfolk, brother of the groom.

Heidi and Heather Headley, of Wayne served as ushers and candle lighters.

The couple is making their home in Norfolk, Va. where he is stationed with the U.S. Navy. He is a 1994 graduate of Norfolk High School. The bride is a 1992 graduate of Wayne High School.

First Trinity LWML makes plans for upcoming events

First Trinity Lutheran Women's Missionary League of Altona met at the home of Darlene Frevert in Wayne on Sept. 1 at 1:30 p.m. Present at the meeting were nine members, Pastor Bertels and guests Ashley Easley, Lois Siefken, Melvy Meyer and Debby and Grace Rise, all of Wayne.

Pastor Bertels gave the lesson, "Unity in Diversity." The group sang "Lift High the Cross" and prayed a prayer together as part of the lesson. The LWML Pledge was recited as the mitre box offering was taken.

Julie Stuthman, president, presided at the business meeting. The Trail Riders will be eating their noon meal in Altona on Monday, Sept. 19. Plans for the meal were finalized. Any lady in the congregation who wishes to furnish food may check with a Ladies Aid officer.

Discussion was held on replacing the water heater for the church kitchen.

The Nebraska District North LWML yearly retreat will be held in Wayne Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Deadline for registering was Sept. 9, but you may still register as everyone is encouraged to attend. The total registration fee is $20, however, if you do not wish to attend breakfast on Saturday, the fee is $17. Friday evening activities will be at Grace Lutheran Church. All Saturday activities will be held at Riley's Convention Center. The Altona group will furnish afternoon snacks at 2:30 p.m. The Wayne Zone LWML will host the event.

The yearly housecleaning of the school is set for Oct. 3 at 9 a.m. Those who can't clean at that time may clean during the week at their convenience.

LWML Sunday is Oct. 2. The service from International LWML will be used. Altona will share the banner made by St. Paul's, Carroll, for that day.

The meeting closed with the table prayer and the Lord's Prayer. The birthday song was sung for Leona Daum.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 6 at 1:30 p.m. in the school for guest day.

Nebraska teachers honored

Five teachers from throughout Northeast Nebraska were recently honored by being selected as mentors in the Institute for Continued Improvement of K-6 Science and Mathematics Instruction at Wayne State College.

The mentors and their respective schools are Diane Long, Wayne Public; Jill Klaver, Wayne Public; Dan Palik, Elkhorn Valley; Kathy Magwire, Spencer Public; Coralynn Malmborg, Pender-Thurston; Denise Kommes, Stanton; and Carol Waggoner, Norfolk (Lincoln).

The Institute is a group of professional educators working together to improve the instruction of mathematics and science. The mentors have worked with 23 teachers analyzing their instructional techniques at Wayne State this summer. They will continue to work in small groups throughout the school year by observing members of their mentor group teach periodically through the year and sharing information to develop stronger instructional strategies to help students learn.

The mentors will provide an integral role to help teachers in their mentor groups to continue to facilitate the use of instructional strategies that will continue to improve the quality of mathematics and science learning of their students.

Proper Use of Nose Sprays for Allergic Rhinitis

Symptoms of allergic rhinitis (also known as hay fever) commonly include sneezing, runny nose, and red, itchy, and watery eyes. Topical nose sprays, especially those containing steroid medicines, have regained favor as the treatment of choice for this condition. Advantages include fewer side effects than with other delivery systems and delivery of the drug directly to nasal tissue. The American Academy of Family Physicians offers these suggestions when using nose sprays for any condition: •For pump bottle sprays, remove the cap, shake the bottle, and test the pump a few times until a fine mist comes out. •If using a pressurized canister type spray, shake the canister several times and make sure the canister fits its holder snugly. •Tilt your head forward slightly and breath out slowly. Squeeze the pump or press down on the canister as you breathe in slowly. Repeat in the other nostril.

'Cats look to bounce back against Northern State, Saturday WSC football team upset by Morningside

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Dennis Wagner's Wayne State football team was surprised by Morningside College in Sioux City, Saturday with a 33-21 setback, leaving the 'Cats with a disappointing 1-1 start to the season.

WSC led 14-5 at the intermission but Morningside scored three touchdowns in the third quarter and took a 26-21 lead into the final stanza. The host Chiefs added an insurance score midway through the fourth quarter for the final margin of victory.

"We're obviously disappointed in the outcome," Wagner said. "Our players just took the contest too lightly—we weren't mentally ready to play and you can't take anything away from Morningside because they had a good game plan and they executed well and didn't suffer any turnovers."

Following a scoreless first quarter the 'Cats got on the board first when Byron Chamberlain caught a two-yard touchdown pass from Ray Powers early in the second quarter. Morningside scored its first points on a 36-yard field goal by Chris Hogzett but WSC retaliated quickly as Lamart Cooper ran the ensuing kickoff back to the Chiefs 44-yard line and on the next play Powers hit Cooper for a 44-yard scoring strike.

WSC appeared to be in control of the contest at this time with a 14-3 lead but the momentum began shifting towards Morningside when the 'Cats had a punt blocked through the endzone for a safety with under two minutes to go in the first half.

Morningside scored first in the third quarter and converted a two-point attempt to draw with in one point at 14-13. Ray Powers, however, scored from 12 yards out to give WSC a 21-13 lead with nearly seven minutes remaining in the third quarter but that would be the final points for the 'Cats while the Chiefs scored 20 unanswered points.

"I felt our defense played a great ball game in the first half, giving up just five points," Wagner said. "They just wore down some in the second half because our offense went three-and-out on four of the first five possessions in the second half."

Wagner said his defense simply spent too much time on the field. "I think this loss sent a message to our team that we have to be ready

Paul Eaton resigns post

Wakefield High School announced the immediate resignation of head volleyball coach Paul Eaton, Tuesday morning. Eaton cited personal reasons for his stepping down after just two weeks of the season.

His resignation will stand for all sports which he is affiliated with including girls basketball and track. Long-time assistant coach Arnie Cerny has been named interim coach.

Eaton will remain on staff as an elementary and freshman physical education instructor. In his tenure as the Wakefield volleyball coach he compiled an impressive 138-34 record.

The Trojans are currently 1-1 on the season and they are competing in the Winside Tournament, Tuesday night.

to play football every time we step on the field," Wagner said. "Offensively, Ray completed over 50 percent of his passes but he still under threw receivers and he made some wrong checks. The defense has to realize that there may be games where they are on the field more than the offense and they have to prepare for that," Wagner added.

The Wildcats mentor did credit his offensive line for playing a good, consistent game. WSC was out-yarded by Morningside, 408-297. Powers was 18-33 with one interception and a pair of touchdowns and 164 yards while the Chiefs were 8-19 for 86 yards.

Byron Chamberlain caught eight passes for 73 yards and Jerry Garrett caught six for 34. Jason Williams was the leading rusher for WSC with 60 yards on 11 attempts while Lamont Rainey had nine carries for 40 yards.

Lamart Cooper proved to be the biggest play-maker for WSC with two receptions for 40 yards and 153 yards in returning four kickoffs and two punts.

Defensively, Sean Francisco led the 'Cats with 13 tackles while Jason McIntyre had 10. Robert McConico, Dion Johnson and Jon Adkisson had seven tackles each while Jeff Lutt had six tackles including a quarterback sack.

Scott Eisenhauer and Maurice Arrington each finished with five tackles and Rob Stuart, Rafael Gutierrez and Brian Clausen had four each.

WSC is currently in the midst of preparing for Northern State who invades Memorial Field, Saturday for a 1:30 p.m. contest.

WSC spikers second at Bemidji

Wayne State's volleyball team went 3-1 at the Bemidji State Invitational over the weekend to place second behind Moorhead State of Minnesota.

Sharon Vanis watched as her crew won their first three matches with out losing a single game. The Wildcats opened up pool play against Lake Superior State of Michigan and won, 15-2, 15-7, 15-9.

Lora Grant led the servers with two aces on 13 of 13 attempts. Grant was also 17-18 in hitting with nine kills and Tammy Gablenz was 14-16 with nine aces.

Jaime Melton was 55-56 in setting with 29 aces and the defense was led by Melton with eight digs and Laura Pfister with six.

The Wildcats swept Jamestown College of North Dakota in the second match, 15-9, 15-9, 15-7. Pfister was the top server in this match with a 16-16 performance and one ace. Jenifer Svitak was the top hitter at 22-25 with 13 kill-spikes while Carol Sigdestad was 20-24 with 11 kills.

Jaime Melton notched 18 aces on 51 of 52 sets and freshman Kari Pichler was 29-32 in setting with 14 aces. The defense was led by Lora Grant's eight digs while Svitak and Pfister had six each.

The tournament seeding was based on pool play which meant the Wildcats played Jamestown College in the first round and once again it was a sweep, 15-5, 16-14, 15-4.

Annette Fluckey was 15-16 in serving to lead the 'Cats with three aces while Carol Sigdestad was 9-9 in hitting with a dozen ace spikes while Sigdestad was 13-15 with seven aces. Melton was 67-69 in setting with 28 aces.

Defensively, Pfister and Grant were the leaders with six and five digs, respectively.

In the championship game the 'Cats were defeated in five, 15-10, 10-15, 5-15, 15-13, 8-15. "This was a match we felt we shouldn't have lost," Vanis said. "We were up 10-3 in the second game and Moorhead scored 12 straight points to win the game. Then, in the fourth game we fell behind 12-0 and came back and won, 15-13. Volleyball is a momentum sport."

Lora Grant was 15-15 in serving with three aces and Laura Pfister was 16-16 with two aces while Tammy Gablenz was 15-16 with two aces. Grant led the team in hitting with 18 kill-spikes on 30 of 35 attempts. Gablenz was 31-33 with 12 kills and Jenifer Svitak was 18-23 with 10 aces.

Jaime Melton was 111-115 in setting with 42 aces and the 'Cats got a well-balanced defense as Pfi-ter, Grant, Annette Fluckey and Jenifer Svitak had nine digs each.

WSC improved to 6-5 following the tournament and returns home to host Midland College on Tuesday and Hastings College on Wednesday. Each match is slated to be preceded by junior varsity contests.

Hunt safety courses set

The Nebraska Game and Parks sponsored bow safety and hunters safety classes will be offered for adult and youth hunters in the Wayne area.

If you were born on or after Jan. 1, 1977 you will be required to take the safety class before you can hunt.

Wayne gridgers win another one on the road

The Wayne Blue Devils football team is only two weeks into the season and they already have more victories under their belt than they did all of last year.

Lonnie Ehrhardt's squad improved to a perfect 2-0 with a 28-6 thumping of Hooper-Logan View in Hooper last Friday night. Wayne scored a touchdown in all four quarters while the host team scored its lone touchdown in the third period.

"Our team chemistry is really starting to come together," Ehrhardt said after his squad got off to its best start since 1990. "We're pleased to be 2-0 at this point but we know we have a lot of things to improve on."

The Blue Devils opened up the scoring on a 32-yard run from senior running back Dusty Jensen at the 1:24 mark of the opening stanza. Anders Lundsgaard converted the point after.

Just before the first half came to a close Jason Carr caught a three-yard scoring strike from Ryan Pick and with Lundsgaard's point after the Blue Devils had a 14-0 lead at the break.

Logan View broke loose with a 46-yard touchdown run at the 8:20 mark of the third quarter but any momentum the host team felt they were winning back quickly vanished on the ensuing kickoff when Josh Starzl returned it 77 yards for a touchdown. Lundsgaard was again successful on the point after kick for a 21-6 advantage.

Jensen put the game on ice early in the fourth quarter with a three-yard run. The senior captain gained 120 yards on the ground in 17 carries to lead Wayne's rushing attack.

In fact, Wayne rolled up 249 yards on the ground as Starzl finished with 64 yards on 13 carries and Brian Fernau rushed for 33 yards on five attempts.

Pick was 3-5 in passing for 28 yards with Nick Vanhorn, Jason Starzl and Carr each catching one pass. Wayne's defense was simply dominating, holding Logan View to 112 total yards.

Fernau and Jensen were the catalysts for Wayne with 11 and 10 total tackles, respectively. Jason Starzl, Carr and Erik Wiseman each had seven tackles and Scott Sievers recovered a fumble.

"Our defense has really controlled the tempo in each of our first two games," Ehrhardt said. "Josh really took the wind out of Logan View's sails when he returned that kick for a touchdown. Brian Fernau had a tremendous block on that return, taking out two Logan View players with a single block."

Wayne will return home for its home opener, Friday against 0-2 Raymond Central. "They are a big and physical type of football team," Ehrhardt said. "We can't afford to take them lightly."

WAYNE RUNNING BACK Dusty Jensen carries three Hooper-Logan View defenders with him as he crosses the goal in Wayne's 28-6 victory, Friday in Hooper.

Wayne places second

The ninth-rated Wayne volleyball team placed second at the North Bend Invitational, Saturday losing to highly rated Columbus Scotus in the championship.

The Blue Devils defeated North Bend, 15-11, 15-12 in the first match having to come from behind in both games to win. "We got down 6-2 in the first game and 7-1 in the second game before we came back to win," Wayne coach Joyce Hoskins said.

Katie Lütt led the Blue Devils with 10 points and one ace while Angie Hudson scored seven points. Carrie Fink was 68-69 in setting with 23 aces. Jenny Thompson was 18-26 in hitting with nine kill spikes and Lutt was 16-23 with nine kills while Hudson was 16-19 with six aces and Amy Post was 6-6 with two aces.

Thompson led the defense at the net with three blocks while Anne Wiseman had two and Hudson, one. In the championship game with Scotus, Wayne fell, 5-15, 9-15. "Playing a quality top team like Scotus will help our team down the road," Hoskins said. "We played right with them the second game but we need to work harder on blocking and our timing."

Fink and Melissa Weber shared team honors in scoring with four points each while Fink was 42-46 in setting with a dozen aces. Thompson was 12-13 in hitting with five kill spikes while Lutt was 15-16 with no aces. Post was a perfect 8-8 with three aces and Hudson was 7-9 with three ace spikes.

Thompson had four blocks to lead the Blue Devils, while Post had two and Hudson, one. The 5-2 Blue Devils will play their first home match of the season, Thursday against Pierce.

WHILE THE varsity volleyball team was competing in North Bend, Wayne assistant coach Dale Hochstein took the reserves and freshman to the Wisner Junior Varsity Tournament.

"We took everyone not playing at North Bend," Hochstein said. "The format had two pools with each team playing three matches of which each consisted of two games to 11 regardless of win or loss."

The total numbers were added up and Wayne placed second to Madison. The Blue Devils played Madison, Leigh and Beemer. In the tournament bracket, Wayne lost its opener to Wisner, 3-15, 12-15.

"We did not come ready to play in the first match against Madison," Hochstein said. "We only had four sophomores and the rest freshman competing in this reserve tournament."

Hochstein said this was the first chance most of the girls had to ever play in this type of format. "Following our first match we played competitively," Hochstein said. "The confidence in each other continued to grow with each game and the people we were able to sub in came in and made an immediate impact."

Molly Linster and Megan Meyer were the leading scorers on the day with 15 points each.

BRIAN FERNAU rides a Logan View runner to the ground during the Blue Devils win against Logan View. The 2-0 beginning for Wayne is the best since 1990. The Blue Devils will host Raymond Central, Friday.

Wayne harriers run well in Lincoln and at Norfolk Catholic

Rocky Ruhl's cross country teams competed in the Pius Invitational Saturday in Lincoln while the reserves took part in the Norfolk Catholic Invitational, Friday in Norfolk.

Wayne was one of 20 total teams in the Pius event and the Wayne girls ran very well according to the Blue Devils mentor. "There were a lot of runners at this meet," Ruhl said. "They medaled the top 30 placers and we had three in the top 10. There was no team score kept or team trophies given but after adding up the scores, it appears we finished second to Norfolk."

Freshman Sara Kinney placed runner-up to the field with a 16:18 clocking while Jessica Ford finished sixth in 16:52. Melodee Lage placed ninth in 17:03 and Lisa Walton—another freshman—placed 43rd with an 18:38 effort. Tahmy Teach also competed for the varsity and was timed in 22:18.

"I thought both the girls and boys teams ran very well," Ruhl said. "Having three girls place in the top 10 was a great showing for us and with some adjustments in running form and continued practice we should improve."

In the boys competition, Chris Headley was the Blue Devils top runner with a seventh place time of 17:35 while Spencer Stednitz placed 11th in 17:50. David Ensz was 37th in 19:20 and Clint Dyer was 55th in 20:13 while Chris Dyer was 57th in 20:19. Matt Meyer and Cory Erxleben competed as well finishing with times of 20:44 and 21:20, respectively.

Among the teams that competed in this tourney were: Auburn, Beatrice, Columbus Scotus, Conestoga, Fairbury, Grand Island, Northwest, Holdredge, Lincoln Christian, Pius X, Malcolm, Milford, Nebraska City, Norris, Norfolk, Omaha Roncalli, Omaha Skutt, Pawnee City, Syracuse, Wayne and Waverly.

DURING THE Norfolk Catholic meet on Friday the Wayne squad captured first place in the reserve portion of the meet with 12 points while Albion was second with 26 and Wisner-Pilger, third with 40.

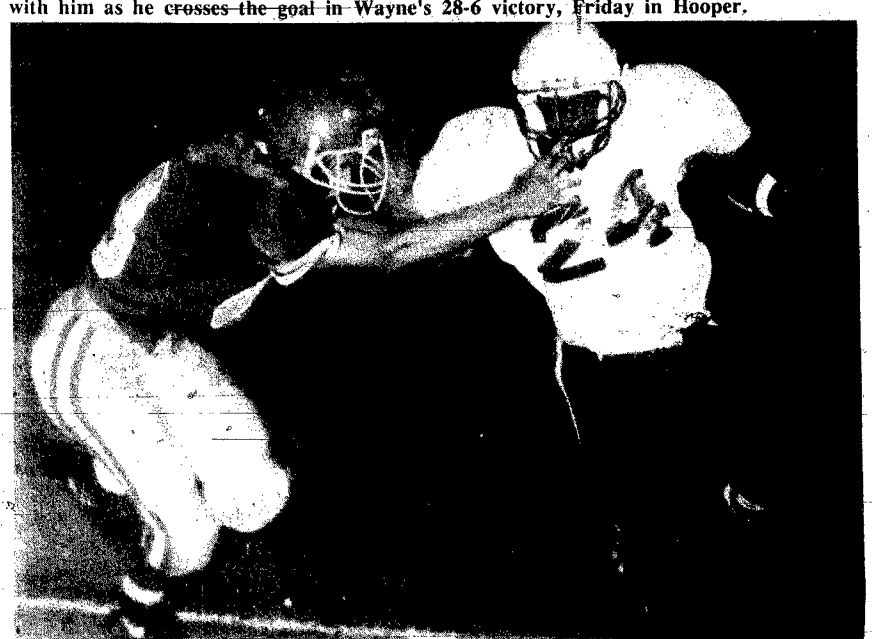

Aaron Kardell won the meet in 21:29 while Brad Maryott placed runner-up in 21:31. Andrew Bayless was sixth in 22:18 and Ryan Sturm was 16th in 24:18.

Winside senior Melinda Mohr placed second in the varsity girls meet with a 16:36 time—a top 20 mark on the all-time course record list. The Blue Devils will compete at the Columbus Scotus Invitational, Friday.

Third-rated Laurel downs Crofton in first home game

LAUREL RECEIVER Jeremy Reinoehl tries to gain extra yards with a Crofton defender all over him during Friday's game in Laurel.

Tom Luxford's third-ranked Laurel Bears football team improved to 2-0 on the season with a 24-6 win over Crofton, Friday in Laurel.

The Bears opened up the scoring on the very first play from scrimmage when junior running back Jeff Wattier took a hand off, broke to the outside and sprinted 80 yards down the left sideline untouched.

Vince Ward converted the point after kick for a quick 7-0 lead. Crofton, however, scored early in the second quarter on a six-yard run but the point after attempt failed.

The Bears clawed right back and scored on a 43-yard pass play from Tyler Erwin to Wattier and the two-point conversion was successful when Erwin connected with Jeremy Reinoehl to give the host team a 15-6 lead.

Late in the second period the Bears scored on a 26-yard field goal by Ward for an 18-6 halftime advantage. The only other scoring in the contest came early in the fourth quarter on a 13-yard pass from Erwin to Jeremy Reinoehl.

"We're off to a good start this season which is a tribute to our kids," Luxford said. "We feel we've played two pretty good teams but we know and recognize the fact we have a very competitive schedule ahead of us in the next several weeks with undefeated Wakefield, Bloomfield and Pierce along with Ponca this week."

Luxford said his interior lineman on both sides of the ball are doing a good job of blocking and carrying out their assignments. "I think the play of the lineman on offense and defense so far this season is a big improvement over last year at this point," Luxford said. "That's due to maturity."

Wattier led the Bears on the ground with 133 yards on 11 carries while Erwin was 12-17 for 196 yards through the air with two touchdowns and one interception.

Jeremy Reinoehl was Erwin's favorite receiver, catching seven balls for 76 yards. Defensively, the Bears were led by Kody Urwiler and Todd Arens as each had 20 total tackles with Urwiler also intercepting a pass.

Cody Carstensen had 13 tackles and an interception and Wattier had nine while Dan Peters had eight tackles and a fumble recovery. Jeremy Reinoehl had eight tackles and Eric Abts had a fumble recovery.

The current Class C-2 ratings have Cambridge ranked first followed by Bloomfield and Laurel.

Wakefield wins second straight

The Wakefield Trojans improved to 2-0 on the young football season, Friday with a 33-14 victory over rival Pender despite trailing at the half, 14-13.

"In the first half we gave them many scoring opportunities by our own miscues," Wakefield coach Dennis Wilbur said. "In the second half, we took scoring opportunities away from them."

The Trojans received the opening kickoff and marched 57 yards in eight plays and scored on a three-yard run by Cory Brown—the first of four scores on the night for the senior I-back who rushed for a career high 228 yards on 29 carries.

The Trojans defense held Pender in its first possession but the host team fumbled the ensuing punt which gave Pender excellent field position at the Trojans 19-yard line. It took two plays before Russ Westerhold ran for a 14-yard score but the extra point was missed which left the Trojans ahead, 7-6.

Wakefield's next possession lasted one play as Justin Dutcher threw an interception which was returned 43 yards by Westerhold. The two-point conversion was successful to give Pender a 14-7 lead.

Late in the first quarter the Trojans scored on a four-yard run by Brown but the Trojans missed the extra point attempt and trailed 14-13 after the first quarter.

There was no scoring in the second and third quarters but Wakefield tallied 20 points in the final period to win going away. Brown dove over from one yard out to put the Trojans ahead for good early in the final stanza and he later scored on a 23-yard run. The final score came on a 10-yard run by Lance Jacobson.

"In the second half we held Pender to nine total yards," Wilbur said. "Our defense dictated our offense." The Trojans rolled up 327 total yards compared to 155 for Pender.

Dutcher was 8-18 in the passing department with one interception and 102 yards. Matt Kucera was his favorite target with five receptions for 67 yards.

Defensively, Wakefield was led by Cory Brown with 15 tackles while Justin Macklin had 13 along with a fumble recovery. Lance Jacobson had nine total tackles with an interception and Ryan Hoffman had eight tackles and a fumble recovery while Tyler Peters had seven tackles and an interception.

Kucera had five tackles with four of them coming behind the line of scrimmage and Tory Nixon had five tackles and a fumble recovery. Wakefield will play at Plainview on Friday.

Northeast teachers honored members of WSC Institute

Twenty-three teachers from throughout Northeast Nebraska were recently honored by being selected as members of the Institute for the Continued Improvement of K-6 Science and Mathematics Instruction at Wayne State College.

The Institute was created with funds from an Eisenhower Post Secondary Education Grant secured by Dr. Robert Sweetland, associate professor of education at Wayne State, Dr. Marilyn Mudge, assistant professor of education at Wayne State and Dr. Carolyn Linster, assistant professor of education at Wayne State.

The Institute is a group of professional educators working together to improve the instruction of mathematics and science. The members have attended six days of workshops at Wayne State this summer. They will attend the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics Regional Conference in October and participate in mentor groups to support each other throughout the school year in developing stronger instructional strategies to help students learn.

Through a variety of experiences, the members have communicated with other members, improved their strategies to increase the quality of learning for their students, obtained new ideas to integrate mathematics and science into their classrooms, and developed new strategies of instruction.

The following is a list of teachers, and their respective schools, selected as members of the Institute for the Continued Improvement of K-6 Science and Mathematics Instruction at Wayne State College.

Merri Breithrentz, Bancroft (Walthill Public); Kathryn Burgett, Elgin (St. Boniface); Becky Cummings, Elgin (St. Boniface); Sandra Dahlkoetter, Stanton (Norfolk - Northern Hills); Julie Dwyer, Bartlett (Elgin - St. Boniface); Colleen Elsasser, Bancroft (Walthill Public); Betty Ewald, Creighton (Creighton Community); Jan Gannon, Norfolk (Norfolk - Westside); Cynthia A. Harris, Homer (Walthill Public); LaDonna Hazen, Verdigre (Creighton Community); Sue Koch, Laurel (Laurel-Concord); Kim Lemke, Creighton (Creighton Community); Jodi Lutt, Wayne (Wayne - St. Mary's); Debbie Modlin, Winnebago (Walthill Public); Tim Moravec, Pierce (Pierce - Zion Lutheran); Kathleen Mueller, Wakefield (Wakefield); Holly Paige, Hampton (Hampton Public); Karen Peters, Bloomfield (Wausa Public); Valerie A. Schovanec, Homer (Walthill Public); Nancy Schultz, Battle Creek (Norfolk - Washington); Paul Sok, Winside (Winside Public); Linda Steinman, Emerson (Wakefield); and Barbara Wittgow, Stanton (Norfolk - Northern Hills).

Grand champion market steer

Jennifer Thomsen, 18, of Wakefield exhibited the grand champion market steer at the 4-H Beef Show Sept. 5 during the 1994 Nebraska State Fair. Red, the Angus-Chianina cross, weighed 1,276 pounds with a hip height of 55 inches and an average daily gain of 2.62 pounds. Thomsen, daughter of Allan Thomsen and Joan Garvin, received a $1,000 cash award from Arby's of Lincoln. Earlier in the show, Red was named the champion crossbred division I steer. Those in the picture with Miss Thomsen are (from left) Terry Martson, Mike Rafe, Dean Johnson, Julie Johnson (holding Mitchell Johnson), and Matt Johnson (holding Alyssa Johnson), representing Arby's of Lincoln; Judge Dick Jurgens of Interstate Producers Livestock Association at Peoria, Ill.; Diane Nelson and Gov. Ben Nelson. (IANR photo)

Art exhibit open at WSC

An exhibit of prints and drawings by artist John Kaericher is on display through Sept. 23 in the Nordstrand Visual Arts Gallery, located on the upper level of Wayne State College's Peterson Fine Arts Building.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Kaericher is an associate professor of art at Northwestern College in Orange City, Iowa. He has works in several public and private collections of the United States, has had 26 solo exhibitions, and has had over 100 invitational and competitive exhibitions in the Midwest, the eastern United States and the Netherlands.

Level II: Gene Ott and Ron Willers of Wisner-Piager.

Level IV: Sandee Linde of Norfolk

Level V: Ron Schilling of Columbus

WSC admissions representative to visit area schools

Wayne State College admissions representative Laura Hanzl will be at Wayne High School at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 15 to meet with prospective students to discuss Wayne State College. She will also be at Winside High School on the same day at 2:30 p.m.

Hanzl will answer questions concerning financial aid opportunities, housing availability and other topics related to enrolling at Wayne State.

For more information about admission at Wayne State College, contact the Admissions Office at 1-800-228-9972.

Places in contest

Wayne State College student Bonnie Freeman of Wakefield recently placed 10th in the business communications exam during the National Leadership Conference of Phi Beta Lambda, a national business fraternity.

The conference, which was held in Anaheim, Calif., was attended by approximately 2,800 students. Freeman also attended a workshop on personal financial planning.

Freeman, who is originally from Tilden, is a senior majoring in accounting at Wayne State. She is the daughter of Derek and Claire Dawson, and a 1981 graduate of Grant High School in Fox Lane, Ill.

The Golden Years

By: Connie Dishrow

As down-sizing continues among U.S. companies, employer offers of early retirement packages are becoming less generous. Until now, the most common formula was to boost retirement pay by adding five years to an employee's age and five years to the length of service. Some companies are reducing these factors because they say they are too costly. Some also are limiting how long they would continue to provide health insurance coverage. On the other hand, employers are concerned that an inadequate package might invite problems under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act.

TV's "60 Minutes" correspondent Mike Wallace at age 76 has signed a four-year extension of his contract. He can't see himself following the example of broadcaster Charles Kuralt, who retired at 59. Activities such as fishing, playing cribbage or sitting in the sun and reading novels are not for him, Wallace noted. "I simply like to come to work every morning." But he disclosed his wife "is pushing me to develop hobbies."

Remember When? 1945 — "The Lost Weekend" and its star, Ray Milland, won Oscars as the best movie and best actor of the year. A third Oscar went to the film's director, Billy Wilder.

Musings on young romances

It is an absolutely gorgeous Labor Day here: sunny, no humidity, with that hazy feel of autumn and lazy sounds of fall that occur in September.

As usual, I'm sipping one more cup of coffee on the front porch while the washer and dryer hum away.

There was a wedding at our church yesterday afternoon, and we've hosted the bride and groom, two couples from Boston and one from K.C.

We've also attended a wedding this weekend, and I am again musings on the way young people today celebrate love and express their individual personalities with their engagements and ceremonies.

One of the classmates visiting here in July lives near Disneyland, and she brought a video of her eldest son proposing. Jeff and his sweetheart were in the Magic

By Pat Meierhenry

Kingdom, watching one of the parades. Next, they are seated on a bench while Cinderella reads aloud a proclamation of his desire to marry. Finally, a friend throws the ring box, and he actually gets down on his knees and formally asks her to marry him. Wonderful!

Our youngest niece tied the knot in Kansas City Saturday morning. Not in a church; but in a lovely park, in the rose garden. The bride and groom were in traditional attire, the bridesmaids wore cotton print dresses; and since there were many little nieces, they all wore cotton print dresses and served as a cadre of flower girls. Lovely!

The wedding at Louisville was a two-day party at Camp Kitaki, the YMCA camp just a couple of miles from us. The couple rented the whole camp, and most of the friends and family stayed there.

Saturday featured canoeing, a shower, grilled catfish supper and bowling. They gathered for "tea" on Sunday afternoon, all dressed up for photos, and then formed a convoy to the church.

A horse and carriage carried the newlyweds back to the camp for the reception, a flank steak dinner, and a blues band.

The best part: Greg and Val Sprick are having a two-month honeymoon, touring the West. I could handle that. Oh, to be young again!

SELECTED FOR CAMP

Corie Sullivan, 15, daughter of Bob and Julie Sullivan, was one of two young people in the Siouxland area chosen by St. Luke's Burn Trauma Unit to spend a week at Cheley Burn Camp in Estes Park, Colo. The camp is for burn victims, ages 8-18.

Approximately 60 youths nation wide attended the camp. Some of the activities provided for the campers were hiking, horseback riding, swimming and rock climbing. There was also a talent show and a square dance.

A group of older campers, including Corie, spent three days at an outcamp where they cooked outdoors and slept in covered wagons.

Corie had a wonderful time and thanks Gateway 2000 for being her sponsor for the trip.

Funds are for the birds

Wayne Rotarians have donated $200 to the aviary fund drive at the Wayne Care Centre and have pledged to contribute more. Shown presenting the funds to Suzie Siefken, center, activities director at the Care Centre are Rotary Board Members Wilma Moore, left, and Nancy Schulz. The fund drive to finance the aviary is over half way to its $4,500 goal.

Test your corn

Nebraska farmers can find out how good their 1994 corn crop is by bringing a sample to Husker Harvest Days in Grand Island Sept. 13-15 and having it tested for protein, oil, moisture and other intrinsic values.

The Nebraska Corn Board and the Nebraska Corn Growers Association have made special arrangements to have a near-infrared corn testing machine at the Commodities Building, lot five, during the three-day farm show.

"We are seeing more and more interest in the production of and demand for corn in Nebraska with higher levels of starch, protein and oil," said Mark DeVore, Corn Board member from Grand Island. "This high-tech machine will give Nebraska corn producers an ideal chance to see new corn testing technology and get a closer look at the intrinsic value of their corn."

DeVore said corn samples of at least one-pint are preferred for best accuracy.

1994 Nebraska State Fair

CRP extensions available on '85 contracts

Reserve Champion heifer

Josh Behmer, 17, of Hoskins, and his 1 1/2-year-old Simmental-Angus cross won the commercial breeding heifer reserve championship in the 4-H Beef Show Sept. 5 at the 1994 Nebraska State Fair. Josh, the son of John and Peg Behmer, showed Whitney for the win. Whitney's mother was also a reserve champ in the State Fair two years ago.

Secretary of Agriculture Mike Espy recently announced that producers holding Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) contracts expiring Sept. 30, 1995, will have the option to modify their contracts to extend the expiration date for a period of one year.

All participants with 1986 CRP contracts will be notified by their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office of the dates when they may apply to modify their contracts, Espy said. Nationally, about 2 million acres of cropland were enrolled in the 1986 CRP contracts. In Nebraska, about 72,000 acres were enrolled in contracts in 1986.

"Today's action will enable producers whose contracts would have expired in 1995 to continue to keep this highly erodible and other environmentally sensitive cropland out of production," the secretary said. Espy said he is announcing his decision now so that producers can consider this extension option while making long-term decisions concerning this land.

The continuation of the CRP and the extension of contracts will be one of USDA's top priorities during the 1995 Farm Bill discussion.

"We plan to work closely with the Congress to continue the CRP in order to achieve our conservation, wildlife and agricultural objectives," Espy said. "However, these first CRP contracts will likely expire prior to passage of the 1995 Farm Bill. To provide the maximum flexibility in continuing the CRP and extending contracts I am offering producers whose contracts expire Sept. 30, 1995, the opportunity to modify their contracts to extend the expiration date."

About 36.4 million acres have been enrolled in the CRP, a program Secretary Espy described as "tremendously beneficial for producers and the general public."

About 1.4 million acres have been enrolled in CRP in Nebraska. He said the CRP has saved soil; expanded wildlife habitat and populations; improved soil, air and water quality; enhanced wetlands; and encouraged tree plantings. "At the same time, it has reduced deficiency payments, strengthened farm income, and helped balance the supply and demand of agricultural commodities," he said.

Farm numbers down

The loss of 7,579 Nebraska farms between 1987 and 1992 just reported by the U.S. Census of Agriculture is partially caused by the inequitable distribution of federal farm program benefits, stated Kelly O'Neill, of the Center for Rural Affairs in Walthill.

Moderate-sized Nebraska corn and soybean farms suffered payment cuts of 26 percent as a result of 1990 farm programs budget reductions. The nation's largest farms, however, took no cuts, because they have sufficient acreages to continue receiving the maximum $100,000 payment, according to a recent study co-authored by O'Neill.

"The nation's largest farms are able to use their huge deficiency payment checks to bid land rental and purchase prices beyond the reach of moderate-sized and beginning farmers," she commented.

The 1995 Farm Bill should prevent further family farm losses and the concentration of agricultural production on fewer, larger farms by targeting farm program benefits to moderate-sized farmers and protecting them from additional payment cuts, according to O'Neill.

For example, a farmer's first 40,000 or 50,000 bushels of corn should be exempted from any payment decreases, but production beyond this level would receive less support. Loopholes in the nominal $50,000 payment limitation should be eliminated. Also, payments to people with high off-farm income should be reduced, O'Neill explained.
