Human sexuality is a natural function and should be understood as such without the myths, misconceptions and negative attitudes our culture places on sex.

That is the message Dr. Bill Masters delivered to Wayne Wednesday when he lectured to students at Wayne State College.

Masters began his controversial research career in reproductive biology, an area he said most professional colleagues still strenuously avoid, over 40 years ago.

With Virginia Johnson he has published several scholarly books on the subject — books which have been widely read — but Masters still decries the paucity of accurate information and understanding about human sexuality among the public.

During a press conference before his lecture Wednesday, he said he made a mistake early in his career by addressing his research and lectures mainly to the medical field believing that the doctors would pass the information on to their patients.

"It never did trickle down," he said and added there is still much research to be done in the field and much information to be disseminated to the public.

Misconceptions and myths he said he would debunk during his Wayne lecture would be the myth of penis size and the myth about sexual performance and aging.

Speaking in plain language about a subject most feel uncomfortable discussing, Masters said the School Board to make decision on bond issue

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

It's decision time for the Wayne School Board on the proposed bond issue for middle school replacement and high school expansion.

The board members heard proposals from three bonding agents during their regular meeting Tuesday night and briefly discussed remaining issues. They scheduled a special session today to make final decisions on which agent to use, whether to include expansion of the lecture hall in the funds request and when to hold the bond issue election.

The process of deciding which building and funding plan would best serve the district has taken over a year, and it is time to move ahead, according to Dr. Sid Hillier, president of the board.

"We've just about shuffled our last foot on this deal," said Hillier in setting the Friday special meeting for the last decisions on the building proposal.

Board members were informed Tuesday that construction price increases have raised the cost estimates for the new building by over $300,000 in the last few months. Last month the architect said the building could probably be built for 7.9 million that that estimate now has inflated to $8.2 million or $78 per square foot, up from $75 just a few weeks ago and the initial estimates of around $65 a foot when building discussion commenced in earnest a year ago.

Construction costs are escalating dramatically because of the regional building boom and increases in material costs the architects have said.

The board also must wrestle with the auditorium issue. Originally eliminated in the first phase of cost cutting, a 750-seat auditorium was nixed to save $1.5 million in the project. The plan then called for expansion of the existing lecture hall to provide space for all-school assemblies and programs.

New estimates on expansion of the existing lecture hall seating and stage area into an auditorium of adequate size is close to $1 million, Dr. Dennis Jensen, superintendent, told the board. Including that work would bring the total estimated construction cost to $8.8 million, he said.

Board members expressed concern that the voters of the district would accept that amount.

Previously accepted by the board were the recommendations from a citizen study task force to make the new middle school a wing attached to the existing high school with new shared facilities for both buildings. Such spaces would be a gymnasium, music rooms, dining areas, administration and mechanical facilities.

Several board members and Jensen expressed doubt that the decisions could be made in time for a bond issue yet this fall. Jensen said a March date would be more likely for the election.

One of the bonding agents who presented information at the Tuesday board meeting, Darwin Reider, with the firm of Kirkpatrick-Petitis in Omaha, said a Dec. 13 election date would be practical, citing past experience of voters approving issues during the holiday season. With construction costs expected to continue their rapid increase, it was also mentioned that delays would only add to the ultimate cost of the project.

Reider's firm would charge the district $15 per $1,000 of bonds issued. Jack Vavra, with First Tier, said his firm would charge $16.25 per $1,000. The third bonding agent, Chuck Poore, with Municipal Bond Underwriters said his firm's fee would be $17.50 to $18 per $1,000. Each firm also offered other services including assistance in organizing and promoting the campaign for votes to approve the bond issue.

Each bond specialist also warned of the difficulty of getting voters to approve bond issues of the size the school system is considering. At current estimates the construction project in the $8 million range would raise the district tax levy by over 40 cents per 100 dollars of property valuation for property owners in the district and 13 cents for taxpayers in the affiliated districts. The 40 cent increase would equate to $200 per year on a $50,000 property. It is anticipated the bonds would be paid in twenty years.

Only one out of three of the school bond issues proposed in the state this year have been approved by the voters Vavra told the board.

In other business at the Tuesday board meeting the board:

Moms group forms

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

Formed primarily for the mothers of young children who have chosen motherhood as a full-time career, the Moms group of Wayne serves as a place where mothers can get together to visit and discuss issues facing parents today.

The group, which is in its 14th year, will be hosting the former National Mother of the Year, Joan Burney at their monthly meeting, Thursday, Oct. 20. Burney's topic will be Parenting and anyone is invited to attend.

Burney is presently the President of the Nebraska Mothers Association, writes weekly columns for five different newspapers, several bi-weekly papers and magazines. She is a motivational speaker, "people advocate" and co-founder of GOAD-Grandparents and Others Against Drugs.

"Moms meets once a month, the third Thursday, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church. Babysitting is available for a small fee," said Shari Dunklau, one of the members of Moms.

"The group is non-denominational but Christian-based. Each meeting begins with a short devotional message," said Dunklau.

The group is committed to the philosophy that "the responsibility of raising children is greater than ever and peer pressure is greater. We understand the responsibility and frustrations associated with raising children and strive to be a place for mothers to share, cry and reflect on the fact that children are a beautiful gift from God."

The group plans various speakers and activities throughout the year. For example the November meeting will be entitled "Projects,

Langenberg returns to Luxembourg

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

"Everywhere we went while in Luxembourg, we were treated like kings and queens," said Henry Langenberg of his recent trip to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the liberation of the country by American troops during World War II.

Henry and his wife Evelyn were guests of Edward and Marietta Auen who live in the village of Moutfort, a small town approximately the size of Winside, just outside the city of Luxembourg.

The Langenbergs and approximately 150 other Americans, those who had been part of the Fifth Armoured Division during World War II, were guests of the Luxembourg government from Sept. 7-14. The group was honored at eight celebrations in four days at various locations.

The celebrations included wine, dinner and fireworks as well as speeches by government officials and several ranking officers who were among those who had been involved in the liberation of the country.

During their stay in Luxembourg, Henry was able to locate the spot that his division had stayed at on Sept. 10, 1944, the day of the liberation of the city.

The Langenbergs were also able to shake hands with the Grand Duke of Luxembourg, the son of Prince Felix who was brought back to power in 1944.

Council seeks matching funds

By Tom Mullen
Of the Herald

Wayne City Council directed staff on Tuesday to prepare an application for a state matching grant to help fund the expansion of the existing transfer station, an expansion which may cost in excess of $400,000.

Engineers Mike Yost and Bill Stoner of Olsson and Associates of Lincoln submitted their report with drawings of a 30 foot expansion of the current metal building which will double the size of the transfer station. The report estimated construction costs of $220,000 plus engineering, testing and contingencies which brought the total estimate to $301,755. The plan includes a separate, exterior loading dock which would serve as a centralized recycling area. Stoner cited the immense amount of structural concrete needed as the major factor in the $220,000 cost of what would be a 40 foot by 30 foot addition to the current transfer station.

When Mayor Bob Carhart asked for the anticipated life of this proposed center, Stoner replied, "there is virtually nothing to wear out, it would be maintenance free."

City Administrator Joe Salitros asked the engineers what chance the city has of obtaining matching funds from Nebraska's Department of Environmental Quality, Stoner thought the city's chances were good and he recommended applying for such funds before Jan. 1. Councilwoman Patty Wieland then suggested that a knuckle boom, a large mechanical hand which operates as a hoist, be included in the grant application. Stoner stated that the cost of knuckle booms range, "anywhere from $75 to $100 thousand." Stoner further stated the present construction specifications will not handle a knuckle boom, and such modifications, "will increase the cost of construction by $10 to $20 thousand."

The expansion of the transfer station is necessitated, the engineers said because the compactor the city currently uses, "is on its last leg." Council directed city staff to work with Olsson and Associates on submitting the grant application, the amount requested to be determined by staff. Stoner indicated the application could be ready in two weeks and if successful, construction would begin in the spring.

The Council was treated to a cat show of sorts when Kimberlee Lowe brought forward two live kittens that she had found dying near her Wayne home.

Lowe pleaded with the Council to adopt a cat licensing policy which would mandate registration of all of Wayne's feline population, and allow citizens to remove strays from their neighborhoods with or without police assistance. The stray animals would then be impounded where they would wait for their owners to claim them or if unclaimed, the animals would be euthanized. Having a cat euthanized by injection, according to Lowe, costs $40.

The proliferation of stray cats poses a health problem according to Lowe who cited two cases of rabid cats. "The problem stems from people who feed these cats but don't want to take the responsibility of owning them," Lowe said.

Council will study other cities' licensing laws before formulating such a policy for Wayne.

The kittens are being nursed back to health by Lowe, and their conditions, though precarious, are improving.

In other business developer Nick Sieler petitioned to modify the City's sideyard setback for mobile home parks from seven feet to zero feet which would allow for a larger yard on one side of each home. The Council, finding no objections, agreed to modify the code which applies to all mobile home parks. Sieler is an owner of Cityside Parks. The Council also passed a second of three readings to annex the property, along with parcels owned by Wayne Consignment and Scotti Thompson.

Dr. Masters spoke at Wayne State College on Wednesday. Masters is best known for his controversial research in reproductive biology.

Birds

culture has made the natural sexual function seem dirty and unnatural.

He said the attitudes about sex have hampered his research even to the point of causing him to be ostracized in professional circles. There is still much study and research to be done about the psychological and psychological processes involving sex.

"It's a brand new field," he added. When he started in the field 40 years ago, he said there were no medical schools which offered health professionals courses in human sexual function. Even today there are medical schools who will not permit sexuality courses in their curriculum. Yet, he said problems with sexual dysfunction can and do relate to a wide variety of physical and psychological health problems.

Masters said he would tell the students that sex is a cornerstone of marriage.

"Are there marriages that are effective without it? Sure. But they are more effective with it," he said.

Experiments and Magic for Kids' and the December meeting will include craft sharing and a cookie exchange.

"We believe that mothers who have chosen to stay home often feel isolated and need visiting time with others who are in the same situation. We try to allow for this at each of our meetings," said Dunklau.

"We are a small group with from 10 to 16 members present at each meeting, but we have a lot to offer them at each of our meetings. We want every mom to feel welcome to join us every month, but especially this month when we are very fortunate to have Joan Burney speak to us," said Dunklau.

He added that one of the myths he would discuss with the Wayne State students would be that of penile size. He said it makes little difference in sexual performance and most women know this. However, the fragile male ego is centered around sexual performance and men believe size relates to performance. "If he says to himself just once, 'I wonder what is wrong with me' he's 50 percent along the way to impotence," warned Masters.

The medical researcher said he enjoys lectures on small college campuses in rural areas and purposefully schedules three per year because they are so much fun.

"The students on these campuses are tremendous," he said. "They don't have to pretend to be so sophisticated and their eagerness to learn is just tremendous."

district's staff development program which is designed to assist teachers in developing new student evaluation and testing programs.

• Agreed to the expenditure of $5,000 as the district's budgeted share for the new weight room facility which was funded in large measure by the Athletic Booster Club.

• Heard a report on the School Discipline Act of 1994, L.B. 1250 which placed new student discipline provisions in the state statutes this year. The measure was mainly designed to address serious problems in the more metropolitan schools including students bringing firearms to school, but Dr. Donald Zeiss, high school principal said many of the provisions are applicable and beneficial to more rural schools as well.

• Heard a report on the distribution of $26,000 worth of state funds through the Rue 33 program to directly benefit teachers. The funds were divided among the teachers based on the district salary scale which means an average bonus of over $330 per teacher in the Wayne district.

Closing date for crop insurance extended

Agricultural Secretary Mike Espy announced recently the extension of the sales closing date for crop insurance from Sept. 30 to Oct. 31.

This action gives producers an additional 30 days to purchase insurance policies for crops, such as winter wheat, oats, barley, potatoes, rye, sugarcane and nursery stock. Farmers should contact their crop insurance agents to determine if they are affected by the action and to discuss their options.

"Because many farmers are already planting next year's crops, I also encourage Congress to move quickly and send President Clinton his request for a new crop insurance law. My decision to extend the sales closing date will give farmers the time necessary to evaluate the new program and make informed risk management decisions," Espy said.

In addition, the Secretary announced his intention to make regulatory changes in the crop insurance program to help prevent any interruption in the program due to the delay in enacting the reform legislation.

ranged by CEBA, a Luxembourg organization whose goals are to associate will all persons interested in the Battle of the Bulge, locate detailed documentation on the battle, complete a museum with artifacts from the Battle of the Bulge, contact veterans who were involved, organize official receptions for U.S. soldiers coming back to visit and to erect a monument in honor of the unknown G.I.

Also included in the trip was a visit to the cemetery at Hamm, near Luxembourg, which includes the graves of 5,076 American soldiers who were killed during the war. Those attending the celebrations placed roses at graves with the Langenbergs placing two roses at the grave of a soldier from Henry's division.

"Our hosts took us everywhere we wanted to go and wouldn't let us pay for anything. We spent two days touring the country and even went north into Belgium. Gas costs $3 a gallon there but they wouldn't even let us pay for that," said Henry.

"We were both very impressed with the way the whole country treated us. The people there can't do enough for Americans," said Henry.

During the war 32,000 of the 300,000 people of the country were forced to leave their homes, more than 4,000 were put in prison and nearly 7,000 were displaced in Germany. Nearly one-half of the country was destroyed by the war.

According to one of the speeches, "it is easy to understand why we were the happiest people on earth when you young American boys came to our beloved country to free us from Nazi occupation to put an end to the cruel dictatorship, to five years of slavery."

Crop Walk to be held on Sunday
WAYNE — This Sunday, Oct. 16, members of Wayne churches will gather to walk for the welfare of others. The Crop Walk, sponsored by the Wayne Ministerial Association, is an annual event to raise money to help stop hunger. Walkers will meet at the First Church of Christ-Christian, 1110 East 7th Street, at 1 p.m. Sunday afternoon to register. The walk begins at 1:30 p.m. and, depending on how fast one walks, will last about two to three hours. The route of the walk will take people throughout Wayne. Walkers have solicited pledges or sponsors and 10 percent of the money collected will be used locally to support the Wayne Food Pantry and the Wayne Ministerial Association's Emergency Assistant Fund.

Ecumenical concert to be held in Laurel
LAUREL — An ecumenical concert, "A Salute to Bach" will be held on Sunday, Oct. 23 at 2:30 p.m. at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Laurel. It will feature "The Marian Mallatt Singers," Claudia Dvorak and Marian Mallatt. The "Marian Mallatt Singers" are a vocal group of approximately 30 voices representing various churches in the area. J.S. Bach contributed more to the music of the Christian church than any other composer. He is rightly called the father of music. His music will be performed vocally, and on the pipe organ and will include the sounds of the harpsichord and synthesizer. There will be no admission charge, and no free-will offering will be taken; just a 50 minute celebration of the joys of Bach, his life, his music and the glorious gift he gave to all the ages.

Lutheran Bible Institute being held in West Point

There were 100 people in attendance at the second session of the Lutheran Bible Institute of the West Point Circuit of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod. It was held on Oct. 9 at St. Paul Lutheran, West Point. The Bible study on selected Psalms was continued by Rev. Gregg Hein of St. Paul of West Point. In keeping with the theme, God's Word ... A Guide to Peace, DCE Ron Benson, Peace Lutheran, Columbus, presented the topic, Peace in Your Family ... Family Discipline. Mr. Benson also spoke to the teens during the first part of the evening regarding, "Running the Race!" Pizza and pop were served afterwards to 40 youth. Next week's topic, Peace in God's Family ... Church Discipline will be presented by Rev. James Fandrey, First Vice President, NE District. This is a very difficult subject for some people and should be very interesting to all. "Ask the Pastor" is not held this year and may be held in the future when more questions are submitted in the question box. Lunch was provided and served by the members of Zion-St. John, Wisner. The Institute will meet again on Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Wakefield man wins racing circuit

By Kevin Peterson
Sports editor

Wakefield's Mike Benson is no stranger to the world of auto racing, but next January he will make his first walk to the official victory stand to accept his Silver Cup from the Winston NASCAR Late Model Racing Series for winning the points championship at Park Jefferson Speedway just outside Jefferson, S.D. last summer.

Benson, a top 10 finisher in each of the eight years that Park Jefferson has been in existence had never finished higher than third in the points standings until this year.

The road to the elite, however, didn't come easy and Benson very nearly was edged out on the final night of racing. "I had an 18 point lead, over the closest competitor, Tom Svoboda of David City heading into the final night of racing," Benson said.

The weekend before both 25-lap races were rained out so they had the make-up for those races along with the regular races all on the same night. The first race ended with Svoboda gaining two points on Benson to close the gap to 16. Benson went airborne in his 1990 Camaro with just two laps to go but he lands on his tires and finishes the race.

The heat race that Benson's in to officially start the final night of racing begins and Benson doesn't even finish two laps of the scheduled 10 because his car number 71 suddenly becomes engulfed with white smoke.

"I was pretty much stunned when we checked and found it was a blown engine," Mike said. "We had gone the whole summer without any engine trouble until the final night."

The fearless Benson pit crew began working feverishly on ideas and ways to get Benson back on the track because he had to race or his lead would quickly evaporate and perhaps disappear altogether.

"Following some quick calculations by my crew, we figured all I had to do in the feature race was finish no worse than eighth assuming that Svoboda won the race," Benson said. "The biggest concern we had was finding a car to race."

Things fell into place quickly for Benson, and ironically, the car he borrowed from Hartington's Dennis Cummins was Benson's old car that he had sold to Cummins a couple years earlier.

The feature race it seemed the whole grandstand came to watch was the final race of the night because that would officially crown the points champion.

The 25-lap race began with out incident with Benson at the back because he was not driving his own car. Svoboda raced under protest because Benson was not driving the car that he qualified in his heat race with—perhaps his only chance to win the points championship if he could disqualify Benson.

Eleven cars are in the final fea-

Creighton with a 1955 Chevy in the Hobby Stock Division. "I remember my first race ever," Benson said. "I finished in the top five and then I went on to race all summer in Creighton."

From 1973 to 1985 Benson raced at Interstate Speedway which is located right across from Park have," Benson said. "Racing is an expensive hobby."

Mike says he pays for his pit crew to get into the races and he usually buys their dinner. "I've really appreciated George at Godfather's because he usually comes over to my garage every Friday night and donates pizza to my crew ture race and Benson can finish no worse than eighth if he is to control his own destiny. With seven laps remaining in the race Benson found himself in 10th place.

Benson did pass a car in Lap 21 to go into ninth place and another racer pulls into the infield with mechanical problems. A quick count by the pit crew sees Benson is in eighth place and that's how the race ended—Svoboda first, Benson eighth—Points Champ, Mike Benson by two points.

"Immediately following the race we had to tear the car down to make sure it was legal," Benson said. The official checks and signals the car was legal and an elated Benson pit crew goes wild.

Still, the wait was on for the official NASCAR ruling on Benson's car usage. Several minutes later which undoubtedly seemed like an eternity, the track official's pickup drives up and signals that Mike Benson truly is the points champion for 1994—a dream that began one summer night back in 1970 as Benson participated in his first race.

"It felt great," Benson said. "My crew and I have worked very hard for this moment for a lot of years."

MIKE GRADUATED from Wakefield High School in 1971—which is why he has driven car number 71 since he started racing. As a youngster he found himself infatuated with go-carts which eventually led to car racing.

In 1970 he began his career in Jefferson. "That track was a quarter-mile track and I used to race there every Sunday but I felt like trying a little longer track like Park Jefferson when it opened in 1986," Benson said.

"There are usually four or five guys from the crew each night I'm racing," Benson said. "Their responsibility is to change the tires and put the car back together if we have problems on race night and they also help work on the car during the rest of the week when we're not racing."

Benson said the Pierce family from Anthon, Iowa have been a consistent sponsor for him since the mid-70's. "I was racing one night and afterwards this guy came up to me and said he liked the way I raced and wanted to know if he could help sponsor me," Benson said. "I was shocked and very happy."

Pierce Oil Company was Benson's first official sponsor which consisted of $300 to help cover expenses, which was a good sum of money in the mid-70's.

Tim Bebee and the Winning Finish in Wayne is another sponsor of Benson as is George Gottschall of Godfather's Pizza in Wayne. "It's really nice to have sponsors like I while we are working on the car. That really means a lot to us."

In everyday life, Benson is the transportation director for the Wakefield Public Schools—a position he's held for the past three years. As far as dreams are concerned, he's pretty much satisfied living in Wakefield and racing at Park Jefferson.

"Oh sure, it would be nice to be able to race at a track like North Wilkesboro in North Carolina but in order to be able to race at a track like that I'd have to move south and east and I don't want to do that."

In his 20-plus years of racing Benson has never been in a serious accident or suffered a major injury. "We rolled about three years ago and it kind of knocked the wind out of me and I've suffered a dislocated thumb but I really don't consider car racing as that dangerous of a sport," Benson said. "At least not any more dangerous than any other sport. At least in racing we are all driving in the same direction where as in football you have two sides going full speed at each other when contact is made."

Speaking of direction, Benson already has his goals in sight for next year's race circuit. "I'm already looking forward to the season," he said. "My goal is to win a couple feature races and another track championship in '95."

The annual car show at Southern Hills Mall in Sioux City in April is the first sign that the season is nearing and right now Benson sees that as being just around the corner.

WAYNE HIGH golfer Molly Melena takes a swing at a ball during a practice session, Wednesday afternoon at the Wayne Country Club. Melena was the lone senior on this year's team which finished ninth at state.

Wayne girls golf team places ninth at state tourney

The Wayne High girls golf team placed ninth of 12 teams after scoring a 425 at the Nebraska State Girls Golf Meet in Norfolk, Thursday.

Minden captured top honors with a 376 followed by Holdrege with a 387 and Sidney with a 393. Beatrice was fourth with a 398 and Grand Island Central Catholic was fifth with a 399 while Wahoo placed sixth with an even 400.

Blair notched seventh place with a 414 followed by Elkhorn with a 415 and Wayne with a 425. Lexington fired a 426 for 10th and Columbus Scotus carded a 429 for 11th while rounding out the field of state teams was Tri County with a 445.

Elkhorn foreign exchange student Catha Fogelberg won the gold medal and ended up winning the all-class gold medal with a 76. No Wayne golfers placed in the state meet with Kristine Kopperud and Molly Melena leading the Blue Devils efforts with 101's.

"It was a beautiful day for golf," Wayne coach Dave Hix said. "We just didn't have it together. The girls started out slow and dug themselves in to a point of no return."

Hix said it was a great experience for his team to play in the state tournament. "Everyone should have the opportunity to compete in a state tournament," Hix said. "Overall, it was a disappointing day for lone senior Molly Melena. I would have liked to see her go out as a medalist. However, our season was a success and we hope to build on that success next season."

Tisha Rothfuss had the third best score for Wayne with a 111—one stroke ahead of Erica Stoltenberg. Krissy Lubberstedt also played and finished with a 121.

Wayne finished the season with a 32-5 record in invitationals and a 5-5 record in duals with four losses coming against Class A teams. Hix said his team would like to express their gratitude to the parents and volunteers who helped out all season and to Larry Berres for allowing a lot of freedom on the course and driving range for practice sessions.

Wayne spikers down Cedar Catholic to improve to 16-4

Wayne's volleyball team improved to 16-4 with a victory over Hartington Cedar Catholic, Tuesday in Hartington, 15-9, 14-16, 15-6. The 10th rated Blue Devils will not play again until Thursday when they host South Sioux in the final home game.

"We came out strong against Cedar and built a 7-0 lead before we let up a little," coach Joyce Hoskins said. "We started playing a little safe when we got up."

In the second game the Blue Devils got down 6-0 but Hoskins quickly called a time out and after play resumed, Wayne scored six straight points to tie the game. It see-sawed back-and-forth the rest of the game before Cedar seized control at the end.

Wayne dominated the third game in what Hoskins called the best team work the Blue Devils have displayed this season. "The third game was our best team effort of the year with out a doubt," Hoskins said. "The girls communicated very well and played aggressively the whole game."

Jenny Thompson led the team in scoring with 11 points and two aces while Katie Lutt had nine points and three aces. Angie Hudson also finished with nine points.

Fink was 50-51 in setting with 15 aces led by Thompson's 12 kill spikes on 23 of 26 attempts. Katie Lutt had six kills on 14 of 15 attempts and Amy Post was 7-8 with two ace hits.

Thompson led the team on defense with four blocks while Angie Hudson had one. Following the Blue Devils game with South

Sioux, they will travel to South Sioux on the 25th for the NAC Conference Tournament where the unofficial brackets have Wayne being the top seed, playing Cedar Catholic in the first round while O'Neill and South Sioux play in the other first round contest.

Wayne's "B" team lost a 0-15, 13-15 decision to Cedar Catholic but the "C" team won, 15-10, 16-14. The "C" team had to come from behind to win the second game with Carla Kemp and Lindsay Baack leading the way.

DION JOHNSON was named the defensive player of the week for WSC for his performance against UNK despite the loss.

LAMONT RAINEY was honored by the Wayne State coaching staff as the offensive player of the week against the Lopers.

Wildcats looking to rebound from UNK loss

The Wayne State football team will look to bounce back from last Saturday's disappointing homecoming loss to Kearney this week when they host Southwest State of Minnesota in a 1:30 p.m. contest.

The Mustangs will come in with a 1-4 record but Wayne State head coach Dennis Wagner says the poor record is a little misleading. "They aren't that bad of a football team," Wagner said. "They've lost some close games and they are averaging over 28 points a game."

The Wildcats mentor said his 'Cats can't afford to look past the Mustangs. "They (SW State) are going to try and establish their passing game which is very good," Wagner said. "They are capable of scoring a lot of points and they are very aggressive on defense. Defensive end Andre Thompson will be the best defensive pass rusher we will face this season. He will be a challenge for our offensive line."

Speaking of offensive line, the 'Cats will be without the services of offensive tackle Brian Thompson for the rest of the year with knee ligament damage the other tackle, Terry Sherman, also injured in the Kearney game is expected to play, Saturday.

Jason Williams suffered a knee sprain against the Lopers and is expected to suit up but playing time may be limited. Defensive lineman Scott Eisenhauer will also miss Saturday's game with an injury but Robert McConico is expected to play after his injury against the Lopers.

Southwest State lost a 21-9 decision to Minnesota-Duluth and the Mustangs lone win on the season came against Bemidji State. Southwest State averages nearly 380 yards a game on offense while the opponent's are averaging right at 300 including 150 on the ground.

Sophomore Shawn Dupris has passed for 1455 yards with 10 TD's. His favorite targets are Peter Kienholz and Kevin Honer, who have caught 29 and 21 passes, respectively.

On the ground, Shawn Cotton is averaging nearly 90 yards per game. Defensively, the Mustangs are led by linebacker Randy Mortenson's 42 tackles.

WSC running back Lamont Rainey has rushed for 686 yards this season following last week's 175 yards on 30 carries against Kearney. Rainey needs just 171 yards to move into the number two spot on the all-time rushing charts which is currently held by Sam Singleton with 3,003 yards during the years 1967-70.

Rainey needs just six more touchdowns to move ahead of Burt Matthes record of 37 career scores set between 1962-65. Lamont is currently averaging 114.3 yards per game and has scored six touchdowns on the season.

Last week quarterbacks Ray Powers and Jared Hendershot combined for 34 of 67 passing for 354 yards. The 67 passes set a new school record for attempts in a single game. The old mark was 61 in 1984 against Fort Hays State.

Wide receiver standouts Jerry Garrett and Byron Chamberlain will enter Saturday's game with 53 and 51 receptions on the season. Chamberlain currently has 129 career receptions which ranks second on the Wildcats all-time chart, trailing Damon Thomas by just 23 with four games to go.

Defensive leaders on the season for WSC include Jon Adkisson with 58 total tackles and Jeff Lutt with nine quarterback sacks. Dion Johnson has a team high 19 unassisted tackles. The 'Cats have allowed just three passing touchdowns this season.

Offensively, WSC is averaging 520.2 yards per game while averaging 34 points a contest. The 'Cats have converted 43 percent of their third-down attempts.

Wildcats beat Allen in straight games

Winside evens season record

The Winside volleyball team evened their season record at 6-6 with a straight games victory over the Allen Eagles, Thursday night in Winside.

Lisa Schroeder said her Wildcats didn't play overly impressive but it was nice to win a match despite not playing well. "We really didn't do a very good job of serving and we had a bad night passing the ball and we just didn't move our feet like we should but yet we won the match," Schroeder said. "It's only the third time this season that we won a match in straight games and only the second time we won the first game of the match."

Emily Deck led the winners in serving at 11-12 with five aces while Kristi Oberle was 11-12 with one ace and Mindi Marotz, 5-5 with three aces.

Stacy Bowers was a perfect 27-27 in setting with 15 aces and Deck was 17-17 with four aces. Wendy Miller led the attack crew with eight kill spikes on 12 of 14 attempts while Sarah Painter was 8-10 with seven ace hits.

Wendy and her sister Jodi shared team honors in blocks with one ace each. Allen was led in serving by Deb Plueger at 9-9 with one ace while Jill Sullivan was 9-10 with two aces. Tammy Jackson also did a good job of serving according to head coach Rachelle Borg at 4-4.

Andrea McGrath was 13-15 in setting with five aces and Deb Plueger was 10-10 with two aces while Tanya Plueger led the hitters with two kill spikes on eight of 13 attempts. Jaime Mitchell was 9-12 with one kill. Mitchell, however, recorded six blocks and Tanya WINSIDE'S WENDY MILLER and Emily Deck team up to block an Allen spike attempt during action in Winside, Thursday night. The Wildcats won the match in straight games to even their season record at 6-6. Allen fell to 3-12.

Plueger had two.

The Eagles fell to 3-12 with the loss and will host Homer on Parent's Night, Tuesday. Winside will compete in the Hartington Tournament, Saturday with the Wildcats playing pool play with Ponca and Wynot while the other bracket has Bancroft-Rosalie, Hartington and Walthill. The winners of the pool play will play each other for the championship.

Wayne gals crowned district champs; boys place second to Scotus

The Wayne girls cross country team captured first place at the District Cross Country Meet in David City, Thursday while the boys suffered their first district loss in six years, finishing second to Columbus Scotus by three points.

The Blue Devil girls scored 31 points to out-distance runner-up David City Aquinas by 14. Pierce placed third with 58 and Columbus Scotus was fourth with 64. Arlington finished fifth with 74 followed in order by Fort Calhoun, Columbus Lakeview, Wahoo, North Bend and Logan View.

"The girls had a great day," Wayne coach Rocky Ruhl said. "Every one of them broke their goal times. They all had the best race of the year so far. The competition was good for the girls and will help next week at state. We just want to go to Kearney and repeat our district performance."

Freshman Sara Kinney topped the Blue Devils performance with a fourth place effort of 15:30. Jessica Ford placed fifth in 15:32 followed by Mel Lage in sixth in 15:33. Another freshman, Lisa Walton ensured Wayne's number one finish with a 16th place effort of 16:42. Tammy Teach also ran for the varsity and was clocked in 19:06.

THE BOYS were led by district champion Spencer Stednitz as the junior was clocked in 16:14 while Chris Headley placed fifth in 16:40. Matt Meyer finished 16th in 17:43 and Clint Dyer was 26th in 18:14 while David Ensz finished 31st in 18:19 and Chris Dyer, 34th in 18:33.

Scotus finished the team scoring with 45 points with Wayne notching 48. Elkhorn Mt. Michael was third with 51 and Arlington was fourth with 84. Pierce rounded out the top five with 92 points followed in order by Columbus Lakeview, Fort Calhoun, Wahoo, Logan View and David City Aquinas.

"The boys had a good day as well despite not winning the district title for the first time in a long time," Ruhl said. "Spencer being crowned district champ was a great accomplishment. The boys are looking forward to next week's state meet as well. They feel they are ready to come together and have the best race of the season."

The annual Nebraska State Cross Country Meet will take place in Kearney at the Country Club on Thursday.

WINSIDE RUNNING sensation Melinda Mohr took her talents to Norfolk, Thursday to compete in the Class D-2 district cross country meet and the first-year runner captured first place easily with a 15:56 clocking—a whole minute faster than she ran just three weeks ago on the same course at Skyview Lake.

"She finished just two seconds off the all-time course record," coach Todd LaVelle said. "She ran a complete race and has trained very hard all season for this district meet and next week's state meet in Kearney."

Mohr has an excellent chance to become the first ever state champion runner as Nebraska hosts its first Class D State Cross Country Meet, Thursday.
