School board moves up bond issue vote

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

School district voters will have less time to make up their minds on a $7.9 million school bond issue for Wayne than originally thought.

Citing cost savings totaling over $90,000 the Wayne School Board voted in special session Thursday at noon to set the bond election for Dec. 13, not the March 1995 date originally announced.

Moving up the election will mean a substantial savings in construction costs, the board learned from its bond council this week. In addition, a March vote would mean construction wouldn't be completed until the fall of 1997, whereas a December vote, if approved, would allow the construction to be completed in time for students to move into the new facilities when fall classes open in 1996.

THE DECISION to move up the bond vote was unanimous.

The district will be asking voters to approve a $7.9 million bond issue for the construction of a 65,000 square foot wing addition to the existing High School building. The wing will house Wayne Middle School in addition to providing extensive shared space to be used by both Middle School and High School students.

Examples of shared spaces would include an auxiliary gym/multi purpose room to be used for school assemblies and concerts; dining and kitchen facilities, administrative offices and band and music rooms.

Also in the plan is expanded science labs and library space for the high school.

A MAJOR ITEM eliminated from the construction plan was provisions for additional auditorium space at estimated costs ranging from $900,000 to $1.5 million. The school board nixed the auditorium expansion plans in an effort to keep the bond issue tax increase at or below the 40 cents per $100 of valuation level.

Architects estimates have indicated the new construction will cost $78 per square foot. Recent neighboring bond issue school construction projects have seen bids come in at that level, said Superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen.

He said construction bids in Pierce and Randolph both came in at about $75 a square foot, even though the approved bond issue votes in those districts had only allowed for a construction costs in the $65 per square foot range. The result was those districts had to make major cuts in their building plans after the bids

Power project is pondered

By Tom Mullen
Of the Herald

At the Tuesday meeting of the Wayne City Council, the Council listened to recommendations for building a new Public Works facility at a cost of $590,000 in order to make way for an expanded power plant which will cost an additional $4,221,800.

Wayne Roelle of the Lincoln engineering firm Olsson and Associates summarized his 50 page report for the council, recommending an expansion of the Wayne power plant that would increase electrical generating capacity by more than 50 per cent.

Although the diesel generators have been primarily on a standby basis since the late 1970's, Nebraska Public Power District leases the 12,500 kilowatts that the plant has the capability to produce even when the generators lay idle.

Under the terms of that lease, the City has the right to increase the capacity of the plant and NPPD will in turn lease an additional 6,500 kilowatts effective January 1, 1997.

An NPPD official told the Herald that the generators are needed for times of peak capacity or failure of other facilities and stated that Wayne's peak electrical usage in 1994 was 11,300 kilowatts in June.

Roelle recommended that the City purchase two skid loaded 3600 kilowatt engines at a cost of just over 3.1 million dollars. Construction of a housing facility, installation of the generators, and engineering fees will add another million dollars to the cost of the expansion. The existing power plant site however, is restricted in area by the Public Works building which the engineer suggested should be demolished to make room for the new generators. The $590,000 relocation cost for Public Works included demolition of their existing building, site acquisition and construction of a new facility.

The Council will consider issuing a general revenue bond to pay for the project, setting a target date of January 1, 1995 to begin

On Oct. 31, evil spirits will be roaming the earth.

Halloween participants might view commercialization, vandalism, and candy-tampering as modern evil spirits. While pagans protected themselves with glowing jack-o-lanterns and garish costumes designed to frighten witches, ghosts and goblins, today's secular community has more prosaic responses.

One of the best ways to protect children and young adults from 20th century spooks is to follow common-sense safety techniques.

Halloween safety concerns are a No. 1 priority in most people's minds, according to Herbert Lingren, family life specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Safe fun is planned

Several activities designed as alternatives to the traditional trick or treating sessions for area youngsters are being organized in Wayne.

All are open to the public. On Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. at the National Guard Armory costumed youngsters can participate in the annual St. Mary's fun-day.

There'll be games, prizes, candy, and a silent auction for the adults with many valuable gift items including sports tickets, books, sweatshirts and more.

No admission will be charged but some games require a fee to play.

Noisy neighbors

By Tom Mullen
Of the Herald

Residents in the area of Riley's Ballroom have been complaining of loud music and disorderly crowds and Police Chief Vernon Fairchild reported 40 arrests in the nightclub's parking lot since the first of the year.

Riley's is a popular gathering place for young people, but neighbors in that area have been complaining to councilpeople that Riley's 3 a.m. closing time on Friday morning is causing lost sleep and worries of violence. Fairchild noted that the majority of the calls for police happen on Thursday evenings, when Riley's offers music and dancing to the local college students 18 years of age and older, but does not serve alcohol. Included in this year's arrests there were 28 counts of minors in possession of alcohol, four arrests for drunken driving and two for indecent exposure. Fairchild also warned that the late hours are drawing men and women from as far away as Sioux City, including what he referred to as "gang-type of people."

Council directed staff to invite the manager of Riley's to come to the next council meeting and discuss these citizen concerns as several councilpersons stated the complainants may be afraid to step forward.

In a related story, Dale Preston of Wayne Grain and Feed requested the use of East Fairgrounds Avenue and East Second Street for the storage of grain. Council President Darrel Heier noted that the city receives complaints of noise from the feed company's aerating fans which operate throughout the night. Heier wanted to know if any new

Cable cuts phone service

Residents in Wayne and other Northeast Nebraska communities may have gotten a busy signal Thursday when they tried to place long distance telephone calls.

For the second time in a week, a major long distance telephone cable was cut in a construction mishap, leaving a large area of the state without the ability to reach out and touch anyone. Workers severed a fiber optic cable near Schuyler Thursday leaving some Northeast Nebraska telephone customers without long distance service for nearly seven hours. USWest repair crews had scrambled to repair a similar fiber optic cable came in, said Jensen.

THE WAYNE board and its citizen advisory committee has spent months studying the construction needs and formulating plans for the district, said Jensen. He said it was determined early on in the process that a wing addition to the high school with shared facilities was the most economical and practical approach.

Construction on two separate buildings would have cost several million dollars more. In addition, remodeling of the existing Middle School Building was ruled out because of its age, condition and cost of making all parts of the building accessible to handicapped students.

THE BONDING agent hired by the district, Darwin Reider, with Kirkpatrick Pettis in Omaha, told the board this week he thought moving the election up to December would make sense because of the construction cost savings and because of the amount of work the district has already done in studying and preparing the public for a vote on the issue.

He said six weeks would be plenty of time to mount a successful campaign to sell the issue to the voters. Another factor in the decision but one not stated by the board will be a change in the state law in January that says special elections cannot be held in close proximity to primary or general elections.

The school board also spent time Thursday discussing potential committee members and fund raising for the campaign. A committee of interested citizens is being formed to campaign for the bond issue. Those interested should contact the District office at 375-3150.

IF VOTERS APPROVE the bond issue it is anticipated to raise the district levy 40 cents per $100 of valuation. That would mean an additional $200 per year from a property owner with a $50,000 home. Because the plan includes additional space for the high school, the taxpayers in the affiliated rural school districts will also have a say in whether the plan is approved. Their affirmative vote would mean their procuring bids on the equipment.

In an interview between the Herald and City Administrator Joseph Salitros today, Salitros stated that the debt service could be arranged to coincide with the lease payments from NPPD so that the City would have virtually no direct cost nor would there be an electrical rate-hike. "I don't anticipate that taxes would go up approximately 13 cents per $100 or $65 per $50,000 property.

there will be any short term increases," Salitros said. And later stated that, "We haven't had a rate increase since 1983."

In other business, the Council voted to extend a demolition deadline for the fire ravaged Redeemer Lutheran Church until March 15, 1995. The Church requested additional time to find a suitable buyer for the property.

technology was available to remedy this noise problem and Preston answered that they have attempted to reduce the decibel level through the use of bafflers, but that the centrifugal type of fans they use are extremely noisy, and the only way to get rid of most of the noise is to install squirrel cage fans which, "Cost $2,500 more per fan,"

Preston stated.

Mayor Bob Carhart stated, "This reminds ourselves that we are an agricultural community and we're going to have some noise from time to time." Commenting on the expected record grain production this year, Preston said, vice rather than total service outage.

"A crop like this comes once in a lifetime."

"The overall capacity for handling long distance calls from Norfolk, Wayne, Wisner, Madison and some other towns in the area was reduced," Stuhmer told the Omaha World-Herald. "People may have gotten a busy signal."

The event, which has a $1 admission charge, will be held at 904 Circle Drive. Anyone who dresses backwards will receive a special prize.

Also scheduled on Halloween Monday, is the annual WSC Circle K and Kiwanis club Halloween party at the city auditorium from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

For kids four to fourth grade, the party will provide pre-trick or treating games, safe fun and a costume judging contest. There is no admission.

year-old does not mean that the 10-year-old is responsible and safe," Lingren noted. "It's better if a parent goes along."

Lingren also recommended investigating how the local community celebrates Halloween. Local media likely will be full of suggestions ranging from haunted houses, community parties, parades and pageants.

"Participating in these activities may be a lot more valuable and fun than trick or treating for candy," Lingren added.

Holding a private celebration, or participating in a community event, also places the child in a safer environment with adult supervision and a monitored candy supply. Holding a private party provides a similar sense of security.

People who do choose to send trick or treaters out door-to-door need to make sure that they inspect the candy. Be on guard against ripped candy wrappers, suspicious-looking treats and sharp objects.

DRIVERS NEED to watch out for trick-or-treaters. Do not send anyone out into a dark, poorly lit area. Small children should be home by nightfall.

If buying a costume, make sure it has reflective tape and is flame retardant. Masks need to be easy to remove and easy to breathe through. Face paints are an inexpensive and safe alternative to masks.

Emphasizing the fun side of Halloween is important, too. "Encourage children to learn fun, simple tricks if they're out trick or treating," explained the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist. Tricks such as making coins "magically" disappear, juggling, or fortune-telling, are all examples of fun, safe activities, Lingren said.

Family outings and traditions are other ways to celebrate the holiday, added Lingren. Decorating the home together, apple-picking and pumpkin carving can all be made into family events that encourage a sense of tradition and provide important memories.

Auxiliary honors Benthack

The Wayne Hospital Auxiliary Bazaar will be held in memory of Dr. Robert Benthack, physician for the Wayne community for many years and a strong supporter of the auxiliary and its projects.

The doors at the Wayne city auditorium will open at 10:30 a.m. on Nov. 3 with rolls and coffee being served. A soup, sandwich and pie luncheon will be available beginning at 11 a.m. A tavern plate supper will be served from 4 to 7 p.m. Co-chairpersons for the kitchen are Louise Jenness and Lois Hall.

A general store, consisting of baked items, candy, jams and jellies, farm produce, etc., will be open from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. Co-chairpersons are Luella Marra and Donna Schumacher. Anyone wishing to donate items may bring them to the auditorium after 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 2 or after 9 a.m.

on Nov. 3. The white elephant department has been discontinued.

A drawing will be held for a queen size quilt, an antique rocker, a porcelain doll and a woodcarved Santa. These items were donated by the Piecemakers Club, Louise Jenness, Donna Schumacher, Luella Marra, Gail Korn and the Auxiliary. Drawing chairpersons are Elda Jones and Laverna Hilton. The drawings will be held at 7 p.m.

Ticket chairpersons are Marilyn Carhart and Vicki Pick. Leah Jean Miller is chairperson of memberships and donations.

The Auxiliary has recently purchased a vacuum cleaner for the housekeeping department and assisted in the purchase of a computer for a total of $4,000. All proceeds from the bazaar will be used to purchase equipment for Providence Medical Center.

You get more for your money when you buy at home . . .

It is simple logic. Home area businesses give you the same or equivalent goods at the same or better prices with far less traveling time, cost and highway hazards.

And part of their profit on every deal with you is used to help you pay local taxes and to support all other good and useful community activities.

Wakefield Family Resource Center Board is formed to oversee day care

Through the continued efforts of the START committee, a board of directors has been recruited to create a community non-profit organization called the "Wakefield Family Resource Center."

This board will facilitate the transfer of the Waldbaum's Humpty Dumpty Day Care, which is located in the former Wakefield High School Building, to the community. The board will also oversee the management of the Day Care and other family oriented programs or resources that can be offered at the site.

The new board members are Rev. Susan Banholzer, Leanne Hansen, Kathy Skinner, Colleen Bressler, Marcia Henderson, Rick Puls, Iris Larson and Lynda Cruickshank of Wakefield; Jan Dyer, Jill Woodward and Rhonda Lutt of Wayne and Linda Steinman of Emerson. Not on the board, but assisting with the process of incorporation is attorney Laura Barelman of Wakefield.

The board has met twice to review a potential constitution and to set in motion the paperwork necessary to receive the 501-c3 non-profit status. Representatives of this new board have also met with the Wakefield Senior Center board to ensure that the Senior Center will continue to use the facility and also be open to working with some of the programs at the Day Care.

Take precautions when installing new carpet

As the weather turns colder, we inevitably begin shutting up the house and turning on the heat again. With the doors and windows closed you may need to be more concerned about your indoor air quality. In 1992 the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced a comprehensive program to address both sources of indoor air pollution as well as building systems that affect indoor air quality. Carpet is one of the products which has received significant attention.

The EPA conducted a year long "dialogue" with carpet floor covering industries, unions, public interest groups and other federal agencies to explore ways of reducing the emission of volatile organic compounds (VOCs) from new carpet and related installation materials, such as carpet cushions and adhesives. The dialogue was initiated as a pollution prevention program following complaints that carpet was causing health problems for some individuals even though an evaluation of available data failed to establish a cause and effect relationship between carpet emissions and reported symptoms. As a result of this voluntary process, the carpet industry agreed to test new carpet floor covering materials for total VOC emissions and is exploring ways of lowering emission of VOCs from carpet products.

When installing new carpet, the following precautions are suggested:

- Talk to your carpet retailer. Ask for information on emissions from carpet.
- Ask the retailer to unroll and air out the carpet in a well-ventilated area before installation.
- Ask for low-emitting adhesives

Cooperative Extension
 Lynda Cruickshank
 Wayne County

if adhesives are needed.
 •Consider leaving the premises during and immediately after carpet installation. You may wish to schedule the installation when most family members or office workers are out.

•Be sure the retailer required the installer to follow the Carpet and Rug Institute's installation guidelines:

- Open doors and windows. Increasing the amount of fresh air in the home will reduce exposure to most chemicals released from the carpet. During and after installation, use window fans and room air conditioners to exhaust fumes to the outdoors. If you have a ventilation system, be sure it is in proper working order. Operate it during installation and keep it running for 48 to 72 hours after the new carpet is installed.

- Contact your carpet retailer if objectionable odors persist.
- Follow the manufacturer's instructions for proper carpet maintenance.

For more information on indoor air pollution, call IAQ INFO at 1-800-433-4318.

Organization holds fall achievement program

Fifty members and guests attended the 1994 Wayne County Family and Community Education (FCE) Fall Achievement Program at 7:30 p.m. in the Carroll City Auditorium. Lynda Cruickshank, Extension Educator, welcomed the group and led the FCE Creed.

Addie Scheve, Norfolk, gave the audience a dose of wisdom and humor in her program, "He Says It With Flowers." The program was highlighted with a slide presentation and poetry from her book entitled "He Says It With Flowers."

Members of the 1994 Council were presented recognition certificates by Cruickshank. They were Mindy Lutt, chair; Sandra Wriedt, chair elect; Margaret Kenny, secretary; Mary Nichols, treasurer; Kathy Rutenbeck and Barb Greve, county fair co-chairs; and club presidents Deb Garwood, Loreene Gildersleeve, Imogene Brasch, Susie Polenske, Dorothy Rees, Lee Larsen, Lois Lage and Sandra Nichols.

Three M's Club was acknowledged for exhibiting the champion club booth at county fair and for having the highest percentage of members exhibiting at county fair. Star Club received honorable mention for second highest percentage of members exhibiting at county fair. Other clubs receiving awards were Homemakers T'n'T for most (four) new members during year and Next Generation with (three) new members. The award for the highest percentage of members attending state convention went to We Few Club with Three M's and Monday Mrs. receiving honorable mention.

Mindy Lutt and Sandra Wriedt assisted Cruickshank in presenting membership certificates as follows: five years - June Koester and Dorothy Isom; 10 years - Pearl Benjamin, Marian Clark, Dorrine Liedman and Barbara Meyer; 15 years - Marcella Larson; 20 years - Sharon Olson and Sandra Wriedt; 35 years - Ruth Fleer; and 40 years - Barbara Sievers.

This was the final achievement program for Wayne County FCE. After 59 years of club work and community projects, the Wayne County FCE Council members decided not to continue their affiliation with the state and national FCE organization. The council moved to disburse the balance of the treasury to three of their favorite projects. FCE Council funds are being donated to the Wayne Senior Center/Library Fund, the Wayne Care Centre Aviary and the Wayne County Ag Society (designated for improvements to Ag Hall). The donations were accepted by Georgia Janssen, Susie Siefken and Kathy Rutenbeck and Barb Greve respectively.

A salad luncheon was served at the close of the evening. Planning committee for the event was Lois Lage, Dorothy Rees and Imogene Brasch.

3 M's FCE Club acknowledges awards from Fall Achievement

Lanora Sorensen, health and safety leader, read an article on "Replace Old Diet Habits After 50." Kathleen Johs, Literacy Links leader, showed photos of the Literacy Links book booth at the county fair. Lee Larsen reported that the 77 books collected at the booth went to Head Start and Rainbow World.

Trees require preparation for ravages of winter

Trees are just as vulnerable to winter's ravages as other plant life. Preparing trees for the harsh months ahead should involve more than simply raking leaves, a University of Nebraska-Lincoln forester said.

Gary Hergenrader, Nebraska state forester and an Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources faculty member, said there are several measures that can help protect trees from winter damage.

Trees that suffer through dry periods in late summer or fall are especially prone to winter injury. Hergenrader said trees need about an inch of rainfall per week, on average. If dry weather persists, as it did in the Nebraska Panhandle this summer, trees should be thoroughly watered every 2 to 3 weeks starting in late summer or early fall, the forester said.

Trees should be watered heavily enough so the soil around them is saturated, Hergenrader said. Watering should continue at 2 to 3 week intervals until adequate rainfall is received or the first freeze occurs. Even if trees are losing their leaves and appear dormant, their root systems remain active until soil temperatures drop below 40 degrees Fahrenheit, Hergenrader said.

Mulching also will help trees survive the winter. Placing an insulating layer of wood chips around the base of trees will help preserve soil moisture and partially protect against winter burn on foliage and twigs. Mulching also can help prevent root damage from rapid soil temperature changes, Hergenrader said.

Newly planted trees are especially vulnerable to winter damage, particularly winter sunscald. As Hergenrader explained, winter sunscald occurs when the air temperature is below freezing and young trees are heated on one side by the sun's rays. That side will expand and begin to lose moisture through its bark. The bark may peel off and the trunk may split if the tree is exposed too long. Wrapping the trunks of new trees, especially thin-barked trees, can help prevent winter sunscald damage, Hergenrader said.

Hergenrader also recommended that no pruning should take place until the tree was completely dormant. Pruning at other times of the year can leave the tree exposed to disease through the wound. In winter, however, the tree is inactive and diseases have a hard time becoming established. Also, most diseases themselves are inactive during winter, Hergenrader said.

Wakefield minister accepts call to Illinois

Tim and Terri Gilliland and family will be moving from Wakefield this weekend to Burnside, Ill. They have accepted a call to serve the Burnside Christian Church.

While serving the Wakefield Christian Church, going on five years as a team ministry in word and music, the church has experienced growth in all areas. They have contributed their musical talents in the local and surrounding areas, as well as becoming involved in community and school programs.

Tim will be preaching his final sermon on Sunday, Oct. 30 at 10:30 a.m. The Gilliland Family Singers, a relatively new ensemble, will be sharing their singing talents.

An all-church fellowship dinner will follow the morning service. Wakefield Christian Church gives a special invitation to friends of the Gillilands to worship with them on this special farewell service.

Nearly 5,000 men stand and join in prayer at the Promise Keepers conference in the Aksarben Arena in Omaha.

Several Wayne men attend PK conference

By Stacey Schaller
For the Herald

The stadium is full. Men charged with spirit line the bleachers awaiting the opening moment.

A man steps out from the sidelines and the cheering nearly raises the roof.

Sound like a super bowl game? It's not.

This is the Promise Keepers conference.

Promise Keepers, dubbed PK, is a Christian organization dedicated to helping men get serious about their spiritual lives and their family responsibilities. PK is not a political or social movement, but a movement of Christian men dedicating themselves to keeping their promises to God and to their families.

On Friday, Oct. 21 about 5,000 Nebraska men, including scores from Northeast Nebraska, met in the Aksarben Arena in Omaha for the PKs of Nebraska Rally. Smaller than the national conference held each year in Boulder, Colo., the Nebraska rally was to encourage area men to become involved.

Men of all Christian denominations actively participated in praise and worship music interspersed throughout the evening.

Special speakers included Tim Burke, a retired New York Mets pitcher, and Dr. Charles Cooper, pastor of Hope Community Church in Chicago. Burke exhorted the men to be accessible to their families. Dr. Burke explained that God wants to extend His grace to anyone who will receive it.

Of those attending, over 30 came from the Wayne area. Bob Zetocha, a staff member of Wayne State College, organized a group of men from the Wayne Churches to attend. He serves as the local coordinator between the PK organization and the community.

Zetocha said he was very excited about Promise Keepers after attending his first PK conference a couple years ago.

"Promise Keepers is a Christ centered ministry. It's intent is to glorify God through Jesus Christ, to strengthen relationships... to break down racial barriers and to encourage men to work more in their churches," said Zetocha. He pointed out that the Nebraska rally was to encourage men to attend next year's national conference.

PK has met phenomenal growth since its inconspicuous beginning in 1990. Forty-two men met at the first conference. In 1991 4,000 men attended. In 1992 there were 22,000 and last year 50,000 attended.

According to Citizen magazine, published by Focus on the Family, 233,600 men met at the six nationwide conference locations this year.

"The PK staff hopes to reach 800,000 men in 12 to 14 conferences next year," said Diane Kasselberg, columnist for Citizen.

The final Promise Keepers national conference for 1994 is being held this weekend in Irving, Texas. Another PK Nebraska rally will be held at Aksarben in April 1995. For additional information about Promise Keepers, contact Bob Zetocha, 375-2623.

SPONSORS PROJECT

The Wakefield/Lions Club will once again be sponsoring its annual Christmas project for disadvantaged families. The Lions will be distributing food, new toys and used clothing and toys to those in need within the community.

A small change from past years is that the used clothing and toys should be left at the Midwest Disaster Relief room in the basement of the former hospital building. Entrance to the area is the west door along the driveway to the rear of the Wakefield Health Care Center.

Monetary donations should be sent to Larry Clay, treasurer of the Wakefield Lions Club. They may also be left with any Lions Club member.

The Lions also continue to collect used eyeglasses. The eyeglasses are recycled in various ways. Funds received from the meltdown of certain metals are used to purchase eyeglasses for children in the community who otherwise couldn't afford them.

Blue Devils end year with 6-3 record Wayne blasts Pierce, 22-3

The Wayne football team ended a long dry spell when they defeated Pierce, Thursday in Pierce, 22-3. The Blue Devils capped an incredible season by going 6-3 after suffering through a disappointing 1-8 season last year.

"We gave a tremendous team effort against Pierce and really all season long," Wayne coach Lonnie Ehrhardt said. "Our defense really stood out Thursday night."

Wayne forced five Pierce turnovers and blocked a punt. Anders Lundsgaard started the scoring for Wayne with a 27-yard field goal and quarterback Ryan Pick gave the visitors a 9-0 lead with a 1-yard run late in the first quarter.

Pierce scored its line points in the second stanza on a 47-yard field goal. The Blue Devils closed out the scoring in the third quarter with a pair of Josh Starzl touchdowns. The first came on a 45-yard screen pass from Pick and the second came on a seven-yard run.

Wayne's defense shut down everything Pierce tried to do as they held the Bluejays to just 72 yards on the ground and 57 through the air. Wayne, meanwhile, tallied 271 total yards with 163 on the ground and 108 through the air.

Dusty Jensen played his final game as a Blue Devil and rushed for 96 yards on 24 carries while Josh Starzl had 54 yards on 13 attempts. Ryan Pick was 7-18 with one interception and 108 yards while Jason Carr caught three passes for 25 yards to lead the receiving corp. Josh Starzl had two receptions for 53 yards.

Defensively, the Blue Devils were led by Jeremiah Rethwisch with 12 tackles while Dusty Jensen and Josh Starzl had 11 each with Starzl also blocking a punt. Jeremy Beckenhauer had nine tackles while Jeff Hamer had eight and Nate Salmon had eight each. Jason Starzl, Scott Sievers and Brent Geiger finished with six tackles each.

Jason Starzl had an interception and a fumble recovery while Jason Zulkosky had an interception. Jason Carr notched two interceptions.

Wayne's turnaround from 1-8 to 6-3 is a remarkable gain according to Ehrhardt. "Our kids deserve a lot of credit and they've worked very hard for the success they've had this season," Ehrhardt said.

As it turns out, Wayne's upset loss to West Point in triple overtime on Homecoming, turned out to be the game that kept the Blue Devils from making the state playoffs.

Winside falls in conference play

WINSIDE-The Winside volleyball team was defeated by Newcastle in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference Volleyball Tournament last Monday in Coleridge.

The Wildcats won the first game, 15-4 but fell 10-15, 8-15 in the next two games. "We were caught off guard a little bit," Winside coach Lisa Schroeder said. "There were numerous times when Newcastle returned the ball over to our side of the net on the second hit instead of setting it up and spiking it and were just caught flat-footed."

Winside trailed Newcastle by an 11-0 margin in the second game before rallying back to make a game of it. "We played such a good first game that I think we got a little complacent," Schroeder said.

Wendy Miller led the servers with six aces on 11 of 12 attempts while Mindi Maroz was 10-10 with four aces. Monica Sievers was 8-8 with three aces and Emily Deck was 8-8 with two aces.

Emily Deck was 31-34 in setting with nine aces while Stacy Bowers was 27-28 with eight aces. Wendy Miller led a balanced hitting attack with eight kill spikes on 16 of 21 attempts. Sarah Painter was 13-16 with seven kills and Jodi Miller was 9-11 with six kills while Tammy Thies was 11-15 with six ace hits.

The 10-7 Wildcats will play Walhalla in the first round of sub-districts on Monday night in Bancroft.

Allen beaten in first round

ALLEN-The Allen volleyball team fell to 3-14 after losing to Bancroft-Rosalie in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference volleyball tournament last Monday, 7-15, 9-15.

Eagles coach Rachelle Borg said her team didn't play very aggressively at the net which was a contributing factor in Allen's demise against the top seeded Panthers.

Abbey Schroeder led Allen with six points on eight of nine attempts and two aces while Tanya Plueger was 5-5 with three aces and four points. Deb Plueger was 8-8 with two aces and four points and Jamie Mitchell was 3-3 with one ace and three points.

The setting crew was led by Deb Plueger with four aces while Andrea McGrath had three. Schroeder finished with two kill spikes as did Tanya Plueger while Mitchell had one.

Allen will play Winnebago in the bunny-bracket of Monday's sub-district tournament in Bancroft with the winner playing the best team.

Wildcats thump Newcastle in Dakota Dome

Winside earns playoff berth

The Winside football team is state playoff bound for the first time in 11 years after a 56-18 thrashing of state rated Newcastle in the regular season finale, Wednesday night in the Dakota Dome in Vermillion, S.D.

Randy Geier's troops knew they were in a must win situation and the Wildcats delivered with a defensive effort that scored three touchdowns. "Obviously this was a big win for our program," Geier said. "Our kids worked very hard in the short week of practice that we had before this Newcastle."

The Winside coach said his squad played inspired defense and the team stayed very focused. "It really was a complete team effort," Geier said.

Jaimie Holdorf got things started for Winside with a 36-yard punt return for a touchdown in the first quarter but Newcastle came right back and scored on a 24-yard pass to tie the game.

Josh Jaeger intercepted a Newcastle pass later in the opening stanza and returned it 14 yards for a touchdown with quarterback Robert Wittler hitting Holdorf for the two-point conversion and a 14-6 lead.

Newcastle bounced right back, however and scored on the ensuing kickoff as Charles Kneif rambled 75 yards to paydirt but Winside closed out the first quarter scoring on a 27-yard run by Robert Wittler with Wittler hitting Jason Wylie with the two-point conversion.

The Wildcats scored two touchdowns and a safety in the second quarter as Lonnie Grothe plunged over from four yards out while Jayme Shelton tackled the Newcastle quarterback in the endzone after he caught his own pass that was deflected.

Holdorf intercepted a Newcastle pass on the next possession and sprinted 37 yards into the endzone and Wittler ran for the two-point conversion to give the Wildcats a 38-12 halftime cushion.

Winside scored first in the third quarter as Wittler connected with Holdorf on a 30-yard scoring pass and Wittler converted the two-point attempt on his own for a 46-12 advantage.

Newcastle's final score came on a one-yard run by Kneif in the third quarter and Winside's final score came on a 19-yard interception return for a score by Jason Wylie in the fourth quarter with Wittler hitting Jayme Shelton for the two-point conversion.

The statistics reveal a much closer game than the score indicated as Newcastle edged Winside in total yards, 195-194. Colby Jensen ran for 28 yards on 13 carries while Lonnie Grothe garnered 27 yards on five carries before leaving the game in the second quarter after suffering a lower leg bruise on his four-yard touchdown run.

Wittler was 7-13 with one interception in the passing department for 125 yards with Holdorf being his favorite target with three receptions for 94 yards.

Defensively, Josh Jaeger led the way with 10 tackles and an interception while Jason Wylie and Jaimie Holdorf had nine tackles each with both garnering interceptions. Jeff Bruggeman had nine tackles and Dave Paulsen had eight and Joe Schwedhelm, six.

"Joe Schwedhelm really did a nice job of playing defense coming off the bench to replace Lonnie after he got hurt," Geier said.

"Making the playoffs is really nice," the Winside mentor said. "We've had such great fan support all year long and this is a nice reward for them as well as our players."

There was no scoring in the third period but Creighton got on the board in the fourth quarter on a four-yard run but Laurel scored once more on a 72-yard run by Mark Patefield to close out the game at 57-6.

"We did what we had to do in the first half and I was pleased with the way we executed," coach Tom Luxford said. "We didn't come out flat like we did against Plainview last week."

Wakefield defeated in double overtime

Dennis Wilbur's Wakefield football team went into Thursday night's game at home with Stanton pretty much knowing if they won they were in the playoffs.

Stanton, however, came in to the contest with the role of playing spoiler as the Mustangs had nothing to lose with a 3-5 record. The issue was not decided until the end of double overtime and when the dust finally settled it was the spoiler's who went home victorious with a 26-25 Mustang win. "This is probably the toughest loss I've ever had as a coach," Wilbur said. "You feel so bad for the kids."

The game came down to the last play as Wakefield scored a touchdown in the second overtime to pull the Trojans with in a point of Stanton. "We made the decision we were going to end the game and go for two," Wilbur said. "We called our best play which is a pitch to Cory Brown and it just came up short."

Wakefield scored first in the game on a four-yard run by Brown who also converted the point after kick. Stanton came right back and scored on a 59-yard pass play but the point after attempt failed.

Matt Kucera came up on the receiving end of a 19-yard scoring pass from Justin Dutcher in the second quarter but the point after attempt failed. On Stanton's next possession they scored off a one-yard run and the point after was successful to tie the game at 13.

The game remained deadlocked until the end of regulation, forcing overtime. In the first overtime Wakefield got the ball first and had to score on a 16-yard pass from Dutcher to Matt Peterson despite starting the overtime on the 10-yard line.

The point after attempt was mishandled. Stanton came back and scored on a 10-yard pass and its point after kick was missed as well, forcing a second overtime.

The Mustangs scored again on a 10-yard pass and this time they converted the point after kick. Wakefield scored its second overtime touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Dutcher to Mike Rischmueller.

"It was a great football game," Wilbur said. "Both teams had chances to win the game in regulation and didn't."

Cory Brown racked up 161 yards rushing on 31 carries in his final game as a Trojan while Justin Dutcher was 13-30 with four interceptions and 182 yards.

Mike Rischmueller was the top receiver with four catches for 49 yards while Matt Peterson had three for 60 and Matt Kucera had three for 48. Defensively, Wakefield was led by Brown with 18 tackles while Justin Mackling had 14 and Lance Jacobsen, 10 with a fumble recovery. Shaun Bach also had a fumble recovery while Dutcher and Peterson had interceptions.

"We had a great year," Wilbur said. "Nobody expected us to be where we're at, to be in a position to be in the playoffs. It was a great year." Wakefield finished the season with a 6-3 record.

Laurel suffers first volleyball setback in NENAC finals

Patti Cunningham's Laurel volleyball team suffered their first loss of the 1994 season in the final match before sub-districts begin on Tuesday.

Laurel defeated Crofton and Pierce in the first two rounds of the NENAC Conference Volleyball Tournament before falling to Creighton in the championship match.

All of the Bears matches were played in Crofton. Against Crofton in the first match Laurel won in straight games, 15-12, 15-11. Katie Newton led the servers with a perfect 14-14 performance and three aces while Becky Schroeder was 9-11 with one ace.

Gina Monson was 45-46 in setting with 13 aces while Tracy Ankeny paced the offensive attack with 10 kill spikes on 16 of 20 attempts. Megan Adkins was 4-4 with two kill spikes and Heather Cunningham was 7-10 with one ace hit.

Schroeder led the team in defense with three ace blocks while Ankeny had two. "We were down 12-3 in the first game and came back and won," Cunningham said. "We've been getting off to slow starts lately and we can't afford to keep doing that."

In the Pierce match the Bears lost the first game, 14-16 before coming back and winning the next two, 15-7, 15-7 to claim the match and a berth in the championship match.

Becky Schroeder led the team in setting at 15-16 with five aces while Megan Adkins was 17-19 with five aces. Gina Monson was a perfect 52-52 in setting with 17 aces while Tracy Ankeny led the hitting department again with 10 kill spikes on 20 of 23 attempts.

Heather Cunningham was 9-11 with five aces and Becky Schroeder was 12-12 with three ace hits. Schroeder led the team in defense with four ace blocks while Ankeny had two and Cunningham, one.

"Again, we got off to a slow start," Cunningham said. "In the second and third games, however, I felt we got back on track and controlled things."

In the championship game the Bears slow start cost them the match as Creighton blasted them, 15-2. The second game was close throughout but Laurel fell by a 15-13 margin leaving the Bears with a 16-1 record heading into sub-district play on Tuesday.

"I really felt that we were our own worst enemy in this match," Cunningham said. "We just didn't play together well." Tracy Ankeny was the leading server for Laurel at 11-11 while Megan Adkins was 4-6.

Gina Monson was 51 of 53 in setting with 17 assists while Heather Cunningham led the hitters with seven kill spikes while Ankeny had six and Adkins, five.

Laurel will play Ponca in the first round of sub-districts, Tuesday at 6 p.m.

 Section 1. That Chapter 10, Article 4, Section 433 of the Municipal Code of Wayne, Nebraska, is hereby amended to read as follows:
*10-433 TRAILERS; AUTHORIZED CAMP.
 Trailer camps shall be located on well-drained sites, and shall be so located that drainage will not endanger any water supply. All such trailer camps shall be in areas free from marshes, swamps, or other potential breeding places for insects or rodents. The area of the trailer camp shall be large enough to accommodate the following:
 1. The designated number of trailer court spaces.
 2. Necessary streets and roadways.
 3. Parking areas for motor vehicles.
 4. Service areas and playgrounds for trailer camps in which independent trailer coaches only are parked.
 The number of trailers to be accommodated in any trailer camp shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the total square foot area of the trailer camp site by four thousand (4,000). Each trailer space shall be clearly defined and shall be laid out in such a manner that a minimum of fourteen (14) feet of space exists between any two (2) trailers or ten (10) feet between any trailer and any building. No trailers shall be less than seven (7) feet from any property adjacent to and outside of the trailer court. Each trailer space shall abut on a driveway with unobstructed access to a public street. No trailer camp shall be licensed unless the same is large enough to accommodate a minimum of fifteen (15) trailers.
 It shall be illegal to park a trailer coach less than twenty-five (25) feet from any public street or highway right-of-way, or so that any part of such trailer will obstruct any roadway or walkway.
 It shall be illegal to allow any trailer coach to remain while being occupied for dwelling or sleeping purposes in a trailer camp unless a trailer space is available.
 Access roads shall be provided to each trailer coach space. Each access road shall be continuous, shall connect with a street or highway, and shall have a minimum width of twenty (20) feet.
 Areas shall be provided for the parking of motor vehicles. Such areas shall have motor vehicle parking spaces in a number equal to or in excess of the number of trailer coach spaces provided.
 Playground areas, when required, shall be provided, and shall be restricted to such use. These areas shall be protected from the main highway and from parking areas. A minimum of one hundred (100) square feet per coach space shall be made available in one (1) or more places for such playground areas.
 Section 2. That the original Section 10-433 and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby amended and repealed.

Dr. Don Zeiss, High School Principal

This is the first of a series of articles discussing PASS - Parents Assuring Student Success! This program was developed by Dr. John R. Ban, a professor of education at Indiana University Northwest in Gary, Indiana. The program is designed to support parents in improving their child's education by providing them with ideas and resources to teach their children study skills.

Study Tips for Parents

TIP 1: Practice

It takes practice to learn how to study. And practice takes time. Time needs to be set aside for a child to practice a study skill. Practice involves mental and physical effort. The more children practice a study skill, the faster they will become good at it.

TIP 2: Routine

Good students make it a habit to study; they build it into their daily lives. Studying is easier when it becomes a part of a child's routine. Students who do not study regularly seldom excel in school.

TIP 3: Environment

Studying is more effective when the physical environment supports mental work. A productive study site requires proper lighting, ventilation, temperature, furniture, solitude and learning supplies. These conditions heighten the mood for learning.

TIP 4: A Child's Health

Studying and learning rest on a healthy mind and body. A child will be unable to handle the rigors of mental work if he or she is not in good health. Schoolwork demands good vision and hearing. It also requires proper rest, a healthy diet and adequate exercise.

TIP 5: Attitude

Children will not apply themselves to schoolwork unless they believe it is important. Their attitude toward learning determines what kind of students they are going to be. The home attitude is a critical factor in a child's school attitude. Once children believe they can become successful students and receive this message from those around them, they will be more eager to practice those study skills that enable them to learn.

TIP 6: Encouragement and Support

A pat on the back, either for effort or performance, does wonders for children. It is a powerful motivator. Kids learn more when they routinely receive encouragement from their parents. Rudolf Dreikurs warns us that "Children need encouragement like plants need water." Again: children will perform better in school when their parents support them in their studies.

TIP 7: Memory and Thinking

Learning is not only memorizing facts. It is also making sense out of those facts. It is drawing relationships, understanding principles and finding meaning in what is studied. Studying any topic should always include both memorizing information and reflecting on that information.

From the Desk of the Superintendent - Dennis Jensen

The Wayne School District has been following a plan of improvement or restructuring since 1992. The plan has incorporated all aspects of the K-12 services offered by the district from curriculum to buildings and grounds. The district is committed to ongoing improvement and has invested many hours in long and short term planning in order to efficiently meet specific goals. The activities that follow serve as a few examples of the level of commitment the district has had in restructuring and curriculum improvement.

In July of 1992, the Board of Education challenged the administration to bring the district up-to-date in technology. This challenge was not answered by purchasing computers in a willy-nilly fashion, rather a technology committee was organized comprised of 30 citizens throughout the community. In fact, at one of the technology committee meetings held on the campus of Wayne State College, experts from the state level were in attendance to help with short and long term planning to establish a strong technology program within the Wayne Community Schools. By October of 1992, the committee had developed a vision statement, a hardware purchasing philosophy and a K-12 guideline for software application and the Board of Education adopted the plan at the October meeting. The district is still following the guidelines set by the committee; we have been fortunate in being able to meet many of the long range goals sooner than anticipated. The vision statement and plan established by the technology committee will need to be revisited and another committee organized to set a new direction.

The Board of Education was also very concerned with the district offering a curriculum concurrent with the needs of the children of today. A second committee of citizens was organized for the purpose of reviewing research on education and setting a new vision for appropriately serving the children of the district. After two meetings in the fall of 1992 with the general-public in which volunteers were sought, a committee was organized of 35 people representing a cross-section of the community. The vision committee met throughout the 1992-93 school year and formulated a district-wide vision statement: "The Wayne Public School District, working with the families and communities it serves, is committed to educational excellence for all students, promoting creativity and a love of learning within a caring and secure environment." This committee also recommended to the Board of Education seven general goals for graduation that were adopted with the vision statement in May of 1993.

The work of this committee serves as the overall vision for the district in all budgeting and curriculum processes. The work started by this committee continues today with an ongoing procedure of analyzing how the district is performing and improving methodologies in the classroom through the staff development program. The district is moving forward to form a staff development program focusing on teacher and student needs requiring involvement and commitment of both teachers and administrators rather than bringing in speakers for 'one-shot' awareness programs with no follow through or support.

The administration has also valued the opinions of the staff and faculty on issues concerning the district and education. Annually, the staff is asked to respond to a survey regarding building needs, curriculum needs, equipment needs, supply and material needs and suggested board policy. The surveys are reviewed and compiled and a list of district priorities is developed and shared with the Board. This process has resulted in many curricular changes with a major emphasis on having students apply what they learn — not just memorization of facts. As a result of this process, in 1993, a grid was developed of short and long term goals which will remain in place until all goals have been reached or redirected.

Again, the budgeting process for each new year is dictated by these long and short term goals. One topic discussed at the board candidate interview was the condition of the track; the district has been working on a time table for the resurfacing of the track but the issue became more complex due to accessibility concerns district-wide, the building project, and revenue limitations. A timetable for resurfacing the track can be made more specific after the building project issue has been resolved. The district has been in a process of short and long term planning for the past two and one-half years and the plans developed through the input of many people are being put into practice.

Communications is another major area the district has been active in over the past two years. More communication and better communication is a goal of any organization including a school district, but it would be wrong to conclude that this district or administration has not been open to promoting communication. The district has sponsored the following activities in attempting to communicate with the community: monthly newsletters in the paper; twice a month radio shows promoting school projects; town meetings in the lecture hall in Wayne and in the lunch room in Carroll; meetings with various groups within the district including Kiwanis, Rotary, Wayne Chamber of Commerce; ministerial association; PEO; Wayne Elementary Boosters; various presentations at Wayne State College; work with citizen 3 groups; a pamphlet disbursed to businesses throughout the communities; and, a flyer describing the district budget in a nutshell. This district has a fairly aggressive program in communicating with the public with another new venture beginning soon; the local cable company has offered the district a half hour slot a month for the purpose of relaying school news. The exciting part of this project is it will be totally produced by high school students in their own studio with equipment very few other schools can offer students.

In my opinion, the district is sincerely committed to continually improving our collective skills for the betterment of our children and our future.

Volunteers Needed

The elementary school over the years has done an excellent job utilizing volunteer aids in a variety of activities. Thanks to WEB, Mr. Lutt, elementary teachers and volunteer parents many students have benefited in a variety of ways employing volunteers in our elementary school.

Using this program as a model, Wayne Middle and High School are starting a process to use volunteers in the schools. Deb Morlok will be coordinating the program in both buildings. Deb has worked with this type of program in the past and has graciously volunteered her time to coordinate activities in both buildings. What we need now are individuals willing to volunteer their time helping teachers and students. Activities individuals may help with include: working with students, correcting papers, computer activities, monitoring after school study halls, making bulletin boards and many others educational activities.

The type of work is up to the individual who is willing to help with the program. Individuals may choose to work in either building. The amount of time is up to each person and may be as little as one hour per week. Our school is very excited to have Deb Morlok coordinate this new venture. If you are interested in helping with this program please contact Bob Uhing at 375-2230. If you are undecided and have questions about the program please feel free to call.

Middle School

Richard Metteer, Principal

Please note the schedule for Parent-Teacher Conferences on Nov. 8, 10 and 11. It is not possible to schedule each parent for conferences because of the large number of parents each teacher must meet and the number of teachers that are shared with high school. Student Council members will be present to assist parents in finding rooms and teachers. Report cards can be turned in to the office after conferences are completed.

Basketball practice for seventh and eighth grade boys and girls will begin in early November. Due to the lack of gym space, the practices will be held at 6:30 a.m. in the high school gym. Most of their home games will be played in the City Auditorium.
