Voter turnout buoyed by races for senate, school

By Les Mann Of the Herald

Predicting a heavier turnout than in the May primary, Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn still said countians probably wouldn't go to the polls Tuesday in numbers greater than during presidential election years. Interest in the U.S. Senate race between Jan Stoney and Bob Kerrey as well as the school board race in Wayne have increased the number of requests for absentee ballots, she said. To date more than 150 voters have already cast their ballots in the county through the absentee pro-

She said she gets an indication of what issues and races are important to voters when they come in for absentee ballots.

"They usually don't tell us which way they voted, but they frequently tell us which race they don't want to miss casting a ballot on," she explained

She said the number of absentee ballots cast so far is above normal non-presidential election years Strong campaigns in a couple of city wards have generated additional interest in the election, she said. Prior to the registration deadline, over a fourth of the voter registration activity for the entire county came out of the first ward in Wayne, she said.

There candidates Verdel Lutt and Incumbent Darrel Heier have been running door to door campaigns and that gets people thinking about getting registered, changing their addresses or their party affiliations, she said.

Mrs. Finn is hoping for a voter turnout of over 60 percent on Tuesday. Weather is not supposed to be a hindrance and farmers should not be behind on harvest activities so they would be reluctant to take the time off to vote, she said. The same polling places and polling hours will be in place in the county this fall as were in place in the spring. Maps and sample ballots are included in today's Wayne Her-

One question which she said she has been asked frequently is if affili-

Yielding a storage problem

Crews at Wayne Grain and Feed are displaying what happens when area grain storage facilities have a capacity to store a 100 bushel per acre crop but the county farmers average over 150 bushels per acre. For a time the excess corn will be stored on the ground on East Second Street and Fairgrounds Avenue until it can be transported out. Nearly every bin in the county is full and there's much of the crop stored on the ground as the bumper harvest nears completion.

Candidates want your votes

Local candidates campaigning in contested races for school board and city, council have only one more weekend to line up votes for next Tuesday's General Election.

While many local races were either decided in the May primary or have gone uncontested throughout the election year, two city council seats and three positions on the Wayne School board are being contested and have generated a consid-erable amount of voter interest, according to County Clerk Deb Finn.

City voters in Wards 1 and 3 will have choices to make. Sheryl Lindau is running unopposed for mayor of Wayne after current Mayor Bob Carhart decided not to seek reelection. Melvin Utecht is unopposed for a second ward council seat being vacated by Pat Prather. Patty Wieland in unopposed in her reelection bid in the Fourth Ward.

Incumbent Darrel Heier faces a challenge from Verdel Lutt for his First Ward council seat and in the Third Ward, Lois Shelton and Dan Zulkosky are vying for the seat to be vacated by Mrs. Lindau's move to the mayor's office. Six candidates remain in the run-

Dennis Lipp and Bob Dyer. An overview of the candidates involved in contested races follows:

City Council

Verdel Lutt, a meat cutter at Pac N' Save in Wayne and the husband of Mindy Lutt, Wayne County Extension office assistant, has been in Wayne eight years. The Lutts have two children, Tina, 18, and Jeremy, 15.

Lutt said he decided to run for the post because municipal service is something he has always been interested in. He said he has attended over 50 percent of the council meetings over the last year. In going door to door throughout the ward. Lutt has been passing out pamphlets which offer voters an opportunity for change, he said. His opponent has been in the same post since 1978, said Lutt. He added he doesn't have any complaints about the way Darrel Heier has operated, but seeks to give voters a choice. His-goals he said were to see continued slow growth for the community.

"I'm not big on getting too big real fast to getting too big at all," he explained. He said he would work with other council members in developing goals for the city.

'I will go for a lot of input," said Lutt. He said he would go door to door in the ward at least twice a year ask people's opinions about what has happened and what they want to see happen.

He said he is not focused on any one issue or concern and said he would pay attention to even the smallest things that come up.

He said things the community needs include more housing and a few more small industries and support businesses

Darrel Heier is a native of Wayne and has been a teacher at Wayne high School since 1963. He and his 31, is at Silver Creek.
He said he enjoys being on city council and has been very interested in the library and senior center development project.

wife Betty have two sons, both teachers, Tim, 29 is in Lincoln and Tod,

The city has really been making good progress," said Heier. "It's fun to be a part of that."

Heier said he tells voters during his door to door campaigning in his ward that he has the experience and background to continue to represent their interests well.

He said the goals he has set for the city include continued growth in business and housing. His service on the mayor's housing task force has been rewarding he said and he hopes to continue efforts to foster the building of more homes in the community.

Heier said he supports the construction of a new power plant facility for Wayne because the citv's contract with Nebraska Public Power District will allow the plant to be

The election campaign has offi-cially begun--not for Tuesday's vote but for the special school bond issue election which will be voted on Dec. 13 in Wayne.

Committee chairmen who will be organizing the campaign for the election met on Wednesday with members of the school board and the district's fiscal agent to plan campaign activities and organize.

Honorary chairpersons for the campaign to pass a $7,9 million bond issue for school construction will be Ken Olds, Bob Merchant and Margie Armstrong.

Campaign Chairs will be former Wayne School board member Ken Dahl and Dr. Arnold Emry. Heading up the neighborhood canvass committees will be Denile Parker, Virginia Grimm and Dan Rose. Pro-gram committee heads will be Virgil Kardell, Sue Gilmore and Darrell Miller. Publicity chair is Mary

A theme for the campaign was established this week by the Wayne School Board. "Building on...Looking Forward," will be the theme of the effort.

The bond issue is being sought to replace the 80-year-old Middle School building in Wayne. Architects have said it would cost nearly as much to remodel the old building to meet ADA standards as to build new Plans call for building a 65,000 square foot, two-story wing on south side of the existing High School building. The wing would provide space for middle school classes as well as a new gymnasium, kitchen, music and other facilities which would be shared by both high school and middle school programs.

The twenty year bond issue facing voters would raise taxes on a typical $50,000 house in the Wayne school district by about $200 a year.

(continued from page 1A) paid for from power generation contract payments without the use of tax funds. He said the new plant would allow the city to keep up with increasing local power demands if supplies were ever cut off from NPPD.

DAN ZULKOSKY is a Water-Waste Water Operations Technician-Specialist and has lived in Wayne nearly four years with his wife Joyce and four children, Aaron, 19; Jason, 18; Paul, 16 and Eliza-beth, 11.

Zulkosky says he decided to run for city council because he wants to better the community. "I think I have the right tools and expertise to make the right decisions for the community of Wayne and our ward, "Zulkosky said."

Zulkosky said he believes city councils have to use a common sense approach and the local council work hard on bringing in new industry to the community to help keep the tax base down.

'I think that is the biggest goal I have for the community," Zulkosky said. "We need to have more industry in town to help Wayne grow and prosper. I want Wayne to be known for a good, safe community and not afraid to grow as a city. We always have to be looking toward the future."

Zulkosky said he would support the construction of a new power plant in Wayne only if a need was there. "I still believe there is a lot of research that has to be done in this area before a decision could be made," he said.

As far as the traffic light goes on Third and Pearl Street, Zulkosky said he doesn't understand why it's even there. "The only exception for having the light would be the City Auditorium," Zulkosky said.

LOIS SHELTON, owner of Lois' Silver Needle in Wayne, has been a resident of Wayne for 17 years with her husband David, They do not have any children.

Shelton said she became interested in the position of city council member when a vacancy opened because she's always been interested in city government issues.

Shelton feels her involvement in various civic activities is a plus for the position. "I've been on the planning commission advisory committee and a chairman for the public facilities task force," Shelton said.

Some of the goals Shelton has for the city include seeing Wayne continue to grow and a push to expand the recycling effort. "I am committed to seeing Wayne remain a healthy place to live," Shelton said.

Shelton does believe one of Wayne's greatest needs is to address the youth problem and why kids are getting into trouble. "The solution to this problem has to come from a coalition consisting of parents, law enforcement agencies, businesses and schools," Shelton said.

As far as the construction of a new power plant in Wayne, Shelton says she supports the idea from what she knows of the situation. "I do have some questions on this kind of investment but I believe it is worth looking into further," she said.

Shelton said the stoplight on Third and Pearl streets doesn't really bother her but the one on main street that's always flashing, does.

School Board

John Carollo who works for Terra International in Wayne, is running for the Wayne School Board for the second time in as many years. A resident of Wayne since 1974, Carollo and his wife, Lori, have two sons, Tony, 10, and Jason, 6.

He said he decided to run for the board position because he wanted to be involved with the children's educations.

"If you want someone who will listen to your opinions and ideas and be more open-minded, you should vote for me," Carollo said he tells voters to give them a reason to vote for him.

He said his first goal for the school system would be to help create a new facility for replacement of the Middle School building and close behind would be the goal of updating or replacing the school facility at Carroll.

He said he supports the bond issue proposal for a new addition on the high school to house the middle school classes and add high school space.

He said he sees the greatest needs for the district as development of a plan for the future and in so doing expand now to prepare the district for future growth.

He said as of now he supports the current administration and sees no reason to make a change.

Wayne veterinarian Dr. Ken Liska is seeking another term on the Wayne School board as a show of support for the program that are ongoing and the changes that have been made.

Married to Jan, who is a school teacher in the Wayne system, the Liska's have three grown children, Jason, 25; Eric, 23, and Kimberly, 20. They have lived in Wayne for 25

"I have had the experience on the board and feel I have the ability and maturity to be a good listener. You have to listen to different view points and make an objective decision," he said.

He said he wants to see the Wayne district become the envy of Northeast Nebraska and the board must continue to try to improve the system. "We have taken some big strides forward," he said referring to tech-nology programs and curriculum changes.

Liska said he thought the biggest need for the district now is to update and improve facilities. He supports the bond issue proposal on the ballot in December, If it fails the board will have some very difficult and costly expenditure issues to deal with in bringing the old Middle School up to Americans with Disability Act standards? Liska objected to a question about the candidate's positions on the current school administration. He said the question was out of order since the candidates are running for the board and not the superintendent. However, he did said he is solidly behind the current administration and is "extremely proud" of the changes which have been implemented.

Jean Blomenkamp, an assistant professor of education at Wayne State College bluntly refused to talk the Wayne Herald when contacted for her views.

Dennis Lipp, a 20 year resident of Wayne and an officer at State National Bank and Trust Company. said he is running for the school board because it is always something he wanted to do and has planned to run for over two years. "I'm interested in bringing out the best in our children. I don't have a vendetta or a single issue I'm interested in," he explained. "I'm interested in what is best for the kids." Lipp and his wife Gerelda have three children, Natasha, 15; Nathanael, 13, and Nicholas, 10.

He said he has been active in youth programs and school support groups over the years and sees involvement with the school board as a natural progression. "Every student should be challenged to be their best and when everybody leaves the schools we need to know they are capable of functioning as productive members of our society," he explained in outlining his major goals for the school district.

He said one of the greatest needs for the district was to get the com-munity to work together. He said he will work for the bond issue and building project proposed for the district and hopes the community will get behind the important project and support it. He said he supports the current administration and sees no reason to make a change.

Bob Dver, a plant controller and accounting executive at Great Dane, has lived in Wayne for 7 years and is making his second run at the Wayne School Board.

He and his wife Janet have four children, twins, Casey and Craig, 22; Clint, 18, and Chris, 15.

"I just felt I had something to contribute," said Dyer of his deciin the last election and this one. He said he has a lot of management and budgeting experience to offer.

"I didn't put enough into my own to have a lot of trouble getting people to work together. "I think the schools can contribute by giving students the ability to reason, think and be competitive whether or not they goto college.

He said a main goal for the district has to be to solve the problem of the old middle school building. He said the district has "to communicate the needs of that Middle School and get the bond issue passed."

He said he will work to encourage booster clubs to get people involved in whatever way we can. "I'm con-vinced that we don't think longterm--we need 5 year plans. He said he supports the current administration. "I'm not a head hunter. I'm not out to make any changes. I've disagreed with the current administration but I have also agreed with them on some issues.

Will Davis is a Wayne pharmacist and owner of the Say Mor Pharmacy. He and his wife Sue have lived in Wayne 12 years. They have two children, Ellen, 21, and Justin, 14.

Davis makes no bones about why he ran for a second term on the school board. "I ran in support of Dr. Jensen and the positive steps he has made. I wish to be there to help see the continued improvements in our schools," he added.

"It kind of seems like we're half done with the project (changes implemented since the hiring of Dr. Dennis Jensen) and I would like to see it through," he added.

Davis said he has generated negative responses for his clearly stated position but he said he tells oppo-nents if they don't like him "there are a lot of other capable folks running. I'm not going to put myself over the other people who have chosen to run."

He said he admires anyone who wants to make the personal sacrifice to run for the school board.

Davis said he wants to see the school building projects completed as the major goal along with advancing and rounding out the technology curriculum and continuing to update the schools. He said the physical plant is the greatest need for the district and he thinks both the middle school and Carroll Elementary need to be addressed with improvements. He is for the bond issue to replace the middle school and add on to the high school and he said he

Davis said he has been criticized for his support of changes in the district and of Superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen. "After the forum I was told I should have an open mind. I think they should have open minds too.

The first vote Doug Bereuter's opponent would cast would be for the same liberal, out-of-touch group that has controlled the U.S. House of Representatives for 40 straight vears!

Keeping a promise Counties support amendment change to Senator Kerrey

By Stacey Schaller This being an election year, a lot of mud is flying around as candi-dates for public office compete to outdo each other at the polls. With the snowstorm of blowing and drifting rhetoric, the right choice for any office may be as clear as midnight. Perchance I can be of some help. In a political era when breaking promises is a popular political procedure, let me keep my promise to Senator Robert Kerrey. Undoubtedly, most of the readers of this column have heard Kerrey's ads ---demonstrating his independence from the party line and defiance of a democratic President, decrying his opponent's misjudgment in sending thousands of Nebraskan jobs to Mexico, and declaring his care and concern for his constituents.

Senator Kerrey is, as he has stated, a true leader in the political arena - in his use of "Clintonian" rhetoric that is. He is extremely skilled at speaking out of both sides of his mouth. For example, in his ads he points out his disassociation from the Clinton clan and his consistent vote for Nebraskans' best interests. Yet, in spite of the floods of calls from Nebraskans opposed to Clinton's policies, Kerrey supported over 90 percent of Clinton's proposals, including supporting taxpayer funded abortions and opposing parental rights to be informed of their daughter's abortions. As for Kerrey's disassociation with the President, one photo showed Kerrey jogging with Clinton. Ker-rey's shirt read, "Hillary Knows Best." It makes one wonder.

Kerrey is also a strong supporter of working Nebraskans according to his ads. He decries Jan Stoney for sending jobs south - over-the-border, but guess who voted for the NAFTA treaty that made Ms. Stoney's business decision possi-ble. You guessed it: Senator Ker-

rey. While Kerrey insists on bringing Ms. Stoney to account for her business decisions, let's bring Kerrey to account for his voting record. When Clinton's plan to lift the ban on Gays in the military came to national attention. Kerrey's phones were jammed with Nebraskan's opposed to the move, yet Kerrey fully supported Clinton in that decision. When the Senate debated an amendment to give families a $500 tax credit per child, Kerrey voted against it. Kerrey was also a leading figure in the passage of the infamous "Midnight Pay Hike" of three years ago. Does that sound like a concerned about his con-Senator stituents? Does Kerrey really care? Americans boo the blatant arrogance of Capital Hill, and they should. But should we as Nebraskans return a man to a senatorial seat who leads Capital Hill in high-handed politics? Consider the arrogance of the Lobbying Disclosure Act. If it had passed it would have squelched all access of the American public to their representatives. Senators and Congressmen got tired of every hot issue lighting up their switchboards with public outcry. With this bill, they would have effectively shut you off! Not only did Kerrey vote for the Lobbying Disclosure Act, but he curtly insisted to concerned constituents that it contained no such provisions.

The ultimate in the Capital Hill arrogance is displayed in Clinton's massive tax hike. While promising on one hand to cut spending, reduce the deficit and implement a middleclass tax cut, Kerrey supported Clinton on a plan that increased spending and levied the highest middle-class tax increase in the history of America, all against massive grass-roots opposition from Nebraskan citizens.

Kerrey is a suave, personable gentleman, but he is a politician at heart. There is only one constituent that Kerrey is concerned about -Senator Robert Kerrey. Her has proved that he will look out for himself, even at the expense of Nebraska. In a time of economic instability here in Nebraska, do we really need to return a political in-sider to Washington? Kerrey has ignored your voice for too long. November 8, let your voice be heard loud and clear on Capital Hill. Vote out incompetent politics as usual. Vote out Senator Kerrey, and make a difference for Nebraska.

Take exception Dear Editor:

After reading Dr. Jensen's latest "From the desk of the Superintendent" I feel compelled to write in response to it. I take exception to the following points. 1. He stated that the Wayne School District has been following a plan of improvement or restructuring since 1992 and that this plan has incorporated all aspects of K-12 services offered by the districts including curriculum to buildings and grounds. If this is in fact the case, why has nothing been done in the Carroll Elementary School to meet upcoming ADA requirements while efforts have been made in every other school building? Why have basic maintenance efforts been done on all buildings except Carroll. For example, until members of the facility committee saw the piles of bat droppings in the Carroll building, only then was an effort made to finally get it cleaned up. Where has proper and complete maintenance been done on school buildings? ALI

2. He then goes on the state "More communication and better communication is a goal of any pr-ganization including a school district, but It would be wrong to conclude that this district or administration has not been open to pro-moting communication." Once again I must disagree on this point. After the May, 1994 school board meeting, several of us from Carroll requested to be heard by the school board at their next meeting. We

The amendment proposes Although there have been many positive efforts made by the Legis-lature to improve the system, Neto replace the present state Board of braska seems to have made limited progress," said NACO Executive Equalization and Assessment with a

ers an opportunity to eliminate the politics that sometimes enter into "Counties have been on the front assessment and taxation issues and replace it with an independent, expert body that is trained to effectively deal with such matters.¹ Mills said his organization's support of Amendment 2 should complied with his request for information to be sent to the board members. Then before the meeting we were told there was no need to even attend because the agenda was so full we couldn't be heard any-way. We had to become quite forceful with Dr. Jensen to finally, in July, get a board hearing to state our concerns. That is not promoting open communication in my viewpoint; 3. Dr. Jensen stated there have been open meetings in Carroll in the school lunch room. Could he please supply dates and times of these meetings? Seems no one parents or residents, can remember any public meetings or of attending them

4. Dr. Jensen states he values the opinions of the staff and faculty on issues of the school district. When a group of us were obtaining information to present to the board for our July hearing, we discovered a great deal of trepidation on the part of the staff and faculty. Seems they feel they must temper their opinions to maintain their employment.

-I agree with Dr. Jensen that we do need better communication and short and long-range planning to make our school district one of the best for the betterment of all of our children.

I disagree with his assessment of action taken so far to do so. I strongly urge all residents to get out and vote for people for the school board who will sincerely try to do what is in the best interests o all the children, because that should be our main focus and help make the board more conducive to open communication.

Learn respect

Dear Editor: This letter is in reference to the "Disgusting" letter printed on Nov. First, I am appalled that you are judging Republican candidate tactics as being shaded by Richard Nixon's "dirty politicking." This is a very unreasonable judgement to make. Many professions are lashed with such judgements when one bad apple exists, when in actuality, the inajority act professional and ethical in their judgements. Second, as for Jan Stoney, I have seen plenty of ads paid by her campaign that are defaming Kerrey. Maybe she should also apply for sanitation work. Last, personally I have no declaration as to being either a Republican or Democrat. I judge candidates on what they can offer, not their association. Our country is built on having both Democrat and Republican sides in Congress in order to achieve a balance and better represent the population. As for Stoney and Kerrey, neither one will receive a vote from me. We need to hear about what they know and do, not what their competition does not. Both need to learn how to respect others, even their competition, in order to represent this state and receive my vote

Don't base your vote Nov. 8 on what this individual says or what he prints in his campaign cads, 'cause 1 just ain't so. Instead take a few minutes and study his voting record. He says he is against higher taxes and additional spending, he cast the deciding vote for the larges tax increase in the nation's history "to save Bill Clinton" and voted against the Balanced Budget Amendment, but voted for midnight basketball.

He says he is a sportsman and a shooter, he voted for gun control and he will vote for additional gun control if given the opportunity. says he is for local control and less government regulations yet he votes for a federal police force, federal control of private property, government control over education including distribution of condoms to minors without parental consent

An independent commission need not result in a large, costly government bureaucracy a s some opponents have claimed. Mills said. The Nebraska Legislature would be responsible for creating the commission and Mills' organization has pledged to work with state senators to ensure that the end result is in the best interest of Nebraska taxpayers

Mills said the fact that 40 senators voted in favor of placing Amendment 2 on the ballot and that a private tax consultant hired by the Department of Revenue suggested last summer that an independent board would provide more specific knowledge of the technical issues associated with property assessment and taxation indicates there is support and a need for a change This issue has been the subject of numerous studies and each time one of the conclusions that has come out is that Nebraska is one of only a few states that still rely on a Board of Equalization whose members are constitutionally elected state officials rather than property tax experts," Mills said. "Counties feel there is a real need, for change and Amendment 2 would provide a means to bring about an effective change that would be in the best interest of local taxpayers."

Bob Kerrey does not represent me! I find it difficult to believe he represents you. It's all about time ... one at a time ... while there's still time, let's get back on track. Jerry W. Greenwood Chadron

It's garbage

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Sayre Andersen's letter blasting Republican candidates for their repulsive TV campaign ads. I agree with Sayre that the ads reads "thoroughly disgusting." The ads lack any semblance of class and re-spect for the voting public.

I also feel that the Democratic ads are equally horrendous and insulting. Garbage is garbage and I am sick of it!

I do believe though that a majority of the fault lies with us, the public for allowing such trash to be broadcast.

I say let's all get out our paper and pens and write letters to our candidates and political party leaders and protest so that future elections maintain our respect. Kathleen Grone

Keeping a promise Counties support amendment change to Senator Kerrey

By Stacey Schaller This being an election year, a lot of mud is flying around as candidates for public office compete to outdo each other at the polls. With the snowstorm of blowing and drifting rhetoric, the right choice for any office may be as clear as midnight. Perchance I can be of some help. In a political era when breaking promises is a popular political procedure, let me keep my promise to Senator Robert Kerrey. Undoubt-edly, most of the readers of this column have heard Kerrey's ads — demonstrating his independence from the party line and defiance of a democratic President, decrying his opponent's misjudgment in sending thousands of Nebraskan jobs to Mexico, and declaring his care and concern for his constituents.

Senator Kerrey is, as he has stated, a true leader in the political arena - in his use of "Clintonian" rhetoric that is. He is extremely skilled at speaking out of both sides of his mouth! For example, in his ads he points out his disassociation from the Clinton clan and his con-sistent vote for Nebraskans' best interests. Yet, in spite of the floods of calls from Nebraskans opposed to Clinton's policies, Kerrey sup-ported over 90 percent of Clinton's proposals, including supporting taxpayer funded abortions and onposing parental rights to be informed of their daughter's abortions. As for Kerrey's disassociation with the President, one photo showed Kerrey jogging with Clinton. Kerrey's shirt read, "Hillary Knows Best." It makes one wonder.

Kerrey is also a strong supporter of working Nebraskans according to his ads. He decries Jan Stoney for sending jobs south "over-the-border, but guess who voted for the NAFTA treaty that made Ms. Stoney's business decision possible. You guessed it: Senator Ker-rey While Kerrey insists on bringing Ms. Stoney to account for her business decisions, let's bring Kerrey to account for his voting record. When Clinton's plan to lift the ban on Gays in the military came to national attention, Kerrey's phones were jammed with Nebraskan's opposed to the move, yet Kerrey fully supported Clinton in that decision.

When the Senate debated an amendment to give families a $500 tax credit per child, Kerrey voted against it. Kerrey was also a leading figure in the passage of the infamous "Midnight Pay Hike" of three years ago. Does that sound like a Senator concerned about his constituents? Does Kerrey really care? Americans boo the blatant arro-gance of Capital Hill, and they should But should we as Ne braskans return a man to a senatorial seat who leads Capital Hill in high-handed politics? Consider the arrogance of the Lobbying Disclosure Act. If it had passed it would have squelched all access of the American public to their representatives. Senators and Congressmen got tired of every hot issue lighting up their switchboards with public outcry. With this bill, would have effectively shut they you off! Not only did Kerrey vote My / Turn for the Lobbying Disclosure Act, but he curtly insisted to concerned constituents that it contained no such provisions.

The ultimate in the Capital Hill arrogance is displayed in Clinton's massive tax hike. While promising on one hand to cut spending, reduce the deficit and implement a middle-class tax cut, Kerrey supported Clinton on a plan that increased spending and levied the highest middle-class tax increase in the history of America, all against masgrass-roots opposition from Nebraskan citizens.

Kerrey is a suave, personable centleman, but he is a politician at heart. There is only one constituent that Kerrey is concerned about -Senator Robert Kerrey. He has proved that he will look out for himself, even at the expense of Ne-braska. In a time of economic instability here in Nebraska, do we really need to return a political in-sider to Washington? Kerrey has ignored your voice for too long. November 8, let your voice be heard loud and clear on Capital Hill. Vote out incompetent politics as usual. Vote out Senator Kerrey, and make a difference for Nebraska.

Take exception Dear Editor:

After reading Dr. Jensen's latest From the desk of the Superintendent" I feel compelled to write in response to it. I take exception to the following points.

1. He stated that the Wayne School District has been following a plan of improvement or restruc-turing since 1992 and that this plan has incorporated all aspects of K-12 services offered by the districts in-cluding curriculum to buildings and grounds. If this is in fact the case. why has nothing been done in the Carroll Elementary School to meet upcoming ADA requirements while efforts have been made in every other school building?

Why have basic maintenance efforts been done on all buildings except Carroll. For example, until members of the facility committee saw the piles of bat droppings in the Carroll building, only then was an effort made to finally get it cleaned up. Where has proper and complete maintenance been done on

ALL school buildings? 2. He then goes on the state "More communication and better communication is a goal of any organization including a school dis-trict, but it would be wrong to conclude that this district or administration has not been open to pro-moting communication." Once again I must disagree on this point. After the May, 1994 school board meeting, several of us from Carroll requested to be heard by the school board at their next meeting. We

The ongoing struggles that have plagued the state's method of assessing property for tax purposes has promoted the Board of Directors of the Nebraska Association of County Officials to announce its support of Constitutional Amendment 2 that will appear on the Nov. 8 ballot. The amendment proposes to replace the present state Board of Equalization and Assessment with a Tax Equalization and Review Commission, whose members would be professionally trained in appraisal and taxation matters. Counties have been on the front Director Jack D. Mills. "Clearly, line of this struggle for years, by no fault of their own and they are saying it is time we make a change. Although there have been many positive efforts made by the Legislature to improve the system, Ne-braska seems to have made limited progress," said NACO Executive complied with his request for information to be sent to the board members. Then before the meeting we were told there was no need to even attend because the agenda was so full we couldn't be heard any way. We had to become quite forceful with Dr. Jensen to finally, in July, get a board hearing to state our concerns. That is not promot-ing open communication in my ewpoint.

Dr. Jensen stated there have been open meetings in Carroll in the school lunch room. Could he please supply dates and times of these meetings? Seems no one parents or residents, can remember any public meetings or of attending them.

4. Dr. Jensen states he values the opinions of the staff and faculty on issues of the school district. When a group of us were obtaining information to present to the board for our July hearing, we discovered a great deal of trepidation on the part of the staff and faculty. Seems they feet they must temper their opinions to maintain their em plöyment.

I agree with Dr. Jensen that we do need better communication and short and long-range planning to make our school district one of the best for the betterment of all of our children.

I disagree with his assessment of action taken so far to do so. I strongly urge all residents to get out and vote for people for the school board who will sincerely try to do what is in the best interests of all the children, because that should be our main focus and help make the board more conducive to open communication.

Bob Kerrey said it best this past week when he said "Governing and campaigning are not the same thing." He represents the State of Susan Gilmore Carroll Nebraska less than any other U.S.

"what counties are saying is let's place the equalization and appeals process in the hands of people who have professional training and expertise in the property tax area and can bring to the table an independent perspective."

An independent commission need not result in a large, costly government bureaucracy as some opponents have claimed, Mills said. The Nebraska Legislature would be responsible for creating the commission and Mills' organization has pledged to work with state senators to ensure that-the end result is in the best interest of Nebraska taxpayers

Mills said the fact that 40 senators voted in favor of placing Amendment 2 on the ballot and that a private tax consultant hired by the Department of Revenue suggested last summer that an independent board would provide more specific knowledge of the technical issues associated with property assessment and taxation indicates there is support and a need for a change.

"This issue has been the subject of numerous studies and each time one of the conclusions that has come out is that Nebraska is one of only a few states that still rely on a Board of Equalization whose members are constitutionally elected state officials rather than property tax experts," Mills said. "Counties feel there is a real need for change and Amendment 2 would provide a means to bring about an effective change that would be in the best interest of local taxpayers."

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to Sayre Andersen's letter blasting Republican candidates for their repulsive TV campaign ads. I agree with Sayre that the ads are "thoroughly disgusting." The ads lack any semblance of class and respect for the voting public. I also feel that the Democratic ads are equally horrendous and in-sulting. Garbage is garbage and I am sick of it! I do believe though that a majority of the fault lies with us, the public for allowing such trash to be broadcast.

I say let's all get out our paper and pens and write letters to our candidates and political party leaders and protest so that future elections and process as a maintain our respect. Kathleen Grone

LINCOLN. Neb. (AP) -- A ruling by the state Court of Appeals served as a reminder on manners as well as the law for hunters looking forward to the opening of the pheasant season Saturday.

The Appeals Court on Tuesday overturned a decision by a district judge and reiterated that state statutes are very clear. If you hunt on someone else's land without permission, you break the law.

The decision also emphasized that a hunter doesn't have any legal defense by simply arguing that the land wasn't posted to prohibit hunting.

Posting is not required, the Appeals Court noted. Obtaining pernission is required by law. "We hold that persons who hunt on private property without permission are subject to prosecution even if the property is not posted," the court said.

Not the same

Dear Editor:

The ruling came in a Kearney County case and reversed a decision District Judge Stephen Illingworth. Illingworth read two state laws together and concluded that in order to obtain a conviction for hunting without permission prosecutors must show the land was posted.

Not so, the Appeals Court said in reversing the ruling in a case brought against Rodney R. Blevins.

The decision noted a law passed in 1929 that says: "It shall be unlawful for anyone to hunt for any game, wild animal, or bird or fish upon any private lands without permission of the owner."

That statute is still the law, the

Appeals Court said. Illingworth had looked to a law passed in 1963, which says land owners or tenants "may" put up signs which read: "Hunting by Written Permission Only.'

Illingworth concluded that the newer statute meant that landowners and tenants had to put up signs and the state had to prove the signs were posted.

The legislative history ... establishes that persons who hunt on unposted private property are still required to obtain permission," the Appeals Court said.

Illingworth's decision had re- " versed Blevins' conviction in county. court for hunting without permission during the 1992 deer season. Blevins had been ordered to pay $600 in damages The Appeals Court decision does not reinstate the conviction or fine Blevins. He cannot be tried for the offense again.

"In the present case, Blevins was placed in jeopardy, and therefore, our decision does not affect the o der entered by the district court, but affects similar cases that may presently be pending or arise hereafter." the Appeals Court said.

The federal and state constitutions prohibit what is called double jeopardy, or allowing prosecutors to try someone more than once for an offense if the case was decided the first time in favor of the defendant.

Girl Scouts trek to Camp Crossed Arrows

Early Saturday morning, Oct. 29, over 1,000 Girl Scouts boarded chartered buses throughout 19 counties of Northeast Nebraska en route to Camp Crossed Arrows to

Chamberlain nominated for Hill Trophy

WAYNE-Wayne State wide receiver Byron Chamberlain has been nominated for the 1994 Harlon Hill Trophy, given annually to the best NCAA-II player in the country.

A total of 23 candidates are in the running for the award which was won by Roger Graham of New Haven last season. The list of candi-dates includes six players from each of the four regions across the United States. They are nominated by sports information directors at the 142 NCAA-II football-playing schools.

The top players in each region will advance to the national ballot when regional voting concludes, Nov. 14. The winner will be announced on Friday, Dec. 9 in Sheffield, Alabama.

There were only five nominations in the Midwest Region with four being seniors and one sophomore. Jarrett Anderson a tailback from Northeast Missouri State along with Dave Ludy, a running back for Winona State are the lone running backs while Chamberlain joins Josh Nelsen of Mankato State as the two receivers on the list of five in the region. North Dakota's linebacker Michael Mooney is the fifth player in the Midwest Region.

The Wayne volleyball team is state bound after a straight games victory over Norfolk Catholic in the district championship, Thursday night in Wisner, 15-13, 15-11. Joyce Hoskins' team had a spectacular come from behind victory in game one after trailing by a 13-9 margin. Wayne started out slow in the second game, trailing 3-0 before coming on and taking control of the game and the match

"I saw a great team effort from our girls," Hoskins said. "Our top seven players that play virtually all the matches, go out and give 100 percent on every play and they do a magnificent job of supporting each other and believing in each other.'

Hoskins said this particular group of girls don't care what the stats say because they are in it together as a team and that makes a difference. "I thought we showed an awful lot of character to come from behind like we did in that first game," Hoskins said. "I think the hardest thing in volleyball is coming back to win when your opponent has 13 points."

Wayne's defense played a key role in the Blue Devils champi onship as they covered extremely well and dug up a number of hard spike attempts from Norfolk Catholic.

Jenny Thompson led Wayne with 10 points and one service ace while Amy Post had six points and two aces. Angie Hudson finished had five while Katie Lutt had two and Carrie Fink, one. Fink was 85-89 in setting with 28 aces led by Thompson's 15 kill spikes on 31 of 38 attempts. Lutt

"I thought we played with good communication and a tremendous amount of confidence in sub-districts," coach Patti Cunningham said. "We were very aggressive at the net all night."

Cunningham said in the Randolph match Alissa Krie was a dominant factor. "Alissa played very well," Cunningham said. "She just took control of the match and Randolph couldn't stop her

IN THE DISTRICT championship match on Thursday the Bears won in straight games, 15-7, 15-9 over the C2-7 sub-district champions, Homer. "We came out a little timid in this match but we subbed in Megan Adkins with Homer leading by a 4-3 margin and she did a great job of serving," Cunningham said.

Adkins served 11 consecutive points for the Bears to put them ahead, 14-4. "That was definitely the turning point of the match,

"Becky Cunningham said. Schroeder also had a fine match with some hard spikes and a couple ace blocks."

Rematch with Bloomfield gridders set for Monday in Laurel Laurel defeats Hartington

By Kevin Peterson Sports editor

The Laurel Bears overcame some First half adversity to whip up on Hartington, Wednesday in the first round of the Nebraska State Foot-ball Playoffs, 41-21 setting up a rematch with the Bloomfield Bees on Monday night in Laurel. Laurel, 10-0 on the season got on the board first after a scoreless first quarter when Jeff Wattier broke loose on a 29-yard run. Kyle Macklin booted the point after for a 7-0 advantage for the host team. Following a Hartington turnover, the Bears scored on a 31-yard swing pass from Tyler Erwin to Cody Carstensen and the lead quickly jumped to 13-0.

Then, a stoppage in play was needed when Hartington sophomore Matt Dresden was injured on the Wildcats sidelines. The ambulance was called out and Dresden was taken to the hospital with a slight concussion.

Following a 10-minute layoff the Bears momentum which had garnered 13 points in less than a minute had subsided which allowed Hartington to drive the ball down the field and into the endzone from seven yards out to cut the gap to six at 13-7 at the intermission

Laurel scored the only third quarter points as Carstensen took an option from Erwin and scored on a one-yard run. The senior running back also converted the two-point attempt on a run to give the Bears a 21-7 lead.

Hartington, however, came right back and scored on a five-yard run to trim the lead to eight at 21-13 but Laurel went on a three touchdown scoring barrage in the final quarter led by Carstensen with a 23yard and a 66-yard scamper-late in the game. Sandwiched in between those two scores was a 35-yard scoring pass from Erwin to Jared Reinochl.

Hartington added a score late in the game on a three-yard run. "Hartington has a good football team and they are well coached by Blair Kalin," Laurel mentor Tom Luxford said. "I didn't think we did a very good job of executing offensively, in the first half."

The Bears suffered three interceptions in the first half with two being tipped passes by the receivers. The Bears rolled up over 450 total yards of offense including 307 on the ground while Tyler Er-win was 7-14 with three interceptions and 144 yards with a pair of touchdowns

Cody Carstensen scored four touchdowns to lead the Bears and rushed for 160 yards on just 10 carries while Jeff Wattier gained 75 vards on nine attempts.

Jared Reinoehl caught three passes for 67 yards and Jeremy Reinoehl caught two for 30. Defensively, Laurel was led by Kody Urwiler with 25 tackles while Dustin Ankeny had 17 and Todd Arens, 16 with a fumble recovery. Carstensen netted 15 tackles and Eric Abts had a dozen with a fumble recovery Monday's clash of the Titans II will pit the number two and three rated teams in C-2 and the only loss between them is a double-overtime victory by the Bears in Bloomfield, last month.

close out season on the road Dennis Wagner's Wayne State football team will look to close out the 1994 football season with a pair of road wins, beginning Saturday in Bemidji, Minnesota. The Wildcats will enter Saturday's contest with a disappointing 5-3 record while Bemidji yields a 1-7 mark. Last week, the 'Cats lost their third game of the year at the hands of Moorhead State, 33-31.

The Dragons, which entered the game ranked second in the NCAA-II in rushing, tallied 281 yards on the ground against the Wildcats. That number helped them to a 42:09 to 17:51 advantage in time of possession and 27-9 edge in first downs.

The 'Cats were led by Lamart Cooper who had another big day with kickoff returns, as he returned two for touchdowns. One went for 86 yards in the second quarter while the other was an 82-yarder to open the second half.

Defensively, junior inside linebacker Jon Adkisson recorded a game-high 20 tackles while defensive back Maurice Arrington intercepted one pass attempt to go along with eight tackles. Bemidji State snapped an 18game losing streak against Min-nesota-Morris a couple weeks ago with a 33-12 victory. The Beavers are averaging 285 yards per game including 156 yards on the ground. "Bemidji State is an improved football team," Wagner said. "This. is their last home game of the sea-son and it's Parent's Day, so they will be excited to play us. If we execute our game plan, this is a team we should beat. After last week's game with Moorhead State, we need to regroup and go on the road and come back with a victory." Moorhead State is giving up yards per game including 225 on the ground and 181 through the air. WSC running back Lamont Rainey needs just 141 yards in the next to games to surpass the 1000 yard mark

In the Moorhead State contest, Rainey moved into the number two spot on WSC's all-time rushing chart with 3,006 yards. Rainey sur passed Sam Singleton who played during the 1967-70 seasons.

Of course, the Wildcats feature two of the nation's top receivers in Jerry Garrett and Byron Chamberlain. For the season, Garrett has made 65 receptions for 743 yards and seven touchdowns while Chamberlain has caught 59 passes for 637 yards and five touchdowns.

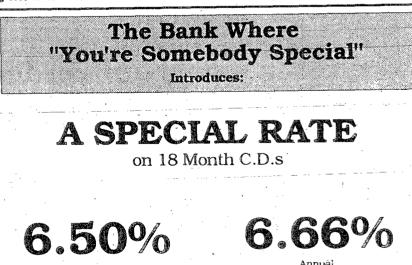

Chamberlain currently has 137 career receptions, which ranks second on the Wildcats all-time-list of 152 held by Damon Thomas from 1992-93. Garrett is currently third on the all-time receptions list with 127 catches:

Last week's players of the game as selected by the Wayne State coaches were Jerry Garrett on offense. Jon Adkisson on defense and Lamart Cooper on specialty teams.

Garrett had seven receptions for 173 yards and Adkisson registered a game-high 20 tackles while Cooper had two kickoffs returned for touchdowns.

We need to approach these last two games of the season one at a time," Wagner said. "We should beat both teams. A 7-3 record for the season is not where we wanted to be, but it is a record a lot of teams would like. To finish out the season with two wins would be good for our recruiting efforts and for the players returning next year.

LAUREL COACH Tom Luxford whispers a play to running back Cody Carstensen dur-ing second half action of Laurel's first round playoff game with Hartington.

WAYNE STATE linebacker Jon Adkisson led the Wildcats defensive charge against Moorhead State last week with 20 tackles.

JERRY GARRETT paced Wayne State's offensive attack last Saturday with sev en pass receptions for 173 vards.

WSC'S SPARK PLUG on specialty teams this season has been Lamart Cooper. In Saturday's game he ran two kickoffs back for scores.

Winside falls to Nelson in first round of D-1 playoffs

By Kevin Peterson Sports editor

Randy Geier's Winside football am was defeated by Nelson in the first round of the D-1 State Football Playoffs, Wednesday afternoon in Nelson by a 26-12 margin.

Three Winside turnovers led to 20. Nelson points and the Wildcats could not overcome a 20-0 deficit at halftime despite out-scoring the host team, 12-6 in the second half.

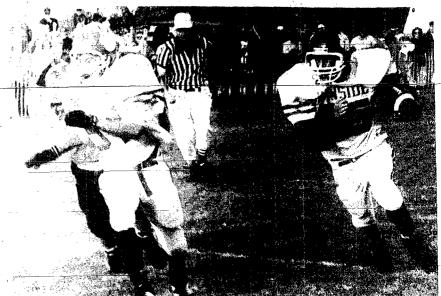

"There's no doubt we have mixed emotions about the outcome of this football game," Geier said. "Nelson has a very good football team but we feel we beat ourselves.

Following a good punt return. Nelson drove 30 yards to paydirt in the first quarter on a 30-yard pass. In the second quarter following a Wildcat turnover, Nelson scored on a three-yard run to take a 14-0 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff Winside fumbled and Nelson converted that turnover into a score on a one-yard run and a 20-0 lead at the break "We just came out and played flat that whole first half," Geier said. "We also were hurt by poor field position. Our first four drives of the game started on our own 14, 23, 6 and 13 yard lines and that limits your play calling somewhat."

The Wildcats got on the board in the third quarter when Robert Wittler connected with Colby Jensen on a 40-yard pass play. The 'Cats cut the Nelson lead to eight in the fourth quarter when Wittler and Jensen hooked up again, this time from three yards out.

Nelson, however, took advantage of another Winside turnover and scored on a one-yard run for the final margin of victory. "Nelson's four scoring drives all started in our territory from the 30, 8, 36 and 43 yard lines," Geier said. "Nelson's biggest asset is they don't beat themselves. They are a real funda-mentally sound football team," Geier added.

Winside finished with 245 total yards compared to 316 for the host team. Jeremy Barg was the leading ground gainer for Winside with 43 yards on seven carries. Robert Wittler was 7-20 through the air with two interceptions and 138 yards with a pair of touchdowns. Jaimey Holdorf, Jason Wylie and Colby Jensen each caught two passes and all three totalled 43 yards. Defensively, Holdorf led the Wildcats with 12 tackles while Josh Jaeger had 10.

We had a great year at 7-2," Geier said. "We were very happy to make it to the state playoffs after overcoming a lot of adversity throughout the season with injuries

Winside played its final game in the eight-man ranks as they move to C-2 next fall and play 11-man. They will open the season on the road at Wakefield.

Family donates art to WSC

A family with long-time ties to Wayne State College and central Nebraska has given the college a four-feet by seven-feet oil painting by E.E. Stevens, "Bend of the River Jordan."

Stevens was best known for his paintings of the Old West and some of his works hang in the Nebraska State Historical Museum in Lincoln. He was born in Iowa and lived much of his life in Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska. He was a newspaper reporter and cartoonist as well as an artist.

The gift is from Dr. and Mrs. G.B. Dunning of Springfield, Mo. and their four sons who live in Ne-braska: Guy P. Dunning, Wahoo; Mark M. Dunning, Lincoln; Dr. David G. Dunning, Lincoln; and John B. Dunning, Wayne, Guy has a bachelor's degree from Wayne State College. John is scheduled to complete his master's degree at Wayne State this year. Mark attended Wayne State. John's wife, Shannon, and Guy's wife, Diane, received their bachelor's degrees from Wayne State. "I watched Mr. Stevens paint

when I was a child growing up in Antelope County, and had no notion that someday his works would become valuable," says Dr. G.B. Dunning. An authority on Stevens' work has estimated that "Bend of the River Jordan" is worth at least $10.000

The painting, completed in 1931, depicts the site of the baptism of Jesus and hung over the baptistery of the Church of Christ in Neligh, Neb. for many years. It was commissioned as a tribute to the church's pastor, Guy B. Dun-ning, who was Dr. G.B. Dunning's father. The church building later was moved to the farm of Carl D Schrader, north of Neligh, and became a museum. In 1993, Schrader gave the painting to Dr. Dunning and his sons

Heads amendment effort

Helen Abbott Feller of Wisner has been selected as chairperson of the Nebraskans for a Healthy Economy Committee. Tom Lauritsen, Omaha attorney and horseman, is treasurer of the political committee which has formed to support Amendment 4 on the November ballot.

The amendment would give Nebraska's five nonprofit racetracks permission to offer wagering on their live races via satellite connection to licensed, off-track locations in Western Nebraska or other areas in the state. The acceptance of an off-track facility in any community would be subject to local approval.

Once approved, the five racetracks in Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Columbus and South Sioux City could send their signals to the licensed location and accept elec-tronic wagers into the pari-mutuel system. The procedure is com-monly known as "Off-Track Betting" or "Tele-Racing." 'Amendment 4 will strengthen racing's position in the market-place," said Mrs. Feller. She noted that Tele-Racing would enable the racing industry to improve the delivery system of the sport by making races available to more Nebraska citizens. "It will provide an established form of entertainment to more people, as well as benefiting the economy across Nebraska.

Mrs. Feller stressed the economic advantages of the passage of Amendment 4 as reason for her active support. According to Mrs. Feller, passage of Amendment 4 will help protect 6,000 jobs, pre-serve a $245 million industry, sup-port the equivalent of 540 Nebraska farms of 160 acres, which provide hay and grain to thoroughbred horses, and permit horse racing to compete with other forms of out of state gaming which have diluted the tax benefits to the state.
