Anderson faces more charges in Kucera case

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

A Concord man, Brian Anderson, accused of abducting his former girlfriend, Laura Kucera of Wakefield and leaving her for dead was charged with kidnapping in a second Nebraska county (Thurston), Wednesday.

Anderson, already facing felony counts of kidnapping and false imprisonment, a firearms charge and operating a motor vehicle to avoid arrest as well as several misdemeanor charges in Dixon County, was also charged with kidnapping, criminal intent and use of a firearm to commit a felony in Thurston's county court. Bail was set at $205,000.

All charges stem from the abduction and shooting of Kucera, 19 who was reported missing October 1st after Anderson had allegedly gone into the Mario Tello house after her in Wakefield.

Three days later, Anderson led authorities to a remote wooded area three miles north of Macy where Kucera had been lying in a ditch with several gunshot wounds.

Kucera was life-flighted to Sioux City's Marian Health Center. Her condition today is much improved from the night she was found and is now listed in fair condition.

Anderson pleaded innocent in his Oct. 11 appearance in Dixon County Court to several misdemeanor charges related to the case. Anderson faces a Nov. 21 arraignment in Dixon County. He is to be arraigned on Dec. 14 on the Thurston County charges.

New school?

The architect's model of the proposed $7.9 million addition to the Wayne High School building was unveiled Tuesday night at the school board meeting. Voters will have an opportunity to view the building plans and the model at a variety of locations in the community before the Dec. 13 bond issue election. The 65,000 square-foot addition will house the Wayne Middle School and provide added space for high school programs.

served as the one of the Third Ward representatives on Council will be moving into the mayors seat, replacing Bob Carhart, who did not seek reelection. She was unopposed in the mayor's race.

Zulkosky. Shelton won the contest 194 to 114.

Melvin Utecht joins the council as the replacement for Second Ward representative Pat Prather, who chose not to seek reelection. He was unopposed as was Fourth Ward incumbent Patty Wieland.

County Clerk pleased with voter turnout

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn said she was pleased with the 1994 exercise of Democracy in Wayne County.

Higher numbers of voters than expected went to the polls Tuesday and an efficient crew of poll workers had the results tabulated and reported many hours before some of the neighboring counties which use voting machines.

"It was a great election," said Mrs. Finn who had words of praise for the volunteer poll workers and voters alike. A total of 3,179 voters went to the polls out of the county's registered 5,354 voters. That 59 percent turnout fell short of the state turnout of 62 percent.

The last precinct to bring in their ballots in Wayne County Tuesday night was Ward Four in Wayne where 569 ballots were cast. But as the largest precinct in the county, the big fourth ward votes were still counted and posted by 11 p.m.

THE TOP PRECINCT in the county for voter turnout was Hancock where 73 percent of the 124 registered voters went to the polls. Leslie Precinct wasn't far behind with 69 percent turnout followed by Logan at 66 percent and Ward Four Wayne at 63 percent.

Mrs. Finn said she believed school board races in the county as well as the race for U.S. Senate were the prime motivating factors for getting voters to the polls.

Wayne County voters didn't agree with the rest of the state in the hotly contested U.S. Senate race. Sen. Bob Kerrey a Democrat senator in a Republican dominated state, retained his seat on a night when fellow Democrats across the country were losing theirs.

Wayne County voters favored a change in the senate ranks, however, voting for Kerrey's challenger Jan Stoney 1,614 to 1,467. Mrs. Stoney won all the rural precincts in the county but Kerrey received the nod among Wayne City voters, winning three of the four wards in Wayne.

WHILE THE REPUBLICAN Stoney was favored by Wayne Countians, Gov. Ben Nelson, a Demo-

Riley's debate causes meeting to heat up

By Tom Mullen
Of the Herald

The traditional Thursday night Wayne State College student revelry, which in recent years has been concentrated at a local nightclub, was the topic of heated debate at Tuesday's meeting of the Wayne City Council.

Riley's Nightclub offers alcohol-free entertainment to attract college students but what happens outside in Riley's parking lot has brought attention from the neighbors, the police, and now the Council.

Frank Larson, manager of Riley's, appeared at the invitation of the Council to address the complaints of his neighbors. "I have heard from the college that there has been a decrease in rapes

New School Board members elected

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

Two new members were elected to the Wayne school board during a Tuesday election in which the races for the unpaid board seats were seen by many voters as the prime reason for going to the polls, according to County Clerk Deb Finn.

The well-contested school race was one of the reasons many absentee voters cited for taking the effort to vote, she said.

Incumbent board member Will Davis, who clearly said the main reason he was running was to support the current school administration and its ongoing restructuring process, was the leading vote getter in the six person race for three open seats. Davis also said he favored building a new school in Carroll.

HE GARNERED 1,221 votes compared to 974 for bank officer Dennis Lipp. The third candidate elected was Wayne State College education professor Jean Blomenkamp with 963 votes. Incumbent board member Dr. Ken Liska was unseated, finishing sixth with 842 votes.

His public position favoring open discussion about the possible closing of the Carroll Elementary school and his indication that he had intended to step aside before deciding to run as a show of support for Superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen, were seen as factors.

Other unsuccessful candidates were John Carollo with 911 votes and Bob Dyer with 853. Carollo came close to winning a seat on his second run for the board. He was ahead of Lipp in the vote totals before the last precinct (Fourth Ward) results were tabulated. But a strong showing in that ward for Lipp vaulted him from fourth to second in the vote totals and moved Carollo into the fourth position.

THE NEW BOARD members will be sworn in at the Dec. 13 meeting. They may have an opportunity to begin work immediately on the school building efforts which voters will decide on at the special bond issue election the day the new board members take office.

Each of the candidates for the board had said they supported passage of the $7.9 million bond issue which will permit construction of a 65,000 square foot addition to the High School for Middle School classrooms and new facilities which would be shared between the High School and Middle School programs.

Scarcity of jobs lands Prescott in Army

By Clara Osten
For the Herald

"Jobs were hard to come by and I wanted to join the Coast Artillery," said Louis Prescott when asked why he enlisted in the U.S. army in June of 1941.

Prescott was born in Wee Willow, South Dakota and when he was four years old his family moved to Canada to homestead land. In 1938 the family moved to Springview, Nebraska. It was then that Prescott decided to enlist in the army.

Prescott and four others enlisted but the others were not accepted because they were not able to pass the physicals. "At that time we were not at war, so they were very picky as to who they would let in. Later, when we were at war, everyone was able to join," said Louis.

After basic training at Fort Riley, Kansas where he was told 'protect that rifle, it is the best friend you will have', Prescott was sent to Fort Leonardwood, Missouri for more training.

It was during this training that the soldiers learned of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. "We went to Hawaii and landed at the Honolulu docks because Pearl Harbor was closed because they were trying to get the U.S. California back up. The Arizona sank with 1,600 aboard. All of them died," said Louis.

Prescott was part of the First Infantry Division known as Red Star. He spent three months in

They had been packed in a heavy grease to prevent them from rusting in the salt air," he said.

After leaving Hawaii the division began their journey through numerous small islands on their way to the Philippines.

"I remember that during fighting on one of the small islands one American soldier was killed. His body was brought back on the ship but after we got out to sea, I was asked to throw the body overboard and give him a 21-gun salute.

The soldiers continued on to New Guinea, stopping at Guadalcanal to wait for their tanks. "We traveled about 7,000 miles and I remember it raining a lot.

The Japanese were very sneaky. They had taken American soldiers' prisoners, tied their hands together and then shot them in the head.

Soldiers fighting in World War II did not enlist for a certain amount of time. Instead, they were given points according to the amount of combat they had seen.

McArthur told us 'one man with combat experience is worth nine without' and would not let some of us out.

During this time the First Infantry Division was on the front line for as long as seven weeks as a time without a rest.

As part of the firing squad Prescott and his division were to locate Japanese that were hiding in various places.

the Philippines we were on 'search and destroy' missions. One man would kick a door down and I would barge in with my gun pointed and ready to shoot at any time.

"The fiercest fighting I was involved in was when we were trying to take an island back from the Japanese. The Japanese had built caves in solid rock and we (U.S.) had gotten heavier tanks to blow up these caves.

The troops in the Philippines knew of the bombing of Japan shortly before it happened. "We knew something important was going to happen-because they had us clear an island for the B-29s to land," said Prescott.

"When the war ended we were told that the Japanese would drop their guns where ever they were at. This caused problems when we had to clean up the artillery," said Prescott.

It took 16 days for Prescott to return to the United States when he was finished with his tour of duty.

"I remember we had to land in San Diego because there was a strike in San Francisco. I was actually discharged from the army at Fort Logan, Colorado in November of 1945," said Prescott.

After serving in the army Prescott returned to Nebraska and worked in farming and ranching before returning to Canada to marry his childhood sweetheart.

After that he worked with construction and heavy equipment repair in the Hartington and Omaha areas until retiring to Wayne in 1981.

While Prescott is reluctant to admit that he has done anything out of the ordinary, his war efforts earned him numerous medals and citations.

Among the honors he has earned are the Good Conduct Medal, Asiatic/Pacific Service Medal, Bronze Star Medal, Philippines Liberation Ribbon with a Bronze Star, American Defense Service Medal, Bronze Arrowhead of Action in the Pacific Theatre, World War II Victory Medal, American Service Medal and a citation for Performance of Duty at Luzon in the Philippines.

Wildcat spikers beaten in final home match of season

The Wayne State volleyball team played their final home match of the season, Tuesday night and the Wildcats couldn't have scheduled a stronger opponent in Kearney for the final home contest and the Lopers spoiled the final appearance by lone senior Jaime Melton in straight games, 2-15, 7-15, 7-15.

The visitors left with a 35-8 record and a top 10 rating in the NCAA-II ratings while WSC slipped to 15-23 heading into Friday's season finale at Morningside.

"We just didn't play well," WSC coach Sharon Vanis said. "You can't take anything away from Kearney because they played a great match but we may have been a little too emotionally excited."

Vanis said her squad knows they can play better and she really feels bad for the team for their final showing at home. Melton had 28 set aces in her final home showing while the Wildcats hitting attack was led by Tammy Gablenz and Lora Grant with nine kill spikes each.

Gablenz was 21-23 in attempts while Grant was 21-26. Jenifer Svitak was 17-20 with six kills and Annette Fluckey was 22-25 with five ace hits. Gablenz was WSC's leading server with two aces and Svitak paced the defense with six digs while Gablenz had four.

LAST WEEKEND the Wildcats competed in the Augustana Tournament and went 0-4. WSC lost to Minnesota-Duluth in the first match, 11-15, 11-15, 8-15. Lora Grant had 13 kill spikes on 34 of 39 attempts to lead WSC while Annette Fluckey was 22-23 with seven kills. Jaime Melton notched 26 set aces while Grant and Fluckey shared team honors in digs with five each. Grant also had four blocks.

In the second match WSC fell to the host team, Augustana, 7-15, 9-15, 9-15. Gablenz had nine kill spikes on 13 of 17 attempts while Grant was 33-37 with nine ace hits.

Melton, once again led the setting corp with 22 aces while Jennifer Reed came off the bench to lead the team in digs with five while Grant had four. Gablenz, Jenifer Svitak and Laura Pfister each had four blocks.

The third match ended in a Wildcat loss to South Dakota State University, 9-15, 8-15, 2-15. WSC managed only 22 kill spikes in the match led by Grant's five on 37 of 44 attempts. Gablenz was 16-20 with four kills and Kari Pichler led the setters with 11 aces while Melton notched seven.

Gablenz and Grant shared team honors with five kill digs each and Gablenz along with Laura Pfister had three blocks to pace the defense at the net.

The final match of the tournament for WSC was a five-gamer with Wisconsin-Parkside with the 'Cats losing, 12-15, 15-7, 16-14, 7-15, 12-15. Grant recorded 25 kill spikes on 66 of 70 attempts while Gablenz was 33-40 with 13 aces. Jenifer Svitak notched 11 kills on 25 of 28 attempts and Annette Fluckey was 31-34 with 11 kills.

Melton led the setters with 55 aces and she was the top server with a pair of aces while Fluckey led the defense with 10 digs and Grant finished with eight. Pfister was the leader on defense at the net with five total blocks.

WSC was dealt a blow before leaving town for the tournament when Carol Sigdestad suffered a broken hand in an incident unrelated to volleyball.

TAMMY GABLENZ passes the ball to her setter during first game action with Kearney, Tuesday.

JAIME MELTON played her final home game as a Wildcat. Here, she tries to save a ball from hitting the floor. Melton is the lone senior on the Wayne State volleyball team. The 'Cats close out the season on Friday when they visit Morningside.

Athletic testing set for Monday

WAYNE-The Athletic Testing Program for all Wayne High athletes in grades 9-12 (girls and boys) will be Monday afternoon during periods, six, seven and eight.

The testing is done by the Sports Medicine Center in Omaha in conjunction with Omaha's Methodist Hospital. The testing will take place in the high school gym.

The purpose of the testing is to give an idea as to where the athletes are in flexibility, strength, speed and muscle strength and it also points out areas of concern for injury prevention.

Wayne State gals fall to Mexican hoop team by 45

The Wayne State women's basketball team hosted the Mexican National women's team in an exhibition contest, Wednesday night in Rice Auditorium.

Unfortunately, for the host team, the Mexican National team that came to Wayne is the same one that competes in the Pan American Games with the exception of a couple players who did not come, and they handed Mike Barry's squad a 105-60 setback. The loss, however, does not count on the season record since it was just an exhibition.

Wayne State was the first of seven teams the Mexican Nationals will play in a span of seven days. "This was the same team that placed third in the recent Brazil Tournament in South America," Barry said. "They finished right behind the United States."

Barry said the Mexican team was bigger, faster and stronger than his squad and they had played much more basketball than WSC, who began practice less than a month ago.

"We learned some things about our team that could benefit us down the road if we improve on them," Barry said. "We believe we have to improve in a lot of areas and as a coach, I admit I did not have our team prepared to play the kind of team we did."

Originally, the Mexican Nationals wanted to play some NCAA Division I schools but when that didn't pan out, Doane College Women's coach Gene Steinmeyer got some contests lined up with the likes of Wayne State, Doane, Kearney, UNO, Nebraska Wesleyan and other Division II and III schools.

The 'Cats trailed by just an 8-7 margin early in the contest but the visitors went on a scoring rampage that ended in a 20-point lead at the intermission, 57-37. WSC was out-scored 48-23 in the second half.

Barry said he carried out his game plan throughout despite the lopsided score. "We went into the contest with the idea of playing our regular rotation the first half and everyone in the second half," Barry said. "Regardless of the score, we did that."

Amy Brodersen and Mindi Jensen paced the Wildcats offensive attack with 10 points each while Deb Kostreba tallied eight. Susie Osborn scored six points while Marla Stewart, Julie Heine and Kristy Twait poured in four each.

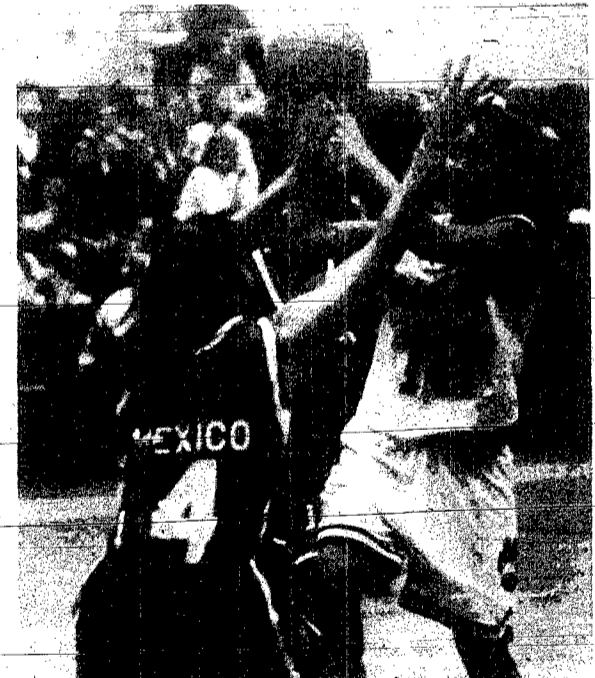

Danyel Grammer, Courtney Klein, Jodi Heller, Kara McLary, Liz Reeg, Lori Zeimete and Lisa Davids rounded out the attack with two points each. Deedra Haskins and Renee Belz did not score.

Zulema Arroyos led the Mexican Nationals with 23 points while Veronica Arroyos tallied 17. Six players from the Mexican National team finished in double figures.

WSC struggled from the free throw line, connecting on just nine of 25 attempts while the visitors were 23-32. The 'Cats were also out-rebounded by a 44-40 margin with Osborn leading WSC with nine caroms while Haskins had six.

The game was very sloppy at times with the 'Cats suffering 38 turnovers while Mexico had 29. Stewart dished out four assists to lead WSC and Twait recorded three steals for team tops.

WSC will officially open the 1994-95 season on Nov. 19 against York College in a women's-men's double-header in Rice Auditorium beginning at 5:30 p.m.

MARLA STEWART tries to penetrate the lane between two Mexican National defenders, Wednesday.

WSC'S SUSIE Osborn exchanges gifts with a Mexican National player prior to the exhibition game.

Lackas joins patrol

Scott Lackas of Wayne has joined the Nebraska State Patrol as a trooper in West Point following graduation ceremonies last week from the State Patrol Training Academy.

Lackas was one of 26 new troopers to join the force. He had previously been stationed in Wayne as a carrier enforcement officer for the Patrol. He was one of eight carrier officers who interviewed and qualified as trooper candidates and moved to trooper duties following graduation.

Lackas was a member of the 38th class of trooper and carrier enforcement candidates who graduated in ceremonies held last Friday at the Ramada Hotel in Lincoln.

Governor Ben Nelson addressed the graduates, and noted the badges they now wear are in the shape of a shield. "The badge you now wear as an officer of the State Patrol serves as a reminder that you are often a protective shield for the rest of us," he said. "Nebraskans hold you in high esteem, which is a tribute to the professionalism and training of those who preceded you. I know you will uphold that tradition of excellence."

Police work has changed over the years. Colonel Ron Tussing noted that when he told the officers, "It is no longer enough to simply be strong and be right. Now you must be strong, right, swift and well trained to handle any situation."

The officers started training July 5, 1994, at the State Patrol Training Academy in Lincoln. Their training continues after graduation in the field. Field Training Officers will accompany the officers for six months as they put into practice what they learned in the academy.

Because of continuing attrition, the 44 new officers did not bring the Patrol up to full, authorized strength. The Carrier Enforcement Division remained three short on graduation, while the Patrol remained short four troopers. Retirements following the graduation will further reduce the ranks.

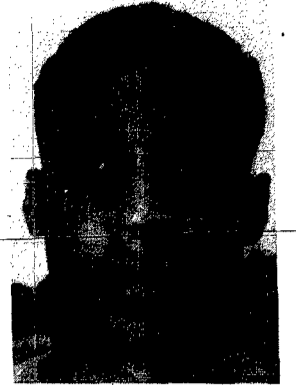

BYRON CHAMBERLAIN was named offensive player of the week against Bemidji State.

ROB STUART was honored by the WSC coaches for his specialty teams play that netted four tackles.

MAURICE ARRINGTON shared defensive player of the game with teammate Jerome Watts.

JEROME WATTS and Mo Arrington played very strong defensive corners against the Beavers.

Final game of football season, Saturday Wayne State to play at Peru

The Wayne State football season will come to a close, Saturday in Peru, Nebraska as the Wildcats look to end the year on a high note and a 7-3 record.

The Bobcats will enter the final week of the season with a 3-9 record. Last year WSC defeated Peru State by a 27-0 margin but two years ago in Peru, the Bobcats played WSC to a 17-17 tie.

Last week the Wildcats improved to 6-3 with a 53-22 win at Bemidji State. WSC held a slim 13-10 halftime advantage but blew the game open in the second half, rolling up 514 yards in the final two quarters, alone.

The 'Cats had 111 offensive plays and tallied 714 yards while holding the Beavers to 248 total yards. Freshman-quarterback Jared Hendershot got the starting nod and responded with 311 yards and three touchdowns on 28 of 47 passing.

Senior wide receiver Byron Chamberlain had a career day as he had 16 receptions for 231 yards (both school records) and two scores. He also set a WSC record for career receptions with 153, breaking the mark of 152 set by Damon Thomas (1992-93.) The other senior wideout, Jerry Garrett, also had a fine day with 11 catches for 94 yards and two touchdowns.

Both Chamberlain and Garrett have a legitimate chance to break the single-season record for number of receptions of 81 set last season by Damon Thomas. Garrett currently has 76 catches and Chamberlain had 75.

On the ground, senior Jason Williams had 152 yards and one touchdown on 24 attempts while senior Lamont Rainey finished with 134 yards and two touchdowns on 20 carries. Rainey needs just seven yards to crack the 1,000-yard rushing barrier for the second straight year. His 134 yards against Bemidji put in the Wildcat record books for most games with 100 yards or more rushing at 15. The old mark was held by Bob Barry from 1976-79 with 14.

The WSC defense limited Bemidji State to 96 yards on the ground and just nine of 29 passing. Senior linebacker Dion Johnson had 15 total tackles to lead the 'Cats along with two pass deflections and a fumble recovery. Junior linebacker Jon Adkisson had 13 tackles.

After starting the season at 3-0, Peru State has lost six consecutive games. The strength of their game is passing the ball as they average 237 yards per game through the air.

Following last week's game, WSC coaches handed down players of the game recognition to Chamberlain on offense, Rob Stuart on special teams as he recorded four tackles, and co-defensive awards to Maurice Arrington and Jerome Watts.

Recruits sign early

Wayne State College head women's basketball coach Mike Barry has announced the signing of two recruits for the 1995-96 basketball season. Jenny Thompson of Wayne and Stefanie Sjuts of Humphrey have signed national letters of intent to play for the Wildcats.

Thompson, a 5-10 guard, averaged 16 points, four rebounds and 3.5 assists per game last season as a junior for the Blue Devils. She was honorable mention all-state and a Northern Activities Conference first-team selection.

Thompson, coached by Roger Reikofski, also was named to the Wayne Herald All-Area Team and the Norfolk Daily News Top 12. Last year, she was tabbed as the Wayne High School Outstanding Female Athlete.

Thompson, a three-sport letter-winner, is the daughter of Chuck and Connie Thompson of Wayne.

"Jenny is a very good athlete who can run the floor, shoot the three-pointer, handle the ball and play full-court defense," Barry said.

Sjuts, a 5-11 guard, averaged 20 points, 12 rebounds and five assists per outing last year as a junior at Humphrey High School. Sjuts, coached by Dave Irwin, earned first-team all-state honors and was a member of the Cornhusker Conference all-conference team.

Sjuts, a three-sport letterwinner, is the daughter of Ron and Jeannette Sjuts of Humphrey. "Stefanie is another good athlete who can score from both inside and outside," Barry said. "She is a physical player who can rebound."

Barry expects to sign two more student-athletes during the late signing period which begins next April 12.

WAYNE STATE College head men's basketball coach Greg McDermott, has announced that Jason Diaz of Combined Locks, Wisconsin has signed a national letter of intent to attend Wayne State and play basketball for the Wildcats next season.

Diaz, a 6-6, 205 pound guard/forward, averaged 16 points and eight rebounds per game last season for Kimberly High School. Under coach John Miron, he helped his team to an overall record of 23-4 and a Wisconsin Division II state championship.

For his efforts at the state championships, he was named to the all-tournament team. He was also a second-team member of the Fox Valley Association Conference. For the coming season, Diaz has been listed among the Top 25 seniors in the state by Wisconsin Basketball Yearbook.

"I feel I will fit in well at Wayne State," Diaz said. "I like the coaching staff and got along really well with the players. I liked the smaller school atmosphere and the academic programs which are offered there. I hope to come in and help them turn the program around."

"Jason is a proven winner, evidenced by the fact he was an integral part of a state championship team," McDermott said. "Jason is loaded with athletic talent and his best basketball is ahead of him. He is a versatile player who can play two or three different positions for us. We can expect him to be a solid contributor as a freshman," McDermott added.

Diaz, who was also recruited by Iowa State, Loyola-Chicago and the University of North Dakota, is the son of Juan and Charlotte Diaz.

Wayne celebrates education week

Wayne and its 125 staff members of the public school system join communities throughout the nation who are celebrating American Education Week Nov. 13-19 — the 73rd observance of this annual event.

The National Education Association (NEA) has been a sponsor ever since the week's inception.

In 1991 representatives of the NEA and the American Legion met to discuss ways to generate more public support for education. Draft boards had discovered that about 25 percent of America's World War I draftees were illiterate, and some 29 percent were physically unfit.

The resolution approved by the 1921 NEA Representative Assembly in Des Moines, Iowa, called for designation of one week each year to spotlight education.

"An educational week should be observed in all communities annually for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting those needs."

Dec. 4-10, 1921, became the first American Education Week, with the NEA and the American Legion as cosponsors. One year later, the U.S. Office of Education became a cosponsor. The National PTA became a cosponsor in 1938.

In the early years of American Education Week, there was a different theme for each day of the weeklong observance. From 1929 to the present, there's been a new theme each year, chosen by representatives of the cosponsoring organizations to reflect a current national concern. This year's theme is: Building the Future One Student at a Time.

Delegates to the 1987 NEA Representative Assembly in Los Angeles called for creation of a special day during the week to honor the contributions of school support staff. National Educational Support Personnel Day was inaugurated with the 1987 observance and has been held each year since on the Wednesday of American Education Week.

Today, the U.S. Department of Education and 11 national organizations are cosponsors of American Education Week: NEA, the National PTA, the American Legion, the American Association of School Administrators, the National School Boards Association, the American Federation of Teachers, the Council of Chief State School Officers, the National School Public Relations Association, the National Association of State Boards of Education, the National Association of Elementary School Principals and the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

American Education Week is always the week before the week in which Thanksgiving is celebrated.
