

Senator faces tax issue as session opens

By Les Mann
Of the Herald

State Sen. Stan Schellpeper of Stanton spent the first hours of the 1995 legislative session outlining a legislative agenda that includes an effort to lower property taxes and working on proposed changes for the state lottery.

But, unlike many of the state's legislative leadership chairmen, Schellpeper did not face a challenge for chairmanship of the General Affairs Committee. He didn't have to spend the early hours politicking to retain his seat, for which he said he was thankful.

Schellpeper is beginning his third term as the representative of the 18th Legislative District, which includes most of Wayne County except for the city limits of Wayne and the eastern portion of the county. The district also includes the counties of Stanton, Pierce, Cedar, most of Dixon and a small portion of Knox.

Schellpeper said he hears the most from his constituents about the need for property tax relief and he will be working on that with the other senators this year. He said he would not be opposed to shifting the property tax burden to sales and income taxes.

"By 1996 if we don't do something in the legislature I think the voters will have a petition going around and do it themselves," he said of the need for a shift away from property taxes as the major funding mechanism for local governments.

It will be a busy session, he predicted, since there is a biennial budget to approve.

An important legislative measure he wants to see enacted will be resolution of a Revenue Department ruling that says Nucor Steel of Norfolk will have to pay state use tax on materials used in the manufacture of steel. He said the new Revenue Department ruling should be resolved by administrative order but may require legislative action.

Previously, Schellpeper said, sales and use taxes were not charged businesses on materials which went into the manufacturing process and became parts of a product eventually sold, and taxed as a finished product.

Schellpeper said the new ruling involves rods used in the electrical furnaces at Nucor. The rods which burn up and become a part of the metal produced and sold by the plant, will ultimately cost the firm millions of dollars, if the issue is not resolved.

Even more worrisome, said

CRP change is goal of Bereuter

On the first day of the 104th Congress, Rep. Doug Bereuter reintroduced his bill to extend and significantly modify the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP).

The federal land conservation contracts under the CRP will begin to expire in 1995. The original 10 year contracts were made available in the 1985 Farm Bill. The majority of the farm land in Northeast Nebraska that was entered into the program went in during the first three years it was available.

The CRP program pays farmers to remove land which is susceptible to erosion out of production.

"In the early 1970's, the expiration of the soil bank program resulted in disaster when incentives lapsed and, predictably, farmers plowed up the grasslands," Bereuter said Thursday.

At present there are 36.5 million acres enrolled in the CRP across the nation, according to Bereuter. Over 28,500 acres or 12 percent of the crop land in Wayne County are enrolled.

"I am convinced that our federal investment in our soil, streams and wildlife will be wasted again if some conservation incentives are not continued," said Bereuter.

His bill will allow the Secretary of Agriculture and farmers to determine which land to protect and also will save taxpayers dollars by focusing precious conservation funds on the nation's most environmentally sensitive lands.

His bill would also permit the early withdraw of certain lands from the CRP.

"Critics of the CRP have rightly criticized this program because it did not focus sufficiently on the most environmentally sensitive land," he said. "Nationally 24 percent of the land enrolled in the CRP is not even classified as highly erod-

Nelson calls for massive tax reduction

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Saying that the 1995 Legislature should heed the message contained in the November elections, Gov. Ben Nelson on Tuesday proposed a $70 million income tax reduction.

Nelson said he hoped for and anticipated wide support for his plan.

Details of the proposal will be unveiled in his state of the state message to lawmakers next week, Nelson said. The Legislature was set

The training sessions will feature dynamic presentations by experts in the domestic abuse, crisis intervention and sexual assault fields.

"Our goal is to reach toward a nonviolent future for our community," said Sara Hutchison, Haven House staff member. Registration is required for the training sessions but those attending do not have to be center volunteers, she said.

Those interested may register by calling 375-4633.

'Red Letter Day' seen

One of Nebraska's congressman called it a red letter day, while another lamented the end of his majority status as the Republicans assumed control of Congress.

"It's been a crisp, cool day in the nation's capital, but the sun has been shining very brightly," said an exuberant Rep. Bill Barrett, R-Neb., on Wednesday.

The Republicans gained a majority in both the Senate and the House of Representatives after scoring key victories in the Nov. 8 election. On Wednesday, Rep. Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., became speaker of the House, and the nation's newly elected lawmakers were sworn into office.

"The Republicans have taken control of the House of Representatives for the first time in 40 years, Newt Gingrich is the new speaker... Now this is a red letter day for any congressman from rural Nebraska," Barrett said.

From the other side of the political aisle, Sen. Jim Exon, D-Neb., admitted he preferred being part of a majority, but he expected the 104th Congress to be an important session for both major political parties.

"I think that under the circumstances the fact that we are in the minority gives us even more respon-

Hot line will answer questions

As college tuition rises, the need for financial aid information increases. In response to this, the Nebraska Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NeASFAA) will sponsor a toll-free Financial Aid Hotline on Tuesday, Jan. 31 from 6 to 10 p.m. The Financial Aid Hotline number is 800-666-3721. The Financial Aid Hotline is offered as a part of Financial Aid Awareness Week, Jan. 29 to Feb. 4.

The hotline will help students and their parents get answers to their questions about college funding, said Terry Munson, Wayne High guidance counselor.

College-bound students and their parents can call the hotline for general financial aid information. Students and their families can get information about the types of financial aid available and application deadlines. They can also get help completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The hotline will be staffed by volunteers from financial aid offices throughout the state of Nebraska.

NeASFAA is a non-profit organization comprised of 49 institutions of higher education that serve over 115,000 students. NeASFAA began in 1967 to bring financial aid administrators together to better serve students and families. Members of NeASFAA deliver over $43 million in federal grants annually to students attending Nebraska schools.

to convene a 90-day session Wednesday.

Senators have indicated that issues ranging from taxes to anti-crime proposals and revisions in the welfare system will get attention in the coming 90-day session. The session's first day was to center on the election of legislative leaders and committee chairmen.

Nelson acknowledged his proposal could mean layoffs for some state workers, but emphasized it was too soon to discuss that possibility.

"Voters sent a clear and strong message" in the last elections when many candidates favoring reduced government were victorious from the local to the national level, Nelson said.

"Tax relief comes from spending relief and we have a plan for reducing state spending," Nelson said following a news conference.

Nelson said his proposal would be offered in the context of a constitutionally required, balanced budget proposal for the next two fiscal years.

"We hope we have 49 senators supporting it," Nelson said of the full membership of the Legislature. "I don't know why you wouldn't support a tax cut. We hope we'll have a lot of support."

The plan allows for more state spending for such things as a boot camp for youthful criminals and wouldn't require reductions in state funding for local school districts, he said.

James Griess, executive director of the Nebraska State Education Association, agreed that local governments should look at economizing but said much local spending is dictated by state and federal mandates.

"Have we been going wild at the local level with spending? I don't think so," Griess said. He said he agreed with Nelson's assessment that "people want a leaner, meaner government."

The NSEA represents some 23,000 teachers statewide.

Sen. Bob Wickersham of Harrison, in whose rural district property tax relief is a major issue, said he couldn't pass judgment on Nelson's plan until he sees details.

"We had been projecting a budget shortfall of about $50 million and now the governor is proposing a tax cut of $70 million," Wickersham said.

Nelson said his administration believes the revenue shortfall -- the difference between projected revenues and appropriations -- is looking better I believe my proposal is doable or I wouldn't be putting it out there."

Wickersham said that if the state has $70 million to spare it might be better spent by taking over the funding of the statewide community college system, which now derives funds from property taxes.

While acknowledging that much must be done to reduce mandated spending, at the state and federal levels, Nelson said the state would set a good example through his plan.

Local government units, including cities, counties, school boards, educational service units and natural resources districts, set local property tax levies.

"Just sending more state dollars to local governments does not translate into property tax relief. In the past it has translated into more local spending," Nelson said.

The state now collects some $800 million in income tax revenues annually, Nelson said.

He said his plan would reduce income tax revenues by 4.5 percent or $35 million annually for two years.

"I need Nebraskans to tell your state senator that you support this tax cut," Nelson said.

He said his proposal would not reduce state funds provided to local governments for state aid to schools.

While indicating that spending reductions and some consolidation of state government functions would be part of his proposal, the governor consistently refused to discuss details.

Radio celebrates milestone

Honoring 75 years of radio service in America, radio stations nationwide will celebrate national radio month throughout January.

This year's theme is "Radio — The Sound Of Your Life." KTCH AM and FM is planning to air a special series of spots this month, underscoring the value of radio.

"Radio has raised generation after generation of listeners, and has helped chronicle some of our nation's most important cultural and political history," said Mark Ahmann, general manager of KTCH.

"Radio is America's first choice for news and entertainment each day, radio also is constant companion because of its mobility.

"In a gadget-filled, technology age, radio today remains simple to operate, free to use and unfettered by wires," said Ahmann. The first scheduled radio broadcasts to the public began in 1920. Today, there are more than 11,000 radio stations in the U.S.; total ad revenues are expected to exceed $10 billion in 1994, a new record. More than 576,000 radios are in use today, about six for every U.S. household.

Seventy-seven percent of all Americans listen to radio an average of three-and-one-half hours per day. Ninety-six percent listen sometime during the week. Radio helped introduce the world to jazz and rock-and-roll, and such indelible personalities as Will Rogers, Edward R. Murrow, Charles Osgood and Paul Harvey. For three generations, radio has become an integral part of American life. Americans choose radio first to get their daily news in the morning, catch the latest business news and sports scores at work, and listen to their favorite music on the way home.

A story-telling medium, radio is like a family circle that brings communities together. Listeners depend on radio to make commutes go smoothly, learn about school closings and scrutinize the actions of government, during natural disasters, radio also is a lifeline for emergency information.

"Radio," said Ahmann, "really is the sound of our lives."

KTCH AM signed on March 18, 1968.

KTCH FM signed on Oct. 19, 1975.

Financial firm sees national name change

IDA Financial Services, Inc., the 100-year-old financial planning company with local offices in Wayne, Pender and Hartington, has officially been renamed American Express Financial Advisors Inc.

The new name, effective Jan. 3, is part of a major corporate "rebranding" effort that seeks to more closely align IDS with its parent company, American Express. Minneapolis-based IDS, the nationwide financial company, was acquired by American Express in 1984.

In the 10 years since the acquisition, IDS has had record earnings growth, and assets owned or managed have increased from $19 billion to more than $100 billion. The company has been considered a star performer in the American Express portfolio of companies.

"We're giving up the IDS name, yes, but we're gaining a lot," noted George Phelps, certified financial planner, with the Wayne office of IDS. "We now carry the American Express name, a name highly respected worldwide for quality and service. We feel the name change will ultimately reinforce IDS' leadership position in financial planning."

To date, IDS' 8,000 representatives have been called "financial planners," but, with the name change, they will be called "financial advisors." IDS research reveals a preference by clients for the word "advisors," indicating it better describes the service that is provided. Financial planning, however, remains the core business for IDS.

"Financial planning is key for IDS. It is the comprehensive, one-on-one service we provide clients that distinguishes us from our competitors," said Phelps.

A positive response to IDS' new name was borne out in six cities where IDS has offices that have been using the American Express name on a pilot basis over the past three years. In those offices — Boston, Fort Worth, Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Salt Lake City and Paramus, N.J. — IDS planners reported they attracted more new clients and did more financial planning business, attributing that in great part to the value of the American Express brand name.

But the IDS name will not be eliminated entirely from the company as it "rebrands" to American Express Financial Advisors. The IDS Mutual Fund Group and its 36 individual retail mutual funds will retain the IDS name. "In other words, people will still be able to look up their IDS funds in the newspaper listings under 'IDS,' explained Phelps.

Other IDS companies that have not changed their name include IDS Life Insurance Company, IDS Property Casualty Company and the IDS Advisory Group and its subsidiaries — the company's institutional money management division.

In addition to the corporate entity, four IDS companies have assumed the American Express name, IDS Tax and Business Services, IDS Institutional Retirement Services and IDS Trust are now "American Express."

sibility," Exon said.

Exon was appointed as the Democratic leader of the Senate Budget Committee. He also was appointed to a new leadership group called the Technology and Communications Committee.

"I am pleased to be in a position to continue fighting for fiscal responsibility," Exon said of his appointment on the Budget Committee.

Exon's Democratic colleague, Sen. Bob Kerrey, D-Neb., said he hasn't noticed any changes due to the power shift. He is hopeful progress will be made in this session of Congress.

"I'm optimistic, based both upon proposals that I've heard Republicans in the Senate make as well as proposals that the Democratic leadership is making, that we're going to be able to forge bipartisan coalitions," he said Wednesday.

How to mix love and work

In many two-earner families today, it becomes difficult to fully meet the demands of work and to give the necessary time to create and maintain a satisfying and intimate partnership. Here are some suggestions:

Separate Work and Family Life

- Establish rituals that signal the end of the working day and leave the business behind. Focus on your love life, your children, what you'll have for dinner — anything so long as it doesn't deal with work.
- Take vacations. Though it's hard for you to take time off, vacations break the routine, keep you flexible and allow you to return to work with fresh perspective.
- Pursue non-work related activities. Take a class or engage in a sport or hobby.
- Stick to work tasks while you are on the job. You are there to accomplish a task, not to get love and support.
- Compartmentalize personal and professional roles. Realize that those two roles are different, and enjoy the diversity.

Talk Honestly and Open

- Get disputes out in the open. Putting something aside and avoiding it, which is common with couples, ensures that it will come back magnified.
- Listen without being critical. Learn to listen to your partner's demands without getting defensive or assuming you're being criticized.
- Express needs in a positive

The "Word" for the Week Old time religion

I've got some Good News and some bad news. It has to do with old time religion. Stick with me. The Good News is really good. First, here is the bad news. Sin is real and we are all caught in it. Your conscience and my conscience prove the point. The Bible says, "The wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23). We also sense this really is the case in the deep recesses of our hearts and consciences. The Good News is quite simple. "While we were still helpless, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly" (Romans 5:6). Get this. Christ died "in the place of the ungodly." Christ did not die for righteous and godly people. He Himself said, "I did not come to call the righteous, but sinners" (Matthew 9:12). Why we persist in affirming our own goodness in the face of Rwanda, Bosnia, Haiti, and a mother drowning her own infant boys is absolutely incredible. We need not suffer under an unbearable load of guilt. Forgiveness of sin and freedom from guilt are obtained through repentance of sin and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. "Repent therefore and return, that your sins may be wiped away" (Acts 3:19). "Believe on the Lord Jesus and you shall be saved" (Acts 16:31). It might be old time religion but it is still valid.

Child rearing seminar to be held

The Evangelical Free Church in Wayne will be hosting a seminar on child rearing in the month of January. The four week seminar will begin on Sunday, Jan. 8 at 6 p.m. and will conclude on Sunday, Jan. 29. The seminar is a component of Life Changing Ministries in Stanton, which is a Bible-based counseling center. Speaker is Roy Roberts. For further information feel free to contact Pastor Cal Kroeker at 375-4946 or 375-4917. Evangelical Free Church is located one mile east and one mile north of Wayne. Seminar cost is $35.

Guest speaker at St. Mary's

Pastor Bob Timberlake, the director of the Open Door Mission and Lydia House in Omaha, will be a guest speaker at St. Mary's Church Holy Family Hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 11. The public is invited to attend his talk as he shares his experiences and heartwarming stories of families and individuals who have sought shelter and the Open Door Mission and Lydia House. He will tell about the dramatic increase in the numbers of homeless children sheltered each night. Pastor Bob, as he likes to be called, will also provide some innovative ways for people in the Wayne area to become involved individually or collectively in helping the homeless. His presentation will include the newest video produced by the Open Door Mission, "There is a Place." Before his work at the Omaha Mission, Pastor Bob and his wife Suzanne were missionaries in Bangladesh and has directed three other Gospel Rescue Missions. He has been director of the Omaha mission since 1987. For additional information about the presentation, contact Kathleen Grone at 375-1650.

5-4 Blue Devils to play in South Sioux, Saturday

Wayne girls stretch win streak to three

WAYNE'S JENNY THOMPSON gets fouled by an unidentified Laurel player during first half action of the Blue Devils 13-point win over the Bears, Thursday night while teammate Anne Wiseman tries to set a pick.

Wakefield advances to tournament final

The Wakefield boys basketball team advanced to the finals of their own post-holiday tournament, Thursday with a 75-65 whipping of Emerson-Hubbard.

The Trojans will square off with Pender in Saturday's championship tilt at 8 p.m. Pender advanced to the finals with an easy win over Homer.

Despite the 10-point final margin of victory the Trojans absolutely dominated the Pirates and built leads of as many as 26 points before substituting freely late in the game.

Wakefield took a 39-23 lead into the locker room at the half and 59-33 lead after three quarters of play before Emerson went on a 32-16 scoring run to close out the game in the final stanza.

"Emerson is a guard oriented team," Wakefield coach Brad Hoskins said. "They shot the 3-pointer 26 times and the 2-pointer just 25. We did a nice job of hitting the boards and we moved the ball well on offense with everyone getting involved."

The Trojans had 19 team assists and doubled the number of rebounds that Emerson had, 50-25. The only statistic the Trojans were out-done in was turnovers as Wakefield suffered 31 while the Pirates turnover it over 19 times.

"We didn't do a very good job of hitting free throws either," Hoskins said. "We hit just 12 of 35 attempts."

Justin Dutcher led the winners with 23 points including five, 3-pointers out of his six attempts from bonus range. Wes Blecke poured in a season high 31 and Cory Brown tallied 13. Luke Tappe notched six points and Mike Rischmuller added five while Ryan Hoffman finished with three. Travis Burkley and Matt Kucepa rounded out the attack with two apiece.

Blecke led the Trojans on the boards with 14 rebounds while Rischmuller hauled down eight.

The girls division of the Wakefield Post Holiday Tournament will be held Friday night with the consolation game taking place at 4 p.m. on Saturday followed by the championship girls and boys games.

At Wisner Invitational, Saturday Wrestlers lose dual

The Wayne wrestling team lost a 43-24 decision to rated Creighton, Thursday in Creighton in dual action.

John Murtaugh's team found themselves trailing by a 43-0 margin following the 150-pound match as Creighton received forfeit points at 106, 112, 134 and 142. There was no match at 100 pounds because neither team had a wrestler.

Jody Campbell lost by pin to Nick Matney in 5:33 at 119 pounds and Tyler Endicott fell by a 9-0 decision to Cory McManigat at 125. Jeremy Sturm was pinned by Rick Hasenpflug in 3:23 of the 151 pound match and Ryan Brown lost a 9-2 decision to Greg Workman at 150.

Cory Erdleben won by forfeit at 172 pounds to record Wayne's first points while Dusty Jensen notched the first Wayne win on the mat with a pin of Blayne Krespi in just 78 seconds. Jeremiah Radwisch won by forfeit at 215 and Jeff Hamer won by pin in 2:15 over Clayton Krueger at 275.

"Creighton wrestled well and we wrestled poorly," Wayne coach John Murtaugh said. "We wrestled with very little aggressiveness or intensity."

Wayne will travel to compete in the Wisner Invitational, Saturday.

Roger Reikofski watched his Wayne girls basketball team improve to 5-4 with a 62-49 win over Laurel, Thursday at Wayne High. The Blue Devils will ride a three-game win streak into South Sioux on Saturday when they face Class B's second-ranked Cardinals.

Wayne trailed the Bears by an 8-2 margin late in the first quarter before the Blue Devils scored the last seven points of the period, the final three from Jenny Thompson with a 3-pointer to take a 9-8 lead.

The host team went on a 21-12 scoring run in the second stanza to build a 10 point lead at the half, 30-20 before taking complete control in the third quarter.

Wayne led by 18 points heading into the final period, 46-28. The Bears, however, did not fold as Rick Petri's squad kept battling and with about two minutes left in regulation, Laurel had trimmed the Blue Devils lead to eight points and had possession of the ball.

"I was pleased with our performance," Reikofski said. "We didn't execute very well in the first quarter but we got things going in that last minute of the first quarter and throughout the rest of the game."

The Wayne mentor said his team did a good job of handling the pressure put on by the Bears. "We also did a great job on the boards," Reikofski said. "We had over 20 offensive rebounds and out-rebounded them, 45-30."

Petri said he also felt the biggest difference in the game was rebounding. "We gave up a lot of second and third chance points and that's something we can't afford to keep doing," Petri said. "We have to do a better job of blocking out."

Carrie Fink led Wayne with 23 points including 10 in the third quarter. Katie Lutt poured in 15 and Jenny Thompson tossed in 13 while Anne Wiseman and Katy Wilson each tallied four. Cori Langefeld and Melissa Weber rounded out the scoring with two and one points, respectively.

Laurel was led by Alissa Krie and Becky Schroeder with 12 points each while Cathy Mohr tallied eight and Dawn Wickert, six. Megan Adkins netted five points and Gina Monson scored four while Tracy Ankeny finished with two.

Lutt was the Blue Devils top rebounder with 13 caroms while Wiseman hauled down nine and Fink, seven. Schroeder and Krie shared team honors on the boards for Laurel with eight rebounds each. Lutt dished out seven assists to lead

Laurel suffered 20 turnovers in the game compared to 17 for Wayne and the Blue Devils were 13-24 from the free throw line compared to three of seven shooting from the Bears. Laurel will travel to play Pierce, Friday.

LAUREL'S TRACY ANKENY looks to shoot the ball while Wayne defender Erica Stoltenberg blocks her path.

Hartington Cedar Catholic superstar to sign with WSC

Jaime Jones, a 6-6 senior quarterback from Hartington Cedar Catholic High School, announced that he has made an oral commitment to accept a football scholarship and attend Wayne State College next season. Jones, a two-sport standout, is also expected to play basketball next winter for the Wildcats.

A three-year starter at quarterback, Jones accounted for nearly 4300 yards passing, hitting 181 of 343 pass attempts with 43 touchdowns. On the ground, Jones rushed for over 1400 yards with 16 touchdowns during his prep career.

Defensively, Jones intercepted

24 passes and recovered five fumbles as a four-year starter. Jaime was a two-time all-state selection and a four-time Northern Activities Conference All-Conference performer.

He guided Cedar Catholic to the state football playoffs during his junior and senior seasons. Jones, who will also bring an impressive basketball resume to WSC, is a four-year starter and was a C-1 All-State performer as a junior.

Currently, Jaime is averaging nearly 22 points and 10 rebounds a game for the 7-2 Trojans. Jones is expected to play a wing position for Wildcat coach Greg McDermott at Wayne State next season.

Jones selected Wayne State over the University of Nebraska-Kearney and the University of Kansas. He will officially sign a letter of intent to Wayne State on Feb. 1.

Allen girls defeated by 29 in Wausa

The Allen Eagles girls basketball team was thumped by undefeated Wausa, Tuesday by a 69-40 margin in Wausa.

Lori Koeester and Gary Erwin's squad showed the effects of a two-week layoff because of the Christmas break while Wausa improved to 9-0.

"We got the lead trimmed to seven early in the third quarter but we lost one of our starters with the flu," Koeester said. "Abbey Schroeder went to the locker room and never returned."

Allen trailed the host team, 36-24 at the half and 51-36 after three quarters of play before being out-scored, 13-4 in the final stanza. "Wausa has an outstanding pressing team," Koeester said. "We had problems with unforced turnovers as well. We just didn't play sharp."

Tanya Plueger led Allen with 12 points and Holly Blair tossed in 10 while Abbey Schroeder and Mindy Plueger netted six each. Dee Plueger finished with four and Jaime Mitchell rounded out the attack with two.

Allen did win the battle of the boards, 32-22 led by Tanya Plueger's 13 rebounds while the turnover battle ended up 33-19 in Wausa's advantage. The Eagles were 4-10 from the free throw line while the host team was 14-21. Allen will travel to play Ponca on Friday night.

Baseball Association to host meeting

John Magnuson paced the scoring attack with eight points while Robbie Sturm scored five and Ryan Dahl, three. Ryan Dunickau rounded out the scoring with two points.

In the consolation game, Wayne defeated Wisner, 34-28 as Magnuson led the way with eight points while Dahl tallied seven and Dustin Sutton, five. Ryan Stoltenberg and Brandon Gunn each netted four while Matt Sobanayk and Dunickau scored two each.

Economic growth predicted

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A December survey of business forecasts continued economic growth in 1995 for an 11-state middle-America region but the economist conducting the survey sees higher interest rates coming, too.

The Mid-American Survey of Business Conditions Index was 62.8

percent, virtually unchanged from the 62.1 percent index reported in November, Creighton University economics professor Dr. Ernie Goss said Tuesday.

An index over 50 percent indicates economic growth.

The index forecasts continued economic growth in 1995 for the region that includes Nebraska, Colorado, Iowa, Kansas, Arkansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Missouri, Oklahoma and Wyoming, said Goss, who holds the MacAllister Chair in Regional Economics at Creighton.

"The December survey reinforces the steady economic growth taking place in the Mid-American region. As we look forward into 1995, the purchasers we surveyed are confident that healthy growth will continue in the region's economy," Goss said in a news release.

The only warning sign on the horizon for a change in the economy's direction is the continued upward pressure on prices, he said. "For the last few months purchasers have been reporting significant inflationary pressure in the economy."

Goss believes the inflationary signs will result in another interest rate hike by the Federal Reserve early in 1995.

For December, individual state indexes ranged from 56.8 percent in Arkansas to 68.1 percent in Minnesota, Goss reported.

Upward pressure on prices continued throughout the region, with a regional price index of 89.2 percent, down slightly from November's 89.6 percent price index.

Schellpeper is the probability that the new ruling could apply to other manufacturers and businesses as well. He said the Revenue Department could rule for instance, that the grain fed by Waldbaums to its chickens, should be taxed.

He said he sees the new ruling as an effort by the agency to raise additional tax funds without the enactment of new tax laws.

Schellpeper's committee deals with state gambling issues and he said he expects to preside over several proposals to change the state lottery and add video gambling in Nebraska.

ible. It is first necessary and paramount to stop spending precious conservation funds on land which merely requires stewardship for production."

He said critics of the program have also shown that many incentive payments are excessive. His goal he said is to enable the agriculture secretary to reduce payments on certain lands while permitting farmers greater flexibility to use those lands.

He said he believes in many cases CRP land can be devoted to productive uses such as haying, grazing and production of grass for alternative fuels without any negative effect on the environment.
