Fur flies over cats in Wayne council debate

By Tom Mullen Of The Herald

Wayne City Clerk Betty McGuire revealed the results of her telephone survey of the cat licensing policies of nearby communities at Tuesday's special meeting of the City Council.

"I talked to-Fremont, Norfolk and South Sioux City," said McGuire, and told the Council that Fremont has no cat license law, Norfolk requires licensing of both dogs and cats, and South Sioux once had a cat licensing policy, but, "They repealed their license laws due to unenforceability."

The Council had directed City Staff to investigate the policies of communities surrounding Wayne, at a meeting late last fall, when several citizens petitioned the Council to address the problem of stray felines.

McGuire told the Council that the Humane Society takes care of stray cats in Fremont and Norfolk but that, "South Sioux pays an Councilperson Lois Shelton suggested that if new license laws are adopted in Wayne, "We might want to consider charging more for non neutered animals."

Councilperson Verdel Lutt disagreed, "The problem doesn't come from the licensed animals, it comes from the unlicensed animals."

Shelton urged the Council to consider action, stating that she had heard that many cats are being diagnosed with an immune deficiency syndrome and that this disease will spread over the city.

Lutt asked Police Sergeant Bob McLean what was currently being done with problem animals, to which McLean replied, "we transport them to some place far away, and they are never heard from Rehearsing for their parts in the upcoming Wayne Community Theatre production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" are cast members Corinne Morris, Dan Baddorf and Joan Brogie. The troupe has been rehearsing for several weeks. The production opens next week in the new Carriage House Theatre which is part of the Mineshaft Mall in downtown Wayne.

Theatre opening nears

Wayne's new Carriage House Theatre will officially open next week (Feb. 3) when the Wayne Community Theatre troupe takes the intimate new stage with its production of "Arsenic and Old Lace."

First organized in 1937, the community theatre group decided two. years ago decided to lease a portion of the Mineshaft Mall on East 2nd Street and turn it into a permanent home for the group.
While facilities at Wayne State

College and Wayne High School will still be used for the group's larger productions such as the annual summer musical, the Carriage House will allow smaller shows in a more intimate atmosphere and will eliminate scheduling conflicts with the increasingly busy school facili-tics, explains Dan Baddorf, publicity chairman for the Theatre.

The name Carriage House was chosen because the facility at one time was an automotive dealership and before that was actually used to store wagons, buggies and tack.

All work on the new facility was done by volunteers in their spare time. Directing the remodeling effort have been Ted Blenderman, who will also be directing the first production in the new theatre and Dave Headley who currently serves as president for the theatre group.

The theatre will seat approximately 120 with chairs arranged on tiers for easy visibility.

Arsenic and Old Lace by Joseph Kesselring was chosen as the first show because the classic comedy is easily recognizable and entertaining, according to Blenderman. He said the setting of the play and stage plan fits nicely into the Carriage

New store is due in Wayne

By Tom Mullen Of The Herald

Six weeks ago, Office Connection's manager Kim Ver Wey, was trying to think of ways to better serve her customers. That's when she saw it.

"We got a card in the mail," explained Ver Way, "Radio Shack wanted to know if we were interested in them."

Ver Wey was wary at first, not knowing if a Radio Shack store could dovetail with her existing business. It was a concern that Radio Shack management soon put to rest. "One of the main things we wanted to do was to make sure that we could still have office products, copies, faxing and printing, that this would be an addition to our

Parking plans discussed for city

City Administrator Joseph Salitros suggested that the City adopt new criteria for Terrace Parking at Tuesday's special meeting of the City Council.

Salitros told the Council, "We conducted a census last year which told us there are 600 terrace parking aces in Wayne."

Salitros' primary suggestion was that, "terrace parking shall be permitted only when the off street regulations are met and there is no additional parking available on the

Other suggestions included: All spaces be concrete paved

·Minimum parking space depth of 20 feet

•Trees shall have precedence over parking, there shall be no removal of trees to allow for parking,

No official action was taken as the meeting had been called for informational purposes only.

Clothiers retiring after 30 years

By Clara Osten For the Herald

After more than 30 years in the retail clothing business, Chuck and Lillian Surber have decided to retire and sell their business.

Chuck's career in the clothing business began in the same building that has been Surber's for nearly 22 years, "I started working for what was Larson-Florine and worked for a time before moving to Orange City, Iowa to open our own business," said

IN 1973, after 10 years in Iowa, the Surbers came back to Wayne and purchased both the women's and men's stores on the corner of Second and Main. Last fall, Chuck and Lil decided to sell the inventory in the stores and retire. That sale will be complete Saturday.

In addition to the two portions of the store that they currently own, the Surber's also had a jean store known as The Vault which was located in the basement of the women's section. "During the late 70's and early 80's jeans with lots of different types of pockets and other details were very popular. It was not unusual for someone to come in and purchase three or four pairs. Then the style changed back to a more western type and business declined," said Chuck

THE SURBERS have worked side by side throughout the years, both in their store in Iowa and here in Wayne. "We have always worked together, but sometimes we have been so busy that we don't actually see each other all day," said Lil.

Throughout the years, the Surbers have noticed some changes in the shopping habits of their customers. "More women are working now and need more clothing. Also, clothing styles are more casual today than they were years ago. Women tend to shop more and have more clothes than men," said Lil.

"We have also seen a change in the times that people shop. As lives become busier, people are shopping during their lunch hours and right after work. We don't see nearly as many people shoping on Thursday nights as we used to. I think that when people get home from work, they just want to stay home," said Chuck.

"IF THERE is one thing that I would like to change, it would be to make people aware of how important it is to support home town businesses. People have to support the local businesses or there won't be a Main Street," said

Both Chuck and Lil say they will miss the friendships that have developed during the past 22 years. 'We have had some of the same

Pig show features Wayne judge

Judges for the 1995 Nebraska Feeder Pig Show to be held at the Platte County Ag Park in Columbus Feb. 2 have been announced by Mike Brumm, University of Nebraska swine specialist. The show is a part of the 22nd Nebraska Pork Industry Exposition:

The three individuals who will rank the pens-of-five in the three weight classes of the show are: Mike Crum, North Platte, Neb., who runs a finishing operation for feeder pigs; Lane Ostendorf, Sioux City, Iowa, former manager of a feeder pig co-op; and Russ Thede, Wayne, manager of Greater Northeast Pig Co-

As in past shows, the trio will rank pigs with the "olympic judging" arrangement, in which each judge scores a pen-of-five pigs; the sum of the three scores determines the plac-ing, said Brumm who is located at the NU Northeast Research and Extension Center at Concord, Neb.

The feeder pigs will be fed out at the J&C Swine Testing (formerly SENEK) near Wymore, Neb. and owners will be supplied carcass and performance data on their pigs. The Expo will award $600 in premiums to top winners in the live and carcass competition.

Any bona fide Nebraska pork producer who farrows pigs in Nebraska is eligible to enter pigs in the show, Brumm said.

The Nebraska Feeder Pig Show will begin at the Ag Park Arena at 1 p.m. on Feb. 2. The Pork Expo trade show will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Feb. 1 and from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Feb 2. More than 200 exhibitors have signed up for display booths at the Pork Expo, according to Show Manager Bob Voboril of Columbus, Neb. The popular "Four Corners" program, putting producers in touch with experts in various aspects of feeder pig production, will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon Feb. 2.

New this year are swine artificial insemination demonstrations at the Behlen Building in Ag Park, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on both Feb. 1 and 2. Don Levis, swine specialist at UNL, will conduct the demonstrations, using live boars and sows. There will be a workshop on swine artificial insemination at Ag Park

Nebraska Pork Expo, Inc., sponsors the overall two-day event in cooperation with the Nebraska and Pla-Co Pork Producers Associations and NU Cooperative Extension.

Sergeant Bob McLean reported that after talking with John and Dorothy Redel, who live near Riley's, "I think the situation is improving."

Riley's owner Loreta Tompkins distributed a letter to the Council, which outlined the details of their November meeting with City representatives and the Redels. The letter cited ten concessions made by Riley's, including an earlier closing time and better policing of their patrons and their property.

Councilperson Verdel Lutt suggested that, "all parties meet one more time to make sure everyone is

'You mean you shoot them?" asked Lutt.

Yes," replied McLean.

Wayne resident Loreta Tompkins told the Council that her cat, who ordinarily is gone from the house for two to four hours each day, was recently missing for 11 days, "and when she returned, she (the cat) had been shot.

Lutt asked Tompkins, "When your cat leaves your house, do you-

When Tompkins responded that her cat did indeed leave her own property, Lutt stated, "if it's off your property, it's a stray. If that cat is on my property, I think I have a right to dispose of it.

No official action was taken as the meeting had been called simply to update and inform the Council.

Parenting: Raising ethical, moral child

Part 1 of 3 Part Series CHARACTER DEVELOPS THROUGHOUT LIFE

Parents embarking on the jour-ney of raising a child to become an ethical, moral, honorable and decent adult should first free themselves from some old myths of character development.

One such myth is that one mistake will permanently injure your child. This myth, perpetuated as the "turning point" theory in popular movies and novels suggests that character is formed immutably as a response to one major dramatic event. It should be of comfort to know that this is rarely so.

Developmental psychology describes a process that is both grad-ual and interactive. And, though parents are important influences in the values children adopt and the strength of character they develop, they are certainly not the sole determiners.

The philosopher Jean Paul Richter said, "the conscience of children is formed by the influences that surround them; their notions of good and evil are the result of the moral atmosphere they breathe," Several generations ago, Samuel Drury put it this way: "The parent's job, year in and year out, here a little there a little, is to build up a disposition of good sportsmanship, of taking one's medicine, of facing the music, of being reviled and reviling not.'

Both of these observations highlight the importance of parenting for the long haul, of continuous involvement and thoughtful intervention. The essence of ethical parenting is the commitment to make sincere and continued efforts to guide a child toward basic moral principles and the development of ethical character traits like honesty, mon folklore that a person's character is formed permanently in very early childhood is simply wrong. Character development is virtually a lifelong process, starting in infancy and extending well into middle age, perhaps even later. Character development is a dy-namic process where the parents interact with children and children interact with parents to shape each other's values and priorities. Michael Josephson, the founder of the Josephson Institute, has said that it was the experience of becoming a father that motivated him to devote his life to ethics. He said his infant son supplemented his conscience by providing a per-spective of evaluation — "how spective of evaluation would I act if my son was looking over my shoulder?" The 'Word' for the Week —

Sex, love and marriage

In our day, power struggles seem inevitable within marriage. Hus-bands put the thumb screws on their wives. Wives try to manipulate their husbands. Mutual respect and love vanishes in jealous competition for power. This ugly manipulative spirit pervades our age. It asserts itself most fully on what was intended to be the most beautiful expression of love ever conceived, the marriage bed.

The marriage bed, however, should be the place of greatest mutuali-ty between husband and wife. Look at what the Bible says about it. "Let the husband fulfill his duty to his wife, and likewise the wife to her husband. The wife does not have authority over her own body, but the husband does; and likewise the husband does not have authority over his own body, but the wife does" (1 Corinthians 7:3-4).

Within marriage there is a duty to engage in sexual relations. Outside of marriage there is a duty to abstain from sexual relations. This is a place where practice beforehand does not help. Those who live together before marriage have a higher divorce rate than those who do not. Such people generally think their bodies are their property and they can do with them as they please. Marriage partners who lovingly give themselves to each other know they belong to their spouse. The divisive desire for control is replaced by selfless love.

In Tekamah the Blue Devils appeared to be on their way to win number nine on the season with a five point lead in the fourth quarter but the host Tigers out-scored Wayne by 16 points down the stretch to earn the 11-poitn win.

"We gave up entirely too many offensive rebounds," Wayne coach Roger Reikofski said. "It's plain and simple, if you can't rebound, you can't win." The disgruntled Wayne coach said his team gave up 23 offensive boards which was one more than the Blue Devils had on

"We didn't block out on the boards at all in the fourth quarter and Tekamah was getting second and third chances on every possession," Reikofski added.

The visiting Blue Devils led, 31-22 at the half. "O'Neill was hitting everything from the field in the second half," Reikofski said. "They hit five of eight 3-pointers and 15 of 27 shots in the second half, overall."

O'Neill connected on a 3-pointer late in the second to tie the score at 60 but Carrie Fink scored on a layup right after to give Wayne the lead back at 62-60 with less than 10 seconds remaining.

"O'Neill ran a play but Carrie Fink took a charge from one of their players and we got the ball back," Reikofski said. "The only problem was, we didn't get the ball in bounds before the five-second count and the ball was turned back over to O'Neill.'

Rick Petri's Bears appeared to have the game under control after sprinting to an 18-3 lead in the first quarter and Laurel continued to lead until midway through the fourth period.

"We played pretty well in stretches but we could never put them away," Petri said. "We had a 15 point lead in the first quarter but they went on an 8-0 scoring run. Then in the second quarter we led by 13 with a minute to go before half and Wakefield scored six straight points to cut the lead back

Laurel took a nine point lead into the fourth quarter at 45-36 and the Bears stretched that lead to double digits at 11, early before Wakefield's Jaime Paulson took matters into her own hands.

Paulson scored 11 of her gamehigh 17 points in the final stanza including a 3-pointer to tie the game at 47. "Jaime found the range in the final quarter," Wakefieldcoach Gregg Cruickshank said. "She was five of seven from the field over the final eight minutes."

Petri said his squad had trouble handling the ball in the fourth quarter. "We had seven timovers and really let Wakefield back in the game," Petri said. "We have to work on putting four good quarters together."

Cruickshank said his entire team shot over 70 percent from the field in the final period. "We really did a nice job of stepping up our intensity on both offense and defense," Cruickshank said. "We executed our offense much better in the final period."

Mary Torczon tossed in a dozen points to go with Paulson's 17 while Kristin Preston was in double figures with 10. Jenny Haglund tallied seven and Alison Benson scored six. Amy Hattig netted three points and Stacey Preston rounded out the scoring with two.

Laurel was led by Alissa Krie with 14 points and Becky Schroeder with 12 while Gina Monson and Cathy Mohr finished with seven each. Heather Cunningham tossed in six points while Dawn Wickett, Tracy Ankeny, Natasha Kardell and Megan Adkins each scored two.

Wakefield won the battle of the boards, 24-22 with Torczon leading the winners with nine caroms while Schroeder had five to lead Laurel. The Trojans suffered 18 turnovers and forced 19 and the host team was 8-20 from the foul line while Laurel was 4.9

The 8-6 Bears will play at Randolph on Saturday in first round action of the NENAC Tournament while Wakefield hosts Wynot in the first round of the Lewis and Clark Conference tourney, Saturday.

Winside cage teams split with Hartington

The Winside girls and boys basketball teams earned a split with Hartington, Thursday night in Hartington as Lisa Schroeder's girls team won their third game of the season with a 52-43 decision while Bill Koolstra's boys fell to 1-11 with a 73-70 setback despite playing their best game of the season.

In the girls contest Winside trailed 10-6 after one quarter of play and 19-17 at the half before outscoring the host team, 35-24 in the second half. "We enjoyed our best second half of the season," Schroeder said. "Despite the fact we're just 3-10 I like the way this team is improving each game."

Winside's second half performance was sparked by Ann Brugger who came off the bench to toss in 12 points. "Ann really did a good job for us," Schroeder said. "I think eight of those points came off offensive rebounds."

Wendy Miller led the winners with 16 points and seven rebounds while recording four steals. Brigger followed with 12 and Kristi Oberle netted seven while Sarah Painter tallied five. Emily Deck and Melinda Mohr each scored four and Mindi Marotz added three whil Jodi Miller rounded out the attack with a free throw.

The Wildcats will now have to travel to play Wausa on Saturday in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament. The Lady Vikings will bring an undefeated record into the game.

THE WINSIDE boys played an outstanding game, hitting 65 percent of their shots from the field but unfortunately for Winside fans, the host team nailed 62 percent of their shots from the field and outscored Winside from the free throw line by eight points.

"I was very satisfied with our effort," Koolstra said. "It was our best game of the year. Our kids are very resiliant and they play hard each night out despite the win-loss record.

The game was close throughout with both teams tied at 21 after the first quarter and tied at 39 at the half. Hartington out-scored Winside, 19-16 in the third quarter and both teams scored 15, fourth quarter points.

Sophomore Chad O'Connor poured in 24 points to lead Winside while Jeff Bruggeman tossed in 18 and Jaimey Holdorf finished in double figures with 14 Jay Shelton chipped in eight and Greg Mundil scored four while Colby Jensen rounded out the scoring with two. Winside dominated the boards, Winside dominated the boards, 38-19 as Shelton hauled down 14-caroms while O'Connor notched eight rebounds. Winside took good care of the basketball with 11-turnovers while the host team had just 10 and Winside was 7-13 from the free throw line compared to 15 of 21 from the charity stripe for Hartington.

Winside will travel to play Wynot in the first round of the Lewis & Clark Conference Tournament, Monday.

Laurel boys down Homer

LAUREL-It was a strange outing for the Laurel boys basketball team against Homer in Laurel, Tuesday. Clayton Steele's Bears found themselves leading by 25 points with under four minutes to go in regulation only to have the visitors come all the way back and tie the game against the Laurel reserve players.

Steele was forced to call a timeout with under a half-minute to go and put his starters back in. Rich Rasmussen connected on a lay-up with under 10 seconds to go to give Laurel the lead and the win, 85-83.

"They (Homer) nailed five straight 3-pointers." Steele said. "Then we got a technical foul late in the game and they tied the game on the free throw with 30 seconds to go in regulation."

Homer did have a chance to win the game in regulation as they attempted a couple, 3-pointers on its last possession but they just drew iron. The win improved the Bears record to a perfect 13-0 with Jeremy Reinochl leading the way with 33 points.

Rich Rasmussen poured in 16 and Cody Carstensen netted 13 while Travis Stingley finished in double figures with 10. Kyle Macklin tossed in nine points and Shane Schuster netted three while Tyler Erwin scored one.

Laurel won the rebounding battle with Stingley, Rasmussen, Reinoehl and Macklin all providing a number of caroms. The Bears had 12 turnovers compared to 18 and the host team was 16-23 from the free throw line while Homer was 9-16.

The Bears will travel to play Wakefield, Friday.

Wakefield girls improve to 10-6

WAKEFIELD-The Wakefield girls basketball team improved to 10-6 with a 59-33 thumping of Homer, Monday in Wakefield. The Trojans jumped out to a 14-5 lead after one quarter of play and never trailed.

The host team led, 33-15 at half and 49-21 after the third quarter.
"We had a good, team effort," Wakefield coach Gregg Cruickshank said. "We did a nice job of following our game plan and we got the ball inside and scored often."

The Trojans hit 25 of 47 field goal attempts for the game and displayed a quality defensive effort. Mary Torczon proved unstoppable as she poured in a career-high 24 points while Jaime Paulson tallied nine. Jenny Hagland and Amy Hattig each scored six while Carly Salmon, Kristin Preston and Rachel Dutcher netted four each. Stacey Preston rounded out the scoring with two points.

Wakefield garnered a 34-23 rebounding advantage with Torczon

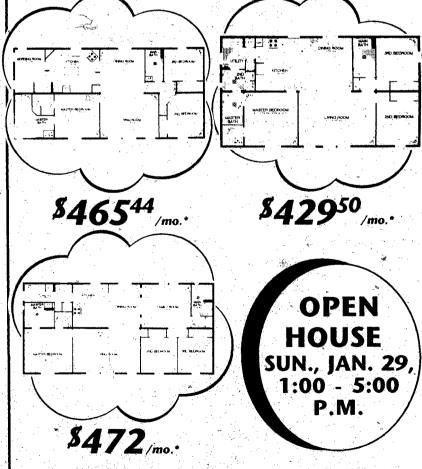

Wakefield garnered a 34-23 rebounding advantage with Torczon leading the way with 10 caroms. The Trojans had a dozen turnovers but forced 24 and Wakefield hit nine of 16 free throw attempts compared to 11 of 18 shooting from the charity stripe by Homer.

Chamberlain and Garrett to attend combine camp next month

Hula Bowl outing aids WSC recruiting

By Kevin Peterson Sports editor

Last Saturday night in Honolulu, Hawaii, Wayne State's Byron Chamberlain showed the National Football League scouts that he could play football with anyone on

The former Wayne State standout wide receiver was the first non-NCAA-I player to ever be invited to play in the game on the team's original roster and he made the Chamberlain caught six passes for 87 yards and scored his team's only touchdown on 31-yard scoring strike from Michigan Wolverines quarterback Todd Collins.

Prior to the all-star game Chamberlain was said by scouts and his agent to have had a great week of practice and his stock in the coming NFL draft, undoubtedly rose.

Wayne State football offensive coordinator Keith Simons said Bryon's performance in the Hawaii all-star game will impact the Wildcats recruiting efforts.
"The only question scouts had about Byron was if he could line up on the outside and have the speed and ability to beat defensive backs deep and he quieted that speculation n he beat an NCAA Division I All-American from Florida State on a post pattern," Simons said. "He was projected to be anywhere from

third round to a seventh round draft pick by the scouts before this game and his stock rose with his performance throughout the whole

Simons said it will be important for Byron to keep working hard and to do well at next month's combine camp which will be held in Indianapolis, Indiana.

"Only the top 150 players in the country are invited to this combine camp," Simons said. "We have two players invited with Byron and Jerry

Simons said Garrett is also expected to go in the NFL draft according to his agent and pro scouts. we got Byron and Jerry in the NFL next year we may be the only team in the United States on any level to have three receivers in the pros that played together at the same time in college," Simons said. "Damon Thomas played with these two receivers during the 1993 season and he's with the Buffalo

Chamberlain was highlighted by

ESPN in the pre-game show as being one of the more impressive players during the week of practice leading to the all-star game.

Simons said in the next several weeks many NFL scouts and receivers coaches will be coming to Wayne to test both Byron and Jerry, As far as recruiting goes, Si-mons said he was on the phone to three wide receiver prospects in California prior to the game and told them to watch Byron on television.

"After the game I got on the phone with those three receivers and were all jacked up," Simons said. "It helps in recruiting when you can show them if they perform at the level we think they can, we can get them the exposure it takes to go on to the next level."

Simons said all three of the wideouts being recruited in California have the ability to play beyond the college football level. "The recruits know that we're not just blowing smoke when we tell them they'll get the exposure they need by coming to Wayne State," Si-mons said. "We can prove it and a perfect example is Byron in the Hula Bowl and Jerry in the Blue-Gray Bowl," Simons added. "If they are good enough, we will get them in a bowl game.

Chamberlain is Wayne State's all-time leader in career receptions with 161. His stats last season included 83 catches for 926 yards and seven touchdowns. He was nominated for the Harlon Hill Trophy, given each year to the top player in NCAA-II—the equivalent to the Heismann Trophy.

Chamberlain also holds records for catches in a game at Wayne State with 16 and total yards receiving for one game, 231. The Hula Bowl was sort of a homecoming for Chamberlain who was born in Honolulu in 1971.

Records fall at WSC's first indoor track meet

The opening meet for the Wayne State College track and field teams produced some great marks as two school records fell and one other was tied at the University of South Dakota Open at Vermillion last Saturday.

The first record to fall was Jackie Heese's 1500 mark of 5:12.0 from last season. Sophomore Kathy Dalton (Waverly) was clocked in 5:07.1 to smash the record by nearly five seconds and place fifth against some stiff competition.

"Kathy looks much stronger than last season," second-year distance coach Brian Kavanaugh said. "She ran nearly 15 seconds faster than she did last year at his meet. If she remains healthy and injury-free, I wouldn't be surprised to see her run 4:50 by May."

Not to be outdone, sophomore James McGown (Cairo) broke the men's indoor 1500 meter mark set by Dave Patten in 1992. McGown was clocked in 4:06.0 to win his race and beat Patten's 4:06.3 mark.

"James only needs about seven seconds to to reach the indoor provisional mark, and we've barely done any speedwork yet," Kavanaugh said, "Also in the distance races, sophomore Mark Merritt (Cairo) ran 16:11.4 in the 5000 meter run to place fourth, and was only 11 seconds shy of the school record.

The other school record came in the men's 55 meter dash as junior Lamart Cooper (Miami, Fl) got out to a quick start to win in 6.2. That hand held time equals the school record of 6.45 by Scott Fleming in 1993, and had fully-automatic timing been available, would have been an NCAA provisional qualifying mark.

"Lamart had the race won from the start," head coach Rick Moorman said. "His quick reaction time had everyone else beat out of the blocks. Once we begin working on his stamina, I would expect hime to run 6.30 or better and make the indoor national meet," Freshman Travis Fredricksen (South Sioux) ran 1:10.4 in the 500 meter dash which was just two seconds from the school record and freshman J.C. Lightcap (Waverly) clocked 23.9 in the 200 meter dash for second in his heat and entered the WSC top 10 list at number six. Earlier in the day he placed eighth in the 400 meter dash in 54.0.

In the field events, freshman Amy Gudmundson (Kearney) placed seventh in the long-jump with a 17-3.5 leap which earned her a fourth-place spot on the all-time WSC chart and freshman Stephanie Lilja (Norfolk) jumped 16-0 even to land seventh on the all-time chart. Sophomore Cinda Wheeler (Bellevue) placed fifth in the high jump with a 4-10 leap.

"We had some outstanding performances at this meet," Moorman said. "We still have a long season in front of us, however."

women defeat Kearney Wildcat

Mike Barry's Wayne State women's basketball team recorded one of their biggest wins of the season on the road, Wednesday with a 70-67 victory over Nebraska-

The win itself was very big for the Wildcats but considering who didn't play for WSC and the win was monumental. Prior to the contest the 'Cats found out that Kristy Twait will be lost for the season with a torn ligament in her kneethe second Wildcat to be lost for the year in a week as Liz Reeg was lost with a torn knee ligament in the Cats win over Briar Cliff on Jan.

Starting post player Mindi Jensen did not make the trip for disciplinary reasons and the story was the same for Deedra Haskins so WSC played the 12-5 Lopers with about 30 percent of their scoring and rebounding sitting at home.

Still, Barry's troops were able to pull together against a Kearney team that suited up just seven players. "UNK only had nine on the roster to begin with," Barry said. "Then, Coleridge native Steph Hansen had to sit out because of some back problems and another player was booted off the team.

Barry said his basic game plan was to be very aggressive to take

"It was a very satisfying win for Barry said. "Our kids really pulled together and played with a lot of heart and played well together

WSC was ahead most of the game but it was close throughout. We didn't suffer through any lull's for a length of time," Barry said. We hit almost 50 percent of our shots from the field and Deb Kostreba really played a fine game for us.'

Kostreba finished with 24 points to lead all scorers while Lori Zeimetz came off the bench and netted 11 including a perfect 5-5 art scored nine points and Susie Osborn finished with eight while Renee Belz tallied seven in her first collegiate start.

Amy Brodersen scored six points and Danyel Grammar netted three while Kara McLarty rounded out the attack with two for the 10-7 Wildcats. WSC was 16 of 25 from the foul line while the host Lopers were 20 of 22 and WSC had 15 turnovers but forced 20. Kostreba dished out a team-high seven as-

The 'Cats were out-rebounded, 35-28 with Belz leading WSC with six caroms while Brodersen hauled down five.

WSC men suffer second loss to UNK

The Wayne State men's basketball team was defeated by Nebraska-Kearney, 88-71 Wednesday night in Kearney, leaving Greg McDermott's Wildcats with a 7-9 record while the Lopers improved to 13-4.

The last time these two teams clashed nine days earlier in Rice Auditorium, WSC didn't get in the scoring column until Kearney had an 11 point lead. This time the Cats jumped out to a 14-6 lead before the Lopers rallied to take a 34-32 lead at the half.

"We came out in the second half and took a two point lead right away after Mike Fitzner hit a couple jumpers," McDermott said.

"Then, we didn't execute as well on defense the rest of the game and Kearney took advantage of that."

McDermott said his team can't afford to make defensive mistakes against a team the caliber of a Kearney. "We just didn't have the defensive intensity that we did against Briar Cliff four days ear-lier," McDermott said. "We have to have that every night out."

The biggest difference in the game was Kearney's ability to knock down the 3-pointer as the Lopers hit 11 while WSC connected on just five—a difference of 18 points.

The Wildcats were completely dominated on the boards, 48-31 with Dan Anderson and Billy Pat-terson leading WSC with five caroms each. Patterson led the visitors in the scoring column again with 19 points while Fitzner poured in 17. Anderson finished in double figures with 10 and Greg Ryan tossed in six while Craig Philipp netted five. Mike Mitchell and Justin Malcom each scored four while Kyle White and Joe Gnat tallied three each to round out the scoring.

Both teams committed 15 turnovers and Patterson led the Cats with five assists while recording a team-high four steals. WSC hit 43 percent of its shots from the field on 27 of 63 shooting while the Lopers were 32 of 66 for 48 percent.

WSC will host the top ranked NAIA Division II team in Northern State on Saturday. The Budlight Daredevils will peform at halftime of the contest.

About Learning Disabilities

What are some specific -learning disabilities?

In general, learning disabilities are thought of as a wide range of conditions interfering with learning functioning in life. Five common features are noted in specific learning disabilities; those include: average to above average

·academic and learning difficulties

•a difference between a per-son's potential abilities and their performance

•unique learning patterns •no significant vision, hearing or motor disabilities

How do we determine if a student has a specific learning disability?

The determination of a student's learning disability is derived from many sources. A team of education of the second of t ucators work with parents to make a decision about a learning dis-ability through an evaluation proy through an evaluation The evaluation includes formation gained from an ability test; testing of academic achievement; classroom observations: parent input; and, when appropriate, the student's input.

Middle School Science Fair

The Wayne Middle School will be having its annual Science Fair on Tuesday, March 7, from 7 to 8 p.m. All students in grades 5-8 are encouraged to participate in the fair in order to share their knowledge and interest in science with the community.

The focus of the fair is to use the scientific method to hypothesize, investigate and discover information about scientific principles.

Medals are awarded to the top three places at each grade level, and all students are rewarded for their participation. In the past we have had a wide variety of in-teresting and original projects, which is a learning ex-perience for the entire school.

Please come and enjoy our students' work on March 7.

Attitude: A Synopsis

Attitude is crucial to helping our children in school. It is the source of success and happiness in everyone's life. Attitudes arise from mental pictures people create about themselves and others. These pictures drive our behavior: they can be negative or positive. Everyone has the power to create positive pictures.

There are four questions nor-mally raised about attitudes. They are given below. Review and dis-cuss them with your children. Al-ways be mindful that children copy their parent's attitude about ev-erything, particularly learning. 1. What is attitude?

A state of mind, the way-you see things and feel about things. It is one of the few things in life that you can control.

2. Why is it important? It influences how you act and feel. It influences how you look, your degree of happiness. It influences what you will become in life and how much you will enjoy life and your children.

3. How can you develop a positive attitude?

•By_being enthusiastic about

*By helping others.

•By respecting and being considerate of others.

By taking pride in your work and our children.

By learning and growing.
By being kind.

*By always trying to do your best. 4. What develops a negative attitude?

*Always criticizing and complaining.

•Looking at the bad side of everything.

•Sitting on your thumb, doing nothing.

•Refusing to help others.

•Not taking pride in your work your children.
•Being rude.

•Not always trying to do your

Parents as Motivators

Praising your children can moti-vate them to do well in school. Remember that your children's efforts as well as their performance in school deserve reinforcement. You can encourage them to work harder in the classification by a school deserve. the classroom by a sincere, verbal pat on the back. It is best to vary your choice of words when complimenting your children. Using the same expres-sion soon loses its Impact. Also, it is best to praise on a regular basis and when it is truly deserved.

Below are expressions that you can try on your children. They can spur them to work harder in school. To this list, add others you have found effective. Share them your neighbors and friends With your legislatic work; keep it up!

From the Desk of the Superintendent

The Nebraska legislature has established a new record on the number of proposed bills filed for consideration this year: over 800. As expected, a number of those filed are related to funding for K-12 public education. Within the passage of LB 1059 a few years and that a did to education are belonging to the part of the passage of the part of the passage of the part of the passage years ago, state aid to education across Nebraska was targeted to reach a 45% funding level for each school district, but overall state expenditures caused an imbalance in the formula and state aid support has slipped from the level in the initial year (over 42%) to a predicted 39% in 1995-96. This declining level of state aid support has resulted in shifting more load to local property taxes in the necessary funding of public schools. As a result, the legislature must find a more effective method of distributing school funding to counterbalance the ever increasing dependency on property taxes.

Some of the proposed bills filed in an effort to even the school funding scale are:

- exempt personal property other than motor vehicles from property taxation
•LB170 — eliminate provisions for a common levy for Class

VI school systems - provide for a personal property tax exemption for investments in certain business property

•LB263 — provide a percentage of state lottery funds be transferred to the Building Renewal Allocation Fund

•LB278 — provide an income tax credit for certain educational expenses - provide reimbursement of transportation costs to school districts which are incurred pursuant to state law and for which reimbursement is not required

•LB299 — change the income tax and sales and use tax rates
•LB300 — change provisions for income tax calculations

•LB417 — eliminate certain provisions for state aid to option school districts •LB437 — change provisions for equalization aid for option students

•LB526 - change provisions relating to income tax allocation under the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Act

•LB543 — change provisions relating to tiers under the Tax Equity and Educational Opportunities Act

•LB585 — authorize a county income tax •LB648 — change provisions relating to sales and use taxes, income taxes, property taxes, and aid to education

·IR31CA constitutional amendment to eliminate an assessment limit on property taxes and impose a limit on the real

The 15 proposals listed above serve as an example of the focus of the Legislature in attempting to reduce the increasing reliance of local property taxes to fund public school needs. Before this session is over, there will be many changes and compromises to newly introduced legislation, but the message to the Legislature appears to be very clear: property taxes are too high and an alternative method of funding schools and other government agencies must be identified.

In an effort to understand why state dependency on property taxes has escalated over the years, the Nebraska Tax Research Council analyzed overall state expenditures from 1974 until 1994 and the history of state revenue since 1965. The results of their study indicated the following:

1. The entitlements of special education, welfare and Medicald have increased in size from being nearly 9% of all state expenditures in 1974 to being approximately 23% of all expenditures in 1994.

2. The total state expenditure budget has increased from $349,900,000 in 1974 to $1,718,000,000 in 1994; an increase of $69,000,000 a year over a 20 year span.

If this spending trend continues for the next 14 years, spe-al education, welfare and Medicaid will equal approximately 50% of all state expenditures 4, If total state expenditures continue to rise at a rate of approximately $70,000,000 a year (which is predicted by Governor Nelson's budget until 1997 as published in the Executive Budget Summary presented on Jan. 12, 1995), in 14 years, expenditures may be as high as $2.7 billion with entitlements being 50% of the total. 5. Nebraska state revenue collection has increased since 1965 at an average rate every five years of nearly 11%, but expenditures during the same time period have averaged over 1796 Governor Nelson is correct in attempting to curtail spending as the only effective method of reducing stress on property taxes, but with federal mandates controlling the annual rise in entitlement spending, a significant part of the state budget will be extremely difficult to maintain at an affordable level.
