

Whew! It's hot

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Weather. In Nebraska, there is always discussion of the weather. It is either too hot, too cold, too wet or too dry.

The past three months have had some of all the complaints.

May was cool and very wet. In fact the area received more than nine inches of rain during the month.

Conditions changed in June with only 1.43 inches of rain falling in Wayne. There were also six days with temperatures over 90 degrees.

JULY IS continuing the hot, dry trend with temperatures topping 100 degrees this week. The official high temperature in Wayne on Wednesday was 105 degrees, which was the highest temperature recorded since June 22, 1988.

The last time the thermometer reached the century mark was on July 4, 1990. In fact in the past five years there have been only 13 days that have been 90 degrees or above.

"The last warm year we had was in 1988 when the temperature reached 100 degrees a total of 12 times," said Wayne weather observer Pat Gross.

The all-time highest temperature that has been recorded since record keeping began in 1897 was 116 degrees on July 17, 1936. Eleven

THE RECENT hot weather has caused an increase in water and electricity usage.

"Average water consumption for the city of Wayne is 750,000 gallons of water per day. In the 24 hour period ending Tuesday morning, we used 1,700,000 gallons of water," said Meri Marshall, of the city water department.

Most of the increase in usage has been because of irrigation of lawns.

The city wells have had no trouble handling the increased water consumption. "The new wells can pump 12,000 gallons of water per minute and we haven't had any problems handling the increase in water usage," said Marshall.

ELECTRIC USE has been up considerably during the recent heat wave. Gene Hansen of the Wayne Power Plant reported that the city set a new record for electric use on Monday and is breaking records each day.

"We are urging people to restrict the use of non-essential electric appliances between the hours of noon and 6 p.m. We are also asking

Marty Schierman, left and Andrea Hansen were the winners in the Best Chicken Legs contest during the Chicken Show. Marty, who is from Omaha, received the first place prize and Andrea, who is from Colorado, was awarded the second place prize.

The next meeting will be a potluck lunch at noon on Aug. 15 at the First Presbyterian Church, Third and Lincoln Streets, in Wayne.

Child Care providers to meet

WAYNE — There will be an area child care providers meeting on Tuesday, July 25 at the Public Library, lower level, at 7 p.m. Jeann Granstra, with the Department of Social Services, will be the featured speaker. She will speak on the new rules and regulations for child care providers.

The area child care providers normally meet the fourth Tuesday of every other month at 7 p.m. at the Columbus Federal building and is open to all area child care providers free of charge.

New rules state that all child care providers must have six hours of inservice credit for 1995. They may earn one to two of these hours, depending on how long the meetings last, by attending these meetings.

Laurel man killed in two car accident

A Laurel man was killed Sunday morning in an accident four miles north and one-fourth mile east of Allen on Highway 20.

Joseph Davis, 49, died after the car he was driving crossed the center line and struck a vehicle driven by Sara Lamm, 20, of Sioux City, Iowa. Davis was not wearing seat belts.

Lamm, who was wearing seat belts, was transported to Marian Health Care Center by Marian Air Care. She was listed in serious condition but her injuries were not life threatening.

The Allen Fire and Rescue team and the Martinsburg First Responders assisted at the scene. The accident is being investigated by the Nebraska State Patrol and the Dixon County Sheriff's Office.

El Toro fire still under investigation

The investigation into the El Toro Restaurant fire of July 4 continues this week. Fire Chief Dutch Sitzman, Deputy Fire Marshall Curly McDonald and the insurance company are involved in the ongoing investigation.

Owner Gary Costilow is awaiting final word from inspectors on the building's structural condition before proceeding with the cleanup. Costilow said the initial inspection showed that there are some twisted beams in the ceiling that may be dangerous, but for the most part the structure seems to be okay.

Chicken Show favorites return; declared success despite heat

by Claire Rasmussen
Of the Herald

The warm, sunny weather brought people in flocks to the Chicken Show parade but may have limited crowds at Bressler Park Saturday.

Chairmen Jane O'Leary characterized the crowd, "Downtown I think we saw more people than we've ever seen. It was a nice turnout."

Crowds at Bressler Park, though, looked thinner than in years past. O'Leary mentioned several possible reasons for the thinner crowd. Estimates for attendance at the park were between 4,000 and 5,000 individuals.

SAID O'LEARY "People have learned that you can walk around and still hear and see what's going on, so I think we have more people walking around and that spreads out our crowd, making it look smaller. Also, I think some people went home early after it got hot."

In spite of the perceived lower turnout, O'Leary said T-Shirt sales were right on track this year. Though final sales have not been tabulated, O'Leary said it appeared that T-Shirts sales were up a little. O'Leary said that she had few T-shirts left.

THE RECORD CROWD at the parade witnessed the triumphant return from retirement of the Chickendales. The Chickendales, the Chicken Coupe with the Grand Marshalls DeWayne Bennett and Gerald Rose, crewmen on the WWII B-17 bomber the "Screaming Chicken," and 82 other floats rolled down Main Street in keeping with this year's theme, "Chickens on the March."

The parade was highlighted by a flyover by the 185th Tactical Wing.

Marching away with the Best Small Group of Children award; judged on "chicken-ness," were Miranda and Melissa Roecker of Thurston. The Roecker sisters rode as chickens on the back of a golf cart which read "Roosting after a Long March."

The Allen Eaglette Strutters walked away with the trophy for Best Group of Children. The strutters, under the direction of Dawn Diedeker, consisted of a troop of baton twirlers ranging in age, from 5-13.

'Squawking Chicken' crewmen visit Wayne

Over fifty years ago, DeWayne Bennett and Gerald Rose were flying over Europe in a giant B-17 bomber named the "Squawking Chicken." Last Saturday, the two crewmen of the bomber enjoyed a more comfortable, and safe, ride in the "Coop de Ville" as they served as Grand Marshalls of the parade.

Squawking Chicken pilot, Major Bennett and "Squawking" crewman Gerald Rose were joined in the "Coop" by Bill Grant, a reconnaissance pilot during the Vietnam War and Major Dale Hayward, the son of another crewman on the "Squawking Chicken." Hayward is currently a marine stationed in Omaha.

THE MEN WERE honored for their successes in the military. Bennett was chosen as Grand Marshall for the creative name of his aircraft. Bennett explained the reason for the unusual name for the B-17.

"We got over there (Europe) and all the squadrons had names like 'the Hunkillers,' but we wanted a name that wouldn't upset the Germans so we started to think of the least offensive name possible."

"We had a kid in our outfit who was a farm boy from Iowa and he suggested 'The Chicken.' We rejected things like 'Fighting Chicken,' or 'Screaming Chicken and settled on the "Squawking Chicken."

THE CREW HAD "Squawking Chicken" painted on the side of the airplane and put a sign in their window reading "Chicken Crew." Though the name of the plane was accepted, not everyone was happy with the designation of chickens.

Said Bennett, "A Colonel came down to see the plane and saw the sign in the window and began yelling, 'Get that sign out of the window! I'll have no chickens in my outfit.'"

The name for the airplane stayed, though, and proved to be functional as well as humorous.

BENNETT NOTED the advantages of the "Squawking Chicken." "We'd be flying and be close enough to see the Germans in their planes, in all black leather looking frightening, but they would fly right past us and start laughing. "We would see their gas masks shake because they were laughing so hard. But they wouldn't shoot at us. We didn't get a single hole in the airplane even after thirty some missions."

"Then all the other crews, that

School board mulls new bond vote

by Claire Rasmussen of the Herald

Wayne may be voting on a school bond issue as early as next year. A tentative timeline discussed by the school board in their meeting July 11 gave January 1 as the date by which the Facility Committee would have plans for a new building or remodeling to present to the Board as a recommendation.

According to the possible timeline, the plans for the bond issue would be finalized in late spring to be presented to the public. A vote would follow in the fall.

The board was still undecided, however, about how to proceed with bond issue plans.

Board member Dennis Lipp suggested encouraging more community involvement.

Said Lipp, "We need to have more meetings, away from the school, where people can voice their opinions and get all of their ideas out. There may be some ideas out there that we haven't even thought of. We have to sell this bond to the whole community, so the whole community needs to be involved. The community has to own this bond."

Board member Dr. Sid Hillier, however, felt that the community had been involved in the project and had been allowed to voice their opinions through the survey. Hillier also noted that the board had conducted public meetings which were poorly attended.

Hillier noted, "I think we involved the community before. We can have meetings until we're blue in the face but we're not going to learn anything."

The Board was able to decide to resolve several issues before sending the bond issue back to the facility committee. Those issues included the renovation of the Carroll school and the sale of the current Middle School lot.

In addition, the Board could not reach a conclusion about whether to stay with the plan which was originally proposed to the public and which failed to pass in the December 13 vote or whether to continue to investigate other possibilities.

As a result of the unresolved issues, the Board postponed the facility committee meeting planned for July 13th until July 27th.

In budget issues, the board approved June expenditures of $363,857.97.

Regarding the budget, Dr. Dennis Jensen, Superintendent of Schools, said he had "good news and good news" about the school budget for 1995-96. Jensen reported that although the state lowered Wayne's lid limit, the highest percentage amount which the school may increase the budget, greater revenues may allow the school to increase its budget without raising taxes.

Wayne's lid limit for the upcoming budget will be set at 3.6 percent, a decrease from previous years when the lid has been placed between 5 and 6 percent. The board will have an option to increase its lid to 4.6 percent in August.

Jensen stated that he expects to be eligible to receive $10,000 more dollars in revenue next year. If the increased revenue is sufficient, the board would be able to raise the lid limit without increasing area taxes.

Jensen will be discussing the final budget for the 1995-96 school year at a budget workshop to be held July 25 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 203.

In other business, the board approved an tuition increase for Driver's Education classes. The increase, which went into effect this year but was not yet approved by the Board, increased rates $10 for non-resident students and $5 for resident students. Jensen said the increase was required due to increased costs for renting vehicles and paying instructors.

The board also received information from Board President Phyllis Spethman regarding the Expectation Committee Grant for which the school is applying.

At the meeting, the board also approved a second foreign exchange student for the 1995-96 school year. Xenia Wensel, a junior from Germany, will be attending Wayne High School during the next school year.

In final business, the Board discussed developing policy. Spethman, who attended a policy development workshop discussed separating school policy from state statute and developing new policies on a variety of issues such as weapons in the school, busing rules, having an attorney at Board meetings and public Internet access through the school.

The Board's next regularly scheduled meeting will be held August 8, 1995.

Love letters can get you in trouble

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — It is always flattering to receive a love letter. One teenage girlfriend of mine used to draw multi-colored flowers on her letter; later, another rubbed perfume into the pages.

But enough about the two love letters I've received in my life.

Another love letter — at least one that read like one — recently made news in Lincoln.

The letter, from a female investigator for the Nebraska Equal Opportunity Commission of Scottsbluff to her boss in Lincoln, started a chain of events that led to the resignation of long-time NEOC Executive Director Lawrence Myers.

Myers, 50, submitted his resignation after 21 years of heading the agency, which investigates complaints of sex, race, age and housing discrimination. He was paid $73,894 a year, which state senators always complained was too high.

Interestingly, Myers was the third, high-ranking African-American state official to resign in recent weeks.

Sonny Foster, a top aide of Gov. Nelson and state personnel director, quit two months ago amid allegations that he misused his position to obtain jobs and benefits for friends and relatives.

Mary Dean Harvey, the director of the Nebraska Department of Social Services, resigned that post — one of the toughest in state government — last week after leading efforts to reform the welfare system and slow down spending on Medicaid.

Some deeper thinker than I will have to decide what, if anything, the three resignations mean.

Myers' resignation, on the other hand, means the Equal Opportunity Commission can move out from under a cloud of criticism.

His departure was not totally unexpected.

Myers had been under fire for years because of high turnover of workers and huge backlogs of cases at the agency and allegations that he was an autocratic manager who retaliated against his workers.

His commitment to the cause of battling discrimination was never questioned, it was just the way he went about it.

Battling with state senators, who decide how much money state agencies receive, was not a wise move. Nor was sending a letter nationwide complaining that a legislative study of the commission was a witch hunt.

The purported "love letter" surfaced as part of the legal discovery in the lawsuit filed by the three former commission investigators, who claimed that Myers retaliated against them for talking with state senators about problems at the agency.

Such whistle blowing is always a delicate matter. But the three investigators cried foul after they were suspended and two later fired after they cooperated with the legislative review of the agency.

The investigators also claimed that the love letter showed the charges against them were bogus. The person who leveled most of the allegations against them, Pam Meadows, was the same person who supposedly had this cozy relationship with Myers.

Myers and Meadows denied they had anything going on, and maintained that the letter was just written in jest to make light of the heat that has been applied on Myers.

It was a strange way to get a laugh, if that was the motive.

Regardless, the letter got commissioners and Myers talking about what should be done to get the agency out of the swamp of criticism.

They agreed that the best move would be for Myers to resign so the agency could focus on its main job — to investigate and decide cases of discrimination.

This whole affair makes you wonder if you should open such love letters.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Don't be alarmed

Dear Editor,

Currently all first and second class cities and villages operate under a budget year beginning August 1. As the former Mayor of Beatrice, I realize that this has caused some difficulty in financial planning because the budget must be drafted before property tax valuation figures are available from the county in mid to late August.

With the support of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, I introduced a law changing this situation. Beginning in 1996, cities and villages will start their budget year on October 1. Changing the time frame will allow greater accuracy in budget planning and may result in a more fair property tax levy.

However, in order for this to take place, the current budget period must last fourteen months instead of the regular twelve months. This may give the appearance of a higher than normal property tax levy. But after this one time fourteen month budget period, the budget year will return to twelve months and the property tax levy will again be for a twelve month period.

Therefore, don't be alarmed by an increase in your city or village property tax levy. You're probably paying about the same monthly rate as last year, but this year you will be paying for fourteen months instead of twelve months.

David E. Maurstad
State Senator

There is nothing wrong with the death penalty

Do you uphold the death penalty? Not the one we are born with, for we'll all die, but the one a court can order when the defendant is found guilty of a heinous crime.

Many of our societal concepts of right and wrong materialize from the Bible. Do you believe biblical examples of the death penalty were appropriate? If you do not believe biblical teachings, then upon what premise do you exercise your opinion?

Those who doubt the state's right to execute offenders must find a source that will reasonably and intelligently support such reasoning. A credible opinion is only an asset when it is formed as the result of thorough investigative research.

Exploring the Bible, looking for an example of the death penalty, Scripture appears to be not at all silent on the matter.

Old Testament records indicate the death penalty was administered routinely for multiple causes including murder (Exodus 21:12), cursing one's mother or father (Exodus 21:17), or working on the Sabbath (Exodus 31:15)! Quite a startling contrast with today!

Turning to the New Testament, Jesus taught that anyone offending a believing child (criticizing them to sin) would be better off with a millstone "hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea." A judgment of death for offending a child! You can read that death sentence in Matthew 18:6. With all of the devastation that immoral and godless television and movies have done to children, there aren't likely enough millstones to go around. Note Jesus said that the person enticing a child to sin "would be better off" drowned. Better to be drowned than continuing hurting children!

Current society appears to dignify immorality, such as in "The Bridges of Madison County". You liked the movie? The plot is of course adultery...made attractive.

How easily we become desensitized to prostituting virtue!

Reading in Acts 5:1-10, one views the account of a man and wife attempting to lie to the Holy Spirit. Their penalty? Death for both!

Don't miss the angel who helped Peter break out of jail in Acts 12:17-19. Sixteen soldiers were executed. Their offense? Allowing a prisoner to escape.

Historically the death penalty is the final effort by God and man to discipline the human family. Vengeance? No. Discipline! There is nothing wrong with disciplinary law and order, including the death penalty.

After all, only those who violate human decency have to worry about it. Right?

Our town is really in the news

At the entrance to most manufacturing plants workers and visitors usually pass a large sign prominently displayed that encourages safety practices in the workplace.

Invariably the signs encourage workers and visitors to be safety conscious by reminding them of the number of days the plant has gone without an accident.

A newsroom wag at the Wayne Herald suggested this week we could use a similar system for the entire community.

"Welcome to Wayne" the signs could say. Then they could add "(x) days without a fire."

The way things have been going, we would only have to leave space on the signs for single digit numbers.

Many areas of the country are in an uproar over the potential for military base closings as part of the reduction in government spending associated with the peace initiative.

Many communities are up in arms about the potential job loss and economic catastrophes that will result from the closing of certain bases. The Wayne community has a connection to all the debates about the bases targeted for closing.

You see, one of the commissioners appointed to the panel which recommends whether a targeted military base should live or die is one of our native sons.

Retired four-star Air Force Gen. J.B. Davis, who is a native of Wayne, is on the base closure commission.

"What kind of a guy is he," asked a San Antonio newspaper reporter who

Mann Overboard

By Les Mann

called the former general's hometown newspaper for background on the commissioner who might hold the economic life or death of a region of Texas in his hands.

"Well, he's terrific," said the Wayne newspaper non-expert who would have been the last person in the world to have ever said anything negative about a former four-star general who he only met once, and then only briefly.

As it turns out, the San Antonio folks might not hold Gen. Davis in the same high regard as we do. On June 22 he voted with the majority on the commission to close or realign 132 bases.

Meanwhile, back on the home front, there is a resurgence of effort to establish a museum at the Wayne airport, (hopefully to be renamed Gen. J.B. Davis Airport) to house the accumulated memorabilia and honors collected by the Wayne native during his distinguished military career.

Wayne was connected to a couple of other military-aircraft news items this week as well.

The vintage B-17 bomber which buzzed Wayne Saturday in honor of the Chicken Show parade grand marshals ended up crash landing in Sioux City on Sunday. Nearly a quarter million dollars worth of damage was sustained by the old plane when one of its landing gear would not extend.

There were ten passengers on board the plane at the time of the crash landing and none were injured. In fact most talked favorably about the added thrill they got for their plane ride fee. The plane was giving joy rides from Norfolk.

The grand marshals of the Chicken Show parade were thrilled with all the attention they received. They were members of a B-17 bomber in World War II nicknamed the Squawking Chicken.

The crew members and their friends were guests of honor in the Official Chicken Show Parade Car, a refurbished 1963 Cadillac Coupe DeVille with a 9 foot chicken on it. The car is now known as the "Chicken Coupe."

people to set their thermostats several degrees higher than they would normally have them at," Hansen said.

Average usage for the city of Wayne is 10.2 mega watts of electricity. On Monday the usage was 11.8 mega-watts. This increase in consumption will result in the buying higher priced electricity.

THE CITY implemented a load management system which automatically shuts off air conditioners for seven minutes and then allows them to run again for 30 minutes to reduce the amount of electricity used.

"We have had the program in effect for three years and currently have approximately 360 homes and 40 businesses who are on the system. We are always looking for more homes and businesses who are willing to become part of the plan to control the amount of electricity used which will affect what we all have to pay for electricity in the future," said Hansen.

In addition to the amount of water and electricity being used, this week's high temperatures can cause problems for both humans and animals.

GARY WEST, Physician's Assistant at Northeast Nebraska Medical Group recommends that people stay inside with an air conditioner or fan to help keep cool during the hottest part of the day.

"People need to avoid strenuous activity, especially if they are not used to activity. It is best to plan early morning activities when the temperatures are lower," said West.

"Also, it is very important to drink plenty of fluids to avoid dehydration. Avoid alcohol if you are doing any activities. There are products on the market that help replace electrolytes lost during perspiration that are good for those involved in strenuous activity, but for the average person, water is still the best," said West.

SIGNS THAT a person may be experiencing a heat related illness include weakness, dizziness, exhaustion and muscle cramps.

"People need to use common sense when it is this hot, especially the elderly, the very young and those with chronic illnesses. Also, those people taking certain medications need to be aware of the effect the sun may have on them," said West.

West said that his office has not had any patients in with heat related illnesses and says people have been good about using common sense when temperatures rise.

ANIMALS ALSO experience discomfort during the heat wave. Dr. Dave Swerczek at the Wayne Veterinary Clinic urges people to "use common sense" when the temperatures are above 90 degrees.

"Don't leave a pet in a car, even for a few minutes when it is this hot. The temperature inside a car is considerably warmer than outside and an animal can literally cook in a matter of minutes," said Swerczek.

"The three most important things for all animals during the heat are shade, air movement and plenty of clean, fresh water. It is also best to avoid exertion with animals, just as it is with humans."

SOME FEEDLOT animals have become overheated in recent days and Swerczek advises providing these animals with additional cooling such as sprinklers.

"Most farm animals can not sweat the way humans can and need some way to cool off. The way to do this is to pour lots of cold water on the animals," Swerczek said.

Animals, like humans, need time to acclimate themselves to the heat, Swerczek added.

Council takes first look at the proposed budget

The Wayne City Council took a first look at the proposed budget for the 1995-96 fiscal year Tuesday. The new fiscal year will be 14 months instead of 12 as ordered by the state.

City Administrator Joseph Salitros recommended to the council that the initial budget considered be a regular 12 month budget. "When the council is comfortable with that budget," Salitros said, "then the extended months can be considered."

The budget includes a 4 percent tax asking increase from last year's fiscal budget.

The proposed budget may be picked up at the municipal building and the public hearing is scheduled for July 25 at 7:35 p.m.

LOGAN STREET will be widened to 36 feet instead of the earlier proposed 41 feet from 4th to 7th street, the council decided Tuesday.

Three trees will be taken down in the process.

IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE

The Hoskins Improvement Committee met at 7 p.m. on June 27. Election of a co-chairman, a secretary and a news reporter was held. Scott Deck was elected co-chairman for a two year term; Deb Krause, secretary, two year term; and Cindy Krause, news reporter, two year term.

Larry Bruggeman, chairman and Gloria Doffin, treasurer, will retain their offices for another year.

The 4th of July celebration was discussed. The date of the August meeting will be announced.

Stan and Janice Voigt of Wonewoc, Wis. were 4th of July overnight guests in the Alvin and Marguerite Wagner home.

In the Commercial category, Arnie Ford Mercury rolled into victory with their parade of Fords.

The Wayne Eagle's Auxiliary took the prize in the Best Organization category. Their creative float featured "Kernel Sanders and the Chicken Brigade" who marched to the tune of "Chickens in the Mood," and "Shake a Tail Feather."

The Wayne Jaycees were victorious in the Best Theme Related to "Chickens on the March" category.

WINNING THE $100 prize for Best Overall Float, the only category not ranked according to "chicken"-ness, was the Praise Assembly of God Church. Their float, a part of the King of the Jungle Kids Crusade, featured a jungle and assorted jungle creatures including a lion and alligator.

Missing from this year's festivities, though, was Andy Champ-Doran, the winner of last year's Chicken Calling Contest. Champ-Doran, from New York, whose Brooklyn-style chicken calling captured much attention last year, did not come to Wayne to defend his title.

What to Do About Dry Mouth

The medical term for dry mouth is xerostoma. There is a limited amount of saliva in the mouth. According to a recent article in Pharmacy Times, dry mouth can result from surgery, radiation therapy, fever, or diseases such as diabetes, depression, Bell's Palsy, and a condition called Sjogren's syndrome. Dry mouth also can result from smoking, snoring, and exposure to dust or dry heat. Certain drugs such as antihistamines and anti-depressants can cause dry mouth.

Nondrug treatments include sipping liquids, eating ice chips, sucking lozenges, and chewing sugarless gum.

Over-the-counter products referred to as artificial saliva or "saliva substitutes" are thought to be more effective. Commercial saliva products closely resemble natural saliva in their thickness and mineral content. Some of the saliva substitutes approved by the American Dental Association include Mot-Stir, Goandosane Synthetic Saliva, and Xero-Lube Artificial Saliva.

Wayne Blue's claim World Series

The Wayne Little League Blue's baseball team captured the World Series of the annual MidSummer Classic in Wakefield over the weekend. It's the first team to accomplish the feat since 1989.

Wayne won all five of its contests with four of the five ending in one-run games and four of the five going extra innings. Mike Stauffer's squad defeated West Point, 7-4 in the semifinal game with Shane Baack earning the win from the mound with 11 strikeouts to his credit while tossing a no-hitter.

Wayne finished with four hits led by Jon Meyer's double. Mike Varley, Shane Baack and Ben Meyer each singled. Wayne scored three times in the bottom of the fourth inning to take the lead before holding West Point in the fifth and final inning.

Wayne then edged Tekamah-Herman, 7-6 in the finals of division play. Eric McLagan earned the pitching victory and Wayne's offense pounded out seven hits led by Shane Baack's double and two singles.

McLagan, Adam Jorgensen, Drew Slaybaugh and Jayme Bargholz each had a base hit to lead the winners. In the first finals contest Wayne defeated Pender's White team, 6-5 as Shane Baack earned the win from the mound. Wayne finished with four hits led by Baack's double while, Jon Meyer, Adam Jorgensen and Trevor Wright each singled.

The World Series championship game saw the locals come out on top of a 7-6 decision over Pender's Red team with Eric McLagan not only earning the pitching victory, but supplying the winning hit.

Wayne trailed by a 6-4 margin in the fourth inning before McLagan doubled in two runs to tie the game. Nobody scored in the final inning so extra innings were forced.

In the sixth, McLagan singled in Drew Slaybaugh who had drawn an early inning walk for the game winner. The offense pounded out 10 hits while McLagan limited the Pender bats to five.

McLagan paced the offense with a double and two singles while Drew Slaybaugh doubled and singled. Jayme Bargholz belted a double while Jon Meyer, Mike Varley, Shane Baack and Trevor Wright each singled.

"It wasn't just our offense that shined in the championship game," Stauffer said. "We had some quality defense as well. We had a stellar 6-4-3 double play. The ball bounced to shortstop Jon Meyer who flipped it to Ben Meyer who turned and threw to first baseman Shane Baack."

Catcher Adam Jorgensen also came up big with after throwing out a would-be base stealer from first to second which proved to be big as the next batter doubled.

"I felt there were two keys which really helped this team all through the Classic," Stauffer said. "First, we bunted very well and kept the opposition on their toes. Second, our outfielders did an outstanding job in the championship game of backing up our bases."

Stauffer credited the play of Jayme Bargholz, Trevor Wright and Drew Slaybaugh for their outfield play. "This team also showed they were fundamentally sound all the way through," Stauffer said. "They really did a nice job of coming together and rallying when they had too."

IN OTHER action at the Mid-Summer Classic, the Wayne Cubs Little League team won an 8-7 decision from Coleridge for third place in their division. Brad Hochstein was the winning pitcher while Wayne's offense notched five hits led by Hochstein's two triples. Brad Hansen doubled and singled and Tanner Niemann along with Ben Salitros each laced a base hit.

The Wayne White's Little League team lost a 6-5 decision to Wausau in their final game of the Classic as

Craig Olson was tagged with the pitching loss.

Wayne finished with just two hits—doubles by Olson and Jon Pickinbaugh. The Wayne Cardinals PeeWee team lost a 15-7 decision to Tekamah despite pounding out 13 hits. Andy Martin, Jeff Meyer and Ray Olson each had two singles while Jon Ehrhardt, Mike Sturm, Tyler Anderson, Drew Smith, Ryan Schmeits, Mike Swerzek and Travis Luhr each had a single.

The Wayne Pony League White team lost an 11-9 decision to Wakefield in their final game of the Classic with Jeremy Dorcay taking the pitching loss. Wayne notched eight hits in the contest led by Joel Munson's double. Jon Slaybaugh, Dan Nelson, Scott Reinhardt, Jeff Ensz, Jeremy Dorcay, Daniel Johnson and Ryan Haase each had one base hit.

Finally, the Wayne Pony League Blue's team lost their first game, 7-6 to Wausau as Darin Jensen took the pitching loss. Wayne had five hits in the game led by Robbie Sturm's three singles. Dustin Schmeits and Darin Jensen had the other two hits—both singles.

In the consolation game, Wayne defeated Tekamah, 13-10 with Robbie Sturm earning the win. Wayne finished with 10 hits led by Darin Jensen with a double and two singles while Ryan Stoltenberg had three singles. Dustin Schmeits singled twice and Ryan Dunklau tripled while Robbie Sturm had one base hit.

Editors note: It has been incorrectly reported to the Wayne Herald the past couple weeks that Kyle Minds of the Little League Blue team has had a number of hits that should have been credited to Jayme Bargholz.

Over 170 golfers take part in July Classic Fisher earns summer sweep

By Kevin Peterson
of the Herald

The July Classic Men's Amateur Golf Open was held at Wayne Country Club, Sunday with over 170 golfers taking part amidst the heat and very little wind.

The temperatures were not the only thing that was hot as six of the top 10 championship players shot below par golf over the 27-hole format. When the day ended Westminister-Colorado's Chuck Fisher had a summer sweep in his possession as he fired a six-under-par 102 to claim his second Wayne Open in five weeks.

Fisher carded rounds of 35-35-32 to overcome a two-stroke deficit to edge Fremont's Steve Samuelson who had carded the best 18-hole score of the day at four-under-par 68.

The cut-off for championship play was 77 with 31 advancing to the final round. Papillion's Bob Chandler settled for third place with a four-under-par 104 and Mission, South Dakota's Joe Prue fired a three-under-par 105 for, fourth place. Prue had the best score in the championship nine with a five-under-par 31.

Laurel's Rick Petri placed fifth with a two-under-par 106 and Omahans Scott Osmera, Jay Muller and Rick Dusek went sixth, seventh and eighth, respectively with 107-108 and 109. South Sioux City's Matt Nice was ninth with a 110 and Dale Erwin of Sioux City rounded out the top 10 with a 111.

"I really like playing this course," Fisher said. "Even though I live in Westminster, CO, and have done so for more than two decades, I still consider Wayne my home."

The 1969 Wayne High graduate also played three years of golf for the Nebraska Cornhuskers and following graduation from the University in 1973, he moved to Colorado.

"One of the things I like about playing in Wayne is the professional way the course is handled by superintendent Ken Dahl," Fisher added. "The greens are always consistent and true. He (Ken) really does a super job."

Growing up in Wayne, Fisher played a lot of golf and he comes from a bloodline of good golfers including his father, a club champion at the course when it was east of town and his grandfather, a former club champion on the course when it was west of town. Chuck is a former club champion of the current golf course.

Chuck travels between 50 and 60,000 miles a year at his current job which consists of furniture buying for companies and he says he plays a lot of different golf courses and Wayne ranks among the best.

Chuck is married to the former Gloria Pollard of Wayne. The couple have two children, K.C., 15 and Allison, 10.

There were 10 flights of golfers playing 18 holes to determine champions with Sioux City's A.J. James claiming top honors in the first one with an even par 72. Blair's Mark Harrison was second with a 74 and Norfolk's Stan Johnson was third with a 75, edging Blair's Roger Lorsch with the same score.

West Point's Frank Kowol won the second flight with a 75 followed by Fremont's Jim Robart with a 78. Gary Ostrander of West Point was third with a 78 and Robert Prazak of West Point was fourth with a 79.

The third flight was captured by Columbus native Brian Kleveland with a 73 followed by Pender's Dennis Schmitz with a 76. David Conrad of Omaha was third with a 78 and Sandro Marus of Omaha was fourth with an 80.

Tim VonSeggern of Pender was the fourth flight champ with a 76 followed by Waynians Val Kienast and Grant Ellingson with 76's and Phil Griess with a 77.

Mark Nelson of Newman Grove won the fifth flight with a 78 and Dave Diediker of Wayne placed second with an 80. Neil Paul of Omaha was third with an 81 and Gene Claussen of Wayne was fourth with an 82.

The sixth flight was won by Wayne's Don Preston with a 79 followed by Leif Olson of Wayne with an 84 and Norfolk's Dave Engelhaupt with an 86. Wayne's Scott Metzler was fourth with an 86.

Lindsay's Darrell Buhl won the seventh flight with an 83 followed by Kent Kuhr of West Point with an 85. Todd VonSeggern of Pender was third with an 86, edging Wayne's Steve Meyer, with the same score.

Former Waynian and now Omaha Corey Dahl won the eighth flight with an 82 followed by Crofton's Armand Sprakel with an 85. West Point's Bob Priviz was third with an 86 and Dan Wortman of West Point was fourth with an 87.

Jerry Denton of the Wayne Country Club and a resident of Norfolk won the ninth flight with an 83 while Brian Goeden of Crofton was runner-up with a 90. Andrew Kroupa of Omaha was third with a 93 followed by Newman Grove's Del Christensen with a 94.

The 10th and final flight was won by David Stuthman of Wayne with an 87 while Reed Muller of Scribner was second with an 88. Steve Muir of Wayne was third with an 89, edging Wayne's Denny Lutt with the same score.

HOW DO YOU TREAT SUNBURN?

Sunburn and heat stroke can be prevented by avoiding excessive exposure to the sun and by using a proper sunscreen. Minor sunburn can be treated by getting out of the sun and avoiding further exposure. Cool compresses, a cool bath, topical preparations containing aloe, and non-prescription pain relievers such as aspirin, acetaminophen (Tylenol), or ibuprofen may also provide some relief. If widespread blisters appear, you may need to see a physician before beginning any type of treatment.

Wayne 18-under softball gals win West Point tournament

The Wayne 18-under fast pitch softball team closed out the final regular season week in winning fashion by claiming top honors at the West Point Tournament and winning in Wisner and Beemer on July 5-6.

In Wisner, Wayne captured a 15-4 victory with Wendy Beiermann earning the win with eight strikeouts to her credit while holding the host team to just three hits. Wayne notched eight hits led by Molly Melena, Katie Lutt and Wendy Beiermann with two singles each while Shona Stracke doubled and Jenny Thompson singled.

Wayne defeated Beemer, 5-1 last Thursday night with Beiermann notching the win with eight strikeouts while scattering seven hits. Wayne was limited to five hits—all singles—from Carrie Fink, Molly Melena, Katie Lutt, Jenny Thompson and Shona Stracke.

The win over Beemer gave Wayne the edge in league play since both teams had the same number of losses heading into the contest.

The West Point Tournament began with Wayne defeating Scribner, 5-4. Wendy Beiermann struck out six and allowed just four hits en route to earning the win. Wayne had 12 hits led by Katie Lutt's four singles while Jenni Beiermann belted a homerun and single. Molly Melena laced two singles while Carrie Fink, Shona Stracke, Wendy Beiermann and Kristen Hurlbert each had one base hit.

Wayne scored a run to tie the game at four after six innings of play before Jenni Beiermann blasted a homerun to lead off the seventh inning which ended the game.

Wayne fell to West Point in game two, 1-0 as Beiermann was credited with the loss from the mound despite 10 strikeouts while allowing just three hits. Wayne had four hits led by Jenni Beiermann's double and single while Jenny Thompson and Shona Stracke had one base hit each. Wayne threatened in the final inning with runners on first and third but they did not manage to score.

The locals came back in the double elimination tournament in a big way as they blasted Pender, 18-0 in the next game with Wendy Beiermann striking out four and scattering three hits to earn the win.

Wayne's offense blistered the Pender pitching for 22 hits led by Jenny Thompson's triple and two singles while Jenni Beiermann doubled and had two singles. Wendy Beiermann finished with three base hits while Katie Lutt homered and singled.

Molly Melena tripled and singled and Jessica Böhnenkamp doubled and singled while Kristen Hurlbert and Don Del Brandt had two singles each. Carrie Fink, Shona Stracke and Kristi Boies had one base hit each.

Wayne got revenge for one of its losses in Fremont the week before with an 8-0 win over Fremont Touch-N-Go. Wendy Beiermann struck out seven and allowed just three hits while Wayne pounded out nine hits led by Jenny Thompson's homerun and single. Molly Melena singled twice and Jenni Beiermann tripled while Carrie Fink, Katie Lutt and Don Del Brandt singled. Jaime McGuire also smacked a double for the winners.

The final game of the tournament had Wayne defeating Pender, 10-0 with Beiermann striking out five and allowing just one hit. Wayne finished with 15 hits led by Jenny Thompson's homerun, triple and double while Katie Lutt singled three times. Jenni Beiermann tripled and singled and Kristi Boies and Molly Melena singled twice while base hits were recorded by Carrie Fink, Shona Stracke and Jessica Böhnenkamp.

The victory lifted Wayne's overall record to 22-9 and league record to 12-2 with another league championship under their belts. Wayne will travel to Grand Island this weekend for the annual State Tournament. This year's 24-team bracket is a double-elimination format with Wayne playing Dreissbach's of Grand Island in the first round on Friday night at 5 p.m.

14-under and 16-under girls end regular softball seasons

The 14-under and 16-under fast pitch softball teams completed season play last Thursday night in Beemer. The 14-under team lost a 15-5 decision in Wisner on July 5 before falling by a 9-0 margin to Beemer on the sixth.

Against Wisner, Brittney Frevert was the losing pitcher in a game which saw the locals out-hit by a 16-5 margin. Jessica Raveling paced Wayne's offense with a homerun while Tina Ruwe tripled and Carol Longe doubled. Abbie Diediker and Beth Sperry each singled.

Against Beemer, Wayne managed just one hit—a single by Tina Ruwe while the host team notched 16 hits. Erin Milander was tagged with the pitching loss. The 14-under team finished the regular season with a 6-9 record and will play in the State Tournament this weekend in Hebron.

The 16-under team destroyed Wisner, 29-1 with Nikki McLagan tossing a no-hitter to earn the pitching victory. A walk and error with two outs in the final inning is all that kept McLagan from throwing a perfect game.

Wayne had 13 hits led by Jessica Raveling's 3-3 outing that consisted of a double and two singles. Timoni Groné ripped two doubles and Heather Buryanek and Alycia Jorgensen ripped a triple while Heidi Johnson and McLagan each had a single. The 16-under finished the regular season with an 8-7 record and will play in the State Tournament this weekend in Grand Island.

Tracy Ankeny

Laurel girl earns MVP in Florida

Laurel-Concord junior Tracy Ankeny was named First-Team All-American and earned most valuable player at the United States Junior Olympic Volleyball Championships in Orlando, Florida.

Ankeny, the daughter of Joe and Mary Ankeny of Dixon, was named to the All-American team by USA Volleyball. There were 48 teams involved in the 16-upder club-division of this tournament.

The tournament, held at the Orange County Convention Center had 26 courts set up for play. The championship game was played at the Fantasia Ballroom at Disney World.

Tracy, a 5-9 outside hitter, played her regular season of USVBA volleyball with the North Central Juniors, a team out of Norfolk which was composed of players throughout northeast Nebraska.

When they were beat out of regional tournament play, she was asked by the Nebraska Juniors out of Lincoln to play in the national championships with them.

The team was coached by Brad Reichmuth of Omaha Central and Jake Moore of Lincoln Pius. The Nebraska team won all 11 of their matches in the tournament which ran July 1-4. They beat St. Louis in the quarterfinals, 15-3, 15-10 and Northeast Wyoming in the semifinals, 15-3, 16-14. In the championship contest Nebraska defeated Queen City of Cincinnati, 15-7, 15-11.

Ralph Bishop League Tourney semis, finals to be held in Wayne Midgets, Juniors end regular season schedule

The Wayne Midgets baseball team won three of five games played during the last week, leaving Jeff Griesch and Brian Lentz's squad with a 17-9 record.
Last Friday the locals lost an 8-5 decision to South Sioux in Wayne. Brad Maryott took the loss despite the fact Wayne out-hit the visitors, 9-3. South Sioux scored seven runs in the sixth inning to come from behind and earn the win.

Kurtis Keller doubled and singled to pace Wayne's offense while Brian Fernau and Jeremy Lutt each singled twice. Josh Starzl, Brad Maryott and Justin Thede each had a base hit.

Wayne came back to defeat Wakefield, 12-3 with Ryan Sturm earning the win from the mound while Josh Templeman took the loss, Wayne out-hit Wakefield, 9-6. Justin Thede led Wayne with a double and two singles while Brian Fernau laced a pair of base hits. Jeremy Lutt, Adam Endicott, Ryan Sturm and Jeremy Nelson each had a base hit.

run single in the bottom of the fifth to tie the game at four before Wayne took the lead for good.

Wisner loaded the bases in the seventh inning with no outs but could only manage to score one before Maryott struck out the final batter to end the game.

Maryott also paced Wayne's offense with a double and two singles while Nick Hagmann ripped two singles. Adam Endicott doubled while Jeremy Lutt, Justin Thede, Ryan Sturm and Josh Starzl each singled.

Wayne will host the winner of Oakland/Pierce in the League Tournament on Friday night at 8 p.m. at Hank Overin Field. The tournament runs through Sunday with Wayne hosting the semifinals and finals.

THE JUNIORS slipped to 14-9 after a 1-4 week with the lone win for Jeric Morris and Jeff Zeiss' team coming against Tilden in the Wayne Tournament over the weekend.

Wayne lost a 6-1 decision at home against South Sioux last Friday night with Nick Vanhorn taking the loss. Wayne was out-hit, 7-6 with Jaimey Holdorf pacing the offense with three singles while Adam Bebee, Dusty Jensen and Jason Starzl each had one base hit.

In the tournament over the weekend Wayne lost a 14-5 decision to Pleasant Dale with Jeremy Sturm taking the loss from the mound. Wayne was out-hit, 9-6 with Jaimey Holdorf and Adam Bebee leading the offense with two singles each while Cody Stracke and Jason Starzl had a single each.

Wayne also lost to Lincoln Christian, 5-2 with Cody Stracke being tagged with the loss. The host team was out-hit by a 9-5 margin as Jaimey Holdorf led Wayne with two base hits while other singles were recorded by Jeremy Sturm, Josh Starzl and Adam Bebee.

Wayne's lone win of the tournament was a 4-3 decision over Tilden with Dusty Jensen pitching the complete game and earning the win. Wayne pounded out eight hits compared to five for Tilden. Jason Starzl tripled and singled to lead the locals with Jeremy Sturm singling twice while Cody Stracke doubled. Jaimey Holdorf, Dusty Jensen and B.J. Wochler each had a base hit.

Monday night at Hank Overin Field, Wayne fell to Wisner-Pilger-Beemer, 10-6 as Jeremy Sturm took the pitching loss. Both teams notched 10 hits in the game with Jaimey Holdorf leading Wayne with three triples and a single while Jason Starzl tripled twice. Jeremy Sturm doubled and singled while Joe Lutt and Cody Stracke each had one base hit.

Wayne will host the winner of Hartington and Pender on Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the annual Ralph Bishop League Tournament.

BRIAN FERNAU was called out on this play during action in the Midgets contest. Fernau tried to beat out a throw from the shortstop.

JAIMEY HOLDORF attempts to reach out and touch this pitch from Wisner on a suicide play with teammate Jason Starzl sprinting down the line from third base in an attempt to score. Starzl was thrown out and Holdorf belted a triple on the next pitch.

ALUMNI EVENTS

On Friday evening, June 30, to begin the 100 year alumni celebration in Allen, the Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 9784 members served ice cream at the Senior Center.

The alumni dance was held with approximately 200 people attending.

Helping at the alumni banquet were Amie Gensler, Tammy Jackson, Andy Mattes, Amanda Mitchell, Jamie Mitchell, Jason Mitchell, Greg Rastede, Brett Sachau, Abbey Schroeder, Wendi Schroeder, Corie Sullivan and Jill Sullivan.

Students who assisted with the school tours were Jamie Klaver, Amanda Mitchell, Debbie Plueger, Mandy Plueger, Tanya Plueger, Greg Rastede, Wendy Schroeder and Cori Sullivan.

Skit participants at the alumni banquet were Tammy Jackson, Wendy Schroeder, Amie Gensler, Brett Sachau, Marcia Rastede, Alice Dietz, Gloria Oberg, Florine Jewell, Nancy Schultz, Wayne Jones and Myron Arnour.

The blue and gold signs for the alumni weekend were painted by Chatter Sew Club members Anita Rastede, Jean Morgan, Norma Warner, Mary Williamson, Phyllis Swanson and Marcia Rastede. They were put up by Allan and Marcia Rastede, Joey Fendrick and Phyllis Swanson. The small Burma Shave signs along the sidewalks were made by Cliff Stalling and Phyllis Swanson.

The window display created by the American Legion Auxiliary on Main Street was headed by Phyllis Swanson, Gail Hill and Donna Stalling, with help from several others.

The Cash Store supplied fruit for the runners in the fun run/walk. Dixon County Feedyard provided trophies and the Dixon County Sheriff's office provided traffic support. Participants varied in age from infants in strollers to 69-year-olds.

Muriel Moseman was the winner of the crocheted doily donated to the fire hall fundraising effort by Loyla Miller. Nearly 400 people ate pancakes at the school and many took advantage of the school tours provided by Marcia Rastede and the annual staff students.

There were 21 motorcycles on display on July 2 in the school parking lot. The 27 riders came from Allen, Plainview, Wayne, Osmond and Brunswick; and from Vermillion, Volin and Yankton, S.D. Deenette Von Minden chaired this event. There were various prizes given out.

MUSEUM
The Dixon County Museum will be open for visitors on Sunday, July 16 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. Sterling and Francis Borg will host.

The Dixon County Historical Society will meet at the museum on Tuesday, July 18 at 7:30 p.m. New members are welcome.

LIBRARY NEWS
Many new books and videos have been donated to the Springbank Township Library recently. New books include eight books on dinosaurs. If you have books or movies to donate, please contact librarian Bonnie Kellogg.

Bonnie has served the library for 15 years, giving up nearly every Saturday morning to check out books. The library is supported by tax dollars and run by a board which includes Joy Smith, Ruth Mattes, Pat Philbrick, Elayne Williams and Phyllis Swanson.

The library is open Fridays from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and on Saturday mornings from 8 a.m. to noon. Everyone is welcome. The library is located on Allen's main street.

ALUMNI REUNION

The Concord High School alumni reunion was held in the Laurel city auditorium on Saturday, July 8 at 6:30 p.m. There were 200 graduates, staff, and guests attending. Theme for the evening was "Well and Alive in '95."

Pastor Wymore Goldberg of Texas, class of 1931, gave the invocation, followed by the catered dinner.

Ernest Swanson of Wayne, chairman, gave the welcome and led the Pledge of Allegiance. Gust Matsukis of Omaha called the roll of honor classes and a candle was lit in memory of the deceased. Mary Garvin of Dixon gave the history lesson. Suzie Johnson of Concord held the arithmetic and spelling class, with correspondence from those absent. Songs were sung, accompanied by Marilyn Wallin of Wayne.

Swanson gave the closing remarks. CHS veterans who served their country throughout the years were honored and the song "God Bless America" ended the evening.

LUTHERAN CIRCLES

Concordia Lutheran Rachel and Lydia Circles met at the church on July 6. Lyla Swanson opened with prayer. Business followed. Thank yous were read from Marilyn Wallin and Lutheran Family Service of Omaha for quilts received.

Evonne Magnuson gave some changes in the constitution, with a discussion and a motion to accept. A short video was heard on the Bible study theme "True Friends" on the Sixth Commandment, by James Nestlingen speaker. The Bible study followed by Doris Fredrickson, leader, from the book of Ruth, with each one taking part. Offering, prayer and table prayer were given.

The WELC Group will meet July 20 at 7:30 p.m. with election of officers. Circles meet Aug. 3 at 2 p.m. at the church with a no-host lunch.

Lucille Olson and Opal Carlson served lunch.

July 1 evening guests at Evelina Johnsons were Jennie Peterson of Laverne, Minn. and Wallace and Evonne Magnuson of Laurel. Following the Magnuson reunion at Laurel on July 2, Leona and Linda Johnson of Broken Arrow, Okla. and Kelli Sunken, Lakan and Tanner of Ozark, Mo. were houseguests of Evelina Johnson. Other guests to visit with them were Dean and Phyllis Salmon of Wakefield and Dwight and Mary Johnson of Allen. Evelina Johnson and house guests were July 3 dinner guests in the Jim and Doris Nelson home. The group were supper guests in the Evert and Ardyce Johnson home, joined by the Don Noecker family of Omaha, Doug Kric, Brent Johnson and sons. The guests left Tuesday noon for Sioux City for a family dinner with Tom Lukken.

WHOLESALE TO THE PUBLIC

Crewman

had been making fun of us for being a bunch of farm boys, started to fly close to us, because they knew that the Germans wouldn't shoot at us.

"When we left Germany, without a hole in our plane, there were 32 planes named 'The Squawking Chicken.'"

BENNETT'S PERSONAL story about becoming a pilot was also filled with humor and success. Bennett, who comes from a rural area in Iowa, was plowing straight furrows with a mule team named Tom and Jerry in 1940 when the draft began.

Bennett drew draft number #53 and figured that he would never be chosen. Bennett watched, though, as Secretary of Defense Stimpson, in patent leather shoes, a tuxedo and top hat, first drew number 22, then picked number 853.

According to Bennett, the Air Force was concerned about not having enough pilots to fly the dangerous missions. Not willing to risk their West Point graduates, the Air Force embarked on a study to find the best pilots for the dangerous, straight, level missions. When the results were turned in, the Air Force was ordered to recruit farm boys, used to plowing straight furrows.

BENNETT BECAME a beneficiary of the policy when he was recruited immediately, without training or testing, as a pilot.

Bennett and the other "pilot boys" were then sent by train to Omaha, the first time most of them had been out of the state of Iowa.

"There we were, 10 farm boys stumbling around these city slickers, who were given separate tests. The city boys had to take written tests and physical exams. The Air Force just took us and taught us to fly.

"In 1943 we graduated as Second Lieutenants with wings—and you couldn't tell the farm boys from the city kids."

Bennett currently lives in Tucson, Ariz. where he is the manager of the 390th Memorial Museum. He and Rose were chosen as Grand Marshalls for the parade by the Chicken Show committee.

THE TWO B-17 crewmen also spoke at the "Chickens Indefinite" banquet, after paying their $3 dues to become members.

Neither airman commented on whether or not they preferred the ride of the "Coop de Ville," to that of the "Squawking Chicken." Both agreed, though, that chickens, of the feathered sort, make good copilots.

Leona Kluge and Jane O'Leary enjoy a motorized tour of Wayne's 16th Annual Famous Chicken Show. O'Leary, a founder of the event, announced on Tuesday that she has tendered her resignation as President of the Wayne Regional Arts Council which oversees the festivities.

O'Leary flies the coop

After 16 years of service, Jane O'Leary shocked the community by announcing that she is stepping down as chair-hen of the Chicken Show Committee.

"THAT'S GOOD AND bad. It has never rained during the Chicken Show, and we planned it that way."

O'Leary explains, "It always rains on the Fourth of July, but never after that, only at night."

In an interview Wednesday evening, O'Leary told the Wayne Herald that she is also leaving the Wayne Regional Arts Council, which oversees the committee, and where she has acted as president for more than a decade.

"Looking to the future, she hopes to get involved in tourism on the state level."

"Actually, I would like to work more on tourism in general."

"I'M THROUGH! I'm not coming to any more meetings, and I don't want to be in any parades. I just want to sit back in the shade and watch it with everybody else," O'Leary said in a special meeting of the Chicken Committee on Wednesday.

THE COMMITTEE elected Eric Smith, the only committee member not in attendance, to serve as the new chair-rooster.

Arriving later at the meeting, Smith expressed his surprise and his gratitude.

"I just hope that when Jane dies, she has the decency to do it right before the Chicken Show, that way we can run the hearse through the parade," he suggested.

The meeting was called to elect a successor to O'Leary, although the now former chair-hen seemed unconcerned with the implications of her departure.

"You can call it 'chicken in a casket,'" retorted O'Leary.

"I never thought of myself as being in charge. I was just the person who people called for information," she said.

SMITH, WHO HAS emceed the Chicken Show for several years, hopes to recruit new members and new ideas.

O'LEARY SHARED her best memories of the show.

Anyone who wants to get involved should just come to our next meeting, the third Tuesday in August, at Riley's restaurant.

"Watching it grow."

And anybody who would like to offer suggestions, or has questions, can call Eric at Word Works.

And her worst memories.

Smith will not be at Word Works, that's O'Leary's place of business.

"Watching it grow."

"We'll take a message, for a while," replied O'Leary.

"Really, I would have to say picking the color of the shirts is the hardest decision every year, even more so than selecting a theme."

"The Chicken Show really has a life of its own."

Incoming numbers of freshmen about the same

Wayne State College freshmen registration is on pace with one year ago at this time. As of June 29, new freshmen registration stood at 707 and is expected to increase another 25 to 50 for traditional freshmen students. The Admissions Office at Wayne State College also expects more non-traditional students to register before the start of classes.

Fall semester classes begin Aug. 29 for night classes and Aug. 30 for day classes.

The new student orientation program for new freshmen living on campus is scheduled for Aug. 27, 28 and 29. The program includes guest speakers, student organization information fair, mini lectures, computer network training, classroom search, financial aid/loan review and fee payment, residence hall activities, entertainment and food. The deadline date to register for orientation is Aug. 18. There is a $55 registration fee.

Students interested in starting classes at Wayne State College can contact the Admissions Office at 402-375-7234 or 1-800-228-9972.

Curt Frye

Frye promoted

Wayne State College President Donald Mash has promoted Curt Frye to be the new Vice President and Dean of Students. Frye has served as dean of students since 1989.

Frye began at Wayne State College in 1985 as associate dean of students, was named interim dean of students in 1988, and dean of students in 1989. He oversees the operations of cooperative education, placement, counseling, housing, student activities, the learning center, student health, and the STRIDE program.

"Curt has done an excellent job of enhancing the quality of our student support services," said Mash. "He will continue to develop these services to insure our students' success at Wayne State."

Fashion show set for July 26

Several community businesses and the Wayne County 4-H program are combining efforts to sponsor a community fashion show on Wednesday, July 26 at 7 p.m. at Riley's Convention Center in Wayne.

The show is designed to benefit the 4-H Youth by giving them an opportunity to experience planning, public speaking, modeling and showing off new sewing projects. The stores help sponsor the event by providing four outfits for 4-Hers or 4-H family members to model in addition to the handmade 4-H projects.

The program will begin at 7 p.m. and usually lasts 45 minutes. Refreshments, provided by the 4-H families, are served after the program. The event is not a fundraiser, however, donations will be accepted at the door to help the 4-H Council defray the expenses of the show.

Locals in Training

More than 500 Nebraska Army National Guardsmen traveled to Ft. Carson, CO in the Rocky Mountains for their two-week annual training, June 10-25. A squad of soldiers from Wayne's Company A, 1-134th Infantry, and Columbus's Company C, 1-13th Infantry, participating in the training exercises.

RC&D council holds monthly meeting

The Northeast Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council held its regular monthly meeting June 26.

Janet Gill, Bloomfield Schools, present information regarding recent changes which have taken place with Nebraska On-Line, a program available through the Nebraska Library Commission. New programs and information, including Internet access, will be provided after a fee is paid. Many other services will continue to be free.

On Friday, June 30, a Living in Harmony workshop was held at Niobrara State Park. Eighty-four people attended the afternoon of presentations and 162 individuals participated in the evening meal and activities. Tribal representatives from the Santee Sioux Tribe and Ponca Tribe of Nebraska provided information regarding Indian culture, history and religion. The workshop's goal was building a better understanding and appreciation of cultural diversity in northeast Nebraska.

A major portion of the funding for the workshop was provided by the Nebraska Humanities Council.

The RC&D will meet next on Monday, July 24. The Council will be hosting several tours near Pierce. Following the tours, the regular business meeting will be held.

New WSC professor to receive award

Dr. Timothy J. Sharer, who will become an Associate Professor of Music and the Director of Choral Activities at Wayne State College, was recently chosen by the Lincoln Public Schools Foundation to receive the Mike Troester Outstanding Educator Award for 1995.

The award has been initiated by the family of the late Mike Troester, a former Lincoln Southeast economics teacher and recognizes an excellent and dedicated educator who exemplifies those same qualities displayed by Troester during his 30 years in education.

These qualities include a lifetime commitment to teaching, fair treatment of all students, approachable and kind to all students, encouraging students to "go the extra mile", use of outside resources and new approaches to old materials in the classroom, encouraging both veteran teachers and new staff and being a true educator, sharing abilities with faculty and students.

Both Tim and his wife Beth Ann were music educators with the Lincoln Public Schools before their move to Wayne. They are the parents of an 11 year old son, Corbin.

Dr. Sharer is the son of Cleo and Vona Sharer and Beth Ann is the daughter of Shirley Bergt, all of Wayne.

Pat hopes to write about real farm life

I think "the dog days of summer" have arrived. I've been indoors all day, as I had no patients to see and lots of paper work to do.

I just finished writing notes of our Richardson County team meeting, and I'm still chuckling. One of our patients there, a sweet little lady who is in her mid-70s, has a very bad cancer. She was in so much pain when we first admitted her to the hospice program, she could not concentrate on anything.

She had done china painting, and had numerous projects to finish. It took a lot of medicine, but her pain is under control. She resumed the painting, even taking some to area craft shows.

True to the hospice philosophy, we have encouraged her to do anything she wanted to, and feel up to doing. Last month, it was the Julio Iglesias concert in Omaha. Last week, it was a movie, "Bridges of Madison County." Well, she was disappointed in it, and wonders what all the hoopla is about.

I could sympathize. I resisted reading the book; finally, curiosity got the best of me. It was not a lot of time wasted: It's a very small book. I admit I did cry — I cry easily. But it is true, and pretty far-fetched, for a number of reasons. I know for sure I won't waste time or money on the movie; even though, again, I'm curious about Clint Eastwood in the part.

I get a kick out of discussing it with folks. The critics panned the book, but it stayed on the best-seller list for ages. I think the movie could be called a "chick flick." As one of the LPNs at the meeting said, "I love romances."

But Monte's good friend, Greg, also liked it, and I don't consider him a romanticist. Sue's upset with Kay because she went to it without her.

And, I do hope to get to Winterset to actually see the covered bridge someday. And, I'm going to write a book, too, someday. It will be all about the life of a real farm wife!

Student placed

Sara Granberg of Wayne is participating in a Cooperative Education program through Wayne State College at the University of Nebraska Research Center in Concord.

Granberg's duties include writing news and press releases, copy editing and assisting with the production of a monthly newsletter. She the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Granberg of Wayne and is majoring in communications at WSC.

Cooperative Education combines undergraduate work experience with classroom learning. The work experience occurs in positions which are relative to a student's major, and which will enhance the undergraduate education of the student.

Wayne Home-Based Business Association hears state speaker

Beth Cole of Professional Impact Communications highlighted the Wayne Area Home-Based Business Association meeting on June 12. Her message centered on the fact that all businesses exist and grow if their primary goal is to serve customers.

Beth operates her own business in Merna, Neb., and is known and respected for her ability to inspire and teach customer service and relations throughout the Midwest. She is also the executive director of the Nebraska Home-Based Business Association centered in Kearney.

The Nebraska Home-Based Business Association was founded in 1992 with the goal of giving Nebraskans the opportunity to build on the entrepreneurial spirit and expansion of home-based businesses.

The Wayne Area Chapter, and many more in Nebraska, has followed that lead. Our 22 members represent as many home-based businesses and it is a general opinion that membership is giving us new skills for business growth.

The group will have a booth at the Wayne County Fair and will display products and have information available about the group. Coming up in the fall of this year there will be a Regional Conference and Chapter open house to be held in Wayne.

Anyone interested in participating in the Nebraska or Wayne Area Home-Based Business Association can call Marvel Rahn at 375-4827 or Carlos Frey at 375-2395. Be sure to stop by the booth at the Wayne County Fair.

Teachers attend conference

Three Wayne High educators recently attended the "Schools that Work" conference in Kearney.

Sharyn Paige, Doris Meyer and Annette Rasmussen were among 400 educators who attended the late conference sponsored by the Nebraska Department of Education and the Tech Prep consortiums from each Nebraska community college campus.

Tech Prep is a national movement to develop high school curriculums and provide a smooth transition from high school to college for students planning to enter college-level education programs, said Kevin Miller, Tech Prep coordinator at Central

Community College, which sponsored the conference.

The conference featured Michael Brawer, Florida State School-to-Work/Tech Prep Coordinator, as the keynote speaker. The group was challenged to improve work readiness skills of entry level employees by a panel of business representatives.

Educators were also involved in several sessions on creative approaches to classroom education.

The final project from the conference was for each school represented to develop an action plan for improving one phase of Tech Prep or curriculum integration.

Erin Mann

TIP program

Erin Mann of Wayne, who will be a freshman at Wayne High School recently attended a three week Talent Identification Program (TIP) at the University of Kansas in Lawrence, Kan.

This is the second year for the program which is modeled after a program offered on the Duke University campus in Durham, N. C.

The program features courses offering in several areas including Algebra I, Architecture, Mathematical Problem Solving, Astronomy and two writing intensive courses entitled Facing the Frontier and Science Fiction.

During the three-week term, students enrolled in a single course and generally completed the equivalent of a year of high school or a semester of college-level work.

To qualify for the program, students must achieve an SAT Math score of at least 480 or a Verbal score of at least 430 or an ACT Math score of 18, an English score of 25, a Reading score of 27 or a Scientific Reasoning score of 24 while in the seventh grade.

Trevor Schroeder

Scholarship

Trevor Schroeder of Wayne has been awarded a $2,500 Wal-Mart Competitive Edge Scholarship to attend Wayne State College in the fall.

Schroeder, a graduate of Wayne High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Schroeder of Wayne. He plans to major in computer science.

The scholarship program was developed by Wal-Mart Stores as a commitment to the growth and strength of technology-intensive industries that affect America's success in the global marketplace. Recipients of the scholarship must demonstrate high academic achievement, community service, and leadership. Students must also be pursuing a degree in engineering, computer studies, math, or science.

To compete

Megan Adkins of Laurel has been named a national qualifier by the American Junior Quarterhorse Association and will compete in the 25th Annual AJQHA World Championship Show and Convention in Fort Worth, Texas, August 5-12.

Adkins will 1,800 youths from the United States, including one other Nebraska youth, and several youths from other countries.

The AJQHA World Championship Show is an invitational event which serves as a showcase for top American Quarterhorse exhibitors.

Adkins has been riding competitively for three years. She was selected as the Rookie of the Year in 1993 by the Nebraska Quarterhorse Association and was the winner of the 1994 State Youth Horsemanship and Western Pleasure divisions. At the 1994 World AJQHA Show, Megan was the fourth-place winner in the national speech contest, presented the championship State Horse Demonstration. Ak-Sar-Ben honored Adkins with a silver belt buckle as the 1994 Champion Ak-Sar-Ben-Horsemanship winner.

Megan is the 16-year old daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins of Laurel.

Guidelines set

The Nebraska Department of Education's Nutrition Services Office has announced the Income Eligibility Guidelines for free and reduced price meals for persons unable to pay the full price of meals served under the National School Lunch, Breakfast, Special Milk and Child and Adult Care Food Programs.

Participating schools, child care and adult care centers have a copy of the policy which may be reviewed by any interested party. In the Wayne area, the participants include: District 25 Wayne County School, Wakefield Community schools, Rainbow World Child Care, School District #51, School District #57, St. Mary's School, Wayne Public Schools and Winslow Public Schools.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents, guardians or adult participants. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school or agency. Additional copies are available from the school principal or agency administrator.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

The following guidelines will be used: if one individual lives in the household, an income of $9,711 or less will qualify the family for free meals, an income of $13,820 will qualify the family for reduced price meals. For a family of two, the figures are $13,039 and $18,556. For a family of three, the qualifying figures are $16,367 and $23,292. For a family of four, $19,695 and $28,028, for family of five, $23,023 and $32,764 and for a family of six, $26,351 and $37,500.

For qualification guidelines for larger families or for further information, contact any participating school, child care or adult care center.

Lynnette Hupman

New major

Lynnette Kay Hupman, daughter of Edward and Arlene Gnirk of Hoskins, was promoted to Major in the United States Army National Guard on June 26.

The promotion ceremony was held at Major Hupman's office in Arlington, Va. and also honored her parents who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary that day. In attendance were her parents; her brother, Michael; her sisters Cynthia, Barbara, Patricia and Kathleen; nieces Amber, Meagan and Brittany; nephew, Joshua; and Staff Sergeant Rick Chewning, her brother-in-law.

She is currently assigned to the National Guard Bureau as a budget officer in the comptroller directorate. Major Hupman graduated from Norfolk Senior High in 1975 and is working toward her master's degree at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Falls Church, Va. She and her husband, Donald, reside in Manassas, Va.

Class reunion

The "Word" for the Week

Selfish pride and suicide

A rock star takes his life with a drug overdose. A teenager determines to end it all. Is too low a view of self the culprit? Even Christian ministers teach their people to love themselves. They are directed by the words of Jesus, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself" (Matthew 22:39). We so easily pervert these words. We don't need to learn to love ourselves before we can love others. We do almost everything with old number one in mind. We love ourselves too much. Jesus is telling us to love others just as much as we already love ourselves.

Then why do people threaten suicide? They make self-centered demands for attention. They make these threats in order to gain the desired attention. We paddle children for such behavior. What about the act of suicide itself? Is it also an act of selfishness? In suicide, people take ultimate control over their lives. They reject the control of other people or situations.

Are these new thoughts? Test them by the Bible before you reject them. "For not one of us lives for himself, and not one dies for himself; for it we live, we live for the Lord, or if we die, we die for the Lord" (Romans 14:7-8). If people commit suicide to please themselves, suicide actually is an act of selfishness and pride.

Bridal Shower

Loree Rastede

Loree Rastede of Concord, daughter of Clarence and Marge Rastede of Laurel, was guest of honor at a bridal shower held June 25 at Immanuel Lutheran Church, rural Wakefield.

The program included a bride's crossword puzzle and a pencil game "Floral Wedding Story." Lois Lessmann presented a reading "Advice." The honoree's mother poured.

Serving on the shower committee were Mrs. Merle Roeber, Judy Echtenkamp, Donna Jacobsen, Nila Schuttler, Lois Lessmann and Beverly Ruwe.

Miss Rastede, daughter of Clarence and Marge Rastede of Laurel, and Jerry Echtenkamp, son of Marvin and Neva Echtenkamp of Wakefield, will be married July 28 at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Concord.

Our Savior WELCA program circles meet

Our Savior Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America held three program circles on June 14, with a total of 30 participants and one guest in attendance.

Visitation group reported that 11 women were present for their May 17 meeting. A total of 55 cards were sent and 43 members were visited. Due to the large number of members to visit, the visitation group will change their meeting time from 1:30 to 1 p.m. Next meeting will be July 19 at 1 p.m.

Sewing group met on June 22 with 13 women present. They worked on six lab robes, finished 10 quilts for Lutheran World Relief and finished the quilt for Camp Carol Joy Helling. Sewing group will meet again on July 27 at 9:30 a.m. with a potluck at noon.

Thirty-four women attended one of four Bible study circles in June. Tabitha Circle reported serving lunch for shinglers at the parsonage on June 17. Bible study lesson leaders for July will be Ila Pryor, Jude Milliken, Joye Magnuson and Sharon Flier. Hostesses will be Norma Denkinger, Madge Bruffat (all Hannah) and Gerry Williams.

Briefly Speaking

Bridge is played at Country Club

WAYNE — Ten tables of bridge were played following the Wayne Country Club ladies luncheon held July 11, with 52 attending. Hostesses were Jerry Sharpe and Judy Peters.

Guests were Jill Kenny of Folsom, Calif., Bev Merriman of Wayne and Doris Hammer of Carroll.

Winners last week were Norma Janke, high and Margaret Kenny, second high.

Hostesses next week are Barbara Kelton and Arlene Ellermeier. For reservations call 375-2617 or 375-2095.

Eagles Auxiliary meets July 10

WAYNE — The Wayne Eagles Auxiliary meeting was July 10 with 12 members present. Cathy Varley reported on the chicken parade. The group thanked her for all the work with the parade. The Eagles received first prize for the best organization theme.

The annual ice cream social will be Thursday evening, July 20. Working night to make ice cream will be Tuesday, July 18. Each member is to furnish a nine inch fruit pie or donate $5. The money from the ice cream social is donated to different charities.

Eleanor Carter, who is the Mother of the Year, was presented a birthday gift.

Ruth Kurth is recuperating at home after having knee surgery. Nelda Hammer served the lunch.

The next meeting is Monday, July 17 at 8 p.m. with Cec Vander-snack in the women's committee.

Couple are united in July 1 ceremony

Kathy Reeg and Scott Lackas exchanged vows on July 1 at the home of the bride's parents in Carroll. Parents of the couple are John and Norma Peterson of Carroll and Larry and Kay Lackas of Randolph.

Jim Hopkins of Norfolk, friend of the couple, officiated the ceremony. The country home was decorated with ivy, lace bows and candles.

The bride wore an ivory, satin and lace, tea-length dress with portrait collar and lace sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of assorted flowers in ivory, navy and dusty rose.

Matron of honor was Kathy Gubbels of Randolph, friend of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Marcie Reeg of Wayne, daughter of the bride. They wore navy, satin dresses in tea-length with portrait collars and lace sleeves and accents.

Flower girls were Amanda Reeg of Wayne, daughter of the bride, and Melissa Lackas of Waterloo, Iowa, daughter of the groom. They wore knee-length dresses in dusty rose with lace accents.

Best man was Don Kellogg of Norfolk, friend of the groom. The groom and best man wore black tuxedos with navy print vests.

A reception and dance was held at the Wayne Country Club. Joe and Jeanette Work of Plattsmouth hosted the celebration. Rhonda Webb of Wayne and Bonnie Clay of Wakefield cut and served cake. Other servers included Lisa Salmon, Diane Keim, Joleen Gustafson and Deb Lundahl, all of Wakefield. Serving punch were Angie Webb and Crystal Webb of Wayne. All are friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Lackas

The bride is employed with Educational Service Unit One administration office in Wakefield. The groom is a Trooper with the Nebraska State Patrol.

The couple are making their home in West Point.

Area reunions held

Tough love can work on marriages

Q. My marriage seems beyond repair to me. My husband is running around with other women and threatening to divorce me. Is there really any hope for us?

A. It's difficult to say without knowing the details, but I can tell you this. I've seen dozens of families who were in your fix, but now they are happy and whole.

I once counseled a group for young married couples for a number of years, and infidelity was a surprisingly common event. There was one period of time during which I dealt with 19 different couples where extramarital affairs had either occurred or were seriously threatening. These families are still known to me, and nine of them are apparently happily married today.

Though this percentage may seem low, remember that these were families on the verge of meeting in divorce court. Their marriages, for the most part, have now survived 10 years or longer. Tough love played a vital role in their recovery. So yes, hope springs eternal, as well it should.

Let me give you another word of encouragement. Nothing can seem so fixed but change so rapidly as human emotions. When it comes to romantic endeavors, feelings can turn upside down in a day or two. I've seen husbands or wives who expressed hatred for their spouses—"I never want to see you again" is a typical epithet—fall weeping in the other person's arms some hours later.

Q. As much as I love my wife and I'm convinced she loves me—our relationship has become stagnant in recent years. It seems like all we do is work. We clean the house, take care of the kids, fix the leaking roof, have the car repaired, and try to keep up with the routine responsibilities of living. How can we escape this deadening lifestyle? How can we live up our marriage?

A. You are describing a situation that I call the "straight life," referring to the never-ending responsibilities of adult living that become oppressive and deadening to a marriage. To let it continue unchanged is to sacrifice something precious in your relationship.

I suggest you make a conscious effort to put the following ingredients back into your lives—beginning with pleasure. You and your wife should go on a date at least once a week, leaving the children at home. Likewise, some form of sports or recreational activity should be enjoyed as a family, whether it be tennis, golf, swimming, skiing, hiking or biking.

Dr. Dobson

Answers Your Questions

Second, you should seek to keep the romantic fires aglow in your relationship. This can be accomplished by writing love notes and giving surprise gifts and having candlelight dinners and taking off on unexpected weekend trips, among other things.

Third, you must reserve some of your time and energy for meaningful sexual activity. Tired bodies make for tired sex. The physical aspect of the relationship can be approached creatively, and indeed, must be.

Fourth, the most successful marriages are those where both husband and wife seek to build the self-esteem of the other. Ego needs can be met within the bonds of marriage, and nothing contributes more to closeness and stability than to convey respect for the personhood of the spouse.

Every responsible adult must cope with the concerns of the straight life, but those obligations need not assault mental and physical health and harmony.

Q. Is divorce really as destructive to children as we have been led to believe?

A. Children are amazingly resilient, and they do manage to "bounce back" from some severe traumas and crises. Much depends, of course, on how much conflict they witness and how wisely the parent in custody is able to handle problems. Generally speaking, however, divorce is extremely difficult for children involved.

Children of disrupted homes usually learn to cope with their situation, one way or another, but the emotional impact will never be completely forgotten.

McPherson-Cech exchange vows in double ring ceremony

Wendy McPherson, daughter of Jim and Trish McPherson of Lincoln and Jason Cech, son of Judy McClure of Bella Vista, Arkansas and Jerry Cech of Loup City, exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony June 24 at the Christ Lutheran Church in Lincoln.

Reverend Charles Remnitz of Lincoln performed the ceremony.

Music was provided by vocalist Amy Killham and organist Patti Fusselman, both of Lincoln.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white slipper satin. The gown featured a princess style bodice with a jewel neckline enhanced with brocade lace. The deep v-back ended with a large waist line bow.

The dress was enhanced with Julian sleeves accented by a finger tip point of brocade lace and covered button closure. The dress also featured a cathedral train trimmed with pico edged lace and seed pearls.

Donita Rehbein of Lincoln served as the matron of honor. Rachel Gilliland of Wayne was the flowergirl.

Cedric and Cameron McPherson of Lincoln lit the candles.

Joe Jerabek of Ashton served as the best man.

Ushering guests into the church were Gordon Emry of Cozad and Brad Emry of Charleston, S.C., Terry Gilliland of Wayne, Jim Cech of Charlotte, Shawn Czaplewski of Norfolk and John Kowalski of Lincoln. The men wore black tuxedos.

The guests were registered by Lynda Ewell of Lincoln. Martha Ewell of Lincoln and April Lemmer of Cozad arranged gifts.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the Isaac

Mr. and Mrs. Cech

Walton League. The reception was hosted by Brenda Gaunt and Kevin McDaniel of Lenexa, KS and Tyra Damratowski and Eric Zeroni of Lincoln.

Shelley Gilliland of Wayne and Robin Emry of Cozad cut and served cake. Judy Ewell of Lincoln poured coffee. The punch was served by Amy and Andrea Gall of Howells.

The guests were served by Gloria Kraemer of Menomonie, Wis., Belva Licht of Omaha, Shirley Bauer of Sioux Falls S.D., and Judy Larsen of Hooper.

After the couple's wedding trip to Estes Park, Colo., the couple will reside in Loup City.

The bride is a 1992 graduate of Lincoln High School and a 1995 graduate of Southeast Community College.

The groom is a graduate of Loup City High School. He is currently employed with Jerry's Affiliated Foods.

Tiedtke-Jackson wed in Wayne ceremony

Amy Marie Tiedtke of Wayne and Benjamin Robert Jackson of Allen were united in marriage on June 24 at First United Methodist Church in Wayne.

Rev. Gary Main of Wayne and Rev. Tony Gattis officiated at the 6:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Craig and Nicki Tiedtke of Wayne and Dale and Loretta Jackson of Allen.

Colleen Jeffries of Wayne was soloist. She was accompanied by Connie Webber of Wayne. Vicky Hingst of Allen was pianist.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose a gown of ivory bridal satin with short, poufy sleeves which were heavily beaded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins and featured a cuffed bridal point.

The sweetheart neckline was detailed with applique Alecon lace outlined in rows of seed pearls and sequins. A unique pleated starburst design at the waist gave way to an elegant full skirt trimmed in Alecon lace.

A cathedral length train with a lace insert cascaded into rows of seed and drop pearls and iridescent sequins. A double satin bow accented the train.

Ellen Davis of Wayne was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Tammy Jackson and Tracey Jackson of

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson

Allen and Amy Slaughter of Wakefield. They wore polished cotton, tea length dresses with rose and pink roses on a black background.

Darcie, Hayley and Kara Grasmick of Omaha were flowergirls.

Jennifer Chapman of Lincoln and Cera Johnson of Wayne were candlelighters.

Jay Jackson of Allen was best man. Groomsmen were Daniel Tiedtke and Aaron Wilson of Wayne and Todd Hohenstein of Ponca.

Ushers were Rusty Dickens, Doug Kraemer, and Jason Olson, all of Allen and Kelly Boswell of Omaha. The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos with tails and ivory shirts.

A reception was held at Riley's following the ceremony. Carla Stapleton of Allen and Diana Hast of Council Bluffs, Iowa registered guests. Gifts were arranged by Alissa and Jay Manske of Norfolk.

Host couples were Larry and Martha Brodersen of Wayne and Larry and Kathy Boswell of Allen.

Jody Stricker of Fergus Falls, Minn. and Gay Grandell of Grand Island served cake. Cindy Grasmick of Omaha and Carol Jean Stapleton of Allen served punch.

The bride is a 1991 graduate of Wayne High School and is currently attending Wayne State College. She is employed by Subway.

The groom is a 1990 graduate of Allen High School and will graduate from Wayne State College in August. He is employed by Walmart in Norfolk.

Following a wedding trip to Ft. Randall and Lake Francis Case, the couple is at home in Wayne.

Janke-Kelly exchange vows on June 3

Edith Estelle Janke and Richard John Kelly, both of Sioux City, Iowa exchanged vows at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on June 3.

Rev. Jeff Anderson performed the 5 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Terry and Mary Janke of Winside and Michael and Janet Kelly of Sioux City.

Mary Murtaugh of Wayne was soloist. Bonnie Hansen was organist and Dan Hansen of Carroll played the trumpet. Beth Kelly and Shelia Zimmerman sang a duet, "The Wedding Song". Bells were played by Pam Janke and Renata Anderson with pianist Bonnedell Koch. They played "O Perfect Love". Other selections included "Only God Loves You More", "Time for Joy" and "The Father Says I Do".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an off-the-shoulder ivory, brocade satin gown with short sleeves trimmed with rosettes. The neckline and basque bodice were adorned with beaded lace appliques. The gown featured a full skirt and a simple cathedral length train with a back bow.

The bride wore to-the-elbow length ivory gloves and a silk, elbow length ivory veil adorned with silk roses.

Kara Thompson of Lincoln, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Stange of Sioux City, the groom's sister, Rachel Haase of Omaha, Heidi Bonsall of Carroll and Holly Sebade of Wayne. They wore floor length coral dresses with a peplum, short sleeves and accented with a fabric rose in front of the bodice. They also wore long ivory gloves, ivory pearl necklaces and earrings.

Rachel Janke, daughter of the bride and Brianna Stangé, niece of the groom, both of Sioux City, were flower girls.

Eric and Matt Hiltz of Sioux

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly
City were candlelighters. Ringbearer was Parker Janke of Wayne, nephew of the bride. Tim Sullivan was best man. Groomsmen were Brian Kelly, Nick Krause, Lou Reichenbach and Chris Janke. Ushers were Mark Janke, John Strange, Eric Hiltz and Matt Hiltz.

The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedos with black cummerbunds and ivory shirts. The mother of the bride wore an off-white two piece suit and the mother of the groom wore a two piece pink suit with lace trim.

A reception was held at Pizazz Reception Hall in Morningside, Iowa for 300 guests.

Chad and Pam Janke and Mark and Teresa Hiltz were host couples. Elinor Backman served cake.

The bride attended Wayne High School and graduated from South Sioux City High School. She is presently employed by St. Luke's Hospital in Sioux City.

The groom is a graduate of East High School in Sioux City and received his Aviation Degree in 1994. He is employed by Gateway 2000.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

The Presbyterian Women met at the church with eight members, Dorothy Rees and Rev. Axen present.

Jacquelyn Owens began the business meeting with information about African women.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Plans were made to attend the guest day at Belden Presbyterian Church on July 13.

Charlene Jones conducted the Least Coin observance — a challenge to contribute to the New World Order. This was followed by the lesson — a continued study of Africa, also led by Charlene.

Work was begun on a new quilt.

Meeting closed with group singing of an African hymn taken from World Day of Prayer services. This was accompanied by Dorothy Rees.

Janice Morris served lunch.

Next meeting will be July 19. JoAnn Owens will be hostess and Eleanor Owens will be lesson leader, continuing with the study of Africa.

4-H fashion show

Several 4-Hers are planning a community Fashion Show to be held July 26. The theme for this year's show and style revue will be patriotic selections. Pictured above are Nicole Trevett (back), Erin Palu, Joffene Jager, Marie Mohr, manager of Swans and Missy Jager. Not present was Nicki Hanse who is also on the planning committee for the show.

Amy Malchow

Assistant hired

The University of Nebraska Northeast Extension Programming Unit has announced the hiring of Amy Malchow to serve as 4-H Assistant in Dixon County.

Amy began her duties June 12. Her office is located in the Dixon County Extension office at the Northeast Research and Extension Center east of Concord.

Malchow is a 1994 graduate of the University of Nebraska Department of Family and Consumer Science, with a major in education. As a 4-H'er Amy exhibited projects in many areas including Home Economics and Market Beef. She served as an intern in the Saunders County Extension office in Wahoo.

In Dixon County, Amy will assist with the organization and delivery of the 4-H program and will direct the 4-H School Enrichment series.

Showmanship clinic to be held at Dixon County Fairgrounds

Mark your calendars for a 4-H Showmanship Clinic to be held on Saturday, July 22 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Dixon County Fairgrounds, Concord.

Presenters for this clinic will be top 4-H'ers in the project areas of beef, bucket calf, dairy and sheep. 4-H'ers who attend this clinic are encouraged to bring their show animals to the Dixon County Fairgrounds for this hands-on clinic. Practice and pointers on showmanship skills will be shared with the 4-H'ers.

Please call the Dixon County Extension Office, 402-584-2234 by 4 p.m. on Thursday, July 20 to pre-register. Remember, this is a hands-on clinic so plan to bring your show animal.

LENRD to host series of public meetings

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District (LENRD) is announcing the beginning of a series of public meetings concerning the district's Groundwater Management plan. The plan contains the proposed actions and controls for the groundwater management area in an attempt to protect the present and future quality of our precious groundwater.

"The Lower Elkhorn NRD is proposing groundwater quality management rules and regulations for the future use of groundwater in your area," says LENRD general manager Stan Staab. "The proposed plan has been mandated by the state legislature and all NRDs must have an approved plan," commented Staab.

The Lower Elkhorn NRD's plan was approved in December of 1994. The LENRD board has declared the entire 15-county District a control area. The plan has been written in a three-part phase approach. Phase 1 will deal with areas with the least severe amount of nitrate contamination. Phase 2 will concentrate on moderate nitrate contamination levels, and phase 3 will involve the areas with the most severe nitrate contamination.

Staab commented, "The different levels of nitrates in our groundwater have been documented extensively and we are now ready to publicly discuss the actions and controls. We are requesting input from all groundwater users, but would like to extend a special invite to farmers and irrigators within the district. These meetings are important to our future."

The general public is invited to attend the following meetings across the district. On Monday, July 17, a public meeting will be held at the Pierce Legion Hall at 8 p.m. On Tuesday, July 18, a public meeting will be held at the Beemer Legion Hall at 8 p.m. On Wednesday, July 19, a public meeting will be held in West Point at the Cumming County Courthouse in the basement meeting room at 2 p.m.

The public meetings will be followed by public hearings through which the exact boundaries and controls of the management area will be determined. Please contact the Lower Elkhorn District office with any comments or questions concerning the plan.

Outbreak of vesicular stomatitis is announced

A recent outbreak of vesicular stomatitis in two southern states has prompted increased health requirements for animals entering Nebraska. State Veterinarian Dr. Larry Williams urges livestock and horse owners to take precautions to prevent the disease from affecting their animals.

Vesicular stomatitis (VS) is a viral disease which primarily affects cattle, horses and swine. In affected animals, it causes blister-like le-sions on the lips, gums, tongue, teats, hooves and infrequently, the coronary band. Seventy-seven cases of VS have been detected, 76 in New Mexico and one in Arizona. More than 30 investigations are underway in six other states, including Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada and California. Western states are rapidly implementing increased health requirements to prevent the disease from spreading any further. Nebraska joins that effort with its stepped-up animal import regulations.

As of July 10, no animal susceptible to vesicular stomatitis may enter Nebraska from another state if VS has been diagnosed within 10 miles of the premises of origin during the past 30 days.

Additionally, animals from states where VS has been diagnosed within the past 30 days must be accompanied by a Certificate of Veterinary Inspection. This certificate must include a statement verifying that the animal has been examined and found to show no signs of VS and that the animal has not been exposed to VS during the past 30 days.

"These procedures are for the protection of the Nebraska livestock industry. We want to do everything we can to assure that the disease is not imported into our state," said Dr. Larry Williams, State Veterinarian for the Nebraska Department of Agriculture. "We certainly hope that the increased precautions will prevent the spread of VS. However, there is no guarantee, so I encourage livestock producers, horse owners and veterinarians to be on the lookout for signs of this disease."

Vesicular stomatitis can be spread by insect vectors, from contact between affected and healthy animals, and from exposure to contaminated equipment. Although there is no cure or treatment for VS, affected animals generally recover in about two weeks.

During the infection, animals tend to experience weight loss because the lesions in their mouths make it difficult to eat. Humans may also contract the disease by working with affected animals. In humans, VS causes influenza-like symptoms, including fever, muscle aches, headaches and malaise.

Anyone suspecting vesicular stomatitis among livestock or horses in Nebraska should contact USDA Veterinary Services at 402-434-2300 or the Nebraska Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry at 402-471-2351.

Measures may be needed to control grasshopper population

Untilled areas such as field margins and CRP areas have become prime places for grasshoppers hatching in previous weeks according to Keith Jarvi, University of Nebraska Extension Integrated Pest Management Assistant.

"Now is the time to assess grasshopper populations and to determine if numbers are large enough that preventative measures should be taken to protect field crops from future damage," said Jarvi.

time. However, if dry conditions continue, migration from these areas into field crops may occur," Jarvi said.

Grasshoppers are currently in the nymphal stage, without wings to aid migration. "Smaller grasshoppers are much easier to control than winged adults, so if treatment is necessary, it is best to do it soon," said Jarvi.

Grasshopper population estimates are made on square yard counts. Cropland with eight to 14 hoppers and field borders with 21 to 40 hoppers probably require treatment. Square yard counts of more than 15 in cropland and 40 in field borders are a definite reason for control measures to be taken.

"Various products are available for control in specific crops or non-tilled areas. The use of lower rates would be adequate for early in the season. Raise rates when hoppers are larger and crop canopies are fuller."

"Consult labels and Extension publications for harvest restrictions and further information," said Jarvi.

According to the Jarvi, several species of grasshoppers are capable of severe damage to field crops. The most common species in northeast Nebraska are the differential, two-striped and red-legged grasshoppers.

"Typically these pests breed in untilled areas and will feed on weeds and grasses early in the year. If their food supply is adequate, the hoppers may remain in these area for some

Thanks for all the beautiful cards and gifts. Thanks to our children and grand-children for the Mock Wedding and all the work they did to make the evening great. Cyril and Beverly Hansen. 7/13

A THANK YOU to my relatives and friends for their loving care and help. Also for the flowers, food, cards, memorials and telephone calls. And to Dr. Martin and the staff at the Wayne Care Center who were so good to Albert. A special thank you to Pastor Jack Williams for the beautiful service. Dorothy Wert and Barb Meyer for the special music. Schumacher Funeral Home and the ladies of the church who furnished lunch and served it. Everything was appreciated very much. God Bless each and every one of you. Irma Damme and family. 7/13

TO MY DEAR friends and relatives, my heartfelt appreciation for the birthday and get well wishes. Thank you so much for your thoughtfulness. Sincerely, Linda Grubb. 7/13

THANKS TO the many friends and relatives who sent us cards for our 60th Wedding Anniversary. Howard and Dorothy Beckenhauer. 7/13

THANK YOU to my family and friends for the cards, flowers, gifts, phone calls, visits and food I received in the hospital and since my return home. Special thanks to Pastor Schult and Sister Gertrude for their prayers. Also to Dr. Martin and Dr. Adams, the nurses for their T.L.C. and everyone who works at Providence Medical Center. God Bless You. Berniece Meyer. 7/13

THE FAMILY of Cleve Willers would like to thank everyone who thought of her during and after her illness. A special thanks to Rev. Jack Williams, Pastor of Our Savior Lutheran Church. We appreciate the memorials, cards, floral tributes, food, phone calls and visits. Thank you to Our Savior W.E.L.C.A. for providing and serving the funeral lunch. It is comforting to know how much everyone thought of Cleve. Alvin Willers and family. 7/13

THE FAMILIES of Walt Nieman are very grateful to our friends and relatives for the many acts of kindness during this difficult time. Pastor Mahnken, Pastor Anderson and Sister Gertrude were so faithful with their many visits and prayers. Our thanks to Dr. Lindau, Terri Munier, Juan Kinney and the entire staff at Providence Medical Center for their loving tender care, and to the Staff at the funeral home for their never ending support and help to us. May God Keep You All in His Care. Leona Nieman, Donna and Steve Schumacher, Sheri and Todd Hoerman, Stacie and Kara, Jeff and Kim Triggs, Kyle and Jacob. 7/13

The family of William H. Gaunt would like to express their heartfelt thanks to Rev. Gary Main, Pastor of First United Methodist Church, all who participated in the services, caring and sharing for the lunch, those who sent memorials, cards, food, phone calls, visits in the home, anyone who did anything before, after or during the service. Everything you did was greatly appreciated.

VICE PRESIDENT FOR DEVELOPMENT

Wayne State College and the Wayne State Foundation are seeking an experienced professional to assume responsibility for all aspects of fundraising and alumni relations. The Vice President also serves as the Executive Director of the Wayne State Foundation. A first-ever national fundraising campaign has been concluded recently with the goal of $13.5 million having been attained.

Wayne State College has emerged rapidly into one of the most dynamic small, regional public colleges in the Midwest. Strong leadership, record enrollment growth, a renewed focus on student development and teaching, and several major building projects are indicators of the College's vitality. The College enrolls 4,000 students and is located in a community of 5,000 in northeast Nebraska.

The successful candidate should have a record of accomplishment in fundraising, preferably in higher education, and the ability to manage and provide leadership for a comprehensive development program. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with credentials and experience. Compensation includes an excellent benefits package.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but to be assured full consideration, inquiries should be directed to the address below by August 1, 1995. Applicants should send a letter of application, resume and the names, addresses and telephone numbers of three (3) work-related references to:

Dr. Ronald A. Mulder, CFRE
