'How' about another helping

Derick Dorcey, Jesse Hill and Jasmine Woldt enjoy Wednesday's Kindergarten Feast at the Wayne Elementary School. Most of the children at the feast said looking forward to visiting their grandparents, friends and relatives on the holiday. Area pilgrims can expect mild traveling weather.

Yields down but not dismal

Harvesters still have reason to be thankful

By Clara Osten

Harvest is virtually complete in the N.E. braska and yields are down considerably from the past two years, according to Teri Post at the Consolidated Farm Services office. However, we have not had the losses that some originally expected," said Ms. Post. She said that her office has not had a large number of producers reporting yield losses but under the CAT insurance program offered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, producers must have a 50 percent yield loss to collect benefits. Voters may see school building retry in May

By Tom Mullen
 Of The Herald

When Wayne County voters pick their presidential candidates in the coming May primary, they will also be facing a new school bond issue, if the School Facilities Committee has its way.

The idea of placing the new bond vote with the primary was put forth by the school district's fiscal agent Alan Eveland, after the committee voted overwhelmingly to recommend constructing a new Middle School.

Tying the bond issue to the presidential primary increases its chances for success according to School Superintendent Dr. Dennis Jensen.

"We are expecting a shorter Unicameral session this spring, so any reservations on property tax issues should be behind us by then," explained Dr. Jensen.

"Also, the presidential election will turn out more people, and we want that."

A small number of voters last year turned down a $7.9 million bond to build the school in a special election.

A new facility committee was then formed and charged with the task of bringing forth a recommen-datation to the School Board.

The new committee's original three options were: to build a new middle school with shared high school facilities; to build a new high school and convert the current high school to a middle school; or to renovate the existing middle school.

"There was a lack of understanding to the depth of work the first committee went to," said Dr. Jensen, referring to two additional options the new committee created.

Committee member Mary Temme researched the original committee's investigation and reported on her findings at Tuesday's meeting.

The committee then voted to recommend the first option to the School Board.

The plan calls for a new middle school adjacent to the existing high school. Four rooms will be added to the high school and the two buildings will share some facilities.

Dr. Jensen expects few changes from the existing proposal and estimates that the bond issue will be very close to last year's $7.9 million figure.

The School Board will consider the recommendation at its Dec. 11 meeting.

Let us give thanks — if only for all the bad things that are never going to happen.

Blood Mobile to be in town

WAYNE — The Siouxland Blood Bank will be accepting donations at Providence Medical Center in Wayne on Friday, Nov. 24. The mobile crew will be at the hospital between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

They have also released the schedule for December. They will be in Laurel at the United Presbyterian Church on Friday, Dec. 15, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. On Tuesday, Dec. 19 they will be at the M.G. Waldbaum Co. in Wakefield for the employees from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The December stop for Wayne will be on Thursday, Dec. 28 at the hospital from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Book sale

WAYNE — The Wayne Public Library's book sale is continuing. Stop in for some good buys.

Daycare meeting

WAYNE — A daycare providers meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 28 at 7 p.m. at Columbus Federal. The meeting's topic will be holiday crafts. If anyone has any craft ideas, please share them at the meeting. The group will also be electing new co-chairpersons for the upcoming year.

4-H election results are released

WAYNE COUNTY — The election for Wayne County 4-H Council was held with the following results. Jane Fleer and Sian Nathan of Hoskins will be serving as the two new adult members of the council. Hailey Daehnke and BJ Hansen of Wakefield are the new youth members.

The newly elected members join Deb Daehnke, Gary Hansen, Jolene Jager and Adam Behmer who are serving their second year of their terms.

The Wayne County 4-H Council plays an important role in improving the county, developing policy for 4-H events, determining how the funds earned through the 4-H food stand are spent and coordinating awards and recognition programs.

POST-URGES producers to contact her office as soon as possible after harvest is completed, to let them know if there have been yield losses.

"Producers need to bring in production evidence as soon as possible, even if they have no losses to report. We need this information to complete our records and it is a good idea to get us the information before it is filed away for the year," Post said.

Flu hits heavy percentage of Middle School students

By Clara Osten
 Of the Herald

A number of students were absent from the Wayne Middle School Thursday and Friday with the stomach flu.

"We had approximately 65 students out each day," said Richard Metteer, Principal at the Middle School.

A number of rumors throughout the community indicated that the cause of the illness may have been carbon monoxide poisoning.

"THIS WAS absolutely not the case. I heard these rumors also, so I contacted the gas company. They came to the Middle School Thursday evening and made a complete check of the boiler room. Throughout the entire furnace room, there were zero carbon monoxide readings," said Metteer.

Officials from a television station in Sioux City, Iowa contacted Metteer about doing a story on the absences but Metteer informed them there was nothing to report.

Metteer said absence numbers were down this week. He also said it appeared there were at least two different types of stomach flu being reported. "For some, the flu lasted only 24 hours and for others, it lasted three or four days," he said.

WEST ELEMENTARY and Wayne High School did not seem to be affected by the flu. The elementary had no excessive absences. At Wayne High, there were off and on reports of absences, but there was not an epidemic.

A spokesperson at Northeast Nebraska Medical Group said they have not had any patients in their office with flu symptoms.

"Although the ideal time to get a flu shot is October, it is still not too late to get one. The flu shot protects against three viruses which cause respiratory flu," said Mavis Lutt at N.E. Medical Group.

Fireworks case draws guilty pleas

Three Wayne area teens plead guilty to charges related to the theft and burning of the Skokan Fireworks stand on June 26.

Jill O'Leary, 19, plead guilty Monday to Criminal Mischief, a class IV felony, in relation to the burning of the stand. This is the only felony to be charged in the case. O'Leary also plead guilty to theft by unlawful taking on Monday. Theft by unlawful taking is a Class I Misdemeanor.

O'Leary will appear before the court for sentencing on Jan. 3rd.

On Nov. 1, Daniel Janke, 17, and Johnnie Smutzler, 19, announced guilty pleas to theft by unlawful taking, charges in their pretrial hearing. The pleas were part of plea agreements in which other charges were dropped.

The sentence hearing for the two will be Dec. 6.

Holiday lighting ceremony

Wayne businesses are kicking off the Christmas season with the lighting of Santa's Corner at Second and Main streets, Friday at 5:30 p.m.

The Chamber of Commerce enlisted manpower and money for lights from the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, and the city is providing the electrical service.

"This is just the beginning, but the response has been tremendous and we are looking for this to continue and to grow," said Sandy Bartling, who helped organize the event.

Colleges refocus heat on coordinating board

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — State colleges and universities have renewed their criticism of the Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education.

Higher education officials contend that the state education panel exceeds its authority when it attempts to measure the quality of academic programs at Nebraska's public universities and colleges. Commission members respond that state law makes it clear the commission must have a role in assuring the quality of academic programs.

The panel was established by Nebraska voters to coordinate higher education in the state on a nonpolitical basis and to eliminate duplication of programs. It became fully operational in 1992.

In the commission's first two years, colleges and universities complained that the commission deluged them with requests for details about their programs and building projects.

But this is the first time since Bruce Stahl left as the commission's executive director and David Powers took over last year that the schools have complained loudly about the panel.

At issue is a 1994 law. It says the commission should devise ways to monitor colleges' academic programs to promote the quality and

Children's Book Week celebrated

First graders from Mrs. Peg Lutt's homeroom are pictured on the merry-go-round after achieving a touchdown by reading over 100 books during Children's Book Week which was held Nov. 13-17. This year's theme was "Go Big Read" and each homeroom tried to score a touchdown for reading. The theme was carried out by having the teachers and students wear "Big Red" sweatshirts or a shirt from a team of their choice on Friday. The event was coordinated by Claudia Koeber, elementary media specialist, who said it was a very successful week of reading and enjoying books.

Best Time to Take Medicines

Ideal dosing times of medicines vary depending on the condition treated and the type of medicines prescribed. For example, blood pressure and heart conditions often respond best if medicines are given between 6 AM and 12 Noon. This may be due to the body's early morning release of catecholamines, chemicals that affect the blood pressure and normal heart function.

Asthma is another condition that is sensitive to normal body rhythms. Research has shown that asthma symptoms vary throughout the day. According to a recent article in American Review of Respiratory Disease, the respiratory system functions best at around 4 PM and worst at 4 AM. For some reason, inhaled and oral steroids seem to work best if used in the midafternoon. Long-acting theophylline, however, may be most beneficial if it is taken once-a-day around 6 or 7 PM. It is thought that this type of dosing provides more of the drug between 3 AM and 6 AM, when asthma symptoms worsen.

Wayne County cattle producers give holiday beef recipes

There's no place like home for the holidays — and home-cooked beef meals with all the trimmings. Wayne County cattle producers, who likely will feature festive beef meals at the center of their own holiday tables, are helping fund holiday beef promotions that provide consumers with hassle-free, delicious recipes.

"Cattlemen participating in the beef checkoff also consume a lot of beef. Like all consumers, they're looking for new and interesting beef recipes that fit their lifestyles," said Jill Jensen, Director of Consumer/Retail Affairs for the Nebraska Beef Council.

The Test Kitchens of the National Live Stock and Meat Board have distributed both traditional and contemporary beef recipes to consumers through news releases and a holiday newspaper color page. The color page, titled "Simply Elegant," features an updated timetable for beef roasting times and a recipe for standing rib roast. The holiday color page was sent to newspapers in September and is expected to reach nearly 7.5 million readers.

In addition to the color page, Wayne County cattle producers also helped fund a special holiday news release packet that was mailed in October to food editors at newspapers with circulations over 50,000. The packet includes recipes for hassle-free dinners, including a more traditional meal of classic rib roast with roasted root vegetables and individual Yorkshire puddings and a contemporary meal of herbed beef rib eye roast with parmesan polenta and mushroom ragout.

Consumers can also peruse their favorite women's or lifestyle magazine for holiday beef meal ideas. Two holiday magazines published by Woman's Day, Christmas Traditions and Best Ideas for Christmas, feature recipes for beef rib roast with zesty pepper rub and orange-herb beef rib eye roast with herbed scones, respectively.

Finally, during deskside visits with magazine food editors last May (when editors are busy planning holiday issues), the Meat Board Test Kitchens provided them with special offers on instant read meat thermometers. Country Living, Ladies Home Journal, Woman's Day and Family Circle all are carrying the offer, through which consumers can write to the Meat Board for their reduced-price $5 thermometer. The thermometer will be mailed to consumers with an updated roasting timetable.

Special holiday promotions are also being conducted in Nebraska. The Nebraska Beef Council is promoting a recipe for citrus-herb beef tenderloin with roasted red peppers and onions. "The tenderloin is a traditional holiday favorite, and this recipe gives it a '90s twist," explained Jensen.

"Through these easy-to-follow recipes and timetables, all consumers — whether they're cattlemen, chefs or cardiologists — can prepare beef meals that are the center of a great holiday celebration," Jensen said. "Beef really is what's for holiday dinners."

Holiday beef recipes, including the citrus-herb beef tenderloin, can be obtained by contacting the Nebraska Beef Council at 1-308-236-7551.

Wayne County cattle producers continue to fund programs like recipe distribution that maintain and promote the positive role of beef in the American diet. These state and national programs are funded through a beef checkoff of $1 per animal collected each time cattle are sold. For more information on the beef checkoff, contact the Nebraska Beef Council.

Classic Beef Rib Roast

Total preparation and cooking time: 2 3/4 to 3 1/2 hours
6 to 8 pound well-trimmed beef rib roast (2 to 4 ribs), small end, chine (back) bone removed

Salt
Seasoning:
6 cloves garlic, crushed
1 1/2 teaspoons dried thyme leaves
1 teaspoon cracked black pepper

1. Heat oven to 350°. Combine seasoning ingredients; press evenly into surface of beef roast. Place roast, fat side up, in shallow roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so tip is centered in thickest part of roast, not resting in fat or touching bone. Do not add water or cover. Roast in 350° oven approximately 2 1/2 to 2 1/2 hours for medium rare; 2 3/4 to 3 hours for medium doneness.

2. Remove roast when meat thermometer registers 135° for medium rare, 150° for medium doneness. Transfer roast to carving board; tent loosely with aluminum foil. Let stand 15 minutes. The temperature will continue to rise to 145° for medium rare, 160° for medium.

3. Carve roast into slices; season with salt, as desired. Serve with roasted root vegetables.

Makes 8-11 servings (serving size: 6 ounces cooked, trimmed beef).
Nutrition information per serving (1/8 of recipe): 376 calories; 46 g. protein; 1 g. carbohydrate; 20 g. fat; 5.4 mg. iron; 121 mg. sodium; 134 mg. cholesterol.

3 tablespoons olive oil

1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper

1. In large bowl, combine all ingredients; toss to coat. Arrange vegetables on 15/16 inch jelly roll pan. During last hour of roasting beef, cook vegetables in 350° oven 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

2. After removing roast, increase oven temperature to 450°. Continue cooking vegetables 14 to 16 minutes or until tender and lightly browned. Serve with Classic Beef Rib Roast.

Makes 8-11 servings (serving size: 3/4 to 1 cup)

Nutrition information per serving (1/8 of recipe): 181 calories; 4 g. protein; 31 g. carbohydrate; 5 g. fat; 1.8 mg. iron; 340 mg. sodium; 0 mg. cholesterol.

Individual Yorkshire Puddings

Total preparation and cooking time: 35 minutes. Chilling time (optional): 1 hour.

1 cup all-purpose flour

2 tablespoons snipped fresh chives

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon dried thyme leaves

1 cup milk

2 eggs

2 tablespoons butter, melted

1. In medium bowl, combine flour, chives, salt and thyme. In separate bowl, beat together milk and eggs with wire whisk. Gradually add to flour mixture, beating until smooth. (Cover and refrigerate up to 1 hour before baking, if desired).

2. Spoon, approximately 1/2 teaspoon melted butter into each of 12 medium muffin cups, tipping pan to coat bottoms. Fill each muffin cup halfway (approximately 3 tablespoons batter).

3. After removing roast, increase oven temperature to 450°. Bake puddings in 450° oven 15 to 18 minutes or until puffed and golden. Serve immediately with Classic Rib Roast.

Makes 12 individual Yorkshire Puddings.

Nutrition information per individual Yorkshire pudding: 77 calories; 3 g. protein; 9 g. carbohydrate; 3 g. fat; 0.7 mg. iron; 89 mg. sodium; 42 mg. cholesterol.

New services offered at Office Connection

RadioShack has announced RadioShack Unlimited, an innovative new retail service concept that provides consumers convenient access to more than 100,000 unique and hard-to-find personal electronic products and accessories, replacement parts and components from many brand-name manufacturers.

"RadioShack Unlimited will offer our customers the opportunity to choose from an extraordinary selection of hard-to-find merchandise in addition to the more than 3,000 products already available in RadioShack stores across the country," said Leonard Roberts, president of RadioShack. "We are confident that the depth of selection available through RadioShack Unlimited is unmatched by any retail store."

The RadioShack Unlimited concept mixes the traditional retail experience with a direct delivery strategy. Customers entering a RadioShack store have direct access to the most comprehensive consumer electronics and personal computer reference guide available. The resource catalogs are contained in a specially designed kiosk. The catalogs are indexed by product category to make selection easy and convenient.

The RadioShack Unlimited catalogs feature a vast selection of products that includes phonograph needles and audio cartridges, batteries for every type of personal electronics products, computers and computer hardware, hundreds of computer and video game software titles, more than 600 karaoke tapes, hobby kits, audio/video furniture, autostand installation kits, satellite TV accessories and thousands of similar unique and hard-to-find items. Most items in the catalogs will be delivered within five days.

The in-store catalogs are an important source for replacement parts for RadioShack products and other selected name brands.

An electronic version of the RadioShack Unlimited reference guide is currently being tested for possible introduction in 1997.

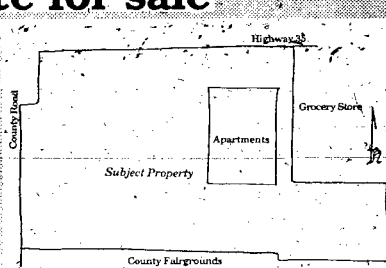

"RadioShack Unlimited is another positive step toward the goal we announced one year ago to differentiate and reposition RadioShack as a retail service concept.

The introduction of new and innovative customer services like RadioShack Unlimited assure RadioShack's position as a leader in the consumer electronics retail industry," Roberts said.

RadioShack Unlimited is available locally at Office Connection, Inc., a RadioShack dealer, located at 613 Main Street in Wayne.

RadioShack, a division of Tandy Corporation, is a consumer electronics store for audio, video, personal computer, telephone and personal electronics and components with more than 6,600 stores and dealers nationwide.

Flawed process

A citizen group has been impaneled to review the state constitution to make recommendations for possible revisions.

Messing with the constitution is a highly volatile practice in Nebraska. Voters already can expect to consider several constitutional ballot issues next fall—placed on the ballot through the petition process.

Now comes the prospect of more changes proposed by the Constitutional Revision Commission created by the legislature.

If you don't think all these constitutional questions aren't going to get a lot of Nebraskans excited about political issues next fall consider this.

The constitutional commission is already under fire because of its good old white boy makeup. Women or minorities apparently are unworthy of participating in this monumental process.

Don't get too excited about any potential constitutional ballot issues proposed by the commission. These will face an uphill fight in front of the voters, anyway.

But making the revision process even tougher has been the fact that the whole process has been politically flawed from the get go.

Closing crossings will create battles

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent

LINCOLN — Another landmark of the rural landscape — railroad crossings across the country roads — may soon become an endangered species.

A task force appointed by the Nebraska Legislature is suggesting that the state get tough in closing some of the state's 8,000 public and private railroad crossings.

That's just too many in a state that has 4,000 miles of railroad tracks, according to members of the Nebraska Highway Rail Crossing Safety Committee.

My trusty, solar-powered calculator says that's about two crossings per mile across the state.

With 110 trains a day rumbling down the Union Pacific's main line along Interstate 80, and more than 60 roaring up and down the Burlington line along Highway 2, Nebraska has two of the busiest rail corridors in the world.

Having spent some nights in motels along Highway 2, I can attest to that.

With so much rail traffic, crossings are blocked frequently by passing trains. Even worse, trains stop frequently on these busy corridors to let the tracks ahead clear of traffic.

Those stopped trains, which can be nearly two miles long, can block tracks for 20 minutes or more, causing some mighty headaches among motorists and some serious safety problems.

In Hershey, which is just west of the busiest rail yard in the world at North Platte, the fire department maintains two fire barns, one on each side of the U.P. tracks. That way, a fire engine is available at all times — even when a stopped or moving train is dividing the town in half.

Trains can also block ambulances and block farmers, access to fields and to grain elevators.

So it's a mighty big problem and about to get worse: railroads are planning longer trains and more main-line tracks.

But the problem is, people don't want to lose their local railroad crossing, and the boards that must agree to close them — village boards and county boards — don't want to close crossings either.

State officials always point to St. Paul when talking about the inability of local towns to close crossings. There are 11 railroad crossings on the east side of St. Paul, one on about every street in town.

When the U.P. and the state suggested a few be closed down, residents revolted. In the end, none of the crossings were closed.

In the grand tradition of government, the state task force on railroad crossings has decided if you can't beat the system, change it.

They're recommending that some other board or council, besides local city councils or county boards, get the ultimate power to close down railroad crossings.

Such a group, they reason, would look past local uproars and convenience issues and close down crossings that are unsafe and redundant.

I smell a fight brewing if that is ever proposed. Local control is a Nebraska tradition and giving it up doesn't happen without a donnybrook.

I also sniff an effort by railroads to rid themselves of an inconvenience of their own — all those nasty crossings they must maintain and all those citizen complaints.

Sure, something needs to happen. Right now, it's an awkward situation: the state and railroads can suggest closing some crossings, and offers money and improvements at other crossings as incentives, but cities and counties can tell them to get lost.

The end result in St. Paul and other locations is that crossings remain open but they deteriorate due to lack of maintenance.

You've got to wonder if we'll see this issue rolling down the tracks in 1996. It's an election year, and controversial issues usually don't get very far in an election year.

Photo-editorial

Members of the Wayne High School One Act Play team open their quest for a repeat state championship next week with district competition. The cast performed their production in a warm-up dinner theatre benefit Tuesday night. Director Ted Blenderman always has his students in prime shape for the district and state competitions and this year promises to be another excellent showing for the Wayne drama students. The school has a winning tradition in speech, drama and music. Cast members put in hundreds of hours rehearsing, studying their characters and the history and life-style of the period in which the play was set. The process is a great learning experience and often physically draining for the students. And did we mention this is an extracurricular activity—like sports. Good luck One Act Team and keep up the hard work.

Technology: always better, never cheaper

I'm a gadget freak.

I always get suckered by new inventions that are marketed as products to make our lives easier. New tools that speed up the time it takes to do tasks are always fascinating to me. I love reading Popular Science and Popular Mechanics.

The first electronic calculators got me excited about technology. I was in high school chemistry vainly trying to master the slide rule when the first $50 dollar four-function calculators made the market. They were the size of a paperback book and we nerds who used to carry slide rules as our imagined badge of superiority, had to switch to a bulky, belt-borne calculator holders as our icons of nerdy with-it-ness.

A good slide rule at that time could be purchased for about $10 and it would do more things than the first calculators. But you weren't an up-to-date nerd if you still carried slide-rule around after calculators were marketed.

I love the world of computers and continual hardware and software upgrades that are not so much an advancement in technology as they are the computer industry's marketing gimmick to touch nerdy pockets for a few sawbucks every time you put a pen in your pocket protector.

On my Christmas list is a new notebook computer with a built in cellular phone. I want to take my office to the woods or the beach in Cancun like those AT&T commercials predict. I want to never have to spend another dime for a postage stamp by exclusively using E-mail.

It is not that far from reality. The new system coming on line through the Wayne City Schools will almost make it capable. All I need is about $5,000 for the notebook and software. Guess who is not going to get what he wants for Christmas.

Mann Overboard

By Les Mann

Okay, if I can't have that, I'll settle for one of those new refrigerators being developed that will use new refrigerant technology. They use the chemical reaction of polar molecules to quickly freeze things (ice cubes in four minutes) These things are touted to use less energy, eliminate ozone-depleting refrigerants and function as a portable cooler for outings.

Take it to the office with you, even if the office is in the woods or on the beach in Cancun.

Is your pop warm? No problem, drop it in the new refrigerator and it is ice cold in seconds—a microwave in reverse.

While contemplating the cooling possibilities and the impact the new technology will have on the air-conditioning industry also consider the cost we will all incur in throwing out our old, outdated, slow-cooling refrigerators and air conditioners and buying the new models.

Then comes our television sets and computer screens, which, incidentally will probably become one in the same in the not too distant future.

New technology has been announced that will allow replacement of cathode ray tubes with a new thin sheet of material that has tiny electronic particles which can emit independent light rays. The net effect will be that televisions and computer screens will be less bulky (as in more portable), use less energy, have enhanced picture quality and create fewer health problems.

Oh, did I mention, those new screens will cost us something.

We wanted to put some paint on the walls at the new Mann abode. We could have bought a $3 traditional paint roller and pan, but no! That's old technology. They have these new machines that electronically pump the paint to the roller so you can paint four times as fast. It's a gadget. Gotta have it.

Fork over $80 bucks. Plus it takes more paint to run it than you would the old system and cleanup takes four times as long, but hey, it's new so it must be better, right?

Technology is wonderful but it is never cheap. America what a country.

Allen to benefit from state housing assistance

Allen is one of four communities in Nebraska who will share in $395,000 to aid an ongoing new Homeownership Opportunity Program.

Created by the state, Homeownership Opportunity Programs lend money to low- and middle-income wage earners for down payments and closing costs for first-time home purchases.

"Nebraska's communities are making every effort to meet the demand of affordable housing for their residents — a goal that we all share," said Gov. Ben Nelson in announcing the grants. "We'll work to continue creating new partnerships and find new, innovative financing which fosters a network of strong housing development projects statewide."

This project is part of an ongoing program directed by the Nebraska Department of Economic Development which encourages and assists with the development and vitality of businesses and communities throughout the state. Federal funds are made available to the state of Nebraska from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program.

Cedar Rapids will receive $170,000 for an owner-occupied rehabilitation project. With the funds, the community can continue to help people who have been on a waiting list for housing rehabilitation assistance since 1992. The list was created when Cedar Rapids' Home Opportunity Program initially received funds from the HOME Investment Partnership program to develop affordable housing and create homeownership opportunities.

Cozad and Allen will receive $75,000 each to help individuals waiting to participate in their successful Homeownership Opportunity Programs.

Wymore will receive $75,000 to design and implement a Homeownership Opportunity Program.

Dennis Baack, head of the Nebraska Community College Association, said it was conceivable that more legislation would be needed to clear up the disagreement. "I think it can be worked out without having to go to that extreme," Baack said.

Carrol Krause, executive director of the state college system, said the schools don't need to "go to war" with the commission on this matter. "I think we need to sit down and discuss it and maybe try to work out our differences," Krause

The law also states that the commission's criteria "shall not infringe on the prerogative of the governing boards" to make decisions on academic quality.

This fall, the commission set up various rules requiring the governing boards to supply evidence of quality curriculum, teaching and learning.

Odus Elliott, academic officer of the commission, said that while the primary role for guaranteeing quality programs rests with the governing boards, the law calls for the panel to have some involvement.

Elliott said the commission would like to see summaries of consultant or accrediting team reports and other items that would help it get a sense of the quality of programs.

Richard Wood, general counsel for the University of Nebraska, said the commission exceeded its authority and that its request indicates there "continues to be a problem."

Dennis Baack, head of the Nebraska Community College Association, said it was conceivable that more legislation would be needed to clear up the disagreement. "I think it can be worked out without having to go to that extreme," Baack said.

Lighting

The Chamber will be hosting its weekly Chamber Coffee to coincide with the lighting ceremony.

"This is a great way to kick off the season. A lot of lights and labor have been donated, so we really expect a beautiful display," said Chamber Executive John Farnan.

"Everyone is welcome. We'll light the park just after dark and there will be plenty of hot liquids and rolls to keep everybody warm, and the downtown merchants will be open late," he said.

The Chamber will also have its first two drawings for $500, in the Wayne, America Great Cash Giveaway on Saturday. The drawings will continue and culminate with two $1,000 drawings on Dec. 23.

Farnan noted that the Lighted Christmas Parade is just two weeks away. Call the Chamber at 375-2240 for entry forms and more information on holiday activities.

Eagles make plans for December

The Wayne-Eagles Auxiliary met Nov. 20 with Babs Middleton, president, presiding.

The Thanksgiving potluck supper was held Nov. 18. Co-chairmen were Fern Test and Glendora Wieseler. A drawing was held with Doris Gilliland and LeRoy Middleton winning prizes.

The joint Aerid and Auxiliary Christmas potluck supper will be held Dec. 9 at 6:30 p.m. A $2 gift exchange will be held. All members are welcome to bring guests.

Soup suppers, open to the public, will be held at the club on Dec. 7, 14 and 21. Volunteers are needed for food donations and workers. A sign-up sheet is posted on the bulletin board.

On Dec. 4, State Auxiliary President Iva Johnson will make her official visit to the Wayne Club. Anyone interested in joining them for supper before the meeting should sign up at the club.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The numbers don't tell the real story about potential problems with plans to provide Nebraskans with property tax relief.

That's the message from League of Nebraska Municipalities Director Lynn Rex to the Legislature's Urban Affairs Committee.

She was one of a few people who spoke to the legislative panel about a proposed constitutional amendment (LR93CA) to place dollars and cents limits on the actual property tax levy allowed for local governments.

As offered, the proposal would limit schools to $1 of the property tax levied per $100 assessed valuation. Counties would receive 30 cents, cities and villages would receive 60 cents if they offer fire protection or 50 cents if they don't.

"I can't tell you a magic number, but I can tell you all of the numbers don't reflect the real impact of this measure" or any of the other proposed constitutional amendments that are the subject of petition drives, Mrs. Rex said Monday.

"The numbers don't reflect which of the two city workers in Clay Center will get laid off," she said, adding that the statement was hypothetical.

Mrs. Rex argued that the existing lids on anticipated receipts that are now in place are very effective.

"There's a perception that something has to be done, so we're going to do something," she said.

"I contend there will be certain pockets in the state where there will be no property tax relief," Mrs. Rex said.

She said imposing the same kind of levy restrictions — outlined in both the Legislature's proposal and one being promoted by the Nebraska State Education Association and Farm Bureau — would be patently unfair.

"Treating Oshkosh and Omaha alike would be as unfair as a lid on the states which would treat Nebraska and California alike," she said.

Committee member Bud Robinson of Blair asked Mrs. Rex why he hasn't heard the same concerns from mayors or other city officials in his northeast Nebraska district.

"We haven't been encouraging them to contact their senators," she said.

"If three mayors call me, that has more impact with me than anything you say," Robinson said.

Mrs. Rex said the League is working on a four-county example to demonstrate the impact of the proposals. "We want to give you accurate information," she said.

"It's crunch time. We've got to have something soon," Robinson said.

Committee Chairman Sen. Paul Hartnett of Bellevue asked how many really essential people it takes to run a city or village. Mrs. Rex promised the committee a survey with that kind of information.

"It all depends on the level of service people are willing to live with," she said.

"We need to look at all of the proposals and see what we can live with," Hartnett said.

The committee is one of several studying the ramifications of the measure being touted by the Legislature's Revenue Committee.

Holiday gives all reason to be thankful

Holidays carry traditions. Thanksgiving, as the word suggests, is a celebration for everyone wanting to express and demonstrate appreciation to God for countless blessings.

You're right, though some fail to speak of it, we all have a lot for which we are thankful.

The Pilgrim Fathers were wise, indeed, who set us such a good example in the fall of 1621. They chose a day to thank God for the myriad blessings conferred upon them. In the 374 years since, abundant blessings have continued to anoint the people of this wonderful country.

How grateful we can be for the impressive documents of government, notably a Declaration of Independence, that acknowledges God as the endower of all fundamental rights; and a Constitution for a government that would guarantee the pursuit of those rights by all citizens.

We can be thankful for great statesmen in the early years of this nation's growth, whose intelligence, courage, patriotism, sacrifices and restraint gave the 13 colonies the opportunity to merge into one.

We can be thankful for little country churches where small numbers gather to worship together, and for the big city churches that attract thousands equally devout.

We can be thankful for an educational system, for fertile farms that produce the food under the care of hard working farmers, and for the numerous industries that make the comforts of life so widely enjoyed. Especially at this time of year our hearts consider those homes and families having an empty chair at the Thanksgiving dinner table because of a tragic loss. We're thankful for their courage.

Indeed we should be a thankful people for no other reason than just having the privilege of living in America and having enough, and more, to eat; sufficient clothing to wear and families to love.

Above all, we're thankful to a Supreme Being Who watches over us as "one Nation, under God."

Many of you have had opportunity to visit overseas, touring other countries, and have returned home grateful for the good old U.S. of A.

Can we Americans, in spite of our differing perceptions and beliefs, continue to demonstrate the likes of freedom?

Only He Who sits above the circle of the Earth knows.

This Thanksgiving, we thank Him for being privileged to be a part of this grand experiment in self government.

Even the thankless, who worship only a god they alone can identify, get a day off. Happy Thanksgiving!

Cardiac 'Cats stun Morningside in O.T.

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

Mike Fitzner's three-pointer with six seconds left in regulation completed a stunning comeback as Wayne State College went on to a 97-91 overtime victory over Morningside College Wednesday night. The Wildcats erased a 19-point second half deficit to top the Chiefs, who made it to the final eight in last year's NCAA Division II tournament.

"This is a super win for our program," said Head Coach Greg McDermott. "To beat an established program such as Morningside, I can't say what it does for our program."

The game was a defensive battle for the first five minutes with the score tied at 4-4, but Morningside slowly built a 49-33 halftime lead. The 'Cats shot only 34 percent in the first half as junior Allen Check picked up a pair of quick fouls and was forced to watch most of the half from the bench and Fitzner extended his shooting slump to a game and a half with three missed shots.

After falling behind by 19 the Wildcats began their comeback. Wayne State had cut the lead to 12 when Morningside's Brad Barron fouled out after being slapped with a pair of technicals. Justin Malcom hit four free throws to cut the lead to eight. One minute later, Kyle White hit a three-pointer and was fouled while shooting. The four-point play sliced the lead to four. Morningside rebuilt their lead to nine, but Fitzner hit three baskets, including a pair of three-pointers to get the 'Cats within one. A pair of free throws by Check with 3:22 left in regulation gave WSC their first lead since the opening minutes. The Chiefs regained their lead before Fitzner's three-pointer knotted it at 84-84 with six ticks left. Fitzner, who has been slumping with his shot lately, couldn't have picked a better time to hit a three-pointer.

"I knew we needed one," said Fitzner. "I pump faked and the guy didn't go up, so I just went up and shot it and luckily it went in. I've been struggling with my shot lately. I came out in the second half and it just started feeling good. I got one to drop right away, missed a couple more, but I stuck with it. I kept getting my shots and finally they started falling for me."

In overtime, Wayne State built a five point lead on a pair of Fitzner free throws and a three-pointer by Craig Philipp and held on for a six point win.

"This is a huge win for us confidence-wise," said Fitzner.

"The team saw what we're capable of doing tonight. We spotted them 16 points at halftime and still came back and beat them."

McDermott credits the win to the play of freshmen Jaime Jones, Tyler Johnson, Chad Nelson and Jason Diaz.

"I think the intensity and enthusiasm that we played with tonight was a result of our youth," said McDermott. "Those guys don't know any better. They don't realize the intense pressure situation we were in late in the game. They're just playing. They're making plays and I think we fed on that."

Johnson led the team with 21 points, while dishing out five assists. Fitzner added 18 points and six rebounds and Philipp had 16 points and grabbed 11 boards. Jones poured in 14 points and had five rebounds. Curt Woodin led the team with six assists.

"Our team now realizes what we're capable of and what our potential is," said McDermott. "Tonight's victory just shows them that if we take care of the basketball and we play great defense, we're capable of beating anybody."

Southwest Baptist, who finished 17-10 last year. WSC comes back on Saturday to play Drury, who finished 19-8 a year ago.

"Southwest Baptist is a program with an outstanding basketball tradition," said McDermott. "At this point in the season we can't be concerned too much with what the other team is going to do. We have to be worried about executing our offense, executing properly on defense, and continuing to give a good effort in the rebounding area. If we do that, we can beat anybody we play."

The Wildcats return home next Tuesday to host the Jackrabbits of South Dakota State. In last year's game at Brookings, the 'Cats fell 85-60. Greg Ryan led the squad with 12 points, while Curt Woodin pulled down seven rebounds.

"They're going to be big," said McDermott. "They have some good athletes on the perimeter and it will be another tough test for us. We just have to be ready to execute our game plan. If we can do that and can step up and knock down some open shots, then we have a chance to be successful."

Shots won't fall for Wildcats in loss to Mavericks

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

Wayne State College shot only 32 percent from the field as they lost their season opener to Nebraska-Omaha 72-63 Saturday night at Rice Auditorium. WSC outrebounded the Mavericks 47 to 38 and took 26 more shots to keep the game close.

"I felt we did what we had to do defensively and from a rebounding standpoint to win the game," said Head Coach Greg McDermott, "but unfortunately we didn't hit the open shots. I felt we got good shots, they just didn't go in for us."

The Wildcats were leading 17-13 in the first half after a three-pointer by Curt Woodin, but UNO went on a 19-2 run and led at the half 33-22.

Wayne State responded with an 18-4 run to open the second half. Allen Check scored 10 points during the spurt and WSC took the lead at 40-37 on a Kyle White three-pointer. The Mavs scored 14 of the next 16 points, however to take a nine point lead with six minutes left in the game. Tyler Johnson hit a three-pointer and Craig Philipp added a free throw to cut the lead to five, but Charles Box hit a pair of three-pointers to build the Mavs lead back to 11 with 2:58 left in the game. Nebraska-Omaha hit 13 of 19 free throws down the stretch to hold on for the nine point win.

"Anytime you shoot 32 percent for the entire game, you're fortunate to be in the game," said McDermott. "With 10 minutes left it's a tie ball game and I think we made a heck of a run to get to that point. We relaxed a little bit, and give the credit to UNO, they took advantage of it and made a run of their own and hit their free throws down the stretch."

Three-point threat Mike Fitzner was shut down by the Mavericks, going 0-9 from the field. Wayne State's other three-point bomber, freshman Chad Nelson, left the game early in the first half with an injured right knee. The loss of Nelson, who led the 'Cats in scoring in the exhibition season, hampered the Wayne State effort.

"Taking 20 points a game out of our lineup certainly changed the way UNO approached us defensively," said McDermott. "I think they spent a lot more energy trying to stop Mike Fitzner and without Chad on the other side of the floor they were able to do that."

Junior Allen Check led the team with 17 points, 12 rebounds and four blocks before fouling out late in the game. Sophomore Craig Philipp also dumped in 17 points and had nine boards. Junior Curt Woodin had eight points and six assists, while freshman Tyler Johnson had nine points and four assists. Freshman Jaime Jones pulled down five rebounds and had four steals.

Wayne State women top Concordia

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The Wayne State women's basketball team got the 1995-96 season started on Friday night with a 84-62 win over Concordia. The 'Cats held the Bulldogs to 36 percent shooting and forced 39 turnovers. Offensively, WSC placed five players in double figures and hit 45 percent of their shots.

"I thought it was a good opening night win," said Head Coach Mike Barry. "I didn't think we started real sharp offensively, but defensively we played with good intensity."

Junior Amy Brodersen scored nine of the 'Cats' first 12 points, but Concordia held a 17-12 lead with 11:20 to play in the first half. WSC went on 15-2 run to build a lead they would not relinquish. The Wildcats led 40-30 at halftime and Concordia could get no closer than eight in the second half.

Brodersen scored 18 points and had eight assists, five steals and three blocked shots. Senior Susie Osborn had 14 points, while junior Mindi Jensen scored 10 points and grabbed six rebounds and five blocked shots. Freshman Carla Schultz poured in a dozen points and had five rebounds and freshman LeAnn Weeks scored 10 points and had six assists. Senior Lori Zeimet and freshman Jenny Thompson each contributed seven points to the win.

"We had some returners step up," said Barry, "and we had some young players off the bench that played pretty well. One stat that I hope continues is our assist-to-turnover ratio [27 assists, 16 turnovers]. If we play like that and we have that kind of ratio, we're going to be pretty well off in most games."

On Wednesday night, the 'Cats hosted the Australian Select team. Wayne State fell behind early and could not recover, losing 80-66. The Wildcats shot only 31 percent in the first half as they fell behind 44-29. In the second half, WSC held the Australians to 28 percent shooting as they outscored them 37-36.

Brodersen scored 15 and had three assists and four steals. Senior Danyel Grammer had 13 points, while Osborn had eight points, eight rebounds and three blocked shots. Schultz had 11 points and Jensen pulled down a dozen boards and scored six points.

The women host Mt. Marty on Tuesday at 5:30 in Rice Auditorium in a double-header with the men's team, who host South Dakota State. Mt. Marty finished 14-14 last year and lost to the Wildcats 83-74. Amy Brodersen scored 19 points for the 'Cats in the game.

Wayne gymnasts compete with Flairs

WAYNE — The Norfolk YMCA Flairs gymnastics team was again in action last weekend at the first annual Pioneer Gym-Trek gymnastics meet. Three Wayne youths competed in the meet. In level six, Alissa Dunklau, 10, placed third in the vault with a score of 9.05. Katie Walton, 12, placed 11th in the vault with a score of 8.9, eighth on the beam with a score of 7.85 and seventh on the floor with a score of 9. In level five, Malissa Fredrickson, 12, placed third on the floor with a score of 8.95 and second on the bars with a score of 8.9.

Eighth graders win in hoop action

WAYNE — The Wayne eighth grade boys basketball team beat West Point in their first game of the season. Wayne built a 17-5 halftime lead and went on to win 30-19. Joel Munson led in scoring with 16 points, followed by Ryan Hank (6), Clinton Keller (4), Jon Slaybaugh (2) and Sam Schrant (2). Dustin Schmeits, Keller and Hank each had five rebounds. The teams next game is Nov. 28 against Pender in the City Auditorium at 4:30 p.m.

Seventh graders top West Point

WAYNE — Wayne beat West Point 24-19 in seventh grade basketball. Leading scorers were Ben Meyer with 12 points, Craig Olson with six, Anthony Sump with four and Jeff Ensz with two.

McGown places 103rd at national meet

Junior James McGown became the first Wildcat to compete in a national cross-country championship since 1968, and Wayne State's highest finisher since 1967 with his time of 34:17.50 (10,000 meters) for 103rd place. While neither the time nor place he and Coach Brian Kavanaugh were hoping for, both felt many positives came from this race.

"I think this was a learning experience for both of us," said Kavanaugh. "James has never experienced a race of this quality before and this was the first athlete I've had reach a national cross-country championship, so there were a lot of unknowns for both of us."

McGown echoed those sentiments.

"Normally I go out in around 5:05 for the first mile and am near the front. This time I was 4:48 and toward the back."

Of more significance, however, was a nagging bout of tendinitis in McGown's right knee that flared up the day after the North Central Regional Championship. "James indicated that it didn't bother him much during the race, probably because of the adrenaline," said Kavanaugh, "but it really hampered his training the last two weeks and definitely affected his confidence. It's tough to go into a meet like this knowing your training hasn't been where you want it to be."

On the plus side is the knowledge and experience gained by both.

"At first James was pretty down about how he ran," Kavanaugh said, "but I think he realizes where he could have finished had he been healthy and more focused. Jason Massman from South Dakota State, who beat James by only 70 seconds at Regionals, placed ninth overall. The speed of the first mile won't affect him near as much next time, because he knows he can run with these guys."

McGown plans to redshirt next year in hopes of leading a team to nationals in 1997.

"The national meet in 1997 will probably be at Wisconsin-Parkside," said Kavanaugh. "We are very familiar with that course and we always run well there."

First United Methodist will hold Holiday Fair

A wide assortment of items for holiday gift giving will be offered to area residents at this year's United Methodist Church Christmas Fair to be held Saturday, Dec. 2, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Shoppers are asked to use the north door of the church where they will be greeted by Pastor and Mrs. Gary Main and Julie Claybaugh, president of United Methodist Women.

In addition to various booths, the fair will once again feature a hot turkey dinner served at the church from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The dinner can be delivered to homes or offices or purchased at the church and taken home.

This year's menu includes turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy for $3.50; half portions for $2; cold turkey sandwiches for $2; pie for $1 and coffee or milk for $.50. Those wishing to have their food delivered can place their orders as early as 9 a.m., with delivery beginning at 11 a.m. Call the church at 375-2231 to place an order. This year's fair will include the following booths:

Country Store--Shoppers can purchase homemade pies, cakes, breads and rolls, cookies, candies, eggs, canned goods, jellies and jams and a variety of other food items. Chairpersons of this booth are Gerald Lipp and Mary Cherry.

Promise Tree--One of the most unique booths at the Christmas Fair is the Promise Tree, where specific talents, products and services are promised in exchange for a specific amount of money. Promises are paid for the day of the fair and are carried out as agreed upon by the promiser and purchaser. Popular promises in the past have included cleaned pheasants, catered meals and horseback rides. Chairpersons of this booth are Cyndi Wagner and Marilyn Anderson.

Stichery and Crafts Boutique-- Sewn, crocheted and knitted items, embroidery, counted cross-stitch and other needlework will be featured at this booth, along with wood and decorator items. Chairpersons for this booth are Lisa Wiesman and Betty Lawrence.

Kid's Korner--Items are $2 and under and are sold at the Kid's Corner booth, including items which are suitable as gifts for children, or as gifts children may purchase for relatives, friends and teachers. In addition, grab bags may also be purchased at this booth and are marked for either boys or girls. Chairpersons of this booth are Sue Buryanek and Maurcen Wacker.

The Nook--Good, used items of every kind, except clothing, may be purchased at the Nook. Chairperson for this booth are Mary Jarvi and Deb Garwood.

Cookie Booth--In this booth, for a small price, sugar cookies can be decorated by persons of all ages. At times, the booth also will have plates of decorated cookies for sale. Chairpersons for this booth are Sue Schroeder and Patti Grashorn.

In addition to the booths, there will be a Corgage for Missions table where a $1 donation to missions will entitle shoppers to a colorful ribbon corsage. This is a special way to say "thanks", "I love you" or "I'm glad we are friends." As another Christmas gift idea, shoppers may wish to purchase a new knife from a wide assortment offered at this table. Chairpersons for corsages/knives are Fern Kelley and Verna Rees.

Overall chairperson for the 1995 Christmas Fair is Mary Cafstems. Co-chairperson is Carla Gunn with Eilene Jager as Advisor. Connie Hall and Julie Claybaugh are in charge of holly and wreath orders.

Other chairpersons are: Kyle

Rose and Lori Carollo, publicity; Ilene Nichols and Imogene Brasch, kitchen; Margaret Hansen and Leota Swanson, pies; Nancy Fuelberth and Connie Webber, luncheon;

Deb Gross and Bonnie Scranton, coffee; Norma Ehlers and Nancy Sorenson, decorations; Doris Stipp, treasurer; and Pearl Benjamin and Diane Creamer, cashiers.

The "Word" for the Week

True Thanksgiving food

When we celebrate Thanksgiving, we indulge ourselves. The food is sumptuous. The deserts are scrumptious. Our sides ache. We loosen our belts and look for a place to rest, from eating. "That's real food," we say.

It may be real food, but is it true food? What's the difference? Look at what Jesus Christ tells us. "My flesh is true food, and My blood is true drink" (John 6:55). How can this be? Thanksgiving dinner is real food all right but it can also be false food. That is, if we put all our eggs in the material food basket, we will come up short in the end. What is the true bread? "This is the bread which came down out of heaven; not as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live forever" (John 6:58).

Real food, that turkey dinner for example, points to the true food from heaven, Jesus Christ. We partake of His flesh and blood when we trust in His sacrifice as the only adequate payment for our sins. We then have real life. We may die physically. We will never die eternally. The pilgrim fathers and mothers gave thanks to God for the provision of real food in the new world. They also gave thanks to God for Jesus Christ, the true food He gave them.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Roy Reed Unit #252, American Legion Auxiliary, Winside, met on Nov. 13 with one Junior and 19 Senior members attending. The "Pledge of Allegiance" was recited and the first verse of the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung. The members recited the "Preamble" to the Auxiliary Constitution. Audrey Quinn offered prayers.

Lila Hansen served as Initiation Officer as six members were formally received into membership. They were Marilyn Morse, Gene Rohlf, Edna Wendi, Marian Iversen, Mary Lea Lage and Bonnie Wylie. Unit members also participating in the ceremony were LaJeane Marotz, sergeant-at-arms; Rose Ann Janke, past unit president; Evelyn Jaeger, vice president; Audrey Quinn, co-chaplain; Laura Neel, junior member; and Beverly Neel, unit president. Each newly received member was given a copy of the Unit's constitution and by-laws; flag code and small American flag and a brochure on what the main objectives are of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Regular business meeting followed where a donation to the DARE program at the Winside schools was made.

Reports were heard on the many events occurring during the past month which the Unit had an active part. The Unit was sponsor of the annual Halloween children's costume party where a total of 37 cans of food were donated to the local Outreach Program.

One junior and seven senior members attended Wayne County Auxiliary meeting on Nov. 10 with the Unit serving as host. Members participating included Lorraine Denklaue as county president; unit president Beverly Neel and Laura Neel at registration; Audrey Quinn as chaplain for memorial service, gold star member reading and meeting chaplain; Dorothy Wert served as county secretary; kitchen assistants were Marilyn Morse and Gertrude Vahlkamp; Unit Vice President Evelyn Jaeger also attended. Next year's county meeting will be at Carroll with Carroll's Unit President JoAnn Owens serving as county president.

Membership increases and unit constitution revisions will be a main focus at the next business meeting scheduled for Jan. '8. Members are to contemplate the dues increase in as much as $9.25 will need to be sent into Department beginning next July for each senior member. These funds will cover the Department and National dues of each member. Junior dues have been increased by National, so $2.50 will need to be sent in per Junior member in July 1996.

Current unit dues are $8 per senior member, so an increase is inevitable. Any member wishing to review steps in becoming a permanent member at the $8 rate may contact Gertrude Vahlkamp or Beverly Neel. For example, a 65 year old member could pay permanent dues at the $8 rate until mid-June 1996 at a cost of $92.08 which reflects the $8 dues already paid through June 1996. At a possible $10 dues rate the same 65 year old member would pay $125.10 starting July 1.

The Unit will host a family Christmas potluck supper on Sunday, Dec. 3 at the Legion Post. All Auxiliary, Legion and family members are welcome. Each family is asked to provide at least one covered dish for the meal. Doors will open at 6 p.m. with supper at 6:30 p.m. Cards and games will provide entertainment for both adults and children. Card committee members include Rose Ann Janke, Doris Marotz and Adline Anderson. Childrens game committee members are Laura and Beverly Neel. Prizes will be awarded.

Marilyn Brockman represented the Unit at the Veterans Day Program at Winside Public Schools on Nov. 10.

November hostesses were Bernice Witt, Charlotte Wylie and Dorothy Wert. The January meeting will be held on the 8th, with hostesses being Dorothy Andersen, Linda Barg, Katie Bleich and Marilyn Brockman. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Twenty-five Winside area Senior Citizens met Nov. 13 for an afternoon of cards and card bingo. Hostesses were Elte Jaeger and Lenora Davis.

ACADEMIC CONTEST

Nine Winside High School students participated in the Lewis and Clark Conference Academic Contest held Nov. 8 at Wayno. They participated in a future problem solving exercise having to do with depletion of Brazilian rain forests. Participants were separated into teams. Desiree Anderson's team and Nicole Mohr's team members won ribbons for their solutions.

Attending from Winside were high achieving students Mike Kollath, Josh Jaeger, Lucas Mohr, Desiree Anderson, Jenny Fleer, Jenny Wade and Serena Lindahl. Sponsor was Reba Mann.

METHODIST WOMEN

Eight members of the United Methodist Women met Nov. 14 with Helen Holtgrew presiding. The secretary and treasurer reports were given. Members will contribute three dinners to Goodwill and locally contribute to the outreach program.

World Day of Prayer materials have been received. A bake sale will be held at the Dec. 2 craft show in the Winside auditorium from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Members are asked to continue saving soup labels.

Calendar of events to remember include Nov. 26, youth to sponsor a lasagna dinner from 12 to 1:30 p.m., open to the public, sign up sheets are at Oberle's Market or call Rose Janke; Nov. 28, fairy speaker at United Methodist in Randolph, 6 p.m.; Dec. 2, the Randolph United Methodist Women, hosting a tour of homes from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., pick up tickets at the Randolph church, $5 each; Dec. 17, Sunday school youth Christmas program during 11:05 service, afterwards a fellowship soup dinner and birthday party for Jesus.

The group's next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 12 for a 12:30 p.m. potluck Christmas dinner. A collection for Crowell Hope will be taken.

Helen Holtgrew gave the Bible lesson on "Stop, Look and Listen."

LASAGNA DINNER

The youth of the United Methodist Church will be sponsoring a lasagna dinner, which is open to the public, on Sunday, Nov. 26.

It will be held at the church from noon to 1:30 p.m. They would appreciate those planning to attend to sign up ahead of time either at Oberle's Market or by calling Rose Janke at 286-9010. A free will donation will be taken. Senior citizens who would either like a ride or a delivery should also call Ms. Janke. Funds raised will be used by the youth for a summer activity.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

Bonnie Frevrt hosted the Nov. 14 Town and Country Club meeting. Cards were played, with prizes going to Greta Grubbs, Marilyn Morse and Dorothy Jo Anderson. Bonnie Frevrt's birthday was observed. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 12 for a 6:30 p.m. carry-in supper with Lorraine Prince.

BUSY BEE'S

Helen Jones hosted the Nov. 15 Busy Bee's Club with eight members present. Ruby Ritze, president, conducted the business meeting. Dec. 5 was selected for their noon carry-in Christmas dinner at Bonnie Wylies. Racko was played for fun and prizes went to Bonnie Wylie, Ella Mac Cleveland and Irene Fork.

PRISCILLA

St. Paul's LWML Priscilla group will hold a Christmas salad supper for members and their guests on Monday, Nov. 27 at 7 p.m.

SCATTERED NEIGHBORS

Doris Marotz hosted the Nov. 15 Scattered Neighbors Club with club president Lois Krueger presiding. Lois opened the meeting with a reading "Take Time for Thanksgiving" and the group sang "Over the River."

LaJeane Marotz, reading leader, read "Thank Him" and a verse on "Life." Lura Stoaks read "Counting One's Blessings." Veryl Jackson will host the Dec. 20 carry-in noon Christmas dinner. Lura Stoaks gave the lesson on making wall paper gift bags.

CHRISTMAS SUPPER

Members of the Roy Reed American Legion Post 252 Auxiliary are planning a family Christmas supper on Sunday, Dec. 3 for all Auxiliary and Legion members and their families. It will be held in the post home, with the doors opening at 6 p.m. and supper at 6:30 p.m. Each family is asked to bring one covered dish. Games and cards will furnish the entertainment, with prizes to be awarded.

CENTER CIRCLE CLUB

Fourteen members of the Center Circle Club and one guest, Jennifer Anderson, met Thursday, Nov. 16 at the Arlene Wills home. Audrey Quinn, club president, opened the business meeting. Roll call was a holiday recipe. Betty Miller, secretary, read the minutes.

Dec. 7 was set for the club Christmas dinner and party at Lee and Rosie's in Winside. The officers will plan the party and a $3 gift exchange will be held.

Irene Bowers' birthday was observed with a gift and the birthday song. Pitch was played, with prizes going to Irene Fork, Ella Field and Rose Janke.

The next meeting will be the Dec. 7 Christmas party at 4:30 p.m.

CRAFT SHOW

The annual Winside craft show will be held in the Winside auditorium Saturday, Dec. 2 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be numerous

Members of the Webelo Cub Scout Troop 179 are "Bound for Discovery" during a skit they performed as part of the celebration of National Library Week. Included in the cast were Chris Hansen, Shawn Vondrak, Collin Prince, Nathan Stevens, Steven Fleer and Joni Jaeger.

Winside Public Library celebrates National Library Week Nov. 13-18

The Winside Public Library celebrated National Library Week Nov. 13 to 18 by holding special activities on Saturday. The Webelo Cub Scouts Troop 179 entertained at the library, performing a skit based on the week's theme "A-Board For Discovery." The boys made their own props for the event and those participating were Shawn Vondreck, Chris Hansen, Collin Prince, Steven Fleer, Andrew Scribner, Nathan Stevens and leader Joni Jaeger.

All present for the event were presented with book markers and had a chance to view the 41 new children's books recently purchased with funds from the Libri Foundation of Eugene, Ore. The Foundation donated $400 of the $600 spent. The other $200 was raised by the Randy and Kathy Geier family during this past Old Settlers Celebration. Two door prizes were given away Saturday. For those below the third grade, a personalized story book was donated by Bob and Marie Janke. Winner of that was Lisa Oberle, a first grader at Winside.

Receiving a gift certificate from the Book Center in Norfolk was John Neel, a fifth grader at Winside, for the third grade and older group.

A special decorated cake donated by Lorraine Prince of Winside furnished the refreshments, along with fruit punch for everyone present.

HOSKINS GARDEN CLUB

The Hoskins Garden Club met at the home of Hildegarde Fenske for a 1:30 dessert luncheon on Thursday, Nov. 16. Elsie Hinzman, president, opened the meeting with a Thought for the Day, "Happiness is Found in Little Things." The hostess chose the song, "Now Thank We All Our God" for group singing. Lorraine Wesely had the poem for the month, entitled "For This Land." Roll call was "Birds I see in the Winter." Secretary and treasurer reports were given.

Plans were made for the annual no-host Christmas dinner. For entertainment, the hostess conducted word games and a quiz on nutritional foods. Christine Lueker had the comprehensive study and read an article written by Chris Carlson. She also gave information on different kinds of roses.

The lesson, getting cold frames and plants ready for winter, was given by Frida Meierhenry. The birthday song was sung for Hildegarde Fenske and LaVern Walker.

The meeting closed with the Watchword for the day, "We make a living by what we get, but we make a life by what we give."

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas dinner at noon at the home of LaVern Walker on Dec. 14.

Laurel couple celebrates 50th at open house

R.B. and Florence Michels of Laurel celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house on Sunday, Nov. 12. It was held at the Concord Evangelical Free Church.

The event was hosted by their children, Dale and Roylene Michels of Lincoln and grandchildren Gretchen of St. Paul, Minn.; Sheila and Joel of Lincoln.

More than 100 guests were greeted by their maid of honor from 50 years ago, Helen Carlson of Concord. They also received taped greetings from the best man, Harold Arp and his wife Donna of Simi Valley, Calif., who were unable to be present.

A short program included thanks from the couple, brief remarks by Pastor Bob Brenner of Concord Church and a piano duet "Nola", one of the couple's favorite songs by Dale and daughter Gretchen.

Mrs. Kenneth (Muriel) Kardell, Mrs. Clifford (Lucille) Carlson, Mrs. Henry (Violet) Arp and Mrs. Marvin (Tillie) Rastede served coffee and punch.

Mike Michels and Florence Peterson were married on Nov. 10, 1945 at the Methodist parsonage in Laurel and have lived in Laurel their entire married life. They have been members of Concord Evangelical Free Church for almost 40 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Carstens

Winside couple celebrated 59th anniversary

Alfred and Ruth Carstens of Norfolk celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 19.

A family dinner was held in the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Ernie and Dianne Jaeger of Winside. The couple's son and his wife, Virgil and Charlotte Carstens of Anaheim, Calif., telephoned them on the occasion.

A special anniversary cake was baked by Daisy Janke of Winside.

Other dinner guests included their grandchildren Jon, Crystal and Ashley Jaeger and Mike and Barb Jaeger. Also present were Ed Carstens of Norfolk and Betty Miller of Winside. They have two more grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Engagement — Brosius-Thompson

Theresa Brosius and Todd Thompson, both of Wayne, are planning a Dec. 30, 1995 wedding at the North Platte Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are Dennis and Trudy Brosius of Stapleton and Jim and Linda Thompson of North Platte.

The bride-to-be is a 1992 graduate of St. Patrick's High School in North Platte. She attended Mid Plains Community College and is currently a junior at Wayne State College. She is employed at Pamida.

The future groom is a 1991 graduate of North Platte High School. He graduated from Mid Plains Community College and is a senior at Wayne State College. He is vice president of the Criminal Justice Association and a student senator. He is a loss prevention agent for area stores.

Club meeting draws 11

Klick and Klatter Club met Nov. 14 at 1:30 in the home of Loreene Gildersleeve with 11 members present.

Marcella Larson, president, opened the meeting with the flag salute and FCE Creed.

Members answered roll call with "what I would like to see invented." Viola Meyer read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report and they were approved.

Ruth Floor, reading leader, read "Mum - The Thanksgiving Flower" and "My Everyday Thanksgiving."

Irene Victor, health leader, read "Laughter" and "Old Folks Are Worth A Fortune."

Pauline Lutt, social leader, sent get well cards to members Marian Jordan, Emelia Larsen and Stella Liska.

Joyce Niemann received the hostess gift.

Marcella presented the lesson "The 90's Home - Into the 21st Century."

Next meeting is Dec. 12 at noon at Riley's for a Christmas party and gift exchange.

While Jaycees Scott Brummond and Ron Gentrup work on a growing pile of leaves collected in Wayne during the Jaycees leaf pickup project, Brummond's daughter Kristine, does what most kids like to do with leaf piles —play in them.

Jaycees complete leaf project

The annual Wayne County Jaycees leaf pickup was completed on Nov. 12 and involved more than 40 man hours of volunteer time by Jaycees and other volunteers.

Thousands of bags of leaves were picked up from curbs in Wayne and were hauled by the Jaycees to Garden Perennials south of town, for composting.

Ron Gentrup, leaf pick-up chairman, said the Jaycees appreciate Gail Korn of Garden Perennials for providing a spot to deposit the huge pile of leaves. He also cited Lueder's G-Men for their assistance in hauling the leaves for the project and Fredrickson Oil for the donated use of a truck to help haul leaves.

Gentrup said the people of Wayne were helpful in having leaves at the curbside this year which made the volunteer pickup run smoothly. He said the Jaycees were appreciative of the assistance from everyone in the community.

Russians visit area farms

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Lioudmita Krasnaquir and Nadezhda Novotorova, both from Russia, were studying in N.E.braska recently.

They were the guests of the University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension, Nov. 6-9, and are members of a 20 person United States study tour for agricultural educators from the former Soviet Union. The project is sponsored by USDA.

The women are studying agricultural issues, such as law, finance, management, marketing and English, all of which are designed to assist them in the transition of their country to a free market economy. They are particularly interested in cooperative systems of marketing and food processing.

Russian educators, Nadia Krasnaquir and Nadia Novotorova got the flavor of life on American farms during their visits to Northeast Nebraska recently.

LIUDMITA (NADIA) Krasnaquir is from the Moscow area and teaches at the Russian Engineering Academy of Management and Agribusiness. She also writes publications for farmers and agribusiness persons.

Her family is originally from the Belorussia area, that borders

Poland. She said that one of every four people in her homeland were killed during World War II.

Nadezhda (Nadia) Novotorova is a Senior Lecturer at the Nizhni Novgorod State Agricultural Academy (equivalent to our University). She lives six hours east of Moscow by car in the former city of Gor'kji, which is located in a major agricultural production area.

Nadia and her husband are co-directors of a newly formed continuing education center at her Academy. The couple has two children.

"THE EDUCATORS were very appreciative of their opportunity to visit N.E.braska," said Rod Patent, Extension Educator.

The women arrived at the Northeast Extension and Research Center on Nov. 6 and began their tour with a visit to Galen Wisner, Vice-President of the State National Bank in Wayne.

Wisner explained how banks provide financial credit to farmers and what documentation was necessary for farmers and their lenders to conduct business.

LATER THAT afternoon, they visited the Osmond branch of the Battle Creek Farmers Co-op. Les Kruger, fertilizer manager, pro-

Weather observer honored

The National Weather Service presented Paul Burman of Wakefield with a 35 year service certificate on Nov. 14. George Matuella, data acquisition program manager, and Terry Landsvork, Nebraska Cooperative program manager from the National Weather service office in Valley, made the presentation.

As the official National Weather Service Cooperative Weather Observer for Wakefield, Mr. Burman has used NWS equipment to measure, record and report precipitation amounts and high and low temperatures on a daily basis since November of 1960. He recalls that first day as being a cloudy, dreary day with a high temperature of 37 and low of 16. The first recorded weather observations were taken in Wakefield in September of 1894 by J.H. Weaver.

During his 35 years of weather watching, Burman recorded temperatures as low as minus 34 in Wakefield on two occasions, Jan. 19, 1970 and Feb. 28, 1962. These readings put Wakefield on all three major network morning shows as they were the nation's minimum temperatures for their respective dates. Wakefield again received network treatment when he measured and reported an 11-inch snowfall on March 6, 1995.

Burman is one of only three Nebraska cooperative weather observers to have received the John Campanius Holm Award for excellence. It is presented annually to only a handful of cooperative observers who best meet the stringent qualifications.

The data provided by cooperative observers is used extensively by the National Weather Service, state climatologist and numerous others in the public and private sectors. It eventually becomes a permanent part of the climatic record for the local area and nation. The observers record a variety of weather elements such as precipitation, temperature, river water level and severe weather phenomenon.

Cynthia Swinney

Earns promotion

Cynthia Swinney has been promoted to director of business services, life science at Harris Laboratories in Lincoln.

Ms. Swinney, formerly of Wayne, is the daughter of Lee and the late Ila Jean Swinney of Wayne. She is a graduate of Wayne High School and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

She has been with Harris since 1991. In her new position she will help establish fees, maintain financial records for clinical research, maintain time-based accounting to monitor costs, maintain clinical research training program documentation and manage the study definition team in the development of specification sheets and time/event schedules.

LeAnn Stewart

Brian Horak

Senators elected

Two local students were recently elected to the Student Senate of Northeast Community College.

LeAnn Stewart of Dixon has been elected president of the Student Senate. A 1994 graduate of Laurel-Concord High School, Stewart is the daughter of Marty and Linda Stewart. She is enrolled in animal science/livestock technology at Northeast, and is also active in the Freshman Livestock Judging Team and the Block and Bridge Club.

Brian Horak of Emerson has also been elected as a member of the Student Senate. A 1995 graduate of Emerson-Hubbard High School, Horak is the son of Cindy Kralmer and Dan Horak. He is enrolled in the building construction program at Northeast.

The Student Senate is responsible for hearing the needs of a majority of the student body, and then deciding upon a plan to implement the appropriate measures to meet those needs.

In addition to planning a wide variety of activities for students, members of the Student Senate also serve on all major councils and committees at the college.

Located at the northeast edge of Norfolk, Northeast Community College serves residents in 20 counties in northeast Nebraska and is the only community college in the state with one main campus.

Northeast offers more than 50 vocational, technical, liberal arts and business degree programs of study, leading to immediate employment opportunities or transfer to a four-year college.

Brett Otte

Earns Eagle

Brett Otte, son of Dennis and Kerry Otte will receive his Eagle Scout Award at a ceremony on Monday, Dec. 4 at the basement of Our Savior Lutheran Church. The ceremony begins at 7 p.m.

Otte started his scouting career in the fourth grade with Cub Scout Pack 221. He joined Boy Scout Troop 174 in 1989. He has held the offices of Patrol Leader and Senior Patrol Leader.

During his scouting years, Otte has participated in the following troop trips: Muskatine Lake-1989; Camp Cedars-1990; Niobrara Canoe Trip-1990 and 1992; Ben Delatour Scout Ranch, Colo.-1991 and 1992; Valentine Campout-1994; Yankton Campout-1994; Boundary Waters, Minn., Canada-1994; Pierce Campout-1995 and Valentine Campout-1995.

For his Eagle Scout Project, Otte organized and assisted his troop in planting trees and bushes at Izaak Walton Lake. He would like to give special thanks to Steve Rasmussen, the Izaak Walton League, Pheasants Forever and Logan Valley Implement for assisting with the project.

Otte is a senior at Wayne High School and a member of Our Savior Lutheran Church. In high school he has participated in include varsity and pep band. He is the tuba section leader in the varsity band, and is also in the honor roll.

Otte would like to thank Scout Master Chuck Rutenbeck, leaders, teachers, fellow scouts, friends and relatives who have helped and encouraged him on his path to becoming an Eagle Scout.

He is extending an open invitation to anyone and everyone who has touched his life to attend the ceremony. The public is welcome to attend the ceremony.

90th birthday to be celebrated

Irene Armour will be celebrating her 90th birthday at the Senior Center in Allen on Saturday, Nov. 25 from 2 to 4 in the afternoon.

Everyone is welcome to visit with Irene and her family. Coffee and cake will be served.

For many years Irene played the organ at the Methodist Church in Allen and took special care of the altar flowers. She now resides at the Wakefield Care Center.

To attend a leadership seminar

A selection committee of Wayne High School staff members reviewed the applications for the Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Foundation Leadership Seminar. From the group of sophomore applicants, Sara Kinney was selected to represent Wayne High at HOBY. Sara is the daughter of Vaughn and Jean Kinney.

David Ensz, son of Bob and Debbie Ensz was selected as the alternate should Ms. Kinney be unable to attend.

The Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation Seminar will be held during June in Omaha. The seminars bring together the best of two worlds: high school sophomores with demonstrated leadership qualities--tomorrow's leaders--and today's leaders--a group of men and women who have distinguished themselves in business, education, government, the sciences, the arts, and the professions.

Through intense but informal discussions, young people get a realistic look at their nation, its people, and their role in the world community. A question-and-answer, give-and-take format helps to teach those 10th graders, known as HOBY Ambassadors, to think for themselves. They learn that as individuals they are important and that their thoughts and actions can make a difference. HOBY motivates students by showing them that how to think can be just as important as what to think.

The local Kiwanis club provides financial support each year to the selected Wayne High School sophomore Ambassador.

Russians

Kruger explained the importance of honesty and trust in the free enterprise system. He gave an example of how a producer may deliver thousands of bushels of grain in exchange for a warehouse receipt.

The Patent's hosted the educators at a family dinner. "It was the first visit to an actual American farm and an opportunity to share in the American family culture for the Russian guests," Patent said.

"They particularly enjoyed sharing information about their schools and family life. They indicated that students in Russia have been taught English for some time but since the change in government, it has become more important because citizens now have the opportunity to travel outside the country and English is critical to world business," Patent said.

THE RUSSIAN women enjoyed American food, particularly American beef.

Liouda explained that food is very expensive in Russia now. Under the former structure, Russians spent 50 percent of their income on food, 35 percent on housing and the balance on clothing and other needs.

Now, food often takes nearly 100 percent of the income of many people. Many Russians are taking second and third jobs to support their families and it is very difficult for many.

The women said it is especially difficult for retired people because their pensions are very low.

Almost every family has a garden, often as much as 30 minutes away from their home, but it is important to raise and store as much food as possible.

ON NOV. 7 the educators visited the Jack and Rhonda Warner dairy farm near Allen. Jack explained the health requirements and demonstrated how the milking parlor functions.

Rhonda introduced them to a big round bale of alfalfa and described how they use them for feed.

The Russian visitors reviewed production records and the dairy breeding program in place at the Warner farm.

Later that day the group stopped at the John and Lea Agler farm northwest of Wayne. The Aglers explained how they raise corn, soybeans, alfalfa and beef cattle. Nadia and Liouda asked questions about farm planning and accounting and the Aglers spent concentrated time explaining their farm record keeping system.

TUESDAY EVENING was spent at the Robert and Hazel Fritschen home in Laurel. Fritschen arranged a visit to the Laurel elementary school on Wednesday morning.

Jim Recob of McCorkindale Implement introduced the Russian educators to the importance of modern equipment to the American farmer.

Recob emphasized the role of dealers in helping farmer make major capital investments, decisions in their business, and the role of the dealer in providing parts and service to insure that the machines work properly when the producer needs them.

WEDNESDAY afternoon was spent with Nancy Lang, Extension Educator in Walthill. Ms. Lang outlined Extension programs in the Macy and Winnebago communities. The primary focus of the program is the after school and clover buds programs for the Native American school children in those communities.

On Thursday, after a tour of the Northeast Research and Extension Center at Concord, the Russian educators returned to Lincoln to continue their studies.

The Russian visitors were very grateful to their Nebraskan hosts. They are excited to return home to help their country.

They said the Russian people are very productive but are having a difficult time surviving during the transition when the government has so few resources and the people and businesses have not yet had the time or resources to fully develop.

Genealogical Society hears about Thanksgiving origin

The Genealogical Society of Wayne County met on Nov. 16 with one guest, Joanne Sedriks. The minutes of the October meeting and treasurer's report were approved as read.

Three society members attended an interesting German presentation at the public library in October.

Imogene Brasch reported the book on the Wayne Cemetery is almost done. She also noted the book would include 6,000 to 9,000 names. Diane Roeber, Rae Kugler and Imogene Brasch will serve on the book committee.

A policy for paying out-of-town speakers was approved. Judy Kruger reported on an article in the DAR magazine about the origin of our Thanksgiving Day. The originator was Sarah Johanna Hale, who pressed the issue with President Abraham Lincoln. He approved the bill in 1864.

It was reported that member Al Shufelt had been in St. Luke's Hospital for two weeks.

Guest Joanne Sedriks agreed to give the January program on her stay in Latvia, during which she met some of her husband's Latvian relatives.

Marge Armstrong told about an October visit by her friends from England. There was discussion on future program ideas. A report on wild pigs in the area was given.

The next meeting will be Jan. 18 at 7 p.m. Any interested parties are welcome and may contact president Diane Roeber for information.

Election of officers held at Immanuel Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid of Immanuel Lutheran of rural Wakefield held election of officers. Elected were Mrs. Lloyd Roeber, president; Eleanora Rauss, vice president; Hazel Hank, secretary; and Bonnie Schrieber, treasurer.

Ten members attended the meeting on Nov. 16 at 2 p.m. Pastor Carner led the Quarterly topic, At the Well. Eleanora Rauss, vice president, presided over the business meeting.

The group is invited to be guests at the Grace LWML Evening Circle meeting on Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Berniece Rewinkel and Eleanora Rauss gave the visitation report. Christmas donations will be sent to Lutheran Old People's Home, Bethesda Lutheran Home, Dakota Boys Ranch, Lutheran School for the Deaf and Camp Luther.

December committees are Alice Roeber and Mrs. Lloyd Roeber, visitation; Bonnie Nelson, Barb Holdorf, Ann Ruwe and Jeannette Gemelke, cleaning and community work.

The birthdays of Hilda Ruwe, Berniece Rewinkel and Alta Meyer were acknowledged.

Serving lunch were Nila Schutler and Neva Echtenkamp.

The next meeting will be Dec. 21 at noon. The congregation is invited to attend.

Good parents putting more personal time into child care

If you're a parent that responds to "good peer pressure" here are some trends to follow.

Supervise TV Watching

This winter as children entertain themselves by watching TV, will parents be watching? Parents seem to be responding to concerns about violence and adult content on television by monitoring their children's viewing, according to a Gallup Survey for the Family Channel. In all, 71 percent of parents monitor the programs their children watch, compared to 60 percent who said they did so in 1991.

In addition, 48 percent of adults surveyed say television portrays "somewhat" or "very" negative values while 45 percent believe it depicts "somewhat" or "very" positive values. Eighty-three percent of adults believe television contributes to violence among children under age 18.

Source: Adapted from The Family Channel's Gallup Survey of America's TV Viewing Habits, 1994.

Fathers Are Spending More Time

Fathers are spending more time on family concerns but this trend does not relieve the pressures on mothers. Women are doing proportionately even more, and the gap is widening according to the study. In 1992 mothers spent 12.3 more hours per week on child care activities than they did in 1985. The increase among fathers was much less with about five more hours per

Ask Karen...

Q. I only wore my gown one time. Does it need to be cleaned before I put it away?

A. Only time will tell if the garment is stained, and then it's often too late. We often get prom dresses, bridesmaid's gowns and other formal wear several months after they've been worn. Stains, especially perspiration, can be harder to find and remove from delicate clothing. The sooner you have it cleaned, the better your chances of wearing the dress or perhaps selling it second hand.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Wakefield Board of Education heard a variety of reports during its regular meeting on Nov. 13. Principal Jeanne Surface reported on implications of the weapons policy, grants she is working on, multicultural education plan, alternative schools, drug and alcohol education and various other programs.

Supt. Derwin Hartman told the board that several cracked windows have been replaced. He also reported that there was a considerable deficit for the FHA in taking care of homecoming expenses. The board also set the date of Nov. 28 as a time for a board committee to meet with City Council members regarding community use of Internet.

Brad Hoskins discussed ideas relating to the athletic department and to the future placement of school trophies. Board chairman Salmon referred the problem to the board policy committee, which will meet with the administration and Mr. Hoskins before the December board meeting to bring back a recommendation.

Supt. Hartman discussed prices on lunch room equipment and stated he would be investigating this further.

The board approved the Music Boosters request to purchase tone chimes for the vocal department.

The board also approved the purchase of WOS office accounting software and maintenance on a three year purchase plan. The new accounting system will be implemented in January.

The board approved the NHS request to allow the group to attend the Wayne State College Elizabethan dinner on Sunday, Dec. 10.

As the last item of business, the board approved Alan Johnson as the boy's basketball coach's aid.

EASTERN STAR
Golden Rod Chapter 106 Order of Eastern Star met on Nov. 7. "Thanksgiving Day" by Lydia Child was read by members.

The charter was draped in memory of 50 year member Eugenia Pospisil. Robert Jones sang "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Karen Jones, Grand Representative, Indiana in Nebraska, was presented to the chapter.

Golden Rod Chapter will again participate in the Wakefield Health Care Center Tree of Love gifts and also give monetary gifts to the Plattsmouth Home and Children's Home. Thank yous from Emma Brown and the Eugenia Pospisil family were read.

The Christmas supper on Dec. 5 at 6:30 p.m. will be catered at the Star Hall. All members are invited and should RSVP to Karen Jones by Nov. 27.

Golden Rod Chapter will be 100 years old in 1996. Celebration activities will be planned.

Election of officers was held. Elected were Mary Ellen Sundell, Worthy Matron; Alvin Sundell, Worthy Patron; Karen Jones, Associate Matron; Robert Jones, Associate Patron; Helen Johnson, secretary; Charlene Schroeder, treasurer; Norma Byers, Conductress; and Doris Linafelter, Associate Conductress.

Edith Hansen donated various OES items she had collected through the years. Brenda and Helen Gustafson served as hostesses.

70TH BIRTHDAY
The Wakefield Legion Auxiliary Unit 81 celebrated its 70th birthday on Monday, Nov. 13 at the Legion Hall with a cooperative dinner. Seventeen members and officers were in attendance.

Carol Ulrich, district president, read the history of the unit and several other articles. A short business meeting was held. A donation of $35 will be sent to Ponca for County Government Day on Nov. 22.

Betty Bressler and Arlene Benson reported on serving the fourth, fifth and sixth grade cookies and punch on Halloween.

Marie Bellows, the only living charter member of the unit, reminisced about how the Legion Auxiliary began and where the meetings were held. She told of the many community meals they served even though they had to carry the water upstairs and cook on an oil stove.

HEARS REPORT
The Wakefield Health Care Center Auxiliary met on Nov. 1 with 30 members present. Sue Nelson, president, opened the meeting. Lois Berns led devotions from Hebrew 13:8 — Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Doris Hantz, guest speaker, talked about Hospice.
Edna Gustafson, treasurer, reported that $735.77 more was made this year than last year at the Fall Festival.

Election of officers was held. Sue Nelson will remain as president and Lois Schlines as vice president. Betty Bressler will serve as secretary and Lois Berns, treasurer.

Lunch was served by Florence Fredrickson, Edna Gustafson and Helen Gustafson.

ALL-STATE

Sara Mattes and Angie Anderson have been chosen to be part of the All-State Choir and Concert Band. Anderson is a senior at Wakefield and plays the trumpet. This is the second year she has been chosen for the All-State Band.

Sara Mattes is a junior and sings alto and will perform with the chorus. She is a member of the Wakefield High School choir and swing choir.

RETIREES

Dorothy Brudigam was honored for her 42 years of service at the M.G. Waldbaum Co. with an office party on Nov. 9.

She started working for the egg company on Oct. 21, 1953 and officially retired on Oct. 31. She worked in a number of different areas in the plant and saw a number of changes in the operation over the years, including breaking eggs by hand to the present automated breaking machines.

Company officials also noted that she had a perfect safety record.
