Robak speaks at women's conference

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Nebraska Lieutenant Governor Kim Robak was the keynote speaker at the third annual Women's Conference held Feb. 29 at Wayne State College.

The conference was co-sponsored by the WSC Marketing Club, Nebraska Business Development Center and the WSC International Club.

Ms. Robak has been Lieutenant governor for more than two years. She is the administration's coordinator of health care reform.

Prior to her present position, she

Former Allen resident to be torch bearer

Former Allen resident Brent Chase has been notified that he has been selected to carry the Olympic torch when it goes through Tallahassee, Fla. on July 2 en route to its final resting place in Atlanta, Ga.

Approximately 5,500 people will be a part of the relay team that carries the torch 3,500 miles with each person carrying the torch one-half mile.

Torch bearers are nominated by community persons and chosen by a panel.

Brent, an advocate for persons with disabilities, manages an apartment complex in Tallahassee for people with disabilities and employed part-time at Florida State University, serving as a liaison between students with disabilities and the teachers and staff.

Brent moved to Tallahassee in 1990 to pursue a doctorate degree in family relations. He has completed his classroom work and has begun his dissertation for the degree.

He is honored to be chosen for this recognition and is quoted as saying, "Even though I am a small part of this, I do it in honor of every American and represent you."

practiced law for six years in Lincoln.

MS. ROBAK'S speech focused on change. She spoke of changes Wayne State College has gone through since its beginning in 1891.

She also spoke of changes she has gone through in her life. "I could have gone to one of the coasts to become an actress, but I chickened out. For the rest of my life I will regret not knowing whether or not I could have made it," she said.

Ms. Robak said that technology has exploded in recent years. "The micro chip is next to the printing press in its effect on society. The information available doubles every 28 days."

"However, we still have to know how to use the information we have. We still have to use our brains," she said.

ROBAK TOLD her audience that "with changes occurring in technology and businesses downsizing, we need to be more efficient and have to act and think differently than in the past."

Robak outlined three goals that are needed to succeed in today's job market. These include focusing, looking at things critically and being adaptable.

She concluded by urging her audience to take some risks and chances in a world that is ever-changing.

ALSO ON the program for the day's activities were Edwin J. Loutzenheiser, Jr., the chairman and CEO of Phoenix Industries, Inc., Kathleen Rockey, an attorney who spoke on sexual harassment and representatives of Target stores who spoke on teamwork.

Board votes against grant, in favor of JDC

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners voted against applying for a grant to assist a California dairy, listened to an architect discuss proposals for making the courthouse handicapped accessible and voted in favor of joining with Northeast Nebraska Juvenile Services during Tuesday's meeting.

The Commissioners voted 2-1 against applying for a grant through Northeast Nebraska Economic Development District. The grant money would have then been loaned to a California dairy that will be locating west of Wayne. Merlin Beiermann and Robert Nissen voted against the proposal while Dennis Dangberg voted for it.

JERRY BERGGREN of Berggren & Woll Architects in Lincoln met with the commissioners to discuss the county's options in regard to meeting Americans with Disabilities requirements. He told the commissioners that "while there is no easy decision" he would recommend installing a commercial grade elevator in the building.

Estimated cost of the elevator would be $150,000.

"The elevator would be all contained inside the building and there would be no outside construction. Berggren described the work that would have to be done to install the elevator and discussed options available to finance it.

No action was taken on his recommendations. An architect from a firm in Yankton, S.D. will be at the next board meeting to discuss his proposals for the building.

AFTER LISTENING to comments from Mike Applegate, Administrator of Northeast Nebraska Juvenile Services, Inc., the commissioners voted 2-1 in favor of joining those counties who contract for services from the JDC.

Applegate told the commissioners that 10 counties have given verbal commitments to remain part of the JDC.

Wayne was chosen as the site for a new juvenile facility. The cost to each contracted county will be determined based on the number of counties that use its services.

APPLEGATE TOLD the commissions the cost of the new facility would be no more than $1.41 per capita and could be as low as $1.28, depending on the number of counties that are involved.

Wayne County Sheriff LeRoy Janssen told the commissioners that Wayne County has been a leader in juvenile detention services and he would like to continue that trend.

"It is cheaper to deal with juveniles than adults," Janssen said.

Commissioners Dangberg and Nissen voted for joining the JDC and Beiermann voted against the proposal.

During Tuesday's meeting County Highway Superintendent Sidney Saunders presented the one and six year road improvement plan.

No one from the public attended the hearing.

The plan includes 15 projects. All but two of these projects have been in the plans for a number of years.

"The amount of work we get done will depend on the weather. I do expect to get more done this year than last," Saunders told the board.

Challengers file for a number of county races

Board okays Waynet, hears building status

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

After listening to a number of people speak in favor of joining, the Wayne Board of Education voted in favor of an interlocal agreement with the city of Wayne for use of the Internet.

Those wishing to be put on the Waynet must take a training course, sign an agreement with the school and pay $30 every six months.

Chris Connelly, attorney for the school said the risk factor for the district was very low. "While we can't prevent someone from suing, I am fully satisfied that we have taken measures to protect ourselves," he said.

THE BOARD has agreed to take an active role in the upcoming bond election. A steering committee is being put in place and citizens of the community are being asked to serve in various capacities.

A meeting has been tentatively set for March 19 to kick off the campaign.

The board also heard a report from Marlene Uhing on the results of a High Expectations committee survey of staff.

The results of the survey looked at the differences between teacher ideal and real and will now be used for staff development.

DR. DENNIS Jensen, Superintendent of Schools, discussed legislation being debated in the state legislature that could affect the amount of state aid the district receives.

"LB1050 is a very comprehensive and complex proposal which would shift $20 million into Equalization from income tax rebate aid to schools," Jensen said.

"If LB1050 passes, the Wayne district will lose $70,000 in state aid and will face a 3.5 percent lid. If it doesn't pass, we will have the same flexibility we have had in the past."

ANOTHER BILL, LB1114 would result in a capped budget, a property tax cut of $156,000 and massive cuts in staff and programs for the district to consider.

Jensen also told the board that passage of the bill would take away the district's flexibility.

The board approved the 1996-97 calendar which is very similar to the 1995-96 calendar with the exception that school will be in session one week past Memorial Day because of where Christmas falls in 1996.

The board also took action to notify those Title I teachers whose contracts may not be renewed because of federal budget cuts.

The board also approved short term performance criteria and short term goals that were proposed in the boards' January retreat.

Among the goals is the re-activating of the Wayne Foundation to provide funding for projects in the future.

Braden met certificate requirements

The Association of Government Accountants (AGA) Professional Certification Board announces that Nancy L. Braden, Wayne City Treasurer, has successfully met the Board's certification requirements as an expert government financial manager, and has been granted the designation of Certified Government Financial Manager (CGFM).

The CGFM professional designation is the only certification program designed specifically to recognize the unique skills and special knowledge required of professionals who specialize in government financial management. In addition to meeting the program's education and experience requirements, those awarded the designation agree to abide by AGA's strict Code of Ethics and complete at least 80 hours of continuing professional education in government financial management topics or related technical subjects every two years.

AGA is a 12,000 member professional organization serving the professional interests of financial managers responsible for effectively using government financial resources at the federal, state and local levels.

Manley to address Aqua-Fest

On March 11, at 9:30 p.m., Robert Manley Jr. will address over 325 fifth graders at the Aqua-Fest program on the Wayne State College Campus. This presentation is funded by the Nebraska Humanities Council, which receives 65 percent of its budget from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

For over twenty years, the Nebraska Humanities has worked with non-profit organizations like Aqua-Fest all across the state, bringing to communities programs that help us examine our lives and how we relate to the past, present and future.

Examples are the Great Plains Chataqua, Community-sponsored events like the Prisoners on the Plains conference in Holdrege, and films like "If These Walls Could Speak..." broadcast on Nebraska Public Television.

Additionally, Robert Manley, Jr. is one of the 134 speakers made available to Nebraskans at little or no cost through the Humanities Center.

Bloodmobile recognizes donors

The Siouxland Blood Bank gratefully acknowledges the enclosed list of donors for their support of the Wayne Community Blood Drive held on Thursday, February 22 at Providence Medical Center. Sixty-seven individuals volunteered to donate and a total of 63 pints of blood were collected. We would like to recognize the following individuals:

The CyclePaths Community Family Fun Time will be held Sunday, March 17, from 1-5 p.m. at the Wayne State College Rec. Center.

The event is co-sponsored by the CyclePaths and the WSC Rec Center.

Door prizes will be donated by the CyclePaths, The Bike Company and the WSC Rec Center.

"This event was started as a public service project of the Cycle Paths. The purpose of the event is to promote family recreational activities," said Rob Stuber, a member of the CyclePaths.

There is no admission charge and the event is open to all area families. Informational fliers are being sent to all area elementary and middle-school age children.

In addition to the open recreational activities like basketball, rollerblading, walking and running, other activities planned include: swimming 2-4 p.m.; Aerobic Class/Demo--2-4 p.m.; fitness Orientation (in weight room)--1-3 p.m.; tours of the Rec Center; Bike Rollers Demo and the police bike on display.

McGruff the Crime Dog will be there to have fun and teach about safety.

Door prizes include bike helmets and T-shirts donated by the CyclePaths, a free one-day pass to the Rec Center donated by the WSC Rec Center and miscellaneous biking related items donated by The Bike Company.

"The CyclePaths would like to extend a special thanks to Scott James at the Bike Company for assisting us with this event," Stuber said.

A measurement of growth

Issues important to every Nebraskan are being debated daily in the Nebraska Legislature. Consequently it is of great importance that individuals voice their opinions to appropriate representatives.

People now can visit the Nebraska Legislature via computer, leaving an opinion, without leaving home. Such access can be made through the Legislature's World Wide Web page on the Internet.

Web-page visitors can learn the status of legislation, read bills, browse the schedule of hearings and floor debates, check state laws, scan the State Constitution, and leave e-mail messages for any of the 30 senators having e-mail addresses available through the web page.

We think this is a great way for senators and constituents to maintain contact and remain informed. Tracking a specific bill, knowing when and where the bill is up for consideration, is of vital importance.

The web page is the latest effort to make government accessible to the people and to get people involved in state government.

An advantage area residents with a computer and modem will have, using the new educational program WayNET currently under cooperative development by the city and school system, will be to become more involved in the Nebraska Legislature and self government.

We believe this is a true measurement of growth in citizenship, economics, and educational pursuits. Self government depends upon shared information.

And the more we citizens join in governing ourselves, the better.

Supreme Court is at it again

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN — Nebraska's Supreme Court is at it again.

And this time, people are not just going to get mad, they're going to get even.

The court — for the second time — tossed out a voter-approved constitutional amendment to put term limits on state and federal elected officials.

That means that Nebraskans — if they want to limit how long our state legislators and other politicians can hold office — will have to start collecting signatures again to put the issue on the ballot.

As you recall, voters adopted term limits in 1992, but that was thrown out by the court two years later. Voters again approved term limits in 1994.

That amendment went down in flames two weeks ago.

The term limits issue is popular with Nebraskans. Both times it was presented to Nebraska voters, it was approved by a 2-to-1 margin.

Folks who are upset with government figure that the best way to straighten it out is to make 'em give up their seats after a couple of terms.

They're even more ticked off now, so much so, that they're thinking that term limits for State Supreme Court judges would also be a good idea.

Leading the charge is Attorney General Don Stenberg, who not so coincidentally, is running for U.S. Senate. His campaign strategy has been if you don't have a lot of bucks for campaign ads, generate a lot of publicity.

He does that very well. Stenberg, without a doubt, is the highest profile attorney general in Nebraska's history. He utters opinions on just about everything and launches legal battles even when he hardly has a legal leg to stand on.

That happened recently when he tried to shut down the new casino on the Santee Indian Reservation. The state has no jurisdiction to enforce federal gambling laws on Indian lands but Stenberg launched a well-publicized, and quickly quashed, legal effort anyway.

(By the way, most Democrats want Stenberg to beat Chuck Hagel for the Republican nomination because they think their candidate, Gov. Ben Nelson, will have an easier time beating the outspoken attorney than the well-financed Hagel. But that's another topic.)

Stenberg's call for term limits on judges drew a rebuff from the head of the Nebraska Bar Association. Omaha lawyer David Houghton said the attorney general shouldn't mix politics with the judicial process. The duty of judges, he said, is to uphold the constitution, not cater to public opinion. Others pointed out that citizens can vote out judges they don't like every six years.

Stenberg didn't back down. He said it appears that the high court is out of touch with the public. The people, through the petition process, should be the ultimate lawmakers, he said, but the court has twice wiped out their will on term limits because of legal technicalities.

All the huffing and puffing may be for naught. Secretary of State Scott Moore pointed out that the constitution may forbid a petition issue from reaching the ballot no sooner than every three years. That would put off another term limits vote until 1998.

He said he's going to ask his attorney to figure out if that's the case. Since Stenberg is the attorney for the secretary of state, that legal opinion ought to be interesting.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

New learning gate may soon open

All the tax dollars flowing into local public schools are paying off in new ways during this decade of expanding education and information.

A phenomena that will serve as an educational landmark for years to come is occurring right before our eyes. We're talking about supplementing education using the Internet, an electronic linking of minds on a global scale.

A hard working local crew, interested in optimizing educational opportunities for everyone, was pleased Monday night to see the local school board approve the interlocal agreement between city and school. The agreement now goes to the city council for its consideration.

Instead of thinking one's education is complete after high school or college, we can now think in terms that education is a lifelong pursuit.

Upon the city council's approving of the interlocal agreement, WayNET will become a reality. The concept is this: any area resident with a computer and modem, if desiring to do so, and subscribing to the local telephone service, may enroll in an educational course via the high school, learning to access and use the Internet in pursuit of continuing intellectual growth.

Local educational tax dollars will not only provide academic opportunities for youths and young adults, but anyone of any age will soon be able to launch into pursuing extended opportunities using the remarkable Internet.

What is the Internet? Imagine 50 million computers located around the world all connected by telephone wires. When you connect to the Net, you are "online" and may read informational data held in files by universities, colleges, businesses, newspapers, magazines, medical clinics, federal and state governments, including most libraries. If learning thrills you, get ready for having the time of your life!

E-mail is another part of the Internet. Correspond with individuals worldwide getting expert assistance with any project.

Youths sometimes turned off by textbooks become excited exploring the Net. New studies show that television watching (the current mental sedative) declines in 64 percent of families with computers, and 75 percent in families whose computers have CD-ROMS and multimedia capabilities.

Think of being able to read the Jerusalem Post, USA Today, San Francisco Chronicle, or hundreds of other newspapers and magazines right from your own home!

Feel fortunate as our technologists, school board and city council open the gate in a new pursuit of letting our tax dollars also serve graduates in a continuing thirst for educational and social advancement. Here's to learning!

Senators debate affordable housing

By Sen. Pat Engel
District No. 17

LB 1322 was debated last week Wednesday and Thursday on the floor of the Legislature and I did hear from a number of constituents, both proponents and opponents of the bill.

LB 1322 would establish the Affordable Housing Act and creates the Affordable Housing Trust Fund. The fund can be used for financing or matching funds for the construction or re-development of low-income housing units, infrastructure costs for the development of affordable housing, downpayment and closing cost assistance to increase home ownership and assistance to projects that provide housing in areas where affordable housing shortages exist. The Department of Economic Development will administer the program, funding its activities from appropriations from the Legislature, grants and private contributions. Funding sources and rules for operation of the fund will be recommended by a housing advisory committee established in the bill. A Housing Code Task Force would be established in the Department of Health to examine statutes and codes governing housing construction.

Affordable housing is a very essential consideration in many communities. What has caused some concern is "whose definition of affordable housing is acceptable?"

Different locations in the State of Nebraska have been saturated with "low-income housing" and some people believe that over-saturation leads to excessive availability and tends to become an accommodation of lifestyles that may be detrimental to society. Concerns listed by interested constituents have indicated that most working families, even those employed in the meat packing industry, do not qualify as "low or very low income" as defined in such designated housing programs. Others feel that the Nebraska Investment Financial Authority (NIFA) is already in place, negating the need for any new bureaucratic.

Numerous amendments were debated before debate ceased for the day. The bill will be back on the agenda next week for further debate. I appreciate the telephone calls and letters that I have received from everyone who is interested in this particular issue. Please send any additional information that you feel would be helpful in my decision-making process to: Senator Pat Engel, Dist. 17, State Capitol, Lincoln, NE 68509, or fax me at (402) 471-2126.

Controversial issues discussed

By Sen. Stan Schellpeper
District No. 18

There are times when making a decision on a piece of legislation is very difficult. Times when there is merit on both sides of the issue and equal constituent concern to warrant a vote either way. There are also times when you know that there is only one way to vote on an issue. This last week two very controversial issues were presented to the Judiciary Committee that I strongly oppose, without question. Senator Chambers, from Omaha, has introduced LB 1260, a bill that would allow for same-sex marriages and LB 1259, which would allow doctors to aid in the deaths of terminally ill patients (euthanasia). These two hearings were highly attended by the public.

While I certainly don't see any chance of LB 1260 passing this legislative session, we are very likely to renew this debate in a future session. Senator Chambers has personally vowed to re-introduce similar legislation should he be re-elected. The language in the bill would allow for the legal recognition of marriage for persons of the same sex. I am strongly opposed to this concept. I believe that this legislation goes beyond what it says on paper. What I see this legislation really doing, is demeaning the institution of marriage and directly challenging the American family. Marriage is a covenant between one man and one woman. Allowing for the recognition of same sex marriages, is a wrong message to our young people. If we are going to introduce legislation that affects families it should be legislation that strengthens families and not legislation that mocks marriage. Legislation is currently pending in Hawaii that would recognize same sex marriages. Some people believe that if Hawaii passes that law, Nebraska may be forced to recognize those marriages. There is talk of introducing legislation that would prohibit same sex marriages. I support this action.

LB 1259 is a proposal that would give doctors the right to assist their patients in dying. This proposal was met with strong op-

Aqua-Fest to be March 11 - 12

On March 11 and 12 more than 650 area fifth-graders will participate in the fourth annual Aqua-Fest program at Wayne State College. Aqua-Fest stresses the importance of a clean water supply and offers students hands-on participation as they learn about this precious resource. Robert Manely Jr., of the Nebraska Humanities Council, and KTIV's Jeff Jensen will be the program's keynote speakers on March 11 and 12 respectively. Aqua-Fest presenters are from the University of Nebraska Cooperative Education, the Junior Academy of Sciences (which includes college and high school science instructors), the Natural Resource Conservation Service and Agriculture Departments. Support and assistance for the program comes from the Lewis and Clark Natural Resources District, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources Districts, the Papio Missouri Natural Resource District, the Nebraska Department of Environmental Quality, the Nebraska Mathematics and Science Coalition and the Wayne State College Math/Science Department.

Water is the life blood of every living creature on earth. Approximately 70 percent of the earth's surface is covered with water. Through the wonders of nature, water can take on many different forms, from the water we drink, to the ice we use to chill a glass of lemonade, to the water vapor used to steam clean equipment. The majority of the water we use is only six-tenths of one percent of the total water on the earth. As our population grows it becomes more important that we understand the significance of a clean water supply.

Students will participate in a variety of workshops on water education. The overall goal of the Aqua-Fest program is to make youth aware of the importance of a clean water supply.

Completes three courses

Anne Nolte, sales associate at Stoltenberg Partners, recently completed three courses offered by the Realtors Institute of Nebraska. "Residential Construction, Appraisal and Environmental Issues" described the structural, mechanical and environmental components of residential properties. "Law, Contracts and Legislative Issues/ Professional Standards" covered agency disclosure, the closing and settling process, and fair housing. "Financing" discussed prequalifying buyers, private mortgage insurance and various loans. Mrs. Nolte successfully completed all three final exams.

WEOPA to host spring conference

The Wayne Educational Office Professionals Association (WEOPA) will host the Spring Conference of the Nebraska Educational Office Professionals Association (NEOPA), April 13, in the Gardner building of the Wayne State Campus. All educational office support staff (public or private; elementary, secondary, or collegiate) are invited to participate.

The conference-one of tow held each year-offers a professional growth opportunity through in-service and workshop sessions, updates members on national activities and provides the exchange and pooling of information, ideas, and ideals in the effort to improve the quality of office personnel service to the schools, state and community. NEOPA also offers the Professional Standards Program to encourage professional growth.

position and very little support by the public. The bill would allow terminally ill patients to issue authorization in advance for a physician to administer a lethal dose once their illness reaches unbearable stages of pain and suffering. I firmly believe it is a doctor's responsibility to sustain life, relieve suffering and promote dignity in death. There is considerable difference between providing relief from pain and suffering and putting a patient to death. It is important to note that the Nebraska Medical Association opposes this proposal, saying that it is not the physician's duty to end life, but to support life.

Pamida supports Scouts

The Mid-America Council, Boy Scouts of America and the Wayne Pamida Store have joined together to help send area Scouts to camp.

Sam Saad, Council Campership Chairman, said the new partnership helps Scouts earn their way to camp and a better life through the campership program.

"We are very appreciative of (Pamida store manager) Dean Carroll and Pamida employees offering their store to help the Scouts get to camp," Saad said. "The council serves nearly one out of every four local Scouting-age youth, and those who go to camp develop a value system that lasts a lifetime."

As part of the program, containers for change donations will be set by cash registers in the Pamida store. Funds collected will assist those Scouts who can't afford the entire fee of a summer camp experience.

"Pamida stores have a large volume of customers passing through their cash registers," Saad said, "so we anticipate more Scouts from Wayne going to camp this summer who otherwise would have been unable to go."

For more information on the campership program, contact the Mid-America Council at 12401 West Maple Road in Omaha, Nebraska, 68164-1853 or (402) 431-9BSA.

Hwy 15, Wayne • 375-3615

The owner of Garden Perennials, Gail Korn, offers a garden center and mail order plant business. She has been in business for 14 years and has 10 seasonal employees.

Gail started part-time in 1982 and the business bloomed. Originally, Garden Perennials was a landscape planning operation, but a need for a perennial plant business changed that.

Yearly, Garden Perennials ships over 1000 different perennial flowers all over the U.S. It is the only one that specializes in perennials in this region, and the largest one in the state.

"We sell plants that live through Nebraska winters," Gail said. "We also grow what we sell, which means less shock to the plants when transplanted."

Laurel completes 20-win season

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The Laurel-Concord reached the Class C2 semi-finals in their first-ever trip to the state tournament last weekend. The Lady Bears defeated Howells 59-48 in the first round before falling to undefeated Emerson-Hubbard 51-43 in the semi-final match-up. Laurel finished the year with a record of 20-4.

Emerson-Hubbard 51, Laurel-Concord 43

Laurel-Concord became the 25th straight victim of Emerson-Hubbard this year as the Lady Pirates knocked the Lady Bears out of the state tournament with a 51-43 win last Friday.

LCHS jumped out to an early 4-1 lead, but the Lady Pirates responded with a 12-0 run to regain the lead. Megan Adkins hit a three-pointer at the end of the first quarter to keep the Lady Bears close at 18-

9. The two teams traded buckets in the second quarter before Emerson-Hubbard scored the final five points to take a 29-15 lead into halftime.

Laurel held the Lady Pirates to only five points in the third quarter, but could not take advantage as they hit only three of 15 shots and scored just seven points. The Lady Bears finally cut into the Emerson lead as they sliced it to 36-30 with three and a half minutes to play, but the Lady Pirates built their lead back to 43-31 a minute later. LCHS made one more run as three-pointers by Heather Cunningham and Tracy Ankeny pulled the Lady Bears to within 46-41. Emerson-Hubbard had time on their side however, and hit five of six free throws in the last half minute to ice the win.

"We dug ourselves a big hole in the first quarter," said Head Coach Rick Petri. "Eleven turnovers allowed Emerson-Hubbard to convert several easy baskets and build a lead. Although we played a great second half defensively, we were plagued by poor shooting. The girls never quit and narrowed the margin to five twice in the fourth quarter. I'm very proud of our team and their efforts this season. They never stopped working and constantly strove to improve."

Becky Schroeder registered 16 points, 13 rebounds and five blocks to lead Laurel. Tracy Ankeny poured in 10 points and had 11 rebounds.

Howells tried to chip away at the lead, but could make up only two points in the third quarter as they still trailed 40-33. The Bobcats got the lead down to six in the fourth quarter, but Laurel held on for the win by hitting seven of 10 free throws down the stretch.

"It was an outstanding effort for our first-ever tournament appearance," said Petri. "The strong first quarter effort set the tone for the game. Also our half-court trap in the fourth quarter gave Howells some problems. I'm really proud of the effort we gave. The girls came ready to play and played with intense emotion."

The Lady Bears got a balanced offensive attack from Alissa Krie with 13 points, Tracy Ankeny with 12, Becky Schroeder with 11 and Megan Adkins with 10. Schroeder and Ankeny each added eight rebounds while Adkins added five assists and Cathy Mohr had four steals.

WSC baseball team splits two

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The Wayne State College baseball team split a doubleheader at St. Joseph, Missouri last Friday.

The Wildcats picked up a 5-4 extra-innings win over Missouri Western in the opener to improve to 6-3 on the year. Darin Gregory knotted the score at 2-2 with an RBI single in the top of the seventh and WSC then scored three runs in the ninth to take a 5-2 lead. Gregory and James Mansell each had RBI doubles and Mike Vanderwilt drove in a run with a single in the ninth. Nate Cormán batted eight innings, giving up only two runs and striking out five to pick up the win. Bryan Stockwell allowed two runs in the ninth, but managed to earn his third save.

"We got an excellent pitching performance from Nate," said Head Coach John Mangano. "He didn't have his best stuff, but the longer the game went, the better he got. Nate's best two innings were the seventh and eighth. Bryan did a good job. He came in and threw strikes, made them put the ball in play and eventually we got three outs before they got four runs."

Adam Bealle had a pair of hits, scored two runs and stole three bases. Gregory and Vanderwilt finished with two hits a piece. Mansell and Jon Small each had one hit.

Missouri Western: 000 200 002—4 8 2
W. Nate Cormán (2-1)
St. Bryan Stockwell (3)

Wayne State dropped to 6-4 with a 3-1 loss to Northwest Missouri State in the second game. Joe Thompson faced only 16 hitters in the first five innings and finished the game with five strikeouts.

In the sixth inning with WSC leading 1-0, Northwest Missouri placed a runner at second base with a bunt single and a sacrifice. With two outs the Beavers blooped a single off the glove of Cory Graves to tie the game at 1-1 and then got a base hit up the middle to take the lead.

"Joe Thompson was outstanding," said Mangano. "It was a tough loss, but we have to take responsibility for the loss because we had nine hits and we only scored one run. We made a lot of routine and fundamental mistakes running the bases, not being able to bunt and not putting the ball in play with runners in scoring position when we had to."

Bealle went 3-4 in the game and drove in Wayne State's only run. Gregory and Scott Cooper each had a pair of hits, while Odell Santos and Scott Ballinger each singled. Wayne State: 000 010 0—1 9 2
Northwest Missouri: 000 003 0—3 3 1
L. Joe Thompson (2-1)
"So far I'm satisfied with our progress," said Mangano. "The pitching staff has done extremely well and hopefully they can continue to do that. We need to pick up on the hitting as a team, our defense has to pick up some and our baserunning has to be more aggressive and intelligent."

WSC gains win in season finale

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

Wayne State closed out the basketball season on a positive note Saturday night with a 88-78 victory over Bemidji State.

The Wildcats dug themselves an early 8-0 hole, but runs of 9-0 and 1-0 gave the Cats a 22-13 lead. Bemidji State then went on a run of their own, tying the score at 22-22 with 7:49 remaining. The Beavers held the lead for most of the final 12 minutes of the first half until Dan Anderson's bucket with 0:01 left tied the game at 41-41.

In the second half, WSC took a 53-52 lead with 15:21 left and would never trail again. The Beavers would remain within striking distance, but the Cats managed to hold them off. Wayne State put a cap on the season with an alley-oop from Anderson to Greg Ryan with five seconds left to end the scoring.

The Wildcats shot 49 percent for the game and outboarded the Beavers 40 to 30. Craig Philipp led the team with 17 points and six rebounds, while Anderson poured in 16 points and had seven rebounds. Kyle White nailed four three-pointers and scored 16. "It wasn't our best performance of the year," said Head Coach Greg McDermott, "but I thought our seniors really stepped up and earned us." Although our record is 12-15, it's not indicative of the progress that this basketball program has made.

McDermott hopes that the experience of this season will help to make next season a winning one.

"It's unbelievable the progress that our young players have made. You can't put a value on playing time and each of our freshman had significant playing time this season. I think that's going to pay dividends next season when they come back for their sophomore year. We lost nine games that were tied in the last two minutes this year. My hope is that we can learn from the experience we've had from losing those close games, and we can be on the long end of the stick next year in those types of basketball games."

WSC softball team prepares for season

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The 1996 Wayne State softball team opens its season this week with a six game trip to Colorado. The Wildcats, who finished last season with a 9-31 record, play doubleheaders against Southern Colorado, Colorado-Colo Colorado Springs and Regis University.

Here's a position by position look at the 1996 'Cats.

Pitchers

Maryellen Livingston returns as the only senior on the team to anchor the rotation. She was the team's top pitcher last year with a 6-19 record, 3.13 ERA and 107 strikeouts. Junior Neely Herman (0-5, 4.25 ERA) and sophomore Mindy Ali (3-6, 5.06 ERA, 20 strikeouts) also started last year.

"Maryellen is a strong pitcher," said Head Coach Joan Scherbring. "I think she'll do a nice job for us again. Neely and Mindy both have gotten a lot of experience in the last couple years. They don't throw quite as hard as Maryellen, but they have a lot of off-speed pitches that work well."

Catchers

Sophomore Jennifer Urbanski (.130, 1 RBI, 1 double) returns at catcher, while freshmen Carrie Fink, Barb Hoffman and Jennie Meyer will also compete for playing time.

First Base

Junior Michelle Rowe (.215, 9 RBI, 5 runs scored, 3 doubles) will start for the third year in a row. Freshman Shantel Hoelscher will back-up at first and may also see time at pitcher if elbow problems clear up.

Second Base

Sophomore Kris Krigbaum, who last year hit .214, scored eight runs and led the team with four doubles, returns to second base again this season.

Shortstop

Sophomore Tina Lehman is the returning starter at shortstop. She batted .202 last year, scored 17 runs, tied for the team-lead with two triples and led the squad with 12 stolen bases.

Third Base

runs scored, 3 RBI) will probably be the starter at third base. Urbanski and Hoelscher may also see time at the hot corner.

Outfield

Junior Betsy Wagner will lead off and is the team's top returning hitter, batting .255 while also stealing 11 bases and leading the team with 28 hits and 19 runs scored.

"Betsy is just a great player all-around," said Scherbring. "She has a great attitude and makes a big difference out there."

Freshman Becky Egli from Truro, Iowa will get the nod in center field. Egli hit two home runs this fall, which was two more than the entire team hit last spring.

"She's a great player," said Scherbring. "She gets a good jump on the ball, she has a very strong arm and she's a really strong hitter. I see a lot of good things out of Becky."

Filling in the final outfield spot will be junior Angie Louck. Louck hit .179 last year and led the team with 15 RBIs.

Freshman Terra Stoltenberg will see action in the outfield and at third base, while classmate Anne Stahl will be the Wildcats utility player.

Scherbring hopes that her young team can improve on last year's record and have a successful season.

"Even though we only have one senior, we still have some experience," said Scherbring. "We're looking at sophomores and juniors with a year or two of experience and I think that's going to make a big difference. We have a great group of kids that get along well. They work together well and they love the game."

Scherbring also feels that this year's team will be more successful at the plate.

"Compared to the last couple of years I think our hitting will be really strong," said Scherbring. "What we really need to do is step up in the close games. When we have a 1-0 or 2-0 game, we need to be the team with one or two runs. We really need to learn how to win and not just be competitive."

Wayne State women wrap up 1995-96 season

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The Wayne State women's basketball team ended the 1995-96 season on Saturday, losing to Bemidji State 85-70. The loss ended the Wildcats' season at 11-16.

WSC played the Beavers (20-8) tough for most of the first half as the score was tied at 25-25 with 6:01 left on the clock. BSU then went on a 10-0 run and went into the locker room with a 44-32 lead.

In the second half, the Beavers boosted their lead to 14 in the first two minutes and the Wildcats couldn't get closer than eight the rest of the way.

"I'm not disappointed with our effort," said Head Coach Mike Barry, "because we played hard. We had a couple chances in the second half, but they're a good basketball team. We just didn't match up very well with their shooting and Karen Morrissey had a lights out game for them with 30 points and 14 rebounds."

WSC shot 50 percent from the field, but BSU took 17 more shots, nailed 10 three-pointers and outscored the Wildcats 46-32. Marla Stewart led the 'Cats with eight of 13 shooting and 22 points. Mindy Jensen added 14 points, while Carla Schultz had seven.

"It's our first losing season in five years," said Barry, "so that hurts a little bit. We have to regroup a little bit for next year. It's a pretty big hit we took this year as far as losing and with quite a few players leaving the program."

Scoring - S Osborn 4, L Zeimetz 4, M Jensen 14, M Stewart 22, D Grammer 4, L Weeks 5, J Thompson 3, A Broderick 3, S Spjut 2, C Schultz 7, R Belz 2.
Rebounds - WSC 32 (Osborn, Jensen, Grammer 4), BSU 46.
Assists - WSC 19 (Osborn, Broderick 5), BSU 21.
Halfcourt - BSU 41, WSC 22.

Wayne State freshman Carla Schultz gets fouled as she goes up for a basket during the Wildcat's game against Bemidji State on Saturday.

Wildcat tracksters rewrite records

While only five members of the Wayne State track and field team made the trip to the Iowa State Qualifier track meet last Friday, those that went all turned in personal bests and set five school in the process.

On the men's side, Lamari Cooper lowered his week-old school record in the 60-meter dash by placing fifth against stiff Division I competition in 6.76, which also was an NCAA automatic qualifying time and the top time in NCAA Division II. The old school record was 6.7 (equivalent to 6.94 with automatic timing), set last week at the WSC Invitational.

"Cooper had a really great race," said Head Coach Brian Kavanaugh. "This is as good a race as he has ever run, even better than his 6.26 55-meter dash last year at Kearney. He should be a top contender at nationals."

Also on the men's side, sophomore Travis Fredricksen broke the oldest individual indoor school record on the books, clocking 50.34 for 400 meters. The old record was 50.6 for 440 yards (equivalent to 50.45 for 400 meters), set by Ken Dugan in 1968.

Perhaps the biggest record rewrite of the day came from team captain Kathy Dalton, who clocked 18:32.88 for 5000 meters - only 1.5 seconds off her outdoor best. The old record was 19:45.0, set by Jennifer Kennedy in 1992.

"I almost didn't let her run," said Kavanaugh. "She had been quite sick a week ago and I didn't think she had her strength back. I'm glad she proved me wrong."

Freshman Stefanie Senza also smashed the mile record by 5.5 seconds, clocking 5:16.04. In the process she also broke the 1500 meter record by 12 seconds, going through at 4:55.5. Dalton held the old records, 5:21.6 for the mile and 5:07.1 for 1500 meters. Sophomore Amy Gudmundson was the remaining Wildcat participant, setting a one-second indoor personal best in the 400-meter dash by clocking 1:00.71.

Lamari Cooper will travel to Indianapolis for the NCAA Division II Indoor Track & Field Championships in hopes of repeating as an All-American in the 55-meter dash. Prelims are Friday, March 8. The outdoor season begins March 30 for the Wildcats with the Art Wears Invitational at Nebraska Wesleyan.

Serving lunch following the meeting was Jan Gamble.

The next meeting will be March 18 with Babs Middleton serving.

Explaining process of compensation

Q. It's been said that a major factor of highly successful people is their need to "compensate" for the disadvantages of a poor childhood or debilitating handicap. Can you explain the process of compensation in greater detail?

A. The unconscious reasoning of a compensator goes like this: I can achieve adequacy through success if I work hard at it. Therefore, I will pour all my energy into basketball (or painting, or sewing, or politics, or graduate school, or gardening, or motherhood, or salesmanship, or Wall Street).

This kind of compensation provides the emotional energy for virtually every kind of successful human behavior. In a famous study by Victor and Mildred Goertzel, entitled Cradles of Eminence, the home backgrounds of 400 highly successful people were investigated: These were men and women whose names you would recognize as brilliant in their respective fields (Winston Churchill, Mahatma Gandhi, Albert Schweitzer and Albert Einstein, to name a few).

The intensive investigation into their early home lives yielded some surprising findings:

- * Three-fourths of the children were troubled, either by poverty, a broken home, dominating parents, financial ups and downs, physical handicaps, parental dissatisfaction over the children's school failures or vocational choices.

- * Seventy-four of 85 writers of fiction or drama, and 16 of 20 poets came from homes where, as children, they saw tense psychological dramas played out by their parents.

- * Handicaps such as blindness, deafness, speech defects, or being crippled, sickly, homely, undersized or overweight occurred in the childhoods of over one-fourth of the sample.

It seems apparent that the need to compensate for their disadvantages was a major factor in their struggle for personal achievement. It may even have been the determining factor.

There have been thousands, perhaps millions, of inadequate persons who used compensation to achieve esteem and confidence. Perhaps the most classic illustration can be seen in the life of Eleanor Roosevelt, the former First Lady. After being orphaned at 10, she underwent a childhood of utter anguish. She was homely and never felt she really belonged to anybody.

Dr. Dobson

Answers Your Questions

According to Victor Wilson of the Newhouse News Service, "She was a rather humorless introvert, a young woman unbelievably shy and unable to overcome her personal insecurity." The world knows, however, that Mrs. Roosevelt did rise above her emotional shackles. As Wilson said, "... from some inner wellspring, Mrs. Roosevelt summoned a tough, unyielding courage, tempered by remarkable self-control and self-discipline. ... That 'inner wellspring' has another appropriate name: compensation!

Obviously, one's attitude toward a handicap determines its impact on his or her life. It has become popular to blame adverse circumstances for irresponsible behavior: poverty causes crime, broken homes produce juvenile delinquents, a sick society imposes drug addiction on its youth. This fallacious reasoning removes all responsibility from the shoulders of the individual. The excuse is hollow. We must each decide what we will do with inner inferiority or outer hardship.

Admittedly, it requires courage to triumph over unfavorable odds. Regardless of the ultimate course of action, however, the choice is ours alone, and no one can remove it from us. Hardship does not determine our behavior, but it clearly influences it.

Parents can and should open the door to responsible "choices" by giving their children the means by which to compensate, beginning during their middle childhood years.

These questions and answers are excerpted from the book Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions. As a potential leader would you do the 'right thing'?

Several negative things are happening in America that encourage a renewed interest in discussing, teaching and applying ethics:

- 1) People are asserting individual rights and exploring the boundaries of ethical conduct. "Look out for Number 1" has replaced "Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country." Meanwhile, competition and lack of consequences for misbehavior have fueled the idea that honesty is not always the best policy and that cheaters often prosper.

- 2) Science is ahead of moral reasoning. Instead of asking "Is it good and do we need it?" we are developing technologies because we can.

- 3) Characteristics of the world are changing in the areas of politics, education and culture. Although all people can not act, speak and think the same way, all people need to be able to stand against violence, hate and the spiral toward mediocrity or worse.

Cooperative Extension

Lynda Cruejckshank
Wayne County

If you're interested in discussing and/or learning more about the need for a return of ethics, you will be glad to hear the Wayne County Jaycees are sponsoring an Individual Development College, titled "Character Counts" on Sat, March 30 at the United Methodist Church in Wayne. Pre-registration is requested.

There will be three workshops:

- 1) Ethical Decision Making - learning about the six pillars of ethical behavior: Responsibility, Caring, Justice and Fairness, Trustworthiness, Civic Virtue and Citizenship and Respect.

- 2) Walk Your Talk -- Being a Good Role Model -- How leaders, parents and teens can develop stronger convictions toward "Ethical Behavior" for themselves and those who work or live with them.

- 3) Leadership: It's Your Choice -- Understand your own personal leadership style and how to improve your ability to provide appropriate leadership.

For more information contact Kathy Berry of the Wayne County Jaycees or the Wayne County Extension office at 375-3310.

Ethics is not about the way things are, it is about the way things ought to be. Ethics is about character and courage and how we meet the challenge when doing the "right thing" may not be in our best interest, but more in the interest of all people.

Prudence and virtue are two components of ethics. Prudence refers to doing something right because it is the smart thing to do. Virtue refers to doing something because it is the good thing to do. Sometimes prudence and virtue conflict and cause leaders to question "What is the right thing?"

(Only a few people can get away with "I smoked, but I didn't inhale" logic, though).

Bridal Shower

Jill Behnke

A miscellaneous bridal shower was held Sunday, March 3 for Jill Behnke of Norfolk at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Winside. The 20 guests attending were from Winside, Norfolk, Carroll, Bellevue, Hartington, Wayne and Hoskins.

Decorations for the tables were done in the bride-to-be's colors of teal and white with a bride and groom teddy bear center piece. Games were played and Jill was assisted with gifts by Denise Nelson and Talia Hancock.

A dessert luncheon was served, with the groom-to-be's mother Donna Nelson pouring.

Jill and Donnie Nelson will exchange vows at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on March 23.

Hostesses for the event were Cheryl Mann, Dianne Schwärer, Phyllis Nelson, Helen Hancock, Jennifer Hancock and Denise Nelson.

Prayer services held in Wayne

World Day of Prayer was held on Friday, March 1 at 1:30 p.m. at Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne with 68 in attendance.

The program "God Calls Us To Respond" was presented by the officers of United Church Women. Dorothy Wert and Madge Bruflatt sang a duet, "Beautiful Savior," accompanied by Margaret Ann Hansen, who also accompanied singing of hymns by those present.

Pastor Bill Koeber of Our Savior Church gave the benediction.

Lunch was served at the end of the program. The next meeting will be the May Fellowship Breakfast at 9:30 a.m., May 3 at the First Baptist Church in Wayne. All area women are invited to attend.

Children dedicated

A private dedication ceremony was held Feb. 24 at Christ Is King Church in Norfolk for seven month old cousins, Christopher Daniel Thurstenson and Loren Jett Schroeder. Glen Wapellhorst officiated at the 5 p.m. ceremony.

Christopher is the son of Christ Thurstenson of Winside and Loren is the son of Lance and Cali Schroeder of Siloam Springs, Ark.

The cousins were born three days apart. Music was provided by Linda Myer of Norfolk and a solo "Precious Lord Take My Hand" was sung by Dave Thurstenson, their grandfather.

A reception was held afterwards at the church with approximately 35 friends and relatives attending. It was hosted by the boys' grandparents, Dave and Myla Thurstenson. A special cake was made for the occasion by Kaate Salzman. Other grandparents present were Phil and Terry Green of Norfolk and Janice Schroeder of Aurora and great grandmother Betty Miller of Winside.

Magnesium Toxicity Often Overlooked

According to a recent report in the medical journal Patient Care, magnesium toxicity often is overlooked. Magnesium is an ingredient in many nonprescription antacids and laxatives including milk of magnesia. Signs and symptoms include muscle weakness, underactive reflexes, drowsiness, confusion, nausea, and vomiting.

Persons who have poor kidney function are at high risk of developing magnesium toxicity. When the mineral is not excreted through the kidneys, it accumulates in the bloodstream and body tissues. Because kidney function diminishes with age, and because the elderly often use antacids and laxatives, this age group is at particularly high risk. However, persons with normal kidney function can develop toxicity. If you have any of the signs and symptoms listed above and use magnesium-containing products, talk with your pharmacist or physician.

WELCA met for joint circle

Our Savior Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America met jointly for a program circle on Feb. 14 with 45 women and Pastor Bill Koeber in attendance.

Phyllis Rahn conducted a business meeting, and the devotions taken from Expressions. Pastor Bill offered a few words and a prayer.

After the business meeting, Cynthia Putney and Leslie Hausmann were recognized with cards thanking them for their willingness to extend beyond their secretarial duties in assisting Our Savior Women of the ELCA.

The program, "One Nation Under God," was led by Madge Bruflatt, Roberta Carman, Margaret Korn Viola Meyer, Marilyn Pierson and Rae Kuglar.

Joy Circle served the luncheon, uniting three themes for the day—birthdays, nation and Valentines.

Faith, Joy and Love Circles will meet again separately on March 13. Leaders will be Madge Bruflatt, Leone Jager and Lydia Thomsen. Hostesses will be Norma Backstrom, Barb Sievers, Elaine Menke, Joye Magnuson and Janice Barelman.

Charity Circle met to cut quilt blocks on Feb. 28 with 15 women attending. Kim Dunklau and Shari Dunklau were in charge. Charity will meet on March 26 to work on preparations for the spaghetti supper that they will host on March 27 at the church.

A total of 30 women attended one of four Bible study circles in February. Leaders in March will be Erna Karel, Evie Schock, Mary Martinson and Carolyn Vakoc.

Hostesses will be Ila Pryor, Viola Meyer, Joye Magnuson and Evelyn McDermott.

Visitation met on Feb. 21 with nine women and Pastor Bill in attendance. A thank you note was shared from Marilla Beckner. A total of 64 cards were sent and 41 members were visited. Visitation will meet again March 20.

The Sewing group met on Feb. 22. Fifteen women worked on six Lutheran World Relief quilts. Also, 10 baby and youth quilts and five twin quilts were worked on for the Northeast Conference. Sewing will meet again on March 28 with a pot luck at noon.

'Stories of the Irish in Nebraska' to be presented at Wayne library

The Wayne Public Library will present the program "Stories of the Irish in Nebraska" on Monday at 7 p.m.

The program will be presented by Dr. Thomas Kuhlman of Creighton University.

The story of the Irish ranges from farms and small towns to Lincoln and Omaha. The Irish-Nebraskans have left their mark on business, politics, the church, agriculture and the arts.

Their stories, sometimes dramatic and sometimes hilarious range from the storing of rifles in the cellar of Lincoln's first millionaire's home for an invasion of Canada to the last minute rescue by a Nebraskan of the Irish leader

Parnell from hanging as a traitor in London.

Dr. Kuhlman is an associate professor of English at Creighton University. He is a native of Cleveland, Ohio but his great-grandfather settled in Dakota County in 1856 and his mother was born in Homer.

He has published many essays and short stories and has written four plays concerning Irish-Americans.

This program is made possible through a grant from the Nebraska Humanities Council, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The public is welcome to attend and refreshments will be provided.

Service held March 1 for repeal of death penalty

March 1 was National Abolition Day and St. Mary's Church in Wayne held a public prayer service at noon to pray for the repeal of the death penalty in Nebraska.

The prayer service included Scripture readings, candles and community prayer.

"Many religious leaders throughout the state believe that we have a moral responsibility to teach that all are obligated, as faithful sons and daughters of God, to work for reconciliation and forgiveness rather than revenge and retribution," said Father Don Cleary of St. Mary's Church, who is part of Nebraskaans Against the Death Penalty.

"Our Prayer Service was designed to unite in Spirit with 52 other counties throughout the state of Nebraska who are holding similar Prayer Services," Fr. Cleary added.

The statewide ecumenical effort has been developed by the Faith Committee of Nebraskaans Against the Death Penalty and promoted by participating churches throughout the state.

"On Friday we joined in solidarity throughout Nebraska, as people of faith, to work and pray for an end to capital punishment in our state," Fr. Cleary said.

For more information contact Fr. Cleary, St. Mary's Church of Wayne, 375-2000 or Scott Wesley, Coordinator of NADP at 1-402-474-6575.

The Library Card

This column is written occasionally to inform the Wayne area as to what types of reading material and other items are available at the Wayne Public Library.

March arrived in a big wind as predicted. The arrival of March also coincided with the arrival of a new library aide. (No, she didn't need her umbrella like Mary Poppins!) We welcome Karen Parker, who began her duties on March 1 after several hours of training with our staff. She brings to this position a strong computer background and a love of reading (of course!) and she enjoys people. Her husband, Chuck, is an assistant professor of economics at WSC and they have a young daughter, JoAnne. Karen fills the vacancy created by Sarah Moje's departure for maternity reasons. Come say hello.

The Wayne Public Library invites all Irish men and women and all Irish wannabes to "Stories of the Irish in America," presented by Thomas Kuhlman of Creighton University on Monday, March 11 at 7 p.m. at the library. The program is fully funded through a grant from the Nebraska Humanities Council, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. The public is welcome and refreshments will be served.

The staff is currently processing records as we prepare for our fully-automated library. Over the Christmas holiday we ran Alliance Plus, a CD-ROM software, for retrospective conversion of our MARC record (MACHine Readable Cataloging) on the computer. Perhaps we should explain briefly. Almost all books have a standard book number (based on format per title - paperback, cassette, large print, etc., and/or a number assigned by the Library of Congress). We have entered our records with one or both of these standard numbers plus enough brief records to allow circulation of materials. (We have over 20,000 items entered in the computer.) The CD-ROM matches the standard numbers and replaces our brief records with full MARC records. And that means we will have subject headings, book summaries and notes, and other searchable items for setting up a library catalog network. The staff is working on the records that were "missed" during this process. We look forward to having a computerized catalog for public use in the near future.

The family of Allen Shuklt have generously donated several new children's books and the periodical, Birds and Blooms, to the library in Allen's memory. Allen was the father of our library aide, Mary Carstens. We thank them for their generosity.

Don't forget, Story Hours continue until March 30. Besides stories the children enjoy puppets, songs, fingerplays and handcrafts thanks to the volunteer readers - Lisa Nelson, Jeff Carstens, Carla Scott, Leah Agler and Karen Parker.

Library hours are Mondays through Fridays, 12:30 to 8:30 p.m., Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m.

Legion Auxiliary meets

Roy, Reed Unit No. 252, American Legion Auxiliary of Winside met Feb. 12 with 11 senior members present. Audrey Quinn provided prayers and the group recited the Pledge of Allegiance, sang the first verse of "Star Spangled Banner" and recited the Preamble to the Auxiliary constitution.

Guests present included Post Commander Dan Jaeger, who thanked the Auxiliary for its donation of bars at the Post's recent soup supper. Wayne Denklaui was also present.

Hostesses were Rose Ann Janke, Janice Mundi, Bonnie Wyche, Lynne Olson and Christina Mundi. Eligible candidates were interviewed for Girls State. The committee will review them and send recommendations. State is held June 9-15.

District 3 convention will be held at the Allen High School on Saturday, March 9, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Nominations are open for district president and vice president.

Wayne County Government Day will be held on Tuesday, March 12 at the Wayne County Courthouse. Participants will be government students from Winside and Wayne Carroll. The Winside Auxiliary will be serving the noon lunch at the Wayne Vet's Club. Members on the lunch committee include Lila Hansen, Doris Marotz, Evelyn Jaeger and Layrune Denklaui. As the unit's next meeting is March 11, the meeting will be used for food preparation.

The unit will host a bingo game at the Norfolk Veterans Home on Friday, March 15. At least six volunteers will be needed.

Scholarship application deadlines are approaching. All interested seniors are asked to see the school guidance counselor and direct any questions to unit president Beverly Neel.

Boys/Girls State orientation for District 3 candidates will be held Sunday, April 21 at 2 p.m. The program is at the Emerson High School and all delegates, alternates and parents should attend.

The Unit's poppy poster contest will be coordinated with art instructor Mrs. Burns and the fifth graders at Winside Public School. Deadline is Wednesday, May 1.

The Unit's poppy distribution day at Winside and Hoskins will be Saturday, March 4.

Memorial Day is Monday, May 27 and the Unit will make dinner at the Legion Post. Plans and committees will be made at the March 11 and April 8 meetings. All members are asked to help. The funds raised from this dinner provide for the unit's yearly operational expenses and programs. The dinner is open to the public.

Next meeting is Monday, March 11 at 7 p.m. Hostesses will be Adeline Anderson, Doris Marotz, Mary Ann Soiden and Dorothy Wert.

GOOD SCHOOLS ARE A GREAT INVESTMENT

The public believes that good teachers are the single most important factor in a child's education and good schools. We agree.

RECD recently made changes in its housing repair program

Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) recently made some changes in its housing repair program which should benefit eligible applicants. "There were several administrative changes made which makes the program more flexible," stated Dianne Frye, Community Development Technician of Wayne. "However, probably the bigger change is that the loan limit has been raised to $20,000. This increase allows us to assist with more of the repairs which households need," Frye added.

The repair program is also known as the Section 504 loan program. The purpose of the program is to assist very low income homeowners with needed repairs to their home. A family can use the funds for virtually any purpose, including adding a room to their home if they are presently overcrowded," stated Frye. "The interest rate on the loan is 1 percent with the maximum length of the loan being 20 years. As with most of RECD's programs, the household would not qualify for assistance if they have sufficient resources of their own to finance the proposed repairs or have the ability to obtain the needed funds from commercial sources.

RECD has a Section 504 grant program which is also designed to assist very low income homeowners with needed repairs. However, to qualify for this program, the homeowner must be a senior citizen (62 years of age or older), must not be able to afford a 504 loan and must not be able to finance the needed repairs from their own or commercial sources. Additionally, eligible repairs are restricted to the removal of health and safety concerns. The maximum grant amount is $7,500 which is an increase from the previous limit of $5,000.

RECD housing programs are available to households in rural areas which include communities of 20,000 population and less. Individuals or organizations may contact the RECD office at 709 Providence Road, Wayne, 402-375-2360.

LADIES AID - LWML

St. John's Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML of Wakefield met March 1 with Lucille Bartels and Marilyn Spath as hostesses. Thirty members and Pastor Bruce Schut were present, and Irene von Seggern of Montrose, Colo. was a guest.

The meeting opened with a prayer service entitled "Called By God's Design." Martha Brothaska served as leader and readers were Harriet Stille, Lillian Fredrickson, Elaine Holm and Edna Hansen. Pastor Schut gave the message, and all joined in singing several hymns. Imogene Samuelson was the piano accompanist.

Wilma Bartels, president, presided at the business meeting. Carolyn Kraemer and Margaret Turner gave the secretary and treasurer reports. Dates to remember are the Nebraska District North convention, Ramada Inn, Norfolk, June 21-22 and the Wayne Zone LWML workshop at Grace Lutheran Church in Wayne on April 16. Angie Blattert gave the Lutheran Family Services report, and the Auxiliary spring meeting will be held April 30 at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Schuyler from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

The friendship committee sent four sympathy cards and made eight visits. Other committees reporting were the buying, cards, kitchen and World Relief sewing.

A thank you was read from Mr.

and Mrs. Kermit Turner. The March anniversary of Vernon and Ith Guy was observed. The meeting closed with the LWML Pledge, the Lord's Prayer and table prayer.

Next meeting is April 5 with Mary Lou Krusemark and Lillie Tarnow as hostesses.

Lawler helps 'plan for future'

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The words "financial planning" causes many people to think of retirement or a special, once-in-a-lifetime event.

However, as society changes, financial planning is a concern of people of all ages.

Matt Lawler, an employee of Farmer's and Merchant's Bank since June of 1995, specializes in helping families plan for their financial future.

"MOST OF the people I deal with are saving for retirement and to send children to college," Lawler said.

"The cost of going to college has increased and people need to save and invest their money if they plan to send their children to college," he added.

Lawler's job is to help people plan for their future by building and securing their finances. He works with people to find the right investments, a task that is becoming more complex because of the growing number of investment opportunities.

"MORE PEOPLE are becoming aware that they need to do something as far as financial planning. They are beginning to realize that they will need something more than Social Security," Lawler said.

Matt Lawler

"My job is to make people aware of what options are available to them. In recent years there have been changes in ways of investing. There are now newer, easier ways to invest money," he said.

Competition has also brought down the minimum amount of money needed to begin an investment portfolio.

"GENERALLY MUTUAL funds are safer than owning one specific stock. However, with any type investment, there is risk involved. Since the crash of 1987 there have been changes in the stock market which monitor computer trading and prevent a huge sell-off when stock prices drop."

Investments have become more popular because that money has the opportunity to grow and mature. "The public has become more familiar with mutual funds and annuities because the risk of investment is not as intimidating as investing in individual stocks," Lawler added.

Lawler, a graduate of Briar Cliff College in Sioux City, Iowa has been a financial adviser for nearly seven years.

"BANKS ARE starting to get involved in the investment business also. They provide the opportunity for people to do 'one-stop' investing. It serves their banking needs, loans and now we're able to services their investment needs at our office."

Lawler said his customers are allowed to utilize any number of companies for any number of reasons. He says each has its own strength that's attractive to any investor. "As we work through each step of the process, our customers can choose what's right or wrong for them."

Lawler also noted that people in their 20's seem to be more conscious of investing for their future.

"A lot of people are looking for the right investment and you're seeing a lot of new companies out there so it's a unique situation," he added. "People just need to take time, plan their future and organize their goals."

Three are awarded scholarships

Scott Olson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Olson, Krissy Lubberstedt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lubberstedt and Karie Lutt, daughter of Gene and Marcheta Lutt all of the Wayne area have been awarded Presidential Scholarships to attend Wayne State College in the fall.

Presidential scholarships are awarded annually to students based on academic excellence, talent, leadership qualities and extracurricular activities.

Students attend competition

Joshua Jaeger, the son of David and Joni Jaeger of Winside and a senior from Winside High School and Karie Lutt, daughter of Gene and Marcheta Lutt of Wayne and a senior from Wayne High School recently traveled to Dana College in Blair, to participate in the College's annual Presidential Scholarship Competition, a program designed to recognize the academic achievements of high school seniors. Joshua and Katie are two of more than one hundred sixty students who competed in the event.

a grade point average of at least 3.25 out of a possible 4.0 or have a minimum ACT score of 25 or SAT composite score of 1130.

In order to be eligible for participation in the competition, a student must apply and be accepted to Dana as an entering freshman, have

As part of the competition, each student was interviewed by a team of Dana students, faculty and staff and asked to complete an essay on a specific topic. The essays and interviews then are evaluated and the results will be announced within the next two to three weeks. As a result of the competition, all participants are eligible for Dana Presidential Scholarships ranging in amounts from $1,000 to full tuition each year for four years at Dana.

Spelling Bee

The Wayne County rural schools annual Spelling Bee was held March 1 at District 57. Andy Meyer, center, was named champion for the third year in a row. Kim Reinhardt, right, was second and Andrew Beckmann was third. The winners will now compete in the County Spelling Bee at the Wayne County Courthouse on Friday at 2 p.m.

Hospital offering scholarships

The Lutheran Community Hospital Service Guild is offering two $1200 Nursing Scholarships to high school graduating seniors in the area. To be eligible, you must be graduating in the class of 1996 and have applied to an accredited school of registered nursing. This scholarship is for registered nursing students only.

Please contact your high school counselor or the Administrator, Lutheran Community Hospital, Box 869, Norfolk, NE 68702-0869, for application forms. Deadline for application is May 1.

Merit winners are announced

The names of 57 freshman National Merit scholarship recipients enrolled at the University of Kansas for the 1995-1996 academic year have been announced by Marti Ruel, director of the Scholarship Center at KU.

Sarah Blaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Blaser of Wayne, has been named a recipient.

Spring Job Fair was a success

According to Rowan Willis, director of the Wayne State College Cooperative Education Program, the Spring 1996 Job Fair was a complete success.

Forty-two area employees attended and more than 200 students registered for the event held at the Wayne State Student Center. Willis said that larger crowds are anticipated once the Student Center addition is completed. Some employers performed interviews during and after the fair and others set interviews for later this month.

The WSC Career Services and Cooperative Education Offices host a job fair each semester. Job fairs allow students to make contacts with potential employers. Many students obtain seasonal or full-time employment through this event.

Tracey Jackson

Allen student is awarded full ride

Tracey Jackson, daughter of Dale and Loretta Jackson of Allen, has won a Dean's Scholarship for full tuition and fees to Goucher College.

The family visited Goucher College in Towson, Md. Feb. 15-19, where Tracey spent a weekend competing for scholarships to the school. She was one of 60 finalists competing.

Goucher is a small liberal arts college, where Tracey would major in international relations. The scholarship is valued at $68,000.

TOWN AND COUNTRY

The Town and Country Garden Club met at the home of Betty Bronzynski for a dessert luncheon Feb. 26. Mary Stewart of Norfolk was a guest. Mary Jochens, vice president, conducted the meeting and read several brief "Thoughts for the Day."

Members answered roll call by telling what kind of flowers were used for their wedding. Secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved.

The hostess had the comprehensive study on "The Wild Turkey." The lesson on "New Flowers for 1996" was given by Lucia Strate. They included several kinds of roses, petunias, peonies, daylilies and many others.

The next meeting will be at the home of Frances Langenberg on March 25.

HOSKINS SENIORS

The Hoskins Seniors met at the fire hall on Feb. 27 for an afternoon of cards. Kristi Wittler was a guest. Ten point pitch prizes were won by Vernon Behmer, Martha Behmer and Nona Wittler. Nona Wittler was coffee chairman for the cooperative lunch. She also served ice cream for her birthday and was honored with the birthday song.

Next meeting will be March 12. Vera Brogie will be in charge of arrangements.

NEW PAGERS

An $8,000 grant from the Gardner Family Foundation has assisted the Wakefield Fire Department and Rescue Squad in purchasing 30 new pagers. In addition to the pagers, the department also purchased a new base repeater with battery backup. Cost of the pagers was $11,850 and the repeater was $2,277.

The old pagers were 10 years old, according to Fire Chief Dean Ulrich.

The balance of the cost was shared by the City of Wakefield and the Wakefield Rural Fire District.

MUSICAL COMEDY

Rehearsals are underway for the musical comedy "Our Miss Brooks," which will be presented at the school on March 29. The musical is being directed by Coleen Jeffries.

Members of the cast are Sara Mattes as Miss Brooks; Jason Thiel, Ted Wilder; Jennifer Simpson, Miss Finch; Bree Oswald, Jane Drew; Michael Rischmueller, Hugo Longacre; Matt Gustrafson, Mr. Wadsworth; Kristin Preston, Miss Audubon; Alison Benson, Mrs. Allen; Angie Anderson, Rhonda Allen; Wes Blecke, Martin; Susan Brudigam, Elsie; Jamie Hickson, Faith; Katie Hoffman, Doris; Laura Evers, Sylvia; Lindsay Jensen, Marge; Darin Hartman, Fred; Kristi Gustafson, Elaine; Jon Ulrich, John; Adam Boeckenhauer, Bill; Jamie Kellogg, Patsy; and Jessie Sharpnack as Ellen.

Also part of the cast are Javanah Bebee, Kristin Eaton and Jason Hurdstrom.

Curtain time will be 7 p.m. and tickets are $2.50 for students and senior citizens and $3.50 for adults.

NAMED TO CHOIR
Last fall, Sara Mattes was selected by audition tape for the All-State Choir. From that group of 450 high school vocalists, selections were made for a choir of 100 to honor choir. Sara was one of the 150 chosen to participate in that group's clinic and concert on March 14-16.

Sara, an alto, is a junior at Wakefield and is the daughter of Bill and Sondra Mattes.

EARN MEDALS
Several members of the Wakefield speech team earned superior ratings in the Clark Division of the conference contests held Feb. 24. As a team, Wakefield finished fourth.

Medal winners were Tory Nixon in humorous prose, Angie Anderson in both extemporaneous speaking and informative speaking, Jennifer Simpson and Jesse Sharpnack, both on persuasive speaking.

The oral interpretation of drama group of Andrea Carson, Wes Blecke, Jamie Paulson and Jason Thiel also earned a superior rating and medals.

Fourth place awards went to Nick Wolff for extemporaneous speaking, Todd Kahl in poetry and the duet acting team of Wes Blecke and Austin Lueth.

Wakefield speech coach is Jeanne Wilwerding. She, along with Brad Hoskins and Deb Leffers, organized and directed the conference contest.

HONOR ROSTER
The organizers of the 1996

American Legion baseball program are seeking to include an honor roster of former players. Anyone who has played Legion baseball for Wakefield can place their name on the roster to be part of the 1996 program book.

A $5 donation to the program is being asked to have the player's name, year played and honors the team may have earned included. Please add your current address and phone number and send to DeVon Coble, 512 West Third St., Wakefield, 68784.

ATTEND CAREER DAY
Members of the Wakefield speech team attended Theatre Career Day at Mount Marty College in Yankton on Feb. 26. The day consisted of a Shakespearean production of "Much Ado about Nothing," performed by the National Players, the nation's longest-touring repertory theater group from Washington, D.C.

Students attending were Andrea Carson, Tory Nixon, Keli Johnson, Jesse Sharpnack, Jamie Hickson, Nick Wolff, Lindsay Jensen, Jennifer Simpson, Jamie Paulson, B.J. Hansen and Austin Lueth.

ARTISTS OF THE MONTH
Elementary artists of the month for February were Kristina Lunz, Jamie Barge, Robert Beldin, Megan Mousel, Chelsey Victor and Tyler Davis.

High school and junior high students selected were Kristin Brudigam, Elizabeth Dutcher, Renee Johnson, Kurt Thompson, Jason Hurdstrom, Ryder Paulson, Stephanie Bjorklund, Stephen Kaup, Matt Peterson, Justin Meyer, Pam Hurst, Chad Mackling and Melissa Hansen.

The art work is on display at the Post Office.

HOSTS SWEEPER
The Lions Club hosted a bowling sweeper on Feb. 25 at the Wakefield Family Fun Center. Proceeds from the event will be used by the club to sponsor the youth summer baseball program.

With a total of 3149 pins, the team of Rick Dicus, Nick Dicus, Dale Belt, Ted Tullberg and Dan

Schoenerr were the sweeper champs.

In the singles event, Nick Dicus was the winner.

MISSION TEAM

The Northeast Nebraska Volunteer in Mission team spent Feb. 5-14 at the Lydia Patterson Institute in El Paso, Texas. The United Methodist sponsored school has 260 students walk over from Mexico every day. The 14-member team made various items for the school.

Those attending from this area were Art and Doris Lipp of Laurel, Sterling and Frances Borg of Dixon, Roy and Shirley Stuhler of Concord.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Senior Citizen potluck dinner was held March 1 at noon at the senior center in Concord. Fifteen were present. The birthday and anniversary song were sung by the group.

Following the meal, Betty Anderson opened the business meeting, reviewed mail and gave announcements. Secretary and treasurer reports were read. The birthday party was rescheduled for the May potluck day. A pie and coffee day will be held in April. Next potluck will be April 5 at noon. All the new chairs have been labeled.

After spending Feb. 5-14 with the mission team, Roy and Shirley Stuhler traveled to Anaheim, Calif. to visit Don Groones and Linda and Richard Payne. They also visited Don Stuhler in Colorado Springs, Colo.; the Marshall Frasier family in Ft. Collins, Colo.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Borrowski in Grant, Neb.

March 3 supper guests in the Dwight Anderson home to help Pam celebrate her birthday were Marlen and Suzie Johnson of Concord; Jeanene Anderson, David and Sandy Anderson and family of Wayne; Ernest and Lucille Witte of Randolph.

Pastor Marburger, Suzie Johnson, Lyla Swanson, Evonne Magnuson and Elaine Lubberstedt attended the ELCA Spring Gathering at Salem Lutheran Church in Dakota City on March. They represented Concordia Lutheran Church.

Marje Schatuck and Vi Schatuck of Sioux City, Iowa and Karen Sebatuck of Wayne visited in the Teckla Johnson home on March 3.

'Doing' the Mall of America

Remember the bargain plane fares to Minneapolis from Norfolk? I knew they were commuter planes; I didn't know they were 16 passenger Beacheraft "pudle jumpers". We actually had to duck our heads down the aisle between seats; and they were so noisy, you could not carry on a conversation. We also stopped in Spencer, Iowa, both going and coming.

Other than those inconvenience, I guess they were fine. They got us there in a hurry. It took us about as long to take the shuttle to the main terminal and then catch the shuttle to our hotel, as it did to get to the airport in the first place.

Sue was attending an OT conference at the airport Marriott, and Ann and I joined her there on Friday evening. It was good just to get away from the paper, eat in nice restaurants, sit in a hot tub and watch T.V. in bed.

Of course, on Saturday, our destination was the Mall. Ann is a serious shopper, I was just curious. Many of you have probably already been there; this was our first experience. It truly is amazing. Four hundred shops, four levels, an amusement park, and all kinds of restaurants and fast food.

I started in Sears, one of the anchor stores. The other three are Macy's, Nordstrom's and Bloomingdale's, a bit out of my price range. I had my best luck in a cut-rate place called Marshall's, where I found the car coat I've been looking for on sale for $25.

But mostly, I just wandered around, amazed. Ann met me for a Hulk Hogan "power pasta" lunch; and Sue and her cronies joined us for dinner at Planet Hollywood. As we waited in line, I chuckled at all of us, eating high-priced fajitas in a noisy, crowded place lined with photos and props from movies (most of which I had not seen), all to make Sylvester Stallone and Arnold Schwarzenegger richer!

We did the same thing at the Hard Rock in Orlando last spring. And bought t-shirts to boot, t-shirts offering the ultimate proof that we were there.

Why can't we come up with a popular theme, franchise it and retire? I noticed there was a Cheers bar at the airport. My suggestion would be a Victorian tea room for those of us who like our refreshments in a quiet setting. We'll call it Pat's Parlor.

4-H workshop session planned

Communications and recognition incentives will be the topics covered in a 4-H workshop session to be held on March 16 in Wayne. The workshops will be held at Our Savior Lutheran Church basement, 5th and Pearl Street, in Wayne.

These are two short workshops in one morning session. Participants may attend one or both workshops. Keith Martikainen, Extension Youth Specialist from Grand Island, will be the presenter. Target audience is area 4-H'ers, leaders and parents.

The morning will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the communications portion, which will touch on public service announcements, presentations and traditional public speaking. This session will last until about 10:45 a.m. After a brief break, the workshop will continue with the recognition and awards overview at 11:15. Topics to be discussed include the shift from project to curriculum area at the district and state level, putting together an award application, and emphasis on the Building 4-H Record. The session should conclude by 12:30 p.m.

Contact the Wayne County Extension office by March 14 at 402-375-3310 to pre-register. There is no charge for the workshops.

4-H News

Modern M's 4-H Club

The Modern M's met on Feb. 26 at the Mike Meyer home. Roll call was answered by four members and one guest. Amanda Glassmeyer watched the meeting and will be joining the club. We will be going skating on March 17 from 3-6. Club members are to take past projects to show at the A-Z at the Kiwanis pancake feed. Shelia Meyer will check into sharing a month at the recycling center with another group. Richard Stiefken demonstrated how to play a new game.

The next meeting will be March 18 with either Gene Lutt's or Youngmeyer's hosting. Scott Baier, newsreporter

Workshop to be held

A switchgrass to energy workshop, sponsored by the Northeast Nebraska Resource, Conservation and Development's biomass committee, will be held on Wednesday, March 13 at the Bloomfield community building.

Lunch and registration will begin at 12:30 p.m. Topics include "What is Biomass?", "Future of Biomass in Nebraska", "Switchgrass Production for Biomass" and "Amoco's Interest in Biomass."

The workshop will explore the idea of using CRP grasses for fuel to produce energy.

To register call 1-800-277-2443.

Farming conference to be held in Wakefield

The N.E. Nebraska Farm Management Conference will feature management, technology and a touch of humor. It is set for Saturday, March 23 at 8:45 a.m. through 4 p.m. at the school in Wakefield. The conference is for men and women in agriculture. Several farm business displays will be set up to be viewed during registration.

Keynote speaker is Susan Brown, an Extension Educator from Hastings, who speaks statewide and nationally on "Health and Humor." She uses her wit to get everyone laughing. Steve Kemper with the Nebraska Parks Service will share ways we can have fun right here in Nebraska at the parks, special attractions and events, bed and breakfasts and in nature during lunch.

There are 12 workshops available at the conference. The workshops that focus on the management side of farming include, "Farming in the 21st Century" by Larry Bitney, Ag Professor from UNL; "Basic Grain Marketing," by Roy Smith with the Nebraska Soybean Council; "The Cycling Market for Livestock," by the Producers Livestock Marketing Company; "Legal and Other Aspects of Employing Farm Workers," by Gary Bredensteiner with the Nebraska Farm Business Association and David Aikin who is Ag Law Specialist at UNL; "Passing Down the Farm," with Wayne and Dixon Extension Educator Rod Patent; "Starting or Expanding the Farm" with Dave Gochler, a farmer and financial consultant; and "Formal farmer and attorney."

The technology sessions include "Buying and Using a Computer" by Mark Charlson with Gateway 2000 and a farm computer users panel including Andy Lux from Hubbard, Mary Temme from Wayne and Sue Sandahl, Liz Ekberg and Keith Boeckenhauer from Wakefield. Another session is "Using Modern Technology on The Farm" by Mike Pitber with John Deere who will cover the GPS precision farming using global positioning yield mapping, and Ray Preister with Great Plains Communications and Dale Phipps will cover FAX machines, cellular phones and answering machines.

Other miscellaneous sessions include "Starting a Business Out of Your Home" by Delores Ruzicka from Verdigris who owns Country Creations and markets nationally and internationally; Sally Ebmeier, Cooperative Extension Educator from Hartington will cover "REAL Colors Personality Assessment" and Susan Brown will cover "Handling Stress."

The cost is $10. Pre-registration is due March 15 to the Dixon County Extension Office, N.E. Research and Extension Center, Box 111, Concord, NE 68728. To receive a brochure please contact one of the sponsoring organizations including your local Extension Office with the University of Nebraska, Cooperative Extension, Northeast Community College or the Farm Service Agency or call 584-2234. The conference costs are being partially underwritten by 35 area businesses.

Planning committee members are Dan and Connie Wichman, Pender; Lisa Lutz and Sue Sandahl, Wakefield; Marcia and Allan Rastede, Allen; Kurt Rewinkel, Concord; Extension Educators Karen Wermers, Rod Patent, Sally Ebmeier and Frank Morse and Daryl McGhee with the Farm Service Agency.

COUNTRY CLASSICS 4-H CLUB

Thirteen members answered roll call at the Feb. 10 meeting of the Country Classics 4-H Club.

The next meeting will be March 10 at 2 p.m. Emily and Adam Lutt are hosts. Members are asked to bring the following: a baked item for Bake and Take Days, Club projects for A-Z Pancake Feed, record books with the front page filled out and speeches for speech contest. Club members broke into groups of teamwork activity dealing with unkertoys.

Following adjournment, all members made a heatbond fabric wall hanging.

DO YOU HAVE THESE QUALITIES?
—Enjoy meeting new people?
—Believe that everyone has something good to contribute?
—Like having independence at work?
—Feel that a job is only satisfying when you can help someone else achieve their goals?
If these statements describe you, we would like to interview you for the position of Employment Instructor. The Employment Instructor is a person who connects persons who have developmental disabilities to meaningful work; this includes activities such as:
—Contacting businesses about employment opportunities for persons with developmental disabilities.
—Assisting individuals apply for jobs and teaching appropriate job skills on site.
—Working with potential employers to set up work stations at their businesses to train future employees on site.
—In tandem with other professionals, teach individuals served skills necessary for job acquisition and retention.
Candidates must have a vehicle and be prepared to make contacts within 30 miles of Wayne. Applicants must also be at least 19 year old high school graduates who can lift up to 75 pounds. Paid training is provided, although previous experience in sales would be helpful.

The position can be either full time or part time. We have 18 hours per week set aside for the duties of Employment Instructor, a full time employee would make up the other 22 hours by working in either our workshop or one of our residences, teaching persons with developmental disabilities skills to lead independent lives. Full time employees are eligible for group health insurance, 10 paid holidays and, after completing a twelve-month probation, 24 personal leave days per year. Candidates interested in part time would work the 18 hours per week. Please note that candidates must be willing to work a flexible schedule to carry out these job duties. Starting wage is $5.87 per hour.

LEGION & AUXILIARY

The District III Legion and Auxiliary convention will be in Allen on March 9 at the school. Registration will be from 8 to 9 a.m. The Allen Community Club will be providing coffee and donuts at registration. Auxiliary members are reminded to bring cookies for the veterans home that day.

March 11 will be the regular meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, March 17 the group will have its annual pancake breakfast, serving pancakes, eggs, sausage and French toast at the fire hall from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Auxiliary will also be raffling off three baskets of groceries.

MUSICAL

The Allen High chorus will present the musical "Wanna Play" in the school gym on March 21 and 22 at 7:30 p.m. "Wanna Play" gives a humorous and insightful look at the problems of adolescence. Tickets are $2.50 for students and $3.50 for adults.

DONKEY BB

The donkey basketball game was held on Feb. 29 in Allen. Allen high juniors won the first game against the Allen Fire and Rescue Squad. The Allen faculty/staff won against the sophomores and seniors and the sponsoring juniors emerged victorious against the faculty/staff in the championship game, which went to a sudden death tie-breaker.

Proceeds from the event went to prom and after-prom funds.

FIRE HALL SHOWER

The Allen-Waterbury fire hall shower committee recently spent some of the money raised at the fire hall shower.

Articles purchased included a 100-cup coffee pot, two dozen serving spoons, four serving trays, four coffee servers and a kitchen ceiling fan. The committee has also ordered a deep sink for the kitchen and mini blinds for the community room windows have been installed.

The next fundraiser will be the firemen's Smoker on March 30.

KINDERGARTENERS

Prospective kindergarten students at the Allen school for 1996-97 include Adam and Zach Blessing (Mike and Kelly), Joseph Burke (Patrick and Gayle), Brent Burnham (Jeff and Kim), Nicole Carr (Scott and Lisa), Lacey Chase (Roseann Chase and Brad Chase), Bailey Ellis (Joe Ellis), Hannah Flores (Santos and Patty), Taysha Hingst (Kevin and Joni), Riley Hough (Jim and Jodi), Tsha Krohn (Tami), Whitney Malcom (Kevin and Annetta), Maggie Schuttler (Keith and Shelly), Rebecca Swetnam (Richard and Patricia), Scott Wilmes (Tom and Kathy) and Jacob Woodward (Keith and Ronelle).

If you know of a child not on the list, notify the school office. Kindergarten round-up is on Thursday, April 4.

THANK YOU

WE THANK GOD for giving us 30 years with Scott. There are many memories to cherish and hold dear. We extend a sincere thank you to all who expressed concern through prayers, letters, gifts, cards, visits, flowers, memorials, phone calls and food, both before and after his death. Thank you to friends who helped at home and work, took care of Casey and Chelsea, to all who came to celebrate his life, to those who provided such beautiful music, to Pastor Martin for saying just the right words, to Sehnmacher Funeral Home, the Nebraska Army National Guard, the ladies who served lunch, the pall bearers, and to the students, their parents, Scott's mentors, colleagues, former teachers, classmates, Guide Rock Administration, school board, members and staff, to the Phi Taus, his friends and relatives for showing how much they cared for Scott. Everything was appreciated and does make a difference during a difficult time. To Gayle, Mike, Karleen and Linda, we love you. Pearl, Benjamin and Lee Arntzen

THANK YOU to the Wayne area teachers for your outstanding contribution and guidance from the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce

I WOULD LIKE to thank the nurses at Providence Medical Center for their TLC. Also Dr. Martin and Dr. Adams, and Sister Gertrude and Pastor Bill, for their prayers. And to all who sent cards, flowers and food while I was in the hospital and since returning home. And finally thanks to my family for being there. Ella Lutt

THE FAMILY OF Ethel Erickson extends heartfelt thanks to everyone that sent cards, flowers, memorials and food at the time of her death. Thanks to Pastor Marburger for his comforting service, Marilyn Wallin for the music and the ladies that served the lunch. Everything was deeply appreciated. And a big THANK YOU to Hillcrest Care Center and Dr. Felber for their care and concern for the past 5 years. May God bless you all.

WE WISH TO express our sincere gratitude to all who sent cards, flowers, gifts and attended our open house for our 50th anniversary. You are the ones who made the day such a memorable one and we thank you with grateful hearts. Bob and Pauline Merchant

WE THANK GOD for giving us medical technology, doctors who are specialists, and the comforting words of Pastor Bruce. We extend a most sincere thank you to all who expressed concern and care through flowers, balloons, visits, cards, letters, phone calls, and food. Thanks to Mom and Dad, and Robin and Jane for watching the place and feeding the animals. Also to Dad, Mark, and Jim for taking care of the livestock. Thanks everyone. Dave and LeVonne Fieer

I WISH TO thank everyone for the cards, balloons, flowers, gifts and visits I received while I was hospitalized. Thanks to those who have called and brought food to the house and have visited. I would like to extend a special thanks to the doctors, nurses and entire staff at Providence Medical Center for their wonderful care and to Sister Gertrude for her visits and prayers. Thank you Pastor Holsted for your prayers and visits. Ray Murray

THANK YOU for cards, letters, visits, flowers, gifts, phone calls, and most of all for your prayers, your love and concern was overwhelming during my illness. Oh that man would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men. Psalm 107:8. Merton Marshall

HOSKINS VILLAGE BOARD PROCEEDINGS

February 26, 1996
Hoskins Village Board met in regular session at City Hall at 7:30 P.M. Board members present were Pat Bruggeman, Arlan Sellin, John Schourich and Richard Doffin. J. Absent was Jim Miller.

The Public hearing for the Hoskins One and Six Year plan opened at 7:30. Duane Oton was present to explain the plan.

Arlan Sellin made a motion to accept the One and Six year plan, John Schourich seconded, all yeas.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as read.

Richard Doffin, Jr. reported on the 911 interchange. Total cost will be available at the March meeting.

The Board discussed replacing the overhead doors at the fire hall. Leonard turned in two bids. One from Overhead Door and one from Loberg Const. Richard made a motion from Loberg Const. for $1847.50. Arlan seconded, all yeas.

Friz and Deb Krause were present to see if their alley closure had been finalized. They want to build onto their garage. The alley is closed except for a legal description from Wayne. Jim Miller has been looking into this. A building permit will be issued to Krauses as soon as Phone Co. locates all the lines.

Richard Doffin, Sr. was present to ask for a rent increase on the shop. John Schourich made a motion to increase rent to $125.00 per month. Arlan seconded, all yeas. Richard also asked if the Village would consider removing the curb in front of Hoskins Mfg. This will be taken care of this summer.

Leonard reported he has received complaints of two residents with garbage piled at their houses. They will be sent a letter and given ten (10) days to remove garbage or Village will remove it at their expense.

NOTICE

The Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act of 1986 (referred to as AHERA) was enacted by Congress to identify and develop solutions for any problems that schools may have with asbestos.

We recently had our facilities inspected by a certified asbestos inspector, as required by AHERA. The inspector completely inspected the condition and hazard potential of all material suspected of containing asbestos.

We have had an accredited professional incorporate the results of this inspection into an asbestos management plan for our facilities. This plan addresses application requirements, education and training of our employees, and sets forth plans and procedures to control and minimize the disturbance of the asbestos containing materials.

To comply with the law, Wayne County District Number 25 Schools will have an accredited inspector completely inspect the school every three years. In addition, the school will examine all asbestos containing materials (including materials suspected of containing asbestos) every six months to ensure no deterioration or damage has taken place.

A copy of the asbestos management plan is available for inspection in our school during regular school hours. Mr. Derwin Hartman is the designated asbestos coordinator and all inquiries regarding the plan should be directed to him at telephone (402) 287-2912.

We have begun implementing the asbestos management plan and are intent not simply on complying, but on exceeding local, state and federal regulations. We will continue to take whatever steps are necessary to ensure your children and employees have a healthy, safe environment in which to learn and work.

INTEGRATED RESOURCE PLANNING

The City of Wayne Electric Department is participating with its power supplier, the Nebraska Public Power District, in a new activity called Integrated Resource Planning (IRP). This is a coordinated effort to bring the lowest cost and best decisions to bear on future electricity resources.

Low cost electricity is important to all in the increasingly competitive nature of business today. Other important factors to these decisions are reliability, environment, and customer satisfaction.

Future electricity resources may include generating plants that use fuels or that rely on renewable energy like the wind or the sun. Besides using generating plants for resources, utilities also encourage customer "resources" such as conservation, energy-efficient appliances, and where appropriate, energy management or load control.

As our customer we are interested in your ideas and your needs so they can be factored into this ongoing planning process. We will be providing more information later, but if you have comments or would like further information, please call 1-800-282-6773, Extension 5526, or write to Tim Owens, Nebraska Public Power District, P.O. Box 499, Columbus, NE 68602-0499.

ORDINANCE NO. 96-1 AN ORDINANCE AMENDING ZONING REGULATIONS PERTAINING TO DEFINITION OF FAMILY.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and Council of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, Section 1: That Section 303.01(56) - Family of the Zoning Regulations of the City of Wayne, Nebraska, adopted by reference in Chapter 11, Article 1, Section 11-102 is amended to read as follows:

303.01(56) FAMILY:
(1) (a) One (1), two (2), three (3), or four (4) persons occupying a dwelling unit; or
(b) Five (5) or more persons occupying a dwelling unit and living together as a traditional family or the functional equivalent of a traditional family.

(2) It shall be presumptive evidence that five (5) or more persons living in a single dwelling unit who are not related by blood, marriage or legal adoption do not constitute the functional equivalent of a traditional family.

(3) In determining whether individuals are living together as the functional equivalent of a traditional family, the following criteria must be present:
(a) The group is one which in the ordinary size, appearance, structure and function resembles a traditional family unit;

(b) The occupants must share the entire dwelling unit and live and cook together as a single housekeeping unit. A unit in which the various occupants act as separate roomers may not be deemed to be occupied by the functional equivalent of a traditional family.

(c) The group shares expenses for food, rent or ownership costs, utilities and other household expenses.

(d) The group is permanent and stable. Evidence of such permanency and stability may include:
1. The presence of minor dependent children, regularly residing in the household who are enrolled in local schools;

2. Members of the household have the same address for purposes of voter registration, drivers licenses, motor vehicle registration and filing of taxes.

3. Members of the household are employed in the area.

4. The household has been living together as a unit for a year or more whether in the current dwelling unit or other dwelling units.

5. Common ownership of furniture and appliances among the members of the household; and

6. The group is not transient or temporary in nature.

(e) Any other factor reasonably related to whether or not the group is the functional equivalent of a family.

Section 2: That any other ordinance or section passed and approved prior to the passage, approval, and publication of this ordinance and in conflict with its provisions, is hereby repealed.

Section 3: This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, approval and publication or posting as required by law.

The basketball hoop is finished for the village park and will be put up soon. The new park concession stand will be added to the city's insurance policy.

A motion was made by Sue Gilmore and seconded by Jeff Ellis to accept the building request submitted by David Luit to build a trailer shed on his lot in town. He will be notified of building regulations.

Rick Davis reported on the Red Cross meeting he had attended and what the village is required to do in the event of an emergency situation.

Clerk read list of past due accounts.
Sue Gilmore introduced the city ordinances. Copies of these will be posted in three places in Carroll and will be approved at the next board meeting.

There being no further business for discussion, a motion to adjourn was made by Jeff Ellis and seconded by Rick Davis. All present voted approval. Meeting adjourned at 9:26 P.M.

The next regular meeting of the Board will be March 13, 1996, at 7:30 P.M. at the Village Fire Hall.
