

Bond defeated

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Voters in District 17 defeated a proposed $8.1 million bond issue in Tuesday's primary election. Both the proposed construction of a new Middle School and renovation of the high school were defeated.

Vote totals for the Middle School bond were 659 votes for the issue and 1073 against which translates to a 38 percent for the bond and 62 percent against.

In the vote for the high school renovation, 64 percent of the voters voted against the bond and 36 voted for it. Vote totals were 1199 against and 687 for.

Wayne county voted with the state of Nebraska in selecting Chuck Hagel over Don Stenberg in the Republican race for U.S. Senator. Hagel received a total of 905 votes and Stenberg captured 620 votes.

In the Democratic race, Ben Nelson ran unopposed and received 544 votes.

In the Democratic race for Congress in the first district, Marlin Pals was defeated by Patrick J. Combs by a vote of 131 to 336.

Three of the four amendments on the ballots received approval. Amendment #1 which dealt with mediation received 1,324 votes and 685 votes against. Amendment #2 which requires that Legislative bills be read in their entirety received 1197 votes for and 880 votes against. Amendment #3 dealt with crime victims' rights and received 1531 votes for and 526 votes against.

The only amendment which did not receive voter approval was Amendment #4 which would have created a Tax Equalization and Review Commission. The vote was 926 for and 1095 against.

In other races, Bob Dole was the winner for the Republican presidential nomination with 1064 votes. He was followed by Patrick Buchanan with 186, Lamar Alexander with 90, Steve Forbes with 82, Alan Keyes with 51, Richard Lugar with 13, Bob Dornan with 11 and Morry Taylor with 5.

On the Democratic ticket, Bill Clinton received 500 votes and Lyndon H. LaRouche, Jr. received 44 votes.

Doug Bereuter received 1,460 votes as the Republican First District Congressman.

State Senator for the 17th District L. Patrick Engel ran unopposed and received 1,391 votes.

National Convention delegate winners were Doug Bereuter with 858, Charles Thone with 651 and Shirley Marsh with 458. Other vote-getters included Lowell C. Johnson-357; Scott Moore-248; John Breslow-244; Gail Axen-181; Ronald Russell-167; Stan Matzke, Jr.-117; Duane Acklie-114; Sue Ellen Wall-101; Charles F. Maas-90; Patrick Grawford-79; Daniel r. Wetherell-79; Alan Jacobsen-76; Frank Landis-65; Walt F. Weaver-61; Robert L. Anderson-58; James Hoss-52; Alice L. Licht-51; Hilvie M. Gross-43; and Dan Vodvarka-34.

In the race for State Board of Education, District 3 the top vote-getter was John M. Dinkel with 833 votes, followed by Beverly J. Peterson with 494, Tom Black with 435 and Velma Sims with 161.

Wayne County Commissioner Robert Nissen ran unopposed in District 2 and received 373 votes.

Winners in the Board of Education #560 Wakefield race were Lori Lueth with 64 votes; Diane Keim with 58 votes; Paul Utemark IV with 57 votes; Colleen K. Bressler with 41 votes; Doug Beacom with 22 votes and Charles Reed with 14 votes.

In the Wakefield City Council race, Second Ward, Gerald Muller was the top vote-getter with 34 votes, followed by Duane R. Tappe with 18 and Al Hickson with three votes.

In the Wayne County Noxious Weed Board, Don Pippitt received 1,816 votes, Don Harmeier received 1,778 votes and Kenneth C. Thomsen received 1,685 votes.

Elected to the Pender Hospital District were Mike Gatzemeyer and Larry Kjeldgaard.

The Wayne County voter turnout was 2,395 voters which represents 41 percent of the eligible voters. The Wayne Fourth Ward had the highest percentage of voters with 515 persons voting (54 percent).

In 1992, the last presidential primary, 40 percent of voters cast ballots.

"Overall, the poll workers were pleased with the new system of counting ballots. After we got a few glitches taken care of, the new system worked wonderfully," said Wayne County Clerk Debra Finn.

Community baccalaureate this Saturday

A community baccalaureate service in honor of the 1996 graduating class of Wayne High School will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 18 in the First Presbyterian Church. This service is sponsored by ministers in Wayne and planned with the help of members of the class of 1996.

The family and friends of the graduates are invited to attend.

First Presbyterian Church is located at the corner of Third and Lincoln Streets. A reception will follow in the church's fellowship hall.

Issues are debated at City Council

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Budgets, vacation leave and garbage were among items on Tuesday's Wayne City Council meeting.

The council passed budget preparations guidelines for the next fiscal year.

City Administrator Joe Salitros told the council that the legislature has put restrictions on the budget and recommended the council make recommendations for various city departments.

Salitros suggested the department budgets not exceed five percent, general fund expenses not to exceed 2.5 percent and allow for a reserve for 12 to 15 percent.

The council voted 6-1 to change the vacation leave policy for city employees.

At the present time, employees can accumulate vacation leave without restrictions. The new policy will allow employees to carry

Graduation ceremonies to be held Sunday afternoon

Graduation ceremonies will take place at five area schools Sunday afternoon.

Seniors at Laurel-Concord, Allen, Wakefield, Wayne and Winside will receive diplomas in ceremonies scheduled for 2 p.m. at each school.

At Laurel-Concord 36 seniors will graduate. Salutatorian for the class is Andrea Ebmeier and Valedictorian will be Laurie Lipp. A welcome will be given by Penny Stone.

In Allen eight seniors will be awarded diplomas. Salutatorian for this year's class is Tracey Jackson. Valedictorian for the Class of 1996 is Tammy Jackson. Graduation will take place in the Allen Consolidated Schools Gymnasium.

Twenty-two seniors will graduate at Wakefield Community Schools this year. The speaker for this year's graduation will be Der-win Hartman, Superintendent of the Wakefield Community Schools. Mr. Hartman is retiring after 32 years in the school system.

Graduation ceremonies for the 68 Wayne seniors will take place at the Willow Bowl on the Wayne State College campus. In case of inclement weather, the event will be in Rice Auditorium at Wayne State.

Speaker at the ceremonies will be Dr. Deanna B. Eversoll, director of Evening Programs and Lifelong Learning Services with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Eversoll will discuss the importance of continued education and how the learning process is enhanced by experience.

The Valedictorian and Salutatorian awards will be announced during the ceremony.

At Winside, 19 seniors will receive diplomas. Student speakers will be Mike Kollath and Denise Nelson.

The featured speaker will be Mr. Steven Miles, a special education instructor at Grand Island.

Dr. Eversoll

This year's honor escorts will be Robert Wittler and Nicole Mohr.

Pictures of this year's seniors can be found in today's Herald.

School Board hears plans for next year

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

New math text books for K-8 students, a new P.E. unit, changes in the Carroll school day and high school teachers being used to teach middle school classes are among the changes in the Wayne Community schools for the 1996-97 school year.

Building principals David Lutt, Richard Metteer and Donald Zeiss outlined changes in their respective buildings during Monday's Board of Education meeting.

During the discussion of changes, the possibility of having Rocky Ruhl, a math teacher at the high school, teach, via video, a class at the Juvenile Detention Center was discussed. Board members voiced some concern with this issue because of the time involved and compensation for Ruhl. No action was taken on approving the idea.

Dr. Dennis Jensen, Superintendent of Wayne Public Schools, discussed the effects of legislation on the school's future budget planning. LB 299 would require a 2 percent lid and allow for a one percent board authorized increase. LB 1050 will treat Special Education in the same manner as other budget items. The bill also denies all districts their last quarterly tax payment for this collection year.

Dr. Jensen updated the board on grant applications, including a $41,000 Annenberg Funding/School At the Center and a $300,000 School Book Project which would assist the district in providing lap top computers to Julie Murphy's walk route regularly took her by the house on 509 North Logan. Every time she passed by she thought to herself that someone should really do something with such a nice house. "There is just something about the house," Murphy told her sister, Ardyece Kniesche.

Kniesche, who had just lost her husband, was looking for something new and different to do. Murphy was also looking for some kind of business to start. "I know just the thing," Murphy told her sister.

And so the idea for Grandma Butch's Bed and Breakfast was set in motion.

The two women put in a bid for the property between Christmas and New Year's. On January 30, 1996, Murphy and Kniesche signed the papers.

The house was built in 1907. Murphy and Kniesche are the fifth owners of the house after buying it from Steve and Catherine Williams.

Murphy and Kniesche had help from eager family members and friends. Frank Bell, godfather to Murphys' two sons, Jim and John, served as the catalyst for the project. "Frank was kind of the general contractor. He answered any questions we had along the way," said Murphy. "All the kids have been very supportive. Even my boys' girlfriends helped. We could have never completed this so quickly without the help of family and friends."

The name "Grandma Butch's" stems from the parents of Murphy and Kniesche, Butch and Evelyn Woods. The grandkids called Evelyn "Grandma Butch". Both women found the name a great way to remember their mother.

Grandma Butch's has four bedrooms, each with its own theme—the bridal room, the Nebraska room, the heart room and the owl room. Most bed and breakfasts have different themes for each room, and the idea of naming the rooms was a great way to add character to the house. "Each room takes on a personality of its own," said Murphy. "People may want to request a certain room prior to arriving."

Grandma Butch's Bed & Breakfast is located at 502 North Logan Street in Wayne. The remodeling began the first of February. The bed and breakfast is now open for business.

Everyone worked to clean up the area around the house. The spacious, fenced-in back yard contains picnic tables, flowers, trees and shrubs. Murphy and Kniesche plan to use the area for receptions or other outdoor functions.

The new owners will apply for a zoning variance for a tearoom. "We won't be open all the time," said Murphy. "When people request the room, we'll provide noon luncheons or maybe some evening activities." To accommodate all guests, the two have four local professional caterers to provide food at Grandma Butch's. The sisters agree Grandma

Butch's is unique because of the "homey" atmosphere. Kniesche said a certain traveling clientele look for a bed and breakfast. "It's like we are inviting people who are passing through town into our home for the more homey atmosphere," said Murphy. Grandma Butch's has board games, a lounge room, a reading area, and will soon have a bookshelf of reading material which will include books on the history of Wayne County.

The two women credit Lila and Ernie Swanson, owners of Swanson's Bed and Breakfast north of Wayne, whom they used as an example when starting their own bed and breakfast.

"The business of bed and breakfasts is not competitive" said Murphy. "All owners promote tourism and it doesn't matter if a person stays in a bed and breakfast in Oregon or in Texas. If the person likes staying in a bed and breakfast, he or she will eventually stay here."

Murphy and Kniesche did all the work they could locally. This included the financing, the furnishings, the plumbing and the electrical work. They would like to thank everybody who helped with the project.

Grandma Butch's is now open for business. The two believe bed and breakfasts will continue to grow in popularity. Both say being able to relax and talk with others in an environment close to one's own home is appealing. Kniesche said, "Bed and breakfasts are bringing back the art of conversation."

Jaycess to sponsor fireworks

The Wayne County Jaycess will be sponsoring a Fourth of July fireworks event this year at Hank Overin Field.

Overall chairman Scott Brummond anticipates the approximately half hour show will begin after dusk on the evening of the Fourth.

The Jaycess have begun raising the approximately $5,000 needed to hold the event. According to fundraising chairman Ron Gentrup, a raffle was concluded recently.

Gentrup says the chapter also has plans to place donation canisters in local businesses. Or if you prefer, you can send your donation directly to the chapter at State National Bank and Trust Company, Attn: Ron Gentrup, P.O. Box 130, Wayne, NE 68787.

April precip below normal

The Wayne area received 1.03 inches of precipitation during the month of April. This is down from the ten-year average of 2.20 inches.

The year has been somewhat drier than the ten-year average also. Through the end of April, the area has received 3.21 inches of precipitation, 1.90 inches less than the average.

Temperatures in the month ranged from 18 degrees on April 6 to 82 degrees on April 25.

Pat Gross, the official Wayne Weather Observer, said, "I have heard tell we have never dried out in April, or May for that matter. But there is no doubt we could use a little rain."

Checking playground equipment

Communities have historically provided and enjoyed an assortment of equipment for entertaining children in parks and playgrounds. That scenario may rapidly change as we have progressively become a litigious society with what appears to be an elevated sensibility concerning suing and being sued.

City authorities, park superintendents and playground planners are responding to the situation, taking another look at potential hazards. The City of Wayne is no exception as local officials study the need of conducting an inventory of current slides, swings, merry-go-rounds, barrels and teeter-totters.

Monkey bars and jungle gyms have provided thousands of children with exercise and fun, however those days may be drawing to a close as insurance companies become increasingly concerned about potential litigation involving playground injuries.

Determining what recreational equipment to provide, and assessing its possible risks, is likely to be a number one priority throughout America. As a consequence, the possibility of removing and losing playground paraphernalia looms as a reality.

Local government officials are aware of the problem and are apparently planning on expanding further discussion on the subject.

We feel Wayne is a good place to live, work and shop. Giving our attention to possible hazards, particularly those that might endanger children, must remain a high priority.

No serious injuries have occurred in our parks while using the equipment, to our knowledge, but taking a look and an inventory appears timely.

Outages need investigating

Residents of Wakefield, Wayne, Winside, Carroll and Sholes were left in the dark Tuesday afternoon due to an equipment malfunction at the Belden substation.

Outages occur when problems either arise on the local level, at substations in Emerson or Belden, or the weather knocks out lines and poles. Wayne normally gets its power from the Emerson substation, however it is currently undergoing necessary maintenance. Consequently for the last three weeks Wayne has been fed by the Belden station. Tuesday afternoon something popped at the Belden plant causing a considerable area to curse the darkness.

Area residents have experienced a record number of outages in the last 12 months, or so it would appear. When the power fluctuates or goes out, not only can electrical fixtures be subject to damage, but computer data is lost, businesses lose needed trade, cash registers are out, gas can't be pumped, manufacturing suffers, schools and the college campus are impacted, literally hundreds of employees necessarily sit and wait until power is restored.

No one can accurately calculate the actual financial cost and work loss. Inconvenience is measured in anger.

The Wayne city council may want to launch an investigation for the purpose of determining how future outages can best be avoided, as the financial and labor losses ought not be added burdens in the present economy.

Presenting a Top 10 things list

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Discounting the tornadoes that plagued southeast Nebraska recently and that nasty Christian Peter affair and you could say the state is on sort of a roll.

Afterall, the rains came and people aren't talking about the Drought of '96 anymore. Plus, late-night talk show host David Letterman (the one that wanted to replace Johnny Carson but got tons of money to move to another network) finally picked Wahoo as the home office for his Top Ten List gaga.

The selection sort of reminded me of Nebraska's wooing of that computer-chip manufacturer, Micron (you know, the one that wanted to move to the Cornhusker State but got tons of money to move to Utah. It then promptly ditched its project).

Micron kept leading Nebraska on and on, asking for more and more. But unlike Micron, Letterman finally picked Wahoo — after the town threw in the kitchen sink, a couple of local lads and an older model Ford Pinto, a car destined to never become a classic.

So in commemoration of that selection, let's present a Top 10 list of our own: The Top Ten Things that will happen politically this summer.

No. 10 — Ben Nelson finally endorses Bill Clinton for President. (This would only happen, of course, after Gov. Nelson is comfortably ahead in the polls so it won't hurt his chances to serve in the U.S. Senate.)

No. 9 — John Breslow attacks the Governor, Secretary of State and just about every other elected official for doing something he doesn't like. (This one's a lock.)

No. 8 — An effort begins to roll back the state Interstate speed limit to 70 mph. Give us a couple of bad accidents at 75, and it will get intense.

No. 7 — Only one of the property tax measures collects enough signatures (and it fails to pass this November). So much for the crisis.

No. 6 — Micron decides to move again but picks a site next to Harvey's Casino. Council Bluffs, Iowa, has all the fun.

No. 5 — The Santee Indian Casino reopens and then is closed again. They just don't give up.

No. 4 — Nelson and Don Stenberg spat. (Can you imagine how bitter this feud would become if Chuck Hagel beat both of them?)

No. 3 — Lt. Gov. Kim Robak, in another effort to increase her profile, is named to head up another unexplainable but breathtakingly important effort to reorganize something. No one can say exactly how it's going to work, but it will and it will be great.

No. 2 — State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly is knighted, Sir Jerry. He deserves it for his work on the property tax issue.

No. 1 — Letterman tires of saying "Wahoo" and picks "Yipee, Vt.," as his new home office. The entertainer is bludgeoned to death by a pound of frozen Wahoo weiners dropped off the Empire State Building. Serves him right.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Talking more and understanding less?

Are we all talking more and understanding less?

A new survey shows fewer Americans are watching the evening network news, or should we call them propaganda bites? Being as smart as a steel trap means knowing when to shut up, right? Television news anchors don't have a clue in recognizing the dividing line between hard news and personal views. With a smile turned on at half pressure, a news-type may often join the caravan of those talking more and understanding less.

Now the most underdeveloped territory in the world lies under our hat...that's no secret to most of us...but we resent being treated like a chorus of mummies.

Just a word of caution: remember when you're watching the "news", that reporter may think a universal joint is a building at the United Nations. But those of us having come from a rural background, oftentimes considered by smug TV news producers to be mere ignoramuses, not only know what a universal joint is, but we also know how to work the "OH" button on the remote.

Horse sense is nothing more than stable thinking, and the city folk, who have never stepped in barnyard stuff they shouldn't, don't understand that when it "hits the wall", as we say out here in Nebraska, it means we are tired of hearing words on the telly that are yelled, spelled, slurred, blurred, whispered, sighed, and cried. For don't you see, the telly's talkative, tale-telling, electronic news jockeys, and not a few politicians, may often deal in pure tarradiddle. That means a lie.

Merlin Wright

other point of view. We're talking more! But understanding less!

Government has an information pamphlet, usually written in gobbledeyook, on every subject imaginable. Government shovels information toward us by the bushel. Government talks more. Understands less.

Are we becoming so scatterbrained we don't know which foot we have in our mouth? —

Viewers have power! Use the remote and perform a yappendectomy!

It may scramble TV news ratings.

But we do understand!

The voters have spoken

Dear Patrons of Districts #17, 51 and 57:

The voters have spoken. We will not pay for improved educational facilities, as presented in this bond issue, for the children in our community. The needs of our school system will not go away. We must address these needs in some way and we will need to pay for them some day.

The following list of immediate needs is gathered from a variety of surveys conducted by the school board, staff evaluations of facilities and over a dozen facility committee meetings over the past three years. The list does not include the many modifications that would need to be made to the existing middle school building to meet the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

HIGH SCHOOL

1. Science classrooms and labs do not provide enough space for current course offerings. Labs are not equipped for advanced coursework experiments.

2. Math electives are limited for students because there is not enough classroom space.

3. Foreign language enrollment is limited because there is only one classroom available for the program. UN-L will require 2 years of foreign language for admission beginning in 1997.

4. Special Education classes do not have an assigned classroom. They are currently using renovated space once assigned to the library.

5. Library space is inadequate for the collection being stored and the type of usage by students.

6. Art classes are currently held in a classroom with no windows and poor ventilation.

7. Lecture hall is in need of updated sound and lighting equipment. The light equipment installed at the time the hall was built was used, not new equipment.

8. Music Program. The band room is too small for the number of participants in the program. Vo-

Public Works Week

Votes are counted

The votes have been counted

It didn't take long to find out how the voters decided on the school bond issue Tuesday evening. The new electronic scanners worked like a charm.

The school bond issue is dead for at least 6 months. I voted for the proposal. I still believe over the long haul it will be the best plan for all concerned. But the voters have spoken, loudly I may add, and now the school board needs to come

Dennis Lapp at the Wayne Recycling Center

Since this was my first time to help recycle, I spent the first ten minutes getting instruction from Dennis, on how to separate the "recyclable items."

After my "training period" was over, the masses started to arrive. Man, was it work! It was a fairly steady stream of clients all morning. Just about everyone was really friendly and helpful. Most helped out when they got there. You really get to know people by what they recycle. I also learned that most people do know how to prepare items for recycling. But, there are always a few who think just bringing it, all lumped together is well enough. Hogwash! I bet if they spent a single hour separating bottles, cans, glasses and paper they would think about spending a little more time in preparing what they brought to the Center.

We all need to learn as much about recycling as we can. Just recently, the Wayne City Council discussed this growing problem. This problem is facing every community in the U.S. Regardless of what direction the council takes, it will continue to cost all of us more to handle our garbage.

As for the shift at the Recycling Center, it was a very interesting experience. One that I would consider doing again if asked. You never know what you will find out about the people next door.

up with plan B. What will "plan B" be? Hopefully in a few weeks we'll have a story about it in the paper. Maybe it will be a scaled down version of the same good plan they presented to us already. Could be one that takes another look at the existing site of the present Middle School and develop a plan from there. Regardless, it is high time to do something so that the children will benefit as much as the community will.

cal music does not have an assigned classroom but uses a section of the lecture hall for class. The strings program does not have an assigned classroom.

9. Locker rooms are not available for visiting teams during athletic events. There is only one girls and boys locker room making dressing difficult when a boys/girls double header is scheduled or during tournaments. The girls locker room is also smaller than the boys.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

1. Under-sized classrooms and not enough rooms for grades with larger enrollments cause scheduling problems. Current classrooms range in size from 600 to 670 square feet, the recommended size ranges from 800 to 950 square feet.

2. Science labs in the middle school are not fully functional and there needs to be an additional science room.

3. Special education classes do not have enough space.

4. Library is too small for the collection and the number of students using the facility.

5. Art does not have a classroom. Students must travel to the high school for classes.

6. Music program currently serves over 220 students in 2 rooms not designed for music classes. The band room is too small and does not have adequate acoustics. The vocal classroom is small, fifth and sixth grade vocal music is required while seventh and eighth are optional classes.

7. Multipurpose room or gym is not large enough for assemblies, concerts, athletic events or other activities such as science fair, parents or grandparents day and large group instructional activities. Physical education is required for all students fifth through eighth grade. Currently seventh and eighth grade students travel to the high school daily for P.E. due to lack of space and scheduling difficulties. Students participating in some athletic programs must practice before school at 6 a.m. or after 8 p.m.

8. Lost instructional time due to travel between the middle school and high school is estimated to be 21 hours per student involved per year or the equivalent of three days. Teachers traveling between the schools to teach classes spend about 150 hours per year in travel time.

Our hope is that the community will not ignore these needs but become involved in producing a plan that will solve the problem. If you did not like the solution presented in the bond issue, perhaps you have a better idea. Let's hear your ideas and evaluate your plan.

Metro targets respiratory care education program

Responding to a shortage of health care professionals, Metropolitan Community College in Omaha offers a program designed to educate licensed respiratory care practitioners.

The respiratory therapist provides diagnostic testing, treatment and preventive care to patients with cardiopulmonary disorders under the direct or indirect supervision of a physician utilizing sophisticated biomedical equipment.

Metropolitan Community College's Respiratory Care Technology-Respiratory Therapist program

is eight quarters of coursework that leads to an associate in applied science degree. Upon completion of the program, students are eligible to take the registry examination in respiratory care administered by the National Board for Respiratory Care.

Persons wishing to apply for admission or to obtain additional information should direct their inquiries to Jerry Moss, Respiratory Care Program Director, Metropolitan Community College, P.O. Box 3777, Omaha, NE 68103-0777 or call 1-800-228-9553.

Providing background and facts

Dear Editor,

Following the announcement that a settlement proposal had been developed regarding the Nebraska Game and Parks commission instream flow application for the Platte River, many facts have been distorted and there is a great deal of misinformation about the terms of the proposal.

Our purpose in writing this is provide background and facts on the development of the settlement offer. We know the facts first-hand, because we are the individuals who represented the "Coalition" in the negotiations with the Game and Parks Commission's sub-committee.

The "Coalition" consists of 31 agencies and organizations, including cities, natural resource districts, state-wide organizations, public power districts, irrigation districts and others who were concerned that the Game and Parks applications were so high they would prevent any future use of surface water in the Platte, Loup or Elkhorn River basins.

Opponents of the offer claim that 70 percent of the Platte River water has already been developed. This is not a total representation of the facts. While 70 percent may be allocated, all of the water is not lost from the river as some may not be diverted and much is returned. In fact, only 438,000 acre-feet of Platte River water are consumed by the Nebraska crops irrigated out of the river. In comparison, Central Platte Natural Resource District already holds instream flow water rights on the central Platte River for fish and wildlife, including water rights for whooping cranes. The amount of water protected under those rights is 542,000 acre-feet of water per year, which is 25 percent more water than is consumed by all Nebraska crops irrigated from the Platte and its tributaries.

The proposed compromise will protect an additional 143,000 acre-feet per year in the central Platte River and significantly more in the lower reaches.

Second, the claim that the environmental organizations and Game and Parks Commission staff were not consulted during this compromise is not true. Negotiations began in April of 1995 to resolve differences over the application. All parties to the application attended the initial meetings and not one organization was opposed to flows for wildlife. Negotiations through November 1995 were conducted with the Game and Parks Commission's attorney and its staff and by members of supporting environmental organizations.

When negotiations reached an impasse, three of the Game and Parks Commission members agreed to meet with representatives of parties opposed to the application in an attempt to resolve the issue. Game and parks staff and biologists were at all of these meetings and only Game and parks data were used in the negotiations, which led to the settlement proposal.

Third, the claim at 40 percent of the flows are "thrown away" under the compromise is not correct. Since the application was submitted in November of 1993, the Game and Parks staff analyzed new fisheries, data developed after the applications were filed. The analysis of this data indicates that 100 percent of optimum habitat for fish can be provided at flows 30 percent less than the initial flow levels included in the applications. Thus, roughly three-fourths of the reduction is due to more current and comprehensive Games and Parks data. Most importantly, the settlement still provides 95 percent of the optimum habitat for fish and 88 percent of the optimum habitat for whooping cranes, according to the Game and parks Commission's Data.

Fourth, the proposed settlement calls for the Coalition and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission to combine their talents and efforts to investigate methods to establish and/or maintain the hydrological and biological characteristics of "wet meadows", which are important habitats for numerous wildlife species along the central Platte River.

Finally, the proposed settlement addresses public safety and health concerns, including the continued development of water supplies for municipalities, small flood control projects, small sediment dams and other small uses of water no greater than five cfs. Without the settlement proposal, future uses for these public benefits might not be allowed.

The proposed settlement provides for a fair balance for future water use in the Platte system including future economic development and support for jobs that are necessary for the communities throughout the Platte basin. A significant amount of optimum habitat for fish and wildlife is provided for in the proposal and a lengthy hearing process costing Nebraska residents several hundred thousand dollars would be avoided. We believe it is in the best interest of the State of Nebraska to have all sides support the proposed settlement.

Hulda Jensen

Hulda Jensen, 89, of Omaha died Wednesday, May 8, 1996. Services were held at the Bethany Lutheran Church in Omaha with the Rev. Patrick Burt officiating. Graveside services were held Saturday, May 11 at the Wakefield Cemetery with the Rev. Bruce Schut of St. John's Lutheran Church officiating.

Hulda Emma Jensen, the daughter of Henry and Meta (Meyer) Echtenkamp, was born Feb. 3, 1907. The family farmed northeast of Wayne for many years and were members of Immanuel Lutheran Church. She married Raymond Jensen on Sept. 2, 1934 and they lived in Emerson, Fremont and Dallas, Texas before moving to Omaha in 1948.

Survivors include her husband, Ray of Omaha; nieces and nephews, Julie and Eldon Black of Sioux City, Myrna and Delwin Swanson and Marlene and Harlan Nelson of Oakland, Mardelle and Scott Willson of Omaha, Shirley and Bill Griggs of Alamosa, Colo., Geraldine and Dale Kinney of North Bend, Joyce Echtenkamp of Omaha, Lila and Kay Stites of Montgomery, Ala.; and a sister-in-law, Neoma Echtenkamp of Omaha. She was preceded in death by a nephew, Merlin Echtenkamp.

Lena Wagner

Lena Wagner, 91, of Wisner died Monday, May 13, 1996 at the Pender Community Hospital.

Services were held Thursday, May 16 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wisner. Pastor Gerald Roggow officiated.

Helena Katherine Augusta Wagner, the daughter of John and Anna (Guthardt) Bruse, was born Feb. 6, 1905 at Wisner. She attended rural school in Cuming County and graduated from Wisner High School in 1923. She taught rural school for four years before marrying Gus Wagner on June 1, 1927 in Sioux City, Iowa. The couple lived in Wisner, where she worked for the lunch programs at Wisner and later Wisner-Pilger Public Schools for 22 years.

Survivors include two sisters, Tena Paegge of Wayne and Dorothy Liveringhouse of Winslow, Ariz.; two nieces and one nephew.

She was preceded in death by her husband on May 9, 1977, one son Duane in 1955 and three sisters.

Burial was in the Wisner Cemetery with the Kuzelka Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Grandma Butch's is open for business

By Susie Ensz
Of the Herald

Julie Murphy's walk route regularly took her by the house on 509 North Logan. Every time she passed by she thought to herself that someone should really do something with such a nice house. "There is just something about the house," Murphy told her sister, Ardye Kniesche.

Kniesche, who had just lost her husband, was looking for something new and different to do. Murphy was also looking for some kind of business to start. "I know just the thing," Murphy told her sister.

And so the idea for Grandma Butch's Bed and Breakfast was set in motion.

The two women put in a bid for the property between Christmas and New Year's. On January 30, 1996, Murphy and Kniesche signed the papers.

The house was built in 1907. Murphy and Kniesche are the fifth owners of the house after buying it from Steve and Catherine Williams.

Murphy and Kniesche had help from eager family members and friends. Frank Bell, godfather to Murphys' two sons, Jim and John, served as the catalyst for the project. "Frank was kind of the general contractor. He answered any questions we had along the way," said Murphy. "All the kids have been very supportive. Even my boys' girlfriends helped. We could have never completed this so quickly without the help of family and friends."

The name "Grandma Butch's" stems from the parents of Murphy and Kniesche, Butch and Evelyn Woods. The grandkids called Evelyn "Grandma Butch". Both women found the name a great way to remember their mother.

Grandma Butch's has four bedrooms, each with its own theme—the bridal room, the Nebraska room, the heart room and the owl room. Most bed and breakfasts have different themes for each room, and the idea of naming the rooms was a great way to add character to the house. "Each room takes on a personality of its own," said Murphy. "People may want to request a certain room prior to arriving."

Grandma Butch's Bed & Breakfast is located at 502 North Logan Street in Wayne. The remodeling began the first of February. The bed and breakfast is now open for business.

Everyone worked to clean up the area around the house. The spacious, fenced-in back yard contains picnic tables, flowers, trees and shrubs. Murphy and Kniesche plan to use the area for receptions or other outdoor functions.

The new owners will apply for a zoning variance for a tearoom. "We won't be open all the time," said Murphy. "When people request the room, we'll provide noon luncheons or maybe some evening activities." To accommodate all guests, the two have four local professional caterers to provide food at Grandma Butch's. The sisters agree Grandma

Butch's is unique because of the "homey" atmosphere. Kniesche said a certain-traveling clientele look for a bed and breakfast. "It's like we are inviting people who are passing through town into our home for the more-homey atmosphere," said Murphy. Grandma Butch's has board games, a lounge room, a reading area, and will soon have a bookshelf of reading material which will include books on the history of Wayne County.

The two women credit Lila and Ernie Swanson, owners of Swanson's Bed and Breakfast north of Wayne, whom they used as an example when starting their own bed and breakfast.

"The business of bed and breakfasts is not competitive" said Murphy. "All owners promote tourism and it doesn't matter if a person stays in a bed and breakfast in Oregon or in Texas. If the person likes staying in a bed and breakfast, he or she will eventually stay here."

Murphy and Kniesche did all the work they could locally. This included the financing, the furnishings, the plumbing and the electrical work. They would like to thank everybody who helped with the project.

Grandma Butch's is now open for business. The two believe bed and breakfasts will continue to grow in popularity. Both say being able to relax and talk with others in an environment close to one's own home is appealing. Kniesche said, "Bed and breakfasts are bringing back the art of conversation."

Jaycess to sponsor fireworks

The Wayne County Jaycees will be sponsoring a Fourth of July fireworks event this year at Hank Overin Field.

Overall chairman Scott Brummond anticipates the approximately half hour show will begin after dusk on the evening of the Fourth.

The Jaycees have begun raising the approximately $5,000 needed to hold the event. According to fundraising chairman Ron Gentrup, a raffle was concluded recently.

Gentrup says the chapter also has plans to place donation canisters in local businesses. Or if you prefer, you can send your donation directly to the chapter at State National Bank and Trust Company, Attn: Ron Gentrup, P.O. Box 130, Wayne, NE 68787.

April precip below normal

The Wayne area received 1.03 inches of precipitation during the month of April. This is down from the ten-year average of 2.20 inches.

The year has been somewhat drier than the ten-year average also. Through the end of April, the area has received 3.21 inches of precipitation, 1.90 inches less than the average.

Temperatures in the month ranged from 18 degrees on April 6 to 82 degrees on April 25.

Pat Gross, the official Wayne Weather Observer, said, "I have heard tell we have never dried out in April, or May for that matter. But there is no doubt we could use a little rain."

Checking playground equipment

Communities have historically provided and enjoyed an assortment of equipment for entertaining children in parks and playgrounds. That scenario may rapidly change as we have progressively become a litigious society with what appears to be an elevated sensibility concerning suing and being sued.

City authorities, park superintendents and playground planners are responding to the situation, taking another look at potential hazards. The City of Wayne is no exception as local officials study the need of conducting an inventory of current slides, swings, merry-go-rounds, barrels and teeter-totters.

Monkey bars and jungle gyms have provided thousands of children with exercise and fun, however those days may be drawing to a close as insurance companies become increasingly concerned about potential litigation involving playground injuries.

Determining what recreational equipment to provide, and assessing its possible risks, is likely to be a number one priority throughout America. As a consequence, the possibility of removing and losing playground paraphernalia looms as a reality.

Local government officials are aware of the problem and are apparently planning on expanding further discussion on the subject.

We feel Wayne is a good place to live, work and shop. Giving our attention to possible hazards, particularly those that might endanger children, must remain a high priority.

No serious injuries have occurred in our parks while using the equipment, to our knowledge, but taking a look and an inventory appears timely.

Outages need investigating

Residents of Wakefield, Wayne, Winside, Carroll and Sholes were left in the dark Tuesday afternoon due to an equipment malfunction at the Belden substation.

Outages occur when problems either arise on the local level, at substations in Emerson or Belden, or the weather knocks out lines and poles. Wayne normally gets its power from the Emerson substation, however it is currently undergoing necessary maintenance. Consequently for the last three weeks Wayne has been fed by the Belden station. Tuesday afternoon something popped at the Belden plant causing a considerable area to curse the darkness.

Area residents have experienced a record number of outages in the last 12 months, or so it would appear. When the power fluctuates or goes out, not only can electrical fixtures be subject to damage, but computer data is lost, businesses lose needed trade, cash registers are out, gas can't be pumped, manufacturing suffers, schools and the college campus are impacted, literally hundreds of employees necessarily sit and wait until power is restored.

No one can accurately calculate the actual financial cost and work loss. Inconvenience is measured in anger.

The Wayne city council may want to launch an investigation for the purpose of determining how future outages can best be avoided, as the financial and labor losses ought not be added burdens in the present economy.

Presenting a Top 10 things list

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Discounting the tornadoes that plagued southeast Nebraska recently and that nasty Christian Peter-affair and you could say the state is on sort of a roll.

Afterall, the rains came and people aren't talking about the Drought of '96 anymore. Plus, late-night talk show host David Letterman (the one that wanted to replace Johnny Carson but got tons of money to move to another network) finally picked Wahoo as the home office for his Top Ten List gag.

The selection sort of reminded me of Nebraska's wooing of that computer-chip manufacturer, Micron (you know, the one that wanted to move to the Cornhusker State but got tons of money to move to Utah. It then promptly ditched its project).

Micron kept leading Nebraska on and on, asking for more and more. But unlike Micron, Letterman finally picked Wahoo — after the town threw in the kitchen sink, a couple of local lads and an older model Ford Pinto, a car destined to never become a classic.

So in commemoration of that selection, let's present a Top 10 list of our own: The Top Ten Things that will happen politically this summer.

No. 10 — Ben Nelson finally endorses Bill Clinton for President. (This would only happen, of course, after Gov. Nelson is comfortably ahead in the polls so it won't hurt his chances to serve in the U.S. Senate.)

No. 9 — John Breslow attacks the Governor, Secretary of State and just about every other elected official for doing something he doesn't like. (This one's a lock.)

No. 8 — An effort begins to roll back the state Interstate speed limit to 70 mph. Give us a couple of bad accidents at 75, and it will get intense.

No. 7 — Only one of the property tax measures collects enough signatures (and it fails to pass this November). So much for the crisis.

No. 6 — Micron decides to move again but picks a site next to Harvey's Casino. Council Bluffs, Iowa, has all the fun.

No. 5 — The Santee Indian Casino reopens and then is closed again. They just don't give up.

No. 4 — Nelson and Don Stenberg spat. (Can you imagine how bitter this feud would become if Chuck Hagel beat both of them?)

No. 3 — Lt. Gov. Kim Robak, in another effort to increase her profile, is named to head up another unexplainable but breathtakingly important effort to reorganize something. No one can say exactly how it's going to work, but it will and it will be great.

No. 2 — State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly is knighted, Sir Jerry. He deserves it for his work on the property tax issue.

No. 1 — Letterman tires of saying "Wahoo" and picks "Yipoo, Vt." as his new home office. The entertainer is bludgeoned to death by a pound of frozen Wahoo weiners dropped off the Empire State Building. Serves him right.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Public Works Week

Talking more and understanding less?

Are we all talking more and understanding less?

A new survey shows fewer Americans are watching the evening network news, or should we call them propaganda bites? Being as smart as a steel trap means knowing when to shut up, right? Television news anchors don't have a clue in recognizing the dividing line between hard news and personal views. With a smile turned on at half pressure, a news-type may often join the caravan of those talking more and understanding less.

Now the most underdeveloped territory in the world lies under our hat...that's no secret to most of us...but we resent being treated like a chorus of mummies.

Just a word of caution: remember when you're watching the "news", that reporter may think a universal joint is a building at the United Nations. But those of us having come from a rural background, oftentimes considered by smug TV news producers to be mere ignoramuses, not only know what a universal joint is, but we also know how to work the "Off" button on the remote.

Horse sense is nothing more than stable thinking, and the city folk, who have never stepped in barnyard stuff they shouldn't, don't understand that when it "hits the wall", as we say out here in Nebraska, it means we are tired of hearing words on the telly that are yelled, spelled, slurred, blurred, whispered, sighed, and cried. For don't you see, the telly's talkative, tale-telling, electronic news jockeys, and not a few politicians, may often deal in pure tarradiddle. That means a lie.

other point of view. We're talking more! But understanding less!

Government has an information pamphlet, usually written in gobbledygook, on every subject imaginable. Government shovels information toward us by the bushel. Government talks more. Understands less.

Are we becoming so scatter-brained we don't know which foot we have in our mouth?

Viewers have power! Use the remote and perform a yappendectomy!

It may scramble TV news ratings. But we do understand!

The voters have spoken

Dear Patrons of Districts #17, 51 and 57:

The voters have spoken. We will not pay for improved educational facilities, as presented in this bond issue, for the children in our community. The needs of our school system will not go away. We must address these needs in some way and we will need to pay for them some day.

The following list of immediate needs is gathered from a variety of surveys conducted by the school board, staff evaluations of facilities and over a dozen facility committee meetings over the past three years. The list does not include the many modifications that would need to be made to the existing middle school building to meet the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

HIGH SCHOOL

1. Science classrooms and labs do not provide enough space for current course offerings. Labs are not equipped for advanced coursework experiments.

2. Math electives are limited for students because there is not enough classroom space.

3. Foreign language enrollment is limited because there is only one classroom available for the program. UN-L will require 2 years of foreign language for admission beginning in 1997.

4. Special Education classes do not have an assigned classroom. They are currently using renovated space once assigned to the library.

5. Library space is inadequate for the collection being stored and the type of usage by students.

6. Art classes are currently held in a classroom with no windows and poor ventilation.

7. Lecture hall is in need of updated sound and lighting equipment. The light equipment installed at the time the hall was built was used, not new equipment.

8. Music Program. The band room is too small for the number of participants in the program. Vo-

Votes are counted

The votes have been counted. It didn't take long to find out how the voters decided on the school bond issue Tuesday evening. The new electronic scanners worked like a charm.

The school bond issue is dead for at least 6 months. I voted for the proposal. I still believe over the long haul it will be the best plan for all concerned. But the voters have spoken, loudly I may add, and now the school board needs to come

Dennis Lopp at the Wayne Recycling Center

Since this was my first time to help recycle, I spent the first ten minutes getting instruction from Dennis, on how to separate the "recyclable items."

After my "training period" was over, the masses started to arrive. Man, was it work! It was a fairly steady stream of clients all morning. Just about everyone was really friendly and helpful. Most helped out when they got there. You really get to know people by what they recycle. I also learned that most people do know how to prepare items for recycling. But, there are always a few who think just bringing it, all lumped together is well enough. Hogwash! I bet if they spent a single hour separating bottles, cans, glasses and paper they would think about spending a little more time in preparing what they brought to the Center.

We all need to learn as much about recycling as we can. Just recently, the Wayne City Council discussed this growing problem. This problem is facing every community in the U.S. Regardless of what direction the council takes, it will continue to cost all of us more to handle our garbage.

As for the shift at the Recycling Center, it was a very interesting experience. One that I would consider doing again if asked. You never know what you will find out about the people next door.

up with plan B. What will "plan B" be? Hopefully in a few weeks we'll have a story about it in the paper. Maybe it will be a scaled down version of the same good plan they presented to us already. Could be one that takes another look at the existing site of the present Middle School and develop a plan from there. Regardless, it is high time to do something so that the children will benefit as much as the community will.

cal music does not have an assigned classroom but uses a section of the lecture hall for class. The strings program does not have an assigned classroom.

9. Locker rooms are not available for visiting teams during athletic events. There is only one girls and boys locker room making dressing difficult when a boys/girls double header is scheduled or during tournaments. The girls locker room is also smaller than the boys.

MIDDLE SCHOOL
1. Under-sized classrooms and not enough rooms for grades with larger enrollments cause scheduling problems. Current classrooms range in size from 600 to 670 square feet, the recommended size ranges from 800 to 950 square feet.

2. Science labs in the middle school are not fully functional and there needs to be an additional science room.

3. Special education classes do not have enough space.

4. Library is too small for the collection and the number of students using the facility.

5. Art does not have a classroom. Students must travel to the high school for classes.

6. Music program currently serves over 220 students in 2 rooms not designed for music classes. The band room is too small and does not have adequate acoustics. The vocal classroom is small, fifth and sixth grade vocal music is required, while seventh and eighth are optional classes.

7. Multipurpose room or gym is not large enough for assemblies, concerts, athletic events or other activities such as science fair, parents or grandparents day and large group instructional activities. Physical education is required for all students fifth through eighth grade. Currently seventh and eighth grade students travel to the high school daily for P.E. due to lack of space and scheduling difficulties. Students participating in some athletic programs must practice before school at 6 a.m. or after 8 p.m.

8. Lost instructional time due to travel between the middle school and high school is estimated to be 21 hours per student involved per year or the equivalent of three days. Teachers traveling between the schools to teach classes spend about 150 hours per year in travel time.

Our hope is that the community will not ignore these needs but become involved in producing a plan that will solve the problem. If you did not like the solution presented in the bond issue, perhaps you have a better idea. Let's hear your ideas and evaluate your plan.

Metro targets respiratory care education program

Responding to a shortage of health care professionals, Metropolitan Community College in Omaha offers a program designed to educate licensed respiratory care practitioners.

The respiratory therapist provides diagnostic testing, treatment and preventive care to patients with cardiopulmonary disorders under the direct or indirect supervision of a physician utilizing sophisticated biomedical equipment.

Metropolitan Community College's Respiratory Care Technology-Respiratory Therapist program

is eight quarters of coursework that leads to an associate in applied science degree. Upon completion of the program, students are eligible to take the registry examination in respiratory care administered by the National Board for Respiratory Care.

Persons wishing to apply for admission or to obtain additional information should direct their inquiries to Jerry Moss, Respiratory Care Program Director, Metropolitan Community College, P.O. Box 3777, Omaha, NE 68103-0777 or call 1-800-228-9553.

Providing background and facts

Dear Editor,

Following the announcement that a settlement proposal had been developed regarding the Nebraska Game and Parks commission instream flow application for the Platte River, many facts have been distorted and there is a great deal of misinformation about the terms of the proposal.

Our purpose in writing this is provide background and facts on the development of the settlement offer. We know the facts first-hand, because we are the individuals who represented the "Coalition" in the negotiations with the Game and Parks Commission's sub-committee.

The "Coalition" consists of 31 agencies and organizations, including cities, natural resource districts, state-wide organizations, public power districts, irrigation districts and others who were concerned that the Game and Parks applications were so high they would prevent any future use of surface water in the Platte, Loup or Elkhorn River basins.

Opponents of the offer claim that 70 percent of the Platte River water has already been developed. This is not a total representation of the facts. While 70 percent may be allocated, all of the water is not lost from the river as some may not be diverted and much is returned. In fact, only 438,000 acre-feet of Platte River water are consumed by the Nebraska crops irrigated out of the river. In comparison, Central Platte Natural Resource District already holds instream flow water rights on the central Platte River for fish and wildlife, including water rights for whooping cranes. The amount of water protected under those rights is 542,000 acre-feet of water per year, which is 25 percent more water than is consumed by all Nebraska crops irrigated from the Platte and its tributaries.

The proposed compromise will protect an additional 143,000 acre-feet per year in the central Platte River and significantly more in the lower reaches.

Second, the claim that the environmental organizations and Game and Parks Commission staff were not consulted during this compromise is not true. Negotiations began in April of 1995 to resolve differences over the application. All parties to the application attended the initial meetings and not one organization was opposed to flows for wildlife. Negotiations through November 1995 were conducted with the Game and Parks Commission's attorney and its staff and by members of supporting environmental organizations.

When negotiations reached an impasse, three of the Game and Parks Commission members agreed to meet with representatives of parties opposed to the application in an attempt to resolve the issue. Game and parks staff and biologists were at all of these meetings and only Game and parks data were used in the negotiations, which led to the settlement proposal.

Third, the claim at 40 percent of the flows are "thrown away" under the compromise is not correct. Since the application was submitted in November of 1993, the Game and Parks staff analyzed new fisheries, data developed after the applications were filed. The analysis of this data indicates that 100 percent of optimum habitat for fish can be provided at flows 30 percent less than the initial flow levels included in the applications. Thus, roughly three-fourths of the reduction is due to more current and comprehensive Games and Parks data. Most importantly, the settlement still provides 95 percent of the optimum habitat for fish and 88 percent of the optimum habitat for whooping cranes, according to the Game and parks Commission's Data.

Fourth, the proposed settlement calls for the Coalition and the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission to combine their talents and efforts to investigate methods to establish and/or maintain the hydrological and biological characteristics of "wet meadows", which are important habitats for numerous wildlife species along the central Platte River.

Finally, the proposed settlement addresses public safety and health concerns, including the continued development of water supplies for municipalities, small flood control projects, small sediment dams and other small uses of water no greater than five cfs. Without the settlement proposal, future uses for these public benefits might not be allowed.

The proposed settlement provides for a fair balance for future water use in the Platte system including future economic development and support for jobs that are necessary for the communities throughout the Platte basin. A significant amount of optimum habitat for fish and wildlife is provided for in the proposal and a lengthy hearing process costing Nebraska residents several hundred thousand dollars would be avoided. We believe it is in the best interest of the State of Nebraska to have all sides support the proposed settlement.

Wayne sends 8 athletes to State

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

The Wayne boys track team took fourth place, while the girls team took fifth at the B-4 District Meet at Albion last Thursday.

The boys were led by Spencer Stednitz, who qualified for State by winning the 3200 meter run in a time of 10:02.1 and the 1600 meter run, clocking 4:53.0. Brad Maryott also is headed for State after winning the long jump with a mark of 21'2". He also finished fourth in the 200 meter dash, clocking 23.7, which was good enough to qualify for State.

Sara Kinney, Amy Close, and Anne Wiseman all qualified for State in the 3200 meter run. Kinney won the event with a time of 12:06.0, while Close placed second in 12:12.4 and Wiseman took fourth, clocking 12:43.8.

Kinney also qualified in the 1600 meter run. Kinney took a close second in the race with a time of 5:44.2.

Wayne's 3200 meter relay team of Lisa Walton, Jessica Raveling, Molly Linster and Kinney is also headed to Burke Stadium after a fourth place finish in 10:19.5.

Winside, Laurel win district titles

By Korey Berg
Of the Herald

Winside won the boys title and Laurel-Concord claimed the girls championship at the C-4 District track meet at South Sioux City last Thursday.

Winside scored 97 points in their victory. Chad O'Connor led the Wildcats with a first place finish in the high jump (6'2") and a second place finish in the triple jump (43'1 1/2"), qualifying for State in both events. Jamey Holdorf is headed for State after winning the 110 meter hurdles, clocking 15.3, while Brock Shelton placed second in the discus (117'4") and is also going to Omaha.

Laurel-Concord's boys placed fourth with 70 points. Jeff Wattier placed second in both the 100 meter dash (11.2) and 200 meter dash (22.1), while David Pinkerton took runner-up in the 300 hurdles, clocking 42.5. The Bears 4 x 400 meter relay team of Vince Ward, Todd Arens, Wattier and Josh Anderson is also headed for State after winning their event with a time of 3:35.5.

Wakefield finished seventh in the team standings with 39 points. Justin Mackling won a silver in the high jump, clearing the bar at 6'. The Trojans 4 x 100 meter relay team of Mackling, Matt Peterson, Ryan Hoffman and Jim Rusk finished first with a time of 45.1.

Laurel-Concord's girls scored 95 points in their winning effort. Tracy Ankeny and Ely Harder took first and second in the 1600 meter run, clocking 5:46.8 and 5:54.8, respectively. Harder also won the 3200 meter run with a time of 12:35.8. Michelle Wiltse cleared the high jump at 5' to claim first, while Dena Stapelman took second in the 800 meter run, clocking 2:37.

LCHS also took first in three relay events. The 4 x 800 meter relay team of Stapelman, Ankeny, Mandy Eaton and Harder clocked 12:14.5. Ankeny, Stapelman, Gina Monson and Katie Monson made up the 4 x 100 meter relay team that timed in at 55.9 and the 4 x 400 meter relay team that clocked 4:27.5.

Winside tied for second in the girls division with 67 points. Stacey Wittler earned a spot at State by winning the 800 meter run with a time of 2:35.1. Ann Brugger placed second in both the shot put (31'8") and the discus (108'5").

Wakefield took ninth in the team standings with 32 points. Alison Benson won the 100 meter high hurdles, clocking 16.4, and took second in the triple jump with a leap of 33'9 1/2".

Exchange student revisits

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

During the 1969-70 school year, Tessie Urian was an AFS exchange student at Wayne High School from the Philippines. Twenty-six years later, she and her family returned to Wayne to visit her host family, and other familiar sites.

During her year in Wayne Tessie stayed with the Walter Peterson family. Mrs. Peterson (Lucille) said they have stayed in touch with Tessie throughout the years, but this was the first time they had seen each other since 1970.

Since Tessie's return to the Philippines, she married Renato Soriano, had two children and became the head sales director of the oldest bank in the Philippines.

The family is currently on a three-week vacation through the United States.

Tessie is currently the assistant vice-president of the bank and her husband is employed with steel products.

The family landed in San Francisco, Calif. and then flew to Florida to visit the family Renato had lived with when he was an exchange student.

The trip has included visits to Washington, D.C., New Jersey, Grand Rapids and Racine, Wisc. and Nebraska. The family has traveled 3,200 miles since leaving Florida.

"This was a good time for us to travel. In the Philippines school is out from March to June so the children were able to travel without missing school. We have been planning the trip since early this year," Tessie said.

The Soriano's children are 13

The Soriano family recently toured the Wayne High School which Tessie attended in 1969. They include Jason, Renato, Jennifer, Tessie and Lucille Peterson who was Tessie's host during her stay in Wayne.

year-old Jennifer and 11 year-old Jason.

The children's favorite part of the trip has been the visits to theme parks and an Orlando Magic basketball game.

They also commented that it was cold and quiet in Wayne. In the Philippines it would have been nearly 90 degrees.

Tessie said Wayne has changed in the 26 years since she left. "There has been a lot of development, but the community is very pleasant."

During their visit to Wayne, the Sorianos toured Wayne High School and visited with three of Tessie's classmates.

When asked to comment on differences and similarities between the two countries, Tessie spoke of schools, children and travel.

"The technology in schools here is more advanced. Sports are not as formal on the high school level in the Philippines. Also, students are finished with the equivalent of high school at age 16," she said.

Most classes in schools are taught in English and English is taught as a language to all students.

Children usually stay with their families longer in the Philippines. "Most of the time, children remain with their parents until they get married, usually when they are 24 or 25 years old."

The Sorianos live in Bulacan which is a suburb of Manila, a city of nearly 15 million people. They commute to work each day, a trip that takes nearly an hour. Cars are not as common and gas prices are higher in the Philippines.

Both Tessie and Renato were exchange students and had toured the U.S. as part of the exchange program. However, this was the first time they had been back to the United States and the first time the children had been here.

The Sorianos say there has been a great deal of American influence in their country, especially in recent years. "We have most of the same fast food chains that are here, we watch American movies on TV and my son collects basketball cards" Renato said.

These businesses want you to keep their card for future reference and great service!

Hardees working as a team

Changes are taking place at Hardees in Wayne, Nebraska.

The lobby of Hardees has taken on a new look with the removal of the western theme. Plans are also being made to change the outside appearance of the restaurant.

In addition to structural changes, Hardees Corporation has many new ideas planned for the near future, including:

- lowered prices
- faster service
- new sandwiches
- catering services for graduations, weddings and family reunions

- chicken served until 9 p.m.
- $2.99 combo specials throughout the week, changing daily
- birthday party service with a cake, a t-shirt and a clown
- new french vanilla cappuccino
- teamwork

"We are looking for new management who will concentrate on not just better service, but excellent service to our customers," said Bob and Steph Freeman, owners of the restaurant.

Freemans heard complaints about the young people serving the customers, but said, "The young kids were not the problem. From our observations, the Wayne community can be very proud of the young people. Those who have remained and those newly hired are loyal, hard workers."

Starting Friday, May 17, Hardees will be offering a variety of new menu items. The staff at Hardees looks forward to offering new choices at a lower price.

"Hardees would like to thank the customers for being patient during these few weeks of changes. Suggestions and comments are also welcome.

Former WSC student receives award

The University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Dentistry Alumni Association awarded Beth Highby an outstanding leadership award during its senior class dental banquet May 3 in Lincoln.

Each year, the award is presented to one senior hygiene student who has exhibited exemplary leadership throughout their college careers.

Beth Highby, a native of Sidney, was the recipient. While in school, Highby developed and managed a cancer clinic which studied the oral complications of patients undergoing cancer therapy. In addition to studying the complications, Highby made recommendations about how dentists and hygienists should treat such patients.

Highby also participated in "R-Hop," the Rural Health Opportunities Program. As a participant in the program, she studied tuition-free at Wayne State College for her first two years of hygiene training. She completed her final two years of training at the College of Dentistry in Lincoln. In exchange for free tuition during the first two years, Highby agreed to practice in a rural area for a minimum of two years after graduation. Highby graduated May 4 and will practice in Sidney.

Student chosen to read poetry

Claire Rasmussen a Coe College sophomore from Wayne, has been chosen as one of eight college students who read their poetry at the Des Moines National Poetry Festival on May 4.

The festival is a major gathering for writers from across the U.S. and presenters are selected based on a review of their writings submitted in advance. All those who read at the conference will also have their works published in a journal produced by the Des Moines National Poetry Festival.

Claire Rasmussen, the daughter of Charlene and Russ Rasmussen, is the secretary of the English Club and was poetry editor of The Coe Review.

over only the amount of leave accumulated in that calendar year.

The council will allow employees a one-time only sell-back of up to one-half of vacation leave. Employees will have to make the decision to sell by June 2 and need to sell by Nov. 1.

The council discussed proposals on collection of garbage and recycling services.

The solid waste committee recommended contracting for these services and the council discussed the hope of giving consideration to local haulers.

Currently the city does not have a proposal in place but plans to discuss the issue again at its June 11 meeting.

The city need to have a solid waste plan in effect by April 1, 1997.

The council heard from Gene Hansen on the overhaul of the city's LSV-16 Cooper-Bessemer Power Plant engine. Total cost for the overhaul was $150,332. The engine is valued at approximately $3 million.

Fire Patrol graduates

Area fourth graders received graduation certificates for completing Junior Fire Patrol. Students received certificates and a number of prizes, as well as being treated to hot dogs, chips and pop during the final meeting. Rides were given on the fire trucks. This is the 33rd year for the program. Those attending were, from Mr. Reikofski's class, back row, left to right, Karissa Hockstein, Stacie Hoeman, Lacey Wurdeman, Bret Morlok, Jessie Nelson and Matthew Roeber. Front row, Rachel Robins, Mark Kanitz, Tiffany Webb and Jacob Kay. From Mrs. Benschoff's class, back row are Marisa Rose, Cari Sturm, Joshua Sharer, Trevor Kuzman and Andrew Lowe. Middle row, Katy Olson, Matt Nelson, Blake Schaffer and Chris Nissen. Front row, Jamie Backstrom, Jessica Thomsen and Jerry Woldt. From Mrs. Hamer's class, back row are Allison Hansen, Savannah Mrsny, Mary Boehle, Chad Jensen, Heath Dickes and Grant Powell. Front row are Kyle Triggs, Leah Pickenpaugh, Carrie Walton, Josh Ford Ben Allemann. At right are students from Carroll Elementary, St. Mary's Elementary and District 57. Back row are Karie Hochstein, Bryan West and Daniel Reinhardt. Front row are Sheila Meyer, Michelle Murray and Katie Osten. Bill Kugler was in charge of the program.

students in fourth and seventh grades.

The board also approved the hiring of Kay Mader as a speech and language instructor and the establishment of a petty cash account. The account was recommended by the school's auditor to be in line with the Department of Education's Rule 2.

Roger Reikofski, a fourth grade teacher at Wayne Elementary spoke to the board on a program called GLOBE which is a worldwide environment and weather data collecting program the school will be implementing next year. He told board members the program is designed so the whole community can be involved.

The board heard from Steve Rasmussen on the establishment of an outdoor classroom. Rasmussen told the board that the arboretum/outdoor classroom would be planted west of the school parking lot and involve approximately one acre of land.

"This class room would educate the community and will go on for years. The German Club bought a Linden tree and with the help of a number of agencies, we have developed a plan for the area," he said.

The city of Wayne and Wayne State College have indicated interest in the project which involves the planting of trees, shrubs and grasses. Wildlife will also be attracted to the area. Students in all grades could use the outdoor classroom.

Dennis App also shared highlights of his recent trip to a National Board Conference in Orlando, Florida.

Missionary teacher in Russia has program for Teacher's Association

The Wayne Area Retired Teacher's Association met at Riley's in Wayne on May 7 at 10 a.m.

Betty Anderson, president, welcomed guests Louise Stark and State President Mildred Boyd. She opened the meeting by reading a poem by Helen Steiner Rice, "It's A Wonderful World." Sixteen members responded to roll call.

Committee reports were given, community service by Lois Schlines, legislative by Alice Schulte, membership by Ferne Kelley and health by Ruth Grone.

New business consisted of members being made aware of the Lincoln workshop on June 6 at the West Western Motel. The state convention will be in Kearney on Sept. 27.

Next meeting will be on July 2 at 6:30 at the First Methodist Church in Wayne. There will be a potluck dinner and a white elephant exchange. The Sept. 3 meeting will be at Tooties in Hartington at 10 a.m.

Mildred Boyd of Lincoln gave an update on association business and legislative matters currently being considered in the legislature.

Marilyn Wajjin, program chairman, then introduced Louise Stark, formerly of Martinsburg and now a resident of Norfolk. She has had a very interesting career in the Air Force, taught in Alaska, been a missionary in Egypt and the Holy Land. Her latest assignment has been as a missionary teacher in a private school in St. Petersburg, Russia. This school has first through eighth grades. She taught conversational English to the students.

She was very enthusiastic about teaching there — had a lot of respect for the 200 students in the school. Everything was written on the chalk board by the teacher and the students had their own copy books. There was a shortage of textbooks throughout the school. Classes were 50 minutes in duration with a 10 minute break each hour. Playground space was also very limited.

She stayed in Russian homes to learn more about their culture. She was very impressed with the students, most of whom were avid readers, very affectionate and a delight to work with.

What characteristics rank highest?

Q. When you speak of "rigid specifications" on which human worth is evaluated, what characteristics rank the highest to us?

A. At the top of the list of the most highly respected and valued attributes in our culture is physical attractiveness. Those who happen to have it are often honored and even feared; those who do not may be disrespected and rejected through no fault of their own.

Though it seems incredibly unfair, this measure of human worth is evident from the earliest moments of life, when an attractive infant is considered more valuable than a homely one. For this reason, it is not uncommon for a mother to be depressed shortly after the birth of her first baby. She knew that most newborns can be rather homely looking, but she hadn't expected such a disaster! In fact, she had secretly hoped to give birth to a grinning, winking, blinking, 6-week-old Gerber baby, having two front teeth and rosy, pink cheeks. Instead, they hand her a red, toothless, bald, prune-faced, screaming little creature.

As children grow, their value as a person will be assessed not only by their parents, but also by those outside the home. Beauty contests offering scholarships and prizes for gorgeous babies have been around for decades, as if the attractive young women don't already have enough advantages awaiting them in life. This distorted system of evaluating human worth can be seen in a thousand other examples.

I can still recall a tragedy that occurred in Chicago during the 1960s, when eight student nurses were viciously murdered. The following day, a commentator was discussing the violent event on the radio, and he made this observation: "The thing that makes this tragedy much worse is that all eight of these girls were so attractive!" In other words, the girls were more valuable human beings because of their beauty, thus making their loss more tragic.

If one accepts that statement, then the opposite is also true: The murders would have been less tragic if homely girls were involved. The conclusion, as written by author George Orwell in Animal Farm, is inescapable: "All [people] are equal, but some [people] are more equal than others."

Focus On The Family With Dr. James Dobson

My point is that from the earliest experience of life, a child begins to learn the social importance of physical beauty. The values of his society cannot be kept from his little ears, and many adults do not even try to conceal their bias.

Q. What are the prospects for very pretty or handsome children? Do they usually have smooth sailing all the way?

A. They have some remarkable advantages. They are much more likely to accept themselves and enjoy the benefits of self-confidence. However, they also face some unique problems that homely children never experience.

Beauty in our society is power, and power can be dangerous in immature hands. A 14-year-old nymph, for example, who is prematurely curved and rounded in all the right places, may be pursued vigorously by males who want to exploit her beauty.

As she becomes more conscious of her flirtatious power, she is sometimes urged toward promiscuity. Furthermore, women who have been coveted physically since early childhood, such as actresses Marilyn Monroe or Sharon Stone, may become bitter and disillusioned by the depersonalization of body worship.

Research also indicates some interesting consequences in regard to marital stability for the "beautiful people." In one important study, the more attractive college girls were found to be less happily married 25 years later. It is apparently difficult to reserve the "power" of sex for one mate, ignoring the ego gratification that awaits outside the marriage bonds. And finally, the more attractive a person is in his or her youth, the more painful is the aging process.

My point is this: The measurement of worth on a scale of beauty is wrong and often damaging to the "haves" and the "have-nots."

These questions and answers are excerpted from the book Dr. Dobson Answers Your Questions. Former Wayne resident is nominated for daytime Emmy

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

The Daytime Emmy awards will be presented in New York on May 22 and a Wayne resident will have more than a passing interest in the results.

For Joan Proett, the winners in two categories could be her son and daughter-in-law.

Her son Dan, a 1971 graduate of Wayne High, works as a Set Decorator for the soap opera "General Hospital" and her daughter-in-law, Nancy Konrady, is an Assistant Costume Designer.

In all, "General Hospital" has been nominated for ten awards.

Dan began his career by earning a degree in theater from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He then worked in a number of different theaters in New York, designing sets.

He also taught classes at Rutgers University in New Jersey which is where he met his wife.

Dan has been working on the set of General Hospital for five years and his wife has been with the show for three years.

"This is the first time either of their areas have been nominated and I think it is neat that they were both nominated at the same time," Joan said.

Dan and Nancy will fly from Los Angeles to New York next week for the awards ceremony and will know May 18 whether or not they will receive the Emmys.

Mrs. Proett is a regular viewer of General Hospital and has visited the set and met a number of the soap's characters.

Nancy Konrady and Dan Proett

"The show is taped two weeks ahead of what is being aired. When I talk to Dan and Nancy, they can't tell me what will happen," Mrs. Proett added.

Hillside Club gathers with Roberta Oswald

Hillside Club met on May 7 at the Roberta Oswald home. Roll call was answered by seven members and one guest, Lorraine Erlehen. They told how they would describe themselves to others.

A time of silent prayer was held for member Agnes Gilliland, who died in April.

The secretary and treasurer reports were read and accepted. Dorothy Grone, president for 1995-96, named committees for the coming year.

Pitch was played and prizes awarded to Lydia Thomsen, Virginia Dranselka and Dorothy Grone.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Dorothy Grone.

Agenbroad is honored

Brenda Agenbroad of Wayne was honored as the Haven House Volunteer of the Year at an appreciation dinner held in connection with National Volunteer Appreciation Week.

Miss Agenbroad was selected from the 42 volunteers for the award. She has been volunteering her services since September of 1992 and has contributed over 1,500 hours of volunteer service.

Haven House volunteers perform a wide variety of services. Michelle Evans, Outreach/Volunteer Coordinator stated, "volunteers are a very important aspect of Haven House. Volunteers have the choice of either doing client or non-client work and put in the amount of hours that best fit into their schedules."

Some of the services that volunteers are involved in include client and child advocacy, emergency transportation, office work and outreach.

Ms. Evans said their is a great need need for community members to volunteer.

"Approximately 85 percent of the current volunteer force are college students. When summer or college breaks roll around a lot of the volunteers leave Wayne, causing a shortage of people to serve the clients," Ms. Evans added.

Anyone interested in volunteering for Haven House can call (402) 375-4633 for more information.

Avoid Excess Vitamin A During Pregnancy

Vitamin A was the first fat soluble vitamin discovered. This vitamin probably is best known for its effect on vision. Vitamin A supplements can correct deficiencies that lead to a condition called night blindness. Because vitamin A deficiency can lead to susceptibilities to viral, bacterial, and parasitic infections, this vitamin is sometimes referred to as the "anti-infective" vitamin.

In addition, vitamin A is involved in the growth and development of bone and soft tissues. It is necessary that the unborn fetus receive appropriate amounts of this important vitamin. However, according to a recent report in New England Journal of Medicine, exposure of the fetus to large amounts of vitamin A can cause birth defects. The study evaluated birth defect risk which was nearly 5 times higher for women who took over 10,000 units daily as compared to 5,000 units daily.

Couple in England for encounter weekend

Pastor Duane and Bonnie Marburger of Concord recently returned from a trip to England to assist in leading a United Marriage Encounter Weekend. While there, they also had the opportunity to do a little touring as well.

Arriving at Heathrow Airport, London, the morning of May 2 they were met by Arthur Dickson and traveled to the Dicksons home at Rusper in W. Sussex County. The Marburgers visited the Christ Hospital Blue Coat School in Hørsham for the noon parade into the dining hall. In the afternoon, they saw the Leonardsea gardens.

On Friday it was on to the village of Slywell in Northampton to assist with the United Marriage Encounter Weekend with 29 couples in addition to the five leadership couples. Leaders included Pastor and Bonnie Marburger as the clergy couple; Arthur and Jenny Dickson from Rusper in W. Sussex as the administration couple; John and Trudy Martin as the host couple and the additional presenting couples of Graham and Lee Leech from Stalybridge, Cheshire and Walt and Lola Sherer from the U.S. Air Base. All 29 couples completed the weekend.

On May 6, following a brief tour of the Slywell Village, it was on to Stalybridge with the Leeches with a drive past Nottingham and Sherwood Forest.

May 7 was spent with a rail trip to York to see the Viking Heritage, the wall surrounding the old city and the national Railway museum which included many of the royal coaches used by the royal family for travel throughout the country.

May 8 was spent in Manchester at the City Art Gallery, the Old Town Hall, Castlefield where there are ruins from the days of the Roman occupation and a short walk through Chinatown of the city of Manchester. The Marburgers also walked through Lincoln Square which included a statue of Abraham Lincoln with excerpts from a letter sent by President-Lincoln expressing appreciation for the sacrifice and contribution of the people of Manchester to the freeing of American slaves.

On May 9 it was another train trip to Stratford on Avon, the birthplace of William Shakespeare before traveling on to London.

While in Ealing Broadway, the Marburgers stayed in the parsonage of Vicar John and Janet Harrelson. John is the pastor of St. Mellitus Church of England. A day trip into the central district of London included seeing the changing of the horse guard at Whitehall and following the guard to Buckingham Palace for the changing of the food guard. Other sights seen from the tour were the Tour of London, the London Bridge, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Trafalgar Square and Piccadilly Circus.

On Saturday morning, Vicar John drove the Marburgers back to London for their flight home. They were met at the airport in Omaha by Bonnie's parents, John and Blanche Ahrens of Bennett, Iowa, and Philip, Jeremy and Vicente, and Philip's girlfriend, Wendy Spahr.

Forty-one attend Grace Ladies Aid May meeting

The May meeting of Grace Lutheran Ladies Aid and LWML was opened by the reading of the League pledge, Forty-one members, Pastor Anderson and guests Alice Roeber, Heidi Bonsall and several children were present.

Principal goes over commission findings on high school reform

The Principal's Office
By Dr. Don Zeiss, Principal

Two years ago, the National Association of Secondary School Principals in concert with the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, formed a commission to look at the whole question of what high school reform is about and what kinds of things have to change.

In the end, a document was produced called "Breaking Ranks: Changing an American Institution." Many of the recommendations contained in the report were shocking and surprising considering they came from practicing school principals. Most of the data, dealt with items such as school size, essential learning activities and curriculum.

One recommendation, however, was quite remarkable. It stated that the business community should start looking at report cards. Schools very rarely receive a call from business persons inquiring about a student. Business people often say that school transcripts are designed for colleges to review. "We don't know how to read them," they'd say. It doesn't take great effort to look at the attendance record of a student. One could at least see if the student missed thirty percent of school and if he did, that youth might not have a good work ethic. School performance has been shown to be an excellent predictor of job performance.

The guidance office, teaching staff and administration at Wayne High School welcome the opportunity to provide input to area businesses regarding our students and their school performance. Use of these resources can provide you with data to allow you to make informed decisions when hiring new employees. It may also save time and money required for retraining when employees fail to measure up.

Do not hesitate to contact us at Wayne High School when considering students as employees.

LAST DAY
The last day of school in Winside will be Wednesday, May 22. Students will be dismissed at 3:30 p.m. and busses will run at that time. Report cards will be distributed between 11 a.m. and noon on Friday, May 24. Teachers will not hand out report cards ahead of time. Report cards not picked up that day will be mailed unless the student has a bill to pay. All obligations must be met before the report cards will be released.

PHYSICALS
On Monday, May 20, the Northeast Nebraska Medical Group from Wayne will be giving physical exams at the Winside High School from 6 to 8 p.m. Kindergartners, seventh graders and eighth through 12th graders who participate in interscholastic athletics are required to have physicals. Kindergarten children will be taken first.

Forms for the physicals need to be received from the school and a parent's questionnaire needs to be filled out before the physicals. Dates for shots and the last tetanus must be listed. No shots will be given at the time of the physical. Each student needs to bring a urine sample with them. For more information, contact the school at 286-4465.

BIBLE SCHOOL

Allen community vacation Bible school begins Tuesday, May 28 at 9 a.m. at the Methodist Church. This year's session will run from 9 a.m. to noon and are open to children three years old through sixth grade. Bible school will finish on Saturday, June 1 with a picnic lunch. Theme is "Anchored in God's Love." Call Chris Gensler if you would like to help or have a question.

NEW POSITION

Judy Olson is filling the vacant position on the Allen Village Board. She was appointed at last week's village board meeting.

GARAGE SALE

People planning to have a garage sale on June 8 can sign up with Judy Olson at the post office. Allen community members living in the country are invited to share a garage or set up on sidewalks in the business district.

ATTENDED WORKSHOP

Community members Jean Rahn and Donna Schroeder recently attended a grant writing workshop presented by the Siouxland Foundation. Because Allen responded to the mutual aid call following the Terra explosion, Allen is eligible to make application for grant money from Terra. As a result Allen volunteer firefighters have applied for $4,000 to pay for two new fire truck pumps. If the request is funded, the new pumps would replace the 30-year old pumps currently mounted on the fire trucks and enhance the ability to respond to area fires.

GRADUATES

Renee Plueger graduated May 4 from UNL. She is the daughter of Frank and Kathleen Plueger of rural Concord.

Curtiss Oswald received his associate applied science degree in air conditioning from Northeast Community College on May 11. He is the son of Marvin and Eunice Oswald of Allen.

Amy Lund of rural Allen and Marcia Hansen, a former Allen High graduate, received degrees in licensed practical nursing from WIT.

SCHOLASTIC CONTEST

Several Allen students placed in the scholastic contest held recently at Northeast Community College. Chris Wilmes placed first in computer literacy. Tracey Jackson placed first in health. Tammy Jackson placed first in keyboarding II. Tammy Jackson tied for third in trigonometry and Tracy Jackson tied for third in vocabulary. Thirty-one schools participated in the annual event.

FUN RUN/WALK

Start getting your family in shape for the annual family fun run/walk planned for Friday evening, July 5. The event will include both 1 mile and 5K courses for those who like to run or walk. A trophy will be presented to the fastest family runner. Contact Dale Jackson for further information.

ANIMAL BABIES

The animal babies have started arriving at Lov-A-Lop Exotic Animal Farm. Groups interested in tours are to call the Isoms and arrange a time. The Isoms are planning their annual swap meet for the second weekend in June.

PRESCHOOL

Former Allen resident Jean (Roberts) Granstra was in town Friday to inspect and license the Allen Preschool for another two years. The preschool, which is located in the United Methodist Church basement, is licensed to serve 12 children. The two hour sessions begin following Labor Day and conclude in early May. The preschool is a project of the Allen Development Group Inc., open to all children in the community.

Next fall the preschool is planning to include classes for 3 and 4 year olds in addition to the 5 year olds. Call Carol Jean Stapleton if interested in enrolling your child.

SCHOOL ENDS

The school year ends this week. Elementary students were released at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday. Students, grades 7-12, are completing their year with semester test days on May 16 and 17. Seniors, who checked out last week, will graduate Sunday, May 19 at 2 p.m. in the school gym.

TRAIL RIDE

The Golden Spur Saddle Club will hold a trail ride this weekend. Members, friends and guests are invited to begin the ride at the Carl Domsch home at 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 18.

There were 39 riders at last month's ride.

May is kaleidoscope of events for everyone

May has always been a kaleidoscope of events for me. I'm not sure why there are so many observances packed into it; and they all seem to affect me.

It's beef month, number one; and I don't know what it's going to take to rescue that industry. WE are eating less meat, too; but I doubt if we will ever eliminate it completely.

The Farmer's Wife

By Pat Meierhenry

Oprah certainly got carried away with the "mad cow" thing. The price of beef go so low, and the price of corn so high, that the local bar and grill advertised a special steak sandwich, $2.50. But you had to order a bowl of corn with it, for $3!

Then, it's nurse's week, and hospital week, and nursing home week; all around Mother's Day and my birthday. Of course, there are graduations galore. And alumni banquets. We just go from one celebration to another; and they all seem to feature cake, and other high-cal goodies.

I had the pleasure of speaking at a couple of events last week, too. One was an extension council tea, and the theme was Friendship. I did a little research for that one, in a book by Dee Brestin called women and friendships.

Dee maintains that friendships are more important for women, and that their relationships run strong and deep. She says that women have a "longing," that men don't identify with, for a bosom friend, someone to touch "soul to soul." In fact, she writes that both men and women need women for intimacy and empathy. (I've told the Big Farmer for years that I need a wife!)

She's probably right. I do cherish friends. And it was good to see so many last week: both at Riley's at the Senior Adventure; and later that day, at EMT appreciation night at good old Lutheran Hospital; both EMTs and nurses I used to work with.

I reconnected with more at a women's health conference on Friday; and distressed with laughter since Joan Burney was our lunch-time speaker. What causes three former school nurses to sit at the same table in a room of 200 people?

We received a wedding invitation on Saturday that says: A friend is one who provides to your heart a peace unknown by any other means. Their laughter lifts you up. Their belief holds you high. Their love helps you fly. I can only add "Amen."

Weather affects weed growth, control

Many summer weeds have been affected by this spring's cool, dry weather. Some that normally would have emerged several weeks ago are just beginning to emerge.

But because of the recent rains and warmer weather, a University of Nebraska agronomist said, producers should be prepared for a rapid flush of most other summer weeds — and they should be prepared to adjust their weed-management strategy.

Bob Klein, cropping systems specialist at the NU West Central Research and Extension Center in North Platte, said the same conditions that slowed weed emergence might detract from the performance of preplant and preemergence treatments — making it especially important for producers to pay close attention to weed management strategies and be flexible.

Klein and fellow specialist David Holshouser of the NU Northeast Research and Extension Center in Concord advised producers that the effectiveness of some early preplant treatments in no-till, that include burndowns, would be decreased by drought stress of winter weeds. Also, early preplant and some pre-emergence herbicides applied before the rain could have been displaced by wind, which would result in erratic control. The best policy is to survey fields regularly to monitor the effectiveness of preemergent herbicides, Klein said, and to be ready with postemergent treatments if necessary.

"The main thing is just to keep a good eye out," he said. "The best thing is to just scout the fields and see what kind of control you have."

If weed control is lacking, producers can make the decision to use postemergent treatments.

Corn producers kept busy planting between April 22 and May 3, Klein said. Many planted without applying preplant or preemergent herbicides. The recent rains could cause weeds to germinate and emerge before preemergence treatments can be applied and activated. In such cases, he said, it may be necessary to use postemergence treatments. Many postemergence herbicides are available for corn and soybeans; a few are available for grain sorghum.

Again, Klein said, it is important to scout the fields and assess herbicide effectiveness. Producers should make sure no weeds grow too large, he warned, because post-emergence treatments are more effective on small weeds than on larger weeds; it takes less herbicide to kill small weeds than big ones, Klein said, and vigilant field monitoring can keep weed control costs down.

The long disadvantage of controlling weeds when they are small, he said, is that sometimes when weeds are controlled early, another flush occurs, making it necessary to treat fields again or cultivate. The Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources specialist said producers should be aware of this possibility and make their resulting weed management decisions carefully.

Beef Council to hold meeting

A Nebraska Beef Council Board of Director meeting is scheduled for Friday, May 24 at the Ramada Inn in Kearney. The meeting will begin at 8 a.m. and adjourn at noon.

During the meeting, the Board of Directors will be considering funding requests and setting the preliminary budget for the Nebraska Beef Council fiscal year 1996-97.

The Nebraska Beef Council is a nonprofit organization served by a nine-member Board of Directors. These voluntary directors oversee Nebraska's beef checkoff and check-off funded programs. Programs for marketing and promotion of beef are funded by the beef $1 checkoff.

Lower Elkhorn NRD supports proposed settlement

The Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District supports the proposed settlement of instream flow issues regarding the Platte, Elkhorn and Loup rivers.

Lower Elkhorn NRD general manager Stan Staab, said "As a member of the Nebraska Water Conservation Cooperative Coalition, the NRD strongly believes that a compromise settlement with the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission is a preferred, reasonable approach to this highly controversial issue." Staab continued, "If a compromise is not reached, both the Lower Elkhorn and Upper Elkhorn NRDs will be greatly affected."

Due to the large requests by Game and Parks for appropriations of water in the Platte River, the Elkhorn and Loup Basins as contributing tributaries are also greatly impacted. If the appropriations are granted to Game and Parks, flood control dams, large and small, will not be constructed by the NRDs, or anyone else because water storage permits cannot be granted. Future municipal water supplies may be jeopardized and even small amounts of water stored in ponds or pits for road construction would not be permitted.

Staab added, "A compromise between all affected parties is the best solution and will prevent a very expensive, lengthy court battle between disputing parties."

THANK YOU

WE THANK OUR families, friends and all who cared for us! A special thanks to Pastor Marburger for his prayers and visits and to the Allen Rescue Unity for their promptness and excellent care. We live in a fine and caring community. Truman & Darlene Fahrenholz 5/16

A HEART FULL of love to all my friends and relatives to the hospital staff and Dr. Lindau for their excellent care while I was in the hospital and since returning home. A mere thank you is not enough for what I feel toward all of you. May God Bless and keep you under his care. Ruth Baier 5/16

THANK YOU for all the cards, calls, and thoughtfulness given at the time of my brother's death. Elsie Janke & Family 5/16

WE WOULD LIKE TO thank everyone who has taken the time to come to Plainview at the RCD Office during April & May to view our paintings and those who attended our open house. Also thanks to those who showed their art work with us. Chris Maroltz & Lydaisy Janke 5/16

"THANK YOU" seems so inadequate to express the gratitude we feel for all the expressions of sympathy we have received since Pat's death. We know others feel our loss. All the cards, visits, hugs, calls, food, flowers & memorials show us just how many lives Pat touched. There are too many people to name, but special "Thanks" to ALL who "Taxi ed" Par around the last few months. Renee & Linda for running her business, Dr. Lindau for his concerning care, Pastor Main for his comforting words & lovely Memorial Service. Coleen & Kaki for their beautiful music, the Methodist Ladies for serving lunch. Scott & Diane from Schumacher's, Fritz, Janet & etc. God Bless you all. The Family of Pat Wert 5/16

THANK YOUR to my friends and relatives for the lovely cards and also my children & grandchildren for the dinner that was hosted in my honor. Ethel Johnson 5/16

THE MARGARET KUGLER family wishes to express our deepest gratitude to relatives, friends, and neighbors for memorials, prayers, flowers, cards, visits, food and other expressions of sympathy shown us during the loss of our loved one. A special thank you to Rev. Martin Russell, Rev. William Koerber, and Rev. Wallace Wolff for the beautiful service. Thanks to Vera Hummel and Ron Carnes for the lovely music, the pallbearers, ushers, the ladies of the church who served the lunch and to Schumacher Funeral Home. Thanks for all the loving kindness shown and to all the loving hands who cared for our mother, grandmother, and great grandmother during her last years. May God bless each of you! Bonnie and Bob Panter, Marian Perry, Lori and Ted Perry, Bill and Rae Kugler, Kim, Scott & Lauren Kraemaer, Kara Kugler. 5/16

THE "LONG good-bye" was made easier by those who sent sympathy cards, brought food and gave memorials. Thank you to the Methodist Adult Sunday School Class for flowers and to Pastor Gary Main for his visits to my brother, Louie and to the staff at Providence Medical Center. Lou will be missed by Al & I and our family. Norma & Al Ehlers. 5/16

NOTICE OF DEFAULT
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
You are hereby notified that Jon G. Behmer and Peggy L. Behmer, husband and wife, hereinafter Trustor, did on about the 5th day of March, 1993, make, execute, and deliver unto David H. Ptak, as Trustee, a Deed of Trust wherein said Trustor conveyed the following described real property:
The West Half of the Southwest Quarter (W1/2SE1/4), also the Southwest Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (SW1/4NE1/4), also the Southeast Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (SE1/4NE1/4), except the North 13 acres thereof, also commencing at the Southeast corner of the Southwest Quarter of Section Fifteen (15), Township Twenty-five (25) North, Range One (1), and running thence West 32 rods; thence North 200 rods; thence East 32 rods; thence South 200 rods to the place of beginning, all in Section 15, Township 25 North, Range 1, East of the 6th P.M. Wayne County, Nebraska, less the following described tract of land:
A tract of land lying wholly in the West Half of the Southeast Quarter (W1/2SE1/4) of Section 15, Township 25 North, Range 1, East of the 6th P.M., Wayne County, Nebraska, which is more particularly described as follows: Beginning at a point 1,195 feet North of the Southeast corner of the West Half of the Southeast Quarter of said Section 15; thence 884 feet North; thence 620 feet West; thence 310 feet North; thence 587 feet West; thence 561 feet South; thence 323 feet East; thence 218 feet in a Southeasterly direction; thence 1,643 feet South to the South line of said Section 15; thence 30 feet East; thence 1,195 feet North; thence 706 feet East to the point of beginning, which has the address of Route 1, Hoskins, Nebraska.
Together with all the improvements now or hereafter erected on the property, all easements, rights, appurtenances, rents, royalties, mineral, oil and gas rights and profits, water rights and stock and all fixtures now or hereafter a part of the property, as security for a payment of a debt owed to First Tier Bank, N.A., now known as First Bank, Trustee of the Albert C. Behmer Testamentary Trust, Beneficiary of said Deed of Trust, which Deed of Trust was recorded on the 19th day of April, 1993, in the office of the Registrar of Deeds of Wayne County, Nebraska, and Microfilm No. 930471.
You are further notified that there has occurred a breach of an obligation of the Trustor for which the trust property was conveyed as security, to-wit: That the Trustor has failed to pay all real estate taxes due and owing on the property as agreed and has also failed to pay the Beneficiary payments which were contractually due on December 28, 1995, together with interest accruing thereon.
The default may be cured within two months of the filing of this Notice of Default and the obligation and Deed of Trust may be thereby reinstated as provided in Neb. Rev. Stat. Section 76-1012.
The entire unpaid principal sum secured by the Deed of Trust is $45,536.77, the amount of interest, including default interest, accrued on unpaid principal sum, to and including April 23, 1996, is $2,933.45, the dollar amount of pending interest accruing from and after April 23, 1996, is $1.72, and the amount of unpaid principal which would not have become due had there been no default, is $39,268.98.
You are further notified that the Trustee has elected to declare the entire unpaid principal balance, together with interest thereon, at once due and payable and has elected to sell or cause to be sold, the real property described in said Deed of Trust to satisfy said obligation.
Dated this 25th day of April, 1996.
