

Board discusses changing laws

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

The Wayne Board of Education met in regular session Monday night at Wayne High School.

Talk centered around legislation that was passed last year with superintendent, Dr. Dennis Jensen explaining key issues that will affect the curriculum in the Wayne School District beginning as soon as the 1997-98 school year.

"Despite the fact amendments 411 and 412 were defeated in the election last week we still have to work with L.B. 1114 and L.B. 299," Jensen said.

L.B. 299 says the budget for the 1997-98 school year will be zero percent above this year's budget on property tax askings. There are no provisions to have a special election to opt out of the levy limits. Special education, grant funds and retirement of Bonds are out of levy limits and an interlocal agency agreement is an exclusion to the lid.

Legal judgments against the district will be excluded from the lid as will be retirement funds. Lease purchase arrangements are an exception to the lid.

L.B. 1114 stipulates that caps for the general fund levy will be set at no higher than $4.10 next school year and that will drop to $1.00 by the year 2001.

Those numbers may not appear to be drastic at first glance but in reality by the time the cuts are completed, approximately $630,000 in cuts will have to be made in the Wayne curriculum.

"Our tax levy on this year's budget was around $1.15," Jensen added. "Next year that has to drop to $1.10 which could be as much as $90,000 in cuts."

Jensen also explained to the Board of a committee that is currently being formed to look at the Wayne curriculum. The Committee for Curriculum Review will be

WSC hosts forum

Wayne State College will host a new event Monday, Nov. 18 at 7 p.m.

It will be the college's first ever "Campus-Community Forum," which is designed to continue positive communication between Wayne area residents and businesses and the college's students, faculty, administrators and staff.

The forum will be held in the WSC Student Center's Elkhorn Room. The public is invited to attend.

The topic of the initial program is the relationship between the Wayne business community and WSC students.

A panel of two students, two faculty and two merchants will

Elections are officially over following recount

The elections are officially over following last Friday's recount of the city council race in Ward Four.

Incumbent Jane O'Leary defeated Pat Arneson by one vote, 292/291 to retain her seat for another term. The tally after Tuesday's results had a two-vote lead for O'Leary with four absentee ballots still out.

Only one of the absentee ballots came back with Arneson's name on it, narrowing the gap to just one vote which called for a recount. The votes were counted via automation and when it came back the same, a recount by hand was done.

Wayne County Clerk Deb Finn said the vote may have been different if voting instructions had been followed. "Voters are instructed not to cross out when voting," Finn said. "If the voter changes their mind, they are to exchange the ballot for a new one."

These instructions are given to each voter verbally by the election board, and in written form on the ballot secrecy sleeve.

There was one ballot in the Fourth Ward that had both candidates marked. When the voter changed their mind they crossed out their first vote instead of requesting a new ballot.

State statute 32-1004 states that overvoted ballots can not be judged for "voter intent" by any member of the counting board or any official involved in the counting process.

"As a result the voter's choice on this race could not be counted," Finn said. "If the voter had requested a new ballot, their choice would have been counted, and the results of the race would have been either a tie or a win by a larger margin."

The only other race that was still up in the air after Tuesday's election was the three positions to be filled on the Sholes Board of Trustees. All three incumbents were declared winners including Tom Bauer, Marvin Beardshear and Ronnie Billheimer.

Home Care provides personal touch

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Home Health Care has been available in the Wayne community for 15 years and has now been a part of Providence Medical Center for just over a year.

November is National Home Care Month and Nov. 15 is National Home Health Care Aide Day.

"During this month, the nurses of the Providence Medical Center Home Health Care department would like to take time to thank the community for their support and encouragement in helping us meet the needs of the community," said Teri Munter, Director of Nurses for PMC Home Health Care.

"With today's changing trends in the health care system, the home is becoming an ever increasing choice and possibility to quality health care. With the help of Home Health Care nurses, patients are able to come home from the hospital earlier and receive monitoring and medical treatment under the direction of their physician," Mrs. Munter said.

Council plans meeting to resolve solid waste issue

By Clara Osten
Of the Herald

Two recent court cases may affect the city of Wayne's decision in regard to solid waste pick up.

The state supreme court recently decided that a Winside resident was not required to pay the charge for solid waste pick up because he was not using the service.

A federal court is currently deciding a case against the city of Hebron which required haulers to transport solid waste to a specific landfill. One of that city's haulers lost customers because of that requirement and eventually took the city to court.

A special council meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss whether to accept or reject the proposal from Waste Management concerning residential waste pick up.

A decision also needs to be made concerning the transfer station. More information will be available next week, but City Administrator Joe Salitros said a nine-month extension may be available on a Department of Environmental Quality grant the city has been awarded for renovation of the transfer station.

Councilman Doug Sturm said he felt the council needed to make a decision and not lead people on.

The council listened to a presentation by Cap Peterson and John Smith concerning the city's insur-

Christmas Tour of Homes (Second of a Five-Week Feature)

The Wayne County Historical Society is planning a Christmas tour of homes for Saturday, Dec. 7. Tours will be given between 1 and 5 p.m. Snow date for the event will be Sunday, Dec. 8.

Proceeds from the tours will be used for renovation and upkeep of the Historical Society Museum. A number of businesses have contributed to the decorating of the museum.

Homes on the tour will include Grandma Butch's Bed & Breakfast, Bob and Jodie Jordan's home, David and Kaki Ley's home and Carter and Nana Peterson's home.

One of these homes will be featured each week in the Herald until the date of the tour.

BOB AND JODIE JORDAN, 1604 Caycomb Road
Bob and Jodie Jordan moved into their brick home in October of 1995. The design of this home, with its walls of windows facing the west, was inspired by the view overlooking the Wayne Country Club Golf Course.

Greeting you as you enter the foyer is a beautiful leaded glass window made for them by a friend as a wedding gift. Interesting features of their home include the vaulted ceilings in the great room, master bedroom and kitchen, as well as the coffered ceiling in the dining room and sun room. The lower level features a "Fun Room" displaying antique games and sports equipment. When entertaining guests, Bob and Jodie serve beverages from the bar that was originally a dry goods counter used by Jodie's great grandfather in his retail store in Pender.

The Jordan's favorite holiday is Christmas so they enjoy decorating their new home for this festive season and entertaining friends and family. Decorations include dozens of family ornaments on the great room tree and delicate mouth blown, hand painted mercury ornaments on the sun room tree. A hand painted snow village and a Steinbach nutcracker collection make their favorite holiday decorations complete. A touch of Christmas is everywhere.

Care

is that of Personal Care.

Personal Care is provided to patients in their home. Its purpose is to give quality care to people in their homes, allowing them to remain in their homes as long as possible and maintain their dignity and independence.

The service is available to all persons of all ages in Wayne and the communities within a 30 mile radius.

At the present time there seven aides that go into home to provide services such as assisting with bathing, shampoos, activities of daily living, transportation or errands, light housekeeping and cooking.

Teri Munter, RN, is the director of the program and Tracy Keating, LPN, is the coordinator.

Aides currently working in the program include Mary Janke, Eric Barnes, Dee Goeden, Susan Replogle, Kami Pilger, Sharolyn Cunningham and Angela Feyerherm.

"The aides we have are very reliable and in addition to providing one-on-one care, provide companionship to the patients we serve," Ms. Keating said.

"Before the aide begins working with a patient, Teri (Munter) visits the home and makes an evaluation on the needs of the patients. She also takes the aide in and explains the duties expected of him or her," Ms. Keating said.

An evaluation is conducted every 60 days to determine if the level of care needs to be changed.

"The length of the care and how often an aide visits the home vary with each person. Some people have care for one week, others for one month and others for a year or longer. We visit some homes once a day, some three times a week and others only once a week," Mrs. Keating said.

All the aides are certified Home

Mayor Sheryl Lindau signs a proclamation recognizing November as National Hospice Month. Looking on is Dr. James Lindau, who serves as volunteer medical director of the Providence Hospice program. Hospice provides support services to persons with terminal illnesses and their families. For more information on Hospice Care, contact the office at 375-4288.

Health Aides or LPN's and care is carefully supervised by registered nurses. In addition, inservices are provided for employees who are carefully screened and must meet qualifications.

Aides remain with the same client throughout the time service is provided.

"With many family members working, the service we provide relieves some of the pressure in trying to help these people stay in their homes for as long as possible," Mrs. Keating said.

Any interested person, friend, neighbor, patient hospital, nursing home or agency may request Home Health Personal Care Services.

These services are billed directly to the patient.

"Without the service we provide, many people would have to leave their homes. Our job is to help these people maintain their dignity and independence," Mrs. Keating added.

Plans for Heart Month discussed

Plans for Heart Month 1997 were discussed at a special committee meeting on Nov. 5 at Riley's.

The Celebrity Waiter dinner will be replaced with a King and Queen being crowned on Feb. 16, 1997 at Riley's. Plans are underway for an early December kick-off for this event.

Mary Murtaugh and Ginny Otte are co-chairpersons for the American Heart Residential Drive for 1996-97. The two women will be contacting individuals to help with this drive. No one from out-of-town will be calling on Wayne residents.

"It takes a while to get all groups ready to cover all aspects of the drive and a whole community to make it a success," Mrs. Otte said.

"If you are asked to help, please try to find time to do so. Wayne citizens have always been very generous with their time and money contributions," she added.

comprised of around 30 people of all facets of the community.

The role of this committee which will begin meeting in December on what is hoped a twice-a-month basis, is four-fold. "They (committee members) will be reviewing school finance laws, prioritizing the curriculum after reviewing what is currently the standards in the Wayne School District and recommending to the Board what services need to be offered and what services that can or need to be reduced," Jensen said.

Jensen said he expects this committee to be formed by the end of next week.

In other discussion at the regular monthly meeting, Jensen gave an update on the community consensus building. The first priority in building the consensus of the community is educating the entire community on all of the services offered by the Wayne school district.

"We need to connect those services with proper facilities because when you have a service it needs a place to be in," Jensen said. "We need to match our facility with the services we offer."

Jensen said the next step would be to go to the public with a facilitator to discuss the needs and then brainstorm to find ways to meet facility needs.

"Once we have a plan, a community campaign phase can be constructed and it's here that we could possibly hire a professional campaign agency to promote the new project," Jensen added.

The ultimate goal of the consensus building activity is to discover what the communities served by the Wayne Community Schools expect and desire of the school curriculum and of the school facilities.

The administration is now working on a report illustrating all the services offered by the district and how these services are offered.

After that report is disseminated, there will need to be discussion groups formed," Jensen said. "These groups can be under the format of a public forum in the theater or in organized quadrants representing parts of the district or parts of the community including Carroll."

Jensen said the local facilitator would be in charge of these discussion groups. Once the groups have begun to form a consensus on what the district should be in regard to services and facilities, the Board would be ready to contact an agency such as a fiscal agent or a firm to handle the campaign," Jensen continued.

The firm selected would be the head of the campaign committee and ensure all possible avenues would be taken before any vote is taken.

THE SCHOOL BOARD retreat has been slated for Saturday, Jan. 11 at Wayne State College. At this retreat several things will be addressed including a five-year strategic plan for the Wayne School District.

This includes discussion on LB 1114, facility needs, technology, short term goals, visionary concepts in education, looking at designs of education from other states and overall improvements that need to be addressed.

During the audience portion of the agenda, Ray Nelson addressed the Board on the possible use by the wrestlers of the Middle School gymnasium for practice.

The Board met in special session on Wednesday afternoon to further discuss this issue. "I recommended to the Board that we say no to the use of the Middle School for practice purposes based on advice from our lawyers," Jensen said.

"The Middle School was closed last month for health reasons and by reopening it for any reason we are putting people back in a dangerous environment."

Jensen also said once the students vacated the Middle School in October insurance was changed on the building from full coverage to basic coverage because it's basically just a warehouse at this point.

The Board voted in favor of leaving the Middle School closed and against allowing wrestling practice at that facility.

share their views with members of the audience during the forum, which will be moderated by Mark Stubbs, college relations director at WSC.

Panelists will include Matt Milbrodt, WSC Student Government President; Michael Rittershaus, editorial editor of the Wayne Stater; Dr. Ken Hallgren, professor of Business; Dr. Tony Kochenash, retired WSC marketing professor; Mr. Dean Carroll, manager, Pamida in Wayne and Ms. Irene Fletcher, manager, Legends Clothing Store.

"This will be a very interesting first forum topic," said Stubbs. "There is a lot of interest from a variety of people on this topic and I hope the forum will provided a better understanding of the issues to everyone involved."

Stubbs added that Wayne State and the Wayne Area Chamber of Commerce hope to make this a regular event in the community.

Musings on traffic

Nearly five months ago the overhead traffic light at Third and Pearl was removed, greatly enhancing traffic flow at the intersection.

Police personnel report there have been no collisions, fender-benders or other accidents occurring at the corner following the change. Several motorists, in fact, have voiced appreciation that the light is gone.

A few north-south bound drivers on Pearl have been observed stopping as a precaution, presumably out of habit. Such unnecessary stopping, however, is itself a potential hazard as the following traffic is not anticipating such a move.

Motorists using either Pearl or the newly-paved Logan are reminded of the 25-mph speed limit.

Warning tickets and citations within the city have increased considerably in 1996, compared with 1995, according to police records. For instance, for the month of October 1996, police issued a total of 191 warning tickets, 92 of those for speeding. Whereas in October 1995 82 warnings were issued, 44 for speeding.

Figures for actual citations in October 1996 reveal a total of 135, 27 of which were for speeding violations. In October 1995 the actual citations were 79 including 32 for speeding.

One-hundred percent of city fines collected at the courthouse from various in-town offenses are turned over to the local public school system. As a result during the first ten months of this year the school has received a monthly check averaging $1,983.

Let's not lose respect for the laws which are written for the safety of everyone.

Unexpected 'donations'

Schools districts within Wayne County are receiving a nice monthly bonus each month: such as a total of over $10,000 in October.

Did it come from a benevolent passerby? Close, but not exactly.

Records show fines collected in October, assessed as penalties by the Wayne County Court from individuals having violated state laws, enabled the court to turn over more than $10,000 to the county treasurer, who in turn divided the monies between all 11 school districts in Wayne County based on the number of resident school-age children in each district.

The $10,000 plus in fines last month came from local citizens, county residents, out-of-county folk and out-of-state offenders. One's home address doesn't make any difference. What does make a difference is when a person qualifies him/herself to contribute to area education by violating state law. Offenders "donating" to the schools include all age groups, sometimes even students themselves.

Each school district's portion isn't a great amount when it comes to paying bills, but every penny counts.

Anyone not wanting to help finance education in this manner need do only one thing: obey the law.

Hagel was the clear winner

By Melvin Paul
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Chuck Hagel stunned the experts last week when he soundly outpolled the once invincible Ben Nelson to become the first Nebraska Republican in 24 years to win a U.S. Senate race.

In the end, the biggest surprise was not only that he had emerged from being a virtual unknown a year ago but that he had beaten the popular Democratic governor by a 56-to-42 percent margin.

That, in at least one newspaper, was a blowout.

The victory was a long time coming for Nebraska Republicans who had seen a string of promising candidates wither and crash against other popular Democratic governors in U.S. Senate races.

The loss of Ben Nelson exploded a trend that propelled J.J. Exon and Bob Kerrey from the Mansion in Lincoln to the Senate in Washington. Those darned Nebraska Republicans who always vote Democrat left their independent voting patterns at home last week.

How did it happen?
Here's my guesses, based on a little armchair quarterbacking of my own and a bunch of pundit pontifications:

— the Clinton Factor. With a Democrat heading to re-election as president, voters wanted to make sure that Congress remained Republican. So they voted for Hagel. Clinton was Hagel's best ally, according to one pundit.

— the Robak Factor. If Nelson was elected to the U.S. Senate, his lieutenant governor, the young and bright Kim Robak, replaced him as governor. Republicans did a good job in an early whisper campaign on this one, passing the word that sending Chuck to Washington, keeping Ben in Lincoln, was win-win for the state because Robak was "liberal."

That was stretch but perception is everything. Then came a last-minute mailing from the GOP that condemned Robak for having the gall to be married to a successful Republican lawyer who happens to make a lot of money lobbying the State Legislature.

It contained pretty sleazy allegations that a client of Robak's husband had won millions of dollars of contracts to program state computers. That's true. What it left out was that lobbyists have no influence over whether a company wins the bidding for a state contract.

In a seemingly close race between two fairly nice guys who hold a pretty similar conservative views, stuff like the Robak and Clinton factors made a difference.

— the Dirty Campaigning Factor. Both Hagel and Nelson played this game but Nelson lost big when he began airing a commercial in the final two weeks accusing Hagel of unethical practices when his company won a lottery for a cellular phone territory.

Dirty campaigning works, I'm sorry to say. Just look at all those ads accusing Nelson of raising property taxes (governors don't have any effect on levying property taxes). But Nelson's cellular phone ad crossed the line from being plain slanted and dirty to nearly saying that Hagel should be in jail for what he did.

The Governor came off looking mean and desperate. And Hagel capitalized by playing himself as the victim of an unfair attack, which is what it probably was.

Nelson, meanwhile, failed to respond to Hagel's slanted attacks that the Governor had somehow raised property taxes.

What Nelson did was perform his constitutional duty as a member of the State Board of Equalization. Part of that duty is to ensure that counties are treating property owners fairly in terms of valuations for tax purposes. Several counties, including Douglas County, had fallen behind in many neighborhoods in keeping valuations within legal limits, which made some people pay more than their fair share of taxes and others less.

All Nelson did was his duty, a duty that some county assessors had not done. Yet he got hammered because local schools continue to raise property taxes.

By the way, the State Legislature passed a plan to reduce property taxes last spring and Nelson signed it. It, arguably, might have been too little, too late for a governor who made statements that he would solve the property tax problem, but it was progress in a very difficult issue.

— the Hagel Factor. Chuck Hagel was a great campaigner who touched a chord with Nebraskans like no Republican in recent memory. He ran a great campaign, great ads, great grass roots organization and saddled up a bandwagon that attracted a bunch of jumpers in the last two weeks.

People love to back a winner and with voter registrations turning increasingly GOP in Nebraska, Hagel was the clear winner last week.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Let's celebrate American Education Week

The fact that American Education Week has been observed each year since 1921 makes it one of the longest-running observances in the country. This is a good opportunity to look backward, to see how far the schools in your community have come in those 75 years. Compare the teaching tools of 1921 with today's educational technology, or ask local retired teachers to reminisce about the sweeping changes and improvements in education over the span of careers now available. Our students must be prepared to compete in a world that demands an ever-changing skills base. Today's students are tomorrow's employees. Today's students are tomorrow's citizens, voters and taxpayers. Today's students will play a major role in shaping the quality of our future lives. To ensure that Wayne-Carroll's children receive a solid education on which to build those future skills, we call on everyone — parents and nonparents, business and civic leaders, retired citizens — to lend their time, energy and commitment to improving our schools. Visit our schools during American Education week, see what we're up to, and find out how you can help. From the Wayne-Carroll Education Association.

NOVEMBER 17-23, 1996

Thought provoking questions are posed

The future — what does it hold for business communities, towns and schools? What changes will be significant in the 21st century?

What can citizens do to revitalize civic, political, social and economic health? How does our collective history indicate the paths of the future?

Thought-provoking questions such as these were addressed last Friday at the Nebraska Futures Conference "Preparing for the 21st Century" held in Norfolk. Approximately 20 Wayne residents, representing business, city, development and education attended.

Rick L. Smyre III, a top-notch futurist who specializes in the field of building capacities for community transformation, spoke on the topic of Consensus Democracy. He asked the audience to consider factors and strategic issues in specific situations. Directions were then provided on how to develop consensus democracy using a citizens' jury model. This process of the citizens in a government is called "governance."

Distance educations, presented by Dr. Henry S. Long, is not just a technological issue, but also a sociological issue.

"What you see," Long said, "is a matter of perception." The truth of this statement was illustrated by Long showing a regular hexagon. With a couple of line of the hexagon highlighted, the regular hexagon can become a box, a pyramid, a set of rectangles or triangles. The original design was still the same, but what the viewer saw depended on perception.

Nationally recognized expert on community and citizenship issues Don E. Eberly has written extensively on issues relating to culture and society. Discussions of the 20th century have revolved around systems and structures as opposed to civil society.

The term civil society, however, was around much earlier. Eberly went on to discuss the five C's of recovery: citizenship, community, character, civic republicanism and civil society.

City/state was the focus of the presentation by Dr. James A. Crupi, recognized authority in international business, future trends and leadership development.

Singapore is an example of a global telecommunications city/state; Boston and San Francisco are examples of intellectual city/states.

"The individual is the new unit of business," declared Crupi. In the future, jobs will follow people, with companies going where the workers are. Crupi predicted most companies will employ 50 or less employees.

Well-known Nebraska historian Dr. Robert Manley Sr. was the final presenter of the conference. Manley implored the audience to look at the past, to recognize the attraction of the new and exciting and recommended that we continue doing those things that work?

Leaders, he said, receive both too much credit and too much blame. Manley concluded with a quote from John Maynard Keynes, "... the real difficulty in changing the course of any enterprise lies not in developing new ideas but in escaping from old ones."

Discussion of questions initiated by these topics will take place at noon on Thursday, Dec. 5.

Connie Justis, Northeast Nebraska field representative for the Nebraska Department of Economic Development, will facilitate the discussion.

A meeting site will be announced at a later date. To register for the discussion or for additional information, contact the Chamber office.

that calls itself Wayne America, I find this disappointing.

I realize other holidays are more heavily promoted but would suggest that local groups and media look at ways to make the public more aware of dates to fly their flags and show their patriotism since most seem willing to go to the time and expense of decorating for many other occasions.

Students selected for All-State

Each year over 2,000 of the best high school musicians in the state audition for the Nebraska All-State Band, Chorus, Jazz Band and Orchestra sponsored by the Nebraska Music Educators Association.

Wayne High students chosen to compete include Rachel Blaser-cello; Katie Langbehn-violin; Melissa Weber-clarinet and Liz Lindau, Aimee Elfers, Timoni Grone, Carla Kemp and Clay Siefken-choir. Kayla Koeber was selected as an alternate.

"Selection as a member of one of these groups is one of the highest musical honors attainable in Nebraska," said Brad Weber, band instructor at Wayne High.

Paul Gausman, Chair of Band Affairs and Dave Klein, Chair of Orchestra Affairs for the Nebraska Music Educators Association announced the orchestra and band selections and Joel Johnston, Chair of Choral Affairs for the Nebraska Music Educators Association announced the choral selections.

The guest conductor for the All-State Orchestra is Kate Tamarkin. She is the current music director for the Vermont Symphony Orchestra and the East Texas Symphony Orchestra.

Richard L. Floyd is the guest conductor for the All-State Band. He is currently the state director of music activities of the University Interscholastic League at the University of Texas at Austin.

Guest conductor for the chorus will be Dale Grotenhuis from Byron Center, Mich. Grotenhuis is a composer and has recently retired from Dordt College in Sioux Center, Iowa where he served as Director of Choral Activities.

The Nebraska All-State Conference/Clinic will be held on Nov. 21-23 in Kearney. The students will rehearse Thursday afternoon and evening, Friday morning and afternoon and Saturday morning with the final concert being held Saturday afternoon at 5 p.m. in the University of Nebraska at Kearney Health and Fitness Arena.

In particular, Fluent learned naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival and a variety of safety skills required for working around ships and aircraft.

The new gadget truth 'phone' is selling well!

Have you heard of a new gadget on the market called the "Truth Phone"? Its electronics can determine whether you're telling the truth just by the sound of your voice. Marketers of the phone say it is a hot seller.

A high-tech lie detector in the form of a voice analyzer is just what we need. Perhaps it should have been in use by office seekers prior to the election.

Let's try it. Remember, when the phone goes "ZZ-ZZ-Z" it means the person is less than honest or has mythomania.

Hello? Candidate Lyre? Nice day!
"It's a wonderful day...ZZ-ZZ-Z... and I'm out here on the Smith farm, and sloshing around in the barnyard reminds me of polttes back in Washington".

How's that?

"Gets a little deep occasionally. But I love it...ZZ-ZZ-Z... as I'm out here in mid-America to promise...ZZ-ZZ-Z... all you farm folk that if elected I'll do away with all real estate taxes...ZZ-ZZ-Z... and I'll never raise your taxes...ZZ-ZZ-Z... Elect me to high office and I promise you...ZZ-ZZ-Z... I'll double Social Security payments...ZZ-ZZ-Z... and when we all need Medicare, I care...ZZ-ZZ-Z... and I'll see to it your children pay those taxes without it costing you a dime!"
(Background applause).

Mr. Lyre, I have more questions. What do you think of aborting babies?

"Oh, yes, that's a good ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... question. Glad you ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... asked that. Everyone should be ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... satisfied on that matter. Let me say this ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... about that... a more emotional question has never surfaced, and I'm sincere when I say that I'll give it my attention ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... when I get into office."

Sir, what about gays in the military?

"Glad you asked ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... and in my disingenuous verbosity, I believe ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... all people should be gay. After all that's what America is about ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... being happy. My wife and I will both be gay if you'll put us in the White House."

Your feeling on term limits?

"I'm firm ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... in believing a politician should limit ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... himself to ten terms..."
(Dial tone)

Doggone, I got disconnected! I really ...ZZ-ZZ-Z... hate that ...ZZ-ZZ-Z...!

ance coverage.

The two men listed differences between insurance and pooling, an option the council heard about at a previous meeting.

The council passed a resolution amending the personnel policy regarding drug and alcohol testing and family medical leave.

An employee who refuses to submit to drug and alcohol testing may be terminated from employment. The council also approved the continuation of disability insurance coverage for employees who are on medical leave for up to 12 weeks.

Members of the Wayne Volunteer Fire Department who attend weekend training will now be reimbursed for Sundays. Prior to the passing of a resolution Tuesday, the members were only reimbursed for training that occurred on Monday through Saturday.

Members of Our Savior Lutheran Church requested diagonal parking on fifth Street near Main Street. City attorney Mike Pieper will draw up a proposal to be presented in the near future.

Immunization Clinic planned

Goldenrod Hills Community Services will hold the Wayne County Immunization Clinic in Wayne on Thursday, Nov. 21. The clinic will be held from noon to 2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 516 Main Street.

The immunization clinic is open to the public, there are no income guidelines. A $6 donation per child is requested to help defray the cost of the clinic.

The child must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and also bring past immunization records. Proxy forms may be obtained by contacting the Wisner office at 402-529-3513.

WSC Madrigal Singers to present 25th annual Christmase Feastes

Tickets are on sale for the Wayne State College annual Christmase Feastes. This year's performances on Dec. 5 to 8 will commemorate the Madrigal Singers' 25th anniversary.

"We have been very busy with ticket sales. People like to have their orders for tickets in early and it has been hectic," says Virginia Backstrom of the Fine Arts Division office. Tickets may be obtained by contact her at 402-375-7359.

The Christmase Feastes have been performed for 25 years. Twenty WSC students will performing this year.

The Feastes were begun in 1972 by Dr. Cornell Runestad. He was director of the Madrigal performances for 23 years and after his retirement in May of 1995, he turned it over to Dr. Tim Sharer, one of the original 1972 Madrigal Singers. Dr. Runestad will be honored as Lord of the House during the special 25th anniversary celebration matinee on Dec. 8 at 2 p.m. The Sunday performance will also be a reunion of former WSC Madrigal Singers and a reception for the Madrigal alumni will be held following.

Wayne spikers are State bound

By Kevin Peterson
Of the Herald

Joyce Hoskins' Wayne Blue Devils volleyball team is state bound after winning the district championship over Battle Creek in straight games last Thursday night in Norfolk's Community College, 15-8, 15-13.

The winners came in to the contest as the underdogs despite their number seven ranking because the Bravettes were ranked fifth.

Wayne got off to a quick start in the opening game as Melissa Weber scored the game's first three points. Gayle Olson and Jenni Beiermann sent a strong message to Battle Creek standout hitter Tonya Volk as they teamed up to ace block her for the game's first point.

Wayne led 5-1 before Battle Creek rallied to tie the contest at five. The Blue Devils scored the next six points to lead 11-5 with the aid of kill spikes from Beiermann, Olson and three from Katie Lutt. The first game ended with a Katie Lutt kill ace spike.

Wayne didn't get off to a quick start in the second game, however as Battle Creek jumped out to a quick 6-0 lead and 9-1 margin. But back came Wayne and managed to tie the game at 12 before falling behind, 12-13.

The Blue Devils tied the game on a spike from Katie Lutt and took the lead on a spike from Gayle Olson. The match ended on a net violation by Battle Creek.

"I was really proud of the way our team refused to give up in the second game even though they trailed by a 9-1 margin," Hoskins said. "We just took it one point at a time and played aggressive volleyball."

Hoskins said if may have benefited her team to go into the contest as the underdogs because her team played like they had nothing to lose.

Mel Weber finished with 26 set assists on 71 of 72 attempts and in doing so she broke the all-time state record in Class C-1 for career set assists with 694. The old mark was 691. She also broke the state record for average assists per match at 24.8, breaking the old state mark by three assists per match.

Lutt was 34-37 in hitting with 16 kill spikes while Gayle Olson was 28-29 with 12 kills. Molly Linster added four kills and Beiermann, two.

Wayne was 53-54 as a team in serving led by Linster's 13-13 outing and Weber's 9-9 performance with an ace. Lutt also had an ace and was 6-6 while Brooke Parker and Katy Wilson were each 9-9.

Wayne will head to Lincoln for the State Volleyball Tournament as the sixth seeded team and will play Grand Island Central Catholic in the first round on Friday morning at 11:00 at Lincoln Northeast High School.

Katie Lutt head's to Lincoln as the leading spiker in the Class with 359 ace hits on the season while Gayle Olson has 240. Central Catholic's top hitter is Jenny Kropp at 6-2 who comes into Friday's match with 313 ace spikes while Heather Budd has 209.

GICC's record is 25-3 after districts with all three losses coming against the top ranked team in Class C-1 in Columbus Scotus. The winner of the first match will play the winner of the Wood River and Tri County match at 7 p.m. on Friday at Northeast High School.

Gayle Olson skies above a Battle Creek defender to notch an ace spike during the Blue Devils district championship victory last Thursday night in Norfolk. Wayne will play Grand Island Central Catholic in first round action of the State Volleyball Tournament, Friday at 11 a.m.

Molly Linster steadies her pass to her setter Melissa Weber during the first game of the district final.

Bears beaten on punt block

The Laurel Bears football team had their season ended in the quarterfinals of the Class C-2 State Football Playoffs, Monday in Norfolk as Catholic used a returned blocked punt for a touchdown in the final seven minutes of the game to post the 24-16 victory.

The Bears came out ready to play and capitalized on some quick turnovers in the opening stanza to score the game's first 11 points.

Vince Ward scored on a one-yard plunge to cap a 14-yard drive following a Catholic fumble and Ward booted a 26-yard field goal on the next possession which started in Catholic territory after an interception.

Norfolk Catholic's first points came on a team safety and they drew with in two points at 11-9 when Jason Lamuli scored on a six-yard run.

Laurel came right back, however and scored on a 41-yard sprint to paydirt by Ward to take an 18-9 lead but the turning point in coach Tom Luxford's mind came at the end of the first half when the Knights scored on a fourth down play with just 13 seconds left in the second quarter on a 38-yard pass from Paul Hughes to Matt Brewer.

"That really hurt," Luxford said. "To give up that score on a fourth down play and that close to the half was tough." The final score of the game came from the Knights on the blocked punt that was scooped up and returned 22 yards for the go-ahead score.

The game was even on paper with Norfolk Catholic out-gaining Laurel by just 14 total yards at 277-263. Vince Ward, however, put on another stellar show with 203 yards rushing on 31 carries. In Ward's three playoff contests against Emerson-Hubbard, Winside and Norfolk Catholic he rushed for a total of 766 yards.

Defensively, the Bears were led by Ryan Kvols with 23 tackles while Ward and Seth Harder had a dozen each. The loss ended the Bears season at 7-4.

Iowa standout cage player inks with WSC

Nathan Mulderof of Hull, Iowa signed a national letter of intent to play basketball at Wayne State College. WSC head coach Greg McDermott announced on the first day of the early signing period, Wednesday.

Mulder is a 6-6, 190-pound forward from Western Christian High School. Last year as a junior, he averaged 16 points and six rebounds per game while helping the Indians to a 24-1 record and the Class 3A state championship. He was a first team All-State selection by the Iowa Newspaper Association and a first team All-Northwest Iowa pick by the Sioux City Journal. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

"Nathan attended our camp in June and was outstanding," McDermott said. "He has a great feel for the game and is a first class individual. He comes from one of the top high school programs in the state of Iowa where he has achieved tremendous success. He fits our system well. We expect him to make an immediate impact."

McDermott does not plan on signing any more players during the early signing period.

Wildcats victorious in exhibition game

The Wayne State men's basketball team played a solid exhibition game with team Godfather's and Greg McDermott's squad posted an 89-84 victory, Monday night in Rice Auditorium.

Godfather's may well have the best back court tandem that WSC will see all season in former Creighton standouts Duan Cole and Latrell Wrightsell.

The 1992 Missouri Valley All-Conference selections combined to score 51 of Godfather's 84 points. WSC however, got a complete performance on both ends of the court from Craig Philipp who tallied 22 points and eight rebounds, both team bests.

"This was a very good game for us," McDermott said. "We didn't show all of our stuff which is something we did not want to do and our guys executed down the stretch and got the win."

McDermott said this was everything he could ask for, a close exhibition game to see how his players would react. "The combination of Godfather's quickness and size down low gave us some solid competition," McDermott added. "There's definitely things we need to work on but we're ready to start the season on Saturday against St. Francis."

If Saturday's contest plays out like the last two with St. Francis it will go to the wire before a winner emerges. "They've beaten us the last two years in the last minute of the game," McDermott said. "I expect a tough season opener."

WSC will have the services of Matt VanVoorst after sitting out a couple weeks with a sprained ankle.

In Monday's exhibition three other Wildcats were in double figures in scoring with Mike Fitzner hitting for 17 while Chad Nelson tallied 13 and Eric Henderson, 12. Jaime Jones was near the double figures mark with nine points.

WSC was out-rebounded, 53-50 with Philipp leading the Cats with eight caroms while Henderson and Nelson had six each. Fitzner and Tyler Johnson dished out seven assists each.

WSC scoring—Craig Philipp, 22; Mike Fitzner, 17; Chad Nelson, 13; Eric Henderson, 12; Jaime Jones, nine; Jon Dolliver, six; Tyler Johnson, six; Jason Diaz, four.

Godfather's scoring—Duan Cole, 30; Latrell Wrightsell, 21; Steve Spurlock, 17; Darin Plautz, eight; Earl Johnson, five; Marcus Wilson, three.

Laurel captures district crown

The Laurel volleyball team improved to 23-0 on the season with a district championship win over Plainview last Friday night in Pierce which propelled the Bears to the annual state volleyball tournament this weekend in Lincoln.

Laurel will go into state tourney play as Class C-2's top-seeded team with the Bears playing Lincoln Christian at 12:30 p.m. on Friday at Lincoln Southeast High School.

In Pierce last Friday Patti Cunningham's squad did not look overly impressive with a number of mental errors but Laurel did what they had to do to win.

Megan Adkins was 74-75 in setting with 34 assists with Tracy Ankeny and Becky Schroeder sharing team honors with 14 kill spikes each. Jessie Erwin was 13-15 in hitting with seven kills and Sarah Ehlers was 8-9 with four kills.

Katie Monson led the team in serving at 18-19 with three aces while Megan Adkins was a perfect 11-11 with two aces. Ehlers was 12-12 serving. The defense was led by Schroeder's seven total blocks including four aces while Ehlers had five aces. "We made a lot of unforced errors," Cunningham said. "We trailed 11-2 in the first game and managed to come back and tie the game at 13 before falling but we took that momentum we had gained and carried it over the next two games."

Laurel trailed Plainview, 9-7 in the third game before outscoring its opposition by an 8-1 margin the rest of the way.

Despite the less-than-impressive performance, the Bears will still go into Friday's first round of the state tournament with a lot of confidence. "We respect any team we will see in Lincoln," Cunningham said. "Regardless of regular season records, everyone is good at state."

The Bears first opponent, Lincoln Christian has a losing record at 15-17 but they play a very competitive schedule with Lincoln schools and upper class schools.

The Crusaders top hitters include Tori Olson at 5-11 who notched 212 kill spikes this season and Tricia Doyle, a 5-10 sophomore who had 190 kill spikes. Carissa Agena had 131 kills as three Crusaders were over the 100-kill spike mark.

Laurel is led by Tracy Ankeny who notched 256 kill spikes and Becky Schroeder with 199. The biggest difference in the two teams on paper is the defensive play at the net where the Bears appear to have a distinct advantage.

Schroeder has 122 blocks on the season and Sarah Ehlers, 102 while Lincoln Christian's top blocker has been Olson with 78.

A Laurel win in the first round of state would advance them to the semifinal round at 7 p.m. on Friday at Lincoln Southeast against the winner of the Hastings St. Cecilia and West Point Central Catholic match.

Should the Bears prove the seedings correct and advance to the championship round on Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at Pershing Auditorium.

Tracy Ankeny powers an ace spike over a Plainview defender during the Bears district championship last Friday.

Becky Schroeder returns a serve by passing it to her setter Megan Adkins during the Bears district finals in Pierce.

Wildcats volleyball team ends season with win over Midland

The Wayne State volleyball team closed out the 1996 season in winning fashion with a straight games victory over Midland College last Thursday in Rice Auditorium, 15-8, 15-3, 15-11.

The win ended WSC's season with a 21-18 record while Midland slipped to 10-22. Tracy Wessel ended her WSC career with 38 set assists in the match while Jessie Pontow and Renee Fuhr each had 11 kill spikes. Amy Gudmundson finished with eight kills and Jennifer Rouse, five.

Pontow also led the winners with 16 digs while Fuhr had a dozen and Wessel, 10.

WSC also played the University of Nebraska at Omaha, recently and lost in straight games in Rice Auditorium, 7-15, 6-15, 9-15. The highly ranked UNO improved to 27-2 with the victory.

Jenifer Svitak led WSC with 10 kills while Fuhr and Pontow had seven each. Wessel finished with 29 set assists and defensively, Wessel and Gudmundson shared team honors with 11 digs each with Pontow notching 10.

Wayne State's Tracy Wessel free balls the volleyball back to Midland during WSC's final match of the year.

Wayne State women's hoop team set to open season with new head coach

Wayne State College women's basketball coach Jeff Goldstein is sold on the college's motto, "Building Bright Futures." After all, the first-year head coach hopes to build a bright future for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats are coming off an 11-16 record in 1995-96, the program's first losing season in five years. With seven returning letter-winners, including three starters, Goldstein is optimistic about the upcoming season.

"We're building. I'm not going to say we're rebuilding because we weren't at the point where the cupboard was bare coming into this season," said Goldstein, who spent the past six seasons as an assistant coach on the Wildcat's staff. "Everyone has seen the court, so it's not like we've had to build the program back up. I'm excited. If anything, I think we're going to be fun to watch."

Most eyes will be watching point guard Amy Brodersen. The team's only senior, Brodersen is the top returning scorer from last year's club. In 1995-96, Brodersen averaged 11 points per game to go along with 110 assists.

Eyes will be on Brodersen for another reason, however. She underwent foot surgery over the summer, and is not yet 100 percent. That could be a factor early in the year when the Wildcats play in two tournaments on consecutive weekends.

"I don't want to put any added pressure on Amy, but she has to show us leadership both on and off the court," Goldstein said. "There could be times this year when she won't be able to play the minutes she would like."

Expected to split time with Brodersen is junior college transfer Erin Hourigan. An All-Region IV player, Hourigan averaged 12 points a game last season at Black Hawk College in Moline, Ill.

Jenny Thompson will start at the shooting guard position. She played in 26 games last year averaging 3.5 points per game. She will be backed up by freshman Tonya Porter and Lisa Recker. Rounding out the guards are freshmen Jennifer Van Egdom and Naomi Rabago.

The small forward position will be handled by a trio of players.

Junior Julie Heine started 13 games a year ago and is an aggressive defender. Sophomore Stefanie Sjuts, back at full strength after being slowed last year recovering from knee surgery, is a strong ball handler. Meanwhile, sophomore transfer Megan Murphy is an experienced inside player, having played in the North Central Conference at South Dakota.

Sophomore Carla Schultz and junior Pam Drickey will share the post position. Schultz moves to the post after playing small forward last season, while Drickey returns to the lineup after being sidelined with a knee injury seven games into last season. Both players run the court extremely well and are threats from the perimeter. Freshman Jill Godard may also see action in the post in 1996-97.

Junior Renee Belz gets the nod at center. After a somewhat slow start last year, Belz played well at the end of the season. Goldstein hopes that carries over into this season. Backing up Belz is junior Erin Pick. Pick who played on the WSC volleyball team this fall, is adjusting to the college game, not having played competitively for two years.

Laurel defeats Winside

Laurel's football advanced to the quarterfinals of the state football playoffs with a 29-13 victory over Randy Geier's Winside Wildcats.

The Wildcats had trouble stopping Laurel running sensation Vince Ward who shredded the Wildcats defense for 305 yards on 41 carries. Ward scored three touchdowns on runs of four, seven and two yards.

Winside's scoring came on a one-yard run by Ryan Krueger and a 14-yard touchdown pass from Robert Wittler to Chad O'Connor. The Bears racked up 405 total yards compared to 192 for Winside.

Despite the loss, Geier had nothing but praise for his 7-3 squad. "We had a good season," he said. "We were fortunate enough to win the conference for the second time in three years and to qualify for the state playoffs for the second time in three years."

Geier said he tips his hat to Laurel coach Tom Luxford and the Bears players for an outstanding season. "Winside had a heck of a football team," Luxford said. "We were very proud of our kids for the way they played against them, especially after they (Winside) score the game's first touchdown."

Geier said his team had some outstanding individual performances including Jaimey Holdorf's career record-setting total of 129 receptions in his career for 2310 yards and 30 touchdown receptions. Robert Wittler set school records for career pass completions at 251 and attempts, 445 along with total yards passing, 3620 with 48 touchdowns, another record. "The amazing stat for Robert may well be the fact he had 445 pass attempts with just 14 interceptions," Geier said.

Laurel standout running back Vince Ward breaks through a pack of Wildcats en route to a chunk of his 305 rushing yards against Winside in state playoff action last week. Ward gained over 750 rushing yards in the three playoff games the Bears took part in this season including 258 against Emerson-Hubbard and 205 against Norfolk Catholic.

Chad O'Connor leaps over a Laurel defender to catch a 14-yard touchdown pass from Robert Wittler.

Records fall in WSC's loss

By Jeremy Buss
For the Herald

Wayne State hit rough times Saturday, dealing with a number of injuries and suspensions in a hard fought loss to Drake 54-41.

Although the Wildcats stumbled in some aspects, they ran wild in others, as the Cats set 15 individual school and NCAA division II records in the game.

Wayne State would strike first in the game, moving 75 yards for the score, on a 16 yard run by Jarrod DeGeorgia.

Drake would strike back hard, scoring on their next two possessions, the first on a 25 yard sweep. The next score would come four plays after Drake recovered a WSC fumble, to put the host team up 14-7.

After exchanging field goal attempts Drake struck again, capping off a 70 yard drive with a six yard touchdown run to go up 20-7.

Drake would again capitalize on a WSC turnover on WSC's next possession, returning a Wildcat fumble 37 yards for a touchdown.

Wayne, down but not out, would rally on their next two possessions to pull to within three. First, DeGeorgia would connect with Kevin Swayne on a 61 yard touchdown reception. Swayne would also grab the two point conversion.

On their next series DeGeorgia would hit Jaime Jones on a 15 yard grab. Swayne would again grab the two point conversion.

Jones was put in the receiver position as injuries began to take their toll on the Wildcats.

"I think this shows his (Jones) athletic ability and his willingness to do what needs to be done to be successful," said head coach Dennis Wagner.

WSC finished the game with only one running back and four receivers.

Drake would capitalize on another Wildcat turnover to open the second half, scoring on a six yard interception return.

Dirk Boe would get the call for the Cats' next score, hitting on a 22 yard field goal attempt.

Drake would score again in three plays on their next series, set up by an interception to go up 38-26.

WSC closed out the third quarter with a 10 yard touchdown pass to Marshall Byrd.

The fourth quarter saw Drake scoring three more times after two more Wildcat turnovers and a safety. The first on a 19 yard run set up by a WSC interception, then on a safety on an intentional grounding call on DeGeorgia, and finally off a 61 yard fumble return.

WSC would manage one more touchdown late in the game on a 36 yard DeGeorgia touchdown pass to Pugsley. Swayne would grab the PAT pass to set the score at 54-41.

"I think the kids played hard, but we are not satisfied," said Wagner. "We threw for good yardage, but we need to be able to run the ball to win, and I think the defense needs to stop some drives to help us change the momentum."

The most notable records were set by Jarrod DeGeorgia. DeGeorgia threw 76 times completing 56 for 599 yards. The attempts and completions were both NCAA records and the pass yardage was the third highest total in history for division II.

The previous records were 45 completions and 74 attempts. DeGeorgia also set the NCAA division II record for most total plays at 88.

"I think Jarrod wishes he could take back a couple of things like the interceptions, but I think he turned in an excellent performance," Wagner added.

Other records (all school) include 21 catches (second highest in NCAA div II history) and 236 yards by Kevin Swayne, both single game records; most receptions in a season, 86 by Andy Follett; 1275 yards by Kevin Swayne, most in a season; and Jarrod DeGeorgia 286 completions, most in a season. Kevin Swayne also set the career passing yardage receiving record with 2,091.

Wayne State closed out the season with a 3-7 record. They will now look toward next season and filling the few vacancies they will have.

Defensively the Cats will lose only one starter. They will also be looking to eliminate some of the mistakes that were made and take one game at a time.

"We will have a great nucleus to build around; we are going to be getting a lot of people back, and we have a batch of great linemen coming up, and there's Jaime Jones at quarterback and he has proven he can be a great quarterback," says Wagner on his outlook to next season.

Wayne State men's basketball team has four returning starters to lead campaign

It's hard for Wayne State College men's basketball coach Greg McDermott not to crack a smile when he talks about his team's prospects for the 1996-97 season.

He has reason to smile. The Wildcats return four starters and eight letterwinners from last year's squad that went 12-15.

"I am excited for this season," said McDermott, who is beginning his third year with the Wildcats. "We have several returning players who gained valuable minutes last year."

These returners gained more than valuable minutes. The Wildcats return their top five scorers and top six rebounders from last season, giving McDermott a solid nucleus. Combine these players with three true freshmen who expect to play immediately and McDermott has one of the most talented benches in the nation.

"We have outstanding depth," McDermott said. "We can comfortably go 10 deep on our bench."

This program has been about playing a lot of players. And it doesn't matter to them who plays, as long as we're successful."

A key to Wayne State's success will be sophomore point guard Tyler Johnson. Johnson averaged a team-high 12.3 points per game last year while starting 17 games as a true freshman. That year of experience should pay dividends this season, according to McDermott.

"Tyler is one of the premier point guards, not only in our region, but in the country," McDermott said. "He has matured into a great player and a great point guard. He is making the right decisions and getting the other players involved."

Backing up Johnson will be fifth-year senior Curt Woodin. Woodin, who had a team-high 142 assists last year, is a smart player who doesn't make mistakes.

"We are as strong (at point guard) as anybody we'll play this year,"

McDermott said.

The shooting guard spot should be equally as strong. Fifth-year senior Mike Fitzner is a three-year starter and the team's leading three-point shooter. With 161 career three-pointers, Fitzner needs only 23 treys to break Steve Dunbar's career record of 183.

Fitzner is also the Cats' top free throw shooter. Last season he was 33-of-37 from the charity stripe, for 89 percent.

Freshman Jon Dolliver is expected to make immediate contributions. A three-time all-state selection at Stanton High School, Dolliver can also play at small forward.

The forward spots, along with center, is where McDermott has the most flexibility. Junior Craig Philipp and sophomore Chad Nelson return to start at the forwards. The 6-foot-5 Philipp averaged 6.3 rebounds last year, tops on the squad, while averaging 10.7 points per outing, which was second on the club.

"Craig is a very consistent player," McDermott said. "He improved defensively in the offseason. He's gotten stronger and added some range to his jump shot."

Nelson, at 6-foot-6, was second on the club with 48 three-point field goals, while averaging over nine points and four rebounds per game. Also back are 6-6 sophomores Jason Diaz and Jaime Jones. All four players, in addition to Dolliver, are versatile athletes capable of scoring inside, off the drive or with the three-point shot.

"We are very solid at this position," McDermott said.

In the middle, McDermott is looking at a pair of true freshmen, Matt Van Voorst and Eric Henderson. Van Voorst, at 6-8, 225 pounds, is more suited for the rugged play inside, while the 6-7, 190-pound Henderson can extend the defense. Despite their physical differences, McDermott also said Jones could see some action at center, depending on matchups.

With a roster full of good all-around athletes, the possibility of the school's first-ever NCAA Division II regional appearance isn't out of the picture.

ZION LUTHERAN LADIES AID-LWML

Zion Lutheran Ladies Aid-LWML met Nov. 7 with eight members and Pastor Cage attending. Meeting opened with group singing. A skit was presented.

Pastor Cage spoke about future lessons on "The Confession of Faith." The business meeting was conducted by Joyce Saegbarth, president. Card committee reported sending two cheer cards and one visitor card the past month.

Inez Freeman reported on the LWML Fall Rally she attended at St. John's in Madison. Others attending were Diane Koepke, Donna Mae Kruger, LaVerda Kruger and Pastor Cage.

It was decided to buy new table clothes for the basement.

The Aid entertained at a guest day on Oct. 23. Seven guests and two children from St. Johns, rural Pierce, and five guests from St. Paul's of Winside attended. Pastor Cage had devotions and Gladys Dietz was guest speaker. Readings were presented by aid members. A dessert luncheon was served.

Plans were made for the annual noon potluck Christmas dinner on Dec. 5. There will also be a bake sale and an auction. Proceeds will be used to purchase new altar cloths.

Christmas donations will be made to World Relief, Lutheran Hour, Bethesda, Lutheran Family Service, Lutheran Home Foundation, Camp Luther, Lutheran Community Hospital Foundation, Good Neighbors and Community Food Pantry.

Election of officers was held with Diane Koepke elected president and Joyce Saegbarth, secretary.

Iva Robinson will be in charge of flowers for November. Meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer. Marie Rathman and Lorena Weich were seated at the birthday table. Hostesses were Diane Koepke and Joyce Saegbarth.

Next meeting will be the annual Christmas dinner on Dec. 5.

TRINITY LUTHERAN LADIES AID-LWMS

Trinity Lutheran Ladies Aid-LWMS met at the school library Nov. 7 with 10 members and Pastor Nelson present. The meeting opened with a hymn and Pastor Nelson led in the study of two topics. One was written by Pastor Dan Balge, a former WELS Chaplain in Europe, and one by Joel Jaeger of Castries, St. Lucia.

Karen Mangels, president, called the business meeting to order. Committee reports were given. Karen Mangels and Elsie Hinzman will be the visiting committee for November. Lucille Marten will send visitor notes.

A memorial was given to the Altar Guild in memory of Karen Tiedtke, a deceased member.

New officers for 1997 are Marguerite Wagner, vice president and Irene Mangels, secretary-treasurer.

Jean Marotz read a LWMS article and Karen Mangels gave a report on the LWMS Fall Rally held at Waco in October.

Old and new officers will meet in the Robyn Nelson home to compile 1997 yearbooks.

Meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer and table prayer. Lucille Marten was hostess.

Next meeting will be the annual noon Christmas potluck dinner at the fellowship hall with Trinity school children and teachers as guests.

PEACE DORCAS SOCIETY

The Peace Dorcas Society met Nov. 7 with 16 members, one guest and Pastor Belt present. President Lorraine Wesely welcomed everyone and Pastor Belt gave the opening prayer. Lorraine Wesely read a poem, followed by group singing. Roll call was a scripture verse.

Cheer cards were sent. The birthday song was sung for Lottie Klein. Frances Walker read an article, "Faith is Thanking God, Always." The yearly thank offering was taken. This year's offering will go to the Good Neighbor program and the Evangelical Children's Home at St. Louis, Mo.

The Society will purchase a poinsettia for the church. Plans were made for the annual congregational Thanksgiving dinner to be held Nov. 24. Shirley Mann is chairman. Ladies with last names beginning with M-Z will be in charge of serving.

Lottie Klein was program chairman and read a poem. She also had the lesson on "The Sluggard." The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. Lottie Klein was hostess.

Plans were made to have the annual no-host Christmas dinner for the next meeting on Dec. 5 at 12:30 p.m.

Parents of the couple are Eldon and Janet Wohlers of Crawford and Jack and Bev Beeson of Wayne.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress and white boots while the groom and groomsmen wore tux coats with their Stetsons, jeans and boots.

The Maid of Honor was Amber Hoffman of Crawford, friend of the bride.

Marie Wohlers of Crawford, sister-in-law of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Best Man was Mike Zach of Wayne, friend of the groom.

Groomsman was Nick Happold of Doniphan, friend of the groom.

Megan Dodd, friend of the bride was flower girl and Drew Wohlers, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

Ushers were Dwaine Junck, Trevor Topp and Darren Lubberstedt, friends of the groom and Bruce Wohlers, brother of the bride.

The guest book attendant was

Mr. and Mrs. Beeson

Mari Hungerford, Jana Wohlers was the gift table attendant.

Receptions servers were Betty Wohlers and Wanda Leeling, aunts of the bride and Marilyn Hale and Alice McNall, aunts of the groom.

A dance was held at O'Doherty's in Crawford.

The wedding was attended by family and friends from 14 states and Germany.

The couple is making their home ranching in the Crawford area.

Should TV viewing be regulated?

Q: What is your view of TV, generally? Should parents attempt to regulate what their children watch?

A: Most television programming is awful! According to Dr. Gerald Looney, of the University of Arizona, by the time the average preschool child reaches 14 years of age, he will have witnessed 18,000 murders on TV and countless hours of related violence, nonsense and undiluted drivel.

Furthermore, Dr. Saul Kapel states that the most time-consuming activity in the life of a child is neither school nor family interaction. It is television, absorbing 14,000 valuable hours during the course of childhood! That is the equivalent to sitting before the tube eight hours a day continuously for 4.9 years!

There are other aspects of television which demand its regulation and control. For one thing, it is an enemy of communication within the family. How can we talk to each other when a $1 million production in living color is always beckoning our attention?

I am also concerned about the current fashion whereby each program director is compelled to include all the avant-garde ideas—go a little father, use a little more profanity, discuss the undiscussable, assault the public concept of good taste and decency.

In doing so, they are hacking away at the foundations of the family and all that represents the Judeo-Christian ethic. In recent seasons, for example, we were offered hilariously funny episodes involving abortion, divorce, extramarital relationships, rape and the ever-popular theme "Father is an idiot."

If this is "social relevance," then I am sick unto death of the message I have been fed.

Television, with its unparalleled capacity for teaching and edifying, has occasionally demonstrated the potential it carries. "Little House on the

Focus On The Family
With
Dr. James Dobson

Prairie" was for years the best program available for young children.

I would not, therefore, recommend smashing the television-set in despair. Rather, we must learn to control it instead of becoming its slave. When our children were young, they were permitted to watch one hour of cartoons on Saturday morning and one half-hour program each afternoon, selected from an approved list. That still sounds like a reasonable schedule for elementary-school children.

Q: Many American colleges and universities are permitting men and women to live coeducational dormitories, often rooming side-by-side. Others allow unrestricted visiting hours by members of the opposite sex. Do you think this promotes more healthy attitudes toward sex?

A: It certainly permits more sex, and some people think that's healthy.

The advocates of cohabitation try to tell us that young men and women can live together without doing what comes naturally. That is nonsense.

The sex drive is one of the strongest forces in human nature, and Joe College is notoriously weak in suppressing it. I would prefer that the supporters of coeducational dormitories admit that morality is not very important to them.

If morality is something we value, then we should at least give it a wobbly-legged chance to survive. The sharing of collegiate bedrooms hardly takes us in that direction.

Proper use and upkeep of smoke detectors important

Residential fires claim thousands of lives and billions of dollars in property each year. Responsible, informed use of smoke detectors can limit a fire's path of destruction to property, not life.

Improperly placed alarms or detectors without batteries, however, provide no safety benefits. Smoke detectors should be treated as a top-priority appliance. Batteries should be tested monthly and replaced immediately if low.

Under no circumstances should smoke detector batteries be removed to power toys or other items. If the shrill alarm goes off due to incidental smoke from cooking, the detector should be moved to another location or replaced with a less sensitive detector—not disconnected.

The two main types of smoke detectors are ionization, which respond better to open flames; and photoelectric, which are better at detecting smolder fires. For the best protection, homes should contain both types.

Each floor should have a smoke detector. Placing detectors near bedrooms is a must.

Briefly Speaking

Logan Homemakers play pitch

WAYNE — The Logan Homemakers met in the Eleanora Rauss home on Nov. 7. The meeting was opened by singing "Faith of Our Fathers." Roll call was answered by stating Thanksgiving plans. Jean Penlerick had several readings. Thirteen point pitch was played. The Christmas party will be Dec. 3 at 6:30 p.m. at Genos.

PEO meets at McDermott's

WAYNE — P.E.O. Chapter AZ met at the home of Evelyn McDermott on Nov. 5. Co-hostesses were Marilyn Carhart, Jean Dickey, Barbara Kelton and Marian Simpson. A memorial service was held for Leota Moller. The next meeting of the Chapter will be Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Lucille Peterson.

Women's Club plans Christmas party

WAYNE — The Wayne Women's Club met Nov. 8 with 20 members present. Roll call was "A Thanksgiving I Remember." Fern Kelly gave a book report on "Chicken Soup for the Soul." Hostesses were Leona Kluge and Gena Luhr. The next meeting will be Dec. 13 at 11:30 a.m. at the Max Lounge for the Christmas Dinner. Roll call will be a favorite Christmas verse. Guests are welcome.

AA.U.W. to view 'Passionfish'

WAYNE — The American Association of Univeristy Women (A.A.U.W.) will meet Nov. 18 at 6 p.m. in the Goldenrod Room of the Wayne State College Student Center. The group will view and discuss the movie "Passionfish" and eat pizza. R.S.V.P. at 375-4547.

Hillside Club

WAYNE — The Hillside Club met at the Caffe Court on Nov. 5. Mary Dorcey was hostess. Lydia Thomsen presided at the business meeting in the absence of President Dorothy Grone. Five members answered roll call with a Christmas gift they would like to receive. A get-well card was signed for Mary Dorcey. Ten point pitch was played and prizes awarded. The next meeting will be at the Max at 11:30 a.m. on Dec. 3.

Also, detectors should not be placed on un-insulated outside walls, on ceilings below un-insulated attics, or on ceiling containing radiant heating coils. The temperature variations these placements can cause may hinder the detector's effectiveness.

When purchasing a smoke detector, make sure it is UL listed and read the manufacturer's instructions to be sure it will work in the desired location. Detectors should have a sound output of at least 85 decibels at a distance of 10 feet.

Supplement smoke detectors with a fully charged fire extinguisher. Both detectors and extinguishers can be purchased at relatively little cost at most local hardware stores.

Extinguishers, like detectors, should be tested regularly (about once a year) and kept in functioning condition at all times. Carbon monoxide detectors also are recommended as an added precaution for homes using wood-burning stoves, fireplaces or kerosene heaters.

Choir to perform in Wayne

Undivided, an inter-denominational choir from the Ponca and Newcastle communities will be performing at the Calvary Bible Evangelical Free Church on Nov. 17 at 7 p.m.

The members of Undivided have recently organized their talents in order to express their love for music and Jesus Christ.

The public is encouraged to attend the performance and enjoy an evening of traditional music and worship.

Open house held for Anna Wantoch

An open house was held at the Hoskins Firehall on Nov. 10 for Anna Wantoch in honor of her 90th birthday.

Approximately 100 friends and relatives attended. They came from Overland Park, Kan.; Omaha, Bancroft, Stanton, Madison, Norfolk, Winside and Hoskins.

A special birthday cake was made by Anna's great niece, Rochelle Sellin.

"We're so happy we want everyone to know"

"If I saw signs it was like they were in the middle of the road. At night driving was awfully hard. When there were a lot of signs saying which way to go I had trouble seeing well enough to read them. It was scary and I drove a lot slower. I had cataracts for sometime. They gradually got worse. Dr. Feidler left it up to me when to have them removed.

I have complete confidence in Dr. Feidler. He's kind of a special friend to us. We've been coming here from Pierce for 18 years. He used a laser one time on my left eye and that was a complete success. He makes you feel comfortable and his staff is real courteous, too. We're so happy we want everyone to know."

Frontline Continentals to present concert in Concord

The Concord Evangelical Free Church youth are sponsoring The Frontline Continentals in a concert of contemporary Christian music.

The concert will be held at the Laurel-Concord gym in Laurel on Tuesday, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The group will present an energetic and innovative musical performance of contemporary Christian music, including top praise songs and a special number from Africa for the children.

Members of the Frontline Continentals are chosen from thousands who audition annually from around the world. The program is fine-tuned during an intensive rehearsal camp in Southern California and then take a 10 week tour throughout the United States and abroad.

For 28 years the Continentals have been leaders in the field of live presentation, with more than 16,000 young people traveling millions of miles to every continent in the world except Antarctica. More than 70 countries have been visited.

Church members attend leadership conference

Six people from Our Savior Lutheran Church in Wayne recently attended the Church Leadership Conference at Willow Creek Community Church near Chicago, Ill.

The conference is a combination of personal spiritual renewal and training in reaching the unchurched people through the local church.

"The event is recognized as one of the best conferences available to refresh, challenge and equip people with a fresh vision to enable a congregation's ministry to stretch the spiritual spectrum at both ends-reaching unchurched men and women on the one side and developing fully devoted followers of Christ on the other," said Pastor Martin Russell of Our Savior Lutheran Church.

While in Chicago, the members of Our Savior also visited the Churchwide Headquarters of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA). The ELCA is the largest Lutheran denomination in the United States with approximately 5.2 million members and 11,000 congregations.

Deanery to meet in Pender

The Rural Northeast Deanery Council of Catholic Women will hold a meeting at St. John's Catholic Church in Pender on Nov. 19.

Registration will begin at 12:30 p.m. and president Joan Walsh of Hubbard will conduct the business meeting and coordinate the day's activities.

Marie Dorsey of Hubbard will give a presentation on "Family Life" and introduce a book "Council for Catholic Parents" by Rev. Brett Brannen, to be given to parents at the time of baptism of their child.

Church Community Chairman Sr. Bernardus Volpp of Emerson will speak on, "Preparation for Advent."

Rose Rieken of Wayne will present a program on Mission Work.

Mardelle Connelly of Decatur will be installed as the new president.

CRAFT SALE

The Allen Senior Center's Christmas craft sale is Nov. 15 and 16. On Friday, hours will be 3 to 7 p.m. and on Saturday, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. They will be serving chili, sandwiches, pie and rolls and having a bake sale and a craft sale along with raffling off a quilt.

WELCOME PACKETS

Welcome Packets were delivered to Allen's newest residents last week. Justin and Tonya Kelly have purchased the home formerly occupied by the Millers just east of the park. Heather Dohman and her children have moved into the home which had been occupied by the McAfee family near the football field.

ONE-ACT PLAY

Allen school drama director

Connie Roberts has selected the one-act play "The Girl in the Mirror" for this year's competition. It is the story of 17-year-old Susan who has attempted suicide and now lies in a coma.

The cast includes Tiffany McAfee, Corie Sullivan, Ken Rahn, Jeremiah Strehlow, Beth Obermeyer, Angie Sachau, Vicki Puckett and Jaelyn Kaufmann. Serving as stage crew for the production will be Cory Prochaska, Erik Olson, Carrie Geiger, April Sachau and Kristy Sullivan.

The play will be presented at Lewis and Clark Conference Nov. 25 and at district competition in Elgin Dec. 5.

RECEIVES CHECK

Allen School was presented a

$500 check in the Southern Hills Mall's Cash Back for Schools camaign. Patrons of the district turned in their mall receipts to vote for their favorite school. Thirteen area schools competed in the contest.

NEW MEMBERS

Allen Board of Education members elected to serve four-year terms beginning in January are Deb Hingst-Kim Blohm and Don Benjamin.

NUTRITION SITE MENU

Monday, Nov. 18: Meatballs, spaghetti, lima beans, lettuce, pineapple, garlic bread.

New library foundation is organized

A first meeting of the newly formed Winside Public Library Foundation was recently held at the home of Lydaisy Janke, who was nominated as the chairwoman.

"We formed the foundation with the approval of the Winside Village Board, to seek volunteers and donations for the purpose of establishing a new public library facility in Winside. We currently have 11 members on the Foundation and librarian JoAnn Field as a committee advisor. A Foundation account has been opened at the Winside State Bank for anyone who would like to contribute funds toward this goal," said Mrs. Janke.

"We are still in the beginning stages, looking at our options, open to suggestions and wanting more individuals to join our efforts. We plan to meet the second Thursday of each month and the next meeting will be Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the Village auditorium kitchen. We will be happy to welcome anyone. The possibilities of grant funds, as well as other ideas will be discussed."

During the first meeting, Darci Frahm was elected as secretary; Scott Watters, treasurer; and Kathy Meyer, public relations. Other present members are Kathy Geier, Deb Harmeier, Barb Stenwall, Sally Schwartz, Teresa Watters, Bill Burris and Caroline Backstrom.

HOME CARE AIDES.....

The Heart of Caregiving

A Gift from the Heart

I touched an old soul with my heart today,
One long ago lost and forgotten.
I made her laugh and I made her smile,
I made her feel young for a little while.

As I travel from house to house each day
I make each house a home.
I give personal care with a personal touch;
For these few moments no one's alone.

Some grin ear to ear when I walk in the door,
Others moan and groan "Why are you here?"
But they all have a need way down deep in their hearts
For my caring, my sharing, my time, and my ear.

They share tales of their youth, when their bodies were strong.
And their hearts had a mind of their own.
They share dreams - some fulfilled, some that drifted away
And some of the dreams they still pray for today.

There are times when their bodies need physical care,
Some help with their bath - a shampoo for their hair,

But that's rarely enough for a meaningful day;
They need kindness, and softness, and tears gone away.

They have fears they're becoming a burden to others,
Fears that they might be forgotten.
They can tell me those fears that they can't tell another.
And they trust me with spoken and unspoken tears.

I do physical care in the winter and summer,
Work in the homes that are often too cold or too hot.
Each client's different in both body and spirit
But they all understand that I care with my heart.

I touched an old soul with my heart today,
One long ago lost and forgotten.
She laughed right out loud and I gave her a smile
And that is what makes my hard work all worthwhile.

Life is fragile, live today!

It's Sunday evening and I've just driven home from Auburn. A lot of corn came out of the fields this past had not died when expected to.

Those of us who knew him are convinced the Father Rick was granted many years to help families dealing with grief and to tell all of us how glorious heaven's going to be.

One on the songs today was "If You Could See Me Now," another affirmation for those of us who believe in a "life after life."

Rev. Miller quoted Joan Burney in her tribute to a wonderful man. She says that one of the last times she went to visit Father Rick, he was wearing a t-shirt that said, "Life is hard. God is good. Let's dance."

Anyway, it reminds me again of the fragility of this life. Which is why the Big Farmer and I have just returned from southwest Oregon.

We were guests of double cousins, Gil and Stan, and their wives. The Big Farmer's mother and father were sister and brother to their mother and father. They spent Sundays and holidays together as they were growing up. Stan started at UN-L when Mike did; they were roommates.

Gil and his wife make the trip back to Big Red Country about every other year; Stan and Margy have not been here since 1981. It was time to get together.

We flew, in the interest of time. And we were treated royally, with lots of good food and fun sight-seeing.

Best of all, we talked. And laughed. And reminisced. And took pictures. We are the "older generation" now, hard as it is for us to believe. An opportunity to spend time together do not come often enough.

I even climbed a mountain! Not a very high one, I admit, but an actual mountain. Table Rock, with a nice gravel hiking trail and Margy to keep me company.

The hospice nurse who closed yesterday's service challenged us to daily "make memories" so our survivors will have them to help deal with our loss when the time comes. Father Rick certainly did that.

What will your loved ones remember about you?

week, but I see combines and trucks still out there.

It was the occasion of our annual Memorial Service for families of hospice patients; always a meaningful observance.

Our speaker last year was Father Rick Arkfeld. This year it was Reverend Jim Miller, who referred to Father Rick, who finally went to heaven on Oct. 15.

I say finally, because he was diagnosed with lung cancer 10 years ago. He had actually been known to say he was embarrassed because he

Candidates to vie for Wayne FSA committee

Election ballots have been mailed to all known eligible voters in LAA#2. Voters have until Dec. 2, 1996 to submit a ballot for the person of their choice to serve on the Wayne County FSA Committee.

Tabulation will take place at the Wayne FSA office on Dec. 5, 1996 at 9 a.m. which is open to the public.

A brief biography of the candidates to serve on the County Committee or Community Committee for LAA#2 is as follows.

Beverly Dangberg resides at Rural Route 1, Box 50, Wayne and has helped produce alfalfa, corn, oats and soybeans on their farm for 43 years. She is active in a bridge club and is willing to serve if elected.

Art Greve resides at Rural Route 1, Box 116, Wakefield and has produced corn and soybeans for 31 years. He is currently vice-chairperson on the County Committee and is willing to serve if re-elected.

Douglas Lage resides at Rural Route 1, Box 124 A, Pilger and has produced alfalfa, corn, forage sorghum and soybeans for 15 years. He is active in the Nebraska State Auctioneers Association. He is willing to serve if elected.

Alvin Sundell resides at Rural Route 1, Box 117, Wakefield. Alvin is semi-retired from farming and has produced corn and soybeans all of his life. He is active in church, the Community Club, American Legion, VFW and is currently the Alternate to the County Committee and is willing to serve if elected.

Eligible voters are encouraged to vote for the candidate of their choice by Dec. 2.

Laurel youth attend Congress

Megan Adkins and Matt Christensen, both of Laurel, recently attend the All-American Quarterhorse Congress held in Columbus, Ohio.

Miss Adkins rode her horse, Tuff Taco Pogo Styk, to third place national honors in reining. The coveted Congress medal and awards were presented to the winners in the Celeste Center Arena.

Over 600 youth from across the nation and Canada participated in competitions during this 30th anniversary Quarterhorse Congress. Ninety-two state teams competed in the National Team Tournament events and were honored and introduced during opening ceremonies of the Congress.

Two Nebraska teams participated and the team sponsored by the Quarterhorse Association of Nebraska won 10th place among the teams. Miss Adkins and Christensen were two of the six team members. Team members received Congress medals and a pair of Justin boots in addition to the Silver Belt Buckles from the Congress and personalized jackets sponsored by Sundowner Trailors which all tournament competitors received.

Matt Christensen and Megan Adkins participated in the All-American Quarterhorse Congress.

Miss Adkins is the daughter of Rick and Joan Adkins and Matt is the son of Dennis and Lisa Christensen, all of Laurel.

Management program to be held

The Gold Medal Management program for Nebraska farmers and ranchers is being held in various Nebraska communities.

Gold Medal Management is a two-year program designed to provide production and financial analysis for Nebraska farmers and ranchers. It also fulfills the Farm Service Agency requirements.

Persons who have completed the first year and who need information on the second year should contact their local Farm Service Agency office.

Programs will be held Tuesday, Nov. 19 at the Hartington High School in Hartington; Monday, Nov. 25 at Columbus Federal Savings in Wayne and Tuesday, Dec. 3 at the First National Bank in West Point.

The Gold Medal Management program focuses on many proven tools used by successful farmers/ranchers and provides the knowledge necessary for many loan applications, as well as management principles aimed at future success.

Its purpose is designed to instruct borrowers in financial and production management.

Topics include identifying and writing family and business goals, preparing and completing a balance sheet and income statement, developing a family and business cash flow budget and constructing specific enterprise records that permit enterprise analysis.

For more information, contact Wayne Erickson, Northeast Community College at 1-800-348-9033.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Eighteen Winside area senior citizens met Nov. 4 for a noon potluck dinner in the Winside Legion Hall. Cards were played afterwards.

AMERICAN LEGION

Roy Reed Post 252 American Legion Commander Dan Jaeger conducted the Nov. 5 meeting with 12 members present. Plans were discussed for the Nov. 10 omelet and pancake feed.

Legion members are currently selling tickets for a turkey drawing. On Nov. 23 they will give away six turkeys and on Dec. 21 the remaining six will be drawn for. All names will be eligible for both drawings.

The annual Legion soup supper will be held on Jan. 24 in the Winside Elementary School.

The Legion members are working on funds to move an M60 tank to the post home for a general public display. They would welcome any donations towards this project.

Next regular meeting will be Tuesday, Dec. 3 at 8 p.m.

SCOUTS

Joni Jaeger met Nov. 5 with the Wolfs, Webelos, Tiger Cubs and Boy Scouts to collect their popcorn sales sheets. The boys then visited the Winside election precinct to observe election procedures. They also did some voting of their own.

The boys played basketball for part of the sports badge. Treats were served by Steven Fleeer and Matthew Peter.

TOPS

Members of TOPS NE 589 met Nov. 5 for the weekly meeting. The report card contest will end this week and a new contest will begin. Several articles and low fat recipes were shared.

Meetings are held every Monday with Marian Iversen at 5:30 p.m.

VETERANS DAY

A Veteran's Day program was held Nov. 11 in the elementary school. The program was a cooperative effort between members of the Roy Reed Post 252 American Legion, the Winside Cub Scout Pack #179 and staff and students of the Winside High School.

Mrs. Marilyn Brockman of the Winside American Legion Auxiliary gave a reading. Jenny Fleeer gave her Hugh O'Brian Foundation Speech. Robert Wittler and Rachel Riley presented their Boys and Girls State speeches and Robert Wittler and Jenny Wade, Voice of Democracy speeches.

CRAFT SHOW

The annual Winside craft show will be held in the village auditorium on Saturday, Dec. 7 from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tables are still available. For more information, contact Lorraine Prince at 286-4232 or Barb Leapley at 634-2333 or 368-5335. Lunch will be available.

ANNUAL BAZAAR

St. Paul's Lutheran Church Ladies Aid will host its annual church bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 16 in the church basement from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. There will be craft items, baked goods, white elephants and much more. Lunch will be available. Anyone wanting to donate items can leave them in the church kitchen by Nov. 15.

LIBRARY BOARD

Kim Sok, president of the Winside Public Library Board, conducted the Nov. 4 meeting with five members and one guest present.

Librarian JoAnn Field reported 470 items loaned in October.

The October story time had an average of 24 attending. Another story time will be held in the spring. The library has tentatively selected Saturday, Dec. 14 to host a visit from Santa from 11 a.m. to noon. Tickets are being sold to give away a quillow on Dec. 2 to raise funds for Santa's visit. They are available at the library or from any of the board members.

A new Winside Public Library Foundation has been formed. A fund has been set up at the bank to raise money to build a new library. Lydaisy Janke is chairwoman.
