Wayne City Council accepts garbage bid

By Kevin Peterson Of the Herald

The Wayne City Council voted 5-3 in favor of accepting a bid for solid waste collection from Waste Management Services in Sioux City, Iowa during a special city council meeting, Tuesday night.

The new service which will include curb-side pickup consisting of trash and recyclables will begin for the approximately 1530 residential households in the Wayne city limits on Thursday, May 1, 1997

The two-hour session leading up to the vote was highlighted by discussion by the council and those in attendance including local contracted waste collectors Frank Mrsny of Mrsny Sanitation and Bill Lueders of Lueders G-Men.

Mayor Sheryl Lindau said what needed to be focused on is the reduction of waste to the landfill.

This topic came about with the passage of LB 1257 which stated by the year 2002 that landfills consumption had to be reduced by 50 percent. Recycling became a household word in the early 90's and Wayne was one of the first cities in the state to stress recy-

July 1 of 1996 was structured to be the target date for a 25 percent reduction in landfills and Wayne met that easily with recycling efforts and with the banning of yard waste from the landfill, a major step in reducing waste.

The boy scouts have done an admiral job of collecting newspapers for the past several years and their intake has increased drastically with the ever-conscious recycling

We are definitely headed in the right direction," city administrator Joe Salitros said. "The recycling trailer has seen increased continual traffic on Saturday mornings but the problem is the volunteers it takes to man the facility are declining."

Currently, the facility takes recyclable materials such as plastics, aluminum cans and foil, tin and steel cans and glass along with paper and cardboard.

In October of 1995 the city council created a citizens committee to study waste management and recycling in Wayne. The committee comprised of the following seven people: Bill Kranz, chairman, Rob Stuberg, Linda Anderson, Bill Jammer, Bob Woeller and Betty McGuire along with council woman Patty Wieland.

The committee represented all parts of the city of Wayne and the study lasted six months. Along with the solid waste managment and recycling being studied, the committee also observed the transfer station. During that span of time several other communities were looked at by the committee to see how things were done.

It was the opinion of the committee that Wayne should try and make recycling as convenient as Mother Nature created a number of picturesque scenes over the weekend when temperatures dipped below freezing causing rain to freeze to all surfaces. This lone leaf clinging to a branch froze in mid-air as a result of this weekend's weather. The precipitation caused roads to become slick and was responsible for a number of power outages in the area. More precipitation is predicted for this weekend.

Business day planned

Of the Herald

Approximately 30 people attended a forum Monday evening at Wayne State College and listened to discussion on how Wayne State students are being treated by Wayne businesses

The forum, made up to two college students, two Wayne State faculty members and two Wayne business people, was designed to explore Wayne State students' rela tions with the Wayne business community.

Each of the panel members was allowed an opportunity to discuss what he or she perceived the relationship to be at the present time and what can be done.

Dr. Ken Hallgren, professor of-Business at WSC said the situation here is not unique to Wayne or any rural community or college town.

"There are no magic answers to this situation. The community needs to realize what their markets are and the fact that today's con-

Dr. Tony Kochenash, retired marketing professor at WSC agreed with Hallgren, saying "every college community is concerned about this issue, but this type of forum opens the door for communication, which is always a benefit." Irene Fletcher, owner of Legends Men's Store and one of the business persons on the panel, urged the Wayne State students to let the business owners know what their needs are. Mrs. Fletcher also said that one of the reasons stores such as her can not provide all the name brands students are often looking for is because wholesalers are not willing to sell merchandise to small stores.

Highway widening schedule announced

The Nebrašką Department of Roads has advised the City of Wayne that the Highway 35 Widening Project originally slated to be congructed through Wayne in 1997 is now being scheduled for 1997 and 1998.

According the NDOR, the project will be phased into two parts.

The west part of the project, from Main Street to the westerly limit near Fairgrounds Road/Pheasant Run, will be com-pleted in 1997. This construction is estimated to take about 100 con-

The section of construction from Main Street easterly to the bridge a Logan Creek would be constructed in 1998. Construction of this phase of the project is estimated at 145 construction days.

"By attending to the west phase in 1997, the NDOR can minimize the amount of time a detour is needed and yet allow the prime construction contractor to start as early as possible in the Spring of 1998 on the east segment," said

"With 100 working days, the west end has a realistic chance of being completed by the end of the first construction season," Salitros

Christmas Tour of Homes

(Third of a Five-Week Feature)

The Wayne County Historical Society is planning a Christmas four of homes for Saturday, Dec. 7. Tours will be given between 1 and 5 p.m. Snow date for the event will be Sunday.

Proceeds from the tours will be used for renovation and upkeep of the Historical Society Museum. A number of businesses have contributed to the decorating of the museum.

Homes on the tour will include Grandma Butch's Bed &

Breakfast, Bob and Jodie Jordan's home, David and Kaki Ley's home and Carter and Nana Peterson's home.

until the date of the four.

DAVID AND KAKI LEY, 1120 Sunset Drive

One of these homes will be featured each week in the Herald

This home is an example of the popular ranch-style homes that were built in the 1960's. It was built for Carl and Lillian Nuss in 1962. The original plan was a Scholz home, with modifications made by Roy Christensen of Carhart Lumber Company, Mrs.

Ley's father, who worked closely with Mr. and Mrs. Nuss to style the home according to their needs.

As you enter the double entrance doors into the open foyer, your eyes take in the unforgettable design which affords easy access to every major room of the home. The home highlights warm wood finishes, a sunken living room, spacious kitchen and large windows throughout the house which look out to the completely encircling patios. It features three bedrooms, four bathrooms and a first floor laundry room.

Decorating for Christmas is a long-time family tradition for the Ley family. It starts with the cutting of a fresh tree. The Ley's Christmas decorations are both old and new. They have collected Danish Christmas plates and Victorian Hallmark houses for years. They always set up the Christmas village somewhere in the house and they love lots of glittering lights, indoors and

In 1983 Johnson received the Ak-Sar-Ben Good Neighbor Award and was recently the recipient of another Ak-Sar-Ben Award.

He was honored in a special supplement of Country Magazine called Good News Indeed.

His volunteer work has helped him feel better.

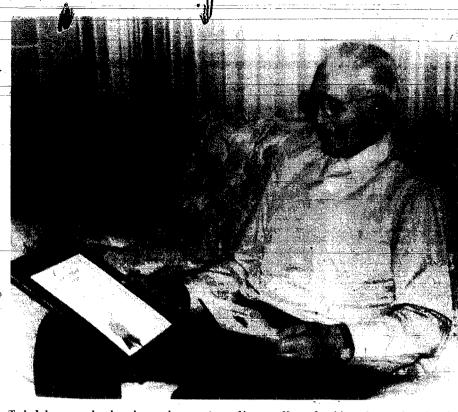

"Even when I was diagnosed with cancer, I always knew I was going to get better. I am pretty lucky. I am in pain at night but the doctors have told me I am a walking miracle because I could have died a long time ago," Johnson

His wife of 50 years, Donella, agrees and says that Ted is still alive for a reason, that being to help others who don't have long to

The collection will take place once a week. The cost for the households in Wayne will be slightly higher due to billing, collecting, starts and stops and other management duties but that cost is spected to be minimal.

The containers to be used will be furnished at no cost by Solid Waste Services. The billing for the waste collection will be added on to the monthly utility bill.

A changing society

Remember Armistice Day? It was established in 1926 to commemorate the signing in 1918 of the Armistice ending World War I. In 1954 the day was renamed Veterans Day with the purpose being to honor all personnel having served in America's military.

Years pass. Values change. In fact, countless veterans cannot themselves distinguish between the purposes of Veterans Day and Memorial Day. Veterans Day in Wayne this year, once observed with fanfare, passed with little notice, except government and other offices closed.

Decoration Day, renamed Memorial Day, was designated in 1868 as a day in which the graves of soldiers would be decorated.

Originally, the holiday was devoted to honoring the memory of those who died in the Civil War, but is now dedicated to the memory of all

More recently we use it for honoring all those deceased,

Societal priorities continue changing. We now appear more anxious to increase our profits than pause to pay tribute to heroes, historical moments and events.

As a letter to the editor noted last week, more homes in Wayne. displayed Halloween symbols in October than those exhibiting flags on Veteran's Day in November. What message does it send?

Do we now measure the merit of holidays by the pace of cash register jingles? Will the day arrive when holidays are observed merely for emphasized merchandising?

Perhaps historians will recall our era as a time when Americans abandoned such values as honor, service, character, and tradition, exchanging them for the pursuit of happiness.

Many remember those days when they were one and the same.

Property taxes to be top issue, again

Statehouse Correspondent The Nebraska Press Association

Folks who thought the defeat of three property-tax related constitutional amendments in the Nov. 5 election meant that the issue was dead, better think again.

State legislators are already talking about how they should take the next step in their multi-step program to wean local governments from their property tax-rich diet.

The debate during the 1997 session will center on how deeply local spending — and property taxes can be cut before local education and services suffer and replacement funds are needed.

On one side will be the school districts, sarguing that four-day school weeks and massive layoffs of teachers, will be necessary under the property tax levy restrictions scheduled to go into effect in 1998-99 under the plan adopted by the Legislature last spring.

They'll be asking state senators to find new revenue --- most likely either higher sales taxes or sales taxes on some services place the estimated $250 million in property taxes to be cut under the Unicameral's plan.

Arguing against that will be the state's business community, which claims that any increase in taxes will hurt the business climate in the state. They maintain that schools, cities and counties just need to learn to live with less and become more efficient (i.e. merge more school districts).

It will be an interesting debate, particularly after the mixed signals sent by voters on the issue during the election.

To wit:

one of the reasons Ben Nelson was defeated for the U.S. Senate seat was, the common wisdom says, because he didn't deal sufficiently with the state's property tax problem during his six years as governor. So the message, apparently, was "get to work."

voters overwhelmingly defeated-the NSEA/Farm-Bureau proposal, Initiative 412, that would have cut property taxes by $500 million, about twice as much as the Legislature's plan. They also put the kibosh on its evil twin, Initiative 411, that would have put the guarantee of "quality education" in the State Constitution.

The message here was a little confusing. Was it "these go too far" or "property tax isn't such a big — the electorate also sent to defeat Amendment 2, a part of the Legislature's property tax reduction plan. It would have changed the Nebraska Constitution to allow entire cities and counties to merge, like Omaha and Douglas County, which is pretty much one big city-county already. What that defeat meant is anybody's guess, from "don't rely on voters to approve something without a campaign to explain why" to "voters just don't like 'mergers' and want to retain local control. State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly, one of the Legislature's smartest cookies, says he's already thinking about a plan to tap excess state revenues for property tax relief or additional school aid.

State income and sales tax revenues are running ahead of projections and could go as much as $100 million over estimates by next summer. That's a pot of money that could be set aside to soften the blow on schools and other local governments, without raising taxes.

Others might argue that state taxes ought to be cut if revenues are running that far ahead of what's needed, or that the excess funds should be set aside for a rainy day in the future.

No matter how you slice it, property taxes - despite what happened in the election - will be a top issue once again.

The views expressed in Capitol News are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Nebraska Press Association.

Providence Hospice is a good alternative for patients

Recent court decisions and the activity of Michigan's Dr. Jack Kevorkian have placed the issue of physician assisted suicide squarely on the national agenda.

Providence Hospice and the National Hospice Organization urge the public during November, National Hospice Month, to think through the matter rationally and thoroughly and to recognize hospice as part of the continuum of end-of-

NHO is the nation's largest advocacy organization for terminally ill patients and their families. Jay Mahoney, president of NHO, issued the following statement:

To date, court decisions and the resulting media coverage have reflected only the extremes of this debate. Terminally ill patients are presented with two bleak choices: aggressive treatment to the bitter end, or asking a doctor to purposefully end their lives."

However, there is a middle ground in the form of hospice care. While hard to summarize in a brief statement, hospice meets the needs of more than 390,000 patients and their families each year. Although framed as an issue of 'choice,' the current debate on assisted suicide omits the most rational option for people faced with a terminal ill-

Dear Editor, Though the U.S. significantly has improved its air quality, the EPA is proposing much tighter regulations on ozone and particulates such as dust from farming, diesel soot and wood smoke. And though an EPA board found little or no evidence that present standards are inadequate, the EPA has surrendered to strident environmentalists to propose new measurements that will impose expensive costs on our economy and motorists.

Laurel volleyball team nets first state championship in history

Becky Schroeder powers an ace spike during an early state tournament match in Lincoln last weekend. Schroeder and the Bears capped off a perfect 26-0 season with victories over Lincoln Christian, Hastings St. Cecelia and Sandy Creek. It was the first state championship by a Laurel girls team in school history. The Bears won all three matches at the state tournament in straight games and they played just three games in five of the 26 total matches this season. Also in the picture is Megan Adkins and Katie Monson.

They set out at the beginning of the season with one goal and one goal only-to win the Class C-2 State Championship.

Twenty-six matches later and 26 wins later, the Laurel volleyball team realized that dream with a straight games victory over Sandy Creek, 15-9, 15-12.

The Bears, in fact, went through the state tournament with out losing a single game with a first round victory over Lincoln Christian, 15-4' 15-9 and a semifinal win over Hastings St. Cecelia, 15-8, 15-13.

"The girls played very well," coach Patti Cunningham said, "We played better in the first two rounds than we did in the finals against Sandy Creek but our girls showed a lot of character with the way they háttled in the championship match.

The championship was the first ever by a Laurel girls athletic team. in the opening round contest with Lincoln Christian, the Bears were led by Becky Schroeder and Tracy Ankeny with nine kill spikes each.

Megan Adkins was 49-49 in setting with 26 assists with Schroeder and Adkins leading the winners in serving with two aces each. Sarah Ehlers and Katie Monson set the tone for the awesome hitting performance of the Bears as each was 5-5 in passing. Ehlers was the leader at the net on defense with five blocks while Schroeder netted

The second match against St. Cecelia saw Tracy Ankeny pound out 14 kill spikes with Becky Schroeder adding a dozen more and Sarah Ehlers, six. Jessie Erwin also had four kills as the Bears notched 38 kills in 64 good spikes.

Megan Adkins was 67-68 in setting with 28 assists. Brándi Urwiler led the team in serving with a perfect 6-6 outing while Ankeny was 7-8 with two aces. This was Laurel's worst overall serving percentage of the tournament and for quite some time as they hit just 49 of 61

Ankeny was 34 of 35 in serve receive to lead the winners and Schroeder led the team in passing with a 7-7 outing while Katie Monson was 5-5. Sarah Ehlers was phenomenal at the net on defense with 10 blocks.

Laurel dominated Sandy Creek in .. the first game of the championship but the Bears found themselves down 8-0 in the second game before they scored their first point. "We were down 12-5 as well in that game," Cunningham said. "We did a good job of showing our mental toughness by the way we came back. The girls really showed their character with the way they did come back."

Becky Schroeder was 17-18 in the championship match in hitting with 14 kill spikes while Tracy Ankeny notched seven kills: Megan Adkins was 66-67 with 31 assists while the serving leader was Mindy Eaton with a perfect 12-12 outing that netted three aces. Katie Monson was 8-8 and Sarah Ehlers was 11-12 with two aces. Tracy Ankeny was 9-9 with two aces.

Ankeny was the team leader in serve receive at 23-24 and she was 6-6 in passing with teammate Sarah Ehlers leading the passing corp with a 9-10 performance. Ehlers was dominant at the net again on defense with 10 blocks.

"I've been really blessed to have been able to work with a group of girls like this," Cunningham said. A 26-0 record is not easy to accomplish but these girls showed quality character all season and all 13 shared equally in what we accomplished.'

Mindy Eaton, Brandi Urwiler, Dena Stapelman, Lana Schutte. Michelle Wiltse, Tara Vanderheiden and Danielle Beckman drew praise from Cunningham as well as the

Wayne spikers defeated by GICC at state tourney Wayne trailed 6-0 right away as

By Kevin Peterson Of the Herald

The Wayne volleyball team struggled in the first round of the Nebraska State Volleyball Tournament and was soundly defeated by eventual state runners-up, Grand Is land Central Catholic, 15-1, 15-5.

The defeat ended the Blue Devils season at 22-7 and the number eight ranking in the state. Joyce Hoskins said her squad did not perform to their-potential, plus-GICC played an outstanding match which combined led to a quick Wayne demise

This definitely was not the same team that defeated. Battle Creek in the district finals or the same team that defeated Wisner-Pilger during the season and took the Laurel Bears to three games on two occasions," Hoskins said. "The girls were very nervous and they really tried too hard to play well and that led to mistakes.

GICC score six straight before any rotation had taken place. In fact, the first game ended with out a complete rotation had been completed.

Gayle Olson scored Wayne's lone point of the first game and the Blue Devils/suffered four net viola-

Wayne trailed 9-0 in the second game before Katie Lutt scored the Blue Devils first point, Wayne would eventually trail by a 14-2 margin before scoring three straightwith Molly Linster scoring all three

"We were disappointed because we know we played much better to get to state than we did at state," Hoskins said. "We had a tremendous year, however, and won some big matches against some very good teams.'

Hoskins also gave credit to GICC, saying they were an outstanding team that deserved to finish no worse than runner-up.

WAYNE-Several Wayne Herald athletes were recently named to allconference teams. In the Lewis & Clark 11-Man Football Conference, Winside's Robert Wittler, Jamey Holdorf, Landon Grothe, Brock Shelton and Chad O'Connor were named to the first team with Shaun Magwire, Ryan Krueger, Scott Stenwall and John Holtgren being named honorable mention.

Wakefield's Justin Mackling, Lance Jacobsen, Tyler Peters and Heath Keim were named to the first team while honorable mention selections included Josh Hohn, Adam Ulrich, T.J. Walsh, Erik Hagland, Brian Mattes, Eric Beacom and B.J. Hansen.

Allen's Michael Blohm was named to the Lewis & Clark Eight-Man All-Conference team with honorable mention selections including Brett Sachau, Craig Jackson, Greg Rastede, Cory Prochaska

Turning to volleyball, Winside's Jessica Miller was named to the first team of the All-Conference team along with Wakefield's Kristin Preston, Susan Brudigam and Alison Benson and Allen's Jaime Kluver, Mindy Plueger and Amanda Mitchell.

Honorable mention selections included Shanyn Moran of Allen,* Bree Oswald of Wakefield and Jodi Miller of Winside.

Wayne State cagers defeat St. Francis

Greg McDermott's Wayne State men's basketball team opened season play with a come-from-behind 72-66 win over St. Francis of Illinois, last Saturday night in Rice Auditorium

WSC started slowly and found themselves on the short end of a 30-17 score with under 10 minutes remaining in the opening half. But McDermott called a timeout and momentum began to change in the ensuing minutes as the Wildcats scored the next 14 points to take the lead right before the half.

St. Francis rebounded for a 35-32 lead at the intermission. The 'Cats came out and grabbed the lead quickly in the second half and never relinquished it—opening leads at times of double figures before settling for the six-point victory.

"It was nice to get a win to start the season and it was even nicer to see us get a win as a result of our defense," McDermott said. "In the first half we weren't making our shots with some of the credit for that going to St. Francis' defense came back strong in the second half.

Craig Phillip led WSC's charge in the first half with aggressive play on both ends of the court and in the second half, red-shirt freshman Jon Dolliver electrified the home crowd with a stretch that saw the Stanton native drain 10 consecutive points.

WSC got positive play from three first-time collegiate players in Dolliver, Eric Henderson and Matt VanVoorst. Tyler Johnson gave the host fans a treat with a couple thunderous dunks from his guard position and senior Mike Fitzner began his senior campaign as the leading scorer with 16 points.

The 'Cats had four in double figures with Johnson tossing in 15 and Phillip, 14 while Dolliver finished with a dozen. WSC was outrebounded by a 39-33 margin with Phillip leading the host team with eight caroms.

The 'Cats suffered just 11 turnovers in the opener and forced 28 with Johnson notching six steals whil dishing out a team high six assists.

WSC will travel to Omaha on Friday to play UNO. The Maver-icks opened their 1996 season on Monday night with a 25-point win over Midland.

WSC Scoring Mike Fitzner, 16; Tyler Johnson, 15; Craig Phillip, 14; Jon Dolliver, 12; Eric Henderson, 8; Jaime Jones, 3; Matt VanVoorst, 2; Jason Diaz, 2.

Wayne State's Jon Dolliver, a red-shirt freshman from Stanton drives to the hole for two of his 12 points in the middle of a second-half stretch that saw him score 10 consecutive points. The Wildcats will take their 1-0 record into Omaha on Friday to play the Mavericks.

WSC women ink two recruits

WAYNE-Krista Bernadt of Hebron and Maranda Radke of Aurora. Colgrado signed national letters of intent to play women's basketball yne State College, head coach Jeff Goldstein announced, re-Bernadt is a 5-9 guard from Hebron high school, averaged 17 points and 10.4 rebounds per game last year. She's a two-time second team all-state selection as a sophomore and junior who shot 48 percent from the field and 84 percent from the free throw line. Heading into her senior season she has 994 career points and 541 career rebounds.

Radke is a 6-0 forward from Smoky Hill High School in Aurora that led her team in rebounding, averaging 10 per contest. She was also the second-leading scorer with 10 points per game to go along with four assists per outing. She earned second team all-conference honors and second team all-state honors as a junior.

Obviously, I am excited to sign two quality players early in my first recruiting class," Goldstein said. "Both Miranda and Krista are always in the gym working on their game and that dedication is what I want to help continue to move this program in the right direction.

Goldstein said he hopes to sign one more player during the spring.

Wildcats tally 84 points

WSC breezes to win

The Wayne State women's basketball team started their 1996-97 campaign off in winning style and at the same time, head coach Jeff Goldstein began his new era as the Wildcats mentor in winning fashion with a convincing 84-63 win over visiting Mt. Marty last Saturday in Rice Auditorium.

Despite being a first-year head coach Goldstein was fairly confident coming into the season opener. 'Nothing against Mt. Marty but 1 felt after our exhibition game with just a couple weeks of practice, we looked pretty good and I just felt we would be able to take advantage of our athleticism against Mt. Marty."

Goldstein said his 'Cats have a lot of ability but athleticism alone» will not win a lot of ballgames. 'We have to concentrate our efforts now on execution on both ends of the floor," he added.

WSC jumped out to a 43-31 advatage at the intermission led by senior Amy Brodersen's 12-point performance in the first 20 minutes. The host team used a 41-32 scoring advantage in the second half to account for the 21-point blowout.

Brodersen finished with a team-high 19 points while Jenny Thompson was right beind with 17. Freshman Tonya Porter completed her first collegiate ballgame with a double-figures performance in scoring with 10.

The 'Cats were out-rebounded, 49-42 with Brodersen and Pam Drickey sharing team honors with six caroms. Carla Schultz and Megan Murphy each had five

WSC had just 11 turnovers in the season opener while forcing 27 and Murphy led the team with three WSC will travel to Maryville, Missouri this weekend with a tournament at Northwest Missonri State. The 'Cats open play at 6 p.m. on Friday against the host team and they play Southwest Baptist of Missouri on Saturday at 1 he seated at the January meeting. Mike Salmon, Sandy Otte and Rick Puls will retire from the board at that time.

The school will be open for patrons to walk the halls during in-clement weather this winter. The Title I fall parent meeting was held Nov. 7 and parents supported a summer experience next year and want to hold several fund raisers to finance the project.

The board also discussed the defeat of the bond issue. The discussion centered on the facility and space needs that exist for the school. Potential solutions to these problems will be dealt with later.

The board approved several requests from faculty members for leaves and accepted the resignation of secondary English teacher, Rod Sailors. He will be leaving at the end of the current school term to enter private business.

Also approved were revisions to, the appropriate use policy for the computer network and WAKENET, option enrollments for Libby Henschke and Cody Henschke for next year, established a general fund petty cash checking account and reeived a multi-cultural education

Vows are exchanged in Catholic ceremony

Molly Melena and Kelly Hammer, both of Wayne, were married Oct. 25, 1996 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Wayne.

Father Donald Cleary officiated at the 5:30 p.m. double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Melena and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hammer, all of Wayne.

Music for the ceremony was provided by vocalists Stephanic Melena of Milford and Terri Hypse

Mr. and Mrs. Hammer of Wayne and organist Vona Sharer of Wayne.

Musical selections included "Wedding Song," "We Have This Moment, Today," "Ave Maria" and "He Has Chosen You For Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white satin and lace. It featured a Victorian neckline of sheer illusions and hand-beaded Battenburg lace. The long, leg-o-mutton sleeves tapered to a bridal point. The full skirt flowed from the deep Basque waistline and was trimmed with elegant scalloped lace.

The semi-cathedral train, featured a series of hand-beaded elegant lace cutouts throughout, a satin bow with tails at the back waistline finished the ensemble.

She wore a shoulder-length veil with beaded pearl and sequin headpiece and carried a bouquet of white lilies, lavender roses and white mini

What can be done about all the violence?

Q: Would you comment on the violence in our society at large, and the forces which are propelling it? What do you think can and should be done about it?

A: There are few subjects that cause me greater concern than the exposure being given to crime and violence in America today.

A squadron of Los Angeles police cornered a desperate gunman in a residential area of the community. The fugitive had barricaded himself in a small house, and held three juverile hostages inside. Television crews were on hand to photograph one of the children, a teenage boy, as he was forced outside and then shot in the head by his abductor.

The pathetic young victim died on the sidewalk in a pool of his own blood. I sat stunned, literally sick to my stomach, while the drama was broadcast in full color.

A flood of emotions ran through my mind as I gazed into the immobile, unfocused eyes of the dying adolescent. Mixed with deep pity and remorse was a sudden outpouring of indignation -- a revulsion that had been accumulating for years

I was angry at the profiteers who have nurtured violence in our society, and at those millions who seem to thrive on it. I was angry at movie producers like Sam Peckinpah, who have smeared blood and guts all over the silver screen. I was angry at theater patrons for demanding a dozen disembowelments per hour in their visual entertainment. I was angry at television networks for giving us continuous police stories, with their guns and silly automobile chases and karate chops and SWAT teams.

L was angry at the Supreme Court for legalizing 1.5 million abortions by American women last year. And I was particularly angry at the pathetic system of American justice which makes crime so profitable and punishment so improbable.

But my indignation will change nothing, and the wave of violence and lawlessness will continue unabated. We have become so desensitized to human suffering and exploitation that even the most horrible events are accepted as part of our regular evening "entertainment" on the tube.

I think it's time that millions of decent, law abiding citizens rise up with one voice to oppose the industries that are profiting from violence. A valiant campaign of this nature was waged several years ago by the National Parent Teacher Association, directing their efforts at television networks and companies that support the most damaging programs. Of course, this pressure from the PTA brought an anguished cry of "foul play" from the greedy profiteers whose pockets were lined with blood-tained money. Nevertheless, Sears Roebuck, Union Oil and other large companies pledged to sponsor no more violent programs on television. This form of economic sanction is the most powerful tool available to influence our free enterprise system, and we should use it. We have sat on our hands long enough!

Achievement program held in Dixon County

Dixon County 4-H members and leaders were recognized on Nov. 10 at the 1996 Dixon County Achievement Program. The event was held at the Northeast Research and Extension Center near Concord.

Jose Ostolaza, a foreign exchange student from Madrid, Spain, shared some traditions and cultures from his homeland. Jose is staying with Pastor Duane and Bonnie Marburger and their family in Concord.

Helping present awards were Teen Leader Officers for the 1996-97 year. They include Jennifer Simpson, president and Jennifer Rocber, news reporter, both of Wakefield and Kylic Bearnes, secretary, of Laurel.

Chris Clover Awards, which are given to first, second and third year members based on a point system for their involvement in 4-H were awarded to:

Green Level: Kari and Kavla Erwin, Brittany and Shannon Klemme, Aaron Smith and Anthony Wilmes, all of Allen, and Ketti Lueth of Wakefield.

Bronze Level: Kami Roberts of Allen

Silver Level: Carla and Kelli Rastede of Allen.

County Awards were also presented. Awards were presented based on 4-Hers who completed record books in specific curriculum areas. Medal winners include:

Animal Science: Beef-Bean Bearnes of Laurel and Sheep-Kylic Bearnes Of Laurel.

Communication and Expressive Arts: Photography-Kelli Rastede of Consumer and Family Science: Clothing-Kylie Bearnes.

Plant

Garden/Horticulture-Kylie Bearnes. The county award for Most Completed Projects was awarded to Jennifer Simpson, daughter of Greg and Denise Simpson of Wakefield.

Leader pins were also presented to a number of 4-H leaders includ-

Two-year pin: MaryAnn and Kirk Bryne and Marian Keagle of Wakefield; Kevin and Holly Erwin, Marcia Rastede and Joy Smith, all of Allen and Yvonne Hansen of Five-year pin: Julie and Keith Boeckenhauer of Wakefield.

Fifteen-year pin: Mary Hansen and Paulette and Glenn Kumm of

Other individuals who were recognized for their help during the 4-H year included: the Dixon County Fair Board, Dixon County Extension Board, Dixon County 4-H Council, superintendents and assistant superintendents, leaders and volunteers as well as sponsors for the program.

A decorated 4-H cake and ice cream were served after the pro-

Sponsors of the program included Bank of Dixon, Ponca and Newcastle; State National Bank of Wayne; Nebraska State Bank of Wakefield: First National Bank of Wayne; First National Bank of Emerson; the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Dixon County 4-H

NRD offers incentives to convert acres to pasture

An estimated 70 percent of all Conservation Reserve Program contracts in Nebraska will expire by Oct. 1, 1997. Many farmers and andowners will be contemplating heir options for the future use of

"Returning the land to row crop production may not always be the pest long-term use for the expiring CRP land," said Randal Gunn, Resource Conservationist with the Natural Resources Conservation Service in Wayne.

The vast majority of CRP acres are highly erodible, and one of the major reasons for seeding it to grass was to control erosion."

In an effort to promote wise land use and conserve the soil resource base, the Lower Elkhorn Natural Resources District has budgeted $50,000 in cost-share incentives to promote the transition of CRP acres to pasture land.

Cost sharing at the rate of 75 percent for purchase and installation of cross fencing, wells, pipelines and tanks, along with 35 percent cost sharing for perimeter fencing is Eligible land must be at least 40 acres in size and be included in an expiring CRP contract. Participants will be required to follow a planned grazing system and maintain the practices for at least 10 years.

This program fits will into the District's long-range plans by meeting the objective of conserving soil through utilizing all land within the District for its most suitable purposes," said Stan Staab, General Manager of the NRD.

We hope CRP participants in the District will take advantage of this opportunity to maintain the grass cover in a way that is both economically and environmentally sound," Staab said.

For more information about this cost-share program, contact the local Natural Resources Conservation Service office.
